ARTUS BEHIND PLAN TO HOLD MEETING HERE

National Economics Honor
Fraternity Initiates 14
New Members

Plans were put on foot last night at the initiation banquet of Artus, national honorary economics fraternity, to bring the next national convention of the fraternity to Madison. At that time the local chapter will urge a policy of expansion which will place a chapter in every university in the country where the course in economics has attained front rank importance.

Fourteen men were taken in last night at a meeting which was featured by thoroughgoing and constructive talks from Profs. R. T. Ely, John R. Commons, William H. Kiekhofer, and I. Arnold Perstein '21, and Robert B. Stewart '22. Charles D. Assofsky presided as toastmaster.

New Initiates

The new members are: Leslie E. Brown '21, Wan H. Chiao '21, Oscar Christianson '21, Allan C. Davey '21, Hans A. Feldman '21, William B. Florea '21, Clarence C. Krause '21, Robert D. Lyons '21, Robert C. Orr '21, Edwin D. Ralph '21, Herman L. Sinafko '21, Melbourne Bergerman '22, Dean P. Kimball '22, and Robert B. Stewart '22.

In speaking on "The Challenge of Artus to the Initiates," Arnold Perstein '21 stressed the opportunity which was accorded the members to aid in solving some of the country's pressing economic problems through their connection with the fraternity. Replying for the initiates, Stewart pledged the new members to carry out the challenge to the point of keeping the Wisconsin chapter constantly in the lead.

Kiekhofer Speaks

Professor Kiekhofer commented briefly on the achievements of a number of graduate members of Artus. He pointed out how the personnel of the organization had been made up of men in all branches of university activities and who since graduation have achieved notable accomplishments although out of school only a comparatively short time.

Speaking on "The Practical Application of Economic Theory," Professor Ely, head of the department of economics, convincingly established the place of the theorist as a constructive medium for making leaders in all fields of endeavor. Professor Commons congratulated the organization on its proposed policy of expansion and the plan to bring Artus into closer touch with big men of practical affairs.

FRIDAY'S CARDINAL THETA SIG NUMBER

Not only will the members of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic fraternity for women, edit the Friday's issue of The Daily Cardinal, but they will take entire charge of the advertisements, make-up, and distribution of the paper, in keeping with the custom of publishing their annual edition.

There will be no regular delivery Friday and all the Cardinals will be sold on the hill by the Theta Sigs for 10 cents a copy. A share of the money will go toward the maintenance of the Theta Sigma Phi Register, an employment bureau for women in the profession of journalism.

As an April Fool edition, the paper will contain an unusual amount of feature stories, and several columns of skyrockets.

HERBERT ASSUMES CHARGE OF WORK ON "MISS 'QUITA"

"Man of a Hundred Operas"
Has Coached Several Former Haresfoot Shows

George Herbert, "the man of a hundred operas," has arrived in Madison to coach "Miss 'Quita," the Haresfoot club's twenty-third annual musical comedy. Twice each day, afternoon and evening, he is working with the cast, perfecting the dialogue and stage business.

Mr. Herbert has coached several former Haresfoot shows. "Jamaica Ginger" in 1916, and "Prof. Phiddle D. D." in 1917, given under his direction were great successes. He has just returned from Kansas City where he has been producing a musical comedy.

For a quarter century Mr. Herbert has directed musical comedies, and has followed the trail of operas, musical comedies, and plays over the entire United States. He has the reputation of being a most successful producer of amateur theatricals.

He is going over the dialogue of "Miss 'Quita" act by act, making changes here and there in order to give Haresfoot its most successful musical comedy. Each day the cast and chorus is taught some new trick of the trade. The amateur qualities are fast disappearing, and a cast complete, in all the arts of the profession, is rapidly being perfected.

"Miss 'Quita" will be seen in Madison for three performances, Friday and Saturday, April 22, and 23, matinee Saturday. The mail order sale opens at the Fuller theater April 12.

ENTERS RACE FOR ATHLETIC BOARD

Rolland Williams '23, a member of the varsity basketball five and a "W" man in football, has filed a petition announcing his candidacy for a position on the Athletic board as basketball representative. His work the past season in basketball won for him a place on the all-conference team as running guard.

Williams is also a member of the varsity baseball squad.

Languor of Spring Pervades Octopus in Latest Number

As spring-like and feverish as its claim, the Spring Fever number of the Octopus has almost too much atmosphere for one's peace of mind. It sets one dreaming of languorous evenings in canoes, auto rides in the country, and sunshine on the lake, much to the detriment of theses and mid-semester.

More than atmosphere, however, will be found on careful reading. There is quite a bit of food for thought in the jokes this month, both in discovering their points, and in appreciating them after they have been discovered. The Octopus seems to be developing in that it reads more carefully it is read, the more one finds in it.

Cover is Effective

From the startling and effective cover, through the Easter bonnet picture, the gay young couple in the frontispiece, the moonlight canoes, the readers by the sunny lake, and the rest, to the delicious "Dreams of a young man after reading a volume of Spring poems," the pictures are all unusual for a college publication, and show great diversity of types. STONE CHOSEN TRACK CAPTAIN OF FRESHMEN

Varsity Squad Prepares for Drake Relays
in April

Marshall L. Stone, Commerce student, was elected captain of the freshman track team at a meeting of first year track men on Thursday afternoon. Stone has been a consistent point winner in inter-company, inter-class, and inter-college meets throughout the entire indoor season and has won college insignia and numerals. He played quarterback on the freshman football team and scored his team's only touchdown in the annual freshman-sophomore gridiron contest.

Varsity and freshmen track men will move their equipment to Camp Randall on Thursday, April 1. Workouts for all track and field men except the broad jumpers, pole vaulters, and hurdlers will be held on the outdoor field after this date.

Drake Relays in April

Coach Thomas E. Jones is preparing his charges for the Drake relays which are scheduled for April 23. Teams have been entered in the four mile, two mile and one mile relays, and A. J. Knollin '22 has been entered in the 100 yard dash and the 120 yard hurdles. All members of the Western Inter-collegiate Athletic association and the Missouri Valley conference are entered in the Drake relays.

Clyde L. Nash '21, P. A. Kayser '21, L. P. Klug '21, E. W. Johnson '23, L. McCandless '23, J. C. Holbrook '22, R. C. Mattox '21, L. W. McClure '23, and W. J. Post '21 compose the group of candidates from which a mile relay team will be chosen.

Coach Jones will select his four-mile squad from the following men: Mark H. Wall '22, W. Brothers '21, C. W. Wille '22, H. C. Dennis '21, G. E. Finkle '23, R. O. Blodgett '23, H. H. Noble '22.

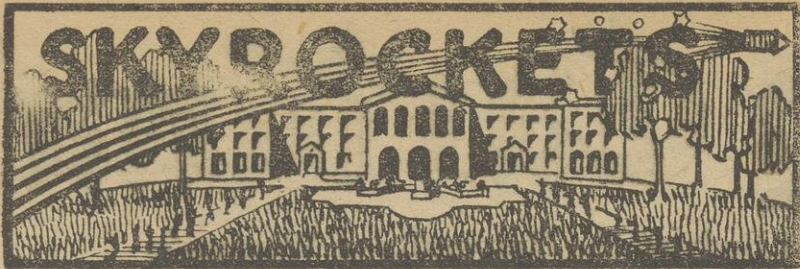

WELSH IS ELECTED PRESS CLUB HEAD

Vacancy Caused by Withdrawal From School of Bartels

Rodney Welsh '22 was elected president of Press club at the regular bi-weekly meeting last night in Lathrop hall. He will fill the position left vacant by the withdrawal from school of the former president, Raymond O. Bartels '22, who will take a position in Washington, D. C.

Speakers at the meeting were Charles P. MacInnis '22, who talked on "Types I Have Known"; William M. Sale '22, whose discussion covered the subject of "The Journalist's Need of Background"; and Wyman Smith who spoke on "Salable Feature stories."

MacInnis discussed types of people in their similarity to printer's type and pointed out the variety of people that come under the close scrutiny of the journalist. Sale emphasized the need of background in the field of journalistic work and pointed out the opportunities that slip past the journalist who lacks this essential. Smith gave some very good advice in the matter of gathering feature material and particularly stressed the necessity for thorough knowledge of the matter upon which the reporter is questioning his subject.

WE have discovered quite by accident that the classy co-ed who we see in "T" Gould's roadster sometimes is his sister—and sometimes—it isn't.

Oleo: "Have you spoken to any other girl this way?"
Margerine: "No, my love, I'm at my best this evening."

AFTER a little more of this warm weather the trees will begin to roll the bark on their limbs.

SOMEONE was telling us, we believe it was Ken Leith, about the man who shot himself in the basement, by blowing out his brains. Quite likely, Ken, quite likely.

NOW that galoshes cannot be used to attract attention away from unfortunate faces, we notice—er—rather, it was pointed out to us, that certain of the females are wearing flowers and other get'em designs on their stockings with equal success.

THE NOSIE NEWSIE

Today's question: "How're to-day?"

Tom Coxon: "Well, Washington is dead, you know, and so's Lincoln, and I'm not feeling very well, either."

Polly Schlossman: "I'm pretty sleepy, but I have two lectures to-day, so I suppose I'll be so wide awake by evening that I won't be able to sleep."

Rodney Welsh: "Outside of having about as much pep as last year's bird nest, I don't feel so good."

Elsie Gluck: "I feel rather tied down. Married life isn't all that it's cracked up to be."

Ralph Scheinpflug (from Boscobel): "I'm pretty good up here. How are you down there?"

SPRING FEVER IS IN THE AIR; TWO PLAN HOBBO HRIP

The world was wide and the weather was warm. Why study chemistry?

So thought two spring-fever-smitten students one day last week, so they boarded a box-car and started north. At Baraboo a brakeman found them and threw them off. They wandered around until another train came through headed for Madison.

A keen-eyed railroad detective, probably a graduate of a correspondence school, saw them as they made their run for the blinds; and since he is a reader of newspapers, he immediately visualized pictures of holdups and robberies. Here was a chance to make an arrest, and he burned the wires with a message telling Madison all about it.

When the embryo hoboes alighted in the Madison yards, two husky members of the police force tapped them on the shoulder professionally and asked questions. The questions were satisfactorily answered as to identity and occupation and the students were freed. Back in Baraboo the detective waits patiently for the reward that does not come.

YOUR FORTUNE? ASK CHARITY BALL GYPSY

Fortune-telling booths for men and women will be a prominent feature of the side-shows at the Charity Ball mixer Saturday night in the men's gymnasium. The women will be greeted by a tall, dark gentleman gypsy who will read the future in their palms, and the men will interview a gypsy girl.

The music for the dancing will begin promptly at eight o'clock, and the first comers will be given free favors—caps for the men and balloons for the women. About 400 of each have been ordered.

Costumes are to be worn by members of the general committee, but the party is not a costume affair.

Orange: "And he always calls her his Peach."

Blossom: "But she looks like a lemon."

O: "That's only when they come back from a canoe trip."

B: "No, then she looks like Crushed Fruit."

A SMOOTH ONE

"Do you use Wadham's gasoline?"

"O'll say I do."

WE overheard one little, innocent girl say today that she was getting along fine here, and that she was already on her fifth lap.

AT last a new name for that time-worn expression "Tea Hound" has come to our ears. Al Schmiedeman, departed and mourned, writes that they are called "Palm Onions" in Norway.

BUT doesn't that seem a little too strong, docile and mild-eyed as they are?

THESE days of hot weather and half hose have brought the "Leg of Nations" into its own.

WHICH is about as far as we dare to go.

Capt. Fred Ruffolo '22, Racine, is chairman of the boxes committee of the ninth annual Military ball to be held in the state capitol on April 8.

Ruffolo is secretary of Seaboard and Blade, honorary military fraternity, and is a member of Square club. He won the rifle competition last year and is the winner of second place honors in the pistol competitions of 1919 and 1920. A majority of these men are graduates and seniors in the university, who are preparing for professional careers in the field of administration. Several of the initiates are members of the university faculty, who give courses in Education. Some of the initiates are already holding administrative positions in Wisconsin and came to Madison especially for the installation.

Brainy U. S. Mail Driver Outwits Three Bandits

CHICAGO—Quick thinking by Robert Burdette, driver of a government mail truck, frustrated the plans of three bandits who tried to obtain registered mail from him today. Commanded under threats of pistols to throw the "money bags" into their automobile, Burdette tossed two sacks of non-registered mail into their thieves' machine. They compelled him to ride two blocks with them then pushed him out.

CULTURE OF FRUIT SHOWN IN FILMS

Movies will play the principal part at an open meeting of the Grafters' club which will be held at 7:30 tonight in Agricultural hall. Three reels taken in the great, extensive orange groves of California will be shown which, according to officials of the club, are of such a nature and have such instructive value that all interested in fruit culture should attend. The raising of oranges will be described from beginning to end.

Another reel to be shown is composed of pictures taken in the state of Wisconsin illustrating all phases of cherry growing in Door county. A fifth reel, filmed in Ohio, is illustrative of general orchard conditions in that state.

modes is especially successful in combining humor and art.

Jijiboom, well known from last year, and as good as ever, has returned with one of his bewilderingly funny "Jijiboom Papers," describing his thrilling adventures in the University club, on "The Coming of the Blue Laws."

The Duke de Khakiak contributes a paradoxically literal biography of Louis Kahlenberg. The funny-looking "Tale of a Tub," "The Title," a pointed playlet, Octy's Review of the Varsity Movie, "No Worry," another of the many poems about Adam, and the clever "Ballad of Blunders," are among the best of the long contributions this month.

Editorials Penetrating As usual, the editorials, which discuss with originality, penetration, and an astounding vocabulary, the subjects of the Exposition, the Military Ball, Theses, and the Modern Girl, are among the most unique features of a unique book. "Octy" takes a decided stand on these subjects and elucidates it convincingly and with great versatility.

The Octopus, perhaps, has caught a little too much of the objectionable part of the university atmosphere, now so much under discussion, and is helping to perpetuate it. But even if so, it is true to life, and cannot be blamed for its verisimilitude.

Southern Club Dance

The members of Southern club will entertain with an informal April Fool dance at the Tri Del house, on Friday, April 1. Appropriate features have been planned. Dr. and Mrs. E. B. Fred, and Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Lumpkin will chaperon.

POLAND'S MOST FAMOUS PORTRAIT PAINTER TO PRESENT CANVAS OF PERSHING TO WEST POINT MILITARY ACADEMY

Major Albert de Kossak with his canvas of General Pershing.

Major Albert de Kossak, who some time ago painted the then Kaiser Wilhelm of Germany, has almost completed a splendid canvas of General Pershing. The painting, which is shown here, is ten by six feet in size and when finished is to be presented to the U. S. Military Academy at West Point. De Kossak is a Polish artist and will make the presentation on behalf of his country. He is considered Poland's most distinguished and versatile military painter and reputed to have painted more crowned heads than any living artist. He was court painter to the ex-kaiser for eight years. During the war he served as major in the Polish cavalry.

THE GIRLS' JOINT DEBATE

THE annual joint debate between Castalia and Pythia Literary societies will be held in Music hall on next Friday evening. The contest is one that can be commended to all the students.

The question is one of lively national interest—the granting of immediate independence to the Philippine Islands. The issue, it is true, is an old one in American politics. It has occupied a conspicuous place in our political conflicts for a good many years. It has always been a source of sharp controversy. This controversy has, however, been given stimulus by President Wilson's message to Congress shortly before his retirement from the White House. The President then set forth his belief that the time had come when America must act on the question of Philippine independence. The question was thus placed before the American people for decision.

We may expect from Castalia and Pythia a clear and intelligent discussion of the question at issue. Judging from the girls' joint debates in the past, the argument next Friday night will be of a high standard. The teams, moreover, represent the best debating ability in their respective societies and have been working on the question for the past two months. The discussion, therefore, should shed considerable light on a question that the nation must face before a great while.

The girls' joint debate is one of the big numbers in Wisconsin's annual forensic program. It is perhaps outstripped in keenness of rivalry only by the traditional joint debate of Athenae, Hesperia, and Philomathia. The contest next Friday is the last all-university forensic event that will be held in Madison this year.

Students should support the joint debate next Friday night.

"THE RIVALS"

ON Saturday, April 9, Richard Brinsley's "The Rivals" will be presented by the Coffey-Miller Players for the purpose of increasing the university loan funds. These loan funds are used to help students who need financial assistance to complete their university education.

Both the nature of the presentation and the purpose to which the proceeds from it are dedicated merit student support.

"The Rivals" is well known as one of the classic comedies of the English language. It has, since its first presentation, been one of the most effective laugh producers in our literature. Without attempting literary criticism, it may be truly asserted that "The Rivals" is generally considered among the first of our English comedies, and is one of the few plays that have successfully withstood the years.

The satisfaction derived from seeing the presentation on April 9 should be enhanced by a knowledge of the purpose to which the proceeds go. The profits will be used to swell the loan funds with which the university helps students in need of financial aid.

Although the university last year loaned to needy students over $11,000, the funds were insufficient to meet the needs and aid all deserving persons who applied. With enlarged funds, the university could extend its help to a larger number of cases.

The loan fund is in reality the highest type of scholarship. It helps those who need and deserve help. At the same time, it provides for the return of the money in due time so that other students may be similarly benefited. Such a proposition is truly deserving of student support.

TOLSTOY TO TELL TRUTH ON RUSSIA

Noted Russian Will Lecture at Madison High School on April 6

Count Ilya Tolstoy, eminent novelist and philosopher, will deliver his lecture, "The Truth About Russia," at the Madison high school auditorium, April 6 at 8 o'clock.

Tolstoy has recently returned from Russia, where he made a careful study of the political and economic conditions in his native country. He is anti-bolshevik. This is but because he is opposed to all royalist in his political views; nor because all his land and personal possessions were confiscated by the Bolsheviks, as in fact they were; but because his is opposed to all class-rule, whether by capital or by labor.

His lecture contains material regarding Bolshevism in America and a proposed solution of the labor problem. It is illustrated with 1,200 feet of motion pictures taken in Russia and lasts one hour and twenty minutes.

Tickets may be secured by mail from the Tolstoy Lecture committee, 215 Forst street, or after April 1 at the A. E. Smith Music company, State street.

Data on a new superintendent of public schools to succeed Charles S. Meek, who resigned recently, is being gathered by the special school board committee on superintendents, John Moran, secretary, announced Tuesday.

No publicity will be given on the probable candidates in order that they may be spared embarrassment. The committee has received no applications for the post, and, as the result of its previous announcements, will probably not receive any.

The records of the secretary of state show there are approximately 100,000 automobile owners who have neglected to get their 1921 license. Two weeks ago, Elmer S. Hall, secretary of state, said that a small army of inspectors would be sent out April 1 to round up and prosecute the delinquents. Warrants will be immediately issued and the offenders will have a state fine to pay beside the license fee.

MODEL TEA-ROOM IS CENTER OF EXHIBIT

Home Economics Department to Demonstrate Work at Exposition

A model tea room showing the work done in the course in institutional management, interior decoration, costume design, and principles of food, will be the principal part of the Home Economics exhibit at the University Exposition of the University of Wisconsin, April 21, 22, and 23.

A laundry showing all the latest labor-saving devices in operation, a living room furnished according to the principles of house decoration, and a clothing exhibit with complete wardrobes for a family of four, will be included in the exhibit.

A model kitchen will show how the work of a large institution is handled. The decorations of the tea room will demonstrate a work in interior decoration; the costumes of the waitresses will be the work of the class in costume designing; and the food served will illustrate the principle of nutrition.

In the laundry the housewife may see how the drudgery of Blue Monday may be lightened by modern equipment efficiently arranged. There will also be figures to show the difference in cost and results of home and commercial laundry work.

In the clothing exhibit there will be family clothing budgets, studies in cost showing which articles of dress may most cheaply be purchased in the stores and which may be made at home and the actual wardrobes.

As the department of home economics is part of the College of Agriculture, the Home Economics exhibit will be part of the general scheme of that college to show the production, transportation, and utilization of Wisconsin products. The Home Economics exhibit will illustrate the principle of utilization and will use only Wisconsin products as far as possible.

DETROIT SYMPHONY SHOWS BRILLIANT TECHNIQUE IN PLEASING CONCERT

By WALTER K. SCHWINN

There will always exist, I suppose, a fallacious idea among a great class of people that symphony is pleasure only for the intellectual, entertainment for the intelligent. This is rather too bad, for while it is undoubtedly true that there are complex orchestral constructions, perhaps the greater part of symphony is intended purely and simply for the emotional reaction produced; and these reactions are as common and universal as the feelings produced by a vibrant voice, or a powerful and colorful picture.

Last night at the armory, the Detroit orchestra, under the direction of Ossip Gabrilowitsch, played the second concert of the series given by the Madison orchestra association. Out of the five numbers played, the best, to my mind, was the Debussy "L'après-midi d'un Faune." It is an eerie, exotic sort of thing, without apparent form; intellectual it is, perhaps, yet it did not fail to reach every one of the audience, and produce in them a definite reaction. The orchestra gave it a warm tone, and interpreted the mood of the sensuous poem with judgment.

The Detroit orchestra is a young organization, and showed brilliant technique and tone. The resonance of the Minneapolis organization is not evident in the Detroit band, but there is finish and sureness. The symphony was Brahms' C minor, and was played with understanding. The strings were especially effective throughout, while the horns, in a brief chorale, gave a melodic and harmonious tone. Brahms, as played by Gabrilowitsch and his organization last night, was interesting and appreciated by everyone. The work was more colorful in this than in most of the selections.

The program closed with Tschai-kowsky's Capriccio Espagnol, a brilliant number, designed to show off each part of the orchestra, with good solos by the violin, the harp, and the horns. It was a tinkly thing, and ended the program very effectively.

This is the Detroit orchestra's first Madison appearance, and the pleasurable reception to last night's concert shows that it will be welcome again. The band is well-balanced, has strength and power and tone, and, what is much more, has poetical imagination that gives its interpretations an artistic finish in a high degree.

PRICES DOWN; JOBS SCARCE

Federal Reserve Bank Declares Unemployment Growing

MINNEAPOLIS—Credit conditions in the northwest improved considerably during February and in the first half of March, according to the monthly statement of the ninth federal reserve bank.

Prices, wholesale and retail, declined during February. There was also a reported reduction in the volume of business, while unemployment increased.

Wholesale cash prices on all grains, all meats except hogs and for numerous kinds of produce declined. Average retail prices declined, with greatest recessions in clothing. Food prices increased in some cities. Building materials prices remained firm except for lumber which showed a decline. Farm values have receded as compared with a year ago.

The reduction in business volume and prices measured by payments through banks in February was 10 per cent below January.

Employment agencies placed 17 per cent fewer persons in February than in the previous month and demand for laborers declined 75 per cent for men and 60 per cent for women as compared with 1920. Local relief agencies reported more unemployment than at any time since February, 1915.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND

Jackie Coogan, whose work in "The Kid," the First National picture now showing at the Grand, has stamped him as one of the greatest juvenile actors ever discovered, is boy first and actor afterward as many things which happened during the filming of the picture in the Chaplin studio have shown.

Jackie, in common with most other boys in the world, had laughed at the comedian's antics on the screen and therefore had a great deal of respect for Mr. Chaplin at the time he was selected to portray the title role in the production. The greatest trouble he encountered during the taking of the picture was the penchant of women visitors to the studio to make a fuss over him. His smallness and appealing face just naturally make women want to make a fuss over him and frequently commit his pet aversion of kissing him. One woman was particularly bothersome on this score, and one morning when Jackie showed up on the set, the whole side of his face was entirely void of make-up. "I guess that's the place where Mrs. (mentioning the name of the woman) slobbered all over me just before I was called," was the excuse offered in boyish disgust. The kissing stopped.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Miss Leona La Mar, the girl with the 1,000 eyes, who sees all, knows all and tells all is drawing the crowds to the Orpheum theater this week, where she is mystifying all with her remarkable demonstration of mind-reading. Other acts of interest on this unusual vaudeville bill are Lane and Moran in song, dance and patter; Louis Hart's Dream of "Jack and the Beanstalk" and "The Giant Killer"; Hazel Harrington and company in the comedy playlet "Pairs Repaired"; Miss Rosa Clare, the 1950 girl in "Looking Ahead"; Garcinetti Brothers; Kinograms and Topics of the Day pictures. At the matinee today Miss La Mar will hold a reception for the ladies, answering all their questions. Miss La Mar remains at the Orpheum for the entire week, but the balance of the bill, five acts of vaudeville and pictures, will change Thursday as usual, when William Mandel & Co.; Belle Montrose; Valentine Vox; Jewell and Raymond and Gillett, will appear.

FAMED NATURE WRITER MEETS SUDDEN DEATH

John Burroughs Dies on Train Returning From West

NEW YORK—John Burroughs, famous naturalist, died at 2 o'clock this morning on a New York Central train at Kingsville, O. Word of Mr. Burroughs' death was received here by New York Central officials.

He was returning east after spending the winter in Pasadena, Calif., where he was reported to have been slightly ill with afflictions incident to old age. He was in his 84th year.

John Burroughs was the venerable dean of nature-writer in the United States. Through a score of books he shared with countless readers his life-long intimacy with birds, bees, flowers and the whole out-of-doors. His highly developed powers of observation and the charm of his interpretations were the marvel of his critics.

His flowing white beard, his kindly mien, his whole habit of life, and his literary style were rather reminiscent of that famous New England school of essayists a generation or two before him. His early writings on "Expression," was at one time widely mistaken for the work of Emerson, a close reader of whom Burroughs had been from youth. His later works on nature suggested something of Thoreau, but as critics said, Burroughs was the more sociable writer.

Known by Madison Men.

"John Burroughs had much the same personality as his books," said L. J. Cole, professor of genetics at the university, in commenting on the death of the naturalist. Prof. Cole became acquainted with Mr. Burroughs on the Harriman Alaska expedition in 1899, when John Muir accompanied the naturalist.

"He was a keen observer," said Mr. Cole, "one who observed from the standpoint of living animals and birds. He was a man who saw the poetry of things. He knew nature intimately. He was not a scientist in the strictest sense of the term, but he understood the scientific point of view."

"Burroughs did a great work in nature study," said G. Wagner, associate professor of zoology at the university. "He wrote charmingly and in that way he interested a great many people in nature study. He was really a poet, and at the same time an accurate observer."

NEW POLICY FRAMED BY COMMERCE CLUB

A new constitution which provides for varied activities which will make for the success of the Commerce school and promote cooperation between the faculty and students in the Commerce course was adopted at a meeting of the Commerce club in the P. E. building last evening.

One of the aims of the new constitution is to bring the Commerce student into closer relation with the business men of the state and nation.

The Commerce club, by provision of the new constitution, will, in the future, have supervision over the Commerce Advisory commission, which welcomes incoming students and aids them in their work.

Students at the University of Michigan are agitating the introduction of swimming as a minor sport in the university, according to the Michigan Daily. A petition circulated around the campus last week was signed by over 4,000 men, all of whom declared themselves in favor of the new sport.

FIRST PRACTICE HELD BY FROSH BASEBALL SQUAD

Pitching Staff Appears Strong —More Catchers Needed

The first freshman baseball practice of the year was held in the gymnasium annex yesterday afternoon. About 60 candidates turned out and, since many are men of some experience, Coach Meinert feels encouraged at the prospects for the coming season.

As soon as the weather warms up, the practices will be held at Camp Randall. After the spring vacation the Frosh squad will be used in practice against the Varsity.

The pitching staff appears to be especially strong. Gorton Rietche, who played with the Princeton freshmen last year; Robert Bosworth, formerly of Oklahoma University; "Lefty" Smith, and Robert Sykes are among the more promising candidates.

Catchers are badly needed. Bedwell, who played with the Stevens Point normal team, and Whitten are the only candidates for that position who show any promise. John Towle, Hjalmer Oyen, Penn Livingston, Howard Combacker, James Jardine, Zac Jardine, and James Powell have shown up well in the infield and outfield and will probably make the squad.

Coach Meinert hopes that more candidates will be out for the various positions by the time the outdoor practices are begun.

EXPO CONVOCATION PLANNED FOR ALL

To give students not actually working on Exposition committees an idea of the scope and importance of the University Exposition, an All-university convocation will be held Thursday, April 7, at 4:30 p.m. in the gymnasium.

Classes will be dismissed at that hour, so that every student may attend. A member of the faculty and two students, to be announced later, will discuss the aims and work of the Exposition.

The convocation is held at this time in order that, when they go home for Spring vacation, students will be able to talk intelligently about the Exposition and explain the purpose of the project.

The committee on arrangements is headed by Milton Borman '21. The other members are Wesley Travers '21, and Elmer A. Kletzien '23.

ASSISTANT GENERAL CHAIRMEN FOR ALL-UNIVERSITY EXPOSITION

C. F. RASMUSSEN '22

C. F. Rasmussen is one of the two assistant chairman of the University Exposition, appointed by William B. Florea, general chairman. The six committees under his supervision are the Reception, Entertainment, Admission, Information, Decoration, and Program committee.

Rasmussen is a member of White Spades, Eta Kappa Nu, and Acacia. He was Ticket manager of senior play of 1918, Advertising assistant for programs of 1919 Homecoming, and chairman of the Ways and Means committee for 1920 Homecoming. He was also Circulation manager of the 1921 Badger and was Associate Business manager of Who's Who published last year. He is Business manager of this year's Badger and is a member of the Advertising club. Rasmussen also served as one of the Assistant chairmen of the 1922 Prom.

The other assistant general manager of the Exposition is Harold W. Lamb '21, Grand Rapids, Mich. There are seven committees working under the supervision of Lamb, which includes approximately 200 workers.

Lamb is a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He was on the freshman gymnasium team, served on the Finance committee of the sophomore class of 1921, and was chairman of the Decorations committee for the 1921 Prom. He is working on the senior Class Play committee of this year.

PYTHIA-CASTALIA IN JOINT DEBATE

Co-eds will occupy the forensic limelight Friday night when the women's literary societies, Pythia and Castalia, clash in their annual joint debate at Music hall on the question of giving the Philippines an independence equal to that of Cuba.

The affirmative will be supported by Castalia with a team composed of Florence Koltes '23, Mildred Thorne '22, and Gladys Haskins '22, closer. Fern Busby '21, Carol Conlee '22, and Eleanor Sheares '22, closer, will uphold the negative for Pythia.

MICHIGAN SIXTH IN COLLEGE ENROLLMENTS

Michigan is sixth in total university enrollment, with Columbia first, California second, Chicago third, Pennsylvania fourth, and New York fifth. Its total enrollment is placed at 10,158, which is 203 more than in 1919 for full time regular students, and 987 more for total enrollment.
