UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN, MADISON, FRIDAY, OCT. 10, 1924

FIVE CENTS

WINNERS OF THE PARODY CONTEST ARE ANNOUNCED

Dad's Day Game and Banquet
Will Be Attended By 1,300
Fathers

The winners of the "What's the Matter With Father" song contest will only have the price of one snap brim hat between 'em, since it took two of the campus versifiers to write the winning song. But contrary to tradition in such contests, the winning production did not have to be written by the committee, for which Marshall Diebold, '25, is properly thankful.

The first verse of the prize parody was composed by John W. Powell, '26, and the second verse by James M. Nelson, '27. A number of other songs were deserving of honorable mention, and these will be sung by the Varsity quartet during the banquet Saturday evening after the game.

Approximately 1,300 father-student tickets have been reserved for the Minnesota game October 18. The reservations for seats in the special father-student section closed yesterday, according to previous announcement, but students are advised by Paul F. Hunter, director of sales, that they can still get tickets for their fathers in the regular open sale, if they find later that their fathers can come.

"Bring up Father just the same even if you were a little late on the regular ticket reservations," said John L. Bergstresser, chairman of the student committee. "Good seats are still available, and we can accept a hundred or more reservations for the banquet."

"Approximately 400 fathers and faculty men will sit down to dinner together, according to the number of reservations now in," said Dr. H. C. Bradley, chairman of the joint faculty-student committee. "This is the one event of the whole week end at which the students will not be the principal center of interest. This part of the program has been planned to give the dads and the members of the faculty a real chance to talk over the university a good deal more frankly than they could if Johnny or Mary were present."

W. S. G. A. PARTY TO BE HELD AGAIN TONIGHT

The Women's Self Government association will hold the weekly party in Lathrop parlors at 7:30 o'clock this evening. There will be dancing, bridge, and Mah Jong. Every girl is invited to come and learn to dance or to play either or both of the games.

Last Friday over 300 women attended the party. W. S. G. A. holds these parties to give women a chance to get acquainted.

Jean Palica '25 is general chairman for tonight and Helen Fleek '27 is in charge of the music. All university women are cordially invited.

WHA Waits For License; Will Begin Broadcasting Soon

Delay in securing a government license is the only factor now preventing the opening of the broadcasting season of WHA, the university radio station. Application has been made for a class B rating which will give the station the use of a more exclusive wave length than has been employed in the past, according to C. H. Lighty, in charge.

Last year this higher rating was not obtainable, because the studio and equipment of WHA were not up to the standard required of stations of that class.

This summer a new up to date studio was constructed that has all the proper sound proof qualities necessary to the best broadcasting. It is large enough to accommodate groups as large as the Glee club. The station will go on the air as soon as the license is obtained, which should be within a week, according to Lighty.

Prize Parody

What's the matter with Father?
Not a thing.

Can't get along without Father,
So we sing.

Fathers can work, and we can play,
But fathers like dogs must have their day.

What's the matter with Father.
Crown him king!

What's the matter with Father?
Where's his pep?

What's the matter with Father.
Put him hep!

We can't get over the Gopher goal
When Fathers cheer like they're down a hole.

What's the matter with Father?
Show some pep!

SALE OF VODVIL SEATS CONTINUES

Committee Announces That Ticket Reservation Will End Nov. 20

Orders for tickets for Union vodvil on December 5 and 6, and for the matinee performance on December 6 are being taken now by Norton V. Smith '26, at 644 North Frances street, B. 196. Any number of tickets for any performance will be reserved by Smith until November 20, when the open sale starts.

Money for tickets need not be sent in with the orders, Smith said yesterday, but unless the money is turned in by October 20 for tickets ordered up to that date the tickets will not be reserved, and orders after October 20 must be accompanied with the money.

All orders are filed and will be filled in the order that they are received by Smith. Until November 20 any slight addition or reduction of orders will be made.

The price of tickets for the evening performances on December 5 and 6 are $2 for loges and the main floor, $1.50 for the last eight rows on the main floor and for the first six rows in the balcony. Rows seven to eleven in the balcony will be $1, and 50 cents for the remainder.

For the matinee performance on December 6 the prices are $1.50 for loges and main floor, $1 for the last eight rows on the main floor and for the first six rows in the balcony, 75 cents for rows seven to eleven, and 50 cents for the remainder of the balcony. No war tax is charged for any tickets.

Neither evening performance has been designated as "formal night" by the committee, and attendance of formal or informal parties for either night is encouraged by the ticket committee.

DISCIPLINE COMMITTEE REPORTS DULL SEASON

"Business is dull," laughed Professor Ray S. Owen, chairman of the university disciplinary committee yesterday, in commenting on the lack of cases at the present time. "Our work is light so long as there are so few quizzes being taken but when the preliminary examinations start October 20 I am afraid we will have our hands full."

PROF. E. H. GARDNER RETURNS TO CLASSES

Prof. E. H. Gardner of the department of business administration and English who has been absent for the last week because of a sinus infection, is able to be at work again. His illness has not caused him to give up any of his work and his classes will meet as usual.

DEADLINE FOR RELIEF EXTENDED TO FRIDAY

The deadline for donating funds to the storm relief campaign has been extended to Friday noon by Dean Scott H. Goodnight. Contributions are being received by Secretary Hibbard of the Y. M. C. A., Dean F. Louise Nardin at Lathrop hall, and Dean Goodnight at 201 South hall.

CROWD EXPECTED AT LATHROP FOR TONIGHT'S MIXER

Dance to Be Kept Strictly
Student Affair; Fee Cards
Required

A capacity crowd is expected at the all-university mixer tonight in Lathrop gymnasium and concert room, according to members of the dance committee. This mixer is sponsored by the Forensic board and is the second all-university mixer to be held this year.

One of Thompson's eight-piece orchestras has been obtained by Fergus Chandler '25, member of the committee on arrangements, to furnish music for the dance. Each person will be charged 35 cents for admission. The proceeds will go to the general Forensics board fund. Dancing will start at 8:30 o'clock and will continue until midnight.

Twelve women, representatives of Castalia and Pythia literary societies, have been appointed by the respective presidents of these organizations to serve on the introducing committee. Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Hibbard, Prof. and Mrs. Robert West, and Prof. and Mrs. John Barnes will chaperon the dance.

"We intend to enforce the ruling of Dean Goodnight which permits only students to attend these university functions," George J. Fiedler '25, chairman of the dance committee, said. "Members of the Forensics board will be stationed on the first floor of Lathrop hall and will demand fee cards be presented. Students have also requested that the mixer be strictly a student affair."

The following women will serve on the introducing committee:

French Club Holds First Meeting of Present Members

Last night the present members of the French club invited those who are interested in joining them to their first meeting which was held in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. "The purpose of the club is to enable its members to become acquainted with the language and to learn to know Paris of today," Elton Hocking, '25, president, said.

Mademoiselle Marguerite Treille gave a series of French readings including a number of Paris street songs. Marjorie Cover, '25, played two salon sketches on the piano, and a playlet, "A l'Armie," was presented by Elton Hocking and George Darby, '25. Lucille Salentine, '25, is the vice president of the organization, and William Bentien, '25, the treasurer. Miss Rebecca Flint of the romance language department is the sponsor of the club.

To be a member one must be able to speak French or have a vital interest in learning the language. Tryouts will be held this afternoon from 2:30 to 5 o'clock in 16 Bascom hall and from 9 to 12 o'clock tomorrow.

Professor Hagen Is Impressed By Life in American Universities

The great number of buildings, the accommodations for comfort and convenience of student life, and the beauty of the campus both at Cornell and Madison are things that have impressed him most, declared Prof. Oskar Hagen of the University of Gottingen, who is spending the semester here, in an interview today.

"The enormous buildings of the United States are unbelievable," Professor Hagen said. He is touring the country lecturing on art.

Professor Hagen was extremely impressed with the vast organiza-

CO-EDS' GLEE CLUB SELECTS 22 OUT OF 95 TRY-OUTS

From the 95 women who attended the tryouts for the woman's glee club those chosen are Jean Hillyer '26, Estella Perkins grad., Helen Busyn '26, Gertrude Meyne '27, Lisa Behmer '27, Dorothy Kern '26, Alice Wirick '27, Laura Brill '26, Marie Klostead '26, Ethel Boys '26, Judith Dickson '27, Margaret Darling '26, Carol Hubbard '25, Lorraine Dickinson '26, Eileen Leamy '27, Joy Matzek '27, Viola Sachse '28, Alice Gress '27, Gertrude Pierce '26, Edith McCollister '27, Margaret Lehman '27 and Beatrice Schroeder '28. The first meeting of the glee club will be held at 3:30 o'clock Wednesday, October 15.

BADGER HAS NEW AWARD SYSTEM

High Solicitors of Campaign to Be Given Honorary
Positions

A new system of awards for solicitors will go into effect with the subscription campaign of the 1926 Badger next week.

Instead of awarding small cups or keys, as in former years, the five highest solicitors will be given honorary positions in the year book. Their pictures and records will be published in the volume in a prominent part of the section reserved for photos of staff workers on the book.

In addition to this recognition of the five solicitors obtaining the largest number of subscriptions, each solicitor bringing in 40 subscribers will be given a copy of the Badger.

Plans are being made by Ben N. Anderson, business manager, and Charles Kadding '26, circulation manager, for the campaign next week to reach every student in the university. Every available means of solicitation is being outlined.

Ten captains are being appointed, each to be responsible for ten student houses. Students who have registered with the circulation department will be notified this week of their part in the campaign. Other students who wish to solicit during the campaign are requested to report at once to the Badger office in the Union building.

The campaign will open Monday, October 12, and close Saturday, October 18. Immediately following the close of the campaign, the total number of copies to be published of the Badger will be ordered so that the printing of sections of the book will go forward at once.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION BANQUET POSTPONED

Because of an important W. A. A. meeting October 14, the banquet of the physical education club will be postponed to October 15 at the Woman's building. The time has been changed from 6 to 6:30 o'clock to accommodate the women having classes at Camp Randall. All majors and minors are urged to get their tickets from their class representatives before Monday, October 13. Admission is 90 cents.

7 APPOINTED TO ELECTION BOARD, SET BALLOT DATE

General Election of Class
Officers to Be Held
October 31

An election board consisting of five men and two women was appointed by the student senate last night to manage the general election of class officers for the coming year. October 31 was set by the board as the date for balloting.

The board is composed of two members of the student senate, Wes W. Dunlap, '25, and Lorraine A. Murray, '25, and five students selected at large; they are Clifford Franseen, '25, Erwin C. Gerber, '25, George Schutt, '26, Martha Williamson, '25, and Dorothy Haskins, '25. This board will assume all the functions of the student senate elections committee.

Petitions for candidates for office may be had at the office of the dean of men between Monday, October 13, and Friday, October 17. No petition may be filed after 5 o'clock on the afternoon of October 17. Each petition must bear the signatures of 25 electors qualified to vote for the candidate named and must be accompanied by a fee of $3 except in the cases of class presidents and the prom chairman. The fee for candidates for class presidents is $5 and that for the prom chairman is $15.

Approximately 35 offices are to be filled in the election. In addition to the regular class officers, there are nine court members, 11 senators, one sophomore member of the Union board, and junior prom chairman to be chosen.

Petitions are required for all of the offices with the exception of candidates for the student court, and the sophomore member of the Union board.

The regulations governing elections passed by the senate last year will be in effect again; several additional rules were adopted by the board last night. A change in the policy of publicity for candidates to be run in The Daily Cardinal was made. The candidates for the respective class presidencies and the prom chairman will be required to state their reasons for running for the office instead of listing a number of committee chairmanships and similar activities as qualifications.

The reason for this policy, the board explained, is that the same information is published in the elections booklet issued just before election and is not of much value in enabling voters to make a choice. This practice is limited to the heads of tickets and the prom chairman. One hundred words will be given such candidates to state their qualifications for the office. The other

First Octy Number of Year For Sale Wednesday, Oct. 15

Octy's first number of the year will be on sale Wednesday.

This issue includes many features such as "Love on Mars," "The Modern Era from an Airplane Point of View," "A Short History of the United States," a new exchange section, a rotogravure section, and in addition a large variety of art and written work.

According to the editor, there is nothing about the new book which resembles last year's Octopus.

A meeting will be held at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon to decide on the contents of the next number which will appear November 12. The deadline for contributions to this issue is October 29.

Eights

Three shells may be seen every afternoon after 5 o'clock on Lake Mendota. The men are getting into form rapidly, and begin to look like a single machine when working together. The big varsity shell is on the hangers, and will not be used until active season practice starts.

Captain Teckemeyer is still busily engaged in football, and although he is not getting into rowing form, he is assuredly in strict training. All of the experienced men are being given opportunities to pull on one of the three eights that practice regularly. The frosh men are still on the machines in great numbers, and are rapidly learning the fundamentals of rowing on the racks. Coulter, last year's cox, will be on the job when the regular season rolls around. For the present, various handy men around the boathouse are filling the cox's seats.

When the lake freezes over, and shell work becomes impossible, all of the men will go to the racks to keep in trim. The fall and winter training is primarily to put the men in form.

Badger Coaches
No. 1—Thomas E. Jones

This is the first of a series of articles to be written by George Dennis, of the sports staff, telling about the various Badger coaches now in charge of athletics. Dennis has just completed a series on Badger captains.—Sports editor.

After being graduated from high school, Thomas E. Jones, director of the athletic department, took his first college work at the Iowa Teacher's college. He finished his collegiate work at Springfield college in Massachusetts and then entered the graduate school at Harvard. While in college, Coach Jones was active in all branches of athletics and won his college letters in football, baseball and track.

The first experience in the line of coaching that Jones had was directing the teams at Algona high school, Iowa, where he turned out several championship teams in football and track. Coach Jones's next field was in Madison where he was physical instructor in the public schools and had charge of the public playgrounds.

Coach Jones broke into university athletics with the coaching of the track teams and work in the coaching of football. Missouri had three championship track and cross country teams during Coach Jones' regime there.

In 1912 Mr. Jones came to Wisconsin as head track coach. From then until 1916, when Coach Jones took over the complete management of the athletic department, he turned out three Big Ten championship track teams and several winning hill and dale teams.

During the time that Mr. Jones has been in charge of athletics here there has been a rapid expansion in the athletic program of the university. The new stadium, the new athletic fields, the re-establishment of the Badger crew on the Hudson, the introduction of hockey and the winter sport carnival have all taken place during Coach Jones' period of office. He believes in a policy of athletics for all and has used his influence to have such a policy carried out.

On account of his life long interest and work in the field of athletics Coach T. E. Jones is respected and known all over the collegiate sport world as a man who believes in clean collegiate sports.

Masely Calls Meet
of Tennis Prospects

Coach Masely has called a meeting of all varsity tennis candidates in the men's gymnasium this afternoon at 4 o'clock. Now that the all-university tournament has started and the coach has some kind of a line on the men, he desires to talk things over with them.

Some of the first round matches have not been played as yet and if these are not played in the next few days they will have to be forfeited.

The freshmen must notice the drawings of their tournament, which are posted, and play them off as soon as possible. The notices of all three tournaments are posted on the bulletin board in the gymnasium.

SO IT SEEMS

By Ken Butler.

Tomorrow we see an entirely new line of attack on the Randall gridiron. North Dakota had nothing. Ames had a lot in one department, the aerial game. Coe boasts a varied attack, with an unbalanced line that may cause some trouble to the Badgers before they get it solved.

But Harris' men have one thing to be thankful for, namely, that Coe is not bringing Pence again this year. In the game last year he had the team, coaches, and fans worried for about three quarters. He was the outstanding drop kicker of the west.

Well, well, the ghost ball is with us again. As the first Big Ten game nears Ryan sees the need of longer practice.

The regulars get some intensive training on blocking and breaking up passes in their workout last night. McAndrews was in the thick, as he was last Saturday. Leitt, moved from the line to the position of fullback, also got the knack of breaking up the aerial game.

Mead Burke's harriers get their first test tomorrow morning when they run against Marquette. The real meet comes the morning of the Michigan game at Ann Arbor, when the Badger runners take on Michigan.

That Michigan-Wisconsin game October 25 is going to prove to be one of the biggest grid battles of the west for 1924. The tickets sold out here in 40 minutes, an extra allotment of 3,000 went in two hours at Ann Arbor, and long before school started the Wisconsin game was leading in ticket sales at Michigan. Wisconsin alumni, too, grabbed up 1,900 tickets with no coaxing.

Michigan wants to clear the question mark of last year. The Badgers, stinging from the fluke that robbed them of last year's game when it was all but won, will fight as they never fought before.

SPORT COURSES GIVEN BY EXTENSION DIVISION

The university extension division has a correspondence course which gives instructions in baseball, basketball, football, and track. This is open to coaches in the high schools who wish the most advanced methods in coaching their teams. There are at present approximately 150 enrolled in this course.

The basketball instructors are the most used at present. A course in any of these games is equivalent, if completed, to a summer session in that course. If the examinations are successfully passed a credit is given that is good at the university. The course in any one of these games costs $5. Women as well as men are taking these correspondence courses.

FROSH BASKETBALL PRACTICE

Frosh basketball practice will be held at 7 o'clock tonight, according to George Levis, freshman coach.

during the school year. The Athletic council meets every Tuesday before the first Monday of each month.

A Promising Tackle

One of the most promising candidates for the right tackle position is Austin Straubel, 192-pound boy from Green Bay high school. Straubel has seen action in both the North Dakota and Ames games and showed up well. He played three years in high school at Green Bay and was a member of last year's frosh team.

Water Basketball
Team, With Vets
Back, is Strong

"The water basketball team looks very strong on paper with 27 huskies signifying their intentions of trying out. The squad has Captain Feuchtwanger, Kissel, and Eiseman as veterans, and from this large number of men reporting the squad should be a very powerful one," declared Joe Steinauer, swimming coach, yesterday afternoon.

A record breaking number of freshmen will report to Coach Steinauer next Tuesday afternoon for their first swimming workout of the year. Steinauer reports that 51 men have aspirations of making the squad.

There are no men of known ability, and Coach Steinauer reports that unless the men show unexpected expertness, the squad will be a weak one. The first time trials for the freshman team will be held November 3. At that time the squad will be cut to 40 men.

MEANWELL WORKS
TO TRAIN CENTERWackman May Play at Pivot
Position; Barwig's Berth
Uncertain

Now that varsity basketball is under way the followers of Wisconsin's team are wondering what changes will appear in the lineup. Will Wackman be put in at guard in place of Barwig and the center position be left open for Brooks or some other tall basketeer? Will Wack stay at center and Barwig remain at guard?

If Wackman should go to guard, that would mean, in all probability, that Barwig would be tried at forward. Of course Captain Diebold will stay at guard where he performed in perfect style last year. Both Spooner and Varney will still carry the forwards again this year, that is practically certain, for they worked nicely last season.

Yet you can never tell what Doc Meanwell has up his sleeve. All Big Ten basketball coaches know

GOPHER SQUAD IS BETTER BALANCED
THAN LAST YEARSpaulding Has His Line Intack
From Tackle to Tackle

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn.—From every indication now, Minnesota will go to Madison October 18 with a stronger and far better balanced team than when it went last year and tugged around with Wisconsin on a muddy field to a scoreless tie.

There will be no Martineau, no Eklund, in the Gopher lineup this year, but Spaulding will have something just a little better collectively, if not individually, to shoot into the game.

From tackle to tackle the Gopher line is back intact. As for the backfield, even with Martineau gone, it stacks up as a mighty formidable combination. Lidberg, running mate to Martineau last year, Peterson, sub half last year, and Graham, quarterback, all are veterans of a year or more.

Schutte Great Backfield.

Schutte, a newcomer from South Dakota, is regarded as one of the greatest backfield prospects in the history of the school. Graham at quarterback is the real sparkplug of the backfield, although he is injured easily, more because of inability to fall easily, however, than because of fragility. He runs brilliantly, passes well and handles the team with good judgment.

The line is good. Captain Cox, Louis Gross, Hugh McDonald and Christgan are veteran tackles of two years; Clapp, Gay and Abramson are veteran guards. Copper and Rollitt are seasoned centers.

Ends Are New.

The blur in the picture is the end proposition. The Gophers have no ends. Edlund, Merrill and Schjoll, the standard bearers of 1923, are gone. New men must fill their places.

that from past experiences. The team is working hard these nights in secret practice.

ATHLETICS IN THE
COLLEGIATE WORLDBADGER GRIDDERS
USE GHOST BALL
AND ARC LIGHTSRyan Gives Squad Intensive Training in Perfecting
Pass Defense

Last night the white ghost ball was brought out on the field and will be a permanent fixture there the rest of the season as the Badger gridders start in on their campaign of intensive training for the Big Ten games. From now on practice sessions will last long after dark, made possible by the use of the ghost ball and the large electric arc lights on Randall field.

Most of the session was spent in perfecting a defensive against the passing game and against the unbalanced line play, a special method of attack used by the Coe college eleven.

The all-Americans were given the ball with instructions to heave passes over the first string line. This they did with a vengeance. The larger part of the passes were completed and the first string warriors seemed at a loss as to how to cope with the passing attack although there was a vast improvement over last Saturday's play.

McAndrews Good.

Pat McAndrews displayed the same ability at pulling the old pigskin out of his opponents' hands as he did last Saturday and any passes coming over his side of the line in the Coe game are sure to be broken up. The rest of the backfield will have to improve in this department if they expect to be impregnable to the aerial attack that a light team like Coe is sure to spring.

Later the all-Americans were sent to the showers and the squad divided into two elevens and were sent against each other in a further attempt to break up the passing game. "Butch" Leith, who has been shifted from tackle to fullback, showed up well at knocking the over down and will undoubtedly see action in Saturday's fracas.

The former lineman looked good in the backfield and after he becomes accustomed to his new position should prove to be a real find. The big boy has the build suited for a fullback and seems to possess lots of drive.

Muegge, who has been brought up from the all-Americans was used awhile at tackle and will be ready to step into the shoes of any of the regular tackles should they show signs of faltering.

The team will go onto the field tomorrow minus the services of Eddie Williams, halfback who injured his knee in the Ames game. Eddie was on the side lines last night in "civies" watching his teammates go through their paces. He will be missed in tomorrow's game as he was the best passer on the squad and his absence will hinder the Badger passing attack.

Tonight the men will go through a light signal drill and be sent to the showers all set for their battle with the Kohawks.

GRID MAN HEALS
KNEE RIDING BIKE

ATHENS, Ga.—George Morton, gridiron star of the University of Georgia, has attracted wide interest among football coaches by his unique method of "healing" an injured knee. Morton does it with a bicycle.

Just as the squad was looking forward to his playing as the outstanding star of the season, George was thrown from a horse here and suffered an injured knee. Physicians expressed doubt as to his being able to play football at all this fall.

So George bought himself a bike and has been "exercising 'er" with it for several weeks. The results, he said, were remarkable. The injured knee is healing fast, and there is little doubt now that he will make the squad this fall.

An appeal for the adoption of the conservation constitutional amendment was issued today by Elmer S. Hall, state conservation commissioner. Mr. Hall declared that the future of industry, commerce and recreational facilities in Wisconsin depends to a large extent upon the adoption of the amendment.

ELLESON, WHO WON THREE EVENTS
IN ONE AFTERNOON, ENTERS HERE

By Dick Marquardt.

Wisconsin was fortunate this year in getting one of the best track men in the middle west, Earl Elleson, to enroll here. He was beyond a shadow of doubt the best distance man in the Little Five and Middle Western conference last season.

Elleson, who ran for Ripon college last year, was elected at the end of the track season as captain for the coming year. Several Badger alumni, who had heard of and witnessed his ability on the cinder track, persuaded him to come here and complete his education.

After one year of work on the freshman squad here, he will still be eligible for two years of varsity competition. He runs all of the distance runs equally well and is also a good cross country man.

Last season, in several dual meets, he did a real "iron man stunt." He entered and won the half mile, and two mile runs in the same afternoon with only a short period of rest between any of them.

His time for all of them was very good. He does the half in a little better than two minutes, the mile in the neighborhood of 4:25, and the two mile in under 10 minutes. This time is excellent when one considers that all of the events were run in one afternoon.

At the present time he is running with the frosh harrier squad. In this sport his great endurance should be a big asset. If he stays eligible and is not injured, he may be the sensation of the conference in a year or two.

Herschberger, Star Last Year
Ranks High Among TankmenInjury to Knee From Football Keeps Star Out of Practice

One of Steinauer's best men for the swim team this year is a personage Clarence Herschberger, Jr. Last year he was awarded his numerals in football, which he won by playing left end on the frosh squad. But far more important than that was his record that he made as a member of the frosh swim team. He was the fastest man on the squad, and his time for the 100 yard and 40 yard dashes equalled that of Bennett's in some of the meets between the frosh and ineligible swimmers. He made the 40 yard dash in 19 seconds flat.

At the meet with Chicago last year the frosh relay team gave an exhibition, and the time made by it was of even faster time than of the Badger varsity squad. It was mainly due to the work of Herschberger that this was possible.

Herschberger is a rather tall, frail fellow, measuring 6 feet 4 inches and weighing but 175. With long, easy strokes, that look almost effortless, he glides through the water. His best time is made in the short dashes and on the relay team, but there is a chance that Steinauer will develop him for some of the longer races.

At present, due to an injured knee, which he received in football, he is not practicing with the squad, and it will be about a month before he will be ready to bolster up the swimming team.

Herschberger is the son of Clarence Herschberger of football fame. His father was one of the greatest

COE TICKET SALE
IS THIS MORNING

Student sale of tickets for the Coe game to be played tomorrow starts at 8 o'clock this morning and continues until noon tomorrow. Students can secure one ticket on a fee card. Total sales for the Father's day section are reported at 642 students, 678 fathers, making a total of 1320 for the section. The number in the cheering section will be 1304.

Tilt in Two Hours

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 9.—Two hours after the office at the field house opened to receive applications for the extra allotment of 3,000 student tickets for the Wisconsin game, every pasteboard was gone. Students started lining up at the field house to turn in applications before 5 o'clock, and when the office opened at 8 o'clock, there was a good sized crowd on hand. By 10 o'clock, all the tickets were applied for. A large number of applications were turned away.

Inter-Fraternity Bowling
League This Year

Clarence E. Knutson '26 was re-elected president of the inter-fraternity bowling league at a meeting held yesterday afternoon at the Beta Theta Pi house at which 15 fraternities were represented.

Other officers were elected as follows:

D. C. DuBois '25, vice president; E. W. Lange '26, secretary; A. B. Book '25, treasurer.

The schedule for the year will be drawn up Sunday. All fraternities that wish to enter teams and have not done so are requested to call either the president or the secretary of the league before Sunday.

SENATORS EVEN WORLD
SERIES BY 2 TO 1 WIN
WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 9.—WISCONSIN WILL HAVE 200 USHERS
FOR GOPHER GAMEFifteen Experienced Ushers to Be Made Captains For Later Games

More than 200 ushers will be needed for the Minnesota game here Oct. 18, according to W. Alvord Sherman, head usher, and more than 300 for the following games. During the preliminary games, 15 men have been used, and these 15 will become usher captains for later games.

The system to be used this year is to have 12 men for each of the 26 sections. Captains will be in charge of each section. The men who have had experience as ushers will be stationed at the more congested parts of the stadium, as the south and north entrances.

Ushers Wear Armbands

All ushers will wear arm bands of the colors of the respective opposing teams. These bands will be given out at the first conference game. In previous years it has been found that the student sections are the easiest for the ushers to take care of, for the students are familiar with the system used. The ushers must be in the stadium throughout the entire game, and their byword is service and courtesy.

Of the 26 captains chosen for the football games, 16 are to be picked to usher in the coming basketball season.

WOLVERINE HARRIERS
PREPARE FOR BADGERS

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 9.—With less than three weeks of practice left before the Wisconsin race here on the morning of October 25, Coach Farrell sent his harriers over the full five mile route yesterday afternoon.

Beginning with the Badger race, Michigan's hill and dale men face a schedule calling for five races on five consecutive Saturdays.

After the Wisconsin run the varsity goes to M. A. C. for the weekend of November 1, and then travels to Illinois for a triangular race with the Suckers and O. S. U. on either November 8 or 15.

Giving Zachary brilliant support in the field, the Senators staved off defeat in today's crucial world series game and evened the count, three all, by defeating McGraw's Giants. The Senators forged ahead in the fifth when Harris drove in two runs after the Giants had counted once in the first to take the lead. The final score was 2 to 1.

According to reports and noises heard, the new pep band is holding several rehearsals these days. More players are wanted.

"Hurry contributions, says Dean Goodnight"—headline in the Daily Cardinal. The dean is perfectly correct. So say we all of us.

David Hume was mentioned the other day in a philosophy course. One student leaned towards his neighbor: "Who's that he's talking about, Hughes?" "No," replied the other, "I'm not sure, but I think it was something like Gould or Boone. That must be it, Daniel Boone. He was a philosopher, wasn't he?" And the answer came in an uncertain affirmative.

EFFICIENT PARKING

One factor which helped to make the Homer concert Tuesday night a very enjoyable evening for those who attended, and which had nothing to do with the program itself, was the efficient and systematic method used for parking cars around the Stock pavilion. In the past, whenever some large gathering has been held there, the utmost confusion reigned far and near around the building because everyone was parking to his own best advantage, and a hopeless tangle was always the result. It was almost impossible to drive anywhere near the auditorium.

Tuesday, however, the corps of traffic cops which was on duty kept the entire space in front of the building free of automobiles, and the cars were parked in orderly rows nearby. The plan should not be forgotten in the future.

On this same subject, something might well be said about parking on the campus during class hours. Obviously, there cannot be enough police on duty to strictly enforce the rule barring student owned automobiles from the campus grounds. As there are always a few who obey no rule except at the point of a gun, it is already noticeable that a considerable number are driving up to classes, and especially to Bascom hall, in the old fashion. A few don't count for very much, of course, but when someone starts that practice it becomes popular with many others. If things go on as at present, it won't be long before the old evils will be back again.

It is impossible to appeal to those who wilfully break laws, but it is possible to impose a penalty on them. It would be a good idea for the authorities to summon anyone caught breaking the rules more than once to appear before the faculty disciplinary committee, to be examined for the offence of interfering with other people's work.

TIME OUT FOR FIRE

It was great fun, that fire drill yesterday. Yes, of course, there were a good many who had counted on its consuming the major part of an hour, and in reality it all transpired in only two or three minutes; but, while it lasted, it was great fun.

Several minutes were required for the instructors to give directions for turning in fire alarms and how to act in case an alarm were sounded. That all helped to pass the class time, and all those who were not prepared for the recitation rejoiced. But was that all it meant to them? Probably, yes.

Very few really paid attention and tried to remember the emergency directions. But in case there should be a real fire some day, how many would have enough presence of mind to know what to do? Would they know where to turn an alarm in anywhere on the campus, or how to get out of the fourth floor of Bascom hall if the central stairs were burning?

A fire may break out somewhere today. You should be ready for it.

A BIT OF FAITH

It was recently the writer's privilege to visit the mid-week meeting of a certain religious sect which numbers many students among its members. The program was very simple and devout, and there was a contagious atmosphere of faith and reverent optimism about the group. They seemed to feel that, for themselves at least, there was no such thing as questioning, doubt, or lack of confidence about their spiritual welfare.

So deep and sincere was this feeling of faith in God that the writer nearly forgot himself enough to regret that he himself was not a believer in this faith, a member of this sect. But after the meeting, when he had time to think it over, the thought came to him that such firm faith can exist in other things besides religion, and that it is the measure of our happiness in life, or of our success in any enterprise. This brings the subject of faith down out of the heavens to a plane where most of us can comprehend it and strive to acquire it.

To start right at home, is it not true that our faith in ourselves is the determining factor in our struggle to get anywhere? Isn't self confidence the basis of all personal progress and accomplishment? The first step each of us took when we were learning to walk required confidence, just as every new venture we meet today requires that we have faith in our powers to cope with it successfully. It requires faith in ourselves to leave home for the first time when we are freshmen, and more and more faith is needed every day after we get here. A stiff course spells failure unless we have faith; loneliness is a big obstacle unless we are sure enough of ourselves to step out and meet people; financial, physical, moral, scholastic difficulties—all are insurmountable unless we have enough spunk and self-confidence to go on in spite of everything.

The same principle runs on through our entire school life. The university has been built up through faith in an ideal of education, and its future partly depends on whether or not we share that faith. Teachers and pupils can only cooperate through mutual confidence. Our football team is built largely on the combined faith of Jack Ryan, the squad, and all the rest of us that Wisconsin's high standards in athletics can be maintained. Father's day is being promoted because the committees have assured themselves that it can be made successful. Publications, clubs, the Varsity exposition, the Union board and all the other activities depend on our faith in them for their support.

And that is why a man or a woman is worth a little more to this institution if he or she has enough faith in things to work enthusiastically, than if hesitation, faint-heartedness, or pessimism always kill his ambition. Faith in anything can be acquired or developed, and no matter how much of a drawback one of us may be to the rest because we are naturally pessimistic, we can change our whole attitude if we only try.

A bit of faith can move mountains.

GET THIS

We went to class.
The other day.
And saw a sign.
Which said.
Write your Dad.
So we wrote him.
And the next day.
We saw another sign.
That said.
Write your Dad.
So we wrote him.
And we've written.
Him six letters.
Because we believe.
In signs.
And want him.
To come out for.
The Dad's day game.
And we wonder.
Do you believe in signs.
And have you written.
Your's?

We went to the Haresfoot meeting last Monday and saw Orie Wernecke trying out for the Pony chorus. We think that Orie must believe that the Pony chorus is for young horses!

And speaking of that meeting, we wonder what happened to the game leg that Sir Faust has been carrying around for the past month.

FROM THE STANDS

Whether or not the co-eds are pessimists or optimists is still an open question. Yesterday, when Jupiter Pluvius was undecided several of the sweet young things were seen wearing slickers and carrying tennis racket.

THEM'S MY SENTIMENTS

The teas were bad enough
Still I drank the sorry stuff
Eyes agham.
But I thought I'd float away
If again I had to say
"Without Cream."
Having been put through the test
Then I thought I'd have a rest
But not so.
For the mixer came along
And they said to "get in strong"
I must go.
Well, I went, it wasn't bad
But I came home boiling mad
Yea. It's true.
There was one man I adored
But a gaunt old fool who bored
Stuck like glue.
Well, at last the thing is done
And I thought I'd have some fun
Rue the day.
Open house on Sunday next
And for every meal the text
DON'T STAY AWAY.
For myself, I'd rather be
Anywhere on land or sea
Than just there.
But the fine, and I am flat

Yes I'm going and that's that.
On the square.
After all, life's just one darn thing after another.

Yours truly,
SUSIE SLUMP

HEAR YE! HEAR YE! HEAR YE!
THE SENSATION OF THE YEAR
WILL APPEAR IN AN EARLY
ISSUE OF THE CARDINAL!
THE MOST BARING, DARING,
RARING, TEARING THING
EVER ATTEMPTED!
"WHO'S THROUGH ON THE CAMPUS!"

Yes, we went to open house last week and we're going again. One of the visitors shook hands with the colored maid at the A. O. Pi house as he was leaving, and told her he thought THEIR pledges were just fine.

"That's the old drive" said the lad as he turned off University avenue at the Stock Pavilion.

KID BIFF Says

"After studying Political Parties, and Constitutional Law, I am convinced that some parties are hard on the Constitution!"

BACK AGAIN

Instructor: "And now, Russell, what happened in 1892?"
Coleman: "I couldn't say, sir."
Instructor: "Well, where do you go when you want to find a date?"
Russell: "To the library, sir."

We just heard that Tom Morony has hit upon a plan to make a fortune. He's going to have his picture taken, cut it up and sell it for a puzzle!

WORDS WE LOVE TO SEE

"Sanctioned by the Dean's Office."

Him: "Darling, I will love you from this minute to the end of time."
Her: "But I can't stay up after midnight."

And now in closing we quote this little poem:

I came to college green as grass
Not knowing what it's all about,
Drank heavy malts by the glass
Took on weight and got real stout.
And now I'm in the cruel world,
All gaunt and lean for lack of food
Without a bill to be unfurled
And dreaming of those malts good.
I am a picture, without doubt
Of one who knows,
WHAT IT'S ALL ABOUT!
YOURS,
WRIGLEY

PREDICT RECORD VOTE IN NOVEMBER

Officials Ask Voters Register Early to Avoid Election Confusion

Local election officials have made an appeal to all unregistered voters in Madison to register October 28, and in this way reduce the confusion at the voting booths at the presidential election November 4.

Registration on that day will eliminate the swearing-in of voters on November 4.

The voting booths in the city will be open from 9 to 8 o'clock on October 28. All citizens 21 years of age, and a resident of the state one year, of the city 30 days, and of the voting precinct 10 days, are entitled to vote. Citizens who lack these qualifications must register before they will be qualified to vote without an affidavit.

Persons registered in another city or precinct from which they have moved, may cast their ballot by mail upon application to H. C. Busser, city clerk, or his assistant.

A special effort is being made by various organizations in the city to "get out the vote" at the election this fall. The heaviest vote ever cast in an election in this city was that polled last spring in the mayoralty race.

"Science of Life," Title of Extension Division Pictures

J. R. Bray, who originated animated cartoons, has directed the production of a new motion picture course, "The Science of Life", to be used by the Wisconsin extension division on its circuits.

Animated drawings, comprehensive subtitles, and motion picture photography combine to make "The Science of Life" a survey in general health education.

One of the three parts of this course deals with the personal hygiene for young men and women.

The beginnings of life, the protoplasm, reproduction in the lower and higher forms of life are shown in part one.

Communicable diseases in general, how plants and animals cause disease, how disease is spread, and how to prevent it, forms the theme for the other reel.

These courses are used by the Wisconsin extension division for use on its circuits, which include state, county, and municipal boards of health, high schools, junior colleges, community centers, educational forums, and all concerns having welfare departments.

Local Banks to Charge Small Checking Accounts

Milwaukee banks inaugurated this week their recently announced plan of levying a $1 per month fee on checking accounts with an average monthly balance of less than $100. This plan was inaugurated in Madison by a local bank several months ago and has since been adopted by several other local banks.

Local bankers explain that this service fee has been adopted merely to pay for the cost of carrying these checking accounts. It costs an average of 4 cents apiece for the bank to handle every check that is written on it. With the average account running 25 checks a month the service charge will just allow the bank to break even on the expense of small checking accounts. Where, however, the customer maintains an average balance of $100 a month or better the bank has an opportunity to reinvest this money and thus make the account pay for itself. Hence no service charge is levied on these accounts.

Broker Board Head In Message to Local Realtors

Elmer Grimmer, president of the Wisconsin Real Estate Broker's board, has sent a message concerning relations of the board and realtors throughout the state to the Madison Real Estate board which will be read at the Friday noon meeting of the organization at the Madison club.

Mr. Grimmer had intended to be present, but was unable to come because of illness. The talk will suggest to the realtors how they can cooperate with the administration of the state board.

Want to Be Well? Get Sunshine Cure, Dr. Elsom Advises

Dr. J. C. Elsom of the physical education department of the university who is in charge of the heliotherapy work at the Bradley Memorial hospital urges the "sunshine cure" if you would be healthy. To go out in the sun and get a good coat of tan, he declares, is a cure for all skin troubles. The tan produces more healthful condition in the entire body by increasing the pigment in the skin.

Sunlight has been utilized by plants and animals since the world began. A sick animal instinctively basks himself. No life could exist long without sunshine. At the Bradley Memorial Doctor Elsom is using the sunlight treatment.

The ultra-violet rays of the sun increase the amount of calcium and phosphorus in the blood, and both are necessary for the best of health. It is to be noted that these ultra-violet rays do not penetrate glass; consequently to receive the beneficial sun treatment one must be out in the sun. As the sun does not shine at all times a provision has been made for dark days by the invention of mercury vapor light which provides almost a pure ultra-violet ray.

DARTMOUTH STUDENTS REVIVE BICYCLE FAD

HANOVER, N. H.—Bicycles, so long in the same category as umbrellas on the Dartmouth have come into their own. Five members of one of the oldest fraternities in Hanover, influenced by a bicycle sale at one of the town's leading department stores, purchased new vehicles Saturday. Whether or not frequent trips to Vassar and Smith where that form of locomotion is so much in use, has any direct influence on the first five men is not known.

METHODISTS INVITE 1,000 TO RECEPTION

Invitations have been issued to more than 1,000 Methodist students in the university for the annual fall reception for freshmen, members of the church and their friends, which will be held at Wesley foundation this evening. Miss Clara Thomas, '25, is general chairman over the various committees in charge of preparations. Efforts will be made to help the new students in getting acquainted with members of his own congregation and with the organization of the church itself.

AG CLUB MEETING ATTENDED BY 100

Saddle and Sirloin Has First Meeting; Elect Kloser Vice-president

Approximately 100 agricultural students attended the meeting of Saddle and Sirloin in Agricultural Hall, last night. The early part of the meeting was taken up with the election of George Kloser, '25, as vice president, with the voting of amendments to the constitution, and with the signing up of new members.

Prof. J. S. Fuller gave an explanation of the essay contest conducted by the Saddle and Sirloin club of Chicago, an organization of professional stockmen. The University of Wisconsin Agricultural school has received high honors in past essay contests conducted by this organization.

Professor Holz, George Kloser, '25, Walter Farner, '26, and George Brack, '26, narrated their experiences in the dairy shows at Waterloo and at the Wisconsin state fair in Milwaukee. The audience was kept in titters of laughter throughout by the experiences of this group among the cattle.

ST. FRANCIS PLAYERS WILL GIVE PAGEANTS

The St. Francis Players, an organization open to all Episcopal students and their friends, are going to give three pageants. The first, "A Vision of All Hallow's Eve," will be given on October 26. The second, "A Sinner Beloved" on December 7, and the third to be announced later.

The plays are under the direction of Mrs. Jane Bloodgood and A. D. Ludden, grad. They will be given at Grace church Guild hall.

PORTAL OF PHAROAH'S BROUGHT TO AMERICA

The gate through which Moses and Aaron entered the palace of the Egyptian Pharaoh Merenptah to protest against the captivity of the Israelites is being erected at the University of Pennsylvania museum.

The portal, together with some other material from the buried city of Memphis was brought to this country by scientists of the university. The entire throne room of the Pharaohs will also be given to the university by the Egyptian authorities.

The present portal consists of the vestibule to the throne room in which archaeologists believe Pharaoh refused to listen to the pleas of Moses before the visits of the fatal plagues, which swept Egypt, according to Bible story.

JAIL IMPERSONATOR OF MISSOURI STUDENT COLUMBIA, Mo.—Kenneth Abert, charged with impersonating L.

S. Haggard, a student of the University of Missouri, and cashing a $75 draft belonging to Haggard, pleaded guilty this morning in a hearing before John S. Bicknell, justice of the peace. A few minutes later he pleaded guilty before the circuit court and was sentenced to two years in the state penitentiary. Abert was charged with taking a special delivery letter addressed to Haggard and cashing a check which the letter contained.

Dr. and Mrs. Hagen In Formal Debut At Hohfeld Musical

An informal concert program was presented by Dr. and Mrs. Oskar Hagen at the reception-musical given in their honor by Prof. and Mrs. A. R. Hohfeld on Wednesday evening.

No event in recent years occasioned as much interest as the debut both professionally and personally of Dr. and Mrs. Hagen. The large audience of society folks who were guests for the evening found the distinguished newcomers to have charming personalities and to be master musicians.

Mrs. Hagen sang selections from two of the Handel operas in which she has created the leading soprano roles and which are the product of Dr. Hagen's musical re-creating. She also gave selections by Brahms, Schubert and Schumann, revealing a soprano voice of unusual beauty, range and fullness. Dr. Hagen played her accompaniments with finesse and sympathetic understanding.

Professor and Mrs. Hohfeld received their guests informally following the program, presentation of Dr. and Mrs. Hagen was made by Miss Susan A. Sterling and Mrs. Ernest Voss.

Monroe Youth Dying After Automobile Crash

MONROE—Police are seeking a motorist who may be responsible for a motorcycle wreck on highway 31 that resulted in concussion of the brain for Arthur Karlen, 26, Monroe, who was found unconscious at the side of the road by a truck driver. Marks on the wrecked motorcycle indicate that it was struck by an automobile. Karlen, in a semi-conscious condition at a local hospital, is unable to recall the details of the accident.

Many Cases of Mumps Reported In Madison

Nineteen cases of mumps have been reported to the board of health within the last few weeks, it was announced at the board of health offices Wednesday. Houses in which this illness occurs are not placarded though it is listed as one of the contagious diseases. The illness leaves no effects and very seldom causes the death of the patient.

Wisconsin Insurance Men Discuss Fire Prevention

INTRICATE SYSTEM RINGS ALL BELLS

Class Signals Are Worked By Signal Clock in Observatory

Time not only flies, but rings, as far as the university is concerned. All the bells on the campus are rung by a clock in the observatory, under the care of Mr. Romare. The complicated system of relays, batteries, and bells is kept in good repair by the electrical department of the university supervised by Mr. Melentine. The clock is so arranged as to make a contact every hour and at the forty minute mark in the morning, and on the half hour and twenty minute mark in the afternoon.

When this contact is established by the clock at the observatory three main relays carry electric current to the master relay in Bascom hall and the regular relays in the other buildings. The various relays then complete the circuits that ring the bells. Although batteries have to be replaced and all the lines and bells maintained in good working order, the cost of keeping the entire system in repair averages only $10.00 per month. Under unusual conditions, such as storms, this cost is higher. A complete arrangement of switches enables the electrical department in the Service building to ring or shut off any bell on the campus.

The old Music hall clock, which was purchased in 1879, according to the regent's report this year, has nothing to do with the ringing of class bells.

University Women Warned to Register For Voting Nov. 4

The Collegiate League of Women Voters suggests that all university women 21 years of age or over register now to vote in the presidential elections November 4.

Residents of the city will register and vote in the precincts in which they live. Non-residents will have to write to the city clerks of the towns in which they live for a registration blank and a written ballot which must be returned to the clerk on or before November 4.

Further information about registration and voting may be had by calling Grace Paris, president of the League, at Badger 1571 or Eunice Neckerman, '26, at Badger 1012.

WESTMINSTER GUILD TO MEET TOMORROW

Sarah Ely chapter of the Westminster guild will hold its regular bi-monthly meeting and luncheon at the Presbyterian student headquarters, 731 State street at noon tomorrow. Literary Society is Tradition Here, Says Dean Nardin

"The literary society is a tradition at Wisconsin. Any girl who is at all interested in art or literature owes it to herself, as well as to others, to become a part of a group devoting itself to the study of these subjects. She should do this for the love of the fun, and enjoyment which she will get out of it," Miss Nardin stated today. Dean Nardin is a former member of the Pythia Literary society.

The open meeting of Pythia, to which all university girls are invited, will be held this evening at 7 o'clock in 35 Music hall. A varied program, containing readings, dancing, and musical numbers will be given.

Next Friday, Oct. 17, at 7 o'clock in 35 Music hall try-outs will be held. Only second semester freshmen and upper classmen are eligible to try out at this meeting.

Debaters Tonight Discuss Politics; Leopold-Loeb Case

Because of the interest centered about the legal and moral aspects of capital punishment in the recent Leopold-Loeb trial, Hesperia will debate the proposition to abolish capital punishment at its meeting tonight. Frederic Axley, '26, and Carl Damsheuser '25 will uphold the affirmative, while Elmer Weninger '25 and Lawrence Gram, '26 will discuss the negative of the question.

The following officers were recently installed in Hesperia: George J. Fiedler, '25, president; James Lowe '25, vice president; Arthur Nickel '26, secretary; Alvin Huth '27, treasurer; and Edmund T. Hamlin '26, censor.

In Philomathia political speeches will be given in behalf of the three presidential candidates, Davis, Coolidge, and La Follette by William Sheldon, '26, Harold Johnson '26, and Paul Moskowsky '26. Andy Gump will be represented by Frank Grover '26. After the formal discussion a straw vote will be taken.

LIBRARY DISPLAYS LARGE EXHIBITS

Three Valuable Art Collections
Are Displayed Here For
First Time

The State historical museum is displaying three large exhibits this week under the direction of Charles E. Brown, curator of the museum. An exhibit of Italian railway posters covering the scenic beauty spots of Italy is posted along the corridor on the fourth floor of the Historical library. This is the first exhibit of Italian posters ever made here.

A collection of old Chinese prints belonging to Mrs. Paul S. Reinsch is on display all this month for the art students of the university. This collection includes 50 prints that were presented to the late Prof. Paul S. Reinsch when he was United States minister to China. Professor Reinsch taught here in the department of economics several years ago, before serving as ambassador during the Wilson administration.

The third exhibit illustrates the manufacture of Indian shell articles, such as shell wampum, and shell brooches. Some exhibits planned for the near future will be on past American presidential campaigns, and the arrows of North and South American Indians.

Mr. Brown, a former student, was once a newspaper man, but has been curator of the museum for the past 16 years.

Chemistry Course Students May Try For Essay Prizes

An announcement has just been received by Prof. J. H. Mathews, director of the course in chemistry of the university, stating that next year students of the university may compete in the national prize essay contest conducted by the American Chemical society under the direction of Herbert Hoover, who is chairman of the national awards committee of the society.

Until this time the contest has been open to high school students only, and during the last year more than 500,000 high and secondary school students entered the contest.

Next year six prizes of $1,000 will be awarded students of universities and colleges for the six best essays on the following subjects, which are: relation of chemistry to health and disease, chemistry and the enrichment of life, chemistry and the agriculture of forestry, chemistry and national defense, chemistry and the home, and chemistry and the development of an industry or a resource of the United States.

Madison Woman Vice President of Librarians

OCONOMOWOC—The 1925 conference of the Wisconsin Library association will be held in La Crosse. It was decided at the session here Wednesday.

Miss Ada J. McCarthy, Marinette, was elected president of the association; Miss Mary A. Smith, Madison, vice president; Miss Clara Manning, Wausau, treasurer, and Miss Nora Beust, La Crosse, secretary.

Dr. M. S. Dudgeon of the Milwaukee library, Henry Trasler, Janesville; Carl Rodin, Chicago, and Mrs. W. G. Rasch, Burlington, addressed the conference this morning.

A banquet was held Wednesday night at which S. J. Carter, head of the reference department of the Milwaukee library, was toastmaster.

Plan Club House For Presbyterians; $45,000 is Raised

That a new building for Presbyterian students will be erected in the near future is the expectation of the committee in charge of raising funds for the work. For the purpose of securing additional funds throughout the state the Rev. N. C. Shirrel has been appointed to take up the work.

During the past year pledges of over $45,000 have been made for Presbyterian student work at the university. With the appointment of a secretary for the raising of funds it is hoped that enough additional money can be raised to start work on the first unit, a clubhouse on the present site of the headquarters at the corner of State and Murray streets.

Action on the project has been hastened by the fact that the facilities of the present headquarters have become inadequate.

MALONEY SPEAKS TO ROTARY CLUB

Proper Education of American Youth is Subject of Interesting Talk

Proper education of the American youth of today is the only way in which the nation may hope to continue on the road of prosperity, according to the Rev. Fr. Maloney of Watertown, who spoke at the weekly meeting of the Rotary club.

"The men that control the country of today are the fathers of the boys who will run the country of tomorrow, and as such, should see that these same boys have the proper education by which they may be fitted to assume the control of the nation in the best possible manner," he said. "The thoughts that should be inculcated into the minds of these boys are primarily: respect for the constituted authority of the nation, the idea that all people must work in order to attain success, and not work for only the joys in life, and respect for the feelings of others."

The examples of the ruin that faces the nation and all of its citizens if the work of the proper education of the American youth is not carried out were convincingly brought out by Fr. Maloney.

Alf. Rollands, also of Waterloo, introduced the speaker.

Charles H. Tenney, president. The amendments to the constitution of the club will be discussed at a later meeting.

INVESTIGATION OF FUND REQUESTED

Democratic Chairman Joins La Follette's Request For "Slush Fund" Probe

HAZLETON, Pa.—John H. Bigelow, chairman of the Democratic state committee of Pennsylvania, has joined Sen. Robert M. La Follette in his request for an investigation of an alleged "slush fund" being solicited by Republican leaders "to buy the election of President Coolidge in doubtful states."

In a telegram to Sen. Borah, chairman of the campaign expenditures committee, Mr. Bigelow said: "As a chairman of the Democratic state committee of Pennsylvania I heartily concur in Sen. La Follette's request for an investigation of the campaign contributions and the expenditure of the Republicans ways and means for Pennsylvania represented by Joseph R. Grundy of the Manufacturer's association and William Mellon, nephew of the secretary of the treasury. It is a notorious fact that every specially protected industry in Pennsylvania is being canvassed by a series of letters and interviews demanding gratitude for congressional favors and special privileges received by them, and suggesting reprisals if the Grundy appeal failed."

"This levying of tribute offends against the letter and spirit of the statutes which are designed to prevent corrupt election practices and deserves the most searching inquiry at the hand of every friend of honest election."

Large Remission of State University Taxes Announced

Remission of $1,500,000 in the state university taxes payable in 1925 was announced today by Gov. Blaine and State Treasurer Solomon Levitan. The remission was approved by the executive and state treasurer. Secretary of State Zimmerman was absent from the board meeting and did not pass on the action.

The deduction virtually wipes out the state tax for 1925 for the support of the university, officials stated. It was made as result of a balance of more than $10,000,000 in the general revenue fund, from which the necessary funds for running the university will be drawn. A similar remission was made by the governor and state treasury last year.

Friendship Banquet of Y. W. C. A. Has Play on Program

"Doings of the Dollar" will be the feature entertainment at the Y. W. C. A. Friendship banquet to be given for all girls interested in Y. W. C. A. work at 5:30 o'clock, Thursday, October 16, in the Luther Memorial church.

This will be the opening banquet of the year and the organization is hoping for an attendance of at least 500, word from the Y. W. C. A. headquarters revealed today. Tickets are 90 cents.

In the playlet to be presented, the $ will hop about the platform to show what can be done by such an individual. In this way a dramatization of the budget of the past year will be presented, and the women can get some idea how the money of the organization is spent. A presentation of the work done by the cabinet will likewise form part of the program.

COMMITTEE MEMBERS ELECTED BY COUNCIL

Representatives of the junior council of the University Y. M. C. A. were elected to the regular committees of the "Y" at the regular meeting of the council yesterday. Martin Bliese, '26, was chosen to represent the council on the public meetings committee, Robert McCoy, '26, on the social committee, and Harold Reed, '26, for work with the freshman groups.

The council decided to hold its meetings every Thursday noon in the parlors of the University Y. M. C. A. All juniors are invited to attend these meetings which will be featured by discussions led by one of the members.

Council Unable to Act Upon City Smoke Inspector

The election of a full time smoke inspector will not be among the issues to be decided by the common council when it meets Friday night. The special committee appointed to correct the papers of the 17 candidates taking the examination has not completed its work and probably will not do so until early next week.

A special meeting of the council will be called to consider the election of an inspector from the list submitted by the police and fire commission.

A light council meeting is expected with only one committee scheduled to meet before Friday night's session. The street committee met Thursday afternoon to consider the amendment to the traffic law restricting parking on the business side of the square and State st., to one hour.

KODAK HIKE PLANNED BY CHURCH SOCIETY

A series of hikes to be given by the Christian Endeavor society of the First Evangelical church will begin Saturday with a wiener roast at Picnic Point under the direction of George R. Neuhauser, '27.

Hikers are asked to meet at the Evangelical church on the corner of Wisconsin avenue and East Johnson street at 5 o'clock. A "Kodak Hike" will soon be held. Hikers will then be asked to bring their kodaks, and prizes will be awarded for the most artistic and the funniest pictures taken. All students are welcome.

Students From 12 States Registered In Library School

"Eleven other states, besides Canada and Norway are represented among the thirty-seven students enrolled in the Library school of the university," says Miss M. E. Hazeltine, Preceptor of the school. "Three of these are seniors in the university, 16 are graduate students, and 18 lower classmen."

The one year course of the Library school includes an intensive study of the technicals of administration, library economy, and evaluation of new books as they come from the press.

During February and March, practical work is substituted for the academic work, and students are sent to various libraries in the state to put into practice the theory learned in the classroom.

All students graduated last year were obtained positions, as the demand for trained librarians is much greater than the supply.

NEW RELIGIOUS CLUB APPEARS ON CAMPUS

One of the most recent organizations on the campus is the Calvary Lutheran Girls' club to which any Lutheran women are eligible for membership.

Lillian Norem, '25, was elected president; Cornelia Groth, '25, vice president; Dorette Astom, '27, secretary; Miriam Wollaeger, '27, treasurer; Clara Strodel, '25, corresponding secretary.

Mrs. A. D. Haentschell and Miss A. B. Ernst of the German department are sponsoring the organization. Meetings are held once a month at the parsonage at 713 State street, and are preceded by a 6 o'clock supper.

Special Program Planned For Open Castalia Meeting

Castalia will hold an open meeting for all university women, including freshmen, at 7 o'clock tonight in the dancing room on the fifth floor of Lathrop hall.

The purpose of the meeting is to show the newcomers the things Castalia does. Tryouts for the club will be held October 24 and 31. Open meetings will be held tonight and October 17.

The program will include a piano solo by Margaret Dell '25, a reading by Angelo Grevo '26, and a talk by Alberta Johnson '26 on the origin and purpose of the club.

May Write Poems and Plays About Fire Don's

The Fire Prevention Week committee has decided to allow children in the public and parochial schools to write stories, poems and original plays about fire prevention in addition to the essays as first announced. The length of the stories should be about 300 words but the poems may be of shorter length. The time limit of the contest has been extended to Monday, Oct. 20, when all manuscripts must be in the Association of Commerce rooms.

The silver loving cup, awarded to the winners each year by the Association of Commerce, has been won twice by the Washington school, once by the Doty school and once by the Father Pettit. If the Washington school wins this year they will keep it permanently. A new cup will be awarded next year.

Many Madison Educators Speak Before Teachers

John Callahan, Madison, state superintendent of public instruction, will welcome the 8,000 teachers, who are expected to attend the annual convention of the Wisconsin State Teachers' association in Milwaukee, Nov. 6-8. Morning sessions of the convention will be devoted to general programs with the afternoons turned over to sectional meetings.

Madison teachers, who will appear on the various programs are: Ira C. Davis, chairman of the science discussions; Rodney Slagge, Prof. V. A. C. Henmon, mental alertness of commercial students; F. H. Elwell, commercial subjects; Frank L. Clapp; Prof. F. L. Paxson, chairman of the history discussions; Delie Kibbs, on the kindergarten and primary programs; Leta M. Makes Good Film"Her Marriage Vow"
Featuring Monte Blue
At the Madison
BY J. F. W.

This picture should become part of the source material for every college debater who wants to prove to the world that the average motion picture audience isn't as dumb as the intellectual critics of the cinema insist it is. For there are in it any number of subtle touches which allow the spectator to do some thinking for himself, and not have it all done for him. Great detail and explanatory action has been dispensed with, and instead, suggestions here and there permit the same spectator to exercise his brain a bit, and smile comfortably in tacit understanding.

Such an instance is found in the party scene in the apartment of the woman downstairs. The preparations for the party are exhibited with some care; a fade-out follows, and finally a brief flash showing the wreck the merry-makers have left behind them completes the story. The whole thing is made simple and obvious, not obnoxiously so, and a great deal of unnecessary pictorial matter is eliminated. Yet there is no gap in the story, and precious feet of film are saved for really important matters.

The story is the conventional one of the misunderstood wife who becomes embroiled innocently in a compromising situation which breaks up her home. The usual reconciliation takes place, of course, and the occasion gives rise to the dumbest piece of scenario writing seen in these parts for some time; a tiny girl, who has been inexpressibly sweet throughout the picture is at this juncture moved to ecstasy which she expresses by jumping wildly up and down and shouting, "Hot Doggie." It's artificial, strained and impossible and it didn't get by.

Otherwise the picture is entertaining enough. Monte Blue does his usual best, and Beverly Bayne stages a kind of comeback, not too exciting.

Practically all the scenes are interiors, although once or twice the busy streets of N. Y. play an important part. But at any rate, it's hardly a picture of the great open spaces. Surely that is something to be said for it.

PARKWAY PRESENTS
ROAD SHOW TONIGHT

The first legitimate production of the year will be presented today and tomorrow at the Parkway. "Meet the Wife," a comedy by Lynn Starling with Mary Boland in the title role was very successful both in New York and Chicago. Alan Dale, dramatic critic of the New York American, characterized the play as "Pricelessly funny." There will be three Madison performances, one tonight, one tomorrow night, and a popular price matinee tomorrow afternoon.

SPANISH CLUB HOLDS
ELECTION OF OFFICERS

The first meeting of the Spanish club was held last night in the concert room at Lathrop hall. The speaker of the evening was Prof. A. G. Solalinde, a professor from Spain, who is visiting American universities. He talked on "Sporting Life in Spain." Other features of the program were Spanish songs led by Luella Nienaber '26, Mr. Lefort, grad, and Mr. Cuneo, grad. Officers elected for the coming year are Mr. Cuneo, grad, president; Mary Ridings '26, vice president; E. E. Judkins '27, treasurer, and Helen Shafer, grad, secretary.

One Killed, One Hurt
In Accident Near Sparta

SPARTO—One Milwaukee man was killed, one seriously injured, and a third escaped death by miracle in an automobile wreck near here Wednesday.

John Awad, 40, a Syrian, was killed. He was riding in a car driven by Edward P. Mitry, 27, and Charles Shehady, 30. They were driving from Sparta to La Crosse, skidding and overturning while attempting to pass a car seven miles west of here.

Superior Judge O. A. Stolen and Donald A. Brinton, court reporter, have been called to testify in a case being tried in a Milwaukee court. In the absence of Judge Stolen, Judge A. C. Hoppmann presided over police court cases Thursday.

BY CHATTY

Have you seen "The Sea Hawk?" It's without a doubt one of the best. Sabatini has a fine romance here, something of the good old stuff, the kind which can be taken over by the movies to advantage.

In fact, in our opinion, this is the kind of a picture the movies are made for, and the only kind. Romance and fighting and crowds—and the sea. You must have noticed long ere this that the sea films admirably. There's a quality about it which allows it to be reproduced on the screen beautifully.

The cast does well, too. Milton Sills and Wallace Beery hold the honors and the rest is well up to snuff. We would like to make Enid Bennett an exception to this statement. We don't like the expression "milk-sop," as a rule, but it can be applied to her face without injustice to the actress, we believe. It's a weak face, but then, she can't help that very well, we suppose.

Anyhow, the picture's fine and you ought to see it. The other Sabatini film is not supposed to be so very good, so take this opportunity.

The Wisconsin Players got together the other night under their new president, Louis Mallory. They've got some real plans for this year. Instead of giving their library readings at open meetings as they did last year, they plan to

Week of Good Shows Greet
the Theater-Goer Sunday

By H. E. R.

Another week of good shows is staring us in the face, and we are busily preparing to get our studying done in the afternoon in order to take all in and enjoy ourselves heartily.

The Strand is opening the week Jackie Coogan in "Little Robinson Crusoe". The feats of Jackie are known to all of us. In addition to his picture one of the Cardinal-Strand movies of university events will be shown. "Know Your Team" is the title of it, and it will introduce the members of the team to those of us that know them not, and all that sort of thing. Next Thursday will bring Conrad Nagel, Adolphe Menjou, and Eleanor Boardman to that theater in "Sinners in Silk", and after taking one look at the "stills" of the picture, we have decided that it must be good.

The Parkway is bringing "The Covered Wagon" to Madison at popular prices. This feature, adapted from Emerson Hough's Saturday Evening Post story, stars Ernest Torrence, Lois Wilson, J. Warren Kerrigan, and Tully Marshall, and is noted for the immensity of the production. Five hundred wagons are said to be in the wagon train, and some of the "big" scenes include the fording of a river, a prairie fire, and last, but not least, an Indian attack. All of our "dope" speaks well of it.

put on one-act plays after each regular business meeting.

And they'll be glad to have you come around and see the productions, too, if you're interested.

The production of "The Mullusc," the first full length attempt of the Players, will be given Friday and Saturday nights and Saturday afternoon, October 31 and November 1, according to the present dope. The offering will be staged in Lathrop concert room.

Remember way back in 1919 when George Arliss appeared in this play?

Betty Compson, our thrill, will be at the Madison the entire week with Adolphe Menjou, Elliott Dexter, and Zasu Pitts in "The Fast Set". This is another of the problem plays of the type that Betty so glorifies, etc.

A sweet list of movies, isn't it?

Now for the stage. "Kempy", a three-act comedy that has found favor in the eyes of all critics will be enacted by the members of the Majestic theater stock company. If it is as well as this week's show, it will be worth seeing, for we "lawfed" and lawfed" at the farce, "The Mad Honey-moon".

Just as an after-thought we might say that the following pictures are soon to appear at the Parkway; Cecille B. DeMille's "Feet of Clay"; Thomas Meighan in "The Alaskan"; Emerson Hough's "North of 36" with the same cast as that of "The Covered Wagon"; Sir James Barrie's "Peter Pan"; and Rudolph Valentino in "The Sainted Devil" by Rex Beach.

One moment while the operator changes pictures.

Another orchestra will make its appearance at the Orpheum next week during the first half. L. Tucker and the Society orchestra will present "Styles and Smiles". The Four Camerons, the additional feature act, will present "Like Father, Like Son." The last half of the week will have Elbert Linguist and Lenore Allen in "Favorite Melodies", and Olive Briscoe and Al Rutatt in "Conquered" as its features.

Jefferson K. C. to Hold
Columbus Day Banquet

JEFFERSON, Wis. — C. D. McCune, commander of the American Legion here, has been selected as toastmaster for the Knights of Columbus "Landing day celebration" Sunday night. Preparations are being made to entertain 250 knights, their wives and guests at the informal banquet and Columbus day program. J. L. O'Connor of Milwaukee, will be the principal speaker.

Orchestra Again
Wins Honors on Good Orph Bill

By Leo John

It's a good bunch that came up from Rockford for the last half at the Orph this week. There's an orchestra that's hot, with a soloist who is hotter, the usual springing of nuts and a real burnt cork artist.

Foster & Peggy

Peggy's a dog who can do everything from sneeze to play "Swanee River" on a specially constructed instrument. Foster's her boss.

Maxfield & Stone

Theirs is "Two Boys and a Piano." They sing, and one of them plays ballyhoo artist for the other, who finally displays his teeth as he is bid to do and sings tenor, not badly.

Jenks & Fulton

Mostly raw ones that don't get by so well. The woman has elastic limbs and a voice that runs wild on her occasionally.

Elizabeth Brice, and Frank

Jessler Orchestra

A beautiful woman with wonderful clothes who really can sing popular music. The first real class at the Orph in a long time. A sizzling orchestra. Red and blue lights reflected in a silver sousaphone. A drummer boy with rouged cheeks.

Mel Klee

He calls himself "A Gentleman in Black." He is. Good clean humor. Justly called the "Joy Boy."

Original Four Phillips

Forehead balancers. Difficult feats well executed.

Revenue Agent for Change In Tax Law

In computing the profit realized on the sale of property, the cost should be reduced by the depreciation previously allowed instead of depreciation sustained, members of the U. S. internal revenue department were informed at the final session of the revenue school here Wednesday. This will tend to reduce the income tax on sales of property where no depreciation was ever claimed, F. L. Foley, revenue agent conducting the school, said.

This change in the law will aid greatly in ascertaining a more just tax throughout the country. Under this clause, agents when making an inventory of the earnings of a company or individual will credit the taxpayer with any depreciation they find as part of their work in assessment.

candidates will list their qualifications as in the past. The board expressed a desire to allow each candidate to do the same thing, but the members felt that sufficient space could not be obtained in the columns of The Daily Cardinal to permit it.

Canvassing after midnight of the day preceding election will not be permitted. Many complaints were made last year because election workers disturbed students as late as 3 o'clock in the morning on election day in order to induce them to vote one way or the other. It is felt that this practice is harmful to the best interests of the election and the students.

The board also made its position clear as to the conduct of the election to be held. In view of the mistakes made in the fall election last year it was thought that any steps to prevent a recurrence of such trouble would be entirely justifiable. Accordingly the board warned all prospective candidates that any attempt to stretch the existing regulations or evade rules will result in summary disqualification and forfeiture of fees.

The board asked the co-operation of all candidates and their backers in carrying out a clean election in the interest of effectual student government. The members stated that they did not wish to be arbitrary, but at the same time wish it to be understood that willful violations of rules will not be tolerated. The offices to be filled at the election are as follows:

A president, vice president, secretary, treasurer, and sergeant-at-arms in each of the four classes. Prom chairman from the junior class.

Recommended member of Union board from the sophomore class.

One graduate, five seniors, three juniors, and two sophomores on the student senate.

Nine members of the student court from candidates recommended by the deans of the respective colleges.

One or two board vacancies may also be filled at the election.

ROTARY TO BANQUET COACHES AND GRIDMEN

The coaches and members of the varsity football team will be the guests of the Madison Rotary club at the meeting at the Loraine hotel next Thursday noon, just before the opening of the conference season. The club has called for complete attendance in order to show Coach Ryan and Captain Harris that the organization is behind them and the team.

EVANSTON, Ill.—"Write your dad," is the cry of John Woodward, chairman of the second annual Northwestern Dad's day. This event is only two weeks off. One of the features of the day will be a smoker in the men's gymnasium. Plans are now being made for an automobile tour of the city for the dads.

INDEPENDENTS GET BALLOT POSITION

Secretary of State Gives Three Groups Individual Columns

In spite of the fact that none of the three groups has complied with the law in the filing of signatures and petitions, Fred R. Zimmerman, secretary of state, today announced that independent designations will be given to the Workers' Party, the Commonwealth Land party and the Socialist Labor party.

While the attorney general's office has held that the requirements of the law have not been fulfilled Secretary Zimmerman has decided to grant the applications of the three groups. The three extra independent designations will cost the state an extra $6,000 for ballots. It is not exacted that the three groups will poll over 10,000 votes.

The decision followed extended conferences between the attorney general's department and state department in which it was concluded that it would be inadvisable to deny the independent tickets places on the ballots in view of the independent candidacy of Sen. Robert M. La Follette. Reaction on the decision of the California supreme court in barring the La Follette-Wheeler ticket in that state is said to have been one of the main reasons for permitting the candidates to go on the ballots in this state.

The attorney general's department several days ago informally advised the state department that none of the three independent parties had fulfilled the legal requirements for places on the ballot. Representatives of the Workers Party and Commonwealth Land party were prepared to bring court proceedings to compel certification of the presidential names.
