HAZING ENDED ON CAMPUS BY SENATE RULING

Class Warfare Abolished; Traditions Will be Enforced

The death knell of hazing has been sounded by the student senate in a resolution passed abolishing all forms of underclass warfare. This action has the approval of the faculty.

The senate ruling does not mean the abolishment of the green cap and other traditions, which the senate intends to enforce as well as the edict against hazing.

President E. A. Birge and the senate have received numerous letters from citizens of the state demanding the absolute abolishment of hazing, especially the variety that has meant lake-parties and street riots. The members of the state legislature have also been petitioned from time to time to do away with hazing.

Class Officers Responsible

Officers of both the freshman and sophomore classes have signified their intention to stand back of the action of the senate, and the sophomore tradition's committee has given the senate its support in the enforcement of the resolution. However, the resolution of the senate also makes the class officers responsible for any outbreaks between the freshmen and sophomores.

The resolution passed by the student senate reads as follows:

"Whereas, the people of the state have expressed themselves by means of editorials in the papers in the state and by direct complaint to the university and state officials as being opposed to hazing as it has existed in the University of Wisconsin in the past; and

"Whereas, life insurance companies and other organizations vit-

Hungry, Love-sick, Spring - Feverites Find Solace Here

When is a waffle parlor not a waffle parlor? No, you're wrong—not when it's a waffle kitchen.

The Union building waffle establishment is both a kitchen and a parlor and a lot of other things besides—an ice-cream parlor and a sandwich wagon and a confectionery shop 'n' everything. Why the things you can't get there absolutely aren't worth mentioning. Nice tender, juicy, golden brown waffles are still the main thing, but the scope of the establishment has been widened to include all of the other things to delight the inner man.

Sandwiches are going to be the special spring attraction. Every shape, kind and model will be on sale at particular times and on special days. Every day promises to bring forth a new variety. Sandwiches never before seen or heard of will make the Union building the most popular place on the campus. Can't you just see yourself dropping in after that awful 2:30 class and refreshing yourself with a dainty, lunch or a cooling dish of ice cream?

Because they're going to have ice cream for sale there, too—fancy sundaes and all sorts of tempting concoctions. The Union building has been entirely redecorated and the cheerful dining room is as pleasing to the eye as the waffles are to the taste. The hours are from 11 to 11.

Frolic Magnate Gets Corporation in Line for Jamboree

Jamboree, Inc., president of the varsity Fun corporation, organized in the student senate and S. G. A. under charter of March 27, gives promise of a fancy dress party never to be forgotten, at the all-university costume ball in the armory Saturday, April 10.

Like all great magnates, Jamboree is not seen by his workers. He is a captain of pleasure, operating for every manufacturer of frolic, and in private concerns as well, and so far the Sherman anti-trust law hasn't got him. His spirit presides over the entire project, and committees are working busily for him.

To prove that the affair is to be out of the realms of the ordinary mixer, the number of people who will be admitted has been limited to 800, and beginning Monday no more than that number of tickets will be sold. Only those in fancy dress costumes will be allowed to attend and admission is 50 cents.

Dividends in the form of prizes for the best group of six or more representing an idea, and the cleverest individual costume, will be declared. For the group award there will be a choice of a cup, table-lamp, plaque, or polychrome candle sticks. The winning individual will receive book-ends, a picture frame, plaque, or a cigarette or jewelry case.

If you know of anyone who has a clock with rubber hands, the committee of stunts would appreciate the use of it, so that the time for entertainment can be stretched. Plans include a sleight-of-hand performance, a spiritualistic siesta conducted by Ouija's best spook, an impersonation of Harry Lauder, aesthetic dances by W. A. A. performers, and 'tis whispered a solo by the Rusty Hinge quartet. Colored lights will feature some of the dances.

A committee on costumes is negotiating with a Chicago and also a Milwaukee firm for outfits to be rented out to those who wish to pay $1.00.

The only thing that we don't know anything about is the why of the burial committee. But we guess that is a part of the "nothing usual, everything different" slogan of Jamboree.

BADGER CLUB MEET TO HEAR EDUCATOR

J. Stanley Brown, president of the De Kalb Normal school, will address the Badger club at its regular meeting Sunday evening at 8 o'clock, on "Qualifications of a Successful Teacher," and students will have the chance to learn conditions and opportunities in the teaching profession.

Superior Central high school won the Wisconsin state basketball championship by defeating Madison and Neenah in two games yesterday afternoon and evening and earned the right to represent Wisconsin in the inter-state tournament scheduled for next week.

Neenah won second place, Madison third, and Racine fourth, while La Crosse was declared winner of the consolation series through forfeiture by Monroe and Menomonee.

The giant Superior team clearly demonstrated its right to the title by winning its games by decisive scores, although Neenah had the better of the argument in the second half of the final game when she held the Superior forwards to a lone point, a free throw by Hancock. Madison had no chance against the much larger team in the morning game and was smothered under a 28 to 8 score.

Racine Finishes Strong

Madison and Racine had a close battle in the first evening game to decide third and fourth place, with the local team emerging on the long end of a 16 to 12 score. Madison's scoring in the first half, when she garnered 9 points to Racine's 3, was responsible for the victory for she was outplayed in the second period when Racine came from behind and scored 9 to the local team's 7.

La Crosse was awarded first place in the consolation series because Menomonee and Monroe forfeited their games, which would have been played in the afternoon.

After the final games of the evening series the Superior, Neenah, and La Crosse were presented with the cups offered by the athletic department. In addition to these prizes every man on the first place team was awarded a gold basketball watch fob, and every player on the second and third place fives was presented with a similar fob with a silver instead of a gold basketball.

Pick State Stars

Nevers of Superior, Hancock of Superior, and Wood of Monroe were picked by a committee of players and coaches as the best forward, center, and guard of the tournament and awarded gold medals in honor of the selection. The same committee, composed of Coach M. A. Kent, Prof. A. S. Pearce, Dr. C. R. Harper, Harold C. Knapp, Frank L. Weston, Anthony G. Zulfer, and Silas L. Sengler, also selected two honorary all-state teams, given above.

Although Neenah is entitled to representation in the inter-state tournament along with Superior, by virtue of her claim to second place, Madison will probably be entered instead, since the Neenah team is almost certain not to enter. Madison will be entitled to play because of her third place rating.

SUPERIOR 19, NEENAH 9

This battle, like the Superior-Madison clash in the morning, was a game with big men on one side and small ones on the other. Superior, generally conceded to be the heaviest Wisconsin high school team in years, had a big advantage over the smaller team but that did not prevent the Neenah men from fighting every inch of the way and outplaying their rivals in the second half.

Superior started off with a bang in the first half, caging ten points before Neenah could score and the period ended 18 to 5 in their favor. Nevers led the attack during this half with five field goals. Neenah was held scoreless for three fourths of the period but finally succeeded in getting a free throw and two baskets, due principally to the passing dribbling, and all-around playing of their midget forward, Chappelle. This Neenah player in every

TOTAL $30,681, WEEK'S RESULT IN UNION DRIVE

With a total of $30,681.51 turned in by campaign teams up to last night, the university quota for the Memorial Union building remains less than one-third subscribed at the close of a week's soliciting. Teams brought in $3,040 in pledges as a result of Saturday's work.

Booths erected on the campus near Music hall, the Engineering building, and Agricultural hall, will sign up students for pledges starting Monday morning.

A meeting of all members of campaign teams has been called for 12:30 Monday at the Union building.

SPRING has officially arrived. Yesterday at 3:59 she blew in, and brought with her several more comes. Be patient; in a month or so we'll get down to yours.

A NEW THOUGHT

In the spring a young man's fancy
Neckwear takes on brighter hues,
And his energy's directed
To the polish on his shoes.

In the spring a co-ed's fancy
Headgear gets more fancy still.
And the way she eyes the fellows
Is a caution, on the hill.

In the spring we all are fancy,
And for why, all fussers know.

Who is there who would not,
has not,
Be, or been, or had, a beau?

THE high school basketball meet aroused, in our university group, much latent home town spirit. There was as much talk over the games in some instances as any Conference race brought out. Pity all that enthusiasm for Kenosha, Menomonee, and the other tank towns can't be transferred to Wisconsin and her teams.

THE Engineers St. Patrick's parade reminds us of the "Uncle Tom's Cabin" company that used to come to the home town every season. The manager of that company was a wonder. He used to spread ten musicians and three dogs over more territory than any other parade we ever saw. Once he put the men so far apart that when they gathered at the square for the final blast each instrument was on a different tune, ending up with "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean."

Verdant Mechanics Pay Tribute to Patron Saint and Stone for "Love of Ould Ireland"

Led by their emerald-capped band and followed by floats, the Law school hearse, the snakes, the celebrated Blarney stone, and many more surprises, the Engineers paid due respects to their patron, St. Patrick, in their parade yesterday afternoon.

Sure, St. Patrick himself must have ordered the weather, for the sun was bright and the sky cloudless. Crowds of co-eds and co-edwines watched the parade from the curbs, taking the knocks which the Engineers handed them with cheerfulness.

Starting from the north end of Park street, the engineers proceeded down State street. One of the snakes which St. Patrick drove out of Ireland was on display. And there was St. Pat himself resting "slum-noriously" in a carriage, while the good old Blarney stone, worn down from the kisses which made men gallant in days gone by, was near.

Then followed the mechanical engineers. The Commerce goat which was captured early this morning was also in the parade. The Law school was represented by a hearse, followed by pall-bearers. Running to and fro among the participants in the parade were surveyors. Drinks for the thirsty were provided by the chemical engineers who mixed them "while you run along," and from the big bottle donated by "Schlitz."

But there was more than that in the parade. There were men carrying the famous "nut" and "bench." The Letters and Science course was represented, while other engineers carried picks and pushed wheelbarrows. The finish was marked by a float carrying a jazz trio, a tea-hound and tea-houndress!

The parade proceeded down State street, swung around the square, and came back to the library steps, while the strains of "St. Patrick Was an Engineer" floated through the air. Amid cheers St. Pat gave a short talk on the libe steps. Then all the loyal engineers kissed the Blarney stone—and "sister," Mary C. Johnson, daringly did the same.

A general committee composed of the various engineers had charge of arranging the parade.

OVER THE TOP THIS WEEK

LITTLE more than $30,000 subscribed and $70,000 to go—that is how the Memorial Union drive stands at the end of the first week. A good start has been made, but it is only a beginning. Monday must witness a renewal of effort by every campaign team, and a renewed response in liberal subscriptions.

The Memorial Union campaign is without exception the biggest proposition in which men and women of the university have ever had a part. It is raising $1,000,000 to erect a building which will be a worthy memorial and will satisfy a long-felt need. What finer form of memorial for Wisconsin's 5,000 men and women in the world war be conceived than one which adds substantially to student life while it commemorates their service?

The alumni are looking to the students for an enthusiasm worthy of the purpose of the drive. The rising level of university subscriptions is being closely observed as an indication of the support which the men and women nearest at hand are lending to the campaign.

The week beginning tomorrow must witness the completion of the drive in the university. With student sentiment squarely back of the Memorial Union, the campaign can be terminated successfully by next Saturday night. What is required is that every student contribute, contribute generously, and contribute now.

The attitude of waiting for a solicitor to call and ask for a subscription seems to be widespread. Last night, when the Memorial Union drive was mentioned, a student was heard to ask: "What, are you a solicitor?" The implication seemed to be that one one except the actual solicitors were talking about the campaign.

That attitude is wrong. Don't wait for a solicitor. This is your campaign. Stop tomorrow at one of the booths on the hill and give until you feel you have met your share of the responsibility.

FOR UNIFORMLY WIDE SIDEWALKS

STATE street may have few shortcomings as a commercial thoroughfare, but from the student viewpoint it has some woeful defects as an avenue for pedestrians.

At some time in the dim past we can recall that the attention of the city council was called to the need for widening the sidewalk on the north side of State street, between Frances and Gilman. The narrow cement walks objected to are between Frances street and the Pantorium and between the Chocolate shop and the Co-op. There is also a short stretch of narrow sidewalk between Frances and Lake streets.

The big university enrollment this year has increased the pedestrian traffic on State street to such an extent that uniformly wide sidewalks are an absolute necessity. At noon and in the late afternoon these narrow walks are so crowded that the two streams of students cannot pass without a number being shoved to the side and down in the gutters. Between the Chocolate shop and the Co-op the sidewalk in several places has a disposition to incline toward the street. Even the most experienced have difficulty in keeping their balance along this stretch when the walks are slippery.

How the students have stood for deficiencies such as these without grumbling long ago is more than we can fathom. If the Madison council has the interest of 7,000 students and of city pedestrians at heart, if it is keenly alive to opportunities for civic improvement, three sections of narrow cement sidewalk on State street, affectionately termed "cow paths" in the past, will be widened before many more foot travelers scramble in the gutters.

SUPERIOR FIVE WINS STATE BASKET TITLE

game in which his team played proved himself to be the best dribbler and passer of any man in the tournament.

Neenah outplayed and outscored Superior in the second half totaling four points to the northerner's one, but could not overcome the big lead piled up early in the game. There was no one, however, who was not satisfied with the result, for everyone conceded that Superior was the team to represent Wisconsin in the inter-state tournament.

Thornton, Neenah guard, and Christmas, Superior guard, proved strong men on the defense and both earned places on the first or second place teams as a result of their playing in the final game. Christoph, Neenah center, played his best game of the tournament against Superior.

The lineup:
Neenah Superior
Sund RF Nevers
Chappelle LF Nelson
Christoph C Hancock
Riegal RG Smith
Christmas LG Thornton
Substitutions—Pinkerton for Sund
Field goals—Nevers 5, Hancock 2, Chappelle 2, Smith 1, Christmas 1, Sund 1, Christoph 1.
Free throws—Hancock 1 out of 2.
Thornton 1 out of 2.
Referee—Schommer.

MADISON 16, RACINE 12

The first game of the evening series between Madison and Racine to determine third and fourth places was a hard fought, well-played and close game throughout, with Madison having the advantage in the first half and Racine having the better of the argument in the second.

Gundersen, Madison forward, played his best game of the series. Walsh, who played in the morning battle against Superior, in spite of the fact that he had been sick in bed the day before, did not start in the evening, but got into the game late in the second period. Kessenich and Diebold played strong guarding games and Schulz contributed three field goals to the scoring column.

Davies and Grover played best for Racine with Olson a close second. Davies dropped in three from the floor and Grover two.

The lineup:
Madison Racine
Gundersen RF Olson
Sutherland LF Davies
Schulz C Grover
Diebold RG Hunting
Kessenich LG Gerhardt
Substitutions—Walsh for Sutherland.

Field goals—Gundersen 3, Schulz 3, Davies 3, Grover 2, Sutherland 1.
Free throws—Sutherland 1 out of 1, Olson 2 out of 2, Walsh 1 out of 2.
Referee—Schommer.

LA CROSSE 17, EAU CLAIRE 10

In a slow, erratic game the first of the day, La Crosse won the consolation cup by a victory over Eau Claire and by the forfeiture of the consolation games by Monroe and Menomonee.

The game, which was played before a small crowd, started out fast but before the first period was half over, began to drag, and before the end of the game had developed into the slowest of the series. The two fives played evenly for one period, the score at the end of the first half being 6 to 5 in favor of La Crosse. The second half, however, proved the superiority of the La Crosse team and they scored 11 points to their opponents' 5.

For La Crosse, Fitzke led the scoring with six field goals and three free throws, while Olson garnered half the points for Eau Claire.

The lineup:

La Crosse Eau Claire
Zoerb RF Donaldson
Reay LF Horan
Fitzke C Ehrhard
Stokke RG Olson
Sullivan LG Wallace
Substitutions—Kohlhopp for Horan, Vondrashik for Zoerb.
Field goals—Fitzke 6, Olson 2, Donaldson 1, Ehrhard 1, Zoerb 1.

SUPERIOR 28, MADISON 8

Madison could do nothing but fight against the Superior team, and although the players scrapped to the last ditch, they were forced to succumb to a 28 to 8 beating. Walsh and Schulz, two regulars who were kept out of the first game, were again in the lineup, but proved of no avail against the powerful Swedes.

Superior piled up a 16 to 7 lead in the first half and increased it in the second, holding Madison to a lone tally in that period. Schulz, with two field goals, was the only Madison man who could locate the basket. Gunderson did not score and Walsh marked up only four out of 9 free throws.

Nevers was, as usual, the principle Superior point gainer, with Nelson and Hancock close seconds. Christmas and Smith both contributed to the scoring column.

The lineup:
Madison Superior
Gunderson LF Nevers
Walsh RF Nelson
Schultz C Hancock
Diebold RG Smith
Kessenich LG Christmas
Field goals Superior: Nevers, 4; Nelson, 3; Hancock, 3; Smith, 1; Christmas, 2; Madison: Schultz, 2.
Free throws, Walsh, 4 out of 8; Hancock, 2 out of 7.

NEENAH 20, RACINE 8

The third morning contest, between Neenah and Racine, was responsible for Neenah's right to meet Superior in the title game. Racine was clearly outplayed all the way, Neenah leading 12 to 6 at the end of the first period.

Chappelle again starred with four field goals in addition to his exceptional floor game. Grover did most of the scoring for Racine.

The summaries:
Neenah Racine
Chappelle RF Olson
Pinkerton LF Davies
Christoff C Grover
Thornton RG Hunting
Riegal LG Gebhardt
Field goals, Neenah: Chappelle, 4; Christoff, 2; Riegal, 1; Racine: Olson, 2; Grover, 2.
Free throws, Thornton, 4 out of 10; Grover, 0 out of 2.

Tuesday-Thursday—Alice Joyce in "The Vengeance of Durand" (pictures.) Ford Weekly.

Friday-Saturday—A Daughter of the Sun, road show (Saturday matinee)

Bushman & Bayne Today

A double program of pictures will be the offering at the Fuller for today and tomorrow, when Francis X. Bushman and Beverly Bayne will be seen in their latest six reel drama "Daring Hearts" and the first and only German films to be shown in this country of the work of German U boats during the war, called "The Log of the U 35," will be on view. "The Log of the U 35" is an authentic account kept as a historical record by the German U 35 of the preying out and sinking of commercial ships during the unrestricted submarine warfare.

Alice Joyce Coming

On Tuesday and Thursday of this week Miss Alice Joyce will be seen on the Fuller screen in her new picture called "The Vengeance of Durand."

"Scandal," Walter Hast's production of Cosmo Hamilton's comedy which has created a positive furore in Chicago, where it has broken all box office records for a dramatic attraction will be seen at the Fuller, matinee and night on Wednesday. Mr. Hamilton has succeeded in evolving a startling and unparalleled plot which will pique the curiosity and command the fascinated interest of the most blasé theatergoers. Brilliant and penetrating in its study of life, vivid in its portrayal of American society, wholesome in its point of view, these are the characteristics of "Scandal," a romance of universal appeal. It is convincing because it pictures the hearts and minds of men and women in their social and domestic relations. "Scandal" will stand not only as Cosmo Hamilton's ablest work, but as one of the notable achievements of the American stage. Mr. Hast is sending a company here of uniform excellence. Seat sale opens tomorrow morning.

AT THE STRAND

Another unusually good picture is in store for the local movie lovers in the form of "What's Your Husband Doing?" which features Douglas MacLean and Doris May, the popular young stars who achieved fame in their first starring vehicle, "23½ Hours Leave," which was shown here a short time ago. "What's Your Husband Doing?" is a side bursting comedy by George V. Hobart and will open a three day day. As added features a Prizma natural colored picture will be shown in addition to an "Out of the Inkwell" comedy cartoon and a Bray Pictograph.

FRENCH ORPHANS
AWAIT STUDENT AID

The university's French war orphans are waiting to be readopted. Each year the orphans, which have been supported since 1917, are adopted again by the students. If any fraternity or sorority fails to renew the support of the particular children they adopted three years ago, those orphans will be added to the ones belonging to the university at large.

A sum of from $400 to $500 is needed before June in order to meet the demands. It takes $36.50 to support one orphan for a year.

A tag-day will be held Wednesday to raise as much of the money as possible. The tags will be 10 cents apiece, though the plan is to have students give whatever they feel they can afford.

GOPHERS WIN IN MAT MEET

Five of Six Bouts Go to Minnesota in Close Contest

The Badger wrestlers lost a hard fought dual wrestling meet with the Minnesota grapplers yesterday afternoon in the gymnasium. Five bouts out of six were awarded the Gophers.

The heavyweight bout was forfeited to Weeks as no Minnesota contestant in this weight appeared.

Practically every bout was a scrappy struggle from start to finish and the spectators were more than once brought to their feet by the spectacular wrestling shown in the matches.

That both squads were quite evenly matched is shown by the fact that only two falls were scored throughout the entire meet and in most of the bouts it was necessary to go three rounds before a Gopher would win his two out of three rounds, necessary for a victory.

The first bout, the 125 pound class, was probably the closest of all, with Mercer of Wisconsin wrestling against Kolda of Minnesota. The men were so evenly matched that neither was able to score a decision or a fall in the first two rounds. In the third round Kolda won a close decision, which turned the bout in his favor.

In the 135-pound class, Culver took the offensive at the start and easily won the decision in the first round over Steidal of Minnesota. The Gopher came back strong in the last two periods, winning the bout with two decisions.

The third match, a welterweight bout, was closely contested between Kirst, Wisconsin, and Silverman, Minnesota. Both men were on their feet most of the time pushing at each other's head and maneuvering for positions. The first round was a draw. Silverman managed to score a fall in the second, and in the third Kirst again held his man to a draw, but the bout went to Minnesota.

The last two matches were won by the Gophers in the first two rounds of each match. Although Seitz, in the 158-pound class, put up a fine style of grappling he was unable to down Bailey, his Gopher opponent, who won two successive decisions. In the light heavy class Sponholtz of Wisconsin was thrown in the first round by Dvorack, Minnesota, who also won a decision in the second round.

CAMPUS HAZING TO END SENATE VOTES

ally interested in the health and well-being of the students have emphatically expressed their protests to the president of the university and to the officers of the state legislature against the prevalent forms of hazing; and

"Whereas, public opinion at large is decidedly opposed to hazing in universities and other higher institutions of learning and is increasing in this opposition every year, as is evidenced by the fact that most of the large and prominent universities in the east and middle-west have already abolished hazing and that others are taking steps toward the end; and

"Whereas, the members of the faculty are all strongly opposed to hazing and have suggested very drastic measures to handle the situation; and,

"Whereas, hazing appears only at two times in the year and is more the expression of over-exuberance by a few than an effort toward the enforcement of university traditions by the whole class; and

"Whereas, the students when reaching the upper classes, realize the futility of the present form of hazing as compared with the strict observance and enforcement of university traditions.

Senate Fixes Penalties

"Be it hereby resolved by the student senate of the University of Wisconsin,

1. "That all hazing at the University of Wisconsin be abolished.

2. "That all traditions be maintained and strictly enforced and all violators of said traditions be punished in the manner that the student senate shall prescribe.

3. "That the officers and committees of both the freshmen and sophomore classes shall be held responsible for the conduct of the members of their respective classes."

PYTHIA LITERARY

The most important meeting of the year of the Pythia literary society will be held in Lathrop hall Monday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Every member of the society is earnestly requested to be present. All members of the society are asked to attend the Oratorical contest tomorrow night and support Pythia's candidate.
