RADICALISM IS DENOUNCED IN TALK AT GYM

Comerford Says Economic Change Will Help Labor

"Satisfactory labor conditions will come not through political reform but through economic readjustment." This was the climax which Frank Comerford of the American Constitutional League reached in his speech at the university gymnasium last night on the subject, "Dangerous Days Ahead." In developing the point he emphasized the futility of radical socialism or communism in bringing about an ideal labor situation.

"Before the war unrest existed, the kind which prevents degeneration; but since the war a new kind of unrest has come about. Some call it dreaming and others at attempt at bringing about a world panacea. In Europe the first hope was for the invention of a war machine which civilization could not endure, thereby ending all war."

'Discontent Caused Reaction'

When the discontented realized that the peace table was guided by greed and national narrowness looking only for boundaries and strategic military points, they realized it simply meant more wars; and then came reaction, declared Comerford. Leading that reaction was the Russian movement making for an international government controlled by the laboring class.

When that movement was first originated it aimed to gain control of all the governments by force of reason. Gradually it meant to bring about general communal ownership by force of its own value to the people and thus bring about national ownership by the laboring class. When the Russian soviet turned from a policy of reason to one of force under the banner of the Red flag, Bolshevism was evolved. "Then," said Mr. Comerford,

MILITARY FUNERAL FOR McGILVARY IS PLAN OF VETERANS

A military funeral for Paton McGilvary, son of Prof. E. B. McGilvary, who was found dead from a bullet wound last Tuesday morning in Boston, will be conducted by the university post of the American Legion, it was decided last night.

McGilvary served with the United States flying corps in Italy during the recent war and was decorated for bravery in action.

The body, which is being brought to Madison by Professor McGilvary and his daughter, Margaret, will arrive on Saturday, and the funeral will probably be held on that day.

Ex-service men who will attend the funeral in uniform are asked by the committee in charge to inform Idrys Hughes, B. 7675.

SLAMS

Campus Celebrities to See Themselves as Others See 'Em in 1922 Badger

Every one from the Dean to Bocco, the Sig Chi hound, will see himself as others see him in the satire section of the 1922 Badger, which comes out May 18. Nothing has been softened or toned down for the benefit of any stray tender feelings that may be lying around the campus. This is the wrong time of the year to have tender feelings. The satire editor has been exceptionally blessed with a keen gift of vituperation.

Fraternity and sorority crests with symbols characterizing each individual organization and ranging from lemons to wine glasses, as the case may be, head the list of polignant satire features. Full explanation of the meaning and application of each symbol accompany the illustrations.

The athletic section plays up hookey as the leading sport of the school. Enlarged photographs of the varsity team of this popular pastime fill one beautiful page. This athletic department is fully developed with much space devoted to the swimming teams of "Bathing Beauties," recognizable and unrecognizable, according to the positions in which they appear. They are all, however, in good form.

Pan Hellenic, important organization of Wisconsin women, heads the organization department. Portraits of most of the fair members are shown in symbol—that is to say, one reads meaning into the representations. Suffice it to say that they are mostly animalic.

Prom, well known grads, fraternity pledges, and, of course, "the average co-ed" are some of the other austere and worthy subjects which come to the attention of that prince of iconoclasts, the satire editor of the 1922 Badger.

CAST IS CHOSEN FOR SENIOR PLAY

The cast of the senior class play, "The Yellow Jacket," to be presented during Commencement week, was announced yesterday by Miss Gertrude Johnson of the department of speech, who has charge of the production.

The cast includes Frances Ellen Tucker '21, Agnes Samuels '21, Mary Parkinson '21, Dorothy Lafla '21, Frances Ryan '21, Delma Donald '21, Dorothy Schaper '22, Eleanor Riley '21, Edith Royse '21, and Julia Hanks '21.

The men are W. K. Collins '22, William Tannowitz '23, Donald Marvin '22, Wayne Beckwith '21, Eugene Bespalow '21, David Lacey '21, C. B. Minshall '23, John Beffel '23, Harold Postel '21, and John Cornelius '23.

"The Yellow Jacket" is an individual Chinese phantasy in which a pathetic story is developed with great imaginative power. Stripped of all attempts at realism, the plot is carried forward by the chorus, an individual who remains on the stage during the whole play to explain the action, and a silent and blase property man, who improvises scenery and properties as the action progresses.

MCINTYRE LAUDS CURRENT NUMBER OF COUNTRY MAG

Many Orders Are Received for Copies of the Conservation Number

"The best issue of the Country magazine that has ever been published," was the comment made by E. R. McIntyre concerning the Conservation number of the magazine, which is now being sold on the campus. Mr. McIntyre was at one time editor-in-chief of the magazine and is at present editor of the Wisconsin Farmer with offices in Madison.

Requests for copies have already been received from many sections of the country, including West Virginia, New York, Illinois, and North Dakota. The Wisconsin chapter of Friends of Our Native Landscape has ordered 100 copies for its members, and the state legislative committees that are investigating proposed state park sites have secured copies for use in their investigations.

The cover of the Conservation number depicts a classical bit of campus scenery that is little known to students. The view is taken from behind of Bascom Hall and looks out across the lake to Picnic Point. Above and beyond are dimly seen the hills across the lake—miles away. The picture is copyrighted and has never before been published.

Jans Jensen, consulting landscape gardener, Chicago, tells of beauty found throughout Wisconsin and pays a glowing tribute to the scenery of the Devil's Lake country and

COOKE TO READ HIS OWN POEMS NEXT THURSDAY

Will Appear at Music Hall Under Auspices of Forensic Board

Edmund Vance Cooke, poet, wit, philosopher, and impersonator, will appear at Music Hall next Thursday night under the auspices of the Forensic board. He will read a selected number of his own poems.

Mr. Cooke has attained wide popularity through his poems which have appeared in the leading magazines and newspapers throughout the country for the past 25 years. The several volumes of his poems have always proved big sellers. The humor, pathos, and human sympathy that mark the writing of Edmund Vance Cooke have made his work known to all classes of people.

As a reader and impersonator, Mr. Cooke ranks among the best in the country. He has completed over 20 successful seasons on the lyceum platform. Prof. J. M. O'Neill of the department of speech heard Mr. Cooke in Cleveland a few months ago and on the excellence of the performance recommended him to the Forensic board.

Tickets have been placed on sale at the University Pharmacy, Hook Brothers, and Bascom Hall. The price of admission is 50 cents.

TENNIS TEAM TO PLAY TWO BIG 10 TILTS

Meet Northwestern Saturday and Michigan Monday

Holding two victories over Milton College and Beloit, the Wisconsin tennis team will meet Northwestern in the first Big Ten tennis meet of the season on Saturday, May 14, at Evanston. The squad will make a three day trip and is scheduled to meet Michigan on Monday, May 15, at Ann Arbor.

Coach G. E. Linden has selected the following men to make the trip: Roy C. Gotfredson '22, William J. Pickard '21, Nicholas S. Aagesen '23, and Thomas A. Tredwell '23. Although the tennis team was dealt a severe blow by the loss of Captain Willis Fanning '21 through ineligibility, Coach Linden has developed a strong quartet of racquet wielders.

Gotfredson Good

Gotfredson was a member of the 1920 varsity tennis squad. Teamed with Fanning in the doubles, he defeated two Chicago tennis experts in the 1920 conference tennis tourney. Pike, captain of the vanquished Maroon squad, was given a rating as conference tennis singles champion at the end of the season.

Tredwell was captain of last year's freshman tennis team and finished second in the all-university gold medal tournament, losing only to Captain Taylor of the 1920 varsity team.

Pickard to Play

Pickard has stepped into the place left vacant by Fanning's ineligibility. He is playing his first year of varsity tennis. Aagesen was also a member of the 1920 freshman tennis team. He was put out of competition in the all-university tourney by Tredwell.

The Wisconsin tennis quartet has been practicing consistently this week and will be in excellent shape for the two Big Ten matches. In singles competition, the Badgers have not lost a set this season, and they dropped only one set of doubles to Milton College, winning the match with scores of 4-6, 6-0, and 6-3.

DECIDE ON COAST DEBATE THIS NOON

Prof. J. M. O'Neill, of the department of speech, last night announced that the Students' Life and Interest committee will meet this noon to consider the request of the Forensic board for sending a debating team to the Pacific coast the last of this month.

If the action of the committee is favorable, the personnel of the team will be announced not later than Sunday in order that the debaters may immediately start preparations for the contests. The team will be composed of three men to be selected from members of this year's intercollegiate debate squad and will meet the University of Arizona at Tucson on May 27 and Reed College at Portland, Oregon, on May 30.

LAST TIMES TODAY

THE VARSITY MOVIE

Because of the stupendous crowds there will be five shows today

2 Shows Matinee starting 2 P. M.

3 Shows Night starting 6:30 P. M.

'SPOSE you saw the boy on the sorority porch in the Varsity movie, didn't you? Also 'pose you noticed that it was Leander Ferguson. Let's see, the title just before that said something like this: "Come on over and meet the girls," and there Fergie was in all his glory.

BUT this is the best one that we heard about the movie. Some innocent little frosh girlie dropped the remark while we happened to be lucky enough to be passing. "Do you know, I believe they are trying to fool us, for they say that this Varsity movie is a very new project, having only been started this year, and then just think how long ago they must have taken those Stone Age scenes. I don't think that is very nice."

THE NOSY NEWSIE
Today's Question: "What are you going to do this summer?"

Carl Rogers: "My plans are not complete, as yet, but I am certain that I shall not miss very many of my breakfasts."

Caryl Parkinson: "Who can tell? I have hopes of landing a darn good job at the notion counter of the 10-cent store, and then again, I might die before I can get the job."

Horace Powell: "I am going to sell newspapers, in order to get a good line on the best way of disposing of next year's Badger, which I am told will not be as good as usual."

Deborah Olds: "I don't want to come back to school next year, so I am going to make a very great effort to become engaged during the summer. Don't you think that is a novel idea for me?"

Harold Paul: "Guess I'm going to spend the summer at a lake, where it will not be inconvenient to take a bath every week or so."

OVERHEARD at the coming Chi Omega formal:

He: "Oh, you look better dressed."

Chi O: "Thanks for the compliment."

He: "I beg your pardon. You misunderstand me."

THIS IS AN ESSAY
A cigarette butt is an interesting and fascinating thing. It is beautiful, too: like the wonderful iridescent chrysalis left by a flown sausage. It is entrancing to think of all the stages the dear sweet things have passed through before reaching the adult stage of a cigarette butt. Once it grew happily in a field by the side of many other flourishing cigarette butts. In the day-time they all lifted their heads joyfully to the sun; night found them floating around by the help of their cork tips on glistening pools of dew. But, alas! Time flew! The little butts were transplanted to a vile world where they learned to kiss on the lips and smoke.

When ground together finely, cigarette butts make excellent breakfast food.

SPEAKING of the stone-blind man who couldn't see, someone told us today about a certain person that he knew who was a deaf and dumb mute.

ADD this to your list of similes: About as interesting as an inter-fraternity baseball game (except when it is played on the lower campus after a heavy rain).

JAMES HORLICK, one of the founders of the malted milk plant, died the other day in London, and a campus wit rises to the occasion with the remark that he, rather than George Washington, should be called the father of his country.

THE ideal conditions under which a col should be written are: within a spacious room, enclosed by soft curtains, with softer lights burning, and still softer music playing.....

BUT we hasten to add that the prime requisite is one perfectly good soft head.

ACADEMIC DRESS TO BE REQUIRED AT GRADUATION

All candidates for degrees are expected to appear in the proper academic costumes for the commencement exercises, according to an announcement made by Prof. Julius E. Olson, chairman of the committee on public functions, yesterday.

It is not necessary to purchase the costumes, however, as they may be rented at the Co-op, but each individual desiring to rent such a costume must make personal provision for it.

Candidates for the bachelor's degree are expected to wear cap and gown at the Baccalaureate exercises, as well as at the commencement exercises. Candidates for the Master's (or second) degree will wear the hood in the procession on Wednesday morning, but the candidates for the Doctor's degree must leave their hoods at the Co-op. They will receive them on the Commencement stage when the degree is confirmed.

It is necessary that orders be placed for the academic gowns earlier than usual, as dealers are disinclined to furnish any more caps and gowns than are actually ordered, due to the cost of production.

Students who expect to graduate after the summer session are not considered members of the graduating class and cannot sit with the class on Commencement day, though there is no objection to their doing so on Baccalaureate Sunday.

"they abandoned the greatest principle of life—human liberty."

The Russian Movement
Comerford applied the Russian movement directly to affairs in America by pointing out that the leaders of the Bolshevik movement there looked to three organizations in America as being hostile to the government and ready to carry out their ends. They are the I. W. W., the socialists with Eugene Debs at the head, and the Communists, he declared; and it was against these organizations that Comerford directed his speech. There are dangerous times ahead if people do not retain stability but allow themselves to be influenced by irrational, vicious, socialistic arguments, he said.

Comerford spoke to an audience consisting largely of town people. He was introduced by Prof. John R. Commons, who gave a brief introductory speech bringing out that Europe's problems are ours also.

SENATE PASSES TARIFF 63-28

Emergency Bill is Now Up
To Joint Conference

WASHINGTON — Senate and House conferees will begin their efforts to reach an agreement on the emergency tariff and anti dumping bill probably Friday. The measure was passed by the senate late Wednesday by 63 to 28.

Although all amendments offered from the floor were promptly defeated in the senate, the bill differs from that passed by the house, the anti-lumping and currency revaluation sections having been rewritten and provision made for continuing war time restrictions on imports of dyestuffs by the senate finance committee.

The tariff measures were kept intact. The bill will be effective for six months by which time leaders hope to see a permanent tariff bill enacted.

First Girl Sign Painter In City Takes First Job

Equipped with ladders, a swinging stage, paint brushes and paint, Miss Doris MacPherson may be seen Friday morning between 10 and 12 o'clock painting a sign for the Vaas-May Co. on the rear wall of its store on King St. Miss MacPherson is the first Madison girl to undertake an outdoor sign painting job, and this is her first work of the kind. She learned the business at "Mac Did It" shop, owned by her father, Myron E. MacPherson.

Gold Star Flower Bed is Suggested

LUTHERAN STUDENT CLUB TO PROMOTE CHURCH ACTIVITIES

About 70 Lutheran students took the first steps toward the formation of a Lutheran students' association at a dinner in the Park hotel last night.

During the course of the evening there were several short addresses by prominent Madison men connected with Lutheran activities, including Mayor I. M. Kittleson, who presided, and pastors of Madison churches, and students.

Prof. O. A. Hougen presented the purposes of the organization and Rev. O. G. U. Siljan explained the need for the Brotherhood, as the association is to be called.

C. H. Bonnin '21 outlined the activities which the association aims to promote.

Other speakers were Vilas Rasmussen '20, the Rev. A. Haentzschel, Elmer Stahlkopf '24, and George J. Weigle.

The councilors and honorary members of the organization are as follows:

THE A. C. L. FORUM

OF prime interest in university circles is the report of the Lusk committee, which states that our colleges are honeycombed with radicalism. Be that as it may, we consider it the duty of every intelligent student to acquaint himself with socialism in the abstract and the means employed to combat it, for in a very near tomorrow we will have to play our parts in the affairs of our country.

There lies before us at this writing a copy of The A. C. L. Forum, published by the American Constitutional League of Wisconsin and dedicated to the sole purpose of combating socialism. In bold type across the front page it flouts the scare-head "Could You Be a Squaw Woman?" Dodging every real issue of the socialist movement, it goes on through a two-page article appealing with statements like the above, to the fear of unenlightened readers.

Reading at random, we strike such statements as: "An unsexed woman with the stoical endurance of a Sioux squaw is about the ideal pictured by these up-to-date gentlemen." "Treat 'em rough" is in reality the essence of the socialist ideas about women." They have in fact a strong preference for the squaw type of woman, a preference that crops out continually in socialism." "We should have a race of husky, two-fisted ladies quite capable of working on the docks or managing a motor truck. The others would all be dead."

Such methods of combating a world issue are not only childish, but nauseous to an intelligent mind. Let us get a clear idea of what socialism means. Let us look the issue squarely in the face and combat it in an intelligent manner. Methods, such as those employed by the American Constitutional League in the A. C. L. Forum, which play merely on the ignorance of the readers, will tend, if anything, to help the cause of socialism. Let us not fight fire with oil.

"NOT RESPONSIBLE" DRAWS BIG CROWDS

"The Fuller has never had a larger crowd attending a movie than 'Not Responsible' is drawing," said Dr. W. G. Beecroft, manager of the theater, last night. "The film has established a record."

Hundreds were turned away both Wednesday and Thursday at the showing of the Varsity Movie, and the Edwin Booth club is making plans for a return engagement of the film for those who are unable to see it at this engagement.

After today's performance, "Not Responsible" will be sent to fill out-of-town bookings. Managers from several Wisconsin cities have been present at the Madison showing.

STUDENTS GIVE INSTRUCTION IN CANOEIST'S ART

Robert Hesse and Two Helpers Teach How to Handle Boats

"A little bit of practice and application of proper instruction will, in a short time, teach anyone to handle a canoe," according to Robert Hesse, the head of a recently organized course in canoeing.

Working with Hesse are Howard Willet '24 and Robert Rundorf '22, both experienced canoeists. Lessons are private, given by appointment, and consist of actual demonstration and practice in a canoe furnished by the instruction.

How to get into and out of a canoe, where to step and how to step, is the beginning. How to handle a paddle, the proper grip, how deep a stroke, and how to get the most out of the least exertion are included among the first lessons, all considering that the weather is calm.

The finer points are taught later and cover what to do in case of a sudden squall, how to manage a canoe in high waves, when and how to put on life preservers, and what to do if the canoe capsizes.

Lessons have been given since last Saturday, but there is time open practically every afternoon and particularly at week-ends. Appointments may be made with "Bob" Hesse at the university Y. M. C. A.

"Our motive is to prevent people from going out on the lake who have had little experience in canoeing," said Hesse. "It is the person who doesn't know how, but just thinks he'll try it, who gets into trouble."

ENGLISH AUTHORS INFLUENCE CHINESE DECLARES DR. CHEN

Modern Writers Not Recognized But Older Works Are Studied

All of the recent novels of China show the influence of the older school of English authors, especially Scott, said Dr. Chia Lin Chen, Chinese scholar and educator, who delivered the first of a series of three lectures in Bascom hall yesterday afternoon.

More modern authors have not yet been recognized by the Chinese, but Shakespeare, Irving, Dickens, and Scott have been translated into Chinese and are bases of study in secondary schools. The Sherlock Holmes stories of Conar Doyle are particularly popular in China, he declared.

Dr. Chen divided the Chinese literature into two classes, the classical, written before 1900, and the modern, written since then. The older is written in a poetic prose style, similar to the blank verse of the Shakespearean works, while the modern is written in a smoother and freer style. Dr. Chen translated several of the typical poems of the various dynasties since 1800 B. C. Their subject is chiefly of the ruins of the older dynasties or of the renowned beauties of the period in which they are written.

Dr. Chen will speak on Chinese drama this afternoon at 4:30 in 165 Bascom hall.

Dr. V. V. Anderson Will Speak Here Thursday

The Wisconsin Legislature and public will hear a lecture by Dr. V. V. Anderson Thursday evening in the assembly chamber as the result of his survey of the charitable and penal institutions in the state. Dr. Anderson was asked to make such a survey by the 1919 legislature and he comes now to recommend the special legislation that should be enacted. He has made a special survey in Milwaukee. As chairman of the National Committee of Mental Hygiene he is perhaps the best qualified man in the country to make such a survey. The work has been done without expense to the state. The lecture will begin at 8 p. m.

SOCIETY NEWS

This week-end bids fair to be one of unusual gaiety, judging from the number and description of the many parties planned by various organizations. The dances which will take place this evening are as follows:

There will be a formal dinner dance given by Delta Tau Delta fraternity at the chapter lodge, 16 Mendota court. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Teckemeyer will chaperon. Among those who will be present from out-of-town are Mr. and Mrs. S. M. Rogers, whose son, Alfred M., is a member of the fraternity, and Mrs. A. V. Stegeman, Fort Thomas, Kentucky.

Apple blossoms will be used in decorating the chapter house of Psi Upsilon for a formal dinner dance to be given by the fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Max Mason, and Prof. and Mrs. W. S. Marshall will chaperon. Mrs. J. W. Kasbeer, Normal, Ill., will also be present.

Theta Chi fraternity promises that it will prove a lucky day for all those who attend its formal dinner dance. In an attempt to waive all unnecessary formality and superstition, it was decided to hold the party at Frank Hoover's resort. Prof. and Mrs. F. H. Elwell will chaperon.

Triangle fraternity will give its formal dinner dance at the Park hotel this evening. Prof. and Mrs. L. S. Smith and Prof. and Mrs. R. S. McCaffrey will chaperon. Out-of-town guests include Peter Walraven, Kenosha; Herbert Lord, Danville, Ill.; and Frank Quimby, Sheboygan.

A semi-formal dance will be given by Delta Zeta sorority in Lathrop hall parlors. The chaperons will be Mrs. M. E. Buob and Miss Sara Stinchfield.

Chi Omega sorority has planned to use the superstitions and traditions connected with Friday, the unlucky thirteenth, in toasts and in the decorations for its formal dinner dance to be given at the Candy shop tonight. On the tables silhouettes against backgrounds of white lattice work twined with rose vines will be placed. The list of chaperons contains Dean and Mrs. F. W. Roe, Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Mendenhall, and Miss Bertha Hamilton.

Tonight Sigma Chi fraternity will hold the first of its two informal dances to the music of Smith's orchestra, Louisville, Kentucky. David Weiss, Milwaukee, and Dr. Homer Curtis will chaperon.

Sigma Kappa Pledge
Psi chapter of Sigma Kappa sorority announces that it has pledged Priscilla Johnson, Milwaukee, a freshman who is in her first year in the Home Economics department.

Sigma Delta Chi
Entertains Theta Sigma Phi
Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalistic fraternity, will entertain at a banquet for Theta Sigma Phi, honorary women's journalistic fraternity, at the Capitol cafe, Sunday evening, May 15. Faculty members who will be present are Prof. and Mrs. W. A. Summer, Prof. and Mrs. Willard G. Bleyer, Prof. and Mrs. A. W. Hopkins, G. M. Hyde, E. M. Johnson, and Wyman Smith. There will be about 50 members of the two organizations present.

DIETZ PARDON IS EXPECTED

Definite Word From the Governor Will Come This Week

Definite word on the case of John F. Dietz, whose application for a pardon is now pending before the governor, is expected at any time. Dietz was convicted ten years ago on Friday. His term of sentence was reduced to twenty years by Gov. McGovern, which with the time off for good behavior would make his term expire in August, 1922.

Gov. Blaine has been going over the entire testimony taken at the Dietz trial and there are many here who believe that a pardon will be granted. Gov. Blaine intends to issue a full statement, when the announcement of his decision is made.

DEPARTMENT OF MANUAL ARTS TO TAKE NEW NAME

Because the term "manual arts" has been so often misinterpreted, the Regents of the university have just changed the name of the department of Manual Arts to "Department of Industrial Education and Applied Arts."

The students in this department must not only understand how to work with their hands, but also understand the science back of this work, and the old name did not imply this, it is explained.

The course in industrial education fits students for minor executive management positions in shops and factories as well as for teaching positions, and the course in applied arts instructs its students in commercial drawing, painting, craft works, etc. The degrees to be awarded at the completion of the courses will now be Bachelor of Science (Industrial Education), and Bachelor of Science (Applied Arts.).

REAL ESTATE MEN OBJECT

S. C. Hanks and C. B. Chapman Against Plan to Limit Buildings

The Caldwell bill for the limiting of the height of buildings about the capitol will be acted upon by the state affairs committee of the house next Wednesday. A short hearing was given on the bill Wednesday afternoon and Stanley C. Hanks and C. B. Chapman, Madison real estate dealers appeared in opposition to the present measure. Mr. Chapman said that this bill would affect the new First Central Bank building which is being erected. It would eliminate two stories and would reduce the earnings of the building from 6 or 7 percent to 3 or 4 percent.

Debate on the measure was cut short by Chairman A. E. Matheson, who said that Mr. Chapman, Mr. Hanks, State Engineer J. G. D. Mack and Assemblyman Caldwell should get together and draft a bill for presentation to the committee on Wednesday. Hanks and Chapman said they were in favor of some regulation and it was upon the basis of this statement that Chairman Matheson asked that they get together on a compromise bill.

Milwaukee Road Head For 20 Percent Wage Cut

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—A 20 percent wage reduction is essential to keep the railroad in operation, while reductions in rates need not be looked for, nor are such reductions pertinent to a resumption of business, according to H. E. Byram, Chicago, president of the Milwaukee road, who arrived here for the annual stockholders' meeting. "We are asking the railroad rate board to permit us to revert to the wage scale in effect prior to last July, when the last increase was announced," Mr. Byram said. "This will mean a wage reduction of about 20 percent, which we feel is justified by the living cost drop since that time. Labor now represents 67 percent of our total operating expense."

Sullivan, Wis., Bank Looted; Loss is $35,000

MILWAUKEE — Loot estimated at from $35,000 to $40 was obtained by robbers who smashed safety deposit boxes in Farmers' State bank, Sullivan, Jefferson county, according to information received by George D. Bartlett, secretary of the Wisconsin Bankers association. Entrance to the bank was gained by burning through the door with an acetylene torch and removing the combination

BATHING BEAUTIES
PLEASE AT ORPH

By R. C. W.

Bothwell Browne and his bathing beauties headline the Orpheum bill for the last half of the week. Eight beautiful girls, gorgeously dressed, elaborate settings, and fanciful lighting effects help to make the act of Bothwell Browne and his charming young sisters, a spectacle. With their ingeious dancing, their masterly accordion playing, and their delightful personalities the two girls win great favor.

The other four acts are a great deal better than were those of the first half of the week.

Sullivan and Mack, the openers, get a lot of sound and music out of an instrument called a saxophobia, a xylophone with a saxophone moan. Miss Sullivan has a delightful voice.

Jed Dooley and company have a versatile act that includes unicycle riding, rope throwing, and bull heaving—emphasis on the last. Jed has a line of chatter that is in a class by itself. His "company" is a decorative girl.

Back again, Bert Howard, "The Man with the Piano," plays his instrument with a skill and technique that comes only from years of application. He is well liked.

Betty Anker Trio closes the bill with feats of strength.

A good bill.

BOND CO. BUYS
BUILDING SITEMadison Concern Purchases Church Property;
To Build Soon

The property at N. Pinckney and N. Hamilton st., at present occupied by the Emanuel Evangelical church, has been purchased for a reported $31,000 by Victor H. Arnold for the Madison Bond Co., from the church estate, represented by the Stark Land Co. Attorneys Hall and Baker represented Mr. Arnold.

The bond company, it is said will erect a three story building to take care of its growing business. Work of razing the church will begin shortly after July 1. One of the most artistic buildings on the square will be erected. The property measures 105 feet along Pinckney st., 70 feet on Hamilton and 50 feet across the rear. The church will build a new structure at Wisconsin ave., and Johnson St.

COUNCIL FACES
BIG PROBLEMSTraffic and Citizen Health
Bills Leading Issues
Friday Night

Four questions of vital importance are expected to be debated on the council floor Friday night and some action taken on each of them.

The one-way-around-the-square traffic ordinance, providing also for a change in the stopping places of street cars approaching the capital square, and prohibiting parking on King and State sts., will be recommended for passage by the ordinance committee, according to present plans. Although the ordinance is not wholly satisfactory, it is thought by members of the committee that it will do no harm to give it a trial.

Mayor to Use Veto

The question of special referendum on the passage of the citizens' health board proposal will probably be discussed, inasmuch as Mayor Kittleson will veto the Mason bill, passed by the council in the latter part of April, in the event that the council does not pass the citizens bill at this session. It is believed that the council will pass the bill, if it comes to another vote, in order to save the cost of a special election, because a majority feel that it will carry if the people are given a chance to vote on it.

The finance committee, which meets Thursday night, will determine upon a rate of interest which the 1921 issue of street bonds will bear. It is the opinion of City Atty. William Ryan that the rate will have to be raised from 5 to 6 per cent in order to dispose of the new issue. The council will be called upon to act on the committee's recommendation.

Bids May Be In

Condemnation proceedings against the Gay Land Co., to secure a 60-acre tract of land lying just west of Forest Hill cemetery will be asked in a resolution by the street committee. The company offered to dispose of the land for $120,000. This figure is considered too high by the council.

One other matter of importance may come before the city fathers at this session, if the city property committee meets in time to make a recommendation. This is upon the acceptance of bids on the No. 2 fire station. At the last regular meeting the former bids were rejected and the committee advertised for new and separate bids.

The Matheson prohibition enforcement bill was given final passage in the assembly without debate on Thursday, and will soon be on its way to the executive office for Gov. Blaine's signature or veto. It is believed the governor will sign the bill.

At The Theaters

AT THE STRAND

George Fitzmaurice's "The Right to Love" is now being shown at the Strand theater. Mr. Fitzmaurice has taken a drama of mated husbands and wives, with scenes laid in Turkey, and made a picture that holds the interest throughout. Lovely Mae Murray is the ill-treated wife of Lord Falkland, the British representative at Constantinople. The climax is reached when he installs his mistress in their home and at the same time imports a Prince Stanislaus, whose mission is to compromise Lady Falkland. Colonel Loring, well played by David Powell, is the American who foils Lord Falkland, though not until he has killed the nobleman in a row. But the story ends happily.

A Comedy cartoon and a Paramount Magazine will also be shown.

Western Union Asks
Rates Be Boosted

Changes in Western Union telegraph rates out of the state capitol were proposed to the railroad commission on Thursday. The Western Union applied for an increase in newspaper telegraph rates. They seek one-third of the full commercial rates for day telephagh service and one-sixth of the commercial rate for night telegraph service out of Madison. A hearing will be held on this matter later.

LIT SOCIETIES MEET TONIGHT

To Debate on Political, Ju- dicial, and Social Questions

Debates on the powers of the supreme court and congress, the union and support of farmers' organizations, and adoption of state unemployment insurance are on literary society programs tonight.

That exclusive power to regulate marriage and divorce in the United States be given to congress by a constitutional amendment will be debated by members of Hesperia tonight. The affirmative will be supported by Herman O. Walther '23, Albert J. McGleasson '24, and George M. Keith '24, and the negative speakers will be John T. Atwood '22, Edmund J. Lachman '24, and Harold J. Dvorak '23.

O'Neill to Speak

James M. O'Neill, professor of rhetoric and oratory, will speak to the society. Charles Greco '23 will discuss the decision of the supreme court in the Newberry case, and Stephen A. Aschenbrenner '21 will present the Yap question as seen through Japan's eyes.

Union of all farmers' organizations under one head for the promotion of their own interests will be the subject for debate before the Agricultural society. Robert H. Travis '21, Gerald Heebink '23, and Christian H. Conrad '24 will speak on the affirmative, and Walter Wisnicky '23, William A. Hartmen '23, and Fisk W. Carlin '24 will speak on the negative. An important business meeting will follow the program.

Discuss Farmers' League

The Nonpartisan league will interest members of Athenae tonight. In a debate the affirmative will ask that the league receive the support of public opinion in Wisconsin. Martin R. Kriewaldt '22 will support the affirmative and S. S. Jordan '22 the negative.

An estimate of President Harding's cabinet will be made by Robert Pfeiffer '24, and I. Arnold Perstein '21, will speak of "Gems of Athenae." John G. McKay, instructor in economics and a former Athenae joint debator, will address the meeting. Eugene G. Williams '24 will discuss the United States' war debt.

Advocate Insurance

That a system of unemployment insurance be adopted by the state of Wisconsin will be urged by Philomathians in a debate at a meeting tonight. Speakers favoring the affirmative will be Hyman J. Bilansky '22, Walter A. Frautschi '24, and Joe R. Sherr '24, and those opposed to adoption will be Harvey Hanlon '22, Frederick W. Nimmer '24, and Henry A. Hofacker '23.

The power of the supreme court to declare federal legislation unconstitutional will be discussed in a second debate. The affirmative will ask that this power be annulled.

STATES SEND MEN TO CRATE COURSE

Twelve business men from 11 large concerns in nine states attended a boxing and crating course which was held last week at the Forest Products laboratory to learn the scientific principles which underlie proper box and crate construction and develop economical containers that will deliver goods in a satisfactory condition at a minimum cost.

The "students" represented some of the largest concerns in the country and were from Beverly, Mass., San Francisco, Deering Junction, Maine, Milwaukee, Port Arthur, Tex., Hot Springs, Ark., Grand Rapids and Battle Creek, Mich., Niagara Falls, N. Y., and Chicago.

Such a course is given every other month at the laboratory and a cooperative fee of $100 is charged to cover part of the cost.

CO-EDS ARE LOYAL AND THOUGHTFUL DECLARES SPEAKER

Miss Marlatt Talks on "Ideals For the Wisconsin Girl"

"The Wisconsin girl is honest, thoughtful, and loyal," said Miss Abbie Marlatt, head of the Home Economics department in a talk on "Ideals for the Wisconsin Girl" before the Euthenics club Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the S. G. A. room.

"If a girl is honest with herself she cannot help but be honest with others. This honesty is the salvation of the Wisconsin girl. The Wisconsin girl is thoughtful. She respects the rights of others in order to secure her own rights. The Wisconsin girl is loyal to her friendships, her state, nation and to the world at large."

Miss Marlatt emphasized the need of a positive stand by all women in regard to morals, rather than the negative "don't." Her concluding statement summed up her idea of how Wisconsin ideals can be realized. "When you want this university to have high ideals you'll have them."

Euthenics club voted to have a float on Venetian night and likewise a booth if the carnival being planned by Keystone is realized.

The following committees were appointed: Booth, Leonore Weber '21, Alice Chappell '21, Edna Huffman '21, Marion Baldwin '21, Geneva Schoenfeld '22, Vernetta Bartle '24, Viola Thuenig '23; float, Elsie Sell '21, chairman, Vangel Russell '22, Marjorie Six '22, Alice Bullock '23, Elizabeth Byrns '24, Edith Crane '23, Eddis Mellor '24, Blanche Waterman.

Judge Lindsey Pays Fine And Ends Controversy

DENVER, Colo.—Ben B. Lindsey, Judge of Denver's juvenile court, will end a five year controversy here Thursday when he pays a fine of $500 and costs assessed upon him following his conviction of charges of contempt of court. He was adjudged in contempt by Judge Perry of the district court in 1915. Judge Lindsey had refused to divulge what a 14 year old juvenile court ward, had told him about the murder of the lad's father. The boy's mother was tried for the murder and acquitted. Judge Lindsey refused to obey because he said it would be betraying the confidence of a child. "I have no regrets" said Judge Lindsey today. "I believe the fight we made was right. No court again will ask a juvenile court judge to betray what a child has told him."
