UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN.

VOL. IV—No 89.]

MADISON, WIS., SATURDAY, JANUARY 19, 1895.

[PRICE THREE CENTS.]

JOINT DEBATES OF THE PAST

HAVE BEEN HELD SINCE SIXTY SEVEN.

SUBJECTS AND WINNERS OF THE DEBATES.

TWENTY-THREE JOINT DEBATES—STANDING OF THE SOCIETIES.

Since 1867, when the first joint debate between Athena and Hesperia occurred, there have been twenty-three contests between the literary societies of the university. Athena and Hesperia were the only contestants until 1876 when Calliope entered the lists and overthrew Hesperia. Athena however was victorious in the next debate held in the fall of 1876. In the winter of 1878, Linonia, who had entered the league was defeated by Athena. Calliope attempted in the fall of the same year to wrest the laurel from the older society but was unsuccessful. In 1884 the dual league was resumed and it was not until 1892 that another society entered the contest. In that year Philomethia was successful against Hesperia. Athena won in the two last debates in '93 and '94.

In the debates the societies have stood as follows: Athena—won, 14; lost, 5. Hesperia—won, 6; lost 11. Philomethia—won, 1; lost, 1. Calliope—won, 1; lost, 2. Linonia—won, 0; lost, 2. Adelpia—won, 0; lost, 1. One debate was undecided. The debates were as follows: the winning society being denoted by an asterisk (*):

1867.—Was the military reconstruction bill of the 39th. congress constitutional? Affirmative—Athena. Negative—Hesperia.*

1868.—Is a system of protective tariff a true policy for the United States? Affirmative—Athena. Negative—Hesperia.*

1869.—Should the government bonds known as the 5-20s be paid in gold? Affirmative—Hesperia. Negative—Athena.*

1873.—Should the United States adopt a system of free trade? Affirmative—Hesperia.* Negative—Athena.

1874.—Conceding the constitutional power to enact such laws is it judicious to fix, by law, railroad rates for the transportation of passengers and freights? Affirmative—Hesperia. Negative—Athena. (undecided).

1876.—Should church property be taxed? Affirmative—Calliope.* Negative—Hesperia.

1876.—Should an educational qualification be required for suffrage in the United States? Affirmative—Athena.* Negative—Calliope.

1878.—Should the United States adopt a system of cabinet government? Affirmative—Linonia. Negative—Athena.*

1878.—Was the granting of suffrage to the freedman, in 1870, impolitic? Affirmative—Hesperia. Negative—Athena.*

1880.—Is universal suffrage in the United States a success? Affirmative—Linonia. Negative—Athena.*

1882.—Is a system of cabinet government preferable to the government of the United States, as it at present exists? Affirmative—Hesperia.* Negative—Athena.

1883.—Should the United States adopt a system of tariff for revenue only? Affirmative—Hesperia.* Negative—Adelpia.

1884.—Conceding the constitutionality, should the United States assume the control of interstate railway traffic?—the word control to mean the regulation of freight and passenger rates. Affirmative—Hesperia. Negative—Athena.*

1885.—Would the adoption of an international bi-metallic standard of currency, by commercial nations, be impolitic? Affirmative—Hesperia. Negative—Athena.*

1886.—Is universal suffrage as it exists in the United States, detrimental to the best interests of the nation? Affirmative—Hesperia. Negative—Athena.*

1887.—Is legal prohibition a true remedy for the evils arising from the traffic in alcoholic liquors in the United States? Affirmative—Athena.* Negative—Hesperia.

1888.—Do the Labor organizations of the United States promote the well-being of society? Affirmative—Athena.* Negative—Hesperia.

1890.—Should the existing tariff laws of the United States be so modified that by the year Nineteen hundred all raw materials shall be admitted free, and the duty on manufactured goods be reduced to a revenue basis? Affirmative—Hesperia. Negative—Athena.*

1891.—Would the complete exclusion of the foreign immigrants for a definite period be preferable to a continuance of the present freedom of immigration? Affirmative—Hesperia.* Negative—Athena.

1892.—Would it be expedient for Great Britain, France, Germany and the United States, by international agreement, to adopt unrestricted coinage and limited legal tender of both gold and silver at the common fixed ratio of 15 1-2 to 1; it being conceded that the ratio of 15 1-2 to 1 is preferable for this purpose to any other ratio. Affirmative—Philomethia.* Negative—Hesperia.

1893.—Would municipal ownership and operation of lighting works and street railroad lines be preferable to private ownership and operation in cities of the United States of 25,000 or more inhabitants? It being conceded that the change of ownership can be legally made. Affirmative—Athena.* Negative—Philomethia.

1894.—Would national ownership and operation of the railroads in the United States be preferable to ownership and control by private corporations? Affirmative—Hesperia. Negative—Athena.*

A CORRECTION.

The Cardinal wishes to correct the item published last evening in regard to the marriage of Mr. Hageman, the report being without foundation. The Cardinal acted in good faith in the manner as the news was handed in and signed by one of the students, who has peculiar ideas on a joke.

ELOQUENCE, WIT AND LOGIC

ABOUND IN THE LITERARY SOCIETY HALLS.

ALL HOLD ENTHUSIASTIC MEETINGS.

Subjects of Debates—Literary Work in Good Shape.

The members of the Pharmaceutical society turned out in full force last night and listened to a very pleasing program, followed by an animated business meeting in which all the defects of parliamentary practice were exposed.

The program opened with a violin and piano duet by E. A. Iverson and J. W. Schempf which received a hearty encore. Mr. Dorothy rendered Webster's speech in the White murder case with the dexterity of a lawyer. This was followed by the inaugural address of Geo. P. Barth, the new president of the society. In this address he gave some good wholesome advice but was a little more critical than the faults of the society warranted.

After recess Mr. Block read a paper on "Antisceptics" and the society then proceeded to business. Election of officers took place with the following result: Vice president, C. F. Rainey '96; secretary, Miss Lepha Bennett '98; treasurer, E. G. Haswell '95; censor, E. A. Freytag '96; assistant censor, Miss Mary E. Seaman '96; historian, J. J. Brewman '95.

The president then appointed committees for the present term. After adjourning some boisterous and hearty singing of college songs was indulged in.

There was a large attendance last night at the meeting of Philomathia, Urness '95 presiding.

The first debate was on the question, "Resolved, That General Booth's system is the best method for the poor in large cities." The affirmative was opened by Eddy, '98, and the negative by Harvey, '98. The debate was very thoughtful and animated, showing good preparation on the part of the debaters. Although the negative put forth many strong points, the question was finally decided in the affirmative.

After the recess which was as usually spent in singing college songs, the second question "Resolved, That the United States was justified in going to war in 1812" was debated. The debate showed good preparation throughout and the speakers were closely followed by those present. Jones, '97, led on the affirmative, and Gile, '96, in an able debate opened the negative. The question was decided in the affirmative.

After the critic's report by F. W. Lucas, '96, final arrangements for the sophomore Semi-Public, which is to take place, Feb. 1., were made. Mr. Siggelkow, '93, one Philomathia's old standbys, favored those present with a short and pithy speech, which was enthusiastically received.

Last night every seat in Athenia's hall had its enthusiastic occupant. Every member of the society was present to take his part on the program. Several old members were present, including Otto Anderson, '94, and Pearl Doudna, '94. The officers elected at the meeting were inaugurated as follows: R. E. Smith, '93, president; L. J. Murat, '97, secretary; M. J. G. Gillen, '96, treasurer; C. Gilbertson, '97, censor; O. Rohn, assistant censor. The regular debates were postponed for one week, and an impromptu on the annexation of Canada substituted in its place. It was a lively debate lead on the affirmative by C. Gilbertson, '97, and on the negative by J. A. Tormey, '95. Cochems, Rohn and Lockney volunteered for the affirmative, and Gannan, Lynch and Furgeson for the negative. The decision of the jury was in favor of the affirmative.

The U. W. Engineers' club held its first meeting of the term in Science hall, last evening. The program, though shorter than usual, was extremely interesting. Mr. C. B. Rider spoke at some length on the life and works of Errielson, the inventor; and Mr. I. H. Fowle read an instructive paper on "the manufacture of horse-shoes in South Milwaukee."

The club, which has the honor of being the pioneer in the present Engineering organizations at the university, is composed entirely of members of the sophomore class; its work is devoted to the practical needs of the engineer and its meetings are marked by a promptness and thoroughness of preparation, which might well be copied by some of the "hill" societies.

Laurea's meeting last evening was called to order by President Ross. The following officers were then installed to serve the ensuing term:

Pres.—N. McGregor; V. Pres.—M. Spence; Sec.—H. Copp; Treas.—A. McMinn; Censor—A. Zweifel.

Miss McGregor took the President's chair and spoke a few words in which she gave the society a few helpful hints in regard to the work for this term.

Miss Rosenstengel rendered a piano solo and Miss Comstock spoke an amusing poem. This was followed by a paper, "The development of sight," by Miss Richardson, which was treated from a scientific point of view and was very interesting.

An impromptu debate was given to Misses Steenberg and Hart on affirmative and Misses McMinn and Bauer on negative. Resolved: That the girl bachelor is one of the most beneficial factors to modern society. The judges decided in favor of negative.

Miss Lyon gave a talk on impromptu debates, and the benefits derived from them by the one called on to take part in such a debate. She also gave some suggestions as to the good use of parliamentary rules by members of Laurea. Miss Bump was then initiated and the meeting was closed.

—The agricultural students have organized a literary society in which recitations, essays, and talks on agricultural topics make up the program. The meetings are held in Agricultural hall every Thursday evening.

Nearly every one interested at all in the gymnasium understands that it is necessary to make a charge for the use of the swimming tank for obvious reasons. What we would suggest is issuing of commutation tickets to any who desire to use the tank frequently.
There are many students who intend to do some training in this line of athletics and it is unjust for them to be obliged to pay an extra fee so high in comparison to that required of other branches of athletics. Those using the tank for such purposes would not be in the water for a great length of time so it comes all the harder to pay such a rate each time.

At their recent meeting the Board of Regents took final action on President Adam's recommendation for a school music and as a result the school will be opened next September. There is no reason why we should not have the best school in the west at Wisconsin. We have everything in our favor here,—a beautiful location and central position easily accessible from all parts of the northwest. We look forward to the time as not far distant when we can boast a school of music equal to any, and when westerners will not have to send their sons and daughters to the East for musical instruction.

The rules for the library published in last night's issue ought to be strictly enforced. There is too much carelessness in the use of book and returning the same. Some times books cannot be found for a number of days and then finally are picked up in some "out of the way" corner. Again it is not fair for one student to leave a book in charge of another for an hour or more till he returns. Many will inquire for the book during his absence and be disappointed when it ought not to be the case. Where the librarian is so dependent upon the honor of students in using the books, we want to meet their wishes half way, so that each may have an equal chance to secure material when wanted.

We are glad to see the question of appointing a superintendent of public property for the university discussed with the present earnestness by the proper authorities. The Cardinal was to a certain extent responsible for initiating the scheme some time ago. No one will deny the necessity of the office to the university when the manifold duties that would devolve upon it are so apparent. True the manner in which they have been provided for is above criticism if one remembers that they were left to the president who is too deeply engaged in other departments of university prosperity. Yet as our institution grows the cares all buildings could accomplish much more in minimum of time than one upon pointed to give entire attention to the whom innumerable cares of greatly different character fall.

When the Cardinal made the rule that only signed news items would be published it was supposed that it would be sufficient to protect the paper from any "fakes." This has proved to be the case in the past but yesterday one of the students handed in a signed item which was entirely false. The item was of such a nature as to be extremely unpleasant to the parties concerned and it requires a liberal use of the imagination to regard the matter as a joke. The author of the item deserves the severest censure for his action in the matter and cannot be too severely condemned. The Cardinal regrets being made his tool and in the future will carefully investigate all items received from him. But the Cardinal also regrets it because it will in the future be unable to accept items as readily as in the past. It trusts however that nothing of the sort will happen again.

IN THE LEGISLATURE.

Bill for a Library Building—State Geological Survey.

Two bills of special interest to students have been introduced in the late legislature. In the senate Senator Stout introduced the following library bill: Providing for the construction of a library building for the state historical library and the university, providing for a commission of nine, three appointed from the state historical society, three from the regents, and three by the governor, to advertise for bids and to superintend the construction, also providing for the appropriation of $60,000 every year for six years.

In the assembly a bill was introduced by Mr. Mahoney to establish a geological and natural history survey of Wisconsin. The survey shall have for its objects: The completion of the geological survey of the state, and especially the examination of the rocks, with reference to the occurrence of iron ores, building stones, and other valuable mineral products, and in reference to their value as material for road construction; a study of the soils of the state, a study of the plants of the state, and especially of the forests, with reference to their cultivation and preservation; a study of the animal life of the state, and especially the occurrence, distribution, and production of fish in the lakes and streams of the state; and a study of foods and enemies of fish; and preparation of an account of the physical geography and natural history of the state, in such form as to serve as manuals for the public schools, and of special reports on subjects of economic importance, in such form as to be of direct service to the people. This survey shall be governed by a board of commissioners, consisting of the governor, the state superintendent, the president of the state university, the president of the commissioners of fisheries, and the president of the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters. They shall receive no compensation, but each shall be reimbursed his expenses. The commissioners shall have general charge of the survey, and shall appoint a superintendent and, on his nomination, such assistants and employees as they may deem necessary. They shall fix the compensation of all persons employed on the survey. After material collected shall have served the purposes of the survey, it shall be distributed to the state university, the colleges, normal schools and the high schools of the state. There is hereby annually appropriated $15,000 to carry on the survey. Provision is made for the publication of the fruits of the survey.

This is the bill asked for by the Wisconsin Academy of Sciences, Arts and Letters at its last meeting.

CHORAL REHEARSAL.

Full Attendance Desired Monday Evening.

The next rehearsal of the Choral Union occurs Monday evening at 7:30 p. m. A meeting of the board precedes at 7 P. M. As only three regular rehearsals remain before the expected date of the concert, members will see the importance of prompt and full attendance for the finishing work of the chorus. Those who have not yet obtained their chorus tickets should come early Monday evening and do so. Others will simply register by number as they enter the hall.

A mistaken impression was given by the numbers written on the tickets issued as to the number of singers to form the chorus at the coming concert. Gaps had been left in the entry near their proper places for new names received during the remainder of the season. The exact registration cannot be determined as yet, but it should considerably exceed last year's. Absence from rehearsals does not endanger membership, but the title to seats with the chorus at the coming concert.

JUNIOR PROMENADE COMMITTEES.

Arrangements to Be Made for the Coming Party.

The announcement of the committees for the Junior Promenade has been made. The arrangement committee will have entire charge of the arrangements for the promenade and the duties of the others will only begin on the night of the party. The first meeting of the arrangement committees will be in room 21, Science hall, at 5 p. m. Monday.

The committees are as follows:

Arrangement Committee: J. B. Sanborn, G. P. Robinson, L. L. Alsted, W. T. Arndt, A. G. Paul.

Reception Committee: W. H. Sheldon, S. B. Tarrant, M. J. Gillen, L. M. Ward, J. L. McNab.

Floor Committee: Henry J. Neiderman, F. D. Warner, A. R. Hager, C. E. Blomgren, H. A. Sawyer.
