Three seniors, five juniors, and three sophomores were elected as student representatives for the student-faculty committee of the Engineering school at an election held yesterday. This organization, which is the first of its kind on the campus, aims to secure greater cooperation between students and the engineering faculty.

The seniors who were elected are Hugo Rusch, Lloyd M. Johnson, Willard Tesch; juniors, Bowman Breed, Earl Plettner, Robert Nethercut, Charles Gary, Lawrence Hunsader; sophomores, Arno Wiene, William Giles, and William Beatty.

The tie votes between Lionel Tschudy and Sherman Green, senior civil engineers; Joseph Woschutz and Everett Jones, mining engineers; Philip Niederman and Robert Whitten, sophomore mechanical engineers, and Carroll Robb and Roman Brumm, will be settled at the first meeting of the organization.

Cabinet Discontinues

Meetings of Two Clubs

The Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, at its last meeting, decided to discontinue regular meetings of the Fellowship and Badger clubs.

The new program calls for outside speakers whenever they can be obtained, and for an occasional ladies' night for members of the association in place of the Badger club meetings held Sunday nights. Other Sunday nights will be held open for Cabinet committee meetings and foreign student gatherings.

Dr. Paul Harrison, famous surgeon of Arabia and author, will speak at the first of these meetings, December 7 in the Y. M. parlors.

A kiddy party will be given the last Sunday evening before Christmas at "Dad" Wolf's home.

WHITE SPADES

BADGER CHANGES MUST BE IN SOON

A special committee of the regents is considering a plan for the building of new dormitories with private capital on university property, as a result of the proposals of several private companies.

The committee will suggest at the next meeting of the board of regents on December 5 such enabling legislation as will be necessary to carry out this plan. If the necessary legislation is secured, a feasible plan for the financing of the project must be worked out.

Should no satisfactory plan be reached, the legislature will ask for the appropriation of $600,000 for the building of new dormitories.

GAGE TO STUDY TORONTO UNION

Wisconsin Delegate to Convention to View Famous Canadian Building

The auditorium for the Wisconsin Memorial Union building will be one of the special problems which Leslie Gage '23, president of Union Board, will investigate at a convention of unions at Toronto, which delegates from about 20 colleges and universities will attend Friday and Saturday.

"We will compare the organizations of the different union boards and make a careful study of the features of the Hart Union building, which is the most elaborate and complete building of this nature in America," Gage said just before he started on his trip last night.

The program committee in charge of the plans for Wisconsin's proposed Union building has suggested that the varsity commons and sleeping quarters for returned alumni be considered at the discussions. Banquets and witnessing the Canadian rugby championship game will be among the features planned for the entertainment of the delegates. Gage will return to Madison Sunday evening.

Import Orchestras For Union Dances

To import Madison orchestras for the Memorial Union dances to be held during Christmas vacation in all Wisconsin towns where there are university students was decided at a meeting of those in charge of the affairs last night. If plans materialize Boyd's and Thompson's orchestras will tour Wisconsin and Illinois during the holidays.

Plans for the Union Memorial dances are progressing rapidly. In Milwaukee, Chicago, Racine, Oshkosh and Janesville, they are practically completed, and in the rest of the towns arrangements are well under way.

Extensive plans are being made for the dance in Milwaukee. It will be held at the Hotel Pfister, the date to be announced later. The feature of the evening will be a skit put on by Haresfoot men. Spot light dances and attractive lighting effects have been arranged. Judge Karel and other Wisconsin graduates are to be patrons of the affair.

The Chippewa Valley club of the university will give their annual dance at Eau Claire. They have offered to give their proceeds to Memorial Union. This will take the place of a special dance to raise funds for the purpose.

Three hundred printed posters are to be distributed among the towns and a great deal of publicity is to be given the dances to insure their success.

Says Organizations Must Hurry to Get Badger Page

Money and material for the organization pages in the Badger must be turned in at once if the organization is to be included according to Howard Lyman '24, business manager. Nothing will be printed until the money has been received. New societies wishing to be represented may obtain special arrangements by calling at the office soon. The page rate is $35.

ELECT 15 MEN TO MEMBERSHIP IN TAU BETA PI

National Engineering Fraternity Honors Ranking Students

Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, announces the election of 14 seniors and one junior. The election was based on "high scholastic attainment and distinctive personality."

Those elected to membership are seniors, Robert W. Groot, Charles A. Silver, William T. Ennor, Rufus S. Phillips, Arnold S. Rufsvold, Clarence F. Rasmussen, Archie F. Bowers, Ralph Shaw, Werner I. Senger, Theodore Votteler, William A. Gluesing, Peter J. Burelbach, Anthony J. Nerad, and Lemore W. Clark; junior, Robert C. Nethercut.

The initiation banquet was held at the University club last night, Prof. R. S. McCaffrey acting as toastmaster. Clarence A. Andrae, president of the active chapter, gave the address of welcome which was responded to by Anthony Nerad '23. Other speakers on the program were Prof. M. O. Withey, W. O. Hotchkiss and T. R. Wilson.

Tau Beta Pi is the oldest honorary technical fraternity in American colleges and universities. It was founded at Lehigh university in 1883 to mark in a fitting manner those who have conferred credit upon their alma mater by a high grade of scholarship as undergraduates, or by their attainments as alumni. The fraternity was established to foster a spirit of liberal culture in engineering schools in the country. There are a total of 33 active chapters in colleges and universities and many alumni chapters found in the different cities.

The charter for the Alpha chapter of Wisconsin was granted in 1889, since which time membership in Tau Beta Pi has been regarded as the highest honor bestowed upon any engineering student in his undergraduate career at Wisconsin.

Elections are conferred by the active chapter with the advice of a faculty committee, upon those seniors and juniors whose scholastic ability is conspicuous for its high quality and whose personality recommends them.

Tau Beta Pi has established the custom of presenting the man who has the highest average at the end of his freshman year with a special engraved slide rule. R. A. Smith '25 is the man who received the slide rule this fall in consideration of his work last year.

TO HOLD TRYOUTS FOR PLAY FRIDAY

Tryouts for "Stop Thief", the Prom play, will continue Friday afternoon from 4:30 to 6 o'clock, and all students desiring parts who have not yet been tried out will be considered at that time, according to Olivia Fentress, tryouts manager. More men are especially desired for the cast, she said. Those trying out are advised by the committee to be familiar with the script of the play, which may be procured at the desk of the university library. As students must be scholastically eligible to participate in the play, the committee requests ineligible students not to try out.

The office will be open Friday afternoon from 1:30 until 6 o'clock for those who come in. Absolutely no changes will be made after this date.

Union Board Cancels Saturday Dance in Favor of Haresfoot Affair

One hundred of 250 tickets for the fifth annual Haresfoot Follies dance are still available, it was learned yesterday after inquiry at Morgan's and the University pharmacy where the pasteboards are on sale. Indications point to a complete sell-out by Saturday.

Union Board has cancelled its regular week-end dance in Lathrop parlor out of deference to the follies and instead will give the Union dance at the Badger room. With many fraternity groups attending the follies dance in a body, the affair will be the largest of the week end and the most important social function of the first semester.

Prof. and Mrs. Harry Glicksman and Prof. and Mrs. M. V. O'Shea will chaperon the party. Extraordinary lighting effects in the form of subdued color floods are being prepared, according to Sidney Thorsen, business manager of the follies, for decoration.

Dave Chudnow '25 and his ten-piece complete novelty dance program featuring the Haresfoot follies fox trot, "Winter Moon," written for the occasion by Cecil Brodt '23 and Willard Sumner '32.

Martin Below '24, captain-elect of the 1923 football team, will introduce "Winter Moon" with the Haresfoot quartet as part of vodvil entertainment held during the dance intermission.

FRESHMEN PLAN MIXER IN LATHROP GYM FOR JAN. 12

The first freshman social affair of the year is planned for Friday evening, January 12, and will be a mixer in Lathrop gymnasium, it was decided at the freshman mixer committee meeting held yesterday.

Russell E. Gage '26, chairman of the committee, will be in charge. Complete plans will be made by Gage and the assisting committee.

"It is our first social, and if the mixer has the patronage it deserves, we will repeat the dances regularly. This is the very best opportunity for the freshmen men and women to get together and start the foundation for a true class spirit," Gage said last night.

TAX RAISE NOT STATE'S FAULT

Local Expenditures Cause of Burden, Says Report

Tax burdens in Wisconsin result directly from local expenditures and "cannot properly or honestly be charged to the state government," the Wisconsin tax commission emphasized today in a bulletin pointing out that relief from excessive costs of government must come through reduction of local taxes.

The commission showed that out of an aggregate total tax of $117,921,738 collected for all purposes in Wisconsin during the present year, the state's share was but $13,356,099, or 11.3 per cent of the whole. Counties received $24,655,184 or 20.9 per cent for their purposes, while towns, cities and villages received $43,306,660 or 36.7 per cent, and schools outside of state institutions received $36,603,795 or 31.1 per cent.

"These percentages vary slightly from year to year," the commission states, "but they confirm former statements that the increasing burden of taxation cannot properly or honestly be charged to the state government, and that if relief is desired, it must be secured by greater economy in local levies and expenditures."

There was levied by the state, $19,784,872 in taxes, $6,428,733 of which amount was returned to local districts in the form of state aid for schools highways, mothers pensions and care of insane, the commission report shows. The balance of $13,356,099 retained for state purposes includes the cost of maintaining the state university, Stout Institute, and all penal, charitable, reformatory and administrative departments of the state government for the year.

Automobile license fees amounting to $4,088,670, soldiers' educational bonus tax amounting to $1,388,522 and certain corrections of the soldiers' cash bonus tax amounting to $135,830 are omitted from its report, the commission said, because they do not represent a constant tax. It is pointed out that the license fee for automobiles is not a tax in the strict sense of the word.

"During the recent state political campaign it was repeatedly stated from the platform that it cost the tax-payers from $33,000,000 to $55,000,000 for the support of the state government for the last fiscal year," the statement asserted. "No details were given to support these statements and the most conservative of them is flagrantly erroneous."

"The amount of revenue raised by taxation for the support of state government has never exceeded the sum of $15,000,000 in any one year, with the single exception of 1920 when the soldiers' cash bonus was paid, and that was not a normal government expense."

The aggregate amount of taxes received by the state from the general property and income taxes amounted to $8,446,336 this year, according to the commission. Of this amount $6,428,773 was returned to counties in the form of state aid, leaving $2,017,563 as the net amount contributed to the state by the general taxpayers. Additional revenue to run the state government came from taxes on railroads, telegraph, insurance, and express company property, and the state's share of inheritance and other taxes.

"These figures conclusively show that the net cost of state government to the ordinary taxpayers of the state is less than two per cent of the total amount of taxes paid by them, and in consequence cannot possibly explain their high taxes," the commission declared.

Short Musical Program After St. Francis Supper

The St. Francis society's regular supper next Sunday night will be followed by a short musical program and entertainment. Otto E. Toenhart '26 will play several violin selections. George S. TO GIVE NEW MATH COURSE

Agricultural Arithmetic to Be Taught By Extension Division

A new course in agricultural arithmetic is being planned by the Extension division, the object of which is to instruct teachers in what are thought to be more effective methods of teaching arithmetic in rural schools.

The plan is to present the principles of arithmetic in terms of daily experience in small communities and on the farm. The course is of particular interest to rural teachers.

Common fractions and decimals will be taught, in this course through problems dealing with farm labor analysis, butter content feed costs and farm accounts.

Denominative numbers will be taught through studies of land estimated as to area, products, and seed required, and by capacity estimates of roof, barn, silos and bins.

The rotation of crops, grain reports, dairy products, temperature and rainfall, will be more effectively represented by the study of graphs. Even household accounts will become more interesting.

Percentage will include problems in seeds, dairying, poultry, fertilizer, spraying and soils. Ratio and proportion will be studied in the nutritive ratio, feeding standards balanced ratio and silo contents.

Two of the assignments will be based on "The Wisconsin Farm Record Book", by John S. Donald. Extension specialist in agricultural economics here.

The object of the Association on the Campus is to relate the student to the church and its activities and to make him a stronger and better member at the church back home. Officers of the Association are W. Wittenberg, president; Bernice Elver, vice-president; Vera Carlyle, secretary; Otto Herbener, treasurer.

Six Overcome By Gas in Madison Within Month

Hospital reports, showing that six Madison people have been brought for medical attention within the past month after being overcome by gas, has paved the way for a request for an ordinance demanding the installation of a vent pipe in every instantaneous water heater in the future.

The request was made by City Health Officer E. V. Brumbaugh, and was filed with City Clerk Harry Buser today. In one of the cases, the victim was dead when the physician arrived. Dr. Brumbaugh declares that there are, no doubt, many other cases, which do not come to his attention.

FOOTBALL FANS SHOW INTEREST IN TILTS TODAY

Results of Final Gridiron Clashes Awaited By Experts

Although the football season for the larger colleges and universities throughout the country was officially closed Saturday, several games will be played today which will be watched eagerly by gridiron fans in all sections.

The contest today will go a long way towards clearing up some dubious questions as to the superiority and strength on the football field.

Penn State vs. Pittsburgh
In the East the Penn State-Pittsburgh game at Pittsburgh probably holds the greatest attention. Both teams are regarded as two of the strongest in that section of the country and the "get together" should be interesting.

Penn State has accepted an invitation to play on the Pacific coast on New Year's Day and consequently wants to go West with as strong a record as possible.

Another great game in the East will be the University of Pennsylvania-Cornell game.

Cornell Highly Rated

Cornell has been breathed with Princeton many times this season as being the strongest team on the Atlantic coast. Cornell has not met defeat this season but neither has it met the strongest teams in the East. Many critics, however, regard Cornell as the equal of Princeton. Should Cornell win today it will have an opportunity to claim the championship of the Eastern colleges along with Princeton.

Pennsylvania has proved its strength this year by defeating the powerful Penn State squad 7 to 6.

Although nothing will depend upon the West Virginia-Washington and Jefferson struggle, the game will, no doubt, be one of the most interesting in the East. Both teams are rated highly, West Virginia having defeated Indiana 33 to 0 and W. and J. being the team which held California scoreless a year ago.

When the whistle blows at Lincoln this afternoon as the University of Nebraska and Notre Dame line up, the spectators in the stands may rest assured that they are going to see a mighty battle.

Nebraska Reported Strong

The Huskers ran off with the Missouri Valley Conference and are considered one of the greatest teams to be produced at the Nebraskan school in many years.

Syracuse managed to eke out a 9 to 7 win over the Huskers but other than that the Nebraskans have a clean slate.

Notre Dame is considered by many the equal of any team in the United States. The only mark on the Irishmen's schedule is the 0 to 0 tie played with the Army at West Point. In the Army game the Catholics had the ball on the soldiers two yard line and only the down, but a fumble robbed them of victory.

Trounce Georgia Tech

Last Saturday Notre Dame succeeded in trouncing Carnegie Tech by a 19 to 0 score.

The outcome of the game at Lincoln is doubtful. One thing a critic may depend on is that Coach Rockne is "sure to deliver".

In the far West, the battle between Washington and Oregon at Seattle will be the shining light. These two teams are among the strongest on the Pacific and the outcome of the contest will be watched with interest.

St. John's and Manlius

Meet at Delafield Today

St. John's Military academy, last year's middle west prep champions and St. John's Manlius of Syracuse, the New York claimant to the eastern academic championship, will meet in Delafield, Wisconsin today in what is expected to be one of the hardest fought intersectional football matches played this season. Both teams are undefeated in their class, and each team has lost only one game in competing with university and college freshmen teams.

W. A. A. Auction and Bridge to Raise Funds

An auction and a bridge party are to be held soon after the Christmas holidays for the purpose of obtaining funds for the purchasing of a W. A. A. cottage, it was decided at the meeting of W. A. A. Tuesday night in Lathrop hall.

It is felt, according to Marjorie Severence '23, president of the association, that W. A. A. lacks unity, and, in having their own cottage where the girls may assemble informally, it is hoped that this unity may be established.

Eight new members were admitted. They are Veronica Harrington '23, Hilda Gunniff '25, Edna Walters '25, Helen Mahaney '25, Hazel Miller '24, Margaret Brown '24, Emilie Hunt '25 and Lola Barnes '23.

Pins were awarded to Esther Field '25, and Dorothy John '25, and Olga Andersen '23, was awarded the big "W."

WILL ARRANGE MAT SCHEDULE AT CONVENTION

Hitchcock Will Arrange Meets for Wisconsin Grapplers

A wrestling schedule for Wisconsin mat men will be made out Saturday at a coaches convention in Chicago. George Hitchcock, varsity wrestling coach, will leave for the meeting tomorrow night.

At this meeting Coach Hitchcock hopes to complete arrangements to bring the wrestling teams from Indiana, Minnesota, and Iowa here for meets. It is already understood that the Badgers are to compete with Chicago, Northwestern, and Ames at those places.

May Change Scoring

Coach Hitchcock is instigating a change in the conference system of scoring falls and decision. By the new method a fall would score five points instead of eight, and an advantage would count three instead of six.

If this plan is adopted it would make wrestling faster and more interesting. Coaches would teach their men to try for falls, and they would try to eliminate the old stalling practices. A number of coaches have given their approval to Mr. Hitchcock's plan.

Have Injuries

Work has been slowed up on the wrestling squad for a few days because of examinations and vacation. Several men are suffering from injuries. Heuer has a broken finger, Holmes a bad shoulder, and both Capt. Templin and Morrow have injured ears.

Capt. Templin, 158 pounds, Heuer 145 pounds, Holmes, 135 pounds, and Phelps, 115 pounds are four men who are almost certain of getting into outside competition. As yet little is known of the 175 pounders and the heavy weights, although four football men, Kiessling and Stipek in the former, and Nichols and Beiberstein in the latter class, are the most likely candidates.

Competition is keen in the 135 pound class. Porsphy, Fry, Morrow, and Schackel are four men that are hard to choose between. Stair and Benbow are about evenly matched in the 125 pound class. Gregor, 158 pound, Hembre, 145 pound, and Tuzuki, 115 pound, are showing exceptionally well in their weights. A number of new men are looking better every day and therefore make is uncertain as to who will be the regular occupants of berths on the first and second teams.

California Bears Capture Pacific Coast Grid Title

The University of California's undefeated football team captured the Pacific coast title, last Saturday, when it won a slashing victory over Stanford university at Palo Alto.

The Bears put Stanford in the same boat as Ohio State by handing them a 28 to 0 defeat.

The possibility that California may meet Penn State on New Year's Day has been increased because of the fact that California alum-ni in Los Angeles have started a stringent campaign to put the game across.

Penn State has accepted an invitation to visit the coast and play one of the Western teams, and if efforts on the part of the Bear alumni are of any avail a great battle should take place at Pasadena on New Year's Day.

TO PLAY CLASS SOCCER FINALS

Periods and Tigers to Battle For First Honors Saturday

On next Saturday the finals of the inter-class soccer tournament will be played on the lower campus at 1:30 o'clock. The two teams who have stuck through the elimination series are the Periods and Tigers. The teams are unusually strong and a fast game is looked for according to Coach Linden. The winning team will have its picture in the 1924 Badger.

Last Wednesday the All Stars were eliminated from championship consideration by the strong Period team to the tune of 1 to 0.

The Period team is captained by R. A. Teschan. The other men are Drew, Jones, Killam, Culley, Ruelman, Porter, Finley, Klevay, McCain, and Oakley.

The Tiger captain is Joseph Semb. The other men are Helland, Metz, Wallis, Resnick, Blum, Hirsch, Pederson, Stephenson, Patterson, and Zweiger.

HARVARD TO DROP CENTRE NEXT YEAR

That Centre will be dropped from Harvard's football schedule for next year was announced Tuesday. Harvard's schedule includes eight games, four of which will be contest classed as heavy. Although the first three games may be with other than New England colleges, Princeton and Yale will be played as usual, and Virginia or North Carolina may take the place of Florida. It is probable that Dartmouth will be retained under another one year arrangement. The season will not open until October 6. This late start will probably prevent a game with Holy Cross.

SKI EXPERTS LAY PLANS FOR ACTIVE SEASON

Wisconsin Men to Enter Number of Coming National Meets

The ski experts of the university laid plans for one of the most active seasons the sport has ever had here, at the Y. M. C. A. Monday night when about 25 of the alpine experts were present.

This year an effort will be made to interest and instruct men in the use of the skis. Sverre Strom '24, Einer Isdahl '24, and Eiler Schjolber '24, are the only members of last year's team back.

The first meet of the season will be at Lake Placid on December 30 when the $1000 Harding cup will be prize. This cup offered last year for the first time and won by Dartmouth, becomes a permanent possession after three straight wins.

On February 3 the National Ski association will bring to Madison between three and four hundred of the best jumpers in the country, of both the university and amateur class. Sometime during the winter a meet will be held between Wisconsin and Dartmouth.

Dartmouth's meet February 10 will probably have Wisconsin entries. This year the club plans to engage in more cross country skiing and endeavor to interest and teach more men how to ski, said Gordon Taylor, president, last night.

Kansas Quintet Outlook Promising For 1922-23

Coach F. C. Allen, University of Kansas, has six letter men and a promising looking group of men from last year's freshman team to work over into a machine for 1922-23 basketball. Last season Kansas finished the season in a tie with the Missouri Valley conference championship. With this outlook Kansas expects some good work from their quintet.

THANKSGIVING

TODAY is Thanksgiving, a holiday typically American, a day around which is wound a skein of homely tradition a day which expresses the soul of a people.

The name "Thanksgiving" carries with it a compexity of connotation, bugles.

Peaceful countrysides. Silent reel after reel of vivid mental pictures. Flat-topped hats and blunderbusses. Wild turkeys and wild Indians. Demure maidens in gray frocks. Booted farmer with sharpened axe.

Family board, groaning. Gay faces, expectant. Mince pie, warm with memorable flavoring. Pumpkin pie with cinnamon. Stomachs stuffed with stuffed turkey.

Granaries filled to overflowing. Peans of praise to the Power that makes possible such homely happiness.

It is rather indicative of the comfortable temperament of the American people that cranberries and drumsticks are more popular symbols of the season than the peans of praise.

Yet it is not entirely inappropriate. Middle-Age ascetics to the contrary, we are inclined to believe that a well-filled stomach is more conducive to general satisfaction and thankfulness than the corresponding aftermath to a dinner of herbs, even where love is.

College students today should be particularly thankful, not only for the blessings common to the entire nation, but also for the fact that they are a privileged class, blessed with the privilege of opportunity.

For every college student who is discontented with the no-cut rule, there are dozens of young men and women who don't even have a chance to be discontented about such things. Dozens who will slave tomorrow, and many of whom will slave today, in factories and shops, and who will thus spend the rest of their lives, slaving.

It is well for every student to think of that today, to realize the benefits that have been bestowed upon him, and not necessarily to show his thankfulness in vocal praise, but to show it in a determination to make his opportunities count for something, to make his education worth while to the world.

But not only for these things should students be thankful; there are many more blessings.

For instance, we are thankful: That at least we have no classes today, that we have no 8 o'clock tomorrow, that cafeterias are serving cranberries that we'll be able to eat mother's mince pie on Christmas and won't have to back the day after.

That we went to Chicago, that Chicago didn't score, that we saw the sun set and the moon shine, that we didn't miss the train back, that we had enough funds to get back, that tomorrow is the first of the month.

That Wisconsin teams are at least allowed to go a little way beyond the boundaries of the state.

That the student senate is considering the point system and that the student court is determined to punish scalpers.

That we don't have to write editorials tomorrow.

We are thankful:

For week ends.

For co-eds.

If you have read this far, we thank you.

AT NORTHWESTERN

AT Northwestern university a tablet has been set up in memory of David Thomas Hanson, who took a degree in arts in 1905 and in medicine in 1909. President Walter Dill Scott in his address told why the memorial was erected.

Hanson played football at Northwestern four years, but never got his letter. He was one of the players who must be used for the training of the men who represent the university. He took the hard knocks and did the hard work and never had his name mentioned as a player. Physically he was good, or he could not have played football for four years, even on the scrub team, but he never was needed on his first team.

His average in his classes in the four years was B plus, which is good, but not good enough for distinction. He could not make Phi Beta Kappa with it.

In the Spanish war he volunteered. In the world war he volunteered and was a captain in the medical corps when he St. Etienne he was killed trying to rescue a wounded soldier. After his death he was given the Croix de Guerre, and it was laid on the stone when the memorial was unveiled.

Symphony Concert Program Delights Responsive Crowd

BY L. C.

A magnetic director and an orchestra responsive to the smallest suggestion of their leader entertained several hundred Madison people at the University armory Tuesday night when the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra under the direction of Mr. Fritz Reiner, presented a concert of four artistic and varied selections.

The Symphony No. 3, D major op 38, by Glazounow, was the most brilliant production of the program, of which every number was a skillfully rounded bit of perfect artistry.

The four parts of this selection, the Allegro, Scherzo, Andante, and Finale-Allegro Moderato were developed with varied and glorious tone effects in Glazounow's best style. This symphony has never been presented in America by an orchestra before the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra placed it in their program.

The other numbers of the program were the Overture "In Bohemia", by Hadley, "Till Eulenspiegel's Merry Pranks", a fanciful, humorous composition by R. Strauss, and Wagner's "The Ride of the Valkyries". Many contrasts much clashing of cymbals and beating of drums characterized the latter selection, making it both dramatic and thrilling.

Looking Back On Wisconsin

IN THE CARDINAL FILES

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

More room is needed in the University Library and there will be some changes made soon.

Dr. Edward Pick, an eminent psychologist, will lecture soon on "Memory".

Dr. Richard T. Ely has accepted an invitation to deliver his university extension lectures on "Socialism" before the Auburn Theological Seminary in New York state.

20 YEARS AGO TODAY

No edition because of Thanksgiving vacation.

10 YEARS AGO TODAY

Michigan and its relation with the Big Nine Conference was temporarily ignored in Chicago at the first session of the annual fall meeting of the conference faculty. The question of the return of the Wolverines to the fold was left until tomorrow when it promises to break out in a serious manner.

Professors Bleyer and Hyde leave for Chicago to attend the third annual convention for teachers of Journalism.

Eighty foreign students are enrolled here, and there are 22 foreign countries represented.

5 YEARS AGO TODAY

Haresfoot heroine answers the call to war—a new star is sought. German newspapers showing the feelings of the Germans at the outbreak of the war are displayed at the museum.

Nearly 100 men from Wisconsin receive army commissions.

This is the brief record of David Thomas Hanson, an idealization of the average citizen. There is a manly thrill in recognition of his importance. Genius must guide a nation at times, but Hanson was the material without which neither a great nation nor a sound society can exist.

He had sufficient ability for usefulness and for service to others, but not enough to reward him with distinction. He had character, fortitude, and ideals, and would make any sacrifice for the ideals.

The memorial at Northwestern is even more significant than the tomb of the unknown soldier at Arlington.—The Chicago Tribune.

Surveying for highway projects was added this summer to the field work for engineering students carried on at the Devils Lake summer camp.

Approximately 707 post-graduate students carried on work for higher degrees here last year.

CROWD OF 500 SEES AG SHOW

Second Performance of "Punkin' Holler" Presented Last Night

The Agric Triangle gave its second presentation of the annual "Punkin' Holler" Community Meetin' to more than 300 students, faculty members, farmers, and guests from other universities in Agricultural hall last night.

With Agricultural auditorium decorated to represent a country school the cast had an ideal setting to play its part. All spirit of formality vanished when the "Punkin' Holler" mule appeared on the platform. The quadruped had an endless variety of tricks and kept the audience roaring by his queer antics.

"The Punkin' Holler" auctioneer was acclaimed to be one of the most popular numbers on the program. With the avowed purpose of buying new wall board for the district school, the grizzled farmer auctions off a dog house and lot, an automatic hired man, and the "Punkin' Holler" goat and kids to the fash on loving citizens of the mythical community.

A husking bee where the young folks of the community meet in a farmers barn to aid in the annual husking of corn was another popular feature of the entertainment. The bee ended with a barn dance in which all the huskers participated.

Readings by Janice DePower Dane School, and Evelyn Meyers, Badger School received rounds of applause. A song by Molly Kurt Dane School, proved to be very popular.

The residents of the mythical community were welcomed from the stand point of the Ag school by Prof. E. R. Jones, of the Agricultural Engineering department. Mr. Jones commended Agric Triangle for its community work, and said that "Punkin' Holler typified a community that was progressive.

TWO IMPERILED BY EXPLOSION

Narrowly Escaped Injury When Automobile Burns

Two men narrowly escaped death last night in an automobile which exploded and burst into flames while traveling along the highway in the town of Windsor, and one of them was severely burned about the face.

The men were Emil Borchers of Middleton and William Hinderliter, whose name is in Illinois. Both are employed at the George Raemisch pickle factory near Darwin Station, northwest of Madison.

The accident happened near the farm of Hartwell Farwell, town of Windsor. The men were driving toward Madison in an Oakland Six, enclosed by side-curtains.

Suddenly, according to Borchers, there was an explosion somewhere in the machine and flames spewed up through the floor of the car and surrounded the two men sitting in the front seat.

Both jumped from the moving car. Borchers was unhurt, except for bruises sustained in the leap through the side curtains. His companion was badly burned about the face and was later discovered by Borchers lying in a ditch beside the road, only half conscious.

The car was traveling at a rate of about 20 miles an hour when the explosion occurred, Borchers said. He could not explain the cause. The car was a complete wreck this morning. When the men jumped out, the automobile proceeded down the road for a few rods and turned off into an embankment, where it was consumed by fire.

The men walked to a telephone and called the Raemisch home for assistance. Young Raemisch went to the scene early this morning and returned with the men.

TO GIVE SHORT DAIRY COURSE

Ag Department Offers Two Weeks' Study to Cheese Makers

A two weeks' course in the making of Swiss cheese is announced in a circular being mailed from the College of Agriculture today. The school, which will be open without charge to experienced Swiss cheese makers will be held from February 5 to 17, under the direction of J. L. Sammis of the dairy department.

Mr. Sammis will be assisted in the course by E. G. Hastings of the Bacteriology department, Fred Santschi, cheesemaker, C. M. Gere manager of the Pabst Stock Farm Swiss Cheese factory and formerly of the Dairy Division, U. S. Department of Agriculture; Fred Marty, of the Southern Wisconsin Cheesemakers' and Dairymen's association, and other speakers.

"The short course has been offered for the three years past, with continued success", Mr. Sammis stated yesterday. He announced that since only a limited number of students can be accommodated in the two weeks allotted, the course may be given a second time if a larger number apply.

"The University has been chosen as the place for the school because of the superior facilities of the dairy department here," said Mr. Sammis. Equipment at the service of the students will include milk supply, starter cans and incubators, laboratories and classrooms, testing outfit, and two Swiss cheese kettles.

Most of the cheese makers in this country are from Europe, and must adapt themselves to methods in use here, according to Mr. Sammis. Occasional talks in German will be given, although most of the class work will be in English. A native Swiss has been secured as interpreter for such occasion.

Students will be registered and assigned to lockers and cots on Monday morning, Feb. 5. Classes will begin at 1:30 p. m., and at 8 a. m. every day following except Sunday.

To Teach Letter Writing to Business Employees

A course in effective letter writing is being given to employees of Madison business offices through the cooperation of the Extension Division and the Madison Association of Commerce. The class meets every Monday evening under the direction of A. M. Johnson at the offices of the Association of Commerce.

The class has been limited to 56 members, for it was thought that a larger number could not be taught efficiently. The fees are small and in some cases are being paid by the employers of the people in the classes. The classes is being conducted in the same manner as university classes.

According to Wilber M. Derthick, chief organizer of the Extension division, there will be a class organized in office management sometime after the holidays. This class will be open to business men who manage offices. Prof. Arthur E. Swanson of the Extension division will give two lectures in this class, and others will be given by different members of the administration staff, each taking up a different subject.

Modern composers as well as the old will be represented in the local program. Tickets are still on sale at the A. E. Smith music store on State street.

Plan New Hospital For Shell Shocked Soldiers

Plans for a new hospital for shell shocked soldiers at Farwells point will include a special color scheme for the walls of the rooms of the patients. Soothing combinations of light colors having a restful effect on the eyes will be chosen. The grounds and surroundings will be such as to create an atmosphere of cheerfulness. Dr. Lorenz, head of the hospital for shell shocked soldiers here, says that although pleasing surroundings may aid the patient they can by no means effect a cure. Many other factors are to be considered in the treatment—harsh sounds for instance, work more havoc with a patient's nerves than unpleasant colors.

Indiana Co-eds Object to Asking Men For Dates

There is difference of opinion among students at Indiana university as to whether or not one week should be set aside every year when co-eds ask men for dates. Many of the men approve of the plan on the basis that it would be something new, but most of the women object on the grounds that it would not work. The idea is tradition at some other institutions and is called "leap week" in reference to the custom prevailing during leap year.

YEOMEN PLAN KIDDIES' HOME

Madison on List of Towns Considered For Site of "Mooseheart"

About 40 Madisonians, representing every civic organization in Madison, met with A. N. Farmer at the Association of Commerce Tuesday night and heard the plans of the Brotherhood of American Yeomen, which contemplate erection of a "Mooseheart" possibly in Madison. Mr. Farmer, secretary of the Children's Home committee stated that Madison is one of the 30 sites now being considered by the board of directors of the Yeomen.

"It is the plan of the Yeomen to get away from the institutional type of home and use the college type instead," Mr. Farmer stated. "Children want love and affection more than anything else and therefore it is the plan of the organization to have a number of cottages or homes each under the direction of the foster mother and father and housing 15 children ranging in age from two years to 15. A tract of about 1,000 acres is desired with wooded hills if possible on which about 150 homes will be erected capable of housing about 2,500 people."

Mr. Farmer stated that Madison is an ideal location made doubly so through its educational advantages through the presence of the University of Wisconsin. The lakes are an advantage which few cities have, Mr. Farmer said.

An attempt will be made to secure the board of directors of the American Yeomen's organization for a visit to Madison about the first of the year. Don Mowry, secretary of the Association of Commerce attempted to have the board come at an earlier date but this was impossible due to the board being dated up so far in advance.

A large number of the local Yeomen's lodge were present Tuesday evening. There are 200 members in the city and 10,000 in the state. Among the speakers who gave their views on the proposed project were R. E. Snyder, state manager; Mrs. H. O. Jonas, representing the Y. W. C. A. and W. L. Woodward. No sites were discussed.

PLAN YULETIDE CAROL SERVICE

School of Music to Hold Christmas Program on December 18

Christmas carols, new and old, from many countries and many races, will be sung at the Yuletide Carol service to be held in Christ Presbyterian church Monday, December 18, by the Choral Union of the University School of Music.

The carol service is the first concert to be given by the Choral Union this season, the thirtieth season of its existence in Madison. Last year the organization gave the choruses of Handel's "Messiah". This year's concert will present numbers more simple in themselves, but carrying with them, because of the various nationalities represented and the wide range of time between the composition of some of them, a realization of the influence of the Christmas story and of its variety of appeal.

Carols from old England, Norway, Belgium, Russia, and Germany, will be sung with modern American hymns of the present century. The compositions of Americans will be represented by carols written by Frank C. Butcher, arrangements of several numbers by Clarence Dickinson, and a carol written by an American Negro, R. Nathaniel Dett.

The carol is less conventional, more spontaneous, and for many people more enjoyable than the ritualized song which replaced it in churches. Once a prevalent custom in England, it shows evidences of a welcomed return in America.

Conference Alumni Give Dinner at Kansas City

Alumni of the universities comprising the Lig Ten Athletic Conference living in Kansas City will have a dinner dance December 29 at the Brookside hotel for graduates, former students, and present undergraduates of the universities. The dinner will be served at 7:30 o'clock and dancing will begin at 9 o'clock. Dress at the dance can be either formal or informal as the individual desires. Tickets will be $5.00 per couple.

Mr. L. W. Pullen, '03, Farm and Home Savings and Loan Association, represents Wisconsin on the committee and will receive reservations from Wisconsin students who will be in Kansas City during the holidays.

Former Secretary of State Dies in Portage

PORTAGE, Wis. — Llewellyn Breese, 89, former secretary of Wisconsin, died at his home here yesterday afternoon. Mr. Breese was secretary of state two terms, 1870 to 1874, during the administrations of Gov. Fairchild and Gov. Washburn. The funeral will be held at the First Presbyterian church here Friday afternoon.

With the late R. P. Wentworth, Mr. Breese, was founder of the Portage Hosiery Co., in 1880 and served as president of the firm. He was born in Wales. He was one of the first organizers and first president of the City Bank of Portage, one of Wisconsin's oldest banks. Three sons and two daughters survive.

International Club Has French Program Tonight

The peasants of France will reign supreme at the meeting of the International club this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Lathrop hall. The first number on the program will be a country dance in costume by the Miles, Preille, Pons, Pallise, Tallengirer and Mioch, and Elton Hawkins, George Hawkins, George Darby and George Dunstan.

Following this number there will be folk songs of old and new France, a solo by Edna Dickey and a violin selection by Mlle. Pallise. Pearl Hagen will accompany the songs and dances at the piano. The entertainment is to be managed entirely by the French members of the club. The latest plan in the club is to have each meeting in the hands of some one nationality, each taking its turn in entertaining.
