The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Bigshot and his Pipe

Long ago some bigshot saw some Indians smoking a pipe. He had never seen anyone smoking a pipe. So when he returned home, he made a pipe. When he finished eating, he went into, I'd say, the great room. Then he put tobacco in his pipe and he started to smoke great puffs of smoke. About that time they say his butler appears and noticed that this bigshot seemed to be burning. So he immediately went back to get a pail of water and ran back and threw it on the smoke. The bigshot was so taken aback with water being thrown on him as he was sitting in his rocking chair that the runners broke and he fell on his back.
