TRACK SQUAD PREPARES FOR BIG TEN MEET

Last Workout Held Before
Western Conference
Event at Chicago

Despite the poor condition of the track and unfavorable weather, the Wisconsin track squad took its last hard workout yesterday in preparation for the Big Ten track meet to be held at Chicago on Friday and Saturday. Long distance runners will finish their practice tomorrow afternoon, but it is probable that entrants in the other events will rest.

Preliminaries of the Western Conference track and field games will begin on Friday afternoon in nine events. Men who fail to qualify will be eliminated from further competition and will be unable to work in these events in the finals on Saturday. Big Ten officials have designated the following preliminary trials: quarter mile, half mile, high jump, broad jump, pole vault, shot put, hammer throw, discus and javelin throws.

Coach Thomas E. Jones has decided that Paul D. Kayser '21 will not start in the quarter-mile run. Kayser injured himself in the furlong when he beat Young, Northwestern, in a speedy finish last Friday. Although he will not enter the 440-yard race, the Badger runner will be one of the quartet to run in the mile relay.

WARREN GARST TO TALK ON RETAILING

Speaks at Commerce Vocational Conference Today at 4:30

Warren Garst, a graduate of the university in 1915, will address the vocational conference of the Commerce school at 4:30 today in room 410 of the Physics building. "How We Run a Retail Store" will be the subject of his talk.

Mr. Garst is a partner in the Garst Store at Coon Rapids, Iowa. This general merchandise store, which does an exceptionally large volume of business considering the size of the city in which it is located, owes much of its success to the excellent quality of its advertising, all handled by Mr. Garst.

In addition he publishes a store paper, The Garst Standard, which is circulated throughout the Coon Rapids district. In this work he is aided by his wife, who conducts a column of helpful hints for housewives entitled "What Sally Lee Says."

In his talk to-day Mr. Garst will show the numerous possibilities for the college student who wishes to start retailing in his own town.

SELL LAST FROSH CAP TAGS TODAY

Frosh cap tags will be on sale today in Bascom hall, Ag hall, Biology building, and Engineering building. There are 200 of these tags left which are being sold to defray expenses of Cap night. Today is the last opportunity to obtain them and they cost from 10 cents to as much as a frosh wishes to pay.

HARESFOOT OFFERS $100 FOR BEST PLAY

Contest for 24th Production
Open to Students and Alumni

Announcing its annual play contest, the Haresfoot club offers a prize of $100 for the best book and music for the twenty-fourth annual production of the club, which will be staged next spring. The contest is open to all students or alumni of the university.

"The play is to be a musical comedy," said William H. Purnell '22, president, "and can be situated almost anywhere. All the Haresfoot club asks of the writers of the book and music is that the play be well-written, with many humorous situations, as well as plenty of opportunity for characterizations and comedy."

It is thought well for the writers of the music and book to work in conjunction, although this is not absolutely necessary throughout the writing. "We are looking for a great number of plays to come out of the university this year, since the success of 'Miss Quita' as an entirely original play was very marked," said Purnell.

Further particulars of the contest and details in regard to the writing of the play can be obtained from Purnell at F. 136, or from Wells Carberry, F. 139.

WISCONSIN WRITER WINS PULITZER MEDAL FOR PLAY

Miss Zona Gale's play, "Miss Lulu Bett," has recently won the Pulitzer prize for "the play produced in New York during 1920 which best presents the educational value and power of the state in raising the standard of good morals, good taste, and good manners."

Miss Gale was born in Portage, Wis., and is well known as a Wisconsin authoress. For several years she was connected with the staff of the Milwaukee Journal. She is an honorary member of the Wisconsin chapter of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary women's journalistic fraternity, and has several times been a guest of the members in the university.

Others of the group that have been honored by the Pulitzer medal are Edith Wharton, author of the "Age of Innocence," Edward Bok, who tells the story of the making of an American, Admiral Sims, who gave the best contribution to American history during the year, and Louis Seibold, writer of the interview with President Wilson, which is considered the best piece of reportorial work of the year.

BADGER SALE TO CONTINUE ON HILL

Those who have not yet obtained their copies of the 1922 Badger will be able to buy the books at several stands on the campus and at several stores in the city. Booths in Main hall, the Engineering building, and Agricultural hall will sell the books all day from now on, and volumes may be obtained from the Menges pharmacy on the square, the Menges pharmacy on Monroe street, the University pharmacy, the Co-op, and the Badger pharmacy.

The books will be sold at the same price as previously, $5, and every subscriber and student is urged to get this volume as soon as possible in order to clear up the sales of the book.

COOLIDGE SCORES COLLEGE RADICALS

Vice-President Indicts Intercollegiate Socialist Society
—Mentions Wisconsin

Charges that radical propaganda is undermining the 100 per cent Americanism of college students are made by Vice-President Calvin Coolidge in a lengthy article in the June issue of The Delineator. Mr. Coolidge attributes the propagation of the radicalism to college clubs and scores the publications of various women's institutions.

"There is no doubt that the heart of our women's colleges is sound," Mr. Coolidge asserts. "But they are now ministering to a new element which sometimes exhibits morbid tendencies. Besides, there is evidence which is circumstantial but of considerable strength that they are the object of adroit attacks by radical propagandists to an extent creative in some colleges of an element of radicalism decidedly hostile to our American form of government, to the established personal right to hold property and to the long recognized sanctions of civilized society."

Mr. Coolidge asserts that the principal method of propagating radicalism in the universities seems to be the formation of clubs for the study and discussion of radical literature and the hearing of radical lectures. These clubs, he says, are usually chapters of the Intercollegiate Socialist society. After indicting the patriotism of this organization, Mr. Coolidge asserts:

"The University of Wisconsin has a chapter of over 100 members. This is said to be the largest. To enlarge chapter membership, reduced fees are allowed."

Mr. Coolidge declares that the society's organ, The Socialist Review, reveals a pro-bolshevist leaning, and that the radical nature of the club

JUNE 18 IS DAY SET FOR ANNUAL SENIOR PICNIC

The annual senior class picnic will be held Saturday, June 18, at Bernard's park, the boats leaving Park street at 4:30.

There are to be no couples at this picnic, according to the committee, since it is for the entire class. It is the seniors' last chance to become well acquainted before graduation. The annual baseball game will be the special feature. "And last year, I believe," said Harriett Bartlett, chairman, "the girls beat the boys!"

The tickets, in charge of De Witt Van Pinkerton, will be put on sale Thursday noon at Morgan's and the University pharmacy. They will be on sale in Main hall Monday and Tuesday of next week. The price is 75 cents.

Tom Brittingham assures good transportation, and good food is guaranteed by Elizabeth Chandler and Esther Graham. The committee urges that every one bring his ticket, for only those with tickets may eat!

LETTERS ARE SENT TO HIGH SCHOOLS

Five hundred letters were sent out this week to prospective Wisconsin university students.

These letters are sent through the Council of 40 and are descriptive of the activities and accomplishments of the university, urging these students to complete their education here. They are sent only to students of accredited high schools.

This is a practice that is carried out every spring.

WHAT THE SENATE DID
LAST NIGHT

Took action to hold freshman and sophomore class officers and certain class leaders personally responsible for further violations of the regulations against indiscriminate hazing and for the preservation of order cap night.

Instructed elections committee to draw up stringent regulations to prevent "ballyhoo" campaign tactics on the hill in future elections and empowered the committee to appoint additional men to supervise the conduct of elections.

Provided for the appointment of men from time to time to serve as the executive arm of the senate in view of the action of the Council of 40 in declining to serve in the manner provided by the recent referendum which passed.

Referred petition to repeal the recent amendments to the elections committee.

Following close on the heels of the soph-frosh uprising Tuesday night the Student Senate at its regular meeting last night took drastic action to prevent a recurrence of the trouble and to maintain order cap night.

The senate voted to hold the freshman and sophomore class offi-

Seniors Discuss Madison Trade
at Last Advertising Club Meeting

"Sensational publicity and extravagant newspaper stories about the university must be eliminated," said William B. Florea '21, who spoke on "Advertising the University," at the last meeting of the University Advertising club at the city Y. M. C. A. last night. "Frequently one student out of 7,000 makes himself conspicuous and the reputation of the entire student body suffers," he continued.

"The University Exposition did a great deal to combat the unfortunate propaganda against the university. It emphasized the real worth of the university—the valuable training which students receive. This is often overshadowed by the more conspicuous social life," he went on to say.

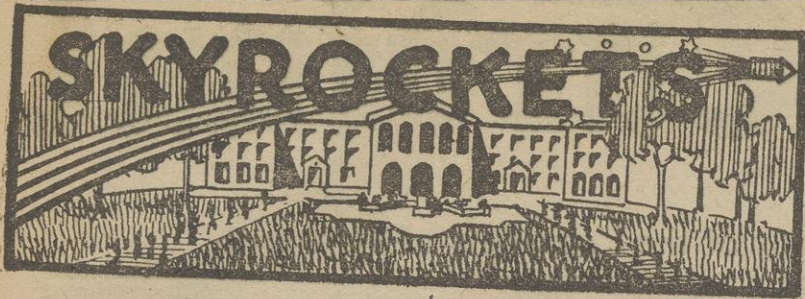

Elections
The following officers were elected for next semester:

Donald Bailey '22, president; Corrington Gill '22, vice-president; William Englehardt '22, secretary; Philip Bredesen '22, treasurer; Humphrey Desmond '22, director; Willard Rendall '22, director.

Nine new members were elected: Loran S. Clark '23, William Peebles '23, Douglas Newell '23, Gladys Peterson '23, Russell Frawley '23, Peter Moeller '23, Margaret Daley '23, Neil McKay '22, Philip Lawson '22.

And now youse know how Peary must have felt in the frozen north.

While just a week ago it was so hot that if one were to have gone from here to hell the devil would have sent one back for one's blankets.

There reads a sign in a Madison haberdasher's window "Fried Hats." Everyone passing that store has made his or her comments, so we will refrain. Such rank superfluity on our part would be the last straw—even when referring to hats.

Some humorously inclined person labelled the large shoe in the State Street shine parlor "Hank Gausewitz." All we have to say is that they made a big mistake in supposing Hank could ever get on so small a shoe.

A PLAY

Mavis Chubb (instructing French)—Now there are a good many English words that sound like their French counterparts. Can any of you little boys (the class, by the way, is composed of little boys) recall any such words?

(No answer).
Mavis—Well, take the word "signify." Doesn't that suggest any French word to you?

(No answer).
Mavis—Can't anybody answer?

(No answer).
Mavis—What, nobody?

(Finally comes the answer. You see we have filled quite a bit of space with this repartee between Mavis and her class of little boys).

Little Robert Van Valzah (answering)—I know, teacher. That's the name of a rough bunch that lives out near us.

(Here fellows much hale and hearty mirth, for little Robert has made a right smart quip).

Mary Dief, asks why it is that little devils do not eat ice cream? The answer is "Where in the world could they get it?"

But tally ho, wait a moment. We spoiled that. The answer is really "Where in h—ll could they get it?"

Even in the joke's first form one can see through it. Through some of the most obscure things, in fact, can the most be seen.

Not only do we refer to keyholes, but you will remember that Dido got her first site of Carthage through leather. (Those not versed in Biblical lore will miss the above allusion).

When we asked Half Fed Bedammit to relieve us with this col. recently, we did not bargain for the slander he heaped upon us—for slander us he most certainly did. We admire his style, but not his subject matter.

Which brings to our mind the story of how Artemus Ward came upon a fellow struggling to get on some stiff new boots. Artemus informed him that he was using the wrong methods. "What you must do," he said, "is to wear them around a bit. That will soften them up, and you can get them on easily."

But that story has a flavor which reminds one of a possibility of its being false, does it not?

It may delight the reading public to know that Bunk Rohr spent his first afternoon in the library yesterday afternoon for the first time in five years.

We must lay off the Kappas this morning. Earle Hardy informs us that the last gore he furnished us concerning them got him into a heap of trouble. Of course Earle didn't say "heap" exactly. He is too particular of his grammar to say that. What he really said was too sumptuous in syntax for us to repeat here, but reduced to homely terms of our own understanding what he said amounted to "heap."

To fill the remaining two inches of space we must resort to trickery, so we will tell the old story about the bell. This old bell, you will remember, on hot summer afternoons used to strike ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, ding, dong, etc., etc.

Snarpy story, ho whot?

Not, you say?

The Duke DIKAKIAK.

CHOOSE SWING-OUT SONG AT BANQUET OF RED GAUNTLET

Red Gauntlet held its annual banquet at Lathrop parlors Tuesday night. More than 125 sophomore women attended.

Marjorie Severance presided as toastmistress. The toasts given were Burnt Toast, Alma Fenn; Milk Toast, Dorothy Bacon; Dream Sandwiches, Miss Cynthia Wesson, instructor in the physical education department. Miss Lillian Douthart, dean of sophomore women, gave a short farewell talk.

A song contest was held for the production of the best song for the sophomores to sing at Senior swing-out, Friday, June 3. Marian Sosel and Jocelyn Knights received a chocolate cake for the best songs.

The report of the nominating committee for Yellow Tassel officers was made. The nominees for president are Josephine Walters and Merle Shaw; vice-president, Louise Moore and Miriam Arey; secretary, Blanche Field and Irene Clayton; treasurer, Romayne Berryman and Maude Killam.

Further nominations made from the floor are, president, Isabel Capps; vice-president, Mary Lindsay; secretary, Margaret Baldwin and Beatrice Perlman; treasurer, Josephine Doring.

Cleo Parsley was appointed by the committee as chairman of the junior advisory system.

survey of Madison as a wholesale center. On account of the city's excellent railroad, express and truck service, Madison can compete with larger cities.

An intensive development of the Madison trade area is suggested. By sending out salesmen in Fords and by adding to their lines, Madison wholesalers can successfully serve merchants in the 24 hour delivery zone.

The retail situation in Madison was discussed by Arthur Nelson '21, who has completed an investigation of the buying habits of students and housekeepers. This report revealed the fact that there is a grocery store for every 210 people in Madison.

This investigation also indicated that the meager returns from money spent for advertising by Madison merchants is due to a lack of a definite advertising appropriation and program.

Pauline Cornish '21, who spoke on the Cardinal's feature advertising page told of the unusual success of this venture.

The practical value of the Advertising club was emphasized by Beatrice Morgan '21, David Smith '21, Esther Van Wagoner '21, and Robert Lindsay '21.

cers together with the members of the sophomore traditions committee and the freshman cap night committee personally responsible for any further violation of the regulations against indiscriminate hazing. In event of another lawless outbreak the senate will have these men answer to the student life and interest committee of the faculty.

Meanwhile, the senate court will be in session in the Union building at noon for the remainder of the week for the speedy trial of violators of traditions.

Action on Elections

The senate also took action in the conduct of future elections on the campus. The elections committee was instructed by unanimous vote to draw up regulations to prevent "ballyhoo" electioneering tactics on the hill election day. It is the aim of the senate that all elections be conducted with dignity and with the absence of clap-trap methods. The elections committee was also empowered to appoint as many men as it may see fit to be present in and about the polling places all during the elections to enforce the regulations to the letter.

Executive Provision

In view of the action of the Council of 40 in declining to serve as the executive arm of the senate as provided for in the amendment which carried by a narrow vote in the recent election the senate took action to appoint men from time to time to serve as temporary members of the senate executive committee.

A petition signed by a large number of the qualified male electors of the school calling for the repeal of the two amendments approved by the men in the last election was presented. This petition was referred to the elections committee. One of the amendments provided that the Council of 40 should serve as the executive branch of the senate. The other provided that the Union, Athletic, and Forensic board presidents and the editor of The Daily Cardinal should sit on the senate.

Sterling Tracy '22 was elected temporary chairman of the senate for next year to serve until the new senate is chosen. A new elections committee was chosen consisting of the following: Thomas Coxon '22, chairman; George Stolley '22, Dale Merrick '22, Melbourne Bergerman '22, and Lee McCandless '23.

WHY CAP NIGHT?

IT'S tag day on the campus today for the purpose of gleaning enough loose change to buy fuel for cap night.

Cap night used to be an event in the life of the yearlings who turned out to celebrate their liberation. Since self-government has been instituted and put "on trial" every time a yearling makes a splash in the waters of Mendota, the wearing of the green cap and a few other so-called traditions, have become forms that many freshmen disregard.

As long as the green cap is worn by only a percentage of the freshmen, why not dispense with cap night? To many yearlings who may wish to take part in the celebration, it will mean the expense of buying a cap which should have been incurred last fall.

WHERE ARE OUR MANNERS?

TIME was when one of the fundamental characteristics of good manners was expressed in kindly and thoughtful consideration of the feeling of our fellow men. Times have changed.

It is within the memory of the living when politeness, good manners, and that sort of thing were supposed to be one of the things to be acquired in college. Old-time educators went so far as to declare that consideration for others was a quality that marked the man as being truly cultured.

In the rush of life in college, especially near the end of the year, no one is given to meditation on such a subject as good manners. Indiscretions and other sins are just as bad in their effect though they be thoughtlessly committed, as those that are deliberately perpetrated.

There may be tons of excuses, plenty of mitigating circumstances, and good arguments to be made to the contrary, but the fact is that in holding Venetian Night celebration on Mendota on the evening that a student was drowned was reprehensible.

Yes, many students maintain, the spirit of the celebration was dampened because of the untimely tragedy, "but the university is too big" to pause in its activities merely because one of a thousand was taken by death.

To the parents, relatives, and many friends of Melvin Engler, the Cardinal wishes to say that there are many students and faculty members of this university who believe that the celebration should have been called off to prove that this institution is not "too big" to have a very personal regard for the feelings of the bereaved parents.

It is regrettable indeed that our attitude toward others is one of thoughtlessness and utter lack of consideration and respect. Prevalence of such thoughtlessness as was manifested by the jazz-music on the lake shore on the evening of the tragedy is perhaps one of the reasons why the university and city authorities have done nothing toward removing the death trap that lurks in Lake Mendota as long as we have inefficient, inadequate live-saving facilities. Nobody here seems to care particularly. Those who really suffer are usually the parents—who are not residents of Madison.

We're a polite, thoughtful, well-bred, mannerly, and a very proper, lot of cultured people, we are.

LAMBDA TAU RHO

ILLINOIS wins. They've stolen a march on us. Our clique of "jiners" and inveterate organizers has been caught napping.

Wisconsin with its mere handful of precious campus organizations, honorary, professional, elective, and the like; organizations, that sport pins, keys, bill boards, ritual, grip, and ever'thing, cannot afford to miss out on anything along this line.

Our year-book, the Badger, has scarcely enough to fill a measly 30-page section for honorary groups, ranging from the elite intellegentia to the exclusive philanthropic.

Our experts have been outdone. Lambda Tau Rho, grip, pin, ritual, and all, makes no requirements save that candidates must be red-headed. Perhaps the only reason why the organizations section of the Badger hasn't this group in it is because our best joiners haven't got red hair!

is shown by published accounts of meetings held under its auspices. At one meeting in New York, he asserts, Victor L. Berger attacked the constitution, the supreme court and the senate. Mr. Coolidge then declares:

"Can thi sbe interpreted as anything else than an attempt to make socialists of college students and college graduates? Can it be denied that it is meeting with some success?"

Mr. Coolidge, then analyzes the conditions in various girls' colleges. He scores various student publications declaring that:

"An examination of recent student publications shows a friendly familiarity with that antagonistic attitude toward our institutions, not without support by some faculty members, who permit its exercise under a cloak or claim of academic freedom."

The "Bulletin" of Barnard college is scored for printing a statement that "There is no conflict between socialist internationalism and American idealism." Smith college, he says, seems more sane because the study of socialism is more academic. Bryn Mawr he whitewashes because there are no socialist clubs. But Wellesley comes in for a hot attack because an article in the college magazine in March, 1918, commended the German socialists who during the war opposed war loans. Radcliffe college is flayed for being a "hotbed of Bolshevism."

In concluding, Mr. Coolidge issues a solemn warning that adherence to radical doctrines means "the ultimate breaking down of the old sturdy virtues of manhood and womanhood, the insidious destruction of character, the weakening of the moral fibre of the individual, the destruction of the foundations of civilization."

GREEN BUTTON HOLDS DINNER

Dean M. H. Mendenhall was the principal speaker at the annual Green Button banquet held in the Candy shop last night, her talk taking the form of a "prophecy" in which she pictured the memories which would be brought up in 1974 to an investigator of the "hope chest" of the class of '24.

"In this hope chest I am going to put two things to remember each girl in the class by, the first being the roll of the girls of this class, 810 names, bearing one page in memoriam of Esther Wepking. The second thing that I want to put in is a rose, one petal for your sportsmanship, one for your initiative, one for your enthusiasm, and the last for your youth and beauty. I put this rose in for my rose garden of girls, the Freshman class."

Other speakers were Sara Philipson '24, "play"; Nina Faris '24, "Troubles"; Marion Metcalf '24, "Memory Book"; Frances Wright '24, acted as toastmistress.

Officers for Red Gauntlet nominated were: Marjorie Capron; Margaret Murray, and Mabel Jobse for president; vice-president, Catherine Kenney, Arline Kluf, Georgia Stanchfield; secretary, Pauline Newell, Frances Wright, Ellen Harris; treasurer, Helen Parker, Esther Bilsted, and Rachel Haswell.

TRACK MEN PREPARE FOR BIG TEN MEET

strongest combination on the track Friday and Saturday. The Illini, with no defeats, are conceded to be the strongest dual meet team in the country. They easily captured the Big Ten indoor track meet at Evanston and expect to repeat in the outdoor event.

Wisconsin, third in indoor Big Ten ratings, will receive strong competition from Coach Steve Farrell's Michigan team. Michigan has lost only one Conference meet this season, being badly defeated by Illinois. The Wolverines finished second at the indoor meet, two and one-half points ahead of Wisconsin.

Notre Dame is the best of the outside institutions entered in the Big Ten meet. It is expected that the Indianans will cut in heavily on points which usually go to Illinois. August Desch in the hurdles races, Kasper in the 440 yard dash, Shaw in the weights, and John Murphy, high jumper, are men who are counted upon to give a close battle to members of Conference universities. Desch is world's champion in the high hurdles, and Murphy has equalled Alberts' mark in the jump.

Some of the best entrants in the track events follow:

FROSH ENGAGE IOWA IN WIRE EVENT TODAY

For the second time, the Wisconsin freshman track squad will meet the Iowa yearling team in a telegraphic track and field meet. Badger freshmen will go through their events at Camp Randall this afternoon, and winners of the various competitions will be determined by time and distance trials.

Non-varsity cross country runners are scheduled to compete for the cross-country championship in a run at Camp Randall in conjunction with the Iowa-Wisconsin freshman track meet.

Iowa Won Last Year

Iowa defeated Wisconsin in a telegraphic track meet last year. The Iowa freshmen vanquished Badger frosh track men by a large margin, but Coach Meade Burke has developed an unusually strong squad this season. F. G. Salentine, hurdler and sprinter; J. K. Gibson, K. Otto, jumpers; W. Sherman, R. E. Purucker, and W. F. Greeley, distance men, are some of the best track material that Burke possesses.

Members of the freshman track team who will compete with Iowa follow:

Sprints—F. G. Salentine, D. Eisele, C. C. Koeffler, A. Callenbach, E. W. Cornwell, B. A. Steel, H. Flueck, J. Rosecky, C. C. Chambers, L. L. Stebbins.

High and broad jumps—J. K. Gibson, K. Otto, P. Miles, H. V. Haywood, R. Wilson.

Distance events—M. W. Wehrs, G. L. Willson, W. Sherman, R. E. Purucker, T. Amory, W. F. Greeley, D. O. Coe, B. A. Coe, B. A. Wiemer, F. J. Madell, Milke.

Hurdles—A. V. Stegeman, J. H. Funk, H. G. Yost, L. M. Nohr.

Pole vault—E. C. Krieger, G. H. Tomlinson, A. J. Hammann, A. Schmidt, Hilsenhoff.

GYM TEAMS GIVE EXHIBITION DRILL

Coach Schlatter's Men Rival European Drill Organiza- tions in Fancy Exercises

A new treat for those who like to watch large groups of men go through organized mass drill with snap and spirit was provided by the men's gym classes in their first annual gymnastic class field day, held on the lower campus yesterday afternoon.

The university band took up a position on the campus some time before the appearance of the drill squads, which formed in the gym annex, and gave a continuous musical program both before and during the drill, which was of considerable length.

Programs were issued for the event containing a list of honor men from the various classes, who were presented with awards by Director Thomas E. Jones. Personal efficiency standards were also given, showing the grades awarded for general gym work of varying excellence.

At The Theaters

NEW BILL AT ORPHEUM

Starting tonight, with two performances and continuing for the remainder of the week including the three shows on Sunday the Orpheum Vaudeville theater will present to local theater goers a six act program and pictures. The feature act will be Janet of France and Charles W. Hamp in a piquant musical playlet entitled "Song Shopping." The skit is replete with humor and melody of the highest type. Janet Martine is a scintillating little beauty from the land of the fleur de lis. Next of importance on this bill will be Gert-rud Moody and Mary Duncan in "Opera and Jazz, Inc.," followed by Nick Hufford, known as one loose page from a book of fun. Willie Dunlay and Bessie Merrill offering songs and patter; Frear, Baggott and Freat, baseball idiosyncrasies and La Fleur and Portia, together with the latest Pathe News reel completes the program. There will be matinees Saturday and Sunday, with the regular two performances each evening.

AT THE STRAND

Joseph C. Lincoln's thrilling story of the sea is now being shown at the Strand theater. The picture starts with little Marion Paducha in the leading role; of course he grows up after a while—almost too soon it would seem, because he gives such a finished performance that the audience wishes that such a lovable little character just wouldn't grow up. But even then the audience still feels that he is in the picture because there is a striking resemblance between him and Jack Perrin, who plays the boy grown up.

"Partners of the Tide" is a real sea story with a typical sea-captain, the two sisters who are spinsters, the girl who awaits the return of the ship, life aboard ship, and the shipwreck. The scene is laid in a typical, cozy, little fishing village that makes an audience feel as if it, too, belonged in that village together with its inhabitants who have spent most of their life there. The cast in this picture has been exceptionally well-chosen for the parts they play. For example consider J. P. Lockney as Captain Ezra Titcomb; Jack Perrin as second mate on the coast-wise schooner; Daisy Robinson as "the" girl; Sam Hammond as the "second-best" suitor for her hand; as well as other favorites who strike a true chord in their delineations of their various parts.

There will also be shown pictures of Madison events, a comedy cartoon, and Pathe review.

HONOR DEAD ON MEMORIAL DAY

Simplicity Marks Tribute to Wisconsin's Men Lost in Late War

Memorial services in honor of university dead in the Great War were held at 11 o'clock Monday on Lincoln Terrace. Simplicity marked the ceremony held at the base of the Lincoln statue, presided over by President Edward A. Birge.

A procession of young women dressed in white and carrying wreaths came up the central part of the campus, through the columns of honor to the Lincoln terrace. The first number on the program was the singing of "America the Beautiful" by the assemblage. Prof. Edgar B. Gordon led the singing. The introductory address was given by President Birge, and the main address by Charles G. Rogers '92.

In his talk on "Their Service" Mr. Rogers emphasized the need of carrying on in the university and in the world the ideals for which the students of Wisconsin gave their lives "in Flanders Fields."

As Major George S. Bryan read the names of the Wisconsin men who had given their lives during the war, a wreath for each young man was laid by the wreath-bearer at the foot of the Lincoln statue. Mrs. Charles Post, patriotic instructor of the Women's Relief corps, on behalf of the auxiliary G. A. R., presented a large flag to the university post of the American legion. Lieutenant John W. Brann, commandant of the post, accepted the flag in behalf of the legion. The ceremonies were concluded with the singing of "America" by the assembly.

The senate passed the Bennett bill which provides for a stricter law against road houses. It killed the Beyer bill for mutual sickness and health insurance companies.

BALL SQUAD HOLDS WORKOUT FOR NOTRE DAME GAME JUNE 4

Second Event With Michigan is Last Event of Season

Coach Lowman's baseball squad resumed practice yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall in preparation for the last lap of the schedule.

The next game will be played against Notre Dame on Saturday afternoon. The Indiana champions are stronger than the majority of the Big Ten conference teams, and the Badgers were barely able to defeat them early in the season. The following Monday the Wolverines come here for a return game and that will end the present baseball season.

The men were still recuperating from the effects of the strenuous trip last week-end, and so were only given a light workout last night. Davey and Christianson arrived in town yesterday morning, and the former, at least, will be in shape for the game Saturday.

The lineup for Saturday's game has not been announced, but it is probable that it will be much the same as that which started the game at Michigan.

Rough Lake Prevents Hunt for Student's Body

Although the rescue crew, in charge of Capt. T. F. Boutin, in chief of the government life-saving station at Milwaukee, renewed the search for the body of Melvin B. Engler, university sophomore drowned Saturday in Lake Mendota, on Wednesday morning, they were forced to again abandon their work early in the forenoon because of the roughness of the water.

CHINEE!

Yellow Jacket, the Senior Play, Reveals Real Oriental Stage

All the conventions of the Chinese stage, with many of the curious beliefs of these oriental people will be revealed to the university when the curtain rises for the first act of "The Yellow Jacket" Monday evening, June 20. And a delightful atmosphere of the far east will pervade the senses of all as the drama progresses, leading the hero through hair-raising adventures until he finally wins the maiden whom he loves.

Unlike the American stage, the property man is not hidden far away behind the scenes. The Chinese make "props" a much more useful individual. He remains right before your eyes, and changes scenes with remarkable alacrity. Within a fraction of a minute the spectator is taken from the luxuriance and regal splendor of the emperor's palace and finally set down high in the mountains, surpassing even our Rockies in height.

So too the Chinese take care of their dead in a much more decorous manner than that followed by American dramatic producers. For a ladder is raised to heaven by which the deceased may leisurely ascend into the realms of the angels and eternal peace.

Through it all, facing death and dangers galore, our hero plods unhesitatingly his weary way. And at length he comes triumphant to the girl he loves. Does she take him? Such a foolish question?

The Friends of Our Native Landscape will hold their next meeting June 11. They will go to Apple River, Ill., near Gratiot, Wis., for the annual summer meeting.
