UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN.

VOL. IV—No. 94.]

MADISON, WIS., FRIDAY, JANUARY 25, 1895.

[PRICE THREE CENTS.]

TO PUBLISH THEIR THESES

ACTION OF THE SENIOR LAWS ON THE MATTER.

LEARNING OF THE LAW STUDENTS TO BE PRESERVED.

Must Sell 300 Copies at $2.00 Each—
Plan of the Work.

As was noted some time ago, the senior laws will publish their theses in book form this year. At a meeting of the junior class to-day Mr. Kroncke laid the plan before that body and invoked their aid in the matter.

The idea emanates from the law faculty, and is sustained by the many encouraging words of members of the alumni. The work will be a valuable one, and if the plan of the senior class goes through, it will establish a precedent for future graduating classes. In order to proceed with the publication the seniors must be secured in the sale of 300 copies at two dollars a copy. The following which heads the subscription list, to which many names are being appended, explains the nature of the book:

"We, the undersigned, agree to purchase the number of copies placed opposite our respective names, of 'Senior Theses' to be published by the law class, of '95, of the university of Wisconsin, at the price of two dollars per volume, payable on delivery of the same. The theses are to be edited, compiled, and indexed, with notes and citations, and to be printed and bound in the manner usual for law books; and are to comprise a volume of from 350 to 500 pages."

PENNSYLVANIA CHALLENGES PRINCETON.

The committee of the Athletic association on Track Athletics has challenged Princeton to a dual track and field meeting this year, but according to rumors which have come from Princeton there is little likelihood of the challenge being accepted.

The reason which Princeton will probably bring forward is that they object to university representation, instead of taking the men from the college department alone, although they will probably not mention the fact that many of Princeton's best known athletes have been drawn from the Theological Seminary which holds a position there analogous to our graduate departments here. — Pennsylvania.

FOR A LADY REGENT.

Petition Presented by the Woman's League to Governor Upham.

For a long time the young ladies of the university have thought that since the Wisconsin University is a coeducational institution there should be a woman on the Board of Regents. The impression is prevalent among the young ladies of the university that their interests need to be represented by one of their own sex; wherefore the following petition was yesterday handed to Governor Upham by a committee of three young ladies representing the Woman's League of the university.

To the Governor of the State of Wisconsin: We, the members of the Woman's League of the University of Wisconsin, in view of the following facts, do respectfully petition that a woman be appointed on the Board of Regents of the university for the ensuing term:

1. The University of Wisconsin is a coeducational institution.
2. Over three hundred women are enrolled as students.
3. There is not and never has been a woman on the Board of Regents.
4. A woman on the Board is essential to preserve the interests of the women of the university.

Woman's League.

ENTERTAINED SENATORS.

Senator Bashford Gives the Second of a Series of Four Dinners.

Senator Bashford gave the second of a series of dinner parties to members of the Senate last evening. Those present were: Senators Wescott, Timme, McGeehan, Altpeter, Conger, Kruska, Davis, Martin, Stout, Phillips, Woodworth and Bashford.

Next week Wednesday and Thursday Senator Bashford will entertain the remaining members of the upper house.

UNIVERSITY DAY.

Observed at the School Bazaar a Great Success.

So far the Rainbow Bazaar at the new school of the church of the Holy Redeemer has been a great success. Opening last Monday it has continued to run during the week. Yesterday was known as university day, and last evening the students of the state's great educational institution assembled in large numbers. After an overture by Lueders' orchestra a song was given by the University Glee club. The University Mandolin club entertained the great assemblage. Both clubs received almost unbounded applause.

This is Wisconsin's day. A good time is looked for. It is expected that business men of the city will rally tonight.

THE HARVARD-YALE DEBATE.

Harvard won the debate with Yale last Friday evening at Boston. Each side had three speakers.

The subject for debate was, "Resolved, that attempts of employers to ignore associations of employees, and to deal with individual workmen only are prejudicial to the best interests of both parties." Hon. John D. Long, ex-governor of Massachusetts, presided. The judges were: Judge J. W. Barker, of the Massachusetts supreme court; Prof. D. R. Dewey, Mass. Institute of technology; Rt. Rev. William Lawrence, Bishop of Massachusetts.

—Washington Correl, '95, has recovered from a few days illness.

AN AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY

IS FORMED BY THE DAIRY STUDENTS.

HOLDS WEEKLY MEETINGS IN SOUTH HALL.

Program of the Exercises yesterday Evening.

The literary society organized by the dairy students held its regular weekly meeting last night, in Agricultural hall, and an enjoyable time was experienced.

After a recitation an instructive paper was read by Prof. Farrington on "What to know and what not to know." An article on cleanliness in dairying preceded the debate, the main feature of the exercises. The respective merits of the jersey and the durham cow were presented by the enthusiasts of each, and the jersey contingent got the decision.

Both the dairy and short course students have societies and the benefit derived from a free and unrestricted discussion of practical agricultural topics is apparent.

FOR FARMERS.

Many Big Meetings Scheduled for the Near Future.

The annual convention of the Wisconsin State Agricultural society will be held in Madison, February 4 to 8. The program shows that the society's business meeting will occur February 4, at 8 p. m. and February 5, at 9:30 a. m. Other events are as follows:

February 5, 8 p. m. in the assembly chamber, opening address by President S. D. Hubbard, of Mondovi; address by Gov. W. H. Upham and address on The Duty of the State toward the Common Schools by M. D. Kelley, superintendent of schools, of Milwaukee county.

February 6, at 9:30 a. m. in the city hall—address, Saving and Applying Manures by C. H. Everett, Beloit; How I grow Clover and Why, by Hon. Matt. Anderson, Pine Bluff; 2 p. m.: The Relation of Bacteria to Agricultural Pursuits by Prof. H. L. Russell, experimental station; The Profitable Sheep for the Times by Geo. McKerrrow, superintendent of farmers' institutes; 8 p. m. in the assembly chamber: How can Our County Roads be Improved by Allen P. Weld, River Falls; Milestones along the Path of a Granger by T. J. Van Matre, Fayette.

February 7, 9:30 a. m. in the city hall: Why Wisconsin Farmers should be Dairymen by C. P. Goodbridge, Ft. Atkinson; Silage and the Silo by Prof. F. H. King, of the agricultural experimental station; 2 p. m.: How can Farmers Raise Hogs for Profit by Thos. Convey, Ridgeway; How shall we Maintain our Dairy Interests by Gov. W. D. Hoard.

February 8, 9:30 a. m. in city hall: Horses? by John M. True, Baraboo; Care of Brood Mares by A. J. Phillips, West Salem; Cheese Making in Wisconsin as It is and as It Ought To Be by John High, Berlin, state cheese instructor.

The annual convention of the State Horticultural society will be held in Madison during the same week; also the annual convention of the town insurance association of Wisconsin. Meetings of the various breeders associations likewise will be held. All railways will give reduced rates.

STATE BOARD OF HEALTH.

The state board of health is holding a session at the Park hotel. Present Thursday were Dr. Solon Marks, Milwaukee president; Dr. H. B. Wingate, Milwaukee, secretary; Dr. F. H. Bodenius, Madison; Dr. Hancock, of Ellsworth; Dr. C. H. Marquart, La Crosse. The absentees were Dr. Day, of Eau Claire, and Dr. J. T. Reeves, of Appleton.

The board labored hard in preparing bills to be presented to the legislature. An important one is to require a more correct return of births and deaths, so as to enable the board to make reports to comply with the law on the subject. Another bill will require all persons who deal in vaccine virus and anti-toxine to have their products approved by the board of health. Another bill will be to provide for a contingent fund for the prevention of cholera and other contagious diseases. Still another requires all physicians, surgeons, midwives etc., to register with the county clerk for the benefit of the board, in order that information can be sent out; and in this wise a better list of vital statistics will be obtainable.

The question of a thorough analysis of drinking water will be brought before the legislature in a bill.

There will be a revision of the rules relating to the transportation of dead bodies.

The board authorized the secretary to issue circulars in relation to tuberculous diseases or consumption, in three languages—English, German and Norwegian.

NEW ADVERTISING AGENT.

At the meeting of the Cardinal association held yesterday afternoon in Libray hall the resignation of the acting advertising agent was accepted. A. Hedler, '96, was elected to fill the vacancy and H. A. Sawyer will continue to have charge of the subscription department as hitherto.

—A complimentary banquet to Capt. Hinckey of Yale is being arranged in New York.

—Prof. Birge has left the city to deliver a lecture before the students of Knox college, Ill.

—Theodore Royce, '98, has left the university, to accept a position in his father's bank, in Ft. Atkinson.

—The Sunday afternoon meeting of the Y. M. C. A. of the university will be held at 4:30 hereafter, instead of at 3:30. The meetings will be held at the same place.

—A committee has been formed from the alumni of Harvard to make arrangements for some suitable memorial to Rev. A. P. Peabody. Circulars will be sent to 12,000 or 13,000 Harvard graduates and it is expected that not less than $5,000 will be raised in this way.

With the midwinter meet less than a month away and sure to be a big event and largely attended, there is a surprisingly small number in training for the events. The entertainment last year was excellent and with practically no facilities a large number of men trained hard for the events. This year the contrast is humiliating. With every possible facility for training, gymnasium, apparatus, everything necessary and an instructor who is a specialist long the lines of the events which will form the program there is a feeling of indifference on the part of the men for on one seems to intend to enter. To do so without training would be foolish yet that is probably what a large number will do. In the wrestling particularly, this is a very regrettable state of affairs for this is one of the finest sports in which it is possible for a person to engage. Matched against a rival of equal weight and strength a man will get more genuine benefit in muscle, endurance, staying, and a dozen other desirable qualities, in a month's work at catch-as-catch-can wrestling than in twice the time at any other exercise. It is the finest indoor exercise in the world and it is hard to understand why it is not more popular here at Wisconsin. And next to wrestling and not far behind is sparring, yet there are but one or two who have thus far even expressed their intentions of entering the sparring bouts. This is a pretty severe reflection on the athletic spirit of the students. Now that the crew are wrestling a number of them may go and enter the events at the meet but the boxing and fencing have no such hopes and more men must turn out at once if the meet is to be a credit to the new gymnasium and the athletics of the university. The time is passing rapidly and from now till Feb. 21 is hardly long enough even if work is begun at once, as it should be.

Our esteemed contemporary, the State Journal, contained a write-up of the joint debate, with critical notes by a listener. The genius of the style is such that it is impossible to tell what is thought of the debate or debaters. One thing however is evident, it is not done as they would do it at Yale. Perhaps some time in the distant future we may see the University of Wisconsin on the same plane as Yale. Meanwhile we are profoundly grateful to anyone who can point out our shortcomings and faults. This effort made in our behalf is not duly appreciated by some, and if we were allowed to struggle along in darkness for a time they would probably come to a realizing sense of our helplessness. But to those who do not appreciate what is being done for us we wish to point out a few facts on this subject. We have been informed that the students here are not all from the lower classes. Some of them are of high rank, a titled nobility, as it were. We have learned that we play a very fair game of western football but at the same time it has been kindly pointed out to us how our methods might be improved. And in many other ways has interest in our university been shown. But to return to the State Journal. It seems to us that the criticism of a mere observer on the accuracy of figures and charts is a little out of place. The charts on both sides were prepared with care and after careful research. In many cases they were submitted to able economists for their approval. After a chart is so prepared and approved it is a grave charge to say that it is inaccurate, especially by one unacquainted with the question. However no great harm is done as the statement has only appeared in the Journal.

—John Main, '98, is confined to his home by illness.

—Prof. Olin met the junior laws in Real Property this afternoon at 4:30 p. m.

—Guy L. Foster, '95, has left the university to accept a position with the Kimball piano company, of Chicago. May, '98, will succeed him as leader of the band.

—Pres. Adams yesterday announced that arrangements had been made, whereby the men training for the crews will have the use of one part of the floor of the gymnasium while the regular classes will use the other part. Up to now the men had trained in the base-ball cage.

—Wrenn, the tennis expert and quarter-back on Harvard's football team, will probably play second base on Harvard's baseball team.

—A reply has been received from Harvard college that the challenge issued by Princeton college for a debate to be held on March 22, has been accepted.

—Odd Fellow's Hall is where Prof. Schimmel meets his class of students tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

HARVARD-YALE GAMES.

Mindful of the squabbles which have taken place in former years, the managers of the Yale and Harvard baseball teams have already arranged the dates for this year's games. The first one will be played at Cambridge on June 20th, which is class day at Harvard, and the second one at New Haven on June 25th, which is Yale alumni day. In case of each nine winning a game, a third will be played at New York on June 29th.

Several important changes have been inaugurated at New Haven this year.
No professional will coach the team, but most of the training will fall upon ex-pitcher Walter Carter. The candidates for pitcher will be the only men to practice in the cage this winter, all others to begin about March 1st, when it is possible to practice on the diamond and not in the cage or gymnasium, as Captain Rustin does not think his men would derive any advantage from that kind of work.—

MONOCLES COMMON IN EUROPE.

In every capitol of Europe the monocle is common enough, says the New York World. It attracts no attention on the street. In a row of men at the theater a considerable proportion are sure to have it. Perhaps half the officers in the Germany army wear monocles. They are to be seen in abundance at any meeting of the French Academy. Even socialist deputies in France are not ashamed to go among their constituents wearing them. A session of the English house of commons glitters with solitary eyeglasses. The single eyeglass is said to have originated among the officers of the British army. About the beginning of the century an order was issued that army officers should not wear eyeglasses or spectacles. It was supposed that they gave the wearers an unmilitary appearance. The order caused severe inconvenience to many shortsighted officers, and one of them, belonging to a crack regiment, invented the single eyeglass. He claimed that being an eyeglass, its use was no contravention of the order which prohibited spectacles and eyeglasses. It soon became very popular in the army, and was afterward adopted.
On account probably of this origin the single eyeglass is very generally worn in Europe by army officers. It is by some thought to give an aspect of determination and ferocity to the wearer, whereas eyeglasses lend an air of feebleness.

SAID OF PEOPLE.

President Taylor of Vassar finds the accommodations of the college too limited for its necessities and has asked the alumnae for $200,000 to cover the cost of a new lecture hall and dormitory.

Daniel C. Gilman was called, in 1874 from the presidency of the university of California to the presidency of Johns Hopkins, a position he still holds. He is a Yale graduate and has been president of the American oriental society.

Professor O. E. Barnard of the Lick observatory thinks the scheme of the Chicago man for building an enormous telescope, near San Diego, which is to have a glass greater than any other in the world, made of numberless lenses, is an absurdity.

NEW YEAR RESOLUTIONS.

Some of Them as Novel as They Are Refreshing.

The New Year can be always counted on to bring forth a crop of not only brand new months, but fresh resolutions, some of them of the oddest nature. A clever and earnest-minded society dame has accepted the gentle oaths of a number of fashionable girls, who have banded themselves into what they call an upper-class salvation army. As General Booth's workers pledge themselves to carry the good word to those who have been taught none of the beauties of religious living, so the twenty-four girls, who are to meet and plan their work on new year's day, promise to do what Christian work lies to their hand among their society equals. First of all, they have resolved to encourage regular church attendance among the men as well as women they meet in the course of each day; next, they will work for a higher standard of temperance, and have vowed to put down the scandal monger's profession with a heavy hand; then, besides, there is a tremendous list of lines of special work. Every girl wears a tiny gold star pin, that she promises never to put off even when in ball-dress; and their motto is a favorite text touching the necessity of carrying light into dark places.—Demorest's Magazine for January.

COMPLETING THE MORAL.

"You must go to bed, now, dear. You know the chickens all go to roost with the sun."

"Yes; but then their mamma always goes with them."—Boston Beacon.

THE CHURCH STANDARD.

"Did you enjoy the services at church today?"

"Very little. The music wasn't a bit catchy and there were no clever lines in the sermon. The minister threw in a little bright business, however, and that saved the entertainment from being utterly stupid."—Detroit Tribune.

MONEY AND WOMEN.

"Yes," said Mr. Sourman, "women like money, and money is like women."

"How is that?" inquired his wife.

"Money talks."
