THE WISCONSIN SALON OF ART 1946

With each successive year the Wisconsin Salon has developed increasing significance in our state. The challenge of art today is as vital as the challenge of our understanding of the world situation. As you examine the jury's selections remember that the artist may reveal either the confusion or an affirmative understanding.

The varied expressions in the 13th Salon which you see constitute an interpretation of the present. The Gallery Committee hopes that for some of you it is more than a passing experience, that you will want the adventure of purchasing a work of art.

JURY OF SELECTION AND AWARDS

AARON BOHRD, Chicago Artist

MARGO HOFF, Chicago Artist

CARL ZIGROSSER, Curator of Prints, Philadelphia Museum of Art

Two hundred and four artists submitted three hundred and eighty-two works of art in oil and tempera, watercolor, pastel, sculpture, and graphics, with a suggested limit of two entries per person.

One hundred and eleven works were selected by the jury for exhibition in the Salon. Represented in this selection are the works of ninety-one Wisconsin artists.

The contributors who were eligible have had three years of residence in Wisconsin including the past year, or were ten years residents in Wisconsin if now living outside the state, or are students now attending Wisconsin art schools.
