JINX PURSUES BADGER TEAM IN OHIO GAME

Extra Inning Fight Ends
4 to 1; Zulfer Pitches
Fast Game

By LAWRENCE E. MEYER
After pitching no-hit ball for nine full innings, "Tony" Zulfer was the victim of another extra-inning defeat in his second Big Ten ball game. Ohio State triumphed, 4 to 1, in 11 innings.

"Lefty" Kime gave Zulfer a splendid battle all the way, and neither hurler allowed a semblance of an earned run in regulation time. The Badger hurler was backed by sparkling infielding, and the visitors' defense was about as good. It was a good even battle all the way, and the luck of the game broke against Kent's men.

It was another good example of the jinx at work. The writer has carefully avoided alibis and claims of ill luck throughout tough season, but if Friday's defeat was not a piece of malice on the part of Old Man Fate, then Babe Ruth is a bush leaguer.

Ohio State scored a run in the first inning without a hit. Zulfer was a bit wild at the outset and passed Fogle and hit Dolezal, putting men on first and second with one out. An infield out advanced both men, and two were down. On the second strike on the next batter, the ball hopped out of Davey's mitt and allowed Fogle to score on the passed ball.

Wisconsin tied the score in the fifth inning. Willigrod, first man up, smashed a sharp hit to right field. Dolezal hurried in as if to try for a play at first base and let the hit slip through him. Willigrod continued around the sacks, scoring on a poor return.

From that time not another man passed second base in the regulation number of innings. Two passes, three hit batsmen, and Zulfer's bad throw were Ohio's only openings, and according to all traditions of baseball Zulfer should have had a no-hit, no-run victory.

After this sterling exhibition of pitching, Zulfer weakened in the extra innings. In the tenth two scratch hits and two errors put him

GARDNER TALKS ON ADVERTISING AT PRESS MEET

Prof. E. H. Gardner will speak before a meeting of the editors, business managers, and advertising managers of university publications Sunday morning at 10 o'clock in the Union building. His address will cover the subject of "Attainable Ideals in Advertising" and will be a discussion of the effect of high news standards upon advertising.

This is the third of a series of meetings of this group which meets regularly for the purpose of discussing the problems which are common to all of the managers of campus publications.

After the address there will be reports by the business managers on the paper contracts for next year. Wyman Smith will speak on promising advertising, a subject which has greatly occupied the attention of the college editors.

CREW RACE TO REVIVE SPIRIT

Well Matched Teams to Compete in Regatta on Mendota

Enthusiasm in a Badger sport will be revived when the inter-college rowing crews will race in the annual intra-mural crew race at 10 o'clock this morning on Lake Mendota.

Coach "Dad" Vail said that the teams were well matched and with all the men in top condition the spectators will see an exciting race which will only be a sample of what may follow if rowing is again adopted as a Wisconsin sport.

One Mile Course

The course will be one mile in length. If an east wind is blowing, the teams will start at a point off the Lincoln school on Gorham street and finish at the Park street pier. But if the wind is from the west, the start will be from up the University bay and the finishing line at the boat house.

Wisconsin was the only university in the conference to send crews to the big eastern races up until five years ago when rowing was abolished at the recommendation of the clinic. It was stated at that time that rowing was injurious to

BOOK EXCHANGE TO OPEN JUNE 1

The university book exchange under the management of the S. G. A. executive council will be opened Tuesday, June 1, in the room under the auditorium of the P. E. P. building.

Second hand books may be deposited there from now on until the close of school. For every book received a receipt will be given. Next year the books will be sold at two-thirds their original value. This amount will be returned to the depositors, minus 10 per cent, which will go to S. G. A. A number of other articles, such as dancing costumes, gym suits and gym shoes have been received by the committee in charge, and will be subject to the same regulations as the books.

The book exchange will be open, beginning June 1, every Tuesday and Thursday from 2 to 5 p. m., and on Saturdays from 9 to 12 a. m. The room may be entered from the outside of the building on the side which faces University hall.

EXAMS SCHEDULE IN TODAY'S ISSUE

The schedule for final examinations is printed in this issue of The Cardinal. Schedules are now ready and copies may be obtained from the registrar's office. The first examinations will be held on the 12th of June.

Carl Jandorf Shot by Patrolman While Interceding for Freshman Arrested for Prank

Tragedy stalked onto the campus yesterday afternoon to put an end to the cap night celebration and cause the student body to a high pitch of excitement and indignation, when a bullet from a policeman's revolver took the life of Carl Jandorf, of Grand Rapids, Mich., sophomore in the Course in Commerce, as the culmination of a brief altercation over a freshman's prank in taking a barber pole as an addition to the bonfire for burning the verdant headgear.

Jandorf was shot in the chest and almost instantly killed by a bullet fired by Patrolman Mat Lynaugh shortly after 5 o'clock, after Jandorf had attempted to intervene in the arrest of Julian M. Lunney, '23, whom Lynaugh, gun in hand, had pursued around the gymnasium, through the Phi Delta Theta house, and into Lake street. The shooting took place at the corner of Lake and Langdon streets, on a vacant lot not 20 feet distant from the Grady house.

FROSH CAN DOFF LIDS

Vincent O'Shea, president of the student senate, made the following announcement last night with regard to cap night:

"Although President Birge has requested the freshman class to dispense with the customary cap night festivities, official notice is hereby given that the green caps need no longer be worn by freshmen. This does not apply to freshmen who have been sentenced to wear the caps for extra time."

After Lynaugh had reported at the police station with Lunney and Jesse Cohen, '23, whom he had also taken in custody, he was taken out of the city by automobile by Sheriff Julius Krug and a charge of manslaughter brought against him by District Attorney Roman Heilman before Judge A. C. Hoppman in Superior court. He is held without bail, and a coroner's jury today is expected to hold him responsible for the shooting.

100 Witnesses

Close to 100 students were witnesses of the affray, and the testimony of many is that the action of the policeman was not provoked by Jandorf, who had merely interceded to explain to the officer that he had arrested the wrong man.

Truck loads of boxes and other fuel had been hauled during the afternoon to the lower campus without any interference on the part of the sophomores to halt the freshmen's preparations for cap night. Lunney had mounted a truck on Langdon street near the library about 5 o'clock, and alighted when the car stopped in front of the Y. M. C. A. Patrolman Lynaugh was on the lookout for a barber pole

Championship Honors in Track and Field Sought by State Schools

Four of the strongest normal schools on the cinder path in the Wisconsin Normal Athletic conference will fight for championship honors in the annual state field and track meet at Camp Randall this afternoon. Due to the fact that most of the contestants will have to catch early trains out of the city the baseball game will start at 1 o'clock and the track meet at 2:30.

Ten schools were originally entered for the big contest today but because of the high cost of making a trip, six institutions that did not have full teams entered did not deem it worth while to compete. La Crosse, Milwaukee, Whitewater, and Stevens Point remain to fight

STUDENTS WILL PAY TRIBUTE TO FRIEND

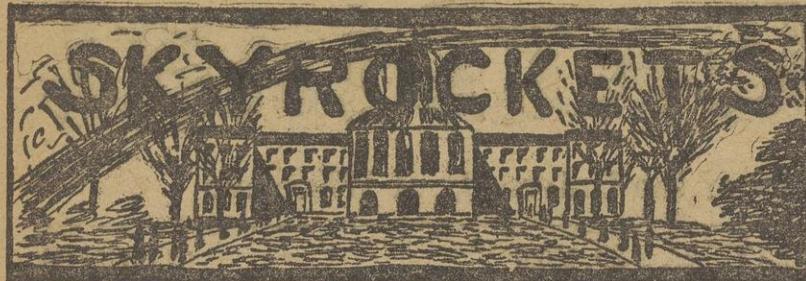

Appealing to all students and campus organizations for funds, Skul and Crescent is collecting a sum of money with which to buy flowers for the funeral of Carl Jandorf.

Fraternities, sororities, rooming and boarding houses are asked to solicit money from their groups in order that a monster tribute might be made to bereaved family from the entire student body. It is felt by the students collecting the fund that this is the one way to express the regret of the university at such a deplorable affair.

All funds should be turned in to Dexter Brown, 222 Lake Lawn place, Fairchild 139, before tonight.

STUDENT SLAIN BY POLICEMAN

which had been reported as stolen to the police station by H. T. Frieske, 1236 Williamson street.

Lunney Captured

When Lunney started up Langdon toward Lake, freshmen on the truck yelled "Run!" and he at once took to his heels with Patrolman Lyraugh in pursuit, brandishing his revolver in one hand. Lunney ran into the Phi Delta Theta house, 620 Langdon street. Lyraugh waited by the side of the house and when Lunney reappeared, grabbed him by the arm and marched to the corner of Lake and Langdon followed by a crowd of 75 or more men.

Jandorf was seated on a low wire fence in front of the Grady house and when the crowd appeared walked over to the side of the policeman. He stood at the right of the officer, who still held his revolver poised at his hip.

As Lyraugh neared the corner with his prisoner, he was heard by onlookers to remark with heat: "It's damned lucky I didn't take a good crack at you."

Pleads With Officer

Jandorf urged the officer to release Lunney, saying he was not the man who had stolen the barber pole. Lyraugh retorted angrily that Jandorf had better mind his own business, then kicked him in the shins and made a pass toward his head with the butt of the revolver. According to one eye-witness the revolver butt struck Jandorf in the chin, and another maintained he was hit on the side of the head. Jandorf recoiled from the blow and his right arm shot out and caught Lyraugh, who was taller, full in the mouth. Both fell back a few steps. Jandorf kept his arms in a defensive position, but Lyraugh raised his revolver a trifle and fired point-blank at the student's chest. Jandorf, with blood gushing from his mouth, reeled backward. Several men caught him before he fell to the ground. He was dead before the group had carried him the block to the clinical building.

"Self Defense"

The patrolman paid no attention to his victim, but held his gun in a menacing position and shouted to the crowd, "Self defense, boys, self defense." With Lunney and Cohen in custody, Lyraugh backed into Langdon street and with his two quarries clambored aboard a passing university truck. Both freshmen were later let out on bail of $100 each furnished by "Dad" Morgan.

The cadet review was in progress at the time of the shooting. As Jandorf was being carried from the scene, two or three students rushed over to the lower campus and notified President Birge of the shooting. He at once left the review grounds and on interviewing a number of bystanders asked that a list of eye-witnesses of the affray be taken. He also asked that cap night be given up.

Walker Perkins, freshman class president, mounted the pile of boxes on the campus and announced that cap night would not be celebrated and urged the freshmen to wear their caps out of respect for the sophomore who had been killed. He also urged his listeners to remain indoors during the evening and to doors during the evening and to take steps to quell any attempts at gatherings which might lead to mob action.

Taken from City

At the police station at 7 p. m., it was learned that Lyraugh had been spirited out of the city in the custody of Sheriff Krug, who feared violence. Orders were given to the Madison company of the state militia to stand in readiness to report to the court house at any moment in case of a hostile demonstration.

"I want to assure the town people and students that Lyraugh will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law," said District Attorney Heilman last night. He swore out a warrant for the patrolman on a charge of manslaughter before Judge Hoppman of the Superior court. This action was taken on the basis of facts known to Mr. Heilman at the time. If later testimony is verified, it is possible that this charge may be changed to one of second-degree murder.

Eye Witnesses

Among the students who were eye-witnesses to the shooting are H. H. Metcalfe, L. P. Tiedeman, R. S. K. and E. B. Gilmore, Phillip V.

Perkins, Seymour Walton, S. R. Sloan-Barclay, L. W. Larson, Daniel O'Neill, J. S. Baker, and J. Krebs.

S. R. Sloan-Barclay made the following statement with regard to the shooting:

"I was walking east of Grady's when I saw the crowd gathering. The officer had his revolver in one hand and I saw him start up Langdon holding a man by the arm. A crowd of men gathered about him. Jandorf was at his right, and as the crowd pressed toward the policeman he kicked Jandorf in the shins. Jandorf then spoke, but I could not hear what he said as I was about 10 feet away. The patrolmen then struck him on the jaw with the butt end of his revolver, Jandorf struck back and then the shot rang out."

A. P. Rodner, 212 N. Broom, another eye-witness gave the following account of the affair:

"I saw the truck approaching with the students on it. Then I saw the policeman, who had evidently been watching the parade, turn and walk toward it slowly. Some of the men jumped off the truck and ran toward the gymnasium. The policeman drew his gun and followed. Later I saw him leading a student by the arm. A crowd was following him, and many were talking to him. I didn't see Jandorf do anything, but I saw the policeman kick him in the shins. Lyraugh followed up the kick with a blow in the face, either with his fist or the butt of his gun. Then he immediately fired, as near as I could see, before Jandorf had recovered from the blow."

PEACE MOVE IS AGAIN BLOCKED

Attempt to Pass Veto of President Fails in House Today

WASHINGTON — An effort to override Pres. Wilson's veto of the republican peace resolution failed today in the house. The vote was 219 in favor of overriding the veto to 152 against or 29 less than the two-thirds majority required.

Two republicans, Kelly of Michigan and Fuller of Massachusetts, voted to sustain the president's veto while 17 Democrats joined the Republican majority in an effort to over-ride it. This was two less than the number of Democrats voting for the peace resolution when it was passed by the house.

There was less than an hour's debate on the motion to override the veto. Chairman Porter, of the foreign affairs committee opened discussion with the declaration that nowhere in his veto message had the president questioned constitutionality of the resolution.

in what is expected to be a nip and tuck race.

This is the first time that the meet has been held in Madison. It is hoped that with the increased interest created between the university and the normal schools the meet may be held here permanently.

La Crosse with a stronger team than it had last year when nosed out of a first by the last event is the favorite. Some of the outstanding stars on the squad that are expected to control a number of points are Joseuppe, hurdler; Captain Randall, a distance man; Schrader and Deekert in the sprints, and Burroughs, Huber, Warne, Howe, and Roels in the weights.

Coach Downer's Milwaukee aggregation and the Stevens Point teams are expected to bid strong and Whitewater may come through as a dark horse.

BADGER CAMP OPEN JULY 19

National Guards Will Go As Provisional Regiments

The organizations of the Wisconsin National Guard will go into camp this year as provisional regiments. This action is due primarily to the slowness of the War Department in supplying equipment and clothing. Companies are being equipped as rapidly as possible by the state officials in the order in which they were mustered into service. Those first equipped will be assigned to one provisional regiment to go to camp first. The encampment will open July 19 instead of July 12 as previously announced. As yet the field officers for the various commands have not been announced.

Those to go into camp from July 19 to 31 include: Infantry regiment with companies from Tomah, Oconomowoc, Ripon, Beaver Dam, Milwaukee (three) Madison, Monroe, Eau Claire, Menominie, Oshkosh; Machine gun company, Ashland; Supply company, Oshkosh; Cavalry, squadron and machine gun troop from Milwaukee; Supply trains, River Falls, Abbotsford, New London; tank company, Janesville; sanitary detachment, Oconomowoc.

From Aug. 2-14; Infantry, Appleton, Marshfield, Neillsville, Chippewa Falls, Phillips, Marinette, Oconto, Beloit, Wausau, Waukesha, Neenah, Rhinelander; Cavalry, Kenosha Lake Geneva, Watertown, Fort Atkinson, Two Rivers; ammunition trains, Jefferson, Clintonville; artillery Antigo. It has been decided to send the artillery to Camp Douglas this year instead of Camp Taylor. The men not having had previous experience on account of lack of equipment it is thought more practical experience can be obtained for the recruits at the state camp.

POULTRY SHOW OPENS TODAY

More Than Forty Entries
Placed by Experts; Special Egg Exhibits

The class in poultry husbandry opened its first annual egg show at the poultry building today. Over 40 entries coming from all over the state of extra fancy eggs are on display. Competition for all prizes is very keen and those who carry off the ribbon are entitled to much credit.

Many of the largest breeders in the state have sent in entries. Some of the exhibitors are: Shady Lawn Farm, Juneau; W. T. Morton, Watertown; A. F. Roske, Windsor; Don Bereton, Dane; William A. Devendorf, Stoughton; Model Stock and Dairy Farm, Cleveland; H. H. Graves, Sullivan; Peter Anzia, Belgium; J. H. Durfee, Madison; Clarence Hocking, Burlington, and several others.

Another feature of the show is the very interesting and educational exhibit of eggs "as they should not be," or "the egg undesirables" and freak eggs. In the class of undesirables are the small, the irregular, the dirty, the bloody, and the cracked. The freak eggs vary in size from those the size of a marble to those the size of a man's fist—where two of them would make a meal for a family.

Bulletins and circulars pertaining to the poultry business will be given away to all visitors. The eggs will be on display all day Saturday till 4 o'clock. At that time they will be auctioned off. The admission to the show is free, as it is educational rather than a money-making affair.

EUROPEAN UNION OPENS DOORS TO AMERICAN GRADS

The American University Union in Europe, with branches in Paris, London and Rome, has opened its doors to American college graduates traveling in Europe, on a peace time basis. Begun with the object of meeting the needs of university men and their friends in military service in Europe, the Union has now broadened its scope to serve "as a bond between the universities of the United States and those of European nations."

The Union is supported by fifty subscribing colleges and universities. It is managed by four sets of trustees, institutional, association, elective and ex-officio trustees. The chairman of the board is President H. B. Hutchins of the University of Michigan.

The object of the American University Union is expressed in the statement prepared by the administrative board of trustees now in office, as follows: "The general object of the Union shall be to serve as a bond between the universities of the United States and those of the European nations, especially by encouraging the attendance and advancing the welfare of American students at the universities of France and Great Britain and Italy, in such ways as

THE TRAGEDY

THE time for level-headed and sane action is at hand. A university student has been killed under circumstances that are exceedingly doubtful. The Cardinal expresses to his parents the deepest sympathy of the student body and the faculty for his unfortunate death.

We want the people of Madison to feel that students will take absolutely no action except through legal channels. But the fact that an officer of the law did the shooting should not make a single iota of difference in the course that the law takes.

There should be a speedy trial. In all fairness to the local officials, the public, and the students, an assistant prosecuting attorney should be furnished.

This case is a flagrant one. The state at large will watch the outcome with a keenness which can come only when sentiment runs high. Help from the state's legal department will insure vigorous prosecution on the basis of actual facts.

The Cardinal reiterates and expresses the hope that its assurance of sane action will prevail. It is a question which involves the entire university. Unfair tactics now may reflect unfavorably on a case in which students were not at fault.

It is to be regretted that this cloudburst took place at a time when the hazing question seemed well tempered. Then, too, the thought that a perfectly harmless prank was at the bottom of it all makes the case all the more pathetic. A speedy trial, vigorous prosecution, no "whitewashing" by a coroner's jury, and the aid of special prosecutors is what the student body demands.

PUT THE CREW BACK ON THE MAP

WHETHER or not Wisconsin is going to reinstate rowing as a university sport depends in large measure on the turnout of students this morning when the annual intra-mural regatta takes place on Lake Mendota.

A rousing welcome for the crews will demonstrate to the faculty that the students are heart and soul for restoring to its proper place an activity which won for Wisconsin an enviable name in the past.

It is confidently expected that the biggest obstacle in the pathway of the crew will be eliminated now that the clinic has reported no ill effects after carefully observing the men all spring. The charge had been made that rowing caused an enlarged heart. With this objection out of the way it is up to the students to help put the crew on its feet.

Wisconsin must send her oarsmen to the inter-college regatta at Poughskeepsie. The pep and pluck shown by the crew in the past made the varsity respected all over the country. Ours was the only western university represented in the east and we showed them "of what stuff we were made."

To get the crew back everybody must boost. The shores of Mendota ought to be lined to capacity by 10 o'clock this morning. It will encourage the men who have been working for two years. It will impress upon the faculty the determination of the students that rowing must come back and take its proper place in the forefront of sports.

What the College Editors Say

HOW MANY STUDENTS?

The support of the Alumni News on the question of the possible overgrowth of Cornell is gratifying. The question is one which should be of very great interest to every Cornell alumnus, and it will be sent abroad through this medium.

The News hits the nail on the head when it says, in its leading editorial:

"We do not hesitate to express the hope that, more and more, freshman classes will come to be taught, at least in part, by professors. It is no reproach to the younger members of the staff that they do not fill the freshman with such enthusiasm as do the older men whose reputation as teachers and scholars counts for much and whose experience gives them a different attitude from that of the more youthful, sometimes more stern and energetic, but often less inspiring assistants and instructors."

In other words the natural limit to the number of students should be based on the number of professors in the faculty. As soon as classes become so large that they must be divided up into many groups under the instruction of assistants, Cornell is diluting her resources and is overtaxing her own strength, with a resulting loss of efficiency on the part of faculty members and of undergraduates. The thing to be considered is the quality of the teaching, and not the number of students taught.

As to the means of limiting registration, the most obvious way would be to merely set an arbitrary figure beyond which no applications would be considered. This would be simpler and more effective than either raising entrance requirements or increasing tuition.—The Cornell Sun.

ASSEMBLY FOR TEACHERS' BILL

Pass Measure Giving Milwaukee Instructors Increased Salary

The assembly Friday morning without a dissenting vote passed the Jennings Milwaukee mill tax bill which will give the teachers and other employees of public schools in Milwaukee approximately $1,000,000 in increased salaries. The bill, a pet measure of Gov. Philipp, increases the mill tax from 4 to 6 mills for school purposes, raising the minimum salary from $900 to $1200 per year for school teachers and fixing a minimum-maximum salary at $2,500 instead of 1600 per year. Under the provisions of the bill the increased revenue is approximately $1,000,000. This money to be used for increases in salaries.

Assemblyman Klein withdrew his bill relating to the termination of tenancies from the judiciary committee and put it on the floor of the house. The bill as introduced provided for three months instead of one month notice for termination of tenancies. An amendment by Assemblyman Otto limited the operation of the bill to April 30, 1923. An amendment by Donnelly placed the limit at two instead of three months. An amendment by Coe provided that the bill should not affect cases now in court or notices already served. Assemblyman Nolan, Janesville, moved to indefinitely postpone the measure but the motion was defeated by vote of 27-47, and the bill was then passed.

Resolutions in the form of memorials to former assemblymen Thos. A. Stuart, Dane County and August F. Marquard, Marathon county and former congressman H. P. Daley, Dane County, were adopted. The assembly recessed while waiting for the rent regulations and hospital bills to come over from the senate.

WAGE HEARING IS SET FOR JUNE 11

The Wisconsin railroad commission on Friday fixed June 11 as the date when the hearing will be held in Milwaukee by the railroad commission on the increase of wages adopted by the state board of conciliation. By the terms of the conciliation law when wages are increased a report must be filed with the railroad commission which must then consider the matter and determine whether an increase of fares

WOMEN'S HOME BILL PASSES

Legislature Votes to Complete Home at Taycheedah, Wis.

The Wisconsin Legislature voted to complete the Women's Industrial Home at Taycheedah, late Thursday afternoon. The assembly concurred in the senate bill appropriating $22,000 for the completion of the home. This bill now goes to the governor. If it is approved it means that the work on the home can be pushed and that it will be possible to open this new institution this fall. The bill passed the assembly by a vote of 68-7.

The Assembly also concurred in the senate bill which provides that city construction work need not be paid in cash. A bill passed at the regular session of the legislature provided that all city construction work must be paid in cash. The cities of Ashland, Superior, Green Bay, Janesville and Racine claimed that the original measure worked a hardship. The new bill will relieve these conditions. The assembly also passed the bill providing for a break-water at Racine. This bill now goes to the governor. The assembly passed several bills validating bonds issued throughout the state.

There were indications here Friday morning that the legislature would be able to complete its work on Saturday. All of the measures will be placed on Friday's calendar and members of the legislature state that the probability is that all of the work will be completed and that the legislators will be able to return to their homes Saturday evening.

COMMERCE SOPHS START MOVE TO HELP FRESHMEN

Commission Created to Care for New Men; Special Meeting Tuesday

At a meeting held in the Physics-Economics building last night, W. F. Rubert, junior in the Course in Commerce, discussed and outlined plans of a commerce advisory commission, for the ensuing year. It is expected that a convocation will be held for all freshmen next Tuesday to elect six members of their class to act as the executive committee of the sophomore advisory commission and 30 other men to act as their assistants.

It is planned that during the summer all possible names of men who intend entering the commerce school next year will be obtained and letters sent to them instructing them just what to do when they arrive in Madison.

Members of the commission will meet them at the station and conduct them to their rooms and later aid them in registering. In this manner it is planned to reduce the confusion during registration days and help the freshmen as much as is possible in getting a right start.

A banquet is being planned during the fall for all men in the Commerce school, and all during the year interesting talks by influential men will be given, and large meetings held to incite interest and enthusiasm among the members of the commerce course.

Prof. S. W. Gilman and Prof. E. H. Gardner are especially interested in this association and are working hard for the success of the organization. At the freshmen convocation to be held next week, Prof. Gilman will address the students, explaining the purpose of the association. Following his talk there will be the election of officers for the sophomore advisory commission.

All freshmen are requested to attend this convocation and vote for the men they want for the executive positions.

TRACK STARS MEET MAROON PACERS TODAY

Last Dual Battle Staged in Chicago; Victory Means Clean Slate

The Badger track team will fight their last dual meet before the all-conference engagement at Michigan, when it meets the Maroon runners this afternoon at Chicago. A victory today will mean a record of no defeats in dual competitions throughout the entire track season for Coach Jones' men who are headed by Captain Andrews.

Chicago has a strong team with some of the best individual stars in the conference, but the well balanced Badger aggregation usually comes through with the long end of the score by placing in most all of the events, winning points to counteract those of individual stars on the opposing team.

Higgins, a weight man, is probably the biggest point gainer for the Maroon cinder men. He holds the conference record in the javelin throw and is a good performer with the shot. He is entered in all the weight events.

In the half mile Nash will find Spear, a veteran in this event, a fast man to outrun. Otto, distance runner, entered in both the mile and two mile, is expected to win high in his races. Harris and Hall are the Maroons best bets in the dashes.

Wisconsin should win the pole vault and the hurdles and the coach is counting on Sundt to cop first in the broad jump. Wisconsin entries:

100 yard dash—Wisconsin: Maleckar, Kelsey.
Mile—W. Ramsay, Wall.
200 yard dash—Maleckar, Spetz, Kelsey.
120 yard high hurdles—Andrews, Knollin, Spafford, Stolley.
440 yard dash—Donaldson, Spetz, Klug.
Two mile—Brothers, Dayton, Dennis.
220 yard low hurdles—Andrews, Knollin, Stolley.
Half mile—Crump, Nash, Post.
Pole vault—Endres, Merrick, Wilder.
Broad jump—Andrews, Sundt, Holbrook, Capen.
Shot put—Sundt, Kelsey, Herzfeld.
High jump—Edwards, Mobley, Knollin.
Discus—Mecartney, Sundt, Kelsey, Herzfeld.
Hammer—Anderson, Mecartney, Norem.
Javelin—Sundt, Norem, Mecartney.

The subscription price for next year is $1.20, which will be considerably less than buying the separate copies.

Anyone overlooked in the drive will be given the opportunity to subscribe at Main hall later when the June Lit will be on sale.

SOCIETY NEWS

Ludlow-Etter

Announcement has come of the wedding of Evelyn Charlotte Ludlow, former university student, to Rolland Robert Etter, a graduate and later an instructor in the university. The wedding took place Tuesday at the Ludlow home near Monroe.

The orchestra played the Mendelssohn wedding march at the approach of the bridal party. The bride wore a gown of white baronette satin, trimmed with Duchesse lace. Her veil was of white tulle, with a cap of Duchesse lace held in place with orange blossoms. Her flowers were roses and lilies of the valley.

While the bride attended the university she was social chairman of Chadbourne, and a member of Key- stone. Mr. Etter is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Etter of Monroe. During the recent war he served as chemist, being stationed at Cleveland, and afterward became a chemistry instructor in the university. At present he is employed as chemist by the General Electric company at Cleveland.

Among the university students who attended the wedding are Jane Salisbury, Mildred Sinclair, Amer-etta Jones, and Miss Lucy J. Newton, mistress of Chadbourne hall.

SENIORS

Your committee on membership in the General Alumni association asks you to read the following statements carefully:

16. BE PREPARED

We have shown that the colleges have helped in a great national crisis and we should, as alumni, see to it that they are prepared to furnish men who will help to bring in the victories of peace, which are no less difficult to win than those of war.

17. WORK FOR ALL

There will be work that will tax the best thought and effort of the alumni of the university long after we are past the age when we can serve.

18. OUR DUTY

If we do our duty, join 17235. If we do our duty today, join with others in maintaining an effective alumni association, the work of the future will be greatly simplified and facilitated. We owe it to our university to do our duty today.

We owe it to ourselves to take an interest in this work—we will be worth more to ourselves and to the State and Nation if we do our duty at this time.

No. 6 of a Series of Articles.

Speed the day when every man and woman who ever attended the university is enrolled as a member of the General Alumni association. It is one very practical way of showing your faith in the university and your desire to stand behind it.

N. B.—Seniors who join now will be credited with membership until July 1, 1921.

BADGER TEAM

in hot water, but he pulled out with Farrington's force play to third, a fly to the same man, and a foul fly for the third out.

The eleventh inning was heartbreaking. Kime, first batter, got a hit just out of Emanuel's reach in left center. Fogle walked. McNulty laid down a bunt toward third, and Lyman, covering his base, could not field it in time to get anybody. With three on and none out, Dolezal rapped to Willigrod, who threw Kime out at the plate. Davey relayed to Willigrod but missed Dolezal, and Fogle beat the return throw to the plate with what proved the winning run. Fenner then hit to short left, the only clean hit of the game, and two more runs came in.

Farrington and Falk pulled off some of the best infielding that has been seen in these parts since the last blue moon, as the box score indicates:

Reporter Tells Senate Huge Fund Was

FOR NATIONAL CAMPAIGN

Writer Insists Democratic Committeemen Knew of Underwriting

WASHINGTON—Louis J. Lang, a reporter of the New York American, identified himself to the senate investigating committee as the writer of an article purporting to tell of underwriting for a fund to back a campaign to bring about McAdoo's nomination at San Francisco. He refused to disclose the source of his information.

"A member of the democratic national committee was with my informant when I was told the story," Mr. Lang said.

Mr. Lang discussed a meeting of the democratic national executive committee at Atlantic City last September. He said that plans were made to raise $10,000,000 for a democratic national campaign. Thomas F. Chadbourn and B. M. Baruch were at Atlantic City at the time, he said.

Mr. Lang testified he had been informed that a member of the national committee had stated that Frederick A. Wallis, a deputy police commissioner of New York was representing Mr. Baruch, in collecting finances for the McAdoo campaign and that the $10,000,000 financing as planned at Atlantic City contemplated Mr. McAdoo's nomination by the democratic convention.

"Members of the national committee," Lang said, "had corroborated the story later."

the oarsmen's health, causing an enlarged heart, but the length of the course has now been reduced from four to three miles thus relieving the crews from the physical strain that they endured before. The men have been under the supervision of the clinic all this spring and no ill effects have been evident.

Minnesota Wants Crew
The agitation which has been current on the campus for some time for a re-establishment of a Wisconsin crew has spread. The following telegram received by Coach Tom Jones indicates that Minnesota will follow suit if rowing it put back on the Badger's card of major sports. The message reads:

"There is a strong agitation here for development of aquatic sports on basis of inter-collegiate contests. Rumor is current here that Wisconsin will re-establish inter-collegiate water contests providing Minnesota does. How about it?"

Approved by Jones
Coach Jones answered as follows: "Should be glad to see Minnesota put rowing back. Proposition is under consideration here."

With the time approaching for the meeting of the Wisconsin medical authorities, who will take final action on the proposition, the news from Minnesota has put a new aspect on the local situation.

If rowing is instituted at Minnesota as well as at Wisconsin, there is strong possibilities that Chicago may adopt the sport. Coach Stagg, in discussing the matter recently, was not willing to say this action would be taken, however.

The adoption of rowing by Minnesota would give the Badgers inter-collegiate competition in their own class as well as give a more favorable financial aspect to the situation. The Minnesota regatta would add another thrill in addition to that furnished by the annual Poughkeepsie regatta each year.

IRISH RESOLUTION GOES TO HOUSE

WASHINGTON—A resolution "viewing with grave concern" conditions in Ireland and "expressing sympathy with the aspirations of the Irish people for a government of their choice" was reported out today by the House foreign affairs committee. The vote was 11 to 7. The resolution was offered by Rep. Mason, Rep'n, Ills., as a substitute for his resolution proposing virtual recognition of the provisional Irish Republic. Its adoption ended a long and bitter fight in the committee.

LEGISLATURE PASSES BILL TO BUILD HOSPITAL FOR VARSITY

Would Appropriate Fund From State Soldier Bonus Excess

The Wisconsin assembly Friday afternoon concurred in the senate's favorable action on the Olson bill establishing a state hospital at the University of Wisconsin. Funds for the building will be taken out of the excess fund in the soldier bonus appropriation.

The vote in the assembly was 43 to 38. The bill now goes to the governor, who is said to be in favor of the project.

The first step for the establishment of a state hospital for crippled and deformed humanity to be operated in conjunction with a four year medical course at the university was taken in the senate Friday morning when that body with only the vote of Senator Roethe in opposition passed the hospital bill.

The Olson bill creates the hospital. A companion bill by Senator Pullen creates the method of furnishing the patients to the hospital. Indigent patients of the state will be treated free at county or state expense and others desiring medical treatment will be treated at the hospital and will be charged the regular fee. The bill will be received in the senate some time Friday.

The Olson bill finances the hospital out of the soldiers' cash bonus money and no additional tax levy is necessary for the establishment of the institution. Three years will be required to construct the hospital and the medical course will not be made a four year course until the hospital is ready for operation. Senator Olson said in expressing his views that $16,900,000 was raised in the soldier cash bonus money and that $29,000 additional money had not been collected. He said there was a cash balance of $3,700,000 and that allowing for all claims there would be an excess in the fund of over $1,000,000 and that this amount was sufficient to establish the hospital. Senator Pullen paid glowing tribute to the establishment of such an institution in the state. Only Senator Roethe voted in opposition.

Donnelly Attacks Bill.

The hospital bill was taken up by the assembly shortly before noon and debated until nearly 1 o'clock. Donnelly of Milwaukee attacked the measure, declaring that Madison was not large enough for a medical school center. He believed that the crippled could be carried for by an additional hospital at Sparta.

Assemblyman Coe of Barron county favored the establishment of a hospital, and declared there was a need of an institution of this kind.

"There never has been so much unrest and dissatisfaction among the farmers of this country," declared Assemblyman Pletz of Waukesha county. "The reason for it all is that the farmers want to be relieved of these high taxes."

Assemblyman Metcalfe, Milwaukee, spoke in favor of the bill and Otto of Milwaukee spoke in opposition of it. An adjournment was taken by the assembly until 2 o'clock when the measure will again come up for consideration.

The rent regulation bill has been put at the foot of the calendar in the house and will probably not be considered until late Friday afternoon.

The finance committee is drafting a bill which includes the ideas of both the Nye mill tax bill and the Severson surtax bill. Advance information is to the effect that the mill tax at the university will be increased from $\frac{1}{2}$ of a mill to one-half of a mill and that normal school taxes will be increased from one-sixth to one-fourth of a mill. In addition to this the surtax will be applied to incomes, the schedule being one-half that offered by Senator Severson which raised upwards of a million dollars by soldier educational law.

The bill appropriating money for the increased salaries at university and normal schools of the state has gone through both houses of the legislature and now goes to the governor. The normal bill had easy sailing. The university bill was subjected to much opposition in the house and only passed by ten votes and met with opposition in the senate where Senators Arnold, Beyer, Kleist and Roethe voted against the measure. It is apparent from the stand of the legislature that the normal schools are in high standing in legislative circles but that the stock of the university in legislative circles has been discounted.

When the bill reached the senate Arnold attacked the measure claiming that the university was placing its hand on freedom of thought. He charged that the institution was being run on conservative lines and that men with progressive ideas were not given an opportunity to express them at the university while standpatters and reactionaries are shown every consideration. Senator Claire B. Bird, Wausau, defended the university against what he termed an attempt to force it by the purse strings to adopt certain ideas. Senator Arnold complained that Mayor Hoan and Adolph Germer had not been allowed to speak in a hall at the university. The appropriation bill was then passed.

Other measures which have passed both houses and now go to the governor are:

An appropriation of $2900 for the mining school.

A bill fixing a minimum salary of $100 for supervising teachers.

A bill increasing the amount of money that can be raised for the support of county training schools.

MONONA REPORTS TO HEALTH BOARD

Suggestions for the eradication of the odors in Lake Monona probably will be referred to the board of health when the report of Alvord & Burdick, Russell and Juday is submitted to the council Friday evening. The engineers, Dean Russell and Prof. Juday attribute the odors to the algae plant growth in the lake. Edward A. Babcock, assistant health officer, is in charge of the copper sulphate treatment being applied at present.

Mayor I. Milo Kittleson will announce the members of the committee that will investigate the water softening plant project.

WOULD STOP SUGAR EXPORT

Senate Committee Favors

McNary Embargo

Bill

WASHINGTON — By a vote of six to three the senate agriculture committee today ordered a favorable report on the McNary bill providing for an export embargo on sugar.

Those supporting the bill were Senators McNary, Capper, Kenyon, and Norris, Republicans; and Harrison and Kendrick, Democrats.

Senators Smith, Georgia, Smith, South Carolina, and Ransdell, Democrats opposed it.

Before taking final action the committee amended the measure so that it would not affect sugar to the United States by the foreign countries or their nationals to be refined. Early senate consideration of the bill is planned by Senator McNary.

WHO'S WHO READY EARLY NEXT WEEK

"Who's Who," first college publication of its kind in the country, will be off the press in less than a week, according to Lawrence W. Murphy, editor. Owing to the printer's strike and inability to get enough paper "Who's Who" has been delayed.

The book consists of a biographical summary of the most representative men and women on the campus, as well as many of the members of the faculty. It contains no illustrations, but a "What's What" section has been added to the regular biographical section. This contains short sketches and the aims of all the campus activities.

The entire edition of 1,500 copies has been sold. There will be no second edition because of increased cost of production.

BIRGE REVIEWS CADET CORPS IN FINAL PARADE

Wolfe and Zwicker Head Regiment Next Year; List Other Officers

BIRGE REVIEWS CT
As one of the field artillery pieces roared out a salute of arrival, President E. A. Birge, accompanied by the commandant and his assistants, took his place in front of the library steps to review the Cadet corps yesterday afternoon on the lower campus.

Orders for the rest of the school year were read, and the appointments of the following officers for next year were announced: Honorary colonel, J. Calvin Wolfe; colonel, Michael H. Zwicker; lieutenant colonel, Joseph R. Sherr; majors, Joseph B. Bolender, Cecil M. Russel, Blandford Jennings, Evrard C. Caluwaert, Charles T. Shrage who will be in charge of the signal unit, and captain and adjutant, William A. Field. The staff captains with the artillery unit have been named as Walter C. Thiel, Alfred H. Gruppe, and Ross Rogers. According to the orders all present commissions will remain in force unchanged.

All present officers were awarded commissions, while all non-commissioned officers were given warrants by the President.

Members of company "F" which won the annual company competition, securing a score of 128 out of a possible 140, were given medals, while the officers of the company, Captains E. C. Caluwaert and R. L. Luening, were presented with automatic pistols.

In the individual competition list, the winner, Private E. W. Birdlebough, of company "A," who secured a score of 356 out of a possible 400, was awarded an automatic pistol. First-sergeant S. L. Rosenberry of company "F," who placed second, was given a silver medal. Sergeant L. S. Ellis of company "N," winner of third place, was given a bronze medal.

Led by the First Regimental band the companies swung around and passed the president, circled around Park street and returned to the lower campus where a picture was taken.

This was the last review of the cadets for the year. Classes will continue throughout the following week.
