

LIBRARIES

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

The Wisconsin alumni magazine. Volume 23, Number 7 May 1922

[s.l.]: [s.n.], May 1922

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/QGZB5COYM65WR83>

Based on date of publication, this material is presumed to be in the public domain.

For information on re-use, see

<http://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/Copyright>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

ORIGINAL LIBRARY

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

WHO'S WHO IN REUNIONS

For Next Commencement
Classes of

1862	1922	1892
1867	Alumni Day Tuesday June 13	1897
1872		1902
1877		1907
1882		1912
1887		1917

Secretaries of the above classes please notice
Commencement Dates, June 11-14

All former students of any year or class urgently invited and cordially welcome.

RETURN FOR COMMENCEMENT
JUNE 11, 12, 13, 14

May, 1922
25 cents Per Copy

Vol. 23—No. 7
$2.00 Per Year

Where Alumni Should Lead—

Perhaps the greatest thing University training can give us is the ability to do some measure of planning in living our lives.

Securing a competency, obtaining wealth, and using it to best advantage, is an important part of such a course.

In almost every case this can best be accomplished with the assistance of an established Investment House.

Morris F. Fox & Co., itself headed by a U. W. graduate, is always ready to give the fullest measure of service to Wisconsin Alumni.

MORRIS F. FOX & CO.

INVESTMENT SECURITIES

EAST WATER AT MASON MILWAUKEE WIS.
MADISON MONTICELLO GREEN BAY

CONVENIENT--

-- because those who carry them are not dependent on banks and banking hours; they are accepted at all times and in all places - - - - -

TRAVELERS'

A·B·A American Bankers Association Cheques

Ask for them at your bank or write for particulars to

BANKERS TRUST COMPANY,
New York City

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE
UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Alumni Headquarters: 821 State Street, Madison
Robert S. Crawford, '03 General Secretary

ALUMNI BOARD

ISRAEL SHRIMSKI, ex'88 Pres.
ROBERT McMYNN, L'94 V. Pres.
HELEN B. SMITH, '19 Rec. Sec'y.
CHARLES N. BROWN, L'81 Treas.
MRS. T. E. BRITTINGHAM, '89

L. F. VAN HAGAN, '04
VICTOR FALK, '11
STUART W. REID, '15
F. H. CLAUSEN, '97
J. E. McCONNELL, '87

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

ROBERT S. CRAWFORD, EDITOR

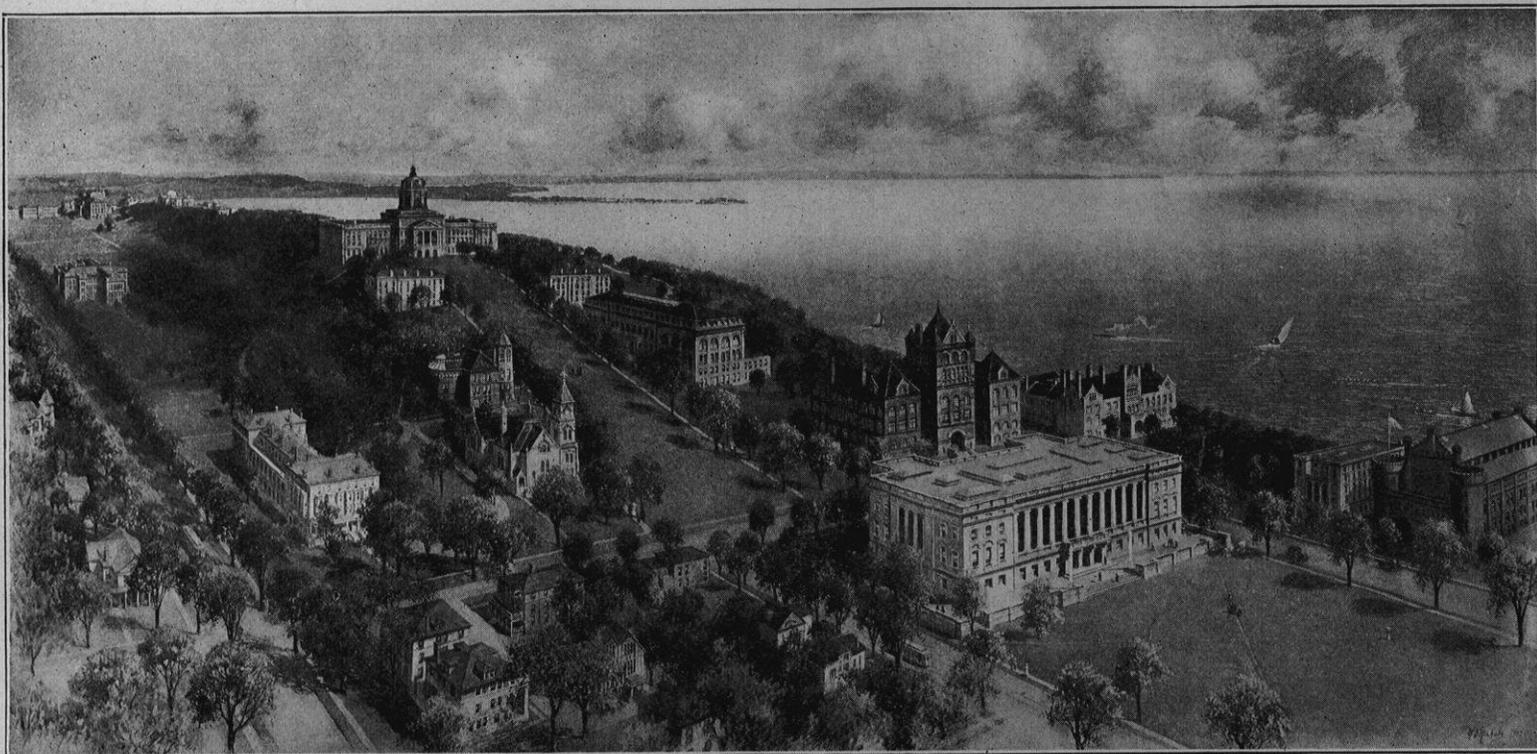

"A Magazine Aiming to Preserve and Strengthen the Bond of Interest and Reverence of the Wisconsin Graduate for His Alma Mater."

Table of Contents for May, 1922

News and Comment.....	217
Moving Picture, By E. H. Gardner	219
"On Wisconsin," U. W. Club of Chicago Play, By B. D. Burhoe, '13	219
Book Notes	220
Western Conference Alumni Ass'n of Cleveland, By D. Y. Swaty, '98	221
Episcopal Church at U. W., By Rev. S. M. Cleveland	222
American Ass'n of Petroleum Geologists, By C. W. Tomlinson, '13	223
With the Memorial Union, By L. S. Baker, '22.....	223
U. W. Clubs.....	224
Athletics—By W. E. Shoults, '23.....	227
Alumni News	228
Class News.....	230
An "Unusual" Bird, By A. J. Goedgen, '07	236
Campus Notes.....	242

THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE is published monthly during the School Year (November to August, inclusive) at the University of Wisconsin.
ALUMNI DUES—Incl. $1.25 subscription to The Alumni Magazine—$2.00 a year, "payable on or before July 1 of each year for the fiscal year beginning May 1 next preceding."
SUBSCRIPTION to the Wisconsin Alumni Magazine alone, without the privileges of membership: $2.50 a year; foreign postage 50 cents extra.
CHANGE OF ADDRESS must be reported before the 21st of the month to insure prompt delivery at the new address.
REMITTANCES should be made payable to The Wisconsin Alumni Association and may be by check, draft, express or postal money order; personal checks should be drawn "Payable in exchange." All mail should be addressed to
THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, 821 State Street, MADISON. Entered at the Post Office, Madison, Wis., as second class mail matter.

COME HOME AGAIN IN JUNE

BIRDSEYE VIEW OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Alma Mater invites her Sons and Daughters home for the Commencement Season

BACCALAUREATE, SUNDAY, JUNE 11

CLASS DAY, MONDAY, JUNE 12

COMMENCEMENT, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 14

ALUMNI DAY, TUESDAY, JUNE 13

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

"It is through the meeting of conflicting views in the forum of public opinion that truth is sought and ascertained in a democracy."

Volume XXIII

Madison, Wis., May, 1922

Number 7

THE Birge-Bryan and the Scott-Edison controversies have received much publicity.

Mr. Bryan's insistence that President Birge is no Christian, and Mr. Edison's claim that Professor Scott is no gentleman are received with a smile of amusement rather than with the solemn mien of serious concern by thousands of former students who have been under the tutelage of Birge and Scott.

Our President has for decades held membership in the Congregational Church. Firm in his own religious beliefs, tolerant and broad in his attitude toward all religious bodies, he has shown faithful, sympathetic activity in all religious work among students. Even his characteristic industry as a faithful public servant has never caused him to neglect observance of the first Commandment. Dr. Birge is the type of citizen who spends relatively little time in talking about what should be done—but few men spend more time in doing. For years his hours of active labor have exceeded those of most men. While few men can claim longer hours devoted to public service, yet with modest fidelity he has labored in the observance of both the first and second Commandments—love of God and love of man—in ways that have formed wonderful and inspiring examples to thousands of young men and women who have attended this University. If President Birge is not a Christian—active and faithful, modest and kindly—Lord, we pray Thee tell us who is.

The Scott-Edison controversy resolves itself into a question as to what sort of reply one great specialist should give another great specialist when the latter addresses to the former a

A Gentleman? suggestion in the form of an inquiry. Should Scott, a recognized leader as an authority in matters affecting money and banking, have used more finesse in replying to Edison, the wizard of material inventive genius? Had Scott addressed to Edison a suggestion in the form of an inquiry along lines of electrical invention, and had Scott's inquiry of itself shown lack of knowledge of elementary and fundamental scientific facts, should Edison have taken time to explain these A. B. C's of scientific knowledge to Scott, or should he have referred him to elementary treatises and advised him that his age, training, and interests offer difficulties in mastering the complex scientific information necessary for a full understanding?

Was Scott rude, or was he courageously honest? Students of Dr. Scott speak of him as clear, terse, definite. We have never heard anyone speak of him as rude or ungentlemanly. Had Scott used finesse and diplomacy, would Edison have misunderstood this for encouragement or flattery? No reader of the correspondence can accuse Dr. Scott of evasion. Edison does not like the reply. Is he an unbiased judge as to whether or not such reply lacks courtesy?

Neither is the private correspondence of Scott to Edison a matter for the Regents to sit in judgment on. Edison wrote Scott; Scott answered him; Edison took umbrage at the reply—too bad! Let us hope that these two great men can settle this matter between themselves, but whether they do settle it or whether they do not settle it, we predict that the attitude of graduates is unmistakably “hands off” as far as the Regents are concerned. For the Regents to censure Dr. Scott would be resented by many even though they may not now sympathize with undiplomatic expression of rugged honesty. To approve Scott’s letter to Edison gets official action tangled up with private correspondence. If Edison did not want Scott’s opinion, he could easily have avoided getting it. He solicited it; he secured it. Now that he has it, he does not like it, and, as we see it, this is all the private business of Edison and Scott. Therefore “fight it out,” gentlemen. Whatever you do, be it shake hands or fight, you are both distinguished enough to attract wide public notice. Your private controversy gives advertising free of charge to this University, but neither the students, faculty, governing board, nor the Alumni Association are referees or umpires in such private matters. Indeed we suspect that most members of the General Alumni Association are greatly surprised that Mr. Edison made the correspondence public.

W. A. SCOTT

In the Birge-Bryan argument most former students will find difficulty in taking Mr. Bryan’s statements seriously enough to admit that there is any basis of argument. Dr. Birge is a Christian; as the ex convict said about the prison chaplain, “He is a h’ll of a good one.” That Mr. Bryan, a great moral leader, should employ his unsurpassed powers of oratory in picturing such a sincere fellow Christian as a lieutenant of Beelzebub is a mystery that is too humorous to be serious.

Advertising is the education of the public as to who you are, where you are, and what you have to offer of skill, talent, commodity, or service.

Advertising has nothing to offer to his fellow men in the way of such skill, commodity, talent, or service. National advertisers are interested in reaching leading representative citizens in every community. Such advertisers recognize the potential possibilities of college graduates, but have, in years gone by, experienced some difficulty in reaching them by placing advertisements in separate alumni publications.

Most of the Alumni Associations are now members of a national organization known as The Alumni Magazines Associated. This organization makes it possible for national advertisers to reach the entire alumni field of all American colleges by placing a single advertisement with one advertising representative, by paying one bill for advertising, and by holding one organization responsible for service and efficiency.

To Wisconsin men and women interested in placing national advertising we shall be glad to supply detailed information regarding The Alumni Magazines Associated. You can depend that such information coming from your own alumni organization will be answered with accuracy and reliability.

If you have some odd jobs of service that you would like the General Alumni Headquarters to do, we want to do it for you, of course, but if it is all the same to you, and if it can wait until after June 14, Odd Jobs “have a heart,” for Commencement makes ever growing demands upon the small force at the General Alumni Headquarters. We are already too busy for comfort, and the rush will continue until after the middle of June. If the particular thing you want us to do can wait until after Commencement we bespeak your co-operation in holding such requests for service in abeyance until after June 14. So much for helping us with acts of negation.

We now urge you to help with a few positive acts. In a short time the pre-Commencement mail will reach you. Answer it the day it comes; send payment for your dues, money for your dinner reservations; return your address cards. Some years the mail that piles up the last few days before Commencement takes a half dozen people to open. You can help us distribute this load and save yourselves from any annoying confusion by replying to the pre-Commencement letter the day it reaches you. We ask our members to do this, feeling that they will show the same ready co-operation in this matter that they have in all other reasonable requests we have ever sent to them.

By the way, do not forget to come back for Commencement if you can, because we predict that it will be a great gala affair this year.

Indications point to the greatest gathering of former students at Madison during the Commencement season this year that this University has ever seen. The Alumni Headquarters is already Reune in June working overtime answering pre-Commencement mail. All classes with numerals ending in 2 or in 7 are making special reunion plans. All former students are cordially welcome. The class reunions are not so exclusive that you will fail to find plenty of friends in Madison even on Class Day, and we can officially assure all that, whether you are a 2 or a 7, or any other year, your presence is heartily desired on Alumni Day. Make the Commencement season part of your vacation. The beauties of Madison are unsurpassed anywhere in the fair days of mid-June. So come home again then when Alma Mater invites you.

Moving Picture

And now—a real Wisconsin moving picture!

Pictures that will take you back to the campus; pictures of the Varsity Welcome, the bag rush, the Varsity teams in action all through the year; pictures of the faculty and the buildings; pictures of notable scientific achievements; pictures of the lake in winter and summer, that make you catch your breath; pictures of you, too, if you came to Homecoming last fall. And at the end, a genuine thriller, staged by prominent alumni, that will tell you a new story about Wisconsin.

Three reels by Prof. E. H. Gardner and Dr. M. E. Diemer, '08, are being prepared under the joint auspices of the Bureau of Visual Instruction of the Extension Division, and the Building Committee of the Memorial Union. Every Wisconsin club from coast to coast will want to exhibit it.

When ready, the film can be had by application to Prof. W. H. Dudley, chief of the Bureau of Visual Instruction, Extension Division, Room 311, University Extension Building, Madison. A small fee will be charged to help defray the expense of preparation.—E. H. GARDNER.

“On Wisconsin” (U. W. Club of Chicago Play)

RUMORS have been current for some time of an ambitious plan of the University of Wisconsin Club of Chicago to put on a real play. We are now able to announce that the plans are all completed and the play “On Wisconsin!” will be given at the Aryan Grotto Theater on the evening of May 10.

“On Wisconsin” is an historical play setting forth some of the interesting and important events in the life of the University. Four periods are shown in as many acts. The first represents the years immediately after the Civil War when the University was but a small struggling college; the second portrays the mid-Bascom period usually referred to as the period of transition in the life of the University; the period of expansion, when unusually successful participation in inter-collegiate athletics advertised the University widely, is shown in the third act; while the fourth is the new era of the modern day.

To the older graduates the play will be a revelation of the magnificent institution which their Alma Mater has grown to be, while the youngsters of today who take it all for granted will learn some of the romantic and interesting events of the institution's earlier history. All of them will be inspired to a renewed enthusiasm for, and loyalty to, Old Wisconsin.

A great deal of interest has been aroused and a record breaking attendance is expected.—B. D. BURHOE.

BOOK NOTES

The First Crusade—Translated from the Accounts of Eyewitnesses (Princeton University Press, Princeton, N. J.; Humphrey Milford, Oxford University Press, London. $3.00 net), by A. C. Krey, B.A. '07, M.A. '08, Ph.D. '14, professor of history, University of Minnesota, is not only the story of the Christians' first successful attempt to regain possession of the Holy Land, but the first adequate picture of European society since the fall of the Roman Empire in the West. For the personnel of this pilgrimage represented all classes of society—ecclesiastical and lay, masculine and feminine—thus supplementing the other brief chronicles of the time, which were concerned with the dignitaries only: emperor, king, pope, and archbishop.

In his introductory chapter Dr. Krey classifies the forms of his source material and notes the steps that lead to their being preserved in written form. He attributes the fact that they were preserved to their religious appeal for the churchmen were the only writers of the time. Naturally these ecclesiastical pilgrims sent messages back to their friends. Fourteen of these appear throughout the book.

And, too, it was natural that the oral reports of this "journey of the Lord" take written form as chronicles. Of these the Gesta is the first full account extant. The account of Pontius of Balazun, Canon of Puy, is valuable from a sociological standpoint. With a mind free from bias, Fulcher Chartres has handed down a record of events as they occurred, which to research workers, is second to the Gesta only.

Of writings which contribute eyewitness testimony in part only, the Alexiad by Anna Comnena, which was written 40 years after the first Crusaders had passed, might be expected to be in places inaccurate; its value lies in its portrayal of the Byzantine attitude toward the Latins. The contribution of Peter Tudebode, priest of Civray, is an eyewitness corroboration of the Gesta, of which it is almost a copy, and because of it the Gesta authenticity is enhanced.

Ekkehard of Aura makes a brief contribution to the Peasants' Crusade, of which no direct chronicle has come down to us.

Raoul de Caen, a Norman knight too young to accompany the Crusaders, and so not an eyewitness reflects the Norman point of view. The account of Albert of Aix, in part legendary, is generally probable. Three other contributions were included because their authors were present at the Council of Clermont: those of Robert the Monk; Balderic, Abbott of Bourgeuil; and Guibert, Abbot of Nogent.

The volume is dedicated to Dana Carleton Munro, Dodge professor of mediaeval history at Princeton, formerly professor of history at Wisconsin.

The Table of Contents outlines the progress of the Crusade:

Chapter I. The Summons: Conditions in Europe at the beginning of the Crusade; Urban's plea for a Crusade; the immediate response; Urban's instructions to assembling Crusaders. Chapter II. The March to Constantinople: The departure; the march of the peasants; the main body. Chapter III. Alexius and the Crusaders: Alexius and the peasants; fate of the Peasants' Crusade; The Emperor's treatment of Hugh; Godfrey at Constantinople; Alexius and the minor leaders; Bohemund and the Emperor; Raymond and the Emperor; Robert of Normandy and Stephen at the Emperor's Court; siege and capture of Nicaea; Alexius at the surrender of Nicaea; The views of Alexius on his relations with the Crusaders. Chapter IV. From Nicaea to Antioch: Battle of Dorylaeum; hardships of the march through Asia Minor; Baldwin and Tancred depart from the main army; the march through Armenia; beginning of the siege of Antioch; summary of the march to Antioch and the beginning of the siege; the foraging expedition of Bohemund and Robert of Flanders; sufferings in camp before Antioch; call for reinforcements; the erection of a fortress; fights with the Turks; capture of Antioch; summary of the siege of Antioch. Chapter V. Kerbogha and the Finding of the Lance: Kerbogha lays siege to the Crusaders in Antioch; dire straits of the Crusaders; revelation of the lance; defeat of Kerbogha; summary of events. Chapter VI. Dissension among the leaders: Disorganization of the army; disputes among Raymond and Bohemund; Raymond finally starts for Jerusalem. Archas; continued quarrels among the leaders; the trial of the the Lance; another view of the revelation and trial of the Lance. Chapter VII. Capture of Jerusalem: March to Jerusalem; the siege; final assault and capture; arrangements for holding Jerusalem; battle of Ascalon; Bohemund and Baldwin fulfill their vow; official summary of the Crusade.

Papers on Bacteriology and Allied Subjects, the second number of the University of Wisconsin Studies, science series, is "dedicated to Bacteriologist Dean Harry Luman Russell by his former students on the twenty-fifth anniversary of his doctorate." The Foreword explains the tardy appearance of the volume: "In June 1917 the twenty-fifth anniversary of Dean H. L. Russell's doctorate was celebrated by a complimentary breakfast. As a part of the exercises, it was announced that a quarter century volume by certain of his students would be published in his honor. Most of the manuscripts were received June 1, 1918, but war-time conditions have delayed the completion of the task until now. It is hoped, however, that the unavoidable delay will not lessen the pleasure which the volume will bring to either the teacher or his students." Dean Russell graduated from the University with the class of 1888.

The Contents tell the scope of the work and list the contributors: A review of the scientific work of Harry Luman Russell together with a list of his books and scientific papers, by E. G. Hastings, '99; the development of city milk supply problems, by H. A. Harding, '96; the resistance of mold spores to the action of sunlight, by John Weinzirl, '96; the influence of the plane of nutrition upon the percentage of fat, by C. H. Eckles, grad, '96-'97; characteristics and distribution of the Colon-Aerogenes Group, by L. A. Rogers, grad, '97-'98; the identity of American and French sporotrichosis, by D. J. Davis, '98; the significance of yeasts and oidia in pasteurized butter, by F. W. Bouska and J. C. Brown, grads, '01-'02; the action of certain bacteria on the nitrogenous material of sewage, by E. G. Birge, '03; the detection of pasteurized milk, by W. D. Frost, Ph.D. '03; the investigation of drinking water supplies, by H. A. Whitaker, '03; the milk supply of Chicago, by A. L. Amott, '08; the bacteriology of ice cream. by B. W. Hammer, '08.

WESTERN CONFERENCE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF CLEVELAND

By D. Y. SWATY, '98

Thought you might be interested in hearing that the Western Conference Alumni Association of Cleveland is still doing business and meeting with considerable success. Weekly luncheons are held at which some form of entertainment is provided. Last evening the Association held a radio smoker which, in spite of the heavy downpour, drew over three hundred and fifty. A record of attendance at the luncheon is kept and a dope sheet prepared showing the standing of the units of the Association. The present standing after 12 weeks is as follows:—

	Standing	Attendance
Purdue.....	1.211	64
Michigan.....	.989	266
Ohio State.....	.974	189
Minnesota.....	.961	8
Wisconsin.....	.945	18
Illinois.....	.900	70
Indiana.....	.885	7
Iowa.....	.877	32
Chicago.....	.703	46
Northwestern.....	.375	2
		—4-3-'22.

BUILDINGS
BRIDGES

PAVING
WATERWORKS

ERICH G. SCHROEDER Co.

ENGINEERING AND BUILDING SERVICE

405 Broadway

Milwaukee, Wis.

The University of Wisconsin—Summer Session

June 26 to August 4 (Law School June 19 to August 25)

One Fee, $22 for All Courses (Except Law $35)

Courses in all Colleges, leading to the Bachelor's and Higher Degrees and providing opportunity for professional advancement.

For: University, College and Normal School Instructors, High School Teachers, Supervisors, Principals, Superintendents, men and women in Professional Life, College Graduates and Undergraduates, High School Graduates. Special work this year for Grade School Teachers and Supervisors, and for Teachers of Commercial Subjects.

RESEARCH FACILITIES

LAKESIDE ADVANTAGES

For further information address
DIRECTOR, SUMMER SESSION,
Madison, Wis.

EPISCOPAL CHURCH AT U. W.

Furnished by REV. S. M. CLEVELAND

1. Q Name of religious organization? A. "The University Commission of the Church in Wisconsin" and "The St. Frances Society of Students."

2. Q Special place of meeting for University students? A. St. Frances Club House for all Episcopal Students, 1015 University Ave.

3. Q Is property owned or rented by the organization? A. Owned.

4. Q Amount invested in real estate, building, furniture, and fixtures? A. Approximately $40,000.

5. Q Amount of indebtedness? A. None.

6. Q Number of paid religious workers? A. Three.

THE CHAPEL

7. Q Name and title of such workers and annual salaries? A. Student pastor, $3,000; matron, $900; office secretary, $300.

8. Q Annual receipts? A. $9,000—entire support from Nation-wide campaign of Diocese of Milwaukee.

9. Q Annual expenditures excluding salaries? A. $4,875.

10. Q Number of students of this Faith in the University? A. 600.

11. Q Number of student members working in this organization and its auxiliaries? A. About 150.

12. Q Number of members of the University teaching staff who are members of this organization and its auxiliaries? A. 60.

REV. S. M. CLEVELAND

13. Q Average church attendance? A. 150.

14. Q Approximate number of years this work has been conducted? A. One year.

15. Q How many courses in religious education does this organization offer on week days? A. Two (one on Sunday).

q. Average attendance? a. 10 (Sunday); 5.

q. Total enrollment? a. 21 (Sunday); 12; 14.

CLUB HOUSE

16. Q. Number of calls and conferences held during the year? A. About 15 a week.

17. Q. Does this organization maintain a loan fund or scholarship? A. One scholarship.

Temporarily, religious services are held in Grace Church, the authorities of which have kindly opened its doors to help meet this part of the problem. There the Student Chaplain holds a corporate Communion service for students once a month.

The club house is in charge of a matron. On the second floor the Student Chaplain has his office and library, and the office of his secretary. Another room is used for the chapel, where services are held on feast days and special occasions. Reading and smoking rooms are open at all hours of the day to students. On Friday evenings every two weeks, a dance is held, and supper is served at cost each Sunday evening, when the dining rooms of most fraternity and boarding houses are closed.

For the present, the work in Madison will be largely one of organization. For this the Church has provided the machinery; the rank and file of the Church must supply the means for carrying on this great work. If this is done, three things will happen: Our young people at Madison will be saved to the Church; second, some of our brightest young men will be led into the Christian Ministry; third, leadership of a fine quality will be developed for the Church.

AMERICAN ASSOCIATION OF PETROLEUM GEOLOGISTS

By C. W. TOMLINSON, '13

The University of Wisconsin was represented by some twenty alumni and former faculty members and students at the annual convention of the American Ass'n of Petroleum Geologists held in Oklahoma City March 9, 10, and 11. Under arrangements ably made by Frank Edson, who was a graduate student in 1908-09, we had a Wisconsin dinner the evening of March 9. At the banquet of the Ass'n the following evening Wisconsin men and women occupied two tables, properly advertised by a big Wisconsin banner overhead, by cardinal paper hats, and by our cheers and songs; in which we set the pace for the numerous other institutions represented. Only two of these, the universities of Oklahoma and Chicago, had larger contingents than Wisconsin. Chicago and Wisconsin bantered each other in the good old-fashioned way, but Wisconsin had the first word and the last.—3-21-'22.

WITH THE MEMORIAL UNION

By L. S. BAKER, '22

EVERY month sees new milestones passed in the work of the Memorial Union campaign.

Dean Goodnight '05, and Professor Gardner, back from a tour of cities extending from Eau Claire and Chippewa Falls through Ashland, Superior, and Duluth, up to Hibbing and Virginia on the range, report a total from these towns, with Detroit, of over $17,000, with more to follow.

Better even than the pledges was the loyalty and interest the campaign has called out. Not only did a hearty response come from the leaders, like "Pete" (P. J.) Murphy, '11, and "Fink" (A. G.) Findlay, '07, of Chippewa, Bailey Ramsdell, '12, of Eau Claire, "Charley" (C. H.) Scheuer, '08, and "Al" (A. S.) Diehl, '07, of Hibbing, "Lew" (L. G.) Castle, '13, of Duluth, "Chief" (Godfrey) Johnson, '14, and "Jack" (J. P.) O'Connor, '18, of Superior, and Carl Rudquist, ex '00, of Ashland, but alumni and former students of all years rallied to the support of old Wisconsin. Nineteen of the forty pledges from Hibbing came from school teachers. "Jack" (J. W.) Dohm, '11, took out life memberships for his whole family, including his sixteen-month-old son! A former student, long out of touch with the University, declared, "This is the finest thing Wisconsin has done. I'm in on it—and my interest in the old school has revived."

Men whose businesses had gone "into the red" last year signed up, deciding that they couldn't pass the appeal of Alma Mater; an alumnus within one year of his fiftieth reunion, member of a family of Wisconsin graduates scattered from Boston to Alaska, refused to be counted for less than a life membership. Wisconsin has reason to be proud of her sons and daughters.

And Chicago—wait till you hear about Chicago's play, to be given May 10, surveying the history of the University and pointing out how all the past years point to the great need for the Memorial Union. Chicago men and women are getting ready to roll up their score.

It's coming your way!

E. H. GARDNER

U. W. CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and you'll work together."

"The alumni, through their local organizations, can and should do things. The central association can not infuse life into local branches by some hypodermic method or other. Rather, it is the central organization which thrives only when alumni everywhere are alert for their opportunity for service."

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

By DAVID WEISS, '19

AFTER hibernating for almost ten months, the Wisconsin Club of Northern California held its annual dinner and punfest, and at the same time gave John Baker, '06, on his way to resume his duties as adviser to the Chinese government railroad bureau, a most appreciative hearing as he told of the economic and political conditions of China. About thirty loyal Badgers braved the chilling rain which fell all day, many coming a distance of over eighty miles.

The grand feed was held March 10 in the Hotel Plaza, and with the exception of a vanishing portion of broiled squab—as no other member of the chicken family is so bony and small—fish, in multifarious forms, formed the piece de resistance, much to the chagrin of the Ags, who were in the majority.

Baker's talk on China was most enlightening. In telling of his work he said that before 1915, when he assumed his duties as adviser, the Chinese government owned fourteen railroads, but these were controlled almost entirely by foreign capitalists. There was no uniformity; there was waste, inefficiency, and dissatisfaction among employees and passengers; and when a passenger boarded a train he was never sure when he would arrive at his destination.

Now, however, the entire government railway system has been overhauled. A uniform and through ticket, baggage, and freight service is in operation; a more efficient method of hiring, firing, and promotion has replaced the rule of thumb; and railroad finances have been put on a sound financial basis. Mr. Baker characterized the Chinese as being the most frugal, industrious, and law-abiding people in the world, and explained that a Chinese revolution is not nearly as cataclysmic as pictured by long-distance journalists.

The most important part of the evening's program, in the writer's opinion, was the vigorous protests voiced by several Badgers against the action of the Board of Regents for refusing to permit Dr. Scott Nearing and Oswald Garrison Villard, editor of the Nation, to address University students on the campus.

Another criticism made by an alumna was that Wisconsin was fast becoming a provincial university; and that by boosting up the nonresident fee to almost impossible heights it was becoming more and more difficult for students outside the State to attend the University.

Officers for the coming year are: R. T. Nichols, '04, president; Prof. G. H. True, '94, vice president; Frank Cornish, '96, secretary-treasurer. Joseph Bredsteen, '01, is the retiring president, and Frank Cornish succeeds himself, having served in that capacity for the past fifteen years.—3-18-'22.

CHICAGO

By B. D. BURHOE, '13

The general club activities and the varied programs supplied by Chairman C. L. Byron, '08, for the Friday luncheons have made the past month a most interesting one. On March 10 I. A. Miller, federal tax expert, presented a subject usually considered dry, not to say unintelligible, in such a manner that his hearers could face the making up of their income tax returns with hope instead of despair. The questions asked of the speaker indicated that most Wisconsin men are in the tax-paying class.

March 11, more than 200 Badgers went to the University of Chicago gym and helped the Wisconsin basketball team defeat the Maroons by supplying continuous rooting. It was the last game of the season and Dr. Meanwell's team was in excellent form.

In spite of invitations of Chief T. J. Lucas, '07, to a "scalping party" a good crowd conquered fear and attended the Chippewa smoker at the City Club on the evening of March 16. A fine buffet supper was enlivened by many numbers by the Glee Club and an accordion player imported from Italy especially for the occasion. Max Zabel, '98, the scintillating toastmaster, secured sparkling responses from E. F. Wilson, '84, B. H. Peck, '06, Edw. Austin, '12, O. B. Zimmerman, '96, and others. Momentary fear of actual scalping was caused when the room was darkened. This was dispelled, however, when pictures began to appear on the screen. Crafty Chippewa had been spying on many Chicago alumni, in some cases even in infancy, and the records transformed into cartoons by Charles Reynolds, '18, revealed many astounding incidents of the past, hitherto unknown. George and Will Haight ('99 and '03), Israel Shrimski, ex '88, J. G. Wray, '93, H. J. Smith, '77, O. W. Middleton, '07, A. D. Janes, '17,

B. R. Brindley, '14, and others will hereafter walk with more care.

Views of the campus were also shown. O. B. Zimmerman was the concluding spellbinder with a fascinating account of his adventures in Russia in 1914 when his camera caused his arrest as a spy.

On March 17 O. W. Ray, '78, introduced Abel Cantu, '17, former instructor at Wisconsin, who spoke on his native country, "Mexico, Its Possibilities and Political Outlook." Mr. Cantu gave a vivid description of this much misunderstood country, its tremendous mineral resources and agricultural possibilities, many of which are still quite undeveloped. Mexico should be recognized by the United States in such a manner that the interests of all in both countries are protected and enlarged rather than the interests of only a relative few, the bankers and financiers. The press is responsible for exaggerated reports of banditry, the actual violent crime being less in a week for the 50 million inhabitants than in one day for the 2½ million in Chicago. Mutual misunderstanding must be replaced by exchange of knowledge by both nations. Walter Schwinn, '23, from Madison at this meeting announced the coming of Haresfoot's "Kitty Corner" on April 19 which had a large attendance.

ABEL CANTU

March 24 M. S. Hill, an expert on shipping and foreign commerce, discussed "Practical Patriotism" as related to our merchant marine and international trade relations. By reason of his twenty-four years of foreign residence and travel around the world, Mr. Hill's talk was of timely interest and value.

Future Wisconsin-Chicago football games need enlarged facilities for the spectators. Those at the March 31 luncheon heard an illustrated talk by H. J. Burt, consulting engineer for the architects who drew the plans for the proposed Grant Park Stadium on the lake front. This improvement, which it is hoped will some day be used for the Olympic games, will, when completed, seat 100,000 people. Anyone familiar with present day conditions at Stagg Field can appreciate what this will mean to intercollegiate athletic events in coming years. The stadium will be used for pageants, stock shows, military drills, and spectacles of all kinds, while the space beneath the covered sections can be utilized for permanent industrial and civic exhibitions. Mr. Burt made use of many slides and drawings, giving a thoroughly adequate idea of the project.

Our guest and speaker on April 7, Ladies' Day, was Dr. Smiley Blanton, professor in the medical department of the University of Wisconsin. His subject was "Speech and the Personality." Defining personality as the sum of our habits, emotions, and instincts, speech was shown in its relation to personality. Speech developed primarily to express the emotional life. It is a short cut to action, shows our adaption to other people, and as an expression of thought indicates our intellectual life. Therefore in the overcoming of personality difficulties, repressions or blocked cravings, so called "nervousness," speech is the best method of attack in training sufferers to outlets socially useful. Dr. Blanton's clinic trains teachers to understand the emotional life of children and mental hygiene, defects in which cause 90 per cent of these personality difficulties. In his talk punctuated throughout with genuine wit and humor, Dr. Blanton furnished the most enjoyable talk of the month.

In the days when we have speakers from our University it is generally agreed that no one can afford to be absent. We have come to know that our Madison guests give us the most exceptional and unique talks. They are assured always of the warmest welcome from the U. W. Club of Chicago.

N. B.—See page 219 for special notice of "On Wisconsin" play to be given at Aryan Grotto Theater, May 10.

COLORADO

By CLIFFORD BETTS, '13

In anticipation of the Spring party to be staged by Colorado-Wisconsin alumnae-alumni at Denver, when new pictures from Madison will be shown, it is hoped that all Badgers within call will get in touch with President John Gabriel, '87, Kittredge Bldg., or with Sec'y Chester Horner, '12, 2350 Ash Street. Lillian Wall Crumm, former secretary, has left for Kansas.

DETROIT ALUMNAE

By LUCY ROGERS, '18

Departing from its usual custom of a monthly luncheon, the U. W. Women's Club of Detroit, Michigan, gave a tea to which were invited as honor guests the wives of Wisconsin alumni in the city. The tea was held at the College Club on March 25, and about 24 were present. The club is just a year old this month.

Kathleen Calkins, '14, interior decorator for the J. L. Hudson Co., gave a most interesting talk on interior decorating, illustrating with such lovely chintzes, cretonnes, and other fabrics that she made everyone want to redecorate or set up housekeeping at once. Eleanor Gaik Green, '20, rendered several vocal and piano selections.

Among the new Wisconsin alumnae to appear for the first time were: Eleanor Hatton Schramm, '20; Wilma Johnson, ex '21; Gesine Baensch Pitz, ex '14; and Fannie Altman Harris, ex '16.

Preceding the tea a short business meeting was held. The April meeting will be in the form of a card party to raise money toward the club's pledge for the Memorial Union fund and will take place at The Mansion on Jefferson Avenue, on the 29th.

Harriet Hutson Crocker, '08, reported on the progress of the club's campaign for the Memorial fund. About $410 had been handed in at that time. Hazel Hoag, '20, urged all hockey enthusiasts to join the teams being organized in the city.—4-8-'22.

KNOXVILLE

By NEENA MYHRE WOOLRICH, '14

The U. W. Club of Knoxville was entertained at the home of Prof. H. H. Coxen, '20, on Saturday evening, Feb. 25, with twelve members and three guests present. The guests were Florence Ross, '21, of Mineral Point and her friend, Miss Dorian of Chicago, and Miss Lloyd. A very pleasant evening of sociability, games and appetizing refreshments was enjoyed by all present, and we are anticipating another meeting some time during May.

We have added the following names to our membership list this year: Mr. and Mrs. John McLeod (Ruth Peck), '15, and '14, respectively. also Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hodges (Miss Nelson), Grad. '12-13 and ex '14 respectively.—4-14-'22.

MINNEAPOLIS

By JOHN BAUMAN, '17

We have had some very interesting meetings lately—about twenty-five to thirty-five men attending the monthly luncheons. Morris Mitchell, '12, president of our local U. W. Club, recently started a contest between the "odd" and "even" classes. This is resulting in a greatly increased interest in the attendance and all are looking forward to the party in the spring to be given by the loser.—3-18-'22.

NEW YORK

Dr. Dennis on "The Washington Conference and International Relations," Friday Evening, March 3 was the drawing card for the dinner given as scheduled at "La Maisonnette" by the U. W. Club of New York. A large crowd gathered to meet "one of the most popular professors of the University during his stay at Madison." Dr. Dennis had been in attendance at the Washington Conference and has for many years been making a study of international relations. At the close of his interesting address opportunity was given for discussion. Dancing followed the dinner.

TWIN CITY ALUMNAE

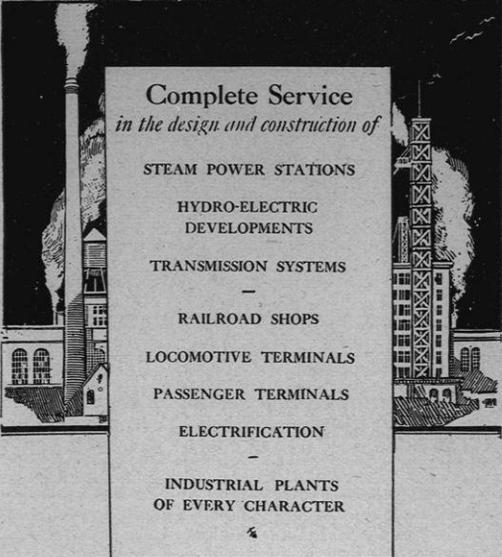

By MIRAH CONGDON, '04

Wisconsin Alumnae of the Twin Cities were entertained at luncheon, April 1, at the Leamington Hotel. They were present, forty strong, to hear C. M. Jansky, Jr., '17, now assistant professor of electrical engineering at Minnesota U., give an informal talk on "Radio Communication."

Professor Jansky is in charge of radio activities at Minnesota, and such an authority on the subject that Mr. Hoover has just called him to Washington to represent the Northwest at a conference of fourteen men to draft laws for control of the ether and regulation of wireless and radio. His popular talk on this very live subject captivated his hearers, who thrilled with pride to know that their own Alma Mater was a pioneer in this new science.

New faces appear at each meeting and to facilitate an early acquaintance each guest was asked to rise at her place and introduce herself, giving her name and class. Mrs. Jansky played the accompaniment while loyal grads sang "On Wisconsin."

The Twin City U. W. Club is eager to enroll among its members all former women students of the University of Wisconsin who reside in the Twin Cities. Any who wish to be notified of the meetings are asked to send name and address to Mirah Congdon, 904 West Franklin Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.—4-17-'22.

Complete Service
in the design and construction of

STEAM POWER STATIONS

HYDRO-ELECTRIC
DEVELOPMENTS

TRANSMISSION SYSTEMS

—

RAILROAD SHOPS

LOCOMOTIVE TERMINALS

PASSENGER TERMINALS

ELECTRIFICATION

—

INDUSTRIAL PLANTS OF EVERY CHARACTER

&

DWIGHT P. ROBINSON & COMPANY

INCORPORATED
ENGINEERS AND CONSTRUCTORS
123 EAST 46TH STREET
NEW YORK

THE MONTH IN ATHLETICS

By W. E. SHOULTS, '23

THE past month has seen more Wisconsin successes of an athletic nature. The boys wearing the Cardinal this year are certainly upholding the traditions passed on to them by illustrious predecessors, and when the final scores are marked up for the year the Badgers should be near the top.

The Basketball team finished the season in a second place tie with Michigan and just a step behind Purdue which won the championship. The Wisconsin cagemen finished the year with the same percentage they had last season, as did Michigan, but Purdue's shortened schedule was a bit too much of a handicap for either of them to overcome.

The Track team also took a second place position at the Conference Indoor Meet. While we were quite a distance behind Illinois, who won the meet, we were a long way ahead of number three, and in view of the fact that neither Finkle, '23, nor Wall, '22, sure winners in the distance events, were able to run, the showing was a most creditable one. The boys are now preparing, after a short lay-off, to get in shape for the outdoor season which is looming near.

Joe Steinauer's fish won from every strong swimming team in the Conference in the dual meets and bade fair to capture championship honors, but Minnesota nosed them out at the title meet and a close second was the best they could do. However, we still claim Joe's lads are the best in the Conference, for they beat Minnesota in a dual meet. Johnson Bennett, '24, was the high scorer at the Conference Meet and was proclaimed by everyone to be the best swimmer in the Big Ten and one of the best in the country anywhere. Prospects are very bright for next year's outfit.

For the first time in the history of the institution, the Wisconsin baseball team is taking a Southern trip this year. It will take them as far south as Oxford, Miss., and should serve to put them on edge for the opening of the Conference season next week. Had they had such a trip a year ago they would not have lost the early season games that kept them from the pennant. While the team this year will miss the services of several of last year's veterans, notably Farrington at short and Williams on the mound, it is still a dangerous aggregation, and Coach Lowman may be depended upon to turn out a team that will make Michigan and Illinois hustle to win.

"Dad" Vail is just about ready to put his men out on the water now and begin his preparation for the race with the University of Manitoba eight which is coming here from Winnipeg for the Venetian Night race. If the crew proves to be a strong enough one, the chances are that it may get permission to go to Poughkeepsie and compete there in the National Intercollegiate Regatta. The students are all hoping that the Cardinal will again be seen on the Hudson this year.

H. E. VAIL

Coach Linden has a rosy outlook for his tennis team just now, and the Badgers should have their most successful season in the net game. Golf is also to be introduced here as a minor sport, and there will be a dual meet with Chicago here in May and the Conference at Chicago in June.

Tell your friends about Wisconsin athletics. They're something you need never be ashamed of and something that needs your help. Be a booster always and give the rest of the world a chance to know Wisconsin for what she really is—the greatest of the state universities.

Baseball Extra: WISCONSIN 8, MINNESOTA 1 (4-22-22)

ALUMNI NEWS

Alumni please keep in touch with the MAGAZINE and with your Class Secretary

ENGAGEMENTS

- 1917 Miss Elizabeth Auer, Milwaukee, to Gordon Reese, Evanston, Ill.
- 1918 Gladys Holstein, Ft. Atkinson, to Charles Johnson, Madison. The wedding will occur the latter part of May.
- 1918 Vivian Warner to F. T. Browne, both of Chicago, Ill.
- 1918 Edna Hartman, Madison, to W. M. Brinkley, Richmond, Va.
- 1919 Helen Borchers, Madison, to Ray Lichtenwalner, Monroe, a second year law student.
- 1920 Margaret Wensley, Cleveland, O., to Dr. F. M. Dealy, N. Y. C.
- 1920 Ruth Luckey, Madison, to Ernest Longenecker, Neillsville. The wedding will take place in June.
- 1920 Margaret Craighill to Leonard Vickers. The wedding will take place in June and the couple will continue their medical studies at Johns Hopkins in the fall.
- 1920 Margaret Reinking, Madison, to F. G. Weed, Norwalk, Conn.
- 1921 Leona Ruder to George Steuber.
- ex '18 Ella Boyce, De Kalb, Ill., to Dale Williams, Oshkosh.
- 1921 Ruth Chandler to Edwin Godfrey, both of Waupaca.
- ex '23 Josephine Walters, Oak Park, Ill., to Philip O'Neil, Duluth, Minn.
- 1923 Mildred Pribnow, Virginia, Minn., to ex '24 Karl Fauerbach, Madison.
- 1924 Theora Tefft, Belvidere, Ill., to Edward Loop, Washington, D. C. The marriage is set for June.
- 1924 Catherine Barry, Cedar Rapids, Ia., to Sidney Boyden, Chippewa Falls.
- Faculty Ethel Moore, former graduate student and assistant in English, to E. M. Fisher, instructor in business administration. The wedding will occur in the summer.

MARRIAGES

- 1912 Miss May Krieger to Harold Scherer, Feb. 4, 1922. They reside at 6341 Magnolia Ave., Chicago, Ill.
- 1918 Grace Hawley, Elgin, Ill., to Herbert Schrader, an instructor in mechanical engineering at the University, March 17.
- 1918 Miss Hazel Meyer, Plymouth, to Edward Sievers, Jan. 21. They reside at 1922 Lawrence St. N. E., Washington, D. C.
- 1920 Hazel Wolfe, Mt. Horeb, to A. R. Charlton, Milwaukee, April 17. They left immediately for Puerta Barrios, Guatemala, where Mr. Charlton will take up his work as assistant chief engineer with the U. S. Fruit Co.
- 1921 Marion Dickens, Milwaukee, to W. S. Gilbreath, Jr., Detroit, Mich., April 29.
- 1921 Miss Mary Delaney, Highland, to B. W. Drewry, April 18. Mr. Drewry is employed at the Krehl Pharmacy, Madison.
- ex '23 Louise Moore, Reynold, Ill., to Vern Pfanku, Madison, April 11.
- 1924 Hazel Snir, Pittsburgh, Pa., to Willis Gifford, Feb. 4. They reside at 4647 Winthrop Ave., Chicago, Ill.
- 1924 Helen Huffman, Richland Center, to ex '24 Everett McCollum, Twin Bluffs, Feb. 15. Mr. McCollum is a student at Marquette.
- ex '24 Dorothy Scheibel, Madison, to Maj. H. P. Milligan, of the Military department, April 3.

BIRTHS

- ex '04 To Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Bennett (Florence Moffatt), a daughter, Jane Moffatt, Feb. 1.
- 1908 To Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Gibson, Grafton, Pa., a son, Wynn Gordon, March 13.
- 1908 To Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Cochrane (Deborah Jenkins), 134 W. George St., St. Paul, Minn., a son, John Alexander, March 29.
- 1909 To Mr. and Mrs. Herman Sachtjen, Madison, a daughter, March 21.
- 1911 To Prof. and Mrs. F. B. Hadley (Jennie Potts), a daughter, Cornelia Bostwick, Jan. 17.
- 1911 To Mr. and Mrs. Carl Pick (Mabelle Bredette), a daughter, Mary Carol, Dec. 25, 1921.
- 1912 To Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wolff, Ely, Minn., a son, James Francis, Oct. 14, 1921.
- 1912 To Mr. and Mrs. Harry Meissner a daughter, Barbara Fannie.
- 1913 To Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Black, Arlington Heights, Boston, Mass., a son, Wallace Gordon, Feb. 24.
- 1916 To Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Barber (Margaret Wahl), Benning, Ga., a son, Henry Anson, Jr., March 14.
- 1916 To Mr. and Mrs. David Morris (Jessie Evans), Grand Forks, N. D., a son, David Burton, Feb. 20.
- 1918 To Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Shaw (Helen Churchill), Cleveland, O., a daughter, Virginia Amelia, March 12.
- 1918 To Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Sergeant, a son, John Cheney, March 12.
- ex '21 To Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bird (Marion Fay), Western Springs, Ill., a daughter, Constance Brayton.
- ex '19 To Mr. and Mrs. Scott Crosswaite (Mildred Devine), Des Moines, Ia., a daughter, May Jean.
- 1919 To Dr. and Mrs. Marcus Hobart (Helen Browne), Evanston, Ill., a son, born the early part of December.
- 1920 To Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Pierce (Josephine Hadley), Delavan, a son.
- 1920 To Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Baxter (Alma Pett), 3511 Morrell Ave., Kansas City, Mo., a son, Ivan Pett, Jan. 29.

DEATHS

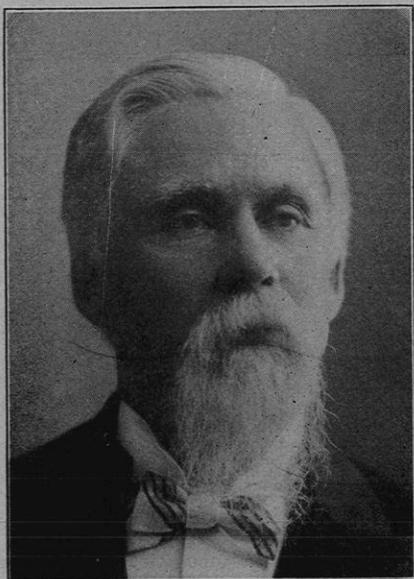

Mrs. WILLIAM FREEMAN VILAS, widow of the late Senator W. F. Vilas, '58—a member of the Alumni Association until his death in 1908 and one of Wisconsin's most notable figures in State and national military, political, legal, educational and business circles—died on March 1 in her beautiful home overlooking Lake Mendota. Mrs. Vilas, a member of the Fox family of early pioneers, was born in Oregon, Oct. 15, 1845. She married Colonel Vilas in 1866 and to them four children were born.

The generosity of Colonel and Mrs. Vilas has been shown in Madison in many ways. Vilas Park is a memorial to their son Henry, '94; Guild Hall was given to Grace Episcopal Church in memory of their daughter Cornelia. Several years ago Mrs. Vilas presented the city Y. W. C. A., with a country home, known as the Anna M. Vilas home. She has also been a generous giver to many other civic and philanthropic projects.

At their March meeting the Regents directed the secretary to enter on the records the following minute regarding her death: "Mrs. Vilas was closely associated with her husband in his lifelong labors for the State and for education and in his large plans for the advancement of the University. Her life was also noteworthy for public benefactions.

for large gifts to the city and to society, and for aid kindly and effectively given to many enterprises for the public good. Among these the Regents gratefully record the founding of the William F. Vilas Medal and Prize Fund for the University as well as personal assistance given to many worthy students."

MILTON S. GRISWOLD, B.A., '63, prominent in politics and in the legal profession of Waukesha County, died at his home November 10 of sclerosis of the liver. Judge Griswold's boyhood was spent on the farm in his pioneer home in Pewaukee. Here he obtained his early education in the primitive district school; he remained on the farm until he was twenty years of age, when he came to the University having prepared for entry by study at home, with the aid of an instructor in the higher branches. Admitted to the bar, in 1864, his experience as register of deeds and long familiarity with probate matters made him an authority on real estate business, while in other lines of legal knowledge he ranked above the average. He was first elected to the county judgeship in 1873, holding that position for four years. Declining a renomination to that office he entered the practice of law. In 1893 he was again elected judge and served until 1909.

M. S. GRISWOLD

In the account of the memorial services held for Judge Griswold the Waukesha Freeman of Nov. 17, 1921, quotes the Reverend Alfred Grey, pastor of the First Congregational Church as follows: "Judge Griswold was a nobleman by nature, a scholar by inclination and achievement, a citizen by the acclamation of his fellows, and a Christian by profession and deed. He became a great man because he loved and believed his fellow men."

(In 1863, six degrees were granted: two B. A.'s, four Ph. B.'s; none of the recipients of these six degrees are now living.)

LYDIA SHARP WINTERBOTHAM, '65, died at the home of her daughter, at Dunedin, Fla., April 4. Lydia Sharp was born in London, England, July 14, 1845, coming to Madison in 1850. In 1875 she married Thomas Winterbotham, ex '72, who died in 1911. About 15 years ago Mrs. Winterbotham wrote a series of articles on the early English families in Madison. She is survived by three children, Fred, Rose, ex '06, Ralph, ex '10, and one sister, Emma Sharp Grieve, ex '67. A daughter, Ada Winterbotham Barton, ex '95, died some years ago. Burial was at Madison.

AMELIA BAILEY DAMON, ex '69, died at her home in Hartford, Conn., March 13, of injuries received in an automobile accident. Mrs. Damon was the widow of William Cutler Damon, '69.

FLORA GORHAM LAMSON, ex '71, died at her home in Wingra Park, Madison, after a lingering illness on January 27. Flora Gorham was born on the Bryant Springs farm south of Madison; later she moved to the Gorham Springs on what is now the Nakoma road. She entered the University at an early age, but before graduation married Lieut. A. T. Lamson and went to live on the farm south of Madison where she and her husband resided until they moved to the city in 1910. Their only child died at the age of six years. Mrs. Lamson was always a loyal alumna and until her health failed attended all Commencement activities with her sister, and sole survivor, Annie Gorham Marston, '67.

Mrs. Lamson left substantial sums to the Madison General Hospital, the W. R. C., the G. A. R., Westminster Church, the Unitarian Church, the Y. M. C. A., and the Y. W. C. A.

RICHARD BALL DUDGEON, '76, for twenty-nine years superintendent of the city schools of the city of Madison, died at his home in Madison, on the morning of April 12, 1922.

He was born at Red Rock, Minnesota, January 3, 1853. He prepared for college in the Preparatory Department of the University, taking the Ancient Classical Course, but his natural talent turned rather to mathematics and science.

The record of Mr. Dudgeon's college life, in the class history, says:

"Few gave more time and thought to the subject in hand, or made a more thorough investigation of the studies in the curriculum. * * * As a member of the Athenaeum Society, he filled several public positions before Madison audiences."

Mr. Dudgeon had the remarkable distinction of holding the same position in public school work, in a prominent place, for nearly thirty years. The public school system of Madison grew up under his direction, not only with respect to the selection of the unusually strong corps of teachers which has characterized it, but also with respect to the system of instruction.

In addition to this, practically all of the splendid school buildings which are now the possession of the city were built or made over during his administration; and in the arrangement and architecture of the same he exercised a wise, guiding influence.

He was a man of sound judgment, characterized by unusual wisdom in administration and ability to act in harmony with others. He was regarded as one of the ablest men in public school life in the state of Wisconsin and was one of that chosen body of men who have been called to act as President of the Wisconsin Teachers' Association.

His classmates of 1876 and others who knew him, not only in college life, but during the long years of public service, will remember him for his quiet, unassuming, kindly manner, and real sincerity and openness of character. He was beloved by all who knew him. F. W. H. '83.

THORNTON P. LINDLEY, '78, died at San Diego, Cal., December 6, 1921. Mr. Lindley had been in business at Edmonton, Can., for several years.

ELIZABETH ARNOLD PEARSE, '00, passed away on December 11, 1921.

CYRUS NORTHROP, LL. D., '04, president emeritus of the University of Minnesota, died suddenly from heart disease, April 3. Dr. Northrop was born at Ridgefield, Conn., in 1834. He was admitted to practice at the Connecticut bar in 1860. He was clerk of the Connecticut house of representatives in 1861 and clerk of the senate the following year. In 1863 he was editor of the New York Palladium. From 1863 to 1884 he was professor of rhetoric and English literature at Yale, from which institution he had graduated in 1857, receiving his degree from the law school two years later. In 1886 his alma mater conferred the LL.D. degree upon him. He was also honored with the doctorate from Illinois and South Carolina colleges.

FANNIE OTJEN ZIMMERMAN, ex '09, wife of J. G. Zimmerman, '04, died April 5 in Milwaukee.

ESTHER OSBORN, '13, died on February 14, 1920, of pneumonia. At the time of her death she was teaching in a consolidated school near Ashland.

MAHLON H. CARADINE, law '20, attorney at Brodhead, died suddenly March 23. Mr. Caradine served in the artillery at Camp Taylor during the war. He is remembered for his eloquent oratory and his excellent work in the Law School.

He was a thirty-second degree Mason. Surviving him are his wife of four months, and his parents, Att'y and Mrs. H. N. Caradine of Monroe. His only brother, Gerald, ex '23, was killed in France during the war.—C. J. W. '18.

CLASS NEWS

1859

Sec'y—SAMUEL FALLOWS, Chicago, Ill.
1618 W. Adams St.

1860

Sec'y—J. B. PARKINSON, Madison
516 Wisconsin Ave.

J. B. PARKINSON, professor emeritus of the University, celebrated his 88th birthday on April 11.

1861

Sec'y—W. W. CHURCH, California
Soldiers' Home, Los Angeles Co.

1864

Sec'y—W. I. WALLACE
Lebanon, Mo.

1865

Sec'y—PHILIP STEIN, Chicago, Ill.
4340 Grand Blvd.

A resolution passed by the Library Board recently expresses the following appreciation of that body of the work done by the late E. C. MASON:

"The trustees of the Madison Free Library desire to give expression for themselves individually, and as a board, to the feeling of loss which the death of Edwin C. Mason, one of their number, has brought to them.

"With one exception Mr. Mason had served on the board of trustees a greater number of years than any of the present members. His deep interest in the growth and development of the library, and his cheerful willingness to undertake any work that would tend to benefit it made him invaluable as a member.

"Beyond his efficient services to the board, of which he was for a number of years the president, the members will long cherish their pleasant associations with him. He was always an inspiration and help to them when the problems of the board seemed perplexing. We shall all miss him greatly.

"Resolved, that this be spread upon the records of the Library Board, and that the secretary be instructed to transmit a copy to Mr. Mason's family."

1866

Sec'y—W. H. SPENCER,
White Plains, N. Y.
7 High St.

1867

Sec'y—ANNIE GORHAM MARSTON,
Madison, 210 Princeton Ave.

Reune in June!

"I have just read 'our' MAGAZINE which is never neglected a minute after its arrival," writes Annie Gorham Marston, 210 Princeton Ave., Madison.

EMMA PHILLIPS VROMAN lives at 25 E. Walton Pl., Chicago.—Adda WADSWORTH Thorne's address is Bear Creek.—Carrie NELSON Houlton resides at Elk River, Minn.—EMMA SHARP Grieve may be addressed at the Pinckney Apts., Madison.

1869

Sec'y—JANE NAGEL HENDERSON
R. F. D. 2, N. Yakima, Wash.

1870

Sec'y—B. W. JONES, Madison
112 Langdon St.

Justice B. W. JONES, who has been filling an unexpired term on the Supreme Court bench, was re-elected at the April election by a handsome majority.

1871

Sec'y—ALBERT WATKINS, Lincoln, Nebr.
920 D. St.

1872

Sec'y—H. W. HOYT, Pasadena, Cal.
965 New York Ave.

Reune in June!

Rev. E. C. ARNOLD is living in the U. S. Soldiers Home at Sawtelle, Cal., a suburb of Los Angeles.—Judge J. K. PARISH, who was circuit judge of the 15th judicial circuit of Wisconsin for over twenty-five years, is librarian of the House of Representatives.—At the inauguration of Rufus Bernhard von Kleinsmid as president of the U. of So. California on April 27-29 the University was represented by H. W. Hoyt, whom President Birge appointed as official delegate of the institution on that occasion.

1873

Sec'y—M. S. FRAWLEY, Eau Claire
326 4th St.

ARE YOU INTERESTED IN LIFE MEMBERSHIP?

1874

Sec'y—A. D. CONOVER, Madison
421 N. Murray St.

1875

Sec'y—CLARA MOORE HARPER, Madison
227 Langdon St.

1876

Sec'y—NELLIE WILLIAMS BROWN,
Madison
41 Roby Road

1877

'77 Reunes in June!

Yes '77 "will be the berries."

Will be there with yells, banners 'n everything.

Headquarters will be at

Mrs. Seymour's, 439 N. Murray St.
where we have taken the first floor for our headquarters. (Mrs. Seymour will have a few rooms to rent for any who wish to stop there. Write her direct.)

All please report to above address as soon as you arrive and if not stopping there, give location.

There will be a dinner or luncheon (hour to be furnished later) at the Madison Club, Monday, with music, remisencences, and a general good time, but no long speeches, boat rides, etc.

FINAL DETAILS, NEXT ISSUE

One or two have not been heard from yet.

Please accept at once or send, in time for the meeting, personal greeting to Club.

Continue to address
Miss MARY HILL, 425 N. Park St.,
Madison, Wis., or
H. J. SMITH, 7 E. Harrison St., Chicago, Ill.

Howard MORRIS resides at 817 S. Gra-mery Pl., Los Angeles, Cal.

1879

Sec'y—J. B. SIMPSON, Shullsburg

1880

Sec'y—ANNIE DINSDALE SWENSON,
Madison, 530 N. Pinckney St.

1881

Sec'y—F. S. WHITE, Chicago, Ill.
5308 Hyde Park Blvd.

FELLOW MEMBERS—1881:

I am back from my winter outing in Florida, and I wish to thank you all most cordially for your various contributions to our class news. Florida is crowded with successful Wisconsinites, both as tourists and permanent residents—among the latter Edwin W. Bunker, of the class of '84. He left the University after his sophomore year; went into the lumber business in Duluth and finally migrated to his present abode where he founded the city of Lake Worth and now enjoys the distinction of being one of its most prominent citizens.
He knew us all well—but that is a matter of

SEE OUTSIDE BACK COVER.

course—as we were Lordly Seniors—and he a meek freshman.

While I was away someone stole our thunder! Our class thunder! We have posed this last year as being a unique class! Only one other, besides ourselves who were 100% members of the Alumni Association!

1881 and 1921 were perfect in that particular when I went away. I return to find some more recent class in quite that momentous credit. Alas—our successful efforts in bringing you all into the fold has gone for nought. Don't let that disturb or discourage you—as your present subscription is about to expire—and if you will but renew it this year and many years to come
I am sure you will get eternal benediction from our ardent admirer Mr. Shrimski, president of the General Alumni Association—who never ceases to extoll us for our meritorious action.—F. S. WHITE, Sec'y.

1882

Sec'y—Dr. L. R. HEAD, Madison
416 Wisconsin Ave.

Reune in June!

1883

Sec'y—A. C. UMBREIT, Milwaukee
912 Shepard Ave.

1884

Sec'y—MARY HOWE SHELTON
Rhineland

1885

Sec'y—O. D. BRANDENBURG, Madison

D. M. FREDERIKSEN resides at 2444
Stevens Ave., Minneapolis, Minn.

1886

Sec'y—EMMA NUNNS PEASE
Wauwatosa

1887

Sec'y—KATHERINE ALLEN, Madison,
228 Langdon St.

Reune in June!

This is to give further information concerning the thirty-fifth reunion of the Class of '87 to be held at Madison on Monday, June 12, 1922. The Reunion Committee, consisting of Katharine Allen and Messrs. Morris and Polleys, met at the home of Miss Allen at Madison on the 2nd inst. to make definite plans concerning the reunion.
Mrs. Charles R. Carpenter (Imogene Hand) participated in the meeting at the request of the Committee.

Mrs. Carpenter has very hospitably opened her home (16 Langdon Street) for the luncheon which will be one of the leading features of the reunion program. Luncheon will be served at one o'clock p. m. Not over three five-minute speeches will be arranged for to take place during the course of the luncheon and it is hoped also that we will be able to have the class "Prophecy" read. Immediately at the close of the luncheon a short business meeting will be held for the election of officers and the appointment of a committee to have charge of the fortieth reunion. The time from 3:30 until 5:00 p. m. will be devoted to an informal visit among ourselves and with our friends from the classes immediately before and immediately following our own who may be present in Madison on that day and who will be cordially invited to meet with us, during the hours LAST STATED, at Mrs. Carpenter's home for the renewal of old-time acquaintanceship. If the afternoon is favorable this portion of the reunion program will take place upon the beautiful lawn of Mrs. Carpenter's home looking out over Lake Mendota and will close promptly at five o'clock.

Miss Mary Hill, '82 and Mrs. Mae Johnson Evans, '87 will be at home to the members of the classes of '82 and '87 at the Kappa Kappa Gamma House, not far from Mrs. Carpenter's home, on that afternoon from 4:00 to 6:00 o'clock and it is believed that many of the members of '87 will desire to avail themselves of the hospitality of Miss Hill and Mrs. Evans.

After careful consideration of the matter the Reunion Committee determined that, AS AT PRESENT ADVISED, it is not best to arrange for any program of entertainment extending beyond the afternoon hours just mentioned. However, if there seems to be a somewhat general feeling among those who are planning to attend the reunion that further entertainment features for the evening should also be arranged, that can still be done by the Committee. A number of the members of '87 will be in attendance at the reunion with younger members of their families and will no doubt wish to attend, with the younger element, the class play which takes place that evening. Still others of our members will no doubt wish to have the evening available for individual social engagements of one sort or another. Furthermore, it should be borne in mind that we hope that every member of the class who is present Monday at the reunion and can possibly do so, will plan to remain for the alumni dinner which takes place on Tuesday evening. Of course our class will be seated at one table that evening which will give us another fine opportunity for conversation and such degree of gayety as properly pertains to a thirty-fifth reunion. So far as Monday evening is concerned it is thought quite likely that a considerable number of our members might arrange in a quite informal manner to meet at some convenient place to spend that evening together. The Committee invites and will be pleased to receive the suggestions of members who are planning to attend the reunion as to whether or not any definite entertainment features shall be formally planned for Monday evening, June 12—such as an auto drive with picnic supper at some convenient spot, or a boat ride upon one of the lakes, or a dinner at some convenient place in the city.

Up to the present time responses have been received indicating the intention or the hope to be present at the reunion on the part of about fifty persons including a small group of wives, husbands and children of class members. The Committee believes it not unlikely that the gathering at the luncheon on June 12th will comprise perhaps as many as sixty people, which alone would make our thirty-fifth reunion a noteworthy occasion of its kind.

I trust that every former member of the class who has not already favored me with a response to my earlier communications will reply to this one very promptly—and DON'T FAIL TO BE WITH US AT THE REUNION IF YOU CAN POSSIBLY ATTEND.

T. A. POLLEYS, Chairman.

Room 505, 226 W. Jackson Blvd.,

Chicago, Ill.

Judge Oscar HALLAM resides at 713 Portland Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

1888

Sec'y—Dr. P. H. McGOVERN, Milwaukee
1201 Majestic Bldg.

Carl Rogers, '25, son of W. A. ROGERS, president Bates & Rogers Construction Co., Chicago, Ill., has been chosen by the executive council of the student Y. M. C. A., of America as one of the two men students of the U. S. to be representatives at the conference of the World's Student Christian Federation to be held in Peking, China, in the spring. W. A. Rogers was president of the Y. M. C. A. in 1886, at which time he was active in the procuring of the first property and the erection of the present building.—"County Judge Charles L. FIFIELD, poet, historian, lawyer, laureate of the Rotary club, is one of the best known officials and citizens of southern Wisconsin, where he has lived ever since he was born," is the legend which appears under the picture of Judge Fifield in the Janesville Daily Gazette for March 25-26.

1889

Sec'y—ERNEST WARNER, Madison,
109 W. Main St.

L. M. HANKS is a director of the Ne-koosa-Edwards Paper Co., representing the Vilas interests.—In filling the vacancy on the Supreme bench, occasioned by the death of Justice R. G. Siebecker, '78, Governor Blaine paid the former revisor of statutes the following tribute: "In appointing Charles H. CROWNHART I have had in mind his experience in the industrial commission. He was chairman of the commission for four years while its work was constructive. He has made a deep study of industrial conditions of the State from actual view and consultation with all parties concerned. His work on the commission was uniformly commended and the experience and knowledge he gained thereby will be invaluable on the Supreme court. His active practice of law for more than 24 years has been most general and varied. The ability of Mr. Crownhart is conceded by all."

C. H. CROWNHART

1890

Sec'y—W. N. PARKER, Madison, 1908 Jefferson St.

A. A. BRUCE has been appointed a member of the committee of the American Bar Ass'n to draft a plan for propoganda for American ideals.—Judge A. G. ZIMMERMAN, Madison, had a serious attack of influenza with a touch of pneumonia the latter part of March.—E. E. BROWNE, Washington, D. C., member of the House of Representatives, is a member of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

1891

Sec'y—ELSBETH VEERHUSEN KIND,
Chicago, Ill.
The Pattington, Apt. A., 700 Irving Park Blvd.

G. G. ARMSTRONG represented the University at the installation of Prof. George Thomas as president of the University of Utah on April 5.—J. T. DITHMAR, for several years assistant attorney general of Wisconsin, has been granted an indefinite leave of absence from the department.—Walter McNair, son of F. W. McNAIR, president of the Michigan College of Mines, was one of the eleven survivors of the "Roma" disaster. Mr. McNair made the flight on the "Roma" in connection with his work with the U. S. Bureau of Standards —Dr. Mabelle PARK has been appointed director of the state child welfare bureau, her office to be with the State Board of Control.

1892

Sec'y—MARILLA ANDREWS BUCHWALTER, 805 E. High St., Springfield, O.

Reune in June!

1893

Sec'y—LILLIAN HEALD KAHLENBERG,
Madison, 235 Lathrop St.

1894

Sec'y—H. L. EKERN, Chicago, Ill.,
208 So. LaSalle St.

The Wisconsin Domesday Book, begun a year ago by Dr. Joseph SCHAFER, superintendent of the State Historical Society, will trace the history of Wisconsin land from the time it was first surveyed and sold to settlers to the present time. The first volume is expected from the press this year.—Att'y Alan BOGUE, Jr., resides at Parker, S. D.

1895

Sec'y—ANNA GRIFFITHS, Madison, 927 Lake Ct.

Zona GALE, who is making a lecture tour of several universities and colleges, delivered a series of lectures in Room 165, Bascom Hall, April 25, 27, and 28 on "The Novel"; "The Novel and Beauty"; and "Making a Play from a Novel"

A. C. HOPPMANN, '96

1896

Sec'y—G. F. THOMPSON, Chicago, Ill.
4100 W. Madison St.

Prof. Grant SHOWERMANN, of the classical department, who left last fall on a years' leave of absence in Italy, has been appointed annual professor in the American Academy at Rome for the year 1922-23.—The Capital Times of March 23 publishes a communication of Dr. Smiley Blanton, of the Speech Hygiene department, in which he commends Judge A. C. HOPPMANN for re-election to senior judgeship of the superior court, basing his statements on Judge Hoppmann's attitude toward criminality among children. The contest for the senior judgeship was an overwhelming victory for Judge Hoppmann, who has served as Superior Court judge for Dane County for more than six years. He was returned to the bench with the handsome endorsement of a two to one count.

1897

Sec'y—NELLIE NASH SCOTT, Madison,
627 Mendota Ct.

Reune in June!

When giant transcontinental airships ply between New York and San Francisco, as is now practically assured, Edward SCHILDAUER will be Wisconsin's representative in the big project. With the aid of another engineer he has investigated the opportunities of aerial transportation, and has interested capital and formed a large corporation which plans to have ships operating in a year or two.—Harry HAYES resides at 1869 Dayton Ave., St. Paul, Minn.

1898

Sec'y—J. P. RIORDAN, Mayville

H. S. GIERHART lives at 411 Shuart Ave., Syracuse, N. Y.—Max SPINDLER has returned to the N. Y. Cent. R. R. offices in Cleveland, O., after several years spent in Chatanooga, Tenn.

1899

Sec'y—MINNIE WESTOVER CHASE,
Madison, 1050 Woodrow St.

Sara HEIMDAL Van Dusen's address is Box 503 La Jolla, Cal.—At the annual meeting of the Madison A. of C., in March, Emerson ELA, president, gave his views on the vital needs of the city and declared that the Association must safeguard the business side of Madison's administration.—Guy MEEKER resides at 529 2nd Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn.—C. E. GABEL may be addressed at Box 1515, Charleston, W. Va.—F. E. RADENSLEBEN specializes in corporation law at Atlanta, Ga., where he has been practicing for the past twenty years.

1900

Sec'y—J. N. KOFFEND, Jr., Appleton,
864 Prospect St.

E. R. WOLCOTT, research engineer, resides at 2125 Procter St., Port Arthur, Tex.—F. V. McMANAMY, attorney and counselor at Eau Claire, is president of the McManamy Audit and Tax Service Inc., and counsel for same.—John MORAN was re-elected to membership on the Madison school board at the April election.—City Attorney J. M. NIVEN, Milwaukee, defeated B. W. Reynolds, '06, socialist, in the April election.—O. A. STOLEN was the successful candidate for the new junior judgeship of the Superior court.

O. A. STOLEN

1901

Sec'y—CLARA STILLMAN HARTMAN,
Milwaukee, 4001 Highland Blvd.

Neely PARDES resides at 415 6th St., S. E., Minneapolis, Minn.—That the present laxity in the enforcement of the prohibition law may be overcome by organized effort was the opinion expressed by R. N. NELSON, Madison attorney, in a recent address at the Bethany Evangelical Free Church.—A bronze tablet in memory of Dr. Charles McCARTHY, Wisconsin law maker, has been recently completed and will be hung to the left of the speaker's chair in the assembly chamber of the capitol.

1902

Sec'y—LELIA BASCOM, Madison,
419 Sterling Pl.

Reune in June!

The members of the class who gather at Madison in June are going to have a spacious home at 514 Lake Street for headquarters. Here also can be accommodated 14 members of the class who may not have made other arrangements. The house will open Saturday on June 10 and be at our disposal until the following Wednesday.

For the benefit of some who may want to get some details as to what is going to happen, what to wear, or to whom a contribution should go, we append the memberships of the several committees who have the reunion in charge:

EXECUTIVE: F. O. Leiser, 1105 Harrison St., Madison, Lelia Bascom, sec'y; M. B. Olbrich, treas.

PROGRAM: Merle Pickford Stevens, 606 2nd Ave., Eau Claire; Jane Sherrill; George Vinson; Harry Sauthoff; P. C. Foster.

COMMISSARY, PICNIC, BANQUET, and DANCE: Milo Kittleson, 141 E. Gorham St., Madison; Marie Hinckley Mabbett; F. G. Swoboda; Florence White Ela; Carrie Holah.

GOWN and DECORATION: J. W. Watson, Engineering Bldg., U. W.; Kate Sanborn Blake; Sanford Starcks; Lehman Rosenheimer; Ella Tormey; Clara Van Velzer Piper.

PUBLICITY and INVITATION: Robert Coe; Whitewater; Wm. Ryan; Lelia Bascom; Freda Stolte Vinson; Mary Swain Routzahn; Bessie Kratz Yarrington.

FINANCE: M. B. Olbrich, 216 Campbell St., Madison; Arthur Curtis; Frank Bucklin.

R. K. COE, Chairman,
Reunion Publicity Committee.

MAYOR I. M. KITTLESON

Dr. Henry HELMHOLZ, Rochester, Minn., was elected a member of the American Physiological Society at its recent meeting held at New Haven, Conn.—Governor NESTOS of North Dakota spoke at the Foundation Day celebration of the U. of N. D. on the attitude of teachers at state institutions towards religion. He declared atheistic instruction to be as unconstitutional as religious and threatened to strike it hard.—“The platform on which I stand for re-election is my reputation as a city executive for the last two years,” declared Mayor I. M. KITTLESON, Madison, at a ward meeting. “I am not in favor of blue laws, but of conservative and liberal government.” At the election, Mayor Kittleson received the biggest majority ever given a mayoralty candidate in the city’s history, 2,433.—Henry WINKLER is in the manufacturing business at Glendora, Cal.—H. M. FELLEZ has been re-elected municipal judge of Fond du Lac.—City Attorney Wm. RYAN has formed a law partnership with E. J. B. Schubring, '01, and Arnold Peterson, ex '13.

1903

Sec'y—W. H. HEIN, St. Louis, Mo.
788 Euclid Ave.

Carl LEWIS is with the R. G. Dunn Co., 300 Commercial Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn.—Stephen McMAHON, O. T. McMahon, '13, and G. P. Hayes, have formed a partnership for the practice of law under the firm name of McMahon, McMahon & Hayes with offices at 1107-1115 First Wis. Nat'l Bank Bldg., Milwaukee.—“None of the gases used in gas warfare are suitable for the purpose of a ‘humane’ execution,” says Prof. J. H. MATHEWS, one of the greatest experts on gas warfare in the U. S. “The war gases were created to bring about discomfort, agony, and torture.”—That leadership in Wisconsin has come mainly from the University and that in order to maintain that leadership the business and professional men of Madison must exert all their efforts in the way of seeing that proper funds are provided for the University, was the opinion of State Geologist Wm. HOTCHKISS in an address before a recent meeting of the Kiwanis club.—Olaf LAURGAARD may be reached at the City Hall, Portland, Ore.

1904

Sec'y—FLORENCE MOFFAT BENNET,
Madison,
322 S. Hamilton St.

Regina GROVES, supervisor of the commercial department of the Madison vocational school, was a successful candidate for membership on the public school board. The Capital Times of April 6 in its editorial “Miss Groves” says: “Miss Groves goes to the school board as representative of all of the people of Madison and not as the representative of any clique. Miss Groves is equal to the responsibility which she will face in assuming her new duties. She is a woman who has already indicated that she thinks clearly and has the vision to see things in a progressive and modern way."—Chauncey BLAKE, of the firm of Blake and Sanborn, Madison lawyers, and a member of the local executive committee of the Boy Scouts of America, says: "I am interested in scouting because the Boy Scout movement is neither sectarian nor institutionalized."—Jennie McMULLIN Turner spoke at a recent meeting of the Madison Women's Trade Union League on labor colleges in the U. S. and abroad.—Florence DODGE, principal of Randall School, Madison, is chairman of a committee of members of the Dane County English Teachers' Ass'n to investigate methods by which high school and grade school teachers may co-operate for the systematization of education.—Mr. and Mrs. W. F. McELDOWNEY (Ella SUTHERLAND) reside at 155 Country Club Road, Chicago Heights, Ill.—J. R. HOBBS has been appointed assistant to President C. F. Kelly of the Anaconda Copper Mining Co., with headquarters at Butte, Mont.

1905

Sec'y—LILLIAN TAYLOR, Madison,
352 W. Wilson St.

C. D. WILLISON resides at 825 11th St., Bowling Green, Ky.—Elias TOBENKIN, novelist and author of The House of Comrades was entertained recently at the Journalism house and spoke on tendencies in modern literature and its relation to journalism. Mr. Tobenkin is getting economic statistics and background for his next novel which is to be published in the fall.—H. M. OLSON may be reached at 30 Church St., Room 517, N. Y. C.—H. B. HAWKINS resides at 740 Clayton St., San Francisco, Cal.—W. H. SIEFERT of Chicago, Ill., was in Cleveland, O., and attended the West Conference smoker held on March 30.

1906

Sec'y—L. W. BRIDGMAN, Madison, 1910 Kendall Ave.

L. F. HARZA resides at 623 Monadnock Bldg., Chicago, Ill.—Andrew BOGUE is an attorney at Parker, S. D.—Meda STEVENS Condie resides at 29 W. Magnolia Ave., Stockton, Cal.—Arthur VAN HAGAN may be addressed at Room 1613, 195 Broadway, N. Y.—Conrad HOFFMAN, who is investigating conditions in Europe and applying the fund raised in American school last December for the relief of students and teachers writes that one-tenth of the faculty of the University of Vienna have died since the war; school of medicine are vainly attempting to replace the 30,000 doctors who died in Russia during the war; there was only one doctor for 135,000 persons during the recent typhus epidemic in Galicia; only 50 students remain in St. Paul's College at Parsus. The enrollment was lowered by the lack of food, clothing, and books, which makes the existence of those still there precarious.—Gordon LEWIS, Highland, formerly coach and captain of the University baseball team, is reported to have signed a contract as umpire on the Three-Eye league staff the coming season, contingent on the failure of negotiating for the managership of the Grand Island (Neb.) baseball association.—W. M. CONWAY, who is engaged in general contracting at Madison, will erect a store and apartment building at 613 State St., soon.—Commissioner of Agriculture C. P. NORFORD attended a meeting of the Cutover Land Reclamation Ass'n held in Milwaukee, April 11.

1907

Sec'y—RALPH GUGLER, Milwaukee,
694 Broadway.

Reune in June!

AN "UNUSUAL" BIRD

BY A. J. GOEDGEN, '07

Sixteen years ago, seven '07 Electricals formed a little club and called it the Direct Current Dynamo Club, or, mathematically, simply DCDC or "DC Squared." R. L. ("Dick") Loesch, L. F. ("Louie") Reinhard, C. W. ("Chuck") Green, E. P. ("Stroke") Hubbard, "Manager," Allen Hibbard, R. B. ("Marc") Anthony, and A. J. ("Al") Goedgen made up the membership.

Graduation came along, and "Dick" Loesch started a round-robin letter among the seven members. This "robin" has flown over its nationwide circuit since the summer of 1907, and is still as active a bird as ever. Its route includes Milwaukee, Chicago, Montrose (Colorado), San Francisco, New York City, and Baltimore. It makes its circuit every six to eight weeks and has already traveled a million miles. It might be said "the first million miles are the hardest," as each year the "bird" is more deeply endeared to DC.²

It has served to keep seven college chums in close touch as it seems only a round-robin letter could do. The contents of the big envelope are always highly informal and very interesting. It contains everything from one of "Louie" Reinhard's stories to a political discussion, or a report of some member's visit at Madison, or a picture of "the family."

College friendships are usually the best of our entire lives, so why not continue them systematically by means of "round-robins?"

IMPORTANT NOTICE: Reunion Headquarters have been changed from the Union Bldg. on Langdon St., to the Law Bldg. "on the hill." Further information will be mailed soon from general headquarters which please keep strictly confidential. Meanwhile don't hesitate to contribute to our fund—our treasurer is heavily bonded. RALPH GUGLER, Sec'y.

C. C. GITTINGS, A. R. Janecky, '07, and J. C. Wilbershide, '18, announce that they have associated with them E. F. Buelow, '15 for the practice of law under the firm name of Gittings, Janecky, Wilbershide and Buelow, Racine.—A. G. FINDLAY was elected to the Chippewa Falls city council in the April election.—Milton STANLEY has retired from the active editorship of the Shawano Journal to take up his duties as postmaster, to which position he was recently appointed.—Attorney General W. J. MORGAN has announced his candidacy for governor, subject to indorsement by the State conference of the Committee of 44.

1908

Sec'y—F. H. ELWELL, Madison, 2025 Chadbourne Ave.

Fred VOLK president of the Nakoma Homes Co., is active in a campaign for the improvement and beautifying of Nakoma.

1909

Sec'y—CORNELIA ANDERSON LIND-STROM, Madison,
Chadbourne and Lathrop St.

Stella KAYSER, Madison, is a member of the faculty of the Wisconsin School of Music.—D. R. LEHMAN lives at Palmdale, Cal.—Members of the Industrial Commission gave a farewell dinner at the Capitol cafe for E. E. WITTE, former secretary of the commission, who assumed his new duties as head of the Legislative Reference Library the first of April.—Obert SLETTEN is consul for Norway at Boston, Mass.—E. G. LANGE has been elected superintendent of schools at Waupaca; he will remain in the Milwaukee system until the close of the school year. Mrs. Lange was Margret Godfrey, '14.

1910

Sec'y—W. J. MEUER, Madison,
2314 Rugby Row

Pearl PADLEY resides at Lodi.—Rev. Kenneth OLSEN resides at 1044 Union Ave., N., Portland, Ore.—Dr. J. W. WILCE, Ohio State football coach, has been appointed a member of the Columbus board of health.

1911

Sec'y—E. D. STEINHAGEN, Milwaukee,
721 51st St.

Carl HAESSLER, news editor for the Federated Press, resides at 511 N. Peoria St., Chicago, Ill.—J. A. BAKER resides at 1413 19th Ave. N. E., Minneapolis, Minn.—Benj. JELINEK resides at 4100 Sheridan Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn.—A. MAC-ARTHUR lives at Oak Park, Ill.—Aimee ZILLMER, Milwaukee, has joined the staff of the Wis. State Board of Health for field work in promoting education in social hygiene and other phases of public health.—Ethel ROCKWELL is one of the directors of the Virginia State-wide Pageant, to be staged May 22-28 at Richmond.

1912

Sec'y—H. J. WIEDENBECK, Chicago, Ill.,
21 S. Karlov Ave.

Reune in June!

Plans for our Ten-Year Reunion are rapidly taking shape. William J. P. Aberg, as general chairman of the Reunion, has taken active charge of the matter, and, as you all well know, "Bill" has a reputation for doing things well. Every member of the class should give him and his committee all the assistance possible, and complete the work by attending the Reunion.—HAROLD ECKHART, President.

Henry DEBBINK has changed his address to 1001 44th St., Milwaukee.—L. A. SMITH, superintendent of the Madison water supply system, addressed the A. S. C. E., recently on the subject of Madison's water supply system.—Maude BARRETT is a social worker with the Am. Red Cross Commission to western Russia and the Baltic States and may be addressed at 4 Rue de Chevreuse, Paris, France.—Carl BECK may be addressed at Nanuet, Rockland Co., N. Y.—W. C. WESTPHAL is dean of boys at South Bend, H. S.

1913

Sec'y—RAY SWEETMAN, Nanking, China,
Care Y. M. C. A.

E. J. SAMP, Milwaukee attorney, resides at 919 Cramer St.—H. C. MARKS has changed his address to 319 Dempster St., Evanston, Ill.—A. B. HARDIE is associated with the Baldwin Locomotive Works, Casilla 109 D, Santiago, Chile.—Raymond BRASURE, who is at present superintendent of Waupaca schools, has been engaged as superintendent of Rhinelander schools, to begin duty July 1.

1914

Sec'y—NORMAN BASSETT, Madison, Care, Madison Democrat.

E. G. SCHROEDER has entered the engineering business with offices at 405 Broadway, Milwaukee. His field covers plans, specifications, and superintendence for buildings, bridges, paving, and waterworks.—E. A. KRUEGER, sales manager, resides at 4678 Tennyson St., Denver, Colo.—T. WILSON may be addressed at P. O. Sta. A., Columbus, O.—R. S. DEWEY has moved to Yoder, Wyo.—Prof. A. P. HAAKE of the Economics department delivered an address by radiophone to the convention of the Wis. Credit Men's Ass'n in Oshkosh on March 15. A telegram of congratulation stated that the address was distinctly heard by the delegates.—Karl SCHWEIZER is convalescing from a general breakdown in the sanitarium at Trudeau, Essex Co., N. Y.—Eva MACDOUGALL resides at The Franklin, 130 Franklin Ave., New Rochelle, N. Y.—Prof. J. C. WALKER of the plant pathology department has been granted a year's leave of absence to make an official investigation of crop diseases for the U. S. department of agriculture. Prof. and Mrs. Walker will visit England, France, Italy, Germany, and Holland.—J. H. MURPHY has started a new business at Delavan, under the name of Murphy Products Co. The firm will sell pure bred seeds and manufacture and sell mineral feeds and stockmen's supplies. Lawrence Murphy, '21, and W. H. Foster, '15 are the other members of the firm.—Gesine BAENSCH Pitz resides at 2151 E. Jefferson St., Detroit, Mich.

1916

Sec'y—Jessie BOSSHARD MAURER,
Madison, 1212 W. Johnson St.

S. C. VAIL is with the Republic Flow Meters Co., Chicago, Ill.—Helen SALSBURY is county agent for dependent children in the southern part of Chautauqua County under the State Charities Aid Ass'n. Her address is Children's Agency, Morning Post Building, Jamestown, N. Y.—Alice KEITH coached the cast of "The Bells of Beaujolais," the musical comedy given by Gun and Blade on March 25.—L. G. FOSTER, deputy commissioner, Dept. of Markets, resides at 2135 W. Lawn Ave., Madison.—Fannie ALTMAN Harris resides at 4541 Seebaldt Ave., Detroit, Mich.—Mrs. Ernest MILLS resides at 9, Blvd. des Philosophes, Geneva.

1915

Sec'y—N. P. BIART, Madison,
1123 Elizabeth St.

Hazel MAYBERRY Cronquist writes from 402 W. Red Wing St., Duluth, Minn., "Couldn't do without the MAGAZINE; even the kiddies digest it from cover to cover."

Margaret STEVENS Ward resides at 5159 Raymond Ave., St. Louis, Mo.—Emily SIMS is with the American Red Cross, 308 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.—Perry SLETTELAND has moved from Pittsburgh, Pa., to Chicago, where he is engaged as a tax specialist with Arthur Anderson & Co., Harris Trust Bldg.—K. B. BRAGG resides at Carmel, Cal.—F. C. EVANS is employed by the DuPont Co., Gibbstown, N. J.—R. A. ROBERTS lives at 925 Wash. Ave., Racine.—Melvin HALL resides at 16 Warren Ave., Roselle Park, N. J.—W. H. FOSTER has taken the position as advertising and sales manager for Murphy Products Co., Delavan.—Att'y Harry GLEICK of St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I am enclosing a copy of a letter which I have written to the Board of Regents. The question which I refer to in my letter is one in which I think the alumni, as a whole, should be interested and should be informed. In this particular instance, I think that the right of the University professors to bespeak their thoughts should be supported actively by the alumni body." The letter follows:

"I have read with much interest an article quoted in the New York Evening Post of March 31st, with reference to a controversy between Mr. Edison and Prof. Scott.

"While I am by inclination, by training, and by profession, conservative, I would regret to see the day when the Board of Regents of the great University of Wisconsin should deny or restrict the right of the professors of the University to exercise the fullest freedom in the expression of their opinions.

"The present day tendency to censure what the professors may say or what the students may hear is undemocratic and is to be deplored, and tends to deprive the undergraduates of the right to the broader education which should be theirs."

Yours very truly,

HARRY S. GLEICK

4-8-'22.

1917

Sec'y—H. A. ZISCHKE, Evanston, Ill.
827 Ridge Ave.

The Committee on a Reunion Song is calling too.

Seventeens, if you please, let's have the committee of judges, composed of Professors C. H. Mills, E. B. Gordon, and Margaret H'Doubler, '10, marveling at the talent shown by artists so young! The contest closes June 1, so everyone get busy and send the results of your efforts to Madelon Willman, School of Music, Madison, as early as possible.

A round-up of all Madison Seventeens was held at the Woman's Building Wednesday noon, April 5, when further plans for the reunion were discussed and formulated. Genevieve Penhallegon Fox announced that the subcommittee on regalia had completed its plans and would announce details directly to members of the class in a letter to be sent out about the first of May. So don't buy your reunion hosiery and necktie until you hear from her!

A last call for addresses. If the reunion manager for your district has not yet got in touch with you, it may be because Fort Sheridan or Camp Mills is listed as your post office. In that case, let Harry Bullis, 88 Spruce Place, Minneapolis, know where you are now receiving mail. Your "district" may be making some special plans in which you should be included.

SEVENTEEN WRITE!

We need a song for Reunion!

We wanted a song for the reunion and we are still waiting. Come on '17ers, we need a song for June, a good, rollicking verse and a merry, singable tune.

Those who braved the contest and sent in contributions seemed to feel it was easier to set the verses to a tune, so they sent in the two together. This, together with the fact that there was so little time left between the first call and the final date—April 1—influenced the committee to change the former plan.

The New Plan

Send in your song complete with words and music! All judges, rules, and regulations remain as before. Contest closes June 1.

We need a song! '17ers, get busy! Think of all the pleasant memories that are calling you back in June! Think of the beauties and friendships of your Alma Mater, and the spirit of old times. Then let these thoughts sing themselves into a little melody—and write it down. Think how happy you would be to hear your song sung by all of your class when you come back. And the prize will be yours!

Send in all contributions to Madelon Willman, School of Music, U. W., before June 1.

Good luck to you!

Anna HEISS Jennings lives at 311 W. Norrie St., Ironwood, Mich.—L. F. RICH-DORF is a fellow in pediatrics at Minnesota Medical School.—Att'y H. M. LANGER may be addressed at 97 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee.—Amy WHITE teaches at Platteville State Normal.—Albert HOGDSON lives at Delphi, Ind.—T. A. CARLSON is an engineer at the Forest Products Laboratory, Madison.—Florence RENICH, chemist, may be addressed at 267 W. 15th St., Chicago Heights, Ill.—Edw. SHIPEK, accountant, resides at Birnamwood.—R. C. JOHNSON is an engineer at 113 Farwell Ave., Milwaukee.—F. R. FISCHER's address is Paulsen Bldg., Spokane, Wash.—G. M. FULLER is associate professor of economics at Iowa State College.—F. E. KEATING may be reached at U. S. Field Sta., Big Springs, Tex.—G. A. GARRIGAN is a law student at the University.—Rolf GRIEM is a member of the staff of Price Waterhouse & Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.—C. E. CRAMER, 4832 Dorchester Ave., Chicago, Ill., has a position booking concert artists.—Dr. C. T. STEPHAN is with the Hospital Survey for American College of Surgeons, Chicago, Ill.—A. G. TILLMAN may be addressed at 414-A Park Pl., Milwaukee.—Glen TAYLOR may be reached at 2632 Robert St., New Orleans, La.—Kenneth KELLEY is with the U. S. Geological Survey, 328 Custom House, San Francisco, Cal.—Hazel KETCHAM who is on a year's leave of absence from the Arsenal Technical H. S., Indianapolis, is studying in the geography department at Chicago U.—Floyd HESTER, Y. M. C. A. secretary, writes: "I have been in Y. M. C. A., work for the last two and one-half years (one year in the International Y. Hut, Vladivostock, Siberia, and one year and six months in City Russian 'Y' work, Harbin, Manchuria, China). "Just now I have left Harbin on my way back to America but got as far as Peking and found there is a great need for helpers with the Shantung Famine Relief Society in the flooded district in the Shantung Province, and have stopped for a short time to help before going on to America. I shall return home via Suez Canal or through Russia, reaching America in the spring or early summer. I was glad to meet Jack Childs, '11, in China. He is doing fine work among the students."—Hazel MARTIN Tillett resides at 705 N. Tryon St., Charlotte, N. C.—Esther JACOBSEN teaches in the Madison H. S.—Arthur SCHUBERT is principal of the Hartford H. S.—Dorothy HART Foster may be reached at Box 549, Sanford, Fla.—Margaret FAY resides at 627 Mendota Ct., Madison.—J. A. MACHLIS is in the Agronomy department at State College, Brookings, S. D.—Earl MACINNIS is superintendent of schools at Jefferson.—Warten OAKLEY resides at 407 N. Blair St., Madison.—Dr. Sigurd GUNDERSON may be reached at the Roosevelt Hospital, N. Y. C.—Captain Aubrey BOND is with the Corps of Engineers, War Dept., Washington, D. C., care Adjutant General.—Wilda SAWYER is a social worker with the A. R. C., 823 E. 61st St., Chicago, Ill.—Nellie WARNER is a model teacher in the Door-Kewaunee Training School for Teachers.—Ivan SHERMAN, agent for the C. M. & St. P. Ry., resides at Lyndon Station.—Allene WILSON Groves resides at 338 Broadway, Cape Girardeau, Mo.—Dr. Edward ZELLMER, instructor in bacteriology and pathology at the University, will open an office at Antigo at the close of the school year.

Undelivered mail addressed to the following members of the class has been returned to Headquarters:

Akenhead, J. E.	Hilton, Earl
Banting, F. F.	Hopper, W. L.
Boreson, B. F.	Galbraith, V. A.
Brandt, W. I.	Jahsman, W. E.
Bressler, R. G.	Kemmer, F.
Cleveland, W. R.	Kitzman, W. L.
Coughlin, Mary	MacGregor, Eliz.
Davies, H. R.	Mackedon, W. L.
Ellian, E. R.	Ramsay, Madeline
Elmendorf, Armin	Ricker, G. W.
Feinberg, Dr. S. M.	Taylor, G. H.
Fleck, L. C.	Wengler, Harold
Hart, M. E.	Wood, R. H.
Helmle, W. C.	Zick, W. J.

1918

Sec'y—HOWARD HANCOCK, Oshkosh,
State Normal

"I greatly enjoy our MAGAZINE," writes Audra MILLER, 410 W. Washington St., Lebanon, Ind.

W. E. JOHNSON, who is with the Panama Branch of the American Foreign Banking Corp., at Panama City, R. P., writes: "I have always received the MAGAZINE, and like to get it very much. Last year I was with our branch in Cali, Colombia."

"I have enjoyed the MAGAZINE and look forward to every issue. You are to be congratulated on the success of the MAGAZINE," writes Vivian WARNER, 3848 Byron St., Chicago, Ill.

E. A. MOFFATT

CRAIG travels for the Samson Tractor Co., Janesville.—Miss George ANUNDSEN lives at 53 E. Superior St., Chicago.—Winnafred CORWIN Beverly is owner and manager of a tea room in N. Y. C.—Helen CRONIN teaches H. E. at the Belvidere H. S.—G. S. AFFLECK is a metallurgist with the Dodge Bros. Motor Co., Detroit, Mich.—Winifred INGLIS Baumgartner lives at Forest Park, Mason City, Ia.—Herbert

Ross is sales correspondent and salesman with the Mid-States Gummed Paper Co., Chicago, Ill.—Margaret ROGERS resides at Warwood Farm, Lisle, Ill.—E. A. MOFFATT is with The Adamars Co., advertising agency, Pine at 21st St., St. Louis, Mo.

1919

Sec'y—VELMA REID, Hurley.

Mavis CHUBB is playing at the Princess Theater in Des Moines.—Clara WILLIAMS Mather lives at 52 Dover St., LaGrange, Ill.—Helen BARKER is dietitian at the Metropolitan Hospital, Blackwells Island, N. Y. C.—Dr. Ernest BROWN has entered into the practice of medicine, general surgery, and obstetrics in Madison in association with Dr. C. F. Hess, who is located at 20 E. Mifflin St.—Robin HOOD who has successfully completed the publicity work for the Arkansas cotton pooling campaign, is engaged in similar work for the Georgia movement. He may be reached at 201 Walton Bldg., Atlanta.—David WEISS in voicing a protest against the action of the Board of Regents for refusing Scott Nearing and O. S. Villard, editor of The Nation, the use of a University auditorium, says: "America has been at peace since November, 1918. But it appears that members of the Board are still at war, or have declared a war of their own against free discussion of economic ideas, for no other reason than they happen to be 'unpopular,' or perhaps threaten to set a few students to thinking about economic and labor problems. If I remember correctly, there is a bronze tablet near the entrance to Bascom Hall which boldly sets forth that it is the avowed policy of the University of Wisconsin to permit, even encourage, free discussion of labor, socialism, or any other of the 'unpopular' ideas. If free discussion is not allowed in the halls of a university, I'd like to know what a college is for. The University of Wisconsin has always had the reputation of being a 'great liberal university'; a university that has always encouraged free, independent thinking on the part of its faculty and students. It was for that reason that hundreds of Wisconsin's best students were attracted, and are now spreading Wisconsin's liberalism the world over. The war is over. Let the Board of Regents adopt a broad, intelligent, and tolerant attitude, so that the various conflicting ideas and programs may be heard in university buildings, permitting students and faculty members to choose for themselves. The way to discredit ideas is to allow them to be heard and discussed, and not to suppress them." Regarding the increased tuition fee he adds, "Some of us are expecting almost any day that a Chinese wall will be built around the campus and all persons outside of Madison and Milwaukee will be outlawed as non-residents."—W. F. RANEY is a professor at Lawrence College.—Ming Heng CHOU, who is with the Ta Hu Cement Co., Shanghai, China, writes: "When I look back to the best, I shall never forget the good times I had in Wisconsin. If any Wisconsin man or woman comes over to China, please ask him or her to drop me a line so that I can be of service to him or her."—Wm. H. E. REID, assistant professor of dairy manufacturers at the U. of Missouri, who has been requested to start organization activities for a U. W. Club, writes: "We have at this institute in the near proximity of 12 or 15 Wisconsin graduates. I will be very pleased to take this matter into consideration and to learn the voice of the Wisconsin people now located here. You can rest assured that they are very enthusiastic over their Alma Mater and any small part that we can play in furthering this progress will be done to the best of our ability."

1920

Sec'y—PHYLLIS B. HAMILTON, Racine, Care Hartmann Trunk Co.

A. J. LONSDORF resides at 9th & Prairie St., Blue River Valley, Milwaukee.—R. F. TAYLOR, public accountant, may be addressed at 506 Y. M. C. A., Duluth, Minn.—Margaret WILSON may be reached at Tsinan, Shantung Province, China, care Shantung University.—V. P. LAMM resides at 495 33rd St., Milwaukee.—Josephine PRICHETT Ruhsam resides at 524 Park Ave., Albert Lea, Minn.—Alice DAY who is taking M. A. work at the University and teaching in the Madison public schools, resides at the Journalism House, 430 N. Frances St.—Mary AID is on the staff of physical education at the University of Washington.—J. H. VAN VLECK is instructor in physics at Harvard.—Lawrence HALL, Madison attorney, was re-elected justice of the peace at the April election.—Eleanor HATTON Schramm resides at 1824 Pallister Ave., Detroit, Mich.

1921

Sec'y—MARY PARKINSON, Milwaukee, 236 Oneida St.

"Certainly hope we make our 10,000. Queer, isn't it, how much more it means after we leave, than while there?" writes Kathryn LOOSE, from 1509 5th St., S., Virginia, Minn., regarding the campaign for 10,000 members of the General Alumni Association.

"The 'next best thing' to a reunion is the monthly visit of the MAGAZINE, and I don't want to lose any opportunities to enjoy a 'second hand reunion,' writes R. W. CRETNEY, 262 S. Broadway, Aurora, Ill.

Agnes IVERSON is assistant employment manager at the Monarch Mfg. Co., Milwaukee.—W. H. BORDEN's address is Box

128, Platteville.—Helen STEVENSON resides at Edgewater Mines, Ensley, Ala.—G. W. MARTIN may be addressed at 214 W. 50th St., N. Y. C., care "Remo."—Clara WIGDER is secretary to Prof. R. T. Ely of the University.—Mildred DACTHLER resides at 534 E. Pierce St., Council Bluffs, Ia.—Dorothy REAM Wilson resides at 602 S. Baldwin St., Madison.—Arthur ENDE is in the accounting department of the Wis. Telephone Co., Milwaukee.—Carl LAUN is a cost accountant with the Kiel Furniture Co., Milwaukee.—Marion DEBINK resides at 854 Sherman Blvd., Milwaukee.—Chester MILLER lives at 315 Scottwood Apt., Toledo, O.—Forrest SMITH lives at 60 Schiller St., Chicago, Ill.—Frances RYAN, actress at 135 W. 16th St., N. Y. C., is playing in "He who Gets Slapped."—Viola HOPKINS teaches history in the Marshfield H. S.—Aurelia BOLLIGER leaves for China in the summer to become a missionary for the Reformed church.—Lawrence MURPHY has gone with his brother into the mineral feed manufacturing business at Delavan.—Alice MUNRO directs the publicity for Scribner's.—Forrest SMITH resides at 4426 Grand Blvd., Chicago, Ill.—Howard POSZ is a mechanical engineer with the Sandusky Cement Co., at Dixon, Ill.—Wilma JOHNSON resides at 4719 Lincoln Ave., Detroit, Mich.

1922

Newton BOWERS, public accountant, may be addressed at 444 Herschel Ave., St. Paul, Minn.—With the close of the indoor track season, Guy SUNDT was awarded his eighth "W" for scoring points in the Notre Dame and Iowa dual meets, and for winning second place in the shot put at the Big Ten meet held at Northwestern.—T. D. JONES who had a toe crushed in the St. Patrick engineers' parade, will not be permanently disabled, it is reported.

"ST. PATRICK WAS AN ENGINEER"

PHOTOART FINISHING

SPECIAL MAIL SERVICE—We bring Photoart developing and printing to your door. It costs no more than does the ordinary kind.

Stick a 1c stamp on your next exposed roll and drop it in the nearest mail box.

THE PHOTOART HOUSE,
WM. J. MEUER, '10, Pres. Madison, Wis.

CAMPUS NOTES

Tables where co-eds may practice certain languages at meal time, such as French, German, or Spanish, are becoming dormitory traditions on the campus.

An appeal to bring prominent conservatives to speak before students and present the other side of questions raised by radicals brought to the university by the Social Science Club, was made in an editorial in the Daily Cardinal of April 4.

The Military Ball was by far the most brilliant affair the uniformed men of the University have ever staged. Lighting effects were artistic masterpieces. Standing in a spotlight on a balcony, Governor Blaine, after paying tribute to the World War heroes, said: "For tonight be merry. Forget your studies, forget your deans, forget all your troubles and be gay."

The Choral Union presented "Gallia," by Gounod, and "The Earl King's Daughter," by Gade at Music Hall, April 4.

A donation of about $1,000, proceeds from the Military Ball, will be turned over to the Memorial Union fund.

John H. Finley of the New York Times, prominent educator who has been president of several colleges and universities, will deliver the Baccalaureate address on June 11.

Professor Svedberg, of the University of Upsala, will be in residence during the second semester of the scholastic year 1922-23 and the Summer Session of 1923 to organize and direct research work in colloid chemistry.

The Birge-Bryan controversy, which was continued in the Madison papers the first and second week of April, accuses President Birge of evading the real issue. "The reason is obvious," says Dr. Bryan, "he [Dr. Birge] cannot state his real views (if he accepts Darwin's hypothesis) without disclosing an attitude so at variance with a large majority of the Christians as to make his doctrine a menace to Christianity. . . . Will Dr. Birge state for the benefit of the taxpayers whether he believes in the Virgin birth of Christ as reported in Luke? Does he believe in the miracles performed by Christ? Does he believe in the resurrection of Christ—I mean resurrection of the body as reported in the gospels?" A part of Dr. Birge's reply follows: "In effect, Mr. Bryan, finding that his charge of atheism will not hold, has shifted his ground; he now propounds various theological beliefs and demands that I state my attitude toward them for the benefit of the 'taxpayers.' I decline to do so, since I have no reason to think that the taxpayers desire such information even if they had the right to ask for it. I have lived in the state of Wisconsin for nearly fifty years and the taxpayers have seemed wholly content that I should lead my religious life in freedom without interference and in accordance with the guarantee of our constitution."

"What's Wrong With Wisconsin University," which appeared in the Wisconsin Farmer under the signature of Editor E. R. McIntyre, called forth the following editorial in the Cardinal of April 1. We print in part only.

"Picturing the University's more distinguished professors as a group of high-salaried gentlemen of leisure, he upbraids them for spending their time in research and writing, instead of teaching freshmen the date of the Magna Charter; he rebukes them for compiling works on the classics instead of teaching freshmen not to split infinitives. They write text-books instead of conducting quiz sections, he says. Students are attracted to the University by the great achievements and reputations of these professors, but are denied contact with them, he declares.

"Granted. But does Mr. McIntyre believe for a minute that those professors would have acquired their erudition and renown if they had spent all their time in correcting quiz papers and freshman themes? What does he think they would teach, if no time were spent in research and study? What text-books would they use, if there were no men of research to write them?"

"A university must be an institution of learning before it can be an institution of instruction. It must gather knowledge before it can dispense it, and there are few scholars of sufficient wealth to be able to devote their lives to unsubsidized study.

* * *

"This last problem which he presents [that some instructors are young and inexperienced] is one of paramount importance. It is one that the engineering faculty has publicly recognized, and we may hope that the whole University will face it. This solution is doubtful. Is it possible that higher salaries for instructors might attract better men?"

The Gilmore party, enroute to the Philippines where Professor Gilmore is vice governor, was entertained at the Country Club in Honolulu, guests of Governor Farrington, brother of Prof. E. H. Farrington of the University, at a dinner at which some fifty distinguished people of the island were present. Both Governor Farrington and Vice Governor Gilmore spoke informally on the problems of the Pacific and the influence of the University in these outposts.

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic organization announces the election of the following juniors: Mary James, Portia Lugoff, Dane Vermillion, Elizabeth Wadman, and Anna Stoffregen, sophomore.

The Badger will be dedicated to Prof. W. G. Bleyer, '96.

As a result of the unauthorized dance given during the examination period, the students who gave it will be denied the right to rent the room again, according to Dean Goodnight, '05.

Coach T. E. Jones, states in the Capital Times of Jan. 28: "There must be a general clean-up of professionalism in Western conference universities at the present time or intercollegiate athletics will suffer. The right thing will be done at Wisconsin. If we find that any man taking part in football, baseball, or basketball, in this University is playing for money, he is definitely through. There is no place for him at this school."

"Pure nonsense," declared Prof. G. C. Comstock, '83, denying that the earth had gone off its axis to a new one during the earthquake which seismographs recorded throughout the U. S., Feb. 2.

"On the Hiring, Line" the annual joint play of Edwin Booth, Red Domino, and Twelfth Night, was given Feb. 2, with matinee and night performances, at the Parkway theater. It was presented in Rockford on Feb. 17 and repeated in Madison Feb. 18.

The message which Jane Addams, LL. D. '04, brought to the Madison Kiwanis Club during the Dairy Jubilee Week was: "The present warmth of feeling of Europeans for Americans will cool unless greater understanding is brought about by a series of conferences among the nations or by some sort of league or association."

Prof. Edith Hoyt, '09, of the Education department of the Extension Division, is one of the three women to sit as associate judges with Judge A. C. Hoppmann, '96, of superior court, in deciding mothers' pension and juvenile cases, including cases dealing with girls.

At the Congress of French Language and Literature held in Chicago, Ill., the last week in January, the University was represented by J. S. Hamilton, '22, and J. S. Irwin, '23, of the Cercle Francaise; Mr. and Mrs. Greenleaf of the French department; and Prof. C. D. Zdanowicz, chairman of the French department, who read a paper.

A cello concert by Pablo Casals, the last concert in the series of four given this year under the auspices of the Student Board, was held in the gymnasium Feb. 17. The profits of these concerts went to the Memorial Union fund.

An invitation has been given students and instructors at the University by the American-Scandinavian Foundation and the Institute of International Education to join a tour through the Scandinavian countries, from July 1 to Sept. 1. Dr. C. S. Leonard of the Medical School, who has taken the trip, is fostering the idea at Wisconsin.

A 10-inch rock breaker and a set of 18-inch crushing rolls have been presented to the department of Mining and Metallurgy by the Mineral Point Zinc Co.

Some 69 men attended the second annual school for electric meter men from Jan. 23-27. The school was conducted by the Extension Division and the College of Engineering in co-operation with the Wis. Railroad Commission and the Wis. Electrical Ass'n.; Prof. C. M. Jansky was director.

The Central division of the Modern Language Ass'n, held in Iowa City recently, elected Prof. C. D. Zdanowicz, chairman of the French department, a member of the executive committee and chairman of special research group on Molière.

Prof. M. V. O'Shea of the Education department spoke Jan. 23 in Fond du Lac to a Parent-Teachers' Ass'n on "Human Nature in Home and School."

Acacia fraternity has purchased the residence of B. W. Jones, '70, 112 Langdon St., and will take possession a year from next fall. The consideration was $45,000.

Time signals by wireless from Eiffel Tower, Paris, France, were heard at the University recently. The new call letters of the University are "W H A."

Four types of electric furnaces, designed and constructed largely by students, are being used in the course in electric furnaces, given in the department of Chemical Engineering.

Franklin's birthday was commemorated during Thrift Week with a noon-time entertainment at the Strand theater, with Prof. C. R. Fish, Emerson Ela, '01, and the University Glee Club appearing on the program.

Wisconsin students are not readers of light fiction according to the calls for heavier literature in the periodical room; Current History, The Literary Digest, Review of Reviews, and The Bookman lead in popularity on a list of 3000 titles.

President Harding, who planned a trip to the Middle West in February, sent his regrets at not being able to accept the invitation of Benjamin Heald, '23, chairman of the Prom reception committee, to attend the Prom.

Wisconsin's total contribution to the Student Friendship Fund was almost $1,500. Of this amount sorority women contributed $355.94, fraternities 161.79, and faculty $250.

Prof. W. E. Dubois, managing editor of the Crisis, spoke in the gymnasium Jan. 18, on "The Future of the Darker Races."

Prof. Abby Mayhew, former director of Physical Education at the University, spoke Jan. 20 at Lathrop Hall on the Chinese drive.

"Relations of the Feeding Problem to Children's Defects" was the subject of a talk by Prof. Blanton, of the Speech Hygiene department, during Farmers' and Home Makers' Week.

Prof. W. A. Scott gave an address at the banquet of the annual conference of the Vocational Education Ass'n of the Middle West in Milwaukee in January.

Beta Chi Sigma, recognized by the student life and interests committee as a local fraternity, has been granted a charter by the national convention.

Nearly 800 copies of "Drifting With You," Prom fox trot, the words of which were written by Harold Taylor, '22, and the music by Horace Taggart, '24 and Jesse Cohen, '24, have been sold by Hook Bros., the only music store carrying the piece.

President W. D. Scott, Northwestern, opened the ninth annual vocational conference of University women at an all-University convocation in the gymnasium, Feb. 16.

"Hit or Miss," the satire section of the Badger, promises to have many hits and few misses.

Alpha Pi Epsilon, honorary women's sociology club, has been organized by a group of seniors majoring in sociology in co-operation with the faculty.

Bishop Paul Jones of New York, who spoke in Bascom Hall under the auspices of the Social Science Club, Feb. 14, declared that the youth of today in European and American schools is beginning to appreciate the wisdom of the first century gospels as sound advice for the cure of industrial evils of the present time.

Smoking among women of the University is dying out according to statements made by Dean Nardin in the Cardinal of Feb. 15.

Prof. A. B. Hall, in his talk on "The Four Power Pact and the Pacific" at the International Club in February declared that the nations must drop reckless competition for co-operation or they will face another world war about the rich unexploited lands of the Far East.

W. W. Webster, former president of the Century Co., N. Y., lectured in February under the auspices of the journalism and the English departments on "The Joy of Writing" and "The Writing Game."

The Brides' Club has been renamed the Junior Division of the University League, the first organization of younger women whose husbands are connected with the University.

Intercollegiate games for women will be discussed at the W. A. A. sectional convention in Boulder, Colo., in April.

"The Birthday of the Infanta," by Oscar Wilde, "Sunny Morning," a Spanish comedy by Sarafin and Joaquin Quintoro, and "The Pot Boilers" were presented by Twelfth Night at Lathrop Hall, Feb. 25.

The Varsity Jamboree, all-University fancy dress ball, was held in Lathrop Hall, April 1.

Franklin Nace, Iola, has been appointed regent to succeed G. D. Jones, Wausau. Mr. Nace is a practical farmer and his selection is in keeping with the expressed intention of Governor Blaine to name farmers and laborers on the educational boards now made up of lawyers, manufacturers and doctors.

Gun and Blade banqueted 250 veterans at the Woman's Building on March 3. President Birge, the first speaker, appealed to the club to instill into the student body of Wisconsin the war-time spirit of loyalty, patriotism, and service. He was followed by Maj. A. A. Sprague, Washington, D. C., C. W. Spoffard, Capt. M. E. Adams, Mayor I. M. Kittleson, '02, and Edison Boerke. Humorous sketches were interspersed throughout the program.

The best senior thesis dealing with industrial relations will be awarded the John Lendrum Mitchell medal. The medal is given by W. M. Chester, Milwaukee, in memory of Lieut. John Mitchell, '17.

Women's athletic associations all over the country and abroad write for information regarding the standards and systems used at Wisconsin.

A miniature thunder and lightning storm, produced by means of a Tesla coil, was shown at a meeting of the American Institute of Engineers in February.

Complimentary to students from several foreign countries, an informal party was held at the Y. M. C. A., Feb. 25.

"Wisconsin Shows Stock" was the prize winning slogan for the Little International Live Stock show, held in the stock pavilion, March 4.

The Euthenics Club heard Hazel Manning, '13, on "Ways Women's Clothing Is Put Upon the Market" in February.

An attendance of about 1000 persons at the second annual Charity Ball mixer, given in Lathrop Hall, Feb. 24 for the benefit of the Wis. State Conference of Social Work, proved that students will stand back of a worthy cause.

Prizes totalling $50 will be given during a period of six weeks, beginning in March at the rate of one a week, for pictures of Wisconsin people, events, or any aspect of campus life.

Tentative plans for a new gymnasium favor an E-shaped building with a 6000 capacity game room, to be erected near the stadium at Camp Randall; $75,000 would suffice for the game room unit.

Dr. Kenerson, Brown University, was the guest of honor and main speaker at a banquet of the student branch of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, March 1.

Regent Kronshage's resolution to lift all censorship restrictions on speakers brought here by student organizations was held over from the February meeting of the Regents until the meeting of April 26.

Scholarships of $100 each were awarded to fifty freshmen, chosen by the committee on Loans and Scholarships on the basis of need and academic standing, at the February meeting of the Regents.

"La Maison Francaise du Wisconsin" (L'Illustration, Jan. 1922) by Emilie De Jean, Bordeaux, France, appears in translation in the Cardinal for March 5.