Y. M. C. A. MEN BEGIN CANVASS FOR FUND DRIVE

Frat Subscriptions Swell Early Totals in Campaign

More than 200 canvassers and solicitors of the Y. M. C. A. finance drive began work yesterday to secure pledges for the $5,000 fund needed to carry on the work for another year.

The Y. W. C. A. had no official report on its drive last night.

Subscriptions from fraternities are expected to swell the total considerably more than in previous years. Sigma Chi and Delta Kappa Epsilon members pledged $43 and $33 respectively in less than half an hour after the drive started.

Dormitory Canvassed

Many unsolicited amounts ranging from $5 to $10 reached the Y. M. C. A. yesterday from students who were prepared to subscribe to the fund before they were approached. An appeal was made to the old members of the organization through a personal letter, enclosing a membership card for the year, asking that any subscription that the student might care to make be sent to the office of the finance committee immediately.

A partial canvass of the Y. M. C. A. dormitory netted a sum of more than $300. The men living in the dormitory can be reached at any time, but the captains of the drive began their campaign of the building on the first day this year.

Augustine Confident

Every student who subscribes to the fund is given a red button bearing the words "Fellowship Fosters Service." The badges began to appear last evening and will appear in increasing numbers during the week according to the canvassers.

"Our early reports are very promising and the good words we have had from some of our voluntary contributors encourages us to think we will go over the top soon," Harry Augustine '23, chairman of the drive, said yesterday.

Octopus Sets Deadline For Football Number

The deadline for all editorial and art copy for the football number of the Octopus was set for Thursday, November 2, at a meeting of the editorial staff and board of editors held yesterday. Complete plans and final suggestions for the football number were discussed. The publication will appear on the campus on November 15.

"We are making a big appeal to student contributors for editorial and art contributions for the coming number," Hubert Townsend '23, managing editor said. All material handed in should be clearly marked with the name and address of the contributor.

The Octopus is making elaborate plans for an increased source of material by a new system of co-operation with all the sorority and rooming houses of the university. A woman's editor is to be appointed to take charge of a definite canvass for contributors from the women's ranks.

O'Brien is Candidate For Sophomore Senator

S. Weldon O'Brien '25, has announced his candidacy for sophomore member of the Student senate at the fall election, November 3. O'Brien was sophomore rush chairman October 14, when the second year men won the contest, 14 to 1. He won his numerals last year in freshman football, was a member of the freshman track squad and served on the Cap night committee. This year O'Brien is playing quarterback on the all-American team. He is a member of Kappa Sigma and Inner Gate.

HARESFOOT TO GIVE TRYOUTS

Annual Follies Entertainment To Be Chosen By New Method

Tryouts open to all men but freshmen will be held for the acts to be given at the Haresfoot Follies December 2, according to a new policy announced by the Haresfoot club yesterday.

The venture, a new departure in producing Haresfoot entertainment, is being made in order that an early estimate of material available for the spring show, "Kikmi", may be ascertained.

First tryouts will be held November 17. Three acts probably will be chosen for the annual Follies entertainment.

Porter F. Butts '24 is in charge of the Follies and Sidney Thorson '24 is business manager. Alfred Hiatt '23 has charge of the entertainment arrangements and will conduct tryouts.

"We feel that our new plan gives an unusual opportunity for talented men to make themselves known to us and the student body early in the year and for us to offer a bigger and more representative Follies," Hiatt said yesterday.

"A man's chances of making the spring show and Haresfoot will be increased greatly by work in the Follies this fall," Butts declared.

The acts are to be given during the dance intermission and may be of any vaudeville type, according to Hiatt. Singing and dancing and specialty acts are wanted particularly. Either Hiatt, B. 171, or Butts B. 185, will give information concerning tryouts.

SENIOR POLITICIANS CALL CLASS MEET

An official senior mass meeting will be held at 7 o'clock tonight in the auditorium of the Engineering building to give the candidates for president and sergeant-at-arms of the senior class an opportunity to speak and to become known to members of their class.

Candidates for these two offices are required to be present and to speak under penalty of having their names removed from the list of candidates. Other members of the class may speak if first they file a request with Maynard Brown '23, who is conducting the meeting. Otherwise only questions may be asked after the candidates have spoken.

The candidates who will speak are Leslie Gage, candidate for senior class president, and Lionel Tschudy, candidate for sergeant-at-arms; Wayne Morse, candidate for president, and Charles Rawson, candidate for sergeant-at-arms; Roland Williams, candidate for president, and Gustav Tebell, candidate for sergeant-at-arms.

This is the first meeting of this kind to be held for years; it was called as the result of the signing of a petition by 25 seniors.

MORSE ENTERS IN SENIOR RACE FOR PRESIDENCY

Mildred Downie, Isabell Capps, Rusch and Raw- son Are on Ticket

Wayne Morse of Madison is the third member of the class of 1923 to announce his candidacy for the presidency. Mildred Downie is the candidate for vice-president; Isabel Capps for secretary; Hugo Rusch for treasurer, and Charles Rawson for sergeant-at-arms.

Morse is a member of Iron Cross, president of White Spades and of Hesperian Literary society, assistant general chairman of Homecoming, member of the executive committee of the Council of 40, and a member of the Interfraternity conference.

He is chairman of the executive committee of the Student senate, a member of Delta Sigma Rho, and of Scabbard and Blade, wearer of the Vilas medal, and member of the Wisconsin University players. He was also chairman of the ways and means committee of the 1923 Junior Prom.

Morse has been a Varsity devater for two years and last year was awarded a forensic "W". At present he is on Hesperia's joint debate team and this fall gave the Varsity welcome speech. Morse is a member of Pi Kappa Alpha and is enrolled in the College of Letters and Science.

Miss Downie won Sophomore honors and is a member of Omicron Nu and of Phi Kappa Phi. She has done work on the Country Magazine and is a member of the Wisconsin University players; Miss Downie has taken leading parts in Agric. plays and is a member of

GANFIELD WILL ADDRESS SOCIAL SCIENCE CLUB

Former President of Centre College to Speak Tonight

Dr. William Arthur Ganfield, president of Carroll college, Waukesha, will be the speaker at the meeting of the Social science club at 8:15 o'clock tonight in room 165 Bascom hall. He will speak on "Saving the day for the U. S. A."

Prof. W. T. Root of the History department will introduce the speaker. Doctor Ganfield has been before the public eye politically in the one year of his Wisconsin residence. He was a candidate for United States senator in the Republican primaries last September, running on the same ticket with Attorney-General William J. Morgan. He has addressed a number of religious conferences during the past year. Doctor Ganfield was for many years a minister and also has been a lecturer.

Doctor Ganfield was formerly president of Centre college in Kentucky and took an active part in the development of the team of "praying colonels". His visit to Madison at this time is rather interesting in the light of a prediction he made about a year ago when he came to take the chair at Carroll. He said, "What was done at Centre will be done at Carroll. We have started this fall to develop a team, and you can believe me or not, Carroll will have the state championship and will humble the University of Wisconsin within four years."

Doctor Ganfield is the first speaker that the Social science club has brought to Madison this year. The organization intends to have a number of prominent men and women speak in Madison during the year. Its aim will be to present the views of a number of different groups by having them expressed by acknowledged leaders in the liberal and conservative factions.

JUNIORS SHOW STOCK IN RING

Full Program of Events Ar- ranged For Meet Here

With only a few hours to prepare their animals for the show ring, the boys and girls of the Junior Live Stock exposition were up early this morning to make ready their exhibits for the stock show that is being held in the university stock pavilion, today.

The young folks were informally welcomed to the city of Madison and to the university at a banquet held in the Cameo room of the Insurance building last night under the auspices of the Chamber of Commerce.

Addresses of welcome were given by Col. J. W. Jackson, Chamber of Commerce, Dean H. L. Russell, College of Agriculture, E. H. Parker, president of the Wisconsin Live Stock Breeders association and others.

"We are very happy to welcome you to the city of Madison," declared Colonel Jackson. "If there is anything that the Chamber of Commerce can do to make your show a greater success, we wish that you would let us know."

Entertainment was provided during the banquet by Agricultural, Triangle and the Country Life club. The Live Stock show officially opened, yesterday, when a junior stock judging contest was held in which some 40 boys and girls competed for the ham and side of bacon.

GARDNER STRESSES UNION DRIVE MEET

"The freshman massmeeting on Monday afternoon is the most important thing the Memorial Union ever has done, because it is going to be the first 100 per cent undertaking ever put across at Wisconsin," Prof. E. H. Gardner said at a luncheon given by him for the captains and division leaders of the Memorial Union committees at the University club yesterday.

The meeting is important because alumni all over the country are watching developments at Wisconsin, Professor Gardner said.

"Every freshman and new student whether undergraduate or graduate, must be present in the seat assigned him on Monday. Classes are to be dismissed for the freshmen, and transfers will be provided for," Professor Gardner declared.

The 40 workers present learned that Illinois obtained $187,000 from their freshmen alone last year; that each man averaged $100 to our $35 of last year; and that men from other universities see the need of the Wisconsin Memorial Union and have come across generously.

Informal talks were given by Morton Frost '23, general chairman, Lee McCandless '23, Cleo Parsley '23, chairman of the girls division, and Ruth Dickover '23.

SENATE OFFERS REFERENDUM ON ELECTION BASIS

Proposed Amendment to Change Apportionment to Colleges

The question of whether the present method of election of members of the Student senate by classes shall be revised to apportionment on a college basis will be determined definitely at the general election on November 3 when it will be put to a referendum vote.

The question was first put to the test of student opinion last fall when the All-University Traditions committee resorted to a series of queries on the subject. The vote of approval made at the time will not hold, according to a ruling of the Student senate, because of the form of the ballot.

Will Print Amendment

"Both the present article two of section two of the Senate constitution and the amendment will be printed on the ballots," Ralph Axley '23, chairman of the judiciary committee of the senate said yesterday. "They will be worded in legitimate fashion so that the senate will be empowered to act on the vote. We hope everyone will study the present constitution and the proposed amendment and be thoroughly informed before voting."

The present article two of section two of the constitution reads as follows:

Twelve of the student members of the Senate shall be direct representatives and shall be chosen as follows: five members of the senior class, three members of the junior class, and two of the sophomore class, to be chosen by the qualified male electors of their respective classes; the male officers of the freshman class of the highest rank; and one graduate member of the student body who shall not be a member of the faculty, to be chosen

Debate Tryouts Will Be On Amendment Question

The preliminary tryouts for inter-collegiate debating has been set for November 16 in Bascom hall, room 165 according to Prof. J. M. O'Neill. The question for debate will be "Resolved, That the eighteenth amendment to the constitution of the U. S. be repealed."

In order to accommodate all who are expected to tryout there will be a contest at 3:30 o'clock and one at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Contestants are requested to register at Professor O'Neill's office, at some time prior to the tryouts, both as to the side of the question upon which they intend to speak, and whether they will speak in the afternoon or evening.

Speeches will be five minutes in length and there will be no rebuttal. The winners of the preliminary tryouts will be eligible for the final competition.

French Chosen Delegate To Sigma Delta Chi Meet

Roy L. French '23, was elected Wisconsin delegate to the national Sigma Delta Chi convention at Manhattan, Kas., November 17 to 18, at a meeting of the fraternity Sunday night at the Delta Pi Delta house. French is president of the Wisconsin chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, men's national honorary and professional journalistic fraternity.

Pearl Anderberg Out For Forensic Position

Pearl Anderberg '23, has announced her candidacy for the Forensic board. She is not affiliated with any ticket. Miss Anderberg is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, W. A. A., Castalia and is president of the junior mathematics club and vice-president of Castalia. She participated in the joint Pythia debate last year and was captain of a team in the Memorial Union drive. Her home is in Colton, S. D.

DEATH TAKES LYMAN ABBOTT

Bronchitis Fatal to Famous Clergyman and Writer

NEW YORK—Dr. Lyman Abbott, editor in chief of the Outlook, with which he has been associated nearly 40 years, clergyman, lawyer, author, and successor to Henry Ward Beecher as pastor of Plymouth church Brooklyn, died Sunday. He would have been 87 in December. When the end came his four sons and two daughters were at the bedside.

LYMAN ABBOTT

Dr. Abbott suffered a severe attack of bronchitis at his country home in Cornwall-on-the-Hudson last summer, from which he never fully recovered.

Dr. Abbott was born in Roxbury, Mass., Dec. 18, 1835. In 1857 he married Abby Frances Hamlin, who died in 1907. By her Dr. Abbott had six children, two of whom Ernest H. and Lawrence F., were associated with him in the management of the Outlook.

Dr. Abbott was one of the most active leaders in many avenues of religious and civic thought in the United States.

In his early youth, after graduation from the University of New York, he studied law and was admitted to the bar, and afterwards practiced in partnership with his brothers, Benjamin V. and Austin Abbott. Giving up the law for theology, he studied for the ministry of the Congregational church with his uncle, S. C. Abbott, and was ordained at Farmington, Me., in 1860. His first charge was in Terre Haute, Ind., where he remained five years.

As editor of the Christian Union, which was later to be known as the Outlook, his work, in association with that of the Rev. Henry Ward Beecher, marked him as a man of great promise.

After the death of Mr. Beecher, Dr. Abbott became pastor of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, where his predecessor had earned fame. He remained in charge until 1899, when he resigned.

In Dr. Abbott's work as editor of the Outlook, in which he was associated in his long career with many famous men, including Theodore Roosevelt, he sought to interpret the different orders of political organizations from the Christian viewpoint.

Before starting on what might be called his ministerial career, Dr. Abbott, in collaboration with his brother, wrote two novels, "Cone-Cut Corners" and "Mathew Caraby." His most important volumes are "The Result of Emancipation in the United States," "Old Testament Shadows of New Testament Truths," "A Layman's Story," "Dictionary of Religious Knowledge," "A Study in Human Nature," "The Theology of an Evolutionist," "The Evolution of Christianity," "Social Problems," and "Problems of Life."

Tree Planting Period Not Suited to Wisconsin

The university will not observe national tree planting week October 27 to November 3. Prof. J. G. Moore of the horticulture department declares that trees planted during the fall months do not thrive in Wisconsin. The present tree planting week is appropriate for the eastern states but in Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Dakotas trees seldom survive the winter planted in the fall.

Country to Celebrate Navy Day on Friday

Friday has been designated as Navy day by the Navy Department. The setting aside of a day to celebrate the service rendered by the navy was suggested by the Navy League of the United States, which is an organization interested in the preservation of the navy and of giving to it more credit as a protector of the country and a safeguard of commerce. There will be no local celebration, either by the city or university.

Paris Government Fears Helplessness of Wirth

PARIS—The French government is greatly disturbed over the fact that Chancellor Wirth of Germany is obliged to have the protection of a strong bodyguard whenever he goes out.

The feeling here is that a government laboring under such constraint is incapable of dealing with the financial situation and the reparations problem. It is regarded as improbable that any program of reform could be put into force by such a government.

Y. M. C. A. to Conduct Religious Conference

Classes in Americanization, sewing, French, drawing, physical education, and manual arts are conducted by university Y. W. C. A. workers at the Neighborhood house, 768 West Washington avenue.

More than 50 from the Y. W. C. A. go out to the settlement house each week to instruct Italian and Jewish children in the ways of this country.

Not only in studies but also in play are the children instructed. The doll class, in which the dark Italians care for the rag dolls they have chosen, is one of the most popular groups. Strange creations result from the work of these foreign modistes.

Miss Gay W. Braxton and Miss Gregg are the head workers. The settlement house is a private school enterprise only partially absorbed by the state through the industrial board which pays the salaries of the head workers.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

RICHARDS GIVES LONG WORKOUT FOR LIMBERING

Injured Men Rounding Into Condition For Future Games

The shades of night were falling fast when Coach John R. Richards called a halt to Varsity's limbering-up workout at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. Despite the conference game on Saturday, the Badger first eleven was driven through a long signal drill while the reserves scrimmaged Coach Keg Driver's freshmen.

The men started work on formations for the Minnesota game two weeks hence and not until darkness made it impossible to see the ball did Coach Richards close the secret practice.

The list of cripples has decreased until now virtually all of the squad is fit for a gruelling Big Ten game and with a fortnight more in which to put the men in tip-top shape, Wisconsin should have its full strength against Spaulding's Gophers.

Below Recovering

Jack Harris was back on the first eleven after a long layoff. He will alleviate any worries over the reserve back proposition and can be used either at right half or fullback. Marty Below was sent into his tackle position during the second half of the Indiana game. Below also was incapacitated, but he has rounded into shape and with a little hard work will plug up the weak left side of Wisconsin's line.

It was through the left portion that Captain Hanney made most of his gains Saturday. Eight successive times the Hoosier leader carried the ball in an attack on Christianson and Scherneck. His attempts were good for consecutive first downs. Coach Richards is expected to devote a great deal of attention to the center and left side of the wall before Wisconsin stacks up against Minnesota on Nov. 4 and Illinois on the 11.

Schoolmates Clash

Former schoolmates engaged in somewhat of a duel during the Indiana-Wisconsin contest. Gus Tebell and Frank Hanney were students at Aurora, Ill., high school. Both play right end on their Varsity elevens and both starred on Saturday. Gus blocked a punt and scored a touchdown besides intercepting a pass in Wisconsin's zone when the Crimson threatened.

Playing offensive fullback, Hanney made most of the gains for his team and was a power on the defense. The two friendly rivals probably will compete against each other again when critics try to pick a right end for the All-Conference team.

Gibby Gibson has been the unluckiest man on the Badger eleven. Gibby entered the Indiana game with a mask covering his entire face, the copper covering necessary to protect a broken nose suffered in the South Dakota game. After playing a whirlwind game, Gibson was carried from the field with an injury to his leg. His sparkling 50-yard run to touchdown was nullified when Wisconsin was penalized for holding.

Freshman Injured

If the Badger backfield is kept intact with Captain Williams and Gibson at the halves, Coach Richards will have the fastest set of halfbacks in the Big Ten. Taft also is showing a bit of speed and with more experience he should develop into a star fullback.

During last night's frosh-reserve scrimmage, Leslie Wallace, Eau Claire, Wis., suffered a compound fracture of the right leg. The accident occurred on the opening kickoff. Wallace is a halfback.

From now on, Driver's freshmen will perfect Minnesota plays and will attempt to use them against Varsity. Ruhland is running the yearling eleven from quarterback although Ed Williams is the regular pilot.

The W. A. A. banquet in honor of Miss Ingles, member of the Scotch international hockey team several years ago, is to be held at 6 o'clock tonight in Lathrop hall.

Miss Ingles will be here for a week to coach the hockey classes and to work up special formations and technique in the class teams. She is here under the auspices of W. A. A.

Talks are to be given by Miss Ingles; Miss Cynthia Wesson, hockey coach; Miss Blanche Trilling, head of the physical education department; and Belle Knights '23, head of hockey. Marjorie Severance '23, president of the organization will act as toast mistress. The banquet which is open to all costs 75 cents a plate.

WILLIAMS GETS COACHING BIDS

Kansas Aggies Offer Badger Star Job as Mentor

Rollie Williams is considering an offer to coach at the Kansas Agricultural college next year as the result of an offer which representatives of the institution made him Saturday. He will not decide until the latter part of the year as to where he will go, he declared last night.

Special representatives of the Kansas school talked the matter over with Williams Saturday night following the Indiana game. He was assured of a job, it is reported, and he can start work in the fall of 1923.

Several high schools have entered bids for the Badger captain's services upon his graduation but he has not answered any of them definitely.

"I want time to think it over and get my school career over first before I think of a job," Williams declared.

Maj. Morphy Explains Band Courtesy at Game

Band courtesy as shown at the football games was explained by Major E. W. Morphy, director, yesterday after the Indiana game.

During the actual playing of the game the band plays only when a Wisconsin man takes time out. To play when an opponent is injured is a lack of courtesy, he declared. Major Morphy also asserted that the actions of the bands between the halves are predetermined and are arranged with the rival bands.

Many persons feel that we don't play enough, but if they understood the band courtesy which is practiced at all games they would not object, Major Morphy said.

Twenty-one New Members Are Elected to Castalia

Castalia literary society has elected 21 women to membership. The new members are:

Formal initiation ceremonies will be held at 7 o'clock Friday evening. The definite place of meeting will be announced in the Bulletin board.

"The election committee had a most delicate task to select members this year," said Catherine Boyd '23, president. "All candidates who tried out showed such exceptional talent that election to membership was restricted only by the constitutional limit placed on the number of women who may belong." Try-outs will be held again in February, when vacancies will be filled.

Practice Interferes With Athletics and Spirit Is Claim

BY FIELDING H. YOST
University of Michigan

Progress in sportsmanship and ethics, as well as in technique and ability, has characterized the history of athletics in this country throughout the last decade. Leaders in the field of physical education and athletics have all come to realize the value of ethical standards in sport. As a result, our athletics today are conducted on a far higher plane than ever before.

In spite of this great progress, however, some practices still prevail which very materially detract from the full value of college athletics. Particularly is this true of betting on the outcome of the various athletic contests. The scope of this practice has expanded with the added intensity of modern athletics until it has become in some places a very serious menace to the progress of sport's greater ideals.

Breeds Foreign Spirit

First of all, betting throws around college athletics an atmosphere entirely foreign to the true spirit embodied in games. Fundamentally, all college athletics are based on the principles of "Play for play's sake." The theory of every game is to gain a given goal by overcoming obstacles present themselves. In life we encounter natural obstacles. In games we encounter artificial obstacles placed there for the purpose of making the game more interesting. The greater and more difficult the obstacles, the more intricate becomes the game. And the more intricate the game, the greater the interest in playing it and the greater the satisfaction that comes with success is the ideal embodied in all games. To a greater or lesser degree, depending upon the extent and nature of the practice, betting commercializes this ideal and to that extent robs it of much of its keenest thrill and satisfaction.

More practically, however, the practice of betting interferes with the progress of college athletics by stimulating ill feeling and destructive criticism on the part of those who bet. Most students, alumni, or townspeople who bet on their team have some sort of vague idea that by so doing they are demonstrating their loyalty. As a matter of fact, they are nearly every case sowing the seed of actual disloyalty. The time when a team needs and appreciates support is when it is losing. And right then it is the time when the one who bets usually forgets all about loyalty.

Dad's Money

Students, especially, have no business betting on games. Usually they are not betting their own money, and if they are, they can seldom afford to do it. As a result, if they lose, they find themselves having to "explain to Dad" or having to go without things they should have. Neither is apt to be a very pleasant experience, and it is only human nature that they try to blame some one else for their own hard luck. Before they know it, they are finding all kinds of fault with the team, the coaches, and everything from the water boy to the president. And all this because they lost a few dollars which they had no business betting.

Furthermore, when players know that large sums of money are at stake, they are apt to lose sight of the greater ideals for which they are playing. The gain or loss that some personal friend might suffer temporarily over-shadows, in the players' mind, the true spirit of the game. He forgets that he is the representative of a great university of its students, alumni and friends. He forgets all the traditions that are behind him and all the generations that are before. He forgets that he is playing the game for its own sake and for all it will mean to the spirit, morale and unanimity of his university. As a result, his game suffers. Just as all the great battles of history have been fought and won by soldiers who embodied great ideals, so all the great athletic contests have been fought and won by athletes who idealized their play.

Dolphin Club Will Hold Last Tryouts in Pool

The last Dolphin Club tryouts are to be held tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the Lathrop pool.

Approximately 20 tried out last week, and a good number have already signed up for the second tryouts. Elections will be announced later this week.

Elections are based on form, speed, and endurance. Requirements for membership are to swim 11 lengths of the pool in any stroke or strokes, to swim 2 lengths in perfect form, and to make three standard dives with an average of 85.

Work is already begun for the two exhibitions which are to be given by the organization the early part of December.

TENNIS SQUADS CONTINUE PLAY

Linden to Drill Men in Short Racquet Tournament Here

Because the annual fall tennis tournament has been completed entirely while weather conditions were still good for net play, Coach Linden has decided to conduct another short tournament before winter comes. Good weather for tennis probably will not last more than a week or two longer and he is limiting entrants to eight of the men who have showed up best in the tournaments this fall and last year.

Linden believes in giving the men all the practice that weather will permit and hopes in this way to make use of the remaining good weather to keep those men of possible Varsity calibre in trim.

Two men will be entered in this tournament who have not been in competition during the tournament which was just completed. Aageson a man who played on the Varsity team in 1921, is on the list. He has been working out on the Varsity courts lately and should give a good account of himself. Manierre, a man who played excellent tennis as a freshman last year, also will take part in the tournament.

"I do not mean to infer," Linden said last night, "that the men who are to play in this tournament are the only men eligible for the Varsity squad next spring. This is merely a group of men of proved ability. I think they may profit from a little competition this fall. All men who play tennis will have a chance to try out for the Varsity squad during spring practice."

The men who will play in the tournament in the first round are: Moulding vs. Gilmore, Campbell vs. Henika, Bennett vs. Gibson, Manierre vs. Aageson.

Play will start immediately and will continue until the winner of the tournament is decided.

BUCKEYES MEET HEAVY GOPHERS IN MINNEAPOLIS

Ohio Will Play on Minnesota Field For First Time

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 22 — The high tide of football enthusiasm is receding today, as Ohio grid followers prepare to break camp.

The first and longest road jaunt of the season lies ahead, for on Wednesday night the Buckeyes entrain for Minneapolis, where on Saturday they will play a return engagement with the Minnesota Norsemen.

Football fans at large have not forgotten the surprising manner in which the Ohio State eleven, doped to lose, ambushed Dr. Williams' last Minnesota machine in 1921. It is hardly to be expected, therefore, that the Minnesota players themselves have forgotten the incident.

So absorbed was all Columbus for Ohio stadium dedication matinee with Michigan, that Minnesota seldom crept into the conversation.

NORTHWESTERN AND ILLINI ARE NEW SURPRISES

Conference Dope Upset by Activities of Two Teams

CONFERENCE STANDING

	W.	L.	T.
Minnesota	1	0	1
Northwestern	0	1	1
Purdue	0	1	0
Ohio State	0	1	0
Indiana	0	2	0

The fighting spirit and unexpected power of Illinois and Northwestern, doped as two of the weakest elevens in the conference, were the outstanding features of Saturday's grid struggles in the Big Ten.

The Illini, with only three veteran players in their lineup, held the strong Iowa eleven to an 8 to 7 score. Within one week after the defeat of the Suckers by Butler, Coach Zuppke developed a team that missed only by a safety in sending back defeated Captain Locke and his Hawkeyes. The fierce blocking and tackling of Zuppke's men accounts largely for the results of the game.

Michigan True to Dope

Playing the most aggressive football seen in Evanston for the past two seasons, Northwestern upset the dope bucket by fighting the Gophers in the third quarter of the game to a 7 to 7 tie. A run of 100 yards Palmer, Northwestern back, turned what seemed to be a hard earned victory for Minnesota into what in the eyes of the Purple fans amounted to a triumph for Northwestern.

Michigan's decisive defeat of Ohio State 19 to 0 was not altogether expected. The Yostmen used straight football and played the Buckeyes to a standstill in the line. The game, which was contested before a crowd of 75,000 people, had the effect of partly marring the dedication ceremonies for the new Ohio stadium.

Chicago won from Purdue 12 to 0 in a loose, inconsistent battle that was disappointing to the Maroon supporters. The Maroon machine snatched the contest with new men in several of the line positions and many substitutions occurred throughout the contest. Purdue lacked aggressiveness in offense and only once threatened Chicago's goal. It is likely that the wily Coach Stagg was saving his best men and plays for the Princeton match next Saturday.

Champion Student Bum Travels With Hoosiers

Declaring that he has "bummed" his way 35,000 miles with Indiana athletic teams, Ernie Pyle, manager of the Indiana football squad and formerly editor of The Indiana Daily Student, claims that making one's way without money is the easiest thing in the world, so long as a person uses his head.

Last spring Pyle "bummed" to the Pacific coast, and then stoked coal across the Pacific. He followed the baseball team through Japan and China when the Indian men played at Waseda university, Keio university and other places of the orient.

"If you wish to corroborate my statement that I have made my way to Japan and back come to Bloomington, Ind. I persuaded a young Japanese student to return to the United States with me and he now is studying at the university," the champion student bum said.

Indiana Wells Gone Dry; Carry Water to Students

The wells of the city water works at Bloomington, Indiana, have gone dry and are unable to furnish the students and citizens with water. The university has a separate water supply department, and are furnishing the student section of the city with drinking water.

Each night the trucks pull up in front of the various rooming houses to deposit their valuable load of liquor. Human nature is fast approaching perfection as the students deliver truck loads to the less fortunate citizens at cost.

DISPLEASURE

WITH 82 candidates in the field, campus voters may expect, as this morning. It seems that in discussing a denominational sermon—a sermon affecting the university and reprinted under a sensational headline in a Madison paper—we have gone beyond our editorial prerogative.

If an utterance so published is privileged and exempt from discussion, we are squelched; but we understand that statements made in the public press are public property.

Our correspondent seems endowed with second sight when it comes to reading meaning into editorial phraseology. If the statement that students are not to be deluded by pulpit pyrotechnics is an insult to any considerable group of university students, we misjudge the intellectual temper of Wisconsin men and women.

This matter of intellect seems to interest the writer of today's communication. Unfortunately, this matter of comparative intellectualism is one we do not care to discuss. Judgement must be left to readers.

CLEANING UP POLITICS

DEEP displeasure breaks out in the communication column election time approaches, to hear some 82 candidates declare that they stand for "clean politics" or for "cleaning up campus politics."

What "cleaning up campus politics" means and just how any individuals are to clean up campus politics are matters for conjecture.

With the exception of student senators, no office-holders have any power or authority connection with elections. Other officers may shout for reform after they are elected, but the only officers who have the power to bring reform are the student senators.

But, still springs perennially the powerful cry of "clean politics". It is a good campaign cry, to be classified with the rest of political guff. It may be used by the demagogue as well as by anyone else.

Fair politics is difficult to define. It may mean compliance with election laws. It may mean square dealing between man and man.

It may mean elimination of private, secret conferences, though it is difficult to imagine political organization without leaders and private conferences among leaders.

It may mean the elimination of irrelevant issues, the devise of the demagogue to mislead prejudiced voters.

It may mean the elimination of blatant ballyhooing, by voice or in print, designed to arouse a mobbish sentiment.

Whatever it may be is for the individual voter to decide.

Clean politics, fair politics, is an ideal, but it is not a campaign issue. Issues are scarce in campus politics.

Candidates for the senate, who seek legislative power, may well present measures for which they stand; but for other positions the issue is the candidate and nothing else.

For board positions and Prom chairman, executive ability is needed. The issue in such an election is the relative ability of the candidates.

Class offices are largely honorary, with the exception of the Prom chairmanship. The issue in election to such offices is the personal qualities of the candidate, and nothing else.

The basis for election to class offices should be the relative excellence of the candidates in leadership, campus achievement, and personality.

That is where the matter of clean politics comes in. If a candidate uses unfair and dishonest campaign tactics, his personality certainly is not one to be recognized with election to a post of honor.

Summaries and Pictures Late at Badger Office

Of the 1350 members of the class of 1923 only 450 have sent in their summaries to the Badger. All senior pictures must be taken, and summaries turned in before November 1, according to editor of this section Madison photographers have been instructed to make no appointments for pictures after that date.

A meeting of all 1924 Badger salesmen will be held this afternoon in the Union building to discuss the second subscription campaign which will begin tomorrow.

This drive is to be on the commission basis. The rise of fifty cents on the Badger price goes to the salesman as his commission. In order to complete the necessary quota, 1200 more subscriptions are needed.

ATHEISM?

Editor The Cardinal

The editorials on "Preaching Professors" and "Atheism Attacked" are not only entirely illogical and uncalled for, but rude in the extreme. They are uncalled for because they attack a series of sermons given in a denominational church to those of that denomination and visitors, who come unsolicited. However, the courses on the hill, that Father Hengell attacks are given in classes listed in the catalogue under innocent sounding titles where the chooser of such courses does not know he is getting into a class where he hears "personal ideas" taught as facts which he must learn in order to write his exam so that he will get a passing grade.

I should like to see what grade a student would get who wrote answers to exam questions of Professor Ross's, MacGilvary's or Otto's based on the teachings of Catholic philosophy, the philosophy of Aristotle and St. Augustine against that of Kant and Nietzsche. Or if sociology questions were answered from the point of morals instead of mere "expediency" and "survival of the fittest."

The concluding paragraph of the second editorial is particularly obnoxious. I quote for the benefit of those who haven't read the editorials.

"Pulpit pyrotechnics may seem conclusive to a congregation of morons and parrots trained in orthodoxy, but they are transparent to sophisticated students."

By your leave the 1200 splendid young men and women who form the congregations that have the privilege to hear Father Hengell are neither "morons" nor "parrots," and it is ill-fitting a student editor to apply such a term to 1200 of his fellow students. I'm just a wee bit inclined to think said editor has one of those limited intellects that gobbles up all that sounds wise and "sophisticated" to use his own term.

In conclusion let me say that those of us who have heard Father Hengell Sunday after Sunday for four years and more will remember him and his sound teachings in years to come long after the wise professors have taught their little private ideas and passed into oblivion, since they don't believe in such "ridiculous things as a personal God and a world to come."

Sophomore Honor List Posted in Bascom Hall

The list of students who were awarded sophomore honors for last year is now posted in Bascom hall, following the custom of the past three years. Two women and four men were awarded high honors. The women led in honors awarded, 28 to 27. Unlike Phi Beta Kappa, students receiving the required grade points are awarded the honors without election.

Our college has gone on the bum!

'Cause all we do is "fuss"
We dance and drink and eat and play,

That's all that's wrong with us!!!

Our lady friends are flappers right.

They bob their pretty curls
They wear their dresses cut so short,

They look like high-school girls!

They dance around in half-lit rooms,

With half-lit men, they say.
That's what they write in magazines.

How do they get that way??

ASK INCREASE FOR NORMALS

Board of Regents Meeting Thursday, Seeks $6,000,000

The state legislature, at its next session, will be asked to increase the normal school appropriation for the two year period from 1923 to 1925 from $3,520,000 to $6,000,000 it was announced today by William Kittle, secretary of the normal school board of regents which will meet here Thursday. A tentative budget now being prepared calls for an increase of $2,480,000. It will be submitted to the board for approval. Plans for enlargements additions at several of the institutions accounts for the increase, said Mr. Kittle.

A bitter struggle is expected over the motion which is expected to be made by President C. G. Pearce of the Milwaukee Normal school asking for the continuation of college work in the normal schools until July 1925. The regents at their last meeting voted to eliminate strictly college work from the normal schools and to devote the school to training of teachers only, beginning July 1, 1923.

President Pearce is one of the few educators in the state who have taken a stand against the resolution and it is expected that he will make a fight to have the ruling modified.

SEEKING a symbolic figure to represent Knowledge, let us turn away from the muses of antiquity and the be-capped and be-gowned youth of our own day.

How about the Football Player Tackling a Dummy? Isn't he typical of everything you do in these four years?

You are the Football Player. The dummy is every knotty problem you tackle, every effort to earn your way through, every examination, every campus activity.

Tackle the dummy hard, and you'll be ready for even bigger tests in the game of business or professional life.

Do not say about this symbol, "How clever", and let it go at that. It is worth nothing unless it reminds you to get the spirit of the Tackler into your work.

By his earnestness he seems to feel the thrill of combat. With set jaws and muscles tense he plunges at the dummy. For him it is alive, and the practice is a means to win the game.

If you intend to help score touchdowns after college, here is a man to measure up to.

ART COMMITTEE OFFERS PRIZES AT HOMECOMING

Statuette Depicting Wisconsin Homecoming to Receive Silver Cup

A silver cup will be given for the best statuette depicting the spirit of Homecoming, according to Herbert Brockhausen '23, chairman of the art and decorations committee, this contest is the first of its kind to be tried at Wisconsin and will be held in connection with the poster contest. The students in Miss Delia Wilson's sculpturing class are competing for the cup which is on display at the Kamera Kraft shop.

Students in the university art course and Madison high schools are working to turn out the greatest number of posters that have been displayed by Madison merchants in their window displays. This idea has met with hearty approval on the part of the merchants and many of them have asked for two or three posters.

The posters and statuettes submitted in the contest will be exhibited November 5 and 6. The judges will be in the Madison public library. To decide the winners of the contest the evening of November 5. Those who will pass upon the merits of the entries are Prof. William H. Varum of the university art department, Architect Frank Riley, and Mr. Arthur F. Worth, manager of the photo engraving department at the Print shop.

SENATE SUGGESTS REFERENDUM PLAN

by general vote of the qualified male electors.

The Proposed Amendment

The proposed amendment will read as follows on the ballot:

The direct representation on the Student senate shall be by colleges. The senate shall fix the apportionment of members among the several colleges (Letters, and Science, Commerce, Engineering, Agriculture, Medicine and Law) at the beginning of each school year. The apportionment shall be made on the basis of the number of qualified male electors enrolled. The number of senators chosen in this manner shall be from 9 to 11 as the needs of a fair apportionment shall require. Each college shall have at least one representative. It shall be further provided that the male officer of the freshman class of highest rank and one graduate member of who shall not be a member of the faculty, and who shall be chosen by general vote of the qualified male electors shall be a member of the senate.

on offered by the Madison Packing company. The winners of the contest will be announced later.

Judging of baby beeves will interest live stock enthusiasts today, according to those in charge of the show.

At 1 o'clock this afternoon, more than 75 baby beeves will enter the show ring in competition for the Plankinton Silver trophy that will be offered for the Grand Champion beef animal.

Judging of lambs and pigs will also be held today. Large entries are registered in both of these departments and keen competition is anticipated by those showing the animals.

The classic auction sale at which Plankinton, Swift, Armour, and many other noted packers bid against each other for the Grand Champion animal of the show will take place at 7 o'clock this evening.

Judges for the show are J. E. Robbins, Indiana, baby beef; Wm. Miles, Evansville, Lambs and J. E. Robbins, Pigs.

Today's program includes a morning get together, led by Dr. J. C. Elsom at 8:15 o'clock; demonstration of how to prepare pigs for the show ring at 9 o'clock; judging lambs at 9:30 o'clock; judging pigs at 11 o'clock; judging baby beeves at 1 o'clock; auction sale, 7 o'clock.

COMMISSIONER SHOWS BENEFIT OF BIG GAMES

Griffiths Tells Club That Conference Competition is Good

"I believe that every man and every woman among the 150,000 who attended the five conference games on Saturday came away better for the experience," John L. Griffiths, commissioner of athletics for the Big Ten, said at the meeting of the Badger club in the Y. M. C. A., Sunday evening.

That gate receipts at games last year were used to defray the expenses of intra-mural athletics at the conference colleges, was his answer to the charge that athletic are being carried on in too large a scale. He attacked the argument that interscholastic athletics benefit only a few, by showing that the colleges with the best varsity teams last year also harbored the best instrumental teams, and that this was largely due to the ideal which was set before college men by the achievements of their successful athlete fellows.

The athlete benefits in a definite number of ways, according to Griffiths. Among these are a certain mental training, the development of poise, the inculcation of spirit, of loyalty, and of a sense of fair play, and, in general, the formation of a character that is strong, neither whining in defeat nor boisterous in victory, blended through with marks of the gentleman.

"An athlete who is loyal to his coach, his team, and his school," said Griffiths, "will be loyal to his state, his country, and to his God."

FEDERAL SQUAD HITS BONUSES

Veterans' Bureau Head Denies Slash in Allowances

A reduction in the ranks of federal board students at the university and a general altering of job objectives among the veterans in training here, which is throwing the ex-soldier students into consternation, is rumored today, following the investigations of the district rehabilitation squad sent here from the district headquarters in Chicago several days ago.

Walter Chisholm, in charge of the local veterans' bureau, today denied that the squad was doing more than inspecting the program of the men in the university.

He did not deny, however, that the agents were "fixing limits" to the period of training, which, Sen. La Follette charges, "destroys the effectiveness of the organization," and will "cripple and disrupt the effectiveness of federal rehabilitation."

Mr. Chisholm said that there would be nothing for publication regarding the work of the squad for several days.

Press Club Members to Meet in Lathrop Tonight

The Press club will hold its opening meeting of the year tonight in the form of a cafeteria supper, at 5:30 o'clock in the S. G. A. room, Lathrop hall.

Election of officers will take place at the business meeting. A discussion of the social plans for the season and of methods of membership election will be talked over and committees for the year will be appointed.

"We are very anxious that all members whose names appear on the roll be present at our first meeting," urges Gladys Peterson, '23, who will preside. "It will be where we will all get together and make a good start on the year's program."

Get the Pen that Fills by a Press of the Button

*A Filler That's Not Exposed
So Can't Catch and Spill Ink*

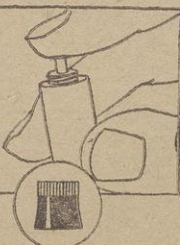

THIS is one of the vital reasons why the Parker Pen ranks highest with America's educators and student bodies. Its filler is "safety-sealed" beneath the neat screw-cap end. There's no exposed lever to catch on the clothing, spill ink and spoil your suit or blouse. Remove the cap, immerse the pen in ink, press the button and the Parker is filled.

This simple, perfect filler was created by Geo. S. Parker, inventor of the celebrated leakproof "Lucky Curve" feed. And in no other pen can you obtain these features—so important to operation if a pen is to perform without a hitch. And that's what you want in a fountain pen—not one that distracts your mind when you're trying to concentrate on study or class instruction.

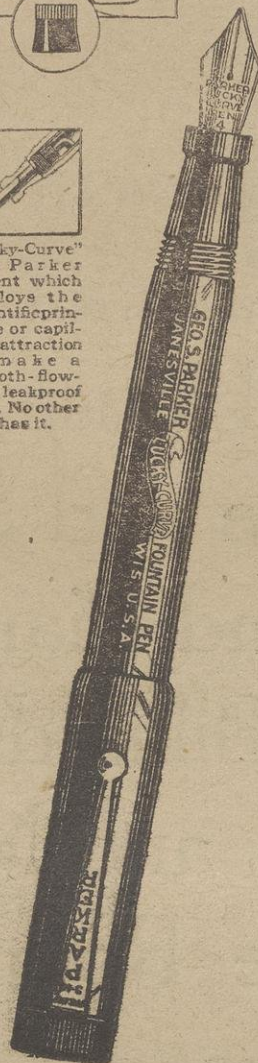

All Parker points are 14 K rolled gold, so they can't rust, corrode or tarnish and are not affected by acids.

Prices range from $2.50 upward according to style and mounting. These pens are made with the same mechanical perfection and jeweler's accuracy and finish found in the famous Parker 25-year Duofold—the lacquer-red pen at $7 that has taken America by storm.

Come pick out the point that best suits your hand—extra fine, fine, medium, coarse or stub. We'll give you a Parker Accident Policy free—insuring you for one year against any breakage, damage or unsatisfactory service of any kind.

"Lucky-Curve" is a Parker patent which employs the scientific principle of capillary attraction to make a smooth-flowing, leakproof feed. No other pen has it.
