

LIBRARIES

UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN-MADISON

The Wisconsin alumni magazine. Volume 25, Number 8 June 1924

[s.l.]: General Alumni Association of University of Wisconsin, June 1924

<https://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/QGZB5COYM65WR83>

This material may be protected by copyright law (e.g., Title 17, US Code).

For information on re-use, see

<http://digital.library.wisc.edu/1711.dl/Copyright>

The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

MAY 20 1924
F9029
U5B AL

The WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE

Volume XXV

June, 1924

Number 8

The Crew Again Goes East!

All Roads lead to Madison, June 20-23

Most railroads grant reduced fares to members of G. A. A.
and dependent members of their families.
Call on your local R. R. officials for details.
See that your dues are not in arrears.

All Roads lead to Madison, June 20-23

OVER 9,000 MEMBERS RECEIVED THIS ISSUE

Published by GENERAL ALUMNI ASSOCIATION of University of Wisconsin

Get a certificate when you purchase your R. R. ticket to Commencement!

Industrial Plants

DWIGHT P. ROBINSON & COMPANY
INCORPORATED
ENGINEERS AND CONSTRUCTORS
NEW YORK

CHICAGO
ATLANTA
MONTREAL

PHILADELPHIA

YOUNGSTOWN
LOS ANGELES
RIO DE JANEIRO

$60 In A Day

STUDENTS

Chamberlain earned this; you can do the same selling.

JIFFY EMERGENCY MUD CHAINS—during your vacation.

Every automobile owner is a prospect.

You don't have to jack or pry your car to put them on. A woman or child can do it.

THEY ARE NEW AND SELL ON SIGHT.

Sample chain and sales kit $1.30. Write

JIFFY AUTO CHAIN CORP.

Manufacturers

Woolworth Building

Watertown

New York

Nearly 50% of the Insurance

Issued in 1922 by

The Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company

Was Bought by Men
Previously Insured in the Company

Why don't YOU investigate the opportunity to represent a Company that has so large a number of "Repeat Orders"?

An Opportunity

WE want to open negotiations with a few men now employed but looking for the opportunities for personal development and increased earnings offered by a dignified selling connection. The kind of man we want is at least twenty-eight years of age and has been out of college four or five years. He has had some selling experience or feels that, with the right training and cooperation, he can develop selling ability. He must be willing to work hard and enthusiastically. He will have an opportunity to earn at least $5,000 the first year and to broaden his contact with business men.

You need not necessarily be desirous of making an immediate change. We want to get thoroughly acquainted with you and your qualifications, give you full information concerning our work, and arrange for a personal interview before concluding final arrangements. Our idea is to have you available to take over a vacancy when it occurs on thirty days' notice to your present organization. Write fully to

Alexander Hamilton Institute
13 Astor Place New York, N. Y.

—and still they say college men don't study!

The critic who charges college men with lack of diligence never heard a freshman repeat his roll of fraternity chapters without a slip, or a senior dilate on the life history of every football captain from 1890 on.

Of course this takes study—sometimes too much study. The student must be cautioned against the mental strain resulting from concentration on too limited a field of thought.

It is a good thing to specialize, but not to the extent of becoming narrow. If it is right for the man who concentrates on engineering to be up on his campus activities, it would seem right for the man who is quoted on the history and philosophy of Comparative Baseball Scores to have some knowledge of the chemistry and thermo-dynamics from which he expects to make his living.

For it is still true that in industrial councils the talk sometimes swings from batting averages to coefficients of expansion and the hysteresis losses in iron.

This is all a matter of balance, and satisfactory mental balance is a means to an important end—satisfactory bank balance.

Published in the interest of Electrical Development by an Institution that will be helped by whatever helps the Industry.

Western Electric Company

This advertisement is one of a series in student publications. It may remind alumni of their opportunity to help the undergraduate, by suggestion and advice, to get more out of his four years.

A Growing List of loyal Life Members of the General Alumni Association bespeaks increasing interest in our co-operative work for Wisconsin.

Among additions to the Life Membership roll since last issue are the following:

Name	Year	Residence
L. M. Hanks	'89	Madison
Regnale Parmelee Rowlands	'08	Sheboygan
Leo Schaefer	'17	Villa Nova, Pa.
Louise Schoenleber	'14	Milwaukee
Charles Slama	'94	Wahoo, Nebr.

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

CUT ALONG THIS LINE

Mail to General Alumni Headquarters
821 State St., Madison, Wis.

This check will serve as a receipt and membership card

Life Membership

Name of city and state here

Date

1924

Pay to the order of

The Wisconsin Alumni Association

Fifty Dollars

($50.00)

For Life Membership in the General Alumni Association

To

Name of bank here

Name

Address of bank here

Address

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

"The cosmopolitanism of the great state University in shedding its beacon throughout the world, sending its graduates everywhere, and drawing to it searchers for truth from all corners of the globe, is one of the essential elements of strength of the institution."

Volume XXV

Madison, Wis., June, 1924

Number 8

"WE WANT to give you the best banquet you ever had," writes D. C. Halverson, Director of Halls and Commons. This great catering service is to be rendered at cost! That is certainly assurance of a fine meal at reasonable price. Also count on a good time,

Make Reservations Early for The Alumni Dinner

because Prof. E. B. Gordon, whose fame as a leader of community singing needs no further mention to Wisconsin alumni, has agreed to take charge of the music. There will be good music and plenty of it. Be on hand to join in the congregational singing. With a chorus of a thousand, we certainly will make the old Gym ring with Wisconsin college songs. The one speech—we should add the one and only speech—is to be given by the man best qualified to say the word worth saying to Wisconsin graduates—President Edward A. Birge. Dr. Birge requires no introduction to Wisconsin graduates. He "has something to say" and peculiar ability to "say it."

Of course each reuning class, the "4's" and the "9's," will attend in a body, but all returning alumni are to be seated by classes, thus assuring everyone a place with classmates and friends. Bring members of your family. Make your reservations early! Faculty members are particularly invited and urged to attend.

Wholesome mirth, good-natured joy, and friendly jollification are to dominate this dinner. Every reunion class should be prepared to give its class yell, sing its class song, and if it has some worth while stunt that can be put across in short time, such special feature, particularly if it is of a musical or dramatic sort, will be welcome.

Good food, fine music, one excellent speech, and that by Prexy, real entertainment, an enjoyable time—these are to be had at the alumni dinner on Saturday, June 21.

It is a great undertaking to cook and serve this dinner. Those who have these matters in charge must know how many to prepare for, so do your part by sending your reservations early.

If you are to be in Madison on Alumni Day, you cannot afford to miss this great gathering, so mail your reservations at once. This is the largest dinner held in Madison. Indeed, it is the largest Wisconsin alumni dinner held any place. We again urge all members to send advance reservations, to send them early, to send them now!

Most of the American railway passenger associations have made a concession of one and one-half fare on the certificate plan to members of the General Alumni Association and dependent members of their families who will return to Madison for alumni meetings this Railroad Certificates June. Among the passenger associations that have granted this favor are the Western, the Southwestern, the Central, the Trans-Continental, and the Trunk lines. Among those that have refused are the Southeastern, the Canadian, and the New England passenger associations. Certificates should be deposited at Alumni Headquarters as soon as you reach Madison. No certifi- cate can be validated until 250 or more of such certificates are so deposited at Alumni Headquarters.

This special rate is allowed subject to railroad rules and regulations governing convention rates under the certificate plan. We earnestly advise all our members to call on their local railroad agent for details. Secure such advice and information now. If for any reason your local ticket agent does not have these certificates, ask him to inform you as to the nearest station where certificates can be obtained. For example, the New England passenger association is one of the few that refuses to grant the concession. Yet even members residing in New England can, by purchasing local tickets to points in New York state, secure certificates from the stations covered by the Trunk Line Association. Indeed, the only member of our Association who cannot get some advantage because of these special rates is the one who lives so close to Madison that the fare is less than 67 cents.

We again urge you to secure detailed information from your railway ticket agent. He can tell you the dates of sale under which tickets are good to Madison, and also tell you the final date on which you must be back at the place from which you started, if you are to secure the privilege granted by the railroad company. Furthermore, we urge all members returning to Madison by railroad to secure such certificates. While alumni close to Madison may feel that the few cents or few dollars they could save are hardly worth bothering about, they are the very ones who should get these certificates, because by so doing they make it easier for fellow alumni coming long distances to secure the benefits offered by the railroad companies. Indeed, alumni who are coming to Madison and are not even planning to return home in time to secure personal benefits through the possession of certificates are also advised to secure such certificates and to leave them at Alumni Headquarters, because these certificates aid us in securing the minimum number required. The railroad regulations demand that 250 certificates be deposited before any validation may be made, but a certificate from a near-by point counts just as much toward this total number of 250 as does a certificate from far away. In other words, no matter how close to Madison you may be, or how far away you may be, if you are returning to Madison for Commencement by railway train, be sure to secure a certificate when you purchase your ticket.

Alumni and friends of the University are watching with interest the experiments of Prof. Louis Kahlenberg, '92, and Dr. A. J. Ochsner, '84, Seek Cancer Cure with colloid gold in the treatment of cancer. They are modest in their claims for the cure. Only time will tell, they say, whether or not a recurrence of the disease will take place; however, cancerous tissues have been eliminated by the treatment, which is more effective and less expensive than the best so far known—the X-ray.

OCHSNER

KAHLENBERG

To Dr. Ochsner has been given the honor of trying out the hoped-for cure and it was he who made the first public announcement of the experiment so far in his paper before the March meeting of the Chicago Medical Society. Today some fifty Chicago physicians have taken up the treatment.

Former Regent Thomas Evans Brittingham was a generous friend of the University. The brief account of his sincerely lamented death appearing in the obituary section of this publication mentions a few of his generous benefactions to our Alma Mater. Yet

Thomas Evans Brittingham
Benefactor

mere citation of these gifts fails to convey the commendable personal modesty of this great business capitalist as a giver. The way he gave, the spirit of his generosity were as worthy of emulation as were the causes to which he gave or the very gifts themselves.

Good works made possible by the foresight of unselfish givers form the lasting praises of the benefactors. Mr. Brittingham not only left a bequest, said to amount to over $350,000 to the University, but during his lifetime he gave frequently and generously to Wisconsin. His example should receive more than our commendation; it is worthy of emulation by every alumnus and friend of the University. We all can give according to our ability. Let us, too, give gladly now to Alma Mater's needs. Let us also provide for Alma Mater in our wills, remembering that the superlative of the three great virtues, faith, hope, and charity, is charity.

The killing of Peter Posepny, a junior in the course in commerce, by Patrick Powers late Monday night, May 12, is one of the most lamentable tragedies that ever happened in Madison. The brief outline of this terrible act is:

A Grim Tragedy to her husband that she was alarmed by what she considered suspicious actions on the part of a man near the Powers home, 414 N. Lake Street. Powers' report is said to be that he then rose from his bed, took his revolver, went out to investigate, found a man on his porch, ordered him to throw up his hands, then, hearing the unknown stranger approaching, fired without intending to hit.

The shot killed Posepny almost instantly.

Powers has been a member of the Madison police force for a number of years. He was off duty. Judgment must await a most thorough, careful investigation. Authorities are now attempting to make such investigation. Sympathy, however, brooks no delay. Sorrow is at least state-wide. No action can really atone for the sudden snuffing out of this promising young life. Few souls can picture the agony of despair that must almost overwhelm relatives of this ambitious boy from Two Rivers, whose grief-stricken father, himself possessed of but slight knowledge of the English language, did murmur, "I can't believe Pete was a bad boy," as he bent over the lifeless remains of the son in whom his proudest hopes had been placed.

The late Thomas McBean, who received his degree from the law school in 1893, found it necessary to spend a number of years at the soldiers' home, Waupaca. Yet neither ill health nor the financial limitations which were a natural result ever caused him to feel that he should discount membership in the Alumni Association. (Now and then some member sends in a resignation pleading poverty—too poor to aid organized alumni endeavor with as little as $2.00 per year.) Still Thomas McBean not only kept up his membership, but he refused firmly to let alumni officials, who knew of his misfortunes, continue him on the list without his paying dues. He was a devoted son of Alma Mater. Annually, after we discontinued mailing him statements of his alumni dues, he nevertheless remitted them, accompanied by a letter telling what pleasure he received from the opportunity given him to keep in touch with the University and with classmates and friends through the alumni organization.

Mr. McBean died in February. Among the many who deplored his enforced departure was William Kirk, the well-known newspaper man and author whose verses to McBean are to be found on page 308 of this issue.

RICHARD T. ELY, LL.D. '23

G. S. WEHRWEIN, '20, Research Associate in Land Economics

THE year 1924 marks the seventieth birthday of Dr. Richard T. Ely, LL.D. '23. About a year ago his friends and former students decided to celebrate the event by subscribing a fund towards a painting of their former teacher and leader. The artist selected was John C. Johansen, one of the foremost portrait painters of America. While in the East last summer Dr. Ely sat for the portrait at the artist's summer home at Stockbridge, Massachusetts. The work was completed during the winter and then sent to Indianapolis where it was copied in full colors to serve as the frontispiece of the 1925 Badger which has been dedicated to Dr. Ely.

The unveiling ceremonies consisted of a dinner at the Woman's Building attended by about 175 former students and other friends of the guest of honor. Professor John R. Commons acted as toastmaster and with his characteristic humor introduced the speakers of the evening. Professors W. A. Scott, E. A. Ross, and W. H. Kiekhofer, Ph.D. '13, who briefly sketched the history and development of Dr. Ely's work at Johns Hopkins University and at the University of Wisconsin. The unveiling proper took place in the auditorium of Agricultural Hall immediately after the dinner. Prof. B. H. Hibbard, Ph.D. '02, presided and Professor F. A. Fetter of Princeton University gave the address of the evening on "The Influence of the Economist in Business and Government."

Professor Hibbard in a few well-chosen words unveiled the portrait and presented it to the University; President Birge accepted it with a short address in which he paid tribute to Dr. Ely as an economist and as a friend and colleague with whom he had worked for thirty-two years.

Dr. Ely was called upon and he responded with words of appreciation of the honor conferred upon him. He spoke feelingly of all those who helped him in making his life a success and then reiterated the principles which have always been the basis of his life's work.

Dr. Richard T. Ely was born April 13, 1854, at Ripley, New York. He took his bachelor's and master's degrees at Columbia and then went abroad to study at Heidelberg, Halle, and Geneva, receiving the Ph. D. U. at Heidelberg, in 1879. He began his work at Johns Hopkins University in 1881. Here he remained until 1892. During this time he published his French and German Socialism, Taxation in American States and Cities, The Labor Movement in America, Problems of Today, Social Aspects of Christianity, and the Introduction to Political Economy. He also served on the Maryland Tax Commission and helped to found the American Economic Association, of which organization he was the first secretary and later president. The founding of this association was an insurgent movement against the old order of economists who believed in certain underlying laws in economics, thought to be true in all places and at all times. Among these was laissez faire, the bulwark of those who wanted no state interference in child and woman labor, limitation of hours of work, or of social control of any kind. To this the new association replied in its first article: "We hold that the doctrine of laissez faire is unsafe in politics and unsound in morals and that it suggests an inadequate explanation of the relations between the state and citizens." The speakers at the unveiling banquet frequently referred to this pioneer aspect of Ely's work. He helped to make Johns Hopkins a truly graduate university and led men to see the practical economic problems about them. "Look and see," became the motto. It was in this period that men such as Woodrow Wilson, Newton D. Baker, John H. Finley, Charles Levermore (the winner of the Bok Peace prize), E. A. Ross, John R. Commons, Albert Shaw, Albion W. Small and others came under the influence of his teaching.

In 1892 the regents of the University of Wisconsin organized the School of Economics, Political Science, and History and invited Dr. Ely to become its director. The purpose of this combination and the call to Dr. Ely was to lay emphasis upon graduate work, and particularly in the three fields embraced within the school. Later on, when the School had accomplished its purpose and the various departments had grown in numbers, this particular organization was abolished, but at the same time graduate work and research received even greater attention.

Professor W. A. Scott, who studied under Dr. Ely at Johns Hopkins University, came with him to the University of Wisconsin as assistant professor. Later he was advanced to a full professorship, and when commerce was organized as a school he became its director. David Kinley, LL.D. '18, now president of the University of Illinois, accompanied Dr. Ely from Baltimore, holding the position of fellow and assistant. That was the entire faculty of the department of Economics at that time. Kinley still continued his work as a graduate student, and he and Dr. Charles J. Bullock of Harvard were among the first graduate students to receive the degree of Ph.D., Dr. Kinley taking his degree in 1893 and Dr. Bullock two years later.

RICHARD THEODORE ELY

Ely brought to Wisconsin the Johns Hopkins ideal of scientific research and graduate scholarship. His ideal of Lehrfreiheit was soon put to a test. He was brought before the Board of Regents to be tried for some of his opinions. The result was that famous statement of the freedom of teaching by the regents, part of which has been cast in bronze by the class of 1910 and which now greets every student as he enters Bascom Hall: "In all lines of investigation, the investigator should be absolutely free to follow the paths of truth, wherever they may lead. Whatever may be the limitations which trammel inquiry elsewhere, we believe the great state of Wisconsin should ever encourage that continual and fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found."

Professor Ross at the banquet particularly stressed this growth of academic freedom and Doctor Ely's share in this progress.

Thirty-two years have passed since he became "Ely of Wisconsin," as Joseph Medill Patterson called him. The faculty of three in the department of Economics has grown to sixty-five, the students majoring in economics to about 700, while the enrollment in economics courses is between seven and eight thousand. Of graduate students alone there are about 100 this year, according to Professor Kiekhofer, who at the banquet spoke of the present and future of Dr. Ely and the growth of the department of Economics.

The Wisconsin students of Ely with wide reputations are as numerous as those of the Johns Hopkins days. Kinley and Bullock have already been mentioned. B. H. Meyer, B.L. '94, Ph.D. '97, LL.D. '14, M. O. Lorenz, Ph.D. '06, H. C. Taylor, Ph.D. '02, come to mind at once. His work as an author continued. The Outlines of Economics was published in 1893 and has gone through several editions, the later ones in collaboration with other authors; so has the Elementary Economics, familiarly known as "Ely-Wicker." Studies in the Evolution of Industrial Society, Socialism and Social Reform also fall in this period. He conceived the publication of a series of volumes which set forth his ideas on the distribution of wealth as influenced by the fundamental institutions and forces in society. Of these Monopolies and Trusts and Property and Contract have been published and the others are in preparation.

His interest in labor shown in the Johns Hopkins period did not lag at Wisconsin. He helped to organize the American Association for Labor Legislation and was its first president.

Ely has always been interested in land economics and it is under his encouragement that agricultural economics grew into prominence in Wisconsin. The Foundations of National Prosperity, written in collaboration with Hess, Leith, and Carver, setting forth the principles of conservation, might be called the first book of his in the field of land economics. After the organization of the Institute for Research in Land Economics and Public Utilities in 1920, the three volumes of Land Economics and the Urban Land Economics appeared, while the Elements of Land Economics by Ely and Morehouse has just come from the press.

Dr. Ely received the LL.D. degree from Hobart College in 1892; at last year's Commencement he was given the honorary LL.D. by the University of Wisconsin, the first time the degree has been given to one active in service.

At the age of seventy, Dr. Ely is by no means thinking of retiring. The Institute for Research in Land Economics and Public Utilities, an organization privately supported and located at the University, has a staff of some ten members engaged in research and teaching. Several books are being revised and about forty books are projected in the fields of land economics and public utilities, some in actual preparation by Dr. Ely and his staff, others by authors working under his direction and inspiration.

Space does not permit enumerating all his plans for the future. In his response on the night of the unveiling of the portrait he expressed his hopes for the future as follows: "It is my conviction that we are just beginning a greater epoch in economics than the past has known, and I love to look ahead and not back. If, please God, my life is spared, later on I may, like older men who have celebrated more advanced birthdays, indulge in exhortation—ninety is just the right age for that—but now I close, expressing both gratitude and the hope that I may share in the greater achievements of the future, the prospect of which animates me and fills my mind and my heart."

THE NATIONAL INSTITUTE FOR RESEARCH IN COLLOID CHEMISTRY

J. H. MATHEWS, '03, Director of the Course in Chemistry

OF ALL the research projects fostered by the University, probably none surpasses in interest and importance the proposed National Institute for Research in Colloid Chemistry which, it is hoped, may be located at Wisconsin in the near future. Colloid chemistry—the chemistry of material in an extremely finely-divided state—is a branch of chemistry which has developed rapidly in the past twenty years, and which, because it is so largely the chemistry of life itself as well as of the material things which contribute to our comfort and happiness, is destined to attract even greater attention in the future.

J. H. MATHEWS

The importance of fundamental research in colloid chemistry, because of its relation to medicine, biology, agriculture, and hundreds of industries, can not be over-emphasized. The development of medicine is inseparably bound up with colloid chemistry, and the progress of medical chemistry is at present hampered and delayed because of the lack of complete information concerning the chemistry and physics of colloids. The possibilities for the discovery of new and important knowledge in the field of colloid chemistry are unlimited, and success is certain as soon as proper facilities are provided.

The Committee on the Chemistry of Colloids of the National Research Council has worked out plans in detail for a National Institute for Research in Colloid Chemistry, and these plans have been approved by the National Research Council, the National Academy of Sciences, the Council of the American Chemical Society, and the leading scientists of America.

During the second semester of last year and the following summer session, Prof. The Svedberg of the University of Upsala gave lectures and conducted research in colloid chemistry at the University. Under this stimulus the University has become recognized as a leader in colloid research, and because of this, together with its scientific standing and ideal geographical location, the University of Wisconsin is considered to be the logical co-operating university for the Institute.

The Institute would mean much to the University. All the scientific departments and the Forest Products Laboratory are interested in colloids. The biological sciences, medicine, agriculture, geology, physics, and chemical engineering would profit by having this Institute on the campus. The Institute would bring to Wisconsin a staff of specialists such as is to be found nowhere at the present time, and this increase to our personnel of well-known scientific men would be of tremendous value to the prestige of the University. In addition, the Institute will be the mecca for all the colloid chemists of the world, for nowhere else will there be found such equipment as will be provided for the prosecution of research on colloids. The annual Symposium on Colloid Chemistry, which originated at this University last year, will doubtless be held at the Institute each June, and during each summer scientists of international reputation are to be brought to the Institute to lecture on special phases of colloid chemistry and its applications. These lectures and the facilities for research which will be available to workers from other universities during the summer period will naturally bring a considerable number of notable men to the Institute each summer.

It is hoped that the endowment of one million dollars necessary to found this Institute may soon be raised, and, as a matter of Wisconsin pride, let us hope that some Wisconsin alumnus or some citizen of this state who is interested in the welfare of the University will see here a unique opportunity for philanthropic work of the highest type.

PHOTOART FINISHING

SPECIAL MAIL SERVICE—We bring Photoart developing and printing to your door. It costs no more than does the ordinary kind.

Stick a 1c stamp on your next exposed roll and drop it in the nearest mail box.

THE PHOTOART HOUSE,
WM. J. MEUER, '10, Pres. Madison, Wis.

"THERE'S NOTHING TOO GOOD FOR WISCONSIN"

THE new Wisconsin Booster song, by Miss Lillian Drees, Madison nurse, was written while Miss Drees was convalescing from a prolonged illness resulting from overwork in Chicago during the war, when the influenza epidemic was at its height. The song took well among Madison town and gown circles during Music Week and desire has been expressed to introduce it to Commencement gatherings. Miss Susan Sterling, '79, emeritus professor of German at the University, says that a number of alumnae who have heard this song feel that it will rapidly establish itself as one of the real Badger songs at all gatherings of Wisconsin people and particularly of Wisconsin graduates. Musical critics speak highly of the vim and go of this marching song.

*Wisconsin is my native home, the pride of all the west;
No matter where I chance to roam, I love Wisconsin best.
Her mystic lakes, her wooded hills, so glorious and grand,
Her famous waters, beauteous dells are the finest in the land.
Then, boost, boost for Wisconsin,
Boost Wisconsin wherever you may go.
Her hat is in the ring and she'll challenge anything,
So boost your state and watch her grow.*

*Then boost, boost with all your might,
Boost, boost from morn till night,
Boost, boost, for we're all right,
Oh there's nothing too good for Wisconsin.*

*Wisconsin's farms are of the best, her schools beyond compare;
Her every project stands the test, while great minds do and dare;
Her dairy products span the world; her plants and mills ne'er cease;
Her banner, to the breeze unfurled, spells health, success, and peace.
Then boost, etc.*

Copies may be obtained from the University Co-op, Madison; the price is 30 cents.

"ROLLO'S WILD OAT"

ELIOT SHARP, '25

THE Senior class play, "Rollo's Wild Oat," by Claire Kummer, will be presented at the Open Air Theater behind Bascom Hall Thursday and Friday nights, June 19 and 20. In order that the alumni may be able to see the performance, which is being put on entirely by the seniors, in a body, Friday night has been set aside as "Alumni Night."

Those in charge of class reunions should send in their orders for blocks immediately, since only a limited number of seats can be sold. The tickets will be $1.00 and $1.50. Orders should be sent to Eliot Sharp, care of the Union Building, Langdon Street. They will be filled in the order in which they arrive.

Olivia Orth, '24, who has long been associated with the Wisconsin University Players, has been selected to coach the play. Her work will be supervised by Prof. Gertrude Johnson of the speech department.

"We have selected this Broadway success," declares Laurens Hastings, '24, president of the University Players and chairman of the play committee, "because it is peculiarly well adapted to presentation in an open-air theater and because it is so full of humor. Laughs follow each other in quick succession. We think that the alumni especially will enjoy it and we are going to try to give them, many of whom doubtless have been seeing nothing but professional productions, as professional a show as has been presented on the campus."

ATHLETICS

By Paul Hunter

THE most interesting and probably the most important announcement so far as athletics at the University is concerned, made since the appointment of Jack Ryan as football coach, was the statement from the Athletic Council on May 3 that for the first time in a decade the Varsity crew would be sent to Poughkeepsie in June.

Interest in rowing at Wisconsin had been on the wane for several years, probably largely because Wisconsin is the only institution in the Western Conference which fosters the sport and there was not the keen rivalry with the Boat Clubs with which races were held that there would have been with other University crews. But in the last year or so there has been a revival of interest in the sport and last fall the Athletic Council ordered a new shell and placed a sufficient amount in the budget to send the crew back to Poughkeepsie when it should be deemed advisable to do so. The new shell arrived late in April; two weeks later Coach Vail was notified that arrangements had been completed to send the crew to Poughkeepsie where it has been entered in the big Intercollegiate Rowing Regatta on June 17. The Junior crew will, as usual, meet the crew from the St. John's Military school in the annual Spring regatta on Lake Mendota May 31 and will enter the Third Annual race at Culver, Indiana, on June 7.

Rain has been the strongest opponent Coach Lowman's baseball team has had to contend with this season. After defeating Chicago in the first Conference game, the Northwestern contest was cancelled because of rain; Illinois proved better "mudhens" and won in a drizzling rain, while Purdue was defeated in twelve innings between showers. The Minnesota game, May 10, was canceled because of rain, and the Badgers defeated Michigan May 12, in the first real baseball weather of the season. With anything like an even break with the weather man the team should finish well towards the top in the Conference race. By defeating Illinois 3 to 1, Wisconsin went into the lead in the Conference baseball race on May 17.

Like the baseball team, Coach Jones's track men have been handicapped by the cold, wet weather all spring and lost the dual meet with Minnesota at Minneapolis, May 9, in a rain and snow storm. But with warmer weather the team will make a much better showing.

All eyes in the Conference were turned on the big outdoor quadrangular meet at Camp Randall on May 17, with Chicago, Northwestern, Ohio, and Wisconsin as the participants. The Badgers won the indoor meet with the same teams at Evanston in February. Details of the quadrangular meet, which Wisconsin won with a score of 67 points, the first of the kind ever held in the Conference and the biggest and most important track and field meet in the West outside of the annual Conference meet will be given in the June number.

Coach Jones has developed a strong team in the sprints, quarter, half, and mile runs, the jumps and pole vault, but lacks seasoned material in the weights and hurdles.

Coach Ryan was again greatly disappointed with the number of candidates who reported for the spring football practice. For the first few days there were about fifty candidates in uniform, but the number decreased each day instead of increasing. With an eight-game schedule next fall, the first game coming on September 27, Coach Ryan deemed it absolutely necessary to have all Varsity candidates get in as much work, in the spring as possible, but with several men on the track squad and others on the crew, his work was greatly handicapped, although there appears to be more and better material in sight for next fall than for two or three years.

Both the golf and tennis teams got very late starts this spring because of the unusually rainy weather and neither was in condition for the opening of the season. Both teams are improving daily, however, and give promise to be heard from before the season is over.

CAR FOR CREW RACE

Gerald Dahl, '96, 25 Broad Street, New York City, has been appointed chairman of the Committee of Wisconsin Alumni of New York to handle matters relating to the Regatta. The committee has made arrangements with the New York Central Railroad to charter a flat car, upon which seats similar to bleachers will be built, and which will run along the bank of the river, following the race the full three miles.

Those desiring these accommodations should communicate with H. E. Bilkey c/o J. S. Frelinghuysen Corporation, 111 William St., N. Y., enclosing check for $11.00 per seat which includes round trip from New York to Highlands and seat in observation car to follow race

"Undergraduate athletics are for the undergraduate a healthy and valuable recreation; for the graduate, a means of maintaining his connection with his Alma Mater; for the University, as a whole, a means of coming into closer contact with other institutions on the basis of friendly rivalry."

OTHER UNIVERSITIES

Wisconsin's "Y" has conducted their employment bureau with excellent results for seven years. It has not only placed men in employment that has been mutually satisfactory, but its director has so gained the confidence of the students that they bring their personal problems to him, and he has thus been able to help many weather storms both mental and financial. Particularly to the Freshmen is he a friend in need. When every other resort has failed, it is with this man that their problems find solution. It is proposed by the "Y" that the same sort of man be acquired here.—Minn. Alumni Weekly.

FREE CAMP GROUND

Returning graduates are reminded of the fine, free public Camp Ground at Olin Park (recently renamed in honor of J. M. Olin, '79; you knew it as Monona Park).

The Association of Commerce offers to make arrangements to set aside such part of the park as may be requested in advance by returning graduates. Furthermore, the Association of Commerce will, upon application, send detailed information including best auto routes, etc. For this free service write direct to The Madison Association of Commerce, 121 S. Pinckney St., Madison, Wis.

"1,000 Life Memberships This Year"

Do your part in making this a reality for you

Wisconsin Alumni Association

U. W. CLUBS

"Sit together, listen together, sing together, eat together, and you'll work together"

TO STRENGTHEN A LOCAL U. W. CLUB

"Make the first requirement of membership in a local U. W. Club membership in the General Alumni Association.

"The alumni, through their local organizations, can and should do things. The central association can not infuse life into local branches by some hypodermic method or other. Rather, it is the central organization which thrives only when alumni everywhere are alert for their opportunity for service.

"But whatever is done, emphasize that fact that the Wisconsin Alumni Association comes first, the local organization second. Why not put such provisions into the constitution?"

BARABOO

H. M. LANGER, '17

ON April 11 a small group of alumni met at the Public Library for the purpose of discussing the advisability of forming a U. W. Club. Harold Langer was appointed temporary chairman. After a general discussion the chairman was instructed to appoint a committee to draft a proposed constitution and by-laws and arrange for a banquet at which to perfect an organization.

The following committee was named: A. C. Kingsford, chairman; L. S. Van Orden, Oscar Isenberg, Elda Riggert Thompson, Mrs. C. F. Stekl; Harold Langer, ex-officio.

Several meetings of the committee were held and plans perfected for a banquet to be held at the Warren House on May 5. Prof. A. B. Hall of the University graciously consented to address the gathering.

The banquet proved a huge success. Covers were laid for forty. An interesting program was rendered. James Bonham, the toastmaster, kept the assemblage in constant uproar. Interesting talks were given by Warren Wright, Walter Rummel, Wm. McFetridge, Emma Gattiker, and A. C. Kingsford. A vocal selection was rendered by Alice Evans Steeps and an entertaining reading by Dora Ingraham. Oscar Isenberg acted as cheer leader. The assemblage was also entertained by a Russian dance given by three of the local high school girls. Music was furnished by the local high school orchestra.

A glowing tribute was paid by Miss Gattiker to the long and valuable service rendered by President Birge to the University.

Prof. A. B. Hall, the speaker of the evening, favored us with a rousing and instructive address on the ideals of the University, the service rendered by her to mankind and especially to the people of the State of Wisconsin, and the assistance which her alumni can give her. The satisfaction and pleasure derived by his audience from his presence and his talk can best be summed up by stating that the U. W. Club of Baraboo sympathizes with other clubs which have been so unfortunate as not to have been favored by his presence at their meetings. We hope to meet Professor Hall again at a later meeting of the club.

At the business meeting which followed, the proposed constitution and by-laws drafted by the committee were adopted and the following officers elected: President, A. C. Kingsford; vice president, Emma Gattiker; secretary-treasurer, Harold Langer. Members of the executive committee in addition to the officers named: Estelle Isenberg and Marjorie Fisher Stekl.

Those present were Herman Grotophorst, '84, and wife; Herbert Hawkins, ex'16, and wife; Mary Whitelaw Osborne, '09, and husband; Norman Quale, '14, and wife; Ralph Runge, '14, and wife; Clarissa Kuhns, '11, and husband; Marjorie Fisher Stekl, '20, and husband; Elda Riggert Thompson, '15, and husband; Alice Evans Steeps, '06, and husband; L. S. Van Orden, '03 and wife; Lucille Warren Isenberg, '18, and husband; Katherine Falvey, '95; Emma Gattiker, '81; Dora Ingraham, '23; Estelle Isenberg, '17; Margaret Pierce, ex'00; James Bonham, '91; Wm. McFetridge ex'90; Warren Wright, '21; Walter Rummel '21; John Malone, '03; Supt. A. C. Kingsford, '98; Oscar Isenberg, '24; H. M. Langer, '17 —5-12-'24.

DETROIT

Intercollegiate Bowling League Scores for April 23:

	W	L	%
Wisconsin.....	23	7	767
Purdue.....	19	11	633
M. A. C.....	18	12	600
Cornell.....	1	13	567
M. I. T.....	9	21	300
Ohio State.....	4	23	140
Harvard.....	0	3	000

U. W. high scores: Louis Kreuz, '17, 174; Herbert Mandel, '17, 167; Robert Herdegen, '05, 166; A. P. Haake, '14, 157; Karel Melaas, '20, 156; Malcolm Mitchell, '21, 150. Wisconsin Averages: 811.

INDIANAPOLIS

EDITH MARTIN MAPLESDEN, '19

Haresfoot came. Indianapolis saw. Haresfoot conquered. And gosh! how the Hoosiers enjoyed being conquered. They'd seen college players before—some of the best; but now they've seen the best, and they like it.

Take it anyway you like, "Twinkle Twinkle" was an unmitigated success in Indianapolis. The Club, we believe, thought so. We kept them busy, but not too busy, from sleeper back to the sleeper. And as our president, Reginald Garstang '22, is an old Haresfoot man, he ought to know how they like to be entertained. He took the day off to do it.

The Club headquartered at our new Athletic Club. In the morning, with plenty of cars at their disposal, they did the sights, such as they are. At luncheon, Rotary and Haresfoot entertained each other. This being strictly a masculine affair, details are lacking; but each club expressed thorough satisfaction. A tea dance at the Spink Arms gave the ladies a chance to compete for "such heavenly dancers, my dear!" Many of them were hauled away to be entertained at dinner, while the balance celebrated together at the Spink Arms.

And then the show! Well, either you've seen it or you haven't; and in either case, what's the use of trying to tell you about it? It's the best ever, as is admitted by even those of us who constantly hark back to the "good old days." Certainly the house thought so. And say, some house! The boys said it was the largest and best of their trip. Maybe that was just politeness; but, anyway, the big Shubert-Murat was packed to the roof, and the way they beat one hand against the other, from the first curtain to the last, was—well, significant, to say the least of it.

We wound up with a dance. We had about the largest hall in the city; but it was crowded, not only with Indianapolis alumni, but with those who had come from all over the state. And to crown that, the Haresfoot orchestra played for half an hour. Did you ever dance with a Haresfoot man to Haresfoot music by the Haresfoot orchestra? Well, either you have or you haven't; and in either case, what's the use of trying to tell you about it!—5-10-'24.

KANSAS CITY

GRANT BROWN, '21

We had a very pleasant and enjoyable time on April 18 with Coach T. E. Jones and his Track Team, and he promises us big things in Lawrence.—4-21-'24.

MINNEAPOLIS ALUMNAE

HENRIETTA WOOD KESSENICH, '16

Variety seems to be the keynote of our meetings. In March we held the first bridge party of the year. We met at the Curtis Hotel on Saturday noon, March 22, in a cozy room reserved for ourselves, and after the luncheon we adjourned to the sun parlors where we had four tables of bridge. The prize, a corsage bouquet of violets and roses, went to Lucy Von Rohr. Playing progressively, everyone got acquainted with everyone else, for, of course, the game was not so scientific that all conversation was banned. We had a jolly time, and hopes for another afternoon of cards were voiced by all.

On April 26 another afternoon of cards proved to be the most enjoyable meeting of the year. All Wisconsin alumnae were most cordially invited to the home of Carol Coates Coleman, where we had time for three rounds of bridge before the chat over the teacups began.

Every month more interested alumnae come into the fold. Some come to one meeting, some to another. What a gathering we would have if everyone decided to come at the same time!

Following is the list of those who have been present at one or the other of the last two meetings: Dorothea Birdsell, '22, Irma Alexander Bullis, '15, Carol, Coates Coleman, '20, Alice Jones Davis, '00, Coie Winters Ensign, '16, Carrie Hammersly Fessler, '07, Grace Folland, Florence Hanna, '20, Dolores Ward Jacobs, '19, Marguerite Sammis Jansky, '19, Henrietta Wood Kessenich, '16, Magyl Buckstaff Leary, '23, Sally Spensley Michener, '18, Ethel Mygrant, '17, Harriett McKinley, '13, Beatrice Utman Pierce, '18, Harriett Mackowen Schaper, '07, Charlotte O'Malley Sewall, '22, Louise Merrill Shearer, '06, Louise Durst Smith, '06, Florence Bashford Spensley, Mary James Stark, '23, Lucy Van Rohr, '07, Hazel Hildebrandt Whitmore, '10, Mable Sheldon Whitney, '00, Lethe Grover Williams, '20, Frances Clark Wood, '81, Amy Bosson Young, '10.—5-9-'24.

OMAHA

CHARLOTTE BODMAN NEAL, '16

May 3 was Second College Night for the Omaha College Club. This year we had the Kosmet Klub Players of the University of Nebraska. They presented the musical comedy, "The Wishing Ring," which was a great success. That Wisconsin was well represented may be assumed from the account, which appeared in the Omaha Bee: "Wisconsin gave a football warcry from the boxes."—5-10-'24.

SEATTLE

W. E. SCHNEIDER, '20

Aside from the telegram which I sent on the night of our Foundation Day meeting, there was little to report; there were no officers elected nor other business details brought up. As J. C. Rathbun, '77, was the oldest alumnus at the meeting, he was scheduled for a talk on the early history of the University. He came prepared and finished his remarks with the enclosed poem. It was promptly moved, seconded, and carried that the secretary send this offering to the Alumni Secretary at Madison as a contribution to the Alumni Magazine.

LOOKING BACKWARD

When one who has made Life's rugged climb looks backward down the grade,
He sees the struggles he's been through, the friendships he has made.
It is from such a height that I look back to eighteen seventy-three,
When I became a freshman with others whom I see.

'Twas at Wisconsin Varsity—where work was mixed with joys;
I see those pretty long-haired girls; us awkward country boys.
The teachers of those early days are now all gone but two.*
Long will they live in memories with the worthy and the true.

That college year John Bascom came; he asked support of all.
Friends, tired of petty friction, responded to his call.
Discord gave way to harmony which brought new life—new vim.
The glory the school now enjoys is largely due to him.

With him there came two bright young men who at tutoring began.
Each very shortly proved his worth—was soon a full-grown man.
In classroom work both taught to build—"Be useful," they did urge.
John M. Olin was one of them; the other Ed. A. Birge.

I still look back, see younger ones, each carrying some load,
Enjoying what was made or said as I came up that road.
It does one good to see old scenes—to see the young to shine.
May God help those who are coming on to honor auld lang syne.

*J. B. Parkinson, '60, and R. B. Anderson, '85. —4-21-'24.

SHEBOYGAN COUNTY

JENNIE SCHRAGE, '06

We celebrated Wisconsin's 75th birthday with a banquet, held at the Congregational Church on the evening of February 16. Copies of President Birge's greeting were distributed, and his representative, Dean Goodnight, welcomed with the sky-rocket.

He spoke to us on the history and development of the University, and especially on its service to its campus students and to the state, illustrating his talk with wall charts showing University attendance and faculty and employees; the University dollar, where received and how expended. He concluded by speaking of the Committee on Co-operation, and asking for constructive criticism of the University.

On the motion "Resolved, that the University of Wisconsin can be improved," made by Dean Goodnight, President Paul Krez called upon various members present to express an opinion. Most of the suggestions were on the subject of athletic regulations and the control of University news distributed through various newspapers, in an effort to counteract misinformation in regard to University affairs.

A short business meeting followed, during which the following were elected as officers: President, Gustave Buchen; vice-president, Herman Runge; secretary, Gertrude Kowalke Daane; treasurer, John Detling.

Ex-regent Walter Kohler presented the following resolution, which was adopted unanimously: "Appreciating the great work carried on by the University of Wisconsin, and recognizing the important problems confronting the University authorities, and the earnest effort being made to meet these problems: Therefore, Be It Resolved, That we, the members of the University of Wisconsin Club of Sheboygan County, pledge our loyalty and support to President Birge and the Board of Regents of the University of Wisconsin, and extend our best wishes for the future of our great University."

John Stuckert, assisted at the piano by Mrs. Daane, led in the singing of Wisconsin songs at intervals during the banquet.

There were present: K. J. Backey, '10; C. U. Boley, '83, Bernice Bruns, '23, Gustave Buchen, '09, Edith Brunschweiler, '22, Mabel Colton, '13, John Detling, '05, Minnie Riess Detling, '05, Walter Distelhorst, '06, and Mrs. Distelhorst, Jerry Donohue, '07, and Mrs. Donohue, A. H. Finke, ex '14, H. H. Groth, '22, and Mrs. Groth, Mary Heronymus, summer 1911, MYRLE ISSACSON, '22, Louise Jorgenson, '22, Elizabeth Keli, summer '22, Hobart Kletzien, '22, Luella Kersten, '22, Stuart Knilians, '22, Paul Krez, '80, and Mrs. Krez, Frederick Krez, '21, Olive McDermott, '23, Fred Millington, '22, Elizabeth Newell, summer '23, Rhoda Rietow Reiss, '08, and Mr. Reiss, DeWitt Riess, '08, Herman Runge, '22, Ruby Schafer, '16, Ruth Schaper, summer '21, Jennie Schrage, '06, H. E. Sperling, special '18, and Mrs. Sperling, C. A. Squire, '98, and Mrs. Squire, John Stuckart, '09, and Mrs. Stuckart, E. A. Toennies, Jr., ex '18, Frank Ubbelohde, ex '13, and Mrs. Ubbelohde, William Urbana, '04, Florence Rietow Vollrath, '06, and Mr. Vollrath, C. J. Weber, '19, and Mrs. Weber, Edwin Daane, '21, Gertrude Kowalke Daane, '21, Marie Kohler, '01, and Jennie Lorenz, '11; Honorary Member, Walker J. Kohler and Mrs. Kohler, Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Bemis, Mrs. Bruns, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Guenther, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hayssen, and Mrs. W. R. Kowalke, parents of students now at the University, and Dean Scott Goodnight, Ph.D., '05, our honored guest.

From "Varsity" at the beginning to "On Wisconsin" at the end, the meeting was enjoyed by all, and closed with a vote for two meetings a year if possible instead of one.

Wisconsin folk in Sheboygan greatly enjoyed the Haresfoot Club's presentation of "Twinkle Twinkle" on April 7, under the auspices of the Sheboygan Branch A. A. U. W.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA ALUMNAE-ALUMNI

MABEL BRADLEY BREWER, '04

On March 7 we held a joint banquet at the Men's University Club, Los Angeles. There were 75 present. After a jolly time renewing old friendships, Toastmaster Harry Grinde, '15, announced that we would have a few words from former Coach John Richards, '96, who is now living in Los Angeles. This was very much enjoyed. Ida Ellsworth Sunderlin, '14, president of the Alumnae Club, then gave us a little talk, which was followed by musical numbers and the singing of the Varsity Toast. Then, to the very great enjoyment of all, we were shown a moving picture film of familiar Varsity scenes, football games, class reunions, views of Madison, etc., which was a rare treat to us all.

On April 12 Mrs. Abbie Fiske Eaton, who for a number of years was an instructor in German at the University, entertained the alumnae at the Women's University Club, Los Angeles. The president, Mrs. Sunderlin, called the meeting to order and we sang the Varsity Toast. Mrs. Eaton and Jane Butt paid tribute to the memory of the late Prof. M. S. Slaughter. These were followed by a few reminiscences by Clara Berryman and Genevieve Church Smith.

The president then appointed a committee consisting of Helen Neilson, Sarah McKay, and Dorothy Ely, to nominate officers for the ensuing year. After refreshments the meeting adjourned. The next meeting will take place on May 24 at the home of Miss Smith, 1800 N. Hill Ave., Altedena.

Those present were: Abbie Fiske Eaton, '94, Jane Butt, '10, Helen Brown, '95, May Brown, Isabelle Jones, '05, Ilma Jungkuz Schilling, '12, Blanche Ranum Nelson, '02, Clara Berryman, ex'97, Sarah McKay, '06, Ida Ellsworth Sunderlin, '14, Jessie Goddard McKinley, '89, Bertha Fisher Buchanan, '08, Clarissa Brager, grad, Faye Rogers Carey, '05, Bernice Dow Brush, ex'06, Susan Dow, ex'76, Illa Dow, ex'05, Ruth Rice Loftsgordon, '14, Clara Dietrich Bradley, ex'80, Dorothy Ely, '13, Genevieve Church Smith, ex'98, Mildred Forsythe, '86, Caroline Burgess, '94, Martha Thompson, '00, Marion James, '20, Grace

Whitcomb Chadwick, ex'07, Helen Steensland Nielson, '89, Helen Nielson, ex'19, Bertha Van Dusen Mathews, '91, Mabel Bradley Brewer, '04.

—4-18-'24.

MINNEAPOLIS

W. R. MALECKER, '20

Our May luncheon was particularly noteworthy for several reasons. On Friday, May 9, the largest attendance of the year assembled themselves on the outside of an appetizing luncheon at Dayton's Tea Rooms. We had two speakers. Coach T. E. Jones, who was up from Madison with the Track squad, gave a very interesting talk on the athletic situation. It was of considerable interest to everyone to have someone up from Madison to give us first-hand information regarding the old rendezvous.

Stephen Stellwagen, '01, manager of the Ford plant in Minneapolis, spoke on "The Wisconsin Spirit Applied to Modern Business." It was unanimously voiced that this was the best talk of the year, and also the best meeting.

We expect to have Coach Jack Ryan at our meeting on June 13.—5-15-'24.

GRAND FORKS

MILES LANDER, '19

Many alumni, I am sure, will be interested to know of the luncheon the former students and alumni residing in Grand Forks, N. Dak., and East Grand Forks, Minn., gave for Dean Sellery last week. Realizing that the Dean would probably not be with us here in this northern clime again for a long time, we attempted to get all of the Wisconsin people together on Friday noon, May 9, in the Blue Room of the Hotel Frederick at 12:15 p. m. When roll call was taken there were twenty-eight around the table, and I am enclosing the roster of those who could sign same. We opened with the singing of "Varsity" and before we had finished eating, we had given all of the yells and songs that anyone ever knew or ever heard of.

Dean Sellery gave us a very fine talk, which brought back tender memories of the "Hill" and our varied college experiences. We were also honored to have deans F. M. Tisdell, '93, of Missouri and J. G. Brandt, '11, of Kansas, both old Wisconsin men, with us, who responded to short toasts. They, too, awakened memories and happy experiences by their tales of the "good old days."

We all feel that it was a most happy occasion and opened our eyes to the number of old Wisconsin students in our community and University of North Dakota faculty.

Roster: O. G. Libby, '92, F. M. Tisdell, '93, J. G. Brandt, '11, E. T. Towne, '97, Rose Fitch Briggs, '84, Samuel Torgerson, ex'82, E. W. Bollinger, '23, Harrison Barnes, ex'18, Gordon MacGregor, ex'24, Lawrence Murphy, '21, Miles Lander, '19, Reinhold Jacobi, ex'18, Clyde Ferrell, '20, J. H. Bond, '15, Myrtle Wik, '23, Mary Elwell, '16, Alma Luessen, '19, David Morris, '16, Jessie Evans Morris, '18, Anna McCumber Chandler, '99, Margaret Connell Peake, ex'04, Mary McCumber, '99, G. C. Sellery, guest.—5-14-'24.

NEW ENGLAND

L. B. SLICHTER, '17

We have been inactive in an official and formal sense during the last month, but nevertheless events of interest to our local group continue to occur.

The new University Club of Boston, which will occupy a fine site near the Public Library and the Copley Plaza Hotel, now has fifteen Wisconsin charter members. This is the full quota assigned pro rata to Wisconsin on the basis of her 90 alumni here. Wisconsin men have supported this club in a very creditable way, for over half our local alumni are in the graduate schools of Harvard, and in contrast to the majority of the alumni of the eastern schools here, are temporary and not prospective club members. In proportion to real resident numbers, we are giving the club about twice the support of most of the eastern universities. Our charter members will be: S. L. Balmer, '18, Samuel Black, '13, W. H. Carey, '13, Chester Dodge, '17, Samuel Groom, '13, R. J. Hill, '19; Harry Hollmeyer, '13, W. E. Huntington, '70, Philip Johnson, '09, W. R. McCann, '15, R. C. McKay, '15, Lorenz Muther, '00, M. C. Sosman, '13, Webb White, '16, H. P. Whitlock, ex'17.

As at Madison, this is the time of the year when we suffer the greatest loss through departures. It's commencement time for the graduate students here. Most of these commencement farewells seem to be occasioned by the Harvard Law School, and we have all but official assurance that congratulations will be due to the following third-year law men: M. E. Field, '21, Harry Muskat, '21, S. T. McCray, '20, Leon Kaumheimer, '21, Sidney Moody, '20, C. M. Robertson, '21. Sidney Moody goes to Chicago, to take up work with the new Illinois Mercantile Trust Co.

We are glad to welcome a new Boston arrival to membership in the Club—Harry Hollmeyer, '13, now associated with the Griess Pfleger Tanning Co., Natick. We have, by the way, a large stock of welcome for others attracted here by New England's charms, and are in high hopes of dispelling the long standing traditions about Boston's cool atmosphere.—5-15-'24.

BOOK NOTES

The Stock Market (D. Appleton & Co., New York, London), by S. S. Huebner, '02, is an authority on the services of that market, its organization and operation, aiming "to present, in a comprehensive and non-technical manner, the numerous services of the organized stock market to the individual investor and to financial and other business enterprises. It also aims to bring together in compact and classified form those facts, principles, and practices of the business which enable the student and layman to have a clear understanding of the nature of our organized security markets and the legitimate ways in which they may and should be employed."

The book is grouped under four main heads: the services of organized security markets; the organization and operation of the market; factors affecting security prices; and legal principles and usages governing the stock exchange business. Appendices give a classification and description of stock certificates; sample forms of common and preferred stock certificates and of bond certificates; listing requirements of the New York exchange; sample of a corporation's report as issued by the committee on stock list; tabular outline of tape abbreviations and their meaning; commissions charged on the New York Exchange.

Examples of Community Enterprises in Louisiana (Research Bulletin No. 3, October, 1923. Department of Sociology, Tulane University and the U. S. Department of Agriculture). By Augustus Hayes, '15, associate professor of sociology, Tulane University.

"This study has grown out of the conviction that good examples of various forms of team-work and community effort could be found in Louisiana, and that such, when properly set before the interested public, would give a welcome inspiration and aid, in a vital and practical manner, to all willing to receive it. It is the endeavor of this publication to bring before the reading public of Louisiana at least a few of the examples of those precious and valuable attainments wrought out by various sized groups of its developing rural population."

CONKLIN & SONS COMPANY (Established 1854)
Coal, Wood, Mendota Lake Ice, Cement,
Stucco, White Lime, Hair and Sewer Pipe,
MAIN OFFICES: 24 E. MIFFLIN ST., MADISON

ALUMNI NEWS

Alumni please keep in touch with the MAGAZINE and with your class Secretary!

ENGAGEMENTS

- 1915 Irene DENNEEN, New Richmond, to John Wiegand, Wichita, Kans. The wedding will take place in June.
- ex*21 Grace Layman, St. Louis, Mo., to Henry ISAACS, also of St. Louis, Mo.
- 1923 Marjorie WARVILLE, Chicago, Ill., to Dwight HARBAUGH, Kansas City, Mo. Miss Warville is a graduate student at the University this year.
- 1923 Mildred DOWNIE, Madison, to Wayne MORSE, of the Speech department of the University.
- 1923 Violet WOLFRAM, Watertown, to Alfred GOESSLING, Milwaukee.
- 1923 Dora INGRAHAM, Milwaukee, to Carroll ROACH, Waterloo.
- 1923 Eleanor ANDERSON, Boise, Idaho, to Lloyd BURKEY, Pullman, Wash. Mr. Burkey is an instructor in agricultural bacteriology at Washington State College.
- 1923 Lucille SCOTT, Maywood, Ill., to Louis NELSON, Superior.
- 1924 Letitia O'MALLEY, Madison, to Marion STRAIN, Lamar, Colorado.
- ex*25 Dorothy Coe, Dallas, Tex., to Philip HILBERT, Madison.
- 1924 Patricia Lamb to Virgil DeWitt, both of Sioux City, Iowa.
- 1924 Elizabeth ELSOM, Madison, to David MOORE, Onalaska.
- 1924 Mildred REDEMANN, Kiel, to Horace RISTEEN, Chippewa Falls.
- 1926 Elizabeth BULKLEY, Oklahoma City, Okla., to Donald JAICKS, River Forest, Ill.

MARRIAGES

- ex*05 Cecilia Gretz to Walter SCHUERTE, both of Manitowoc, April 22.
- 1908 Mabel GILKEY to Frederick Walker, both of Oshkosh, May 7. Mr. Walker is editor of the Daily Northwestern.
- 1909 Loretta Rudolph, Elyria, Ohio, to Alexander MORGAN, May 7.
- ex*12 Frances Courtney, Philadelphia, Pa., to James PORTER, Beloit, April 26. They are living in Hayden, Ariz., where Mr. Porter is connected with a copper company.
- 1915 Helen WURDEMANN, formerly of Milwaukee, to Baron Franz Guzzardi di Pulichi, at Florence, Italy, April 2.
- 1917 Katherine Manley, Sun Prairie, to Wilbur SACHTJEN, Madison, April 18.
- 1918 Elsie BUCKSTAFF, Oshkosh, to Reginald MacKinnon, Wisconsin Rapids, April 26.
- 1919 Louisa PARKER, Clinton, to George Butler, Seattle, Wash. April 1. They will be at home at Clinton until August.
- 1919 Marion SPRING, Madison, to David Fiefield, Sheboygan, May 10.
- 1920 Gene PLUMB, to Everett MACKIE, both of Long Beach, Calif., October 19.
- 1920 Ethel SCHUMACHER, to James Thorson, both of Beloit, April 19. They are at home at 1307 Chapin St.
- ex*20 Helen Sanborn, Eagle River, to Lesley KINZEL, Merrill, April 23. Mr. Kinzel is secretary and treasurer of the Union Land Company, and of the Kinzel Lumber and Stange Lumber companies at Merrill and of the Wisconsin-Michigan Lumber Co. at Eagle River.
- 1920 Helen HARMAN, Madison, to Lawrence COE, Rice Lake, April 19.
- 1921 Severa Engel, Oshkosh, to Oscar CARLSON, New Holstein, April 17. Mr. Carlson is manager and junior member of the New Holstein Drug Company.

- 1921 Minnie Klingbeil, Fall Creek, to Edgar FARRINGTON, April 19. Mr. Farrington is associated with the Farmers' Grain and Produce Company at Fall Creek.
- 1921 Ethel VINJE, Madison, to Alfred Walker, Hinsdale, Ill., May 3. They are living at Wakefield, Mich., where Mr. Walker is a geologist for the M. A. Hanna Company.
- 1922 Elizabeth Rothnick, Madison, to Leonard KAASA, Merrill, April 12. They are living in Mellen, where Mr. Kaasa is a member of the high school faculty.
- 1922 Katherine BAIRD, Louisville, Ky., to Frank GOLLEY, Milwaukee, April 19.
- ex*22 Bernice Segelke to Sheldon SMITH, both of Eau Claire, April 5. They are at home at 851 7th St., La Salle, Ill.
- 1922 Genevieve PALMER, Columbus, to Harvey BROKER, Racine, May 1. They are at home at 1615 Washington Ave., Racine.
- 1923 Julia GALE, Oak Park, Ill., to Dudley DAVIS, Madison, April 26.
- 1923 Frances HARVEY to Donald Abbott. They are at home at 1502 Lincoln Way W., South Bend, Ind.
- 1923 Alice KNOEDLER, Chicago, Ill., to Ward Hickok, Madison, May 14.
- ex*24 Kathryn KLAESSON, Stoughton, to Leslie GAGE, April 26. Mr. Gage is assistant manager of the Will Nash Hotel Co., Peoria, Ill.
- 1924 Alice Goodman, Madison, to Edgar LILJA, Rockford, Ill., April 12.
- ex*24 Doris PERKINS, Lebanon, Ind., to Warren Meyer, Hamilton, Ohio, April 26. They live in Canton, S. C.
- ex*24 Helen WRIGHT, Madison, to J. H. Drake, Opelika, Ala., May 1. They are at home in Fond du Lac.
- ex*26 Irene SROCK, Madison, to Hobart BONDI, Madison, April 18. Mr. Bondi is a staff officer at the U. S. Veterans' Bureau.

BIRTHS

- 1904 To Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Davies, a daughter, Priscilla Alden, May 2.
- 1905 To Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Arnold (Julia Cole), a daughter in June, 1923.
- 1911 To Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Steinhagen (Mary Kelly), 721 51st St., Milwaukee, a son, Robert E., March 24.
- 1914 To Prof. and Mrs. Barry Hayes, 303 Princeton Ave., Madison, a daughter, April 20.
- 1915 To Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Herthel, a daughter, Jane Edith, April 11.
- 1915 To Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kidder, a daughter, Nancy Louise, January 25.
- 1916 To Mr. and Mrs. Harry Benedict (Frances Holmburg), Scarborough, N. Y., a son, Russell Reed, February 5.
- 1916 To Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Hayes (May Westcott), a son, Arthur Michael, Jr., April 19.
- 1917 To Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Loomis (Florence Ely), a son, John Ely, April 25.
- ex*17 To Dr. and Mrs. Sylvester Kehl, 332 E. 61st St., Chicago, Ill., a son, Kenneth Robert, April 23.
- 1919 To Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Farnum (Marion Gratz), Orlando, Fla., a daughter, March 18.
- 1919 To Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Tally (Delia Proudfit), Glen Ranch, San Bernardino Co., Calif., a daughter, Patricia Anne, in January.
- 1919 To Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Malzan, West Bend, a son, Richard Rayome, April 4.

DEATHS

EMMA PHILLIPS VROMAN, '67, died on May 13 at the home of her sister, Mrs. Edna Chynoweth of Madison, with whom she had been living during the past eight months.

Emma Phillips was born in the town of Sun Prairie on May 30, 1849. Four years after graduation from the University she married Charles Vroman, '68, and moved with him to Green Bay, where she resided until 1900. Later they made their home in Chicago.

EMMA PHILLIPS VROMAN

Mrs. Vroman has been a member of the General Alumni Association for many years; two years ago she and the late Mrs. Annie Gorham Marston were the only members of her class to return for their reunion, and their appearance on the platform as representatives of the oldest reuniting class is one of the outstanding memories of that reunion.

Besides her sister with whom she made her home, Mrs. Vroman is survived by a brother, Henry Phillips, and one son, John Vroman, all of Madison.

JOHN BOTTENSEK, '75, judge of Outagamie County court, died at his home in Appleton on April 28.

HERBERT KINNE, '89, member of the Wisconsin bar for the past thirty-five years, died at his home in Milwaukee on April 29.

JESSE WINTER, ex'90, of Eatonville, N. J., died recently in Philadelphia, Pa., where he had established an advertising business.

THOMAS McBEAN, '93, died on March 22, after a prolonged illness. Mr. McBean has been a member of the General Alumni Association for the past ten years. Under date of February 16 a letter from him reads: "I have been an invalid for the past two years, the last one in bed most of the time, at times very sick. But I have not forgotten my dear old Alumni Association and often hoped for the time to come when I could write you."

The following tribute by William F. Kirk was sent in by the kindness of Mr. McBean's daughter, Emma Stansbury of Chippewa Falls:

TOM McBEAN

The town and he were young together
Long years ago.

He knew its fair and stormy weather,
Its joy and woe.

He saw the pine crests waving high
Against a now forgotten sky.

He knew the town when strong men came
From the world's ends.

Rough men they were, in a rough game,
But they were friends!

There was less polish—and less crime
When Tom McBean was in his prime!

Old comrade of another day,
Your race is run.

Nor more you'll dream the hours away
From sun to sun.

You'll find the old friends you loved best
Beyond the shadows in the West.

JOSEPH ALVIN ANDERSON, '97, died of pneumonia at Covington, Ky., on March 1. Burial was at his old home in Argyle.

ERNEST VON GELTCH, '11, passed away, after an heroic fight for health, at the Wauwatosa sanitarium in April. He leaves his wife and one brother, Prof. Waldemar von Geltch, formerly of the Music faculty.

ALICE LOTZ, ex'11, of Prairie du Chien, died recently after a prolonged illness. Miss Lotz enrolled as a student at the University in 1907, but because of ill health was obliged to withdraw in her junior year.

During the period of her illness Miss Lotz was a patient at different intervals at the Bradley Memorial Hospital and took a sympathetic interest in that institution. In appreciation of services received there she leaves a bequest of $1,000 to be used for the benefit of the crippled children under treatment.

GUY HAWTHORNE, '13, passed away on April 9 at Indianapolis. Death was caused by tuberculosis. Burial was at Monroe.

FRED G. BUDIG, '15, died on February 6 at Waterloo.

REUBEN BROWN, '19, died in Fond du Lac on May 8 after a two weeks' illness with pneumonia. Burial was at Madison.

HAROLD SKOW, ex'25, died on May 1 in Racine after a lingering illness. Mr. Skow served eleven months in France with Motor Transport Company 488 at Brest. Upon his return he entered the University but was forced to give up his studies because of ill health.

THOMAS EVANS BRITTINGHAM, Madison, a former Regent and member of the Board of Visitors, died on board a steamship returning from South America on May 3.

Mr. Brittingham was born at Hannibal, Mo., in 1860; he received his college education at Hannibal College. Coming to MacFarland in 1885 he launched an enterprise in the lumber business that has netted him millions and enabled him to become a public benefactor. To his generosity the City of Madison owes the park that bears his name, and the University, Lincoln Statue, the Bust of John Muir, ex'67, LL.D. '97, that of the late President Van Hise, '79, and a $25,000 pledge to Bradley Memorial. At his death these gifts were augmented by bequests of $50,000 to the city and $350,000 to the University. He has held many offices of trust, including the chairmanship of the Board of Visitors, the Forest Hill Cemetery Commission, and the State Park Board; while a member of the Board of Regents he served as chairman of the Executive Committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Brittingham sailed in February on what gave promise of being a most pleasant trip down the Atlantic Coast, across the continent of South America, and back up the Pacific Coast. They were planning to be back in time for Mrs. Brittingham to reunite with her class in June.

In December, 1889, Mr. Brittingham was married to Mary Clark, '89. She and three children survive him: Thomas, Jr., '21, of Madison, Dr. Harold of Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Byron Reid of Riverside, Ill. Burial was at Madison.

PROF. IRA S. GRIFFITH, chairman of the department of Industrial Education and Applied Arts, died on April 31 after an illness of three weeks. A resolution of the faculty expressing its collective and personal loss was voted and placed on its minutes to read as follows:

"Born at Holton, Kansas, July 25, 1874; graduate of Eureka College Academy and of Eureka College with the degree of bachelor of arts, 1896; pursued technical courses at Lewis Institute and Bradley Polytechnic Institute during several summers; principal Greenwood, Nebraska, high school, 1896-7; teacher, Bloomington, Illinois, 1897-1900; professor of mathematics, Eureka College, 1900-03; supervisor of manual arts, Oak Park, Illinois, 1903-12; professor of manual arts, Bradley Polytechnic, 1912-13; professor of manual arts, University of Missouri, 1913-19; professor of industrial education, University of Illinois, 1910-20; professor of industrial education and chairman of the department of industrial education and applied arts, University of Wisconsin, 1920-24; department editor of American Builder; author of 12 texts and reference books on industrial arts; died in Madison, Wisconsin, at 4:30 o'clock, April 30, 1924.

"The loss which the University sustains is measured in terms of professional worth of a leader and the strength of enduring personal relationships established during Professor Griffith's brief years at Wisconsin. Despite too short a span of life, his service to educational progress will survive the generation of men who now mourn the passing of a friend from their midst."

Peter M. Posepny, '25, a junior in commerce, was shot and killed on the night of May 12 by Patrick Powers of Madison, who claims to have fired to scare what he supposed was a prowler. Authorities are probing this most lamentable affair. Mr. Posepny was held in high esteem by his fellow students.

Mr. Posepny is survived by his parents, one brother, and one sister. Burial was at his home in Two Rivers.

CLASS NEWS

1859

A tablet to the memory of the late Bishop Samuel FALLOWS, one-time president of Illinois Wesleyan University, was recently unveiled at that institution; Miss Alice Fallows, the Bishop's daughter, was invited to unveil the memorial. Dr. Fallows' term of service at Illinois Wesleyan was from 1873-1875. The tablet is the gift of the Illinois department of the W. R. C.

1860

Sec'y—J. B. PARKINSON, Madison
516 Wisconsin Ave.

1861

Sec'y—W. W. CHURCH, California
Soldier's Home, Los Angeles Co.

1863

Sec'y—FRANK WATERMAN, Omaha, Nebr.
1726 S. 28th St.

1865

Sec'y—ANNIE CHAMBERLAIN
Lake Geneva, 832 Geneva St.

1866

Sec'y—MARGARET SPEARS GILL
La Grange, Ill., 37 N. 5th Ave.

1867

Sec'y—EMMA PHILLIPS VROMAN, Chicago
25 E. Walton Pl.

1868

Sec'y—J. G. TAYLOR
Arlington, Mass.

1869

Sec'y—JANE NAGEL HENDERSON.
R. F. D. 2, N. Yakima, Wash.

Reune in June!

1870

Sec'y—B. W. JONES, Madison
17 Langdon St.

Ellen CHYNOWETH Lyon takes an active interest in the civic life of San Jose, Calif., where she is president of the Santa Clara County Travelers Aid Society, the Good Cheer Health Center, and the San Jose branch of the National League for Woman's Service; her address is R. C. Box 236.

1872

Sec'y—H. W. HOYT, Pasadena, Cal.
965 New York Ave.

1873

Sec'y—M. S. FRAWLEY, Eau Claire
326 4th St.

1874

Sec'y—A. D. CONOVER, Madison
421 N. Murray St.

Reune in June!

The class which celebrates its fiftieth anniversary this year numbered forty—a larger class than any which preceded it. The forty included twenty-six men and fourteen women.

Of the women, eight are living: Lillian Park Quirk, Florence Pennock Leavitt, Mary McCoy Burnham, Mary Dwight Akers, Kitty McGonegal Morgan, Marion Fay Dodge, Mary Carrier Howe, Henrietta Crane Lyman. These matrons plan to celebrate this rare occasion.

Of the men, we cannot speak with certainty; but hope several of them who are still on this side the "Great Divide" will be with us.

"One of the Girls."

Change of address: Kate McGonegal Morgan, Madison, to 136 N. Butler.

1875

Sec'y—CLARA MOORE HARPER, Madison
227 Langdon St.

1876

Sec'y—F. W. HALL, Madison
842 Prospect Place.

1877

Sec'y—A. C. PRESCOTT, Sheboygan

1878

Sec'y—F. E. NOYES, Marinette
644 Marinette Ave.

1879

Sec'y—J. B. SIMPSON, Shullsburg

Reune in June!

1880

Sec'y—ANNIE DINSDALE SWENSON
Mendota Beach, Madison.

"Please page Hiram SAGER, former president of the Board of Trade in Chicago," writes W. H. Goodall, '81, of Leaf, Miss. "Last heard of he had returned from Picnic Point duck hunting, had been tipped over in Lake Mendota, swam ashore, and was only fifteen minutes late. That night we went out with him and fished out his new double-barrel shotgun from some thirty feet of water. He then gave 'Regulus to the Romans'—best we have ever heard. The other June time he was reported up in northern Wisconsin—still playing Isaac Walton with the pickerel." Mr. Sager answers from Chicago, Ill., where he is Grain Commissioner at 327 So. La Salle St.

1881

Sec'y—F. S. WHITE, Chicago, Ill.
5308 Hyde Park Blvd.

W. H. GOODALL, Leaf, Miss., writes "We all wish to hear from Edward Brady; he's high up (not in the Smith building) but in law. When visiting Dean Frank Porter in Los Angeles we tried also to hob nob a bit with Teapot Dome T. J. Walsh, '84. We did not make out, but had the pleasure of listening to a very able address on the conservation of the great water powers of the U. S. Thomas is some conservationist. We have known and felt the magnetism of Joseph Cook, have listened spellbound to the Plumed Knight and have often wondered over Bishop Bowman's Chemistry of the Atonement. We have followed Stonemason McIntire knee deep in June-time meadows and have listened to the rushing torrent of ideas from Bishop Bashford, '73. Some of us have danced with joy with Whitcomb Riley gathering Doodle Bugs for the kiddies, and have swung our caps in air, over at Old Monona's camping ground in the glorious processions of Big Blunderers (Talmadge), and mayhap have listened with uplifted eyes to the eloquence of Drs. Crosby and Hall (John Hall). We have felt the inspiration of Garfield: "He walketh on the wings of the wind"; we have mourned with Booths and Barretts in Hamlet, Ward in Virginius, inimitable Jo Jefferson in poor Rip, and the incomparable Irving in The Bells. We have followed Bishop Mallielieu swaying his thousands and have seen the scintillating lightnings of our Huntly and know of the moving powers of Beecher at Five Points. We remember that magnificent burst of eloquence for the downtrodden at the Old Colosseum: "Thou shalt not crucify mankind upon a cross of gold!" We have cheered, with you, the oral battle of the giants, our Vilas, '58, and Ingersoll, at Grant's return. But never in all these years have we been more greatly moved than when our beloved Henry J. Taylor, '78, sent forth his clarion cry: "Truth is almighty and must prevail!" It came home to the heart of man like the dying moan of the Crucified One. "Canst thou crucify thy God? Oh death! Thou king of terrors, thou canst not bind him captive.

Oh Truth! Thou hast now a matchless champion, for the Son of the Almighty God suffers Martydom for Truth."

1882

Sec'y—DR. L. R. HEAD, Madison
416 Wisconsin Ave.

1883

Sec'y—A. C. UMBREIT, Milwaukee
912 Shepard Ave.

"I am hoping to meet old friends again in June," writes Amelia Wood Churchill from Monroe.

Free—If any member desires any or all of volumes 13 to 20 inclusive of the Wisconsin Alumni Magazine, we are in position to furnish same free through courtesy of Dr. R. B. Steele, '83, of Vanderbilt University, Nashville, Tenn.

1884

Sec'y—W. H. MINER, Menasha
330 Park St.

Reune in June!

Dear Classmates of 1884:

I have had a good many replies to the circular letter sent out in February, and these replies indicate that we are going to have a large attendance at our Fortieth Reunion.

The local committee at Madison are arranging for a splendid good time for all those who come back, and I believe that everyone who does not come back will miss it greatly. We probably won't have another reunion until we have our fiftieth, and in the very nature of things a good many of us won't be here at that time.

I have no doubt that a good many more than have indicated are expecting to be back but have been neglectful about answering the letter of February 2. I am leaving for the Pacific Coast in two weeks, to be gone until June 17, and I would like mighty well before I leave to have replies from every member of the class so that we will know definitely how many are going to be there so that the Madison committee can make the proper arrangements.

Won't you let us hear from you by return mail if possible, and I sincerely hope that you will be able to say that you will be with us on the morning of June 21.

The following are surely coming: Gen. C. R. Boardman, Leslie Brown, Clara Baker Flett, W. H. Miner, Harry Moseley, Marshall Parkinson, Theron Bean, C. A. Boorman, Sarah Clark Cabeen, Florence Cornelius Flohill, Julia Ray Jordan, Prof. Julius Olson Carolyn Howe Porter, Judge A. J. Vinje, Herman Fehr, Herman Grotophorst, Dr. A. J. Ochsner, C. G. Wade, Edward Wilson, McClellan Dodge, W. F. Duffy, Judge Levi Bancroft, Judge Arthur Goss. The following are hoping to be with us: Clarence Hicks, Milton Updegraf, Walter Mason, and Andrew Sutherland.

Yours truly,

W. H. MINER

P. S. Most of the railroads of the United States have granted a concession of one and one-half fare to members of the Alumni Association and dependent members of their families attending the alumni gathering at Madison in June.

A. J. Ochsner, Chicago physician, has recently presented the University with twenty etchings. After being placed on exhibit in the Museum they will be hung in different buildings on the campus. Dr. Oschner has recently been honored with the presidency of the American Surgical Association.

1885

Sec'y—O. D. BRANDENBURG, Madison
114 S. Carroll St.

A dinner was held in honor of Dr. L. H. PAMMEL, president of the Iowa Academy of Science and professor of botany at Iowa State College, Ames, on the evening of May 2. More than one hundred and fifty gathered at the banquet to do honor to his name. For more than three decades Dr. Pammel has rendered great service in research and teaching. Dr. William Trelease, LL. D., '02, now of Illinois, under whom Dr. Pammel studied at Wisconsin, Dr. Herbert Osborn of Ohio State, Dr. N. E. Hansen of Brookings, S. D., and Dr. R. E. Buchanan of Ames were speakers at this gathering at which Dr. J. N. Martin of Iowa State College presided as toastmaster.

L. H. PAMMEL

Mrs. Rose SCHUSTER Taylor, who attended the meeting writes: "The evening was inspiring. We were in the presence of the realities of life as these men reviewed the work and service of Dr. Pammel as student, teacher, author, and as chairman of the State Park Commission of Iowa. His life of research and service has made the University of Wisconsin proud of him."

Bertha PITMAN Sharp was elected to the county board from one of the Madison precincts, following a previous appointment. She is the first woman to serve in Dane county. Mrs. Sharp had keen masculine opposition and won by a narrow margin of less than 30 votes.—In the current Wisconsin Magazine O. D. BRANDENBURG has an extended article on "General Grant in Wisconsin," in which are many original anecdotes of the famous soldier. Also it is shown that Grant, while a resident of Galena for eleven months prior to the Civil War, often was up in Grant County collecting or buying for the leather concern at Galena, established by his father and operated by his brothers. He participated in the dedication of the normal school at Platteville on September 8, 1868, two months before his election to the presidency; spent three days at Madison in September, 1880, attending the state fair, a few hours of one of these days, September 8 at Devils Lake, where he gallantly refused a glass of wine because Agatha Pearl, a 13-year-old girl, had just done so; and in the previous June was present at a great soldiers' reunion at Milwaukee. His last visit to Wisconsin was that to Madison. He then was 58, and died five years later. General Grant refused liquor in Milwaukee also.

1886

Sec'y—EMMA NUNNS PEASE
Wauwatosa

1887

Sec'y—KATHARINE ALLEN, Madison
228 Langdon St.

Change of address: Leora CHASE Sherman, 2315 Irving Ave., S., Minneapolis, Minn.

1889

Sec'y—ERNEST WARNER, Madison
109 W. Main St.

Reune in June!

Edgar NETHERCUT, secretary of the Western Society of Engineers, lectured at the University recently on "The Engineer's Prospects." Mr. Nethercut was chief engineer and later director of the Paige Iron Works and Buda Company of Chicago for seventeen years. He was a consulting engineer with offices in Chicago, New York and Washington, for ten years prior to his election to his present office in 1917. Since then the society has increased in membership and activity as a result of his effort and interest in the society.

1888

Sec'y—SOPHIE LEWIS BRIGGS, Madison,
137 W. Gilman St.

Dr. Joseph BLOODGOOD, Baltimore, Md., who has achieved nation-wide fame among members of the medical profession as one of the foremost specialists in the treatment of cancer, has recently perfected a new type of X-ray tube, whereby, because of increased radiation of curative rays, the exposure of patients is reduced to twenty minutes.

JOSEPH BLOODGOOD

E. E. BROSSARD, Madison, revisor of statutes, recently was taken into honorary membership by Gamma Eta Gamma, honorary legal fraternity.—Louis BLATZ

E. E. BROSSARD

has retired from active business and is established in a beautiful new home in Santa Monica, commanding "a view of the mountains where they meet the sea." His address is 524 8th Street.

Change of address: Fred HUNT, 104 22nd St., Milwaukee.

1890

Sec'y—W. N. PARKER, Madison
1908 Jefferson St.

Citizens of Wausau, where Andrew KREUTZER has been a prominent attorney for many years, are loyally supporting Senator Kreutzer as candidate for governor on the Republican ticket. The Pilot, a paper Democratic in its political leanings, says of him: "It should be a matter of congratulation to the good people of Wisconsin that so able a man of high moral purpose and progressive vigor as Andrew L. Kreutzer should become a candidate. He has made a success of life and his success has meant the success of others. He is one of the clean kind of men, sterling, strong, and understanding, the true type of American citizen. He stands for all that is best in life, for the finer and bigger things that go to make a better and bigger manhood and womanhood. His character, his ability, and his human fellowship make him an ideal man to take the lead in this chief office to which citizens can raise a fellow-man." Mrs. Kreutzer was Mary KNOX, '87, before her marriage to our future governor.

1891

Sec'y—ELSBETH VEERHUSEN KIND
Madison
1711 Van Hise Ave.

George HEINDEL is vice president of The Phoenix Trust Company of Ottumwa, Iowa, where he is a successful attorney and banker. At Warren, Ill., he was associated with Will Carlton, who got his electrical start there building an old plunge battery and installing electric bells in '89. Will is now superintendent of 700 men in electrical work in New York City.

Change of address: Lucy CHURCHILL Baldwin, 411 N. Edwards St., Newberg, Ore.

1892

Sec'y—MARILLA ANDREWS BUCHWALTER, 805 E. High St., Springfield, O.

W. H. HOPKINS, pastor of Olivet Community Congregational Church at Los Angeles, spoke on "The Next Four Hundred Years" at the annual meeting of the Southern California Congregational Conference in May.

1893

Sec'y—JULIA MURPHY, Madison
635 Howard Place

Lewis MYERS, associate justice of the California supreme court, has been appointed to fill the unexpired term of Chief Justice Wilbur, the new secretary of the navy.

1894

Sec'y—CAROLINE YOUNG, Madison
103 E. Wilson St.

Reune in June!

The reports are coming in from those who already know that they are coming—from those who hope that they can come—and from those who regret that they cannot be with us.

Your committee have planned a full day for June 11, commencing with the registration and welcome at Music Hall at ten o'clock. The banquet will be at noon at the new Lorraine Hotel—plenty of room for all, even if you do not arrive until the last minute. The Law Class will meet under the same roof, near enough so that you may keep an eye on your better half if she belongs to another college—and far enough away so that you may reminisce to your heart's content without fear of giving away any secrets.

In the afternoon entertainment will be provided which will give you an appetite for the Alumni Dinner at the Gym. After that come the President's reception and the Alumni Ball at Lathrop Hall.

Can any of you afford to miss all that? So don't forget the day and date—don't forget to bring the chips off the old block. We want all the old blocks and all the chips to make the reunion complete.

Among the Phi Beta Kappas of 1924 is Carleton Meyer, the son of B. H. MEYER.—Abbie FISKE Eaton was hostess to the members of the Wisconsin Alumnae Association at the Woman's University Club of Los Angeles at their April meeting.—Caroline BURGESS, since her return from Europe, has again taken up her position as a teacher in the Boyle Heights High School of Los Angeles.—Charles SLAMA, writes from Wahoo, Nebr., where he is engaged in the practice of law with Slama and Donato, that he is looking forward with great pleasure to the Reunion. "It doesn't seem to be possible that thirty years have flown by since leaving the old school on the hill," he says. Mr. Slama accompanies his letter with a remittance of Life Membership dues.

1895

Sec'y—ANNA GRIFFITHS, Madison
131 W. Gilman

"The hope of the theater today lies in the amateur and non-professional theatrical groups—'laboratory workers,' I like to call them," asserted Zona Gale, Wisconsin novelist, dramatist, poet, who recently returned from New York where she assisted in the production of her latest play, "Mr. Pitt," at the Morosco theater. "I speak from personal experience when I say that practically the only agent for encouragement and promotion of talent among our young people in the Middle West, the only channel through which it can be developed to reach Broadway success, is the theater laboratory." Recently Miss Gale spoke to the Collegiate League of Women Voters at the University Y. M. C. A., where she said, "The selfish American youth of yesterday is being slowly transformed by college training. Our supreme hope of winning people who are still in the frightful channel of selfish expressions is today vested in university students."

Frank WHEELIHAN has removed to Portland, Oregon, but is still represented at the University by his daughter, Harriot, who is living at Chadbourne Hall.

Change of address: Dr. John LUETSCHER, 12 E. Eager St., Baltimore, Md.

1896

Sec'y—G. F. THOMPSON, Chicago, Ill.
4100 W. Madison St.

Walter ARNDT is secretary of The Citizens' Union of the City of New York, with offices at 177 William St.

1897

Sec'y—HELEN PRAY SHELDON, Madison
102 Spooner St.

Frederick CLAUSEN, president of the Van Brunt Manufacturing Company at Hiron, was the speaker at the banquet held in celebration of the twenty-fourth birthday of the U. W. School of Commerce recently. Mr. Clausen believes that Wisconsin has over-reached itself by levying the present high income tax on industries and has not accomplished the end hoped for. "Because of the large income taxes imposed on industries," he said, "many concerns have moved their main offices outside the state. Our state has not only lost the power to tax the companies, and the personal incomes of the men engaged in the business, but it has lost the benefit of the ability and influence of prominent and capable business men. It has forgotten that beside the ability to pay, there is also the ability not to pay."

Change of address: Mr. and Mrs. Richard LLOYD JONES (Georgia Hayden, '96), Tulsa, Okla., to 1724 W. Cameron St.; A. R. HAGER, P. O. Box 1, Shanghai, China.

1898

Sec'y—MAY CHURCH JOHN, Milwaukee
635 Shepard Ave.

1899

Sec'y—MINNIE WESTOVER CHASE
Madison, 1050 Woodrow St.

Opportunity knocks at every man's door once!
She has knocked eight times for you!
She will not knock again!
We want you in our picture!
Think what it will mean to you to be there!
And to the rest of us to see you there!

This is the list of those who have heard and heeded: A. A. Chamberlain, M. W. Griffith, Alice Walden Weaver, Frank Kurtz, Guy Meeker, Charles Hutson, Herman Frye, Charles Baxter, Mabel Riley

Marsh, Edw. Voigt, Oswald Schreiner, Michael Foley, Henry Stahl, Bernard Heyn, Carl Hambuechen, Charles Vilas, Edith Gibson, John Kelley, Theodore Torkelson, Helen Verplanck, Nathan Curtis, Warren Persons, George Martin, Bert Driver, Warren Jones, Mabel Pengra Foster, Hiram Sawyer, Harry Seymour, Wm. Sieker, John Barr, Ernst von Briessen, Frederick Hartwell, Robert Lowry, Cora Desmond, Gladys Gale Lockhart, Walter Gale, Gideon Benson, Helen Andrews, Emma Bibbs Scheer, Daisy Campbell Jensch, Clarence Edwards, Charles Gabel, L. A. Anderson, Wm. Dietrich, Louis Reed, Gray Montgomery, Louis Olson, Myra Kimball, Dr. F. J. Gaenslen, Dr. Hugo Maehl, Ferne Ryan Allen, Laura Weld, John Hagemann, Grace Cloes Stedman, Stephen Gilman, William Kittle, Emerson Ela, Matilda Cook, Edith Nelson Donovan, Wanda Ellison Thomas, Minnie Westover Chase, Eliza Shaw Stamm, Joseph Shaw, Irwin Brandel, Jay Baldwin, Richard Logeman, Carl Keller, John Emerson, Arthur Scheiber.

You can't afford not to be with us. Make your reservations at once through EMERSON ELA, 1 W. Main St., Madison.

Dr. Charles Allen, head of the department of Botany, was elected a member of the National Academy of Science at its recent annual meeting held in Washington. Election to the academy is the highest honor awarded to American scientists.

Change of address: Guy MINNICK, broker, 2212 Grand Ave., Davenport, Ia.

1900

Sec'y—J. N. KOFFEND, Jr., Appleton
864 Prospect Ave.

Alma MOSER Reinsch was recently honor guest at a dinner given by the Chinese students at the University.—Clarence ALFRED is in the sugar refining business at 117 Wall St., New York City.

1901

Sec'y—CLARA STILLMAN HARTMAN
Milwaukee, 4001 Highland Blvd.

1902

Sec'y—JANE SHERRILL, Madison
City Y. W. C. A.

"The announcement of the candidacy of Harry SAUTHOFF for the vacancy in the state senate caused by Senator Huber's campaign for lieutenant governor will meet with the unqualified approval of sport fans both in Dane county and throughout the state," says the Madison Capital Times for April 21. "No cleaner sportsman ever lived than this same Harry Sauthhoff. Since his graduation from the Law School he has been a close student of all forms of athletics and he is perhaps one of the best posted men along these lines in the surrounding country. Harry will do all in his power to further clean sports and his presence in the senate would be a big boost to sports. He might even expedite the building of Wisconsin's new field house which is sadly needed at the University to enable Wisconsin to compete on an equal basis with other Conference schools in all branches of sport. Let's get behind Harry in the fall elections and put him over with a bang! Don't delay! Boost now, all summer and drop that old ballot in the box at the fall elections."

In an article in Forward for April, Laura SAGE JONES, chairman of the Get-out-the-Vote Committee of the Delavan League of Women Voters, says: "The women are all ready to work in September to get out the vote for the primary and the then harder task of seeing that every one who votes in the primary stands by and votes at the November election, and with the lists which we have available and which will be kept up to date we will know the name of every eligible voter in the city and his or her record while here—whether either has cast a vote and at what elections."

"I do not want to miss the Magazine, with its pleasant messages from Wisconsin. I am here in the office of the Wichita, Kans., high school, but shall return home to Bloomington at the close of the school year. With good wishes to the Wisconsin Alumni Association, and greetings to U. W. classmates of 1902, especially, I remain, one of Wisconsin's loyal alumnae, Emma GLASIER."

Change of address: O. E. RUHOFF, care Marathon Battery Co., Wausau.

1903

Sec'y—W. H. HEIN, St. Louis Mo.
788 Euclid Ave.

Dr. Rawson PICKARD of San Diego, Calif., with Mrs. Pickard (Bertha Riedesel), sailed recently for Paris where they expect to spend the next two or three months. Friends can reach them by writing in care of the American Express Company at Paris.

Tore TEIGEN is an attorney with Teigen and Davis, Sioux Falls, S. Dak.—The Journal of the American Medical Association mentions an extensive experiment in heliotherapy to be undertaken at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine. The work, sponsored by a large donation from Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Taft, will be under the direction of the department of surgery with Dr. George HEUER as head. Julia ANDERSON Schnetz, Racine, has been appointed by Governor Blaine to the Board of Visitors, to succeed Judge E. B. BELDEN, '86. Her duties on the board begin July 1 and continue for four years. With other members of the board she will make investigations and study of recommendations of the board of control and will attend meetings of the board of visitors at Madison monthly.

Change of address: D. N. CONDIT, broker, D. N. Condit and Co., 25 Broadway, New York City.

1904
Sec'y—FLORENCE MOFFAT BENNETT
Madison, 322 S. Hamilton St.

Jubilee Class
REUNION
Twenty Years Out

"Blood and gore
Blood and gore
Varsity, Varsity
Nineteen Four!"

DEAR CLASSMATES: Come out of your hiding places and, in loud and clarion voices, tell a bright blue world, your classmates, and the undersigned that you are coming to the grand Twenty-year Reunion of the Jubilee Class on June 20 and 21.

No Use Hiding Out—Come!

THE MADISON MEMBERS of the Class are all set for your entertainment. They had a noble and powerfully stimulating class dinner meet on May 14 at which so much enthusiasm was generated, manifested, and stored away for future use that the success of this reunion affair is completely assured. It's just a matter of your being here to enjoy the festivities.

IMPORTANT—The General Committee has its heart set on adding 500 feet of film to the Class Movie taken in 1914. This class movie is a distinctive '04 stunt, and we want to keep it up to date. Art Quan and Prof. Diemer are cooking up a gorgeous scenario. Like all great movie directors, Quan thinks he needs some money for production. Therefore, we need your contribution. Even though a Cruel Fate may prevent you from coming back, don't let that interfere with sending Bill Kinne your check. You'll get your money's worth when you come back to future reunions.

DO NOT FAIL TO GET a Convention Rate Certificate from your local agent when you buy a ticket for Madison, even though you come from near by. Your certificate will help to make the required quota and enable those who come from afar to make a considerable saving in fares.

WRITE TO YOUR PARTICULAR FRIENDS in the class, if you plan to return, and urge them to come back—and COME, COME, COME!

The General Committee
By L. F. Van Hagan, Chairman.

Mail has been returned from the following. We would greatly appreciate having information concerning the whereabouts of these people: Jesse Suter, Harry Hayes; Ralph Ellis; Geo. H. Brownell; Louis Morehouse; Wallace Benedict; Edward Terrell; Wm. F. Luebke; William P. Bush; Lottie Ogilvie; Walter Hintze; Clarence Fisher.

P. M. RIPLEY, president of the American Sugar Transit Corp. and of the Butler County Railroad, has offices at 117 Wall St., New York City.—The Wisconsin State Journal for April 27 prints a feature story on Leslie QUIRK, Madison novelist for boys, and his literary achievements. Quoting Mr. Quirk's theories on juvenile works, the article reads:

"The story for boys is necessarily a moral story, which is entirely different from a story with a moral. It must please the boy for whom it is written, the parents who guide his reading, and the editor who buys it. That is a nice equation, but not as complex as it sounds. At heart most boys are honest and clean and possess a keen sense of right and wrong. It is a trite truism, of course, that the boy reader imagines himself the hero in reading a story. But I wonder how many people will accept my theory that the hero in a story is also the writer. In any event, I try to visualize myself as the hero, not as I am in real life, but as I should like to be. I am proud of the fact that in my 15 books and 200 or 300 short stories I have never written a story for boys in which any character was thoroughly bad. No matter what reforms the action of the story achieves, no matter what bad ends wicked kids may reach, I realize that I can never hope to erase the contamination spread to the reader by such characters. My best stories, I think, are those in which the action arouses dormant qualities in the hero. In utilizing the courage motif, for example, I stress the fact that the truest courage is that founded upon the fighting back of fear, upon the overcoming of fear to accomplish some definite result."

Change of address: Henry JEBENS, care Jebens & Butenschoen, lawyers, 221 Masonic Temple, Davenport, Iowa; R. E. HAGENAH, consulting engineer, 1540 Broadway, New York City; John Tracy, lawyer, 128 Broadway, New York City; Harry McDONALD, 6685 Hollywood Blvd., Hollywood, Calif.

1905

Sec'y—LILLIAN TAYLOR JERRARD
Winnetka, Ill.

R. M. NICHOLSON, Canton, O., for the past nine years with the United Alloy Steel companies as advertising manager, has resigned to become associated in an executive capacity with the Union Metal Manufacturing Company. Mr. Nicholson is an accredited speaker for the Associated Advertising clubs of the World and a frequent contributor to the business press and other publications. He is also a member of the board of directors of the Canton Bank and Trust Company. At his retirement from the company with which he had been associated, his co-workers presented him with a diamond scarf pin, a gold knife, and a fireside pipe, in token of their regard for him. Julia COLE Arnold writes that after her usual summer in New Hampshire she will move to Newton, Mass., where her husband has been called to the Eliot Church. She adds what she calls a more important bit of news: "Our fourth youngster born last June did not complete the male quartet, but is a soprano! Good luck to the Magazine. I read every word."

Change of address: H. B. HAWKINS, Chinese Customs Service, Wuchow, Kwangsi, South China; W. H. GILBERT, 375 Summit Ave., Hackensack, N. J.; W. H. CRAIG, 133 W. Washington St., Chicago, Ill.; G. A. RODENBAECK, 512 Plant St., Utica, N. Y.

1906

Sec'y—L. W. BRIDGMAN, Madison
1910 Kendall Ave.

Bertha DAVIS is on the research staff of the Nat'l Industrial Conference Board, N. Y. C.

Change of address: Harry HELLER, Milwaukee, to 512 Bradford Ave.

1908

Sec'y—F. H. ELWELL, Madison
2025 Chadbourne Ave.

1908 HISTORY

The many friends of the 1908 Class History may wish to know where the dicens it is. Getting material and subscriptions proved a bigger job than anticipated, but the artistic and financial success of the book is now assured. It will be mailed to subscribers about the end of July.

Where there was a check to record the transaction, formal receipts have not been sent to subscribers. The Historian hereby thanks them, en masse, for their help in putting the book across.

Contents of the history: Names, addresses, and brief biographies for about 400 out of the (about) 410 living 1908 graduates. Same, for about 120 members of the class who did not take degrees, or who graduated with other classes but still cherish their 1908 affiliation. Something over half of the biographies came as personal letters from the people concerned, so the general effect of the book is that of getting a large bunch of mail from your friends. The volume will also contain names, and in most cases biographies, of the 47 deceased members of the class.

If you have not subscribed you still can—$1.35. Address G. B. Hill, Box 67, Station F, New York, N. Y.

George HEWITT, who is associated with the National Tube Co., Wheeling, W. Va., has been promoted from superintendent of blast furnaces to superintendent of blast furnaces, steel works, and rolling mills.

Change of address: Delgracia GAY Walker, Vero, Fla., Box 796; Charles FISCHER, N. Y. Mg'r, Lindemann & Hoverson Co., 405 Lexington Ave., N. Y. C.; C. W. FRENCH, resident vice president, Royal Indemnity Co., and Eagle Indemnity Co., 164 W. Jackson Blvd., Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Fox (Erma Wohlenberg, '10), Chicago, Ill., to 6824 Clyde Ave.

1907

Sec'y—RALPH GUGLER, Milwaukee
694 Broadway

Change of address: H. C. HOPSON, public utilities, Vanderbilt Hotel, N. Y. C.; Josephine ERWIN, teacher, Grand Ave. and 57th St., Wauwatosa; Helen FAY Johnson, 147 Cedar St., Wauwatosa; David LEE, U. of Tennessee, Knoxville; Siri ANDREWS, librarian, 206 E. 33rd St., N. Y. C.

1909

Sec'y—CORNELIA ANDERSON LINDSTROM, Ames, Iowa

Reune in June!

TO ALL '09 ERS: Five and ten years ago, '09 put it all over '04, '14, and other reunion classes in the Alumni Parade and at the Banquet in numbers and in every other respect. We are going to be on top again this year. '09 may start slowly, but has always made good.

In our college days we put up the greatest class rush ever staged at Wisconsin; we had the liveliest student politics; and we had more athletes who brought fame to our Alma Mater than any other class before or since. In the fifteen years since Prexy gave us our diplomas we have had a busy life, but we have made good. We are not afraid to line up with other classes, and as for our families, why, we've got it on all of them.

Every classmate who came to our other two reunions is going to be back this year, because we had a bully time. Everybody who could not be back for these earlier reunions should not miss this chance to renew acquaintances, to exchange experiences, and to demonstrate once more that '09 is

"Pretty darn fine,
Pretty darn fine,
Varsity, Varsity 1909."

Let's all come, and bring our husbands and wives and our boys and girls of whom we are so proud.

B. S. REYNOLDS, Class President

E. E. Witte, chief of the Legislative Reference Library, Madison, writes: "As soon as our president, Ben Reynolds, returns from the East we are going to get our Madison '09 group together and lay our plans for the Reunion. You may think that we have been very slow in getting started, but '09 has never needed the same kind of pulling and urging that other classes have had to resort to to make a creditable showing. Count upon us to be there with the bells on."

L. P. LOCHNER, European correspondent for the Federated Press, recently wrote a character sketch of Maxim Gorki, the famous Russian novelist, which appeared in the following periodicals and newspapers: Nation, Berliner Tageblatt; Politiken Copenhagen; Tribuna, Prague; La Nacion Buenos Aires; Der Abend, Vienna; Nurn- berg Zeitung; the sketch deals chiefly with Gorki's position on woman.

Change of address: Eva LEWIS Kranich, from Winnetka, Ill., to 1205 Wisconsin St., Racine; C. F. Gopen, press service, U. S. Dept. Agr., Washington, D. C.; Lester Moss, factory manager, 66 S. Maple Ave., East Orange, N. J.; Clarence FULLER advertising manager, Photoplay, Plandome, L. I., N. Y.; A. M. MINNICK, publishers representative, 280 Madison Ave., N. Y. C.

1910
Sec'y—W. J. MEUER, Madison
2314 Rugby Row

I, your Baby Wham, am still up and doing. It looks as if I never would grow, because I'm the same Wham that I was a short time back in Nynenteen when I first saw the light. And that leads me to admit that I'm getting younger but wiser every day, the proof of which is them teeth and them eye.

Will Bob GESELL give profound study to my physiognomy and tell me what's wrong with this picture? He just resigned his job as professor of physiology at the U. of California to take a similar position at the U. of Michigan. Getting back closer to home, Bob! You've been doing a lot of research, too, haven't you. Some of us have noticed your stuff in several publications like the American Journal of Physiology and hanged if we can dispute a word of it. Here's hoping you knock 'em cold at Michigan, but bring that daughter Christine up to love Wisconsin. Bob was married to Cora Lees in 1912 and has been studying the action of the heart ever since.—Helen HUNTER Ball has just been selected president of the Racine Branch of the A. A. U. W. That's the stuff; these Nynenteen girls sure do step high.—Mrs. Clinton NUZUM, once Hope Munson of Viroqua has kicked in with a membership in this here Alumni Association, so you might say she paid for this notice. We're glad to have you in the fold, Hope.—We heard from Herbert COLEMAN, 112 E. Bissell Ave., Oil City, Pa.—Fanny EDSON is a graduate student at Stanford U.; her address is Box 885.—Ivan SPOOR is assistant superintendent of a factory at Evanston, Ill.—O. W. BAIRD is instructor in State College, San Diego, Calif.—Edward KASTLER is an engineer with Fairmont Railway Motor Co., 618 E. 1st St., Fairmont, Minn.—“This check should keep me in touch with our Grand and Glorious Class for another year,” writes Leta CHAPLIN Duenk, of Cedar Grove, the mother of four of the livliest girls Wisconsin can boast of.—George PLAMONDON has moved from Chicago to Portland, Ore., 4633 25th Ave., S. E.—Maurice NEEDHAM is associated with the David C. Thomas advertising agency, 28 East Jackson Blvd., Chicago, Ill.—Frank SHERBURNE, Milwaukee, records his change of address to 444 Kenmore Place (Shorewood).

T. K. CARPENTER is secretary of Taylor, Ewart & Co., 105 S. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.—James THOMPSON, secretary of the McGraw and Hill Co., New York, attended the convention of the National University Extension Association held at Madison the last week in May.

1911
Sec'y—E. D. STEINHAGEN, Milwaukee
721 51st St.

Bessie TYRELL has just returned to her home in Madison from her trip around the world, having spent last summer on the Continent where she was exposed to the usual number of churches, saints, beggars, and dirt, in Italy, after which she enjoyed the refreshing coolness and cleanliness of Switzerland. An air flight from Paris to London proved a great thrill. Two months were spent in England and Ireland before going on to Egypt, India, Burma, Mandalay, Malay Straits, and China. Two months were also spent in China, in Shanghai and Peking; the results of the earthquake in Japan were observed and then two delightful weeks were spent at the beach at Waikiki in Honolulu.

Change of address: C. A. BONNER, 901 C. of C. Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; Lucy CASE, instructor in Home Economics, U. W. Extension Division; M. C. KOENIG, care, Cia. Miners Asarco, S. A., Unidad Veta Grande, Apartado Num. 85, Parral, Chihuahua, Mex.; C. C. JOYS, Jr., vice president and director of sales, Lucey Mfg. Corp., N. Y.; Anne SINNEN, advertising department, Halle Bros. Co., Cleveland, Ohio; James MALONE, Beaver Dam, to 615 N. Center St.

1912
Sec'y—LAURA JOHNSON, Madison
111 E. Gorham

Alfred BUSER, former captain of the football team, has accepted the position of director of athletics and head football and track coach at Hamline University.—Otto ROEHLING, New York baritone, visited his parents in Milwaukee recently where he assisted in the concert of the Lyric Male Chorus at the Pabst Theater on May 1.

Change of address: P. M. STAEHLE, Ft. Wayne, Ind., to 4124 Fairfield Ave.; W. A. SCOVILLE, 602 Postal Tel. Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; J. A. COMMONS, farm manager, 7 Springs Farm, Mt. Kisco, N. Y.

1913
Sec'y—ALVIN REIS, Madison
Assistant Attorney General

Mr. and Mrs. John GARLAND (Temperance Knight, '16) are living at Menlo Park, Calif., R. F. D. Box 96 G., where they have purchased a ranch, adjoining the grounds of Stanford University and near Palo Alto.—Stanley HARRISON, petroleum engineer, is in Washington, D. C., at 1615 Irving Street, in connection with valuations of oil and gas properties. The oil investigations are attracting many to the capital.

Change of address: B. W. OLIN, Monticello, Fla.; Roscoe BALLARD, Chester, Pa., to Wolley Still Farms; Harriet MCKINLEY, piano teacher, 1419 First Ave. S., Minneapolis, Minn.; Mr. and Mrs. A. R. OATES (Kathlyn Jones, '16), 221½ W. Main St., Washington, Iowa; Welch WALKER, assistant treasurer, Guaranty Trust Co. of New York; A. S. MORGENROTH, steel merchant, 938 St. Nicholas Ave., N. Y. C.

1914
Sec'y—N. B. BASSETT, Madison
114 S. Carroll

1914 CLASS REUNION

They sure are coming back! Madison is getting jumpy! They know the "rep" of 1914! They know that only two months after we graduated the World War started. The "old town" is getting ready to be besieged again by the ARMY of FOURTEENERS. W. C. and Edna Oakey Boardman, and their four boys, are on their way from Aberdeen, S. D.; Margaret Godfrey Lange and Ethel Johnson Hanson report that Waupaca will be represented 100%; Marjorie Taylor Stavrum, with her beautiful little ones, will come from Superior; Marshall Graff has Wausau all astir and on June 20 will hop the train for Madison; Al. Sands reports that he and his Norwegian friends will surely let us know that Eau Claire is on the map; Irv. White promises to scour the northern woods near Antigo and return with a big quota; Dr. James Gillis and Dr. G. E. Moore, with one of the youngest Fourteeners known, are coming along with Irv. White; Charles Norem states that Bryant will be closed for a week-end while he attends the Reunion; Norman Quale writes that Baraboo will march on Madison in full force; John Jirgal and Helen Calhoun Woolson promise a special train from Chicago; Allen Briggs, who claims to have one of the largest families that the Class can boast of, will return from St. Paul, bringing with him a member of the Class for each one of his many children; Jeanette Kearney Rood of Racine says to count on her and many more; Mary Kabat vouches that all the towns near Reedsville will have a delegation there; George Elwers of Neenah and C. A. Fourness of Appleton report that there will be an auto parade from the Fox River Valley to Madison in June; Walter Berger and Louise Schoenloeber will bring back fifty or more from Milwaukee alone. This is no bunk—why, they are issuing a daily newspaper and are holding class meetings now! Willits Pollock is coming to tell us all about bonds—mainly, of course, matrimonial bonds; Caroline Allen is coming to tell us about "the sunshine in Japan"; Esther Melaas Lutz will be present to add dignity to the parade; Franklin Rohn will be on hand with many surprises up his sleeve; Ken Layman, Hod Ofstie, Ben Brindley, and Ann Henderson Parrott have pledged themselves to be present with all of their old-time pep.

GEE! By the time you read this article there will be so many favorable replies! The only thing we could do to give you the complete list would be to mail you the Class Roster.

NOW, for the few of you who haven't crawled out of your graves as yet! DON'T be the ONLY ONE to miss the GRAND, GOOD TIME! You co-eds, come on out and look over your old beaux, and see how fat and bald they have become! Fellows, come on back and meet the crush of your student days! She's married now, but let her see how handsome and prosperous you look.

LISTEN TO THE BANG-UP GOOD TIME! Something doing every minute. Margaret Gasser and her committee will arrange sleeping accommodations for you. Anything you want from a bed at the Rescue Mission to the Bridal Suite at the Park Hotel. Russ Carpenter promises transportation galore—from baby carriages to Cadillac limousines. Laura Steensland Davies will have the best of' buffet lunch for Friday noon. (Do you fellows remember the champagne ham sandwiches at "the nick in the wall?")

—'Nuff said). Norman Bassett and Dorothy Hubbard, in charge of the picnic, are arranging games, lottery, swimming, and everything. They will even have Snake Oil to be distributed at the end of the afternoon for sore muscles. Jessie Sumner Brown and Shorty Otjen are arranging a rip-snorter Class Banquet at the Theta Delta Chi house. Jessie has some good plans to keep you laughing so you will not eat too much. One of her thoughts is to have Miles Dailey debate with Alfred Godfrey on the subject, "Will Elkhorn ever be a suburb of Wisconsin Rapids?" Of course, Friday evening will be spent in dancing, and card playing, and a fine backyard on the shore of the lake is reserved for the old bachelors and old maids to spoon on. Now—when it comes to the Class Parade—BELIEVE ME, they'll know we're there! Frank Rohn is surely planning some snappy costumes. He is even going to the detail of providing socks or stockings, as the case may be. He tells us there should be no good clothes because they won't be used. Some of the old "Haresfoot" crowd, led by Joe Gallagher and Arthur Kootz, sure will have some stunts that will make our parade and appearance at the Alumni Banquet long remembered.

If you haven't sent in word that you're coming, DO IT NOW—DON'T BE THE ONLY PIKER IN THE CROWD! Just put on your big boots and START HIKING FOR MADISON, JUNE 20!

Mary Hewitt of Hartford will certainly be on hand for the Reunion. And Ralph Kemp and Beulah Heddles Kemp from Frankfort (not Freeport) Indiana, are going to Ford north in June with nine cases of tomatoes and corn for the secretary. On top of these crates will be seated Catherine and Sally. Will someone kindly donate a perambulator or wheelbarrow so that the Kemps may be in the parade. Wouldn't it be a good joke if we had so many classmates and their offspring on hand that we had to hire a fleet of trucks to haul them in the pee-rade. Any classmate with over ten children is barred.

"Shorty" Otjen has notified me that he has had his white duck pants washed especially for the occasion.

We want to see a good representation from Chicago on hand.

HAROLD OFSTIE

has been appointed assistant football coach and head basketball and track coach at Centre College, Danville, Ky., and will take up his duties there in the fall.—Howard Jones was winner of the prize offered by the Green Mask Players of Houston, Texas, in a recent best play contest. Mr. Jones has written various poems, plays, masques, and pageants.—Assemblyman W. A. FREEHOFF, Wales, is a candidate for Congress representing the first assembly district of Waukesha County.—Ralph RUNGE, Baraboo attorney, is interested in a ten-acre fur and meat farm near Madison. The company plans to raise 5,000 rabbits annually and ultimately to add other fur-bearing animals to their stock.

Change of address: Berry STEVENS, Western Mgr., Howland & Howland, publishers representatives, 360 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Ill.; M. C. ALVERSON, sales manager, DeWolf & Co. Inc., Investment Bonds; M. C. HALE engineer, Amer. T. & T. Co., 195 Broadway, N. Y. C.; Mr. and Mrs. Curtiss LIVINGSTON (Corinne GEBHART, '15) reside at 340 Lexington Ave., N. Y. C., where Mr. Livingston is advertising copy writer and contact man for George Batten & Co., N. Y. C.; Benj. BRINDLEY, assistant sales manager, bond dept., Ill. Merchants Trust Co., Chicago, Ill.; C. M. BARBOUR, asst. engr., Chief Engineer's office, S. P. Lines in Texas and Louisiana, room 916, S. P. Bldg.; E. R. SAGEN, 2044 Clarkson St., Denver, Colo.; Olga HOESLY, state supervisor of home economics, Cheyenne, Wyo.; Maj. Geo. ARNEMAN, Yale U.

1915

Sec'y—N. P. BIART, Madison
652 Knickerbocker St.

Arthur MERTZKE, instructor in economics at the University, has accepted the position of executive secretary of the Madison Real Estate Board; he will take up his new duties at the end of the school year.—R. C. MCKAY spent a day recently in Madison on his way back to Boston after a visit to his home in Huron, S. D.

Change of address: S. I. ROTH, P. O. Box 562, Scarsdale, N. Y.; Gerald STARK, salesman, The Flintkote Co., Pershing Square Bldg., N. Y. C.; Agnes BOEING, director Educational Service Dept., Cheney Bros., 10 N. 11th St., N. Y. C.; Howard TOMLINSON, 125 Midland Ave., Montclair, N. J.; Marvin WEIL, lawyer, 1650 Otis Bldg., 10 S. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.; Dr. J. W. OLIVER, University Club, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Hugh JAMIESON, attorney, 153 Henderson Ave., New Brighton, Staten Island, N. Y.; Genevieve HENDRICKS, interior decorator and importer, 3126 19th St. N. W., Washington, D. C.; Gilman SMITH, statistician, North American Co., 60 Broadway, N. Y.; Richard HUNT, mining geologist, 1116 Pacific Mutual Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.; I. J. SCHULTE, Milwaukee, to 869 40th St.

1916

Sec'y—JESSIE BOSSHARD MAURER
Madison, 1119 Sherman Ave.

Change of address: Ruth Adams PAYNE, 10 Wayne Ave., White Plains, N. Y.; Glenn McHUGH, assistant draftsman, Legislative Drafting Service, U. S. Senate, Washington, D. C.; Harry COXHEAD, Amer. T. & T. Co., 10223 De Bevoise Ave., Hollis, L. I. N. Y.; William HARVEY, acting assistant factory manager, Montgomery Ward & Co., Chicago, Ill.; Justine DAHM Jolivet, 973 E. Couch St., Portland, Ore.; Mr. and Mrs. James SCHAD (Marjorie Carlton, '17), from St. Paul, Minn., to 1641 Lunt Ave., Apt. 2, 2nd floor, Chicago, Ill.; Ray WILLIAMS, Shreveport, La., to 1034 Jacobs St.; Nathaniel THAYER, 31 Church St., N. Y. C.

1917

Sec'y—MARGUERITE JENISON, Urbana, Ill.
412 Lincoln Hall

R. G. MARTIN, who has been associated with the Board of Health at Birmingham, Ala., has accepted a position with that institution at Atlanta, Ga., where he is acting director of laboratories.

Change of address: Mr. and Mrs. R. C. JOHNSON (Dorothy Dexter, '16), from Milwaukee, to 314 Gillett St., Fond du Lac, where Mr. Johnson is associated with the Immel Construction Co.; P. J. Zimmers, Furnald Hall, Columbia University; Elbridge PALMER, Hastings-on-Hudson, N. Y.; Lee BROWN, auditor, 6041 McPherson Ave., St. Louis, Mo.; Herman EGSTAD, Public Affairs Commissioner, St. Paul Association, Minnesota; Edna JOHNSTON, 402 E. Wooster St., Bowling Green, Ohio; Eugene GRANT, professor, civil engineering, Bozeman, Mont.; Donald HAY, consulting engineer, Sterling Hall, U. W.; Imogene KAUFMAN, personnel mgr., McLoughlin Textile Corp., Utica, N. Y.; T. E. Rivers, Mgr. Personnel Bureau of the Playground and Recreation Association of America, N. Y. C.; Juliette HULL Brockhausen, San Antonio, Tex., to 454 E. French Place; Charles CARLSON, from London, Eng., to 1204 N. 3rd St., Ishpeming, Mich.; Mrs. Frank Weeks Porter, Wauwatosa, to 446 5th Ave.; Leslie NELSON, care Minn. Power & Light Co., Crosby, Minn.; Wilbur SACTJEN, real estate and construction business, Madison, R. I.

1918

Sec'y—HOWARD HANCOCK, Oshkosh
State Normal

"Can't do without it. Even though in the far West, I look forward eagerly to every item of Wisconsin news." Florence KRIEGER, 415 Chestnut St., Toppenish, Wash.—D. A. CALDWELL is sec'y-mgr., C. of C., Idaho Falls, Idaho.—Charline WACKMAN writes that she is very much pleased with the regularity with which she is receiving her MAGAZINE, in spite of the fact that she is traveling almost all the time. After teaching dramatics at the East Side High School in Milwaukee for two years, Miss Wackman left for Europe to visit most of the countries of the Continent. "Way down in the southern part of England," she says, "where I thought I was as far as possible from anyone I had ever known or heard of, I was dancing with a young Englishman from Oxford and during our conversation discovered he knew our class president, LeRoy BURLINGAME. Nine months of last year I spent in the East—chiefly New York—but from there I went to Washington, D. C., Philadelphia, Atlantic City, and other places, and in each and every one of these places I found someone from Wisconsin."

Traveling through the western states Miss Wackman spent some time in California, going from there to Washington and Canada.

Change of address: Betsey MADISON Rhoads, 129 State St., Lexington, Ky.; H. W. HIRSHEIMER, La Crosse, to 124 N. 15th St.; Mr. and Mrs. Allen SLICHTER (Dorothy Fritsch, '21), Milwaukee, to 629 Murray Ave., Apt. 1; Fred FUHRMAN, retail clothier, 905 Central Ave., Dubuque, Iowa; Marjorie HENDRICKS DAVIS, 2308 Ashmead Pl., Washington, D. C.; Stanley WANZER, dairy products, 6463 Kimbark Ave., Chicago, Ill.; R. W. BECKER, eastern sales manager, Ideal Commutator Dresser Co., 154 Nassau St., N. Y.; Dorothy REID, X-ray technician, Bradley Memorial Hospital, U. W.; Paula GOLNICK, probation officer, Nassau County Children's Court, Mineola, N. Y.; Sears DOOLITTLE, plant pathologist, U. S. Dept. Agr., 107 N. Spooner St., Madison; J. C. MILLER, Mgr., Federal Steel Fixture Co., 19 Hudson St., N. Y. C.; W. J. CARTER, advertising, 749 Peoples' Gas Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; D. E. DAY, petroleum engineer, 1106 A. G. BARTLETT Bldg., Los Angeles, Calif.; Anna BARDON Cadigan, 2122 Ogden Ave., Superior.

1919

Sec'y—VELMA REID CONNORS, Hurley

"Snappiest, Classiest, Happiest Reunion Ever"

Fall in, 1919!

All up State Street! Colors flying! Beware the class that gets in our path! Watch out, Class of 1914! Forward March!

We are receiving letters every day from those who are planning on attending the Reunion. Among those who have asked us directly to reserve a costume for them are: Julia Post, Helen B. Smith, Mary Smith, King Woodward, S. L. Spengler and Mrs. Spengler, Viola Pleuss Chandler, Pete Baxter, Cornelia Terse, Addie Pich, Lorena Schwebs Becker, Catharine Schuler, Beulah Connell, Esther Neprud, Maire Hjernstad, Harry Noer, Greta Schultz Kranz, Wesley Tuttle and Florence King Tuttle. We have received many other letters and have heard word indirectly of many others who are coming. Get on the band wagon and send us your letter or card today.

Only a little while longer to wait, folks. Won't it seem great to pat your old pals on the back once more! We're all set, 1919! Let's go!

1919 HEADQUARTERS—will be Miss Grady's large double house, 708-10 Langdon Street, where we have four parlors, a copious dining room, the kitchen, and a fine porch, in fact the entire first floor.

Members and their families can also secure sleeping quarters at this same address. We can have the entire house if enough 1919ers make advance reservations for rooms. Reservations for these rooms should be sent to me at once and a deposit of $2 per person should accompany such room reservation requests.

INSTRUCTIONS—Plan to arrive not later than Friday morning, June 20. Get costumes and final announcements at Headquarters 708-10 Langdon Street before lunch, then spend the noon and afternoon getting acquainted again. Class dinner at 6 p.m., followed by Senior Class Play. Send requests for ticket reservations now to Harold Noer Room 204 Wisconsin Life Bldg., 30 W. Mifflin St., so that we will know how large a block of seats to reserve for 1919 at the class play.

Saturday morning we can hear the Glee Club Quartette at Music Hall. Saturday afternoon we will attend the Wisconsin-Chicago baseball game on the Lower Campus and later the band concert on the President's lawn and make life miserable for all would-be Reuners of other classes. Then comes the march to the Alumni Banquet followed by the Alumni Ball. Sunday morning we'll breakfast at class headquarters and then leave by boat for a farewell gathering across the lake. The program for that is a secret not to be divulged to a soul beforehand!

Exact details of program are subject to change, but here's the framework of the livest Reunion in history! Get in training now for a grand and glorious, hilarious and strenuous three-day pep session.

Don't forget! Send room and class play ticket reservations now to Harold Noer, 204 Wis. Life Bldg., 30 W. Mifflin St., Madison.

"I realize how beautiful the campus is going to be during the month of June and especially on the moonlight nights with thousands of the old grads spending the happiest days of the year at Old Wisconsin," writes W. H. E. Reid, associate professor of dairy manufactures at the University of Missouri. "Of course the campus will be beautiful and there's only one first reunion in a lifetime," says Alice Porterfield. "Anyway I am coming back!"

"Am expecting to be at the Reunion," writes Catharine Schuler. "Glad to hear you have plans afoot. The song part especially interests me, as I have discovered my voice since 1919. Let's hear some more plans." "I am going to try to be there," writes Addie Pieh. "Of course I'll be there and also my sister." says Helen B. Smith. Beulah Connell has not missed a Commencement yet and says she is planning on this one more than ever. Ed Pritzlaff's father writes that his son is abroad and may be back. "So please write again about June 1," the letter reads, "as no doubt he will want to attend if in this country." Marty Fladoes says we may count on him to be on hand. Pete and Mark Baxter are coming and so is Lillian Clark Loper. "I am planning to attend the big Reunion," writes Lorena Schwebs Becker.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal FARNUM (Marion GRATZ) are now living at 309 South Garland Street, Orlando, Fla.; Mrs. Farnum sends word to Wisconsinites to look her up when in the South.—"At last I have an address," writes Ruth ZELLMANN Polkinghorn from Craig, Colo. "You see all last summer my husband and I loafed through the wonder land of Colorado, Utah, and Yellowstone Park. We surely enjoyed the wonderful days and moonlight nights in the open. When we came back we climbed the road following the old Moffat Railroad to Craig, the county seat of Moffat County. And here we do abide! It is a high valley with mountains shutting us in on three sides. Mountains rich in coal, oil, and other minerals. I miss the trees and green fields of old Wisconsin, but this is such a live young country one cannot help being enthused. How I want to come back to our first Reunion! Here's hoping! Here's my address so that the little old "MAG" can come straight to me." Ruth Zellmann Polkinghorn, Craig, Colo.—Gertrude JACOBS, for the past three years associated with the Marshall and Ilsley Bank, Milwaukee, has been put in charge of the newly-established Women's Service Department.

Change of address: Ida BOLLENBECK, Sheboygan, to 515 Michigan Ave.; Francis BAYLE, 270 Glen St., Glens Falls, N. Y.; Harold CHEETHAM, 230 Grove St., Bloomfield, N. J.; Elizabeth NYSTROM Gary, 703 College Ave., Wheaton, Ill.; Rachel STEARNS Schermerhorn, commercial artist, 620 W. South St., Stoughton; Ray BEHRENS, 4508 Pabst Ave., Milwaukee; Catharine MAURER Witter, 116 Parkside Drive, Berkeley, Calif.; Estelle GERBER, 2 West 67th St., N. Y. C.; John TOOHY, advertising and sales promotion manager, 29 W. 71st St., N. Y. C.; Emery PORTER, attorney, 1302 Wells St., Milwaukee.

1921

Sec'y—MARY PARKINSON, Milwaukee
54 Prospect Ave.

"The Alumni Magazine brings the only news that I receive, now that all my friends have graduated. So, naturally, I wouldn't want to miss one number," writes Adrienne SHREVE, 1729 Kilbourne Place, N. W., Washington, D. C.—E. F. BESPALOW, writes that he has resigned as junior engineer with the Bureau of Public Roads to accept a position with the Shearman Concrete Pipe Company of Knoxville, Tennessee, where he is superintending the manufacture of concrete pipe.

Change of address: Carson LYMAN, newspaper man, Wisconsin State Journal, Madison; Helen OLSON, 5652 Stony Island Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. Everett GRUBB (Helen Double, '22), 660 Crenshaw Blvd., Los Angeles, Calif.; Mr. and Mrs. Donald BENNETT (Irene Schuring, ex'23), 975 15th St., Boulder, Colo.; LENNOX HALDEMAN, plastering contractor, 208 S. La Salle St., Chicago, Ill.; Bennett BORDEN, traffic supervisor, Telephone Co., 212 W. Washington St., Chicago, Ill.; Irene DAHM, personnel work, Employment Bureau, 1401 Hyde Park Blvd., Chicago, Ill.; Ethel VINJE Walker, Wakefield, Mich.; R. E. HANTZSCH, electrical engineer, Western Elec. Co., 463 West St., N. Y. C.; John CALVIN Wolfe, salesman, 1955 Peoples Gas Bldg., Chicago, Ill.; N. G. PRESTON, Sturgeon Bay; Berger Hagen, 20 N. Lavergne Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Margaret DOERR, Philadelphia, Pa., General Hospital; Genevieve VAN GENT Carey, care East Side Bank, Milwaukee; Jessie LANGE, Media, Pa.

1920

Sec'y—PHYLLIS B. HAMILTON,
Detroit, Mich., 4922 Linsdale

FREDERICK BICKEL

Frederick BICKEL, who now goes by his stage name, Fredric March, may be addressed at 136 W. 44th St., N. Y. C. —Charles CULBERTSON has gone to China as manager of the Shanghai branch for the Eastman Kodak Company; his address is Kodak Shanghai Limited, Shanghai, China. Change of address: Florence NASH, student, Columbia U.; Ruth KAUTSKY, bacteriologist, 419 W. 118th St., N. Y. C.; Melcena BRADLEY Bennett, 222 11th St., Milwaukee; Lincoln KNORR, accountant, 461 8th Ave., N. Y. C.; John LINEN, buyer, Harris Forbes & Co., N. Y. C.; Salit Zigmund, wholesale flour and feed, Spencer, Iowa; E. L. BILL, publisher, 383 Madison Ave., N. Y. C.; Marie STOLTZ Stabo, Jackson Heights, L. I., N. Y.; Virginia MEGEATH, 288 Palisade Ave., Yonkers, N. Y.; Mary CONVERSE, publicity, Bobbs-Merrill Co., Indianapolis, Ind.; Ross MEYERS, 4823 N. 13th St., Philadelphia, Pa.; Louise SAMMONS Freese, 1601 Center Ave., Sioux Falls, S. D.; Hazel MURPHY, 353 S. Main St., Janesville.

1922

Sec'y—NORMA KIECKHEFER GODFREY
Wauwatosa, 284 First Ave.

"Harold HANSON, city attorney, is one of the coming lawyers of Stoughton," says the Madison Capital Times for April 26. "Just five years out of Wisconsin and his name means a lot in the city of Stoughton and that community. He is one of those clean-cut chaps; you don't have to wish Harold Hanson success—the word sticks out all over him."—Guy Sundt, athletic director and football coach at Ripon, has accepted the position of assistant football coach at the University.—Howard LOWRY, formerly of the firm of Wylie and Lowry, lawyers, is now associated with the firm of Bentley and Lowry, with offices in the Beaver Bldg., Madison.

Change of address: R. C. LEWIS, remanufacturing multigraph ribbons, 128 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee; Elizabeth BALDWIN, Children's Hospital, Iowa City, Iowa; Dorothy DOERR, 359 1st Avenue, Wauwatosa; Franklin CHILRUD, Emory University, Georgia; W. F. MOEHLMAN, mine engineer, Hotel Arcana, Coleraine, Minn.; Nels RICHARDSON, life insurance, 6800 Dorchester Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Helen STROUP, assistant secretary to Younger Girls in Business and Industry, 4626 Seebaldt, Detroit, Mich.; Margaret BUTLER, 1211 Michigan Ave., Evanston, Ill.; Melbourne BERGERMAN, 21 W. Hastings Hall, Cambridge, Mass.; Lucille LANGSTADT, Forreston, Ill.; H. I. SMITH, accountant, Maryland Audit Co., 805 Continental Bldg., Baltimore; Helen BARTON, physical director, Central Michigan Normal College, Mt. Pleasant; Alfred WILLETT, teacher, Anglo-Chinese College, Foochow; Arthur KINNAN, contractor, 429 Comstock Place, Seattle, Wash.; Roy HUBBELL, musician, 208 Midway Apts., Rockford, Ill.; Myrle ISAACSON, 623 St. Clair Ave., Sheboygan; Judd BURNS, who is a salesman for the United States Gypsum Co., 205 W. Monroe St., Chicago, Ill., is located at present in North Carolina; Henry KEYES, real estate, 97 Wisconsin St., Milwaukee; Robert PERRY Illinois Bell Tel. Co., 521 Surf St., Chicago; Clinton DAVIES, flying cadet, Cadet Detachment, Kelly Field, Texas; George GREENE, newspaper editor, The Press, New London; Ralph HAWKS, care, Dulaney, Johnston, Yankeys, and Priest, insurance, Beacon Bldg., Wichita, Kans.; C. L. WEIS, electrical engineer, Western Elec. Co., 463 West St., N. Y. C.

1923

Sec'y—ISABEL CAPPS, California
Box 1003 Stanford University

Helene FOSTER of New York writes that she plans to return for Commencement.—J. A. LEIRICH, principal of the Alamosa Junior High School, writes, "I am enjoying the present good weather of Colorado. This state is known for its days of sunshine. That is true, but it also has some of the Wisconsin snow spells. I would extremely enjoy a trip to Wisconsin if I could take in some of the athletic events soon to come off."

Change of address: Otto KAUFMANN, JR., from Sheboygan, to First National Bank, Pasadena, Calif.; Louis NELSON, teacher, 140 Langdon, Madison; Leo COHEN, Mgr., Ins. Dept., Motor Car Securities Corp., 5238 Woodlawn Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Francis LANG, Mgr., Pete E. F. Burns, Berkeley Store, 2222 Telegraph Ave., Berkeley, Calif.; Margaret THORKE-ELSON, teacher, Hampton Institute, Hamp- ton, Va.; Homer CHAPMAN, industrial fel- low in soils, College of Agriculture, U. W.; Joseph HOPKINS, lawyer, 716 First Central Bldg., Madison; Thomas TREDWELL, ad- vertising, Jewel Tea Co., 5 N. Wabash, Chicago, Ill.; Gertrude ADELTE, 3348 N. Osgood St., Chicago, Ill.; H. G. DERTHICK, research chemist, Trona, Calif.; Glenn KITCH, pharmacist, care Ihle Drug Co., Chippewa Falls; B. C. WHITE, accounting, 5423 Kenmore Ave., Chicago, Ill.; Fred RUFFOLO, auditor, Assessor of Incomes Office, 718 Beaver Bldg., Madison; Lucile CURTIS, student, 11 Rue Scribe, Paris, France, care American Express Co.

REPORT OF THE TREASURER
OF THE CLASS OF 1923

RECEIPTS

Balance turned over by Morton Frost, preceding Treasurer.....	$ 94.33
Tickets sold at Senior Dance on May 5.....	89.15
Senior Dues:
779 dues at $5.00.....	3895.00
10 dues at $5.00.....	50.00
1 dues at $2.00.....	2.00
1 dues at $3.00.....	3.00
(Total number joining the Alumni Association was 790. Two of these were not placed on the membership list because of returned checks. The total on the membership list at this date is 788.)
Net Income from Senior Class Play from W. Frautschi.....	454.38
6 bad checks redeposited.....	30.00
Refund from Democrat Ptg. Co. for Invoice No. 1619.....	11.64
Interest on Savings up to April 1924.....	3.37
	<hr/>
	$4632.87

EXPENDITURES

Printing:
Invoice of Tracy and Kilgore, 5-8-23 and 4-21-23.....	$ 101.50
Invoice of Tracy and Kilgore, 5-28-23 and 6-12-23.....	47.05
Invoice, Democrat Co., 5-11-23 6-12-23 and 6-14-23.....	42.58
Invoice, Cantwell Ptg. Co., Posters for dance.....	11.00
Invoice, Print Shop, Class Day Programs.....	21.60
Invoice, Fitch and Straus, Streamers.....	2.75
Invoice, Netherwoods, Name Stamp.....	2.50

Dance Expenses: (Senior dance given 5-5-23.)
Orchestra.....	100.00
Tax on tickets.....	7.95
Cab for Chaperones.....	1.40
Signs.....	13.50
Advertisements in Daily Cardinal	7.20
Bond for Treasurer and Misc.
Postage.....	10.00
Envelopes from Postmaster.....	19.50
Drayage on Piano for Class Day Exercises.....	10.00
Office Help.....	19.55
Membership Dues in Alumni As- sociation 788 at $2.00.....	1576.00
Chimes Fund:
Check No. 121-A to State Treasurer.....	1800.00
Check No. 126-A to State Treasurer.....	200.00
Loss on Bad Checks received. (Some were redeposited).....	65.00
Refund to H. H. Taylor for dues paid twice.....	5.00
Expense of Purchasing Liberty Bonds.....	0.68
Reunion Fund, 10 Liberty Bonds @ $50.00 each.....	500.00
Balance in Bank, April 11, 1924.....	68.11
	<hr/>
	$4632.87

Signed: April 9, 1924.

HUGO L. RUSCH, Treas.

1924

Sec'y—ESTHER BILSTAD, Madison
Chadbourne Hall

TEGTMEYER

Gamber TEGTMEYER was announced as the winner of the Kenneth Day Memorial award at an all-University convocation on May 8. The memorial, is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Day of Cleveland, Ohio, in memory of their son who died in January, 1919, his senior year at the University. A five-fold basis of award is considered in the selection of the candidate—individual character, Christian worth, influence for good on the University as a whole, scholastic attainments, and an interest in out-door sports.—Dorothy SUTOR, Burlington, Iowa, has been engaged as phsycial director for women at Ripon next year.—Bentley SMITH Chicago sales- man, resides at 6528 Kenwood Ave.

Change of address: Inez ERICKSON Wilt- gen, 312 N. Barstow St., Eau Claire; Frances TRENT, 29 E. 9th St., N. Y. C.; Hugh FAY, sales engineer, 4359 Grand Blvd., Chicago, Ill.; Madeline BOWLER Bollenbeck, 515 Michigan Ave., Sheboygan.

FACULTY NEWS

"Within the last century the Monroe Doctrine has come to mean something diametrically opposed to its meaning in 1923," said Prof. C. R. FISH in an address on "American Foreign Relations." Defining the doctrine as a position of absolute separation from European affairs, he said, "Then it was a doctrine of non-intervention, but now it is one of absolute intervention. * * * The South American nations are somewhat antagonistic toward the United States, and all are members of the League of Nations through the fear that the fear of America may prove inconvenient to them. By the present system the American relation toward the Latin-American countries rests on force, and America is no longer an elder sister to them, but is rather the policeman with the big club."

"Entire faculty supervision of student activities has been proven ineffective, while government by the students exclusively, has been only partially effective," said Dean Goodnight, '05, on his return from a convention of Deans of Men held recently at Ann Arbor. "The conference approved our system where the faculty supervises those phases dealing with eligibility and social functions and the students have jurisdiction over non-academic work. The honor system ordinarily works well in small colleges, in homogeneous groups. But it will not work in large, heterogeneous groups where there are students from several colleges. Large universities where it has been in use for five or six years have found it impracticable and have discontinued it."

Four reasons why students fail to get the most out of classroom work as pointed out by Prof. F. C. SHARP in the course in introductory ethics are: "The failure of the student to see the relation between what he is studying and what he has experienced from self-observation or the observation of others; his willingness to skip over key words and key sentences which he does not understand; his failure to see the relations between ideas advanced in a course; and his inability to organize the facts presented. "Ninety-five per cent of the students leave high school without knowing how to study," Professor Sharp said. "The fault lies with the faculty as well as with the students. Until students recognize the textbooks and lectures as mere guide posts and learn to relate these with the experiences of life, the real value and purpose of education will be defeated."

The preparation of a series of questions in the outlining of a course for review instead of a series of detached statements was suggested. The value of the question method, according to Professor Sharp, is that it proves a challenge, gives the student opportunity to exert self-training, defeats the unpleasantness of mechanical memorizing, and accomplishes three-fourths of the learning of the answers.

Prof. Carl STEPHENSON of the history department of the University has been awarded one of the graduate fellowships in a Belgian university for the year 1924-25. Prof. Stephenson is one of six men in the United States to be so honored.

President BIRGE, LL.D. '15, who spoke on "The Contribution of Richard T. Ely to Economics" at the unveiling of the Ely portrait, said in part: "His distinctive service as an economist arises from his large freedom of thought and his investigations leading to truth which evolved from a permanent youth and a mind which has never reached its limits."

"Unquestionably, Japanese exclusion should be written into the immigration bill," says Dr. D. D. LESCOHIER, '21, professor of economics. "As long as there are color differences there will be continuous conflicts in America."

"The Japanese are not in any way inferior to the Americans. They have just as great a capacity for development and advancement. But it would be better for both nations if the Japanese developed separately and we developed separately."

"My study of the immigration question has brought me to the conclusion that there should be a complete stoppage of immigration from 25 to 50 years, so that the immigrants now in the country can be thoroughly assimilated before new ones are received."

The children of immigrants in many cases produce more serious problems for our country than do the immigrants themselves. Until both the first and second generations are completely assimilated—and by assimilation a great deal more is meant than mere reading and writing of the English language—immigration should be reduced to an absolute minimum."

ADDRESSES WANTED

MacKenzie, F. W. '06
Mac Millan, Donald, '00
Magnus, Alexander, '16
Mainland, James, '11
Malsin, Helen, '23
Margenau, Milo, '17
McDougle, Verne, '16
McGuire, Margaret, '18
McQuown, Norvin, '16
Mead, Liela, '23
Meland, Norman, '16

Menzi, E. U., '14
Menzies, Isabella, '07
Meyer, E. W., '95
Mielke, Edward, '15
Miller, Lloyd, '14
Miller, Peter, '15
Mitchell, Malcolm, '21
Moore, Alice, '19
Moore, C. F., '21
Morehouse, Lillian, '21
Moriarty, E. W., '08

Morris, Mrs. A. S., '10
(Flett, Julia)
Moser, Albert, '06
Mueller, Emmet, '19
Mueller, Dr. Hugo, '16
Mullon, Barbara, '13
Mullon, Marjory, '13
Murphy, Herman, '18
Murphy, Laura, '18
Muth, Herbert, '21
Naidl, G. M., '17

CAMPUS NOTES

Glen Frank, editor of The Century Magazine, who spoke at the Phi Beta Kappa initiation and later addressed a packed house in the gymnasium, put special emphasis on the fact that civilization now stands between an old world which is dead and a new world which is being born and that at the sight of the debris of all our ancient traditions we may do three things—beat a panicky retreat to the ancient shelters of the dark ages which are no longer standing, or go gayly on into a completely frivolous age, or turn to a new renaissance. Basing his hopes for the world more on the third alternative than on either of the other two, he emphasized the necessity for that renaissance to take place within the next five or ten years if civilization is not to return to the dark ages.

The boom of a cannon on Muir Knoll marked the opening of the Senior Class campaign for Union Memorial funds on May 14, and announced the pledges of each group of ten life members throughout the day. The class is backing the Union 100% and has already pledged $40,000.

The Cardinal was given first place among newspapers at the Wisconsin Intercollegiate Press Association held at Ripon recently.

Phi Beta Kappa elections follow: Seniors—George Ballam, Mary Burchard, Violet Clemons, Anna Covert, Loyal Durand, Jr., Dorothy Eaton, Paul Enright, Eileen Evans, Oscar Fritsche, Fannie Gallas, Agnes Gleysteen, Helen Hagan, Mendez Hanson, Clark Hazelwood, Charles Hicks, Anna Hintze, Helen Hunting, Dorothy Johnson, George Keith, Katherine Kenney, Max Kossorie, Doris Lingenfelder, Lois Livingston, George Macksmiller, Bernice McCollum, Metta Megeath, Ruth Nolte, Omar Sample, Edith Schoenberg, Edwin Schujahn, George Sellery, Leo Sorenson, Anna Stoffreggen, Dorothy Sutor, Marion Thauer, Milton Trautman, LeRoy Wallace, Marquis Whitman. Juniors—Elizabeth Canuteson, Esther Fifield, Ellis Heineman, Vernon Houghton, Elizabeth Mason, Grace Nichols, Myra Runkel, James Sanford, Charlotte Sullivan, Louise Webb.

Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalistic sorority, announces the election of the following to membership: Seniors—Catherine Boyd, Marcelia Neff, Edith Porter; juniors—Helen Baldauf, Mary Hussong, Ruth Martin, Dorothy Zimmerman; sophomore—Alice Drews.

Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, announces the election of Carlton Meyer and Harold Sporer, seniors; Harold Cranefield, junior.

“Study plus knowledge plus intelligent application equals success,” said C. L. McMullen, vice president of the Fuller and Johnson Company, Madison, in his address before the Advertising Club on “How to Sell.” “Study and knowledge gain for you confidence, and knowledge plus intelligent application gain for you enthusiasm which equals pleasure. Don’t try to have the job please you; you please the job. Eight rules for success are: Master yourself; keep in good spirits; utilize your head more and your feet less; be honest; deal in nothing but facts; keep a positive frame of mind; talk in the language people understand; analyze every proposition.

Phi Kappa Sigma has been issued a building permit for a $70,000 three-story building, to be erected on Lake Lawn Place.

Walking, as an outdoor sport, is attracting attention, and plans are being made to include an exhibition race on the track meet program.

Delta Phi Delta, honorary art fraternity, announces the election of Gretchen Gilbert, Katherine Morton, Doris Engle, seniors, and Beatrice Marks, junior.

Horseback swimming, introduced last summer, will be continued this year. The horses are ridden into the water at The Willows and enjoy the sport as much as co-eds, often throwing their riders.

“Coranto,” the first woman’s professional journalism fraternity in the country, was recently organized by members of the Journalism House. Honorary members are W. G. Bleyer, ’96, G. M. Hyde, ’12, E. M. Johnson, of the Course in Journalism, and W. J. Fronk.

Priceless

This bank’s good reputation in the community is a priceless asset. Into its acquirement have gone many years of constructive effort—decades of fidelity to sound principles. This bank’s management will always cherish and protect this greatest of bank possessions—the confidence and goodwill of its customers and friends.

BANK OF WISCONSIN
MADISON, WIS.

THE ALUMNI ASSOCIATION OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN

Alumni Headquarters, 821 State Street, Madison
Robert S. Crawford, '03, Executive Secretary

ALUMNI BOARD

ROBERT N. McMYNN, L'94, Pres.
MRS. T. E. BRITTINGHAM, '89, V. Pres.
A. R. JANECKY, '07, Rec. Sec'y
F. H. ELWELL, '08, Treas.
G. I. HAIGHT, '99

L. F. VAN HAGAN, '04
VICTOR FALK, '11
STUART REID, '15
MILTON FINDORFF, '17
THEODORE KRONSHAGE, '91

MEMBER OF THE ALUMNI MAGAZINES ASSOCIATED

The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine

ROBERT S. CRAWFORD, EDITOR

"A Magazine Aiming to Preserve and Strengthen the Bond of Interest and Reverence of the Wisconsin Graduate for His Alma Mater."

THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI MAGAZINE is published monthly during the School Year (November to August, inclusive) by the General Alumni Association and entered at the P. O. Madison, Wisconsin, as second class matter. ALUMNI DUES—Incl. $1.25 subscription to The Alumni Magazine—$2.00 a year, "payable on or before July 1 of each year for the fiscal year beginning May 1 next preceding." SUBSCRIPTION to The Wisconsin Alumni Magazine alone, without the privileges of membership, $2.50 a year; foreign postage 50 cents extra. CHANGE OF ADDRESS should be reported before the 21st of the month. REMITTANCES should be made payable to the Wisconsin Alumni Association and may be by check, draft, express or postal money order. All mail should be addressed to
THE WISCONSIN ALUMNI ASSOCIATION, 821 State Street, MADISON

ALUMNI PROFESSIONAL DIRECTORY

A Reliable Guide to and for Wisconsin Graduates

LAWYERS

California—WILLIAM F. ADAMS, '00, L '03, 1109
Title Ins. Bldg., Los Angeles.

PAUL W. BOEHM, '01 (MAYWOOD & BOEHM), First
Nat'l Bank Bldg., San Diego.

Colorado—CYRUS W. DOLPH, '96, 311 Bennett Bldg., Colorado Springs.

JOHN H. GABRIEL, '87, L '89, 712-13 Kittredge
Bldg., Denver.

Georgia—FRANK E. RADENSLEBEN, '99, 1221-26
Atlanta Trust Co. Bldg., Atlanta.

Illinois—FRED D. SILBER, '94 (McGOORTY, SILBER ISAACS & WOLEY), Corporation and Commercial Practice, 614 Home Ins. Bldg., Chicago.

GEORGE I. HAIGHT, '99, W. H. HAIGHT, '03
(HAIGHT, ADCOCK, HAIGHT & HARRIS), General and Patent Law, 1041 The Rookery, Chicago.

GLEN E. SMITH, '09, L '13, McCormick Building, 332 S. Michigan Ave., Chicago.

PHILIP E. SIGGERS, ex '16 (LL.B., MP.L.), Patent Causes, 10 S. La Salle St., Chicago.

Indiana—ELMER L. GOLDSMITH, E '15 (LOCK-WOOD & LOCKWOOD), Patent and Trademark Law,
Fletcher Trust Bldg., Indianapolis.

Minnesota—EUGENE C. NOYES, '98, 822 Security
Bldg., Minneapolis.

CLARK R. FLETCHER, '11 (ALLEN & FLETCHER),
631-39 Metropolitan Bank Bldg., Minneapolis.

North Dakota—G. S. WOOLEGGE, '04 (GREENLEAF & WOOLEGGE), Minot.

Ohio—JOE G. FOGG, '04 (CALFEE, FOGG & WHITE), 1607-12 Williamson Bldg., Cleveland.

Washington—ARTHUR REMINGTON, '87, 1012-
1014 Rust Bldg., Tacoma.

Wisconsin—EDWARD H. RYAN, '74, Pheobus Blk., Janesville.

E. J. B. SCHUBRING, '01, First Central Bldg.,
Madison.

M. B. OLBRICH, '04, TIMOTHY BROWN, '11,
LEE L. SIEBECKER, '15 (OLBRICH, BROWN & SIEBECKER), Madison.

RICHARD B. RUNKE, '00, Stange Bldg., Merrill.
R. G. HARVEY, '03 (THOMPSON & HARVEY), Osgood Bldg., Racine.

J. W. COLLINS, '97, W. B. COLLINS, '01, L '09
(COLLINS & COLLINS), York Bldg., Sheboygan.

REALTORS

Idaho—HARVEY HOLMES, '00, Pres. Real Estate
Board and Dairy Farm Special. Pocatello.

Ohio—ANNE H. MAC NEIL JOHNSON, '03, Ph.
M. '04 (JOHNSON & CLYDE), Realtors, Mercantile Library Bldg., Cincinnati.