Frosh Recovering From Skull Wound

Merton Bettendorf '25 is recovering from injuries which he received when he was struck over the head by a policeman in the street parade following the Cap Night celebration Saturday night.

"The injury, laceration of the skull, was not serious and no unfavorable developments were expected," said Dr. Harper of the Jackson clinic where he was taken for treatment.

The police station has no reports of any other injuries sustained at that time, or of any other trouble other than the unusual street congestion.

Dodge, of the department of English, chairman of the committee of judges. Second place was awarded to Frank D. Crane '24, who wrote on "Edmond Rostand—Idealist."

A total of six essays were entered in the contest. First award consists of a $50 cash prize, and the second is $25. The contest is held annually and is open to everyone in the university.

START WORK ON UNION MAY 27

Raze President Birge's Old Home; General Assembly Expected

The first step toward the clearing of the site of the Memorial Union building will be made next Saturday, May 27, when President Birge's old home between the Union building and the Y. M. C. A. will be razed.

Dean S. H. Goodnight, Prof. E. H. Gardner, of the English department, and a member of the Union board will speak at the ceremony to be held on the site. A general convocation will be called next week to better acquaint the student body with the plans of the new building.

The work of tearing down the other buildings on the site will not be begun this semester. President Birge's home and the clinic will not be razed until the other structures are removed.

The old building to be first removed was built in 1883 and was the home of President Birge when he was a professor of zoology. When it was erected a grove of trees adjoined the building and occupied the present site of the Y. M. C. A. A little frame house was located on the spot now occupied by the gymnasium annex, and a carpenter lived directly opposite on the lower campus. His home was surrounded by pasture land.

A large grove of trees grew where the state historical library is now located. The library was built in 1896.

Griffith and Wells Plan to Film History

A 100 reel film of the world will be filmed by D. W. Griffith with the cooperation of H. G. Wells, author of the "Outline of History," in about a year, and will extend over a period of about seven years.

Griffiths' plan is to stir world-wide sentiment against war.

"Plans will be worked out for the showing of the film in every nation," Griffith said. "When war looms, let the government show just a few reels of this film, and war will not come."

The proposed film will not take the "Outline of History" for its text. It will contain a romantic theme, according to the director, sufficient to make the beholders think about the historical and economical significance of the film.

MEDIC-ENGINEER GAME

The Engineer-Medic baseball game, which was postponed last week, will be played on the lower campus at 4:30 today.

DANCE DRAMA WILL BE HELD FRIDAY, MAY 26

Miss H'Doubler's Classes Will Present Program in Open Air Theater

INTERPRET MYTHOLOGY

Soft gray curtains will open on a fairy land of color set against the stately majesty of the campus green when the Dance Drama is given in the open air theater at 8:15 next Friday night. Members of Miss H'Doubler's classes will portray the story of King Midas' greed for gold which denies him the satisfaction of his natural wants for food and water. He is finally brought to the realization that wealth is utter worthlessness.

"But to be young was very Heaven" is the title of a study of Love's indecision. Riches, the sorcerer, had almost enticed her to follow him, but she turns just in time to catch a glimpse of Youth and she realizes that Youth alone is "the very Heaven."

Atlanta and her maidens take a different attitude towards love in the following study. Love means binding the wings of Youth. When Atlanta wins the race with the Athenian Lad she is joyous that freedom is still hers. Still there is a questioning motif in her dance. Would not love be desirable even at the cost of freedom? It is too serious a question for her laughing youth and she turns to resume the games with her maidens.

The second part of the program consists of a group of character dances. "Sing a Song of Six Pence" shows the king counting his money, the queen eating bread and honey, and the unfortunate maid who loses her nose. There is "Old Mister Michel John, He had a hickory leg on," and the part ends in a lively soldier's chorus. Jack-in-the-Box also appears for a lively dance.

"The threads of time slip into place, And weave into a tapestry Of intricate design, The Seasons."

The three Horai appear as they stand watching the sands of time. The sands flow silently through countless seasons in their varying beauty. It is the old story which the Greeks told in the myth of Demeter and Persephone and her

Students Invent Radio Controlled Motor Carriage

A radio controlled carriage which was approved by the United States General Staff officers when they inspected the signal corps last Thursday is the result of a year's work on the problem by Hallett H. Germond '23, of the course in electrical engineering, with the assistance of Lawrence P. Richmond '23, also student in the electrical course.

The carriage is approximately two feet long and one foot wide carrying two batteries, and has four circuits for control. It has no steering mechanism and can be stopped at any given point.

There are a number of practical applications of the carriage that may be worked out successfully in the future. By means of such a device it would be possible to discharge radio controlled torpedoes, control a set of tractors, establish remote control for stationary electrical engines and drop mail from small dirigible balloons.

SASSIETL NOTES

Helen Hooper rode down on the bus from Waupun with Ed. Hooker, where the latter served a short term for instance. Helen was led to believe that the Thetas were shooting at her again when one of the bus tires blew out, and quite a touching scene occurred. Little Willie, full of hell, fished his sister in the well. Mother cried while drawing water "Gosh, its hard to raise a daughter."

THE ALTIMATE UBSOLUTE

By Stephen Spigot

I wrapped sibilantly on the massive crepe door. As the ululations perished a tremendous noise occurred on the nearby. I looked around and discovered that a crash dressing gown had fallen out of the window. Entering, perceived the great man having a quiet game of polo at his desk. I dropped my ridicule on the floor to attract his attention. He turned around startled.

"Pardon me," I said, with my temper rapidly rising, but keeping a tight control on myself, "You are losing your savoir-faire."

"Thank you," he shouted, restoring it to its place.

I felt little duckling up and down my back.

"Quack, quack" I cried.

"I am not" he declared. "I am the only Psychological Detective."

You are a little fowl yourself."

I took out my powder-puff and mirror but could not discover what he alluded to.

British Will Mean Signers of Irish Pact

LONDON—The British government has invited the Irish signatories to the Anglo-Irish treaty to come to London and discuss with the British signatories the agreement signed Saturday between the provisional government and Eamon DeValera, it was announced this afternoon by Winston Churchill, secretary for the colonies. This agreement, he thought, raised serious issues affecting the validity of the election in the Irish free state, as well as the treaty itself.

FRANCE FEARS GERMANY MAY CRUSH NATION

—STUART

Position of France Has Changed Radically Since 1914

"France is more afraid of Germany today than she was in 1914," said Prof. Graham H. Stuart of the political science department of the University today, in his address before the Kiwanis club, at the Y. M. C. A. "In 1914 France felt that she would have the support of Great Britain and Russia, but today she has only antagonism from these countries. Every Frenchman that I have talked to seems to have this great fear of Germany. Whether or not it is psychological I cannot say, but the fear is there anyway. Knowing that the birth rate is greater in Germany than in France, knowing that Germany wants to crush her, and knowing that God is on the side of the largest battalions, can you blame France for wanting to see Germany disabled?"

"The cause of the collapse of the Genoa conference was the antagonism of France and Great Britain. Great Britain realizes that if she is to exist as a nation she must have the trade and friendliness of Russia."

"The only real constructive thing brought out in the Genoa conference was the proposal of Russia to have an allied commission investigate the economic conditions in that country. To my mind it would seem that such an investigation would bring out the truth of Russia."

98 REPORTED MISSING AFTER SHIPS COLLIDE

British Ship Rammed By French Boat in Fog Near Brest

BREST — Ninety-eight persons are missing and 242 were saved of those who were on board the British steamship Egypt when it was sunk off the Island of Ushant Saturday night by a collision with the French steamer Seine.

Among those missing are two American women, Mrs. M. L. Sibley and Miss V. M. Boyer, missionaries, whose home addresses are unknown. It is possible that some of the missing may have been picked up.

According to the Egypt's purser, the ship floated only about 20 minutes after her plates were crushed by the Seine. The Egypt, he declares, was not moving at the time of the accident, lying to on account of the dense fog and sounding her siren continuously.

OPEN THE DOORS

THE annual track meet of the high schools throughout the state will be held in Madison next Saturday. This event will bring nearly 500 young men to the capital. They will be dependent largely upon the hospitality of the organized groups for entertainment while here.

So far accommodations have been arranged for only half the number who will be here. This matter should receive immediate attention. A number of fraternities have not yet offered their services to help in the accommodations. They should speak up at once.

This annual athletic event is one that has always been a material help to the university and it should not be marred this year by failure to provide adequately for the reception of the guests.

BE WITH THE WOMEN!

NO, this is not a suggestion to the men to devote more time to fussing than they do at present. It is an appeal to them to turn out in a body Saturday afternoon to see what the women can do and how well they do it.

It is taken for granted that the women will enthusiastically join hands to make Field Day a big success. It is their affair, and they would be pretty poor sportsmen if they neglected their big opportunity of wrecking the ancient and moss-covered tradition that women are incapable of team-work. The eternal feminine will take care of upholding its own dignity. But how about the inevitable masculine? In spite of the close association between men and women in a co-education university, do the men fully appreciate their feminine classmates? The men know fairly well how the women rate socially. The best dancers, the most interesting fussers, the most beautiful and the most popular, and so on, have long been picked out by men's discerning judgment.

But how well acquainted are the men with them in the most substantial fields of endeavor —athletics, for instance? Does it occasion vast surprise that the women are sufficiently athletically inclined to put on a Field Day all by themselves? That is what they are doing. Will some men, wrapt in their masculinity, shrug their shoulders and scornfully suggest tag, or pussy-wants-a-corner, and other games, that to them seem within the bounds of woman's efforts? Let such unbelievers casually look over a few rotogravure sections of the Sunday supplements, and see how much space is devoted to pictures of women doing the high hurdles, dashes, javelin throwing, high and broad jumps, and other events heretofore confined to men. One is forced to conclude that women's athletics are not so tame and gentle after all.

Field Day includes all of these events and many others. It is the culmination of the year's athletic program, in which, with one final burst of glory, are decided the individual awards and class championships. The women want the men to support their big athletic event because it is an all-university affair. Wisconsin has been a pioneer in the field of women's athletics, and has done more than any other school in the Middle West to make athletics a major activity, thereby winning national prestige. When the women have thus helped to make the name of Wisconsin prominent, the men should show their appreciation by being on hand at Camp Randall Saturday afternoon.

Would it not be interesting to see the girl whom you took to the dance the other night win a first place in the hundred yard dash? Or, better still to see the one who cut a date with you come in last in the low hurdles?

TYPES OF DISHONESTY

DISHONESTY—a word at which every one looks askance when he thinks of it with its attendant applications. And yet more than a fair degree of it exists in and about the campus. The student is prone to think that the liar, the thief, the cheat, and other types of dishonest folks are far removed from him—but he does not think to the bottom of things.

Dishonesty may mean more than stealing a neighbor's clothes, work, or honor; it may consist of other things than telling a naked untruth to a friend or foe. "The dishonest man is he who does less than his part or takes more than his share." What, then, is the individual who slides through a course with poorly prepared lessons and a friend's assistance? How shall the man or woman be classified who never serves on a disagreeable committee because he or she is "too busy," or who breaks an appointment because it is inconvenient to keep it? Cannot these types be justly classified with those who do less than their part?

And then there is the person who always must have first consideration—the one who, because he is Mr. So-and-So, if you please, must always be consulted as to whether he favors the proposed scheme, and the mutual friend of these two types is always quite willing to share any honor which comes to the group, but never feels bound to assume any censure or blame if the plans go awry, no matter how instrumental he may have been in bringing about the trouble.

If truth and justice are fundamentals of good citizenship why not rule out petty dishonesty as well as the gross offense punishable by law? Why not seek contentment in an inner consciousness which is above littleness and deceit, and not below the highest and best that lies within reach.—Daily Kansan.

Women Knickers Condemned By Archbishop Messmer In Letter Read In Local Churches

Condemnation of lowneck dresses and "hiking suits" with knickers for women, urging pastors to refuse holy communion and absolution in the confessional to the wearers, was expressed in a pastoral letter of Archbishop S. G. Messmer, which was read in Madison Catholic churches of the Milwaukee archdiocese Sunday, according to Rev. Fr. Sidney Dwyer of St. Raphael's church.

"Let the pastors publish as a rule for their parish that no woman or girl with a low cut dress reaching below the collarbone or with naked arms will be allowed to approach holy communion. Let priests refuse absolution of any Catholic girl going out in so-called hiking suits, a most outrageous, downright immodest and positively sinful fashion which threatens to become somewhat general," the letter read in part.

The statement was issued following an investigation in Catholic parishes. Complaints were sent to the archbishop concerning the dress of Catholic women in the churches and on the streets. Undecided what to do in several extreme cases, the parish priests took no action until the pastoral letter was sent out.

The pastors were not commanded to take the course pointed out in the letter but were only urged to do so. Priests intimated on Sunday that they would refuse absolution only in extreme cases and would not embarrass women in public by denying them communion but would take the matter up with them in private.

The remainder of the letter reads as follows:

"I know of nothing that will more effectively and radically blunt the very instinct of maidenly modesty and reserve and supplant it by a disgusting shamelessness as this scandalous fashion growing among young girls. There is no reason for such a fashion. Girls can go walking or hiking with all the comfort desirable in their own decent female attire without dressing like boys.

"Girls in so called hiking suits must not be allowed to enter a Catholic church whether there be any service or not. The blame for this outrageous fashion, we know, rests principally with the parents of these hiking girls. Many of these girls are not even aware of the wrong they are doing, the scandal they are giving and the great dangers to chastity and purity to which they are exposing themselves.

"Priests are therefore bound to call the attention of Catholic parents to their grave responsibility of properly guiding and controlling their girls and daughters in the choice of their dresses and attire, as the evil is growing worse from year to year.

Crop Conditions In State Are Improving

Crop and livestock conditions in Wisconsin improved greatly during the past week, the state crop reporting service reported today. Moderate temperatures with well distributed rainfall stimulated growth and offered little interruption to farm work. A large acreage of emergency hay crops is being seeded to replace winter-killed acres of clover and alfalfa. Plowing is well under way, with winter grains growing rapidly. Small fruits are in excellent condition.

The junior-freshmen game, which had been called first for Thursday when the rain stopped it after the first two innings, was played out on Friday. The game, which was marked by the lack of any sort of spectacular playing or unusual plays, ended 33-5 in the junior's favor. The freshmen were unable to get into their team work, their organization failing completely against the junior's systematic onslaughts.

U. S. FIGURES ON MADISON ARE ISSUED

Department of Commerce Issues Statement on City Taxes

WASHINGTON, D. C.—The department of commerce issued today a census report showing the costs of government for Madison for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1920. The total amounted to $2,266,529, which was a per capita cost of $58.16. In 1917 the per capita cost was $43.71, the total for that year being $1,548,031. The per capita costs for 1920 consisted of expenses of general departments, $28.12; expenses of public service enterprises, $5.89; payments for interest, $3.75; and for outlays, $20.40.

The total revenue receipts for 1920 were $1,798,835, or $46.16 per capita. For the fiscal year the per capita excess of governmental costs over revenue receipts was $12.00.

Property taxes constitute the greater part of the revenue of cities. In Madison they represented 66.6 per cent for 1920, 53.7 per cent for 1917. The increase in the amount of property taxes collected was 68.7 per cent from 1917 to 1920. The per capita property taxes for the two specified years being $30.77 and $20.07, respectively.

Earnings of public service enterprises operated by the city represented 12.2 per cent of the total revenue for 1920, and 10.9 per cent for 1917.

Business and nonbusiness licenses, which include receipts from liquor licenses, show a marked reduction in relative importance, being 1.5 per cent of the total revenue for 1920 as compared with 8.3 per cent for 1917.

The net indebtedness (funded and floating debt less sinking fund assets) of Madison was $45.03 per capita for 1920, and $47.14 for 1917.

In nearly all cities the property subject to the general property tax varies in the reported basis of assessment, though in most states the law requires that property be assessed at full market value. For this reason the best measure of cost to the property owner is the per capita tax levy. The per capita levies for Madison for 1920 were: $47.27; city, $37.09; state, $3.66, and county, $6.52.

Badgers Outweigh Manitoba Varsity

Canuck Crew Will Arrive in Madison on Wednesday

(Special to the Daily Cardinal.)

WINNIPEG, Can. May 20—The University of Manitoba Varsity crew, carrying 10 men, will leave here May 24 and will arrive in Madison at 5:45 on May 25, two days before the great international race between Wisconsin and the Canadian institution.

Badgers Outweigh Opponents

The Manitoba crew average 154 5-8 pounds. This is 9 pounds less on the average than the Badger crew weights. An experienced aggregation of athletes will represent Canada when the two eights face the starter on Lake Mendota. "Laurie" Phinney, captain of the University club, has two years experience on the Varsity. He is also captain of the Winnipeg Rowing crew. Carey is president of football, Hillhouse is track president, and "Jim" Creighton is an "M" in track, football, and basketball.

Expert Coach

The Canuck crew is coached by Selby Henderson and Frank Caruthers, rowing experts, who represented the Winnipeg Rowing club at Henley this year.

Personnel and weight of the Canadian Varsity crew follow: Coxswain—T. M. Hillhouse 115; Stroke, "Laurie" Phinney, 142; 7, "Jim" Creighton, 172; 6, Ralph Carey, 163; 5, G. L. Adamson, 152; 4, Eric Carey, 150; 3, Walter Watt, 158; 2, Graham Spry, 152; Bowler George Galt, 148.

Badgers May Enter National Competition

That Wisconsin may enter a pistol team in the national competition at Camp Perry, Ohio, next summer is the opinion of officers in the R. O. T. C. military department.

Any member of the Pistol club may fire to qualify as marksman, sharpshooter, or expert pistolman in competition next Sunday. The stone quarry range on the Middleton road will be used, and firing will begin at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Meets still to be fired are with West Point, Princeton, Oregon, Purdue, and Ohio State.

35 Students Attend "Y" Camp Meeting

The invulnerable expostulations of Prof. A. B. Hall and A. L. Brendenburgh, directors of the University Y. M. C. A., defeated the students by a score of 2 to 1 in a baseball game between the Y. M. C. A. board of directors and the students, at the Y. M. C. A. spring camp at Lake Kegonsa Sunday afternoon.

Good batting was exhibited, however, by several of the other members of the board. Prof. G. L. Larson being the most conspicuous.

The things which have been lacking the "Y" this year and the ways in which the "Y" could be improved, were thoroughly discussed at the meetings held during the three days of camp.

A complete schedule of all the activities, which the "Y" will undertake during the next year was made, and a specific date was assigned for each.

About 35 students made the trip.

Big Ten Tennis Meet to Open at Chicago Wednesday

With the conference tennis meet but two days away, Coach George E. Linden is fast whipping his battling Badgers into tip top condition.

Coach Linden will take four men to Chicago with him Wednesday, for the three days of continuous tennis. Gotfredson is playing a whirlwind game this season and will probably make an exceptionally good showing in the tournament. Capt. "Tommy" Tredwell will pair with Gotfredson to make one of the most feared double combinations in the conference. These two men have been playing flashy tennis this spring and proved their strength by defeating Norton and Pigeon of Minnesota.

Iowa is the only Big Ten university which has not entered a team in the meet this season. Butler college of Indiana has entered a team making ten squads. The strength of Butler college is not known, but the fact that it has entered the tournament indicates that it is strong.

Chicago, Michigan, Ohio State, and Minnesota will offer the stiffest opposition to Coach Linden's men. The power of Frankenstein and Stagg of Chicago is already known since they decisively defeated Norton and Pidgeon of Minnesota.

Reindel and Rorick of Michigan are strong. Rorick was the first man to defeat Greene of the University of California. Reindel plays and exceptionally consistent game and when paired with Rorick should form a winning team.

Council Considers New Building Code

Special Session is Called By Mayor; Meet Tuesday Night

A special meeting of the common council has been called by Mayor I. Milo Kittleson to meet Tuesday evening in the council chamber. The council will meet as a committee of the whole to consider various changes which have been made to the building code of the city.

Various suggestions were made by the code committee which met with the ordinance committee last Friday in revising the present codes. One matter which will be taken up is the tentative clause which may permit garages being constructed of ordinary materials.

The code committee in making the change to garages adopted the state law which was milder than the city code. Other changes proposed will be the erection of fireproof buildings in the business section, razing of all buildings destroyed over 50 per cent by fire. It is stated that many projects are being held up until the new codes are adopted by the council.

Minnesota Win Is Biggest Surprise Of Track Season

Gopher's Speedy Distance Men
Pile Up Points Against Badgers

Minnesota pulled the biggest surprise of the 1922 season in track by defeating Wisconsin with a score of 68 to 67 last Saturday, the unexpected strength of the Minneapolis runners in the hurdles and the distances being the main factor in turning the trick.

The mile, two mile, and half mile runs were all won by Minnesota; the latter, which was won by Captain Sweitzer in 1 minute 58 seconds, broke the local record at Minneapolis. Anderson of Minnesota proved himself to be one of the speediest stick jumpers in the conference when he defeated Captain Knollin of Wisconsin in both the high and low hurdle races. The time made by Anderson in former event was 15 1-5 seconds, only 1-5 second over the mark made by Earl Thompson, world's champion hurdler, at the Penn relay this year.

Ralph Spetz, Badger sprinter who rates with the fastest dash men in the country, walked away with the 100 yard and 220 yard dashes and then came back for a third in the quarter. In the 220 yard event his time 21 4-5 seconds misses tying the conference record by just 1-5 of a second.

Platten is another Wisconsin man whose performance points toward a place in the conference meet. The lanky jumper cleared the bar at 6 feet 4 3-4 inches for a new local record. Johnson of Wisconsin copped the 440 yard dash by setting a 50 1-50 second pace.

This is a better mark than is hung up by most Conference jumpers. Van Ells, with 41 feet 6 inches in the shot put, also showed that he will be of varsity calibre next year.

The summaries follow:

Pennant chances of both Michigan university and Wisconsin will hang in the balance until after the Ann Arbor battle is finished.

Illini Are Second

Illinois now holds a commanding position in the Conference title race. The Suckers have won seven games and lost two, holding second place by a one and one-half game margin. They meet Purdue and Ohio State for their last games this week. Purdue, in first place, has won four games and lost only one. It will meet Iowa at Iowa City following the struggle with Illinois. The boilermakers meet Chicago on Stagg field on June 10.

Michigan has six Big Ten games to play. Iowa, Minnesota twice, Chicago, Wisconsin, Ohio State are still on the Wolverines' slate. Ohio State has a good chance of upsetting the championship aspirations of either Illinois or Michigan. The Buckeyes defeated Michigan at Columbus and gave Illinois a severe fight before finally succumbing.

Animal Has Mentality Of 15 Months Old Baby

"The sequence of events in the creation of the world as related in the book of Genesis is one of the wonders of all times," said Dr. E. L. Eaton in his sermon on: A Sane View of Evolution, at the university Methodist church, on Sunday morning.

"The various stages from chaos to the creation of man are no longer disputed for no other theories can be advanced successfully to disprove what has been written centuries ago.

"Man was created when he became possessed with those various powers which differentiate him from the animal. Animals are conscious while man is self-conscious. Animals possess instinct while man possesses that plus the power of reasoning.

Scandals Exceed All Expectations.

By P. H. J.

Here is a show that really came up to expectations. George White's "Scandals" at the Parkway last night was a treat from start to finish. Ann Pennington was there, and George White, and a supporting cast that could have been no better. Everything was mixed in just the right proportion. Nothing was "run out" or overdone. Singing, dancing, costumes, and droll persiflage were combined to make the whole satisfying and convincingly entertaining.

Although the first two scenes started off rather slowly it wasn't long before a momentum had been set up that lasted the entire evening. Lou Holtz's "wis cracks" carried over between the dance and song numbers, while the eccentric stuff—the Russian Drama—the divorce court—the winter palace—served to lighten with their whimsical properties.

Ann Pennington was introduced in a tambourine dance, an offering that was well fitted to present this vivacious miss. She was liberal with everything and responded in a satisfying manner. She appeared often.

It would be impossible to give credit to all who deserve it; everyone took well. Mixie and George were clever at all times with their feet, and the chorus was pleasingly well picked. It was a good show.

Dance Drama to Be Held Friday

maidens dancing in the garden lose all their gaiety when an autumn leaf comes among them. They know that Persephone must go to the underworld and that in her absence her mother Demeter will grieve so that she will forget to bless the world and winter and desolation will come. The maidens bid Persephone farewell.

Demeter returns to find her daughter gone, she grows suddenly old and dons her white robe of winter. She bids the maidens achieve something worthy of Persephone's return in the spring. They bring the crystal of philosophy, the scroll of knowledge, and the lyre of music. Persephone returns and there is spring and summer but soon she must go again to the underworld and fall and winter have come. Thus goes the story of endless time.

Tickets for the Dance Drama may be obtained for $1.00 at the University pharmacy, Hook Brothers, Bascom hall, and Lathrop hall. All seats are reserved.
