NARDIN GIVES HER VIEWS ON REASON FOR MARKS' BOOK

Writer's Motive Was to Arouse Elders to Their Responsibility For Youth

To arouse lazy and indifferent elders to their responsibility for the follies into which youth of today may fall was Percy Marks' motive in writing "The Plastic Age," Miss F. Louise Nardin, dean of women, understands.

"Thoughtless elders fall into two classes," Miss Nardin asserted, "those who think there is no cause for alarm at the present time and that youth is behaving just as it has always behaved, except that now it conceals less than formerly; and those who feel that youth is lacking entirely in standards and aspirations, that youth practices no more self-control than it recognizes autocratic, conventional authority—in a word that the devils of bad taste and bad morals have possessed the young people of today and are hurling them to destruction."

Marks Not Alarmed

Those who think Mr. Marks is in the latter class are mistaken, Miss Nardin believes. On the contrary, she feels that the writer wants to break the easy complacency of the first class.

Touching on the lecture which Mr. Marks will deliver at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in Music hall, Miss Nardin commented:

May Blame Parents

"Probably Mr. Marks will ask us, the older generation, to confess and repent of our sins against straight thinking and good taste, rather than dwell upon the muddle in which youth finds itself now for having inherited some chaos from us."

"My guess is that it may be a lecture for Parent-Teachers' association for Parent-Teachers' associations. We may disagree more or less with Mr. Marks, but we are bound to hear him."

Tickets for the lecture are 75 cents and may be bought at Hook's Music store, the University pharmacy, Brown's book shop or from members of Theta Sigma Phi.

HILLEL PLAYERS ENACT "THE ETERNAL CITY"

The Hillel Players will present their first production of this semester when they enact Marc Arnstein's "The Eternal City" at 8 o'clock tonight at the Hillel foundation. The cast of the play which deals with the labor problem is Pesch, Celia Miller '27; Gerson, Charles Vogel '26; David, Julius Goldstein '27; and Hannah, Hazel Sinaiko '27. The play will be followed by a mixer. There will be an admission charge of 25 cents.

GOTHAM ENJOYS WISCONSIN MUSIC

Improved WHA Station Receives Favorable Comment From Distant Points

Testimony for the success of the WHA wave length has been given by a New York man who declared, in a letter written to the university broadcasting station, that with the loud speaker of his radio turned on he could hear William Ross, graduate student in the School of Music, sing "The Bells of St. Mary" as plainly as he could have if the man had been in the room with his auditor.

From as far north as Canada, far south as Texas, from San Francisco and from Boston and New York City letters are continually coming to WHA commending the programs which this station has been sending out and expressing satisfaction with the new wave length.

Some of the places which have been heard from are Toronto, New Orleans, New York City, Tottenham, Ont., San Francisco, Providence, Atco, N. J.; Baltimore, Avoca, Tex.; Roanoke, Va.; Philadelphia, Winnepeg, Hartford, Conn.; Windsor, Vt., and Glen Riddle, Pa.

Keep Your Courage, Says Weather Forecaster; Change Is Due Today

Throw open your coats! It's not nearly as cold as you thought it was!

According to E. R. Miller of the U. S. Weather Bureau it was five below yesterday morning—and that's the coldest it has been these last few days.

"I should think you'd enjoy this kind of weather," Mr. Miller said. "Think of the skating—a winter sports!" But he laughed as he said it, for from his office window shivering students could be seen hurrying up the Hill, coats drawn tight about them, and holding to their almost frozen ears.

Many people thought the temperature lower because of the wind, but Mr. Miller declares that the wind has been gently blowing at but four miles an hour—no faster than an ordinary walker travels.

Tomorrow, however, the weather man may change his mind and bring warmer weather. By tomorrow afternoon, Miller said, there will probably be a decided change to warmer weather.

GLEE CLUB HOLDS ADVANCE SALES

Sell Tickets For Madison Concerts to Finance New York Trip

To finance the trip of the Men's Glee club to New York for competition in the Eastern collegiate contest there March 7, an advance ticket sale for the club's two concerts in Madison March 13 and 14 is being opened today.

Tickets for the Madison concerts of the club at Music hall will be on sale at Hook's music store, the University pharmacy and by all the members of the club today.

"If we are to represent Wisconsin in the Eastern meet, we must have a considerable amount of money right away. To do this we are asking the support of the student body in buying the tickets to our concerts as early as possible," said Robert Nethercut '25, president of the club, yesterday.

The concert Friday, March 13, is intended primarily for group attendance by fraternity or sorority parties, Nethercut said. The Saturday concert will be for general student and city attendance, although tickets may be obtained by individuals for either night. Several fraternities have already made plans for a Glee dance to follow the concert Friday night.

The club has resumed regular practice in preparation for the New York competition and the home concert to follow. Since the Glee club contest is intended to be a student function, the regular student admission of 50 and 75 cents will be maintained.

Stinchfield outlined the possibilities of roadside markets, telling something of their development and future possibilities because of heavy tourist traffic.

DEAN RUSSELL TALKS TO BADGER CANNERS

H. H. Russell, dean of the college of agriculture of the university, speaking before the banquet of Wisconsin Pea Canner's association at the Y. M. C. A. last night, declared that the five day short course which will be completed today by the members, was a success if only a small insight was carried away by them of the workings of the university.

CLEF CLUB CONCERT DRAWS LARGE CROWD

Kronshage Tells Papers Why University Is On Downgrade

Editor's Note: This is the first of a series of six articles on the university which Theodore Kronshage, president of the regents of the university, is preparing for the papers of the state. The remaining articles will appear in the Daily Cardinal from time to time.

The University of Wisconsin has been slipping. It is still slipping, and I want the people of the state to know it.

Our leading educators know it. The leading educators of the country know it. "What is the matter with Wisconsin? You used to have a great University." This question and statement in various forms met me wherever I went in our quest for a new president.

I want the public to have the facts. I know that, among the laity, the belief is still general that our University is what it was 15 years ago, a great, if not the greatest, state institution of its kind.

On the other hand, I know that certain taxpayers, who are ever protesting the cost of government, look upon the University as an ogre of waste, fattening on the life blood of industry.

I propose to tell you the truth about the University and its finances. In a series of six short articles I shall endeavor to show:

1. That the University is trying to teach 8,000 students in buildings that were built for 4,000.

2. That the Legislature has made no new appropriations for buildings for teaching purposes at Madison since 1913, while adjoining states, since 1919, have made appropriations to their state universities ranging from three to six and one-half million dollars for buildings and land, exclusive of hospital buildings and hospital sites.

3. That right now 124 full-time teachers are needed to bring the teaching staff up to the par of 1911.

4. That of every dollar spent by the University, only 53 cents comes from the state; that about 15 cents of the 53 cents is spent for direct service to the people, and only 38 cents for the operation and maintenance of the University proper.

5. That although the biennial estimate submitted to the Legislature at this session was pared to the limit by the Regents, further large reductions are officially urged.

6. That the proposed reductions mean one of two things—either the closing of departments, or a stringent limitation of attendance.

7. That during the past 14 years the wealth of the people in the State of Wisconsin has doubled or trebled. To cite one instance, individual bank deposits increased from $258,955,519 in 1910 to $731,795,950 in December, 1923.

8. That during the year 1924, the people of this state spent upwards of $188,000,000 on luxuries and amusements. Eight times as much was spent for rouge and lipsticks and other articles of personal adornment as the State, in its opulence, spent on its University.

These facts, I shall explain with diagrams and figures.

During a quarter of a century, Wisconsin raised itself from a comparatively poor state to a rich one, assumed a national leadership in agriculture, outstripped many rival states in industry, and set the national

MEMBERS OF '28 TRY NOVEL IDEA IN FIRST MIXER

All Freshman Dance Tonight at Lathrop is New Feature Here

The freshman class will inaugurate a novel idea tonight when its members gather at 7:45 o'clock at Lathrop parlors to dance to Joe River's orchestra for one hour before the regular Saturday night Union Board dance.

"Your fee card is your ticket," is the slogan of the Committee of 50. A group of 25 freshman men and women will be on hand to receive all classmates, and incidentally to verify the "tickets."

More Mixers Soon

"Hopes are high that this mixer will be a success, for if such is the case, similar dances will in all probability, be continued in the future," said Joseph Hobbins, chairman of the men's committee. It was for Green Button, honorary freshman women's society, under the leadership of Florence Ludden, to undertake this novel plan of acquainting the class with itself, "for it is only through cooperation that the class can do big things for Wisconsin," says Clyde K. Kluckholm, freshman president. "And before we can hope to have this cooperation it is first essential that we become thoroughly acquainted with each other."

Committee in Charge

The mixer committee includes Katherine Ehrgett, Jane Burrall, Marian Greer, Florence Ludden, Grace Wagner, Fern Johnson, Jane Ransom, Nellie Jane Schneider, Rhoda Luby, Grace Martin, Dorothy Schultz, Helen Huntzicker, Gene Kinkead, Bert Fisher, Kerwin Hagerty, Bud St. John, Charles Dollard, Joseph Hobbins, Robert Wagner, Lynn Chase, Kenneth Cochran, Paul Curtiss, Jack Sharp, Ben Miller, Truman Marsh, Hugh Gillan and Robert Zeutner.

TRI DELTA HOUSE IS SCENE OF SMALL FIRE

Fire at the Delta Delta house at noon yesterday added one more blaze to the season's list. A defective flue started the blaze which partly destroyed one room on the third floor. The fire department succeeded in controlling the flames shortly after its arrival.

Arrangements have been completed with the Divinity school of the University of Michigan for a series of lectures to be given there during the week of March 26 by Prof. J. L. Gillin of the department of Sociology on the general subject of "Religion and Social Development."

ALL JOURNALISTS INVITED TO MIXER

Annual Pi Nite Sponsored By Press Club to Take Place March 7

All students in the Course in Journalism and students interested in journalistic activities are invited by the Press club to attend Pi Nite, the annual journalism mixer, Saturday, March 7, in Lathrop concert room.

Pi Nite is the annual get-together arranged and sponsored by the Press club for journalism students.

An orchestra has been engaged to furnish music and a number of special features are being planned for the evening. In keeping with the custom of Pi Nite large cuts of apple pie, furnished by Halls and Commons, will be served for refreshments.

Tickets costing 35 cents, may be had from members of the Press club, Stan Kalish '26, or from Miss Bauer, secretary to Professor Bleyer, of the journalism department.

"We want every member of the journalism department to feel that this function is for them and not only for the members of the Press club," John Davis '25, president of the organization, said.

TRACK TEAM, UNBEATEN THIS YEAR, COMPETES IN ILLINOIS RELAYS

Jones Takes Mile Relay Team to Champaign For Carnival

At the last minute Coach Jones decided to enter his mile relay team which broke the record at Iowa a week ago in the Illinois relay carnival, so that in addition to the seven special event men, four quarter milers left with Coach Jones for Champaign yesterday.

Competition at the carnival this year will be exceptionally keen on account of the large number and fine quality of the entries. Flueck, Hill, Hilberts and Kennedy, the Badger quartet, will match strides with the star Penn and Chicago quartets. It is not certain whether Penn will concentrate its strength on the mile or two mile relay. Chicago defeated the Badgers in the mile relay at the quadrangular meet two weeks ago but the Wisconsin four are determined to reverse this situation when the two teams meet today.

McAndrews Entered

McAndrews will face a mast field in the 75 yard dash. Among the men whom he will have to beat to the tape for a victory are Evans, Illinois ace; Hubbard and Wittman, the two Michigan flashes; Layden, one of Notre Dame's "four horsemen"; Peplaw of Minnesota, and Fisher of Kansas. In spite of the quality of the entries in the dash it would be safe to pick McAndrews for one of the first three places.

In the low and high hurdles McGiveran and McGinnis will run against a squad of Olympic stars. Kinsey, of Illinois fame; the two Ohio stars, Guthrie and Snyder; Taylor, Olympic winner in the hurdles, from Grinnell. Other noted hurdlers who will attempt to lead the Badgers across the finish line are Keeble, of Missouri; Kelly of South Dakota and Casey of Notre Dame.

Stiff Competition Expected

The 300 yard dash will see Harry Hill, midget Badger speedster, racing against the two eastern stars from Georgetown, Ascher and Kinaley. Also Evans of Illinois will make things hot over the 300 yard course.

Cassidy and Vallely, the two Wisconsin entries in the 1500 metre special race, will find stiff competition again in the form of a Georgetown entry, Sullivan, a member of the relay team that holds the world's record for the two mile relay. Shimek, crack Marquette distance runner, will also have to be reckoned with. Eddie Mieher is another miler that will be in the running all the way. However, Coach Gill may use him to run a mile on the Illinois mile relay quartet. After turning in a 4:24 mile last week Vallely should be a hard man to beat and Cassidy has been running right along with him this week in practice.

Expect Schwarze to Win

Schwarze should have things his own way in the shot put unless he has another losing streak like last Saturday. He is out to get revenge on Daubner, Iowa weight man, who defeated him last Saturday and who will be at the meet. Schildauer, Illinois shot putter, is the only other man who can come close to Schwarze.

McGinnis and Russell will stage a duel in the high jump. Two weeks ago McGinnis outjumped Russell, Maroon indoor champion last year, by an inch. In the pole vault Krieger will have a job on his hands clearing the bar better than Brooker, stellar Michigan entry.

Jones Takes 11 Men

The eleven men making the trip are Captain Vallely, Hill, Kennedy, Flueck, Hilberts, Cassidy, McAndrews, McGiveran, McGinnis, Krieger and Schwarze.

While these men are at the relays the rest of the squad with the exception of Kubly, Bergstresser and Piper, will have tryouts here for the dual meet with Notre Dame next Saturday.

BADGERS SET FOR MICHIGAN GAME

Improved Game and Desire to Avenge Former Defeats Give Hope

The Wisconsin cage team went through a light workout Friday as the final preparation for the game with Coach Mather's quintet tonight. The team is in the best of condition, and are eager to redeem their conference standing with a victory in tonight's contest.

The lineup for the game is much the same as the one which started the Purdue game. Merkel, Bain and either Miller or Barnum is the expected starting lineup for the forward line. This is the combination which has worked well in practice, and showed flashes of ability in the game with the strong Purdue five. Merkel has been doing some poor shooting in the games, but has improved in the practices and may be expected to send the ball through the loop more than once in the game.

Center Doubtful

Bain has been playing a good game at the forward position. He has the fight, and ability of an offense man and the little doctor is fast rounding him into top notch form. Both Miller and Barnum have shown up well at center. Barnum is aggressive and a good shot. Miller has the advantage of height and is also an able shot and passes the ball well.

Captain Diebold with Barwig for his partner will start the game on the defense. The pair played a great game against Purdue. Not only did they guard well, but they sent the ball through the basket for several much needed scores. Barwig scored three field goals in this game besides playing a great defense game. These two seem to have struck their stride, and it is expected that they will continue holding the invaders to few field goals.

Haggerty Leads Wolverines
The invading Michigan quintet is led by the famed Haggerty. In the games thus far this speedy player has scored twenty-four baskets, and shows hopes of giving the Badger guards much trouble. Cherry is another star on the Wolverine team, for his guarding ability has held many conference teams to low scores.

The Michigan five which invades Madison tonight was defeated by Purdue by a narrow margin, so that they are expected to give the Meanwell men a hard battle. In the first meeting of the two teams the Mather men were victorious by one basket. Wisconsin was stronger

Cage Jottings

MOB MICHIGAN has been the cry all week, and tonight Badger cage fans will see their hopefuls in action. This is the second meeting of the two teams this season, the previous meeting of the teams resulted in a victory for Michigan by a 14 to 12 score.

It must be remembered that the game was played in the field house at Ann Arbor, so a two-point victory don't indicate that the Maize and Blue basketballers are much superior to the fighting Badgers.

All in all, I think that Wisconsin has an excellent chance to come through ahead. The Badgers are much improved, and have developed in floor play and fight, so that it appears that Wisconsin's standing in the percentage column will go up and not down.

The Waukegon high school basketball team, which defeated Central high school by a 26 to 12 score last night, will be guests of the university at the Michigan-Wisconsin basketball game here tonight. The Waukegon team also automatically won the Chicago suburban league championship last night when the Oak Park team, who was in a tie with them, lost its last game.

I am getting a few letters and cards each day with guesses on the outcome of the conference cage race. Send yours to Cage Jottings, care of the Daily Cardinal, Madison.

Dear Cage:
Although I am what you would call a "grind," I am able to spare enough time from my books to go to the basketball games and also follow the other conference teams in their quest for the title. In my honest opinion, Ohio will come out in the end with a championship because Wisconsin will win from Illinois when they meet in March. I also predict that Wisconsin will be in a tie for third place, as no Meanwell team has ever finished below third, and this year's team is no exception. Respectfully,
St. Denise.

Come on, Wisconsin, "fight on for your fame," and MOB MICHIGAN.

INDIANA ENTERS FOUR IN ILLINOIS RELAYS

Indiana university will be represented by four men at the Illinois relay carnival today. Coach Hayes of the Indiana squad has chosen Wallace, Horner, Caine and Rose to compete in the four mile relay at Urbana. He will also send Pepper and Nay to Louisville to compete unattached in the A. A. U. title meet today. Pepper is entered in the 60 yard dash and Nay will run in the 1,000 yard event.

then than they are now, but the Cardinal men have been working long and hard in preparation for the Michigan team, and may be expected to play real basketball.

Meanwell, Little Will Give Courses in Summer School

Thirty courses in athletic direction and coaching have been prepared for the summer session this year. George Little is to be in charge and will also conduct two classes personally, one in "Football Technique and Practice" and the other in "Organization and Administration of Athletics."

These courses are offered to meet the needs of instructors and directors of playgrounds and gymnasiums, of school teachers and of administrative officers of schools, clubs, and social welfare institutions. Special emphasis will be laid upon the training of coaches of football, basketball, baseball, and track athletics.

Margaret H'Doubler will conduct classes in interpretative dancing including beginning, intermediate, and advanced work. Janet Cumming, a graduate of the university, is coming from the University of Michigan to assist Miss H'Doubler. Another person new on the staff will be Miss Adele Kimm of Iowa State Teacher's college, who will take charge of swimming classes.

GREEK CAGERS START FINAL BASKET GAMES

Theta Chi defeated Delta Chi 14 to 4 yesterday afternoon in the last first round game of the interfraternity basketball league finals. The teams which are left in the competition for the four major cups are Phi Kappa Psi, Sigma Nu, Delta Upsilon, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Kappa Sigma, Theta Xi, Sigma Phi Sigma, and Theta Chi.

Alpha Chi downed Phi Kappa Sigma 26 to 6 yesterday afternoon in the first game of the consolation play. Delta Tau Delta, Beta Theta Pi, Theta Delta Chi, Delta Chi, Delta Sigma Phi, and Zeta Psi are the other teams competing for the consolation cup.

Five cups, four of them for the leaders and one for the consolation victor, have been put up for the Greek basketballers to struggle for in this season's play.

BALL PROVES A JINX TO IOWA RELAY TEAM

A baseball practically ruined any chances Iowa had of retaining the three year old title she holds in the mile relay at Illinois today, when it was the means of cutting Roberts from the team. The colored dash star was doing a short sprint with four others when the ball rolled across the track. He was spiked by one of his own men trying to miss the sphere. Everingham, speediest of the sophomores, had previously been called home by a death in the family and neither man is expected to be in shape to run today.

FROSH CATCHERS GET CALL FROM LOWMAN

Freshman baseball catchers are asked to report to Coach Lowman at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon at the gymnasium annex. Active work is to be started immediately.

GYM SQUAD AND FENCERS COMPETE AT IOWA TONIGHT

Meet at Iowa City is Expected to Be Close Contest Tonight

Badger gymnastic and fencing men have their second conference meet of the season at Iowa City with the Hawkeyes tonight. Iowa was defeated by Minnesota but by a larger score than was annexed by the Gophers at Wisconsin, therefore Coach Schlatter believes his squad has a good chance of winning tonight.

The fencers meet the Hawkeyes in their first conference match. Milwaukee "Y" fencers were defeated twice by Coach Schlatters men, but the Iowa team is expected to furnish stronger competition. New fencing jackets will be tried out in the bouts by the Hawkeyes.

Captain Schmidt will compete in the horizontal and parallel bars, side-horse and tumbling events. Other Wisconsin performers are Earl Hicks, horizontal bars, rings, side-horse; George Kress, side-horse; Hugo Hiemke, horizontal and parallel bars, tumbling; Walter Snively, club-swinging; Walter Huxley, all events except side-horse, and Vornholt, side-horse. Paul Walters, Walter May, Elmer Freytag and Elias Mathys will work with the foils, and Walter Parson with the sabre.

MINNESOTA NOSES OUT BADGER SWIMMERS, 38 TO 25

WISCONSIN TAKES ONLY TWO FIRSTS AT MINNEAPOLIS

Relay Team Wins Their Event; Gophers Too Much For Cardinal

(Special to the Daily Cardinal)—
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 27.
In the closest meet of the season,
Wisconsin was nosed out by Minnesota by an even narrower margin than the score indicates. The meet was featured by hard fought races and close finishes. It was not until the finish of the back stroke that the tide turned in favor of Minnesota.

The Wisconsin fish took the lead at the beginning of the relay through the efforts of Hipple, the first swimmer for Wisconsin. The time was comparatively slow due to the slippery turns which bothered the Wisconsin men all through the meet.

Richter Strong

Capt. Richter of Minnesota swam a strong race in both the relay and the 40 yards. However, he had to take the wake of Herschberger, the Wisconsin speedboat, in both events.

Faricy, Minnesota's Olympic star, the holder of the world's record in the 100 yard breast stroke and the national record in the 200 yard breast stroke, had the 200 yard breast stroke all to himself. He more than lapped his teammate, Bressen, who came in second.

Two Badgers Out

Wisconsin was considerably weakened in the breast stroke by the loss of Bell through ineligibility and Bardeen who is in the infirmary.
Wisconsin also met with reverses in the dives, Captain Simpkins being disqualified thus making Hall the only Wisconsin man to place.
Bird of Minnesota, last year's conference champion, did not enter.

Herschberger again drowned
Minnesota hopes in the 220 yard free style by coming up from behind and winning by a comfortable margin from Bjornberg, one of Minnesota's crack swimmers. Holmes put up a real fight for Wisconsin, and only lost second place by a touch. Cook, who took second in the plunge, was the only Wisconsin man to place in the submarine event.

Gilbreath took second place from Mahacheck of Minnesota in the back stroke in the closest and hardest fought dual of the meet. Hall, Minnesota's famous back stroker, took first place in 1:55 4-5.

The loss of Herschberger in the 100 yard free style was felt keenly.

The results of the events are:
160 yard relay: Wisconsin first,
Minnesota second. Time, 1:19 3-5.
Diving—Fortier (M) 1st.; Hall 2nd.; Barnacle (W) 3rd.

droth (W) 3rd. Time—23 4-5.

220 yard—Herschberger (W) 1st.;

Herbert H. Schwarze

Herbert Schwarze will try to beat his own record in the shot put made in a meet some weeks ago.
At present his record here of over 47 feet stands as the conference record for this year. Last week at the Iowa meet he failed to touch his former record and took second in the meet. Coach Jones has entered him in the Illinois relay carnival at Urbana today.

Badgers Lose Rough Hockey Game To Michigan Sextet, 2-0

Iverson and Michigan Coach Have Verbal Battle After Game

Out-roughed, the Wisconsin hockey team went down to a 2 to 0 defeat at the hands of the Michigan squad in last night's game. Four Badger men are on the injured list, while one Wolverine bears marks of the battle. The game could hardly be called a satisfactory exhibition due to the rough Michigan tactics.

After the game Coach Barrs of Michigan, and Coach Iverson, the Badger mentor, engaged in verbal argument. According to Barrs, Thompson, the referee, did not satisfy. It seemed to the Wolverine mentor that there was too much rough stuff, but to an outsider the penalties give proof that the Michigan team was the leader.

Wisconsin Plays Hard

It is a known fact that the Wolverines are a hard-playing team, and due to the spirit that the Wisconsin sextet had, the Ann Arbor squad lost its head and played the game too far.

"I am sorry that I taught my team to play clean after tonight's game," was the way Iverson expressed himself after the game last night.

The game started fast with the honors about even until near the close of the first period when Reynolds, Michigan center, scored a difficult goal.

Second Period Rough

The second period was marked by excellent playing by the Badger sextet. With scarcely a minute left, the Michigan forward men obtained the puck and Mac Duff, right wing for the Wolverines, made his team's second and last score.

Throughout this period of the game, rough tactics on the part of the Michigan team marred a pretty exhibition of the ice sport. Captain Gross of the Badgers fell during the second period and opened his eyebrow so wide that it was necessary to take two stitches to close the wound after the game. McCarter also received a jolt on the nose, which may have broken the bone.

Wolverine Expelled

During the final period the Bad-

THOMPSON, REFEREE, IS VETERAN AT JOB

J. A. "Jake" Thompson, the referee of last night's hockey game is a veteran official and player. At the present time he is manager and captain of the Milwaukee Athletic club sextet.
Two years ago "Jake" was a member of the Milwaukee team in the United States Amateur Hockey association. Thompson is a veteran official, having refereed close to 30 games the last two years. He has come highly recommended to Wisconsin, having officiated in the two Minnesota games and the Carleton match. Director of Athletics Hunt, of Carleton, stated after the match with his school, that Thompson is one of the best officials in this part of the country.
Thompson will officiate in today's game.

gers completely outclassed the Michigan sextet, and missed several trys for goals. Near the end of this period one of the Michigan players was expelled for the remainder of the game for unnecessary roughness. Jansky and Sarles of the Badgers were injured, the former getting a badly bruised jaw and the latter suffered a bruised knee. MacDuff, Michigan wing, got a cut over the eye which necessitated a stitch being taken after the game in order to close the wound.

A small crowd witnessed the game.
The second contest will be held this afternoon on the lower campus rink at 4 o'clock. The game promises to be a thriller due to the fact that Wisconsin will probably be in the game with Michigan tactics of last night to beat the Wolverines at their own game.

The summary of last night's game:

Wisconsin		Michigan
Gross	c	Reynolds
Jansky	rw	MacDuff
Lidicker	lw	Lindstrom
Gore	rd	Levi
McArthur	ld	Peterman
Manierre	g	Weitzel
Referee—J. A. Thompson, M. A. C.
Scoring—Michigan: Reynolds 1, MacDuff 1.

WRESTLERS MEET MICHIGAN SQUAD

Unbeaten Badgers Contest
Wolverine Matman at Ann Arbor Tonight

With the squad expecting its hardest competition on the mats this season, the Badger wrestlers left at 5:45 o'clock last night for the dual meet with Michigan at Ann Arbor tonight.

"We are competing against a strong team and our chances are about 50-50 of winning," declared Coach Hitchcock yesterday. "Michigan has the advantage of battling on her own mats and that will count against us."

Mathew Haas will wrestle in the 125-pound division tonight in place of Charles Whitworth, who cracked three ribs in the Minnesota contest last Saturday night. This will be the first conference competition for Haas, a sophomore.

The men who wrestle for Wisconsin tonight are Elmer Hanson, 115-pounds; Mathew Haas, 125 pounds;
Michael O'Laughlin, 135 pounds;
Capt. Lisle Zodtner, 145 pounds;
Harvey Chada, 158 pounds; William Splees, 175 pounds, and Raymond Stipek, heavyweight.

Only a light workout was ordered by Coach Hitchcock yesterday in order to guard against possible last-minute injuries to the men who are in good condition for their contest
tonight.

PLAN TO TAKE FROSH BASKETEERS TO IOWA

Unless other plans are made before next Tuesday, the leading members of the freshman basketball squad will take their annual basketball trip with the Badgers to the Iowa game to be played at Iowa City next Tuesday. It is a custom to give the yearlings one basketball trip, and Coach Mean-well thinks the Iowa trip will be one of the most feasible to take.

About ten men of the squad will take the trip, in addition to ten of the regular squad, the manager, trainer, and Coach Meanwell.

With the Iowans gloomed for revenge, and the Wisconsin basketeers in a desperate way after a season of losses, the game should be an interesting one for the first-year men to witness.

THE OCTOPUS

The Octopus has asked for a statement by the Daily Cardinal in regard to the review of the Palm Beach number of that magazine. The Octopus charges the Daily Cardinal with "aiming a deadly blow" at the magazine and says that it "proved its prejudice by placing an intentionally derogatory statement in the first line" of the review.

Basing its cause for complaint on the ground that it is a student publication and entitled to the support and encouragement of the student daily paper, the Octopus attacks the Daily Cardinal's policy of "knocking" other student publications.

If the editors of the Octopus compared the reviews of the magazine for the year round they would see that it has always been the policy of this paper to boost it as well as other student activities. The review in Wednesday's paper was not a complimentary to the Octopus as some of the previous ones; but neither was the Palm Beach number up to the usual standard of the magazine.

Comment of students on the campus since the edition of the Octopus would seem to bear out some of the points mentioned by the reviewer. Regardless of the fact that the Octopus is a student publication that does not relieve it from open criticism.

If we are to have reviews of student publications in the Daily Cardinal what are they to be? Why not have a frank criticism of the magazines as they are? Are they to be colored favorably or unfavorably in order to knock or boost any one?

The reviewers of magazines on the Daily Cardinal staff are students giving their best efforts to the success of the paper just as those of the Octopus are doing their best to turn out a creditable humor magazine. Their work is unbiased by personal prejudice and written with a view to expressing their reactions to the magazine.

The Octopus is a worthy publication ranking favorably with humor magazines of other colleges. It is an excellent activity furnishing work for those who like art and humorous work. The reviews of the magazine in the Daily Cardinal, taking them all into consideration, would indicate that.

But for the Octopus to say that the Daily Cardinal intentionally and prejudicially seeks to give it a deadly blow is not only untrue and unfounded; it is ridiculous.

SOUTH DAKOTA REVOLTS

Well may the citizens of all but the most thickly populated states, where numbers justify the existing bureaus and commissions, look with interest upon the preliminary steps taken by South Dakota to consolidate several departments of the administrative government. The success of what is known as the city manager plan has turned the attention to political economists in the more sparsely populated states to the possibility and advisability of applying a similar method of administration to the governing machinery of their states.

When one learns that South Dakota has a population of less than 637,000, no more than that of many cities, it is evident that it is useless and a burden upon the state to maintain all the organization of the larger states. Nevada, for instance, has a population of less than 80,000, about twice the size of Madison, yet it maintains all, or nearly all, of the departments usually considered necessary in a state four or five times its size.

Although there has existed for a good many years the feeling that the cost of government, due to this overhead, could be reduced by half by the adoption, in a somewhat modified form, of the managerial system so successful in many of our large cities, there has been great opposition to it on the part of those in office, because of their natural antipathy of many measures which would reduce the number and the remuneration of office-holders. Besides this, there are traditions and customs that have a tenacious hold on public opinion; for the American people are slow even to consider a deviation from the beaten path. It is difficult to convince them that one legislative body can do the work of two, or that the functions of a dozen or more departments can be properly performed by one, under the direction of a competent manager.

No industry, were it compelled to stand on its own feet, could prosper, or even survive, were it managed with the same disregard for economy that is typical of most state governments. Whether this measure is adopted or not, South Dakota has broken the ice and will, it is hoped, be the occasion for the serious consideration elsewhere of what many already regard as a necessary and much needed social reform.

Wisconsin lacks funds. Write home about it.

The weatherman is not so inconsiderate after all. For at last he has brought his cold weather on a weekend so that the long-postponed ice carnival can be held.

Wisconsin Should Know

Tackling the Tax Problem

Wisconsin has had her share of trouble and dispute over the question, "Whom shall we tax, and how much shall we tax them?"

Believing that a knowledge of actual facts on the basis of first-hand, concrete data and a comprehensive review of the development of tax policies in other states and of steps taken to secure greater equality of burden in those states ought to be of some assistance to Wisconsin in working toward an equalization of its tax burdens, members of the economics department have undertaken an intensive study of the taxation of public service industries throughout the United States.

The entire study covers historical, theoretical, statistical, legal, and other aspects of the subject, but it is expected to have a helpful bearing on the Wisconsin problem in three ways:

FIRST—By providing a knowledge of the present facts, computed over the four year period since 1920. The study includes a careful investigation of the relative burdens of taxes, as measured in terms of earnings and net income, paid by farmers, public service concerns, manufacturing businesses, and mercantile, miscellaneous, and unincorporated businesses. The facts are being derived from reports made to the railroad commission, tax commission and state treasurer's office, and from the income tax returns of individuals and corporations. A study of this scope and with the kind of data made available by the Wisconsin income tax returns has never been made before in the United States.

SECOND—By providing a review of all legislation in the field of public service taxation in the 48 states in the past four years and a comparative survey of methods of assessment, administration, and tax commission practice.

THIRD—By providing a survey of any definite steps taken in other states for the purpose of securing a greater degree of equality in tax burdens among different industries and different groups of taxpayers.

Inasmuch as the moving contractors are all very busy the coming week-end, a certain young ladies' Greek eating club, which is soon moving to a new location on lower Langdon has suggested that the boy friends pitch in and help do the heavy freighting—each lad to move the piece of furniture which he makes the most use of. On this basis we are going to move the telephone, while the competition (which has so far had the heavy laughs) has to tote a 300 lb. davenport for a few blocks—Oh, well!

Reader's Say So

THE FUNCTION OF REVIEWS

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

As a reader of both the Octopus and the Daily Cardinal, I want to give my reaction to the criticism and letter which you published. Hazelwood says that the review "was obviously aimed to give the Octopus issue a deadly blow, written by a Cardinal writer who had that object in mind." As to this, of course, I do not know. I do know, however, that the particular issue under fire merited the deadly blow which it received at the hands of the Daily Cardinal critic. In the house in which I live there was practically unanimous dissatisfaction with the Palm Beach issue. Many felt that it was the worst issue of the year.

As a reader of the Daily Cardinal I am particularly concerned with knowing whether you are to continue to be frank in your reviews. Thus far, I do not believe that the readers can complain of your theater reviews. If I thought for a minute, however, that you were to avoid further frank criticism of the services of those enterprises or organizations serving the general student body, I would ask that you discontinue my subscription. I do not want to feel that because you were the recipient of a letter from the business manager of the Octopus reminding you of the extent of his advertising appropriation that all frank criticism, particularly if derogatory, is to be avoided. I want to continue to read criticism, whether favorable or derogatory; that is intelligent, frank and warranted.

How can Hazelwood as business manager of the Octopus sign his name to such a letter when on his own editorial page, in commenting on local newspapers, he says: "Commercialism is their God, advertising and circulation their measure of success. To gain this end they deem no news too rotten or too degrading to print." I am happy to congratulate you on the fact that the publication which you head has not stooped so low. This should be of some consolation to Hazelwood.

As for comparing the last issue of the Octopus with other college humor publications, let me admonish the business manager that he would be taking a dangerous step. But even so, perhaps Wisconsin has a standard that is higher than that of other schools. It is Wisconsin and not other student bodies that the Octopus must satisfy.

I trust that you will continue the independence and fearlessness which characterizes the latest review of the Octopus. That you are doing so in connection with theater criticisms is a fine compliment to the Daily Cardinal.

J. F. '25.

AGONISTES REPLIES

Agonistes certainly received what was intended to be a k. o. blow. The heading was rather confusing, as he didn't see the answer. But perhaps the make-up men or some one got mixed up on the signals.

As to the first article mentioned, entitled, if memory does not fail, "Branding Brothers," perhaps Agonistes was speaking figuratively and perhaps he wasn't. At any rate, he does know of more than one case where freshmen have come to local druggists for antidotes for burns which they told the druggist were caused by red hot brands being placed on their bodies during the course of the fraternity initiation.

As to the other, "The Seven Deadly Sins," all that Agonistes can say, and he says it in regard to the other also, is that imagination is a great thing.

Furthermore, he calls attention to the numerals which followed the name of the writer of the communication in question. If you do not remember, they were '28.

Anyhow, it is very probable that Stretch will be able to use his imagination on some more articles of the some sort as soon as Wisconsin has learned what it should know.

ARDEN CLUB TO HEAR S. LEONARD TOMORROW

W. W. Ellsworth

William Webster Ellsworth, ex-president of the Century company, and well-known lecturer on literary and historical topics, will be in Madison to lecture on "Shakespeare and Old London," at 8 o'clock Thursday, March 5, in 165 Bascom hall. Mr. Ellsworth has spent much time abroad collecting material for his lectures, both in the way of documents for authentic presentation of facts and also of pictures for depicting London before the art of photography. He will use more than 100 colored slides in his new lecture.

Coming Lecture Increases Calls For "Plastic Age"

For the second time within a year and a half "The Plastic Age," by Percy Marks, has entered the field of best-sellers. Local book shops and libraries report that they are scarcely able to keep pace with the enormous demand for what has been termed "the most widely discussed novel of college life in this generation."

The author of the book will speak on "Youth and the Jazz Age" at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in Music hall, under the auspices of Theta Sigma Phi, national honorary journalistic sorority.

A second novel by Percy Marks, entitled "Martha" has just made its appearance in Madison. It is the story of a half-breed Indian girl who makes a futile attempt to break into "high" society in California. It is being received by critics as a convincing piece of work and one that promises to become popular.

Princess to Tell of Life in Crimea Here on March 3

Her experiences during 18 years of life in the Crimea will be the subject of a lecture by Princess Cantacuzene, Tuesday evening, March 3, at Christ's Presbyterian church. The address will be given under the auspices of the Woman's club of Madison.

The princess, who is authoress of numerous magazine articles based upon her contacts in foreign and American society, is the granddaughter of Gen. U. S. Grant, and has the distinction of having been born in the White house during Grant's administration as president. She was married to Prince Michael Cantacuzene in 1899, and for the next 18 years lived in the Loss of their possessions, as a result of the Bolshevik reign of terror following the overthrow of the Kerensky government in Russia, forced the Cantacuzenes to seek refuge in America. Here the princess organized the central committee for Russian relief, of which she is chairman.

CHURCH PARTY GIVES BURLESQUE ON SCHOOL

Approximately 100 people took part in the "Eighth Grade Graduation" party at the Evangelical church last night. The program was a burlesque on a grade school class day. Clarence Muth '25 took the part of the school master and Ross Rusch '27 the part of the student in a short comedy, "School Days." Others on the program included George Neuhauser '27, solo, and William Schnathorst '28, class day oration. Mrs. M. R. Kindschi chaperoned.

KRONSHAGE EXPLAINS UNIVERSITY'S CONDITION

pace for good government, and its University gained international renown as the University of Public Service.

Wisconsin did such marvelous things within so short a period that newspapers and national magazines sent correspondents here to study our achievements and to draw lessons for other states. These writers broadcast this advice—"For progress—strengthen your State Universities." And other states did.

While these great neighboring institutions flourish, shall our University crumble and decay? President Birge, who is drawing to a close 50 years of distinguished service to the state, spoke in part as follows at a recent legislative banquet:

"The weakening of an institution by inadequate buildings is a relatively slow process, especially if there is sufficient operating income. But the measures before the Legislature reduce the annual income of the University far below that of the present year....

"If this measure passes, there is only one way to meet it—to close schools or departments for which the state is too poor to provide. We can shut up the hospital and discharge the staff, or if we should close the College of Engineering we could just about meet the cut in income.

"I mention these possibilities to show that the proposals before the Legislature are not such as can be met with ordinary means, or that economy which we ought to practice, and which we have always practiced. If enacted they will demand immediate action which will definitely remove the University out of the class of Universities in which it has been placed and kept by the care of successive Legislatures and State Administrations."

The classroom walls are year by year closing in on the students. Students are refused admission to classes they wish to enter and should enter, because lecture rooms are not large enough to hold them. Assigned library reading and research have been curtailed and in many instances discontinued because the library, built for a student body of 2,000, will not accommodate one of 8,000.

Professors, whose names are nationally known, are crowded together in small offices that make individual work and personal contact with their students impossible. The "teaching load" of many of these men has been doubled since 1908. Some of them, who have served the state faithfully for years, are finding conditions unbearable and are transferring to more grateful institutions.

These few facts but feebly picture actual conditions.

Some weeks ago a noted educator said to me: "Out here, some of us have the impression that the University of Wisconsin for the past 10 years has been a football of politics." I do not accede to this suggestion. Nevertheless, I, too, seek an answer to the question: "What is the matter with Wisconsin?"

On Monday, I shall tell in detail where the University money comes from.

Questions on the part of the public are invited, which will bring out all of the information on conditions which threaten the University's progress.

Indiana Truant Solons Back On Job Again

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind.—Travelworn but triumphant, Indiana's truant Democratic senators were back in Indianapolis today with the determination to rapidly catch up in the work confronting the upper chamber.

Lieut. Gov. Harold Van Orman said that the runaways would not be subject to fine or other action. The congressional redistricting bill, the cause of the revolt and subsequent flight, will not pass, it is believed.

Tom Bakken, farmer in the town of Windsor, filed a voluntary petition in bankruptcy with the U. S. district court Friday. Liabilities were listed at $4,600 and assets at $600.

SELLERY STATES ACTIVITIES VIEWS

Minnesota's Committee on Research Probes Extra Curricular Work of Students

Concerning the value which can be obtained from extra-curricular activities with the view of giving academic credit which the University of Minnesota is undertaking to ascertain through its committee on educational research, Dean Sellery, senior dean in the College of Letters and Science, expresses his sentiments on the feasibility of the plan.

"It will be very interesting to hear what the committee finds in its investigation as to whether students benefit sufficiently from their outside activities to make it worthwhile incorporating them in a course for credit," Dean Sellery said. "There is much to be said as to the practical value of these activities, but the question is, will it be worth shortening the requirements of academic credits in order to include these in the course? If the student can carry extra-curricular activities along with his regular course now, is it necessary to shorten his course in order to give him credit for the practical knowledge he is getting from them anyway? Will not he be the loser?"

"Take a course like journalism, for instance," he continued. "Why should it be necessary to give credit for Cardinal work done all four years, when it is to the student's best good and interest that he is doing it. Students must not forget that they are not working only for credit, which is, after all, not their chief aim in the university. They are working for information of whatever kind will help them earn their living and be successful in the world in later life."

"Why is it that students are so bent on doing things in college which they will have to spend the rest of their life doing after they get out? They have these few years to spend on academic learning, in reflecting, in turning over mental problems in their minds and testing and working them out. And yet they rush about all the time intent on activities, instead of staying home and thinking leisurely on the problems of life confronting them."

"Chic" Sale and Art Are Features of Good Orph Bill

Ft. Atkinson To Send

Inaugural Delegate

FORT ATKINSON — Resenting the refusal of Gov. Blaine and the state legislature to accept an invitation or appoint a delegate to represent Wisconsin at the inauguration of President Coolidge Mar. 4, citizens determined at a mass meeting to send a delegate from this city to the capital fete.

Assurances have been obtained from civic bodies at Janesville and Sparta that like action would be taken there, and it is hoped a delegation from 25 to 30 persons will represent the state at the inauguration.

Assembly Concurs In Recall Amendment

The assembly today concurred in the Heck resolution approving the proposed recall amendment to the state constitution. The vote was 70 to 22. In its action the assembly overruled the recommendation for non-concurrence by the judiciary committee.

Boundary Dispute To Be Heard Here March 9

The Michigan-Wisconsin boundary dispute hearing will be held in Madison the week of March 9, it was announced here today by Robert M. Reiser, former deputy attorney general, now special counsel for Wisconsin in this case. The hearing likely will be held in the railroad commission room of the capitol and will take most of that week.

In 1890, the total annual income of all missionary societies was $4,000,000; in 1900, it had increased to $20,000,000; in 1923 the total was $70,000,000.

Assembly Kills Judges' Eight-Hour Day Bill

The assembly rejected the favorable committee recommendation on the Kamper bill to increase counties' share of fines in criminal cases from 2 per cent to 10 per cent. It refused to order the measure to engrossment by a vote of 50 to 41.

Proceeding to consideration of the Kamper bill for uniform two year terms for county supervisors the lower house again over-rode a favorable committee recommendation and voted indefinite postponement, 52 to 37.

The Kiesner bill requiring judges to work at least eight hours a day was killed by indefinite postponement after amendments had been adopted to make the maximum day for judges eight hours and providing for "overtime" pay.

ST. PAUL, Minn.—More than $250,000 loss was suffered early today when fire gutted the Henricks buildings in the heart of the business district here. Three persons were unaccounted for, and fire officials were making a check to determine their fate.

Friendship Fund's Notable Work

Dirt, filth and broken down walls, rotten boards, thoroughly unbelievable quarters are transformed into comfortable dormitories for European students by the Student Friendship fund. When the organization first goes into a town students are found living in deserted soldiers' barracks, old hovels and box-cars. Because it would cost too much to build new houses, or even rent suitable places, old buildings are rejuvenated, the students doing the actual labor themselves. All materials are furnished by the Student Friendship fund.

In Budapest, the capital of Hungary, where the above illustrations were taken, although there are 12,000 students in dire need the funds supplied can only feed and lodge about one-half of this number.

Text books are so scarce that several students were forced to read entire courses in less than 24 hours. The students have their own co-ops, barber shops, sewing shops, shoe repairing shops, restaurants and clinics are all run on the cooperative plan in order to reduce living expenses. Even so, the students would not be able to continue in school without the assistance of the American dollars.

FRIENDSHIP FUND IS BADGER IDEA

Wisconsin Alumni Hold Main Jobs; Hoffman Directs European Work

The Student Friendship fund is primarily a Wisconsin idea for it originated in the mind of Wisconsin men and is now being carried on in Europe by Conrad Hoffman, Jr., a Wisconsin graduate who directs the disposal of all funds.

J. Mahotka, C. V. Hibbard, and D. O. Hibbard, all alumni of Wisconsin, are holding executive positions in the fund.

Other countries contribute funds to the relief work which is helping the European students to help themselves, according to Ray H. Legate, field secretary, who is helping direct the campaign here. Most of the money is being sent to Russia this year.

"About 40 per cent of the Russian students have tuberculosis," Miss Elizabeth Bretin, who recently returned from Russia, said. "In order to improve the health of these people, 8,000 students are fed one warm meal daily. Eighty per cent of the working people in Russia were unemployed last year, and it was impossible for a student to find work."

None of the funds sent to Russia are used to help communists, according to Miss Bretin. The Student Friendship fund gives aid to those who need help, but the communist students are provided for by the government.

The number of autos in Tokyo is now 10,500. Wonder what makes the 500 are?

FOUNDATION FUND AIDS WISCONSIN

Students Here Are Eligible to Share in Guggenheimer Awards

Wisconsin students, both men and women, are eligible to receive aid from the recently established John Simon Guggenheimer Memorial foundation, endowed with a preliminary gift of $3,000,000 by Senator and Mrs. Guggenheimer of Colorado as a memorial to their son.

These fellowships enlarge on the scope of the Rhodes scholarships not only in that they are open to men and women as well, but also in that no age limits are prescribed. It is expected, however, that the applicant will be at least 25 and not older than 35 and will have shown exceptional aptitude for research or definite ability in some one of the fine arts.

The amount of money available for each fellowship will be approximately $2,500 a year, and fellows are given opportunity for advanced study abroad in any field of knowledge or in the development of unusual talent in any of the fine arts, including music.

Fosdick is Leading Preacher of World, Says C. V. Hibbard

That Harry Emerson Fosdick is the outstanding preacher of the world at the present time and that no student should miss the opportunity of hearing him when he speaks before the religious conference the latter part of March, was the theme of an address before the university Epworth League by C. V. Hibbard, general secretary of the Y. M. C. A. last night.

The meeting, the arrangements for which were in charge of Ardath Hilberry '25 and Gordon Shipman '26, was the first of a number of discussion group meetings to be held under the auspices of the Methodist organization in preparation for the religious conference.

Rev. Edward Blakeman spoke on "Campus Religious Activities." Music for the occasion was under the direction of Marion Chase '27. Approximately 100 persons were present.

Blind School Students Exhibit Their Skill

Children from the Wisconsin School for the Blind exhibited finished products they had made and accomplished.

The first national awards will be made for the academic year 1926-27. After the first year the Foundation plans to maintain annually from 40 to 50 students abroad. These fellowships will be open to men and women, married or unmarried, of every race, color, and creed.

ments they had acquired for the benefits of legislators and other interested spectators in the assembly parlors yesterday.

Assemblymen and visitors crowded the parlor during the entire period the exhibit was on display, viewing the handiwork of blind children under the state's care. At one end of the room, wicker vessels of various shapes, all woven by hand, were on exhibit. Among them were baskets, an ash tray stand, shopping bags, mats and other similar articles.
