PHI KAPPA PHI PICKS SENIORS IN ELECTIONS

Honor Society Takes Men and Women From All Colleges

Phi Kappa Phi honorary society has announced its senior elections, and the roll includes men and women from all colleges in the university. The society elects from those seniors who not only have a high scholastic average but whose work and personality have made them prominent on the campus.

Additional faculty elections are: Dean H. L. Russell, of the College of Agriculture; Dr. Joseph S. Evans, Prof. George W. Keitts, and Dr. H. C. Bradley.

Pick Fifty-Two Students

The students elected are: Commerce: Harriet Bartlett, Elmer Benson, Helen Roth, Loyd Strope, Wesley Travers, Taylor Seaber.

Chemistry: Lester Peterson.
School of Education: Gertrude Bondslet.

Letters and Science: Marguerite Shepard, Hazel Wright, Milton Borman, George Bunge, Marguerite Croskey, Allan Davey, Howard Dodge, Lothrop Follett, Philip Falk, Flora Filzer, Marion Goodwin, Julia Hanks, Helen Harper, Leon Kaumheimer, I. Arnold Perstein, Margaret Swift, Charles Moore, Frances Ellen Tucker, Isabel Bacon.
School of Music: Herdis Hanson, Josephine Darrin.

Law School: Leon F. Foley.
Course in Journalism: Alice Munro, Frieda Rummel, Ralph Nafziger, Steven Gould.

Home Economics: Dorothy Jones, Marie Metz.
College of Engineering: Henry Ford, Philip Reed, Willard Kates, Foster Strong.

College of Agriculture: Willard Dayton, William Howelston, William Pierre, John Pinney, Wellington Brothers, Victor Tiedgens.

Pharmacy: F. W. Irish.
School of Medicine: Burt Clark, Richard Evans, Earl Carpenter, Jack Bigler, Clarence Schubert.

SPECIALTY ACTS ARE FEATURES OF PRE-PROM DANCE

Dorward and Dodge Will Be Star Attractions Friday Night

Three specialty acts have been planned by Reginald Garstang to be given at the Pre-Prom dance Friday night, January 21, in Lathrop hall.

Although the tickets are selling fast, a limited number may still be obtained from the following: E. P. Caluwaert, B. 4611; "Cap" Rasmussen, F. 890; Bert Ellis, B. 171; Harry Philipps, B. 197; or at the University pharmacy.

"By limiting the number of tickets to 300, we plan to eliminate the possibility of any overcrowding," said Dale Merrick, Prom chairman.

An unusually clever skit will be presented to all those attending the Pre-Prom dance when W. G. Dorward '23, assisted by George Dorsey '24, "Hap" Davies '23, and John Mokrejs '23, present a spritely hodge-podge of song and dance.

"The act is riotously funny and decidedly worth while," said Garstang, in charge of the features.

Another specialty will be offered

Evrard Caluwaert is in charge of the men's arrangements committee for the 1922 Prom. He has secured transportation and planned Post-Prom parties for seven groups of men who are not connected with other organizations. Caluwaert, a junior in the commerce school, is on the staff of the 1922 Badger and the Commerce magazine. He is a major in the cadet corps, a member of Scabbard and Blade, and the Press club. His home is in Oak Park, Ill.

GILMAN TO BE CHIEF SPEAKER

Commerce Professor to Talk at Vocational Meet- ing Wednesday

"After College What?" is to be the subject of Prof. S. W. Gilman's talk to freshman and sophomore women in Lathrop concert room tomorrow afternoon at 4:30. Gymnasium classes will be dismissed in order that every woman may attend, and juniors and seniors are welcome as well as freshmen and sophomores.

The Vocational conference committee in charge of the meeting has had printed small booklets containing information about vocations for which Wisconsin work prepares one, and the courses necessary for them. These will be distributed at the meeting to all who want them.

"This Women's Vocational conference is one of the best things that has ever been given to acquaint girls, who have to earn their own living, with possibilities for future development," said Miss Abby Marlatt, director of the course in Home Economics.

"This conference is especially constructive because people can take advantage of their decisions

FRENCH CLUBS WILL PRESENT GROUP OF PLAYS

Three Comedies Will be Given in Lathrop Wednes- day

A group of three plays will be presented by the members of the junior and graduate French clubs tomorrow evening in Lathrop concert room. The graduate club will present "Rosalie," a one act comedy by Max Murray, and "Il faut qu'une porte soit ouverte ou fermee," an artistic comedy by Alfred de Musset. These two are coached by Mrs. J. H. Greenleaf. The junior club production, "Franches Lippees," is being coached by Mlle. Fernande Helie.

"Il faut qu'une porte soit ouverte ou fermee," is an artistic dialogue between the love-struck count and the witty "Marquise." The count is struggling manfully to propose but at each critical moment the door flies open, he goes to close it and is forced to begin all over again.

The third play, "Franches Lippees" is a side-splitting farce. The scene takes place in a French restaurant. The casts for the plays are as follows:

"Rosalie"

Monsieur Bol—L. Pflueger.

Madame Bol—Marguerite Treille.

Rosalie—Dorothy Johnson.

"Franches Lippees"

Monsieur Lechapeau—John Irwin.

Madame Lechapeau—Hannah Krome.

Monsieur Lemu—Joseph Sherr.

Madame Lemu—Nadia Levitan.

INDIAN MUSIC IS BASIS OF CHORAL UNION CONCERT

"Hiawatha" to Be Presented by Student Chorus in Music Hall Tonight

Scenes from Indian life in America as described in Longfellow's "Hiawatha" will be presented by the Madison Choral union tonight at 7 in Music hall. Prof. Peter W. Dykema, of the School of Music, will direct the chorus of 200 students.

The selections were composed by Coleridge-Taylor, who is declared by many critics to be one of the greatest of contemporaneous English composers. Two parts from "Hiawatha," written by Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, were taken for the presentation. The music is based on Indian rhythm, but possesses all the charm and beauty of modern art.

"Hiawatha's Wedding Feast," and "The Death of Minnehaha," are the two chorus selections to be given. The first has been presented once before to a large and appreciative audience. The latter, however, will be given for the first time here.

"Popular music is yet in the kindergarten stage," Professor Dykema declared. "The music used by the Choral union, however, is the interpretation of the higher cultural music and all students should become acquainted with it."

MEDIC SCHOLARSHIP IS AWARDED '19 GRAD

The Harvard News of Cambridge, Mass., reports that Edwin F. Schneiders, a senior in the Harvard Medical School has won a Joseph Eveleth Scholarship at the Harvard Medical school.

Mr. Schneiders attended the University of Wisconsin before going to Harvard to finish his work. He obtained his Master's degree here in 1919.

HONOR GUESTS FOR 1922 PROM ARE SELECTED

Prominent Faculty Mem- bers and Madison People to Act as Patrons

The guests of honor and patrons and patronesses of the 1922 Junior Prom have been announced by Willard Kendall, chairman of the Prom reception committee. They include Gov. and Mrs. John A. Blaine, President E. A. Birge, members of the faculty and their wives and residents of Madison who have taken an active interest in the university.

The state senate and state legislature, and officials who have offered their offices in the capitol for use as Prom boxes have also been invited. In sending out the invitations the committee has attempted to make Prom a function of interest to all Madison as well as to the university.

Reception Thursday Afternoon

The Prom reception will be held at the Delta Upsilon house Thursday afternoon, February 10, at 4 o'clock. Governor Blaine is expected and the guests of honor, the patrons and patronesses and all students attending Prom are invited. The music will be by Thompson's orchestra.

Guests of Honor: Gov. and Mrs. John J. Blaine, President Edward A. Birge, Misses Nan and Mary Birge, Lieut. Gov. and Mrs. George F. Comings, Chief Justice and Mrs. Robert G. Siebeker, Secretary of State and Mrs. Elmer S. Hall, State Treasurer and Mrs. Henry Johnson, Attorney General and Mrs. William J. ## SWIMMING TEAMS START TRAINING FOR INTRA-MURAL MEET

Swimming teams, under four captains representing the four colleges of the university, are being organized and trained in preparation for the inter-collegiate swimming meet to be held in the gymnasium tank Wednesday, January 19. The four team captains are: Letters and Science, Howard Stark '21; Agriculture, R. E. Peterson '23; Engineering, F. C. Davies '22; Commerce, B. F. Story '24.

The points gained in this meet will count toward the intra-mural Nelson trophy. Men wishing to compete will notify the captain of their team or sign up in the gymnasium.

The annual inter-fraternity swimming meet will be held on Wednesday, February 16, and the last swimming event will be the all-university championship meet on Wednesday, March 2.

The Curious Cub

Question asked: "What is the proper full-dress uniform for men at Prom?"

Dale Merrick '22, Prom chairman: "I understand that lots of the men are planning to wear tuxedos rather than full dress suits to Prom. I think that one will look as well as the other, but I believe the occasion should determine the question. Prom is a formal party, and as such should be kept strictly formal. The occasion demands it and I think the men should abide by the governing situation. For other parties connected with Prom, the matter is optional, but for Prom itself, there should be but one style of dress, and that is the full dress.

Marjorie Boesch '22, Prom Queen: "I think that a tuxedo looks much better on a man and is a neater costume. But as to wearing a tuxedo to Prom, that is another matter. This is the most formal of all formal parties, and as such I think nothing but the most formal dress is fittingly proper. At other times it is optional, but at Prom I think the full dress should prevail.

William Sale '22, Committee chairman: "This question is of great importance this year. The tuxedo, along with the full dress, has been officially accepted as the proper uniform for all fraternity and sorority formals. But Prom is a formal for all, and as such is the most formal of all parties. It should be held as such and not made less formal by the wearing of tuxedos. The full dress should be worn by all on this night. As to parties connected with Prom, the matter is optional.

CADETS TRAIN FOR TILT WITH RIFLE AND PISTOL

May Meet St. John's Team and Local Guard Team This Week

With four possible rifle competitions and one pistol match scheduled, the university cadet corps team, under the direction of two expert marksmen, Cadet Captain Fred Ruffalo '22, and Sergeant Shire, is practicing daily, and is rapidly being rounded into shape.

The rifle team of the St. John's Military academy may come to Madison this next week-end to compete with the local team. If the match is held it will probably be a three-cornered one in which one of the local guard companies will furnish the third competitor.

To Hld Inter-Collegiate Match
An inter-collegiate match will be held February 26. All of the universities in the Big Ten conference will be represented. A mass gallery rifle competition will also be held between these schools, all of which are included in the sixth corps area. In this match, every cadet drilling in any department will fire fifteen times,—five standing, five kneeling, and five prone,—at targets fifty feet away. The score of each man will be totaled and a grand total obtained for the entire corps. This total will be compared with the totals of the other colleges and suitable prizes will be awarded to the winners. The competition is to be finished by February 28.

A telegraphic rifle competition will be held April 5 with Ohio State. Each team will shoot on its own range, and the scores will be transmitted by wire. The artillery unit at Ohio is trying to schedule a pistol match with the local unit, each detachment to be represented by a team of five men.

No More Chapped Hands

Delicene Softens and Whitens Them—Heals Abrasions

Rough, red, chapped hands are uncomfortable and unnecessary. The first application of Delicene, the Healing Lotion, soothes and softens them. Then the antiseptic properties heal the skin, restoring its normal, healthy condition.

Delicene also brings quick relief to the wind burned face and whitens the coarse, red skin. It forms a perfect base for powder and serves as a protection against raw cold and wind.

Don't confuse Delicene with ordinary cheap, glycerine lotions. Delicene has extraordinary healing and curative qualities. There's no other lotion exactly like it. Insist on DELICINE.

SIGMA DELTA CHI TO PUBLISH 1922 PROM CARDINAL

Special Features for Midnight
Edition Include Picture and Review

To produce an even better Prom edition of The Daily Cardinal than the one put out last year is the aim of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary and professional journalistic fraternity, under whose direction the paper will be issued.

The paper will be a complete review of the Prom and will be distributed on the floor and in the boxes shortly after midnight. Lincoln Quarborg '21 who was editor of the 1919 Badger will write the description of the affair as he sees it, and a staff selected from the membership of Sigma Delta Chi will compose, edit and make up the edition.

One of the features of the paper will be the Prom picture which is taken earlier in the evening and then rushed through a fast process of developing, printing and engraving, which ordinarily takes a couple of days. The picture will be rushed from the Capitol to the Photoart House, thence to the Print Shop and from there to the Cardinal office.

Last year the press was started at 12:45 a. m. and the edition was on the floor at 1:30. Over 4,500 copies were sold. This year's staff is as follows:

Business and finance, Ralph Nafziger '21; desk, Carson Lyman '21, and Taylor Merrill '21; special features, Lawrence Murphy '21, Wyman Smith, grad., and Charles MacInnis '22, advertising, William Comstock '21, and John Baker '21; news, Ivan Peterman '21, Darrel Dunn '23, and George Greene '23; skyrockets, Fred Sperry '21, and "Pat" Dennis '21; boxes, Charles MacInnis '22, and Walter O. ## FIRST OF 26

Mrs. C. A. Harper, Madison, Who Was Prom Queen in '96
Recalls Junior Event as it Was Held in the University
Gymnasium

Prom Queen!

The title is full of romance. Twenty-six girls in the history of Wisconsin have borne that magic name. The last one is Marjorie Boesch '22, a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority and prominent in campus dramatics, athletics, and social events. But that is another story.

Picture the gymnasium, cold and bare as we know it, transformed by Southern smilax into a perfect fairyland. Picture it lined with gaily decorated boxes, with a large platform at the end opposite the entrance for guests of honor.

Then imagine a happy throng of young people, very much like the Prom going throng of today, except that most of the men have drooping moustaches and all of the girls have enough material in their sleeves to make an entire modern evening dress, and you will have a picture of the first Wisconsin Junior Prom, given by the class of '96 in February, 1895, as it was described by Mrs. C. A. Harper, 15 E. Wilson street, who, as Miss Elizabeth Bowman of Madison, had the distinction of being the first Prom Queen in the history of Wisconsin.

"What did I wear?" said Mrs. Harper in answer to the first question. "Blue organdie, quite a marvelous dress it seemed to me. I suppose in these days of panne velvet and charmeuse satin anything like organdie seems like a simple afternoon dress. But we all thought it very fine.

"It had a low neck and the big, puffy elbow sleeve of the period and was trimmed with little yellow flowers and yellow satin ribbon.

"The grand march was particularly interesting. After circling the hall in couples the girls and the men separated, the girls forming a big nine and the men a six. The figures being reversible, spelled 96 from either end of the hall."

The march was led by Mrs. Harper's partner, Henry Niederman, in his capacity as chairman of the floor committee. The Prom chairman was not elected as today, but was appointed by the president of the Junior class, who at this time was Willard G. Bleyer, now head of the course in journalism.

Mrs. Harper was a Delta Gamma pledge and Mr. Niederman a member of Chi Psi fraternity.

"Each fraternity had a box fixed up along the wall of the gymnasium. The fraternities were very few at this time and many of them were not in houses so had very little with which to furnish their boxes. So we town people used to lend furniture, rugs, and pillows," Mrs. Harper explained.

"The Prom in its early days was very much more a town affair and less exclusively for the university than it is today. Of course both the town and the school were smaller and a larger per cent of the students were town people.

"The university orchestra played for us and we danced only two-steps and waltzes. A girl only danced three or four dances with her partner out of a program of 20 numbers and four extras. And

WOMEN'S ROLES IN VARSITY MOVIE STILL AVAILABLE

Tryouts for women's parts in the varsity movie will close this week, according to the committee. There has been some misunderstanding and the production has been somewhat retarded by the failure of many women to report. The committee feels that there is a considerable amount of talent among the women on the campus, and they are anxious to have all of the prospective movie heroines report to the movie office, third floor of Union building, between 8 and 10 or between 3:30 and 6 today, or between 9 and 12 Wednesday morning. Special appointments made by calling Robert Holcombe, B. 3464. Each aspirant is given a specially selected tryout.

Representative woman, one of whom is the Prom queen, will select the men for the varsity movie, according to a statement made yesterday by the production manager. The committee which is conducting tryouts every day in the movie office is made up of Marjorie Boesch '23, Betty Marshall '23, and Eleanor Riley '22.

The tryouts for men are similar to those given for girls. They consist of a short summary of screen features and impromptu action. Applications for tryouts will be received by Miss Marshall at the movie office.

she never gave more than two dances to any other one man during the evening.

"The dancing lasted until 3 o'clock in the morning, with supper at midnight. I am sure no Prom Queen since has been more thrilled than I was when, in my little blue and yellow dress I stepped out onto the floor to lead my line of girls into the semblance of a figure six."

PHI KAPPA PHI

ANNOUNCEMENT of senior elections to Phi Kappa Phi is made in this issue of The Daily Cardinal. It is an impressive list. The men and women have distinguished themselves in their work outside the class room as well as in their studies. The establishment of an organization which recognizes leadership such as these students have displayed is one that has a distinct place in the university.

The significant thing about Phi Kappa Phi is the fact that it elects from all colleges and does not confine itself to a single school or department. There is no other organization at Wisconsin which covers the scholarship and activity of both men and women in as broad a way as Phi Kappa Phi. Membership may well be considered as a prize worth having. To be eligible for election a student must stand among the first quarter of his class scholastically and must have shown marked ability as a leader or executive. The Daily Cardinal congratulates the students who have been elected.

A DEFENSE OF EXAMS

A PRESS report from Northwestern brings the news that there is an agitation in that university for the abolition of final examinations. One of the enthusiastic opponents of examinations is said to have called the "relics of barbarism."

Most students have heard the arguments pro and con and there is little need of setting them forth at length here. Suffice it to say that the prevailing sentiment still is that examinations are justifiable and necessary in an efficient system of education. The intensive review, the attempt to master a subject in its entirety, and the ability to handle intelligently any of the essential features of a course at one writing are generally considered to be advantageous that offset the disadvantages.

Much of the opposition to final examinations is directed against the abuses growing out of the system. In the great majority of cases it is a bad practice to determine a student's standing solely by his mark in a final examination. This puts a premium upon eleventh hour cramming, fails to reward properly good daily work, and ignores circumstances which often prevent a student from doing his best in an examination. Proper valuation is all that is needed to remedy this abuse.

Another more common objection is that the examinations are often too difficult to be a fair test of scholarship. Sometimes the questions are such that only students above the average can answer successfully. At other times the questions are so broad in their sweep that adequate treatment in two hours is a physical impossibility. The answers are in most cases superficial and the instructor must be a "liberal marker" if he does not slaughter the innocents. Certainly, examinations defeat their own purpose when they fail to be fairly adequate standards by which to judge scholarship. It is not necessary to abolish the whole system, however, to remedy this abuse. The questions should be so framed that the average student can pass with a fair mark, the better student with a good mark, and the exceptional student with a high mark.

Finally, a word should be said about the systems of marking. There seems to be little uniformity of standards among instructors in this connection. Something approaching a common agreement in this regard would be helpful.

The sum and substance of the whole question is: sweet are the uses of final examinations but sour are the abuses.

MAKE IT AN ANNUAL AFFAIR

THE success of the Jamboree Saturday night should be proof enough that this event ought to be on the calendar of social events every year.

The Jamboree is in a class by itself. It lacks the pomp and dignity of Prom, but has an abandon and a "sans souci" air that are absent in the silk hat and dress suit affair. Everybody has a good time. As a mixer the Jamboree has proved itself without a peer.

As yet the Jamboree is young. It will get better every year because it offers an opportunity for unlimited variety.

The experimental stage is past. The Jamboree is here to stay.

Y. W. C. A. ENDORSES PROPOSED BUDGET FOR MONEY DRIVES

A motion to support the budget system which is being planned by the joint committee of Student Senate and S. G. A. was passed yesterday at an open meeting of the cabinet, cabinet council, and Y. W. C. A.

Because of the criticism of the number of drives and the numerous demands for money on the campus this year, the committee is adopting a plan to regulate and limit the pleas for money.

Gladys Haskins '22 explained the budget at the Y. W. C. A. meeting, where the plan was approved. It was suggested that the committee give all authorized campaigns sufficient publicity in student publications and in the university catalogue early in the fall so that students and faculty might know how many drives were expecting their support.

THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN EXAMINATION SCHEDULE

First Semester, 1920-21

The examination time of a lecture course is fixed by its lecture hours, disregarding the credit value of the course as well as the hours for quiz and laboratory sections. Examinations in one credit courses or in courses consisting wholly of laboratory work will ordinarily be held during the last period of the class, or by special arrangement.

GROUP I

All examinations in four-credit courses, in three-credit courses meeting on MWF, and in two-credit courses meeting on days other than TT will be held as follows:

Recitation Hour	Time of Examination
11:00-12:00	8:00-10:00 Monday, January 31
2:30- 3:30	2:30- 4:30 Monday, January 31

REGISTRATION FOR THE SECOND SEMESTER

Regular registration days are Thursday and Friday, February 10 and 11, but the Registrar's office will be open for registration during the entire examination period and students are urged to register early.

Students absent without excuse from their first classes at the opening of the second semester will not be permitted to enter the semester examinations in such studies. Late registration will not be a valid excuse for students who were in attendance during the first semester.

Students are requested to clip this schedule and preserve it for reference. Extra copies may be secured at the Registrar's office.

PENALTIES FOR DISHONEST WORK ARE ANNOUNCED

Faculty Committee on Discipline Takes Action in 12 Cases

The faculty committee on discipline has taken definite action on 12 cases of dishonesty in scholastic work during the months of October, November, and December. The action taken in the several cases, as announced by the committee yesterday, is as follows:

A freshman in the College of Agriculture must do five extra credits toward graduation, for reporting experiments in Chemistry 1 which he had not actually performed.

A junior in the College of Engineering, while under a charge of dishonesty, withdrew from the university. He is barred from re-entering until he has appeared before the committee on discipline and answered the charges made.

A freshman in the College of Letters and Science withdrew from the university while under a charge of dishonesty. She is barred from re-entering until she has appeared before the committee and answered the charges made.

A freshman in the College of Letters and Science must do five extra credits toward graduation and is placed on probation until the end of the year, for handing in a dishonest field report in Geology 4.

A sophomore in the College of Letters and Science must do three extra credits toward graduation and is placed on probation to the end of the semester, for copying from his seat neighbor in an examination in Zoology 6.

A sophomore in the College of Letters and Science must do three extra credits toward graduation and is placed on probation to the end of the semester, for copying in an examination in Physics 1a.

A freshman in the College of Letters and Science must do five extra credits toward graduation and is placed on probation to the end of the year for handing in a rock collection not wholly his own in Geology 4.

A freshman in the College of Letters and Science must do five extra credits toward graduation and is placed on probation to the end of the semester, for reporting experiments in Chemistry 1 which he had not actually performed. On an appeal this verdict was affirmed.

A freshman in the College of Letters and Science must do five extra credits toward graduation and is placed on probation until June, for giving and receiving aid in an examination in French 10.

A sophomore in the College of Letters and Science must do eight extra credits toward graduation and is placed on probation for the remainder of the year, for giving and receiving aid in an examination in French 10.

A sophomore in the College of Letters and Science must do eight extra credits toward graduation, and is placed on probation for the remainder of the year, for copying in an examination in History 1.

A sophomore in the Course in Commerce must do five extra credits toward graduation and is placed on probation to the end of the semester for copying in an examination in Physics 1a.

Villard Not to Speak For Varsity Students

Oswald Garrison Villard, the editor of The Nation, will not appear here Feb. 3 under the auspices of the Social Science club of the university. University officials have notified the leaders of the club that the gymnasium will not be allowed for such purposes during examination week.

Republic Golden Mean Says Rev. MacLaurin

The republican form of government is the golden mean between autocracy and democracy, said Dr. Donald D. MacLaurin in a sermon at the First Baptist church Sunday evening. He showed the difficulties of maintaining an absolute democracy in a large country, and pointed out the advantages of the American government.

ENGINEERS BUY UP MANY "LIT" COPIES

More copies of the Wisconsin Literary magazine were sold in the Engineering building yesterday than in any other place, according to Horace Powell '23, circulation manager. Last month was the first time that the Literary magazine was even put on sale there, and even then the result exceeded all expectations.

Today the College of Agriculture will be given a chance to show its literary appreciation, and bring the number of its purchases up to that of the school of Engineering. The circulation manager is experimenting with the different fields, and has proved that the Chemistry building is also a fertile source of sales.

More copies were sold altogether yesterday than in any two days before, and this edition will undoubtedly be sold out by this noon, if it is not replenished from the supplies on the news-stands.

Personals

Faith Leola Urban, Wauwatosa, has just undergone an operation for appendicitis at her home. She is a freshman in the College of Letters and Science and a pledge of Achoth sorority.

Miss Florence Wells, an adult special freshman is in the infirmary with a severe attack of grippe. She is expected to return Wednesday.

Miss Dorothy Dietz, who has been ill with scarlet fever since before Christmas, has recovered and is resuming her university work.

Fred Bickle, who graduated with the class of 1920, and who is known for his popular Union vodvil acts, has a part in "Dubureau," now playing in New York city. The play is a Belasco production.

Miss Marion Calkins '18, is now on the editorial staff of the Survey magazine. She is writing a series of articles on Wisconsin land questions.

Sullivan-Hodges

In the Paris edition of the Chicago Tribune, the following notice appeared on November 21, 1920:

"Miss Madeline Sullivan, Wilmington, Delaware, and Dr. Fred Jenner Hodges, Madison, Wis., were married yesterday in the American church of the Holy Trinity. Mrs. Hodges came to France with the American Red Cross in January, 1918, and has been doing relief work in Siberia lately. Dr. Hodges is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and Washington university, St. Louis, and has been with the American Red Cross in Serbia and Poland.

DANCE AND SKIT DIVIDE HONORS ON BILL AT ORPHEUM

Ed. Janis with his company of capable dancers and Jack Trainor divide headline honors on an unusually good Orpheum bill.

Mr. Janis, a young dancer of merit, is assisted by three good looking and beautiful costumed girls, Carmen Rooker and the Southern sisters. In an artistic setting, this quartet does a series of difficult dances with a finish and technique that mark them masters of their art. Miss Rooker displays remarkable talent in her Oriental dance.

Jack Trainor is inimitable in the clever comedy skit, "Help," by Jack Lait. His role is one of a Wall street gentleman who has a weakness for pretty secretaries. They form the most of his business worries. The difficulty he encounters in the employing of a suitable one supplies most of the comedy. An able cast supports him.

Twisting himself up into all sorts of knots, Tuck, the spaghetti-spined gentleman in Tuck and Clare, gets lots of laughs. His partner, Clare, does a lot of difficult acrobatic stunts.

Kennedy and Rooney have a good act along towards the end. The male part of the cast does some funny things on the piano that delight the audience.

Despite his cold, Harry Ellis, a tenor who has a voice of superior quality, sings some songs that are well liked.

The first act "The Beginning of the World," has some interesting electrical effects.

FULLER HAS ELABORATE PROLOGUE

The Misses Oakes and Stevens, and Charles Hitchcock are the characters appearing in the Prologue in connection with the showing of Kismet. The Prologue has caused a great deal of favorable comment among Madison's theater-goers. Of special interest is the representation of Otis Skinner as Kismet, by Charles Hitchcock, and the delightful singing of Miss Oakes. As an appropriate finish to the elaborate prologue, there is a very effective interpretive dance by Miss Charlotte Stevens.

AT THE STRAND

"All's fair in love," decided Paul Blythe when he stole his best friend's best girl. But he hoped his friend would never find out about it, so he took his fascinating little bride to live in another city. Presently, who should appear, quite friendly and cheerful, but the old friend, come to make a visit. Then the complications started. Husband distracted, shuts Friend up in bathroom till he can get Wife out of the way. She, poor girl, wonders why she is being bundled off with Husband's partner to her mother's for a visit, when she had been expecting the old lady the very next day! So she refuses to be escorted sedately home to mother, and wheedles Friend Partner to take her to the Carnival instead. Next day she returns home, having discovered, by a chance meeting at the fete, Husband's duplicity in winning her away from her first sweetheart. Husband must be punished, she decides. He is. But before he is reduced to a proper spirit of repentance you will be reduced to a state bordering on exhaustion from laughing. "Her Beloved Villain," starring Wanda Hawley, is a clever French comedy which is being shown at the Strand theater for the last times today.

As an add feature there is being shown Fatty Arbuckle in "A Rough House."

Douglas MacLean in "The Jailbird" and a Larry Semon comedy, "The Suitor" will be the attractions at the Strand Wednesday to Saturday.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 25 at 8 a. m. Sunday and the lowest was 0 at 7 a. m. today. Sunset at 4:51.

The storm that was passing over the northern Rockies Saturday moved eastward Sunday and is now in New England accompanied by snow and wind.

ORGANIZATION OF ICE YACHT CLUB IS PROPOSED PLAN

Hockey and Skiing Squads Are Preparing for Heavy Schedules.

Because of the interest evinced in iceboat racing by university students and organizations, Coach Thmoas E. Jones, chairman of the athletic department, has called a meeting of all men interested in this sport for the purpose of forming a university Yacht club. The conference will be held at 7:15 Wednesday evening in the trophy room of the gymnasium.

Devotees of winter sports are working in their respective events daily. The ski jumpers are practicing on the newly completed jump on Muir knoll in preparation for the strenuous schedule which has been arranged by the athletic department.

Hockey players are skating every afternoon on the rink back of the gymnasium. The inter-class meet, which could not be held last Saturday because the rink was not completed, has been put ahead to Saturday, Jan. 23. The iceboat race will also be run next Saturday in connection with the hockey tourney.

Candidates for the hockey squads are urged by the athletic department to report at the rink to one of the four captains of the class sextets. The captains are: Adolph O. Teckmeyer '21, Gilbert G. Grives '22, John L. Murdock '23, William W. Deadman '24.

late to change their work for something for which they are better fitted.

"Even if the students who attend these conferences do not change their courses because of what they hear there, the conference will have given them a point of view on the departments in which they are not majoring. That is pre-eminently worth while.

"I believe it should not be a students' conference but an advisors' and advisees' conference," said Miss Marlatt. "We, the advisors, sometimes fail to know enough about what the other majors include and then we cannot give advice suited to the capacity of the student. I am sure we would be much more helpful if we were more familiar with the courses offered in other departments than our own."

"This conference offers many possibilities for constructive work, and I think both advisors and advisees should make the most of the opportunities which it presents."
