EDITOR'S FOREWORD

The object of a university annual, as we see it, is to portray the story of the year; and in this, the 1916 Badger, you will find a record of the things that you and your fellow students have done.

While it is always necessary to cling to old customs and old traditions, we have made changes this year in the hope that life here may be more nearly represented.

We sincerely hope you will receive it in the spirit in which it is offered; and that in the reminiscences of passing years it may not be entirely valueless as a reminder of happy days at Wisconsin.

A Review of the Athletic Year

BY

ARNOLD JACKSON

A resume of the athletic year up to the time the Badger goes to press shows that Wisconsin has not attained the success thus far in the 1914-15 season that she has in the past few years. Since the 1912 renaissance in Wisconsin athletics, when four major sport championships were won, alumni and undergraduates have become so accustomed to seeing the Badger teams triumph over their rivals that the success of this year's teams did not come up to their expectations.

The wonderful eleven developed by Coach Zuppke of Illinois deprived Wisconsin of whatever chance she would have had of sharing the title with Illinois and Minnesota. The defeat at the hands of the latter team also took the starch out of Wisconsin's aspirations, but the great battle against Chicago was a source of joy for the rooters, and considerably lessened the sting of the other defeats.

The remarkable showing of the green basket-ball team which finished in third place, and which, until near the close of the season, threatened the leaders, was a surprise, unaccustomed as the followers of the team are to seeing it in anything but first place.

The baseball team proved its superiority over the leading nines by defeating Chicago twice and Illinois once, but lost the championship through inability to play the same brand of ball against the weaker teams.

The track team, with its few individual stars, made a hard fight for the title, but again it was a case of "too much Illinois," and the better balanced team forced Captain Wahl's boys out of the lime light.

For the first time in several years Wisconsin's runners were not the first to cross the line in the Annual Conference Cross Country run, but an occasional defeat in any sport is necessary to keep up the interest.

The poor showing of the crews on the Hudson was a bitter disappointment to all water sport enthusiasts. Its never-say-die spirit was expected to some day give Wisconsin a crew superior to any other.

The swimming team, in spite of the ample supply of water on hand, found the going pretty hard, and once again the conference officials counted three times before they called Wisconsin. H<sub>2</sub>O fans, however, have hopes that the mermen will bring back the championship in 1916.

Coach McChesney and his gym team saved Wisconsin's rep for this year. With the best balanced team it has had in years the varsity easily defeated its opponents and thereby attracted more interest to this sport than it has received in many a day.

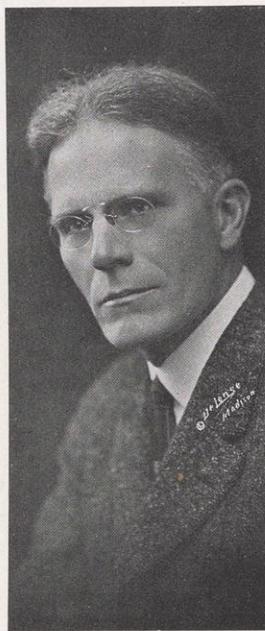

The results obtained during the past season are not very satisfactory, but the prospects of a winning baseball team and of a strong track team that may yet close the season in glory, are worth contemplation. With excellent football and basket-ball material for next year, Wisconsin should again take her place at the top in these sports, provided that eligibility does not deprive the teams of their stars.

The Department of Physical Education

BY

GEORGE WOLF EHLER

To the old alumnus and the new student "Physical Education" has connoted "gym," a hated routine of mechanical movements without rhyme or reason, a task to be avoided if possible, to be endured if necessary. The present generation of students, however, have found that even "compulsory gym" may be a thing of pleasure and joy and that the best physical education for the average person is secured through the various forms of vigorous play that we call "athletics." They have also learned that all of our intramural and intercollegiate sports and games are but phases of real physical education and instead of being "mere" play or recreation, "incidents in the life of the student," are activities having high values as educational and social agencies. The young man or woman who leaves the University without considerable practice of some of these events under competitive conditions, fails to secure certain vital experiences for which there are no substitutes.

The chief efforts of the department have been directed during the past four years toward four ends:—

1. The largest possible participation of the student body in games.
2. Efficiency, success, and true sportsmanship in intercollegiate athletics.
3. Increasing the supply of trained and efficient teachers and coaches for schools and playgrounds.
4. Adequate facilities to enable every student to secure at least one hour of vigorous exercise daily.

The extent to which these ends have been attained may be judged somewhat from the following facts:—

1. Sixty-two per cent of all undergraduates, both men and women, were enrolled in the department's activities during the first semester 1914-1915.
2. Since October, 1910, intercollegiate Conference Championships have been won as follows:—

Baseball . . . . .	1912
Basket-ball . . . . .	1912, 1913-tie, 1914
Cross Country . . . . .	1910, 1912, 1913
Football . . . . .	1912
Gymnastics . . . . .	1913
Track . . . . .	1913 (Indoor)

Previous to 1910 Wisconsin had won but one major championship, football, 1901.

3. Starting in 1911, the number of students enrolled for special training in physical education has increased from twenty-four to sixty-five at present. Eight students, four men and four women, secured positions in 1914 at salaries ranging from $900 to $1,800.
4. Plans have been adopted with the approval of the Regents which, if sanctioned by the Legislature, will give opportunity for twelve games of football, soccer or field hockey, and forty-three games of tennis at the same time, which with other facilities will provide practice for 750 students per hour.

Only the conscientious and skilful service of a corps of high class instructors and coaches whose employment and retention are due to the generous support of President Van Hise and the Board of Regents, together with the support and co-operation we have had from students, alumni and faculty, have made possible the department's progress during the last five years.

The Season

FOOTBALL

The 1914 Football season opened on September 20th when between fifteen and twenty men reported to Coach Juneau. Practice was held twice a day till the opening of school, at which time the squad had increased to forty-five men. The material was not good, most of the men being green to Varsity methods, and this their first year as regular squad members. Graduation had taken several of the 1913 team and the "con" took some more, for the "con squad" numbered nineteen.

The season opened with Lawrence on October 3rd, and even this game looked hard for the Badgers, for Catlin brought a husky bunch of veterans from Appleton who were here for victory. After a hard game, on an exceedingly hot day, Wisconsin won 21 to 0. The next contest was with Marquette at Madison in which the Cardinal was again victorious by a score of 48 to 0. On the 17th of October Purdue came to Wisconsin with the best team that had represented that university for years. The first half ended 7 to 0 in their favor and it looked mighty bad for Wisconsin, but in the second half the Cardinal "came back", and in one of the hardest fought battles ever seen at Camp Randall succeeded in beating the Boilermakers 14 to 7. Wisconsin next journeyed to Columbus, Ohio, where Ohio State was met and vanquished 7 to 6 before the largest crowd ever assembled there.

Wisconsin played Chicago a tie game at our Homecoming on October 31st. The Chicago team had been touted as Conference Champions up to this time, but Wisconsin showed that it too was in the running, for Chicago was outplayed in every department of the game. It was nothing more, however, than a moral victory for the score board showed 0 to 0 at the final whistle. Wisconsin met her first defeat at the hands of the Gophers on November 14th at Northrup Field. Minnesota displayed a great comeback, in a game much similar to the one of 1913, when, as in this year's contest, the score was 3 to 0 at the end of the first half in favor of Wisconsin. Minnesota in the second half beat us 14 to 3. The Conference Champions were met on November 21st at Camp Randall when they were victorious by a 24 to 9 score. Illinois was "Pogue better" than Wisconsin, is the only way that this game can be described, for Wisconsin fought a hard uphill battle against the Champions, scoring our points by a touchdown and a safety.

Although crowded down into third place for conference football honors last fall, the candidates for the team are already laying their plans for staging a "comeback" in 1915. The material in the university is good. Seven members of last year's team are slated to return, and the Freshman team can furnish good men to fill the places of Keeler, guard, Kennedy, center, Bellows, quarterback, and Taylor, halfback, the men who graduate this spring. Then twenty or more men of known football ability, who were ineligible last fall, have given their word of honor that they will mend their ways and appear in football togs, with the official sanction of the faculty when the first call for candidates is made in 1915.

We have to meet a higher scholastic standard in order to take part in athletics than any of our rivals; but it is a condition that we are aware of and we must brace up and overcome their advantage by hard work.

I say "brace up" and show your fellow-students that you can be eligible. Do not be satisfied with grades that just let you by, but by earnest application get good grades and earn the right to represent your University in football next fall. If we can best the "con" in the coming examinations, the football enthusiasts in Wisconsin will find on their return next fall a stronger array of football talent awaiting development than has represented the Cardinal for several seasons.

Inter-College Basket-ball

This was one of the most successful years that intra-mural basket-ball ever experienced. Without a single exception all of the games were hotly contested and extra time was required in several to decide the winner. A very noticeable feature at all of the games this year was the large turnout of rooters, perhaps due to the popular hour at which the games were held. The Commerce five again captured the championship. Cohn was the star of the latter aggregation.

By choosing competent managers of the various teams, basket-ball can easily be made the most popular of all intra-mural sports. To win a place on the Championship Inter-College five is an honor second only to that possessed by the "W" basket-ball men.

Inter-Class Basket-ball

The 1915 Inter-Class basket-ball tournament was without doubt the most successful tournament held here in years. Both the players and the students showed a keen interest in the games played, and was responsible in a great measure for the many close games which were played.

The Freshman squad, with longer training and the services of a regular coach, had an advantage over the other class teams. This advantage, combined with the fact that this year's Freshmen squad was represented by one of the best balanced teams in years, won for them the Inter-Class Championship.

The other three class teams are deserving of praise for the brand of basket-ball displayed. Invariably not more than two or three points separated the winners from the losers. The Seniors had the distinction of having played the Freshmen the closest game, losing out to the yearling squad in the last few minutes of play by a 13-10 score.

Inter-Fraternity Basket-ball

Inter-Fraternity basket-ball made its debut at Wisconsin this winter. Under the direction of Dr. Meanwell, a league of twenty-four fraternities was formed. The league was divided into two groups and the games, which were nearly all hard fought and exciting, were with, but few exceptions, played as scheduled. The two winning teams from each group played in a final series of five games, and were awarded handsome trophies in the order of their final standing.

The success with which this league met, and the increased enthusiasm in basket-ball due to the league, has guaranteed its continuation in the future.

BASKETBALL

The 1914-15 basket-ball squad did not win the conference championship, but had to be contented with third place. This, however, was a satisfactory showing when the difficulties that had to be overcome are taken into consideration. Last year's senior class deprived us of three stars—Van Gent, Harper, and Sands, and the two remaining men of last year's team had to play positions entirely new to them. The first half of this year's season had to be played with four men; in fact, every position on the team had to be filled by a man to whom the position was new.

The prospects at the beginning of the season were very poor. Coach Meanwell called out the squad early in October in hopes that through a lot of hard work it might be possible to develop a fair team. After two months of hard practice the team had its first trial against Beloit. The playing was poor, and the team work, which had been so good in previous years, was entirely lacking. The following preliminary games only verified the fact that the team work was poor, but each game was an improvement over the preceding one.

By consistent work and through the persistent efforts of Coach Meanwell, a team was finally developed that was far above the average, and although Wisconsin met with four defeats, the season can only be considered as a successful one, because practically the entire team had to be built up from new men.

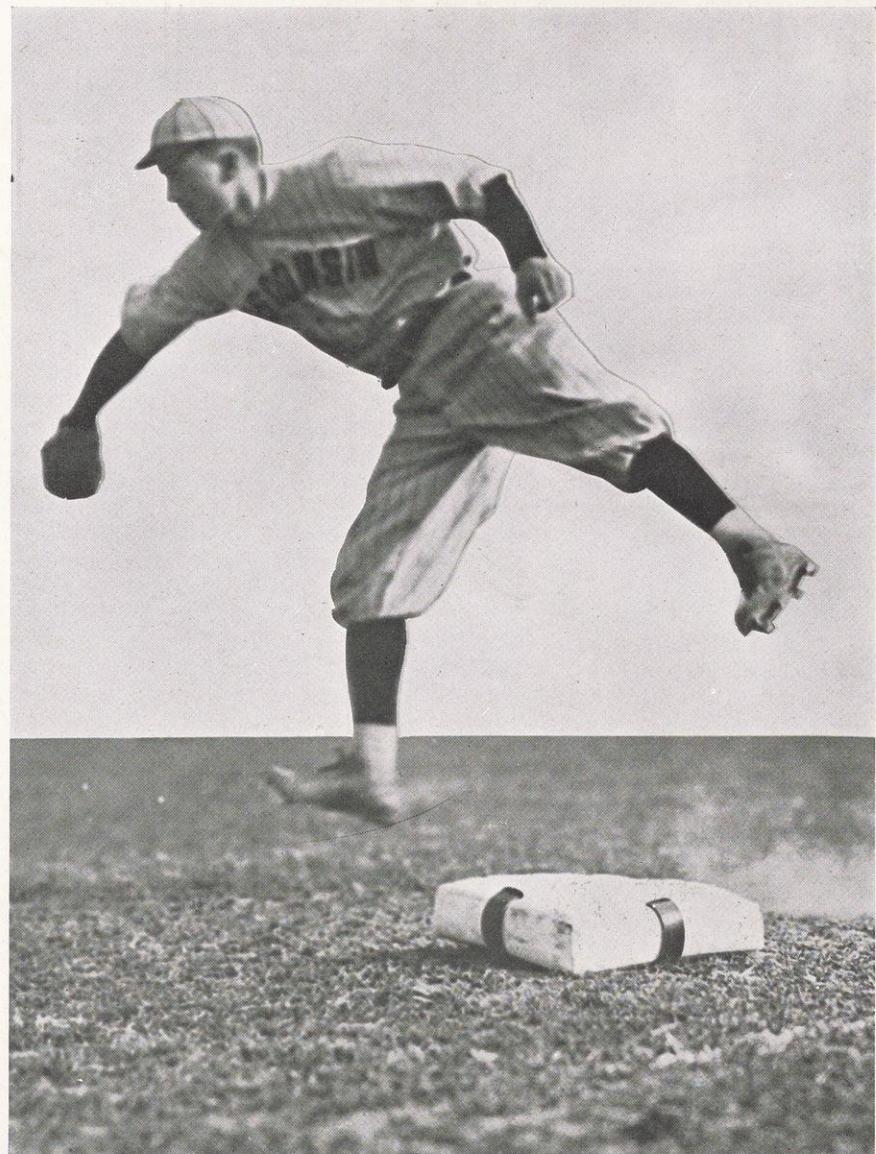

The basket-ball season of 1914-15 was the most trying one in my experience as coach. Of the regulars on the squad, but two had played a full half of conference ball in previous seasons; only one of them was over 5 feet 8 inches in height and but one was a senior.

The failure of the three best reserves of former teams to return to the University left us with a squad of men lacking in stature, experience and the age necessary for the acquirement of full powers of speed and endurance. Coupled with this was the circumstance that two of our opponent teams were practically intact from the previous season and were exceptionally strong in just the essentials which we lacked. With these factors in mind the record of eight conference victories is as creditable as was the showing of our recent teams.

Next season should see us on a par with our opponents in many respects and in a position to make a strong fight for top honors. We lose but three men by graduation; Lange, Floden and Anderson, and, if our regulars and freshmen return, our next team should be considerably stronger than the present one. The freshman material is of better grade than for several years past, and will provide high grade men not only for the vacant places but for several other positions as well. This will provide a new and desirable feature in Wisconsin basketball as I have known it, namely, competition by equally able men for places as regulars.

BASEBALL

The baseball season of 1914 was one of the most successful in the history of the school as the team not only ended well up in the front—in third place—but gave the students a brand of baseball that kept them on their feet all the time. Such high class baseball had not been seen on Camp Randall for some time, and the students showed their appreciation by overflowing the stands at every game and giving us the support that no Wisconsin team has ever had before. The team had a fighting chance for the championship all through the season, and was the most feared of any in the league, as we broke even with Illinois, the Conference Champions, defeated Chicago, the team that won second place, in two extra inning games, and took two games from Indiana, spoiling their chances for the championship. But, unfortunately, several of the teams in the second division caught us off form and we had to be content with third place.

The good showing of the team was due in a large part to the great pitching of Neuen schwander and Moon, and to the big stick of "Gummie" Hoppert who put the finishing touches on several of the games. A great deal of the credit is also due to the coaches Juneau and Lewis, to "Slim" for the baseball brains and "pep" he injected into the nine, and to "Bill" for the inspiration his example was to every man on the team.

Ken Bragg

An attempt to predict or to make any statement regarding the baseball season next year will be necessarily very general at the best. As the present season is only fairly under way it would be even hard to predict what this season holds for Wisconsin. It is safe to say, however, that the 1915 baseball team will be represented by one of the best pitching staffs that has reported here in five years.

Such veterans as Captain Herzog, short-stop on the 1914 team, Roach, catcher; Moon, Neupert, and Sackerson, pitchers who have all proved their ability, will be lost by graduation this June.

Wisconsin is particularly fortunate in losing so few men by graduation and if the remaining members of the squad will put forth every effort to maintain a high scholastic standing which will enable them to participate in the National Game, Wisconsin ought to be well represented in the 1916 Conference pennant race.

Some of the most likely looking that will be left to make up the 1916 squad are Boulware, Machotka, Slaby, Reese, Bill, Ross, Hughes, Galvin, McHugh, Jewett, Connelly, Luebchow, Levis and Peterson. The yearling squad has not as yet made its appearance this season, but the "dope" has it that there are some likely looking men that will materially aid in rounding out the 1916 squad.

CREW THE SEASON

When the crew season opened in the Fall of 1913, things looked very bright for Wisconsin. Sixteen men had their daily row on the lake the entire Fall; the last row being taken the day before the close of school for the Christmas vacation.

In the Spring the ice went out early and rapidly so that the crews could get out immediately. The purchasing of a new launch being out of the question, the old Cardinal had to be repaired. This left the crews without coaching for four whole weeks.

Then came the trip east. The enthusiasm of the students as shown by the monstrous send-off was great. A thundering cheer went up when the coach said that his varsity crew was the fastest that he had ever turned out from Wisconsin, this not to be taken entirely from his opinion, but from the actual count of the stop watch.

The training on the Hudson was done some five miles below the usual course, the crews being encamped on the west bank of the river. The entire first week the crews did not have one good row, due to the rough water. The second week the river was somewhat calmer and hard work-outs were taken twice a day, the crews going over the actual course but once.

Then came race day. Every one knows the results and there was not a person but what expressed his great surprise at the poor showing made by both the Wisconsin crews. The other crews were not as fast as those of the year before, and Wisconsin's crew had proven stronger than ever before, while still on Mendota. These two factors, together with the final and conclusive fact that the physical condition of the men was worse than ever before, show that, "The Encampment on March Alley," as it was called, was at fault.

—The best team does not always win.—

That Wisconsin will some day become so settled in regard to this most fascinating of sports, that it will be in a position to place a winning crew on the Hudson and have it win, is the sincerest hope of Wisconsin's crews experienced the worst year of any during the period that I have been in charge of rowing at Poughkeepsie last June. The freshmen placed fourth in their event, while the varsity was last to cross the line.

The varsity eight, composed of veterans looked like a powerful crew at the early part of the season. Their work on Lake Mendota during the spring gave me hopes for a creditable showing from the senior eight. When they arrived at Poughkeepsie, however, they began to fall off in their work and they suffered a great reversal of form.

Of course we encountered bad weather when we reached the training camp. There were only two or three days when the water was in shape for rowing and this proved a serious set-back for our crews, which never reach the height of development until in those last two weeks. Our camp proved to be too far away from the course and we were able to have only a single time trial over the course during our two week's sojourn there. We also had trouble with our launch, especially on the day of the race, when it took us several hours to travel from our boat house to the Columbia float, where we left our shells, back to the training quarters and then up the river again where we awaited the time for the varsity race. This long period of waiting had a bad effect on the men and when it came to row the race they were in poor shape mentally for such a race as they were called upon to row.

Since the action of the faculty in abandoning intercollegiate rowing, for the time being, we are planning on featuring intro-mural rowing at Wisconsin. In the spring we will have a series of races every Saturday between crews representing the various classes, colleges and other organizations, and at the time of the Spring day we will have a grand climax of water events on Lake Mendota.

TRACK

Between fifty and sixty candidates responded to the first call for indoor track sent out by Coach Jones, and prospects for a successful season appeared fairly bright. There was little promising new material, however, and it was early evident that the strength of the team would depend on the veterans.

With the arrival of the Indoor Conference meet, the squad had dwindled to twenty-five men, due to injuries and scholastic troubles. Although we had some individual stars, we lacked the well-balanced team that Illinois possessed and were forced to take second honors.

As soon as the weather permitted in the spring, Coach Jones had the men in the field preparing for Ohio State. The Buckeyes proved an easy victim, but Illinois surprised us a second time, defeating us by a 27 point margin. A few weeks later we journeyed to Minneapolis and there added another victory to our string, taking the Gophers into tow with little trouble.

Illinois lived up to its reputation at the annual outdoor conference meet on Stagg field, and captured first place with  $47\frac{1}{2}$  points. Leland Stanford took second with  $23\frac{1}{8}$ , and Chicago nosed out Wisconsin for third honors by three-quarters of a point, totaling 20 to our  $19\frac{1}{4}$ . Our full strength, however, was not in evidence in this meet, as several of the men were badly crippled and others had to remain out entirely on account of injuries.

Great credit is due Coach Jones for his patience and untiring efforts, and the team and myself herewith wish to acknowledge our appreciation of his work.

Robert C. Wahl.

It is now too early to get a definite line on the 1916 track team. Pre-season or paper team is one thing and the team that brings home the honor is another. Wisconsin won the Indoor Conference in 1913, but we have never succeeded in winning the big event in June. Hopes are high now for winning this event in 1916. The team will lose through graduation in June, Capt. Hedges, "Tubbie" Keeler, Barnie Knudsen, and Bill Goldie, and the loss of these men will be keenly felt; yet consolation is to be had in the fact that the 1918 class has some high grade recruits. Among the freshmen to give promise are the following men: William Carter, J. Peterson, and Gilman in the dashes; F. F. Webster in the high jump; Raymond Becker in the weights and hurdles; Eber Simpson and Harry Heintzen in the hurdles; C. P. Felton in the mile; Fred Stebbins and Willard Curtis in the middle distance runs; and Dummer Golden should make a good two miler. There are a number of other good men in the freshmen class that will help recruit the varsity team.

A year in advance is rather early to prophesy the future of a team, but this much may be said, that with this group of men here and eligible, Wisconsin prospects for 1916 appears bright.

RESULTS OF THE CONFERENCE MEET

Minnesota won an easy victory in the annual five-mile cross country run, participated in by all the "big nine" conference colleges and Ames. Watson of the Gophers was the first man to cross the tape and his time, 26:25, sets a new record for the event.

Minnesota's score was 45. The other teams in the order in which they finished and their scores follow:

Ames, 81; Illinois, 98; Ohio State, 116; Wisconsin, 124; Northwestern, 128; Chicago, 132; Purdue, 142; Iowa, 211; Indiana, 263.

Mason of Illinois, finished second, Griffin of Minnesota third and Merrill of Wisconsin fourth.

CROSS COUNTRY

After winning the Western Conference Cross Country Championship for four consecutive years, Wisconsin was finally forced to bow to a superior in the Conference Cross Country race held at Lafayette, Ind., on Nov. 23, 1914. This does not, by any means, reflect any discredit on the members of this year's team. In fact, nothing but praise can be given to the fellows, who, against great odds and hard luck, which followed them throughout the season, fought for the honor of Wisconsin and fought to help her uphold the precedent which teams before them has set.

To begin with, three members of the previous year's team were lost through graduation; finally, all with the exception of one were forced or advised to stop training for one reason or other.

With such conditions as these facing him, Coach G. T. Bresnahan found himself confronted by the enormous task of developing a new team out of practically green material. Under his able tutelage, the squad rapidly rounded into shape and the team turned out was one of which Wisconsin can justly feel proud.

The dual meet with Minnesota ended rather disastrously, but the boys certainly came back in the Conference race. By hard fighting they secured fourth place, which was by far better than was expected of them.

Throughout the season a squad of about thirty men, which, to my mind, is no where near enough, worked out night after night at Camp Randall and tried out for the team. At Cornell University, where over three hundred men compete annually in the inter-class race, Cross Country Championships have become a part of the institution. Why not make Wisconsin the Cornell of the West?

With the 1914 cross country team losing but one man, Captain Hedges of the 1915 track team, the outlook for a squad of high calibre five-milers in 1915 appears rather favorable. Aside from the runners of last year's sextette, it is quite likely that the services of Captain Goldie of the 1914 team, of Benish, who placed in the recent out-door Conference two-mile run, and of Harvey, the best miler in the west, will be available for university competition this fall in case these men desire to resume the sport.

Captain-elect Merrill, Schardt, Lawson, Henkel, and Gross will form the nucleus around which this year's team will be built. Some valuable material is expected to spring from the class teams of last fall, sophomore and freshman. The results of these men promise to be interesting, as no regularly organized class teams have been put into the field heretofore in this branch of athletics.

A movement is now on foot to inaugurate spring cross country running as a university sport in conjunction with fall work. Running, just as does football, baseball, basketball, and crew, demands experience, good judgment, alertness, and tact, and these qualities are only instilled in the participant through repeated efforts in competition. Hence a six weeks period of training in the spring will have the advantages in seasoning and conditioning the runner as would an additional term of fall practice. An increase in the number of men reporting for spring workouts is bound to produce better teams, aside from making cross country running more popular as a means of physical exercise. Wisconsin might well imitate the custom of various country clubs throughout England and in certain sections of our Atlantic coast in promoting long distance running for the benefit of the normal individual, and incidentally for the development of the trained athlete.

Barring the failure of our potential candidates to return to school and the ravages of eligibility, the 1915 team should press the intact Minnesota champions and the crack Illinois team for top-notch honors in the next Conference five-mile run.

Co-ed Publications

CO-ED MAGAZINE

The Co-ed number of the Wisconsin magazine is issued annually in April under the auspices of Mortar Board. The management and compilation of the entire number, including the securing of advertisements, the composition of the stories, poems, and essays, contained in this issue, are in the hands of the women students. The co-ed number gives the women an opportunity to show their ability in issuing a publication, and the proceeds go toward the Mortar Board scholarship fund.

CO-ED CARDINAL

The Co-ed Cardinal is issued on the first of April every school year. The editor of the daily woman's page acts as editor-in-chief and the usual staff of women reporters is greatly increased. The edition contains about thirty pages. In addition to the regular news items there are many feature stories. The women students have charge of the financial and advertising, as well as of the strictly journalistic departments of this issue.

CO-ED SPHINX

The March 1914 number of the Sphinx was given over, according to custom, to be edited and managed by the women of the university at large. The editorial and business staffs were chosen by try-outs, and an unusually large number of women were elected to bring out the Co-ed Sphinx. This edition of the magazine was for the purpose of promoting interest in humorous writing among the women, and for the purpose of raising money to carry on the work of the Y. W. C. A. The edition was very successful in that the four hundred copies printed were all sold. The proceeds amounted to $100 which was turned into the treasury of Y. W. C. A. The women showed great interest in the number and it is to be regretted that, with the discontinuation of the Sphinx, the co-ed number has been abolished.

The Season

The past year of forensics at Wisconsin has proved with certainty that oratory and debate are taking a more important position as student activities. The Joint Debate maintained its traditional standard. In this event the rivalry between Athenae and Hesperia, now nearly half a century old, resulted in a victory for the former. The new inter-collegiate relationship that Wisconsin has assumed by connecting herself in triangle with the universities of Illinois and Michigan has done much toward placing a new impetus in the activity of debating. The Agricultural College has extended the interest by beginning what is now to be an annual dual contest with the agricultural college of the University of Minnesota. These new features with the older ones intensified mark the present status of debating at Wisconsin.

In oratory the situation has been exceptional. The various class contests exhibited the utmost competition and were watched closely by the student body. Wisconsin, in her connections with the Northern Oratorical League, has taken a most important position. Two honors have fallen to her which she will not enjoy again for several years. The N. O. L. contest itself was held in Madison for the first time in seven years at which Howard M. Jones took second place. Although victory in inter-collegiate oratory has been attained but four times, this second place adds another to the great list that Wisconsin has achieved and which now causes her to stand near the highest in this field. At present we have the gratification of having placed a Wisconsin man, Mr. Gustave Wright, in the position of president of the Northern Oratorical League. In all it may safely be said that the University of Wisconsin during the past season has made unprecedented advancement in the way of forensics.

Castalia

Castalia, the oldest literary society for women in the University, was founded in 1864, with the purpose of providing an opportunity for university women to study oratory and to improve their knowledge of good literature. Every year, the Freshmen, Junior, and Senior members of Castalia give a stunt, which usually amounts to a small play. The annual spring banquet is also a special feature of the year's program. Last year was jubilee year and instead of the spring banquet, a jubilee banquet was held during commencement week.

Pythia

Pythia was originally an outgrowth of the Laurea Literary Society, which was founded many years ago. The purpose of the society is to further interest in college activities, to make their members prominent in these activities, and to learn the value of good music, good literature and oratory. The special features every year are the Sophomore and the Freshmen stunt nights, which are dramatic or social affairs. In its programs Pythia follows a regular course for each year. This year a study of modern English and American authors and playwrights is being taken up by the society.

Round Table, one of the women's literary societies, was established in 1904 to facilitate literary research and training. Its chief purpose is to develop perfect self-expression; to combine, in one society, music, debating and oratory, and to create a taste for all that is good in literature.

Student Self-Government

By President CHARLES R. VAN HISE

The majority of the students, when they enter the university, are at an age between that of boys and girls and men and women. With few exceptions, when they graduate from the university, they have passed legal majority and should be men and women ready to take part with other adults in the affairs of the world.

In the high and preparatory schools, students are under tutelage; they are treated as boys and girls. When they come to the university they should begin to assume the freedom and responsibility of men and women.

The change cannot be made instantaneously; and, therefore, the university necessarily takes a measure of responsibility for the conduct of the students, especially for the first two years.

The chief purpose of the university is to create independent, right-minded men and women. One of the best methods of doing this is for the students to take responsibility for their own affairs. This they do thru the student conference and student court for the men and the self-government association and the judicial committee for the women, under which the upper-classmen have a controlling voice.

An incidental advantage of student self-government is that in proportion as they wisely take charge of their own affairs, the faculty are relieved from this work and are able to give a greater proportion of their attention to teaching, investigation, and personal relations with the students.

The system of student self-government at the University of Wisconsin, perhaps as highly developed as in any university in the United States, is regarded as one of the chief educational forces in the university in training students for active life and service in the world.

Self-Government Association

The Self-Government Association was organized in 1898 for the purpose of drawing up rules by which the life of the women students might be regulated, and for the promotion of social intercourse and mutual help among the women of the University. The Executive Board which is composed of the four officers of the Association and representatives of the sororities, dormitories, rooming houses, and town districts, is directly responsible for all matters pertaining to the social life of its members. The Student Judicial Committee has exclusive jurisdiction in all cases of discipline of women undergraduates except in cases of dishonesty in University work and in all cases arising in the summer session.

S. G. A. at Wisconsin

By DEAN LOIS K. MATHEWS

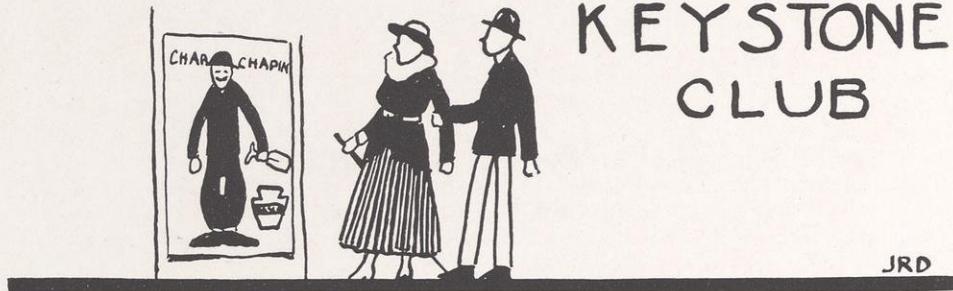

The Women's Self Government Association of the University of Wisconsin, called in common parlance "The S. G. A." was founded in 1897, and has therefore been in existence eighteen years. Its inception was due to the experience which the first Dean of Women at this University, Miss Anne Crosby Emery, brought from her association, with the origin and growth of the Self Government Association in her alma mater, Bryn Mawr College. Other universities, such as that of Michigan, have Women's Leagues, which do about the same work, but the University of Wisconsin was the first to have an organization similar to that which exists in other prominent women's colleges. Its work is many-sided and varied, but its fundamental purposes is to create and conserve student public opinion among the young women. The concensus of that opinion finds explanation in a few rules which govern the social life of the women students and in the general attitude which says, "That sort of thing is not done here." It helps very materially in bringing the freshmen into a realization of what is expected of them as university women, and is ready, especially through its junior members, to act as friends and adviser to any girl who wants such aid as older students can give.

In the middle of the year the Self Government Association stands back of and manages the Vocational Conference by arranging for the discussion, by specialists in their fields, of occupations other than teaching which are open to college women. From time to time the social committee gives costume parties or teas to which girls alone are invited, and where they find the value of association among themselves, a form of social life highly developed in the woman's college, and scarcely found at all in most co-educational institutions.

Beside the social life and the side of the Vocational Conference and the Junior Adviser System, the Self Government Association is an admirable training school for administrative work, into which young women can go after graduation. Our high schools are having to meet the same sort of problems, which confront our universities and high schools are having to regulate a burdensome social life and athletic program just as colleges do. The normal schools share the difficulty but not in so large a way. Young women who have in college had experience in moulding and directing student opinion, will find an ample field for their talents in connection with their teaching. The demand for young women who can do administrative work in normal, high and grammar schools is at present greater than the supply. Apprenticeship for play ground work, and for other forms of social service is gained by holding a house chairmanship or other executive office under the central organization.

Self Government Associations alone cannot regulate college life, but they are most admirable and invaluable adjuncts to a faculty administration which is endeavoring to do the constructive work. A dean of women could not do her work effectively without the co-operation which such an association affords.

KEYSTONE CLUB

Keystone, a society which consists of the presidents of the women's organizations in the University, was established in 1909. Its purpose is to equalize the women's activities and spread them out over a larger field, by using the "point system," in which each activity is comparatively considered to be worth a certain number of points. No girl is then allowed to gain more than a specified number of points. This prohibits monopoly in women's activities. The problem of Keystone is to meet the various problems of the different organizations, and to help each society by means of its president. This council confers with the Dean of Women on matters concerning the interest and welfare of the women students.

RED DOMINO CLUB

DAD
Jossey

Red Domino was originally organized as a secret society open by tryouts to those women students who were interested in dramatic work. This year it has been reorganized. It is no longer a secret society and the scope of its work has been widened. The first semester of every year the club gives some big production, the second semester it studies dramatic work, holds several open meetings and gives one outdoor play.

Review of the Exposition

On March 25, 1915, the greatest student enterprise, the Second Quadrennial University Exposition, opened in the Armory and Athletic Annex with the purpose of giving the faculty, the students, and the state a "Birdseye View of the University." When the Big Show closed at midnight, March 27, nearly 8,000 visitors had viewed the Exposition and gone away with the highest expressions of delight and praise.

At the opening exercises, which took place in front of the gymnasium at one o'clock, Governor Emmanuel E. Philipp and President Charles R. Van Hise made short speeches of welcome before a crowd of 1,500. After satisfying the moving picture man a few moments, the Governor and President ordered the doors opened, the crowd surged forward, and the great show was on. From the first moment, the 30,000 square feet of floor space was crowded. The attendance reached its climax Friday evening, when 2,500 people filled the aisles. The Exposition had paid back the $1,800 which it cost. From nine o'clock Saturday morning till midnight, the booths were surrounded, and the Union was assured a profit of over $2,000. If it is true that interest is the highest compliment, the Exposition workers were surely repaid for their efforts.

All but two departments in the University asked for and received exhibit space. To build the booths, 6,500 yards of bunting were used. Over 5,000 more completely concealed the ceiling and walls of the armory. Nearly 13,000 feet of lumber went into booth construction. About 3,000 feet of wiring, installed by students, were necessary to carry the 100 kilo-watt current which was supplied by great transformers and motors in the annex. Gas, water, and compressed air were piped to all parts of the floors. The estimated value of the exhibit materials is $75,000.

As was the case with the Exposition of 1912, the Wisconsin Union stood sponsor for the show. The Union Board decided on October 27, 1914, to hold the Exposition, and appointed Willard M. Sporleder, one of its members, general manager. Shortly before Christmas vacation, the chairmen of departments were chosen. After careful consideration of all eligible students in the University, over 400 men and women were picked to form the great Exposition committee, and actual work on exhibits was begun early in January. So well were the committees chosen that few changes were made. Each one of the 400 worked faithfully and efficiently to put all that was of the best into their exhibits. On Friday, March 19, the decoration, electric, emergency, and piping committees began to construct the booths under the direction of Crawford Wheeler, while the transportation committee gathered the exhibit materials from all over the campus. Owing to well laid plans and wonderful co-operation, the greatest single task, that of putting the show on the floor, was practically completed at ten o'clock Thursday morning. The Exposition, planned, managed, and executed from start to finish by students, was cleared for action at half past twelve o'clock.

The result of all this labor is well known to 8,000 visitors and will never be forgotten by them. The weekly "Press Bulletin," reaching nearly 500 Wisconsin newspapers, and the "Exposition News," sent for seven weeks to every Wisconsin preparatory school, added "persuasion" to the "suggestion" made by 20,000 posters put up by high school students all over the state. In consequence, the estimated attendance from outside of Madison reaches toward the 2,000 mark. Many legislators accepted the formal invitation to attend the Exposition, and nearly every student left his name on the visitors' book.

That the Exposition deserves the name of the "Greatest Student Achievement" is the general verdict. Representatives of four large universities were present, and we may expect to see this "Wisconsin Idea" carried elsewhere. All visitors, president, governor, legislators, students, and citizens, are agreed that the Exposition gave the best possible "Birdseye View of the University."

CHANGE EXPOSITION DATE TO MARCH 25

HUGENESS OF GREAT STUDENT ENTERPRISE NECESSITATES SHIFTING OF DATE

MEANS BETTER EXHIBITS

MARCH 25, 26, 27, NOW SET AS FINAL TIME FOR UNIVERSITY FUNCTION

The University Exposition will be held at Madison, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, March 25, 26, 27 instead of March 19 and 20 as had been originally intended. The shifting of the day one week forward was caused by the heavy pressure of business for which all of the departments of the University are making gigantic preparations.

It was found that in the period of time remaining before the original date, it would be an utter impossibility to gather together the mass of material and exhibits which were to be shown, which would be a part of the great birdseye view of the university, so upon reexamination of the period of preparation but better prepared booths and more elaborate exhibits were more than ready to meet the increased interest of the exposition, better and bigger Exposition than ever. All posters and advertising material throughout the state will be replaced by more posters announcing the new date of Wisconsin's great conventional exhibit.

The change of the date makes a change in the plans of some thousands of teachers, high school students and interested citizens from point throughout the state, who are expecting the opening of the exposition during the three days that Wisconsin's great Exposition is in progress.

PORTRAITS OF EDITORS GIVEN TO WISCONSIN

The department of journalism at the University of Wisconsin has acquired three large photographs of famous newspaper men taken by Henry C. Moore, a photographer in Washington. The portraits, which have been hung in the lecture room of the department, are of James W. Gerard, former Ambassador to France; the New York Courier and Evening Post from 1857 to 1861; Henry J. Raymond, founder of the New York Times, and Sir Wm. Harcourt, former Foreign Minister of Great Britain. "Bullion" Russell, the famous war correspondent of the London Times, the department has also obtained a large studio portrait of Horace Greeley made in 1851 with a photograph taken by Brady.

EXHIBIT ONLY SPECIMEN

FOOT AND MOUTH DISEASE
The only specimen of the foot and mouth disease that the government has allowed outside of Wisconsin will be on exhibition at the University of Wisconsin Exposition on March 25 to 27.

Over $2,000,000 has been paid to farmers in the United States for cattle killed between October and January in an effort to stamp out the virulent disease, taught in a glass case, is one of the few specimens allowed to be preserved. Excellent photographs of a foot and a mouth disease will be shown.

Hog cholera, tuberculosis, and other diseases of animals, Wisconsin farmers will be the subject of comment in the exhibit. The methods of detecting the presence of the diseases and of dealing with them will be illustrated as taught to students.

PURPOSE OF UNIVERSITY EXPOSITION OUTLINED BY PRES. VAN HISE

MADISON, WIS., MAR. 5.—The purpose for which the University of Wisconsin Exposition is to be held March 25-27 is told by President Charles Van Hise in the following statement:

"The University of Wisconsin Exposition is to be held to give the people of the state a concrete picture of their university."

The people of the university have varied that many, even those connected with it, do not fully appreciate its scope. A professor in one of the departments, besides carrying on the work of instruction, has a second important function—the advancement of knowledge—and a third—the service of the public. In his work, he could round out his course wide in relation to his aptitudes and to his future career.

"The student, too, besides carrying on the work of instruction, has a third function—the service of the public. In applying what he has gained at the university and elsewhere,

"It is the purpose of the Exposition to bring together at the gymnasium an epitome of the work which shall be done in various departments, from those of language, history, etc., to those of the applied sciences, such as engineering, medicine, agriculture, home economics, etc. The department will illustrate the character of its work and the results attained, with the purpose of giving all who examine the exhibits a vivid picture of the work done."

"The University Exposition of three years ago showed that this is possible to a degree beyond what one would expect in advance of the attempt."

"The University Exposition of furnishing the information mentioned, will be intensely interesting and educational to itself. We will cost much time and effort on the part of the students, they will be more than repaid by the results."

"The students are to be congratulated upon maintaining a large enterprise which will be of great benefit to them in their subsequent work. They will be stimulated in their work, and will furnish the public an opportunity to gain a broader view of the university."

A young Wisconsin boy can have absolutely clean and sanitary milk at an additional cost of only one-fifth to one-tenth of a cent per quart. How this may be done will be shown at the University of Wisconsin Exposition on March 26-27 where model plant for handling city milk will be on exhibit. Seeds of a pasteurizing machine will be twice as fast as a time. A capping machine puts on metal caps at a high rate of speed. The handling of milk in this plant will be pasteurized and homogenized. It will be the pods specially interested.

In this model city milk plant the cost of handling milk will be reduced to the minimum by means of a system of automatic machinery that handles it at a time. A capping machine puts on metal caps at a high rate of speed. The handling of milk in this plant will be pasteurized and homogenized. It will be the pods specially interested.

Maximum cleanliness is to be placed on the equipment used to obtain the maximum cost will be reached by a pasteurizing machine and a cooler that handles 1,000 pounds of milk per hour. A separator is part of this plant. An automatic separator and a churn of the latest type will be run.

The Babcock test, Wisconsin Card, the Sediment test, and the Paragon Acid test, all originally at the University of Wisconsin, will hold a prominent place in the exposition. The delicate instruments used in these tests will be shown.

IDEAL COUNTRY PRINT SHOP WILL BE ON DISPLAY

A fine tribute will be paid to the country newspapers of Wisconsin in the exhibit of the department of agricultural journalism in the University of Wisconsin Exposition on March 25-27.

A typical country newspaper office will be made out of the booth. The editor's desk, the press, the proof machine, the type cases, and other objects placed about the booth will be of great interest to visitors an idea of how Wisconsin newspapers are doing their work.

On the back wall of the booth is to be placed an encomium in praise of the splendid advance made in the quality of Wisconsin newspapers.

The papers of Wisconsin are far ahead of others in printing the last news. The paper is to be printed in a quarter section of land. A typical Wisconsin situation is taken. The earth is molded to represent a flat clay bed surrounded on three sides by hills. At each rate these hills are to be filled with water and the water stands till the entire crop is choked to death. Both surface and the drainage are to be taken into consideration. Artificial tile one inch in diameter is used, and the model has glass sides so as to show a cross section.

The students have been studying the Iowas Marsh drainage in Portage County. Impressed by the fact that the year after this six mile stretch of land was dammed up, records of Wisconsin, they will hit this problem of redeeming land forcibly in their exhibit.

A small news sheet called the "Exposition Echo," filed with happenings at the big show, will be turned out by the students. The students will receive expert advice in regard to their problem. By making their exhibit a live one they hope to get a great deal of interest from students who are visiting into their department within a year or two.

WHAT CITIES NEED AND HOW TO GET IT

DELEGATIONS MAY NOW STUDY CITY PLANNING AT MADISON

UNIVERSITY EXPOSITION

EUROPEAN PLANS REVISED AND ADAPTED TO AMERICAN PLANS ALSO

What does your city need? Has rapid growth made necessary the tearing down of buildings to make traffic ways? Must Wisconsin cities be redesigned for this reason? It is an expensive process if gone at blindly. But any city that sends a committee to the University of Wisconsin Exposition on March 25-27 will get much of the available information on the subject.

Many a rural and planned cities all over the world showing a solution for every possible problem of city planning, will be shown. Data, by committee, and advice will be given by experts from the department of city planning.

If your city is ready for more developments, you probably wish to get information on the cost of building in regard to cost and wearing qualities of various pavements. At the Exposition have been gathered specimens of the different types of pavements used in Wisconsin cities. Figures on cost and wear will be given. In a day or two a city committee can gather all the information they have received from years of investigation. The building and maintaining of various types of concrete pavements will be treated with the same thoroughness.

A working model of the Madison sewage disposal plant in the state, with a plan and map of the city on a river or lake may use them for this purpose. The cost of the plant has resulted from years of investigation. The building and maintaining of various types of concrete pavements will be treated with the same thoroughness.

Perhaps your city is a railroad center and there are many dangerous crossings. The railway engineering department has a very large model that illustrates the elimination of these unpleasant features. Come to the Exposition and put your problem to the men in the department who have a solution for every problem.

Has the health of your city been endangered by an unsanitary milk supply? Then you would like to know how to make milk absolutely safe at an additional cost of one-fifth to one-tenth of a cent per quart. The model of the plant is a model milk handling plant that will illustrate cleanliness, speed in handling, and low cost of operation.

WHAT SHALL WE DO WHEN COAL SUPPLY RUNS OUT?

When coal becomes scarce, Wisconsin will have something to take its place. Some all over the state are small streams, with a reach of nearly every town and farm. By means of proper damming, these may be made to yield almost unlimited power in the form of electricity.

Realizing this fact, the students of hydraulic and sanitary engineering at the University of Wisconsin have made a representation of its importance by making a model of a water power plant for the University of Wisconsin.

A small stream of water, running across the model, turns a wheel below a dam. A small motor, connected to the wheel, generates electricity for the use of miniature lights.

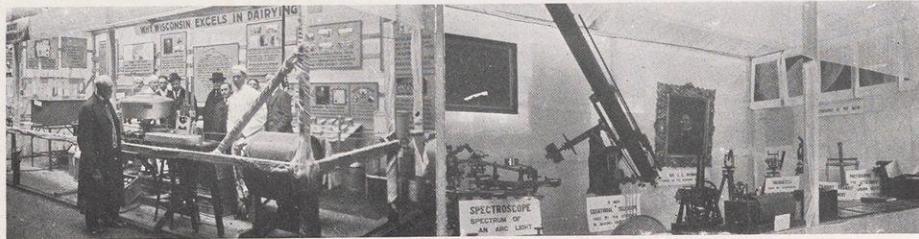

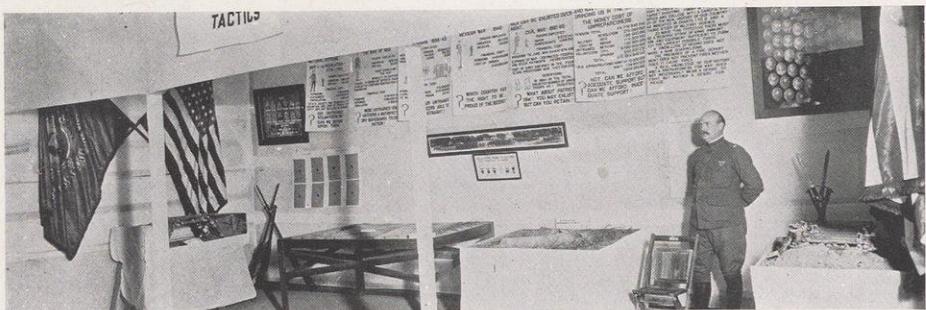

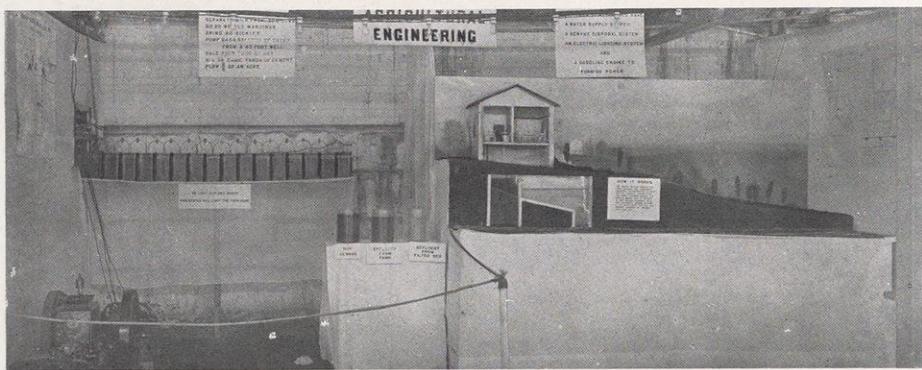

The model has been made realistic. Seven different forms of such work have been met and overcome. Various methods of measuring the flow of water are shown.

Mortar Board

Mortar Board, the Senior women's honorary society was organized in March of 1909, with the three-fold purpose to stimulate scholarship, to further interest in worthy endeavor, and to increase college activities. The members are chosen at the end of the Junior, and the beginning of the Senior years from those women of the university who rank highest in service, womanliness, and scholarship.

Mystic Circle

Mystic Circle was organized about ten years ago as a bridge and social club. However, the purpose of the society has become greatly changed during the last two years. Its chief purpose at present time is to carry on some big charitable work each year. Besides this, Mystic Circle always has a booth at the Y. M. C. A. Christmas bazaar, and has an annual dance. Three Freshmen are chosen each year from Delta Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Pi Beta Phi, to become members of this society.

The Young Women's Christian Association is an outgrowth of an association organized in the early eighties which included as members both men and women banded together for weekly religious meetings. At the present day the Association is composed entirely of women and has entered into fields of varied interests and aims, especially to create and develop spiritual and religious feeling among university women.

Luther Memorial Church

The chapel at the right, with an auditorium of three hundred seats and equipment for study classes and social purposes, was dedicated in April, 1915. The church itself will be erected in the near future. The Lutheran Student Committee, organized in November, 1911, for religious and social activities, has assisted in building the chapel by securing subscriptions.

PURPOSE

Study and discuss those broader legal principles touching social and economic problems.
Create in ourselves our profession, and in our community a purer and more scholarly conception of law and of those principles applied to our American life.

Maintain a Serjeants' Court for the trial of purely legal problems:

CAMP FIRE GIRLS

Camp Fire Girls is an organization of girls and women to develop the home spirit and make it dominate the entire community. It is a means of organizing a girl's daily life. It shows that romance, beauty, and adventure, are to be found on every hand and in wholesome ways; that the daily drudgery may be made contribute to the beauty of living.

The Taychopera Camp Fire Girls were organized in 1913. Unlike most camp fire groups it was organized by older girls who are training to become guardians of the younger.

College Equal Suffrage League

The College Equal Suffrage League was organized in the University of Wisconsin about 1905. The league has done a great deal in propagating the suffrage movement among men and women students. During the school year 1912-1913, when the suffrage amendment was before the State Legislature the league conducted a vigorous and strenuous campaign for its support.

The Deutsches Haus was founded in the spring of 1914 under the auspices of the German department and its equipment was made possible by the generosity of some public-spirited citizens of Milwaukee. The purpose of the Deutsches Haus is to meet the demands of those students who desire more than a class-room acquaintance with German conversation and culture. To this end every effort is made by means of German speech, German books, periodicals, and music, to surround its occupants with a purely German atmosphere.

Y. W. C. A. Bazaar

The Y. W. C. A. bazaar, started for the first time in 1913, was conducted under the same auspices on December 5th, 1914. The purpose of this bazaar is to raise money for the budget of Y. W. C. A. and to bring all university women together in work for a common project. The gymnasium in Lathrop Hall was used for the displays of the various booths, whose management was representative of the women's organizations, sororities, and dormitories of the University. Besides the usual display of a Christmas bazaar, special features and entertainments gave the fair a unique character.

Vocational Conference

The year of nineteen-fifteen marked the fourth vocational conference conducted at the University of Wisconsin. The first was given under the auspices of Self-Government Association and the Association of Collegiate Alumnae. Since then they have been conducted entirely by the Self-Government Association. Its purpose is to acquaint the women of the University with professions other than teaching, giving them an idea of the nature and scope of the work, its requirements and salaries. Conference hours are arranged with the speakers so that more definite and personal advice can be given. The conference takes place at Lathrop Hall at the beginning of the second semester of each year.

May Fete

The annual May fete of the University of Wisconsin was given on May twenty-second at five-thirty in the afternoon. The fete was under the auspices of the Department of Physical Education, whose aim is to present a pageant celebrating the Coming of Spring through the co-operation of the women students of the University. The dance, consisting of three divisions, the Pipes of Pan, the Triumph of Spring, and the Spring-time Festival, was presented upon the upper campus, where seats were improvised for the spectators. Various solo dances impersonated the phases of spring-time while the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior women were represented in the different dances.

W. A. A. Party

The Women's Athletic Association party on the twenty-seventh of February was purely social in nature. As a rule the organization has presented a play for the purpose of raising funds, but since this was unnecessary in 1915, the sixty members gathered together for the purpose of becoming acquainted with new members, through the medium of mixing stunts and novel entertainment features. The affair was directly under the auspices of the Association.

Y. W. C. A. Breakfast

On the morning of Decoration Day the annual Y. W. C. A. breakfast was given in the court of Barnard Hall. The tables were set out in the open court and the large number of guests were served by the Household Management Class of the Home Economics Department. Combined with its purpose of raising funds for the support of Y. W. C. A. work, the breakfast brought the association into prominence through the unique nature of the event, and brought those not directly interested in the work of Y. W. C. A. into contact with the members themselves.

Y. W. C. A. Conference

From August twenty-fifth to September fourth, in the neighborhood of 700 delegates from the Middle Western Colleges gathered at the Y. W. C. A. conference at Lake Geneva. The thirty-five Wisconsin delegates under their leaders formed a representative body from the Wisconsin branch.

The purpose of the conference is to increase the interest of Christian college women in Y. W. C. A. work in their respective universities and to afford an opportunity for the exchange of ideas regarding the accomplishment of their objects. The vacation element of the conference and the attractive surroundings is an important factor in its popularity and good work.

Chadbourne Hall

Chadbourne Hall is a dormitory with rooms for one hundred and fifty girls. Traditional frolics play a large and memorable part in the life in Chadbourne. The first party is a children's party, given by the Sophomores for the Freshmen. Later the Juniors and Seniors give a party for the underclassmen at which the entertainment consists of a burlesque on the manners and habits of the guests. At Christmas time the house committee entertains. Between semesters the Hall holds a mock Prom. On the afternoon of Washington's birthday the Freshmen and Sophomores entertain the upperclassmen at a costume party and retaliate their former indignities by burlesquing the Seniors and Juniors. The last activity takes place in May. It is the "Senior Swing-out." The Seniors all come to dinner in their caps and gowns and sit at one long table. The Juniors have original songs for them and the Freshmen make flower baskets and the Sophomores decorate their table with spring flowers.

Barnard Hall

Barnard Hall, the girls dormitory, has room for one hundred and fifty girls. The non-academic activities begin with an informal tea for the friends of the Hall girls early in the fall. Later the upperclass girls gave a party for the new girls and the Freshmen. These girls return this by entertaining the upperclassmen with a vaudeville performance. Just before Christmas vacation the Hall has a big Christmas dinner, after which the Yule log is burned in the parlor.

In the second semester another informal tea is given. In the middle of the semester a dance is held. In May, on the night of "Senior Swing-out", the Seniors plant ivy in front of the hall and the Junior newly elected house president is presented with a spade, which is handed down from year to year. Perhaps the best remembered tradition of Barnard is "Candle Night" which comes every Saturday night. The dinner tables are lighted only by candle light and the girls sing Barnard and Wisconsin songs.

Class Societies

The women of Wisconsin have organized their own class societies. These organizations have a great influence upon the social life of the girls. "Green Button" brings the timid Freshmen together; "Red Gauntlet" carries along the comaraderie of the genial Sophomore and "Yellow Tassel" ripens the friendship of the jolly juniors. The girls have their own stunts and banquets, and there is no doubt but that these girls' social groups do help the university and, in their broad attitude, do create a wonderful, free "Wisconsin spirit."

Chi Psi

*Founded at Lawrence College, 1776.
Number of Chapters, 7. Number of Living Members, 23.
Number of Dead Members—the rest.*

Chapter at Wisconsin owns its own house, a small structure modeled after the Tower of London, in which the brothers lodge. The badge is a large device in the shape of a policeman's star, which is worn between the second and third buttons of the vest. (From observations taken of Illborn Priddy and Whatisit Highby). The members at Wisconsin are prone to mingle with the rougher element, and believe it does them good. Many others hold the same belief. All Legacies with two thousands bucks per year are eligible.

Fraternity Motto; "In numbers there is strength."

Deke

*Founded in the East.
Number of Chapters—astounding. Number of Members—impossible.*

This fraternity is strong in the East. Wisconsin is in the West. Wisconsin chapter numbers among its prominent members Sparrow-face Clark and Montmorency Duncan of Green Bay. Chapter owns a slabsided and rheumatic house prominently located next to the Kappa Phi Gamma House. Freshmen with weak elbows are warned not to join, on account of danger to said elbows when singing Deke songs. President Roosevelt is a Deke. He is in favor of the abolition of fraternities.

Motto—"East is East and West is West, and Never the twain shall meet."

Psi U

*Founded at St. John's Military Academy, 1900.
Number of Chapters—2½ Number of Members—¾*

The Wisconsin chapter has constructed a fine new house, containing all the latest disapprovals,—Cordwood finish, indecent lights, and a magnificent cellar, which is cared for by Charlie Gilbert and Jack Hohmann. All the Psi U's have wonderful voices,—this is testified by the Brittinghams, who live next door. Among prominent Wisconsin members are Cute Nelson Trottman, who owns a gold medal and a scholarship; and Phil Sanborn, the dilettante lawyer.

The pin—look at any private detective's badge.

Color—deep scarlet. (Found on members' noses.)

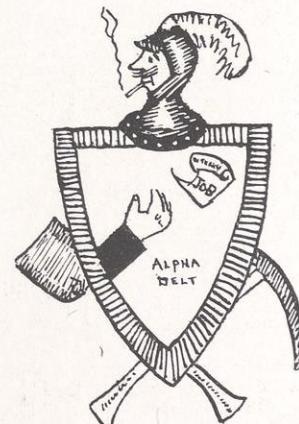

Motto—"See America First."

Alpha Delt

*Founded at Sing Sing Prison, 1492.
Number of Chapters, 23½ (The ½ at Wisconsin.)
Number of Active Members—none.*

A vigorous and Manly Bunch, in which the motto is "A place for every Alpha Delt and every Alpha Delt in his place", but one seldom finds them in their place. Many fine men in the Wisconsin chapter, such as Jack Tryagain Pickel, Opie Dilldock the famous wit, and handsome Stanley Kitchell. The chapter is cheered occasionally by visits from its Papa, Smiley Basset, the roguish necktie peddler. President Roosevelt was also an Alpha Delt. He wears his Deke pin in company.

Fraternities

Sigma Phi

*Founded across Lake Mendota.
Members—a few. Chapters—a very few.*

Chapter at Wisconsin is a happy, loving little family, in which each man is quite intimate with the other two. Freshmen wishing training for matrimony should join without fail. Owns a sedate bungalow in the shadow of the Mendota apartments, also a negro butler who tucks the boys in bed every night. Has many well known members, such as dashing daredevil Doc Meade, the malted milk fiend, somnolescent convalescent Casey Ward, and other tough gangsters.

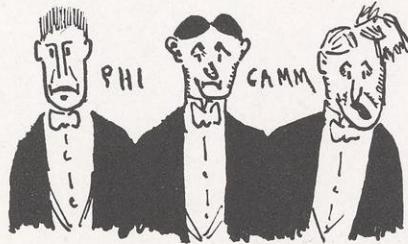

Motto—"In Steve Gilman we trust."

Phi Gamm

*Founded at Milwaukee Downer, 1215.
Number of Chapters (no Phi Gamm seems to know).
Number of Active Members, 3 $\frac{3}{4}$ .
Number of Inactive Members, 11,000,000.*

The Phi Gamms are all very nice boys, and live in a lovely cozy little house within spitting distance of the rough Dekes, for protection against whom they rely on Richard Lloyd Jones. The inside of this residence is dominated by feminine taste,—one might almost think he was in the Tri Delt house. No freshmen is admitted to membership who does not own three dress suits and know how to stick out his little finger when drinking.

Motto—"Gentlemen and scholars all."

Sigma Chi

*Founded in Oblivion, 4000 B. C.
Number of Chapters—numerous.
Number of Members—supernumerary.*

The fraternity badge is in the form of a cross, signifying the cross feeling a freshman has when he finds he is a Sig. Chi. The Wisconsin roughnecks live in the Gym Annex, a very tasty residence serving as a sea wall for the Phi Delt next door. The members are very tough, often walking through alleys on their way home as late as ten o'clock. Any Sig. will assure you of his extreme hardness if asked. Some of the desperate Desmonds are Liv. Ross, the melancholy Monastic, dashing dash Osborne of the law school, and the Garibaldspots, stealers of women's hearts. The chapter exists now in a half hearted way, mourning the absence of Percival Schley.

Motto—"Safety first."

S. A. E.

*Founded in the Blatz Brewery, 1912.
Number of Chapters, 4,411. Number of Members, 49,000*

Chapter in Wisconsin is confined in a gloomy pile encroaching on Lake Mendota, whence the boys occasionally escape via the fire escape. Excellent board is furnished at the house, due to Bubbles Maurer, the incandescent cook, who is worn to a shadow through his efforts. Prominent members include Walt Bemis the dainty Haresfeeter and Val Blatz, the chinless Chiblain.

Pin is diamond shaped, and has engraved on it a picture of Judge Toomey stepping over an ant-eater.

Colors, light and dark.

Motto—"If he's from Milwaukee—get him."

F r a t e r n i t i e s

Delta Tau

Founded in Leo's one Summer Evening.

Number of Chapters, 1.

Number of Members, 92. (Not counting cellar gang.)

The Wisconsin chapter lives in a large stone tenement by the lake, and possesses many assets, including a grand piano, several assorted mustaches and Ken Davidson's thirst. Through the efforts of Doc. Higley, the popular and W. K. bowling captain, a freshman joining the Deltas may be assured of a cordial reception at the Pi Phi house. Every Delt is an embryo Vermin Castle. Prominent Wisconsin men are Okie and Egg and Glenn Richardson, who is Strong with the Gamma Phis. References—L. Daggett, F. Bremer, Izzy Brownell.

Motto—"He who dances must pay the fiddler."

Beta Theta Pi

Founded in Rome by Romulus and Remus.

Number of Chapters—(published after next census.)

Number of Members. (Consult dictionary.)

The Wisconsin chapter has its home and training table in a brown stable bounded by Mendota and the Sigma Phi house. A fine place for Handsome Freshmen—consider Bob McKay and Duke Glutz Stavrum. All privileges of the Gym extended to members by Willyum Rich. Carl Russell Carp is a faculty member who is highly prized. Any freshman desiring a place on an athletic team should become a Beta, if he meets Millicent Haas and still wants to.

The pin is in the shape of a wart, and contains a diamond one can always raise six bits on.

Colors are pink, blue, green and lavender.

Phi Delt

Founded at the University of Siam, 55 B. C.

Number of Chapters, 8,000.

Number of Members, 8,000,000.

Wisconsin chapter owns an edifice closely resembling the white house at Washington (in that it has pillars on the front.) Some of its other pillars are D. Mazurk Spohn, the Goshen horse doctor, and Crawford Wheeler, the famous dissipated inebriate. Freshmen with weak hearts should be careful not to join this organization, but sometimes do at the instigation of the Gamma Phis.

The pin is composed of a shield, for purposes of defense to which is attached a Gamma Phi salad fork.

Motto—"What is home without Eddie Gillette?"

Sigma Nu

Founded in Grinde's Haberdashery, 1776.

Number of Chapters, 250. Number of Members, 3,000,000.

The Wisconsin chapter was formerly called the "Sphinx Staff" and lives in an ancient hovel quite near the University club so that they can have free music at their dances. The members may be easily recognized as such on account of the large quantities of fraternity jewelry of novel and strange design which they are accustomed to carry about on their persons. Paul McMaster, who knows he is a great man, and Harry Koch, who suspects it, are among the Wisconsin heroes.

The colors of the fraternity are black (mourning) and dark brown (taste).

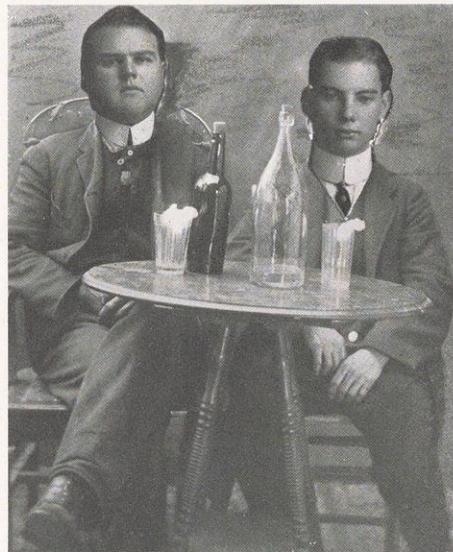

Motto—"Clothes make the man."

THE BADGER SALOON

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
MADISON, Wis.

December 8, 1914

My dear Mr Broadfoot:

I was both charmingly surprised and embarrassed when I received your sweet little note announcing the fact that I had been judged the most beautiful woman at Wisconsin. Although I had realized for sometime that my admirers were many, it quite overwhelmed me to know that I stood so high in the eyes of the whole school. Surely many girls do not have such a lovely honor bestowed upon them. Please thank the Student Conference boys for me.

Most sincerely,

Billina Conway.

Billina Conway Wins Honors In Beauty Decision. Miss Fish Takes Second Place

The Student Conference at its last regular meeting, which was held Saturday evening, took action on several important points, chief among which was the question of who is the most beautiful woman at Wisconsin. Although there may be doubt in the minds of some who read this article as to the wisdom of the decision, we must remember that the Student Conference is a body truly representative of the whole school and therefore its judgment should be considered as final. After much debate and heated discussion, the honor was given to the much admired Billina Conway. Miss Fish was chosen unanimously as the second most beautiful woman in our midst. Three cheers for both the girls.

A LITTLE HEROINE.

On a warm Sunday afternoon in October there occurred an act of bravery on the part of a Wisconsin girl that will go down as unsurpassed in the history of Madison.

Six young ladies, members of the Delta Gamma Sorority, residing on Langdon Street, ordered a livery turnout for a drive. Hardly had the young lady who was to drive gathered up the reins when the high spirited horses took fright and started at breakneck speed. The driver became frightened and the other girls screamed with fear. Realizing at once the danger and with determination shown in her features, Miss Gertrude Corbett, just twenty years old and slight of stature, who was riding on the front seat, seized the reins and called to her companions to refrain from jumping from the vehicle, assuring them that she would soon have the horses under control. Whirling onto State Street, the frightened horses ran the full length of that crowded thoroughfare, with a man on horseback trying to overtake them.

MISS GERTRUDE CORBETT.

Never was a fire department so swift in its flight.

Realizing the terrible responsibility resting upon her, with face paled and jaws set, the coolest person there was Gertrude Corbett. Knowing that if she continued her course around the Capitol square, with its street cars and throngs of automobiles, the danger would be increased, this brave little girl guided the runaways onto Fairchild Street, making the turn with but two wheels of the turnout on the ground. Her object was to force the horses up a steep hill, hoping to tire them out. In this she was successful, enabling the mounted horseman to overtake them. When she knew that her friends were saved, Miss Corbett fainted from sheer exhaustion.

Talk about the bravery of men in the hour of danger! No man ever performed a more daring act or proved himself more worthy of recognition for bravery than this petite girl. Old Sile was driving along State Street at the time and saw it all. He could not refrain from shouting to her to hold on but she needed no encouragement, she was a born heroine.

Harper Discusses Disease.

The terrible scourge of foot and mouth disease which is sweeping over this part of Indiana and creating great uneasiness has aroused much interest in other states as to the causes of the disease and other features connected with it. In view of this situation Henry M. Harper, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Harper, of 522 West Colfax avenue, who is connected with the state agricultural college in Madison, Wis., has made a careful investigation in an effort to obtain facts connected with the disease.

In a report just made Mr. Harper says that little is known about the disease. Its proper name is aphtha epizootic. Direct causes, he says, are filthy virus, the virus found in discharge of saliva from diseased cattle and foot ulcers. The disease is contracted through both the digestive and breathing systems.

"Good Work, Fred!"

ENID, Oklahoma.—Fred Hall, who has been attending the University of Wisconsin for the past four years is at present visiting his parents in this city. While Mr. Hall has been primarily engaged in pursuing knowledge at Wisconsin's great institution of learning, he has found time to highly distinguish himself in many phases of student life. Only this year has Mr. Hall been awarded the honor of having his name blazoned on a huge iron cross which hangs before the eyes of the students in shape every morning. Such a distinction comes only to kind and generous students. And we have no doubt that Fred is well qualified for this honor, which we might add is one sought for. Mr. Hall is president of the Union Board, which if this paper interprets correctly, is made up only of Union men. Fred is also associated with the student paper and president of the College Federation of Labor. What next, Fred?

Today's paper; we are going to print five thousand extra copies printed.

Congratulations to Henry

BEAVER DAM, Wis.—Word has just been received here that Henry Murphy, one of the most promising men that has ever represented Beaver Dam at the State University has been elected to the honorable position of justice in the Student Court of that school.

We congratulate Henry upon the high honor he has received and the University upon securing the services of such a smart, capable young man for so trustworthy a position. They got a good man when they got Henry.

Crowl Wins Big Prize for Play

Ralph Crowl of Waterloo won the $75 prize offered by the University of Wisconsin for a play to be staged by students of that institution. The play was written last summer while Mr. Crowl was spending his vacation in Waterloo. He entered in competition with a large number of other manuscripts.

The writing of the class play is the big literary achievement of the year at the Wisconsin school where Mr. Crowl is a senior. "The Snob" will be presented early in the year and will be witnessed by his sister, Mrs. Thomas M. Buchanan, of this city.

Mr. Crowl formerly was on the Daily Reporter reportorial staff. As a side line he writes photoplays, several of which have been shown on Waterloo screens.

WHERE ARE THE CHAPERONES?

THE MODERN SORORITY

by

DR. WATSON HAAKE and SHERLOCKO HOLMES MERKEL

Girls! Girls! Girls!

Shame on the Pi Phi's

And this from the D. G's.

Those Naughty Chi Omegas

The Alpha Gam Goodnight

NOTE: In order that the girls may show these pages to the folks at home, we will say that this is all a dinged lie. The pictures were posed for specially by Wollaeger's trained troupe of "every girl a man and everyone a lady." The boys wouldn't do it, anyway.

Ray C. Williams, the Phi Kap hope, and truly a wonder (not another like him). Publicity man for Ray Williams and writer of many feature stories in the Milwaukee papers such as "Williams Stars in Track", "Promising Material in Williams" and "Williams Wins W".

There was a young man known as Ray,
Who thought that this world he could sway.
With head held up high
And nose toward the sky,
For fame in this world he did pray.

Stanley Elizabeth Hollen. This picture represents Stanley being ejected from the Alpha Phi house at 10 o'clock, a regular proceeding. Miriam has just been telling him a few things about fussing other girls (thus the dejected look). But Stanley is a nice boy, parts his hair every morning and says "thank you" at the table.

Opie Dildock Davis. Author of book, "How to Speak in Public" and originator of the expression, "to be seen is to be heard." Also the cutest little cheer leader you ever saw.

Said a freshman to his paw,
"Who's the man with all the jaw?
Does he really run the place?"
"No, he's just shooting off his face."

Joseph Me Bollenbeck. Differing from most lights, Joe can't be put out; hence his appearance in this year's Badger. Joe sent us 43 pictures for the Badger Beauty Section, but the girls got jealous and wouldn't let us run the section. Therefore, his face appears only on this page. In the background is his corps of cadets, who some day will save the country.

Irene Morris, a young, facetious Pi Phi addicted to fussing and wearing her hair in curls as though she wasn't already grown up. Member of the "hang around the libe" club.

Irene, a sweet girl,
With her hair in a curl,
With one look at a man
Puts his head in a whirl.

Paul McMaster. Once a rough-neck politician and football player, but gradually he became a true Sigma Nu; that is, a social satellite. Won everlasting fame with the ladies by the dashing figure he cut at Prom.

At Prom in a dress suit so fine
He marched at the head of the line.
So handsome and fair
That none could compare,
Thought Mac, "Now distinction is mine."

Bessie Rood, an actress of note, to whom all Alpha Chi's point with pride.

Tetrazini with her hollers
Receives about a hundred dollars
For an evening at the opera,
So they say.
But Bessie with her talent
Draws Ohs from men quite gallant,
As she steps before the foot-lights
In a play.

Charlotte Bodman, one of that Theta bunch. A real athlete and holder of offers from the big leagues.

To belittle one won't do at all,
But be little we must, if not tall.
Though Charlotte be little,
She don't care a fiddle,
But feels big playing hockey and ball.

Here is Phil Robinson, the sly gambler and marble shark, known to the police by the name of Marble Pete. Once arrested for blocking traffic on State Street, so absorbed was he in his favorite game. He is the trial of the Sigma Phis.

Baby Mucks. One of Wisconsin's most promising members of the dainty elephant ballet. Brung up in the village of Oshkosh. A living advertisement for Fatto, the great marrow builder. Has never had to have his father's clothes cut down for him. Visitors to Madison are always disappointed if they haven't seen Arlie and the gym.

Hank Murphy. Hank was a prize fighter of note until bested in the first round by Young Jenness, the Idaho catamount. His life work is politics, but of late his studies have taken up so much of his time that he has not been very successful.

Each year they have an election,
But such was their state of subjection
They called upon Hank
That political crank
Before they dared make a selection.

Katharine Faville, the noted suffraget. Favorite expression is "We want our rights." Leader of filibuster against the prominence of the woman beautiful.

Of S. G. A. she's president
Always on some mischief bent.
First she cans the Beauty Section,
Then discusses man's subjection.
Fussing hours and lights for rooms
Are questions that she'll settle soon.

In the Good Time that is Coming

In the good time that is coming
When the women vote and swear,
When what is fair for Johnnie
Will, for Jane, be just as fair.

In those days when women's suffrage
Has changed business all about,
Made the ladies lawyers, soldiers,
Turned the men from office out.

Then new jobs the boys must tackle,
Something ladylike and mild,
Open hair and beauty parlors,
Wash the head of maid and child.

Then co-eds will wear the trousers,
And in overcoat and hat,
On the balcony of Chadbourne
Can indulge in cheerful chat.

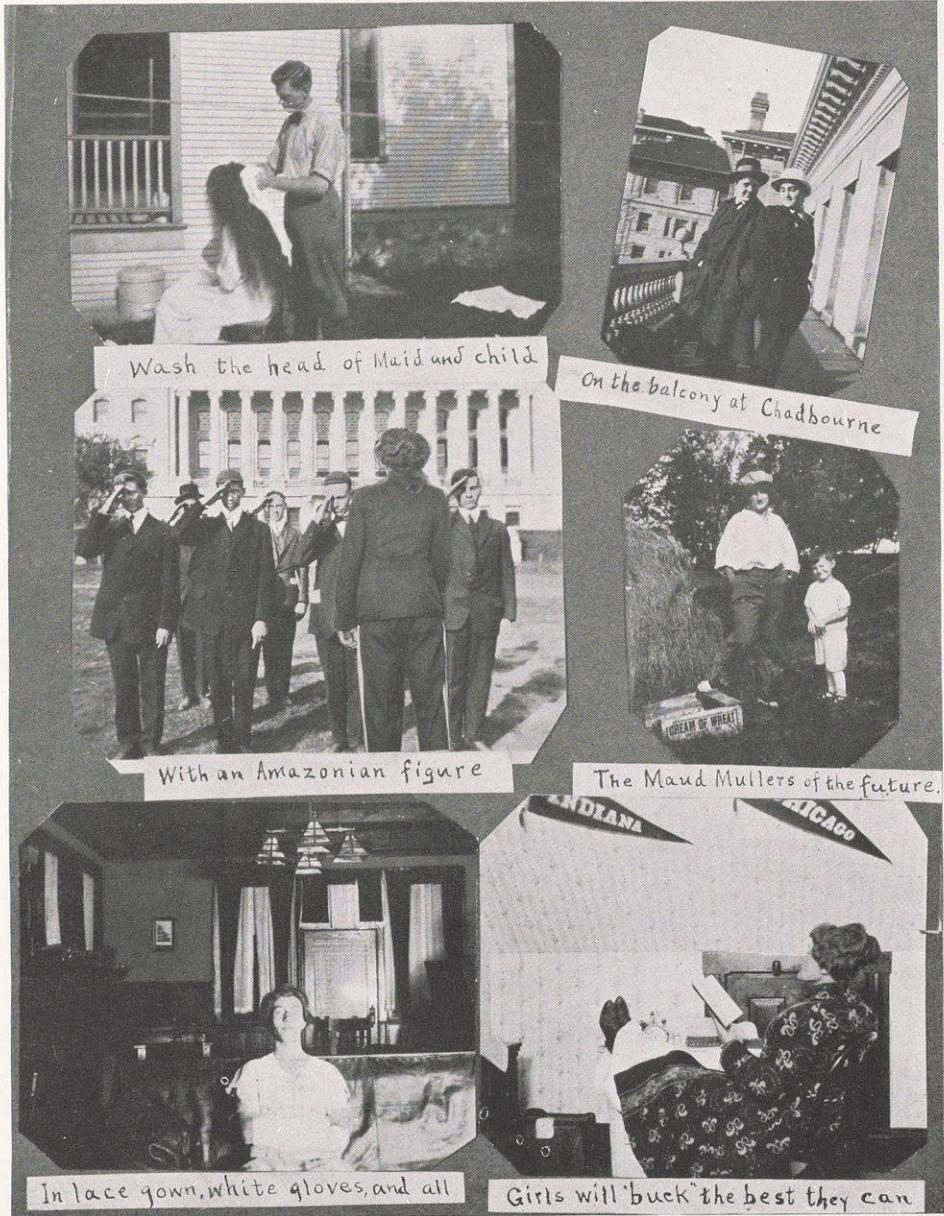

Then our military tactics
Will be taught by maiden fair,
With an Amazonian figure
And disheveled head of hair.

The Maud Mullers of the future,
As they rake the fragrant hay,
Will wear clothes so strictly mannish
That no judge will look their way.

While down in frat house parlors,
In lace gown, white gloves, and all,
Some sweet brother waits impatient
For his last best girl to call.

Then the bucking and the smoking
Won't be done alone by man,
But with feet upon the table,
Girls will buck the best they can.

The Libe Paste is an abridged amalgamation of the worst features of the Black Bird and Sham and a direct attempt to avoid all Sphinx jokes and references to Woofs Ehler. The Paste embodies an impersonal, impious, intrigue against all. The Libe Paste, like the Phi Kap sidewalk, is never dry.

Real Conversations in the Libe

By EVE S. DROPPER

- Eve Dickens: "I say, Harriet, you're on the Cardinal board, Dorothy Simpson is president of the freshman class, and Peggy O'Neil breaks into print almost every day. Let's ask Mrs. Mathews if we can't take some more pretty ones like Esther Kelly and retain our hold on the Beauty Section in next year's Badger."
- Izzy Schulte: "Well, Hank, I told you it wouldn't do you any good to work for Marion Luce. You might have known she wouldn't ask you to a Pi Phi party, not with that black eye, anyway."
- Mildred Moore: "I told Dolly there was a fresh stude over in the Spooner and she ought to pull down the shade."
- Monte Clark: "Gee, I'm glad Peterson's brother made him go Deke. That yellow car certainly looks fine out in front of the frat house."
- Milt Brush: "I'll bet fifty cents I can beat you a game of marbles."
- Alice Bemis: "Yes, they are all good, but I prefer S. A. E."
- Chauncey Frisbie: "No I didn't go to the Soph dance; Alma went with Bud Groves."
- Dot Bannen: "I say, Ann, were you ever in the men's gym before?"
- Ruth Glassow: "I agree with you heartily, Katharine. The girls in the Beauty Section are certainly not representative of the real women at Wisconsin."
- Ethel Garbutt: "I think it's perfectly awful to cut out the Beauty Section. I don't think they have any right to do it---"
- Jean Hadden: "Helen, have you seen Ducky? No, not Ducky Wadsworth; I mean Ducky Reynolds."
- Louis Pradt: "Those Thetas certainly are good. You know they are applying for a Phi Beta Kappa charter."
- Anna Fullerton: "My dear, she's terribly good looking, but so loud. They say she paints, too."
- Chuck Evert: "You know after I won my W---"

Advice to the Love Sick

By ELEANOR SHEAKLEY

My dear Miss Sheakley:

All the girls insist on calling me the Arrow Collar man.
Is there any significance in that remark?

JACK EDWARDS.

Mr. J. E. The joke is on the face of it. It is rather a pointed remark. Wear a blue flannel shirt and don't shave.

My dear Miss Sheakley:

I am going with a sweet little miss named Georgia Loy.
How can I cut out my Psi U, Delt, and Phi Delt rivals.

NICK GRINDE.

Mr. N. G. (N. G., that reminds me of something) Why not use one of your cutting remarks.

My dear Miss Sheakley:

What have I done?

DUTCH STEUER.

Mr. S. Nothing.

My dear Miss Sheakley:

As I sleep until twelve every morning, I miss my phone calls. What shall I do?

MAMIE ANDERSON.

Miss A. Learn to talk in your sleep. Learn to say yes and no. The men want to do most of the talking anyway.

Dear Miss Sheakley:

I miss Carl so. Shall I take up society again and drown my loneliness with gaiety?

ELSA FAUERBACH.

Miss E. F. Yes, Pickett up again.

Dear Miss Sheakley:

How can we make the Woman's Building dances more popular?

Dear Butts.

I guess the other frats

because we put one over on them
this year. A couple of us bought a cycle car for the chapter and we didn't have to pay the whole rushing season. Although the car has only one seat, we could by placing two of the boys on the Ochie: "Did you say you were taking a culture course?"

AN INCIDENT IN THE LIBRARY

Nick Grinde, hustling through the Libe,
His mind preoccupied,
Unseeing, bumped into a form
And "Beg your pardon," cried.
Then, as he saw 'twas Helen Welter
Into whose arms he'd fled.
His thoughts, relieved, came back to earth,
"Oh, that's all right," he said.

The Theta Delt Fire

An Open House

A Mixer

A Stiff Examination

Two sly Theta Delts
Whose names we wont' say,
Built a fire in a tub
While engaged in their play.

A strange happy thought
Then struck the dear boys;
We'll yell the word fire;
Then wait for the noise.

A few minutes later
Came the odor of smoke;
And with much consternation,
The brothers awoke.

Bob Frawley, the writer,
First peered from his bunk,
Then, too frightened to move,
In the covers he sunk.

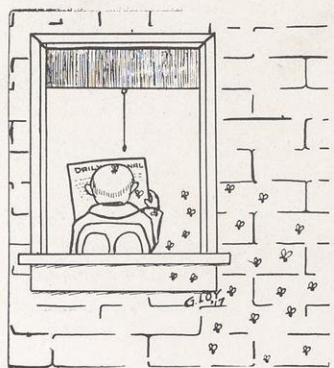

A lake party held
In real negligee
Awoke all the neighbors
At dawn, so they say.

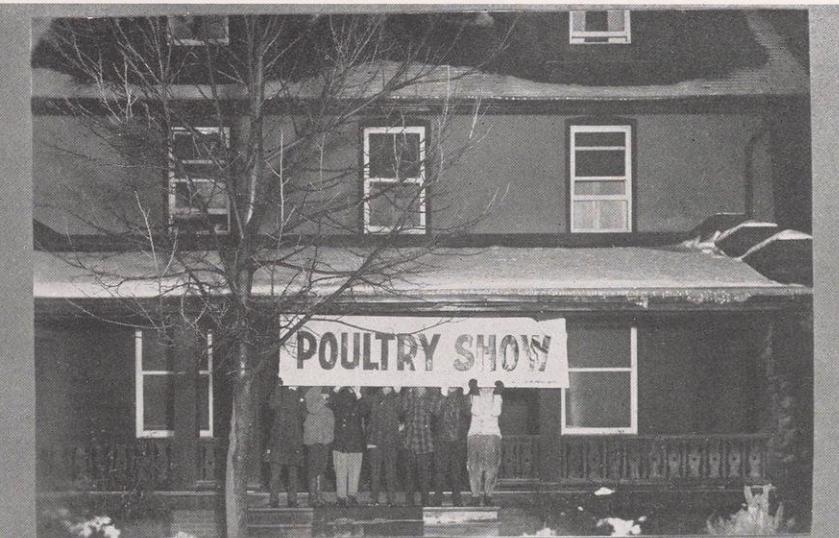

Next Otjen, the soldier,
Arose to command:
"The quick will be saved,
The lazy be damned."

A young Chi Omega,
Doll Baker, by name,
On seeing the smoke,
Cried: "Ain't it a shame."

The boys in pajamas
Then crowded the lawn
The firemen soon came
And joined in the throng.

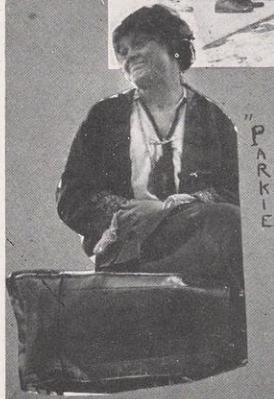

The source was discovered,
And next came a shout:
Conspirators somewhere;
We must find them out.

Service Counts

¶ A 'nickel in the slot machine' gives service of a kind--but its ability to serve you very extensively is limited.

¶ We--by means of the College Book Store--can supply a great many of your wants--both in the class room--in the home--in the field of sport.

¶ We also try to improve on 'the machine which takes your nickel' in the manner in which we serve you.

¶ During your University career and afterwards --you can buy your supplies of texts, general books, pennants, etc., under our Student Rebate System at a saving of 20%.

THE MILL BRAND

THIS TRADE-MARK IS PROTECTED BY REGISTRATION IN THE UNITED STATES PATENT OFFICE. ALL CASES, BUNDLES OR PACKAGES CONTAINING PAPER OF OUR MANUFACTURE ARE PLAINLY STENCILLED WITH THIS TRADE-MARK.

Any person, firm or corporation who states that we are not paper makers, or that we make for them or others, any paper carrying a dealer's private watermark or brand, is either misinformed or guilty of willful misrepresentation.

We make all the papers that we sell, therefore know of what and how they are made, and each grade carries with it an unwritten guarantee of suitability for the purpose for which it is recommended. Back of the guarantee is a Plant representing an investment of several million dollars, and an enviable reputation for fair dealing.

Our Trade-Mark, our Water-Marks and our Brands are, therefore, an assurance to the buyer that the same paper is not offered to him under a dozen or more names at different prices, and an obligation on us to maintain quality that it would be business suicide to trifle with.

As a further protection to buyers as well as ourselves, our products find a market only through our own Warehouses and our recognized agents.

We welcome inquiry, and will gladly furnish samples on request.

The American Adding Machine at $35.00

Here is a new price on a competent Adder. On a machine that is rapid, full-size and infallible. The very latest machine, built by men who know, in one of the largest metal-working shops.

It is an individual Adding machine, to be placed on one's desk, close to one's books and papers. To take place of the central machine requiring skilled operators.

It is also intended for offices and stores where costly machines are a luxury.

The price is due to utter simplicity, and to our enormous output. Seven keys do all the work.

Each copied number is shown up for checking before the addition is made.

With very slight practice anyone can compute a hundred figures a minute. And the machine never makes mistakes.

A Wonderful Report

The fifty-seventh annual report to the policyholders by President Geo. C. Markham, of the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, of Milwaukee, outlined business dealings that are wonderful.

During the year 1914, the new insurance paid for amounted to $126,288,750. The receipts from all sources were $63,735,111.34, of which the sum of $47,572,768.42 was in payment of premiums, $15,120,477.92 in interest and the balance in rents and the like.

At the end of the year, the insurance in force was $1,365,299,749 and the assets, $328,247,426.88.

The Northwestern has maintained its economical standard of expense in the writing of its insurance and has kept well within the limit fixed by the laws of the states.

Among the investments of the company on December 31, 1914, were the following:

Real Estate Mortgage Loans.....	$178,711,318.14
Bonds (Market Value).....	76,926,630.00
Policy Loans.....	53,640,047.05

During 1914, this company paid to its members in annual dividends of surplus $10,327,850.63 and in deferred dividends $2,182,817.25, a total of $12,510,667.88. It also paid out for death claims and endowments $16,459,605.97.

The following brief but comprehensive statement is extremely interesting:

Since its organization the company has paid in settlement of death claims.....	$174,718,503.30
And to living policyholders for matured en- dowments, surrendered policies and sums returned for over-payment of premiums..	301,235,806.81

Making the total payment to policyholders..	$475,954,310.11
To this add the present admitted assets....	328,247,426.88
And the total amount paid to policyholders or held for them is.....	$804,201,736.99
Total amount of premiums received .....	715,858,103.28

Excess of present assets and payments to policyholders over premiums received....	$ 88,343,633.71
--	------------------

The Northwestern's service embraces Life and Endowment Insurance, Income Insurance, Corporation and Partnership Insurance and Annuities. The conservatism and care it always has exercised in the investment of its funds, the liberality of its policy contracts, and the invaluable service it has been able to render to its membership have made it popular with conservative insurers.

The company maintains agencies in all the healthful parts of the United States. Shakshesky & McMillan are general agents with headquarters at Madison, Wis.

The Art of Photography

There be grumpy and grouchy folks who claim that photography is a mere matter of hair-cut and neckties. And the question is still debated at the little red schoolhouse on Friday afternoon, "Is Photography an Art?"

The answer is, it all depends upon the photographer. William Morris says that art is not a thing separate and apart; art is a way; and the art is the beautiful way.

Any man who does a thing superbly well is an artist. And James McNeill Whistler says that where the artist is, there you will find art.

Photographs are printed records of ourselves and those dear to us, and are fondly cherished long years after they are made. Friends or relations in distant places would treasure your portrait and will readily send theirs in exchange.

A Few Things Worth Knowing

Don't blame the photographer entirely if your pictures are not good.

The best photographs in the world cannot make your picture attractive without your co-operation.

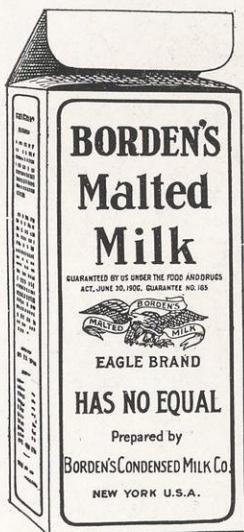

Look pleasant, but don't feel it necessary to look like a dental "ad" to get the pleasant effect.

The business of the Ford Studio is to take pictures for particular people, critical folks, those who are hard to please, those who have never had a really good photograph and have given up trying.
