BALL TOSSERS MEET CHICAGO THIS EVENING

Badger Squad Doped to Furnish Strong Opposition for Maroons

After a short session of basket shooting in the university gym yesterday, Coach Walter E. Meanwell and the Wisconsin basketball team departed for Chicago to meet the Maroons tonight, in its third contest of the present season.

Having won and lost in the two previous games, tonight's encounter will either set the Cardinal tossers near the top or lower them considerably in the conference title race.

The Badger squad has just completed a strenuous week of drilling, for Coach Meanwell realizes that his team will receive its first real test of the season when it meets the Staggmen tonight. The Wisconsin mentor had little to say regarding the outcome of the game. Meanwell witnessed the tilt between Chicago and Princeton during the holidays and, while the Maroons had not hit their stride at that time, they defeated the Tigers easily. Tonight's contest will be the opener of the Chicago schedule, and is attracting no little attention because of that fact.

May Work Out This Morning

The squad may take a short work-out on the Chicago floor this morning, providing that perfect secrecy may be secured. Chicago newswriters believe that the Maroons will swamp their northern opponents, in view of the fact that the team is composed of four men from the title-winning aggregation of last season.

Ex-Captain Hinkle is the only man who did not return to school this fall, and his position is being ably filled by McGuire, who was the Maroon leader's understudy last year. Chisler still performs at the back-guard post. Birkhoff and Clarence Vollmer need no in-

NEW CONTRIBUTOR HAS STORY IN LIT APPEARING MONDAY

Column Describing Writers is Novel Feature of Forthcoming Number

"Bronze and Steel," a story to appear in the issue of the Literary Magazine which comes out Monday, wrongly attributed to Frank Gray '23, was really written by Joseph Christie Dyas, a new contributor to the Literary magazine.

"The Soul of a Freshman," is the name of Frank Gray's contribution. It is a short sketch concerning a freshman's theme and a professor's reverie.

The firm persistence of a small boy in his game of Monte Christoing, in spite of violent interruptions is the basis of the story "Tenax Propositi," by A. C. Hamilton '23, author of "Moon Madness." This story is strongly reminiscent of Kenneth Graham.

Three impressionistic sketches by Margery Bodine Latimer '23, "Songs of the Sierras," by Frances Dummer '21, and "The Line of Least Resistance," by Katherine Rockwell '22, are other contributions which will attract notice.

A new feature in the Literary magazine is the column in the back describing the "Contributors." This is similar to the "Contributors Column" in the Atlantic Monthly magazine.

SLEEVE BUT TRICKS

OLIVER KENDALL

Oliver Kendall, professional entertainer and sleight-of-hand artist, will produce some of his best magic at the all-university Jamboree which begins at 8:45 tonight in Lathrop hall.

Kendall has practiced for some time in Madison and has given popular entertainments for fraternities, clubs, and private parties. He put on special stunts for the soldiers at various camps during the war. Many of his tricks are absolutely original and altogether different from the ordinary magician's program.

A special dance act will be the biggest number on the evening's program. Eight dancers have been trained to give a number which will be in sharp contrast to the general atmosphere of revelry and take-off. Another feature will be a song and dance skit by "Doc" Dorward.

Costumes will be on display in Lathrop from 2 to 8:30 p. m. today. Music for the grand march will begin promptly at 8:45 p. m.

Spectators' tickets entitling to seats in the balcony will be sold at the door for 25 cents. Regular admission is 50 cents.

PHILOMATHIA IS VICTORIOUS IN FIFTIETH ANNUAL JOINT DEBATE

SEVENTY-SIX MEN MADE MEMBERS OF
PRESIDENT'S GUARD

Corps Meets on Library Steps
Today to Have Badger
Picture Taken

Nineteen sophomores and fifty-seven freshmen were selected to be members of the newly formed university cadet corps President's guard at the formal tryouts held last Thursday night in the gymnasium annex. The men who were ruled out in this selection have been placed on a waiting list and will automatically become members as soon as any vacancies exist.

The judges of the "drill-down" were Maj. John S. Wood, the commandant, and his assistants, Maj. Orlando Ward, Maj. Howard P. Milligan, and Capt. Joseph B. Comstock.

The non-commissioned officers of the guard will be appointed at the next regular drill, Thursday, January 20, at 7:30 p. m.

The work at this drill will completely cover the silent manual as well as all squad and platoon movements. All cadets who have been picked for the guard may draw the official Infantry Drill Regulations manual from Sergeant Post in the military office.

The entire personnel of the guard will assemble at 1 p. m. today on the Library steps for the taking of the picture for the Badger. The men are requested to appear in uniform but without arms.

The cadets who were selected as guard members are:

Sophomores—M. E. Fitz, W. Beatty, R. B. Russel, J. J. Bratz, R. E. Johnson, A. F. Gassner, H. H. Germond, A. N. Hoelz, J. W. Nimlos, T. J. Martin, H. H. Levitz, G. M. O'Connor, W. M. Knott, H. C. Alberts, F. H. Topelinski, H. H. Schoenlaub, J. M. Rae, L. P. Richiond, M. A. Haney.

NO PROM FAVORS TO BE GIVEN BY FRATERNITIES

Prom favors will not be given by fraternities this year as a result of a resolution passed by Inter-fraternity council. Letters have been sent to the various fraternities asking their co-operation in enforcing this resolution.

"We have felt that Prom favors are an unnecessary extravagance and have therefore decided to cut them off our list of Prom features," declared Everett Grub, president of Inter-fraternity council.

SIGMA SIGMA ELECTS

Sigma Sigma, honorary society of the Medicinal school of the University of Wisconsin, takes pleasure in announcing the election of the following seniors to membership: Mark J. Bach, John A. Bigler, Margaret D. Craighill, Ivan G. Ellis, William E. Jahsman, Norman T. Laskey, and Harry H. Chlomovitz. Election of members from the present junior class will take place early the second semester. All full-time members of the faculty of the Medical school are to be considered ex-officio members of the society.

Tracy is Big Gun in Demolishing Hesperia

4 to 1

Although upholding the unpopular side of the question of Japanese naturalization, Philomathia literary society defeated Hesperia literary society by a 4 to 1 decision in the fiftieth annual joint debate in Music hall last night.

Strengthened immeasurably by the brilliant oratory of Sterling Tracy '22, the Philomathians so completely overcame their opponents' objections to the proposition "that all Japanese residents in the United States should be granted American citizenship" that the decision of the judges was a foregone conclusion with most of the audience, which completely filled the auditorium.

Immigration Disputed

The most hotly contested point of the discussion was the relation of immigration to the question. The affirmative maintained that immigration should and could be restricted and therefore was irrelevant. The negative argued that granting of citizenship would encourage immigration and that it would oblige the United States to admit Japanese.

The Philomathia team was composed of Charles D. Assovsky '21, Robert B. Stewart '23, and Sterling H. Tracy '22, closer. The members of the Hesperia team were Halsey Kraege '22, Ralph E. Axley '23, and Leo H. Kohl '22, closer.

Blaine Presides

Governor John J. Blaine, who acted as chairman, was presented by I. Arnold Perstein '21, varsity debater. The governor opened the meeting with a few remarks lauding forensics as a university activity, and congratulating the students that after 50 years of joint debate there is still enough interest in forensics to bring forth such a large crowd.

The judges of the debate were Justices R. G. Siebecker, A. G. Vinge, and M. B. Rosenberry, of the Wisconsin supreme court, E. A. Fitzpatrick of the state board of education.

MAYHEW DRIVE CONTINUED OVER THE WEEK-END

Less Than Half of Quota of
$1,800 is Raised—Returns
Incomplete

The Mayhew drive, which closed officially yesterday noon, netted only $850, less than half of the $1,800 goal set for the campaign. The campaign will be continued unofficially over the week-end, and special effort will be made this morning to secure more satisfactory returns.

The fact that the committee struck a particularly unfortunate time to get in touch with a number of university women may account in some measure for the failure of the women to raise their quota, according to Gladys Haskins '22, general chairman. A large number of women have failed to report their subscriptions, and their failure is largely due to negligence, the committee believes.

The campaign has been conducted upon the house percentage basis and an appreciable number of sorority and rooming houses have failed to register 100 per cent. Complete returns are not available, and it will be possible for these houses to bring their record up to standard before the campaign is closed.

IT has often been a subject of much conjecture and disagreement as to what proper name most properly cognomizes the typical university co-ed. She has often been called Mary or Edith, or perhaps Alegria. We offer a name which seems to us much more suitable. How is Helen A. Pocketbook? Whatever we may have against the co-ed, we must all admit that she does us good. * * *

Inter-Class Matches Will
Usher in Hockey Season
Today

The hockey season will be ushered in at 2 o'clock this afternoon when the first rounds of the inter-class hockey tournament will be held on Lake Mendota. The games will take place on the new rink which has been prepared behind the university gymnasium, and preparations have been made to accommodate a large crowd.

The opening contests will take place between the seniors and juniors, and the sophomores and freshmen. Candidates have been taking advantage of the excellent skating weather, and have been working out for some time. However, no teams have been selected by the various captains.

Several of the teams have not a full quota of men, and the leaders are urging that all hockey enthusiasts interested in winning numerals, report at the rink shortly after noon, prepared to enter the matches. This scarcity of material is due to the lack of a rink and facilities for scrimmage. Many have not been aware that the class teams were being organized, and have failed to turn out at the practices. There will be ample opportunity for newcomers to compete in the contests this afternoon.

Expect Banner Season
Today's matches are the start of what is expected to be a banner year for hockey at Wisconsin. In the past this out-door sport has been purely an intra-mural activity, but this year with its acceptance as a minor sport in the university, interest is increasing decidedly. Officials have already started work on a schedule, having signed contracts with Michigan for four contests. Negotiations are now being made for games with Northwestern university, Michigan School of Mines at Houghton, St. Johns and other mid-western schools.

On last Thursday night the Hockey club held its third meeting of the year. The gathering was the most enthusiastic in the history of the organization, and a record-breaking attendance was on hand. The club has already shown a decided increase in prominence since the Athletic board's decision regarding the ice sport. New officers were chosen for the coming season, and these men took over their duties. The following is the result of the election: Gilbert Greive, president; Henry Jenswold, vice-president; Thomas Tredwell, secretary-treasurer; Robert O. Blodgett, business manager.

Press Club Plans Startling Stunts and Furiously Funny Features for Forthcoming "Pi Nite"

A newspaper melodrama with the usual quota of villains, heroes, and heroines will be one of the feature stunts given by members of the Press club on "Pi Nite" February 19. The skit, in which twelve characters appear, has been written by Martin Halling '22. Dancing and other stunts are also included on the program.

Mystery surrounds the events of the evening, but it is rumored that the members will be pied up as well as served pie. While the final plans have not yet been completed, it is said that "Pat" Dennis, president, will likely stage a novelty. The events will be in the nature of a mixer. The students, dances, stunts, and refreshments will be pied up in regular newspaper style.

GRADUATE STUDENT BEGINS ACCOUNTING CLASS FOR WOMEN

Miss Irene Hersey, graduate student, has announced the organization of a class in accounting for the benefit of all university women who care to attend.

The class will be held at 4:30 in room 409 P. P. E. building every Monday and Wednesday until examination week.

As the time until examinations is short Miss Hersey asks that the women review the work, and be prepared to ask questions on the following subjects:

Monday, Jan. 17—Depreciation, classification, Fire Insurance.

Wednesday, Jan. 19—Partnership, accounting complete.

Monday, Jan. 24—Statement of affairs, consolidation.

Wednesday, Jan. 26—Amortization.

ROWING BOARD ASKS BADGERS TO SEND CREW

Foreign Universities Are Included in Invitations For Race

An invitation to the university and college crews of the world to compete in the intercollegiate championship regatta to be rowed at Poughkeepsie on June 22 was the outstanding feature of the annual meeting of the Board of Stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing association held at New York recently.

The blanket invitation does not mention any foreign institution by name, but it is understood to include the English universities of Oxford and Cambridge, the University of Toronto and such colleges of continental Europe, including Scandinavia and Austria, as may maintain a scholastic standard similar to the founder members of the association, Columbia, Cornell, and Pennsylvania.

In addition to this general invitation, specific invitations will be issued to other American colleges, which have entered crews in the for the Hudson titular regatta, including Syracuse, Wisconsin, Navy, Leland Stanford, California, Washington, and M. I. T.

Big Attendance Expected

That the Board of Stewards and the city of Poughkeepsie are preparing for an intercollegiate regatta of far greater scope than heretofore attempted, is made certain by the announcement that the Poughkeepsie Chamber of Commerce has appropriated a considerable sum to help finance the regatta. This is the first time in the long history of college rowing on the Hudson that the association has received an offer of outside assistance.

It was decided to adhere to their original determination to make the varsity race over a three mile instead of a four mile course, in accordance with the resolution adopted several years ago but never tried out owing to the entry of the United States into the World war. It was stated in this connection that while the determination to hold down the feature race to three miles established no precedent for 1922, it was felt that various universities invited and to be invited have understood that the main race would be at three miles and for that reason it was considered unwise to attempt a change for the coming regatta at least.

English Never Rowed Here

While many American college crews have from time to time competed in England, English varsity eights have never crossed the Atlantic for a regatta in this country. With the tentative understanding existing between Cornell and Cambridge for a visit of a track team or crew to Ithaca this spring, it is hoped that the visiting eight, if it comes, can be persuaded to remain for the intercollegiate regatta.

With the date for the regatta fixed for June 22, it is evident from a study of the tide tables that all three races will be rowed late in the afternoon. According to a tentative schedule the junior varsity eights will row two miles at 4 o'clock; the freshman eights a similar distance starting about 4:45 o'clock, and the varsity eights three miles at 6 o'clock. As June 22 is one of the longest days of the year, wind and tide conditions might cause a postponement of an hour or so, but will have little effect so far as a daylight finish is concerned.

TAFT AUTOGRAPHS BENEFIT SALE BOOK

Mr. Taft, who is a Mount Holyoke "son" and "nephew," had written on the fly leaf of the volume, "With best wishes for Mount Holyoke and her endowment fund. We should not forget the Mother of Women's colleges."

VISIT THE LEGISLATURE

THE University of Wisconsin is fortunately situated. Students here enjoy, in addition to the privileges and opportunities which the university offers, the privileges and opportunities that residence in a state capital offers—the chance to see state government in its actual operation.

The chance to observe at first hand the workings of our government is one too often ignored by the students. It is safe to say that very few of our large student body have visited a session of the legislature.

The legislature of the state of Wisconsin is now in session. An unparalleled opportunity to see practical politics and government in operation is offered every student.

Every student has the opportunity to see at first hand just how the state meets its great social, economic, and political problems. This is especially true of the present legislature. Perhaps at no time have there been problems of vaster consequence. Perhaps at no time have there been issues calling for more solid thought and for more ingenious remedies than those which now confront the legislature. Perhaps at no time has an effective solution to the state's problems been more difficult to attain. Indeed, the present legislature offers a splendid opportunity to see government in its best operation.

A visit to the legislature will give students a better conception of government than they can gain through hours of reading. A visit to the legislature will give the student a conception of present day problems and the ways of meeting them that was before unknown to him. A visit to the legislature, moreover, is for most students a novel and interesting experience. It is well worth while.

All students should attend at least one meeting of the legislature before it adjourns.

ROOMS FOR RENT

AT this time of year, many students take up the quest of new living quarters. Looking about for rooms is, at best, a time consuming job. Any means, therefore, of shortening the process should be employed.

At the present time, some vacant rooms are listed at the deans' offices. These lists undoubtedly have some value, but they are incomplete. All vacant rooms are not reported to the deans.

Landladies who have unoccupied rooms could do much to lessen the trouble of room-hunting by posting "furnished rooms" signs on their houses. Such signs should tell whether the houses are for men or women.

In this way, the students' time could be saved. Such signs would also be advantageous to the landladies, for their rooms would be rented in shorter time.

All persons would benefit if "furnished rooms" signs were posted where rooms are for rent.

tion, and Prof. E. B. Skinner, of the mathematics department.

Tracy was easily the star of the evening. Mounting the platform when the audience was beginning to get restless after an hour and a half of steady argument, the diminutive closer for the affirmative drew tumults of applause and laughter as he shattered his opponents' arguments. His impassioned rhetoric and satiric comment made his opponents the butt of much laughter.

Presentation is Good

The work of the Hesperia team was characterized by co-operation and uniformly good presentation. Kraege, who opened the negative case, showed the economic undesirability of the Japanese in a direct and forceful manner; and when he finished, the negative seemed to hold the advantage.

Axley, who spoke second for Hesperia, presented the social undesirability of the Japanese in an earnest, persuasive manner; and it took a good deal of oratory to bury his pointed question: "If the Japs are such good citizens, why do you advocate that immigration be restricted."

Kohl, speaking quietly and deliberately, emphasized the fact that Japan claims all Japanese as subjects, whether they are naturalized in other countries or not. He made a finished resume of the case for the negative.

Emphasizing the injustice of discrimination as to race, Assovsky made a forceful and clear outline of the affirmative case; while Stewart, in a natural, conversational manner, presented much evidence to show that the Japanese can be assimilated. His explanation of the satisfactory working of the "gentleman's agreement" with Japanese concerning immigration and the possibility of further restriction did much to discredit the negative's immigration argument.

Both Philomathia and Hesperia attended the meeting as groups, and vied with each other in singing songs and cheering the speakers. Castalia, woman's literary society, also attended in a body.

The members of the Hesperia team were entertained after the debate by Philomathia at a supper at the College refectory.

LIBRARY SCHOOL IS LITTLE KNOWN TO AVERAGE STUDENT

Students Who Study to Become Librarians Have Interesting Courses

A branch of the university, the existence of which is hardly known to many students, is the Wisconsin Library school, situated on the second floor of the city library. Here one finds a business-like place, a library in itself, where students are thoroughly trained, not by theory but by actual practice, to act as librarians.

The two weeks preceding the Christmas recess were especially interesting. The students have just had four lectures in cataloging, one in indexing, and four in classification and subject headings, each accompanied by laboratory practice and filing. These courses are the technical background of the profession, leading to employment in business offices as well as in libraries.

Visits by prominent people and helpful talks by them to the students, have served to make the work still more interesting. Mrs. Gudrun Thorne-Thomson of Chicago, the famous story teller, spent two days at the Library school, lecturing on the art of story telling. A tea was given by the students in her honor, at which a group of students presented two children's plays, which Mrs. Thorne-Thomson has edited.

Dr. Louise P. Kellogg of the Historical library also spoke entertainingly to the students on the historical background of the city and library. During the same week, the class had visited the legislative library of the Capitol and had been introduced into its management.

EDUCATION'S FAULT IS OVERSUPPLY OF FORMALITY—SHARP

"Poets, Philosophers, Speakers
Are Glory of Education,
But Where Are They?"

"The trouble with education is, that there is too much of the formal and not enough of the natural," declared Prof. Dallas Lore Sharp of Boston university, who spoke on "Education for Authority," in 165 Bascom hall at 4:30 yesterday.

"Poets, philosophers, and speakers are the glory of education, but if our schools produce them where are they? They come trailing their robes of glory from heaven, which is their home, and they land in the United States which is for business.

"To him whom Nature has given the gift for authority must be given the freedom to find in her what is unwritten in books. Nature does not try to hold school for society, she instructs the individual. School teaches one many things, but it does not teach one to paint a Whistler's 'Mother' or write a Shakesperian sonnet."

Speaking of religion, Professor Sharp stated that "Religion as a factor in education has ceased to operate. Religion is the parental side of education. Beauty or truth which does not touch religion doesn't touch the human heart."

Professor Sharp is an author as well as professor of English at Boston university. His recent articles on education in the Atlantic Monthly have caused much comment.

SCHOLARSHIP FUND IS OPEN NEXT MONTH

Five Thousand Dollars is Available to Fifty Needy Wisconsin Students

Olson, of the department of Scandinavian languages, and chairman of the committee on loans and undergraduate scholarships.

The scholarships, fifty in number, of $100 each, may be obtained by either men or women who are first year students registered as residents of Wisconsin, who have shown worth and ability in their work, and who are in need of financial assistance. Students who are receiving a monthly bonus from the state are not eligible.

Application blanks may be obtained after February 1, at the registrar's office. They should be filled out and returned to the registrar February 10 or 11, and not before. Notices will appear on the bulletin boards next week regarding the details of the scholarships.

The members of the committee are: Prof. J. E. Olson, chairman; Prof. P. Dowling, College of Letters and Science; Prof. E. B. Fred, College of Agriculture; Prof. S. H. ### INTELLIGENCE LOWER SAYS FREDERICK HALL

That the average intelligence of college students is lower than it used to be although their number has steadily increased, and that the war seems to have made them less inclined to serious labor, is asserted by Dr. Frederick A. Hall, chancellor of Washington university, St. Louis, in his annual report. This conclusion, the report explains, as ascertained through correspondence, coincides with that of authorities in other educational institutions.

Mrs. Taylor knows more secrets about the night life along the great white way than any other woman in the world. Never does a night go by when she is not called upon to play the part of big sister to some erring woman who is brought in from somewhere along Broadway.

sembly of independent players. It will play at Prom, the same complete outfit that plays regularly at the Rainbow Gardens. Isham Jones himself plays the saxophone. He has undertaken the personal direction of the Prom fox trot, to be chosen in the contest now being conducted. He has led theater orchestras and is the composer of "Wishing" and "Sweet Woman."

"This is my first engagement outside of strictly professional circles," Mr. Jones said, concerning his coming to Prom. "I have had offers to play at Yale and Michigan and other universities but I am under contract with the Rainbow Gardens."

The orchestra's engagement in the East to make Brunswick records enables it to accept the Prom engagement. Arriving in Madison Friday it will play only for Prom returning to Chicago Saturday to fulfill its engagement there. Dancing the night of Prom will be from 9:30 until 3:00.

Alfred Eldridge will play the piano. He has been a concert performer and director. The orchestra includes: Leo Murphy, who has played on the stage and in theater orchestras in New York, violin; Carroll Martin, one of the best trombonists in the country, having played with the Minneapolis and Chicago symphony orchestras; C. McNeil, banjo; D. Jones, xylophone; J. Frank, drum; C. Sunberg, cornet; Vanasek, banjo and soprano saxophone and J. Kuhn, tuba.

"Kismet" is Greatest Picture Yet Filmed

Twenty-five thousand feet of lumber; five thousand square feet of beaver boarding; an average of twenty men working day and night for three weeks; a sheet of plate glass valued at $2,500 large enough to cover a floor two hundred feet in length, etc.

Not an order for a building concern, but merely a hint of the amount of material and labor required for the building of just one setting, the interior of the Caliph's palace, in the Robertson-Cole production of "Kismet," adapted to the screen from Otis Skinner's celebrated play, with Mr. Skinner in the leading role, making his debut as a motion picture star. The picture will open at the Fuller theater today.

More than $500,000 were spent in realizing the vision of artists, and thousands of persons, hundreds of donkeys, camels, goats and horses, and an entire city was used in unfolding this romantic tale of the Arabian Nights, surpassing anything shown on the stage or screen.

AT THE STRAND

Louise Glaum in "Love" will be the attraction at the Strand theater for the last times today, performances continuous 2-11 p. m.

Wanda Hawley

Wanda Hawley in "Her Beloved Villain" will be seen Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday.

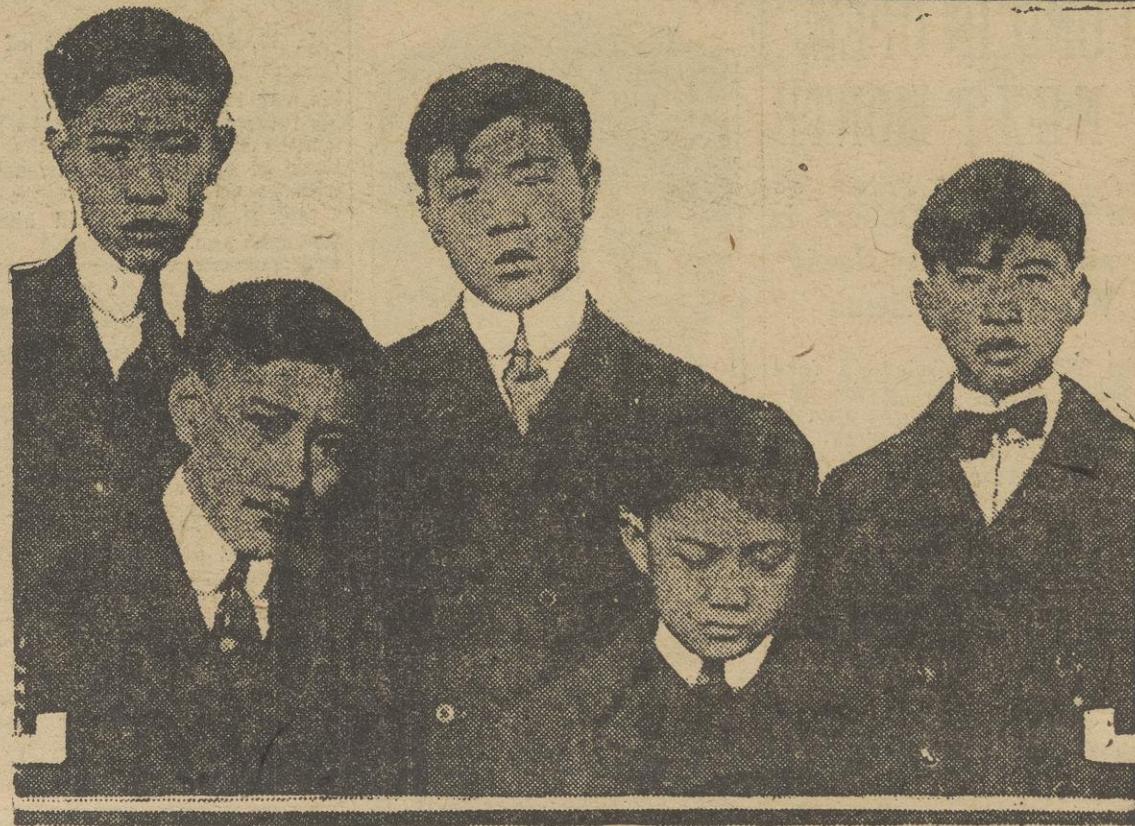

"Her Beloved Villain" is Miss Hawley's latest starring vehicle. It shows her as a vivacious French wife who sets out to punish her husband for a mild deception. In the punishing everybody concerned is enmeshed in a maze of complications that carries the plot along in the brilliant manner one always expects of French farce. It is a Realart picture.

As special added feature there will also be shown "A Rough House," with Fatty Arbuckle.

GRAND

Noble love is primitive environment will probably never cease to wield a magnetic influence over the human race and for that reason, if for no other, it is certain there is going to be far more than the average interest manifested in the presentation of "Nomads of the North," James Oliver Curwood's latest contribution to the screen which is the attraction at the Grand theater. It is said the author of this latest Associated First National release has succeeded in devising a love story replete with so much fervor that the very frigidity of the far north, the locale, seems to melt away into a paradise of the tropics minus the physical aspects.

All amateur ski jumpers in Wisconsin are eligible for this meet.

The last home tourney of the season is the national tournament which is slated for Madison, the date to be announced later. The national tournament will cap the efforts of the athletic department to present an attractive ski tournament schedule, and amateurs from Wisconsin, Illinois, Minnesota, and other states will compete.

The Wisconsin jumpers will travel to Chippewa Falls for the meet which is held in that city annually, and plans have been made to send the men to the tourney at Cary, Wis., if the squad goes through a successful season.

BIG TIME, BY HECK

Five Hundred Villagers of Punkin Holler, From Farmer Jones to Cy Perkins, Turn Out to the Town Meetin' Last Night

Five hundred of the villagers of Punkin Holler turned out to the community meeting last night. Ag. hall auditorium became the town hall and was fittingly decorated. Agrics and Home Ecs were dressed in overalls and gingham dresses appropriate for the occasion.

Farmer Jones, president of the community club, whose wife is president of the Ladies' Aid, presided at the meeting. The school ma'am led the singing and was one of the features of the evening. Her star pupil recited a stirring poem which brought tears to the eyes of the audience. The county agent of Clintonville gave a talk on "Legumes" which was very interesting to the farmers as was evidenced by the many questions asked. The Punkin Holler quartette was one of the leading attractions, and was twice called back to give "A Little Bit More."

At this point, Cy Perkins, who had "A Little Bit More" under his belt, raised quite a commotion but was silenced by his friends. A quartette from the Engineers' Minstrels which was making a tour of the state, arrived just in time to give a few selections. They left just in time to escape being mobbed. The school ma'am led the audience in "Home Sweet Home" which was sung with a great deal of pathos. Apples were passed around and the farmers' wives munched and gossiped while their husbands drove the bobs to the door.

The community meeting was put on by Agrics and Home Ecs under the auspices of Ag Triangle. It proved to be one of the most unique entertainments put on this year. It was full of fun from the time Cy Perkins stuck his corn cob pipe in the door until Joe Popilinsky hobbled out on his crutches.

duction to Big Ten circles for they made their reputation as forwards on the 1919-20 Chicago team. There was not a better scoring combination in the conference than these two men. Halladay is again playing the pivot position, and he is also a consistent scorer.

Maroons Swamp Milliken
The strength of the Chicago offense can be judged by the way they swamped Milliken University of the Illinois "Little Nineteen" conference, winning by nearly 30 points. The Milliken aggregation had previously won from both the University of Illinois and Iowa. In the long preliminary schedule which Stagg has just completed, every game was won by a wide margin. One of the greatest scoring sessions was held when Chicago snowed Armour Institute under in a one-sided game.

The Wisconsin team will fight an uphill battle tonight with the odds greatly against them. The team will return to Madison tomorrow and start another week of rehearsals. Next Saturday the Illini will appear at the gym in the first home conference game of the season.

DOLPHINS GIVE TEST FOR CLUB EMBLEMS

Dolphin club members were given an opportunity to try out for the club emblem in the Lathrop hall swimming tank last night. Tests were given for both the minor and the major emblems.

The tests are to be given regularly, to enable those who cannot pass the tests at the present time, to gain their emblems by the end of the year.

TOURNEY DECIDING BOXING CHAMPS OF MADISON TO BE RUN

A free-for-all elimination tourney, to determine the boxing championship of the city of Madison, is the project put forward by Jack Boyd, promoter of the Monona Athletic club, better known to the student body as the owner and manager of the "Studio."

The venture has for its aim the promotion of a local enthusiasm for scientific boxing, and a plan has been worked out whereby the bouts will be run at the conclusion of the regular professional cards of the Athletic club. As many men as enter the competition will be given opportunity to perform, the winners to accept all challengers until an admitted champion appears in each division.

Enthusiasm over the proposal has been marked, and the call for entries for the first bouts has been eagerly answered by some twenty men. Six contests in all will be presented by the club at the opening of the tournament, being run in connection with the regular bout between Walter Grayjack and Johnny Hagan, Monday, January 17.
