Regent Board Backs President on Cohen

By STEVE SHULRUFF
Cardinal Staff Writer

With 200 students lining the walls of a plush, new Van Hise Hall meeting room, the Board of Regents voted Friday to hold a hearing in the case of Robert Cohen to "consider the termination of his appointment as a teaching assistant."

The motion was passed by a 6-3 vote after a proposal to fire Cohen immediately by Regent Bernard Ziegler, West Bend was voted down.

Cohen will remain on the University payroll and can continue his teaching duties unless the Regents take action after the hearing. No date was set for the hearing at Friday's meeting although Cohen will have 20 days after he receives notification to prepare his case.

The Regents action came in response to a recommendation from Harrington. Harrington stated that his examination of "the grave cases against Robert Cohen" showed sufficient grounds for Cohen's dismissal.

Harrington added that since teaching assistants are not covered under provisions for the hiring and firing of regular faculty, "the Regents might well take initial jurisdiction" in Cohen's case.

Faculty Firing

In an attempt to deal with what Pres. Fred Harvey Harrington termed "an obvious situation of crisis," Regent Walter Renk, Sun Prairie, presented a proposal calling for the dismissal of any faculty member or teaching assistant who participated in the student strike following the Oct. 18 Dow demonstration.

The motion failed by only one vote—4 to 5.

Cohen and Others Appear At Faculty Conduct Panel

By WILLIAM LAZARUS
and ALLAN SWERDLOWE

The Administrative Division of the Committee on Student Conduct and Appeals postponed the hearings of Robert Weiland, Evan Stark, William Simons, Carlos Joly, and Robert Cohen for the third consecutive time Friday.

The hearing, before being adjourned early was highlighted when Simons, addressing himself to committee chairman Dean George Young, law, said "I find these proceedings extremely Australian your honor" apparently feeling that he was involved in a "Kangaroo Court."

Cohen and the others are being charged by the University with misconduct, as well as a violation of Chapter 11.02 and 11.15 of the University Policies on the Use of Facilities and Outside Speakers

CSR Plans March

The Committee on Students Rights (CSR) has planned a peaceful march to the State Capitol Rotunda on Tuesday to present an oral petition to the Governor or Acting Governor requesting that the legislature remain out of University affairs. Members of the march will assemble at the Library Mall at one for a short rally before the march. The CSR was refused a march permit on the grounds that permits are not issued for acts of this nature. Prof. Anatole Beck, mathematics, and Asst. Chancellor James W. Cleary are attempting to alleviate this and get the permit.

The CSR has scheduled a meeting Monday night at 7:30 in the Union so that the petition can be approved by the general membership.

Air Force Backs Out

By GREGORY GRAZE
and BILL HOEL

Special to The Daily Cardinal

The Central Intelligence Agency will definitely hold interviews Nov. 27-28, although they will be off campus, despite Pres. Fred Harvey Harrington's statement to the Regents that the agency had cancelled out.

Harrington told the Regents Friday afternoon, "they are not coming. This is their decision not ours." But, as of late Friday night a CIA spokesman in Washington said that they indeed would be here as scheduled, but that the interviews would be held off campus at a Federal building in Madison such as the Post Office.

A spokesman from the local Air Force recruiting office in Madison confirmed what Harrington told the Regents about Air Force interviews not being held on campus as planned. Instead, those interviews will be arranged privately with the individuals involved. Although the Air Force's were the bulk of the armed forces interviews, the Army and Marine Corps recruitment will go on as planned Monday and Tuesday in the Camp Randall Memorial Building.

The CIA spokesman, Friday, also denied the reports from Rep. Robert Kastenmeier's office in Washington that the agency was cancelling campus interviews across the country pending a policy declaration.

The spokesman, who asked not to be identified, said, "we see no need for a general policy. We recruit at several hundred schools and each is a different situation. At many other campuses, recruiting is going on as normal."

"If we thought that we would disturb the academic operations of a school, we would not come—we would stay off the campus," he added. He did not say what prompted the decision to stay off the University campus.

Robert Taylor, special assistant to Pres. Harrington, said that the University would not notify the CIA that any threat to the interviews existed, because, he said, the only open threat, posed by the Students for a Democratic Society, has been enjoined by the courts.

Concerning the armed forces interviews, Monday, Harrington reported that "while there has been talk of disruption, we're certain that everything will go along smoothly."

He also noted that in addition to University Protection and Security, Madison city, and Dane county police, Madison officials have called in an added 200 riot trained police from 20 other counties.

Chancellor William Sewell has appointed observers to witness the proceedings and "I would request everyone to resist the temptation to gather there," Harrington said.

Six ARGO Senators Elected

By CHRIS MORRIS
Cardinal Staff Writer

University students, seemingly disenchanted by extremes of the left and the right, Thursday voted the moderate Alliance for Responsible Government Objectives (ARGO) party into six of the 12 contested Student Senate seats.

The formerly powerful Students' Rights Party (SRP) grabbed one seat, while University Community Action gained two chairs. The right-wing Challenge slate won no seats.

On the Cardinal Board of Control, the older parties retained the seats, with UCA taking three positions and SRP's Ann Amore, a veteran of the Cardinal Board, capturing the junior woman position.

In referenda concerning the newly drafted Wisconsin Student Association constitution and the Articles of Incorporation, the voters, manifesting some doubts as to the handling of the student power issue by the senate, failed to supply the 75% affirmative vote needed to ratify the articles. The Cardinal Board Amendment received its required 50 per cent approval. In the district-by-district counts:

* Tom Scheider of ARGO amassed a large plurality over the SRP candidate Karlyn Herbolzheimer.

* UCA and SRP candidates in District 3 were rejected for the less polarized ARGO candidates Carol Beule (short term) and Daniel Theno (long term).

* With the two front-runners in District 4 separated by seven votes, a recount is in process.

* District 5 students, unwilling to vote for either incumbent senator Bill Kaplan (UCA) or reactionary Jeanne Capak (Challenge), racked up large totals for Steve Alpert (short term) and Ann Einberger (long term) of ARGO.

* Robert "Zorba" Paster of UCA won an overwhelming victory in the previously left-leaning District 6.

* Districts 7 and 8, due to vot-

Nixon Asks Lasting Peace

By JOSHUA GREENE
and STEVEN REINER

Former Vice-President Richard M. Nixon, in a press conference Friday morning, expanded on his opinions of the Johnson administration, the Vietnam war, and the draft resistance movement.

In regard to Vietnam, Nixon agreed with President Johnson by saying that "the object of American policy in Vietnam must be a lasting peace." He went on to explain that "this very objective rules out the annihilation of North Vietnam. The total surrender of North Vietnam would only result, in the end, with a bigger war."

"Administrations in the past have made this a longer war than needs to be fought," Nixon stated. "Changes must also be made in the present administration. What the American public wants and deserves," he continued, "is honesty about this war. By honesty, I mean not what has been said, but what has not been said." Nixon added that "this is the most difficult task of all—to present the war in a proper light to the American people."

When questioned about the draft resistance movement, Mr. Nixon replied that he did not agree "with their position that objection should result in illegal action. However, I do not share the opinion of some that their (the dissenters') punishment should be to draft them."

The former Vice-President stated emphatically that "the CIA

RALLY TODAY

There will be a rally today at 8:30 a.m. on the library mall to discuss strategy of any possible demonstration against the CIA presence in Madison. Reportedly, they will be holding interviews off campus.

From the rally, students will go to Student Court to attend the hearings concerning the restraining of certain groups against obstruction in campus demonstrations. The hearings will begin at 9 a.m.

Monday, a peaceful demonstration beginning at 8 a.m. will take place at the Camp Randall Memorial Building protesting Army and Marine Corps there.

By JOE LAGODNEY
Cardinal Staff Writer

State Circuit Judge William Jackman today handed down a sweeping injunction that severely restricts the actions of the campus left in the future. The injunction forbids any student from "obstructing the functions of the University," counseling such obstruction, singing or chanting in hallways in a "disruptive" manner and speaking loudly. This injunction was severely objected by Percy Julian, defense counsel for the eight students specifically charged in the complaint for the injunction, as being unconstitutional. One of the students charged that the injunction was "totalitarian." The injunction specifies that anybody violating the terms of the injunction be held liable for contempt of court. Under Wisconsin law, contempt of court carries an unlimited penalty.

Meanwhile U.S. District Judge James Doyle refused to include the Wisconsin disorderly conduct statute in a restraining order he issued Thursday. That restraining order specifically prevented the University from taking disciplinary action against students for alleged violation of Faculty code 11.02 and Regents Code 36.12. Judge Doyle refused to include Faculty code 11.15 in the restraining order because he would not assume that the University would use it. Doyle went on to say, however, that if the University chose to use 11.15 he saw that there was a valid question of constitutionality regarding it. There is some question whether the action of the Faculty Administrative section involved the use of 11.15.

Doyle also sent out a request to Chief Justice of the United States Seventh Circuit Thomas Hastings in Chicago to convene a special three judge panel to hear the questions of the constitutionality of those rules included in his restraining order.

Julian attempted late Thursday to gain a writ of prohibition against Judge Jackman from the Wisconsin Supreme Court. Julian claimed that Jackman should be disqualified from the case because an affidavit of prejudice was filed against him. The Supreme Court held that Julian had filed the affidavit too late.

Julian is expected to file a complaint before Judge Doyle charging that Jackman's injunction is unconstitutional.

Students Seek Injunction

By CORY GANN
Cardinal Staff Writer

Today at 9 a.m. 18 individuals and six campus organizations are expected to appear in Student Court to contest an injunction on any obstruction sought by Student prosecutors Ray Riordan Jr. and Kenneth Jost. The prosecution is seeking a temporary injunction pending permanent action by the Court.

Chief Defense Council Jon Siegel and Co-council Ronald Tropp are representing most of the organizations and individuals, among them several who, according to Siegel, have not yet been properly served official notices of the Student Court action. According to Riordan, the injunction will not apply to those who aren't served prior to the proceedings.

Students for a Democratic Society, University Community Action, Concerned Black People, Young Democrats, Committee for Direct Action, and the Committee to End the War in Vietnam, have been singled out by the Court on the basis of prior conduct and, according to Riordan, "because they have shown intent to obstruct." Riordan is confident the injunction will be granted, noting that the proceedings are important because of the "special remedies" that the Court can impose on prospective violators.

Siegel is of a different opinion. Seeing the proceedings as "part of a planned attack by University Officials who authorized the Court action" he expressed confidence that the Student Court will reach a "rational decision." He warned, however, that the proceeding may "go the distance" and that the decision may not be known before Sunday.

Comments on Sewell and the 'U' Forum

Sewell Has Rights Suggests Answer

To the Editor:

On Nov. 13, Chancellor Sewell was asked a question which basically came down to "Given that the nature of the CIA is destructive of the processes of a democracy and given that a stand of neutrality on this issue amounts to upholding the status quo, why should the University allow the CIA to recruit on campus?" Sewell then chose to exercise his constitutional right to refrain from answering that question.

Undoubtedly there will be childish criticisms from the "long-haired, greasy pigs," whom we all know are communist sympathizers. They will make the asinine assertion that since the assembly was a forum, and that since a forum is a place for discussion, our beloved Chancellor should have been willing to discuss. This, of course, requires no comment.

Who would deny Chancellor Sewell's God-given right to take the 5th Amendment? What decent citizen in this great nation of ours would deny this champion of rights and order the right to not incriminate himself?

I certainly hope that the Committee to Defend Individual Rights, that great protector of democracy and human dignity, will take up this stand.

Don Howard Sheldon

To the Editor:

At the University Forum (Nov. 13) Chancellor Sewell posed a question in answer to another question when asked why would the Administration allow a situation which could evolve into events like those of Bloody 18th rather than keep the CIA off campus, he answered (asked?) why would a group of students create a situation that would lead to such an occurrence? There was no answer given. May I suggest we all look to Edmond Burke who stated man's responsibility plainly enough: "All that is necessary for evil to thrive, is that good men do nothing about it."

Howard Golden

No Answers Given

To the Editor:

An open letter to Chancellor Sewell
Why do you think we came to hear you on Monday (Nov. 13) night? The topic of discussion was to be the coming CIA job interviews; we came to engage in a dialogue with you. We came to exercise free speech and perhaps find meaningful answers through open debate. This is the classic liberal method to arrive at "peaceful social change," to which you purportedly subscribe.

Why then did you refuse to engage in debate? Why did you refuse to explain why you are making no plans to avert further violence? Why did you refuse to answer the first question of the evening which dealt with the right of the CIA to appear on campus? By your refusal to answer these crucial questions, you have eliminated any meaningful dialogue on our campus.

And this brings us to our most vital query—Now that you have refused to engage in a debate with us or even answer our questions, what alternatives do you leave us?

Will you refuse to answer even this?

Hillel Students

Leave CIA Off Campus

To the Editor:

We, the undersigned members of the Hillel Student Council, have arrived at the following statement.

The present policy of the placement service is such that the University will host only "equal opportunity" employers in keeping with its aims and spirit. The CIA, while ostensibly acting to protect American power, operates beyond all laws and morality, without the consent of Congress and thus the American people, being subject only to the dicta of force and violence. The actions of the CIA are therefore as inconsistent with the aims and spirit of this University as the actions of discriminatory employers.

Many students and faculty members, ourselves included, have sensed since the Dow demonstration and its aftermath that the University is no longer (if indeed it ever was) a community dedicated to the education of minds and character, and to a common search for truth. As Jews we are sensitive to the fact that law and order are important to the functioning of society. As a result of World War Two, however, we have become ever more sensitive to the fact that respect for rules and authority is not the be-all and end-all of society, and that it can lead to a travesty of the ideals of the human community. In keeping with its role as educator of society, the University must recognize its obligation to uphold the principles for which it stands. In agreement with its own policy of exclusion, the University Placement Service should not allow the CIA to conduct career interviews on this campus.

People on both sides of the issue have been moving towards a violent confrontation with each other. At this point we feel that the people involved can still relate to each other as human beings, and not as wielders of fists, clubs, guns, or rocks. Non-violence is an important form of protest and we recognize the legitimacy and need of such protest at this time. We hope the students will see non-violence as the best and most effective means of protest; but we also hope that the University administration and the people of this state will not be drawn into a process whose end will be the perversion of the ideals of our University and society.

CIA Has Another Image

To the Editor:

If there is any group at this University which has a real grievance to protest about against the CIA, that group must be the foreign students. But let us do not worry; they will not demonstrate. Why won't they? Is it because (as the Wisconsin State Journal would, no doubt, claim) they are too serious and responsible fellows to waste Wisconsin taxpayers' money, even though, to the W.S.J.'s dismay, the absence of crew-cuts and abundance of beards among them would suggest otherwise? I venture there are other reasons besides:

Ignorance may be a factor, although, somehow I feel that the Central Intelligence Agency is better known abroad than in the USA.

The main reason, of course, is the CIA itself: The best way to start a successful career in their own countries is not through the black list in the U.S. embassy.

For many it is a matter of principle: One cannot at one and the same time object to foreign interference in the political affairs of one's country, and participate in what is basically a political issue in a foreign country.

For others it is more than that. After all, the CIA has liberated in the past quite a few countries from the Kingdom of Evil, for which many foreigners at this university are sincerely grateful, and, with God's blessings, it will continue in the future its missionary work of gaining little nations to the side of freedom and democracy.

Furthermore, the real target of those who would organize the demonstration is basically the Vietnam war, the CIA being just the circumstantial and symbolic victim. Finally, who wants to antagonize a prospective future employer?

It must not, therefore, be surprising to notice the absence of this group of students from the events that will take place on the 27th. This is, as my British friend would put it, a job for the natives.

I may be wrong, however—some foreigners may be lining up for interviews. After all, is there any other group from which the CIA would be more interested in getting some recruits?

Ascension

To paraphrase a gem of yesteryear, a light is going out throughout America; it may never shine again in our lifetimes. Our lifetimes may indeed be very short.

A dynamic is seizing America that has manifested itself in other places and other times. It is no accident that the most accurate chronicles of American life today were written by Thucydides, Edward Gibbon, and Thomas Mann. Further, that high tragedy which America is playing, is being played on a smaller scale at this University.

There is chaos throughout the country. We are in the midst of a fairly severe economic recession, the dispossessed of American cities are arming for revolution, totalitarian methods of repression are beginning to be applied to dissenters. The people of the United States are not being told that the country's armed forces are losing the war in Vietnam; the American people are being told that economic prosperity has never been greater.

At the University of Wisconsin, the students are not told that they no longer have a University, that it has been taken over by reactionary elements.

The Silence of the Sea

No figures have been released as to the decline in class attendance, general grade point average slump, and the number of part time students caused by Black Wednesday. A feeling of despair has taken the country. The productive resources that were once in the hands of a dubious liberalism are passing into the hands of the reactionaries and neo-fascists. America is girding itself for an invasion of North Vietnam. America is subconsciously girding herself for nuclear war. America is preparing to elect anyone of three possible hawk candidates for the Presidency in 1968. Americans subconsciously know that an election might not even take place, for they sense that all power over the course of the nation is completely out of their hands.

Students of the University of Wisconsin are questioning themselves as to what they will do when they are ordered to fight in North Vietnam or Guatemala or South Africa. Students are asking themselves whether they are willing to die before the guns of Wilber Emery's goons.

The people of the United States, sensing that there can be no negotiated solution to war in Vietnam that is acceptable to the powers that be will take on a hawkish spirit reminiscent of the Nuremberg rallies. For they will realize the fact that they are dealing with a power structure that is nakedly fascist. They will realize that in the long run, Vietnam does not matter for its rice or its tin deposits or its military bases; the people of America will realize that Vietnam is only important to justify a system with the blood of American soldiers. What is commonly known as corporate liberalism is exactly the same system that brought Hitler to power. Corporate liberalism in Germany was the product of the reactionary manufacturing class, that was superseded by liberals after Versailles, and because of its unworkability in non-imperialist peacetime passed into the hands of the Nazis. The cries of Lebensraum that were heard to the tune of jackboots were the result of an atmosphere of violence and unconscious authoritarian racism that had begun in the Middle Ages, continued through the first World War and were followed with things like the Kapp putsch. The war in Vietnam is an indication that the Cold War economic machine, that was created by a reactionary business class,

Dane Co. Coliseum Hosts Freshman-Varsity Skaters

By STEVE KLEIN
Contributing Sports Editor

With the Dane County Memorial Coliseum as a backdrop, Wisconsin's varsity hockey team will initiate the 1967-68 season Monday night at 7:30 p.m. against the freshman team.

The Varsity-Freshmen game will be the first hockey game ever played at the Coliseum. The Badgers will play their entire 16 game home schedule at the Coliseum after four years at the Hartmeyer Arena.

The contest will not only be the Coliseum's hockey debut, but will also present hockey fans their first good look at eight sophomores, including goalie Bob Vroman.

"We will find out what the team can do in a game situation in the Coliseum," said Coach Bob Johnson, beginning his second year as head coach. "Bob Vroman will start in the nets, but both our goalies will play. We will use four lines and six defensemen, although during the regular season we can dress only fifteen men besides our two goalies."

son and Mike Gleffe, both juniors, will skate with senior Jeff Carlson, while Bert DeHate will center an all sophomore line of Terry Lennartson and Dick Klipsic.

Johnson had special praise for DeHate, who has played well in the pre-season.

"DeHate," he said, "is twice the skater he was last year." During second semester last year, DeHate scored 14 goals and had 15 assists in only 10 games.

On defense, Johnson will start senior captain Tony Metro with

Coach Don Addison of the freshmen squad will use two goalies, Wayne Thomas and John Anderson. Thomas has looked good in pre-season scrimmages.

Addison will use three lines, but his best line should be Jim Boyd centering Murray Heatley and Stu Henrickson.

The Badgers open their regular schedule next Friday and Saturday with games against Wisconsin State Superior at the Coliseum.

passed into the hands of Liberals is now passing into the control of fascist elements who will not check its progress until it controls the world. The cries of how-much-shit-can-America-take are the result of an atmosphere of violence and racism that has been with America since its discovery. As Auschwitz could be called the inevitable result of German history, the coming annihilation of the big city ghettos could be called the inevitable result of American history. So could the napalmed villages. Why was Lidice so special.

The cattle cars are coming. They have not come yet because of residually free nature of this system. When the invasion of the North comes, as it probably will within the next six months, Americans will be confronted with the choice they have confronted since the beginning of the military-industrial complex—accept the germs and definitions of this system or perish. The unrest which characterizes this period in American history, in its politics, morals, and manners, is that no such definition exists. That definition will be created by the prevailing system.

That definition was created to offset the chaos of Peloponnesian War when Alcibiades cried "On to Syracuse." That definition was created when Augustus destroyed the republic to become emperor and end the chaos. That definition was created when millions of previously decent people surrendered their minds and bodies to Adolf Hitler. Athens fell and Rome fell and Germany was crushed. It can be argued that things might have been different if Alcibiades had never existed, if Augustus and Nero and Diocletian had never existed, if Hitler had never existed. History teaches, however, that an Alcibiades and an Augustus and a Hitler are always on the scene. No one can claim that the folkways of Germany were changed by the Weimar Republic. Likewise, no one can claim that the folkways of America have been changed by the brief reign of John Kennedy.

The essential message is that the system of liberalism inevitably passes over to a form of Fascism. We can only hope that the liberal interests in the system can hold back the Fascists until a strong revolutionary movement is created. The essential battle in the United States is not between the status quo and the dissenters against it, or between the Republicans and the Democrats, but rather between the North-Eastern Liberals and the South West Fascists. This is to say that the battle pits certain corporations against the military and other corporations, between the FBI and the CIA, and between those who cry "On to Syracuse" and those who feel some qualms about napalmed children. The unfortunate lesson to all Americans is that this battle less resembles the Heavenly Host vs. AntiChrist than it does the power struggle between the S.A. and the S.S.

UN Official To Speak Here On "Crisis of Confidence"

Chakravarthi V. Narasimhan, Chef de Cabinet to the United Nations Secretary-General and Under-Secretary for General Assembly Affairs, will speak Sunday at 7:30 in the Great Hall of the Memorial Union.

Mr. Narasimhan, second highest ranking official of the UN Secretariat, will discuss "Crisis of Confidence in the UN." His speech is being sponsored by the WSA Model UN Committee and financed by the University Lecture Committee.

Appointed Chef de Cabinet (chief personal assistant to the Secretary-General) by the late Dag Hammarskjöld in 1961, he continued in that capacity when U Thant became Secretary-General. In 1962 Narasimhan also became Under-Secretary for General Assembly Affairs.

Narasimhan was born in southern India and educated at Madras University and at Oxford. He has received honorary degrees from Williams College and Colgate University.

He began his official career in 1936 in the Madras state government under the Indian civil service, subsequently holding various positions in the national government. He joined the service of the UN in 1956 as Executive Secretary of the UN Economic Commission for Asia and the Far East, in Bangkok.

FOOTBALL FOR SHUT-INS

At next Saturday's football game while you are sitting in your choice student's seat behind the end zone, won't you pause and give a thought to football's greatest and, alas, most neglected name? I refer, of course, to Champert Sigafos.

Champert Sigafos (1714-1928) started life humbly on a farm near Thud, Kansas. His mother and father, both named Walter, were bean-gleaners, and Champert became a bean-gleaner too. But he tired of the work and went to Montana where he got a job with a logging firm. Here the erstwhile bean-gleaner worked as a stump-thumper. After a month he went to North Dakota where he tended the furnace in a granary (wheat-heater). Then he drifted to Texas where he tidied up oil fields (pipe-wiper). Then to Arizona where he strung dried fruit (fig-rigger). Then to Kentucky where he fed horses at a breeding farm (oat-toter). Then to Long Island where he dressed poultry (duck-plucker). Then to Alaska where he drove a delivery van for a bakery (bread-sledder). Then to Minnesota where he cut up frozen lakes (ice-slicer). Then to Nevada where he determined the odds in a gambling house (dice-pricer). Then to Milwaukee where he pasted camera lenses together (Zeiss-splicer).

Finally he went to Omaha where he got a job in a tannery, beating pig hides until they were soft and supple (hog-flogger). Here occurred the event that changed not only Champert's life, but all of ours.

Next door to Champert's hog-floggery was a mooring mast for dirigibles. In flew a dirigible one day, piloted by a girl named Graffa von Zeppelin. Champert watched Graffa descend from the dirigible, and his heart turned over, and he knew love. Though Graffa's beauty was not quite perfect—one of her legs was shorter than the other (blimp-gimper)—she was nonetheless ravishing, what with her tawny hair and her eyes of Lake Louise blue and her marvelously articulated haunches. Champert, smitten, ran quickly back to the hog-floggery to plan the wooing.

To begin with, naturally, he would give Graffa a present. This presented problems, for hog-flogging, as we all know, is a signally underpaid profession. Still, thought Champert, if he had no money, there were two things he did have: ingenuity and pigskin.

So he selected several high grade pelts and stitched them together and blew air into them and made for Graffa a perfectly darling little replica of a dirigible. "She will love this," said he confidently to himself and proceeded to make ready to call on Graffa.

First, of course, he shaved with Personna Super Stainless Steel Blades. And wouldn't you? If you were looking to impress a girl, if you wanted jowls as smooth as ivory, dewlaps like damask, a chin strokable, cheeks fondlesome, upper lip kissable, would you not use the blade that whisks away whiskers quickly and slickly, tuglessly and nicklessly, scratchlessly and matchlessly? Would you not, in short, choose Personna, available both in Injector style and double-edge style? Of course you would.

So Champert, his face a study in epidermal elegance, rushed next door with his little pigskin dirigible. But Graffa, alas, had run off, alas, with a bush pilot who specialized in dropping limes to scurvy-ridden Eskimo villages (fruit-chuter).

Champert, enraged, started kicking his little pigskin blimp all over the place. And who should walk by just then but Jim Thorpe, Knute Rockne, Walter Camp, and Pete Rozelle!

They walked silently, heads down, four discouraged men. For weeks they had been trying to invent football, but they couldn't seem to find the right kind of ball. They tried everything—hockey pucks, badminton birds, bowling balls, quoits—but nothing worked. Now seeing Champert kicking his pigskin spheroid, their faces lit up and as one man they hollered "Eureka!" The rest is history.

Come now and avoid the risk of missing the transfer deadline.

Regents

Chancellor William Sewell spoke out against the Harrington proposal and called for "proper academic procedure."

Sewell recommended that a faculty committee be appointed by the faculty's University Committee. If the Cohen case were heard by a faculty committee any "decision resulting from this hearing could be presented to the Regents for their review," he said.

Harrington stated that although he was aware of the normal system of faculty responsibility, this is a "critical period when we are faced with disruptive actions which as a tactic threatens the very continuance of the University system." The Regents "can not ignore" the Cohen case, he added.

Regents James Nellen, DePere; Walter Renk, Sun Prairie; and Bernard Ziegler, West Bend were in favor of firing Cohen immediately.

Ziegler called for the Regents "to set aside our rules and take the kind of action this Board has the power to do."

Regents Arthur DeBardeleben, Park Falls; Jacob Friedrich, Milwaukee; and Charles Gelatt, La Crosse voted against both the immediate firing of Cohen and Harrington's suggestion for a Regent hearing.

After Harrington's suggestions were passed, Professor Wilber Katz, Law, presented a petition signed by 350 faculty members who "subscribe to the views expressed by Chancellor Sewell." Katz said that he began collecting the signatures early Friday morning and that there "were more coming."

ing mishaps which allowed students to cast ballots in the wrong districts, will hold re-elections Monday at Carroll, Lowell, and Bascom Halls, the Union, and the Memorial Library. In the long term race in District 8, uncontested by the Elections Committee, Jack Pomeranz of UCA was claimed the victor.

* Susan Porter of SRP won over ARGO and UCA candidates in District 9.

Renk estimated that 150 people would be involved in the proposed firings. He charged the TAs and faculty members with spending classroom time propagandizing and "doing anything but teach the subject for which they were hired."

DeBardeleben cautioned the Regents against removing "a faculty member unless there has been a charge brought against him."

At the beginning of the meeting the board passed a resolution asking the State Senate committee hearings on student protests to clarify the State Statutes "to make it clear that the Regent power to remove personnel includes all unclassified employees and students."

The Regents also passed a motion which requested the University administration to prepare rules "covering conduct on and use of University property."

In the morning session of the meeting, the Regents approved a resolution submitted by Regent President Kenneth Greenquist, Racine, which asserted the Regents' support of the placement service and its policies. The resolution stated that the obstruction of interviews "is considered misconduct meriting the most severe disciplinary penalties of the University."

Nixon

and military organizations should be allowed to interview on campus. No student dictator should be allowed to interfere with the rights of other students."

Later Friday afternoon, Mr. Nixon gave his general impressions of the world scene in an informal address before the Student Bar Association.

"We live in a new world today with new nations and new people," said Nixon. He commented that Latin America is "in deep trouble" and noted that its financial woes had only worsened since the Alliance For Progress was developed five years ago.

Conduct

quently could not attend the hearing.

When Young asked each defendant if they would agree to appear without counsel, he was given negative replies.

A hassle then ensued between the defendants and the committee when Cohen demanded to know why the committee hearings were scheduled arbitrarily, with almost no notice. Cohen said that "this wrecked his day and prevented him from studying and teaching effectively."

Young insisted that he had opened the second meeting at 10 a.m. Friday in the Student Court. This reporter told Young that he was outside the Student Court at 10 a.m. but the lights were off and the door was locked. Young replied that he was the only person there.

Cohen said strongly that calling off the meetings and the reshuffling of times is "constant political harassment."

Earlier in the meeting Young refused to clarify the charges against the defendants after Cohen requested it of him. In an interview, the legal advisor for the committee, Prof. Gordon Baldwin, law, said that "Dean Young refused to explain the charges because it is not his function as judge to do so."

He went on to explain that "it is the job of defense counsel to clarify the charges and to demand their revision if they are unclear." Baldwin said that "the heart of the issue lies not in these procedural problems but rather in the whole concept of the University's inherent authority."

be forced to throw quite a bit. Of course, they also have an excellent pass defense.

"Unlike Ohio State, which uses a zone almost 100 percent of the time, Michigan uses man to man coverage. That means it's going to be a little tougher to use the swing pass that we worked so well last week. Of course if we catch 'em in the proper defense, we could use it."

This will be the last home game for 17 Badger seniors, and Coatta expressed sincere appreciation for their service to the team.

"This is really an unusual group," he praised. "They haven't experienced too much success in the last two years, and none this year, but they are just as dedicated in the practice sessions and the games as if we were a winning team."

Three of those seniors will be starting in the backfield for the Badgers—quarterback John Boyajian, tailback Dick Schumitsch and fullback Gale Bucciarelli. Bill Fritz is the only other senior on the starting offensive unit.

On defense, linebacker Sam Wheeler, guard Bill Grisley, tackles Tom Domres and Don Bliss and defensive end John Tietz will be playing their last game before the Camp Randall crowd.

One man who will not be graduating, linebacker Ken Criter, stands a very good chance of breaking two tackling records. He has 45 solo tackles, 4 short of the Big Ten record of 49 by Iowa's Dick Gibbs last year. He also has 90 total stops, just 9 short of the Big Ten record held by Michigan's Frank Nunley.

Harriers Aren't Favored, But... Seventeen Badgers To End Home Careers With Wolves

By JOHN WIMBERLY

If any sport can be called unpredictable it has to be cross country. Due to the differing types of courses—some hilly, some flat—comparative times mean very little. Even dual meet records are deceiving because it is very difficult to win on away courses which are unfamiliar.

Perhaps most important, however, is that the whole season comes down to a team's performance on a single day. The tension building to that day ends today at the Big Ten meet at Northwestern.

Although Wisconsin will not be the favorite today, with personnel like Ray Arrington, Bob Gordon and Branch Brady, the Badgers must be considered a strong contender. This threesome ranks with the best in the conference.

If the Badgers can get solid performances from two other boys, they will be very tough to beat. Bill Nelson, Tom Thomas and Brad Hansen are the ones who will decide Wisconsin's fate.

Ohio State, coming off 6 straight dual meet victories, appears to have a slight edge over the other contenders because of excellent depth. The Buckeyes have seven runners who have consistently placed well.

Indiana, with star Mark Gibbons, could win if the fifth man does well. Defending champion Iowa had the entire squad back until Jim LaBond, who finished eighth in the conference meet last year, was injured. The Hawkeyes have yet to find a replacement for him.

Minnesota, with another conference standout, Steve Hoag, is the other contender. The gophers have shown good balance throughout the season.

Wisconsin has not finished below fourth since 1959 but the last time they won the title was in 1950. Arrington, Brady and Gordon by themselves practically assure the Badgers of a fourth or higher place finish. However, the only way they can win the title is with the help of Nelson, Thomas and Hansen.

Wisconsin's football team, including 17 seniors, will be going all out today to win their first and last home victory of the season when they face a deceptive Michigan team today at Camp Randall.

Michigan sports a 3-5 record and has won its last two games over Northwestern and Illinois. The Wolves, like the Badgers, have been on the short end of some very close ball games that could just as easily have made them a 7-1 team.

Coach John Coatta knows all too well that the Wolves are not about to roll over and play dead, just because the Badgers need a victory.

"There's no doubt about it," Coatta said Friday, "in their last couple of games they have really looked good. They have a great runner in Ron Johnson, and a quarterback, Dennis Brown, who can run and throw equally well. This gives them a great deal of varity in their attack and makes it tough on our defense."

Defensively, Michigan is equally strong.

"Michigan is really tough up front," Coatta said. "Their men are rangy and quick, and we may

It took a group of college students to cut through the pretensions and moral judgments being aired about psychedelic drugs. This 50¢ pamphlet tells just the facts—the social, medical, and legal aspects of psychedelic drug use, descriptions of a successful and unsuccessful trip, and clear definitions of drug-related terms.

College Relations Branch, National Security Agency, Attn: M321, Ft. George G. Meade, Maryland 20755
An equal opportunity employer M/F
... where imagination is the essential qualification

And furthermore, if you are especially adept in a foreign language, the National Security Agency is ready to give you immediate linguistic assignments or may even train you in an entirely new language.

Demonstrated ability in language research can lead to more complex and sophisticated duties. The systematic accumulation of information, examination of data and preparation of special reports are important parts of these assignments. And scientific linguists will find nowhere else the opportunities for practical applications of their craft.

At NSA you will be joining an Agency of national prominence—a unique civilian organization responsible for developing "secure" communications systems to transmit and receive vital information.

NSA offers you this opportunity to further broaden your knowledge of modern language or area studies, and to use your talents in a challenging and rewarding career while you enjoy also the broad, liberal benefits of Federal employment. In return, we ask that you not only know your language, but that you be flexible, naturally inventive and intellectually curious. That's a lot to ask.

Where to go... what to do

Language applicants must take the Professional Qualification Test (PQT) as a prerequisite to NSA interviews for employment. Pick up a PQT Bulletin at your Placement Office, the sooner the better. It contains a brief registration form which must be received in Princeton, N.J. by November 27 (for the December 9 test).
