UNIVERSITY BILL

NOW BEFORE JOINT COMMITTEE ON CLAIMS.

Carries Appropriations Aggregating
$272,000—Department of Agriculture
Especially Interested.

Bill No. 17-A, prepared by the Regents of the University of Wisconsin, introduced in the Assembly by Mr. Frost, and now referred to the Joint Committee on Claims, is of particular interest to friends of the University. The bill increases the appropriation to the University fund income by the additional sum of thirty-two thousand dollars, making a total of three hundred thousand dollars annually; it appropriates for the furnishing and equipment of the new building, machine shops, foundries and laboratories of the College of Engineering, and the founding of a commercial museum for the School of Commerce the sum of sixty-five thousand dollars; and, most important of all, it appropriates for the construction, furnishing and equipment of an Agricultural Building the sum of one hundred and seventy-five thousand dollars.

The College of Agriculture at present occupies the building known as South Dormitory or South Hall and is sadly in need of more room. The lecture hall has accommodations for one hundred and twenty-five students, and when it is occupied by the largest class, consisting at present of one hundred and ninety-seven members, the proverbial sardine has oceans of space compared to conditions in that room. The library is also very small—books are piled on the floor for lack of shelf room. The proposed new building will contain general offices for the agricultural faculty, laboratories, museums, library and reading rooms, recitation rooms, offices and an assembly room. It will have accommodations for five hundred regular agricultural students and for a large number of special students. It will provide three and a half times the floor space of the building occupied at present. It would not only be convenient, but it is absolutely necessary.

In the past four years the attendance in the School of Agriculture has more than doubled, increasing from two hundred to four hundred and thirty-five students during which time there has been no increase in revenue. Consequently the bill provides that fifteen thousand dollars of the increased revenue appropriation be given to the College of Agriculture, to be used in meeting the expenses of increased attendance and in extending the departments. A new feature will be introduced in a Department of Farm Crops, which will be devoted to securing, testing and disseminating new varieties of seeds and plants among the farmers of the state. The College of Engineering and the School of Commerce will be given of the remainder respectively ten thousand and seven thousand dollars.

It will be seen from the above that all of the funds asked by the University this year are for the more immediately practical departments. This alone should over-ride the old objection to all appropriation bills—that of increasing the taxes. Also, even if the legislature does grant the request of the regents, our Agricultural College will still receive a much smaller annual income than those in adjoining states.

Michigan receives twice as much, Minnesota one third more and Iowa nearly three times as much, besides receiving four hundred and forty-three thousand dollars from the last legislature for buildings and other purposes. In the face of all this, Wisconsin has more bona fide agricultural students than any other institution in the U. S. Minnesota has a few more, counting preparatory students.

Friends of the University have interested themselves in supporting the bill, and it is expected to be acted upon favorably by the Joint Committee on Claims within a month.

CHOOSE JUDGES.

For Junior-Ex and Sophomore—Open.

At a meeting yesterday of the contestants who are to take part in the Junior-Ex, it was decided to have the Junior-Ex on March fifteenth. Judges were chosen for the event as follows: on delivery, Rev. Updike, Prof. Jones, and Mr. E. Ray Stevens; on thought and style, Judge Winslow, Prof. Reinsch, and Rev. Bigler. Alternate judges were also chosen to officiate in case any of the others fail to act.

The speakers of the evening are from the six literary societies and they will orate in the following order: Miss Loeb of Castalia, Harry Sauthoff of Philomathia, F. W. Bucklin, Hesperia, J. C. Miller of Athenae, F. P. Abel of Forum.

Committees were chosen to see that everything connected with the event is well taken care of and everything promises a successful Junior-Ex.

Prospective contestants to take part in the Sophomore-open held a meeting yesterday afternoon to attend to all preliminary matters pertaining to the event. Judges were selected and committees chosen to arrange for the affair. On thought and style the judges will be Prof. Reinsch, Dean Johnson and Rev. Updike, and on delivery, Mr. Walton Pyre, Prof. Parkinson, and Miss Butt. The list of contestants has not as yet been completed, but it is reported that there will be a large number of sophomores who will try for these honors this year. The contest will take place about one week before the Junior-Ex or about March eighth, but this has not been finally passed upon. The exact date will be announced in a few days.

Address by Judge Winslow.

Hon. J. B. Winslow of the Supreme Court has been secured to address the Y. M. C. A. Meeting next Sunday afternoon. His address is intended not for members of the Association alone but for University men generally. The subject has not been announced, but will be of interest to all. The meeting will be held in the Law Building at 4:30 p. m.

Prom. Guests at Chadbourne Hall.

The guests at Chadbourne Hall for the Prom are: Misses Elizabeth Morris, Sheboygan; Grace Dean, Hinsdale, Ill.; Florence Dunham, Milwaukee. Mrs. McDill of Stevens Point is visiting her daughter, Miss Genevieve McDill, '02. Mrs. Latta of Antigo is the guest of her daughter Miss Maud Latta, '02.

—Miss Krumrey from Plymouth is at present in Madison visiting some relatives and friends at the University.

—George Brownell of Janesville and Gordon Haightly of Chicago, two old alumni of Phi Delta Gamma are Prom. guests.

THE PROM IS HERE

SOCIETY WILL REIGN AT THE GYM TO-NIGHT.

Everything in Readiness—Guests Arriving From Out of Town—The Largest Prom Ever Held.

The Prom is with us, long live the Prom.

The town is full of out of town people, and all Madison is happy—that is all Madison that is going to the Gymnasium to-night.

The fraternities have given up their houses to the girls from out of town and have cheerfully moved out and taken up temporary quarters elsewhere.

A large number came in this noon on the trains from Milwaukee and the north, and more arrived on the afternoon trains. The last stragglers will come on the 7:40 train this evening just in time for the great event. Then will come two or three days of dancing, driving and general jollification, and the University, or at least the frat part of it, will not get down to work again till Monday.

The attendance promises to be the largest ever had at a Prom. The music will be excellent. The Prom committee promises that the refreshments will be sufficient for all. The committee has been working hard at the decorations and the Gymnasium presents a most beautiful appearance. Everything points to the most successful Prom ever given at Wisconsin.

MILITARY HOP NEXT FRIDAY.

Second of the Season to be Held on Washington's Birthday.

Orders were today issued from the office of the Commandant of the Military Department announcing a military hop to be held on the evening of Washington's birthday, February 22.

This hop is the second of a series of six to be given during the college year under the auspices of the field and staff officers of the University regiment.

The orders issued today repeat the requirements as to uniforms. It seems that at the last hop a number of men complied only in part with the rules and appeared in military coats and non-military trousers. This will not be allowed at the coming hop. The officers of the regiment are under explicit orders from headquarters not to allow any male student of the University to appear on the floor in other than full recognized uniform. The application of this order is removed in the cases of members of the faculty, alumni, and members of the legislature.

—Ernest J. Fisher, '04, has just returned from Beaver Dam after a short visit.

—Miss Ethel Robinson and Miss Minnie Seaman of Chicago are in the city to attend the Prom.

—Professor W. A. Henry is attending the dairy convention at Mondovi, Wis.

Ten hours of study, eight hours of sleep, two of exercise and four devoted to meals and social duties is what President Eliot, of Harvard, recommends to students.

W. I. A. A. A. CONSTITUTION.

Provisionally Adopted by Athletic Board Last Night.

The board of directors of the Athletic Association held a special meeting last evening at which several important matters in regard to the inter-collegiate muddle were discussed. At the meeting of the temporary delegates of the "big nine" held recently a revised constitution was considered and was submitted for approval to the various colleges included in the conference. This constitution was thoroughly discussed at last night's meeting and as a result was adopted temporarily until next June; the University reserving the right to propose several amendments. These amendments aim to do away with the provisions stating that meets are always to be held at Chicago and requiring delegates to be residents of Chicago. The question of the right of the inter-collegiate committee to suspend athletes was also discussed at length and the majority of the board seemed to be of the opinion that such suspensions should be submitted to the boards of the various conference colleges.

As a result of the recent action of the conference colleges, Grinnell, Drake and Notre Dame which have been shut out of the annual meet by this revision of rules, have sent out a joint letter of protest asking to be admitted to the meet as heretofore. It is also proposed to hold another meet at which all western colleges will be allowed to compete. This plan seems quite feasible as the W. I. A. A. A. has nearly $300 in the treasury.

CONVOCATION.

Addressed by Prof. Smith on John Marshall.

The first convocation of the second semester was held to-day and was well attended. Professor Olson sang the Star Spangled Banner and Columbia, after which Acting-President Birge talked for twenty minutes on the duties of the second semester. He explained the reason of the length of this semester, comparing it to the work students will meet with in practical life. The mind must be trained so that it is not necessary to have a week off every once in a while. The work must be steady, and there must be no let up. He stated that this is the difference between the savage and the civilized man. The former works only as his necessities demand it, while the latter uses foresight and works steadily.

After another song by Professor Olson, Professor Howard L. Smith spoke upon John Marshall. He told what Marshall had done for the supreme court and stated that it was due to Marshall's influence that the supreme court has attained its present power. He explained the supremacy of the court in the United States as compared with England and France, where the Parliament and Chamber of Deputies are supreme in power.

He also spoke of Washington, Lincoln and Napoleon, and the influence of their strong, incorruptible characters upon future generations. He emphasized the importance of celebrating the birthdays of these great men.

—Dr. Reinsch yesterday afternoon delivered the first lecture of his course on Contemporary Oriental Politics. The attendance was large and the lecture excellent, both promising well for the success of the course.

Appropriation Bill.

It is to be hoped that the bill now under discussion in the legislature providing for additional appropriations for the College of Agriculture will be favorably passed upon. The almost phenomenal growth of this department has been in excess of the provisions for its accommodation. The state cannot afford to have the beneficial influences of this school at all curtailed by lack of opportunity to expand. In no other way does the University come into such immediate contact with the people throughout the state and in no other way does the state receive a more direct return for its money in educational lines. All friends of the University ought to unite in the effort to secure for it these needed additions.

Code of Ethics.

Every law student, and others for that matter, should read carefully the Legal Code of Ethics adopted at this week's meeting of the Wisconsin Bar Association. It is a model in many ways and if always followed would place the profession far above the possibility of carping criticism. Particularly should it be studied by the students, for a right start in these matters is half the battle won. The code contains the essence of the rules of courtesy, honesty and fairmindedness and deserves the careful consideration of at least those who are training themselves for the great profession of the law.

The Weather.

Snow tonight, fair tomorrow.

President Northrop of Minnesota, in a recent talk to fraternity members recommended that their be no "rushing" in the freshman year and that the societies be made sophomore societies, as too much time was spent each year in "rushing" students.

cination, by Mr. Frost, of somewhat over 300 Short Course and Dairy School students are proving valuable data. The one untoward feature of the wholesale vaccination of four weeks ago is that one batch of vaccine was injured in transportation.
The injury was doubtless caused by the nearness of the shipment to the steam pipes in the mail car. The result of this damage to the vaccine was that many cases failed to "work." There was no further harm done. All cases of vaccination from this batch of vaccine will be gone over again.In the case of the uninjured batch almost every case worked well. There were no "bad arms." In almost every case a typical vesicle or take was formed and the latter resulted in a good scar. In the case of forty-six dairy students, forty-four treatments were very successful. Every primary case—all those of previously unvaccinated individuals—worked well.
Nearly all the cases of former vaccination worked well.The lessons taught by these data are, that the effects of vaccination are not painful, that glycerinated virus can easily be kept from infection, unlike the oldtime points, and that the presence of even two good scars, when more than ten years old, cannot be relied on and frequent revaccination is necessary, especially in the case of young persons.ALFORD BROS., STEAM LAUNDRY.It may not be an act of charity, but it certainly is not an act of economy

"In The Blues"is a common saying of a person who exhibits low spirits, nerveless action and a failure to enjoy even the most cheery surroundings.
Nine times out of ten this condition is accounted for by poor digestion, which affects the mind and nervous system, besides enfeebling
the body.Pabst
