JUNIORS GIVE MARCH 12 FOR UNION VODVIL

Withdraw Play Plans, Giving Board Rights for Presentation

By acclamation, members of the Junior class gave Union board the right to set Saturday, March 12, as the date for the annual presentation of Union Vodvil, the class withdrawing their plans for a class play to have been staged at the Fuller at that time. The decision was reached at a meeting held in 165 Bascom hall yesterday noon.

Warren A. Taylor, class president, presided at the meeting, opening for discussion the question of whether or not the class should consider presenting a play the second semester, inasmuch as it was participating in the joint production, and was using it as a part of the Prom program. He pointed out that unless the class gave up the date there would be no Union Vodvil this year, for under faculty ruling its presentation in connection with Prom events is prohibited.

Plays Financial Loss

Richard H. Tyrell '23, as representative of the Union board, in charge of Vodvil plans, spoke upon the same topic. "Giving over the date will be of greater benefit to the university as a whole," he said, "for in the main class plays have been comparatively unsuccessful from a financial standpoint. Union Vodvil is the most lucrative project of the board, and its staging this year will be a great aid in bringing to a rapid close the campaign for the Memorial union fund."

Robert E. McDonald, chairman of the committee on dramatics explained the plan of making the joint production a part of the Prom program by presenting it on Thursday night of Prom week. "The

SEND TELEGRAM REGARDING AID DRIVE TO WILSON

Student Senate and S. G. A. Take Action on Relief in Central Europe

Formal recognition of the Student Relief drive was given by the Student senate and S. G. A. in the name of the student body last night, and action was further taken to send a telegram to the President of the United States urging government aid for the project through extensions of credits. The telegram reads as follows:

His Excellency, Woodrow Wilson, President of The United States, White House, Washington, D. C.

The Student Senate and Self-Government association of the University of Wisconsin have voted unanimously to call to your attention the pressing need for immediate action to relieve the suffering people of Central Europe.

We do not feel that private charity alone, generous though it may be, can adequately meet the situation. Therefore we respectfully urge that you take whatever steps may be in your power, to obtain governmental action looking toward the extension of credit to these unfortunate peoples.

With every good wish,
The University of Wisconsin,

Self-Government Association.

ROSELLI SPEAKS ON ITALY'S INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS TONIGHT

Bruno Roselli, Italian diplomat, who is to speak on "The Industrial Revolution in Italy" in the Engineering auditorium tonight, conducted a war course on Italy's part in the war in 1918, and was a rousing success at it here, according to Prof. M. S. Slaughter of the Latin department.

"He is a regular thriller," said Professor Slaughter. "He has the facts, too. He has been up and down the Adriatic coast during its most exciting days. He knows Italian politicians from D'Annunzio down, and is well versed on the Fiume question. But he is especially at home in the industrial dispute. He is a compelling talker."

The bearing of Italian labor troubles and their settlements will be looked at especially in their possible relation to American problems of a similar nature. There will be a short discussion of questions raised after the lecture, which will be under the auspices of the Social Science club. Roselli is a personal friend of Professor Slaughter's, who has entertained him several times during his stay in America.

All proofs of group Badger pictures must be returned to the photographers by Friday, December 17, according to the latest edict issued from the Badger office.

Members of the editorial staff of the Badger who will be in Madison during all or part of the vacation are requested to notify the editors.

RALPH SCOTT ON ALL-AMERICANS CHOSEN BY CAMP

Ralph V. Scott '22 won the highest honors that a football player can gain when he was chosen as tackle on Walter Camp's annual honorary All-American football team.

Scott was selected to represent the west on the gridiron along with three other mid-western stars, George Gipp, Notre Dame halfback; Charles Carney, Illinois end, and Gall Stinchcomb, halfback of the Ohio State conference champions.

Camp outlines the necessary requisites for a successful tackle as follows: Ability to handle himself well; to break through the line; to tackle; to lead-line backs on plays between tackle and guard; to aid the ends; and to get down the field under kicks with the speed of an end.

What Camp Says

Camp says: "Scott of Wisconsin gets the other tackle on account of his great activity, coupled with his strength and power. It is seldom that a man of his physique is as quick on his feet, a quality which aids him much on defense, while enabling him to displace his opponent's attack."

Scott has held down a left tackle position on three Wisconsin football elevens. He began his varsity career at Wisconsin in 1917, but left

NEED ROOM FOR RESEARCH WORK

Even if all the additional space now requested by the department of chemistry is provided, there will be within three years a condition of congestion equal to that which now obtains, judging from the present rate of growth in the department, says Prof. J. Howard Mathews, chairman.

This means that if all additions requested are granted there will be more than enough students to completely fill all the available space by the time construction be completed.

Research facilities have suffered tremendously because of the present congestion. Beside giving proper instruction the chief function of a modern chemistry department is to conduct research, but professors have had to sacrifice their own private laboratories to graduate students with the result that it is practically impossible for the professor to conduct any research personally.

Specially equipped rooms for advanced courses and for research work are urgently needed. Because of the lack of them a number of courses had to be dropped this semester. If the department is to maintain its high standard it is necessary that these courses be restored.

Chemistry is a fundamental subject and is basal work for a number of courses in agriculture, engineering, and medicine. In order that subsequent work in these colleges be properly done the student must have secured proper training in chemistry. Obviously this can only be done with proper facilities.

PRICE SET AT $7 FOR TICKETS TO 1922 PROM

Sale to Start January 4—
Groups Urged to Place Orders Early

The price of the Prom tickets has been set at $7 this year, according to an announcement by Clarence Rasmussen, assistant Prom chairman, yesterday. Five hundred tickets will be sold at this price, while 100 at $5, which does not include the Prom supper, will be placed on sale. Spectators' tickets this year will be sold for $1 and have been limited to 100. The war tax will be extra.

Budget Given

The budget of Prom expenses, as submitted to Dean S. H. Goodnight, is $4,500, which includes programs and the Prom supper as the biggest items. As the ticket sale is expected to bring in only $4,000, the deficit will have to be made up by the Pre-Prom dance and the joint production to be put on February 10, according to the committee.

In order to get programs that will be worth keeping and still stay within the means of the program committee, Zirian Blish, chairman, has undertaken to sell out four shows at the Grand theater, February 3 and 4.

PROM COMMITTEE CURBS FALSE NEWS

Because of the numerous stories that are published in local and state papers in regard to the university and its activities, which tend to convey the wrong impression of actual conditions, the Prom publicity committee requests that all members of Prom committees and other members of the junior class refrain from giving interviews on any phase of Prom.

"This request is not made in an attempt to withhold any information which should legitimately reach the news columns," said William M. Sale, chairman of Prom publicity committee. "Such information will be furnished by the publicity committee through standard channels. This move is merely to suppress any promiscuous publication of colored news."

The committee desires that all requests for stories be referred to Dale Merrick, Prom chairman; Walter Schwinn, assistant chairman, or William M. Sale, chairman of the publicity committee.

PLAN TO REGULATE DRIVES ON CAMPUS TO RAISE FUNDS

Schedule to be Provided, Distributing and Endorsing Worthy Campaigns

Arrangements were made to regulate drives and all enterprises to raise money on the hill, at a joint meeting of the student senate and S. G. A. executive council last night. This authority was given to the joint government committee which consists of three members from the senate and three from the executive council. This committee will have the power to recommend what drives are to be allowed on the campus, to draw up a schedule for financial enterprises for the year to be submitted to the senate and executive council, and to stipulate how the drives are to be conducted. This committee is to call on Dean S. H. Goodnight for advice in case of exigency.

Schedule for Drives
This action was taken as a result of the general agitation on the campus as to the number of financial enterprises to which students are urged to contribute. A schedule for the year would distribute the drives more evenly and permit only those having the backing of student representatives. The aim is also to limit the number of tag days and to provide recommendations for other means to raise money.

This makes it essential for all organizations planning to raise money on the hill to register with the joint government committee and gain their approval. Philip Faulk '21 is chairman for the men and Elizabeth Chandler '21 for the women.

Need for Regulation

It is felt, also, that there is need for regulating "co-ed begging," according to a report submitted by the executive council. Therefore, the method of conducting is to be decided by the committee. It was suggested that the committee stipulate that men be used occasionally for campaigns as well as women.

PAN-HELLENIC ADOPTS NEW CONSTITUTION

Penalty Enforced on Kappa Kappa Gamma is Revoked

Pan-Hellenic adopted its new constitution at a meeting Wednesday afternoon which has been in the process of formation for two months, and the Judicial committee, taking immediate advantage of it, made the following announcement to the Pan-Hellenic association:

"Since, with the adoption of the new constitution, Pan-Hellenic has a more perfect instrument of justice than she had in the former constitution; since many individual representatives of Pan-Hellenic have expressed the opinion that the former constitution compelled Pan-Hellenic to a penalty too severe; since Pan-Hellenic by her action on October 25, in offering Kappa Kappa Gamma a new trial, then expressed its realization that in procedure, though not in spirit, it had fallen short of the perfect justice which is the ideal of Pan-Hellenic, and since the present constitution gives to the judicial committee discretion in regard to the penalties imposed, and the right to raise and lighten the penalties, the chairman of the judicial committee wishes to announce that the penalty which Eta of Kappa Kappa Gamma has accepted and under which it has lived during the present year is revoked and non-effective on and after Friday, December 17, 1920."

NO 'CUT' RULE IN EXTENSION DIVISION

11,000 Students, in Every Walk of Life, Labor After Working Hours to Secure an Education

"You can't cut your class if you are in the extension division," declared Miss Lelia Bascom, assistant professor of English in the Extension division.

"It is much harder to stick to what you are doing if no one else is doing it with you—and studying after working hours. But we have 11,000 people, many of whom are doing just that, enrolled in the extension division this year."

Varied Representation

Every walk in life and many foreign countries are represented in this division of the university, according to Miss Bascom. There are several prisoners from Waupun taking English, engineers on the road, traveling salesman post graduates, foreigners, all taking everything from book-keeping to short story writing.

"A Japanese doctor who writes articles for the magazines has just completed a freshman English course. He sent us his article to be corrected, according to Wooley. From London, England, a girl sends us her stories to be treated by our short story course. One of her sketches will appear in the Lit. A Red Cross nurse is in the same course and writes interestingly of her experiences.

"Yes, sometimes people take the entire two years of university work by correspondence. I cannot help thinking of one girl who was an invalid and did so. She intends to continue her work in the university.

Great Service

"Like Mellen's food, we are advertised by our loving friends. Our work is carried on more among people who probably will never come to the university, but who want special courses or general culture. We try to give them what they are seeking for. As President Van Hise has expressed it, our purpose is to serve the state."

"Home Ec" Contest Closes

Winner in Country "Mag"

"How is the Home Ec Beauty contest going? Like a million dollars!" enthused the unknown in the office of the Country magazine, at the other end of the line. "Let me tell you, the Hill has nothing on the 'home ecs' for beauties—with one or two possible exceptions, of course. The contest lasts till Friday at 6 o'clock, and the returns will be counted by an election board from the capitol."

Any ag or home ec student may vote in this contest by using the coupon in the December number of the Country magazine. Copies may be obtained at 21, Ag hall. Results of the contest are to be kept a secret till the fourth of January, when they will be announced in the Country magazine.

"Is there anything else you can tell me?" queried the reporter.

"Why—ah—are you busy tonight?" ventured the unknown Country "magger."

"Shux!" exclaimed the reporter, disgustedly hanging up the receiver. "I might have known there was a catch in it somewhere. Quality and not quantity—I bet they didn't have enough to go around!"

The tickets will be placed on sale for groups on January 4, while the open sale will start two weeks later. Birney F. Miller, 200 Langdon street, F. 200 or B. 4504, is in charge of the sale. All groups should get their orders in early so that a satisfactory supper hour may be secured.

WORK IN CHINA ATTRACTS MEN IN PUBLIC LIFE

Wisconsin Continues to Implement Ideals of Service in Foreign Students

Work among Chinese students at Peking carried on by American institutions, the University of Wisconsin having its important part, continues to attract the interest and support of men prominent in the public life of China.

Christian Force Increases

Charles R. Crane, the American minister to China, recently addressed at Peking a massmeeting of 1,500 Chinese students who were launching their year's program for Christian student work.

Crane remarked that he had not dreamed that the student body of Peking numbered a Christian force of such dimensions. He asked to be allowed to be identified with the student work as long as he remained at Peking.

The president of China, Hsu Shih Chang, is another taking an active part in the work among the students. With a contribution of $1,000, he sent a cordial letter stating that he was glad "to help the noble cause."

Efforts in China

Dr. Paul S. Reinsch, when minister to China, also took an active part in the furthering of Wisconsin's efforts to implant the ideal of service in the students who are to assume the leadership of China. His personal contact with China and his work has often been related to audiences of university people.

The number of young people receiving the benefits from the religious-social activities carried on by American organizations like Wisconsin-in-China, are increasing greatly each year.

Lectures, night schools, Bible discussion groups, relief work among the poor, and student conferences are showing the results of the efforts of both the students here and our representative in China.

The great importance that Peking is now assuming as a student center is shown by the fact that it now has 54 middle-schools, colleges, and universities with a total enrollment of 14,265 students.

Octopus Staff Asks Wits to Collect Material During Vacation

"Everyone who is not staying here is leaving tomorrow for a vacation of three weeks. And we expect everyone the least bit interested to come back with enough jokes to fill the Octopus hopper for three numbers," said "Pat" Dennis '21, editor of the Octopus.

All material for the next number must be in by January 6, the Wednesday after vacation ends.

A new line of humor is demanded this month, in the shape of "he and he" jokes, and "she and she" jokes, especially. Pointed paragraphs and funny stories of 100 to 300 words are always popular, and short poems, whether original or parodies are also wanted. Any kind of cartoons and pictures, or ideas for them can be used if they are funny and original.

The Christmas number of the Octopus is all sold out. It can not be obtained anywhere now, in spite of the large edition printed.

AUSTRIA VOTED INTO LEAGUE

Former Enemy Admitted by Action of Assembly

BULLETIN

(By the Associated Press)

GENEVA — Austria was elected a member of the League of Nations by the assembly of the league today.

GENEVA — Discussion of the question of mandates on the floor of the assembly of the League of Nations seemed today to be probable and it was expected there would be an animated debate before the subject was disposed of.

A sub-committee of Committee Six which has been considering the question of mandates held stormy sessions yesterday and Monday, some members including C. Doherty of Canada and Dr. Nansen of Norway, pushing for action, while others appeared indifferent. It appears the council of the league has encountered difficulties in securing satisfactory replies from the supreme allied council and from the mandatory powers concerning the terms of mandates and the boundaries of territories placed under the supervision of various nations.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 33 at noon Tuesday and the lowest was 24 at 8 p. m. Sun sets at 4:24.

The storm is moving very slowly north eastward across the lake regions. Gales and snow flurries continue in the lake regions and the upper Mississippi Valley. The weather is fair elsewhere. It is colder in the east and in the northern Rocky mountain regions. The temperature is rising on the Canadian plains.

NO QUITTERS!

Editor Daily Cardinal:

Do the 400 students who attended the massmeeting at Lathrop gym last night represent the entire student body of 7,000? If the missing thousands had given the question a moment's second thought, the hall would not have been large enough. While other campus buildings are crowded far beyond capacity, Lathrop gym was comparatively empty. But with the issues of an institution like the University of Wisconsin at stake, students cannot afford to pass things by unheeded, if they have the needs of their alma mater at heart. Again—

A rare treat was afforded the audience in Music hall, after the massmeeting, by the university orchestra. Memories of such soul-stirring numbers as were rendered will long remain in the hearts of those lovers of music who attended the concert Tuesday night. But full attendance was lacking. The orchestra personnel would be far more appreciative of an unqualified student support as evidenced by a full house.

So let us remember that there are no quitters at Wisconsin, and that the all-university programs demand the support of every loyal student. It's boost or bust for "On Wisconsin," and if we boost, there is no danger of busting.

GERALD JENNY '23.

RELIEF CAMPAIGN

Editor Daily Cardinal:

The committee in the university in charge of the Student Relief for Central Europe agrees most heartily with the spirit of the communications of the Grad club which have appeared in the last two issues of the Cardinal. We trust it is the spirit of the entire university.

In entering this campaign, the committee realized that the University of Illinois is planning to raise $35,000, one-half of which is to go to the work of Illinois in China, the other half for the immediate relief of students and faculty in Central Europe. The University of Michigan has exceeded by 40 per cent its original expectations. Each campus, however, has its own specific problems. Our committee felt that the most satisfactory way to handle the situation here would be to have voluntary gifts from the student body and faculty. We are giving each student the opportunity of sharing his Christmas by giving what he feels he can give to provide, not the comforts, but the bare necessities of life for our fellow students and fellow faculty members throughout Central Europe.

We trust that nothing further need be said to the members of this university concerning the conditions now existing in Central Europe. Herbert Hoover has endeavored to acquaint the American public with the facts through the medium of magazines, newspapers, universities, high schools, and assemblages of every nature which might be in session. President Wilson has also given to the press statements urging the American people to respond heartily to the request of Hoover for funds.

Do not neglect to make your Christmas a happy one in the knowledge that you have been able by your contribution to furnish food for one student or faculty member for three weeks as three dollars will do. The situation is so critical that President Birge, and your representative students, the Student senate and Women's Self-Government association, feel that governmental action is necessary. A telegram from the students of the University of Wisconsin, a copy of which appears elsewhere in this paper, was sent to President Wilson last night urging action by our government to extend credit to the countries now in need, so that they may purchase the necessary food to tide them over this winter's crisis.

DESCRIBES LANDS OF DEVASTATION IN NORTH FRANCE

"The feeling that the lands of northern France were used as a basis of operations in a common cause and then abandoned in their desolation, can be appreciated when one has lived a while in the midst of shell-plowed fields and cemeteries and ruined homes," says Miss Leslie Ross in a letter written after an extended visit in the ruins of northern France.

Former Instructor

Miss Ross, who is a graduate and former member of the department of romance languages of the University of Wisconsin, is a student at the Sorbonne university. She went abroad through the Markham Traveling fellowship.

"I wish more Americans could know just what life is in the devastated regions and how pluckily the French people are going about the task of cleaning up and making over," says Miss Ross. "Things are progressing rapidly in view of the number of demands made upon the state, although the reconstruction process appears very slow.

"The country between Albert and the Belgian border is a succession of trench-cut fields and cemeteries, and ruined villages. I think there wasn't a house in the town of Armentieres left untouched.

In regard to her visit to Ypres, Miss Ross writes: "This vast expanse of what had once been forest-covered hill, rose up at us out of the midst like an apparition, interminable and hopeless, and dotted here and there with the black skeletons of trees."

HELP FOR FELLOW STUDENTS

THE appeal by the American Relief Administration to the universities of America for funds to alleviate the suffering of European students is a matter of immediate necessity.

Extremely hard as it may be for American students to realize what it means to their European contemporaries to be without food, clothing, and other essentials of life, the condition nevertheless exists.

The courage and tenacity with which these students are attempting to get an education in the face of starvation, sickness, and every form of physical misery is nothing short of remarkable. In most cases conditions are simply abominable.

Extended comparisons in this instance are unnecessary. We have everything; they have only an innate desire to get a university education, lacking entirely the essential elements for its adequate realization. The majority of students at Wisconsin could easily give the small resuscitating amounts necessary to better conditions.

Wisconsin's campaign is exceptional because it lacks formality. The customary tag or button is not given to the student who contributes. The only receipt is a feeling of satisfaction emanating from the performance of a worthwhile deed. It is a feeling which no Wisconsin student should deny himself. Especially so when the Christmas spirit of brotherhood and helpfulness pervades the entire campus.

Consider also that the moral effect upon the discouraged students, when they learn of our aid, will be of almost as much benefit to them as the actual financial aid.

We are told that $50 will support a European student in the distressed zone for one year. Think of it. Then think of how far even a nominal contribution of $3 (the amount expected from every Wisconsin student) will go. Then make your contribution. The little glass jar awaits you.

A WIRE TO WILSON

A TELEGRAM to President Wilson, noted in another column of this issue, ranks as one of the most significant steps which Wisconsin students, through their representatives on the Senate and S. G. A., have taken this semester.

The Cardinal expresses the ardent hope that the President, amid the rush of state affairs, will find time to take adequate steps to insure some semblance of financial aid to the stricken students of European universities.

The question is one which knows not of party lines. It merits consideration primarily because thousands of Europe's preferable young men, the kind who, with the proper training, can be depended upon to bring a war stricken continent quickly back to normal, stand on the verge of starvation.

Those who are possessed of a material turn of mind should consider this fact: unless European students are saved to the service of their respective nations, the staggering debt now due the United States from Europe is least likely to be paid.

Extension of credit to Europe's needy students will place a prominent star on the service flag of the present Congress.

CADET OFFICERS ELIMINATED FROM PRESIDENT'S GUARD

Because of the exceptionally large number of cadets that reported for the first drill of the President's guard, it has been decided by those in charge to eliminate from the eligibility list all commissioned officers, in this way making more places open to the privates and non-commissioned officers, for whom the guard was originally formed.

As a result of this ruling, the competition for membership will be limited to men of equal military rank, although all cadet officers, as well as members of the guard, will be eligible to be picked as future guard officers.

Plans as to the future are yet rather indefinite, but no marked change will take place until early in the spring. A large amount of time and care will be expended in developing men for the consideration of the commandant, who will make all appointments to office.

Considerable enthusiasm has been manifested by the large number of men who are competing for the honors of membership, and no little rivalry has sprung up between the fraternities, which are urging their men in the corps to try out.

The second drill will be held tonight at 8 o'clock, and all men are requested to report in uniform. Rifle racks in the armory will be open from 7:55 to 8:05, and the cadets will furnish themselves with rifles, and form for drill in the gymnasium annex.

SILVER TROPHY FOR BEST PAPER GIVEN AT ENGINEER MEET

A silver trophy will be awarded to the student in the department of chemical engineering who presents the best paper during the year at meetings of the Chemical Engineers society. The prize which will be given at the close of the school year is the gift of Prof. Otto L. Kowalke, chairman of the department.

At the meeting of the society last night, the trophy was exhibited. The organization, which includes students in chemical engineering, has a membership of 60. Meetings are held every first and third Tuesday of the month. The session this week was postponed an evening because of the all-university mass-meeting.

All tryouts will be held in one place. The committee has not definitely decided whether it will be Lathrop or Music hall.

RALPH SCOTT ON ALL-AMERICANS

school to fight in France. He returned to Wisconsin and football in 1919 and played his usual tackle position on last year's team.

The 1920 season has seen Scott display his best brand of football, and the bulky tackle has been a terror to every opponent he has bucked. The success with which the strong Wisconsin forward wall stopped all conference elevens this year was greatly due to the fight of Scott and to his ability to break through his opponent's line and stop the runner before he was well started. Not only did Scott get down the field on punts with the agility of an end, but he frequently broke through and worried the forward passer's of Big Ten elevens.

Awarded Pearse Trophy

Scott was awarded the Pearse trophy for the best tackler on the Badger eleven. His tackling was hard and swift, and he often threw the backs for a loss. In the Chicago game Scott hurled the Maroon back for a fifteen yard loss as the whistle blew for the end of the contest.

William Patterson, eastern sport writer, selected Scott for all-western tackle on his mythical team, and Walter Camp's selection of the Badger linemen for a position on the All-American first team ends the football career of Ralph Scott in a blaze of glory.

Others Get Mention

Six more Wisconsin players were given honorable mention by Camp as men who have been important cogs in the maintaining of Wisconsin in the 1920 Big Ten championship race. The gridders that were awarded honorable mention by Camp are: Weston, end; Bunge, center; Davey, quarterback; Elliott, halfback; Sundt, fullback, and Williams, halfback.

PRESIDENT BIRGE ENDORSES RELIEF CONTRIBUTIONS

Urges Faculty and Students to Support Move to Alleviate Suffering

Pres. E. A. Birge, in support of the relief fund for students and faculty of universities in Central Europe, has issued a statement to members of the faculty and graduate students in which he urges them to support the enterprise. The letter follows.

"To members of the faculty and graduate students:

"No doubt you are aware of the intense suffering being undergone by the faculty and students of the universities in the war-devastated regions of Central Europe. They are in need for the bare necessities of life. Until credit is extended to their governments they must depend upon the generous sympathy of America.

"Wisconsin, following the example of other universities, has undertaken to make a free-will offering to help alleviate this suffering. You are asked to contribute on Wednesday, Thursday, or Friday of this week in boxes provided on the campus. There will be no personal solicitation. I commend the enterprise to you as being worthy of earnest support. Whatever aid you may render in bringing the situation to the attention of the students will aid substantially.

Sincerely,
(Signed) E. A. BIRGE."

ASSEMBLY IS CAUTIOUS ON DISARMAMENT

Recommend Limitation of Arms for Next Two Years

PLAYED BY BARNES

British Labor Leader Charges Delegates With Quibbling

GENEVA—The first step for disarmament of the nations must be cautious and deliberate, the assembly of the league of nations decided, notwithstanding sharp criticisms by George Nicoll Barnes, British labor leader, and Christian Lange of Norway. Mr. Barnes said there was "too much quibble and not enough pluck" in the decisions to go slowly.

The assembly went on record as favoring the limitation of armaments by the powers for the next two years by agreement. The limitations clause of the disarmament committee's report was adopted after it had been modified so as to take the form of a recommendation. France, Brazil, Chile, Greece, Poland, Roumania and Uruguay voted against the clause.

The policy of the United States on this question was, by more or less veiled allusions, invoked as one reason why general disarmament cannot be boldly grappled with at this time, Mr. Barnes said. H. A. L. Fisher of the British delegation referred to "nations with powerful arms and munitions making facilities that still are outside the league."

The absence from the league of former enemy countries also was referred to Mr. Fisher. This brought from Mr. Barnes the retort: "They now are practically disarmed and cannot constitute a menace for years to come."

France and Belgium accepted the committee's conclusions upon limitations of armament expenditures during the next two years on the basis of appropriations for last year. They added, however, that they could not consider the restoration of armaments destroyed during the war as increased expenditure, but pointed out that measures were being taken to reduce the period of military service.

1921 BADGER STAFF WILL HOLD BANQUET

Plan Party for All Workers on Last Year-Book on January 7

The banquet to be given by last year's Badger for its entire staff at the Park hotel on January 7 will be one of the biggest events of the kind in the history of the university, according to Elizabeth Chandler '21, who is in charge of arrangements.

Fully 175 guests are expected and provided for. There will be a favour for each guest, and decorations and menu will receive expert attention by members of the committee.

The dinner will be followed by dancing. One of Thompson's best orchestras has been engaged for the evening.

Toasts are in charge of Frederick Sperry '21. Among those who are expected to respond are Wesley Travers '21, editor-in-chief of the 1921 Badger; Frank Kuehl '21, business manager; Prof. W. A. Sumner, and Dean S. H. Goodnight. The official report of the business manager will be given for the first time.

The committee in charge of arrangements is as follows: Elizabeth Chandler '21, chairman; Winifred Titus '21, Harriet Bartle '22, decorations; Harold Lamb '21, programs; Judith Gilbert, '21; invitations and seating; Harold Selvage '22, music; Margaret Green '22, special feature; and Elmer Benson '21, finance.

Many Stores Open Nights Until Xmas

The dry goods stores have had an understanding that they could not remain open except on Saturday nights before Christmas, and this applies to the stores in this line, especially those stores that have a large force of salespeople, although it is understood that some of the smaller stores will keep open adopting the plan as set by the clothing, hardware and shoe dealers.

AIRPLANE STATION DESIGNED TO BE BUILT OVER N. Y. HOTELS

Drawing of projected airplane "depot" over Waldorf-Astoria and McAlpin hotels.

A landing place for passenger airplanes in the very heart of New York city is now planned. F. T. Feilner of Brooklyn has designed a "field" 300 by 700 feet to be built over the roof of the Waldorf-Astoria and McAlpin hotels. The landing will be 600 feet from the ground. Below it will be parking places for airplanes—to be lowered there by elevator. The field will be 150 feet above the highest point of either hotel. In area it will extend from Fifth to Sixth avenue and from Thirty-third to Thirty-fourth streets. The Aero Limited Company already operates a passenger service with headquarters at these hotels.

5 BILLION IS LOSS IN U. S. FARM CROPS

Huge Shrinkage in Value
Reported by Farm Bureau

CROPS BREAK RECORD

5 Principal Grains Show Tremendous Growth Over Last Year

Loss of nearly $5,000,000,000 in the country's farm crops from the high value of last year is indicated by the final report of the department of agriculture, issued by the government late yesterday. The total valuation is $9,148,519,000, compared with a total of $14,087,996,000 for the year 1919, or a decrease of $4,939,477,000.

This vast shrinkage in values represents the farmers' contribution to the readjustment of prices toward normal pre-war levels.

The acreage devoted to the important crops was 351,062,409, compared with 356,162,112 last year.

Valuations of the five grains aggregated $4,271,249,000, compared with $2,785,089,000 last year. The average valuation for the 1914-'18 season was $5,844,939,000 or $1,573,690,000 more than the total for 1920.

The report showed the largest aggregate yield of the five principal grains in the history of the country and was a distinct surprise to the grain trade, as well as to the producer.

The total yield of wheat, corn, oats, rye, and barley is 5,818,000,000 bushels, corn furnishing more than half. This is an increase of 145,000,000 bushels over the November preliminary estimates, 543,000,000 bushels more than the revised figures of last year, and 250,000,000 bushels in excess of the final returns in 1917, which were the largest on record up to this year.

NEW YORK—A Wisconsin girl is among the 20 workers of the Near East Relief now being detained in the Black sea port of Samsoun, Asia Minor, by Turkish Nationalists, according to cables that have just been received.

GRAND

Olive Thomas as an Irish immigrant girl who makes things lively in New York theatrical circles is the star of "Darling Mine," a Selznick Picture, which will be shown at the Grand theater for three days beginning today.

The story was written by John Lynch and Lawrence Trimble, and directed by Lawrence Trimble. Many beautiful settings have been included. The supporting cast includes Walter McGrail as leading man.

AT THE STRAND

James Kirkwood, who plays the role of Abel Blake in "The Forbidden Thing," produced by Allan Dwan, and now being shown at the Strand theater, fell in love with the character assigned to him in the production. It was the most lovable, human and sincere character ever given him, he says, and this is the way he describes Abel Blake, rugged descendant of the Mayflower colonists:

"Abel is just a plain American young man, with a mother, a little money and a sweetheart. Abel would suffer death if it would save either his mother or his sweetheart any worry or trouble. In this resolution he has committed himself fully."

"But Abel is also human. That's why he may be lovable, or why he might bring down the wrath of the community upon his head. In spite of his fine resolutions, he goes astray. It is after his sweetheart leaves for another town, and after his associates induce him to enter a dance hall where he meets a subtle, sensuous woman.

"All the tribulations and sorrows and heartaches, death and sordidness that followed this meeting between Abel and the woman, may happen in any community and to any man. Therefore, it is with a sense of joy that we see Abel finally rise from his surroundings and again reassert himself. This is the finest type of heroism, and I enjoyed every minute I was playing in that role."

A comedy cartoon and a Paramount Magazine will also be shown.

COMMERCE CLUB

A special speaker, either an out-of-town man or a Madison business man, will be there to address the club.

"DOC" BAKER AT ORPHEUM
TODAY IN "FLASHES"

"Doc" Baker in "Flashes," a scintillating, classy musical revue, will fill out the headline position of the Orpheum program, for the balance of the week starting with the two performances tonight. In fact, the act occupies the position of two numbers, as in order to accommodate Mr. Baker and his group of pretty feminine entertainers, it is necessary to cut one act off the regular program. Baker is a lightning change artist of unusual ability and seemingly walks "out of one costume and into another. There is a very entertaining little story with the act, regarding a pretty little news-stand girl at a railway station and the station porter, who have as their ideas the fashion pictures in one of the magazine. As in fairy tales, the book suddenly becomes enlarged, and they walk into it, selecting the costumes the desire, and a whole flock of pretty fashion models follow them out. Songs, dances and pretty costume changes follow with lightning-like rapidity.

"Doc" Baker appears in the role of Pasquala, the station porter, Polly Walker heads the feminine contingent as Josephine, the magazine girl, and Bud and Jack Pearson furnish the novelty dance numbers. There are eight fashion girls, and the scenic production is very elaborate. The balance of this bill will include Barry Kahne, the incomparable mentalist; Jack Bexley and Lillian Porter in a novel character offering "The Call of a Song;" The Stuart Girls, Harmony and Character Singing, and Arena Brothers and Kinogram pictures.

Decrease in Cotton
Used in November

Active cotton spindles numbered about 2,000,000 less than in October and almost 3,000,000 less than in November last year.
