FARMERS' WEEK IS PLANNED BY AGRIC COLLEGE

Merchandising as Solution Of Troubles Is Theme Of Meetings

"Merchandising, the Farmer's Way Out" is the general theme of the annual Farmer's and Home Maker's Week which will be held at the College of Agriculture, Jan. 29—Feb. 2.

"There may be no way for the farmer to bring his 64 cent dollar up to par, but at present it looks as if merchandising is the farmer's way out," Prof. K. L. Hatch declared in his discussion of the conference. "Good merchandising presupposes something to sell that is worth selling. It begins with a quality product produced in sufficient quantity to meet any market demand that may already exist or be created."

That the College of Agriculture is making a determined effort to help the farmer's solve their problems in this time of stress is evident from the program that is scheduled for the farmer's gathering Professor Hatch said.

Dairy Industries Represented
"What Federations contribute to the Merchandising of Farm products," by W. T. Macklin, is one of the principal addresses scheduled for Farmer's Week. Professor Macklin is away making an intensive study of the great farmer's federations on the Pacific coast and in Canada, but will return to Wisconsin to give the farmers the benefit of his research.

Representatives of the Wisconsin Cheese Producer's federation, The Minnesota Cooperative Creameries association, and other great farmer's merchandising establishments will address the farmers. Advertising problems, grading the farmer's product, the merchandising of grains, what the farmer can do in the control of markets are some of the other subjects that will be discussed at the meeting.

Not only agricultural economics topics, but rural sociology problems will be given prominence. "How the Church Can Help the Business of Farming," is the subject of an address by Rev. Edwin O'Hara, Eugene, Oregon. As pastor of a sparsely settled agricultural district, the Reverend O'Hara solved the religious problem by starting correspondence courses in religion among the district parishioners.

Plan Women's Program
Advertising, grading of farm products, grain marketing, and other agricultural problems will be given attention during the course.

A special program has been arranged for the women. Talks on physical exercise, ever blooming gardens, child health, home decoration, and many other household problems are listed on the program.

Honorary recognition of eminent leaders in agriculture is considered one of the main features of the program.

Student night is one of the attractions of the occasion. Agricultural students will entertain the farmers by a series of plays and stunts. The plays are selected for their fitness to be reproduced in rural communities afterwards.

Tickets For Lombard Game on Sale Tomorrow

Student sale of tickets for the Lombard-Wisconsin basketball game to be played on Tuesday night will begin at 12:30 tomorrow afternoon and continue until 6 o'clock. Public sale will start at 12:30 on Tuesday.

WEATHER : FAIR

Fair and colder is predicted for Madison and vicinity today. The fair weather will continue tomorrow. The cold weather will also continue.

New Art Offers Many Features

"The Black Pool," a play written by Margery B. Latimer '25, is one of the features of the Wisconsin Literary magazine which will be distributed Monday. The cover design is a pen and ink sketch drawn by Elizabeth L. Morrison '23 illustrating this play.

Other features of this month's issue are: "Six Clocks and the Manhood of Thomas Parks," a story by Kenneth F. Fearing '24; "Two Sunsets," a poem by Stanley G. Weinbaum '24; "The Italian and the English Pamela," a literary criticism by Rachel Giese; "A Gentleman of Long Ago," by Kate Patton; "Narrow Window," some sketches by Catherine Davis '25 and various other short verses and sonnets.

Sinclair Lewis will write a criticism of this month's issue which will be published next week.

FOOTBALL STARS SING AT DANCE IN MILWAUKEE

The Varsity Serenade quartet, including Martin Below, Russel Irish, "Jack" Cornelius and Robert Costello will lead the list of features planned for the Milwaukee Memorial Union dance at the Hotel Pfister on Wednesday, December 27.

An entire new repertoire of songs, and several novel dance numbers are promised by members of the quartet. James Van Attena '25 will assist in their act with saxophone numbers.

The entire seventh floor of the Hotel Pfister, including the Fern room and the Red room, has been reserved for the affair. This will assure ample accommodations for the hundreds of Milwaukee students, alumni, and high school students who will attend.

A special Fairbanks orchestra of nine pieces will play. Unusual subdued lighting effects and kaleidoscopic spotlights will be one of the features of the dance. The north room of the floor will be reserved for bridge tables.

Announcements of the dance have been mailed to the alumni, many of whom have already signified their intention of attending. All Milwaukee men will receive their announcements Monday.

Tickets for the affair may be procured at Morgan's or from the committee. Many Milwaukee students will sell tickets for the dance. "This is the spirit that will make the Milwaukee Union dance a great success," said Walter Bauman '24, general chairman.

To Use Armory In Green Bay

Through the efforts of Senator Timothy Burke, the State of Wisconsin has donated the use of the Armory at Green Bay for the Memorial Union dance to be held there December 28, and will permit it to be held tax exempt.

"We expect the affair to be a huge success, for every one is working hard to make it such," Arnold Bur '25, who is in charge of the dance, said yesterday. Arrangements are being made for 300 couples to attend."

Chudnow's orchestra will be imported for the occasion, which will be informal and open to the general public.

Tickets are now ready for distribution and may be obtained from Arnold Bur, 150 Iota court.

Chippewa Valley

To Give Dance

The Chippewa Valley club will give its annual Varsity dance at Eau Claire Tuesday evening, December 26. Although the dance is an annual affair the proceeds of this year's party will be given to the Union Memorial in the form of life membership subscription for the club, and will take the place of the Union Memorial dance, originally planned by students and alumni from the Chippewa valley. Active members of the club have sent out over 150 letters to the Alumnis urging them to attend the dance and revive the Badger spirit of the old days.

To prevent over crowding the attendance has been limited to 200 couples. Tickets will be sold for $2.50.

CHINA CAMPAIGN FAILS TO REACH DESIRED QUOTA

Drive Is To Continue All Week; No Returns From Faculty

Wisconsin in China week closed last night with only $720 raised in the fraternity and general canvass for funds to support Jack Childs in the Orient.

The remainder of the money quota will be raised before school closes this week, according to Thomas A. Tredwell '23, general chairman of the movement.

No results of the faculty campaign for funds have been given out. Prof. E. H. Farrington, in charge of the faculty division, said the the faculty members are doing their share and undoubtedly will raise their quota of $2,000 by Wednesday.

Captains Fail

Fraternities, directed by Lee McCandless '23 and members of Ku Klux Klan, had raised $383 up to 9 o'clock last night. Seventeen fraternities reported.

The general canvass had brought in only $339 up to last night. The small amount raised thus far has been ascribed to the failure of team captains getting out and working.

"Exams and a late organization have caused the general canvass of the school to fall down a bit. Every man who has agreed to work on the Wisconsin in China movement must get busy and prove our faith in his," Tredwell said last night.

Chase Encourages Workers

The general canvass has been organized into 40 teams headed by a captain, each of whom has five men with him on his group. The plan is to have every male student in the university visited by these men.

"Our organization is not faulty, but the men are laying down. The school believes in Jack Childs, but it has not been approached. Every man who has agreed to work on the movement should take the present failure of the idea as a personal responsibility," Lucius Chase '23, assistant chairman, said last night.

In an effort to swell the amount of funds raised and to lighten the work of the teams, it was announced yesterday that contributions to the Wisconsin in China funds could be made at the Y. M. C. A.

Christmas Trees Adorn State Street and Square

A car load of Christmas trees was shipped here by the Association of Commerce, to give Madison a holiday spirit. They were used to decorate the lamp posts around the square and down State street. The money for the trees was contributed by Madison business men, and business firms collected under the auspices of the Association of Commerce. The city distributed them.

Stay Off Lake Until It Is Safe, Cap Isabel Warns Adventurers

Wind Delays Rapid Freezing, Weather Bureau Expert Warns

"Tell the students to keep off the lake until I notify them that it is safe" said Capt. Thomas Isabel last night. "The only part of the lake that is safe up in the bay, but the ice is so rough there that the students are likely to get over on the smoother ice and go in. It is certainly not safe yet."

The lake started to freeze on December 14 and on the fifteenth it was possible to see that it was frozen for quite a distance out.

"The temperature of the water has been right for freezing for over a week but the constant wind has kept it from doing so" said Professor Miller. "As soon as the wind dies down sufficiently, the lake probably will freeze."

The earliest date of freezing that has been recorded was November 23, 1880. The lake was closed until May 3 the following spring. In 1889, the lake did not close over until January 14, and opened March 30.

Lake Monona froze this year on December 13 the average date. People have been skating on Lake Wingra for the past week.

Liberals Will Hear Preacher

The Rev. John Haynes Holmes, Community chapel of New York, will lecture in Madison on January 19, under the auspices of the Social Science club. Rev. Holmes has not announced the subject of his lecture. The place has not been decided as yet.

Two years ago Rev. Holmes lectured on "Industrial Democracy" before 1,500 people in the gym. Since then he has been travelling in Europe, and it is possible that he will analyze some phase of the present European situation.

Rev. Holmes made an intensive study of the Ghandi movement in India a year ago. His article was published in a liberal magazine of India.

PRE-PROM DANCE IS TO BE GIVEN ON JANUARY 13

The pre-prom dance will be given at Lathrop gym on Saturday January 13. All other student dances scheduled for that night will be canceled, Albert V. Stegeman '24, chairman of the dance committee, announced yesterday.

Gilmore's 10-piece orchestra, composed of Thompson's best, will furnish music, Stegeman said. The prom fox trot will be introduced at the dance.

"We will have the co-operation of every fraternity and sorority on the campus," Stegeman said. "The Union board dance will be called off, and everything will point to a huge attendance at the dance. The special feature committee for prom, working under the direction of Porter F. Butts, will provide features for the dance and will work out some method to introduce the Prom fox trot. It will probably be sung."

The system by which accurate check of prom expenditures will be kept was explained at a meeting of prom committee chairmen by John D. Blossom, finance chairman.

"Every chairman making expenditures will be expected to fill out requisition blanks and present them to the merchants," Blossom said. "No merchants are to sell goods without first receiving a blank. This is to be presented to the prom finance committee by the merchant with the bill. No bills will be paid unless the blank accompanies the bill."

All fraternities and organizations desiring prom boxes were urged to make reservations immediately by Mervin D. Ebert '24, chairman of the box committee.

"The best reservations will be taken before the Christmas vacation," Ebert said. "If everyone will get their applications in right away, it will make it much easier to furnish boxes of suitable size to each. A check for $15 should accompany the application."

Reservations can be made with Ebert at 211 Langdon street.

Announce Library Hours During Vacation Period

Library hours during the Christmas recess will be from 9 o'clock to 5 o'clock every day except Saturdays, Christmas and New Year's day. The library will close at 4 o'clock on Saturdays and will not be open at all on the two holidays.

COMMITTEE MEN ARE APPOINTED BY SENIOR HEAD

Williams Makes Plans For Most Successful Commencement

Committeemen and committee chairmen for the senior class were announced last night by Rolland F. Williams, class president.

Work on class business will start immediately Williams said in making the appointments.

"We hope for one of the most successful commencement programs presented in years," Williams said. "The committees are composed of a bunch of hard workers. All of them are people who have made themselves conspicuous throughout their courses by hard work."

The committees follow:

PONIDINE WILL SPEAK ON RUSSIA

"My Experiences in Soviet Russia" will be the subject on which Mme. Pierre Ponidine will speak in her talk here on Friday, January 13.

She will come here under the auspices of W. A. A. who arranged for the lecture last summer. W. A. A. will begin selling tickets after Christmas vacation.

Mme. Ponidine is a prominent authority on Russian problems and conditions, as she is the daughter of an American missionary in Persia and the wife of a Russian diplomat. She and her husband lived in various countries in Europe and Asia, settling on their estate between Petrograd and Moscow in 1903 and living there among the peasants until she escaped illegally with two sons in February, 1922.

She came to the United States in February 1922 and has been giving lectures throughout the United States ever since. Everywhere she is being enthusiastically received.

Snowflakes Lecture Gets Full House Second Time

Nearly 600 students, all that could gain admittance to the auditorium of Sterling Hall, attended Prof. Benjamin W. Snow's second "Snowflakes" lecture of this year, yesterday at 11 o'clock.

Professor Snow has made his lecture on snowflakes perhaps the most popular lecture ever given at the University of Wisconsin—certainly the most popular for the longest time, more than 20 years.

The lecture is illustrated with W. A. Bently of Vermont, who since his boyhood has made pictures of snowflakes. The collections of Mr. Bently and the university are as large as any in the world and very valuable. Professor Snow receives new slides from Mr. Bently every year.

LOCAL CHURCH TO CELEBRATE

Only Presbyterian Student Church in U. S. Has First Anniversary Today

The first anniversary services of the University Presbyterian church will be held at the Presbyterian Student headquarters this morning. More than 40 students will be taken into the church as members at this time.

This university church is one of the few in the United States, and the only Presbyterian church, which is entirely managed by students. It was organized a year ago under the direction of the Rev. and Miss Myrtle Jobse '18, secretary of women students.

The present trustees of the church are: Ted Field L. 1, Elizabeth Morrison '23, Helen Hirth '23, Elizabeth Nelson '25, Herman Hoffman '23, Minnie Beattie '23, and Dorothy Jones '23, the elders are Roland Baker '23, Charles Rawson '23, Harry Carswell '23, and James Douglas '25.

Special music has been arranged for the services today by Harry Carswell of the University Glee club.

Governor Blaine Will Appoint Five Sheriffs

Because six sheriffs made the race in the hope that proposed amendment to the state constitution allowing sheriffs to succeed themselves would be approved by the voters, Governor Blaine must appoint sheriffs for five counties.

The amendment was defeated, but the sheriffs in Dodge, Lafayette, Pepin, Sawyer, and Washburn counties were given the largest number of votes at the November election.

A ruling by Attorney General W. J. Morgan authorizes the governor to make the appointments for the two-year terms starting January 1, 1923.

Marinette county will hold a special election December 23 to elect a sheriff.

Washington Journalistic Fraternities Pledge 13

Sigma Delta Chi, men's honorary journalism fraternity, and Theta Sigma Phi, women's honorary, of the University of Washington, announced the pledging of 13 students at the journalism dinner Thursday night. Four editors of this state were also announced as associate members of Sigma Delta Chi.

Washington Has Copies Of Famous Paintings

The Tom Murillo paintings have been loaned to the University of Washington, and are now hanging in the faculty room. The copies were made by Jose Couteras in Seville, 1876 to 1880. Couteras was a famous copyist and greatly admired Murillo's work. He was in charge of the largest galleries in Seville.

BELL HEADS PROM MUSIC COMMITTEE

Morris A. Bell '24 is chairman of the Junior prom music committee. The committee is busy at the present time securing bids from some of the best known dance orchestras in the country. No definite stand the question of importing musicians will be taken by the committee until bids from all desirable orchestras are obtained.

President of Washington Receives Raise In Salary

University of Washington, Dec. 16.—The announcement has been made that President Henry Buzza's salary has been raised to $18,000 a year. The Board of Regents acted on this question some time ago and the raise took effect at the beginning of the present academic year.

California Rifle Team Defeated By Washington

For the third successive year the University of Washington rifle team defeated the University of California sharpshooters, in the first indoor match of the season by a score of 1801 points to 1793. Each man fired forty shots from the standing, kneeling, sitting and prone positions at the standard National Rifle Association fifty foot target.

St. Andrew's Brotherhood Adopts New Constitution

Twelve members of the Brotherhood of St. Andrew attended the first supper and meeting of the officers held last month. At that meeting it was decided to have one social meeting in the form of a supper and Wednesday's affair was the first.

A constitution was adopted and a budget for the year submitted by the treasurer. Membership was limited to 25 by a provision of the by-laws and five men immediately made application for vacancies in the club.

The local chapter this year undertook the carrying on of practical mission work in two parishes near Madison and five of the members were licensed by the bishop of Milwaukee to do lay reading and conduct services. Recently a license was granted to Walter K. Morley, Jr. '25 to conduct services. Several more will be issued to chapter members as the mission work requires.

The chapter will give a smoker for all Episcopal men shortly after the opening of the second semester. All university Episcopal men were guests of the organization at a smoker given on Washington's birthday last year, and it is the plan of members to entertain men of the university community again this year.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

MICHIGAN QUINT PROSPECTS NOT BRIGHT, MATHER

Wolverine Coach Claims Lack of Material For Winning Team

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Dec. 16.—Contrary to the early reports that have been circulated, the prospects of the University of Michigan basketball squad this year are not brilliant. While the first string unquestionably has some strong material around which to build, Coach Mather has expressed the fear from the earliest practices that he has not the material on hand with which to build a winning five.

The fact that two regulars from last season and that four additional letter men from former seasons are on the floor does not hold any particular significance, according to the coach, when viewed in the light of what other Conference schools have.

Center Position Strong

The center position on the Michigan aggregation is strongly fortified with Ely in the game. Miller as a forward also has won a place for himself in Conference basketball. However, that leaves the other forward position an uncertain quantity and places both of the guard positions in much the same fix.

Even though there seems to be enough material available to fill the first string in a fairly adequate way, there is a sad and noticeable dearth of substitutes, who may prove essential to a winning team.

Other Teams Look Good

At present the best possibilities appear to be Miller and Kipke at forward, Paper and Birkes at guards and Ely at center. Henderson made his "M" two years ago and Cappon played for a while on last year's team until he was declared ineligible. Legalley, who played guard two years ago, is in the Medical school and is not able to make practice regularly.

At Ohio State Robinson, a regular guard from last year is back on the floor. Davis and Taylor, both of whom played guard with equal regularity are back in the line-up. Dudley, a forward of exceptional merit, and Blair, who was injured early last season, fill out the Ohio State squad.

Illinois Has Six Men

Six men are left over at Illinois. Roettger and Stilwell were the Indian centers last season. The former was put out of the game early in the year with a broken wrist. Potter and Popkin both played at forward two years ago, was out last year with injuries but has returned to the fold this season. Vogel is another letter man back.

Bahr and Sanford, both regular forwards at Indiana this past season, will be seen in the Indiana line-up this year barring accidents and the appearance of better material. Coffey, the regular center of last year, and Crowe who played forward in several games are the others who have returned to Indiana.

Purdue Outlook Bright

Northwestern reports the return of five veterans. Calhoun, a guard on the Purple team last season, is back. Patterson and Palmer, regular forwards, are in the line-up while Johnson, a letter man from last year and Stegman, a player of two years ago, are working out.

Purdue has five veterans around whom to start building. Masters played forward regularly last season while Treat held down the job part of the time. Gullion had the regular bid for center last year with Hawkins filling the job part of the time. Holwerda, who played running guard, is back on the job.

CORNELL MAKES AWARDS

Thirteen men on the football team of Cornell which was undefeated this season, were awarded letters, by the athletic association Friday. They were: H. E. Eberle, E. V. Guinlock, L. O. Hanson, E. L. Kaw, Bartlett Richards, W. R. Rollo, E. F. Buckley, C. E. Cassidy, F. H. Flynn, G. R. Pfann, F. D. Ramsey, F. L. Sundstrom, and F. L. Henderson.

Will Harold Holmes Take Rollie's Place In 1923

Can Wisconsin fans imagine a backfield with two such crashing halves as Jack Harris and Harold Holmes?

The possibility has been transformed into a probability since Holmes, writing from his Idaho home, intimates that he will be back at Wisconsin next semester and thus become eligible for the 1923 football season.

One of the best all-around athletes ever matriculated here was lost when Holmes left Madison. In 1919, he was captain of the freshman football team. In 1920, he alternated with Rollie Williams — a member of the Varsity.

Holmes showed his versatility by playing halfback, end, and quarterback for a short time in the Illinois game. He gave promise of being one of the most brilliant men ever developed here. Ineligible in 1921, Holmes, Shorty Barr, Marty Below, and Pat Donaghue played with the All-Americans and whipped the Varsity team into shape.

Harry was also heavyweight boxing champion of the university and a regular member of the wrestling team.

If he returns to school, as he has said he would Badger fans will no longer need to worry over a star to fill the shoes of Rollie Williams, Gus Tebell, or Shorty Barr.

PUCKSTERS CARD INCLUDES EIGHT BIG 10 MATCHES

Wisconsin is going to have a hockey team this year and a good one, judging by early prospects. Six old men are back this year and with the experience of last year's game behind them are hoping for more than an even break.

Four hockey teams are under consideration by the athletic department for a preliminary game to be played January 7. The teams that may come are Notre Dame, St. John's Military academy, Oshkosh Athletic club, and the Milwaukee Athletic club. One of these teams will be scheduled before January 7.

The conference meet will consist of four games with Minnesota and four games with Michigan. Two games will be played at each place.

The brunt of the burden will have to be carried by the men who performed last year. These men are Tredwell, Blodgett, Fisk, Campbell, and Johnson.

Practice will start immediately after the Christmas recess. The lower campus will be flooded during the Christmas recess so that the rink will be ready for the "gliders" when they return to school. If the preliminary game is scheduled it will only leave a couple of days for practice before the first game.

PHYSICAL ED'S WILL ENTERTAIN KIDDIES

For the entertainment of the children of the Bradley Memorial hospital and from the cottage the Physical Education club will give a Christmas party at the Bradley hospital on Tuesday night at 7 o'clock.

There will be between 40 and 50 children present and the club has provided for a large tree besides gifts for all the children. The members will interpret a Christmas story and sing carols. Mrs. Santa Clause will be present to give the gifts to the children.

The committee in charge of the party are:

Justice Pitney Quits Supreme Court Bench

WASHINGTON—Associate Justice Pitney of the supreme court today sent his resignation to Pres. Harding to take effect Jan. 1.

Justice Pitney has been ill for some months and is permitted to retire with full pay by special act of congress recently approved by the president.

In one of the most hotly contested fraternity games of the season, Delta Pi Delta won from Theta Chi in an over-time game last night by a score of 18 to 13. The Kappa Sigs won from Triangle by a score of 32 to 9.

LINE-O'-SPORT

NOTRE DAME DEFEATS LEWIS

The Notre Dame basketball five defeated Lewis institute of Chicago at Notre Dame Thursday afternoon, 40 to 15. Kaiser tallied 11 of the 15 points made by the Irish.

USE SHORT PASS

Chicago's Varsity basketball candidates are permitted to use only the short passing game this season. The Maroon quintet last year was taught to make long shots rather than play a running game and an unsuccessful season convinced Coach Nels Norgren that short passes are more effective.

PLAN INTERNATIONAL MEET

Harvard and Yale are planning to compete with Oxford and Cambridge in a field and track meet next July.

FIFTY MEN REPORT

More than 50 men have reported for practice on the Knox college team under "Bud" Saunders, newly appointed basketball coach. The team includes four of last year's quintet, Capt. Campbell, Albro, Negley, and Kessenich.

SCOFFS AT GAME

Howard H. Jones, coach of the Iowa football team, scoffs at the odd game Nebraska and Illinois are contemplating for 1923. Each team will know the other's signals and will eliminate trick plays.

"I do not believe that such a game will be successful," he said. "One of the main features of football is the springing of surprises on an opponent. With the unexpected elements gone from the game, all the fascination of such contests will be absent."

HUBBARD HEADS HARVARD

The captain of the Harvard football team for 1923 is Charles J. Hubbard, of Milton, Mass. Hubbard is a junior, and plays guard.

HOCKEY BECOMES MAJOR

Active interest is being taken in hockey, a newly adopted major sport, at the University of Minnesota. Coach T. N. Metcalf, who had charge of the freshmen football squad, and who will be in charge of the track squad, will coach the hockey team also. Five lettermen of last year's hockey squad are back this year.

GOPHER COACHES MOUNTAINERS

Francis H. Stadsvold, former Minnesota university basketball star who has coached the West Virginia quintet for two years, will again coach the Mountaineer team this year. There are 82 men ready to try for the team, but there are only two substitutes from last year's squad among them. Two of the regulars of last year, Capt. Bowers and Pierre Hill will not report until after the coast football trip.

IOWA FIVE REORGANIZES

Only three letter men will be back on the basketball team for Iowa State college, this season. Capt. "Pinley" Green, Ira Young, a football star, and "Red" Lane are the only letter men who have reported thus far.

Coach Will Chandler, who will coach the Iowa squad this year, is a former Wisconsin star and was rated an all-western player. He is a firm believer in the forward pass.

The three teams which led Ames in the final standings, Missouri, Kansas and Drake, will have practically their entire team back.

GRINNELL SCHEDULE HEAVY

Grinnell will play 16 basketball games this season, according to the announcement by Coach A. H. Edward. All of the games are with Missouri valley teams. The schedule is as follows:

Lombard-Wisconsin Game Will Be Between Rivals

When Lombard college plays Wisconsin in the second basketball game of the season here Tuesday night, two rival coaches will meet after a three year truce.

Coach Walter E. Meanwell coached Missouri Valley championship at the same time that Coach Schissler, now of Lombard, drove his team to a second place in the same conference.

Lombard has one of the strongest basketball quintets in Illinois. The team won second place in the Little Nineteen conference last year and walloped Monmouth champions in the closing game of the season.

Although several veterans have been lost to the Illinois collegians, a number of freshman have filled the gaps in excellent fashion. Lombard opens its season against a college team tomorrow night, leaving at midnight for Madison where it plays on Tuesday.

On Wednesday, Jan. 3, Marquette university comes here for the third and last preliminary game. Many students are expected to be back after the holiday vacation to see this contest. Marquette played Butler last night.

BELOW PLACED ON ECKERSALL'S ALL-AMERICAN

Marty Below is named on Walter Eckersall's second All-American team and Rollie Williams and Gus Tebell are named on the Tribune expert's third mythical eleven as announced in the Chicago Sunday Tribune today.

Michigan is honored with four positions on the three teams, Kirk and Kipke winning berths on the first eleven and Uteritz and Cappon placing on the third team.

Harvard ties with Wisconsin for second place in number of men winning positions on Eckersall's teams. Owen named on the first team and Hubbard and Capt. Buell are awarded second team rating.

Six conference elevens are represented in the selections. Locke of Iowa is named quarterback and captain of the first team and King of Chicago, McMillen of Illinois, and Martinaus of Minnesota are awarded positions on the second team.

Eckersall's first team:

Plaver	Pos.	College

Badger Staff Is Urged To Attend Last Meeting

"In order to fully cover all territory in securing advertising for the Badger it is absolutely necessary that every member of both the business and editorial departments attend the meeting at the Badger office at 4:30 o'clock tomorrow said Jerome O. Bjerke, foreign advertising manager of the Badger.

"We are ahead of our schedule now, but Christmas vacation work is the most important. Foreign advertising department jobs depend upon the work of the solicitors during this vacation period."

Howard Lyman, business manager, urged every member of the Badger to attend the meeting. Assignments to territory in the home towns of students will be given out.

BODIES AGREE CITY NEEDS AUDITORIUM

Need of a municipal auditorium for Madison was agreed to at a meeting of the council and Association of Commerce auditorium committees held at the association office Friday night. Members of both committees voted unanimously for the building.

Various locations were discussed but no definite steps taken, other than instructing the secretary to procure data on what other cities have done in this regard. Don Mowry, secretary of the committees, will investigate the cost of such a project and make inquiries on the best locations in the city for an auditorium.

PI KAPPA ALPHA FRATERNITY IS FIRST IN MEET

Alpha Gamma Rho Is Second; Newell Equals Annex Record

Working a shade better than it did last year when it took first place, the Pi Kappa Alpha track team walked away with the relay race as well as an overwhelming victory in the annual inter-fraternity track meet held in the gym annex yesterday afternoon.

The winners had a well-rounded team and showed the class of the meet. The final count was 44 3-4 points for the winners as compared with 27 points for the Alpha Gamma Rho aggregation, their nearest competitor.

Tie For Third Place
The Alpha Tau Omega and Theta Delta Chi teams tied for third place with 14 1-2 point each to their credit. The other teams finished in the following order: Sigma Nu, fifth, 11 1-2 points; Alpha Sig, sixth, 11 points; Lambda Chi Alpha, seventh, 10 1-4 points; Phi Kappa Psi, eighth, 9 points; Univ. Y. M. C. A. ninth, 6 3-4 points; Chi Phi, tenth, 5 points; Sigma Phi Epsilon, eleventh, 4 points; Kappa Sigma, twelfth, 2 points; and Phi Gamma Delta, thirteenth, 3-4 points.

An annex record was equalled when Newell sailed over the 40 yard high hurdles in 5 4-10 seconds.

Jerry Wade Is Star
Jerry Wade was the individual star of the meet by virtue of his excellent work in the distance runs. He took first place in the 440-yard run, the mile and the two-mile events. Newell, also of the Pi Kappa Alpha team and Gibby Gibson of the Alpha Gamma Rho team tied for second honors with eleven points each.

The Pi Kappa Alpha team also took first place in one of the most thrilling relay races ever seen in the annex. After getting away to a poor start, the winners continued to gain during the course of the six laps to finish in the fast time of one minute and 42 seconds.

Summary
Following is a summary of the meet:
40 yard dash. Eagleberger, first; Ellison, second; Hill, third; time, 4 6-10 seconds.
40 yard high hurdles. Newell, first; Tuhtar second; Gibson, third; time, 5 4-10 seconds. (conference record).

45 yard low hurdles. Newell, first; Tuhtar, second; Snell, third; time 5 5-10 seconds.

440 yard dash. Wade, first; Hill, second; Held, third; time, 56 seconds flat.

880 yard run. Irving Wade, first; Bergstreser, second; Chase, third; time, 2 minutes 10 8-10 seconds.</p

WAIT A WHILE

MENDOTA has returned with in the icy fastness of her wintry bonds and students are beginning with pleasant anticipation to dig out the skates from the debris in the closet. Skating is in prospect. Soon gay groups will be gliding and at fro in chill exhilaration. Mendota is frozen. But Mendota is not safe.

Beneath that fragile crust lurks death for those too daring.

Ice is early this year, and tempting. But it will be there for a long time yet, and safety is worth waiting for.

If you are one of the ones like to take chances forget yourself and remember that a corpse would not be a pleasant Christmas present for the folks at home.

WINTER SPORTS

WITH the ice comes the news that winter sports are to be officially accepted for gym credit and that a coach has been engaged for skiing and skating. That's the most worth while step the athletic department has taken for a long time.

Winter sports are healthy, invigorating; they are sports in which all can and should anticipate. Wisconsin is particularly well endowed with ice and snow and hills, advantages which should be generally appreciated and used.

The action of the athletic department undoubtedly will serve as a stimulus for more general participation in outdoor winter sports.

When one thinks of Dartmouth, one thinks of winter sports and virility, and the converse is nearly true. Hanover is no more auspicious place than Madison for skiing and skating, and Dartmouth students probably take little more advantages of icy opportunities than Wisconsin students.

Yet when one ventures afar from Madison one finds that the name of Wisconsin carries a connotation of dance dates and co-eds. "You have an awfully good time there; don't you?" seems to be the general formula.

The reason is a matter of seizing opportunities with advantages of publicity. Dartmouth has put a solemn institutional sanction on her winter carnival and made it one of the biggest events of the college year.

Wisconsin has contented herself with a half-hearted winter festival a meager event, when considered in proportion to the vast opportunities.

The winter carnival should be as big as Homecoming.

AGRICULTURAL AID

THE most emphatic possible denial of Lieutenant Governor Comings' allegations of the College of Agriculture's uselessness is found in the plans for Farmers' week, to be held at the end of January. The central theme of this agricultural conference is to be "Merchandising", and much time is to be spent in consideration of co-operation and effective marketing methods.

Mr. Comings' main grievance seemed to be the farmers' difficulty in getting fair prices, and here is a constructive piece of work to lessen that difficulty made by the useless university.

This Farmers' week is one of the university's most valuable services to the state. It brings together agriculturalists from all parts of the state and puts them into contact with the most progressive ideas of agriculture. By honoring prominent farmers who have made real achievements, it gives a merited dignity to the tiller of the soil, the backbone of any economic system.

Baptists to Present

Bible Drama Sunday

"Elijah, the Uncompromising," a Bible drama based on the old testament story, is to be presented by the Christian Endeavor of the First Baptist church, at 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening.

Dr. C. A. Boyd, the author of the drama, will be in Madison to direct the presentation. Special scenery, costumes and lighting effects will be employed to give the proper setting for the story to be enacted.

Miss Emily Mackin, an elementary school teacher of Madison has been directing the rehearsals. The committee which is sponsoring the drama is headed by Mrs. Howard Fuller.

The principal roles are being taken by William Gluesing '23, Jack Wallace, Mable Duthey '24, and Cal Detrich '24.

The student annual at the University of Cincinnati is conducting an all-university election of a Varsity Venus.

Looking Back On Wisconsin

IN THE CARDINAL FILES

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

The Historical museum is making a collection of university souvenirs. Many interesting things about U. W. history is learned from old programs, favors etc.

A number of students have been taking advantage of the fine skating on the two lakes the last few days. Several sleigh riding parties have also been enjoyed.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

The Ice Fete will open January 16. About 20,000 square feet of the lower campus will be flooded. Elaborate arrangements have been made to make the affair successful.

The Regents decided to ask for a $200,000 appropriation at their meeting yesterday. About $150,000 will be used for a new Chemistry building, $20,000 will be used for the new Agricultural building, and about $10,000 will be needed for repairs on Science hall.

Arrangements are complete for the year's concert tour of the Glee and Mandolin clubs. The joint clubs will travel 1,000 miles during the coming season.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

Extracts from the inaugural address of President Van Hise show that he has always favored a dormitory system.

Arrangements are complete for the year's concert tour of the Glee and Mandolin clubs. The joint clubs will travel 1,000 miles during the coming season.

Communication

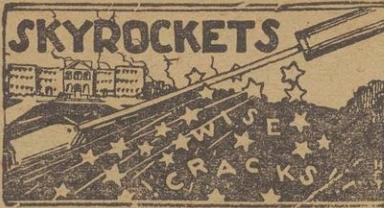

With the proposition to invade, eventually to ruin the noblest woods remaining in all Madison by the erection of a group of dormitories for men on the university ground, north of Bascom hall, I am respectfully but earnestly opposed. That little forest of some eight or ten acres is easily the sweetest feature of our beautiful university grounds, and should be preserved and protected with fondest care. It is a bit of veritable wildwood, tangled and fragrant; and so close that it might almost cast its grateful shade upon "Main hall," the great central structure on the campus. Nothing that man might build there could possibly be so majestic and impressive. Any substitution would be petty, absurd, ill advised.

And there can be no need whatever for such vandalism. All the lakeshore for half a mile to the west is available for dormitories, and if that site is not practicable it would be welcome information to know why not. Some may urge that it is "too far away," but decidedly it is not, only it chances to be in the "other direction." That's all. Student rooming houses and fraternity homes, scores upon scores of them, are twice or thrice as distant from the main university buildings. There is nothing whatever in that argument, nor in any other of which I can conceive, why dormitories, if we are to have them, should not be located "over the hill" entirely beyond the wood.

Many guarded old oaks in these woods were big almost as they seem today when the university was founded—some no doubt were of fair stature even before our republic was established. Can it be possible that the ax be put to these noble patriarchs for any avoidable reason? I can imagine no such eventuality. There would, there could, be no valid excuse for it, and I feel sure, if any serious purpose to despoil this tract has been in contemplation, that further consideration must entail a change of program. We well may imagine what our beloved Bishop Fallows would have said to such a plan, or John Muir who did his early botanizing among these very trees, or any, all of our alumni possessing souls, sentiment, emotions!

No! let us spare these glorious trees, these stately woods, this last and best virgin piece of nature within the boundaries of the capital city. Instead of destroying, the university should see to it zealously that these woods remain wholly unspoiled. No part of the campus presents to the alumni, returning with the recurring years, a sight more welcome, more reminiscent, than these very same wonderful woods. They are today just as they were through the student days of us all, only each commencement a little older, a little more sacred.

Museum Exhibit Attracts Attention; Battle Flags Are Coming

More interest has been shown by the students in the collection of peace conference portraits on display at the State Historical Library, than has ever been shown in any former exhibit of paintings, according to Charles E. Brown, curator of the museum.

Other than the art classes which have been studying some of the oils, several psychology classes have visited the gallery as part of their regular work. These paintings of internationally known personages also drew the attention of many townfolk.

The collection, which is estimated to have cost over $65,000, includes the portraits of Premier Georges Clemenceau, Lloyd George, ex-president Wilson, General John J. Pershing, and other significant figures who sat around the conference table at the Hague.

The pictures are the work of such American painters as John C. Johansen, Cecilia Beaux, Joseph De Camp and Tarbell. The first artist is known in the city for his portraits of several of its citizens, some of the canvasses are eight feet in height.

The collection is making a tour of the United States preparatory to the final installment in the gallery at Washington. The collection was shipped to Milwaukee yesterday afternoon and will be on display there at the Art Institute during the holidays.

Adjutant General Hollway has lately turned over to the State Historical museum all the flags of the various Wisconsin regiments which participated in the world war. The display will be ready for the public about the first of January.

During the Christmas holidays, the north wing of the museum will be closed off and undergo a renovating. The ceilings, which are badly cracked, will be replastered and the walls repainted. During the same period, the main office will be moved into the laboratory of the main corridor.

NOTED AUTHOR TO SPEAK HERE

Miss A. Maude Royden to Lecture at Lathrop February 16

Miss A. Maude Royden, internationally known author, will lecture at Lathrop hall on Friday evening, February 16. Her subject will deal with general world events. Birge will preside at the lecture.

The university Y. W. C. A. and M. C. A., the city Y. W. C. A., and the Campus Religious council are united in bringing Miss Royden here.

This is Miss Royden's first American tour of the year, made in compliance with requests from national leaders of the Y. W. C. A. to bring her message to this country. Her first address in this country was given before the national convention of the Y. W. C. A. last spring at Hot Springs, Ark.

Miss Royden has the distinction of being the first woman to receive class honors from Oxford, the first woman to be appointed as a lecturer at Oxford university, and the first woman to occupy a pulpit in the church of England.

Some of Miss Royden's most noted works are: "Sex and Common Sense", "The Hour and the Church", "Blessed Joan of Arc", "Women and the Sovereign State", and a large number of writings dealing with the church, government, suffrage, and world events.

ANDREW GUMP ALIVE, AT ORPHUM

The living, breathing, animated Andy Gump, who recently stepped out of a Sidney Smith cartoon strip to fill an engagement at the Orphum theatre this week, came into being as the result of a clever hoax perpetrated by a master of ceremonies at a recent Knights of Columbus entertainment in Chicago. It was just after the municipal election, when politicians were attempting to intrude their propaganda on various meetings. Therefore, this master of ceremonies, knowing it was against Knights of Columbus ethics to permit a speaker at one of the meetings, announced that one feature of the evening was to be an address by a candidate or office in the forthcoming election. The name of the candidate was withheld.

When the announcement was made, dismay ran through the ranks of the order. While every member of the organization was braced and steeled for the shock of hearing a political address, Andy Gump entered from a side door and delivered the talk he is going to give at the Orpheum next Thursday.

Jack Ponie, the same actor who is to play at the local theatre is he one who appeared as Andy Gump before the Knights of Columbus in Chicago. He was given an ovation, for Andy Gump in the cartoons is as well liked in the Windy City as here. And at the conclusion of his address, Ponie was told he had scored so effectively that Orpheum Circuit bookers, who were present, asked to meet him in order to arrange a theatrical out.

KIDS WILL ROMP AS SAINT NICK INVADES PARTY

A Christmas party for 100 Madison children will be given by the University Y. M. C. A. at the Y. M. C. A. tonight at 7:30.

The children who have been invited are nearly all from the families of the foreign born population of Madison and are under 10 years of age.

Each of the children has been invited by a university man, and will be escorted to the party by him; children that have not been invited will not be permitted to attend.

Rollie Williams will attend the party made up as Santa Claus, and will distribute the gifts. A present has been provided for each child, and its package will bear the child's name. There will be a program of Christmas songs followed by a goodly supply of eats. Ice cream cones, all-day-suckers, pop-corn balls, candy, and cookies will be given to the kiddies. Contribution boxes have been placed in some of the cafeterias about town in order to provide funds for the gifts and eats.

This is the fifth year that a Christmas party has been given by the Y. M. C. A.; the parties have become so popular that more children than can be handled want to come. "We are very sorry that we can not entertain more children at the party" said Frederick E. Wolf, secretary of the Y. M. C. A. "Any children who are not invited this year may hand in their names and we will endeavor to invite them next year. Any university man who wishes to come to the party may do so.

The Americanization committee of the Y. M. C. A., headed by Wilbur G. Katz '24, has charge of Santa Claus and the invitations, and the social committee, headed by Wilbur Thompson '24, is taking care of the decorations and refreshments.

Kiwanis Club to Hold Christmas Party Monday

Members of the Kiwanis club will exchange gifts and hold a general Christmas mixer at the weekly meeting to be held at the city Y. M. C. A. Monday noon. This party will take the place of the usual weekly dinner and talk, no speaker having been secured. A general jollification is planned, according to A. P. Desormeaux, manager of the Strand theatre and member of the club.

EAU CLAIRE, Wis. — Toreador or peon trousers which had become the vogue with a score of male high school students here have been banned by Principal F. M. Bray of the Eau Claire high school. "We are here to work and not to stage a fashion show" was the dictum. Followers of the toreador style were requested to go home and don the regulation garment.

Jack Ponie, the same actor who is to play at the local theatre is he one who appeared as Andy Gump before the Knights of Columbus in Chicago. He was given an ovation, for Andy Gump in the cartoons is as well liked in the Windy City as here. And at the conclusion of his address, Ponie was told he had scored so effectively that Orpheum Circuit bookers, who were present, asked to meet him in order to arrange a theatrical out.

Adams Worked
Way From Farm
To U. W. PrexyUniversity's Seventh President
Was Prominent
Writer

"He was through and through, a State University man." That is what President Birge has said of Charles Kendall Adams, the seventh President of the University of Wisconsin.

Born on a small farm in Vermont, he led a strenuous life before he had finally bought his education with hard manual labor and self denial.

After an uphill struggle, he at last succeeded in working his way through the University of Michigan where he concluded his undergraduate days in 1861. He entered the instructional staffs of the history and Latin departments of that university and before a half dozen years had elapsed he had been advanced to a full professorship.

Came Here in 1892

Before he took his new post, however, he made an extensive trip through Europe as a result of which he introduced into Michigan on his return, among other things, the German seminar method.

In 1885 Adams succeeded Andrew White as president of Cornell University. Seven years later he resigned and came west to take the chair at this institution.

He came here shortly after the panic of 1893 and the general business depression was keenly felt throughout the state. The temporary financial stringency caused a stop in the expansion of the university. In spite of the money difficulties of the state, the president was quite capable of securing funds for the maintenance of the institution.

Sponsored Library Building

It was under Adam's administration at the School of Music was added to the university. It was also through his efforts that the library was erected. He was one of the hearty sponsors of the project and the structure was completed during his last year in the chair.

Fortunate it was, too, that the project had such a firm supporter in him. For only a couple of years after the library was finished, the capitol, where most of the books were housed, burned. When President Adams died he left many valuable articles to the library museum.

"Yale Of West".

"The Yale of the West" is what the University of Wisconsin came to be called under President Adams' administration. The chief executive was a great supporter of athletics and it may have been partly because of this fact that in the last decade of the last century Wisconsin was supreme in athletic prowess throughout this section of the country.

Part of the man's reputation lay in his literary work. A pioneer in his class of historical literature, he produced a copious amount of historical material. One of his works is on "Democracy and Monarchy in France" another on "Christopher Columbus". He was also the editor of a cyclopedia.

In 1880 President Adams' health failed and he resigned his office to President Birge, then Dean of the College of Letters and Science. A little over a year later he died.

Student Buyers Bothered
By Shopping Problems

With just two and a half days remaining before Christmas recess, students are hustling about town trying to find something to give me, for the youngster for Christmas. Madison streets were crowded yesterday afternoon and evening with "window shoppers" on the lookout for gift suggestions.

Students in many cases will find it to fate to procure Christmas presents after they have reached home and many who go back to small towns will not have the variety to pick from as in Madison. Although it is now too late to do your Christmas shopping early, the merchants of Madison offer the suggestion that it is better late than not at all.

Student Christmas shopping is unusually heavy and pretty well distributed over the various departments during these pre-Christmas days. E. J. Grady, manager of the University co-op, said last night.

Walpole's "Cathedral" Shows Traits Of
Enthusiastic Lewis And Nose-Thumbing HechtHoliday Parties
To Create Spirit

Out of town students will have a bit of the university brought home to them during the holidays, when local orchestras will be exported to furnish music for practically all of the 25 Memorial Union dances which will be held in Wisconsin, Illinois, Michigan, and South Dakota cities.

The largest affair will be held at Milwaukee, at the Pfister hotel where 800 are expected to attend. Green Bay, Racine, Madison and Jamesville will have crowds of over 200 couples, it is anticipated.

Alumni have been co-operating with students here in handling publicity through the society columns of home-town papers.

Broadcast Union Idea

"More than the money derived from these dances will be the purpose of bringing home the idea of the Union to the alumni", said Loyd S. Baker '22, in speaking of the plan of chain dances.

Parties that have been scheduled and the students in charge of them are given below.

Five Illinois Dances

Illinois — Oak Park, Josephine Walters '23; Rockford, Cara Keebler '25; Streeter, Ida Crary '26; Hyde Park, Robert Moore '26; and Springfield, Porter Butts '24.

Michigan — Muskegon, Catherine Wilson '24; Houghton, Daniel Seiber '25.

Iowa — Charles City, Melvin Ebert '24.

South Dakota — Sioux Falls, Ned Leavitt '25.

BAND WILL PRESENT
YULETIDE CONCERT

The First Regimental band of the university will give its annual Christmas concert this afternoon at the university gymnasium.

Outstanding numbers of the program are the overture to the opera "Mignon" by Thomas; the "Andante" from the Fifth Symphony of Beethoven; and the "Adagio Lamento" from the Sixth Symphony by Tschaikowsky.

Lighter compositions and popular marches will round out the program. St. Clairs' march, "The Steel King," and the march and Procession of Bacchus from the Ballet "Sylvia", by Delibes, are the popular marches to be given. The lighter music will include Schuett's valse "A la bien Aimee", "Polish Danse, No. 1" by Scharwenka, and selections from celebrated works of Moskowski.

The quality of former concerts given by the band is a guarantee that this program will be not only a credit to the organization but will approach professional standards. The instrumentation this year is very complete, and this fact has made possible the study and presentation of works of the greatest composers.

The university band, as all others, is at its best in concert. In that environment the men are given opportunity to put their musicianship at the disposal of the music-loving public.

Tickets are 25 and 35 cents and may be obtained at the door.

Alpha Pi Delta
Announces Initiation

Alpha Pi announces the initiation of Fred C. Greenwood '23, Lake Mills; J. Morgan Wheeler '24, Menasha; Arthur R. Miller '24, Beloit; Otis H. Reyer '24, Colby; Firman Hass '25, New Holstein; Daniel C. Kerth '25, Racine.

By RUBY A. BLACK
THE CATHEDRAL, by Hugh Walpole; George H. Doran company, New York.

This is the story of Lear.
This is the story of Babbitt.
This is the story of Erik Dorn.
This is the story of a man who unwittingly was living solely for himself and for some god which he had created in his own image. In "The Cathedral" the god is the God of the church, the god of the splendid cathedral, just as in Babbitt it was the god of usual business success, and Erik Dorn it was the god of egoistic expansion.

Shows Human Qualities

Archdeacon Brandon is no greater, no better, no holier than his intriguing canons. He is a magnificent, simple, man who is no more than a child except in power. When all that can happen to a man happens to him, a Greek pity fills us, not because we feel him a hero, but simply because his creator Mr. Walpole, has shown us more of the human qualities of the man, more of his daily living more of his heart than he has shown us of any other character.

In him we see the pettiness of the great, the selfishness of the religious, the blindness of the powerful as surely and as keenly as if an enthusiastic Sinclair Lewis or nose-thumbing Ben Hecht had stripped his soul for us.

There is no quality in the man worth admiring—even his love of sight and adequate motive. But the mere fact that he is a living human being, one whom we have seen preaching, one whom we have seen trying to straighten the picture that won't hang straight, makes it hard for us to bear the cruelty of the way his son, his wife, his self-confidence, his pride, his health, his mind, his God, are torn from his astonished and bewildered self.

Story Holds

It is a long time since I have cared how a book "turns out", a long time since I have been impatient to know whether people marry, whether people die in a book. I am usually interested in the process of the evolution or the disintegration, and the revelation of human souls in conflict, artistically presented. But this story is itself so good a story that I was eager for the outcome.

The writing is usually excellent. A few phrases, a few strokes of description are masterful. The whole is unified, well constructed, attentively created novel, with its persons clear and distinct.

Prof. Calls Hot
Kissing Bunkum

It appears that Prof. W. Lee Lewis, Northwestern University, inventor of one of the deadliest gases of the World war, is an authority on questions of quite another nature but quite as deadly.

"The theory that kisses generate enough heat to sterilize the lips is bunkum", Professor Lewis said in a recent lecture. "Kisses to sterilize would have to generate enough heat to blister the lips."

"In spite of the warning, however, I suppose the human race will go on kissing so I can only say let your conscience be your guide, and take the chance if it's worth it."

Professor Lewis declared that kisses, handshakes, and handkerchiefs are the most pernicious carriers of germs.

Known on the Northwestern campus as one of the most dignified members of the faculty, he concluded his lecture by reading the following:

"Microbes are most curious bugs,

They've spoiled our sacred institutions,

Till now we've got to live on hugs

Or risk our blessed constitutions.

"But for one a risk will take,
On this most dear of human
blisses,

I'll sterilize, disinfect and
bake

And take a chance on family
kisses."

Mistletoe Custom
Sacred To Druids

The mistletoe, sacred in love and in the curing of the sick, has long been closely associated with Christmas and Christmas festivities. Before the days of Christianity a certain mystical power was attributed to the mistletoe, and even today in Brittany the belief still lingers that the parasite will cure disease and bring strength to wrestlers.

"In the forests of Gaul and Britain the Druids honored the mistletoe as a divine and wonderful plant" Mr. C. E. Brown, curator of the Historical museum, said yesterday when speaking of the plant.

"At certain seasons of the year and especially at New Year the Druids distributed the mistletoe among themselves. The getting of the parasite was a ceremony.

Priests Cut Mistletoe

"After the sacrifices had been made the Druid priest ascended the tree and cut the mistletoe with a golden hook. The branches were then dropped upon a white garment held beneath the tree by other priests."

Our modern Christmas tree, ornamented and lighted, had its origin hundreds of years ago. Many legends, varying with the different races of people, have grown up concerning the Christmas tree.

An Arabian geographer, living during the tenth century, told the story that on the night before Christmas the trees of the forest stood in full bloom. The legend spread through Spain, France, Germany and Great Britain.

Laurel Adorned Homes

"On the Calends of January it was the custom of the Romans to adorn their homes with laurel and green trees, and this custom was known and observed by the Germanic peoples," Mr. Brown asserted.

"The Roman decorations, appropriated for Christmas festivities, together with the popular belief concerning the blooming trees, finally gave us our idea about the Christmas tree."

To aid those who are staging Christmas plays and pageants, or who wish ideas concerning costumes, Mr. Brown has prepared colored illustrations showing old English festivities, costumes and English pictures. They are on exhibit in the museum.

UNION WILL SING
SEASON CONCERT

The Yuletide carol service which will be given by the Madison Choral Union Monday night at 8:15 o'clock, at Christ Presbyterian church, will be the first concert presented by the organization this season.

The program will consist of Christmas carols chosen from the folk songs and Christmas anthems of many countries, races, and times.

The variety of nationalities and the wide range of time and circumstance in which the carols arose demonstrate both the universality of the Christmas story and its variety of appeal.

An Old English Noel, and a choral fantasy by a contemporary English composer, a Norwegian folk song, a "Carol of the Russian Children," and Colin Taylor's popular carol, "The Three Ships" and "Christmas Day in the Morning", arranged by Alfred Noyes, will be included in the program.

The German carol "Silent Night," and Schubert's "Bethlehem", will be among the most well-known of the carols sung.

The custom of caroling, which was in olden times a prevalent holiday tradition in England, is being revived in America at the present time by many groups and organizations.

Christmas Tea

A Christmas tea will be given by Inter-collegiate club this afternoon at 5:30 o'clock in Lathrop parlors. Christmas songs and games will be features of the program. All girls who are transfers from other colleges are invited to attend the tea.

Stuart Writes
On U. S. And Latin America

Professor's New Textbook is Interesting and Pleasing

By ELIOT H. SHARP
LATIN AMERICA AND THE
UNITED STATES, By Graham H.
Stuart; The Century Company.

Describing the early commercial and diplomatic relationships of the United States with the countries of Latin America, sketching the growth and development of the Pan-American Union, discussing the Monroe Doctrine and telling the history of the various nations south of our border, this new book by Prof. Graham S. Stuart, of the department of political science, fills a vacancy in the literature of America, which has long been felt.

Because of the circumstances which have been developing in the western hemisphere in the last two or three decades, the countries of North and South America have been brought ever and ever more closely together. The World War, the improved facilities for communication and travel between the countries of America, and the growth of commerce have made the knowledge of the relationships of the United States and Latin America imperative to those who would be educated.

Is Vivid and Interesting

Each important nation of Latin America and its relations with the United States is treated in a separate chapter. The history of the country, with our part in that history, is told in a vivid and interesting fashion. Those countries about which less is known by the general reader are dealt with at greater length and in more detail than those with which one is more familiar.

We find an interesting chapter on the Monroe Doctrine, how it received early disfavor across the Atlantic and how Woodrow Wilson interprets it to apply to all nations of the world. There is also a treatment of the various questions suggested by the Doctrine.

Farther on there appears a discussion of American imperialism in islands of the West Indies, and the effect of the intervention of the United States in Haiti and Santo Domingo is treated.

Recommends Stuart's Courses

Perhaps the most absorbing chapter is the first, which considers the struggle for existence made by the Pan-American Union. Professor Stuart here points out the vast good that not only the Latin nations of these continents but also the United States are deriving from the Union.

The book was intended originally for a text book, but as a lay reader we were able to acquire from it much more pleasure than we find in an average class room volume. As a text book it recommends to us any of Professor Stuart's courses.

Those who are particularly concerned with the affairs of the western hemisphere will find the volume an indispensable fund of information. For even the ordinary student it should be a source of knowledge and pleasure.

Playlet Will Feature

High School Festival

Over 100 students at the Madison High School will partake in a Christmas festival which will be presented Thursday night in the school's auditorium.

The program will be divided into two parts. The first feature is called "Christmas in Merrie England" and will include carol singing, dancing and a masque. The second part will be a playlet, "The Seven Gifts," a fantasy of Christmas giving, by Stewart Walker.

The coaching is being done by Miss Carnelia Cooper. Tickets are on sale at Hook Brothers music store and at the Central High school. Reserved seats are 50 cents each.

Christmas Party

Alpha Xi Delta will give a Christmas party from 3 to 5 o'clock this afternoon for their alumnae, parents, patronesses and their children. They will have a Christmas tree, gifts and Santa Claus for the children.

OHIO STATE TO ASK $9,000,000

Building Relief and Larger Faculty Are Needed at Once

(Special to The Cardinal)

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 16.—Re-enactment of the Fouts special one-eighth mill levy to provide building relief, and appropriation increases to permit faculty growth in proportion to that of enrollment are chief among the requests trustees of Ohio State University will make of the new Ohio legislature when it convenes in January.

The state university will ask $9,236,405 from the new legislature to cover its needs until the middle of 1925, budget requests filed with the state department of finance reveal. Over $7,000,000 is desired for the two "major needs"—"Building" and "Personal Service."

Chief among the building needs cited are an auditorium, a building for the college of education, an agricultural judging pavilion, a recitation building, a service building, an engineering experiment station, addition to half a dozen medical, engineering and women's units, involving an aggregate estimated expense of $3,592,500 to construct.

Particular attention is also called to a request for $50,000 a year with which to purchase library books, acute need for which was stressed in a report made to the university trustees recently by special investigating committees of the faculty and alumni.

Calling attention to the fact that whereas the budget for the current biennium was based on an estimated enrollment of 8,000 students actual enrollment will exceed 9,500 before the end of the present year. Carl E. Steeb, business manager of Ohio State university, declares "the budget requests for the next two years have been built upon an estimated enrollment of 10,000 students, which is indeed a very conservative estimate."

The Fouts special one-eighth mill levy for building purposes was created by the last legislature. It provides for Miami and Ohio universities as well as for Ohio State. Commenting upon the request for re-enactment of the Fouts measure and the building program contemplated in expectation of its continuance, Mr. Steeb, insisted that the building list submitted for legislative consideration "does not by any means, include all the buildings needed, but rather represents only the more pressing needs."

FAVORS LATE FOOTBALL

President Davis P. Barrows, of the University of California declares himself in favor of post-season football games. In a letter to the president of California Alumni association, president Barrows said that he was in favor of continuing the annual east versus west football contest at Pasadena, Cal. However, he adds that in his opinion no school should play more than one season in succession.

TOBACCO POOL WILL CONSIDER EDGERTON PLAN

The possibility of the relocation of the Northern Wisconsin Tobacco Pool headquarters at Edgerton was given added impetus today, when it was learned that the directors have accepted an invitation from the Tobacco City to visit sites proposed there and to be the guests of the Edgerton Kiwanis club at a luncheon to be held in their honor.

The acceptance of the invitation was received from C. A. Hoen in Madison by William McIntosh of Edgerton.

The meeting will be held some time in January according to present plans of the Edgerton Kiwanis club. The directors will be the guests at a dinner, and will be shown the tobacco and other industries there.

Merchants and citizens will turn out to welcome the pool directors and officers, it was announced there this morning. They will point out numerous advantages which Edgerton can offer.

The anniversary of the emancipation proclamation will be celebrated by the colored people of Madison on Jan. 1, it was announced today. A program to be given at the St. Paul's African Methodist Episcopal church is being prepared.

MATH COURSE
TO BE OFFEREDExtension Division to Give Course in Agricultural Arithmetic

Plans for the new course in agricultural arithmetic are now ready and the course will be offered the first of the year to teachers in communities outside the larger towns and cities in Wisconsin. The extension division will give the course by request of the state department of education and will be under the direction of Miss Harriette G. Holt, assistant professor of mathematics.

The purpose of the course is to instruct teachers in teaching the principles of arithmetic that are necessary in the efficient solution of the various economic problems of the small communities and farms. Common fractions and decimals will be taught through the problems dealing with farm labor analysis, food analysis, and through farm accounts. A knowledge of the mathematics required in keeping farm accounts has become very necessary because of the income tax.

To Use Graphs

Denominations numbers will be taught through studies of land estimated as to area, products, and seed required, and by capacity estimates of barns, silos, and bins. Graphs will be used in the study of rotation of crops, grain reports, dairy products, and temperature and rainfall.

Percentage will include problems in seeds, dairy products, poultry, fertilizer, sprays, and soils. Ratio and proportion will be studied in the nutritive ratio, feeding standards, balanced ratio, and silo contents.

"The purpose of the course is not to take up the scientific side of farm problems but to instruct in the application of arithmetic to these problems," said Miss Holt. "The course is not a difficult one and there will be no credit given for it except in county agricultural schools."

"The Wisconsin Farm Record Book," by John S. Donald, extension specialist in agricultural economics, will be one of the main texts used in the course.

Zoning Map Must Be Published Again

Errors in the zoning map published a few days ago will necessitate its republication. Changes made in property in the eastern sections of the city were not placed in the map used, through an error at the offices of Harland Bartholomew, at St. Louis. Another publication will be made in a few days.

KIDDIES' TEA ATTRACTS 500

Depict Realms of Fairyland in Series of Eighteen Pantomimes

The "Toy Tea for Faculty Kiddies" under the auspices of the university league, was presented at Lathrop hall yesterday afternoon before an audience composed of league members, their children and their guests numbering nearly 500.

The first four rows of the middle section were occupied by the children of Bradley Memorial hospital, who were the guests of Dean F. Louise Nardin.

The entertainment was a series of 18 pantomimes from Mother Goose rhymes and fairy tales.

Mother Goose, played by Marjorie Glicksman, told the stories to four little children, Patty Paxson, Hugh and Freddy Gillen, and Harold Roberts, and the stories are then acted out.

The cast for the pantomimes was as follows: "Ten Little Niggers," Norman Withey, Warren Mead, Herbert Gardner, Richard Stewart, Billy Kinney, Harry Sellery, Raymond Hunt, Melvin Perry, and Chaney Judy; "Rain, Rain Go Away," Anne Fred; "Peter Peter Punkin-eater," Junior Bean, his wife, Dorothy Larson; "Little Boy Blue," Horace Byrne; "Tom Tom the Piper's Son," Rollin Denniston; "Curly Locks," Rebecca Clark, "Alice in Wonderland," Mary Judy; "Little Jack Horner," Jane Overon; "Little Bo-peep," Jean Mathews; "Peter and Windy," Marjorie and Thriza White; "Little Red-riding Hood," Ruth Page, wolf, John Mendenhal; "Little Miss Muffet," Janet Loevenhart, the spider, Billy Stewart; "Mary had a Little Lamb," Loraine MacGregor, the lamb, Billy Stewart; "Goosey-goosey Gander," Betty Hunt; "The Queen of Hearts," Anne Root, the King, Arthur Sanborn, the Knave, Robert Bennett; "The Pied Piper of Hamlin," Louise Rood.

After the entertainment the children were served ice cream cones in the gymnasium.

The proceeds from the entertainment will be used in the philanthropic work of the league which maintains a student loan fund and helps to furnish the women's cooperative houses.

O'Neil, Weaver To Attend N. Y. Speech Convention

Prof. J. M. O'Neill, chairman of the department of speech and associate Prof. A. T. Weaver, will attend the convention of the National Association of Teachers of Speech in New York on Dec. 27, 28, and 29.

Professor O'Neill, who was formerly president of the association and editor of its publication, will read a paper before the convention and Professor Weaver will lead in a round table discussion.

Mrs. O'Neill and Mrs. Weaver will accompany their husbands to New York. Professor and Mrs. Weaver intend to return to Madison by way of Washington.

Onstad Carries Call To Milwaukee Pastor

E. J. Onstad, of Our Saviors church, left for Milwaukee this afternoon where he will make an appeal Sunday before his congregation there to allow Rev. Harry Olson to accept a call to the Madison congregation.

If Olson's congregation is willing for him to accept the call here it is expected that he will assume his duties here by Jan. 15.

Through an error in the zoning map recently printed by The Capital Times the lake shore property of J. C. Kearney was shown as if owned by the city in a park area. This was an error in map drawing, the property being considered, but not yet purchased, by the city.

Orpheum Assures More Good Bills This Week

Orpheum patrons again this week are assured of two more high class Orpheum circuit vaudeville programs.

Starting this afternoon the noted stage vamp, Dorthea Sadlier, and her talented little company of artists, will present a satire entitled "1999". By the adroit phraseology of the sketch, it has become one of the most unique comedy sketches in vaudeville.

Children will scream and their elder will laugh heartily over the performance of Jewell's Manikins. Each lively little figure in this performance will depict well known characters of today, both in theatrical, political and private life.

Without any make up or costume other than ordinary street clothing, Christie and Bennett will depict two gentlemen from the south. The absence of the usual stage requisites adds to the novelty of the act. The actors meet naturally as though it had happened on the sidewalk, and go into a humorous conversation, which reveals them as two true to type southerners.

The best in Irish songs, dances and comedy will be supplied by "The Kilkenny Three". Audiences the first half may anticipate almost any sort of surprises from Jack Mc Gowan, "a man of few words". Mc Gowan races into the audience, plays a violin and displays several more eccentricities than any other actor of the kind.

A new form of art, that of painting on the human shoulders will be introduced here by Leland Clifford and Louise Stanford. Mr. Clifford will sketch pretty oil paintings on the shoulders of his partner.

PRESIDENT OF POLLAND SLAIN

Gabriel Narutowicz Shot After Finishing Address at Art Exhibit

WARSAW—Gabriel Narutowicz, first president of Poland was assassinated today.

The new president was killed while visiting an art exhibition.

President Narutowicz had just concluded an address formally opening the picture exhibition when Niewadomowski stepped up to the platform in the line of people shaking the president's hand and fired three shots from his revolver at the executive at close range.

The president dropped fatally wounded while the crowd of spectators, after the first instant of startled immobility, pounced upon the assassin who was badly beaten before the authorities were able to drag him away.

The circumstances of the shooting and the arrest of the murderer greatly resembled those of the assassin of Pres. McKinley at Buffalo.

The president was killed by an artist named Niewadomski, who fired three shots. Every shot took effect.

There have been continuous disorders ever since Pres. Narutowicz was elected by the National assembly one week ago today. On that clamor growing out of his unexpected choice to succeed Gen. Pilsudski, the battle between the rival factions and the police resulting in four deaths and the injury of more than 100 persons.

The opposition to the choice of M. Narutowicz as first president of Poland came mainly from the Nationalists, representing the purely Polish population, the members of this party resenting the election of a man who they declared represented the non-Polish and Radical elements.

The Nationalist deputies after the election announced officially that they would refuse to support Narutowicz or any cabinet appointed by him.

Niewadomski, the assassin, has long been regarded by his associates as mentally deranged, and his act is looked upon as due to the motivation of his disordered mind rather than as the result of a definite plot.

HUBER IS HEAD OF NEW BLOC

Made Chairman of La Follette Following in State Assembly

The 13 state senators allied with the La Follette-Blaine faction in the upper house of the Wisconsin legislature, concluded their conference on legislative and organization problems late yesterday after a six hour session. Results of the caucus of all but two of the administration senators, were not announced.

Senator Henry A. Huber, elected chairman of the group, which terms itself the Progressive Senators' Committee, issued a statement at the close of the session, saying that the tentative plan made yesterday, "will be presented before the meeting of the state senate at a conference to be held by all the progressive members of the senate," adding that, "no definite information is to be given out at this time respecting such plans."

The statement advised that organization of the senate was discussed and tentative plans laid out. In addition it said that the senators discussed with the governor bills relating to the progressive republican platform pledges, including consideration of the governor's message to the legislature.

In this connection, it was indicated by those present that taxation and prohibition were the chief subjects discussed. Drastic changes in the present taxing laws are wanted by some of the progressive members of the upper house, who are asking that the governor include recommendations in his message to carry out their plans.

The prohibition issue, which is to play a prominent part in the session, is understood to have been raised during the session, but without definite agreement between the senators.

HOUSE FAVORS PLAN FOR NEW DISARM PARLEY

WASHINGTON—The House today rejected an amendment to the naval supply bill providing for a navy enlisted force of 75,000 in place of 86,000 as fixed by the appropriations committee.

WASHINGTON—By a vote of 251 to 9 the House today adopted a resolution making in order a provision in the naval supply bill requesting the president to negotiate with foreign powers relative to limiting the construction of warcraft of 10,000 tons or less.

Those voting against the resolution was Rep. Cooper of Wisconsin; Fitzgerald, Linberger, Gahn, Moores of Indiana and Porter, Republicans; and Logan and Stevenson, Democrats.

Leaders said the big vote indicated that the request to the president would remain in the bill, although it was said efforts would be made to amend the provisions as to phraseology.

New Officers Elected By Madison Car Union

W.H. Glenn and H. Clapp have been nominated for president of the Madison Street Car Men's local. The majority of these men are employees of the Madison Street Railways Co. The election will be held by ballot, and a report will be made shortly after Christmas, the regular meeting night of the union falling on Dec. 25.

E. Sweeney and Paul Lamphre have been nominated for vice president of the union. Other nominations are:

The first building permit to be issued under the new zoning ordinance has been issued to Edith Magann. The ordinance went into effect following its publication. The permit calls for a $7,200 frame residence to be erected at 2205 Fox Ave. Under the ordinance a certificate of occupancy must be applied for.

EDUCATORS TO MEET AT OHIO

Five Leading Universities to Furnish Speakers For Convention

COLUMBUS, O., Dec 16—Educators representing five of the country's leading universities are to deliver the main addresses to Ohio school teachers during the third annual Ohio State Educational conference, to be held on the campus of Ohio State University on April 5, 6 and 7.

The speakers include: C. E. Judd, University of Chicago; George A. Works, Cornell; President W. O. Thompson, Ohio State; W. C. Bagley, Columbia; S. S. Colvin, Brown, and B. G. Bode, Ohio State. Close to 3,000 teachers attended last year's educational conference, which is conducted annually by the college of education of Ohio State university.

The tentative program for the general meetings, as announced today, includes address on "Objectives in Teaching", by B. H. Bode; "Objectives in Secondary Education", by C. E. Judd; "National Objectives in Education", by W. C. Bagley; "Objectives in Moral Education", by Dr. W. O. Thompson; "Objectives in Rural Education", by George A. Works; and "Objectives in Elementary Education", by C. E. Judd.

Twenty-five sectional conferences for teachers, principals and superintendents in various fields will occupy the days of the conference.
