THE 1984 WISCONSIN FOOTBALL OUTLOOK

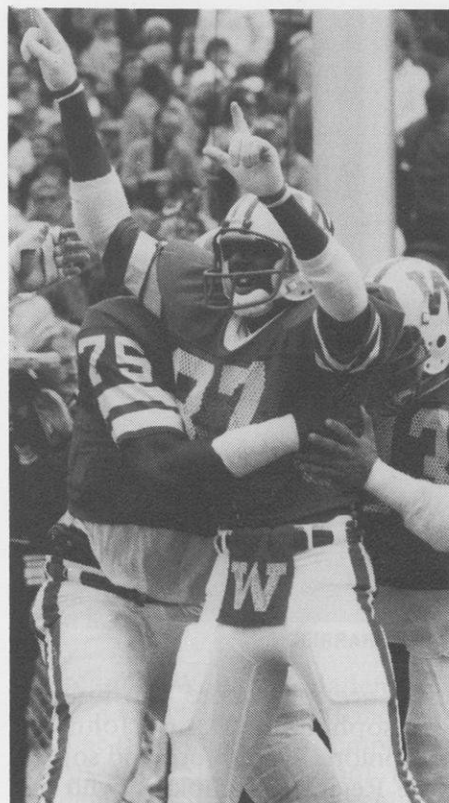

Seventh-year Head Coach Dave McClain has put together three consecutive seven-win seasons with the University of Wisconsin, and with just four starters lost off his record-setting 1983 team, prospects indeed look promising for what will mark the 96th season of college football for the Badgers.

Eighteen starters return for 1984, led by first team All-Big Ten linebacker Jim Melka and first team All-Big Ten wide receiver Al Toon. Also back are second team All-Big Ten offensive tackle Jeff Dellenbach and honorable mention All-Big Ten selections Kevin Belcher, tackle; Michael Jones, flanker; Bret Pearson, tight end; and Dan Turk, center. And working to regain his eligibility for '84 is 1982 first team All-Big Ten defensive tackle Darryl Sims.

Wisconsin's record-setting 1983 offensive unit has lost only one regular, but that loss is a key one in quarterback Randy Wright. The Cardinal and White set new team season standards for most points, 359; most points average per game, 32.6; most touchdowns, 49; most first downs, 255; most yards total offense, 4,545; most yards total offense average per game, 413.2; most passes attempted, 336; most passes completed, 180; most yards passing, 2,381; most yards passing average per game, 216.5; and most touchdowns passing, 19. On four occasions, the 1983 UW squad scored 42 or more points, and on six different Saturday afternoons, the Badgers topped 32 points. Certainly, a major factor in much of that success was Randy Wright.

But McClain and his staff have high hopes in sophomore Mike Howard, redshirt freshman Brant Kennedy and senior Bob Kobza. And with the return of each starting member of the interior offensive line, a top-notch corps of receivers, and several explosive runners to fuel the rushing attack, Wisconsin's 1984 quarterbacks should have plenty of help generating offense.

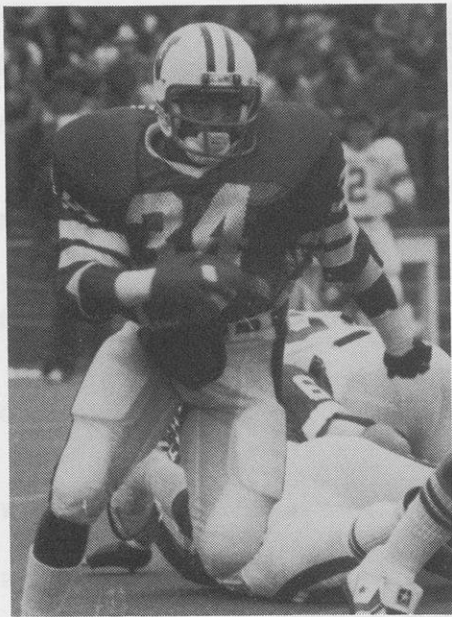

AL TOON

Al Toon, a top candidate for All-American honors in 1984, ended the '83 season with a team-leading 45 receptions for 881 yards and nine touchdowns, topping the Big Ten in yards gained receiving (788), average yards per catch (20.7), and touchdowns (seven). The Newport News, Virginia senior also established new Wisconsin season records for most yardage gained receiving, most touchdown passes caught, and most consecutive games catching a scoring pass (five). The final three games of 1983 (Iowa, Purdue and Michigan State), Toon had 24 receptions for 537 yards and three touchdowns, including a single game national high of 252 yards against Purdue. He is now tied for the UW career mark of touchdown passes caught with 14 and he ranks third all-time in yards gained receiving with 1,353. His 45 catches last year were the most by a Badger since 1966.

Also back for '84 are Menominee, MI senior Bret Pearson, who finished 1983 with 34 receptions for 373 yards; Chicago, IL senior Michael Jones had 24 catches for 281 yards; and Flint, MI senior Thad McFadden had 15 receptions for another 250 yards. Others to watch are sophomore Tim Fullington, sophomore Danny Johnson, sophomore Jeff Sanford and sophomore Reginald Tompkins, who has switched over from defensive back.

Wisconsin's offensive line in 1984 will be built around a fine contingent of seniors in Jeff Dellenbach (6-6½, 285), Kevin Belcher (6-7, 285), Dan Turk (6-4½, 260), Chris Osswald (6-4½, 255), and Dave Mielke (6-4, 255) — all starters a year ago. Dellenbach, Belcher, Turk and Osswald started every game in 1983. Bob Landsee (6-5, 260) started the first five games before suffering a knee injury, while Mielke started the final six contests. Brian Jansen (6-4½, 252), coming off a knee injury which sidelined him in '83, was projected as a probable starter for 1983 prior to the injury.

At the running back spots, McClain returns three top ball carriers in sophomore tailback Larry Emery, second-year fullback Joe Armentrout, and senior fullback Marck Harrison. 1983 first-year players Emery and Armentrout were second and third respectively with totals of 336 and 325 yards, and both owned yards-per-carry averages of 6.0 or better. Emery also had 12 catches for 120 yards with Armentrout hauling in nine for 113. Harrison, meanwhile, gained 260 yards on 46 carries with four touchdowns and had nine catches for 49 yards. Flanker Michael Jones had 14 carries for another 135 yards. Waiting in the wings for more playing time in '84 are sophomore Brian Bonner, senior Kemal Carr, sophomore Keith Browning and junior Louis Holland. All gained valuable experience in '83 and will be ready when the call comes.

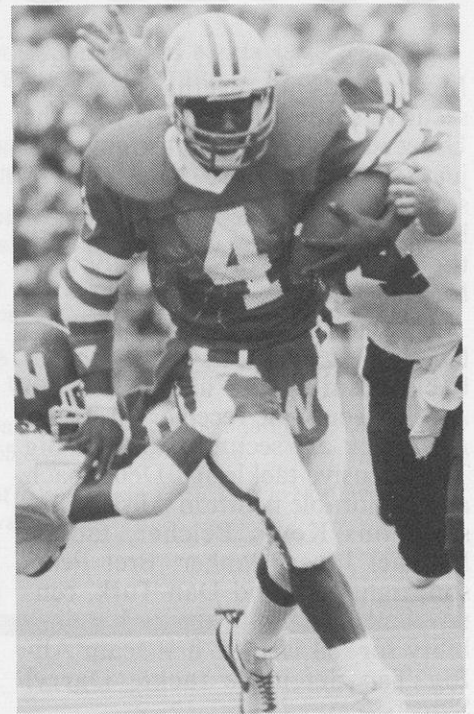

On defense, the Badgers shutout two opponents in '83 — Northwestern and Michigan State. It was the second straight season the UW has registered two blanks. Wisconsin also held their opponents to a .483 pass completion percentage.

Perhaps the biggest problem facing the Badgers defensively last year was how to stop the run. But much of that could be attributed to youth and inexperience; i.e. in last year's 32-0 win over MSU in the season finale, Wisconsin started four freshmen, one sophomore and four juniors on defense. And in that game, the Badgers held the Spartans to 72 yards rushing and 47 yards passing. Three players — stack outside linebacker Mike Herrington, closed side corner Brian Marrow, and safety Richard Baxter — won't be back, but McClain does have eight starters returning for 1984.

A group of exceptional linebackers — led by All-American candidate and senior Jim Melka — will form the nucleus of the Badger defense. From West Allis, Melka has led the UW in tackles the past two seasons. He had 130 in 1982 and then followed up with 111 in 1983, despite missing the final two and one-half games with a broken arm suffered against Iowa. The 6-2, 230-pounder had 18 tackles in games against both Illinois and Michigan and also had three interceptions. Along with Melka, there is senior Russ Fields, who finished second in tackles with 83, sophomore Rick Graf, who had 58, and sophomore Michael Reid, who had 57 stops. Then there is talented Art Price, who could challenge for a starting spot, Brad Grabow, Tim Jordan and Craig Raddatz. Jordan, who figured to see a lot of playing time in 1983, was red-shirted last year while Raddatz tied for the team leadership in interceptions as a first-year player with four and came on strong in the second half of the season. McClain and his staff can feel secure with the knowledge that any of these athletes could get the job done. Expect to see all of them in action in '84.

On the defensive line, the final game starters for the Badgers were junior Scott Bergold (6-7, 255) at read tackle, freshman Lance Branaman (6-3½, 260) at noseguard, and freshman Jim Kmet (6-3, 255) at stack tackle. All return for '84, and should Darryl Sims also return, the Badgers' improvement on the defensive line will be marked indeed. Sims was a first team All-Big Ten pick at defensive tackle in 1982, as he led the league with 20 tackles for loss for a minus 98 yards. He is 6-5, 260. Bergold had 64 tackles on the year, including a team-leading nine tackles for losses totaling 42 yards. Included in that were four sacks for a minus 35 yards and he also had two passes broken up and one fumble recovery. Bergold started every game in '83. Branaman started seven times at the noseguard spot, missing two to injury, and wound up with 43 tackles, including 27 solos. Kmet had 48 stops, with three going for opposition losses. Also back is 6-6, 246-pound sophomore Kurt Schlicht at stack tackle, who chipped in 12 tackles, junior John Taulien, and sophomores Brian Hoffman, Mark Helt, Dick Teets and Dave Sparger.

In the defensive backfield, the Badgers have lost starting closed side corner Brian Marrow and safety Richard Baxter, but McClain does have seniors Russ Bellford, Richard Johnson, Ken Stills and Averick Walker — all of whom started at one time or another a year ago. All were varsity letterwinners as well.

Bellford, who had 51 tackles, shared the team leadership in interceptions with four for 106 yards while Johnson, Walker and Stills all had two apiece. Of the 21 opponent passes picked off by the UW in 1983, players responsible for 18 of those are back for '84.

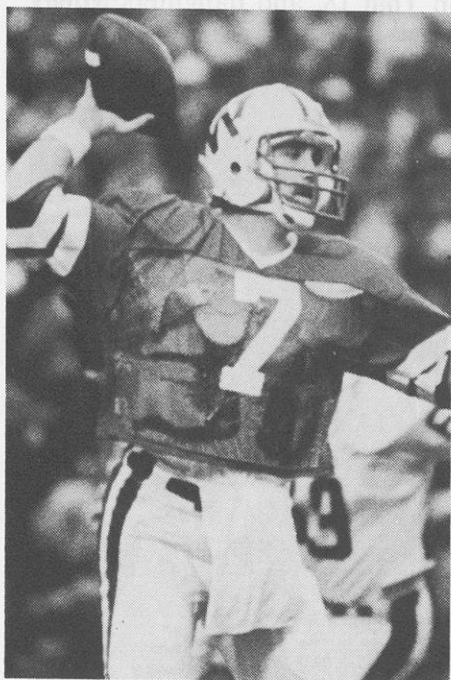

Others who should figure into team plans in the defensive backfield include junior Anthony Humphries and sophomores Robb Johnston, Duane Marrow, Nathaniel Odomes, Eric Sydnor and Bobby Taylor, who has switched from running back.

The other area of concern for 1984 appears to be the kicking game. Gone are field goal and extra point specialist Kevin Rohde, kickoff regular Wendell Gladem and punter George Winslow. Rohde was 45 of 48 on extra point attempts and six of nine on field goal tries. Gladem was one of the best kickoff men in the Big Ten, while Winslow averaged nearly 37 yards per punt.

Among the players competing for the kicking jobs are redshirt freshman David Blackmer, and freshman recruits Scott Cepicky and Todd Gregoire.

McClain signed 21 new players for 1984, 13 of whom are from Wisconsin. (Note: Gary Ellerson dropped from school in late June.)

HEAD COACH DAVE McCLAIN

DAVE McCLAIN

Dave McClain enters his seventh season as head coach at Wisconsin after being named Wisconsin's 24th head coach on December 16, 1977.

The 46 year-old McClain, a native of Upper Sandusky, Ohio, and a 1960 graduate of Bowling Green University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Education, came to Wisconsin from a highly successful coaching stint at Ball State, where he posted an overall 46-25-3 record in seven seasons.

His overall 80-57-3 record for thirteen seasons as a head coach ranks him among the nation's Top Twenty coaches entering 1984. That's a winning percentage of .581.

McClain played football at Upper Sandusky High School and Bowling Green University, where his team went 45-5-4. He played both quarterback and safety at Bowling Green.

He started his coaching career at Crestline, Ohio High School with an 8-1 record and then returned to Bowling Green as a graduate assistant in 1961, where he served as freshmen offensive coach and earned his Master's Degree in Education.

He then served as an assistant coach at Cornell University under Tom Harp in 1962; at Miami (Ohio) University under Glenn E. "Bo" Schembechler, 1963-66; at Kansas under Pepper Rodgers, 1967-68; and at Ohio State under W.W. "Woody" Hayes in 1969 and 1970 before accepting the head coaching job at Ball State.

He coached seven seasons at Ball State, with only his first a loser at 4-5-1. He was named Mid-American Conference "Coach of the Year" in 1975 after a 9-2 season. His three year MAC record of 13-4 included the 1976 conference title.

In his first season with the Badgers, he became the first coach since Ivan Williamson in 1949 to post a winning mark as a first year coach. Those 1978 Badgers opened with four straight wins and finished at 5-4-2; the first winning season since 1974. The next two seasons proved to be a little tougher as his 1979 and 1980 squads posted identical 4-7-0 marks.

The next season started the turn-around. In 1981 the Badgers went 7-5-0 including the first Bowl appearance for a Wisconsin team since the 1962 season. Their 6-3-0 Big Ten record was good for a third place tie, and included wins over national powers Michigan and Ohio State. The Badgers lost to Tennessee 28-21 in the Garden State Bowl.

In 1982, Dave became the first coach in Wisconsin history to guide the Badgers to back-to-back Bowl games and accomplished what no other Wisconsin coach was able to do — win a post season Bowl game. The Badgers won a 14-3 decision from Kansas State in the 1982 Independence Bowl to cap a second consecutive 7-5 season, which included the first victory over Ohio State in Columbus since 1918.

And in 1983, the Badgers posted their third consecutive seven-win season under McClain with a final mark of 7-4. Wisconsin also turned in its third straight winning Big Ten campaign at 5-4.

Dave has also served as an assistant coach in the Hula (1982) and Japan (1983) Bowl games, and was an assistant coach in the Blue-Gray game in Montgomery, AL in 1983.

Dave and his wife, the former Judy Perry, have three children — son Tom 18, and daughters Mindy 16 and Marcy 13.

FRED JACKSON Receivers

In his second season with Wisconsin's football staff is Fred Jackson, who came to Dave McClain's staff in 1983 after three years as an assistant coach at the University of Toledo.

Jackson, who coached Toledo's quarterbacks and wide receivers, entered the collegiate ranks in 1980 from the head coaching position at Southwestern High School in Flint, MI.

While at Southwestern High School he produced such outstanding college stars as Michigan's Rick Leach and Rodney Feaster; Purdue's Jerome Oliver and Ron Moore; Michigan State's Darryl Turner; Penn State's Booker Moore; and Toledo's Emmanuel Cole and Capus Robinson.

The 35-year-old Jackson is a native of Baton Rouge, LA. He was an all-state quarterback at Scotlandville High School in 1965 and 1966 and after his 1967 graduation from high school, went on to star at Jackson State University from 1968-70. SCOTT SEELIGER

Offensive Line, Tight Ends, Special Teams

Scott Seeliger, who for the past five seasons has served as an assistant coach at Bowling Green State University, has joined Coach Dave McClain and his University of Wisconsin football staff for 1984.

well as working with the offensive line at the UW. At Bowling Green State in 1983, Scott was the offensive coordinator for a Falcon team that owned a 8-3 record and ranked No. 2 in the nation in passing. He also coached the offensive line at BGSU and had served as an administrative assistant as well.

"I am tickled to have Scott back," said McClain. "He did a great job here as a part-time coach in 1977 and 1978, and he will be a great addition to our staff. Scott has coached high school football here in Wisconsin and knows the state pretty well. He will be a big plus for the program."

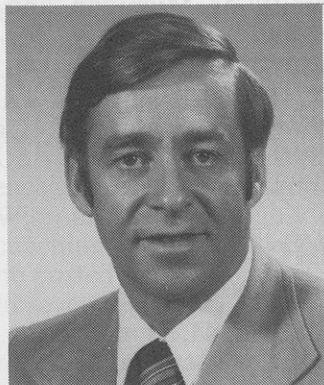

Seeliger, 34, was the Head Coach at Sauk Prairie High School from 1973-76, and his teams posted an overall record of 28-8. In 1975, Sauk Prairie sported a perfect 9-0 mark and were South Central League champions, and in 1976, Seeliger led his team to an 8-1 record.

Seeliger played football at Iowa State under Johnny Majors and was a starter at tight end in 1971 when ISU went to the Sun Bowl. He earned a B.S. in mathematics in 1972. ATHLETIC DIRECTOR ELROY HIRSCH

ELROY HIRSCH

Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch is in his 16th year—longest tenure in the school's history—as Wisconsin's Director of Athletics and he's the guiding force behind one of the finest athletic programs for men and women in the United States today.

Wisconsin's men's and women's athletic programs have consistently ranked in the Big Ten's first division during his tenure over the past 15 years.

The Wausau native came back to Wisconsin — where he gained collegiate fame as a star sophomore running back in leading the Badgers to a No. 3 ranking during the 1942 football season — from the Los Angeles Rams on February 28, 1969.

His original appointment as athletic director — slated to end in 1979 — was first extended in 1974 by the school's athletic board through June 30, 1984, and again in April, 1979 through June 30, 1988 by Chancellor Irving Shain upon recommendation of the Athletic Board.

His career has been one of success.

Wisconsin fans, especially the older generation, remember him as a triple threat halfback on Harry Stuhldreher's 1942 football team that won eight games, lost only to Iowa, and tied Notre Dame.

Hirsch's play as a 19-year-old sophomore on Wisconsin's 1942 football team carried the Badgers to the brink of the national championship. The Wausau native rushed for 766 yards on 141 carries — his best was 174 yards on 22 attempts vs. Missouri — and his overall contribution added 226 yards passing, 390 yards on receptions and runbacks of punts, kickoffs, and interceptions plus nine touchdowns, five by rushing and four by passing.

He played at Michigan in 1943, as a Marine trainee, and he not only played football, but also basketball, track and baseball. He won his "M" in each sport, the only athlete ever to accomplish such a feat at Michigan.

He had a successful professional football career, first as a halfback with the Chicago Rockets of the post-war All-American Conference, and later with the Los Angeles Rams for nine seasons as one of the all-time great ends.

It was at Los Angeles that "Crazylegs" was to attain new heights in his career. The Rams, in transition to the modern passing game, often split him wide as a receiver and finally moved him permanently to end — establishing him as the first flanker.

Hirsch was one of the athletes — like Otto Graham and Sam Huff and Gino Marchetti — who brought special talents to the sport in the 1950's as it changed from two-way players to offensive and defensive specialists under free substitution.

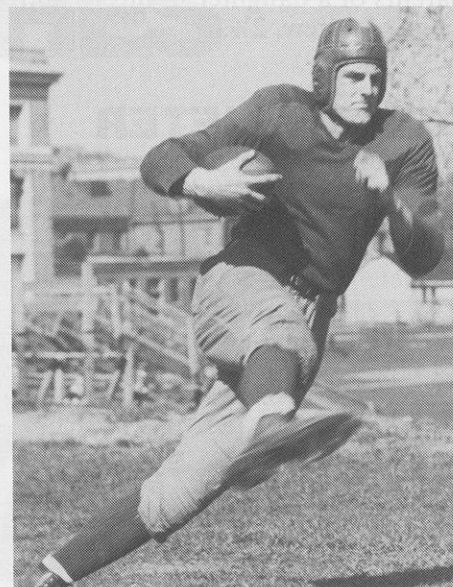

In 1951, Hirsch displayed all his talents as he put together one of the finest seasons in National Football League history. He gained 1,495 yards on receptions, an all-time record approached only by Bobby Mitchell of the Washington Redskins (1,436 yards in 1963) and Hirsch had only twelve games to set the record, not 14 like Mitchell!

That same season Hirsch caught 17 touchdown passes to tie the league record set by Don Hutson of the Packers in 1942. He also caught at least one touchdown pass through 11 consecutive games over the 1950 and 1951 seasons.

Elroy compiled a total of 343 passes caught for 6,299 yards and 53 touchdown catches during his career with the Rams before retiring from NFL play following the 1957 season.

He was a successful executive with the Rams, first as general manager of the team, and later assistant to the president of the team, a job he relinquished to accept the job as Wisconsin athletic director.

1942 WISCONSIN STAR

He's been named to the Wisconsin Athletic Hall of Fame (1965), to professional football's Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio (1968), to the National Football Hall of Fame in New York (1974), and to the Madison Sports Hall of Fame (1977).

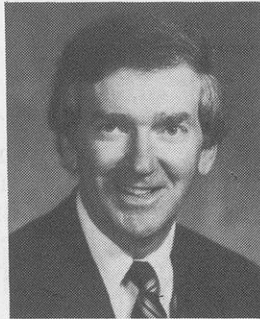

He's also a member of the all-time NFL All-Star team for his play as end and flanker during his nine year career with the Los Angeles Rams.

Elroy and his wife, Ruth, are the parents of son Win Stephen, Los Angeles, and daughter Patricia Caroline, a recent University of Wisconsin graduate.

HUSKIE OUTLOOK

First-year Head Coach Lee Corso inherits an NIU team that posted a 10-2 record in 1983, including a win in the California Bowl. Corso will have 31 lettermen to work with, as well as 13 starters on offense and defense, in 1984. Biggest loss is MAC "MVP" and '83 QB Tim Tyrrell. Back is running back Darryl Richardson (1,260 yards, 8 TD's), tight end Reggie Sims (27 catches, 279 yards) and standout linebacker Tim Griffin (116 tackles). Possible replacement for Tyrrell at quarterback is Darryl Taylor, who saw limited playing time in eight games a year ago. On the offensive line, NIU returns second-team All-MAC guard Todd Peat and center Dan Feely. Defensively, the entire starting line returns with the exception of end Sheldon Sobol. Second-team All-MAC choice Gary Schlinger is back at the other end, as well as tackles Scott Kellar and Steve O'Malley and noseguard Doug Bartlett.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

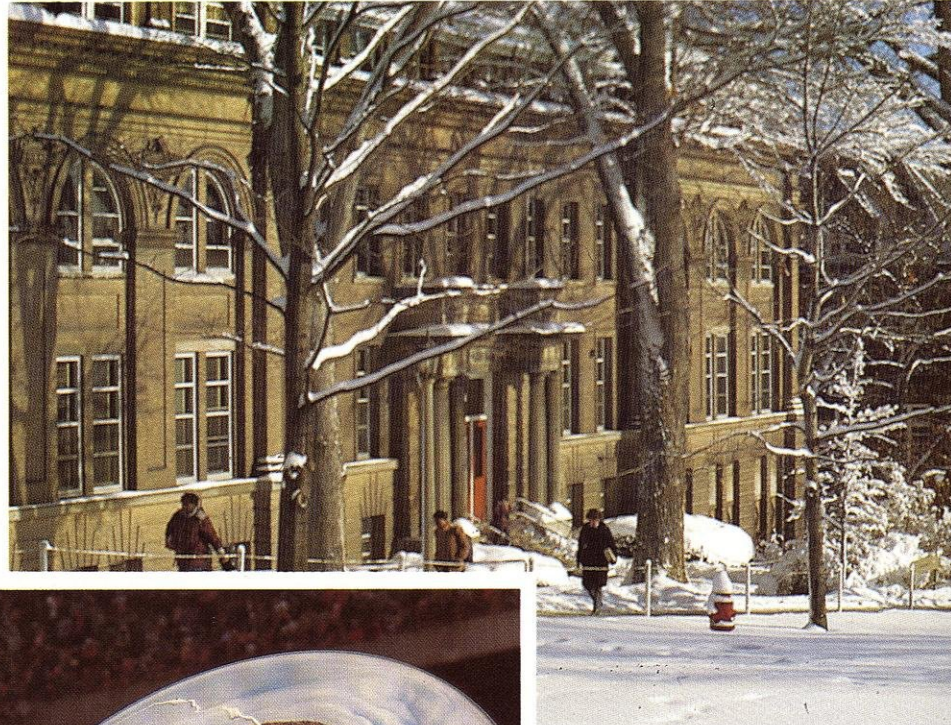

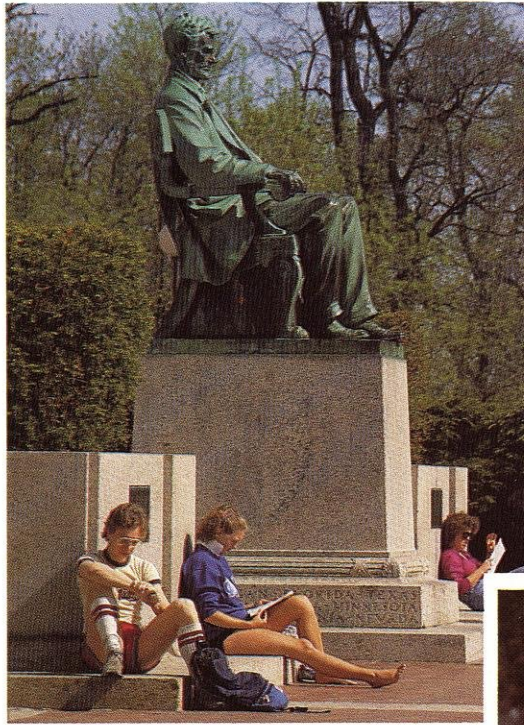

The University of Wisconsin, established in 1848, ranks among the great universities in the world in size, scope, and academic excellence. It has finished among the top ten educational institutions in the United States in every published study of faculty and administrative opinion since the early 1900's.

Situated amidst five fresh-water lakes and rolling hills, the University of Wisconsin is one of the most enchanting campuses in America. It sits on the south shore of impressive Lake Mendota, encompassing more than three hundred buildings and 900 acres of land—most within two blocks of the lake. There is beautiful and green Bascom Hill. A 129-acre picturesque peninsula known as Picnic Point. The vibrant, pedestrian State Street Mall—lined with unique shops and restaurants. The on-the-hour ringing bells of Carillon Tower. 78,000-seat Camp Randall Stadium and the new-in-'83 Southeast Recreational Facility.

Almost four thousand different courses are offered at Wisconsin. Majors are available in more than 149 bachelor's, 188 master's and 121 doctor's degrees programs. The American Council on Education ranked the University "distinguished" or strong in 26 of 29 academic disciplines surveyed. The Gourman Study on national educational standards ranked the UW as having 49 academic disciplines in the top ten in the nation for undergraduate education. Dairy science was rated number one, education, microbiology/bacteriology, zoology and physical education all ranked number two. Particular praise was given to the departments of chemical engineering, geography, botany, history, Spanish and bio-chemistry.

UW-Madison ranked eighth among the nation's leading institutions in faculty quality in a survey of more than 4,000 professors at four-year colleges. Wisconsin departments won a ranking in 12 of the 19 academic fields in a 1977 survey published in 1979 by the Chronicle of Higher Education. Highest ranking for the UW were second in agriculture, third in biological sciences, fourth in foreign languages and sociology, fifth in education and history, sixth in chemistry, seventh in mathematics-statistics, eighth in engineering and political science, ninth in economics and tenth in psychology.

Three faculty members have won Nobel Prizes, the most recent being Professor Howard Temin, oncologist, who won the 1975 award in medicine. Dr. Joshua Lederberg won the 1958 prize for his studies of the genetic material in bacteria, and Dr. Har Gobind Khorana was recognized in 1968 for his pioneering work in the field of nucleic acid chemistry.

The University of Wisconsin has its own nuclear reactor, one of the finest textile collections in the country, a building in which nearly every conceivable environmental condition can be simulated, a collection of more than 1,700 United Artists Corporation movies from 1919 to 1951, and a mastodon skeleton. As you can see, an array of intellectual experiences are available to all students.

Excellence at the University of Wisconsin results from the continued financial support provided by the citizens of Wisconsin, and from the University's dedication to providing maximum educational opportunities for all state citizens, the acquisition of new knowledge through research, and the application of knowledge to the improvement and use of society.

WILDCAT OUTLOOK:

Northwestern Head Football Coach Dennis Green enters his fourth season with the Wildcats saying his team is "where it should be" following three years of rebuilding under his tutelage. The Wildcats have won five games over the past two seasons, their most wins in back-to-back years since 1974-75. "We played pretty well in 1982 and again at times in '83," Green said. "But we have to be a better defensive team, one that can shut people down, if we are going to make progress in this league." Northwestern returns six starters on offense, including record-setting quarterback Sandy Schwab, and ten on defense for 1984.

FIGHTING ILLINI OUTLOOK:

Duplicating last season's perfect 9-0 Big Ten record will be difficult at best, but look for Illinois to contend for the league title once again in 1984. Seven starters return on offense, including quarterback Jack Trudeau (2,446 yards, 18 TD's), running back Thomas Rooks (853 yards) and receiver David Williams (59 catches, 870 yards). White must replace tight end Tim Brewster, running back Dwight Beverly and receiver Mitchell Brookins. On defense, Illinois has lost its front four - including Don Thorp and Mark Butkus - as well as several linebackers. But there is new talent at Champaign, and if White can rebuild the defense quickly, Illinois will again be a powerhouse. Returning to handle the kicking chores again this Fall will be Chris White (39-40 PAT's; 13-22 FG's).

BUCKEYE OUTLOOK:

Ohio State returns eight starters from last year's 9-3 team including QB Mike Tomczak and tailback Keith Byars (1,199 yards) on offense and tackles Dave Morrill and Dave Crecelius on defense. Byars led the Big Ten in rushing and scoring last year (22 TD's), while Tomczak threw for 1,942 yards in '83 play. The offensive line will be strong with tackle Mark Krowicz, guard Scott Zalenski and center Kirk Lowdermilk. Also back is kicker Rich Spangler, who was 53 out of 54 PATs and three of seven field goals. The big question mark for the Buckeyes in '84 will be defense, as Bruce must replace eight starters. The Buckeyes lost three league games in 1983 - Iowa, Illinois and Michigan - but have all three teams at home this Fall.

HAWKEYE OUTLOOK:

Iowa will be one of the teams to beat in the Big Ten in 1984, following a 9-3 (7-2 Big Ten) record in '83. All 11 defensive starters return from last year's 14th ranked Iowa team, including All-American linebacker Larry Station, and All-Big Ten tackle Paul Hufford and all-league safety Mike Stoops. On offense, however, the Hawkeyes must replace nine starters, including the entire frontline. Fry does, however, return standout QB Chuck Long (2,601 yards) and top rusher Owen Gill (798 yards, 10 TD's). The kicking game will be solid with Tom Nichol (44-47 PAT's, 14-21 FG's) returning. He will handle the punting chores as well. The Hawkeyes have a favorable schedule this autumn, with Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin all at home.

Youth will be the keynote of the 1984 Purdue football team, as Burnett will have approximately 45 players with first-year eligibility. Thirty-seven lettermen return from 1983's team, with four starters on offense and seven starters on defense back. Top returnees on offense are wide receiver Jeff Price (40 catches, 633 yards), tackles Doug Isbell and Paul Alekna, and guard Mark Drenth. On defense, the Boilermakers will look to free safety Rod Woodson (85 tackles), tackles Derek Wiberly and Melvin Menke, and linebacker Kevin Sumlin (91 tackles). The heir-apparent to Scott Campbell at QB is Jim Everett while the top returning rusher is Rodney Carter, who had 174 yards on 40 carries a year ago. Purdue was 3-5-1 in the Big Ten in 1983, and will look to improve on that mark in '84.

SPARTAN OUTLOOK:

The Spartans head into the second year of Head Coach George Perles' rebuilding plan with 15 of 22 starters returning from a 1983 team that posted a respectable 4-6-1 record. Gone is All-American Carl Banks at linebacker, but Perles does return senior captain James Morrissey - another linebacker - who had 130 tackles a year ago, free safety Phil Parker, cornerback Lonnie Young, quarterback Dave Yarema, center Mark Napolitan and All-American punter and place-kicker Ralf Mojsiejko. MSU, which ranked third in total defense in the Big Ten in 1983, will again be one of the league's toughest defenses. The biggest problem facing the Green and White in 1984 will be the offense. The Spartans were 10th in total offense a year ago, but that was without standout QB Yarema, who was hurt in the Illinois game.

WISCONSIN ALL-TIME FOOTBALL TEAM

Six All-American football players were picked on Wisconsin all-time football team by fans during the 1969 centennial season of collegiate football.

Fullback Alan "The Horse" Ameche, 1953 and 1954 All-American and 1954 Heisman Trophy winner, was voted Wisconsin's all-time greatest football player in the poll.

In the backfield with Ameche are quarterback Ron Vander Kelen (1962); and Marlin "Pat" Harder and Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch, members of the famed 1942 Wisconsin team that posted an 8-1-1 record and a No. 3 national ranking.

The ends named are All-American Dave Schreiner (1941 and 1942) and Pat Richter (1961 and 1962.)

Linemen honored included Robert "Red" Wilson (1946-49); Howard "Cub" Buck (1915); Arlie Mucks, Sr. (1914); Dan Lanphear (1959); and Ken Bowman (1961-63).

TEN BADGERS PICKED IN FIRST ROUND

A total of ten University of Wisconsin football players have been first round choices by National Football League teams since the first draft of collegiate talent following the 1935 college season.

The Green Bay Packers picked three Badgers as their first round choice — fullback Eddie Jankowski in 1937; fullback George Paskvan in 1941, and quarterback Earl "Jug" Girard in 1948.

The old Chicago Cardinals (St. Louis today) drafted fullback Pat Harder in the first round in 1944; the Los Angeles Rams (nee Cleveland) took halfback Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch as a first round choice in 1945; fullback Alan "The Horse" Ameche was a first round pick of the Baltimore Colts in 1955; the Oakland Raiders (then in the AFL) took quarterback Dale Hackbart first in 1960; end Pat Richter was the first choice of the Washington Redskins in 1963; Dennis Lick was drafted sixth by the Chicago Bears in 1976; and tackle Ray Snell went in the first round to the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1980.

CAMP RANDALL STADIUM

The University of Wisconsin is proud that its sports center is more than just an athletic field—and that the drama and excitement of football seasons are set against a backdrop of colorful Wisconsin history.

In its 91 years of ownership, the University has expanded the facilities there until they include a large stadium, fieldhouse, memorial practice building and football practice fields.

CAMP RANDALL STADIUM, 1910.

But the University didn't name it. The name was decided long before that by veterans of the Civil War who knew it was a great military camp named for a wartime governor. When the University took it over they insisted that the name be preserved forever as a memorial to their fallen friends.

In the days before the Civil War, the site was owned by the State Agricultural Society whose yearly state fairs attracted holidaying throngs there. With the outbreak of the war, however, the society turned the place over to the government to become the state's major training center.

The land again became the state fair grounds when peace returned and when Gen. U.S. Grant visited it 15 years later, he hailed the transformation as "a symbol of beating the spears of war into the plowshares of peace."

Other visitors to the grounds were Gens. Sherman and Sheridan and Pres. Hayes. When the state fair was moved to Milwaukee and a few years later even the Dane County Agricultural Society stopped using it for fairs, the Civil War veterans were furious to learn the land was to be sold for building lots.

Blasting the "sordid sacrilege," they urged the legislature to buy it and in 1893 the state presented it to the University as a memorial athletic field.

When the question of a name arose, the veterans promptly carried the day for "camp" instead of "field."

Intercollegiate athletics had been started at Wisconsin in 1881 and the University has had a football team since 1889. The school won its first great victory in 1894, defeating Minnesota 6-0 in a game on the lower campus that part of the crowd watched from fringed surreys. The great teams of '96, '97, and '01 were among the first to play at the new field.

The University had a "real" stadium by 1913 but its stands were still wooden. The legislature declined to pay for concrete—and consequently, was promptly blamed when a large section collapsed Nov. 21, 1915, at the climactic Wisconsin-Minnesota game.

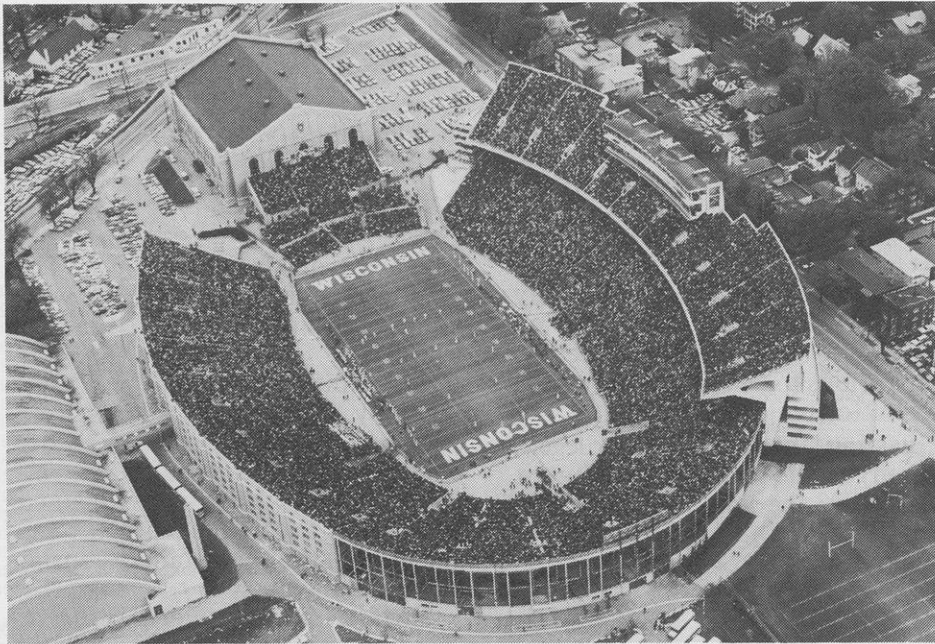

Twenty people were injured, some seriously, and only the fact that the seats fell slowly prevented more casualties among the 1,800 in the area.

So in 1917 the present stadium—following completion of the 1966 addition—was started with a grant of $15,000 from the legislature. The rest of the money was earned by athletic events and the stadium, which now seats 77,280, is the only one in the Big Ten to "pay its own way" that way. Permanent dormitories were built, housing 150 men, but this space now is used as athletic department offices and training quarters.

The first game to be played in Camp Randall Stadium was the 1917 homecoming game against Minnesota's Golden Gophers. The Badgers won the game 10-7 to hand the Gophers their only Big Ten loss, relegating them to second place in the final conference standings.

CAMP RANDALL STADIUM AS IT LOOKS TODAY.

The original capacity of the stadium when first utilized in 1917 was 10,000, with permanent seats being added in stages to increase seating capacity.

There have been three enlargements to Camp Randall Stadium since the end of World War II. The first, in 1950 and 1951, saw the completion of the horseshoe at the north end of the stadium.

The running track was eliminated in 1958 expansion which saw the playing field lowered by ten feet to add almost 12,000 seats to the stadium capacity which grew to 63,435 at the time.

The addition of the second deck on the west side of the stadium in 1966 added almost 13,000 prime viewing seats, including the modern Communications Center.

The current capacity of 77,280 makes Camp Randall Stadium the seventh largest college owned stadium in the United States—exceeded only by those at Michigan, Stanford, Ohio State, Tennessee, Penn State, and Georgia.

The fieldhouse at the open end of the stadium horseshoe was built in 1930 for almost $500,000 and has a seating capacity of 12,204 following renovation in 1976.

TWO BADGER NUMBERS RETIRED

Two football jersey numbers have been retired in Wisconsin's football history. They are No. 80, worn by All-American end Dave Schreiner when he was an All-American end in 1941 and 1942; and No. 83, worn by quarterback Allan J. Shafer in 1944.

Schreiner was killed in action with the U.S. Marine Corps during the battle of Okinawa, June, 1945. Shafer was fatally injured in the second half of the 1944 Wisconsin-Iowa football game and died shortly after Wisconsin had defeated the Hawkeyes 26-7 in Camp Randall stadium, November 11, 1944.

The Kangaroo Kicker

PAT O'DEA OF WISCONSIN

THE FIRST TIME Pat O'Dea kicked a football on the University of Wisconsin campus, the reaction of spectators was so violent that he thought he had committed some sort of public offense.

Now, 85 years later, any Badger unable to identify the Kangaroo Kicker's famed deeds with a football would attract some eyebrow lifting, so indelibly have Pat O'Dea's exploits been written into Wisconsin and American gridiron annals.

Pat O'Dea was a football star shining 50 years too soon. He had everything which goes to make up a modern athletic idol—personal charm, magnificent appearance, supreme skill in a spectacular specialty. Playing football as he did for Wisconsin from 1896 to 1899, his name would be on the lips of every sports enthusiast.

Just imagine a college player today drop-kicking four field goals in one game, or being credited with 14 field goals in a single season, or sending punts booming down field 80 to 100 yards, or booting field goals 65 yards away from the goal posts!

The records kept at the turn of the century fail to do Pat O'Dea justice and a reference to just one of his kicking feats in 1899 proves it. Wisconsin was playing at Minnesota in mid-November and the Badgers, though favored to win, were held to a scoreless tie in the first half and the stalemate continued into the third period.

Knowlton of Minnesota got off a punt of only 30 yards and O'Dea, playing safety, called for a fair catch but his 50-yard field goal attempt was wide by a narrow margin. The events which immediately followed were thus described in the Minneapolis Journal:

"Minnesota brought the ball in 25 yards and again Knowlton punted. The ball flew straight to O'Dea 10 yards beyond center and with Gil Dobie right under it. Great was the surprise of the Minnesota men to see O'Dea dodge an attack from Dobie and then deliberately kick a drop from the center of the field. A nicer kick could not have been made and Wisconsin had a score, 5-0".

The play broke the heart of the Minnesota team and Wisconsin went on to win 19-0. Yet this almost unbelievable play was only briefly noted in "The Field Goal Record, 1873-1931," in the Official Intercollegiate Football Guide in this casual manner:

"40 yards, by P.J. O'Dea (Wisconsin) vs Minnesota, Nov. 18, 1899".

The field, at that time, was 110 yards long, goal line to goal line. As stated by the Minnesota paper, O'Dea caught the ball 10 yards beyond center, which means 65 yards from the Wisconsin goal. Dobie, the Gopher end, who later became a famous coach, always maintained afterwards that O'Dea's kick was the greatest individual play he ever saw in any football game.

Describing it, Dobie said that, after eluding him, O'Dea ran toward the sideline, not kicking until several Minnesota players converged upon him. The kick, therefore, was at a difficult angle, made harder by the fact that O'Dea, a right footed kicker, was running toward his own left.

Some newspaper accounts of the play gave the distance of the kick as 60 yards and none which reported the game placed it less than 55 yards.

Patrick John O'Dea was born in Melbourne, Australia, and was an athletic luminary at Victoria high school and Krew college in his native city. His father owned a stock ranch and Pat lived the typical young rancher's life when not in school. He soon became one of the fastest backs and greatest kickers in the Antipodes and, at the age of 16, was chosen as an All-Australian halfback.

Pat's older brother, Andy, came to the United States early in the '90's in the retinue of Frank "Paddy" Slavin, champion heavy-weight fighter of the Antipodes. Andy, a famous amateur oarsman, football player, and boxer in his youth, turned to coaching rowing soon after he reached the States and had considerable success with the Lurlines, an amateur Minneapolis club. He came to Wisconsin as varsity crew coach in 1895 and he probably was the most surprised man in the world one sunny afternoon in the spring of 1896 when a tall youth in a blue flannel lounging suit and tiny cap affected by English varsity oarsmen, strolled up to him on the float of the Wisconsin boat house and said, "Hello, Andy." It was characteristic of both O'Deas that the elder returned the salutation with an equally laconic "Hello, Pat. When did you get in?"

Pat took such work as he could in their remaining weeks of the spring term and in September was regularly enrolled in the pre-legal course at Wisconsin. One day when football practice was going on in front of the Old Red Armory, the ball bounded over to Pat who was watching the drill along the sidelines. To return the ball, Pat simply reverted to form and booted the pigskin the length of the field.

Coaches, players, and sideliners erupted with a concerted shout and converged on Pat who feared he had committed some offense in touching the ball. But the rush on Pat was to recruit him, so, after some talk, he agreed to put on a suit next day and, in his words, "try and learn something about the crazy American version of the game".

The young Australian rugby player soon picked up the American style and was allowed to play a few minutes in the opening game against Lake Forest. He was in long enough to boot one punt 85 yards and three more, each more than 50 yards. In the next week of practice, Pat broke his arm and was sidelined until the post-season game with the Carlisle Indians in the original Chicago Coliseum on the south side of the Windy City. The game probably was the first to be played under artificial lights indoors.

The following year, O'Dea became Wisconsin's regular fullback and played throughout the 1897, 1898, and 1899 seasons, twice being chosen on the All-American squads selected by Walter Camp.

Pat's tremendous kicking ability was utilized to utmost by the Badger coach, Phil King, who developed the punting game as Wisconsin's strongest offense, reserving the powerful rushing attack until within scoring distance. O'Dea many times would punt on first down and the exchange on kicks invariably was in Wisconsin's favor by a huge margin.

Until Pat's senior year, Coach King seldom permitted him to carry the ball, although the traditional fullback of that time was a line backer, headed all interference over and outside tackle, and backed up the line on defense. King so devised the plays that O'Dea swung in behind to push the runner, which the rules then permitted. On defense, he played in the safety division and few have played in better.

Often Pat would open the scoring with a drop kick which then counted five points and Wisconsin would follow up with touchdowns against a demoralized opponent still dazed over seeing the ball soar through the goal posts from a starting point near the middle of the field.

In the 1897 season, Pat kicked eight field goals, one a 55-yarder against Minnesota and another for 57 yards against the arch-rival Chicago team. The next season, 1898, Pat kicked for 10 field goals, one of them a record 65-yarder against Northwestern, and in his senior year, he drop-kicked 13 field goals and place-kicked a 57-yarder for added measure. In that span of four years, Wisconsin won 33 games, lost just five, and tied one.

The 65-yard drop kick against Northwestern was made on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, 1898 at Evanston, Ill., and Pat wasted no time in performing the deed at the outset of the game.

Pat, residing in San Francisco in 1954 where he actively led Badger alumni functions, tells of the kick in a letter to Art Lentz, then Wisconsin's Sports Information Director:

"Northwestern took the kickoff but immediately punted from the 25 yard line. We then used one play to get to the center of the 110 yard field where the ball was placed in a marked circle. I called the kick signal and dropped back about 12 yards, took one step and booted the ball between the posts for a field goal. Wisconsin went on to win 47-0."

Proof of this record kick was given in newspapers and added confirmation came later from George Haight, a prominent Wisconsin alumnus, who presented a letter of certification from two Northwestern players.

O'Dea's great place kick does not appear in the official records although it is well authenticated. It was made against Illinois on Nov. 11, 1899 in a game played at Milwaukee. O'Dea's long punt soared into the end zone and the rules required Illinois to immediately punt back from the 25. O'Dea called to Bill Juneau to make a fair catch and the ball was taken just a few feet inside the sideline 57 yards away from the goal. O'Dea originally intended to use a drop kick but the referee ruled that Juneau would have to hold the ball. O'Dea then calmly place-kicked the ball through the uprights, clear over the bleachers and into the street. Old-timers recall that the ball must have sailed at least 80 yards through the air!

O'Dea was the greyhound type of athlete, standing 6-1½ in height and weighing around 165 in playing condition. His legs were abnormally long and highly developed. He had real speed for he could run the 100 in 10 seconds and the quarter in 50 seconds. He was used as a high hurdler in track at Wisconsin and once ran a dead heat for first place in the Big Ten finals within a fifth of a second of the then world's record.

O'Dea's punting style was peculiarly his own. As he swung his right foot into the ball, he lifted himself completely into the air, his left foot leaving the ground six or eight inches. On his follow through, his right foot was well above his head.

Although the spiral kick was new to him when he started in American football, he quickly mastered it but always reverted to his Australian style of "end-over-end" kicking during the regular games.

He got off his punts very fast and often electrified the crowds by dodging tacklers and, on the run, kick the ball 60 or more yards. In drop kicking, his style was more like that of American players but there was a freedom and confidence in his swing that was unique. Rarely was he called upon to try short kicks and that's why so few of them appear in the records.

For drops of 40 to 60 yards, he needed a full swing, so he dropped the ball farther ahead of him than most kickers and from the height of his waist.
