KNOLLIN WILL LEAD BADGERS IN TRACK MEET

Sprinter and Hurdler is Chief Hope for Minnesota Contest

Upon Albert J. Knollin '22, sprinter and hurdler, will rest much of the Wisconsin track squad's chance to defeat Minnesota in the first outdoor dual track contest of the home season on Saturday, May 14, at Madison.

Knollin, who is tied with Carl Johnson, Michigan, for the conference indoor high hurdles record, has been entered in three events in the meet with the Gophers. The Badger speeder will compete in the 100 yard dash, 220 yard low hurdles, and the 120 yard high hurdles. He won first places over Chicago runners in these three events last Saturday, and captured individual honors with 15 points.

Knollin Has Rival

While Knollin was gaining high honors against Chicago, Anderson, a Minnesota rival for sprint and hurdle honors, won four first places when the Gophers lost to Ames 84 to 65. Anderson finished up in front in the 100 yard dash, 200 yard dash, 120 yard high hurdles, and the 220 yard low hurdles. He is entered in these four events in the Wisconsin-Minnesota meet.

Anderson traveled the century at Ames in 10 4-5 seconds. Knollin won the event at Chicago in 10 1-5 seconds after he had been set back a yard for breaking. In the 220 yard low hurdles Anderson finished first in 26 seconds, while Knollin clipped four-fifths of a second off this mark. Both men negotiated the 120 yard high hurdles event in 16 1-5 seconds. Coach Thomas E. Jones has decided not to enter Knollin in the 220 yard dash against the Minnesota man, and E. W. Johnson '23, and Leslie McClure '23 will compete in this event for the Badgers.

STADIUM WORK TO BE STARTED WITHIN MONTH

Six New Tennis Courts Are Also Being Completed

Initial work on the 4,000 concrete seats for the greater athletic stadium at Camp Randall will begin next month, Coach T. E. Jones stated yesterday. Tennis courts and a new baseball training diamond are now being constructed.

The new addition to the stadium will be built on the east side adjoining the grand stand. Twenty-six rows of seats will be constructed on the same pattern as the west side of the stadium. The new concrete rows will replace the present wood bleachers.

With the increase to the stadium, the seating capacity for the concrete seats will be augmented to 11,000. The west side can now accommodate 7,000 spectators.

"The athletic department plans to put every dollar earned into permanent improvements at Camp Ran-

"NOT RESPONSIBLE" IS DELIGHTFUL PICTURE OF UNDERGRADUATE LIFE

By WALTER K. SCHWENN

It wasn't without something of a thrill that the three of us settled in our seats at the Fuller, sighed restlessly through a Ford weekly, and then sat bolt upright as there flashed on the screen the first title of "Not Responsible," the Varsity movie.

You see, we'd all been primed for a big show, and we really expected a good time, but the picture surprised us,—"Not Responsible" is a good movie! There is some really excellent acting, beautiful photography, and—in some spots especially—actual professional finish. Above all, the movie is a faithful and delightful exposition of undergraduate life,—better still, University of Wisconsin life. In parenthesis, we might say, however, that we might hesitate to call it the story of an education, unless one is taking a course in Evening Wear, Ice-Boating, and Philosophy of Gentlemen Raffles. You see, the "Libe" isn't pictured once as its true self.

As to the acting, there is much praise to be offered. Marjorie Boesch, as a more or less innocently selfish debutante, was one of the most natural and spontaneous actresses that we have seen on the Fuller screen in recent months. She fitted her part exceedingly well and made her scenes vivid. Georgie Ann Kimberly made a very demure and pleasing leading lady, playing every scene with skill and much charm. As a typical co-ed, Madeline Johnson looked and acted her part well, looking remarkably pretty in the dinner scene.

Horace Wetmore pulled the surprise among the male actors; he was natural, active, and the least self-conscious of the men. His part was perhaps the most difficult, but he played it with little affectation and no small amount of skill. Jack Harding was a typical leading man, with a pleasing smile, and a graceful build. In the football scene, in the boat-racing episode, and in numerous other places he gave life and energy to the film. John Warren was a smooth "friend-of-the-family," and Carleton Douglas, ably seconded by George Bartlett, supplied many humorous touches to the entire movie.

The prologues, showing a more or less authentic history of the progress of education, gave the film a dignity and well-rounded finish that could have been gained in no other way. The Egyptian scene was exotically beautiful, while the Venetian scene was a wonderful trick,—real skill was shown in the transformation of the Libe to the Venetian palace. The pre-historic episode showed good photography. Although the story itself is not strikingly new nor original, still it has been given many clever turns, and, with the help of more of Horace Gregory's good titles, it will be improved many times, both in clarity and in interest.

However, discussion of the movie is a little beside the point. It is the achievement itself that makes the movie the most interesting, and much praise is due the Edwin Booth Dramatic society which promoted its success. Willet Kempton's energy and foresight probably did the most work, and the large, able staff working under him should feel no little pride in the result. But the movie long ago reached beyond the fostering influence of Edwin Booth, and it must be counted, in spirit if not in actuality, a university production, a university achievement. Besides all that, you're going to miss a darned good picture if you don't see it!

NOTED CHINAMAN WILL GIVE SERIES OF LECTURES HERE

Dr. Chia Lin Chen, Well-known Educator, Speaks Today

"The Attitude of the Chinese Toward English and American Literature" will be the first of a series of topics to be discussed by Dr. Chia Lin Chen, Chinese educator, this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in 112 Bascom hall.

"No better medium for interpreting one people's thoughts in literature to another could be found than in these speeches," said Prof. E. A. Ross, of the sociology department, who first met Dr. Chen in China 11 years ago and lately renewed acquaintance in this country. "Dr. Chen is one of the most accomplished and brilliant scholars of China, and is very well known in this country."

Other topics to be given by him include: "The Essentials of Chinese Philosophy," Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, and "Chinese Drama," Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock, both in 112 Bascom hall.

Dr. Chen has studied and lectured in American universities during the past year. He has translated numerous English and American authors in the Chinese language, and visited America a year ago as a member of the Chinese Educational commission.

EVIDENCE POINTS TO MURDER IN McGILVARY CASE

Father of War Hero Has Left to Investigate Conditions

Prof. Evander B. McGilvany has left for Boston to investigate the death of his son, Capt. Paton C. McGilvany, world war aviator, whose body with four bullet wounds was found in an alley in Boston.

"Deny all rumors of suicide. We have positive evidence to the contrary," was the message sent to Boston relatives by Professor McGilvany.

Friends of the family believe that the aviator was murdered. They say that McGilvany knew enough about firearms to be able to inflict a fatal wound without using four bullets to end his life. Although there were four bullet wounds, only two empty shells have been found. These were near the body with three loaded shells. The revolver lying nearby contained two additional loaded shells.

From reports of a woman who lived in the vicinity the murder theory is strengthened. She asserted that she heard two distinct shots which were followed by the sound of someone running through the alley behind her house.

Accounts from friends show that McGilvany was in the best of spirits up to the time of his death. He played cards with friends on Monday evening, leaving them to visit a Mr. Dearborn with whom he was acquainted. Shortly after 3 o'clock he went to his room.

According to the police he procured a revolver there, and went around the corner through the alley. His body was found Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock.

BADGER NINE PREPARES FOR ILLINOIS GAME

Opponents Are Confident of Victory; Same Line-up Will Start

Coach Guy Lowman sent his squad of Badger baseball men through a stiff mid-week workout at Randall field yesterday afternoon, using practically the same lineup that opposed Purdue in the opener of the conference last Saturday. Barring accidents that same nine will start against the Illini in the Saturday game this week. The pitching choice is still somewhat uncertain, and Coach Lowman will rely considerably upon the form shown by his hurlers in their warming up before the contest.

This afternoon another hard drill will be held and final instructions regarding the Illinois strength will be given the men. Lowman realizes that the task of trimming Illinois will be a difficult one, and has instilled this idea into his men all week. Fans can be assured that the Illini-Badger game will be of league calibre, and close to the final inning.

Illinois Confident

News from Urbana indicates that Coach Carl Lundgren is confident of victory, and intends to invade Madison with hopes of 1,000 per cent season still foremost in mind. The Illini victory over Ohio has increased their confidence, although critics believe that that game was more of an indication of some weakness as the men are working out regularly, and will not let up until the day of entraining for the north.

Word from Lundgren affirms the report that the same men will line up against the Cardinal as have been playing in the line up all season. The pitching choice has narrowed down to the three strongest men on the staff, Barnes, Jackson, and McCann. The former will in all probability start the game. "Lefty" Barnes started the recent Illinois-Ohio contest, and was decidedly off, for they routed him in three innings. The southpaw is a remarkable pitcher for college competition, and has pitched several shut-out games this year.

Jackson and Tom McCann are both good hurlers, and may be used in case that Barnes is off. Jackson came to the left-hander's relief at Ohio and traveled the remainder of the game in an invincible manner.

LABOR AUTHORITY LECTURES TONIGHT

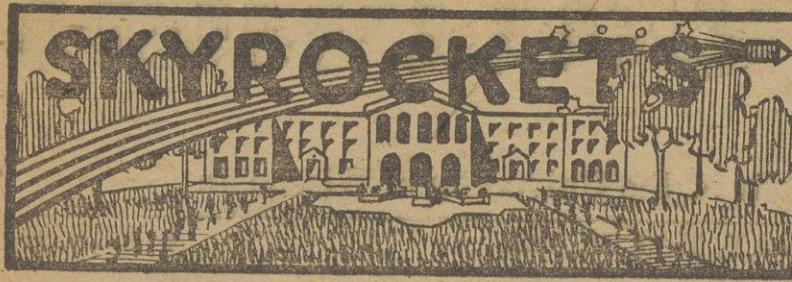

Frank Comerford of the American Constitutional League will lecture on "The Dangerous Days Ahead," at the university gymnasium this evening at 8 o'clock. No admission will be charged. Speaking in the interests of organized labor, he will talk on the activities of the I. W. W., syndicalism, and the tactics of leaders who share the views of William Z. Foster, steel strike leader, who spoke in Madison recently.

Mr. Comerford was special state's attorney in the trial of William Bross Lloyd and other communists.

BADGER MEETING

There will be a meeting of all students interested in working on the 1923 Badger in the Badger office this noon at 12:45.

HORACE B. POWELL,
Editor-in-chief.

THE year's at the spring, the day's at the morn, the morning's at seven, and everything generally is jake these days, eh wot?

EVEN the manorial projects of Ag. school lawns have been sufficiently mollified by age to insure us olfactory comfort.

DID you notice the scattered band of brave tuxedo wearers at the Curtain club performance? Oh, we will have big town standards injected into Madison activities yet. Strange though, Ralph Scheimpflug, one of the most conspicuous of the dandies, is only from Boscobel. Do they get on the hardboiled shirts for the firemen's ball in Boscobel, Ralphie?

RALPH, you will remember, introduced the first knickers at ye institution.

FAMOUS ONOMAT-OPOEIA IT is to be well observed that our three premier violinists, Heifetz, Culbertson, and Elman, boast the three rhythmic names respectively: Jascha, Sasha, and Mischa.

MUCH like the famous one-horse restaurant menu: ram, lamb, sheep, or mutton.

A statement which suggests this. Do they serve hors d'oevres at a one-horse restaurant?

YOU have undoubtedly heard the current joke about the suspicious appearing man who entered the Pullman car with a suitcase whence trickled some fluid. The all-observing porter queried him "What have you in that suitcase, Scotch?" Whereat the S. appearing G. replies, "No, gin."

SOMEHOW or other we seem to have missed the point in the above quip. It was really funny as we heard it.

THE question of immediate importance is whether we should see the bathing beauties at the Orpheum, or constrain ourselves till Lake Mendota warms up.

DANTE CLUB TO MEET TONIGHT

The Dante club will hold a meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in the Concert room of Lathrop hall. Italian art and the lives of prominent Italian men will be discussed.

The program will consist of a piano solo by Paul Saunders, a recitation in Italian by Alice Davis, a vocal solo, "O Let Me Dream Between Marble Walls," by Miss Weisman. Prof. Barry Cerf will give a talk on "Dante's Inferno," and Joseph Fucilla will speak on "The Contribution of Italy to Modern Culture." Italian lakes are to be shown on colored slides with an illustrated talk by Mr. Dudley, assistant librarian.

LEGION TO HEAR MRS. ROSENBERRY

The American Legion will hold a meeting this evening at 7:30 o'clock in Agricultural hall with the legionettes in charge. The program will include a talk by Mrs. M. E. Rosenberry on "Good Citizenship;" songs by the Girls' Glee club, a whistling stunt by Reba Hayden, and camp songs. Mess call will invite the guests to refreshments, apple pie a la mode being a special treat. Following the entertainment, a business meeting will be held to make plans for Memorial day exercises. Taps will close the meeting.

NEW YORK — The monthly tonnage report of the U. S. Steel corporation shows 5,845,224 tons of unfilled orders on hand April 30. This is a decrease from unfilled orders on March 31, which were 6,284,765 tons.

CARDINAL ADS PAY

WE wish to state that Paul Lillard, alumnus and well known two-pounds-less-than-a-horse-individual, is the heaviest man we have ever held on our lap.

SETH POLLARD, Phi Delta Phi pillar, will have his launch assembled for commencement exercises. Whether the engine will commence or not is his biggest worry.

AS per agreement, we shall never mention the name of George Lennon in this col. When we makes promises, George, we keeps 'em.

WE suggest a scheme whereby fraternities of mediocre athletic ability may insure the presence of silver cups on their mantel piece. Let their third floor play their second with a big cup as bait.

NO matter who wins the house keeps the cup.

THE Varsity Movie is fine. Of course, we only saw it the first night, and the characters were a little ill at ease. They will act a great deal better when stage fright wears off along about the third performance.

Heinrich Coerper has dislocated his arm. No, we shall not tell how he done it.

HE is not greatly incapacitated. You remember Artemus Ward's famous character?

BASEBALL TEAM IN STIFF PRACTICE

McCann is a great favorite, and has exhibited some real pitching qualities thus far in conference competition.

The Badger pitchers will be worried by the slugging combination of the Illini that has sent so many good moundmen to the bench this spring. Julie Mee, the lead-off man, was responsible for Wisconsin's defeat at Urbana last year. McCurdy, Captain Johnson, "Swede" Hellstrom, and Vogel are all hitting regularly.

FACULTY TOTAL IN CHINESE DRIVE GOES OVER MARK

The subscriptions from the faculty for the Chinese drive total $1,859.38, about $300 more than the original aim. The amount from the students has reached $1,455 with more subscriptions expected. Prof. E. A. Ross and Major G. S. Bryan, in behalf of the committee, wish to thank the students and faculty for their hearty co-operation.

Choral Union In Last Concert Tuesday

The Madison Choral Union will give its final concert of the season at Music hall next Tuesday at 8:15 p. m. It will be free. At that time two parts of Coleridge Taylor's setting of scenes from Longfellow's Hiawatha will be given by chorus and soloists under the direction of Peter W. Dykema. No more singable and appealing choral works have been written in the last 40 years.

"Handling of Advertising Copy," was the subject of a talk by Frank Schillinger, foreman of the composing room of The Capital Times, before members of the Advertising club at the Wednesday noon meeting.

dall," Coach T. E. Jones declared. "Wisconsin now has a football gridiron, track, and baseball diamond equal to the best in the country. We want a stadium that will rank also as high."

Begin New Courts

Six new tennis courts are being completed on Warren street adjoining Camp Randall. The new courts now make the total 28 for tennis fans at the university. Interest in the sport has greatly increased of late years, and along with the increase in enrollment at the university, it was found this year that the accommodations were entirely inadequate to care for the demand.

To provide tennis courts for everybody, a plan has been suggested by the athletic department in the form of a "Tennis Club association." The purpose of such a club, Coach Jones explained, would be to regulate the hours that the members could use the courts, and to enable the department to construct more of them for the students. There is no revenue obtained from courts, he added, while an investment in concrete seats means a substantial financial return.

A new baseball diamond for practice training purposes and for intra-mural baseball games is now being completed west of the old army barracks and north of the baseball bleachers. Wagon loads of loam dirt are being used to level up the field. This diamond will be used also for fall football practice and for spring baseball practice.

The cinder track at the stadium is now complete. Final work was done upon it this spring. The depth of cinders and the details of the track are in accordance with the best tracks in the country. A backstop has also been built on the lower campus to eliminate window breakages in the library.

SIG CHI'S WIN IN FRAT SWIM MEET

The Sig Chi swimmers took first place in the inter-fraternity swimming meet held at the gym last night, with a total of 36 points. Zeta Psi followed with 21 points and Chi Psi was third, almost tying the Zeta team, with 20 1-2 points. Chi Phi received fourth place with 18 1-2 points.

In the relay event the Sig Chi men held their pace and won the event—time 1 minute, 30 seconds. Diving went to Zeta Psi.

The summaries of the events were as follows:

40-yard swim—Sigma Chi, First. Time, :20.

100-yard breast stroke—Chi Psi, first. Time, 1:24.

220-yard swim—Zeta Psi, first. Time, 2:45.

Plunge for distance—Chi Psi, first. Fifty-eight feet in 1 minute.

Back stroke 100-yard swim—Sigma Chi, first. Time, 1:25 3-5.

100-yard swim—Sigma Chi, first. Time, 1:01 2-5.

quarter-mile run. Klug was prevented by sickness from participating in the Chicago meet, and he will be unable to work out again for at least a week. His place in the 440 yard dash will be filled by Joseph C. Holbrook '22. Holbrook was spiked in the Notre Dame-Wisconsin indoor track meet during the winter season, but he has regained his form after the long layoff.

Other track and field men of the Badger squad are in top-notch shape for the Minnesota meet. Dale Merrick '22 and Lloyd L. Wilder '21, Big Ten pole vault champions, are clearing the bar at 12 feet. Captain Clyde Nash '21 is showing up well in the 440 and 880 yard runs. Nash won first place in the half-mile and finished third in the quarter in the Chicago meet. The distance runs will be handled by Mark H. Wall '21, Clarence W. Wille '22, George Finkle '23, and Henry C. Dennis '21.

Tryouts for Sigma Delta Psi, honorary athletic fraternity, will be held this afternoon at Camp Randall. The events to be run off are the two-mile run, the hurdles event, sprints, and the pole vault. No Badger athlete has this year succeeded in passing all of the events.

AGS AND HOMECS
PLAN BIG PICNIC
NEXT WEDNESDAY

Hot dogs, "swell head" doughnuts washed down with fragrant coffee, and ice cream in cones will be the appetite tempters at the second annual Agri-Home Ec picnic on Wednesday, May 18.

The plans for the picnic are in charge of the Agricultural Federation. The Raymer farm on the Lake Drive has been chosen as the site for the outing. Last year's picnic was also held at this farm, which is university property.

Tags are now on sale on the camp-up and will be disposed of only to agri- and home ecs at 35 cents each. Each picnicker will wear his tag on the day of the outing.

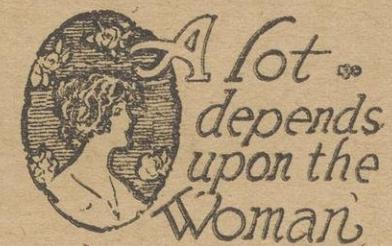

A peppy program for entertainment will be arranged to help digest the dog.

The following committees have active charge of the picnic:

Social: Carl Rogers '23, Caryl Parkinson '22, David Lacey '21, and Miss Dorothy Roberts. Program: William Pierre '21, Jennie Heising '22, and Dean J. A. James. Publicity: Bushrod Allin '21, and John Pinney '21.

THE MEMORIAL ASSURED

THE Cardinal has been informed by the Memorial Union building committee that the success of the memorial project is now positively assured and that no subscriber need hesitate to pay up his or her subscription.

The committee is now striving to collect outstanding pledges and is sending out payment notices.

A recent analysis of the campaign shows that student subscribers have been much slower in making payments than have the alumni and business men who made subscriptions to the fund. This analysis shows that subscriptions were made by a total of 3,337 students out of a total registration of about 7,000. Of the 3,337 student subscriptions only 520 had been fully paid, 533 have been partly paid and 2,284 are wholly unpaid.

The students of the university have done their part in the project to date wonderfully well and it is to be hoped that they will continue to demonstrate their faith in the project by making good on the subscriptions which they so willingly gave.

THE MAN WHO WORKS HIS WAY THROUGH

MORE than 2,000 students at Wisconsin, according to conservative estimates, work their way through the university in order to make both ends meet. These students work at anything that comes their way—as "hash slingers," waiters, dishwashers, bell boys, chauffeurs, printers, typists, bond salesmen, musicians, choristers, clerks, furnace tenders, and what not. They stop short of nothing, laying aside personal preference for the needs of the moment.

The man who earns his way and studies is, no doubt, temporarily under a distinct disadvantage. He has to forego the boon of wide acquaintanceship; he loses the stimulating force of continued intellectual and social contact with people; now and then he falls into a mood of unavoidable weariness and worry. But despite these failings and occasional trimming of study hours, he studies hard and in the long run is by far the gainer. He keeps constantly with him a sense of reality; he is ensnared into no dream-world as some of the more leisurely are liable to be. While he moves, as all college men do, in a sphere of theories and apparent unrealities, he still feels life—not the amateurish, fiddle-stick sort that unduly colors the atmosphere of the tea-room, dancing parlor, and average rooming house—but life brimming with struggles and complexity; life, sober, sedate, yet human.

Well may the rich fathers' sons and dollhouse daughters bethink themselves of those thousands upon thousands of American men and women who, to acquire a higher education, see fit to turn their backs upon the higher shades of university life! Well might they mend their ways and learn to regard the university as a temple of achievement rather than a grove of Bacchanalian rapture!

The man who works his way through school must inevitably live in a world of silent achievement. But this achievement, deprived as it is, of tribute by cymbal and drum, pin or key, is most worth while and ultimately succeeds in rendering great service.

The state should be proud of these thousands of students in all universities who get their education by the strength of their bodies and the force of their brains. They are the mark of the nation's yearning for democracy.

REFLECTIONS

Varsity Movie Actors See Themselves on Screen

I grabbed them, the movie actors, as they came out of the Strand theater after having seen the reel run off. "What were your sensations on seeing yourself in the movies?" I asked, and each had a different reaction.

Jack Harding—"Seeing yourself on the screen makes you see all the things you didn't do at the time you thought you were doing them. It is just like life—you keep thinking of what you might have done to make a better effect."

Madelaine Johnson—"Franker than the frankest friend is the movie. It would be a good thing for everyone to have a reel taken."

Marjorie Boesch—"It was like seeing a ghost of ones self or a dream picture. No, not necessarily a nightmare."

Horace Wetmore—"I have had no reaction as yet because I haven't seen it, but I've had plenty of thrills of expectation. Oh, purely pleasureable, I assure you."

Other actors could not be reached individually, but every one agreed that "It was an awfully funny feeling."

COMMERCE MAG OUT THIS WEEK

Two excellent articles by Professors Stephen A. Gilman and Arnold B. Hall entitled "A Man Plus a Plan," and "The Need of Business Men in Politics," dealing with the opportunities of the trained business man "with a plan," and the latter with the desirability of better business in the political field, are the leading stories of the May Commerce magazine appearing on the campus this week.

Professor Gilman's article is written with a special plea to the student reader, Commerce major or not, to undertake a definite plan for his life during undergraduate years, and to stick to it. Examples from Professor Gilman's long experience with students and graduates are given and the success of the "planners" is well brought out to illustrate his point.

Professor Hall's article asks for a patriotic participation in better politics on the part of the business men and future business men of the country, and uses the benefit to health legislation as an example to show how the medical profession has aided the politicians in public service. Better business legislation can only be hoped for, asserts Professor Hall, when public spirited business men exert a really unselfish influence on the legislatures.

RIFLE TEAM WINS FROM MILWAUKEE CHAMPION SQUAD

With an average score of 192 per man, the university cadet corps rifle team defeated the all-Milwaukee national rifle association team in a recent match. The Milwaukee team averaged 164 per man.

A competition with Minnesota will be held on Saturday, May 14, and as the local team has to date won every match by a wide margin, another victory is expected. The cadets take this opportunity to challenge any rifle teams within the state to a .22 caliber indoor match.

4 YEAR NORMAL BILL IS KILLED

Fowler Measure Dies in Assembly by Vote of 50 to 34

By FRED L. HOLMES

There will be no four year courses in the normal schools of the state. Nor will the normal schools be permitted to grant the degree of bachelor of education. This was decided in the house Wednesday, when the house killed the Fowler bill by 50 to 34.

There was over an hour of debate. Assemblymen A. E. Matheson, Mark Catlin, John L. Dahl, F. J. Peterson, spoke against the bill. It was supported by Assemblymen F. H. Fowler, John C. Schafer, and C. E. Hanson.

"The university lords it over the educational system of the state," said Assemblyman Fowler. "It is trying to run the state. What has this university done for the rural schools? I would support a large appropriation for the university, but I think it is time that the normal schools of this state were given a hearing on this floor. If you oppose the university off goes your head, if the university can accomplish it."

"This bill for a four year normal school course," said Assemblyman Matheson, "means nine little universities and nine normal school men presidents of universities. The normal schools of this state were established to train teachers, but some of them are deviating. The Milwaukee normal has a department of engineering and a school of arts. Milwaukee normal is getting away from its functions. This bill would cripple the little colleges of the state."

Assemblyman Catlin said this bill would cost the state millions. Assemblyman John L. Dahl declared that what was needed was more teachers and this bill would not produce it.

"This bill would result in the next legislature being blessed with more schemes to get money," said Assemblyman Peterson. "I am against it."

Assemblyman John C. Schafer, said that most men could not send their children to the university but this bill would give them a chance to get an education.

Assemblyman Dahl moved the indefinite postponement of the measure and it carried by a vote of 50 to 34.

Marmon Car Uses Park Hotel As Headquarters

The Marmon automobile company has located its local headquarters in the Park hotel building, in the room formerly known as the hotel bar. Two miniature Marmon cars, one a town car and the other a touring car are on display. A full size car will be placed in the room if it is possible to get it through the doorways. At present it stands in the lobby.

Chi Omega Formal

Bringing many of the old unlucky superstitions connected with Friday, the thirteenth into the toasts, and the decorations, the spring formal dinner dance of Chi Omega sorority will be given at the Candy shop, Friday evening, May 13. Silhouettes against backgrounds of white lattice work intertwined with roses and vines will be the note of decorations which will be carried out on the table. The chaperons of the party will be Dean and Mrs. F. W. Roe, Prof. and Mrs. J. E. Olson, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Menzenhall, and Miss Bertha Hamilton. Out-of-town guests who will attend the affair are the Misses Harriet Pettibone, Marguerite Tice, Milwaukee, and Ruth Ruggles, Kenosha.

O'SHEA PREDICTS TEACHER SHORTAGE

218 Seniors Are Registered for Educators; Status Better Than Ever

That there will be a shortage of qualified teachers this year, in spite of the economic conditions which would tend to make this field more attractive than it has been in the last few years, was the opinion expressed by Prof. M. V. O'Shea, of the School of Education last week.

More applicants for teaching positions are registered among members of the senior class at the university than usual, but many of these have not had the preparation in education courses necessary for successful teaching.

Only 218 seniors, including 41 men and 177 women have taken the studies which lead to a teaching certificate. Of these, 40 women are in home economics, 19 are men in the College of Agriculture, one man and 30 women are in the School of Music, and 21 men and 107 women are in the College of Letters and Science.

The status of the teaching profession is better than it ever has been before, according to Prof. O'Shea. Better homes are provided for instructors and social conditions are much more satisfactory. Salaries, instead of decreasing as have the salaries in other lines of work, have either remained the same as those of last year, or increased slightly.

LUTHERAN SOCIETY TO BE INAUGURATED

A banquet inaugurating the Lutheran brotherhood of the University of Wisconsin will be held at the Park hotel, Thursday, May 12. The purpose of the organization is to promote companionship among Lutheran students and to further student interest in church work. Honorary members to be received follow: Mayor L. M. Kittleson, Rev. G. Siljan, Rev. A. Haentschel, Rev. A. J. Soldan, Rev. E. A. Peterson, Rev. O. J. Wilke, Mr. George Weigle, and Prof. M. M. Steensland.

Van Valzahs Entertain

Dr. and Mrs. Robert Van Valzah entertained at a formal dance at the Woman's building last evening. About 200 invitations were issued to members of the university faculty and residents of Madison. Smith's orchestra, Louisville, Kentucky, furnished the music.

The affair culminates an unusually successful social season enjoyed by Madison.

CHANGE NAME OF COURSE IN APPLIED ARTS

Because the term "manual arts," has been so often misinterpreted, the Regents of the university have just changed the name of the Department of Manual Arts to "Department of Industrial Education and Applied Arts."

The students in this department must not only understand how to work with their hands, but also understand the science back of this work, and the old name did not imply this, it is explained.

The course in industrial education fits students for minor executive management position in shops and factories as well as for teaching positions, and the course in applied arts instructs its students in commercial drawing, painting, craft works, etc. The degrees to be awarded at the completion of the courses will now be Bachelor of Science (Industrial Education) and Bachelor of Science (Applied Arts).

CHORAL UNION ENDS SEASON ON MAY 17

The Madison Choral union will give its final concert of the season at Music hall Tuesday, May 17, at 8:15 p. m. The concert is open to the public without charge. At that time two parts of S. Coleridge Taylor's setting of scenes from Longfellow's Hiawatha will be given by chorus and soloists under the direction of Prof. Peter W. Dykema. This music has been given repeatedly by the best choral societies here and abroad and has evoked much enthusiasm. Lovers of Longfellow's poems will find that the composer has dignified and enhanced the message of the poet.

VICTORY BANQUET GIVEN BY CLUBS

Sterling Tracy '22, winner of the first award in the Northern Oratorical league contest, acted as toastmaster at the joint Victory banquet of Pythia and Philomathia literary societies, held Tuesday evening in the Badger room of the Belmont hotel. Other speakers were: Gladys Borchers '21, who represented Wisconsin in the N. O. L. last year, Charles D. Assovsky '21, Alice Tucker '22, Robert B. Stewart '23, and Eleanor Shearer '22.

Between the courses readings were given by Ruth Koppke '22, and Laure Owen '23. Miss Koppke gave two dialect pieces, "George Washington," and "The Hen," and Miss Owen presented "The Absent Guest".

Both Pythia and Philomathia were celebrating their victories in the joint debate this year. Philomathia won its victory over Hesperia last January, and Pythia defeated Castalia in April.

Merchants of Wisconsin are evincing much interest in the meeting to be held next Monday in the Assembly Chamber of the Capitol at which Paul Findlay, retail merchandiser, will be the speaker.

Findlay, who is connected with the California Fruit Growers exchange, has delivered addresses in all the principal cities of the United States and it was through the concerted efforts of the retailers in this city that he will speak Monday night.

SLOGANS

1921 Badger Offers Prize for Best Title Submitted by Saturday

"Wisconsin's Greatest Book for Wisconsin's Greatest Year."

"The Year-Book with a Mission."

A slogan that will make even these expressive titles seem inexpensive, is the aim of the 1923 Badger staff, who have offered a prize for the best slogan handed in to the Badger office before Tuesday noon.

Contestants may use their own discretion as to the titles without trepidation, because the worst that can happen to them is to fail to be accepted, while they may even win fame and the prize by a lucky idea.

Each contestant may hand in as many titles as he wishes, although not more than one may be accepted. Those submitted may be mailed to the 1923 Badger.

All contributions to the title contest must be in by Tuesday.

AT THE GRAND

For the past ten days the Madison Boy Scouts have been selling tickets for a benefit performance to be given by the Grand today and tomorrow. Manager McWilliams has made their task comparatively easy for the Scouts by furnishing one of the best pictures of the year, "Half a Chance." The boys have gone after the job of ticket selling in true scout fashion and the result should be S. R. O. at all performances today and tomorrow.

"Half a Chance" is a seven part special from the widely read novel of that name by Frederic S. Isham, with Mahlon Hamilton, of "Daddy Long-Legs" fame, and beautiful Lillian Rich in the stellar roles. Madison's professional representative on the screen, Sidney Ainsworth, appears as the villain in the picture. The production is said to have all the virility, punch, drama and outdoor appeal of Jack London, Rex Beach and Robert Service combined, and from the standpoint of action is a second "Go and Get It," a picture of which the patrons of the Grand are still talking.

"Half a Chance" is a regular "he-man" story of the "under dog"—a man who, sunken to the depths, beats his way through almost insurmountable obstacles with the sheer force of physical dominance, determination and will power. It arouses every drop of red blood in you for the man who was convicted of murder on a frame-up, escapes while being taken to prison, is shipwrecked and cast on a desert island with a case of law books. Then years later he is a great criminal lawyer fighting to clear the name of "Sailor Burke," the prizefighter who was unjustly convicted of murder ten years previous.

AT THE STRAND

The photoplay which is now being shown at the Strand theater is "The Right to Love," produced by George Fitzmaurice and featuring Mae Murray and David Powell. Ovide Bergeron adapted the story from a popular French play. It is a Paramount picture.

Miss Murray has the role of an American girl, who leads a wretched life with her husband, Sir Archibald Falkland, English director of the Ottoman Debt at Constantinople. In an effort to compromise his wife so he may marry another woman, Sir Archibald installs a Prince Stanislaus in his home. A Colonel Richard Loring, played by David Powell, arrives in time to rescue her from the Prince, though in the resulting mix-up, Loring shoots Falkland dead. He is acquitted in the trial that follows, and he and Lady Falkland seek happiness together.

A Comedy cartoon and a Paramount magazine will be the added attractions.

CHURCHES HELP
CHINA'S CAUSEAdvance Reports Give Evidence of Liberal Gifts for Starving

Churches of Madison, usually the backbone of relief efforts, are living up to their reputation in their performance thus far for China famine aid. Food saving envelopes and special envelopes for Sunday school scholars were generously supplied to the city churches a week ago Sunday and collections were made last Sunday. Only a few collections have been remitted to the city committee but these show a high average of gifts and indicate the responsiveness of the church people to the call of China in her hour of need.

Plymouth Congregational church turned in $155 and has more in prospect. The First Congregational remitted $148 and previously paid in $18, making a total of $161. Christ

Presbyterian church collected $151 and Trinity Lutheran church $50. The First Baptist Sunday school sent in $140 and has more coming. These five churches thus have given $657 to date. Other reports are expected through the week.

The Nightingale Sewing club contributed $10.

A large number of stations for sales of China life-saving stamps have been established in the uptown section, according to C. B. Lester, Kiwanis club member of the city committee, whose territory is the square region. Drug stores, jewelry and drygoods stores, cafeterias, etc., are rendering this service. More will be opened this week. All drug stores in the city are selling the stamps.

Special stamp sales were conducted Monday and Tuesday in all schools, principals directing their campaigns. Reports are expected by Principal V. G. Barnes, in charge of the school campaign.

All interested citizens are urged by the city committee to continue their food saving policies for at least two weeks longer, as the crucial time in the famine areas extends from the present until the harvest period about the first of July. Two dollars will save a life until harvest time.

"Year Book With a Mission"
Shows State-University Relation

The 1922 Badger shows pictorially what the Exposition showed graphically, the inter-relation of the state and university. The culmination of the mission of this year book—to show how the hopes and interests of the state have been met in the various departments of the university—is reached in the Administration section of the Badger.

In bold relief is shown this interdependence by placing on opposite pages beautiful prints of university buildings balanced by scenes of related fields in the state.

The grouping starts with the College of Letters and Science, pictured by photographs of the Biology building and the Historical library on the left hand page, and balanced on the right hand page with its connecting expression in the state as typified by the Milwaukee public library and the Wisconsin high school. The other large departments are expressed as follows:

Commerce—The University; Political Economy and Physic building; The State; A Wisconsin bank and a state shipping dock scene.

Law—The University; The Law building; The State; Dane county court house and the State capitol.

Medicine—The University; Science hall and Bradley Memorial hospital; The State; St. Mary's hospital, Milwaukee, and Madison General hospital.

Agriculture—The University; Dairy building and Agricultural; The State; State silos and a Wisconsin farm.

Engineering—The University; Engineering building, and Hydraulics laboratory; The State; A Wisconsin mine and a Wisconsin river dam.

Extension—The University; Extension building; The State; City and country scenes.

Athletics—The University; The gymnasium and Lathrop; The State;

Randall field and a state playground. These state scenes were taken by a special photographer who made trips to various cities in Wisconsin to find exactly the buildings and scenes that most ideally expressed the larger growth from the university.

A beautifully balanced and effective page is created with the couple arrangement of the photographs, on the upper half of the facing pages and the clever pen sketches at the lower outer edges. The whole effect is completed with the legends printed in fine print for each department, both on the university and state sides. Four tints have been used in the make-up of the pages, the background being a delicate shade of green, the frames about the photographs in two tones and the photograph itself.

This pictorial representation of the interdependence of state and university is linked with its written expression in statements by men working along the same lines in the two fields. The Badger contains statements by Gov. J. J. Blaine representing Letters and Science, and Mr. Walter J. Kohler, Commerce; Frank Hoard, Agriculture; Dr. J. Holbrook, Medicine; Chief Justice Rosenberry, Law; Magnus Swensen, Engineering.

This idea of a year book with a mission is an entirely new one and that of showing the interrelation of state and university belongs to Thomas Coxon '22, the editor who, with the help of Humphrey Desmond '22, worked out this novel Administration department.

Last minute orders for the Badger are still being turned in and as there have been a few extra copies ordered students who have not yet ordered a Badger may still do so by giving their orders at the Union building in the afternoon.

OUTING CLUB TO INSTALL OFFICERS
AT ANNUAL FETE

Outing club will install new officers and elect to fill the two present vacancies at the annual picnic at the Assembly grounds tonight. "We're going to have good food," stated Margaret Henry '23, chairman of the food committee, enumerating fried eggs, bacon, buns, pickles, and all sorts of other picnic edibles. Two groups will leave Lathrop, one at 5 o'clock and the other at 5:30. Games and stunts have been planned and for each event a prize will be awarded the winner.

The installation ceremony of Outing club is impressive and original. Eleven officers have already been elected and the treasurer and head of skating will be chosen first and installed with the rest. Those to be installed tomorrow night are: Elizabeth Kirk '23, president; Dorothy Cremer '22, vice-president; Romayne Berryman '23, secretary; Irene Clayton '23, head of hiking; Esther Bilstad '24, head of bicycling; Margaret Henry '23, head of picnicking; Katherine Kennedy '24, head of tobogganing; Helen Vuelke, head of skiing; Mary Baldwin '23, head of roller skating; Margaret Deckett, head of canoeing; Della Mann '24, head of horseback riding.

The picnic will take the place of and in case of 1234af5ETAOINNN the regular Outing club meeting and in case of rain the meeting will be held at 7:15 in the concert room, as usual.

LONDON—Germany's unconditional acceptance of the entente reparations was delivered to prime minister Lloyd George by Dr. St. Hamer, German minister to Great Britain, here Wednesday.

SUFFRAGE LEAGUE WILL REORGANIZE

The Woman Suffrage league will meet this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the S. G. A. room at Lathrop hall to reorganize into the Intercollegiate league for women voters.

The tentative purpose of the club will be to promote the understanding of the meaning of the right to vote; to support non-partisan legislation and to stand for those men who have the highest ideals regardless of party affiliations; and to support any measure for the alleviation of unfavorable working conditions for women and children.

All women interested in legislative welfare are invited to attend the meeting.

OF COUNTRY MAG
APPEARS TODAY

The Feature Number of the Country Magazine will appear on the campus this morning. This number of the Mag is devoted mainly to the conservation of the natural beauty of the state. The aesthetic as well as economic value of scenic and historical beauty spots is shown by means of full and half page half-tone plates. Brown duo-tone ink is used throughout the magazine.

The edition is limited and already large orders have been received for copies of this issue. The magazine will be on sale at Agricultural hall, Bascom hall, and the Biology building. No advance in price has been made from the regular price of 20 cents.

ATHLETIC LOSS AT HARVARD

Even Harvard, with its tremendous attendance at Harvard-Yale and Harvard-Center football games, lost money on athletics during the past year. The official report shows a loss of over $6,000 in major and minor sports, the total expenditures being $174,578 and receipts $168,234. Football and baseball were the only sports which were more than self-supporting.

Attractive, Practical Golf Suits

The first essential of Golf Suits is that they be thoroughly comfortable to play in; but if they can be stylish and good looking and in keeping with the general clothes atmosphere of the club, so much the better. These Golf Suits are very fine; good fitting and attractive. Allow full swing of the arms without any strain. Extremely practical, extremely good looking. We have quite a selection for you. Out of the ordinary values.
