TRACY NAMED N. O. L. ORATOR IN FINAL TRIAL

To Represent Wisconsin in Contest at Iowa
May 6

Sterling H. Tracy '22, of Memphis, Tenn. last night won the right to represent Wisconsin in the Thirtieth Annual Northern Oratorical League contest at the University of Iowa on May 6 with a masterful oration on Anglo-American relations entitled "Britain and America in the New World."

With an almost equally powerful appeal for "A Free Press," Thomas Amlie '21, won second place, and as a result will be the Badger alternate. Six speakers competed in the final tryout.

Tracy's victory last night marked the third triumph that the diminutive Wisconsin platform artist has scored during the present forensic season. He closed for Philomathia's winning joint debate team in January, and his performance on that evening will go down in Wisconsin's forensic annals as a signal success.

Active on Campus

A week ago he appeared on the intercollegiate debate platform in the contest against Illinois which resulted in his election to Sigma Delta Chi, national honorary professional journalistic fraternity, president of Philomathia, a member of the student senate, editorial writer on the Daily Cardinal, and a member of the Forensic board.

The Northern Oratorical League contest ranks as one of the most notable intercollegiate contests in America. It is composed of representatives from Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan, Minnesota and Northwestern. The winners of first and second receive prizes of $100 and $50 respectively.

Although the contest is being held away from home this year plans have already been put on foot by the literary societies to give Tracy a royal sendoff when he leaves to meet the oratorical "aces" of Wisconsin's ancient rivals in debate and oratory.

Parade to Station

Tentative arrangements announced last night by a number of campus forensic leaders call for a turnout of the student body on lower campus on the day of Tracy's departure to be followed by a parade to the Northwestern station where coach will be called on for short speeches. It is hoped in this way to maintain and foster the marked interest which has recently made itself manifest in forensics.

GYM DIRECTORS OF CO-EDS MEET HERE

Physical education directors from eight colleges will open the annual meeting of the Middle-West Society of College Directors of Physical Education here today. The meetings will be held at Lathrop hall.

Miss Blanche Trilling, Wisconsin director of the Woman's gymnasium, is president of the organization. Miss Gertrude Hawley, treasurer. Fifteen colleges have membership in the society.

The program for the day includes a business meeting and talks in the morning, a demonstration of gym work, swimming, and dance in the afternoon starting at 2:30, and closing with a dinner tonight at the Woman's building.

An invitation has been extended to the public to attend the meeting in the afternoon when demonstrations of college gymnastic and athletic work for women will be given.

Birge Declares No Ptomaine Poisoning at Barnard Hall

In reply to inquiries concerning the reports of "ptomaine poisoning" at Barnard Hall, President E. A. Birge has prepared the following statement. That there was no "ptomaine poisoning" cases and that facts concerning the number and seriousness of illness were not withheld by the physicians of the university clinic is the essence of the report.

"On the night of Tuesday, March 15, a number of students in Barnard Hall were affected with digestive disturbances. I need not detail the symptoms, for the discomforts and pangs of such attacks are well known to every grown person; and every mother who has brought up a family has had numerous opportunities to observe and to treat them.

Condition Not Serious
"The doctor who was on duty at the clinic was very rightly called to Barnard in the night. He saw 18 students, none of whom needed serious medical attention. None of these students either asked for or received medical attention on the

VARI-COLORED FLAGS TO BEDECK CAPITOL FOR MILITARY BALL

Arrange for Special Lights
Plan Radiophone Music
for Novelty Dance

Decorations for the Ninth Annual Military ball, to be held in the state capitol building on April 8, will consist chiefly in American flags. Permission has been granted to the cadet corps to use the Thirty-second division battle flags which are now in the case at the capitol, and it is probable that the big university service flag and the large Red Arrow flag will also be used.

Special lighting features have been arranged and will be provided for by the use of a number of spotlights and the signal corps' projectors arranged as flood lights. Something unusual is promised in the way of moonlight effects.

The university physics department will transmit radiophone music which will be received by the signal corps' apparatus installed in the capitol. It is hoped that the resulting music will be loud enough for the dancing of one entire novelty dance.

Governor John J. Blaine's speech of welcome will be repeated by the loud-speaking equipment so that it will be clearly heard by all who are in the rotunda. It is possible that short talks by other prominent men may be transmitted by wireless telephone.

VERDANT HEADGEAR FORTH ON CAMPUS EASTER MORN

The grass is getting greener every day; the crocuses are showing their little green heads above the ground; the green roofs on the Ag buildings are showing their verdant color in the sun as never before; and the freshmen are following Nature's dictates together with those of the student senate, and putting on their green caps on Easter Sunday.

This blossoming out in verdancy on Easter Sunday instead of Easter Monday, as in previous years, is a radical departure from tradition and has occasioned much speculation.

That new hats for church on Easter are a necessary purchase, if freshmen do not get their caps till Monday, and that this involves them in much added expense, is one of the reasons advanced for this step.

It is whispered, too, that someone wants to compile statistics as

VETS WILL STAGE FINAL REHEARSALS

Final rehearsals for "The Maid and the Middy," a musical comedy to be given at the Fuller theatre by the Gun and Blade club April 1, will begin in a few days, Miss Alice Keith '16, director, stated yesterday.

The entertainment, which has been presented in many places with great success, has been undertaken by the Gun and Blade club, a student organization of disabled service men, for benefit of the Memorial Union building fund and for the proposed new club home.

Miss Keith is enthusiastic about the progress of the play, and declares that the cast is one of the best she has dealt with for some time. She graduated from the university in 1916, and during the war was director of the war camp community service in the New England division.

EXPO TO SHOW GAS WARFARE

Demonstrate Regular Work of Chemistry Depart- ment

How it feels to fight in a gas mask is to be one of the sensations experienced by visitors at the University Exposition on April 21, 22, and 23.

A glass gas chamber such as is used in government experiments with poison gas has already been shipped by the War Department to be used as part of the department of chemistry exhibit of chemical warfare. The chamber will be filled with some kind of poison gas, probably lacrimatory, or tear gas; and those who wish will be fitted with regulation army masks and allowed to enter.

All kinds of apparatus used in chemical warfare will be included in the exhibit, including every type of gas mask used in modern armies and demonstrations samples of the gases used.

Gases in Liquid Form
The gases, mustard gas, chloropicrin, phosgene, and sneeze gas, will be shown in glass tubes. All will be in liquid form except the sneeze gas, which is stored in solid form. This solid is used in bombs which break it up into a fine powder when exploded.

Not only will pieces of apparatus be shown, but government moving pictures of troops engaged in chemical warfare will be part of the exhibit. These pictures were taken of troops in real action and will show the Livers projector and Stokes mortar throwing gas, smoke

But anyway, on Sunday and Monday morning the following remarks will be en regle, on sight of any freshmen.

"O, look at the green caps." (This from innocent young co-eds who don't really mean to embarrass him.)

"He's got a new Easter bonnet!" (From ribald friends.)

"Button Frosh-both hands!" Any unoriginal sophomore.)

But if anyone really wants to please and flatter a freshman on Easter, she—it must be a she—only has to say, "O, isn't it cute!"

Elmwood drew a bye.

The ten teams representing the various districts of the state met in the opening round of the Sixth Annual Wisconsin High School Basketball tournament in the university gymnasium yesterday afternoon and night and the games resulted as follows:

Waukesha 23 Monticello 12
Menominee 30 Elmwood 10
Superior 13 Madison 8
LaCrosse 17 Rhinelander 8
Appleton 23 Neillsville 2

Only a small crowd attended the opening session in the afternoon and the two games were slow. Both Waukesha and Menominee won readily over their smaller opponents.

Madison Loses Chance

Before a crowd of 2200 fans the Madison High School basketball team lost their chance to establish a claim for state honors. The game bore all the ear-marks of a championship battle and it was not until Madison's star forward, "Bud" Walsh, was put out on personal fouls that Superior showed any superiority.

During the first half Madison's teamwork was superior to that of their heavier opponents. Neither team secured many short shots, and the northerner's ability at caging long range baskets was what brought victory to them.

All of the Madison boys played ball of championship caliber; Ford Green, Bud Walsh, and Sidney Talarde performing exceptionally well. Sutherland who finished up in Walsh's place, played well, but the team lost its drive when the leader was forced to the sidelines.

Superior Strong Contenders

HOROSCOPE FOR TODAY

ALL young men born on this day will have a tendency to hold hands, be they dainty and soft, or straight flushes. In both cases they are inclined to play pat-hand. As to the young ladies, they will be unmanageable sleep-walkers, which will probably result in an entire revolution of modern industry. It will cause unlimited numbers of men to give up their daily occupations, in order to become night prowlers. Both sexes will be alike in one respect, however, in that they will show, throughout the first four years of life, unmistakable signs of intelligence, which makes this date a popular one for birthdays.

LEM E. ATTEM tells us that the Varsity Movie has postponed the spectacle representing the Garden of Eden on account of cold weather. It has been ascertained by careful research on the part of the History Department that overcoats were not being worn in them days. It is the wish of the producers to make the picture as authentic as possible. Professor, kindly play, "Waiting for the Sun to Come Out."

IT is the intention of the manager of the Fuller Theatre to start tearing down that famous uproar house immediately after the showing of the university film. Perhaps the picture, aided in no small degree by the audience, will bring down the house.

An act quite diabolic—

PRAISES SUCCESS OF STUDENT SENATE AS GOVERNING BODY

"Is the Student senate a failure?" Decidedly not, according to Sterling Tracy '22 who spoke to the Y. M. C. A. Fellowship meeting on that question last night. He proved his statement by enumerating the things the senate has accomplished.

"The senate has acted once and for all to put an end to promiscuous hazing which aroused such a storm of protest all over the state," he declared. At the same time the senate is ready to enforce to the letter every school tradition. From 30 to 40 freshmen are coming under the heavy hand of the senate for punishment tomorrow."

Control Tag Days

"Tag days and unauthorized financial drives which have burdened the campus were called to a halt by the senate and brought under the control of a joint committee of the student senate and the self government association. Only those drives which are worthy of student support will be permitted in the future.

"Unsatisfactory conditions surrounding the sale of football and basketball tickets are to be remedied as a result of the senate approaching the athletic council with certain suggestions regarding the sale of tickets in the future.

"Probably no less important is the senate's taking responsibility of getting in touch with high schools to bring athletes and promising students to Wisconsin. The Athletic Review is a part of this work. The "Varsity Jamboree", one of the best and most democratic social events of the year became an established social event through the senate. Incidentally the old "Awk" debt was paid off.

No "Political Plums"

These achievements show that the senate is on the job and doing things in a big way. Of course there are weaknesses. Student government should be more centralized and official responsibility less divided. The student body should be encouraged to attend the meetings of the senate and more publicity should be given its activities. Lastly, the impression that Guy Sundt: "I quite prefer Nikolai Yegorovitch's, 'Samovar in D Major.' It reminds me of the winter I spent in Moscow looking at the omsk."

"Mo" Frost: "Whenever I take a bath, about once a month, I always sing, 'Washed in the Blood of the Land.' It is not so much the music as the words that appeal to me, with their depth and fervor."

Marion Mosel: "'Cuban Moon' is certainly my favorite. I can't seem to get it out of my head these spring days."

"Pat" Hathaway: "I don't know my favorite, but I do know that Lohengrin's 'Wedding March' sends the cold chills up and down my back every time I hear it. It isn't the music, it is the emotional reaction."

CO-EDS BRAVE RAIN TO SELL DOUGHNUTS

Despite the pouring rain yesterday, members of the Euthenics club, selling doughnuts and sandwiches, were on duty as early as 7:45 a.m. at various posts in buildings about the campus.

Stations were maintained in the Engineering, Physics, Chemistry, and Agricultural buildings and at Main Hall. A rushing business is reported by the Co-ed squad stationed at the foot of the hill.

Proceeds of the sale will go toward the purchase of a piano or phonograph for the Home Ec. practice cottage, North Warren street.

Spring Shopping Specialties and Easter Suggestions

Easter brings the first real knowledge of Spring and the big white Easter Rabbit in the window of the Chocolate Shop — 528 State St. tells young and old alike that Winter has gone.

This big white bunny has another message to tell us. He says there are countless little rabbits inside at the Chocolate Shop — some are chocolate, and made to eat while others are purely ornamental.

Other delicious Easter candies are here in profusion and every flavor imaginable can be bought.

"Scatter sunshine with Greeting cards," this little phrase has a huge significance and the Kamera Kraft Shop of 606 State Street has realized this and so has a complete assortment of cards for every occasion.

This month is birthday month and if you daily ask yourself the question "whose birthday should I remember today?" you will give very much pleasure for every little cost.

The gift selection in the Kamera Kraft is so varied that you can find an appropriate gift that will suit any person for every occasion.

The Easter Greeting cards are beautifully adapted for this season.

Gay colors and dainty weaves are the fancy for Spring in sweaters. At the Staber Shop — 4 S. Carroll St. are many lovely sweaters with a silken shimmer that delights the eye. Their dependable texture however ensures durability.

Soft knit sweaters have a fascination for the college girls, for individuality is the prized possession of youth. An unusual assortment in all colors can be found here.

Collar and cuff sets make the old suit look just like new and Stabers' offers a variety of these. Lacy sets for dress wear, and smart tailored sets of organdie that will be fresh and cool in the university class room.

The shops of Madison offer a delightful and unusual assortment of charming and attractive merchandise. In visiting them you will receive many new and different ideas for your Easter gifts and your Spring purchases.

Such an important step! The spring hat gives the final finishing touch to your Easter costume and you can find just the right one at Carolyn's on 420 State Street.

So alluring are these fascinating bonnets. One jaunty tricorn proclaims Paris in every line and I assure you that the tiny green blades of grass could not greet the spring more joyously than a certain bewitching little gray straw with a saucily turned up brim trimmed only by a tiny knot of bright colored ribbon.

All sizes, shapes, and varieties are here that will please the most fastidious.

Soft warm Spring caresses the cheeks and lips and brings joy to the heart of every girl. She yearns for a newness and freshness that is equal to the lure of Spring.

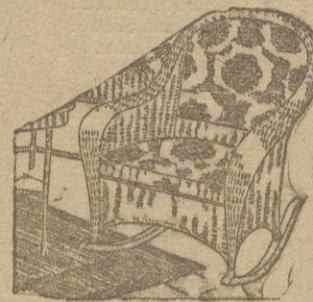

Clinging filmy lingerie is the first requisit to satisfy that desire. At Keeley - Neckermans — 15 - 17 N. Pinckney are all the bewitching silk underthings that so intrigue women. There are lovely camisoles of silken crepe de chine and satin in all colors. There are fascinating "teddies" and lace trimmed gowns.

There is also a wide selection of Jersey silk bloomers and shirts of Polly Anna make, some of which are hand embroidered.

Here are also found dainty lace clocked La France silk hose that gives a well favored contour to the ankle and ensures for any costume a distinctiveness and refinement.

The warm breezes of Spring call you out of doors and the desire to remain in the fresh sweet open air makes it necessary that you have comfortable and attractive porch furniture.

At Haswell's, 117 State Street there is a complete array of Wicker furniture - Porch swings that urge youth to linger, and dependable chairs and rockers that are just made for cozy afternoon talks.

There are porch sets in hickory as well that will please the searcher for individuality.

The charm of the picturesque is the charm of the Unique Shop on the corner of Dayton and State St. Here frail Japanese cups and saucers hold sway, and antique candle sticks vie with one another in beauty.

A lovely silken handkerchief case of old rose silk with a heavy gold lacquered base would be a perfect gift for Easter. The one shown at the Unique Shop has a dull gold lace edge that increases its artistic beauty.

A tea service that just fits your idea of what a Tea Service should be is shown on display as well as a bewildering array of other different and unusual gifts.

Daffodils bring an Easter message. They flaunt the gayety of Spring joyfully and give forth greetings good cheer. Their delicate beauty caught by the new Flower Station shown at Netherwoods, 24 N. Carroll Street.

The envelopes of this are new, fashionable, of Cranes' Linen Laundry. They are lined with finest tissue paper painted with daffodils, tulips and other Spring flowers.

At Netherwood's also are found artistically framed cards that tell the beauty of friendship and love. These make ideal Easter remembrances.

A bewitching air pervades Madison's new and fascinating tea shop. Weird blue lanterns throw mystery on the occupants of the quiet booths. This is the Blue Lantern Tea Shop on State Street. Fashion's Caprice to lunch there and to go there for a tête-à-tête before going home in the evening.

The Waffles fairly melt in your mouth and when served with maple sugar syrup are well nigh irresistible. The dainty sandwiches served with tea make even the most particular glad to be in Madison.

Crisp, white blouses of sheer lawn and voile are always welcome on the first day of spring when spring tells us that fresh cleanliness is to be desired above all things.

At the Rainbow Shop on State Street are the sweetest daintiest blouses that you can imagine. They cannot fail to win your instant approval.

The waists are hand-embroidered and hand made with fine hand stitching that makes them dearer than the finer georgettes that are never less always in mode.

Countless other lovely blouses exhibited here and a visit will well worth your while.

THE DAILY CARDINAL

PHEUM PRESENTS GOOD BILL-O-FARE

"Teatless Days", a comedy play with more of a plot than such as usually possess, holds head-honors on the Orpheum bill for last half of the week. There are two healthy young men with perfectly healthy appetites but mind the wherewithal until they discover that a pretty unique collection to purchase the old violin which one has. And there begins a plot that climbs to a rather unusual climax.

Thomas Patter Dunn, a not unfamiliar favorite, causes lots of laughs with his realistic interpretation of a belated and beliqueored who arrives home and finds no key. His caricature of a taken lady wins most applause. Prinette Frances and Tony Huntington have a pleasing act billed as "The Flower Shop." There is some patter, some singing, and dancing.

Improving the old theory that "ing without a tongue can talk," by Gilbert, an animated musician makes his violin reply to the questions of his team mate, Bert, an accomplished accordianist. They have a good act.

Doing remarkable feats of strength, Davis and Kelly open the show. Both are acrobats of merit, a whole lot more spectacular than the name under which it is said would lead one to expect, "Four Gems," the last act, is an artistic arrangement of posing. The effect is quite pleasing.

AT THE FULLER

One of the many picturesque scenes of the Fanchon and Marco tires of 1920, which is on its way to the Fuller Theatre for two weeks commencing with Sunday evening, March 27th, is the Gypsy Camp, in which numerous girls are seen in the odd but pretty costumes of the Romany people. In this gaudy scene Fanchon and Marco, stars of the production and the stars of the lyrics and melodies, a Hungarian dance that is full of fire and spirit and is one of the high points of the entertainment. The cast, headed by Fanchon and Marco, graceful dancers with magnetic personalities, comprises: Nelson and Chain, with Arthur West, Wohlman and John Sheehan as comic aids; Eva Clark, prima donna soprano, with a notable culturist voice; Muriel Stryker, classic dancer, and a chorus of two dozen pretty and graceful girls from far and wide as the "sun-sweet peaches" of California. The production is original and new, and the costumes remarkable for their beauty and unique designs.

SLEEPING SICKNESS.

A large number of cases of the malarial sleeping sickness that is sweeping the country have been reported by University of Nebraska professors. It seems that these ladies attack the student during classroom recitations. No casualties have yet been reported although it is rumored that several students have been asked to spend more time bed each night, as the best protection.

La Crosse triumphed over Rhinelander 17 to 8, in a hard fought battle. The Rhinelander team was much the lighter of the two, but they presented an offense that at times carried the La Crosse men off their feet. Had Rhinelander done more shooting in the first half the score would have been much closer. Vondrashak was the star of the LaCrosse five, making 15 out of the 17 points made by his team.

Bohn, Rhinelander forward, won the admiration of the crowd by his clever dribbling and guarding. In spite of his weighing only 120 pounds, he was easily the star performer of his team.

APPLETON 23 NEILSVILLE 2

Neilsville failed to live up to expectations when they did not make a basket against Appleton in the final game of the preliminary series. Appleton was the dark horse of the Oshkosh tournament and it looks as though they may be the team who has the best chance to check Superior in the pennant race. The Appleton boys are all good shots and they are coached to a point where their offense performs perfectly. Jacobson and Roach were the outstanding individuals of the game. The former is a clever dribbler and has an eye of no mean ability. Roach's man did not get a basket while, he, from a guard position, caged six pretty baskets.

The Menominee boys will have to show a better defense before they can be placed in a class with Superior, Appleton, and La Crosse. The chances are that when they are taxed they will show better form. Setter, a lanky forward, was the best performer seen on the floor in the afternoon. He has an exceptionally good eye and handles himself well on the floor.

The assembly stood by its record on the C. E. Hanson bill to repeal the personal property offset to the state income tax bill and left the measure in its coffin. The vote on failure to reconsider was 47 to 42.

It is understood that the administration forces were not pressed back of the bill, because it seems to have been the opinion of Gov. Blaine that there should be further exemptions under the income tax law, if the offset measure were passed. The Dahl bill contains these provisions and it is probable that the administration fire will be put back of the Dahl measure.

There was no debate on the offset bill. The whole matter was explained at last week's session and when the bill was reached the house settled down to a vote.

Madison Churches to Observe Good Friday

Maundy Thursday and Good Friday, two of the holiest days in the year, will be fittingly observed in some of the Madison churches. At Grace Episcopal church the following musical program will be rendered at 7:30 Thursday night:

Procession of choir and clergy, without singing; lesson, Anthem, Jerusalem, Parker-Ries; hymn, choir and congregation, Ride on, Ride on in Majesty; lesson; anthem, Go to Dark Gethsemane, Noble; hymn, choir and congregation, In the Hour of Trial; lesson; anthem, And It Was the Third Hour, Elvey; hymn, choir and congregation, O Lamb of God, Still Keep Me; lesson; vesper anthem, evening hymn of Moravian Monks; prayers and benediction, Stainer Sevenfold Amen.

This service will be a fitting prelude to the solemn observance of Good Friday, when there will be the three hours' devotion from 12 to 3 p. m., with addresses on The Seven Last Words from the Cross. The public is invited to attend these services.

German services will be held at Memorial Reformed church, 14 W. Johnson st., at 7:30 Friday night. There will be confirmation and communion services in English Sunday morning.

SUPPORT THE MOVIE

A N instructor in the school of education strikes a keynote when he asks in the March Atlantic Monthly, "What do will help defray production expenses for the Varsity Movie, a project which will furnish the right kind of publicity for the university throughout the state and country.

A large production staff and cast are giving all their spare time to make the movie a success. But there will be no financial returns until the picture is complete, and working capital is needed. The student body can help provide this by supporting the mixer.

Let's go to the Movie Mixer!

"WHAT DO COLLEGE STUDENTS KNOW?"

A N all-university mixer with a purpose will be held Saturday night in Lathrop gymnasium. The proceeds of the affair "college students know?" The question is not leveled at students here alone, but applies with equal force to university men and women throughout the country.

The writer finds after a rather thorough investigation that students are so engrossed in the strict routine of school work and social affairs that they know little of what is going on in the world. World problems, current happenings, questions which the average man finds time to readily assimilate, and even simple biological facts that are supposed to be in common knowledge are outside the mental realm of the college students or are confused with it.

"Four per cent of them would be willing to ask a dairyman if his cows are Leghorns. And when we discover that six per cent do not know what an artichoke is, while six more assert it to be a fish, three a lizard, and one claims it as a snake, we cannot but wonder in what world these sixteen per cent received their information—or lack of it.

"Geography does not make any better showing. It would be a decided affront to some of our time-honored American institutions if they should learn that out of 100 students who wish to attend Yale university, four would have to look in the atlas to know what part of the world they were bound for, while six would purchase railway fares for Itacha, and thirty-six would proceed blithely on their way to Cambridge.

"History might also benefit from a migration of college students. Some of them learn that the battle of Lexington was not fought in 1620, or in 1864, nay, not even in 1812, but in 1775; for many a student now alive scarcely remembers that day and year."

One must naturally feel at a loss to attempt to comprehend any refutation to these arguments. The assertion that strict attention to the routine of school work is necessary to keep oneself above board has no connection with this case simply because the complaints registered by the writer in the Atlantic Monthly should never have been permitted to go beyond the grades.

While no tests have as yet been made at Wisconsin, it is to be hoped that the belief that if they were made here the result would be practically the same will prove without foundation should the tests eventually materialize.

The value of a college education must be measured as well by a knowledge of common facts and current events as it is by an insight into the realms of higher learning.

SOCIAL WORK IN STATE IS AMONG FIRST, SAYS ROSS

Charity Ball, Given to Aid Needy, Endorsed by Professors

"The Wisconsin State conference ranks among the first in the United States and is doing an unusually big work," said Prof. E. A. Ross, of the department of sociology, yesterday afternoon in discussing the Charity Ball mixer which is to be given on April 2 for the benefit of social work throughout the state.

Prof. John R. Commons and Prof. W. H. Kieckhofer of the department of economics and Prof. J. L. Gillen of the department of sociology, all declared that they were heartily in support of the plans for the mixer.

Prospect is Worth While

"I feel keenly that students should support a project of this kind," said Professor Ross, "and am convinced that as citizens of the state of Wisconsin they are engaged in a most worthwhile activity. I am decidedly in favor of the plan."

Professor Gillen was the executive secretary of the State Conference of Social Work from 1912 to 1917 and is especially interested in enlarging the scope of its work.

"The Extension Division of the university co-operates officially with the State Conference," he explained, "though there is no organic connection between the two. Mr. Edward Lynde, the present secretary, has been given an office and stenographic help in the Extension building.

"Most of the students majoring in sociology have become greatly interested in the work of the conference, as well as many in the departments of economics, the College of Agriculture, and the home economics department. They are anxious to interest the students as a whole in the value of the conference as a state institution, and are going to put on the Charity ball mixer as much for this reason as to raise money for a needy cause."

University Plays Part

"The work of the state conference is concerned with popular education on social subjects," he continued, "and in this the university can play a big part both directly and indirectly through the later work of its graduates."

The Charity Ball mixer will be held in the men's gymnasium and is to be an all-university affair. The patrons of the fall are Prof. and Mrs. S. Blanton, of the department of speech, who are interested in the conference because of the psychiatric phase of its work.

$17,000,000 TAX PLAN OF DAHL

Administration Bill is Introduced; Would Kill Offset

The administration income tax bill for a revision of present income tax rates came into the assembly today from Assemblyman John L. Dahl, Barron County. This bill repeals the personal property offset; removes the secrecy clause from the tax law; provides for taxation of bank stocks and provides for the same exemptions under income tax law as are provided in the federal law.

The income tax of 1911 allows an exemption of $800 to a single person and $1200 to a married person or head of a household together with a $200 exemption for each child under 18 years or other dependent. The present bill retains the exemption for a single person as in the law of 1911, leaving it at $800 but raises the other exemption to $1600 and retains the same exemption of $200 for each child or other dependent. It is estimated that this increased exemption will remove from income taxation $50,000,000 of income.

The following schedule has been adopted:

On the first one thousand dollars or any part thereof, at the rate of one per cent.

On the second one thousand one and one-half per cent.

On the third one thousand two per cent.

On the fourth one thousand, two and one-half per cent.

On the fifth one thousand three percent.

On the sixth one thousand three and one-half per cent.

On the seventh one thousand four percent.

On the eighth one thousand four and one-half per cent.

On the ninth one thousand five percent.

On the tenth one thousand five and one-half per cent.

On the eleventh one thousand six percent.

On the twelfth one thousand seven percent.

On any sum of taxable income in excess of twelve thousand dollars, eight per cent.

The income collected from this tax is distributed as follows: Fifteen per cent to the state, twenty per cent to the county, and the balance to the town, city or village in which the tax was collected, retaining other features pertaining to distribution now in the tax law of 1911.

It is estimated that this tax bill ought to bring a total revenue of $5,000,000 from individual income taxes, $7,000,000 from corporation income taxes, and $5,000,000 from the personal property offset removed in this bill, making a total income of $17,000,000.

WOMEN CONTINUE PLAY IN BASKET BALL TOURNEY

The second double-header of the women's basketball tournament will begin tonight at 7:30 in Lathrap gymnasium, when the juniors will play the seniors and the sophomores will meet the freshmen. Two hard-fought games are predicted, since all the teams seem to be well matched this year. The juniors and the sophomores each have one victory to their credit.

The floor of the gymnasium, which gave so much trouble at the last games because of the wax put on it for the Glee Dans last Friday, has been washed twice with gasoline and turpentine, and is in much better condition for play. The result will be faster games, fewer fouls, and more open play, according to Lucy Wallrich, basketball coach.

Stunts, snake dances, and rooting sections will again be a feature of the evening.

PLANS FOR BIG '22 EVENT ARE STARTED

THE DAILY CARDINAL

Death of Cardinal Loss to All America, Say Madison Pastors

CARDINAL GIBBONS

Madison Catholics priests express profound regret at the death of Cardinal Gibbons, statesman, churchman and author, Thursday morning, because of the celebration of Holy week, there will be no commemorative services held here, according to Rev. P. B. Knox, dean of the eastern Dane county deanery. Appreciation of the cardinal probably will be voiced at the Sunday services. Some of the comments on the cardinal's death follow:

Rev. P. B. Knox, St. Patrick's—consider his death a great loss, not only to the Catholics of the United States, but to the whole country. He was a great-hearted man.

Rev. H. C. Hengell, University chapel—Cardinal Gibbons' life is identified with the history of the Catholic church in America for a number of decades, now closing. He was a notable figure at the plenary councils held at Baltimore. His book, The Faith of Our Fathers, probably has won more converts to the faith than any other single book published within the past 100 years.

Rev. T. B. Johnson, St. Raphael's—He was one of the greatest Americans, representative of church and state. We have lost one of the greatest men in the country, a statesman and churchman.

Rev. Joseph Koester, St. James—I have always had the greatest admiration for Cardinal Gibbons. I always thought of him as the grand old man. He was the foremost learned man in the hierarchy of the United States. I have always admired his great common sense as a citizen and as a churchman.

WISCONSIN LEADS IN FILMS
The North Dakota Agricultural college is listed as having more films in its distribution service than any like institution in the country except the University of Wisconsin, in a recent reference book issued by the Moving Picture Age of Chicago. The special college reel taken by R. A. Corbett of the college is listed in the book among the films recommended to all the educational institutions of the country.

AT THE STRAND

Dancing as a means to restore jangled nerves is prescribed John Harlow in "Burglar Proof," starring Bryant Washburn which is now being shown at the Strand Theatre. But, oh, what grief that order meant Bryant Washburn as "John" has a terrible (and amusing!) time reconciling his tightwad ideas with the spendthrift crowd among whom he is thrown.

John lost his sweetheart one day when he was unable to take her on an excursion. His uncle had refused to lend him five dollars and when his girl indignantly jilted him, he vowed he never would be broke again. So he went to the city, made money and clung to it. He hated the tipping system and as a result of his penuriousness, he was dubbed 'Burglar Proof', meaning that he was so tight, a charge of dynamite was needed to separate him from his money. But one day, the real girl came and his nature underwent a radical change. Lois Wilson heads a capable supporting cast.

Parliamentary drill will be conducted by a committee of which Ralph E. Axley '23 is chairman.

TWELVE INITIATES OF COMMERCE CLUB ARE GIVEN BANQUET

The Commerce club gave a banquet for its initiates last night in the Woman's building. Prof. W. A. Scott, director of the Course of Commerce, delivered the opening address. He explained the idea of the Commerce club and the manner in which it ties up with the commerce course. The new members were welcomed by Reginald W. Garstang '22, while the response was given by Carl J. Englehardt '22.

Preparations are now being made for the celebration of the club's twenty-first anniversary which will be observed some time in April. A new constitution is being formed in order to enlarge the scope of the activities of the club.

BIRGE DECLARES NO PTOMAINE POISONING

following day (March 16 or later). And no other student of Barnard Hall has had or has asked for the aid of the free medical service of the University on account of any digestive disturbance dating from the night of March 15.

"On March 16 and 17 three students from Chadbourne Hall called in the service of the clinic on this account, and these were all who so reported to the clinic in any way on these days.

"When, therefore, the clinic on March 17 stated that 15 to 20 Barnard students had been reported to them as ill, the statement was exactly true. Eighteen had been seen, of whom the great majority were in no proper sense ill.

"On March 18, students began to come to the clinic, not for treatment, but to secure excuses for absence from class on the 16th. A list was kept of all intestinal difficulties reported for that day. By Saturday, March 19, the number had thus risen to 41, and Dr. J. S. Evans so informed the papers which asked for information on that day. By March 23 the number had risen to 63 such cases.

"Whenever information has been given out by the clinic, it has stated the number of cases registered there at the time of giving out the statement, and the number has necessarily increased; not, I repeat, because of new cases of illness treated, but because of applications for excuses on account of illness too slight or too temporary to be reported at the time it occurred. In general, applications for excuse for temporary illness come in within a week. I have no reason to suppose this is not the situation in this case. But knowing students as I do, I should be surprised if all absentees had obtained their excuses even now. All of us will grant that it is not improbable that there were persons awakened in the night of the 15th by gastric pangs, who went about their ordinary business in the morning and have made no formal report of the matter anywhere. It is obvious that no report can be made on such persons by the clinic.

Cases Listed

"The 'grand total' of 63 cases registered to date may be classified as follows:

Barnard	41
Barnard, (eating only)	10
Chadbourne	8
Chadbourne, (eating only)	2
Lathrop, (eating only)	2

Total in contact with kitchen 63. The list gives all the cases that applied for excuses. Those seen by the clinic while they were ill are only the 18 from Barnard and the three from Chadbourne included in the first report. Besides these there were 21 excuses for intestinal disturbances on March 16 granted to girls who had no relation with the Halls or with the food prepared by the University.

"No one doubts that this intestinal upset was occasioned by irritation due to food. The experience of each of us in such cases often leaves us in doubt whether such an attack is due to a specific article eaten or to an irritating combination. At dinner on March 15 the principal dishes were veal croquettes, corn, and suet pudding. I think that no doctor or parent would pronounce the menu either particularly digestible or especially indigestible. Careful examination of the food by the University has failed to show anything which could cause trouble. The same meal, from the same food, and cooked in the same vessels, was served to nearly 1000 persons and in general without ill effect.

No "Ptomaine Poisoning"

"Let me emphasize two facts in conclusion: First, this intestinal upset was due—as most such affairs are due—to food that was irritating either in itself or in the combination eaten. It was NOT due to "ptomaine poisoning," since the specific poisons known as ptomaines cause serious and prolonged general disturbances which were wholly absent in these cases. Second, the university clinic has on every occasion given out the number of cases registered there up to the time that the statement was made. This number necessarily increased as days passed, since the students kept coming to obtain excuses. No one connected with the clinic or outside of it would deny that there were other cases of intestinal trouble not reported to the clinic. No statement can be made regarding these except that they were evidently not serious enough to require medical attendance (even though medical care involves no cost) or to require an excuse for absence from class."

PENNEL CROSBY WRITES OF ART FOR COMING 'LIT'

"The 'Decorative Treatment,' by Pennel Crosby is one of the stories to appear in the next Literary magazine, which comes out on Monday morning. Readers of the Literary magazine will remember the work of Miss Crosby, who generally treats of subjects connected with painting and artists.

"The material in the next number of the 'Lit' shows great variety of treatment," said Paul Gangelin '23, editor. "We have had all sorts of contributions, and have selected ones of as many different types as possible."

Proposed Wing Of General Hospital To Raise Efficiency Of Institution

capacity enough to take care of the completed hospital building.

It is planned in connection with this heating plant to install a laundry. It is expected that two additional stories will be added to the right wing of the present hospital this summer. One floor, providing special rooms, will be devoted entirely to the maternity department, the equipment of which will equal that of any hospital in the Middle West. This improvement is in line with promises made during the campaign two years ago.

Provision will also be made this summer for an adequate general laboratory and X-Ray laboratory and changes and improvements made in the surgical department. All of these improvements will greatly add to the efficiency and service of the hospital. The improvements in the maternity department especially will be very much appreciated.

ARTILLERY UNIT TO GET HORSES

The artillery unit of the university cadet corps will be furnished by the government with a number of horses either late this spring or during the summer.

The university authorities have agreed to provide stables for animals, and requisitions were sent to the war department some time ago. A detail of men will be sent here to care for horses, which are to be as good and as well-trained as any owned by the army.

With one exception, only cadets taking the advanced course will be privileged to use the horses. This exception makes allowance for any freshmen in the artillery unit who will attend the basic artillery camp at Camp Knox, Ky., from June 16 to July 27.

BRILLIANT RECITAL GIVEN BY MEMBERS OF MUSIC FACULTY

Professor Iltis and Miss Jones Delight Audience With Sympathetic Program

By M. N.

A program characterized both by unusual brilliance and sympathetic interpretation was the recital given by Prof. Leon L. Iltis, pianist, and Miss Josephine Jones, contralto, of the School of Music which took place last night in Music hall.

Miss Jones revealed a delightful personality in all of her songs. She has a deep, full contralto voice, which is flexible and very rich in tone. She sang three groups. The first group consisted of three numbers, all in Italian: Piacer d'amor, by Martini; Se tu m'ami, se sospiri, by Pergolesi; and Che fare senza Euridice (From Orfeo ed Euridice) by Gluck.

Her second group was in English and also consisted of three numbers: Morning, by Rachmaninoff; Evening Song, by Berwald; and Spring Song of the Robin Woman, (a recitative and song from the American Opera, "Shanevis"), by Cadman. The third number elicited particular applause. It is exceedingly difficult in technique, and involves unusual musical acrobatics.

Five short numbers of the more modern school composed the third group of Miss Jones's numbers. The Sea, by Grant-Schaefer; In the Woods, by MacDowell; There are Fairies at the Bottom of our Garden, by Lehman; When I Was Young, by d'Hardelot; and My Lover. He comes on the Skee by Clough-Leighter completed Miss Jones's part of the program.

Mr. Iltis in his three groups showed a mastery of the keyboard. Although he is primarily a player of brilliance, he revealed a tenderness and a depth of sincere feeling in his quieter numbers as well. He gave a remarkably sympathetic interpretation of his first number, Fantasia et Fugue, by Bach-Oldberg, with its intricate contrapuntal melodies and its final full climax.

His second group consisted of the Etude in C Minor, the Nocturne in E Major, and the Fantasie in F Minor, all by Chopin. The first number, called by some people the "Revolutionary Etude" was played with particular sincerity and enthusiasm.

Polonaise Americaine and Impromptu by J. A. Carpenter and Gnomereigen and La Campanella by Liszt completed the program. Mr. Iltis deserves credit not only for his solo numbers, but for his excellent accompaniments to Miss Jones's solos.

EXPOSITION WILL SHOW GAS WARFARE

and incendiary bombs while a regiment equipped with gas masks advances behind a smoke screen of its own making.

Regular Work Shown

Besides the chemical warfare exhibit aspects of the regular scientific work of the department will be demonstrated. This part of the exhibit will include general, analytical, organic, physical, and food chemistry.

An ultra-microscope will be set up to show particles of the same order of magnitude as molecules, as a part of several demonstrations of colloid chemistry. Nitric acid will be manufactured by the Birkland and Eyde process.

Methods of testing for adulteration in food will be shown as the food chemistry exhibit. One example will be the extraction of artificial coloring from tomato catsup. The materials for this experiment will have to be found outside of Wisconsin; for artificial coloring is prohibited in this state.

Exhibit City Plans

Another exhibit which is expected to arouse interest is that of the courses in city planning, which will give pictures and demonstrations of work done in the most beautiful cities of this country and of Europe. Detailed explanations of the work done by industrial corporations in building model cities for their employees and in providing recreation facilities for their employees, especially the work of the U. S. Steel corporation at Morgan Park, Duluth, Minn., will be given.

TRACK SQUAD TO START WORK FOR OUTDOOR MEETS

Every man of the Wisconsin indoor track team which won third place in the Eleventh Annual Indoor Big Ten track and field meet at Evanston last Saturday will be available for the Badger outdoor track squad. Track men will resume training Monday afternoon, and as soon as the weather becomes more favorable the team will work out at Camp Randall.

In addition to members of the indoor squad, G. D. Nichols '22, L. E. Norem '22, Malcolm Mecartney '21, and Guy Sundt '22 will be available for the hammer throwing and javelin events. Sundt hurled the javelin for a second place in the Big Ten track tournament last year. He will also enter the broad jump in which he won a second place to Carl Johnson, Michigan, at the 1920 meet.

The Wisconsin outdoor track schedule follows:

April 23—Drake relays.
April 31—Penn relays.
May 7—Chicago at Chicago.
May 14—Minnesota at Madison.
May 20—Illinois at Urbana.
May 27—Northwestern at Madison.
June 4—Outdoor Conference meet at Chicago.

McCANDLESS TO GIVE MONOLOGUE AT MOVIE MIXER

A Hebrew monologue, "Levinsky at the Wedding," presented by Lee McCandless '23, a member of Edwin Booth Dramatic society, will be a special feature at the Movie mixer tomorrow night in Lathrop gymnasium. McCandless has been active for the last two years in university dramatics.

One of Thompson's best orchestras, donated for the occasion, will play for the dancing and will start its music promptly at 9 o'clock.

CRANEFIELD TELLS OF OPPORTUNITIES IN HORTICULTURE

Wisconsin as Good as Other States, He Declares

"There are as good opportunities in horticulture in Wisconsin as in any other state," declared Mr. F. Cranefield, secretary of the Wisconsin State Horticultural society in an address before the members of the Grafters' club at the Horticultural building Wednesday night.

"Every apple grown in Wisconsin can be consumed in Wisconsin. All the fruit grown in New York state can be consumed in that state. There were apples rotting here in Wisconsin last year, not because a market could not be found for them but because people could get New York apples cheaper. It is a question of distribution. Central headquarters should be established to regulate the proper distribution of fruit.

"One reason why opportunities in horticulture have not been made of," continued Mr. Cranefield, "is that the funds for horticultural work have been low. Money for this work has usually been the small change which was left over after the other departments had received what they needed."

Men Lack Vision

"Another reason is that many men in this work lack vision. They do not see results for the betterment of the world far enough in advance. It is not sufficient to see results years ahead but the horticultural worker must be able to see results centuries ahead."

Mr. Cranefield sketched the purpose of the Wisconsin State Horticultural society which is to bring the work of the experimental station of the university to the people. Trial orchards have been started all over the state in which tests on the different varieties of fruit are carried on. Considerable work is also done by correspondence. Answers to any horticultural questions, however complex, are furnished and a magazine is published.

Next Wednesday evening, March 30, there will be movies of the orange industry. Films which were sent by the California Fruit Growers' association will be used.

675 Millions Income Tax Collected by U. S.

WASHINGTON—Income and profits tax collected for the March 15th installment was estimated by Secty. Mellon today to aggregate $675,000,000. To the close of business March 22, $650,000,000 had actually been deposited from the collections, Mr. Mellon added.

"THE KID"

The famous comedian has accomplished the impossible in his latest feature length picture "The Kid." Directors, previous employees and others associated with him in his screen career had pronounced it impossible for him to appear in his well known screen character in a semi-dramatic story and succeed in gaining sympathy as well as laughs from his audience.

Reviewers, critics, trade journals, competitors, one and all pronounce "The Kid" the greatest picture in the history of the screen. That's why 70 theaters in New York City are showing it at the same time.

ENGINEERS WIN FOUR OPENING TRACK EVENTS

Initial Events in Inter-college Cinder Meet Held Yesterday

By winning the first four events of the Inter-college track meet, held yesterday in the gymnasium annex, the College of Engineering piled up a total of 20 points. The L. and S. teams made second place in the scores by 9 points, the of Commerce 6, and the College of Agriculture at the bottom with 5 scores.

The running broad jump, the first event in the meet, was captured by the engineers totaling an aggregate distance of 81 feet. In this event, the L. and S. team made second, and the commerce team finished third. Kinsey, May McClure, and Woods formed the winning team. The best individual jump of 21 feet 3 inches was made by William Kinsey '24.

Engineers Win Vault

In the pole vault event the engineers again repeated their first success. Hamann, Tomlinson, Schmidt, and Krieger composed the winning team. The commerce men made second place. The victors all cleared 10 feet in the contest.

The quarter mile run, the third event, resulted in first place for the engineers, second for the L. and S. team, third for the agriculturalists, and fourth by the commerce squad. The best individual time was made by Gerald Wade '23, agric, who won the third heat in 57 1-5. The first heat was won by William Haugen '23, L. and S., in 59. The second heat was won by Karl Hohlfeld '23, L. and S., in 58 2-5.

Cop Fourth Event

Following the previous three victories, the engineers captured the fourth event, the 2 mile run. In a closely contested event the team consisting of P. B. Powell, Greeley, Copeland, and Nelson made first. The agrics captured second berth, while the L. and S. team made third place. The individual winner was Carl Rossmeissel '23, commerce student, by the time of 10:38 minutes.

The remaining events of the Inter-college track meet will be held Saturday 1:30 p. m. in the gymnasium annex.

Bachelor Tax Is Killed By Volley of Grins

There will be no tax on bachelors.

After half an hour of humor and fun the assembly killed the Mark bachelor tax bill by a vote of 66 to 21.

Assemblyman Mark said there was a real purpose in introducing such a bill; that many men came into this state to work and earn high wages and paid no taxes. But the house laughed, giggled over the amendments, and then killed the bill.

Amendments offered were:

By Tuffley—To exempt bachelor members of the assembly. Killed by a large vote.

By Jordan—Exempting bachelor members of the assembly while serving on the present salary. Killed by a large vote.

By Summerville—For a legislative committee to investigate the subject. Killed by a large vote.

Assemblyman Nelson moved for the indefinite postponement of the "whole shooting match."

The Catlin amendment created the most humor. His amendment provided for an increase of tax on maiden ladies who failed to land a man during leap year.

CHICAGO—A drive to check up on income tax returns of landlords has been started by internal revenue agents.

ELECT OUTING CLUB OFFICERS FOR '21

Officers of the Outing club were elected in a meeting last night as follows: Elizabeth Kirk, president; Dorothy Cremer, vice president; Romayne Berryman, secretary; and Betty Thorkelson, treasurer.

The following special chairmen were also chosen: Irene Clayton, hiking; Esther Bilstead, bicycling; Margaret Henry, picnicking; Belle Knights, ice skating; K. Kennedy, tobogganning; Helen Zuelke, skiing; Mary Baldwin, roller skating; Margaret Duckett, canoeing; and Della Mann, horseback riding.

All officers will be installed at the April meeting of the club.

CHOIR TO GIVE EASTER CONCERT

In observance of Good Friday, the Vested Student choir of the University Methodist church will give in concert Theodore DuBois' production, "The Seven Last Words" tonight. Prof. Lowell Townsend, School of Music, will direct.

The student choir will consist of the following students: Bernard Huebner, tenor; Rueben Brown, baritone; Josephine Darrin, soprano, and Winifred Collier, soprano. The concert begins promptly at eight.

Allies Threaten More Penalties for Germany

Music Memory Contest

SECOND MUSIC MEMORY CONTEST

Seventh of 28 Daily Selections

For Good Friday

AIR FOR G STRING (FROM D MAJOR SUITE)—by BACH (1685-1750.)

The religious fervor of Bach's "Air for the G String" makes it a most appropriate and gratifying selection for Good Friday, the day on which Jesus was crucified. The lack of words allows each listener to make his own interpretation of the deeply moving music.

Johann Sebastian Bach was associated throughout his life with the church, first as choir boy, then as organist and choir director, eventually holding the highest position of this kind in Germany. He had a complete mastery of the art of contrapuntal writing and his choruses and instrumental pieces are beautiful interweavings of different voices or melodies. Bach held a strong, trusting faith in God which breathes forth in his sacred music particularly. His way of uttering it was classically severe, pure in structure, direct and simple. His life was one of broad activity; he was a leading figure in the community life, furthering the best influences. He was teacher, composer, and talented performer, and to this is due much of the breadth of his compositions.

"The Air for G String" receives its name from the fact that, altho it involves a rather wide range of tones (ten, or an octave and a third), it is played entirely upon one string—the lowest. This string, being made of fine silver wire wound upon gut, gives a peculiarly rich and vibrant quality. The Bach melody is slow and full with many sustained tones set against a steadily moving persistent accompaniment. A poignant climax is reached when the melody soaring to the highest marked position on the G string, the seventh, strikes a resounding B flat and then sinks back into calm resignation. The composition is of a deeply contemplative nature which induces serious reflection. Poe has said that beauty is truth and truth is beauty. The beauty of this music makes truth shine out to the listener, a truth that ennobles man and leads toward God.

The seventh selection in last years contest was "He Shall Feed His Flock," by George Friederich Handel.
