FIVE RECORDS BROKEN

SECOND INDOOR MEET A GREAT SUCCESS.

All Events Closely Contested—Engineers Win From Laws and Madison From South Side.

The second of the indoor meets, held Saturday evening proved even more successful than the first. The events were run off in quick succession and the fact that five Varsity records were broken is sufficient indication of the improved form of the candidates. New indoor records were made in the shot put, 35 yard hurdles, half mile, mile and two mile run.

The attendance at the meet was even larger than before and for two hours the crowd was entertained by exciting contests interspersed by gymnastic tricks. Enthusiasm ran high throughout the evening, the relay races and tug-of-war drawing forth especially generous applause.

Of the regular events the mile run was perhaps the closest and most exciting. All other entries being withdrawn the race devolved into a match event between Hahn and Keachie. During the past week Keachie succeeded in lowering the Varsity indoor mark during a work out and Hahn was out to retrieve the honors that had been wrested from him. For fifteen wearisome laps the men ran together with even strides but in the final sprint Hahn had more "go" left and won by a scant yard. In the two mile run Bredsteen again lowered his mark and will prove a hard man to down in the intercollegiate meets.

In the high school relay race Madison High had little trouble in dropping the South Side boys. The West Side team came out at their own expense but were protested by the South Side team as they had not notified the management of their intentions, they were not allowed to run.

One of the most amusing events of the evening was the tug of war between the laws and engineers. The laws were captained by "Jerry" Riordan and was composed principally of football players. Big "Bill" Gibson held down the end for the engineers, he being captain of the team which was mainly composed of crew men. Out of the three trials the laws won two being materially assisted by the dexterity of Captain Riordan.

The loving cup donated by Kappa Kappa Gamma for the inter-fraternity potato race, went to Miller, of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity, he being adjudged winner.

The summaries are as follows:

35 yard hurdles—F. J. Schule, first; McCrossen, second; Harkin, third. Time, 5 sec. flat.

35 yard dash—Schule, first; Poage, second; Pugh, third. Time 4 3-5 sec.

440 yard run—J. Hayden, first; Poage, second; Borreson, third. Time 1:01 1-5.

One mile run—Hahn, first; Keachie, second. Time 4:54.

Two mile run—J. Bredsteen, first; McCrossen, second. Time 10:37 2-5.

880 yard run—Hahn, first; McGillis, second. Time 2:13 2-5.

Running high jump—Hughes, first; 5 feet, 9 1/2 inches. Schule, second.

Shot put—Cochems, first; 38 feet 10 inches; Webster, second, 37 feet 7 inches.

Inter-fraternity potato race—Miller of Phi Kappa Psi, first; McFarland, Kappa Sigma, second.

Relay race (high school)—Madison, first; South Side of Milwaukee, second.

Tug of war—Law school won from Engineers.

Relay race—Engineers—Pugh, W. B. Saunders, Cole, Armstrong, first; Law team—Matthews, Lyle, Harkin, Cochems, second.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY AT CHADBOURNE.

Fitting Festivities in Celebration of the Day.

Washington's Birthday was a most festive holiday at Chadbourne Hall, and the enthusiasm with which the girls entered into the celebration seemed to indicate that the father of his country still holds a large place in the hearts of his daughters.

The festivities began as early as Thursday evening when the sophomores gave an entertainment in the gym, consisting of some "Unpublished Scenes from the Life of George Washington." The audience all felt that they had gained a more familiar knowledge and acquaintance with the much slandered George and became convinced that in many ways he must have been quite like ordinary real folks. The noticeable feature which characterized him from his first appearance, at the age of nine months to the final scene which revealed him in the presidential chair, was his very prominent nose. There were remarkable changes in his whole appearance except for the nose, which besides being always the same in size remained always white, no matter how red his face. Several couples, members of the freshman class, attended the performance in Colonial costume and showed a nineteenth century peanut-gallery spirit by throwing hatchets and cherries at the stage. At the close of the performance all the shades of Washington present assembled to give a rousing cheer for 1903.

At ten o'clock in the morning of the eventful day the juniors held the breakfast which has become an annual Washington's birthday event with 1902. There are about forty junior girls at Chadbourne and almost the entire number were present. The menu included the sort of things to eat that you only get at home. The toasts were impromptu and the guests made the responses easier by cheering during the intervals when the speaker was trying to think of something to say. After the program, officers were elected for the ensuing year. Miss Bessie Krape was elected president and Edna Hooley secretary and treasurer of the Chadbourne Hall juniors.

In the afternoon from four to six the sophomores gave a formal reception. The reception was held in Castalia's hall. Refreshments were served at prettily decorated tables at opposite corners of the room. The girls were in evening dress and the light gowns and powdered hair made the dinner room look quite as though the dinner that followed was a special occasion too. In fact the dinner was in keeping with the day. At every place were a flag and candy cherries. After dinner the girls marched around the dining room and down to the rotunda, where they sang patriotic songs, together with the inevitable Varsity songs and yells which are appropriate to every occasion.

—Mr. Max Kelling, '03, left for his home in Milwaukee to recover from an attack of bronchitis and neuralgia. He expects to return in a few weeks.

SUBMARINE MONONA

HYDROGRAPHIC MAP WILL SOON BE DISTRIBUTED.

Deepest and Shallowest Places Near Together—Area 4 Square Miles—Mendota Over 15.

The Wisconsin geological and natural history survey will shortly distribute to the public a map of Lake Monona and the surrounding country similar to the one of Lake Mendota issued some time ago. The map is hydrographic and is designed to show not only the outlines of the lake but the depth of the water at different points and other features of interest in the submarine conformations of the lake bottom.

Lake Monona is much simpler than Mendota, the latter having a complicated system of under-water ridges connected with the hills that border its shores. The area of the lake is 3.9 square miles. Mendota's area is 15.2 square miles. The greatest length is 4 miles, from Greenbush to the icehouses at the east end of the lake. The greatest width is 2 1/4 miles, from Anglemont station to the Catfish bridge. The circumference is 13.2 miles as contrasted to 21.9 for Mendota. Monona is 841 feet above sea level. Mendota is just five feet higher and the Catfish river between the two lakes has thus a fall of five feet during its short course.

The map also shows very accurately the elevations of the surrounding points on the land. The system is to have concentric lines showing, in the case of the water elevations five feet apart and in the case of the land those ten feet apart. According to this scheme the capitol park is 75 feet above Monona and observatory hill behind the university is 120 feet above it. The highest point immediately contiguous to the lake is the hill south of Ethelwyn park, the elevation here reaching 104 feet. The hills east of the lake, in the marshes that border it there, are of glacial origin and belong to the terminal moraines that so plentifully dot the region about Madison. The ridge cutting off the lake from Lake Wingra is of course familiar to everybody.

It is of interest to note that the deepest and the shallowest points in Monona are situated within a short distance of each other between Winnequah and the railway tracks that bound the west shore of the lake. The shallow point is 15.4 feet deep and lies just half way between Anglemont station and Winnequah, 7-8 of a mile from either shore. A little east of this is the deepest point, which goes down to 74 feet and lies in a straight line between the east Madison depot, 1 and 1-8 miles from Winnequah and 5-8 miles from the depot. The shallow part is not dangerously near the surface but is utilized by the fishermen of the lake for their purposes.

Just west of the Monona assembly grounds is a long shallow reaching out into the lake. This accounts for the curved course which the steamers plying across the lake to that point have to take. In the same manner boats intending to pass from Winnequah to the Hoboken club are obliged to make a wide detour to avoid the shallows that fringe the mouth of the Catfish. There is a much greater proportion of marsh bordering Monona than there is about Mendota, the latter being surrounded almost entirely by outcroppings of the primeval rock. Towards the northern end of the lake the water shoals off very regularly finally producing the shallows that are visible along the Elmside shore. The contrast between the two lakes is a very decided one and they are of entirely different natures, the one bold and rugged, with a deep rocky basin; the other with flat, often marshy shores and a comparatively uninteresting bottom.

The map is prepared from surveys made by the civil engineering students of the class of 1901 and is issued by the geological and natural history survey of which Dr. E. A. Birge is director. The actual labor of assembling the results of the survey of the lake and getting them into form for publication was done by Professor L. S. Smith of the college of mechanics and engineering.

The method of surveying Monona was that of triangulation. A baseline was carefully measured with the utmost accuracy in the grounds of the Dane county fair association and from this as a basis stations were established on the crowns of neighboring hills. From these stations angles to various points on the lakeshore were carefully measured and the surface of the lake thus platted into a series of triangles. By reference to the baseline these triangles can be exactly determined and the areas carefully figured.

This survey is part of the work that is being systematically extended to include all the small lakes of any consequence in the state. Their economic aspects also come in for a large share of attention.

Basket Ball Team Defeated.

Wisconsin's basket-ball representatives were defeated at Minneapolis last Saturday by the University of Minnesota by a score of 42 to 15. The game was well played throughout and the cardinal's team went down before the superior playing and team work of the gophers.

Basket ball is the great winter sport at the University of the Twin Cities and, contrary to the custom here, is well supported by the students, being a recognized branch of Minnesota Athletics. The men are trained and coached carefully and attain a high degree of excellence. The line up in Saturday's game was as follows:

Thespians Return.

The Haresfoot Dramatic Club troupe returned yesterday afternoon from their final trip of the season. "A Colonial Girl" was most successfully presented at La Crosse and Winona Friday and Saturday evenings respectively. The production was enthusiastically received in both cities and at La Crosse especially the treatment of the members of the club was most cordial and hospitable.

It is not very likely that the play will be presented outside of Madison again this year. The management has received an urgent request to repeat the performance sometime in the near future for the benefit of the hospital fund but nothing definite has been decided upon as yet.

—Edwin J. Gross, law '03, has resumed his studies after a few days visit at Milwaukee.

What Has Become of the Student Hospital?

Last year some of the citizens of Madison began making arrangements for the erection of a student hospital; but beyond a little preliminary talk nothing more has been done. The small-pox scare and the other three or four cases of contagious diseases a month or two ago, are still fresh enough in the minds of all, to render unnecessary any lengthy discussion on the value of such a hospital.

The Cardinal does not propose to make any suggestions as to how the hospital should be managed, and supported, but it is believed that every student in the University is willing to pay an annual tax towards the maintenance of a student hospital. It is something we ought to have.

Let the public-minded citizens who started the project last year, meet again and continue their work, until it culminates in what the University urgently needs, a student hospital.

A New System.

A system has been inaugurated in the class in Taxation under Professor Ely that might well be followed in other studies. The plan is to have well-known experts in particular lines address the students during regular class hours upon the phases of the subject familiar to them. Addresses have already been given by Col. W. J. Anderson, S. Gilman, and Dr. Kinsman and further talks are expected from others equally qualified. The same plan has been tried in the study of insurance and both professor and students are warm in its praises as a practical and helpful method of gaining information.

The Weather.

Fair tonight and Tuesday.

Two hundred men have entered the preliminaries at the University of Michigan for the Michigan-Pennsylvania debate.

Communication.

To the Editor:—

In his reply to the communication of "Senior," Prof. Hobbs makes two points: (1.) The U. W. bulletin should be scientific; (2.) "Senior" was in "error" in quoting the Director of the School of Economics, Political Science and History as favoring publication.

As to the first, I would like to direct the attention of Prof. Hobbs to the publication of the U. W. catalogue and the annual directory as bulletins. Is either of them a scientific treatise? Is not the catalogue used almost exclusively for advertising purposes?

In the case of the second point I would like to state that the Director in question stated to me personally that he would be pleased to look over the debates for publication, and unless below the standard would endeavor to have them appear as bulletins. Time has obviously wrought some changes; changes making the correction of errors redundant.

From this it would appear that the objections against the publication of Joint Debates as bulletins are more in the nature of excuses, than of substantial reasons.

Sociology in Summer Session.

One of the most popular lines of work offered by the University in the summer of 1900 was sociology which was then under the charge of Professor Giddings. During the summer session of 1901 provision is made for an attractive course in sociology by Dr. Isaac A. Loos, director of the School of Political and Social Science in the University of Iowa. Dr. Loos describes his course as follows: "Sociology, four hours. The course will begin with synoptic lectures on the primary factors and forces of social phenomena, the social mind, and the social constitution. These will be followed by a more intensive study of social amelioration: police, sanitation, charities and correction."

Dr. Loos is one of the strong men of the country in sociology. His graduate work was carried on at Yale University 1897-82, College de France, Paris 1882-82 and Leipsic University 1883-84.

During the past two years Dr. Loos has been president of the Iowa State Conference on charities and correction. Among his numerous writings the most important is "Studies in the Politics of Aristotle and the Republic of Plato," a volume of nearly 300 pages which has been very favorably received.

Dr. Loos is a pleasant speaker, and his treatment of sociology will be found both interesting and scholarly.

ENGINEERS WILL RECEIVE.

New Building to be Open for Inspection Wednesday Evening.

On Wednesday evening the faculty and students of the College of Engineering will hold a reception in the new Engineering building. The new home of the Engineering Department will then be opened for the inspection of the public. All students and faculty members of the University as well as citizens of Madison are invited to attend. The building will be lighted throughout and all the laboratories and shops will be in operation. Members of the engineering faculty will assist Acting President Birge to receive the visitors and engineering students will be present to show the guests the various features of the new building. Governor La Follette and members of the legislature have been especially invited to be present.

Musical Matters.

The School of Music is gradually being fitted into its new quarters which are found to be comfortable in every way and a stimulus to additional work.

There seems to be a great deal of confusion regarding the name to be used in the future for the Old Library.
The term Old Library is often confused with the new Historical Library and inasmuch as the building is no longer a library it is suggested that the name be changed to Music Hall.

The lecture room on the second floor is being called into service not only by various teachers in the School of Music but by such societies as the Nora Samlag and the Germanistische Gesellschaft who find it convenient to get a place of meeting where they can get the use of a piano. The School of Music will give a public recitasome evening next week, the exact date not yet being decided upon.

The Choral Union is now taking up new work. One rehearsal has already been held at which time Barbara Frietchie was tried. Barbara Frietchie was composed entirely by Americans, the poem being by Whittier and the music by Jules Jordan.
Other compositions will be taken up soon. This is a favorable time for students to join.

The Girls Glee Club, which has been busily engaged with rehearsals is likely to appear before the public soon. The club is about the same size as last year but it is felt that a considerable improvement has been made in material.

Brief College Items.

The Illinois legislature visited the University of Illinois last week and witnessed an exhibition drill by the University regiment.

Iowa will send two student representatives to the inauguration at Washington on March 4th the expenses to be paid by contributions from the students.

The freshman class at Radcliffe elected among other officers, Miss Helen Keller, the only blind student who ever attempted to go through the institution, vice president of the class.

All students at Nebraska by a recent order were compelled to be vaccinated or leave the University. A student was recently taken to the pest house at Lincoln suffering with small-pox.

President Eliot has just completed a longer term of service as president of Harvard University than any one of his predecessors. Up to this time Edward Hoiyoke, (1737-1769) held the record.

RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE.

In Affiliation with the Univ. of Chicago.
Organized 1837.

The academic year of Rush Medical College is divided into four quarters, corresponding with those recognized with the University of Chicago, beginning respectively the first of July, first of October, first of January and first of April, each continuing for twelve weeks. A recess of one week occurs between the end of each Quarter and the beginning of the next following.

The general course of instruction requires four years of study in residence with a minimum attendance upon the Quarters of each year. A student may begin his college work on the first day of any Quarter, and may continue in residence for as many successive Quarters as he desires. Credit will not be allowed, however, for more than three consecutive Quarters. At least 45 months must elapse between the date of a first matriculation and the date of graduation. For further information, address

RUSH MEDICAL COLLEGE,
Chicago, Illinois.

At this time of year there is one thing that most people forget all about; that is their bicycle, it ought to be cleaned, overhauled and possibly enameled and parts nickel plated, a coaster hub brake would be a nice thing to have on it. This is the time to have these things attended to, so as 'twill be ready when the season opens. We do this work right. Wm.
