The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Dear Juanita:

Just wondered if you might like to see this issue of Brooks Book. Thomas Norton, editor, you may have come across - has written many wonderful books. He must have assigned a novice indeed to contribute to the column but I've corrected the mistakes for the most part.

Wd. appreciate no publicity until after the two forthcoming books do finally appear.

How are you? I do hope you are getting around without too much hardship. I saw Sheldon Vance the other day - he seems to be doing better than formerly? Love to you Louise
