AUTHORITIES AT WISCONSIN LEAD IN SCALPER WAR

Nine Are Arrested on Charges of Ticket Manipulation

That the University of Wisconsin is taking the lead among Big Ten universities in endeavoring to prevent the further spread of scalping at athletic games is the opinion of Mr. Paul F. Hunter who has been conducting the ticket sales for the various games.

Thus far the university authorities have apprehended nine men who are suspected of scalping, according to Mr. Hunter. The University of Chicago has made only one arrest and Minnesota only two in attempts to round up illegal sellers of athletic tickets.

Four Arraigned Monday

Four men have been arrested and several more apprehended and pending arrest on charges of selling tickets to the Homecoming game illicitly. The cases are being handled by the federal revenue agents and the suspects will be arraigned before Federal Judge C. Z. Luse next Monday morning.

The men who have been placed under arrest are Leo Daggett, Russell Griffin, Meyer Bernstein and Forest Angele. They all signed bonds for bail shortly after their arrests.

It is expected that a stiff fight will be put up by Griffin who insisted that he had a government broker's permit and was not guilty of "scalping" tickets at the Illinois game. He is a Milwaukee man and was cheer leader for the Wisconsin delegation at the New Orleans American Legion convention.

Federal Agents In Charge

Mr. Hunter said yesterday that he has turned the entire matter over to the federal agents. Dean Scott H. Goodnight has been out of town so that it has been impossible to ascertain exactly what stand he is taking in the matter. Mr. Hunter told one of the suspects that he was going to see to it that most stringent steps would be taken against every convicted scalper.

The defendants were arrested on a charge of violating section 800 of the Internal Revenue act of 1921. The act provides for regulation and tax of excess profits.

SIX WILL JUDGE TRYOUT ACTS OF FOLLIES SEEKERS

Purnell to Watch Skits of Haresfoot Aspirants Thursday Night

Six judges will select the three acts to be given at the Haresfoot follies, December 2, at the preliminary tryouts in Lathrop concert room Thursday evening. The judges are William H. Purnell, grad. Alfred H. Hiatt '24, Porter F. Butts '24, Hubert Townsend '23, T. Faxon Hall '23 and Karl A. Maier '23.

The tryouts Thursday evening will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock according to Hiatt, chairman. Musical accompaniment will be furnished by the club for men desiring it. The majority of skits registered thus far are of the song and dance type, Hiatt said last night.

The acts chosen are to be balanced in order to give variety to the entertainment. Those not selected for the follies performance are to be considered as initial tryouts for the spring play "Kikmi", Butts, general chairman of the follies, declared.

Any acts not yet registered with the tryout committee may appear at the concert room Thursday evening, it was announced yesterday. Men desiring information on tryouts are to call Hiatt at B 171.

Seventeen Badger cities were "city planned" by students in the course in city planning.

New Gridgraph to Show Badger-Michigan Battle

The gridgraph which was purchased recently by the athletic department will be used again for the Michigan-Wisconsin football game to be played at Ann Arbor Saturday.

The device, which will be placed in the men's gymnasium, duplicates plays made on the gridiron showing the distance made by each play, the direction of the play, and who carries the ball.

After its use in the Minnesota game, students clamored for the purchase of the gridgraph and it was secured from a concern in Columbus, Ohio.

LESCOHIER AIDS IN EMPLOYMENT STATISTIC WORK

Economics Professor Presents System in Harding Conference

Prof. D. D. Lescohier of the Economics department is one of the men who has prepared a system of employment statistics which was brought and presented in President Harding's conference on unemployment, it was learned yesterday.

Professor Lescohier recently attended a meeting in New York city of the committee on employment statistics of the American Statistics association of which he and A. J. Altmeyer, secretary of the Wisconsin Industrial commission, are members from Wisconsin.

The committee is composed of statisticians of the federal government, representatives from several states and faculty members of various universities. It has been at work for one year on the subject. The system of employment statistics which they have made out will be used in the conference on employment.

Full details of the completed plan and a report of the work of the committee will be given at the meeting of the American Statistics association in Chicago, December 29, by Miss Mary Van Kleeck of New York city and by Professor Lescohier. The plan and the report will be published in the book on "Business Cycles" which is to be issued by the president's conference.

L. Schyjaahn '24, George Sprecher '23, J. L. Straka '24, and Frank Stuart '25.

50 Piece Band Will Go to Michigan Saturday

Money taken in by the "Send the Band to Michigan" drive held on last week end has made it possible to send a band of 50 pieces to Ann Arbor next Saturday. It was planned originally to send 100 men but the band now comes under eligibility rules similar to those which govern athletics and other activities, and so it will be impossible for the entire number of bandmen to make the trip.

1923 Prom Contributes $1,081.51 to Union Fund

Total proceeds of the 1923 Junior promenade, turned over to the Memorial Union fund, amount to $1,081.51, Ralph E. Ballietie '23, finance chairman, announced last night. An even $800 was given to the Union last May by the prom committee and a final payment of $281.51 made to Ballietie yesterday, will be turned over to the fund immediately upon the return of Dean Scott H. Goodnight.

GREEK COUNCIL PROPOSES NEW RUSHING RULES

Deferred Pledging and Abolition of "Hot Box" Recommended

Deferred rushing and complete abolition of all "hot box" pledging was the essence of a report made by the committee on fraternity rushing at a meeting of the Interfraternity council at the Delta Upsilon house last evening.

The chief points in the proposed system of fraternity rushing as recommended by the committee are:

(1) To supply the prospective student during the summer with information concerning fraternity rushing and to warn him against "hot box" methods of pledging. Mimeographed sheets would be sent from the dean's office.

(2) To postpone the pledging of any rushee until the third week after the opening of the semester. No rushing is to be held during the first three weeks with the exception of smokers to be held at the various fraternities. The smoker would be open to all new university men, and would provide an opportunity for upperclassmen to welcome new men to the university.

The committee hopes to obviate dissatisfaction caused by too hasty decisions both on the part of the fraternity and the pledge by the use of such a method as outlined last night.

The recommendations of the committee are to be discussed at the respective fraternities and a program for better methods of fraternity rushing will be worked out at subsequent meetings of the council.

Werrenrath Charm, Personality Adds to Audience's Delight

With a varied group of songs English, Italian, Irish, Scotch, Danish, French, the young baritone, Reinold Werrenrath, charmed his audience last evening at the men's gymnasium in the second concert given by Union board.

The singer possessed an unusual personality and had the bearing of one who is thoroughly human, intensely alive to the merits of his audience.

The voice of Werrenrath showed training of the highest type. Clarity of words and fine expression were marked in his singing. The poor acoustics of the gymnasium decreased somewhat his tonal resonance.

The two Italian numbers of the first group, "Caro Mio Ben" by Giuseppe Giordani and "Che Fiero Costume" by Giovanni Legrenzi, contrasted his ability to sing smooth melodic numbers as well as fiery passionate compositions. Each tone had a distinctness of expression in Werrenrath's interpretation of "Over the Hills and Far Away". The arrangement by William Arms Fisher, played by Mr. Harry Spier, accompanist, was delightful.

Word interpretation of the three Danish numbers given by Werrenrath added to the interest and pleasure derived by the listeners. As in this instance, it is always true that the shorter numbers are the most effective.

The only heavy number on the program was the aria, "Vision Fugitive" from Herodiade by Jules Massenet. The baritone's enunciation of French words was distinct; his phrasing pronounced. Here was displayed the range of his voice and the volume of which he was capable.

WEATHER: CLOUDY

Seasonable temperature is predicted for Madison and vicinity today. Little change in weather is expected tomorrow.

Sell 2,554 Tickets Here For Michigan Grid Fray

A total of 2,554 tickets for the Michigan game had been disposed of yesterday. The number represents more tickets sold than for the Minnesota game and is much larger than anticipated at first, according to Paul Hunter, in charge of the sales.

The Wisconsin Alumni association of Detroit purchased a block of 532 seats and the alumni of Cleveland bought 25. Wisconsin alumni as far east as Pennsylvania and all through the states of Illinois, Indiana and Michigan have made application for seats.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE TRYOUTS TO BE THURSDAY

Candidates Will Discuss Repeal of Eighteenth Amendment

Tryouts for positions on the Four Intercollegiate debate teams will be held at 3:30 and 7:30 o'clock on Thursday in 165 Bascom hall. The debate question is, "Resolved, that the Eighteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States Be Repealed."

Speeches are to be limited to 5 minutes with no rebuttal. Either the affirmative or the negative of the question may be chosen. Judges will be Profs. J. M. O'Neill, R. W. West and A. T. Weaver, all of the speech department.

Although there are only 12 final positions on the four teams, the first squads selected will contain several more candidates. Elimination trials will be held later, the final personell of the teams being selected then. Both men and women are eligible for these teams and although there have been no women members of such debate teams for the last 15 years, several are expected to try out Thursday.

The tryout question is the same chosen by Wisconsin, and submitted to the committee of the Mid-West Debating league, composed of Michigan, Illinois and Wisconsin universities. The final intercollegiate debate will be held sometime in January.

1,000 Copies of C. I. P. A. Organ Sent to Editors

A 14-page Scholastic Editor, official organ of the Central Inter-scholastic Press association, was mailed to 1,000 members and prospective members of the association yesterday from the national headquarters here.

A tentative program for the third annual association convention was announced in the magazine. Many articles, including a review of a book for high school journalists written by Prof. G. M. Hyde of the journalism department, were contained in the issue.

Fred L. Kildow '23, is editor of the magazine, which is issued monthly for the benefit of member schools. It contains bits of news gleaned from the 1,000 exchanges of the association, articles by professors and students in the Course in Journalism and English departments and contest announcements and awards.

Badgers to Meet in Michigan Union Room

Choral Union Rehearses; Semester Quota Filled

Choral Union rehearsal was held at Music hall auditorium last night, under the direction of Prof. P. W. Dykema. The organization has taken in its quota of members for this semester and is now at work upon the material for the Christmas concert.

FIFTY HOLIDAY DANCES TO AID IN UNION DRIVE

Students Devise Means of Raising $5,000 For Memorial

Christmas dances to be given in 50 towns and cities in nine different states will be the means of raising $5,000 for the Memorial Union fund. The newly-devised plan was explained last night by Catherine Wilson '24, chairman, at a meeting of the prospective workers.

That every worker get one alumnus in his home town, no matter what state it be in, to rent a dance hall and secure good music, is the aim of the undertaking. The worker himself is to sell a minimum of $100 worth of tickets to his home town friends and students at Wisconsin. He is to be responsible for the conduct of the whole project.

Journal Gives Publicity

Raffling off of kewpies, fortune-telling and novelty dances will be offered at the dances if possible to bring in more money.

A tea dance for both townspeople and university students will be staged by an Indiana worker. A small but active alumni body will support him.

The editor of the Wisconsin State Journal is sending a news story of this latest memorial activity to all Wisconsin papers. News clippings will be sent to various states by the student workers.

Wisconsin, Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Minnesota and Iowa are already represented by dance workers, and Missouri, North Dakota and Kentucky offer possibilities of workable territory. A few towns in each of these states giving successful dances under the direction of their student representatives, will make it possible to reach the $5,000 mark, according to Miss Wilson.

4 Students Head Project

The four students who have initiated plans for the project and who are acting as an informal central committee are Catherine Wilson '24, Robert Schmuck '24, Arthur Ardiel '24, and Tom Winston '24.

The choice of the 50 workers from towns in these various states will be made by the central committee among personal friends and students prominent in campus activities. The affair is not to be carried out by any particular organization but by these students working only as a student body.

200 N. Y. ALUMNI ATTEND LARGEST BADGER MEETING

Association Hears Telephone Reports of Game; Bleyer Present

More than 200 alumni attended a dinner dance in New York last Saturday night given by the Wisconsin Alumni association of New York. The meeting was the largest alumni gathering that has ever been held.

President Birge sent a message to the meeting by long distance telephone and Paul Meyers, former president of the association, telephoned the report of the game.

Dr. Willard G. Bleyer, head of the Course in Journalism, who is on leave of absence, attended the meeting. Ralph Starr Butler, formerly of the Course in Commerce, was among the guests.

The alumni were entertained by Miss Muriel Stryker, Hungarian dancer, Filmore Ohman, pianist, and Mr. Spurr, an acrobatic dancer. The entire program was given by professionals. A. R. Taylor was elected to succeed Paul Meyers as president of the association.

Approximately 74 mining engineers were in training in the College of Engineering last year.

CHILE PORT HIT BY NEW QUAKE

Causes Wide Damage; Death
Total Mounts to 1,500

SANTIAGO, Chile—Advices from Antofagasta filed at 9:30 Monday night, said a strong earth shock had just been felt at Talal, a seaport of several thousand population only a few miles from Antofagasta.

La Serena was one of the cities severely stricken by the earthquake of last Saturday morning which took a toll of more than 1,500 lives in various parts of Chile.

The extent of casualties and property damaged wrought by the tremore and tidal waves has not yet been fully learned as communication lines still are out of order in many regions.

The mayor of Antofagasta has received a message from the mayor of Vicuna, a village in the province of Atacama, giving the first news of the effect of the earthquake in that town. There was no loss of life in Vicuna, the mayor said, but public buildings, churches and the telegraph office were badly damaged. The commercial quarter is in ruins and so are the schools.

Schools and public buildings at Páirano are also in ruins and neighboring villages in the province of Coquimbo have been greatly damaged.

The Pacific ocean seems not yet to have fully recovered its equilibrium as the result of last week's terrific disturbances or else there have been some new movements under the ocean bed. Antofagasta reports say that Monday the sea ebbed and then came booming back on the shore three times, much in the strange manner of the tidal waves of last Saturday.

The 600 bodies already recovered from the ruins of the city of Valparaiso were carried to the public square and after they had been identified were burned.

"Under Two Flags" Still Playing to Full Houses

"Under Two Flags," with Priscilla Dean and James Kirkwood in the leading roles is delighting capacity houses at the Parkway, where it is now showing.

Adapted from Ouida's novel, "Under Two Flags," it made a wonderful story for pictures. Priscilla Dean has put into the part of Cigarette, the daughter of the regiment, all the fire and dash of Algiers.

Added film features include Lloyd Hamilton in a two reel comedy "The Speeder" and the Parkway Magazine. As a special added attraction Armand Mielotte, noted impersonator, is giving a 15 minute prologue before the main feature.

Next Sunday Wesley Barry is coming in "Rags to Riches," the first of the new Warner brothers screen classics. On the same program will be a special comedy "That Son of a Shiek" which is a burlesque of recent "Shiek" pictures.

Will Tell of European Tour at Y. W. C. A. Meet

"Sightseeing in Europe Last Summer," will be the topic of a talk which Miss Mary Anderson, Y. W. C. A. secretary, will give at the meeting of the University league in Lathrop parlors at 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon. Miss Anderson will speak of her trip through England, of seeing the Passion Play, and of her visit to the American Base hospital at Angiers, France, where she was stationed during the war as secretary of a Y. W. C. A. camp.

Glass Blower's Injury Delays Radio Repairs

Owing to the hand injury of J. B. Davis, university glass blower, the mending of radio station WHA will be delayed several weeks it was learned yesterday. Mr. Davis' injury was sustained in a recent automobile accident.

The delicate work required on the radio necessitates strong and steady hands, and while the injury is not serious, it will be some time before Mr. Davis again able to do the work. Several weeks will then be required for the actual completion of the mending.

The break-down is a keen disappointment to many people who had hoped for an opportunity to listen in on lectures, concerts, and reports this week.

A whirl of dance and music is promised by Patsy Shelly and his band, who come to the local vaudeville theatre direct from a week's engagement at the State-Lake theatre, Chicago, to feature the weekend program.

Ag Department Has Text For Farm Bookkeeping

The account book devised at the Agricultural department will be used as a text for the eighth grade school boys of Calumet county in learning how to keep farm books. It is expected that such a course will enable the boys of the county to be first rate assistants on farms. Donald of the agricultural extension division will spend several days in the county this month and will show the teachers how to get the most out of the account book which they will use.

GEIB AND WHITSON TO ATTEND CONVO

ANTI-CANCER WAR STARTED

Circulars Distributed and Speeches Made Warning
Against Disease

Cancer, its causes and its prevention, were discussed at an open meeting of the Dana County Medical society in the assembly chamber of the capitol last night. The meeting was one of several to be held this week in connection with the campaign of the American Society for the Control of Cancer.

Dr. E. V. Brumbaugh, city health officer, and Dr. C. A. Harper, state board of health, were the speakers of the evening. Two reels of film depicting the efforts being made to control the disease, which materially raises the death rate each year, were shown.

To reduce mortality from cancer by education of the public as to the nature factors and preventatives of the disease is the aim of the American society. It hopes to arouse interest and effect intelligent co-operation between those afflicted and the physicians of the country by these meetings and by distribution of instructive circulars. The circular distributed yesterday is in part as follows:

"Attention is being called throughout the country this week to the subject of cancer through the efforts of the Society for the Control of Cancer to reduce the mortality from the disease through an education of the public as to the nature of the disease, the factors which lead to its development, and the proper methods by which prevention and cure are to be attempted.

"There is a certain mystery about cancer in that its cause is not yet absolutely known; yet great deal is known about the disease. Cancer is widespread, affecting not only man in all the climes of the world, and wild, from the highest mammal to the fishes of the sea.

"Two-thirds of all cancers appear in women owing to the great susceptibility of the breast and uterus to the disease. It is pre-eminently a disease of surfaces rather than of solid organs, and one-half of all cancers in the male are in the lining of the stomach.

"Cancer cannot be 'caught'. No case of contagion of cancer has been reported in man or animals. Hope of control of the disease must lie then not in such measures as profit in the case of such diseases as tuberculosis, typhoid fever, pneumonia, and the diseases of childhood, but along entirely different lines.

"Each individual must control his own destiny in respect to cancer. Such control may be beyond his power in many cases, but in others it is quite easily accomplished. Medical consultation upon the appearance of any abnormal growth upon the visible surface of the body may lead to the prevention of cancer. Consultation upon disturbances in function manifested by symptoms upon the part of a deep seated organ may be equally valuable.

"One should allow no abnormality to become a long standing, chronic condition. Pain is not an early symptom of cancer. In fact pain may be absent throughout the course of the disease. An abnormal growth or nodule is the first sign of the disease. In cancer the only hope of reducing the mortality lies in intelligent cooperation between individual and his physician."

NOVEMBER SALES OF LIT TOTAL 1,000

"Swinburne and Lucky Strikes" by Louise Smith '26, is the story largely responsible for the great increase in Literary Magazine sales this month, according to popular opinion about the campus.

Virtually the complete edition of 1,000 copies of the Lit has been sold. A few copies are still available in drug stores.

"We are very desirous of increasing the list of regular subscribers and we urge students interested to take advantage of our special subscription offer", H. D. Sapper '24, business manager, said yesterday.

TIGER - CRIMSON CONTEST SHOWS WEST STRENGTH

Princeton Trims Harvard; Late Rally Gave Close Win Over Chicago

Princeton, the tiger of the East, continued to add to its list of sweeping victories, Saturday, by handing Harvard a 10 to 3 defeat.

The dope was upset completely. The supposedly powerful team of Harvard was crushed thoroughly under the trick playing of one of its greatest rivals. Pull after trick was the dope that fooled the Crimson. The general consensus was that Harvard would score an overwhelming victory over the team that vanquished Chicago.

Games Show Western Strength

In the first few minutes of play Harvard rushed the Tigers off their feet and carried the ball into the very shadows of the goal. It was then that Harvard scored its three points.

The decisive victory of Princeton over the Crimson and the three point margin win over Chicago by the Tigers offers an opportunity to make comparison of the strength of the teams of the East and West.

Chicago was pushed to the limit to defeat Purdue, Northwestern and Ohio State, while the best Princeton could do was to eke out a 21 to 18 win. It only proves that virtually all of the teams of the Middle West could give the Eastern teams a "run for their money."

Princeton, Harvard at Outs

Since the game between Princeton and Harvard last Saturday, athletic relations seem to have been strained to the utmost.

The fact that the Tigers are willing to play home games with Chicago has embittered the Crimson to the point where they are ready to drop their traditional rival from the annual schedule.

A former Harvard captain has suggested that the Tigers be dropped and that Harvard participate in intersectional games.

Coach Roper of Princeton declared at a massmeeting last week that it has been intimated that Princeton must watch her step or she will find herself off the Harvard schedule.

The crimson daily newspaper at Harvard, declared in an editorial Monday morning: "When two universities find that their athletic contests with each other develop, year after year, increasingly strained relations, it is time to find out what is wrong."

Yale vs. Princeton, Saturday

Princeton meets Yale next Saturday while the following Saturday the Crimson and the Bulldog tangle in the massive Yale bowl. Last year the championship of the Big Three resulted in a three cornered tie. Harvard beat Princeton, Princeton beat Yale and Yale beat Harvard.

In Saturday's game Yale showed that they would give Princeton a strong fight by defeating the University of Maryland, 43 to 3.

Another upset was experienced in the Notre Dame-Army game. The belief that Notre Dame would emerge victor was shot in the head when the West Pointers held the Irish to a scoreless tie.

Lafayette strengthened the idea that they are one of the strongest teams in the country this year by walloping Rutgers, 33 to 6.

Cornell Strong in East

Cornell is another of the teams conceded to be the strongest in the East. It sent Dartmouth down in defeat by a 23 to 0 score. Although not wholly unexpected, the Cornell team exhibited exceptional power in this victory.

Washington and Jefferson, under Coach "Greasy" Neale, showed Wabash college how the game was played by beating them 32 to 6.

Carnegie Tech met its Waterloo in the powerful Penn State by losing, 10 to 0. If Penn State continues its great showing, they will, in all probability, journey to Pasadena next New Year's day and try their luck in downing the University of California eleven.

thusiasts. McGill university, Montreal, Canada, has set the precedent by engaging in two tilts with Syracuse university. These Syracuse-McGill affairs—two of them have been staged—are the first international contests held under the modern style of play and the first played since McGill played Harvard twenty years ago. Syracuse has been the victor both times, but the games have furnished interesting comparison of styles of play.

CROSS COUNTRY TEAM EXPECTS WIN AT PURDUE

Ames and Michigan Also Hope For Victory in Meet

With the hope of victory in the Conference meet at Purdue a week from Saturday the one thought in their minds, the Badger cross country runners are continuing their daily routine of practice in an effort to keep themselves in the same excellent condition that they have been in for the past few weeks.

For the first few days of this week, light workouts are in order, but Coach Meade Burke will soon begin to work his men harder. Training last week in preparation for the task of mopping up the earth with the Chicago runners was rather strenuous, and the men, while not being given a complete rest, are at least excused from doing the hardest of their training until the end of the week.

At the Conference meet at Purdue, Wisconsin will find some worthy competition. The Michigan squad which won from the Badgers by one point in the dual meet held here November 21, will be there set to win. Purdue, running on its own course, will offer strong opposition.

Ames, which recently won the Missouri Valley championship, will be on hand to try to add more laurels to its crown.

Wisconsin has an ideal course on which to practice in preparation for the meet. There is a fairly large hill at the start of the Purdue course which may cause much trouble to those teams which are in the habit of running on level courses. The Wisconsin course is hilly and the Badgers are used to running over uneven territory.

test between the halves of the Purdue-Northwestern game Saturday. The fight was vicious from first to last but the heavy sophs were unable to cope with the larger forces of the frosh. The frosh advanced the ball about ten yards during the five minutes. By winning the contest the frosh are entitled to raise their flag on the pole for the remainder of the year.

FROSH-SOPHS TO BATTLE FRIDAY

Freshmen Have Strong Team; Receipts to Send Teams to Chicago

The freshman and sophomore football teams will lock horns at Camp Randall at 3 o'clock Friday. The admission charge for this game is 25 cents.

The annual contest is one of the big events on the schoolastic calendar. The game this year promises to be a good one. Although the sophomores have been victorious for the past few years, the freshmen are out to turn the tables this year. From the showing of the frosh thus far, it is evident that they have an exceptionally strong team. When a bunch of yearlings can break through the Varsity and score a touchdown it shows real strength.

The sophomores have been practicing together about a week. Last week they worked on Illinois plays and this week they are working on Chicago plays. As a result they will probably use a mixture of Illinois and Chicago plays Friday. The sophomores' greatest weakness seems to be in the line. The left side of the line seems to be giving coach Lowman considerable trouble.

The athletic department urges that there be a large crowd at this game. It is certain that the game will be worth the money. The proceeds will go into the interclass fund to defray expenses of the two teams to the Chicago game. The freshmen and sophs have been furnishing the Varsity scrimmage material all season. They have worked hard and have been obliged to take many hard knocks. The trip to Chicago is their reward.

The probable lineup for Friday is:

FRESHMEN	SOPHOMORES

Patrick	R. T. Weiggers
Blackman	R. G. Weigandt
Scanlon	C. Sykora
Short or Hastings	L. G. Hosmer

Yost Expects Title if Team Wins From Wisconsin Saturday

(Special to The Cardinal)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 14—Michigan will enter the battle with Wisconsin on Perry Field next Saturday realizing that everything is at stake for upon the outcome of the Wolverine-Badger fray rests the chances for Michigan to share Big Ten gridiron honors this year.

Coach Yost says "Wisconsin will furnish the toughest opposition Michigan has to face this year." With this in mind the Wolverines will put in a strenuous week drilling to perfect a defense against Richards' plays.

Little importance is attached to the defeat Wisconsin suffered at the hands of Illinois and no air of overconfidence prevails in the Wolverine camp but rather a grim determination to put forth everything in the way of scrap. Since the Ohio State game, Michigan has been pointing for the Badgers.

Barring injuries, the Yostmen should present a strong front when they line up against the Cardinal next Saturday. Roby and Vandervoort who were injured in the Ohio State game are the only members on the casualty list and all hope of either of them being able to play has been abandoned.

On the forward wall Michigan will have Captain Goebel and Kirk as flankmen while Muirhead and Rosatti will hold down tackle positions. Steele and Slaughter or Johns will be stationed at the guards while Blott will pass the ball from center.

Although the Wolverines will be outweighed by the Badgers on the forward wall, the aggressiveness exhibited by the line in previous games should be a big factor in making the difference slight.

In the backfield Yost will use Uteritz, Kipke, Steger or Keefer and Cappon. This quartette has performed in great fashion up to date and upon its showing Saturday rests the Michigan chances to remain in the running.

BADGERS WORK INTO CONDITION FOR YOST'S MEN

Homecoming Game to Be Decisive in Michigan Title Fight

If yesterday's practice was a fair indication of its spirit, the Wisconsin football squad will enter the Michigan contest on Saturday with a totally different feeling than that which prevailed in the Illinois contest.

Varsity and freshmen scrimmaged until long after the first stages of darkness, Coach John R. Richards directing his first team in a defensive manner.

The frosh using Michigan plays, had only fair luck in piercing the Varsity forward wall. Miller got another chance at guard, alternating with Hohlfield, and Pulaski saw service in a wing position.

Yost Perks Up for Badgers With a couple more days of skirmishing, Wisconsin will be in tip-top shape for the speeding Wolverines.

That Coach Fielding H. Yost, who is handling the Wolverines for the last time this year, fears the Badgers is evident from the amount of attention he has paid them in their three Conference games this year.

Yost attended the Minnesota contest at Minneapolis and, sitting in a vantage seat in the press box, closely watched the Wisconsin pass formations and went back to Ann Arbor with a notebook full of "dope" of his most dangerous rivals.

In the Illinois debacle here last Saturday, Yost was accompanied by Captain Goebel and by two assistant coaches who aided him in picking up the salient points of Wisconsin play and who will aid him to whip the Michigan eleven into shape for its biggest game of the year.

Plays at 4 Homecomings When Wisconsin prances onto Perry field, Ann Arbor, it will perform before the third Homecoming crowd of the year. Captain Williams and his mates furnished the Homecoming attractions against Minnesota, Illinois and now Michigan. The last contest of the season with Chicago is also booked as amusement for the old grads of Rockefeller's institution.

Michigan has won all of its games this season except the first. That resulted in a 0 to 0 tie when plucky Vanderbilt upset all pre-season dope and successfully dedicated a new stadium by fighting Michigan's powerful machine to a standstill. The Wolverines came back with a vengeance and beat Illinois, 24 to 0, Ohio State, 19 to 0, and the Michigan Aggies.

With the material that he has had to work with, Coach Yost had things pretty well prepared for him before the season began. Most of his line returned in September and the entire backfield was intact.

Kipke A Star Back

At quarterback, Uteritz is one of the headiest pilots in the Big Ten. Although he does not carry the ball himself, he knows who should carry it, and his judgment at all times is excellent. Kipke is the "triple threat" man of the Michigan team. He is one of the fastest halfbacks in the entire country and many critics have expressed an opinion that a backfield containing Captain Williams, Wisconsin, Kipke, Michigan, and Castner, Notre Dame, would be unbeatable.

Kipke punts 40 yards on an average, and gains with the consistency of the old Maize and Blue star, Johnny Maulbetsch, and he forward passes accurately. The entire offense is built around him. Aiding Kipke in the backfield are Cappon, a mean plunging fullback, and Herb Steger, one of the most successful prep school "finds" developed in the last few years.

Middle West Watches Frosh

Captain Goebel and Kirk are a pair of wingmen who should make Gus Tebell and Russ Irish go the limit to best them, and the remainder of the forward wall boasts of such men as Van Orden, Jack Blott, Rosatti and Stan Muirhead, a veteran.

GIVE THE HARRIER HIS DUES
WISCONSIN'S cross country team by a whitewash win over Chicago last Saturday added another victory to their long list already recorded in Badger athletic annals.

The race was the last for the harriers before the Conference meet to be held November 25. Shortly after that race "W" awards will be made. It is, therefore, pertinent to broadcast through these columns the exact basis of the awarding method at Wisconsin and to suggest definitely a change in that basis if it has been in the past too stringent. And we believe that it has.

Repeatedly it has been admitted that it is harder to win a "W" in cross country than in any other conference sport.

The present qualifications a man has to meet at Wisconsin are (1) to win first in a dual meet, (2) to place among the first 10 in the Conference meet, or (3) to be a member of the team winning the conference championship.

It is obvious that under this ruling it is possible for only one, and at most, two men to win "W's" each year. Experience has proved such to be the case. The same man in most instances will be the winner of the dual meets. He also will be the runner most apt to place in the Conference meet.

What of the other six men running on the team? What prospects for the 45 men working daily for that ultimate goal, a Wisconsin letter?

In football approximately 15 of 45 men receive "W's". In cross country the award goes to two of the same number. In track a shot putter can win fifth place in a Conference field of 15 competitors and get a "W". In a Conference cross country meet a runner competes in a field of from 66 to 99 men and must place among the first 10 to win the same award.

The percentage of cross country men winning "W's" is, compared to other sports, extremely low. And why?

Cross-country is not an individual but a team sport. Every man who runs has a share in the total points counted against or for his team. Yet awards are not made on a team basis, but, all too illogically, on an individual basis.

A basketball team may place last seven men will be awarded "W's", in Conference ratings but six or last or first.

A cross country team must place first in the Conference to get the same recognition. Besides, under the present ruling, it is entirely possible that not a single cross country "W" may be awarded in a given year, the case in which no Wisconsin man places in the Conference run or wins a dual meet.

The faults of the awarding basis are not newly discovered. A more lenient rule was proposed last year in the Athletic board and was favorably passed. It failed, however, to win the approval of the Athletic council.

One of the chief reasons given for the refusal of better recognition last year was that other Conference universities were unanimous in the use of the same rule that Wisconsin held.

Well and good for last year.

But since last year regulations in other institutions have been changed. The inadequate, illogical recognition accorded their harriers has come suddenly to their attention and they have made definite enlargements on old rules.

The universities which already have taken the first step away from obsolete regulations are the leaders in mid-western cross country running: Illinois, Michigan, Ames, Purdue and Minnesota.

In general their rule permitting the award of a letter is that a man win a dual meet, place among the first 20 in a Conference meet, or be a member of the team winning either first or second in the Conference standing.

Michigan boasts a blanket rule which awards letters to the best six men on the team, regardless of the success they achieve during the year.

Wisconsin wants the expansion of the present ruling until it will be possible for a harrier to get a "W" by winning either first or second in a dual meet, placing among the first 15 in a Conference meet, or by being a member of the team that wins either first or second in the Conference meet.

A proposal such as the foregoing undoubtedly will be presented before the Athletic board again this year. The same proposal will pass

Octy Offers Tasty Antidote for Game in Football Number

BY HICKMAN POWELL

The Football number of the Octopus is with us today, a fitting antidote for last Saturday. It is put up in tasteful style, which is improved by a new flag for the page tops. It has the usual number of cleverly artistic sketches and the usual number of putrid puns laid on with a shovel.

Leitzel's two drawings are distinctly delightful in their striking contrasts (we could stand more of them) and Mueller injects some real humor into most of his cartoons, especially the one of the cheer leaders. Irv Shafirin gets some powerful kicks into his football history page.

Townsend's co-eds are conspicuous for their scarcity, which is a real loss; but his football men are tremendously masculine and probably will get away well in sorority alley. Hub's touch of intersectionalism on the editorial page is in an unfamiliar style, and very good. We also like his eulogy of the linesman.

"Line Material," a little 4-line verse, (try to find it) is a godsend. One such whimsical idea is worth a dozen metaphorical manipulations by the prolific slang slingers who fill up so many pages.

"Little Nell," "Thanksgiving," and "As You Were" also are steps in the right direction. They don't strike one as if they had been manufactured with a clothes wringer or a meat grinder, which is the idea we get when we read the unfortunate football burlesque on page 13 and the unsuccessful rhyme on the preceding page.

There are many short quips that are clever, and lengthy attempts that are not so much so.

In much of the Octopus prose and some of the verse the puns and incongruities are shoveled on so thick that the few good cracks are smothered. We do not object to puns and slang expressions if they are good, but when wadded together they are not easy to appreciate. The reader's sensibilities are numbed, and emphasis is lost.

Looking Back On Wisconsin

30 Years Ago Today

The University Press club was permanently organized last evening. Thirty students adopted the constitution and elected officers.

20 Years Ago Today

The 1904 Badger promises to be a more distinctly university publication than any of its predecessors. To this end the attention of the student body is called to the list of prizes offered for special merit in the lines of literary and artistic work.

Kilpatrick in conjunction with the management of athletics of the University of Michigan is making personal settlements of the claims of those injured in the collapse of the bleachers at the Wisconsin-Michigan game.

the board. It remains for the council to act and act favorably.

Forty-five cross country men and a student body of 8,000 look forward to that action.

AND NOW comes the calm after the storm!!

ALL that was left after Homecoming was:

Torn and tattered decorations

Long, sad faces murmuring, "I didn't think they could do it!!"

Answered by other long, sad faces "Neither did I."

Heartaches!!!

Headaches!!!

WELL AT LEAST we have one thing to be thankful for!!

HOMEcoming COMES BUT ONCE A YEAR!!

Gee' whiz gosh! Didn't it seem good to climb back into your own bed?

Oh saddest words!

As there in Morpheus' arms I lay,
Slumbering still at break of day,
The soft, swift hand of silent sleep

Smooths my fevered brow and thus to keep
All cares away
I slumber on!

I crash! a bang!
And then I hear,
Like a million bells within my ear,

The fury of Hell! A pent up flood!
I fall to the floor with a heavy thud!

And then the words, saddest of all of them
Get up you Boob, It's eight A. M.!!!

Seeing as how this here col. got the merry rassberry in the Editorial col. this A. M. because it never attempted to print anything high-brow, the above poem was writ, just to show these guys what run the "Lit" that they ain't the only ones what can print stuff without no point to it. This here poem is just as dumb as any they ever had in their old Mag. It's a form of Blank Verse written by a guy what's just as blank as the verse!

'Twas sultry day in Turkey
And a gay young blade
Was brought before
The Sultan.

"What has this young man been doing?"

Asked the aforesaid Sultan.
He was told that
The young man
Had been searching the Ladies of
His Majesty's Harem
So the Sultan said,
"Give the young Harem-Scaram 30 days in the jug!"

The next is a little story entitled: He Would Rather Ring Her Hand Than Ring Her Neck!!

At the sight of her hand he trembled madly. It was such a beautiful hand! As he watched it, a tremor swept his manly body and the blood rushed madly through his veins! His vision became clouded and spectres of the future rushed before his clouded vision. The future! Ah, how gay! Riches would be his and with these riches would come fame! Yes, riches and fame would come with her hand! It must be his! How he coveted it! No! No! It could never belong to any other! It was his, all his! He could not live without it, for while her father had riches he also had good health! He would get that hand by hook or crook! How easy it would be to touch it! To snatch it and clutch it close to his chest, but no—he must—wait, for by all the rules of Hoyle it is most impolite to snatch a hand from a lady even though she hold an ace, king, queen, jack, ten and four others of one suit!

The other day in ancient history the prof. asked one of the guys in the class if he could tell him why the period between A. D. 500 and A. D. 1200 was called the "Dark Ages" and the guy had the audacity, or something like that, to say that them was the days when there was knights or something!!

VOTE OF WOMEN BIG PUZZLE IN ENGLAND TODAY

Stand of Female Voters to Decide Swing of Election

LONDON — The last words in Great Britain's election campaign were spoken last night. The electorate will go to the polls tomorrow and pick a parliament from the 1,386 candidates seeking seats in the House of Commons.

In 373 constituencies the fight will be a duel between candidates of two parties. In 242 other constituencies the battle is complicated by the presence of three or more contestants. Even the wisest political seers are uncertain as to what the general result will be.

Everywhere the great puzzle perplexing the organizers is how the women will vote. It is the experience of canvassers throughout the country that women are taking more practical interest in the elections than ever before although their interest was frequently considerable even before they had the right to the ballots.

The Daily Mail quotes a man who has had more than 20 years experience in election canvassing as saying it is easier to impress 99 men than it is to impress just one woman. He classified women into three groups; those who regard a request for their vote as impertinence; those who take politics from their husbands and those who distrust politics altogether and regard canvassers in the same light as tax collectors.

SCHOOL PLAN FIGHT LOOMS

Unification of Disbursements Asked By Finance Committee

Control of expenditures, receipts of the Madison school system may be taken over by the city beginning Jan. 1, 1923, it was learned yesterday, following a meeting of the council finance committee last night at which time the new school budget was discussed.

The city auditing department for years has urged this step as a means of unifying the departments of city government and saving money. In the past school boards have fought such a move bitterly, demanding that the jurisdiction of funds be left within their control.

If the council concurs in the change, it is probable that the old dispute will arise and be settled. The industrial board of education budget would also be taken from the jurisdiction of the board of that school and placed in the city auditing department, it was said.

A saving of from $2,000 to $5,000 would be effected by this change. The chief argument advanced for the unification of the departments in this manner is that it will enable the city auditor to keep a closer check on the disbursement of money raised by taxation and turned over for school purposes.

The committee also indicated that it would ask the city to assume the school board deficit of $314,200, with the recommendation that this debt be liquidated over a period of years at the rate of one or one-half mills each year. This would pay off either $85,000 or $42,000 each year, which ever policy the city decided upon.

Committee Meets.

The board is asking for a total appropriation of $713,000 for 1923, an increase of $135,000 over last year when the council granted a budget of $578,000.

Trimming of the city budget will be started at the finance committee meeting this evening. The meetings will be executive. Considerable slashing will be done to keep the tax rate to the lowest possible point it has been indicated by members of the committee.

Eighteenth and nineteenth century caricatures, paintings and theater programs, collected from London bookshops by Frank M. Riley, Madison architect, are being exhibited now in the State Historical museum under the direction of the Madison Art association.

British life is depicted humorously in many of the colored drawings while hunting scenes and sports such as cock fighting and boxing are portrayed in others.

Theater programs and hand bills announcing "The Beggar's Opera" and "Bluebeard," from such theaters as Drury-Lane, the Hay-Market and others date from 1789 through 1830. More than 70 drawings are being shown in the exhibit which will last for two weeks.

ASK FOR WOMAN HELP IN STATE DRY DEPT. WORK

Jostad Declares Increase in State Control Staff Needed

Speaking before the state officers of the Wisconsin League of Women Voters, at their luncheon at the Woman's building, Monday, B. M. Jostad, state prohibition officer, said that he favored a woman field worker in this department. Mr. Jostad declared that with the appointment of one more field officer, preferably a woman, and one new clerk for the state prohibition office, the work in adult probation work in the state could be carried on with entire success.

He also favored keeping the juvenile work, dealing with persons under 16 years of age, separate from the adult prohibition work, but he held that this juvenile work should also be centralized under the head of a state official, instead of being delegated to the various county boards. He said that at least 71 county probation officers would be required to carry on this juvenile probation work under county supervision, while under state control it could be done with only a fraction of this number. He suggested that the state bear the financial expense of these officers, rather than the counties.

Following Mr. Jostad's talk, reports of the work of the league in the state were given by the women attending. Mrs. Mary D. Harris, Menominee, and Mrs. E. R. Bowler, Sheboygan, spoke.

Mrs. M. V. O'Shea, president of the Dane County league presided at the luncheon, while Mrs. W. Z. Stuart, Neenah, the state president, presided at the business meeting which followed.

Woman Writer Takes Stand Against High School Journalism

"A newspaper woman gets her most valuable equipment in college; if she has slighted her fundamental studies here, nothing will help her to overcome this lack," Mrs. Frank B. Morrison declared in her talk on "Qualifications and Training of a Newspaper Woman," delivered at Esther Vilas hall Monday evening.

Mrs. Morrison stressed the need for broad vision in newspaper work.

"Straight reporting frequently proves a very hard and grinding existence," she said, "unless a woman has vision to relieve her."

History and the social sciences in Mrs. Morrison's conception are essential background for the journalistic career. She defined journalism as a current record of people and events and insisted that one only can understand the present in the light of past events.

The stand Mrs. Morrison took on journalistic training in high school was decidedly a negative one.

"It is a great mistake. Students are not mature enough, neither have they the proper educational background. I think it should be discouraged," she said.

Her final summary of the necessary qualities for success included perseverance, good health, youth, physical courage and mental alertness. A woman must possess a goodly share of self-reliance, an affable disposition and the ability to express honestly and accurately what she is aiming to make clear. Special qualities like ability to write, ability to recognize news value and the unusual, a good memory and the tact to judge people are helpful accessories.

"The nearer a woman approaches these qualities, the better her chances are of success" the speaker concluded.

Real Estate Commissions Are Held Constitutional

WASHINGTON—The Tennessee real estate commission, and like commissions in 13 other states, organized under similar laws, were held by the supreme court yesterday to be constitutional. The U. S. District court for western Tennessee had invalidated the Tennessee statute which proposed to regulate and license real estate brokers and salesmen and had restrained its enforcement. The supreme court reversed that decision.

DENY PERMITS TO 5 BROKERS

Muscle Shoals Co. Among Firms; Can't Operate in State

Five applications of real estate brokers to do business in Wisconsin were denied yesterday by the Wisconsin real estate brokers' board, and two licenses of real estate men revoked because of alleged infraction of the law.

The first application denied was that of the Muscle Shoals Co., a partnership having offices in Chicago. The members of this firm are said to have admitted at a hearing before the real estate board that they were obtaining lots at prices much lower than they proposed to offer them to the Wisconsin public.

The Great Western Land Co. of Polson, Mont., and Washington, D. C., was denied a license. This company asked to sell irrigated and other lands in Montana through salesmen to Wisconsin people. They are reported to have given no evidence to the board that the price of the Montana land they desired to sell in this state would be a fair market price for Montana.

Another license denied was that of a firm styling itself the United States Real Estate & Brokerage Co., which proposed to subdivide land near the villages of Somera and Theresa for sale by auction. Money prizes were to be offered persons attending the sale.

Two individual applications were also denied on the ground that the records of the applicants were not such as would warrant the board issuing licenses.

The license of B. C. Cable, and Henry B. Voss, both of Milwaukee, were revoked for acts which the board considered fraudulent. Criminal warrants are now out for Voss, the board announces. He disappeared shortly after complaints were filed against him and the board started an investigation.

The license of Cable was revoked on complaint of two Milwaukee school teachers, who charged misrepresentation in the sale of property.

According to Winter Everett, secretary of the board, land sharks are out after Wisconsin money and are actively promoting real estate schemes in several sections of the state. The brokers' board is running down all shady deals, he said, and is carefully investigating all applications for license to do business in the state before granting any.

SUPREME COURT ACT MAY END JAP PACT

WASHINGTON—The U. S. supreme court ruling that Japanese are not eligible to citizenship under the American naturalization laws, is expected to have a marked effect on the relations between America and Japan, it was admitted in official circles.

It is believed possible Japan will ask that the Japanese-American treaty, which expires next year, be terminated.

It is also thought the negotiations looking to reaffirmation of the Root-Takahira agreement may be abandoned.

Four Churches Here Are Without Pastors

Four Madison churches are without pastors, this week pending action of their boards to extend calls or of prospective candidates to accept positions offered.

Our Savior's Lutheran church, of which Rev. Holden M. Olsen, was pastor, has twice extended calls, but as yet has not succeeded in obtaining a minister. The pulpit of Westminster Presbyterian church, made vacant by the death of Rev. Thomas Knox, is still unfilled. The church board has not met to issue a call.

The letter calls attention to the present adequate distribution of supplies and to the steady reduction in prices throughout the country during the last few weeks.

No Need For a Third Party, Declares Baruch

NEW YORK — There is no need of a third party and he intends to remain a democrat, B. M. Baruch, former chairman of the war industries board and personal friend of former President Wilson, declared yesterday. He made the statement in reply to one by Col. R. H. Montgomery, a Republican former general controller of the U. S. shipping board and who served with Mr. Baruch on the war industries board. Col. Montgomery had suggested that the manufacturers and farmers be brought together, with Mr. Baruch in charge of the organization of a third party.

TWO BREWERIES INDICTED HERE BY U. S. JURY

Wausau and Marathon City
Company Heads to Be Arraigned

Two Wisconsin breweries and officials were indicted by the federal grand jury here at its last session, it was learned yesterday when Fred W. Krause, Wausau, president of the Wausau Brewing Co., pleaded not guilty to a charge of manufacturing beer of more than legal strength, and W. R. Chellis, U. S. marshal, reported that he had served a warrant on the Marathon City Brewing Co., Marathon.

Krause was released under $2,000 bond by Judge C. Z. Luse of the U. S. district court.

Officials of the Marathon company have been summoned to appear here on the same charge.

With the returns on the true bills voted by the jury against the breweries, the total arrested of the 21 indicted has reached five. Others will be arrested by deputy marshals soon, it is said, while still others who have fled are being sought by government agents.

The senior mechanical and electrical engineers will leave the latter part of this week on their annual inspection trips.

Approximately 28 will go to Detroit, Ann Arbor, where they will attend the Michigan-Wisconsin game, Niagara Falls, Buffalo, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Gary, and then back to Chicago where they will be under the supervision of Prof. J. T. Rood and Mr. Spieth.

Approximately 60 mechanical engineers and 50 electrical engineers will take the western trip with Professors John R. Price, P. H. Hyland, G. L. Larsen and Edwar Bennett, and Mr. Meyers and Mr. Wilson in charge of the tour. This group will visit Milwaukee, Kenosha, Waukegan, Chicago, Gary and Burlington, returning to Chicago in time for the Wisconsin football game.

While on the trips the students will visit various industrial plants, making inspections which will illustrate the work of the various courses which they are taking.

Purple Win First Grid Game in Two Years

Northwestern University won their first conference game in two years when they defeated Purdue 24-13 Saturday before a crowd of approximately 20,000 alumni who attended the Homecoming game.

The Boilermakers scored a touchdown in the first quarter. Northwestern opened with a passing attack and soon had the game on ice. Purdue succeeded in getting only 6 first downs in the entire game.

Coach Thistlewaite is turning all of his attention to the game with Iowa at the latter's ground on November 25. Northwestern takes Monmouth into camp this Saturday at Northwestern.

Game Today Will Decide Women's Hockey Champs

Women's class hockey championship will be decided when the juniors meet the seniors at 3:30 o'clock this afternoon at Camp Randall.

If the juniors succeed in piling up the larger total, the championship will go to them without any restrictions since they already have defeated the sophomores, 6-0, and the freshmen, 3-0. If the seniors win, however, the championship will be a triple tie among the juniors, seniors and sophomores. Each will have 2 victories and 1 defeat.

The class championship gives the winning class 40 points toward the all-year championship marked on the new bronze plaque in the field house at Camp Randall.

Success of Date Ban At Indiana Questioned

Agitation to extend the no date ban to include the basketball season and perhaps the rest of the year at Indiana university meets with a difference of opinion among the students and members of the faculty, according to the Indiana Daily Student. Some think it has been a decided success from the standpoint of college spirit and scholarship while others say that it makes students hypocrites inasmuch as they have dates in spite of the ruling.

Big Year is Promised For Varsity Gym Team

Work with the gym team is progressing under the instruction of acting-coach Frank Leitz. Eleven men are working out.

Their early start and the number of last year's regulars who are back promise a big year, according to Leitz. The outstanding men on the team now are Captain Dean Kitchin, Walter Porth and Frank Kubosch.

As yet there are only two definite meets scheduled. One is with Minnesota at Madison, and the Conference meet at Ohio State. Other meets are being negotiated but as yet have not materialized.

All freshmen who are going to try out for the freshman gym squad will report to Coach Linden in his office at 5:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon. There probably will be a large number of yearlings to report and should get some valuable training in preparation for next year's squad.

Communications

LET'S GO

Editor The Cardinal:

There has been considerable discussion among the student body and the alumni regarding the game that was lost to Illinois last Saturday.

Why all this panning of the team just because we lost one game? It is not fair to the team, neither is it the true Wisconsin spirit. You would not hit a man when he was down, so why try it with the football team or the coach?

Every man on that team was fighting for the glory of their Alma Mater but things went against them and they were nosed out of victory.

We hear from different sources that such and such a man laid down or is no good. That is not true and should be challenged by every "real" student at Wisconsin.

I have been fortunate enough to have seen every game that has been played on Randall field in the last four years from the sidelines and I have never seen a Wisconsin team lay down. They have fought to the last ditch and only quit when the final whistle is blown.

That team Saturday did the same thing and every man fought to the last ditch. It just happened that everything that they tried just wouldn't work. Give Illinois credit. They went out there the under-dog and won by fighting the way as a unit.

Now we are facing a real battle at Ann Arbor that we must go out to win. We can win it if we give the team the right kind of support. Let them know that we are behind them to a man and that we are going to do everything in our power to help them.

Get your ticket for the special that leaves for Ann Arbor Friday night if you have the money. If not, pick out the front blind or freight car that you like best and get to Ann Arbor to support Wisconsin.

We have the best team in the Conference and are going to win from now on. Take the team down to the train the same way we did when they went up and trimmed Minnesota.

Tell them you'll see them in Ann Arbor with the band and lots of noisy support. We are going out to win. Let's go!

U. C. STARS SEEN WITH VALENTINO IN ROWING SCENE

California Oarsmen Assist 'The Young Rajah' Star in Boat Race

Stars of the oar assisted a screen star recently, when Rudolph Valentino went to San Francisco to make the Harvard-Yale boat race scenes for his latest Paramount picture, "The Young Rajah," which will be on view at the Majestic theatre next week.

When the company arrived in San Francisco, director Philip Rosen engaged Coach Ben Wallis, of the University of California, to aid in staging the race and coaching the contestants, and several members of the U. of C. crew of 1922 to row the shells in the race staged for this sequence of the picture.

Coach Wallis was formerly a Yale man and has coached the California team for four or five years.

Notable among the men who played oarsmen in the scenes were Paul M. King, class of '22, coxswain, and oarsmen Bob Bolling, class of '24, Felix Mehan, class of '21, C. R. Sceinnort, class of '22 and Harry Donn, class of '23.

When the company returned to the Paramount West Coast studio in Hollywood to make the sequence showing the victorious oarsmen at a banquet celebrating their victory, the race heroes were engaged to come down to the studio and work in those scenes with Valentino. After two days' work at the studio, the men again departed for the Bay city.
