Foreword

NE of the greatest privileges of life is the opportunity to undertake and to complete a task in conjunction with a small, united band of classmates.
It is with deep gratitude for the enjoyment of such a privilege that we offer this volume, in the hope that its pages, when softening time has glossed their errors, may bind even more firmly the fellowship unconsciously founded in mutual interests and labor.

FOOTBALL SEASON

The football season of 1919 opened with Coach Schenke's call for gridiron volunteers on September 3rd. Veterans of last year, Capt. Dettman, Daggett, Remington, Holmes, Williams, Kampine and Habighorst, and much promising material responded for a season which ended in the state championship.

The championship was won by hard work on the part of the coach and the team, backed by the unsurpassed spirit of the school, the unusual interest of the Rotary Club, and the people of the city.

Kaukauna at Marinette

On September 27th, Marinette pried the lid off the 1919 football season with a victory over Kaukauna High School.

The first game was staged on Marinette's new athletic field. Marinette met little opposition, as the boys ran up 37 points the first half and raised the count to 52 the last half using the second team.

Oconto at Marinette

The following week, Dame Rumor's tales of Oconto's strength were shattered when Marinette crossed the goal in the first two minutes of play. Tallies were then piled up rapidly until the near-by hamlet was smothered to the tune of 82 to o. Marinette used the forward-pass to great advantage, scoring at ease in open play.

East Green Bay at Marinette

On the 18th of October, the High's met East Green Bay. A heavy rain set in an hour before the game, forcing both teams to straight football. Neither team was able to advance the ball, and at the end of the first half the score was o to o. In the third quarter Holmes fell on a block punt behind the goal.

Kampine then intercepted a pass, running 80 yards for a touchdown. Kuchenburg followed by going over for the third touchdown. The fourth quarter was scoreless. Final score: 19 to o.

Marinette at West Green Bay

On the 24th of October, Marinette journeyed to West Green Bay for the first out-of-town game. The first half was played on West's 20-yard line, but the locals were only able to score a safety. In the second half, Marinette's open play completely baffled the West Siders. Peterson's accurate passing to Holmes and Kowalski netted four touchdowns, while Dettman went over for the fifth. Once more Marinette's forward-passes and invincible line loomed up. Final score: 36 to o.

Escanaka at Marinette

The first of November, Escanaba, champions of the Upper Peninsula, invaded Marinette. High hopes were raised higher when they scored in the first few minutes of play. This was the first and last time Marinette's goal was crossed in 1919. Our boys retaliated with four touchdowns. Marinette's line worked to perfection, opening holes at every call. The score at the end of the first was 27 to 6 . In the second half Habigborst ploughed over for the fifth. From then on Marinette was unable to score. Final score: 34 to 6 .

Menominee at Marinette

Armistice Day brought the annual Twin City gridiron tilt. A perfect day called out 6,000 people, the largest crowd ever attending a Marinette and Menominee game. Marinette went into the game the favorite, although the Michigan fans had great confidence in their Red Warriors. Capt. Dettman won the toss and Menominee kicked to Marinette. Menominee held ; Peterson punted tc Moreau; Menominee failed to gain, Marinette brought the ball to Menominee's 30 -yard line, Marinette fumbled and Menominee recovered; Umnus punted to Peterson, Williams made 15 yards through tackle, Dettman gained io yards. A pass netted 15 yards. Another pass, Peterson to Holmes resulted in the first touchdown, goal was missed. The first half ended with the ball on Menominee's io-yard line. The score at the end of the first half was 6 to o.

In the third quarter, the ball remained in the center of the field, both teams being in a deadlock. Marinette opened up in the fourth quarter, a pass netting 45 yards and Williams dove over for the second touchdown. Kowalski kicked goal and four minutes later received a short pass and ran 39 yards for a touchdown. Goal was kicked.

The game ended with the ball in Marinette's possession on Menominee's 20-yard line. Final score: 20 to o.

Marinette at Appleton

Marinette invaded the Paper City on the 23rd of November to battle for the state championship. The game was played on Lawrence Field before 4,000 spectators. Appleton kicked to Marinette, then Marinette made first down twice. Appleton held. Both teams advanced the ball with ease, but lacked the punch to score. In the second quarter two off-tackle plays and a forward-pass brought Appleton to Marinette's three-yard line. Three more downs brought them to the one-yard line: and a penalty brought them to the one-foot line, with four downs to put it over. Here Marinette made her historic stand and held. Peterson punted to Kampine on-side, who grabbed the punt and ran for a touchdown as the whistle blew time for the first half. Goal was kicked. Score, first half : 7 to o.

In the second half both teams tightened up. Marinette was greatly crippled. Because of injuries, Holland substituted for Williams, Herrick for Habighorst and Kresky for Carter. The second quarter was uneventful until the last three minutes, when Peterson called a tackle-around play, alias the "peanut" play. Dettman tore around left en 1 with perfect interference for the second touchdown and goal was kicked. Final score: I4 to o.

Basket Ball Review

The 1919 basketball season was the longest and one of the most successful seasons experienced by Marinette High. Although beset by several difficulties, they came through with eleven victories out of fifteen games, and took second place in the Oshkosh tournament.

Niagara at Marinette
In the first game of the season, Niagara was an easy victim to the Highs, score 40 to 12 .

Green Bay at Marinette

Green Pay gained seven points in the first half, but a comeback brought a 12 to 11 victory for the local crew, Kuchenburg dropping in the winning basket.

Shawano at Marinette

Marinette obtained a lead on the victors and kept it throughout the game; final score, 24 to 18 . Peterson and Dettman did the caging for the locals.

Marinette at Oconto

Marinette had a two-point lead in the first half, but half a dozen dreamers caged by Peterson in the second made the final score 28 to 13 .

Marinette at Shawano

Here Marinette lost her first game of the season. The last forty-five seconds tied them and a five-minute over-time brought them to defeat, II to 9.

Monroe at Marinette

Monroe hailed from the southern fart of the state with nineteen straight victories. Marinette lead on the first half, I3 to 12, overcoming a ten-point lead and kept the lead until the final whistle. This was one of the best games ever seen on the home floor. Final score, 23 to 21 .

Marinette at Green Bay

Here a protest from Green Bay lost Capt. Peterson for the remainder of the season, also losing a hard fought game, 28 to 18 .

Oshkosh Tournament

Marinette journeyed to the district tournament, the 4th, 5 th and 6 th of March, at Oshkosh. On the afternoon of their arrival they defeated Menasha, 19 to 13. The next night the boys battled Appleton for a place in the finals. Appleton led throughout the game, but Dettman's two timely baskets brought a 13 to io victory.

On the 6th of March, Marinette played Neenah for the sectional championship. The first half of the score was 6 to 6 , several long shots in the last half brought a heart-breaking defeat to Marinette, score 16 to 15 .

Marinette received silver fobs for second place and had the honor of having Dettman all-sectional center and Kampine all-sectional forward.

Appleton at Marinette

Marinette obtained a large lead from the first and held it throughout the game, downing their old rivals 27 to 9 .

Marinette at Appleton

Forcing Kampine and Dettman out of the game, they managed to squeeze a 9 to 5 victory from the local basket tossers.

Oconto at Marinette

The next night Marinette gave Oconto their second trimming, Oconto scored one basket, score 20 to 5 .

Marinette at Menominee

Marinette had little difficulty in handing their ancient rivals a 28 to 13 defeat. Salewsky and Kampine dropped them in from all angles.

Menominee at Marinette

Menominee met their second defeat at Marinette's hand the following week, although they surprised the locals by holding them in to 8 .

Second Team

The second team in the past years has never received any recognition. This year, however, they not only came out and helped make the first team by constant and often unpleasant work, but took part in several games. They defeated Oconto and the Menominee team twice and several teams from aljacent villages. Hanson, Burns, Rudolph and Herrick will be back next year to join the first squad, but Goldberg, Peterson and Leonardson have played their last.

Freshman, Inter Class Champions

Coach SCHENKE
Back row---FAY, BOYER, HOFFER, TREPANNIER
Front row---LEONARDSON, CHARBONNEAU, HOOD, MUNDT

Bill Schenke hails from Oconto, our near rival. He came to us with a good record, but has established one here that will never be forgotten. He has completely re-organized our athletics, putting out a championship football team and a basketball team that took second place in the Oshkosh tournament. Little need be feared for next year, as he will be with us. All together, gang, nine rahs! for the coach!!

High School Social Life

The past year marked a revival in the social activities at Marinette High School.

The season was opened by the Webster Debating Society, with a Hallowe'en party, given on the eve of November first. The members of the Marinette and Escanaba football teams were the honor guests of the evening. Several feature dances and special music marked the affair as unique in the history of High School social-functions.

The Seniors gave a series of Friday matinee dances. A small admission was charged, which went toward the "Annual" fund. The music was furnished by the school jazz orchestra. These mixers provided both light entertainment and a means of getting acquainted with many of the people from other classes.

On November 27th, a dance was given under the auspices of the Junior class. The gymnasium was transformed into a harvest scene, corresponding with the early holiday, "Thanksgiving." "It was a success," so saith the purse of the Junior class.

Realizing the need of a closer relationship between former graduates and students, the Seniors gave a Senior Alumni Prom on December 3oth.

On January 16th, the Websterians were active in giving a sleighride and dance for the High School students. The couples rode to Peshtigo, where dancing and a lunch were enjoyed.

The Webster boys, following the trend of the times, gave a H. C. L. party for the benefit of the "Annual" fund. It was strictly a "dress affair," the boys appearing in overalls, while the maids were gowned in calico. Dancing and games constituted the pleasure of the evening.

The Seniors were honored at a farewell dance given by the Juniors on May 21st. The gymnasium was decorated in the colors of the Senior class. All that constitutes a good dance was employed at this occasion, and the Junior class will be remembered as a success in its social undertakings.

Lowell Literary Society

LOWELL "LIT" MASQUERADE

In the early part of the school year the Lowell Literary Society was organized for Freshman girls, in order that they might become more familiar with good literature, receive training in rhetorical work, and parliamentary practice, and also to obtain recreation by way of social pleasures.

The girls took great interest in the society, and have been fery eager to make it a success. Regular business meetings have been held every other week, and a great deal of time and effort has been spent in preparing programs, which have been given once a month in Goodman Hall.

In February a story writing contest was held, in which many of the members participated. The prize was awarded to Arline Voelker.

The greatest event of the year was a declamation contest held March 24th. Weeks of preparation were spent by the society for the occasion, and the affair proved to be worth all the hard work which was necessary to make it a success. Arline Voelker again took first prize.

To bring out the social side of the organization, a fancy dress party was given in the High School gymnasium March 19th. Each girl invited a friend and a very pleasant afternoon was spent in playing games and dancing, after which refreshments were served.

The work that the society has done so far is only a small part of what it has planned for the future.
"Getting started," has proved the hardest of the year's work, but with the society now safely launched, and firmly established as an institution of the Marinette High School, much is to be expected of it in the future.

Webster Debating Society

Each year that passes makes it more apparent that a man who wishes to succeed must have the ability to clearly express his thoughts and opinions in spoken words. Marinette students were among the first in the state to realize this, and foreseeing the benefits that would be derived from a debating club in the High School, organized a Webster Debating Society. The exact date of its origin is not known, as local alumni members are unable to remember the time when the school was without the society. It was re-organized, however, about ten years ago, after interest had nearly died out.

Since that time the Websterians have met regularly every week during the school year, and results have proved that debating is fully as important as any other phase of our High School work.

Soon after the beginning of the fall term of 1919, the remaining members of the society called a meeting and made their plans for the year.~ New members were admitted to take the place of those who had graduated. Weekly programs were arranged which consisted of minor debates, open discussions, current event topics, and like matters of common interest. These programs play an important part in the work of the society and everyone is required to take part from time to time.

Resolved:. That the Principle of the Open Shop Be Maintained In Indus-try-the question for the Wisconsin Triangular Debates-was received shortly before the Christmas vacation. Two preliminary tryouts were then held to determine those best fitted to represent the school in the interscholastic contests. The teams and their records are shown on the following pages of the Annual. Much appreciation is due to those who labored long and hard to put Marinette foremost among state debating circles.

The Webster Society members make it a point, not only to become orators, but also to lead in High School social activities. On Novemberı, they gave a very successful dance in the gymnasium. Later, on January 20 ,they gave a much enjoyed sleighride to Peshtigo, where dancing and refreshments were enjoyed at Constine's before returning home. Anti-H. C. L. party also, given in the spring, was much enjoyed by all who attended. The conclusion of the season was marked by a rousing banquet long to be remembered.

Members realize that whatever of good has been accomplished this year is due in a very large measure to the tireless effort and co-operation of their coach and advisor, Mr. Ashford ; and are most grateful to him.

Class Play "Young America"

Judging from the approval of the audience, Frederic Ballard's comedy, "Young America," was as popular as any play yet produced at the Marinette High School. This play, in three acts, introduced a variety of types of American people and the well chosen cast proved themselves capable of the task given them.

Jack Doray, played by Harvey Martindale, was obliged to undergo the inflictions of a young wife, acted by Berenice Rufsvold, whose opinions often differed from those of her husband. Lloyd Johnson, as Art, representing Young America, possessed the voice and appearance of the youthful hero, who was always upheld by his faithful chum, acted by Olaf Johnson. Gertrude Heath had the actions of a typical Irish washerwoman with a raw temper which often led to the abuse of her two troublesome children, cleverly portrayed by Henrietta Roos and Emanuel Machevich. Grace Mathisen played the part of Tommy, who was the accomplice of the McGuire kids in their pranks. The part of the pepperish, quick-tempered Mr . Coombs was a difficult one, but John Burke was equal to it. Dale Remington made an ideal policeman, while the juvenile judge, clerk of court, and court officers were played by Kentieth ${ }^{\text {" Bulley, Walter Mo- }}$ lander and Ellsworth Stilles. Louis Goodman and his wife, represented by Amanda Peterson, Marion Wisner as Majorie, and her suitor, a part taken by James Colwell, were intimate friends of the Dorays. The colored lady, Violet Penkowsky, met with trouble through her angelic son, played by Lyle Lang, and Oscar Leonardson, a German peddler.

The directors, Miss Daniels and Miss Corry, deserve much credit for their rigorous labor which resulted in a production worthy of every effort.

GLEE CLUB NOTES

The orchestra and glee clubs were organized under the direction of Miss Mabel Letendre.

The Girls' Glee Club participated in the program given on December itth, 1919, at the faculty party for Mr. Landgraf. This first appearance foretold a successful year for that organization.

At the Christmas program on December 19th, the Boys' Glee Club sang before the general assembly for the first time. The numbers were well rendered and their first appearance was wholly successful.

The assembly was pleasantly surprised on Monday, March ist, when the Girls' Glee Club entertained the students during the twenty-five minute period as a preliminary to the High School concert which was given on Tuesday evening, March 2nd, and proved to be the outstanding feature of the year. It was a success musically as well as financially. The chorus was in fine spirits, due to the thorough training and inspiring personality of its leader. This affair brought people to a realization of the high standard of music in the High School. The program reads :

Greco-Indian Romance Staged In Assembly Hall

Venus vamps another poor victim after twenty centuries of retirement. The sole survivor of the Marinette tribe of American Aborigines who has guarded the entrance to Schlise's Cigar Store for over eighteen years, grew tired at last of listening patiently to the town gossip expounded within, and stealing away, approached Marinette High School largely because he had no better place to approach.

Just where he got the key to the door, or what window he crawled through will always remain a mystery-to a few.

For a few days he contentedly remained behind the scenery on the stage, amusing himself by watching the antics of the inmates.
But one dark night he caught a glimpse of the fair miss who adorns the south side of our four-walled assembly.
It was "love at first sight," and that night as the moon shone through the few remaining window panes on the coy maid of Greece, our hero went a-wooing. But as is the way of lovers he o'er stayed his visit, and our janitor, with downright heroism, broke up the courtship by placing the dusky-warrior back upon the stage. 'Tis said that the janitor also ran the risk of being scalped for his pains, and was only saved gy the fact that he is already quite bald.

The red man soon became an object of curiosity to the poor souls languishing within the confines of the school, and was constantly annoyed by newspaper reporters and "Annual" camera men.

Soon tiring of his new found popularity, Lucifer managed to sell the Belladonnas in his hand to John Crickett Barnowsky, thereby raising one dollar to pay for his transportation back to the land of town gossip and shoe shines. As a parting gift to his love, he presented her with a tuft of his feathers, which may yet be seen on the window sill next to her corner.

Below---Our much sought for Goddess of Love.

Melodramatic Student Pulls Bold Gunman Act  At Appleton

Time: 9:30; place: Appleton; occasion: Lights out in the village and the basketball game over.

A certain lanky High School lad accompanied the M. H. S. basketball warriors to Appleton, where they met with defeat, 9-5. Despondent over the loss of the game, "Two Gun" Jerry started to shoot up the slumbering Hamlet. Each shot was followed by a series of shrieks and moans, which, as was found out later, emerged from Thistle Foot Dan, his ardent crony. The result was disastrous as it awakened two cops and all of the nearby community, who, of course, had been asleep for a long while. Shaking theír drowsy bloodhounds, the policemen started in hot pursuit of the rentless ruffians. $O$, boy, that Jepry is speedy, but the hounds were faster, and after a royal battle of ten minutes he fell into the hands of the law. Everyone turned out to witness the most exciting spectacle ever stayed on an Appleton street at such a late hour. Our vanquished hero was marched to the police station in humiliation. Several Marinette High School rooters attempted to explain the situation to the cops, but neither of them seemed to understand English, so they gave it up until they saw the chief who told them in Armenian that "Two Gun" Jerry could have a trial in the morning. Of course he had to be searched and put to sleep in the coop. "That was the saddest part," sighed "Two Gun," "'cause they took my new dice away-and they cost me six bones, too; regular dice, you know."

The next morning saw Jerry before the judge, who pronounced his case a "boyish prank" and dismissed him with a warning. He immediately hit the left side of the next tender due north and returned to Marinette a more sedate young man.

ALL TOGETHER NOW GANG,

LET'S HELP THE DEBAT-  ORS (OUT)

Things have not been going very well with our worthy debators of late. Fact is attendance at the debates have been something fierce lately. Now, let's get together and show the debators that the school is behind them. (Sure, about 100 miles behind them). Let's show them that we appreciate hard work. Why not get up a giant parade. (Yes why not), and meet the heroes at the train. We hope we can count on Supt. Neverman to make the welcoming speech. Everybody out, let's give them a welcome that they will remember. (Yes, for several reasons), and show them that we appreciate real worth. Boost the debators (Out). Remember that they are the only men worth while.

"Menominee to have wonderful new background for athletic field" - Headline, Menominee publication.

The Michiganders evidently are more than proud of their new athletic field, but we do hope for the sake of appearance that those rough boys from Marinette don't muss up the immediate foreground with Me nominee football men as they did last Nov. 11; or will they again lay it onto the "Grace of God and a little wind?"

Did you ever stop to consider what a great invention the five minute period between classes is???? It allows the teachers to stand in the hall and "gas" for c.bout three minutes longer than formerly.

JUNIORS BEAT UP SENIORS  IN WARM FOOTBALL SCRAP

Sticking the pig-skin under her arm in the last second of play Madeline Heimburg, star fullback of the Juniors, plunged to victory this afternoon in the game that decided the interclass championship of M. H. S. The score stood 333-335.

Although the game was fast and interesting, it was somewhat marred by rough-house tactics on the part of both teams, and the field was strewn with hair-nets and switches. Doris Prickett and Antoinette Williams, the two centers, had to be reprimanded several times for using violent and abusive language; Antoinette claims |pointed when the referee called that it was all Doris' fault, "The mean old thing had no right to throw sand anyway," she says.

The critical moment of the game came when the Juniors had succeeded in placing the ball on the Seniors' ten yard line. At this juncture H. Bradner, the Senior halfback, was taken out with a badly torn finger nail, and it was undoubtedly the loss of their captain that cost the Seniors the game, as her encouraging yell which had been heard all through the fray, while she urged her teammates on to greater effort, was greatly missed.

Verna Miller, next called for a play through right guard, and Edith Nelson crossed the goal. The Juniors were for a moment elated, only to be sadly disapthe play back, because it was shown that Mildred Leanna, the guard, had been engaged powdering her nose at the time the play was called.

The next play also was a failure, Alice Mueller being rather unceremoniously tackled as she paused to adjust a few stray strands of hair. There being nothing in the rules against such poor sportsmanship, Referee Britske was forced to overlook the tactics of the Senior end.

With only one down left and ten yards to go, the Juniors held a consultation, to decide whether to punt or drop-kick. The ball, however, was given to Madeline Heimburg. The stocky fullback managed to plow her way through the hair-pulling Seniors to victory.

A PROHIBITION TAIL  But not the end

May 4, 1920: Today the Outrage reporter handed in a bit of quite exciting news.
A Bulley and a Goodman met rather violently as they rounded the corner. The Bulley proceeded to bump the Goodman's head against the Wall and and finally knocked him Lowe. While in Paradise he dreamed of a pretty Roos in a Dale. He awoke to find the Bulley still gazing upon him. The Goodman darted over the nearby Stiles, pursued by the angry Bulley. "If I only had a Habighorst," thought our noble Goodman, "then I'd show that bo some speed." But who was that Young man coming from the Greenwood? Oh, it was a Miller with his first keg of Holme brewed Boose! The Goodman skillfully snatched the Boose from the Miller and upon taking his first sip he murmured, "O, how it Burns!"

Intense ponderosity ensued on the part of our Goodman!
"Curses, I shall get revenge," snarled the Goodman, and he smilingly handed the Boose to the Bulley, his pursuer, who eagerly thanked him. But-. It Haase been a Mundt and the Bulley hasn't fully recovered!

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

The Outrage will give one Bezillions trading stamp for every "Embarrassing Moments" story accepted.

OF COURSE THEY DON'T

The most awful moment of my young, asd up to then happy life, came one evening at a socalled Overall party given by the Webster social lions. All went well up to the time of the intermission, when prizes were announced for the best costume, youngest looking escort, etc. Imagine my feelings upon being declared the best looking young lady! Of course I rather sus pected it right along but then, of course, no girl likes to be called good looking right out in public and everything.

VERNA M.

AND HE WAS HAVING SO MUCH FUN

Mine came one day in the As sembly, as I was talking to a young lady who sits very near me. The conversation became quite interesting, so much so in fact, that both of us quite for got to listen for the buzzer at the end of the five minute period. I was just remarking that in my estimation her eyes were quite the prettiest I'd seen for a long time, when dreadful si lence fell upon us, with a sickening thud! It was at this point that Mr. Carr's voice boomed out from the other side of the assembly, "Cut that Romeo stuff, Harvey. She's heard it all before."

EDITOR'S LIFE THREATENED

Mysterious telephone call received near midnight

Young lady on wire

(Special to Outrage from the Tattler)
An incident which so far has been hushed up by certain parties, has at last come to fight, seemingly improved by a few weeks time elapsing since its occurrence.
Thre main part of the action concerned in our little story took place about the time that the "Annual" was going to press. Tired out with many nights' work, the Editor was attempting to spend a quiet evening at home and had just settled down to a real hour's enjoyment with the latest issue of "Snappy Stories" for company. Suddenly the peaceful atmosphere was shattered by the noisy jangling of the telephone bell.

Wondering what the --!--?--! could be up at this time of night, the foor victim raced for the 'phone.

A woman's voice greeted him -"Is this the Editor ??"-This in icy tones-Well, let me tell you one thing-don't you dare put that picture of me in my pajamas in the 'Annual'-DO YOU . .HEAR? . .DON'T . . YOU DARE!" Then-silence-.

No we don't know just who it was either. Safe to say though, we know of at least one young lady who will, in the future, refrain from having any "nightie" pictures taken while attending a house party.

Oh! Them Classes

"They're More Darn Fun!"

Miss Latta (in Latin class): "What is the Latin for bier ?"
Kenneth Bulley: "Bevo!"

Hunting: "In what way does love resemble chemistry;"
Student: "Both are at their best when the gas is low."

In Geometry

"Therefore the triangle P-I-G is congruent to the triangle H-O-G."
Mr. Holmquist (in science class): "Rudolph, what does your mother usually have on her stove to keep a sufficient supply of humidity in the air ?"

Rudolph K.: "A damper."
"Have you any good current literature, Mr. Koepp ?"
"Why, yes, here are a few excellent books on electricity."
Miss Corry: "What people would be mentioned in the book, 'Men Who Have Risen?'"

Chorus: "Aviators!"
Mr. Hunting (in chemistry class): "What great change takes place when water changes to ice?"

Student: "The greatest change is the change in price."
Principal: "Are you a Latin scholar;"
New Student: "No, Irish."

> The day is dark and stormy,
> The heavy clouds roll by,
> Prof. Koepp has combed his azure hair, But has not changed his tie.

Soph.: "How many subjects are you carrying ?"
Fresh.: "Carrying one; dragging three."

Miss Corry: "Now, tell me, what is a hypocrite?"
Student: "A boy who comes to school with a smile on his face."
"Generally speaking, girls are-"
"Yes, they are."
"Are what?"
"Generally speaking."
"Tho't you took geometry last year."
"I did, but the faculty encored me."

Caesar is dead and buried,
And so is Cicero,
And where these two old guys have gone, I wish their works would go.

Mr. Hunting In Chemistry Lecture

"Now, if any of you fellows try drinking this wood alcohol you can count on losing your eyesight."

Low Senior voice from corner seat: "Oh, what's the use? I've seen everything, anyway!"

JUST JESTS

Amie L. (at a H. S. dance) : "Manny, who have you the next dance with?" Manny F. (hea 1 and hand in air): "This young lady has the honor."
"Orin, were you looking through the keyhole at Dutch and I last night ?"
"Naw, Ma was in de way."
"I want to see the editor. Is the gentleman in ?"
"Yes, I'm in."
"Are you the editor ?"
"No, I'm the gentleman. The editor is in the Annual room."
Gee whiz, I sed one day,
What makes everything seem so blue ?
Feel as tho I'd like to chew
The rag.
Gee whiz, I sed one day,
What makes everything seem so gay?
Gosh darn it, consarn it, I've got it,
A girl!
-Dale Remington.

A Hint to Marinette High School Girls

Be careful that your gentleman friend don't lean against the doorbell when he's saying good-night. It's a dead give-away as to how long the operation takes.

Friend: "Was she shy when you asked her her age?"
Jimmie Molasses Colwell (Fifth Ward enumerator) : "Yes, about ten years."
Hobby: "Gosh, Helen is a fast little girl!"
Kuchie: "How's 'at?"
Hobby: "She made five laps in one evening."
He gazed into her lovely eyes
With great concern.
A love affair, so you surmise ;
Read on and learn.
He looked away, but not with bliss,

- She heard him wheeze.

You have astigmatism, Miss.
Ten dollars, please.
Holmes (at a staff meeting, listening to orchestra practising in Goodman Hall) : "If I were Miss Le Tendre and I got the same results from the orchestra every time I yelled 'Play,' I'd shoot 'em for disobeying orders."

1, $2,3,4,5,6,7$
All good children go to heaven;
When they get there they will yell:
"Marinette High School sure did well."
At a W. D. S. sleighride: E. and D.-Oh, Gee! K. and M.-A-HEM!
Lives of Seniors all remind us
That we must strive to do our best ;
And, departing, leave behind us
Note books that will help the rest.

Lyn: "I hear Orvilla won a loving cup."
Art: "She certainly deserved one."
"Say, doesn't that young Lawrence know how to say 'good-night?" "
Edith N.: "Well, rather, Dad!"

Webster's Latest Unabridged High School Dictionary

CASE-Mumps of the heart; that swelled feeling-you know, as if there were two hearts instead of one, or another in the place of the one you already have, only bigger ; symptoms follow close on the heels of spring fever.

Syn.: Attachment, affliction.
Reference: Lyn Rudolph, Art Hanson.
LOVE-Two darn things after each other-in other words, love is an ectastic sensation which renders the unfortunate victim utterly destitute of common sense and good judgment.

Syn.: Heaven.
Reference: Cecile Regner.
LIBRARY-A seat of all trouble; a place to eat all you want; peanuts, cracker-jack and gum; the only place around school to fuss it up right; lounging room-no place to study.

Syn.: Nigger heaven.
Reference: Eva Peterson, Verna Miller.
DREAM-A vision which is bound to descend in classes and which alights on unawareful domes, transporting said he or she to vales unknown by hardened Profs.

Syn.: Wanderings, bosh.
Reference: Royal Greenwood, Olaf Johnson, Oscar Leonardson.
Miss Daniels-lots of pep!
Growing old? Not yet!
Do we like her? You bet!
But why?
She is human, like us,
Never known to cause a fưss.
We'll stick by her-or bust.

Chirpings In Civics

Ninety per cent of all our business is done with checks, notes, etc.; the other $90 \%$ is done with hard cash."
"He was born in Marinette at the age of 59 ."
Miss Daniels: "Earl, tell me something about Wm. Pitt."
Earl Carter (very seriously): "The State of Pennsylvania was named after him."

On a chemistry quiz paper: "If a lighted candle is placed in a jar of water in which Co 2 has been bubbled, the candle will be extinguished."

Holmquist: "Warren, where do bugs go in the winter ?"
. Webber (absent mindedly) : "Search me!"
"If Ivanhoe cost sixty cents, what is Kennilworth;"
"Great Scott, what a novel question!"
Sympathetic teacher: "My poor boy! I'm so sorry you failed in your examinations. What was the reason, I wonder ?"

He (also wondering): "I can't think."
"Do you know that gink ovah yondah?"
"Yah, he sleeps next to me in Commercial Law."
Senior: "I see where they're having an awful flood in France."
Sophomore: "Can't be! The water there is always l'eau!"
Dutch: "Well, what did you say to that girl you met?"
Harry P.: "Er-I asked her if I could see her home, and she said she'd send me a picture of it if I gave her my address."
"I can see good in all things,", claimed our worthy physics teacher.
"Can you see good in a fog?" asked our funny Senior.
