PAUL F. MURPHY ANNOUNCED AS CADET COLONEL

Appointments of Lt. Colonels and Majors Are Made by Brunzell

Paul F. Murphy '27 has been appointed cadet colonel of the university corps of cadets for the school year 1925-26, according to Major O. L. Brunzell, commandant.

Murphy is a member of Scabbard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, and of the rifle team. During the past year he has been a lieutenant in the President's Guard.

He will have approximately 1,200 cadets under his command in the corps next year. Murphy, a junior in the course in applied arts, is a Madison man. He is a member of Sigma Phi Sigma.

The lieutenant colonels for the next school year will be Charles Paul Murphy '27, E. Nelson '27, Thomas. Flarsheim '27, of the field artillery. Nelson is a member of Scabbard and Blade and Delta Upsilon fraternities. Flarsheim was a committee chairman in the horse show.

The following cadets have been appointed majors:

Oscar W. Friske '26, infantry; Walter S. Hahn '28, infantry; Glenn R. Douglas '28, field artillery, and Francis L. De Man '26, signal corps. Leon E. Isaacson '26 is appointed as captain and adjutant. Jalmar Skogstrom '27 will be captain of the President's Guard.

The parade on Memorial day was the last regular formation of the cadet corps this school year. The end of the present semester marks the close of the second year of successful optional drill at the university. More men enrolled in the advanced courses this year than last year. The enrollment in the military department next year is expected to equal that of previous years, said Major Brunzell.

Appointments of the other members of the advanced course will not be announced until the opening of school next fall. All of the appointments made thus far have been approved by President Birge.

McGilvary

Prof. E. B. McGilvary of the philosophy department will give the speech of acceptance of the senior class donation to the chimes fund as the representative of the faculty on class day, Friday, June 19. While the exercises will commence at 4:30 o'clock at Bascom hall where the Ivy ceremony, the sing-along and speeches will be held from 5 o'clock on behind the Union building.

Probably much the same program of songs will be used on class day as was used by the seniors last night, composed of the new senior class song, "Sing-Along," and a few of the favorites.

A class picnic which will be open not only to the seniors, but also to their relatives and to any friends or alumni who may care to attend it, will be held immediately following the sing.

Tickets for the picnic are still on sale at the Kamera Kraft shop at 606 State street, but the length of the sale is limited because the committee must know in advance how many to prepare for.

Summer Session Rooms Are Listed in Office of Dean

Lists of rooms for students in the coming summer session are being made in the office of Dean S. H. Goodnight, director of the summer session, as well as lists of houses and apartments which will be for rent during the summer.

Students whose families are coming with them, or married couples attending the session will find a number of these "housekeeping" privileges listed.

BILL FOR FUNDS AWAITS SIGNING

Some Work Will Start This Summer if Measure is Approved

The appropriation bill for the construction of university buildings for the next two years is awaiting the signature of the governor before actual work can be started. After the signing of the bill the plans for the needed constructions have to be drawn. Some building is expected to be started this summer. The Bascom hall addition may be started before next semester.

This addition requires $477,000. A new university library addition is to be made on the Park street side and will require $550,000. There is to be a new addition to Chemistry building amounting to $300,000.

The College of Agriculture is to have some construction done. New green houses will amount to $15,000. A sum of $18,000 has been requested for the heating of the minor agricultural buildings such as the barns and stock buildings.

The central heating station needs new boilers which will cost $97,000. A sum of $82,150 is to be used by the heating station for the construction of a terminal conduit and miscellaneous necessities.

A lake water pump to cost $12,000 will be established in the pumping station for use in case of fires.

Part of the appropriation funds are to be available, if the bill is signed, July 1, and the rest July 1, 1926. Plans for construction will be made as soon as the funds are available.

LATHROP ABSENTEES MUST HAVE EXCUSES

All clinical excuses for absence from women's gym classes must be in the office of the fourth floor of Lathrop hall by June 4, according to Miss Blanche Trilling head of the department of physical education. Excuses which are handed in after that time will not be accepted and will count as unexcused absences. Anyone who has more than two unexcused absences for the semester will receive a condition.

EXAM PERIOD IS FROM JUNE 8-16

End Three Days Before Beginning of Commencement Exercises

The period for final examinations extends from Monday, June 8, to Tuesday, June 16, which is three days before the beginning of commencement exercises. Included in the timetables for the second semester is a complete schedule of the hours and dates on which the examinations in the various courses are to be given.

Excepting a few special courses, mentioned in Group four, the examination time of a course which has regular lectures and recitations is fixed by its lecture or recitation hours, disregarding the credit value of the course and the hours of its quiz and laboratory sections. A period of two hours is allowed for each examination.

Apparent conflicts in hours should be promptly reported to the office of the faculty secretary, 151 Bascom hall, where information relative to room assignments is also available. Actual conflicts, if such be found to exist, are to be solved by the dean of the college concerned.

Writers of Theses Must File June 16 to Take Degrees

Senior theses must be presented at the library on or before Tuesday, June 16, if the writers want to have their names on the commencement programs and receive their degrees, according to L. G. Burke, assistant librarian.

"The library will receive theses any time," said Mr. Burke, "but the reason a deadline is set is that there is much printed material connected with graduation, and in order to plan this, future preparations must be made."

It has been rumored that master's theses must be in by June 1, while the deadline for the bachelor's alone is June 16. This is not true, and all theses of all courses have the same deadline, June 16.

Alternate Rule Causes Wisconsin to Be One of Eighteen Unrepresented

Wisconsin will have no election for the Rhodes Scholarship this year as it falls within group B of the 18 states which are not eligible for election in the year 1925 under the two out of three group rotation plan. In 1926 groups B and C will elect scholars to enter Oxford in 1927, in 1927 groups A and B will elect scholars to enter Oxford in 1928, in 1928 groups A and C will again elect, and so forth in regular rotation.

Time; Prof. Gordon Leads

The Senior Sing-Along, was held at 6:45 o'clock last night on Lincoln Terrace under the direction of Prof. E. B. Gordon, member of the School of Music faculty and was attended by a large crowd of seniors, other students, and faculty members that completely covered the top of the hill around the statue.

The new senior song, the words of which were written by John Gilin '27 to the music of Beethoven's "Ode to Joy" from his "Ninth Symphony", was sung for the first time at the Sing-Along.

The "Varsity Toast" opened the musical program. It was followed by "I Want to Be a Badger," "Sing-Along", and Don't Send My Boy to Harvard." The new senior song, was followed by "Where Monona's Waters Play", "Love's Old Sweet Song," and "On Wisconsin."

Frosh Diamond Team Shows Good Prospects for '26 Squad

Sundt and Lowman Comment on Promising Frosh Material

By AL WAYO

"The freshman baseball squad is composed of a really fine group of boys. They are anxious and willing to play ball; they are out every night to practice, and undoubtedly will develop into good varsity material next season. It has been a pleasure for me to work with them here at Camp Randall.

"Probably one of the best features of the freshmen is that they are more willing and can play a much better brand of ball when competing against the varsity, than when practicing alone. You'll hear from the frosh next year; and despite the fact that the present varsity team will be back again next season practically intact, some of the members of the freshman team are bound to make the regular varsity team."

Lowman Lauds Yearlings

This was the statement of Guy Sundt, coach of the freshman baseball team, when asked to express his opinion of the yearling Badger diamond aggregation at Camp Randall last night. Coach Sundt added that the infield is exceptionally good, and that the freshmen are strong, steady hitters.

Guy Lowman, varsity coach, when questioned on the prospects of the freshman ball team for next year, verified the statement of Coach Sundt and commented especially on the wonderful spirit of willingness to work against the varsity, spirit of fight and loyalty which they have displayed during the season.

Ellerman Complimented

Coach Lowman lauded some of the individuals of the personnel that comprises the freshman team. In speaking of Ellerman, second baseman, he said, "Ellerman is a very good prospect for the varsity team of next year."

Johnny Decker, frosh captain, is another player that will undoubtedly be in the Badger lineup in 1926, according to the varsity mentor. Lowman characterized Captain Decker as a "fast and brainy infielder that can be used at either short stop or second, and is a fair hitter."

Murray and Massey Praised

From all indications the yearling first baseman, Murphy, will replace Steen of the varsity squad when he leaves Wisconsin this year. Of Murphy, Lowman remarked, "There is no question but that he will fit into the position. He is aggressive and has all the qualities of a good first baseman."

GOPHERS TRIM IRISH IN CLOSE BALL GAME

Notre Dame lost to Minnesota 3 to 2, after Elmer Beston, Notre Dame hurler, had fanned 13 and aided his mates in filling the sacks in the deciding ninth, Anderson, relief moundsman for Minnesota, went to work in the last of the ninth and with perfect support let his opponents down hard after they had filled the bases with none out.

Second Band Gives Twilight Concert on Terrace Tonight

The Second University band will play the twilight concert, at 6:30 o'clock tonight on Lincoln Terrace.

Norval L. Church, director of this band, will conduct the concert in place of Major. E. W. Morphy who usually leads the Concert band. The Second band played on the opening night of the Exposition and has furnished the music for all the R. O. T. C. reviews.

The program for the concert includes Doble's "Royal Tournament," selections from Gounod's opera "Faust," Panella's march "Warrior Bold," three dances from "Henry VIII" by German, Willis march "Proboscidian," Lugini's "Ballet Egyptian," and Skraggs' "Federal Guards" march.

Harris Assumes Work As New U. S. Marshal Here

James E. Harris, formerly division chief of the Madison district of the U. S. internal revenue department, took charge of the U. S. marshal's office Monday. Mr. Harris handed in his resignation as head of the Madison revenue office Saturday.

I. W. Roloff, deputy clerk in the revenue office was named as chief of the Madison division. All deputy U. S. marshal's in the Western district of Wisconsin were reappointed temporarily by Mr. Harris.

Massey received a high compliment from the varsity coach when Lowman said of him, "Massey is the cleverest outfielder in a Badger uniform. He can cover more ground than any man I have on the varsity squad." Seneca, third baseman and Burbridge, outfielder, were also mentioned by Lowman as prospects for the 1926 diamond season.

Carlson is looked on by Coach Lowman as practically a certainty for his catching squad next year, as is Haggerty among the pitchers. The work of Blakefield and Hawker has led the varsity director to believe that they can be developed into possible varsity material.

GALAXY OF STARS READY FOR START OF BIG TEN MEET

Badgers Will Meet Stiff Competition at Columbus Saturday

A survey of the men entered in each of the track events of the conference meet finds a galaxy of stars competing for high honors in each race with the result usually a toss up. In most of the events there are one or two of Coach Jones' men who are given a chance to place high in the scoring list.

The Maize and Blue of Michigan should predominate in the 220 with Hubbard and Wittman both sure to place unless some unforeseen accident keeps either one of them out of the race. Evans of Illinois and Gruenhagen of Minnesota are two other speed merchants who should figure heavily in the century in addition to McAndrews and Francis, the two Badger stars.

Evans Likely Winner

In the furlong practically the same group of dash men will compete with the exception of Hubbard, colored Michigan flash, who will confine his efforts to the 100 and broad jump. Evans is favored to cop the longer dash as he won the event last year with a new record.

One of the greatest races of the meet will probably be the 440. Kennedy, Badger premier quarter miler, is favored to win the event after his sterling performance at Michigan last week but he will be hard pressed by Coulter of Iowa, Martin of Northwestern, Fensinger of Michigan and Gray of Butler.

Reinke Is Favorite

In the half mile Reinke, rated as one of the best 880 men in collegiate circles today, is the heavy favorite to take the conference 880.

After making the best time that has been made in the Middle West in the mile this year against Michigan last Saturday George Schutt is going to force all of the mile entries step mighty fast to keep him from crossing the finish line in the fore. It would be no surprise to see the mile go in 4:20 or better if weather conditions are favorable.

Phelps Vs. Shimek

Phelps of Iowa and Shimek of Marquette stand head and shoulders above the rest of the field in the two mile grind. So far Phelps of has always headed Shimek but the little Hilltopper is resolved to turn the tables when he meets his rival this week.

For a race where real competition and rivalry will be found nothing could be better than the 120 yard high hurdles. Jirtle is the only Badger entry who will have a chance to place. McGinnis is being saved

TWENTY MEN TRY OUT AT CAMP RANDALL FOR SIGMA DELTA PSI

Tryouts for Sigma Delta Psi, national athletic fraternity, are being held this week. Men have been out working off the various qualifications on Monday and Tuesday and will continue this afternoon and tomorrow. Any man in the university is eligible to work for membership in the fraternity. Thus far, about twenty men have reported at Camp Randall and have run off some of the events.

Wood, '25, and O'Brien, '26, have almost fulfilled the necessary qualifications and will undoubtedly be eligible by Thursday. Several others should make the grade also.

The different events to be run off are the 100 yard dash, 220 hurdles, high jump, broadjump, pole vault, 2 mile run, hand stand, front dive, front handspring, shot put, baseball throw, football punt, and 100 yard swim.

There is a junior and senior rating in each event, the junior qualifications being less difficult than the senior. It is not necessary to work off all the marks in one year.

Niebuhr Quits U. W. Boat Livery; There 21 Years

Robert Erickson, Madison, became manager of the University boathouse Monday upon the retirement of Emil Niebuhr who ran the canoe livery there for the last 21 years. Mr. Niebuhr has moved to Spring Harbor, near Merrill Springs, where he contemplates operating a canoe and boat livery. Mr. Erickson solely for the high jump.

Badger hopes for an additional place in the mile went up in smoke yesterday when Captain Lloyd Valvley was taken to the hospital for sinus trouble.

in addition to operating the boat livery will also repair and sell canoes.

MINNEAPOLIS — Boles Rosenthal, captain of the 1924 football team at Minnesota and first assistant to Andy Smith at the University of California, has been appointed by University of Minnesota authorities for the position of head coach at the Gopher school to succeed William A. (Bill) Spaulding, it was learned today.

Rosenthal, now "Dr. Albert Boles," is known to have the backing of many alumni and administrative officers, but it is held doubtful whether he can be enticed away

Crews Take Final Workouts Before Departure Saturday

Junior Eight Will Use Culver Shell in Race Held There

The Badger oarsmen skimmed waves of Lake Mendota for a long row last night, one of the few remaining before they make their debut on the blue waters of the Hudson.

Only three practices are in store for the rowers this week. Friday afternoon they will carry the two new shells down to the depot, assist in the loading, and then return for a short row in two of the old shells.

Winds Hinder

Monday night's workout was handicapped by an off-shore wind, but it was nothing unusual for the crews considering the waves and off-shore winds they have been fighting all season. Coach Vail is especially anxious to have several good time trials on Lake Mendota before the departure, but a rough lake and wind will cause him to deviate from that schedule.

The last two weeks have found no changes in the lineups of either the varsity or freshman eights but the choice of substitutes appears to be a toss-up between several likely candidates who have rowed at times in the first crews. Van Wagenen, Treichel, and Porter of the varsity, and Robert Zentner and Franklin Orth of the freshmen, thus have a chance to get the call. Two substitutes will be taken for each crew.

Selection Not Final

Those rowing on the varsity at present are Harold Bentson, stroke, Capt. Oscar Teckemeyer, No. 7; Eric Grunitz, No. 6; Jefferson Burrus, No. 5; Richard Rhode, No. 4; K. C. Sly, No. 3; William Gerhardt, No. 2; John McCarter, bow, and Harold Coulter, coxswain.

The freshman crew is made up of Edwin Kesting, stroke; Bibby, No. 7; Mark Griffith, No. 6; Andrew Sellers, No. 5; Romaine York, No. 4; Homer Kieweg, No. 3; Fraser Bassett, No. 2; and Harold Green, bow.

Freshmen In Condition

"Dad" Vail will pick the lucky men for the trip on Thursday and the best varsity men remaining will go to Culver the following day to row on Saturday.

A shell will not be shipped to Culver as was originally intended but the Wisconsin men will use a craft of the cadets instead. The same procedure was followed out last year in order not to necessitate the expense of shipping a shell.

The freshmen under the coaching of Howard Johnson have rowed nearly as much as the varsity in training for their two mile race with Cornell, Columbia, Syracuse, and Pennsylvania and barring any unforeseen troubles, such as "crabs," the bane of all oarsmen, will be in good condition for their contest.

Schoolmates Unveil

Coolidge's Son's Portrait

MERCERSBURG, Pa.—In the halls of the school from which he went forth a year ago as a student, the boys of Mercersburg Academy gathered today to unveil a memorial portrait of Calvin Coolidge, Jr., the president's son, who died last July.

They gathered, too, to welcome Mrs. Coolidge and to pay the respects due a classmate's mother and the first lady of the land.

Merica Calls for Workers to Help With 1927 Badger

"All students who wish to work on the 1927 Badger should sign up for the type of work they are interested in during the next three days," Ewart Merica '27, editor-in-chief, announced yesterday.

"Staff positions in all the various editorial departments of the year book are still open, as well as places on the business staff. The Badger office will be open each afternoon from 3:30 until 5:30 o'clock, at which time applications will be received."

Merica stated that most of the important appointments will be announced at the end of the week.

TRANSFERENCE OF MARKET IS VOTED

Senate Passes Bill 21 to 11 After Listening to Opposition

The senate today placed its official approval on a proposal to transfer the state department of markets to the department of agriculture thus eliminating the position of commissioner of markets held by Edward Nordman. The bill now goes to the assembly for concurrence.

The vote was 21 to 11.

Just before the ballot was taken, the senate resolved itself into a committee of the whole to hear objections of Mr. Nordman. It also heard President Davidson of the Northern Wisconsin Cooperative Tobacco Pool, and Asst. Atty. Gen. Alvin Reis, attached to the department of markets, in opposition to the bill.

Roll call:

For consolidation—Barber, Barker, Boldt, Carroll, Cashman, Chase, Daggett, Garey, Heck, Hull, Hunt, Johnson, Kemp, Keppel, Lange, Michigan, Roethe, Schumann, Smith, Staudenmayer, Titus—21.

Against consolidation—Bilgrien, Englund, Gettelman, Morris, Padway, Polakowski, Quick, Sauthoff, Severson, Teasdale, White—11.

Absent—Casperson.

Commissioner Nordman, opposing the bill and defending his position, declared marketing should be kept separate from the department of production. He declared Commissioner John D. Jones of the department of agriculture, with his varied duties, would be unable to devote sufficient time to the conduct of the marketing division, and that the division for that reason probably would not receive the proper attention.

Mr. Reis based his argument on the theory that the functions of marketing are not primarily agricultural.

BADGERS PERFECT PLAYS TO BATTLE OHIO STATE NINE

Steen Returns to Lineup; Stoll Will Probably Start Pitching

Indiana spoiled Chicago's chances for a western conference baseball championship by defeating the Maroons 3 to 1 Monday. The two teams were tied for second place in the Big Ten race before yesterday's encounter. Indiana used three pitchers, Woodward going down in the seventh, Hoarde, who relieved him, remaining on the job but one inning and Link finished the game. Gubbins, hurler for the visitors, pitched superb ball and was steady throughout. With the score at 1 and 1 in the seventh, a single by Davis scored Ninnes and a triple by Link brought in Davis. The scoring ended the scoring.

The conference leading Buckeyes will come to Madison tomorrow to meet Coach Guy S. Lowman's Wisconsin nine on the diamond. From a won and lost standpoint the Ohio Staters should win, but as far as determination goes the Badgers should give the Buckeyes a real run.

Captain Russ Miller, the star right hander of the Columbus school, will probably be on the mound for the visitors. He is one of the leading hurlers of the Big Ten this year, and is considered as a likely major league player. The two teams met earlier in the year, and it was Miller who pitched his team to a 4 to 1 victory. Though the Badgers played good baseball, the first inning errors of Cardinal allowed three runs to cross the plate.

Stoll Likely Hurler

For Wisconsin, Stoll will probably do the hurling. He pitched against the Ohio team in the previous game and acquitted himself well. His teammates errors being the losing factors. In case he does not finish Shrenk will probably relieve him.

Each day the team has been going through long workouts, and the infield, since Steen's return, is working with accurate precision. A play to prevent scoring on the squeeze play as was so well utilized by Minnesota last week is being mastered.

Lineup Probably Same

The lineup will probably be the same as has been used most successfully recently. The infield will consist of Steen at first base; Captain Ellingson at second; Wieland will play short stop; and Tangen will perform at third base. Lamboley or Barnum will do the catching. In the outfield, Donagan will play his usual position, left field; Larson will work in center; and Edwards will handle the balls which come to the right garden.

The game scheduled to begin at 3:45 o'clock will be played on the varsity field at Camp Randall.

Here and There in Crewdom

The Badgers will again stay at the Nelson House during their two weeks at Poughkeepsie. Inhabitants of the famous rowing center look forward with anticipation to the annual race and take an annual holiday in celebration of the big races.

* * *

Two commodores, Arey and Buckley will receive a well-earned trip to the Hudson. Every night during practice it falls to their lot to rub off the shells with chamois skins, to take care of all equipment, to keep records of the crews' weight and do innumerable other things, all of which make the life of a rower easier.

* * *

Henry L. Farrell, United Press correspondent, writes from New York:

"Washington, Navy, Wisconsin, and Pennsylvania are expected to supply most of the competition in the coming intercollegiate rowing championships on the Hudson River course at Poughkeepsie, June 22."

* * *

"The rest of the field is very ordinary. Columbia is terrible—one wit remarking after the Childs' Cup race, in which Columbia finished far behind Pennsylvania and Princeton, that Columbia would have to improve mightily to even finish at all at Poughkeepsie. Cornell and Syracuse are only fair, neither boat being up to the class or former years."

* * *

"With characteristic luck, the Cardinal eight drew No. 7 lane in the drawings, but this will hardly affect their showing much, as they were away on the outside last year also. "Dad" Vail, who tutors Wisconsin crews, is one of the smartest heads in the business, and he will doubtless bring a finely conditioned outfit east. He has only three regulars back from his 1924 eight."

* * *

Few rowing critics are venturing to pick the winner of the freshman race. It is one contest in which past rowing experience is not to be considered and the Badgers will be equal to Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse, and Columbia in that respect. The Eastern crews have been engaging in several races, however, that will serve them in good stead for the regatta, June 22.

College Field House

Wrecked By Blast

BELOIT, Wis.—Police and college authorities were without clues today in a mysterious explosion that wrecked a field house on Beloit college athletic field during the night. A automobile was seen emerging from the field just before a heavy blast blew out the roof and walls of the structure.

70 MEN GATHER FOR FINAL GRID MEET OF SEASON

Muegge is Awarded Supremacy Trophy by Vote of All

A fighting spirit leaped in the hearts of more than 70 football men last night at the Kappa Sigma house as the men were called together for the last time before the end of school this semester.

Coach Little knows that his army of cardinal-jerseyed-to-be men will leave Madison in a week or two with all their thoughts centered about fall practice, and that the glaring word "football" will be written across the mind of every one of them all through the summer months, so that when once more signals ring out over Camp Randall and eager men thunder over the chalk lines, not a bit of the spirit that has characterized the spring work will have been lost during the summer.

Muegge Wins Trophy

Walter A. Muegge, amidst bursts of applause by his room full of team mates, was congratulated by Coach Little as the acknowledged most valuable asset to the Wisconsin team in the past spring practice. It was by a vote of all the men present that Muegge was awarded the Supremacy Trophy, and the balloting was based on fight, attendance, knowledge of fundamentals and adaptability.

In all of the short talks by Coach Little, Captain Polaski, Jimmie Brader, Guy Sundt, Connell, and Trainer George Berg, eligibility above all was emphasized. "A football man has three qualifications," said George Little, "mental, moral, and physical, and a man is just as good as he thinks he is. The importance of scholarship in the success of Wisconsin football cannot be overemphasized; it takes just as much brain to be an eligible player as it does to be a good player."

Berg Speaks

George Berg urged the men to keep in the best possible physical condition throughout the summer, so that when practice is again taken up in the fall each man will be a potential foundation for the coaches to work upon.

"There are three conditions that each man must come back in the fall in. He must be eligible, he must be fit, and he must be ready to adapt himself to the teachings of the coaches."

James Brader To Speak At K. C. Club Meeting

James "Jimmy" Brader assistant football coach at the University, will speak on athletics as a factor in upbringing men and women at the weekly luncheon of the Knights of Columbus, Wednesday noon at the clubhouse.

THE CANOE WRANGLE

We would be hot under the collar, in fact we would be ready to take off our collar and get ready to fight if we paid $4 for the use of a canoe several weeks in advance and then had the renters of the boat refuse to refund any part of the $4 when the weather turned bad and we could not use the boat.

Exactly this happened to those persons, mostly students, who rented canoes of the city and university boathouses last Venetian night. Attempts of student renters to regain any part of their money have been useless and the City boathouse concessionaires have placed the matter in the hands of an attorney. The concessionaires of the university boathouse for other reasons has given up his concession and has moved out of the university boathouse. With him he took every cent of that $4 for which there was no value received.

Following is the reply of Dean Goodnight to the attorney for the City boathouse. With the exception that the Dean does not mention the university boathouse, he explains and answers the situation comprehensively:

Mr. Ernest N. Warner,
Madison, Wisconsin,

Dear Sir: In reply to your letter of the 27th relative to the action of the City boathouse concessionaires in refusing to make any refund on canoes and boats reserved for Venetian Night, I feel that I ought to lodge a protest.

They rented 52 canoes and 2 row boats at $4 each for the entire day, it being well understood, however, that the occasion for doing so was Venetian Night, and that in case of inclement weather preventing the use of the canoes, the money was to be refunded. They collected in full in advance $216, and when the weather in the forenoon was such that only 16 canoes were used and when the weather in the afternoon and evening was such that no craft whatever were taken out, they refuse to make any refund. I regard this as morally wrong. Whether you can justify it legally or not, I do not know, but it is unfair practice, of that I am sure.

If, as you suggest for the future, they put into operation a regulation: "No refunds allowed for reservations not used," and post a sign to that effect, they will have at least some basis for the confiscation, but admittedly no such policy was in effect and no such notice had been given on this occasion. On the contrary, the students declare a refund was promised in case of weather making the boats useless and this was the case.

The fact that the concessionaires were warned of approaching danger by the Weather Bureau between 9 and 10 in the forenoon makes their position all the more untenable. You suggest that they followed the example of the University boathouse in letting canoes go out that morning; I am glad to report that the University boathouse has changed hands since that time. And may I point with praise to the example set by the Bernards on the occasion in question. They appear to place a somewhat different valuation upon danger to human life and upon financial profits; they were properly refused to allow any of the canoes or boats to go out which had been reserved and refunded all deposits except a fee of 50c per boat, an arrangement with which all their patrons were entirely satisfied.

Very truly yours,

S. H. GOODNIGHT,
Dean of Men.

HOW ABOUT IT, FROSH

How are your ideals, freshmen?

Are they a bit frayed about the edges like a directory in a public telephone, or have those you came to school with disappeared entirely and a new set come in their place. Surely you can't say they are intact and there is no one would believe you if you said they are improved.

There have been influences that have made it hard to stick by those ideals which you brought here with you. Your resistance to drinking, laziness in studying, dishonesty in written work, and laxness in moral habits has possibly been materially reduced. You are an unusual person if it has not or (we hardly dare suggest it) it could not be reduced anymore.

But why is it that a man must have his ideals shattered when he comes to college? There really is no reason why he should except that the forces working towards shattering them are so overwhelming that it is hard to hold to them.

When it looks like everybody is eating it is hard not to eat and when it seems that everybody is cheating in written work and exams it is not hard to cheat. Why should a single individual hold back when the others all seem to indulge?

But there is a catch in the proposition. It only seems that everyone is cheating, that everyone is falling prey to harmful practices with which ideals do not hold court. The fact that those who indulge in drinking, slothfulness, and other bad habits never fail to tell in loud voice about their indulgences makes it seem that everyone is in the swim. One does not know how many students are really holding to their ideals for they never make a point of telling about it.

One rarely hears a person come out of an exam and say, "Well, I hit that one for a B, and I didn't crib a bit." That isn't considered clever. One never hears a student say, "I handed that topic in today, and it was all my own work." That isn't considered clever either. It is the person who can tell about how he "slipped one over on the profs" that is heard and smiled not AT but WITH.

Just keep your eyes and ears wide open for the idealist, freshman. You will hear from him once in awhile. Don't be too willing to believe that the rest of the student body has lost its ideals, you might as well lose yours too. That is an easy way to clear your conscience when you let the ideals slip. But it is only an excuse.

Hang onto those ideals, freshman—if you can.

Wouldn't mind seeing that mess on the Union board billboard eradicated or words to that effect. It looks like a piece of cubist art.

How about building a pier for persons who don't like to go in swimming but want to come out on the pier in their good clothes and get in the way.

Other Editors Say

SANITY IN PROHIBITION

President Coolidge, despite the constant urging from militant prohibitionists, made known his attitude toward the war on the rum fleet yesterday when he gave out the statement that the ships of the United States navy are for purposes of national defense, and not for police duty.

The president also declared that he expects the treasury department to stay within the financial limits which have been set for it in its anti-smuggling campaign.

In some quarters the president's action on this issue may be taken as an indication that he is not in sympathy with the enforcement of the prohibition laws. This is far from true. Above all things, President Coolidge stands for law enforcement and economy, and he has not allowed himself to be swayed by the overzealousness of any group.

He might have taken this opportunity to use the navy to wipe out all smuggling on our coasts, if possible, and might thereby have listed his name among those of the great conquerors of the world. Mr. Coolidge is to be commended for his sane handling of a situation whose importance has been overestimated. —Michigan Daily.

Stew was tearing his hair Monday night because he couldn't get a canoe date. He intended, he told us, to go out into the middle of the lake and stop and sing in his especially melodious voice. About nine o'clock a nasty old gale came up and knocked all of the canoes over. Stew cannot swim. Oh, how we wish that Stew could have got a date!

Many people have asked us why we make so many wise cracks about Stew. It is, my dear people, because Nebuchadnezzar is so hard to spell.

It is highly probable that the meet at Poughkeepsie will end up in a row.

"That's a lowdown trick," said the man as he took it with a seven-spot.

Work, work, and work. Exams! We were so happy when we finished our history reading that we almost burst into song. But our voice has not been of the best for the last two weeks and we were afraid that someone might mistake us for an Alpha Gamma Delta.

We suppose that it is up to us to say something about our new Skyrockets boss. We will be glad to see him act in his official character. It will be the first time that he has had any character.

We don't see why everyone should laugh when we tell them that we are going to work on a farm this summer. We think that handling a pitchfork will be a good preparation for our afterlife.

What's Wrong Here?

The above photograph is an exclusive picture of Argon and his Venetian Night date coming in from Picnic Point on Monday evening after their S. O. S. to Cap Isabel turned out to be an A. W. O. L. Stew rises to remark that the picture is distinctive because Argon is doing some of the rowing. (Exclusive photo by Stew.)

Argon has just cleaned his room. Two of the boys from across the hall just stumbled in, excused themselves, and stumbled out again. They didn't recognize it.

We know of one man who is going to be a racing driver this summer. You see, he is used to throwing dirt in peoples eyes that he just can't get over it.

WHILE THINKING OF GREAT ATHLETES, CAST A THOUGHT ON RAB. HE COUNTS THE DAY WHEN HE DOESN'T GET A LETTER.

Mac came up to my room and woke me up and we started trading jokes that were old enough to get into Skyrockets.

"Do you pine for me?" asked Mac.

"No, but now and then I balsam," we retorted.

"Do you cedar point?" asked Mac.

"Anybody wood," said we.

Our afternoon's repose was rudely shattered when we had to save self and Mac from the infuriated hands of the boys across the hall.

The infirmary is filling up. So many people are fond of saying, "Is it hot enough for you?" and human nature is human nature, even in a college.

Well, this our last column this year, and we can't say that we're glad. There were times when we racked our brain and racked our brain (as much as we have) trying to get something to please you and had persons approach us the next day and ask us why in h—l we didn't write something funny in Rockets for a change and we swore lustily and went home and decided that Rockets didn't amount to a thing and we'd chuck them over, but, after all, we enjoyed pounding them out on the Royal, and there was a lot of satisfaction in hearing someone chuckle over them in a restaurant. Well, goodbye, and we'll see you sometime next year.

Stew seems to get good results with his personals at the end of his col. We are going to try it.

L. R. Saturday at 8 p. m. Fix your bell and don't keep me waiting long. Phone me if O. K.

Exit, with bowed head,
ARGON THE LAZY.

DEAN EXPLAINS GRADE SYSTEM

Statement Shows How Points Are Necessary to Graduation

Owing to the questions which always arise when final grades are sent home as to the meaning of grade points, the following statement was issued yesterday by the office of the dean of men.

"Scholarship at the university has been based for some time on the grade point system. The student must have as many grade points as credits in order to graduate. A student's average is obtained by dividing his total number of grade points by his whole number of credit hours.

"Three grade points are awarded for each credit hour of A; two grade points are awarded for each credit hour of B; one grade point is awarded for each credit hour of C; no grade points are awarded for a D; no grade points are awarded for an incomplete except in the Medical school in which a tentative grade is given at the end of the first semester in certain courses which continue into the second semester; one grade point is subtracted for each credit hour of condition; and two grade points are subtracted for each credit hour of failure.

"Thus a rating of three shows that all grades averaged excellent, a rating of two shows an average of good, and a rating of one shows an average of fair. A minus quantity would indicate an average below passing.

"A student is dropped from the university because he has made insufficient grade points. On the other hand, honors are awarded for excess grade points."

DRILL TEAM TO GO TO SUN PRAIRIE JULY 4?

The Prince of Wales drill team has been offered $250 by Sun Prairie to give their drill at that town July 4. The club as yet has not decided whether they can give the drill as the majority of the members will not be in Madison at that time.

BIG CROWD PAYS TRIBUTE TO DEAD

Largest Gathering Assembled for Memorial Day Services

"The largest gathering that has assembled at any outdoor event this spring attended the Memorial day exercises which were held on Saturday morning at 11 o'clock on Lincoln Terrace", said Major E. W. Morphy, director of the concert band which played the music of the entire program.

Between 3,000 and 4,000 were present according to the most accurate estimates obtainable. The gold star mothers, the cadets of which there were about 1,500, and many citizens of Madison made up this gathering.

President Birge presided over the assembly and veterans of all wars were guests of honor. Civil war veterans were escorted by members of the officers' reserve corps.

The wreath bearing ceremony, which took place after the university service flag had been unveiled, was accompanied throughout by organ-like voluntaries most of which were adapted from hymns. The wreath bearers were university women and the president's guard with the corp of cadets acted as guard of honor. Individual wreaths were placed for every service man who lost his life in the World war. A large wreath was placed for the Spanish war soldiers and another for the Civil war dead.

The corps of cadets gave the national salute and Lieut. Lewis H. Kessler played taps. The cadets and the second band marched in a parade which started at 9 o'clock by going around the square and ended at the top of the Hill in time for the regular program when the military band disbanded and the concert band took over the service.

NO FORMAL DAY AWARD THIS YEAR

Unforeseen Circumstances Will Present Convocation, Says Fish

"Arrangements had been completed for a formal convocation at which the Kenneth Sterling Day Memorial award was to be announced, when unforeseen circumstances arose which forced us to drop the entire affair for this year," said Prof. Carl Russell Fish, chairman of the award committee, yesterday.

John Bergstreser '25 is the recipient of the award, which was inaugurated last year, when the parents of Kenneth Sterling Day presented a bronze figure, to be awarded each year on a merit basis.

Last year a vote of the "Y" asso-year the choice was determined by a committee appointed by President Birge. Professors Carl Russell Fish,

M. F. Guyer, Stephen W. Gilman, and William H. Page comprised the committee.

The committee sent invitations to the deans of the various colleges, the heads of departments, and to Bergstreser was the unanimous choice of the committee after the

A Beautiful New Crowl Fraternity House

The Crowl Organization has just completed the plans for a beautiful new fraternity house on Langdon street. This is one of the finest jobs we have done, and we are more than proud of this large beautiful building.

If you saw the pictures in Morgan's window, you know the beautiful houses that we are building. If you have been through any of our new houses, you will realize their supreme quality still more.

We are now starting some lovely houses at the University of Indiana, and we are continually receiving requests from fraternities and sororities at different universities to plan and build for them. The tremendous volume of business that we have done is the best tribute to the merit of our houses.

We are now offering an especially fine buy for some fraternity or sorority. We now have four new houses in the course of construction and we want to start this house at once, in order that we can keep the costs down by building it at the same time the other jobs go forward this summer. We will have it all ready to move into September 1, 1925.

We know that any fraternity or sorority that takes this house yet this year will have to act with dispatch, in order that the necessary contracts can be signed up before the end of this semester. We also know that we can save many thousands of dollars by building this house this summer along with the other jobs. For this reason, we will offer a $5,000 reduction on this house if taken before June 20th.

Easy Terms

We will take in your present house in trade, and you can pay the balance like rent. If you have no house to trade in, we will sell this for a very, very small down payment, with the balance like rent.

A Large House

This beautiful, big house, right on Langdon street, will house as many as forty students, each with a study separate from the sleeping quarters. The entire first floor is club rooms, they are exceptionally large, and all open into each other. There are two large fire places on the first floor, one in cut stone. The bath rooms are in tile, with tile shower stalls. The architects are Law and Law.

Very Reasonable Price

This lovely house, one of the best we have ever offered, is not a hundred thousand dollar proposition. This large house, including a large Langdon street lot, comes to only a few thousand dollars above $5,000.00. It is easy for any chapter to handle this, and live cheaper and better than they can in a poorer and smaller house.

Show Some Pep

Some lucky fraternity or sorority will get this lovely home and will move into it next September. Will it be your fraternity?

All it takes is some pep, and the house is yours. There are no money problems to balk you, just pep enough to see me, and look over the beautiful plans, and if you like it the house is yours. I have no salesmen; so you will have to write or telephone.

WORK ON SALE OF '25 PLAY TICKETS

Brine Announces Assistants for Senior Class Production

"Letters have been sent out to the officers of every class in re-union this year calling for early reservation of tickets for the Senior class play," said Gordon Brine '25, business manager.

James Vallee, '27 and Lowell Frautschi '27, have charge of the tickets. The sale will open some time next week and tickets will be obtainable either from them or at the booths to be established at the University pharmacy and at various places around the campus.

Many fraternities and sororities are planning parties of seniors to attend the play in a body in company with their parents, relatives, and friends who are here to witness the commencement exercises. Tickets will be distributed among them so that they will be easily available.

E. Ray Skinner of the speech department has been engaged to have charge of make-up. He will probably be assisted by two students from the make-up classes.

William MacDonald, '25 will be in charge of production and Sidney R. Thorsen, grad, lighting effects.

Rehearsals are being held regularly under the direction of Miss Carol MacMillan.

A staff of artists consisting of Fred De Vries '26, Richard Brayton '27, and John Alcott '27, has been at work making posters symbolic of the spirit of "Dear Brutus". They will be ready the first part of next week.

Under the new plans approved today by the president, Navarro will not take part in the regular exercises. After the formal exercises the superintendent of the academy will take the place originally intended for the president and the picture will proceed.

LIBRARY GREET'S 50TH YEAR MARK

Time Brings Expansion and Progress to City In- stitution

Bringing 50 years of literary opportunities to the citizens of this city, the Madison Free Library is now celebrating its 50 anniversary of service to the community of Madison.

From a tiny office on the second floor of the city hall in 1875, the library has grown to occupy its present large modern structure on N. Carroll and W. Dayton sts. and to expand into four branches and a great number of stations throughout the city.

From an original collection of 4,000 volumes given by the previous Library Institute, the present total has multiplied to more than 65,000 volumes.

While the half century's progress was slow at the start, the present library has grown to be one of the largest city libraries in the state.

There will be no festivities, no fanfare of bands, no beating of drums to mark the passing of these five decades of literary progress in Madison. But they will not have passed without a quiet joy on the part of the library workers and of Miss Mary A. Smith, librarian for the past fifteen years.

21,000 Use Library

An idea of the magnitude of the present free library service can be gained from the facts that its total number of borrowers is now nearly 21,000 persons; that its total collections of volumes is 65,000; that its expenditure for the year is nearly $50,000; and that its staff during the year numbers seventeen persons.

Like any community enterprise,
the library's early years were years of struggle—struggle to obtain necessary funds, adequate quarters, enough books, and to stir a greater interest in the reading of books among the residents of the city, though Madison was already quite full of earnest bibliophiles.

Actual pre-inception of the library came in 1853 when on July 13 of that year the legislature, through a special act, enabled the Madison Institute to be established. The Institute conducted a circulation library and had lecture course with nationally prominent men coming to speak here. By the profits from these lectures, annual dues of the members, and other means, the Institute accumulated a library of 4-000 volumes that were turned over to the Madison Free library when such an institution was formed by a council ordinance in 1875.

First permanent officers of the library were J. C. Ford, president;
W. F. Allen, secretary; and H. M.
Lewis, vice-president. Miss Virginia C. Robbins, the first librarian, was granted the munificent salary of $400 a year. Members of the first board of directors were, in addition to the three officers, John R. Baltzell, A. B. Braley, Frank H. Fir-man, George P. Delaplaine, Andrew Sexton, and John J. Suhr.

From its single room on the second floor of the city hall, the library quarters soon expanded until they occupied the entire first floor of the city hall and until finally the new building was opened at 206 N.
Carroll st. on Feb. 23, 1906.

Carnegie Gave $90,000

It was through the gift of $75-000 by Andrew Carnegie that this structure, of collegiate Gothic design, was made possible in 1906. It was another gift of $15,000 from the same man that brought about the erection of the sixth ward branch in 1912.

Among the milestones in the library's history are: 1878—first expenditure for periodicals, amounting to $100, voted; Jan. 19, 1885—library board votes to present all files of old newspapers to the Wisconsin historical society; Sept. 1887 —decimal system for arranging the library accepted; Jan. 28, 1890—memorial presented to Prof. William F. Allen, an enthusiastic worker for the library; May, 1893—rules of board changed to permit the people of the entire Dane county to get books by paying $1 per year.

July, 1893—library opens at 9 a.
m.; 1894—card catalogue system decided upon and preparations made for its installation; Jan. 1896
—first telephone to be installed;
Oct. 1897—minimum age limit of 13 to take books is recommended for abolishment by Miss Georgia Hough, librarian; 1900—first industrial plant, the Gisholt Co., makes application for a loan of books;
Sept., 1901—first assistant for special children's work, Miss Edna Lyman, was engaged;

"The trees of the campus," a booklet just prepared by Dr. Charles E. Brown, of the State Historical museum, for the use of summer session students, tells of all the trees on the campus, their history and folklore.

Dr. Brown has been assisted in preparing the booklet by Prof. R. H. Denniston, botany department, Franz A. Aust, university gardener, and Prof. J. G. Moore, horticulture.

The booklet describes the various kinds of trees on the campus, the conifers, the deciduous trees, the orchard trees, and closes with a discussion of the uses of trees and their folklore. A list of references is included at the end.

NEW MANAGEMENT FOR BOAT HOUSE

Erickson '22 Replaces Niebhauser; Establishment to Have New Equipment

Robert Erickson '22 has taken over the management of the university boat house, replacing Emil Niebhauser who has moved his station to Merrill Springs. Mr. Erickson is outfitting the entire boat-house with new equipment. He will also conduct a canoe repair shop in connection with the boat service.

"We are opening up with entirely new equipment," Mr. Erickson said yesterday. "Each canoe will have new life preservers and paddles and three cushions. We intend to put as many canoes into operation as students need to take care of their wants. It is possible that we may have camping kits for rent also within a short time if there is a demand for them."

Rental charges for canoes will be the same as under the old management, 40 cents an hour, Mr. Erickson announced. The new management states that it will cooperate with the life saving station in the prevention of accidents and observance of rules.
