The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Two Foxes

One time a man was peddling fish going along the road. He was riding as he went selling fish. He saw a fox and this fishpeddler picked up the fox and put it in the vehicle. Then the fox stole fish from this fishpeddler. After that this fox met up with another fox and he said, "Where did you get those fish?"

This fox said, "I lay down near the road and the fishpeddler picked me up and put me in the vehicle. So then I stole his fish."

Now this time the other fox lay down and the fishpeddler this time just killed that fox.
