The Service of an Electrical Research Laboratory

The research facilities of the General Electric Company are an asset of world-wide importance, as recent war work has so clearly demonstrated. Their advantages in pursuits of peace made them of inestimable value in time of war.

A most interesting story tells of the devices evolved which substantially aided in solving one of the most pressing problems of the war—the submarine menace. Fanciful, but no less real, were the results attained in radio communication which enabled an aviator to control a fleet of flying battleships, and made possible the sending, without a wire, history-making messages and orders to ships at sea. Scarcely less important was the X-ray tube, specially designed for field hospital use and a notable contribution to the military surgical service. And many other products, for both combatant and industrial use, did their full share in securing the victory.

In the laboratories are employed highly trained physicists, chemists, metallurgists and engineers, some of whom are experts of international reputation. These men are working not only to convert the resources of Nature to be of service to man, but to increase the usefulness of electricity in every line of endeavor. Their achievements benefit every individual wherever electricity is used.

Scientific research works hand in hand with the development of new devices, more efficient apparatus and processes of manufacture. It results in the discovery of better and more useful materials and ultimately in making happier and more livable the life of all mankind.

Booklet, Y-863, describing the company's plants, will be mailed upon request. Address Desk 37

"The need of preparation for the peaceful pursuits of normal existence is not less imperative than that we should be prepared for war. We have shown that the colleges have helped in a great national crisis and we should, as alumni, see to it that they are prepared to furnish men who will help to bring in the victories of peace which are no less difficult to win than those of war."

An increase in salaries, amounting to nearly 25 per cent per annum and beginning with the second semester of the current year, has just been granted to the faculty of the University by action of the Board of Salaries Raised Regents. In announcing the increase to the faculty President E. A. Birge said:

"The Regents of the University have made a substantial addition to the salaries of the faculty to take effect the second semester of the current year. The addition applies to those persons who were members of the faculty in preceding years and only in exceptional cases to those who entered the faculty with the current year.

"This change in salaries has not been made on the basis of a flat percentage, but the addition amounts to the average rate of nearly 25 per cent for professors and to a somewhat smaller rate for instructors. During the war and since its close substantially no addition has been made to the salaries of professors, while considerable advances have been made in salaries of the teachers of lower rank. The University, in common with all other institutions, recognized that the men on lower salaries were hit more immediately and harder by rising costs than those receiving larger pay, and properly used its resources to meet such cases.

"The Regents found that the continued increase of costs since the armistice and the action taken on salaries by other universities have made it not only desirable but necessary for them to act at this time. Last summer they divided the sum of $50,000 as a bonus addition chiefly among the middle and lower salaries. It was hoped that prices would decline and that this action would bring temporary relief. But this hope has been wholly disappointed and the Regents are faced with the necessity of doing something which is less inadequate to meet the situation than the bonus proved to be. The additions made for the coming semester together with the bonus mean an addition of somewhat more than $150,000 during the current year to the salaries of the instructional force. This sum, however, large as it seems from the pre-war point of view, is obviously far below the increased cost of living which has occurred since we entered the war.

"The salary limit for full professors has not been greatly raised at the upper end in consequence of the recent action. Their salaries formerly extended from $3,000 to $5,000. The salaries as now fixed range from $3,500 to $5,750. But the advances within the limits have been such as to make the average increase nearly equal to 25 per cent per annum. The minimum salary of the assistant professor, as salaries are now fixed, is $2,000, which was the former standard maximum; and that of associate professor is $2,750, also the former standard maximum. It should be said that during the war a considerable number of these junior professors have already been paid salaries in advance of the standard maximum. The plans of the Regents are to apply these increases for the coming academic year, but no definite fixed scale of salaries has been adopted by them.

"The Regents have found it possible to take this action because of increased receipts from student fees, from the soldier bonus students, and to savings occasioned by the war, etc., which have added to the operation budget and to the balance in the University fund income.

"No one should suppose, however, that the financial status of the University is even temporarily settled by this action. The legislature of 1919 in making the appropriation for the University authorized the Regents to draw on the balance in the operation budget in order to meet current expenses. Such a resource can last only a short time. The appropriation for operation must be put on a permanent basis and must be largely increased. As provided by the legislature of 1919 it was calculated to enable the University to teach 5,000 students at pre-war costs. The University must teach more than 7,000 students at post-armistice costs. Thus the need for increased salaries for the staff and for an increased staff for the students make evident the necessity for far-reaching action."

A training school for nurses has been established in connection with the infirmary and Bradley Memorial Hospital at the University under the direction of the Medical School. Miss Florence Patterson, graduate of Northwestern and Johns Hopkins Hospital Training School for Nurses, will be in charge. Applicants for admission to the course must be graduates of high schools accredited by the University and must be between 19 and 35 years of age. Successful completion of the course will lead to a certificate of graduation.

The school will offer the standard nurses' course of three years of twelve months each, and the work will be divided into tri-mester periods beginning in October, February, and June. Wisconsin college graduates who have the requisite science work will be given at least nine months' credit in the three-year course. Women students in the University who are working for the bachelor's degree may combine their college work with the nurses' training so as to receive the certificate in a shorter period.

In connection with the new school, the Medical Department has established new courses in diet in disease, infant feeding, principles and methods of nursing, nursing in cases of mental disease, public health nursing and institutional nursing.

1920 BAND REUNION

By DONALD M. BENNETT, Manager
1919-20 University Band

A BIG reunion of all former band men is being planned for June 20-23. The members of the 1915 band which played at the Panama Pacific Exposition are behind the movement to have the 600 former Wisconsin band men get together next June for three days of talking, eating and music. In the interest of this reunion, The Band Echo is being published periodically by the members of the 1915 band, with headquarters at 215 Gay Building, Madison. The following is the executive committee:

J. E. Saugstad, editor; C. A. Mann, invitation; Leo Schoepf, publicity; Herbert Whipple, secretary; C. H. Sanderson, treasurer; D. M. Bennett, manager 1919-1920 band.

A program is being planned for commencement week, which in addition to the usual picnics, smokers and talk fests, includes concerts by the entire band. Have you ever heard a 600 piece band? Did you ever hope to hear one? Now is your chance!

The purpose of this reunion is two-fold: First, to afford an opportunity for the old band men to get together and talk over old times. Second, to establish a permanent organization of Wisconsin band men, which will promote the traditional spirit which has made the Wisconsin band what it is today. In this connection will be emphasized the fact that the Wisconsin band is a permanent institution which is not dependent entirely upon the personnel of the band today, but is merely a continuation from the preceding year. The band has been in existence for over thirty years; some years with greater success than others, but every year it has been the "Wisconsin Band." With a permanent organization to foster this idea, the present representatives of the Wisconsin band may be made to see their responsibility in keeping the standard of the organization to which they may belong up to that of those which have gone before.

SKI SPORT AT WISCONSIN

By FINN AANESEN

THE first ski tournament ever held in Madison took place Saturday, February 14, at Muir Knoll, under the auspices of the Badger Ski Club and the University Athletic Department.

Five ski riders were entered from Chicago, five from Eau Claire, five from Stoughton, three from Mount Horeb, three from Chippewa Falls, one from Milwaukee, one from Madison, and fourteen from the University. The skiers had their headquarters at the Norwegian House, 703 State Street, where they were busy from early morning preparing for the contest, and at 2:15 sharp they were ready on the top of the scaffold. About a thousand spectators were gathered in spite of the cold weather, and as many hearts stopped beating when the first jumper, Erling Landvig of Stoughton, shot out into the air to light 95 feet below the take-off, and in perfect form rush down the hill and out on the lake. Then jump followed jump in rapid succession, and many bad tumbles on the hard slide thrilled the spectators even more than did the standing jumps. The tournament as a whole was a success. The result was as follows: Ingolf Sand, Stoughton, first; John Plechta, Milwaukee, second; Carl Olson, Madison, third; Carl Neilson, Chicago, longest standing. The Badger Ski Club placed Sverre Strom as number six.

This ski meet is the first ever held at any university in America, and it means the start of a new and wonderful sport. Skiing is without comparison the healthiest and most exciting of all winter sports. It takes a great deal of practice, but even that is fascinating. The feeling of the skier cannot be described but it may be imagined. To go rushing down a hillside at a speed of 90 miles an hour, over bumps and holes, turning sharp curves without decreasing speed, and continuing downwards, is more exciting than words can express. To shoot upwards into the air and finally light 150 feet or more from the take-off, is not only thrilling, it is so wonderful that it beats everything in the way of sport.

To introduce skiing at the University and possibly make it a collegiate sport for the Middle West is the aim of the Badger Ski Club. The club was organized last winter, and plans were then made for this season. The question of a suitable location was discussed and a proposition was presented to the Athletic Department to turn over Muir Knoll to the Ski Club, and supply the necessary materials and skilled workers. It seemed expensive for such a new and unknown sport, but Coach Tom Jones and the Athletic Department were enthusiastic about our plans, as were the other authorities of the University, so our proposition was soon granted.

During Christmas recess the sixteen Norwegian students went to work, and in less than two weeks the entire hill was changed to a ski slide of perfect profile, though not very large.

The official opening of the hill took place Sunday, January 11, when more than three thousand spectators witnessed a thrilling exhibition. The sport was introduced, and more than thirty new members were enrolled in the club, and many enthusiasts started practicing.

The Badger Ski Club has a good start, but there is still a great deal to do. Many out-of-town skiers came to the tournament to help boost the ski sport and procure money for a better slide. On account of the cold weather, however, we barely made expenses. The Athletic Department, the Regents, the students, and the townspeople are very enthusiastic over the new sport. Four hundred dollars was guaranteed to cover a possible deficit from the tournament, and on the list of guarantors were such men as Governor Philipp, Magnus Swenson, A. C. Larson, C. A. Johnson, and many other prominent citizens of Madison. It shows that we have the interest, but we need one thing more—we need money. A perfect slide can be built on Muir Knoll for about $2,000, and with such a slide the University would add great fame to its name, and would become the center for the American ski sport. There is no doubt that it would be a paying proposition, as all other ski slides in the U. S. A. have proven to be good business enterprises, and not one of them has as good a location as Madison.

The Badger Ski Club is very thankful for what the University has done. The name of the University of Wisconsin is already popular among the ski riders and the ski fans of the entire Middle West, but the thing is now too large to be handled by the student organization. As Wisconsin has its ski stars and the sport is popular, if the University will take over the financial side and put money into it, there is no end to what can be gained. An organization similar to the Badger Ski Club was formed at the University of Minnesota, so let us use our handicap and keep in the lead, else we might see another university go ahead of us, for wherever ski sport is introduced it will keep growing forever.

A dispatch from Gary, Illinois, shows that Sverre Strom of U. of W. won the Illinois championship. Tom Norberg, 4th; Joe Ihlen, 5th; H. Holter, 7th, and the prize for the longest standing jump. All the men mentioned are from the Badger Ski Club, and represent the U. of W.

CONSTITUTION

ARTICLE I—NAME AND OBJECT

Section 1—The name of this Association shall be The General Alumni Association of the University of Wisconsin.

Section 2—The object of the Association shall be to promote the welfare of the University, and to encourage the interest of the alumni in the University and in each other.

ARTICLE II—MEMBERSHIP DUES

Section 1—Any graduate or former student of the University, or any person who has been or is affiliated with the University, may become a regular member on payment of the regular dues, which are hereby fixed at two dollars per year, payable in advance.

Section 2—Any graduate or former student may become a life member on payment of fifty dollars for that purpose; and shall be exempt from payment of annual dues. Money received from life memberships shall go into the Permanent Endowment Fund.

Section 3—All voting members shall be entitled to receive the official publications of the Association. All graduates shall be considered members until they refuse to pay their annual dues.

ARTICLE III—OFFICERS AND DUTIES ELECTION

Section 1—The officers of the Association shall be a president, vice-president, recording secretary and treasurer; an Alumni Board and an Alumni Council.

Section 2—All said officers shall take office upon election and hold the same for one year or until their successors are elected. The president and vice-president shall be eligible to re-election only once. Officers shall perform the usual duties of their offices.

Section 3—The president, vice-president, and recording secretary shall be elected by the Alumni Council; the treasurer by the Alumni Board.

Section 4—A general secretary shall be employed by the Alumni Board. He shall not be a University employee or regent. He shall have charge of the Alumni Magazine; Keep the graduate and former student records; Promote active class organizations; Aid in the formation of local clubs and in Founders Day and other banquets; Collect the alumni dues; Have general supervision of the administrative work of the local office; and perform such other duties as the Alumni Board shall prescribe. He shall receive such salary and expenses as the Alumni Board shall direct.

Section 5—The Alumni Board.

The Alumni Board shall consist of the president, vice-president, recording secretary, treasurer, the retiring president, and five members at large. Three of the members at large shall be elected at the annual business meeting and two by the Alumni Council.

The Alumni Board shall manage and direct the affairs of the Association, and the president shall act as its executive head.

The Board shall meet on call of the president, at least once in two months from October to June. The first meeting shall be held on the first Saturday in October and the second on the date of the Alumni Council meeting. The Alumni Board shall at all times contain at least one alumnus from the colleges or schools of Engineering, Law, Agriculture, Letters and Science, and Medicine. (At present engineering, law, agriculture, and letters and science.)

The Board may fill vacancies in any office, including its own membership; and for unexpired terms in the Board of Visitors.

At least once a year the Alumni Board shall submit through the Alumni Magazine questions which the Board deem of sufficient importance to justify securing a vote by mail from all the members of the Association. If 50 per cent or more reply within thirty days, the result of such vote shall be binding upon the Alumni Board.

Section 6—The Alumni Council.

The Alumni Council shall consist of the Secretary or other duly chosen representative of each class and of each local alumni association or club, and ten members at large to be elected at the annual business meeting.

Each local association and each class shall be entitled to one representative or vote for each hundred regular members of the general association, or fraction thereof. Each local association must file with the general secretary a copy of its constitution, by-laws and annual membership list.

The Alumni Council shall meet on call of the president, and at least twice in each year. A majority of the Alumni Council shall constitute a quorum. The first meeting shall be held at the time of the home-coming football game, and at this meeting the officers of the Association shall be elected. A meeting shall also be held on the day before Alumni Day of Commencement Week. At this meeting the Alumni Council shall elect the alumni members of the Board of Visitors, on the recommendation of the Alumni Board. In addition to its other powers, the Alumni Council shall adopt the by-laws of this Association.

ARTICLE IV—ANNUAL BUSINESS MEETING

The annual business meeting of the Association shall be held at Madison on Alumni Day of Commencement Week. Fifty members shall constitute a quorum.

ARTICLE V—REPORT OF OFFICERS

The president, recording secretary, and treasurer of the Association shall report both at the annual business meeting and the fall meeting of the Alumni Council.

ARTICLE VI—ENDOWMENT FUND

Section 1—There is hereby established a Permanent Endowment Fund, into which shall be paid all subscriptions for life memberships and other contributions to such fund. This fund shall be handled by a board of three trustees, to be elected by the Alumni Council and to hold office at the will of the Council and until their successors are elected and qualified. Such trustees shall have charge of the Fund and shall invest the same in safe security, paying over to the treasurer only the net income of such fund. They shall handle special endowment funds, if any, in accordance with the plans of the giver.

Section 2—There is also established a Living Endowment Fund, to consist of yearly contributions from alumni—aside from dues—for the present use of the Association. Such fund shall be kept separate from the other funds of the Association, and be transferred to the general funds of the Association on vote of the Alumni Board as needed.

ARTICLE VII—AMENDMENTS

This Constitution may be amended by a referendum vote, by mail, of the members of the Association, a majority of the votes received must be for the amendment.

Amendments may be proposed by the Annual Business Meeting, the Alumni Council, or by petition of thirty members of the Association. They must be filed with the general secretary at least thirty days before the vote is taken, and published in one issue of the Alumni Magazine.

ARTICLE VIII—REPEALING

The present Constitution of the Alumni Association of the University of Wisconsin was adopted June 22, 1910. All acts amendatory and all by-laws accompanying same are hereby repealed. This constitution shall take effect upon adoption. The present officers shall hold over until their successors are elected and qualified.

BY-LAWS

ARTICLE I—STANDING COMMITTEES

The standing committees of the Alumni Association shall be three in number: A funds committee, a membership committee and a legislative committee. They shall be appointed by the president and shall consist of five members each, in addition to the president and secretary, who shall be ex-officio members. They shall hold office for one year or until their successors are appointed and their duties shall be determined by the Alumni Board.

ARTICLE II—ELECTIONS

Elections shall be by ballot, on verbal nomination, unless directed otherwise by unanimous consent.

ARTICLE III—ALUMNI MAGAZINE

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine shall be the official organ of the Association.

ARTICLE IV—ORDER OF BUSINESS

The order of business at the annual business meeting, and the Alumni Council meeting shall be as follows:

1. Reading of minutes of previous meeting.
2. Report of officers.
3. Reports of standing committees.
4. Report of special committees.
5. Unfinished business.

6. New business.
7. Adjournment.

When not in conflict with the Constitution and By-Laws, Robert's Rules of Order shall govern the proceedings of all meetings.

ARTICLE V—AMENDMENTS

These by-laws may be amended by a majority vote at any meeting of the Alumni Council.

NOTE:—Members are asked to keep this issue of the MAGAZINE containing the Constitution and By-Laws for future reference.

BOOK NOTES

Special Feature Articles, by W. G. Bleyer '96. (Houghton Mifflin & Company, Boston.) In this book the author considers the field, the various steps in preparation, and even the selling of special features. The work is based on an analysis of writings of this nature, and articles that are typical of various publications are reprinted. The following prefatory remarks of the author are significant: "To train students to write articles for newspapers and popular magazines may, perhaps, be regarded by some college instructors in composition as an undertaking scarcely worth their while. They would doubtless prefer to encourage their students to write what is commonly called 'literature.' The fact remains, nevertheless, that the average undergraduate cannot write anything that approximates literature, whereas experience has shown that many students can write acceptable popular articles. Moreover, since the overwhelming majority of Americans read only newspapers and magazines, it is by no means an unimportant task for our universities to train writers to supply the steady demand for well-written articles."

Peace in Friendship Village, by Zona Gale. '95 (The Macmillan Company, New York) is another Calliope Marsh story in which Miss Gale pictures life and the interests of a small town in her characteristically sympathetic strain. The "folks" of Friendship Village have had a great many interesting experiences, and Calliope herself has attended a convention in the city, since their doings were last chronicled.

Wheat Growing in Wisconsin, by E. J. Delwiche, '06, and B. D. Leith, '11 (published as Bulletin 305 of the U. of W. Agricultural Experiment Station). Regional questions, soil conditions and adaptations, time of seeding, wheat diseases, rotation, and variety tests are some of the topics considered which will interest wheat growers. The authors make the statement that "Wisconsin has 'come back' as a wheat-producing state. * * * On the right kind of soil, in the proper rotation, and with high-yielding, pedigreed seed, wheat is now a prominent and paying crop in the state."

CHICAGO

By C. L. BYRON, '08

GODFREY H. Atkin, better known in Chicago as "Tommy" Atkin, has a real hobby. It is sailing on the Great Lakes. On January 23 this busy Chicago business man took time to tell us of many of his thrilling adventures and races between Chicago and Mackinac. Captain of his fleet, he spoke with the fervor of an old tar. He loves sailing and carried us away in its atmosphere, leaving us with this sentiment:

"I must down to the seas again, the silent sea and sky,
And all I ask is a tall ship, and a star to steer her by,
And the wheel's kick and the wind's song,
and the white sails shaking,
And the grey mist on the sea's face, and the grey dawn breaking."

It is great to have a real interest in your fellowmen and in the things they are doing. This is one reason why we enjoy "shop talks" occasionally. At our noonday luncheon, Jan. 30, A. C. Mabee of Tsivoglow Trading Co., spoke very interestingly on the importation of fruit and nuts. While he was speaking about nuts, we enjoyed feasting upon the choice samples which Mr. Mabee distributed. We were pleased to have with us at this meeting our former member, Fred Whitton, '89, of San Francisco.

On Thursday night, Feb. 5, at the City Club, we organized our forces for making a drive for the Chicago quota of $80,000 in connection with the $750,000 Memorial Building to be erected at Madison in honor of our Wisconsin boys in service during the war. Fifty prominent alumni were appointed team captains. G. I. Haight, '99, presided, and among others, Regent W. J. Kohler, K. K. Knapp, '79, Dr. A. J. Ochsner, '84, Rev. A. J. McCartney, '00, and Israel Shrimski, ex'88, spoke with much sentiment and practical earnestness. We, of the Chicago group, are very grateful to Mr. Kohler for coming from Kohler, way down to Chicago to give us the benefit of his vision and intense enthusiasm. Every Wisconsinite wants to see this ideal a reality: "There are no quitters in Wisconsin," and we are going to put it over.

About 110 real Wisconsinites, including 50 or our beloved fair ones, gave the opening of our Founders Day Celebration, February 13, real dignity by singing good old "Varsity."

Near the end of a very palatable luncheon, during which good fellowship was evidenced by all the happy faces, the lights went out and a real birthday cake was carried to the head table with 71 burning candles. Fred Silber, '94, either steadied or unnerved the bearer of the cake by playing a wedding march. However, the cake was safely landed before our guest, Prof. M. S. Slaughter. "On Wisconsin" then filled the air.

W. H. Haight, '03, our president called on Bishop Samuel Fallows, '59, to speak a few words. His words and thoughts are dear to all of us, for he always touches the real keynote to Wisconsin spirit.

Madeline Fess Mehlig, '14, secretary of the Chicago Alumnae Association, very interestingly told some facts about the history of the University. She also suggested that mixed luncheons proved more a success than the regular alumnae luncheons. This also may be said about the alumni luncheons. Girls and boys, let us be more chummy.

Professor Slaughter, our principal speaker, in his characteristic entertaining manner, gave us a new insight and a comprehensive perspective of the Red Cross work in and out of the war zone in Italy. We are very grateful to Professor Slaughter for coming from Madison and speaking to us on this cherished reunion day.

NEW YORK

By A. R. TAYLOR, '14

Nearly sixty former Wisconsin students attended the meeting Jan. 9, at which the old Wisconsin Alumni Association of New York was revived and the following officers elected: G. M. Dahl, '96, president; Mrs. Alexander Campbell (Bernice Stewart) '16, first vice-president; Harry Benedict, '16, second vice-president; A. R. Taylor, '14, secretary-treasurer.

The executive committee is working on a constitution and by-laws to be approved later by the club and it is the present plan to hold a big dinner on Friday, March 12, with ex-Minister P. S. Reinsch, '92, as the guest of honor.

With over 400 former Wisconsin students in and near New York, it is the firm conviction of the officers that the U. W. Club of New York can be made a potent factor in alumni affairs and in bringing together into better understanding the eastern and western collegiate worlds.

A committee was formed to carry on the local end of the Union Memorial Building campaign.

PITTSBURGH

By ROLF GRIEM, '17

Pittsburgh members of the Western Conference Alumni Association held their first meeting since the war on Jan. 10, at the University Club. Men from their respective schools in the "Big Ten" gave short talks, and from statistics gathered it was learned that in total these "Big Ten" colleges had a present attendance exceeding 50,000 alumni from over 150,000, 25,000 of which were deceased and 20,000 who answered the country's call in the world war.

The speakers were: F. W. Winters, '87, attorney, for Wisconsin; Hugo Bezdek, former manager of the Pittsburgh National League Baseball Club and director of athletics at State College, Chicago; C. C. Robertson of Pittsburgh, Iowa; B. F. Groat, former professor in mining engineering, Minnesota; F. G. Moorhead, Northwestern; F. W. Kintner, wireless telegraphy expert, Purdue; B. V. Moore, Indiana; J. N. Chester, consulting engineer, Illinois; B. S. Stephenson, iron executive, Ohio State; and L. F. W. Hildner, Pittsburgh Bridge & Iron Works, Michigan. Of the 300 men attending this meeting the following Wisconsin men were in attendance:

James Aston, '98; K. A. Bennett, '14; W. G. Dickson, '17; G. G. Crowell, '10; John Farris, '07; Rolf Griem, '17; J. L. Hasenpflug, ex'20; C. J. Jacobson, '12; C. L. Jamison, '13; C. G. Jensen, ex'15; Montfort Jones, '12; A. J. Miller, ex'18; W. B. Miller, '07; A. W. Nance, '10; E. J. Paulus, '11; L. E. Spray, '12; J. E. Webster, '91; P. A. Slettsland, '15; F. W. Winters, '87; I. A. Bickelhaupt, '14; M. E. Skinner, '14; C. E. Josephson, '18, and Marvin Goul, '18.

ST. PAUL

By S. J. BUCK, '04

The Wisconsin Club of St. Paul, which has get-together luncheons about once a month, had one of unusual interest on Jan. 13, when Prof. Carl Russell Fish was here to give the annual address before the Minnesota Historical Society. The luncheon was attended by about fifty persons, including about a dozen who came over from Minneapolis. Doctor Fish was enthusiastically received and spoke about the effects of the war on the University and about the work of the American University Union in London.

His address of Jan. 12, before the Minnesota Historical Society on "American Democracy, its Origins, and Character," was a brilliant one and was listened to with intense interest by an audience of about 225 which packed our auditorium. Tuesday evening he spoke on "English Education" at a dinner at the University of Minnesota arranged in his honor and attended by about one hundred members of the faculty and their wives.

SIoux CITY

By MRS. L. R. MANLEY, '16

The annual banquet of the U. W. Club of Sioux City was held Dec. 30, at the Elks Club, Mrs. C. W. McMillan presiding. W. J. Bertke, '03, acted as toastmaster for the following toasts:

"President Van Hise: A Tribute" by W. M. Derthick Jr., ex-'10; "The University of Today," by Louise Sammons, '20; "Wisconsin Men," by Arthur Taylor, '89; "Wisconsin Women," by Louise Ludlum, '19.

Officers elected for the coming year are: William Klinger, '10, president; Anne Jones, '15, vice-president; Mrs. L. R. Manley (Madge Vaughn) '16, secretary-treasurer.

The Memorial Building was discussed and a committee appointed to energetically further its cause in Woodbury County.

ATHLETICS

FOUR of the Big Ten Football coaches in the 1919 season were Wisconsin men, and three of them finished at or near the top of the list. The championship game was played between Illinois, coached by Robert Zuppke, '05, and Ohio State, coached by John Wilce, '10. Illinois won the game and the title with six victories out of seven while Ohio won three games out of four.

John Richards, '96, coached the Badger team. He finished fourth, just behind Chicago. Wisconsin defeated Stagg's team in the final game, but Chicago won four games out of six while Wisconsin won three out of five conference contests.

The fourth Wisconsin man coaching in the Conference was Ewald Steihm, '09, who handled the destinies of Indiana University.

Football Schedule—1920

- Oct. 2—Ripon or Lawrence.
- Oct. 9—Mich. A. C. at Madison.
- Oct. 16—Northwestern at Madison.
- Oct. 23—Ohio at Columbus
- Nov. 6—Minnesota at Minneapolis.
- Nov. 13—Illinois at Madison (Homecoming)
- Nov. 20—Chicago at Chicago.

Five conference contests following two strong preliminary games make up the Badger football calendar for next fall. The schedule was announced at the Big Ten meeting at Chicago.

Wisconsin's athletic department negotiated an agreement whereby for the next five years the Badgers will complete their schedules by meeting the University of Chicago at Chicago. Under this arrangement, Wisconsin will furnish the homecoming attraction at Chicago each year, and by making it an annual event for the period stated, the officials of the two universities expect to make the Wisconsin-Chicago game the classic of western football.

In explaining this action for THE ALUMNI MAGAZINE, Athletic Director T. E. Jones said: "Our new arrangement with Chicago guarantees a well balanced schedule each year, by giving us a final game with one of the strongest Conference teams. We can reasonably expect that both Wisconsin and Chicago will be contenders for the championship each year, and even if they are not, the meeting between the two is a big enough event in itself to draw a big crowd. Inasmuch as Minnesota and Michigan have tied up for the final game each year, Chicago and Wisconsin have seen fit to do likewise.

"As regards the alumni of the University of Wisconsin, playing the game at Chicago will accommodate a greater proportion of them. We have a large and vitally interested alumni body in Chicago. The alumni who live in Milwaukee, Kenosha, Racine, Janesville, etc., can motor to Chicago as easily as they can to Madison. Chicago has the seating capacity to accommodate twice the number that we can handle. And alumni living at a distance, if they know it will be the annual closing game at Chicago, can readily arrange their business trips to Chicago to suit that date.

"Financially it will be a great benefit to Wisconsin. I estimate that we will profit to the extent of $7,000 a year by the change, and a net gain of that magnitude is an important argument in favor of the change, although it is not the deciding one.

"Mr. Stagg, in commenting on the new arrangement, said that he felt that Wisconsin and Chicago were operating more nearly on the same basis than any other Conference universities with regard to the eligibility and requirements of their athletes.

He feels, as we do, that Wisconsin and Chicago are the logical opponents for the western football classic, which naturally enough, should be played at Chicago. There is a tradition attached to the Wisconsin game, at the University of Chicago, so strong that they consider this the biggest event of their athletic program."

Michigan will probably play Wisconsin in 1921, Mr. Jones has announced. He has the promise of the Wolverine authorities that if they take on an additional Big Ten game in another year the date will go to Wisconsin. If this can be arranged, Minnesota and Michigan will probably alternate as the Homecoming attraction at Camp Randall.

Considering the fact that Coach Richards has never coached Wisconsin's teams two years in succession, his showing this year can be regarded as an indication of great promise for next year. He will lose but three of his letter men in Charles Carpenter, Paul Meyers, and Martin Fladoes, who are seniors. Coming back next fall with an intimate acquaintance with the majority of his material, Mr. Richards will have his first real opportunity to compete on even terms for the title.

The players most often mentioned for all-western and all-conference teams were Weston and Meyers, ends, Carpenter, center, Gould, halfback, Bunge, guard, and Scott, tackle.

BASKETBALL

Chicago 37, Wisconsin 19

Chicago was the first team to defeat Coach Lowman's five, winning by a decisive score in a game played January 17 at Chicago. The long pass game of the Maroons, with sensational shooting from long range, left the visiting Wisconsin team far behind early in the encounter. Birkhoff, forward, and Hinkle, guard, scored enough points on long shots to win the game.

Wisconsin started the game with Captain Knapp and Zulfer playing forwards, Fanning at center, and Frogner and Weston guards. Taylor and McIntosh, and later on Gould and Sundt, were substituted in a vain effort to check the scoring of the Chicago team. The final result was 37 to 19.

Iowa 21, Wisconsin 20

After winning by a score of 35 to 18 in the first game on the Iowa floor, the Badgers donated the return game to the Hawkeyes on January 19. This was a disappointing exhibition of basketball, for Wisconsin had a commanding lead of 17 to 6 at half-time, and lost the game by one point through lifeless playing in the second period. Shimek of Iowa accounted for the narrow margin, by scoring seven times out of eight on free throws.

Wisconsin started the game with Sundt in Frogner's place at guard. Weston was ill, however, and had to retire, sending Frogner into his position. McIntosh substituted for Fanning in the second half, Taylor for Sundt, and Caesar for Frogner, and the patched-up combination failed utterly both on offense and defense, scoring but three points in the half while Iowa made fifteen and went into the lead just before the gun.

Illinois 43, Wisconsin 20

The third consecutive defeat was administered by Illinois on January 24. The first-place Illini were at the top of their form and scored 43 to 20 over their guests, the result being that Wisconsin went close to the cellar in the Big Ten race. Carney scored seven field baskets for Illinois from the center, and also made six of his ten free chances. Felmley and Taylor, forwards, scored five baskets apiece, while Captain Knapp led the Wisconsin team in scoring with four field goals and four free throws in ten.

Warren Taylor played his first full game at forward for Wisconsin, Zulfer playing center, with Weston and Sundt at guards. Although the score was one-sided, Wisconsin's play in this game was more aggressive than at any time since the Big Ten season opened, and gave promise of better things to come.

Wisconsin 28, Minnesota 12

Playing real basketball in the presence of a half-sized "flu" audience, Wisconsin defeated Minnesota by a decisive score in the last game before semester examinations. Taylor, a sophomore, won his spurs in this contest through his brilliant work at forward. He led a rally in the second half which swept the Gophers off their feet, scoring three consecutive baskets himself. The first half was closely contested. Wisconsin started first, but Minnesota tied the score at six points. The home team led at half-time, 10 to 7.

The second half developed a spurt that savored of the days of "Bill" Chandler and Eber Simpson, of George Levis and Harold Olsen, of Mel Haas and Carl Harper, or of Van Gent and Van Riper. It was beautiful basketball on the part of the Badgers, and it gave rise to more pleasant thoughts after the three straight defeats.

Minnesota was weakened by the absence of Arnold Oss, who was ill with influenza. On the other hand, it will be remembered that Wisconsin is still minus the services of Harlow Pease, veteran guard. Arntzen and Captain Lawler played good basketball against Wisconsin, but efficient guarding by Weston and Sundt prevented them from turning their clever floor work into points.

TRACK

A. Irving Andrews, '20, was elected captain of the varsity track team at a meeting of letter men. Andrews led the 1918 team as captain in the Big Ten meet. He has won his letter in the high and low hurdles.

Since my return from overseas last August I have been associated with my father in the Rockford Mercantile Agency. I am looking forward with great interest to the 1915 class home-coming in June and especially the Band Reunion, as I was a member of the band on the transcontinental trip in 1915."—E. H. Whitcomb is with the Chippewa Foundry & Machine Co., Chippewa Falls.—F. G. Budig, Fort Wayne, Ind., wrote us recently: "The February number of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE has just been forwarded to me, and it is indeed a pleasure to sit down and read what all the old crowd are doing. I am now back with the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company and have been premanently assigned to the Fort Wayne branch where I have charge of the office."—Dorothy Trowbridge teaches at the North Central High School, Spokane, Wash.—Emily E. Clark is an assistant in the Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C.—The following letter was recently received from J. F. Machotka who is serving as athletic director in Y. M. C. A. work for the Czecho-Slovak Army, Prague: "I just received my first two copies of the ALUMNI MAGAZINE in the ten months I have been in 'Y' service in this new Czecho-Slovak Republic. I raved with some enthusiasm for an hour dropping all duty to a side until I had a chance to breathe in all the Wisconsin 'spirit' the MAGAZINE had to offer. Believe me it was the rarest treat I have had in the Republic yet! I hastened directly to renew my alumni membership. I have sent the check to Mr. C. N. Brown, the treasurer. No red-blooded Wisconsin man can afford to lose the inspiration of the MAGAZINE. It's the only connecting link between the University and the man abroad that continues to recreate Wisconsin love for the Wisconsin man.

"I have read nothing of the 1915 class in regard to reunion next June. It's time now to get an organization started for a heap of boosting. This is the banner victory year for all 1915 men. Therefore there is a real challenge for every 1915 man and woman to come to Madison, in June for the greatest gathering the class ever had. Men from every land and state are strategically needed to help plan and boost in order that we may keep the record of our youth, and as the youngest class have the largest number present at reunion. Though several thousand miles of land and water are a barrier to some first-hand work I should like to do, yet 'it's Johnny on the spot' for me in June. I have planned since the day of the armistice for the home-coming of all 1915ers to Madison. The Y. M. C. A. has some leads on me to stay over for another year in army service for the Czecho-Slovaks. However, I had a lead on the University and the old State of Wisconsin (the place of my birth) long before I ever knew that such a state as Czecho-Slovakia should ever exist. Therefore I leave Prague, May 1, for the western lands in order to prove my Badger love. It is certain Madison will look extraordinarily good to me after spending two years 'over-seas.'

"Nineteen-fifteen class-mates shall we have 100 per cent Reunion? A majority vote might be significant of our loyal class, but a unanimous representation at Madison in June must be our only acceptable challenge! Everybody going strong for a comeback!!"

CAMPUS NOTES

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary national journalistic sorority, will hold its national convention in Madison, April 29 and 30.

A student chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was organized at Wisconsin on Dec. 11. It has a charter membership of about fifty.

The Badger Ski Club has been taken into membership in the International Ski Association of America. Plans are being made for the construction of a steel jump next year to replace the inadequate wooden structure now in use.

Two interscholastic basketball tournaments will be conducted by the athletic department late in March, the first to determine the championship of the State of Wisconsin, on March 19-20, and the second to decide inter-state honors, with teams from Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, Wisconsin, and possibly North Dakota entering their champion high school quintets. The state championship tournament will be held in Madison at the request of the normal schools and Lawrence College, which in the past have held rival tournaments with unsatisfactory results. The various state normal schools will hold sectional tournaments on March 5-6 and send their district champions to Madison for the final test of superiority. The state tourney March 19-20 will decide which high school team is to represent Wisconsin in the inter-state event March 26-27. For the inter-state meet it is undecided whether the winners alone or the winners and runners-up in each state will be invited.

Prof. E. A. Gilmore, of the Law School, was elected president of The Association of American Law Schools at its recent annual meeting.

Prof. Michail Ivanovich Ros-tovsev, formerly of the Imperial University of St. Petersburg, now of the faculty of Oxford University, has been secured as professor of ancient history at Wisconsin for the year 1920-1921. He will lecture on ancient history, conduct an advanced course in Russian history, and preside over a seminary in ancient history.

Ratification of the Peace Treaty and League of Nations, without amendment or through compromise, was favored by students and faculty of the University in their votes in the inter-collegiate treaty referendum held on Jan. 13. Of 2,470 votes cast, 895 were for a compromise between the Lodge and Democratic reservations to facilitate the early ratification of the treaty, and 631 were for ratification without amendment or reservation. If these totals are grouped as treaty adherents and mild reservationists the total is 1,526 favoring the league and treaty. Exactly 620 favored ratification only with the Lodge reservations, and 324 opposed the treaty in any form. These total 944 votes against the treaty. A similar referendum was conducted in 700 colleges and institutions on the same day and early returns from 475 colleges, including 114,830 ballots cast, showed the following vote: 46,259 favor ratification without amendment; 33,304 favor ratification through compromises; 22,577 favor Lodge reservations; and 11,690 oppose the treaty in any form.

The city of Lille, France, was overrun during the war as few cities were. It is now trying to recover. Especially pathetic is the condition of the children. Nine out of ten show signs of tuberculosis. But the hospitals, especially the children's hospitals connected with the University of Lille, are so poor that "they cannot always give even cod liver oil free," as Henry Van Dyke says. Alumni of American universities are asked to contribute to the fund that is being raised for the children's hospitals at Lille. Any contributions may be sent care of Henry Clews & Co., bankers, 15 Broad St., New York. Badgers sending contributions should mention the University of Wisconsin.

To the University of Paris, in acknowledgment of the medal,

SCIENTIA INSTRUMENTUM

*presented in token of common service in hall of learning and on the field of battle in defence of Right, the University of Wisconsin sends

with veneration for her age and achievement, and with gratitude for her friendship; with admiration for the courage and consecration of her dead and of her living; rejoicing in present comradeship of victory as in past comradeship of arms; pledging new comradeship and praying for new victories in the better warfare whose weapon is the sword of the spirit and whose battling is for the healing of the nations.

(Written by Professor Grant Showerman, '96. November issue contains picture of medal.)

Prof. F. A. Ogg, of the political science department at Wisconsin, was elected secretary-treasurer of the American Political Science Association, at the annual meeting held recently in Cleveland. He was also chosen a member of the board of editors of the American Political Science Review.

John H. Neu, champion boxer of the Great Lakes Naval Training station recently joined the staff of the athletic department of the University, and will conduct advanced classes in boxing. About 50 upper classmen have signed up for the work. While at the Naval station, Mr. Neu won the bantam-weight championship of the station.

Judge E. A. Evans, Chicago, was one of the principal speakers at the annual student vocational conference held at the University during the week beginning Feb. 16. This conference was a combination of the annual vocational conference for women students that has been held for several years, and the men's conference that was scheduled for January. Its purpose was to assist students in selecting their life work and in directing their college studies toward the profession or business which they wish to enter.

Hesperia won over Athenae in the annual debate in January on the question, Resolved, that a policy of compulsory health insurance for wage earners should be adopted in the United States. The line up of the teams was as follows: Athenae (Aff.) H. H. Kletzien, E. J. Koch, Baron Meyer; Hesperia (Neg.) C. E. Fugina, F. G. Cohn, R. P. Lichtenwalner. The victory fixes next year's debate between Hesperia and Philomathia.

Two Anzacs in the uniform of the Australian Military Forces and representing their government and the agricultural colleges of New South Wales, visited the University recently to study agricultural education from the administrative standpoint. Wisconsin is one of several universities they will visit in this country and Canada.

The faculty of the Engineering School, with their wives and some guests, held a mixer in the Mining Laboratory on Nov. 17.
