LAY PLANS FOR PROGRAM SALE AT HOMECOMING

Prizes Are Announced Contestants Must Adhere to Rules

Plans for the sale of 8,000 Homecoming programs during Homecoming week will be discussed at a meeting of representatives from every woman's organization to be held Wednesday, October 27, at 5 o'clock in the Homecoming office, first floor of the Union building.

A first prize of a floor lamp, a second prize table lamp, and a 20-pound turkey gobbler will be awarded to the three groups selling the most programs in the campaign which will start Thursday, November 11, and end Saturday, November

Rooming houses and private homes having rooms available for the use of guests during the Homecoming week-end, November 12, 13, or 14, should mail the number of rooms available, number of guests that can be accommodated, together with the price charged, to Kenneth L. Ede, 625 N. Henry street, B. 197.

Parties desiring rooming accommodations for that week-end should get in touch with Ede immediately.

All information received by mail will receive first consideration.

13. The two first prizes are now in the window of the Haswell Furniture company, 117 State street, and the turkey will be seen in Morgan's window within a short time.

"Every women's organization intending to compete in the campaign must send a representative to the meeting in the Homecoming office at 5 o'clock Wednesday," said Elizabeth Chandler, chairman of the distribution. "It is imperative that each group thoroughly understands each rule governing the contest."

Last year the Homecoming program sold over 5,000, and the committee intends to top that record by at least 3,000 copies. Carl Seifert is editing the program, and has promised several features. Don Bailey as business manager has not yet announced the price.

Spicy Jokes in "Come-back"
Number of Octopus Uncensored

The blue pencil and scissors of the faculty censor could not take the pep out of the "Come Back" number of the Octopus which appears this Wednesday, the editors say, because every one of the 104 jokes and 17 cuts is as spicy as the other.

Two especially funny contributions which escaped demolition by some chance are called "The Psychology of Laughter" and "Political Optimism." And who wrote them? Think of the greatest authorities on those two subjects, and you will know,—Professor Joseph Jastrow and Professor Carl Russell Fish.

The Octopus has adopted the policy this year of going to headquarters for everything, with the result that the pictures are considered better than ever before. Unsolicited recommendations have come from all quarters declaring this month's Octopus to be the best publication ever put out by Wisconsin students.

"Y" CANVASSERS GET INSTRUCTION AT MEET TODAY

Canvassers in the Y. M. C. A. annual fund campaign will meet at the "Y" at 4 p. m. today, when Prof. E. H. Gardner will instruct them in the technique of fund soliciting and Secretary F. E. Wolf will urge putting the appeal for funds on the basis of the varied services that the "Y" gives students on the campus.

The general campaign will get under way tomorrow morning, with fraternities being given opportunity to subscribe tomorrow night at their house meetings, a canvasser having been appointed for each chapter in addition to more than 200 solicitors who will scour the men's rooming houses to raise the $4,000 quota.

The campaign organization still can use more team captains and canvassers, according to Secretary Wolf, who last night urged all who would be willing to assist in the drive to volunteer their services and report at the meeting this afternoon.

KATHERINE EVERTS GIVES READING OF "MY LADY'S RING"

"My Lady's Ring," the selection which Miss Everts will read, is a comedy written especially for her by Alice Brown, author of "Children of Earth," the $10,000 prize play.

BADGERS LOSE TO BUCKEYES IN FIERCE BATTLE 13 TO 7

Ohio State Takes Game in Last 30 Seconds on 50 Yard Pass

Special to The Daily Cardinal
By AL W. FROGNER

COLUMBUS, Ohio—By scoring a touchdown on a 50 yard forward pass in the last 30 seconds of play, Ohio State eliminated the fighting Wisconsin football team from the conference race here by a 13 to 7 score in one of the fiercest games ever seen in the west.

With the ball on their own 10 yard line and less than three minutes to play, defeat seemed certain for Ohio. Quarterback Workman then opened up with a series of "Do or die" forward passes which brought the ball the entire length of the field and wrested victory from defeat just thirty seconds before the final whistle.

Badger Line Superior

The teams were so evenly matched that neither showed any marked superiority over the other, although the Badgers outplayed the Buckeyes in the line. Howard Stark, Badger tackle, played a wonderful game and repeatedly nabbed Ohio backs for losses. Bunge and Scott were also big factors in the Badger's defense. The dry field permitted the fast backs of both teams to open up and some brilliant open field running brought the spectators to their feet repeatedly throughout the game. Ohio surpassed the Badgers in running back punts and this kept the ball in the latter's territory continually for the two middle quarters.

Elliott, Sundt and Williams starred in the backfield for the Badgers, while Workman and Stinchcomb were the mainstays of the Buckeye offense. Captain "Red" Weston was a tower of strength on defense but the Ohio halfbacks had the star end covered so thoroughly that he was unable to take his usual part in the forward pass game of the Badgers.

Wisconsin's one touchdown came in the first quarter when repeated plunging by the Badger backs brought the ball to Ohio's 25 yard line, where a pass from Barr to Elliott placed it three yards from goal. Holmes then carried it over the line and Sundt kicked goal.

Take Defensive After Scoring

Coach Richards' men were wearied by their great march down the field for the first touchdown. For the next two quarters they were on defensive entirely and this prohibited them from opening up with forward passes.

Although the Badgers have no alibis to offer, the fact that Weston, Tebell, Sundt, Elliott and Williams were not in the lineup during the entire last quarter weakened their offensive machine greatly. "Red" Weston who was injured. Henderquarter in tackling Workman, but the injury will not keep the star end out of the game long. Tebell's shoulder was injured but it is not known how seriously he was hurt.

Walter Camp, Sr., premier football critic of the country was in the press stand, and commenting on the game between halves said, "Ohio

Wisconsin made the first touch-down in 11 minutes.

"Larry" Hall, former varsity cheer leader, led a handful of Badger rooters in cheering which brought a big hand from Buckeye fans.

opportunities by which they might have scored. Wisconsin's backs are more powerful in driving through and the Badger ends are exceptionally fast on getting down on punts.

Camp left the stands three minutes before the end of the game

MEET THE TEAM

The Badger team will return today via Northwestern, arriving at the station at 12:50 p. m. The entire university is urged to be on hand to greet the grid men. At 12:10 the band will assemble on the lower campus ready to march to the station, followed by the student body. Automobiles have been secured for the use of team members on the return march.

It is requested that fraternity and sorority stewards and student boarding houses arrange to serve dinner later today in order that everyone may be on hand for the affair.

with the score 7 to 6 in favor of Wisconsin, saying: "The better team wins."

PLAY BY PLAY

First Quarter

Captain Weston won toss and chose to receive. Workman kicked to Elliott who returned the ball 10 yards. Sundt made four, Holmes three and Sundt punted to Workman who was downed on 29 yard line. Henderson made one, Workman punted out of bounds on 47 yard line. Elliott made a yard. Sundt was held. A pass, Barr to Weston was incompletely and Sundt punted to Workman who returned four yards. Willaman hit center for a yard. Workman kicked to Barr on his 45 yard line. Elliott made four, Sundt added one. A pass was incompletely and Sundt kicked to Workman who fumbled but recovered on 17 yard line.

Stinchcomb made 17 yards, Willaman gained five, Workman kicked IMAGINE yourself trying to write something funny. Just try it, we ask you!

EVERY two minutes some one has the crust to call us up and ask, "What was the final score, please?" We have gotten so that we say, thirteen to seven, instead of hello.

ASTONISHING the terrible things that can happen in half a minute. It certainly was one of the world's very worst catastrophes and a typical bit of Ohio luck.

HERE you have the last verse of the song that we gave you yesterday:

DIRGE
(Tune: Make up your own)
My money went down to Ohio,
blank blank,
To meet some more money down there.

The team had bad luck in Ohio,

And now I am tearing my hair.

THE LIT—A CAMPUS LEADER

THE first issue of the Wisconsin Literary Magazine is now on sale on the campus.

It indicates the start of another chapter in giving to the university and the state at large the best that Wisconsin can offer in the field of literary endeavor. In the words of the editors, the Lit seeks for active contact with those alert minds, especially among the undergraduates, which can do thinking. It is a varsity activity, and the men and women who produce it believe in it.

The altogether-too-prevalent idea that the Lit finds its proper place only in the library of an embryo Emerson or Stevenson is entirely erroneous. Seeking effective writing, it is only logical that accurate grammar and clear cut expression are held up as mediums. It wants, and invariably gets, "strong straightforward stories that ring true."

Not unlike its predecessors, this year's initial issue of the Lit points the way to a thoroughly competent publication that is worthy of unanimous support by the student body. Subscription rates are nominal when one attempts to gauge the relative good which comes from being a subscriber. Adding your name to the Lit's ever growing list of satisfied readers is one of the good ways to prove an earnest desire to go behind "Wisconsin's Best."

AN ASSOCIATION FOR JEWISH STUDENTS

RABBI SAMUEL HIRSHBERG, of the Temple Emmanuel, Milwaukee, will deliver a sermon on "Judaism and Modern Religion" at the opening meeting of the Jewish Students' association, in the Woman's building at 7:15 tonight. Dr. Hirshberg is well known in Madison religious circles, having spoken here a number of times before. At the all-university religious conference last spring his address was one of the outstanding features of the entire meeting.

The Jewish Students' association is a comparatively new organization on the campus. It was started last year through the efforts of Prof. L. B. Wolfenson, of the Semitics department, for the purpose of bringing to Madison noted lecturers from all sections of the country who could present questions of interest to the many Jewish students in the university. It is purely a religious organization, meeting bi-weekly. Meetings are open to the public and those interested in an unbiased presentation of Jewish questions are cordially invited to attend.

CONDUCT AND CHARACTER

THE student whose life is regulated by high principles and whose reputation is safeguarded by a sound character always commands an enviable position in university circles. If his conduct, his attitude toward others, is faulty his personality is defective and he has few true friends.

An admirable personality is to a student what a show window is to a store. It creates an impression which may lead to a desirable result.

Right conduct may differ to suit varying conditions, but in its essence it is always the same. Correct conduct on the part of every Wisconsin student will make the state and nation a better place in which to live.

A Hindu proverb expresses this thought: "All roads are paved with leather to the man who wears leather shoes."

He who travels life's devious roads with the valuable equipment of an irreproachable conduct will find them paved with happiness and success.

Yellow Tassel Party

Lathrop gym was the scene of festivities when members of Yellow-Tassel greeted the wearers of Green Button yesterday afternoon. The hall was decorated with cornstalks and pumpkins. After the preliminary mixing stunts and dancing, eight jolly minstrel maids appeared. Their witticisms and clever acting revealed unusual talent. The "niggers" got off many appropriate puns on members of the faculty and real darky clogging by Helen Barton kept the audience laughing uproariously.

Arrangements were in charge of Matilda Keenan, and Dorothy Westendarp.

PISTOL CLUB IS LATEST ADDITION TO SPORTS LIST

The latest addition to the university's list of "minor sports" is the Pistol club of the Cadet corps. This club was organized at a recent meeting at the armory. Major S. S. Wood, the commandant, outlined the work that would be done. The first week will be spent at indoor practice. After this preliminary training the men will be taken to the firing-range in the army trucks, and here each man will fire the regular course of instruction. The work will be supervised by regular army officers.

It is expected that a team will be chosen from this club, and that the team will compete with similar organizations at other colleges. Any officer of the cadet corps is eligible for membership in the club.

Those present at the initial meeting were Colonels Zwicker, and Wolfe, Lieut.-Colonel Sherr, Majors Russell, Jennings, and Schrage; Captains Field, Hart, Brill, Williams, Herrick, Taylor, Wolfe, and Ruffalo; Lieutenants Fagg, Darnstaedt, Keicker, Schlaeter, Spence, Johnson, Stephenson, Birdlebough, McArthur, Wupper, and Chapple.

GIRL SHORTAGE AT MIXER OVERCOME

The mixer given last night by the Union Board with the co-operation of S. G. A. was one of the best in the history of mixers at the university. Due to the combined efforts of the members of Crucible and S. G. A. the usual shortage of girls was less acute and none of the men had to watch idly from the side lines, while those more fortunate were enjoying themselves.

Susie Fisher, chairman of the girls, and Alfred Hotten, head of Union Board, aided by the members of the committee, were very effective in getting the people to "mix." The rule was not more than two dances with the same girl. Those who were too bashful or unwilling to introduce themselves, were carried away by the committee and literally "introduced," until their bashfulness wore away.

At The Theaters

AT THE GRAND

A picturization of Caroline Lockhart's thrilling story of the open range, "The Fighting Shepherdess," will be presented at the Grand theater today, with Anita Stewart in the title role. This is said to be the greatest woman's book in years and it offers the star an opportunity to display her versatile talent. The plot centers around the tireless, remorseless, implacable struggle of Kate Prentice to find enjoyment in life. Hard riding cattlemen recognize no sex in their efforts to drive Kate and her flocks from their domain. They seek her life, her good name and bar her way to love—but she fights alone and wins a battle with man's weapons, but not in man's way.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Two big time acts will split the feature position on the Orpheum bill starting tomorrow night, when "Rubeville" and "Dance Creations" is offered. The balance of the program will include Jack Brinerton and Lillian Watson in a page from the dictionary of slang entitled "Brown Derbyville." Appearing in the act called "The Bill-Poster" will be Harry Holden and Lucy Harron. A medley of vaudeville bits will be contributed by Elizabeth Nelson and the Barry Boys. The sensational girl will appear in the person of Helene Jackley. Kinographs and Topics of the Day pictures complete the bill, which will remain at the Orpheum up to and including the three performances on Wednesday.

AT THE STRAND

Constance Binney, winsome star of stage and screen, will be the attraction at the Strand Theater for three days commencing today, starring in "39 East," the Rachel Crothers' play in which she made the biggest triumph of her stage career, and is said to repeat her success on the screen.

Miss Binney opened in "39 East" early in the spring of 1919 at the Broadhurst Theater in New York. She carried off the honors of the opening performance and became in truth a star over night.

"39 East" gives Miss Binney the best role of her screen career, permitting her to give full reign to her girlish charm, her unsophisticated air, her dramatic and comic ability. It also permits her to do some of the dancing for which she first won the admiration of theatrical audiences.

"The Fighting Shepherdess"

In this picture Anita Stewart again scores a heavy triumph. The producers could have made no happier choice for a story than the novel by Caroline Lockhart. The picture is the same character as "In Old Kentucky," which it overshadows in pathos and sympathy.

Miss Binney has the role of Penelope Penn, a sweet daughter of a poverty-stricken minister. She is surrounded by the same cast that supported her in the stage production with the exception of Henry Hull, who had the role of Napoleon Gibbs, and is replaced in the picture by Reginald Denny.

In addition there will be shown a Mutt and Jeff cartoon and the Latest News Weekly. As an added attraction, Man-O-War, the greatest racehorse of the age, will be seen in one of his recent prize winning triumphs.

AT THE FULLER

So tense are some of the emotional scenes in "The Woman in Room Thirteen," the latest Goldwyn picture in which Miss Pauline Frederick is at the Fuller theater for today only, that most of the scenes were filmed in the quietness and solitude of the night. Miss Frederick found that she could secure more opportunity for concentration on her work when the big Goldwyn studios near Los Angeles were almost deserted and the other players were seeking diversion or a well earned rest.

The part of Laura Bruce provides

Miss Frederick with a good opportunity to exhibit her wonderful dramatic abilities. The story is full of tense and emotional scenes.
