Waterford, Wisconsin

Volume VI — May, 1952

DEDICATION

ETHELYN A. HANDRAN

WE, the graduates of 1952, proudly and gratefully dedicate our Emerald annual to Miss Ethelyn Handran. To you, Miss Handran, for devoting so much of your time to supervising the construction of the Emerald annual; for taking care of Waterford High School News, published weekly in the Waterford Post; to you, for always being willing to help whenever we are in need; for being our make-up artist at Junior and Senior Class plays; for coaching Forensics with a great deal of interest and any other public speaking done by fellow students; to you, for instructing your ever important English classes; to you, Miss Handran, we dedicate our Emerald annual.

ADMINISTRATION

The Principal's Message

In our complex society of today, a high school education has become and is becoming more important for the young man and the young woman assuming the duties of adult citizenship. The high school of today aims to develop in you the ability to recognize and solve the problems you will meet and must face.

My hope is that on leaving Waterford High School you may take with you the character traits of co-operation, dependability, initiative, honesty, and poise, so that you may enter society as a well-rounded personality and find health, wealth, and happiness.

Valedictorian

To maintain a high scholastic average and at the same time be a leader in the musical, journalistic, and dramatic activities of the school, indicates the high caliber of our valedictorian of '52. Throughout the four years of high school life, Barbara Johncox endeared herself to all of us by her gracious personality.

KENNETH REEB
Salutatorian

Salutatorian

In just one short year "Kenny" Reeb, who transferred from Lake Geneva High School, became a very popular member of the class of '52. While possessing a keen intellect, he has also developed the other facets of a well-rounded personality and has entered wholeheartedly into the activities of our school.

Rockrohr-Skarie Award

The beautiful athlete's memorial trophy to Jim Rockrohr and Hans Skarie of the Class of '46 is annually engraved with the names of those who have received this coveted honor:

1946	.	.	.	Clem Zebrowski
1947	.	.	.	Richard Beck
1948	.	.	.	John Greil
1949	.	.	.	Donald Lewis
1950	.	.	.	Jim Buenger
1951	.	.	.	Gene Daugherty

The award for 1952 will be made on Commencement Night.

D. A. R. Award

Georgia Paap was the faculty choice for the Daughters of American Revolution Award for 1952. This award is presented annually at the Commencement Exercises to the outstanding senior girl of the year. Dependability, leadership, service, and patriotism are the traits of character considered important in making the decision.

Throughout the state, each girl named for the award submits answers to ten questions. Upon these answers is based the selection of the winner who receives a $100 U.S. Savings Bond.

Business Education

includes typing, shorthand, book-keeping, and office practice. The tide in typing turned when students became more conscious of accurate copies and the adoption of the international typing rules.

Industrial Arts

provides a combination of activity and achievement—activity in the way of basic and advanced woodworking, fabrication of plastics, metal work, and mechanical drawing; achievement by creating a desirable project from the drawing-board stage to a useful product.

Classes

A general mechanical drawing course is offered to the seniors as an elective. Woodworking is a three-year course offered as an elective in all four years.

Home Economics

Reference work is a vital part of Home Economics as it aids in guiding the student to an understanding of that which is good and beautiful in home decorating.

The serving of food in a pleasing, attractive environment is as much a part of Home Economics training as the actual preparation of the food.

English

English—with its traditional emphasis upon reading, writing, and speaking—occasionally makes use of another skill as well—listening. Here, students are listening for faults in their recorded speeches and have a real incentive for eliminating these faults. The device used is the tape-recorder.

Chemistry

In the chemistry laboratory, the students become familiar with many of the techniques which are commonplace in industry, medicine, and agriculture, and thus prepare places for themselves in the scientific world of the future.

Mathematics

Mathematics courses range from general mathematics, a subject that everyone can use in daily life, to advanced mathematics, preliminary to college work. Students shown in the picture are concluding a unit on geometrical construction.

Social Science

This department can be divided into four sections, according to the four years: Civics, World History, U.S. History, and Social Problems. Members of the Social Problems class below are making an intensive study of insurance. The World History class considers the geographical and economic aspects of a particular challenge met by the leaders of some country in the past.

Latin

Latin is a subject for non-college as well as college students. It increases verbal skill which is so essential in the business world, and it also facilitates the study of foreign languages such as French, Italian, and Spanish. In this closely-knit, modern world of ours, the United States has great need for broad-minded citizens with this world-wide type of background.

Priegel, Thomas, Choinski, Blodgett

Music

Our high school has three musical organizations—the Brass Quartet above and the Mixed Chorus and the Band on the next page. These groups and individuals from them have supplied the music for various functions throughout the school year.

The year's activities consisted of the Armistice program, the annual Homecoming parade and game, the Christmas Concert, the Spring Concert, the annual Music Festivals, the Baccalaureate service.

Physical Education

Instructor for the physical education classes is Coach L. McCulloch. Mixed physical education classes meet on Fridays. Volley ball, modern dancing, and square dancing were their three major exercises. Archery, because it is linked with G.A.A., was practiced by just the girls. Both volley ball and archery are fall and spring activities.

Business Manager

This year's staff opened its circulation campaign in the fall with one-hundred-fifty subscribers as its immediate goal. Then came the advertising campaign with regular ads in addition to sponsorships. Letters to various companies met with an encouraging response.

The Morrison Studio was voted official photographer by the seniors. Soon a battery of floodlights was set up in the gym and the camera clicked away as group after group was "shot".

The actual work on the book came in the

A great deal of credit necessarily goes to the ad-getters—Marlene Laupan, Joann Capman, Jacqueline Whalen, Ronald Roepke, Richard Huening, Dick Hart, Mary Gunderson, Georgia Paap, and of course, the business manager—Marcia Dahl.

Wayne Bersch was the reliable school photographer equipped with his own high-speed camera and plenty of flash bulbs. Ken Reeb and Gerald DeGrave cut and mounted the senior pictures.

Driver Education

Driver Education is a required course for graduation. Mr. Daugherty taught the boys and Mr. Carlson, the girls. Mental and physical aptitude tests are given, and students who complete the course receive a certificate from the Motor Vehicle Department. It is a six-weeks course offered in the sophomore year.

Projector Club

The boys in this club learn how to manipulate the movie projector, the film-strip projector, the tape recorder, the portable public address system, and the portable record player. If one realizes how popular visual aids are in education these days, one also knows how much in demand the members of this club are. They are trained to be responsible for this equipment. The faculty adviser is Mr. Daugherty.

Student Council

The Student Council, which trains for leadership, co-operation, responsibility, and sportsmanship in the student body, takes charge of all school activities such as Homecoming, charity drives, ticket sales, and school assemblies. The seniors elect four of its eleven members; the juniors, three; the sophomores, two; and the freshmen, two. Dick Hart was elected president of the council this year; Principal F. G. Petrie is the faculty adviser.

Forensics

The representatives of our high school at the League Contest held at Whitewater State College on March 20, 1952, were as follows: Oratory, David Rockrohr; Four-Minute Speech—Marlene Laupan; Serious Declamation—David Rebstock; Humorous Declamation—Anita Coverdale and Robert Peterson; Extempore Reading—Joyce Sarno and Suzanne Bosch. Forensic honors in 1951 went to Chuck Paulson who was presented with a gold medal for his work in oratory at the State Contest at Madison.

Standing: Christensen, Murray, Boelter, Mehring, Doyle, Boehles, Amann, Billings, Prager, Lewis, Sas.
Seated: Laupan, Hegemann, Bosch, Chervenka, Greil, B. Sakowski, Hoover.

Library Club

Under the supervision of Mr. Kostrzak, the Library Club is making our library one that we can be proud of.

In every study hall a student librarian helps students find and select books and check them out; moreover, they assist in replacing and rearranging books on the shelves. Each member must know the library system in order to help students make good selections.

The club observed Book Week by decorating the bulletin boards in Study Hall and in some of the classrooms.

The officers in charge are as follows:

President . . . . . Francis Chervenka
Vice-President . . . . . Pauline Greil
Secretary-Treasurer . Audrey Hegemann
Reporter . . . . . Suzanne Bosch

G. A. A.

The Girls' Athletic Association could feel justly proud of the new archery equipment that was paid for through the concession on milk which is managed by the girls during the noon hour. In the fall and also in the spring, the girls were outside enjoying their new sport. During the winter months they held contests in volleyball and in basketball. Officers of the club are shown in the picture.

Junior Prom

The sky was a deep, velvety blue, dotted with clusters of bright, silver stars. Reaching into the rich blue night were two white stairways, covered with green vines and pastel carnations. Barely visible in the darkness were white colonial pillars reaching majestically toward the sky. Pastel carnations grew on full vines winding around the pillars.

Slowly and gracefully, King Chesley Chapman and his lovely Queen Joyce Sarno descended their separate stairs and met at the bottom. Then Chesley crowned his queen. Softly and quietly the Silver Derbies orchestra played the Grand March. The King and Queen were followed by the court of honor which consisted of Elaine Breunig, Constance Sakowski, Patricia Onsgaard, and Viola Kopelke. Programs were distributed by little Johnny Evans and Barbara Steinke. The lights were dimmed, the orchestra played "Stairway to the Stars," and the couples were lost in a midnight dream.

It is not likely that the Junior Prom "Stairway to the Stars" held on May 4, 1951, will be forgotten for quite some time.

(Note — The candid shots above were taken during practice sessions after school. The stage crew, at this time, was working under Mr. Petrie's direction on a new stage set to be added to the permanent equipment for dramatics in the school.)

Senior Class Play

"Daffy Dills" by Joy Tobias was the name of the Senior Class Play directed by Jerome R. Jekel, social science instructor. At a try-out session held after school, Mr.

Douglas Poulter of Whitewater State College helped in selecting the following twelve members of the cast, four boys and eight girls:

Richard Dill .....	Tim Bowen
Carol Dill .....	Jacqueline Whalen
Rodney Dill .....	Bob Cahill
Doris Dill .....	Marcia Dahl
Dudley Dill .....	Ken Reeb
Grandmother Dill .....	Lucille Mitsch

Cousin Maude Maddox ....	Barbara Johncox
Elaine Escott .....	Darlene Breiling
Aimee Lovewell .....	Beverly Smetana
Pete Norton .....	Dick Sarno
The Widow Woggles .....	Joanne Capman
Arnica Jukes .....	Marlene Laupan

Standing: Whalen, Ulseth, Breiling, Gunderson, Capman, Engel.
Seated: Satterstrom, Paap, Felton, Sakowski, Johncox, Popp.

High School Notes

An opportunity to do journalistic writing presented itself to the students of Miss Handran's English IV class every week in writing the column of high school news for the WATERFORD POST. The WATERFORD HIGH SCHOOL NEWS acquainted the public with the most important events taking place in our high school. Students looked forward to seeing their work in print.

Emerald Echo

The office practice class, under the direction of Mr. Jasinski, issued the school newspaper, the EMERALD ECHO, with the help of reporters from all the classes. Lucille Mitsch was elected editor-in-chief with Darlene Breiling as assistant editor responsible for the cover. Barbara Johncox was business manager; Georgia Paap, news-assignment editor; and Carol Ranke, sports editor.

Standing: Reeb, Sarno, Seifert, Dahl, Raasch, Gunderson, Ulseth, Satterstrom, Allard, Huening, Cahill.
Seated: Popp, Paap, Felton, Sakowski, Johncox, Lindner.

Cheerleaders

There are two cheerleader squads. The veteran A squad is made up of juniors and seniors. The B squad contains the newcomers to the field—juniors and sophomores. All of our cheerleaders have an abundance of school spirit, whether their team is winning or losing. For their uniforms, the girls decided on Green Kelly Slacks and White Sweaters.

Mr. Jekel is now acting as their adviser. He is forming another group of freshmen cheerleaders for next year.

Football Season

The 1951 football season saw a Waterford fighting eleven winning three games and losing four games.

In the first game of the season, Mukwonago, a hard driving eleven, defeated the Wolverines in a game which was played much closer than the score indicated, the score being 25-0. Costly fumbles kept Waterford from crossing pay dirt.

Coming from behind in the last half, the Wolverines upset the East Troy Trojans 13-12, "Golden Toe" Alby kicking the deciding point.

Waterford's football hopes were severely jolted when an underrated St. Mary's eleven came through with a touchdown in the third quarter to defeat the Wolverines, 6-0.

A strong determined Waterford team rolled over the Rochester Aggies, 24-12. An 85 yard run by Captain "Buzzy" Klokner was an important highlight in the game.

Injuries proved to be the big factor as the Wolverines lost to Wilmot, 19-7. The Wolverines scored in the first two minutes. The extra point by Alby was good. Wilmot scored twice in the second quarter and once in the third. The fourth quarter went scoreless for both teams.

A good passing attack and a number of breaks proved to be the downfall for the Wolverines as they lost 24-14 to Union Grove. Waterford's touchdowns were made by Hart in the second and fourth quarters. Both of Alby's extra points were good.

Even if we had lost all our games except this one with Walworth, the season would have been a success, since it was the first Homecoming Waterford has won in six years. The Wolverines weren't to be denied of their victory after many smashing attacks to pay dirt. The final score was 25-6.

The conference standings for the season were as follows:

	W	L	T
Union Grove . . . . .	4	1	1
East Troy . . . . .	3	2	1
Waterford . . . . .	3	3	0
Wilmot . . . . .	3	3	0
Walworth . . . . .	1	5	0
Rochester . . . . .	0	6	0

Basketball Season

The basketball season of 1951-52 proved to be very successful for the Waterford Wolverines. Even though they didn't win the championship, the Wolverines made their presence severely felt in the South-eastern Wisconsin Conference, beating everybody except Rochester. The Wolverine team was a smooth-working outfit consisting of four lettermen from the year before. These four, along with a talented corps of former "B" squadders, constituted one of the finest teams seen in Waterford in a long time. The Wolverines were very interesting to watch and were wonderfully supported by the student body.

If it hadn't been for a bad start in which they lost their first two conference games, before they realized their potential, they might have copped the championship. But after the opening games, the Wolverines were the terror of the league, losing only two games for the rest of the season.

The starting "five" throughout most of the season consisted of Captain Dick Hart and Dick Huening at the guards, Bob Cahill at center, and Chuck Paulson and Ronny Roepke at the forwards. The reserves were Lee Hegemann, Harry Ranke, John Michls, Joe Kuzmic, and Chuck Shanks.

The team reached its peak about the middle of the season when they handed Mukwonago its first defeat of the season. When the season closed, Waterford was firmly entrenched in second with an 8-4 record. Other honors bestowed on the Wolverines were Chuck Paulson being selected all-conference forward. He also finished second in the scoring race. Bob Cahill was selected second-string, all-conference center and finished eighth in the scoring. Ronnie Roepke finished tenth.

In the tournaments, the Wolverines won the Consolation Championship at Walworth, thus completing one of the finest seasons for a Waterford basketball team in several years.

Below are the scores of each game and the high scorer:

Baseball Season

The Waterford Wolverines had a fair season last year as they came out of it with two wins and five defeats. Although some of the scores didn't show it, Coach McCulloch's nine played stellar ball throughout the season.

Lettermen returning from the previous year were Gene Daugherty, pitcher; Dick Hart, catcher; Bob Cahill, second base; Bobby Schopp, center field; Dick Huening, third base; and Gordon Modrak, short stop.

In the opening game of the year Waterford was tipped by a more experienced Rochester, 6 to 5, in a nine-inning tilt. Outstanding players for Waterford were Daugherty, Cahill, and Hart.

In the second game, Waterford again was a victim of a close game when they lost to non-conference St. Mary's, 4 to 3.

The third game, which was played at Waterford, proved disastrous to the home team. Although being shut out by a tough Union Grove club, 6 to 0, the boys showed lots of scrap and pep.

The next game was played at Wilmot on their home field where the Wolverines suffered their worst defeat of the season. The score at the end of the game was Wilmot 15, Waterford 5.

In the next game which was played at St. Mary's home field the Waterford nine scored a thrilling victory as they upset the Saints, 6 to 5.

Daugherty, Waterford's hurler, and Kerkhoff the Saint's moundsmen, pitched a duel to the end, Daugherty's record being 5 runs on seven hits, 11 strike outs, 4 walks. Bob Cahill, Wolverine second sacker, came across with the winning run.

Waterford, smelling victory, went on in the next game to smash the Norris Foundation, 7 to 5. The combination of timely hitting by the whole team and fine pitching by Bob Schopp and Gene Daugherty resulted in the victory.

The final game of the season proved to be a heartbreaker for the Wolverines. Although fine play and spirit were shown by the Wolverines, the Champion Mukwonago team had too much, as they defeated Waterford by a score of 11 to 9.
