PROGRAM SALE COMMENCES AT 7:30 THURSDAY

Twelve-team drive to Carry Campus by Storm—Many Features in Program

At 7:30 tomorrow morning 8,000 Homecoming programs will flood the campus, when twelve women's organizations will see that every alumnus and student has a chance to obtain one or more of the large 54-page programs. Elizabeth Chandler is in charge of the distribution.

As a central motif the cover of the program has the special design drawn by Herbert Brockhausen, which is also used on the Homecoming buttons and dance programs.

"We hope we have not left a question in regard to Homecoming unanswered in the program," declared Leon Kaumheimer, assistant chairman of Homecoming. "We have made an effort to cover completely all events of this week end, including the Engineers' Minstrels, to which four pages of the program have been devoted.

"In addition, we are giving official 'dope' from the coaches on Wisconsin's prospects for the coming year in basketball, track, baseball, and crew. In general we want to give the reader an idea of the scope of athletics at Wisconsin."

Pictures of Weston, Zuppke, Depler, Illinois' captain, and Coach Richards, and sketches of the football careers of these men; a history of the football games between Wisconsin and Illinois are some of the special features of this year's program.

The distribution committee consists of Elizabeth Chandler, chairman, Harriet Bartlett, Sada Buckmaster, Dorothy Ware, and Joe Bollender.

The program committee is as follows: Carl Seifert, editor, William M. Sale, G. Lowell Geiger and Darrell Dunn, assistant editors. Donald Bailey, business manager, Philip G. Bredezen, advertising manager, Merritt Giles, Winifred Ellis, Nyria Gile, Miriam Doan, Larry Hastings, Charles Fox, Louise Recheman, advertising assistants.

100 RESERVATIONS FOR FORENSIC FEST

Dinner Given Tonight at Belmont Hotel at 6 O'Clock

Over one hundred reservations have been made for the all-university forensic dinner given by the forensic board and Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic fraternity, at the Belmont hotel at 6 o'clock tonight.

Attendance has not been limited to members of the board and those who intend to try out for the teams, but is open to all men and women interested in forensics, whether prospective inter-collegiate debaters or not.

Reservations can be made for about ten more persons.

The question for the preliminary inter-collegiate tryouts scheduled for one week from tonight will be announced by Professor O'Neil at the dinner. Plans for the coming season, which include debates with Illinois and Michigan, will be brought up, and the possibility of contests with Southern California, Columbia, Minnesota, and Ohio will be discussed.

CURTAIN! CURTAIN!

One-mile of Yard Width
Cloth Used in Constructing Minstrel Drop

The second largest curtain in the northwest is the one which the Engineers will use in their minstrel show. The largest one is in the possession of the Milwaukee Auditorium and is worth $12,000.

Unable to pay the high deposit required for the rental of the Milwaukee curtain and not able to find another large enough, the Engineers, under the management of Fred Goetz, had a curtain made to order for the sum of $425. Barney Hall, the noted scenic artist of Chicago and Milwaukee, was in charge of the construction.

The curtain will hang from the ceiling at the North end of gymnasium and will extend across the entire width of the room, a distance of 90 feet. The university seal in cardinal and white occupies a space seven feet in height in the center of the curtain.

The enormous size of the curtain can be deduced from the following figures:

A strip of cloth one quarter of a mile long would be the result of putting end to end the one yard wide pieces of cloth which make up the curtain. Enough thread was used in its construction to stretch around the track at Camp Randall four and a half times. It took three people 22 hours each to complete the sewing of the pieces. Stretched out flat, the curtain would more than cover the basket-ball floor in the gymnasium, as its area is 5,400 square feet.

MANY SIGNING UP FOR HOBO PARADE

That the Hobo parade which makes its bow next Saturday morning as a new attraction for Homecoming will be a success and will in the future rank among the best of the features anticipated by the returning grads, is evidenced by the large number of entries that are being received by Everett Grubb, chairman of the parade committee.

Fraternities are entering group stunts and individuals are signifying their willingness to appear in various kinds of undress outfits so that the line of march promises to be one constant laugh from the first blare of the Weary Willie band until the final aggregation of home-grown beards.

Additional entries may be made by calling Everett Grubb, 620 North Lake street, B. 192. The name of the stunt and the names of the participants should be stated. Further information may be secured by calling Dave Bowlby, B. 195.

NO OBSERVATION OF ARMISTICE SIGNING

Armistice day this year will be a sad likeness to the Armistice day of November 11, 1918, as far as the residents of Madison and the university are concerned. No holiday, no half holiday, not even one hour will be given to the students this November 11 for the celebration of the ceasing of hostilities of the war. Classes will be held all day Thursday and students are expected to attend as usual.

FEATURE SONG COMPOSED FOR "PEP" MEETING

Wurth Shoults Writes Words and Music for "Fair Wisconsin We'll Cheer"

A special 1920 Homecoming song "Fair Wisconsin We'll Cheer," has been composed by Wurth E. Shoults '23, and will be introduced at the Homecoming massmeeting Friday evening.

The song was played last Saturday afternoon by the band at the gymnasium; and although its identity was not disclosed at that time, it was noticed as the crowd left the gym that many were unconsciously whistling the tune. Those in charge of the meeting expect it to make a big hit.

The words of the song were also written by Shoults and have been printed for distribution at the meeting. They are printed below:

Fair Wisconsin We'll Cheer

Fair Wisconsin we'll cheer,
For we all hold her dear,
And as queen of our hearts she shall reign.

When her team takes the field
All opponents must yield
As her sons her traditions maintain.

For we're true to Wisconsin.
We'll fight for her fame.
The Cardinal shall never know shame.

And at home or afar
May her bright shining star
Guide us onward to honor her name.

1,256 BUTTONS SOLD ON FIRST DAY OF DRIVE

With $314 turned in, registering a sale of 1,256 Homecoming buttons for the first day's effort, the ten W. A. A. teams that are competing for the best-selling record have made a flying start. Almost four-fifths of the total 6,000 to be disposed of still remains to be sold, according to these figures, but it is estimated that a large number of the sales made today have not yet been checked.

Team No. 5, captained by Rosemary Lyons, jumped to the lead today with a record sale of 417 buttons, amounting to one-third of the total amount turned in so far.

Every effort is being made to wind up the sale as soon as possible. All team captains will turn in money today from 12 to 1:30 o'clock in Lathrop, and all money and buttons must be checked in sometime between 4:30 and 5:45 this afternoon so that the buttons can be redistributed to those who are succeeding in getting rid of them.

The sale will not close nor the contest be decided until every button has been disposed of, according to Winifred Titus, in charge of the sale, but the team captains are confident that when results are checked tonight there will be no left-over buttons to redistribute.

PRESS CLUB ELECTS AT MEETING TODAY

The meeting of the University Press club, which was announced for Tuesday noon, will be held this noon at 11:50 in 37 South hall for the purpose of voting in new members.

A number of applications for membership have been received by the officers of Press club, and it is strongly urged by "Pat" Dennis, president, that all members be present at this meeting.

The next meeting will be held on Tuesday, November 16, at 5:30 in the S. G. A. room of Lathrop hall.

URGE NEED OF DORMITORIES AT UNIVERSITY

Will Present Plans for Two New Buildings to Next Legislature

The erection of two dormitories, one for men and one for women, will be included among the urgent building needs of the University of Wisconsin as presented to the next session of the legislature. The decision to urge the erection of dormitories during the present biennium was voted by the Board of Regents at its last meeting when it considered the biennial estimates for the State Board of Education.

The dormitory need will be presented as more urgent than before because of the increasing shortage of rooms for students and because of the stabilizing effect that university dormitories will have on other room rents. To provide for its 2,427 women students, the university has two dormitories accommodating 266 women and one co-operative house accommodating 24. The rates in these buildings have, however, aided in keeping down the climbing rents elsewhere. For its 4,608 men students, the university has no dormitories and no means of stabilizing rents for them.

Although with its increase to 7,000 students, the university has greatly outgrown its physical plant and has other pressing building needs, the Regents have decided that the dormitory need is among the most pressing. They will therefore renew the efforts made for many years to remedy the housing situation at the university.

The present recommendation will urge the erection of one building to house 150 women and another to house 150 men.

MRS. JASTROW TO ADDRESS MENORAH

Society's Homecoming Banquet to Be Held November 13

Mrs. Joseph Jastrow will address the regular bi-weekly meeting of the Menorah Society at 7:30 tonight in Lathrop parlors. Sonia Forthal, formerly a member of the Ohio State chapter, will read extracts from some of David Pinsky's noted plays.

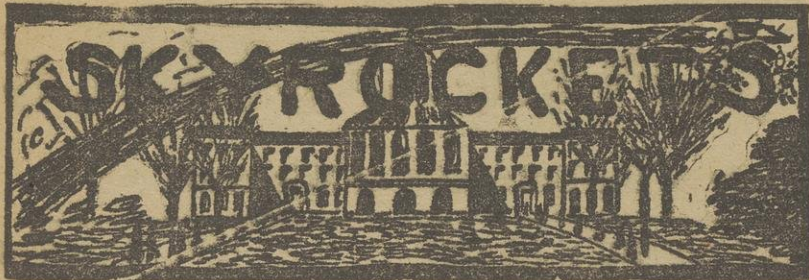

The musical part of the program will be rendered by Belle Sinaiko and Edith Sinaiko who will give a vocal and piano solo, respectively. Among important matters to be presented at the business meeting will be a report of the banquet committee.

The annual Menorah Homecoming banquet brings together all former members who return for Homecoming in addition to a number of notables in the national organization who come for this one event. It will be held this year at the Badger room of the Belmont hotel at 6:45 on the afternoon of the game.

Although a large number of reservations have already been made a few places are left. They can be obtained at $1 per plate at tonight's meeting.

NO DELIVERY SATURDAY

The Cardinal will not be delivered Saturday morning. This issue is the Homecoming number and will be sold on the hill at 10 cents per copy by members of Theta Sigma Phi.

DON'T you think that the hobo parade should be lined up at the railway yards and the hobos put through the usual tests?

STRANGE!!

I sent a contrib in one day,
'Twas 'bout a cube of wood,
I'd seen atop a campus neck;
I thought 'twas very good.

Surely, I thought a medal would
Be passed along to me,
When once the many readers did
My contribution see.

I wondered how it was that no
Medal was presented.
But then it dawned on me one day,
My contrib wasn't printed.

Cockrell, of the city "Y."

Allan Davey is in charge of the work, and any men interested are asked to get in touch with either
Davey or some member of his com-

FARM PRESS WEILDS
GREAT INFLUENCE
—PROF. SUMNER

"The farm press has wielded a great influence on the lives of the farmers in the past, and it is going to exert a greater influence on their lives in the future," declared Professor W. A. Sumner, assistant professor of the agricultural journalism, in an address to the Agric Triangle, Sunday, November 7.

Professor Sumner gave a list of facts to show how Wallace's Farmer, The Wisconsin Farmer, and Hoard's Dairyman each did its part to mould the public opinion of the farmers. A government investigation showed that 85 per cent of the farmers take two or more farm papers. Forty per cent of all the farmers declared that the farm papers were their greatest aid to successful farming. "Writing of farm stories was practised by many of the ancient writers," said Mr. Sumner, "but agricultural journalism has only recently become a popular phase of journalism."

MANY ENROLLED
IN SHORT COURSE
IN AGRICULTURE

With 300 students already enrolled in the short course in agriculture, the registration bids fair to exceed that of former years.

There are 120 second year men here, which is just twice the number last fall. The total registration at that time including first and second year students, was 420.

Freshmen are here from New York, New Jersey, Kentucky, Michigan, Illinois, Minnesota, Iowa, California, and Canada. By far the greatest number of out of state men come from Illinois, which was represented by 57 last year.

The short course consists of three terms of five weeks each. Students may enter at the beginning of any term, for the course is so planned that a definite unit of work is completed during each five-week period. The first term will be completed at the time of the Christmas holidays.

Census cards numbering 300 have been signed by the new-comers and 17 church preferences have been noted. Members of the committee are Robert Gerholz, Miss Ruth Storms, Miss Ima Winchell, Stana Jacka, Burl Phillips, Miss Ethel Mackin, and Miss Eleanor Hausman.

"Y" SCHOLARSHIP AWARDS TO BE ANNOUNCED SOON

Committee to Apportion $3,750 to Ex-Service Men

Scholarships amounting to $3,750 will be distributed to ex-service men soon by the university Y. M. C. A. The committee which is passing on the awards has already made decisions on over forty scholarships, and will complete consideration of 24 others inside of another week. All awards will be announced and all applicants personally notified of the decisions at that time.

The men were divided into three classifications by the committee for the purpose of making the awards. In the first class were placed all men who are not receiving the bonus or aid from other outside sources, and who have in addition special obligations. In the second classification were included all men receiving the bonus but no help in any other way. The third class was made up of men receiving both the bonus and home help. This grading was made necessary by the large number of applicants turned in, 182 having been received. The large number also made it necessary to limit the scholarships to $50 each, with the exception of six men classed under the first group, who get additional aid.

Thirty-five others, in the second class, have been chosen to receive the scholarships. The remaining 24 awards will be given to the most deserving men of the same rating not yet chosen. The committee making the awards is composed of H. L. Garner, of the American Legion, Professor Julius Olson, and Secretary F. E. Wolf, of the Y. M. C. A.

RECORD BONFIRE CONSTRUCTED BY COLLEGE YOUTHS

The Stanford University bonfire before it was set on fire. Compare it to the students on it.

The season of bonfires is now on in this country, and every college in the land strives to outdo the others with the size of its blaze. When the great pile was ignited it made a pillar of flame that could be seen throughout the entire county.

One of the many interesting things planned for students, who attend the football game at Chicago, is the concert and dance, to be given by the University of Chicago Glee club in Mandel hall, Friday, November 19, the night before the Chicago-Wisconsin game.

The manager of the Glee club has written asking some estimate of the number of tickets that will be required. The prices will be 50 cents to $1.50 including both concert and dance, and the orders can be sent direct to Reger Lindsay, manager of the University of Chicago Glee club, 5484 Everett avenue, Chicago.

SOPHOMORES WIN HOCKEY GAME 6-5

In a close hockey game yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall the sophomore women beat the freshmen by a score of 6-5.

With about 50 women cheering from the side-lines the two teams fought the first game of the season with a spirit that kept the ball hovering every second of play. At the end of the first half the score 3-2 in favor of the sophomores; but in the second half the freshmen brought it to a 4-4 tie, which the sophomores broke only by reason of the weak defense of the first year women.

Those who landed goals were: '24—Nina Faris, Sara Philipson, Heyja Stewart; '23—Belle Knight, Esther Mainland, and Florence Huprich. Esther Mainland, the sophomore right wing, performed some pretty dribbling.

The second teams of the junior and freshman classes finished with a 2-2 score.

Are You Red-Haired?

Expert Advises Use of Dark-rimmed Glasses for Auburn Beauty

"Unless you are a brunette or a red head you ought not to wear dark, shell rimmed glasses," said Victor Maurseth, who has made a special study of the artistic fitting of glasses.

"Most students like to look studious even though they aren't," he continued. "Most of them want dark rimmed glasses, and many of them ought not to wear them. Blonde people need neutral rimmed glasses of grey shell, or better yet, no rims at all, although a great deal depends upon the shape of the face.

"People with long faces should never wear heavy rimmed glasses, while moonfaced people ought to wear round lenses with heavy rims. Pinchers are out of fashion but by far the most becoming style of frame for most people.

"Contrary to popular opinion, the professors are not usually looking for anything distinctive in glasses, and are inclined to look for something practical instead."

This statement is borne out when we observe that the long haired genius with his eyepiece dangling from the end of a heavy black cord is fast disappearing from the campus.

"Students are more particular about the style of their glasses than any other class of customers, and for that reason," said Mr. Maurseth, "I am obliged to keep a larger stock of frames than any other optometrist in the city, because so much of my business is with students."

"The girls are much more particular than the men, and usually have made up their minds beforehand. The girl who had her case diagnosed best of all was a co-ed

"Y" RECEIVES CALL TO GIVE STATE AID

May Send Group of Men to Visit State Institu- tions

The university "Y" has received several calls since the term opened for deputation teams from different parts of the state to be made up of university students who are interested in the promotion of interest in the university and who desire to spread the best of the college influence to communities throughout the state.

It is planned to have the men conduct various community activities, such as father and son banquets, local gatherings, and visitation of state institutions. Baraboo has asked for some students to aid in one of the banquets to be given soon, and Waupun has been listed for some time as desiring a deputation to conduct several gatherings and talk to the men in the state prison.

Students have also undertaken to conduct weekly meetings at the tuberculosis sanitarium here. The work is open to all men who are interested, and is under the direction of Walter Koehler.

INSIGNIAS SHOW RANK OF CADETS

Officers Distinguished by Car- dinal Sleeve Band

The snappy, khaki-colored uniforms of the R. O. T. C. now adding military atmosphere to the campus, are all so smart that the "co-eds" think each cadet is at least a major. However, distinguishing insignia tell a different story. All officers wear a sleeve braid of cardinal silk. The insignia are: Commissioned officers; major, one silver gilt diamond on the left shoulder; lieutenant colonel, two diamonds; colonel, three diamonds; non-commissioned officers, second lieutenant, one silver disc (bullseye); first lieutenant, two discs; captain, three discs. All "non-coms" wear chevrons on the right sleeve between the elbow and shoulder.

The new uniforms consist of the neatly fitting British coat with turn-down collar, worn with straight trousers and a military cap trimmed with leather. Each private has "U. S. R. O. T. C." on the left shoulder and a gold star on the right sleeve. Cadets are required to appear at drill in uniform from now on.

MEN TO WITNESS WOMEN'S HOCKEY

Double-header to Be Played Saturday Morning at 10 O'Clock

An opportunity for men to attend women's athletic events will be offered next Saturday, November 13, at 10 o'clock, when a double-header hockey game will take place between the senior and sophomore and the freshman and junior teams. Indications are that this will be the biggest event of the hockey season, and the women of the department hope that men, women, and their homecoming guests will take advantage of the opportunity to witness it.

From the results of the games played this week, a close game is expected Saturday. The plan to serve sandwiches to the guests between halves is being considered.

Professor M. V. O'Shea, of the Department of Education, has just published four books which promise to take rank with those previously written by him, as standard works in the study of educational problems. They are written in so practical a way that they are of value both to the educator and the parent, and deal with real conditions in a forceful way calculated to impress even the most casual reader.

Of the first book—"The Trend of the Teens"—the name is self-explanatory. The greatest value of the book lies in its practical application to the life of present-day youth. The second book—"Faults of Childhood and Youth"—analyzes 50 common faults, which, in the opinion of the author, are the result of the child's difficulty in adjusting himself to the increasing complexity of life, due to the present trend toward urban life, in contrast to rural.

"First Steps in Child Training" is also well described by its name, and deals with child-life under the age of six years—the formative years of the child's mind and character development. The fourth book—"Every-day Problems in Child-Training"—gives much concrete material, gathered by Prof. O'Shea from his experience as educational director of Mother's Magazine, Home Life, and several other publications with which he has had editorial connections—and from his own observation for a number of years. These books are a "true-to-life" summary of the problems and conditions which they present—problems and conditions which no parent, social worker, or educator can afford to ignore.

WELCOME TO OUR MIDST

A HOST of newcomers is in our midst. We refer to the short course ag students. They have come with an earnest purpose. They have come for brief but intensive work.

The facilities for training them constitute one of Wisconsin's best contributions to the state at large. In this course an important element of the youth of the state is reached which could not be reached as effectively in any other way.

While here the short course students should make the most of their opportunity for training. This training is bound to be reflected in the continued prosperity of the state and in the well-being of the students themselves. Also, while here, they should be keenly responsive to the characteristic spirit that has made Wisconsin powerful wherever her sons and daughters have gone.

THREE DAYS TO DO IT

THREE days remain in which preparations for Homecoming must be completed. Already the plans are far advanced and by a general rally of every student the event this year may be made the most successful in the history of the school.

It must be borne in mind that the business of putting over Homecoming is not the job of any committee or any organization. The work naturally falls on every student in the school.

It is the duty of everyone to see that his or her home is fitted up as attractively as possible and that the whole atmosphere of the university section is everything it ought to be. Committees are at work on this, but the results will be much more effective if everybody gets in the swing and does his part.

Then there is the button sale going on. This is not an attempt to wring pocket change from the poor, exploited students as some misguided and unthinking people have supposed. It is the democratic way of raising the funds necessary to put across a Homecoming that will be a credit to Wisconsin. The cost of one button to one student is nominal—slightly more than the cost of a package of cigarettes or a malted—but the total sum will be enough to defray the important expenses.

If this Homecoming is to be a complete success every student ought to get a button. The button is a badge of loyalty.

Finally, the crowning feature of Homecoming this year should be a spirit of hospitality that measures up 100 per cent in graciousness. No false note must be sounded. If we come through in this particular every grad that goes back home will take with him the realization that Wisconsin was never better.

who is now a reporter on the Milwaukee Journal, are two other contributions.

When Paul Gangelin's story passes into the hands of Prof. O. J. Campbell, who is to review this number, the "Lit" staff hopes that he will treat it more kindly than the censor did. It is not risqué, however, but a clear-eyed treatment of the question of co-education, according to members of the editorial staff. The review by Professor Campbell will appear in the Cardinal Thursday.

UNION BOARD THANKS CO-EDS

The Union board takes this opportunity to thank the girls of the university for their co-operation in selling tags for the purpose of sending the band to the Minnesota game. STILL-LIFE PREDOMINATES IN WORK OF FROMKES AT HISTORICAL LIBRARY

Portraits arranged decoratively on still-life principles, still-lives, and landscapes, are the various oil paintings that make up the collection by Maurice Fromkes which has just been placed in the art museum of the Historical museum.

The backgrounds of these pictures are elaborate. Japanese influence may be traced in many of the backgrounds, although the style is of the American school. As some of the Carlandi landscapes still remain, the difference between these characteristically Italian paintings with their subdued loveliness, and the cheerful impressionism of the new exhibit is very striking.

Fromkes is regarded as a portrait painter, and in this exhibit it is easy to see why this is so, because the six portraits draw more attention than the rest of the paintings, the still-lives, in particular, being rather uninteresting to most people. There is one landscape, "The Lily Pool," however, which is one of the loveliest things in the collection.

The artist is a Russian, who came to America when he was eight years old, and was educated in the public schools of New York. He studied art at the Cooper Union and the National Academy of Design, taking prizes in drawing in both institutions during his first year of entry. Later, he studied in Holland, France, and Italy, where he painted a portrait of Cardinal Merry del Val which hangs at present in the Vatican.

His technique is rather impressionistic, paint being put on generously with the palette knife. Bright colors are used, a large amount of blue in particular. Colors are mostly not shaded or subdued very much. The artist seems to like flowers, for there are flowers in almost every one of the still-lives, and they are also introduced into the backgrounds of the portraits. Some of the portraits are named for the flowers used on them, as "White Cosmos," "Pussy Willows," "Meadow Sweet." Much more care seems to be used in the painting of the faces in the portraits than in the backgrounds of them. There is less impressionism and more realism in the treatment of the faces. Two portraits of children are very charming, and portraits of two men, with titles "The Composer," and "The Syrian Poet," have extreme distinction.

These pictures are all for sale, but it is rather startling to find that prices range from $350 to $2,000.

CONCRETE FOR SHIPS SUCCESS

Says J. P. Schwada, State Engineer; Mack Tells of Department

Concrete can successfully be used in the construction of large ocean-going ships, according to J. P. Schwada of the engineering staff of the railroad commission in an address before the Technical club of Madison at the Y. M. C. A.

Mr. Schwada, who in this work with the Emergency Fleet corporation during the war, explained some of the many daring engineering innovations that were successfully tried out and introduced into concrete ships. He used a number of lantern slides to illustrate various technical features.

The other speaker John G. D. Mack, state engineer, described the organization and activities of the state engineering department which is organized into the following eight divisions:

Architectural, in charge of the design and maintenance of state buildings, and the supervision of new structures.

Drainage, supervises all drainage projects of more than 200 acres.

Highway, in charge of all the state's engineering work on highways and bridges.

Industrial in charge of safety inspection, fire protection and allied lines.

Military architecture and engineering in charge of all military architecture and engineering.

Power plants, in charge of the power and heating plants in the 29 institutions.

Railroad utilities, in charge of great variety of work in connection with railroads, street railways, water, gas and electric plants.

Sanitary engineering, working with the board of health protecting steamers and water supplies from contamination; overseas, the sanitary disposal of wastes, and inspects sewage disposal plants and plumbing.

The following committees and their chairmen were named:

Publicity, C. L. McMullen; transportation, C. V. Seastone; building and housing, A. D. Conover; parks, roads and drives, John St. John; public departments, F. E. Turneure fuel, John C. White; educational, A. V. Millar; municipal government and civil betterment, E. R. Maurer; legislative, John W. Cadby; public utilities, W. W. Gore; industrial, W. L. Millar; music, W. H. Sackett.

FROSH SWIMMERS HOLD TIME TRYOUTS

Another of the series of time trials scheduled for freshman swimming candidates was held last night in the gymnasium. These trials, the second of the present season, were run off to enable Coach Joe Steinauer to get a line on all frosh swimmers who did not enter in last Friday's Varsity-Frosh meet.

Although the first year swimmers did not break any tank records, each of the events was swum in fairly fast time, with some of the entries displaying excellent form. Steinauer is developing an excellent group of youngsters from which to choose the final freshman swimming squad, and the frosh team will soon be sent against the varsity swimmers in the daily workouts.

With the preliminary time trials out of the way, the varsity swimming squad will stack up against the first year men November 19 in a Varsity-Freshman handicap swimming meet. The meet, which will be held in the city Y. M. C. A., will be the last tryout before the varsity meet with the Milwaukee Athletic club squad of divers.

ARTS AND CRAFTS TO HOLD MEETING

A demonstration and talk on commercial lettering and air brush work will be given at the next meeting of the Arts and Crafts club, Wednesday night at the Applied Arts laboratory at 7:15, by John Schaub, who is taking the manual arts course but is also connected with the firm of Schaub Brothers, a Madison sign painting concern.

The connection between art and poster work will be explained at this demonstration. Everyone who is interested is invited to this meeting, particularly those who are doing campus posters.

An automobile belonging to the Schenk-Huegel Co. was badly damaged about 10:10 this morning, when the gasoline in its tank exploded. Fire company No. 8 answered the call, and with the assistance of the central station's pumper, put out the blaze.

ALBERT HIRSIG

LUMBER TRADE IS HARD HIT

Many Mills on the Coast Are Closing; Prices Going Down

VANCOUVER, B. C.—The disturbing and unsteady conditions of six months ago in the lumber industry here are now showing full effect. At the last meeting of the British Columbia Lumber & Shingle Manufacturers (Ltd.), it was announced that 12 percent of the coast mills had closed, and by the end of the month this figure will be at least 25 percent. The Canadian-Puget Sound Lumber & Timber Co.'s plant at Victoria has closed for a time; the Alberni-Pacific Lumber Co. at Port Alberni has discontinued mill operations; and the Bucklin Lumber Co. at New Westminster has also shut down. The last named company first posted a notice that there would be a 10 percent reduction in wages, but it was thought inadvisable to carry out this policy and the mill was closed. Conditions have assumed the most serious proportions for years.

Many plants are busy on railroad tie orders, but this material does not take the whole of the log and unless there is a market for the balance of the cut, it is impossible to continue cutting without losing money, for the piling up of lumber in the yard can not go on interminably. This is particularly the case in view of the fact that prices next year are expected to be even lower than the reduced quotations of today. Some mill owners are keeping plants going to care for foreign commitments and hold organizations together, but the majority declare they are now without profit on their cut and it is only a matter of time before they will have to close.

The matter has come up again of a Canadian customs officer at New York. The Vancouver board of trade has asked for this appointment on several occasions, but has been put off by the government at Ottawa. Now that increased freight rates on railroads are resulting in shipment to the Atlantic seaboard by steamer, this appointment is becoming imperative.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 48 at midnight and the lowest was 41 at 6 p. m. Rainfall .12 and the sun sets at 4:41.

The rain storm is moving eastward over the lake region and is followed by a severe cold wave over the northwest where temperatures have fallen 35 degrees to 10 below zero in Saskatchewan. Snow precedes the cold along a belt from Lake Superior to Colorado. Duluth reports a snow fall of six inches.

NO BARRACKS FOR CAPITOL

Overland Building to House Overflow From State Capitol

The use of the Overland building at the foot of King street for the 35 Wisconsin state offices that are overcrowding the capitol building now, will obviate the necessity of erecting barracks on the capitol park grounds, according to an announcement last night by M. F. Blumenfeld, superintendent of public property. The offices will occupy the building for a period of five years.

The leasing of this building is the result of the work of a special committee of the Madison Association of Commerce working in conjunction with Mr. Blumenfeld. The meeting of the legislature the first week in January and the consequent immediate need for space was responsible for the speeding up of negotiations.

U. W. Grad Sentenced For Slaying Negro

RACINE — Eighteen months in jail at Pittsburg was the sentence meted out to Earl M. Price, university graduate and former officer for the slaying of a negro porter in a Pittsburg hotel, July 7. Born in Racine county about 26 years ago, Price was given every opportunity by well to do relatives to make a name for himself. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Price, moved from their farm to Racine so that the son might obtain the best of education. Graduating from the Racine high school, Price entered the Wisconsin university, taking courses in civil and mining engineering, and scored success.

SLOGAN CONTEST TO BE CONDUCTED BY SERVICE MEN

Effort to Extend Activities Throughout Middle-west is Planned

A new slogan for the Gun and Blade club in their campaign to establish an organization in every university in the Middle West, is to be secured through a selective contest.

To the person who sends in the most satisfactory slogan, a prize of $10 will be given. The slogan should not contain more than eight words. No person can submit more than two slogans. All ideas should be sent to E. M. Boerke, Gun and Blade club rooms, Union building. For further information call Boerke at B. 4487, or Adrian Scolten, B. 2146, between 7 and 8 o'clock. The campaign is nation-wide and every one is eligible.

Gun and Blade is an organization of Federal board students at the university. It is composed of students whose partial disability was incurred while in service, and who consequently are entitled to vocational training through the Federal board of the government Division of Rehabilitation. The Gun and Blade club, which is one of the first to be established in the United States, was formed by the disabled students at the university more than a year ago.

The activities of the club consist in bringing those men who are unable to partake in the regular activities of the university into the true school life. The men feel that the benefits derived are so outstanding that similar organizations should be adopted in the hundreds of institutions where there are unorganized Federal board students. There is a natural bond of feeling between the students here and at other institutions which can be best cultivated through similar relationships.

At the age of thirteen, Miss Helen Vogel Lincoln, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln A. Lincoln of New York city, has dashed off a novel, several short stories and some excellent verse, and is now seeking other worlds to conquer. Her physical strength has not been sacrificed for her mental either, for she is as strong as she looks and is a splendid swimmer and horseback rider and lover of all out-of-door sports. And she plays children's games with the other girls and boys of her age, too.

AT THE THEATERS

AT THE ORPHEUM

Six vaudeville acts of unusual ability make up the present program at the Orpheum together with the Kinogram and Topics of the Day pictures. Heading the list of acts will be seen Gil H. Brown's novelty offering "Breath of Spring," ten good looking, graceful dancers and singers. Their offering is of a very high class nature, showing earmarks of being a big time act. Bobby Randall, Everett's Monks, Rice and Newton, Allen and Brinkley, and the Dorothy Morris Trio make up the balance of the program, which will be offered today, matinee at 3 o'clock and evening at 7:15 and 9.

Starting with two performances Thursday night, the new Orpheum vaudeville bill will include Dainty Marie; Last Night, a musical comedy; Fred Berrens; Burchardt and Roberts; Marian Gibney and Rasso.

CLEVER TINY FOLK WITH SINGER TROUPE
COMING TO ORPHEUM

Nine different countries were searched before the thirty midgets now comprising the Singer's Midgets, who will appear at the Orpheum all next week, were selected. A number of years ago the showman, Singer, selected 150 midgets and featured a "midget city" which was an attraction in Paris and other large cities of Europe. The most talented of the inhabitants of this wonderful little city were picked for the present company. In addition to the 30 tiny players, the organization includes 3 midget elephants, 20 prancing ponies, 15 hunting dogs, a lion, cow pig and birds. Three carloads of scenery and electrical effects are used in the production, which contains ten scenes and required almost an hour's time. These midgets with their circus, athletic show, wild west exhibition and musical comedy, together with four other Orpheum acts will appear on the local stage all next week, giving daily matinees at 3 o'clock and two performances nightly at 7:15 and 9. Seats can now be reserved at the box office for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday's performances.

AT THE STRAND

"The Devil's Pass Key," a story of gay Parisian life in which a beautiful wife is helped out financially by a chivalrous American army officer, opens a four day engagement at the Strand theater today.

The picture is the latest Universal-Jewel production by Erich von Stroheim, author and director of the recent Universal-Jewel success, "Blind Husbands."

Sam de Grasse, who played the part of the husband in "Blind Husbands," has the part in "The Devil's Pass Key" of an American author living in Paris with his attractive wife, played by Una Trevelyn. She becomes deeply indebted to an unscrupulous modiste, who expects her to adopt the method of getting a rich admirer to pay her bills. The modiste involves her with a wealthy American army officer, who realizes that she is innocent and unsophisticated. He unselfishly helps her in order to shield another woman with whom he has had a passing flirtation.

The husband hears of the incident but does not know the identity of the persons concerned. He uses the facts for the plot of a play which proves a great success. The fact that all Paris believes he has deliberately paraded his wives indiscretions before the public for his own financial advantage leads to a climax as startling as it is unexpected.

The masterly direction of von Stroheim, the skillful portrayal of every character in the story, and the endless succession of scenes remarkable for their size and realism make "The Devil's Pass Key" one of the most intense and spectacular photodramas of the screen.

AT THE GRAND

Miss Doris Keane a Striking Personality

One of the most striking personalities on stage and screen is Miss Doris Keane, who is showing at the Grand theater in the wonderful drama, "Romance," written by Edward Sheldon, author of "The Boss," "Salvation Nell and a host of other successes.

It was some few years ago that this striking personality came to the ardent attention of dramatic critics, and in short she was climbing rapidly to the top of the ladder until today she is recognized as America's greatest emotional actress. This personality was forcibly given to the lovers of the stage when she portrayed the role of Sonia Kritch-nofe, in "Arsene Lupin," and in that character it was so in evidence that it swayed her audience long before she spoke a single word. This is undoubtedly the greatest natural gift any actress can possess for it appeals to all audiences and at once arouses that sympathetic bond which places the audience in accord. No matter what sort of a role such a person acts, it universally gains heart-sympathy. Miss Keane, equipped as she is with this wonderful unknown quality known as magnetism, has won multitudes of admirers.

Miss Keane is a young star in every sense of the word. She made her debut in the company that supported Fay Davis in "The White-washing of Julia," a Pinero play that had a great Broadway run. In this she had but three lines to speak, but it may safely be said that these were spoken in the correct way. The next season she was playing the leading feminine role of Catherine Fulton with Lionel Barrymore in "The Other Girl." Following that she was acting the part of Irene Milward with John Drew in "Delancey," and then came an entirely different part in "The Hypocrites," the Henry Arthur Jones play. This was a really serious role and she made a hit not only here but in London as well. Her rapid rise at that time was particularly noted because it was her inimitable talents that were recognized.

W. E. Parr, Oscar Hedquist, E. W. Morhoff, Joe Morel, Theodore Wall and Oscar Rennebohm were fined $1 and costs each in superior court for neglecting to have the tail lights on their automobiles burning.

Scarlet Downpour in Paris
Marks Anniversary Night of Lenin's Revolution.

PARIS—There was a rain of blood upon Monte Carlo and Mentone Saturday night. The scarlet downpour began about 6 p. m., and was accompanied by a strong southeast wind. When it was finished an hour and a half later, the roofs, roads, gardens and shrubs of the Riviera were covered with a sticky crimson.

The scientific explanation is that the rain clouds had been saturated with red sand from the Sahara desert, but the superstitious inhabitants of the gambling metropolis shake their heads and prophecy new horrors for war-wracked Europe.

Saturday was the night of the anniversary of Lenin's red revolution in 1917.

COUNTRY MAGAZINE COVERS FIELD WELL

Farmerettes Tell Experiences— Tribute Paid to Doctor Babcock

How three university women spent a summer working as "farmerettes" on a farm in West Virginia is told by Miss Minnie Lippitt in the new issue of the Country magazine, now on sale at Agricultural hall, and at the Home Economics building.

Miss Lippitt, Miss Rebecca Ruhl, '19, and Miss Gene Outhouse, did all sorts of farm work, including hay making, thinning apples, and harvesting of fruit and vegetables. That they were successful is evidenced by the fact that the owner of the farm raised their wages twice during the summer.

Few people know that Wisconsin ranked first in the Union in the yield per acre of corn, oats, hemp, flaxseed, potatoes, cigar-type tobacco, and first in having the breeding of pure seed during 1919. When one considers that Wisconsin had to compete with the corn-belt states, Illinois, Missouri, Indiana, Iowa, Ohio, Nebraska, and Kansas. To the native sons and daughters of Wisconsin, the article by Clarence B. Bennett, on "Holding the Lead with Pure Bred Seed," ought to be of particular interest.

Since the whole campus and the state paid tribute to Dr. Stephen Moulton Babcock, inventor of the Babcock test for butter fat, it is fitting that the organ of the College of Agriculture should pay its respect as well. A poem by A. S. Alexander pays tribute to Dr. Babcock, of whom it can be said "not gain and luxury of wealth, have been your aim and wage, but service rich, of head and heart..." Above the poem is the familiar figure of the white-haired man, so well known to the campus students.

The average student on the campus does not know that in Agricultural hall is a means by which some of the most important discoveries in the field of agriculture have been announced to the world. This is the bulletin department which represents a postoffice in the volume of material it handles. It was from this department that a plain little bulletin was sent out to the agricultural world, announcing the Babcock test for butter fat; the story of the microscopic organisms which grow in small tubercles of clover roots and store up nitrogen, was made known to the world through one of these bulletins, the story about the two vitamins in foods which are absolutely necessary for the growth and reproduction of animals was first identified in one of the Wisconsin bulletins. Over 30,000 Wisconsin farmers have benefited so much by these bulletins that they have placed their names on the permanent mailing list, so that all the news bulletins are sent to them free of charge. The story of this interesting and beneficial department is told by Idrys (Doc.) O. Hughes.

The Country magazine has succeeded in filling its magazine with material that is not only of interest of agriculture and home economic students, but also to other students on the campus.
