OF THE UNIVERSITY OF WISCONSIN
1938 ♦ ♦ ♦ MADISON, WISCONSIN

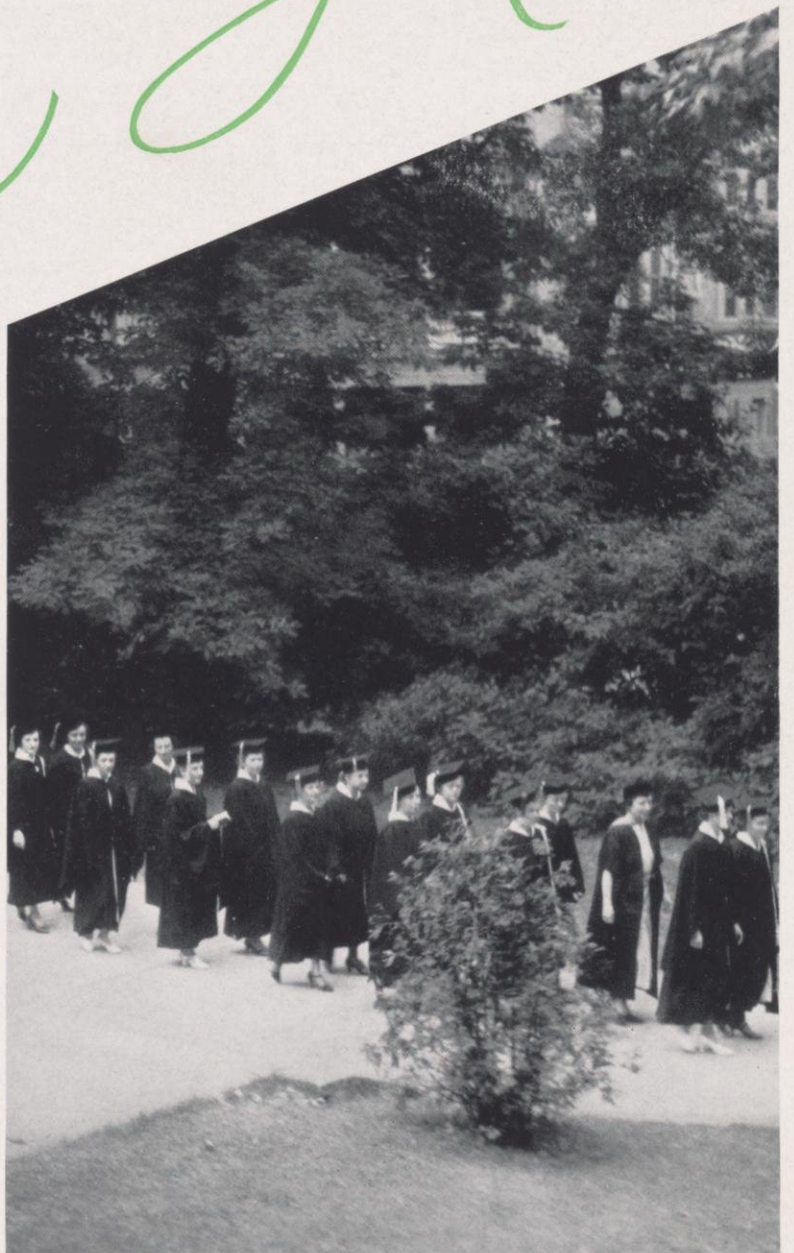

College is a rapid, fast-moving life of its own. Never stopping, never resting, we hurry through to cram a big part of our life into four years.

College

Secret

Only to find as we leave that it has been a short, not a feature, that there is a bigger, longer
world where names and fames take ages to rise and fall.

Speaking before a Madison audience composed largely of University students, John Chapple of Ashland threw a picture of Governor La Follette on a screen behind him and shouted, "Is that the man you want as your governor?" And back came the students' answer, "Yes, that's the man!"

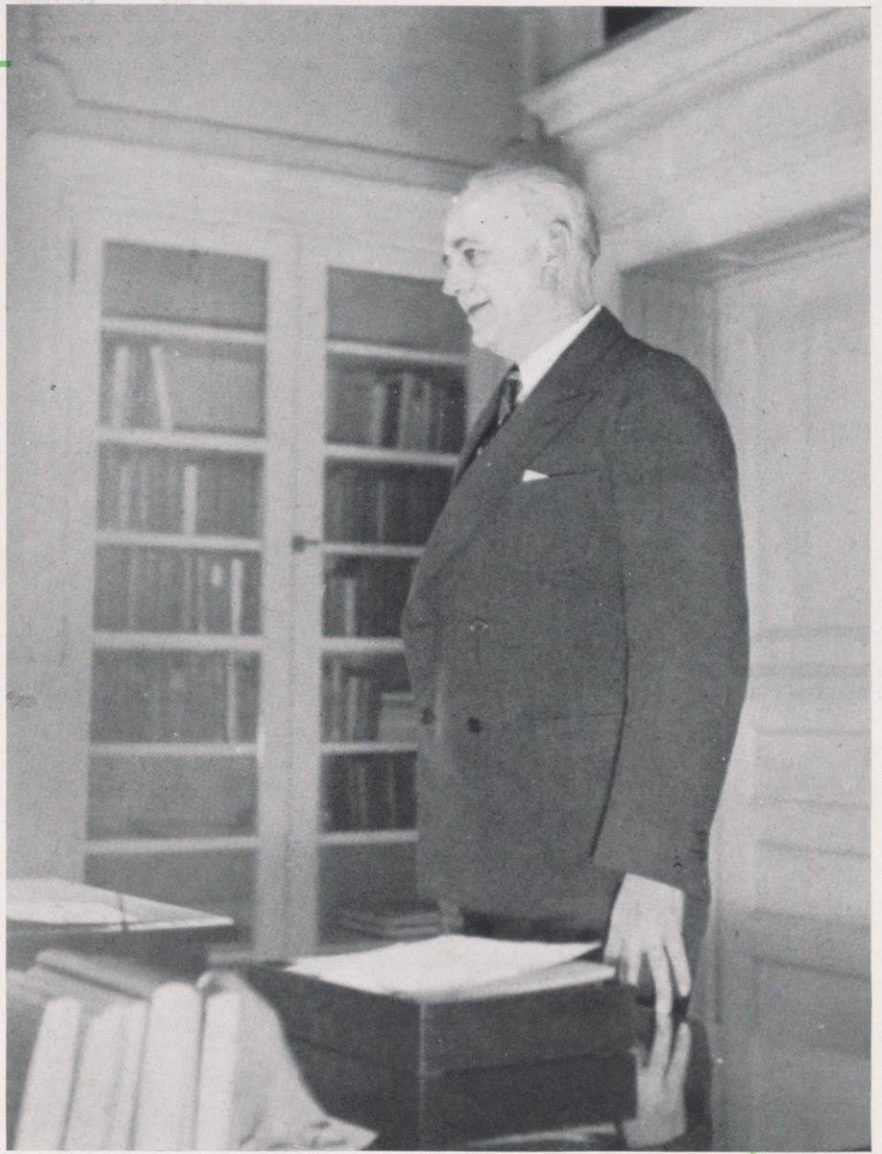

On another occasion five hundred excited collegians marched down a slushy State street to the Capitol, herded themselves into the Legislative chamber to hear the state's chief executive tell them, "You cannot believe that I, who have been so long and so closely attached to your University, to my University, would do anything to harm it!"

But beyond all external demonstration and proof, his University is proud of its nationally eminent alumnus, its former professor, and its constant benefactor, Philip Fox La Follette.

GOVERNOR

PRESIDENT CLARENCE ADDISON DYKSTRA

"Together," Clarence Addison Dykstra told the first freshman class to come under him, "we shall see new vistas, discover new truths." So did Wisconsin's eleventh president begin his first year. But in that year it has been he who has shown new vistas, discovered new truths. His associates came to know these things first, for they found from the beginning a man thoroughly undisturbed by their factions and their differences of opinion. Something in his deep set eyes and forceful manner echoed what they had heard, that with shirt-sleeves rolled he stood unafraid of their highly publicized "graveyard."

But by nearly eleven thousand students is he best understood. They see much of the man in the "Dyke" who walks, not rides, up and down the hill, in the prexy whose familiar smile is both a verity and a symbol.

DEAN SCOTT HOLLAND GOODNIGHT

Every September the Octopus used to run a picture of a completely sinister and devilish appearing old man who seemed quite ready to bite babies and kick widows out in the snow. Underneath was the caption, "Gentlemen, Meet the Dean."

In a school the size of Wisconsin there must be many (too many, if you ask him), who never get beyond that stage in knowing Dean Goodnight. So it is to the gentlemen who have met the Dean that we must turn for our appraisal. And they have no little to say. They may not know, for instance, that he's the national president of Phi Eta Sigma, but they do know he's a hunter and a fisherman. They may not even know he's considered one of the best in his field, but they find out in a minute that he's remarkably easy to talk to, even easier to know.

So for those who know a real fellow when they see one, the Dean of Men's office holds no terror. Instead there's something almost unexplainable about sitting across the desk from the man and his pipe, and being understood.

Just as a Dean of Men should be a tyrant and a bear, so, according to legend, must the Dean of Women be something cold and austere. But that's legend and not, as any Wisconsinite will testify, Dean Greeley.

A description of her would always be inadequate; she's something full of life, so much so that she seems to have time for everything. She's an efficient educator, her reputation as a Dean is not a small one. She's complex; she'd have to be as Dean, wife, amateur botanist, sportswoman, funster, and friend. She's something else, though, something that makes everyone that meets her think of a human dynamo, but a dynamo with a smile.

But above all, she's clever. Out of her office comes much that makes Wisconsin tick, for it's really quite a job, taking care of all the routine and extra problems that come before her. And with all that, she's one thing in everybody's language, charming. That's why she's clever.

DEAN LOUISE TROXELL GREELEY

DEAN FRANK O. HOLT

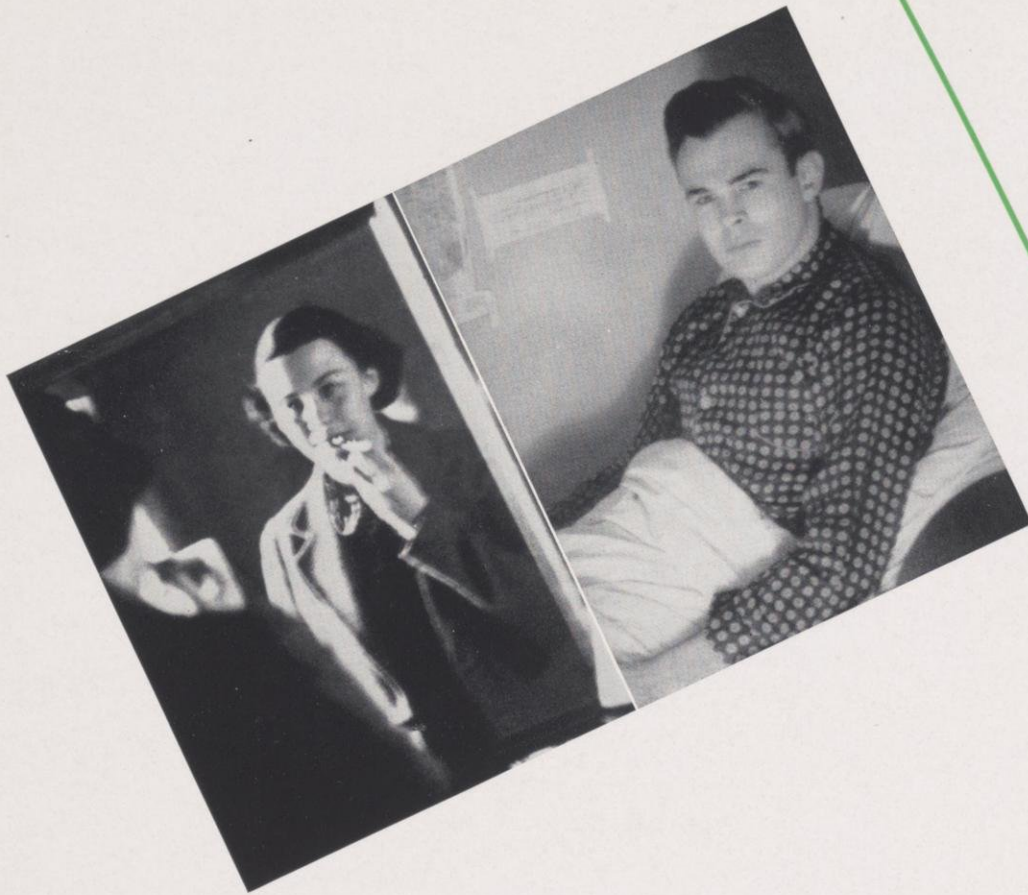

When, year after year, Wisconsin marks a new record enrollment, Dean Holt may well take the bows. It is he above all others who is the University's master salesman, the dynamo behind the greater part of Wisconsin's service to the state. Of all his work in the vast Extension Division and the Bureau of Guidance and Records, the establishment of Orientation Week still stands as his greatest monument.

Bacteriologist, horseman, educator and Dean, Edwin B. Fred serves as a model of tireless energy to graduate students around him. Calculating and coldly logical in his work, he is warm and congenial in spirit—a rare combination. That is why, when a University is measured by its graduate school, Wisconsin is acclaimed for Dean Fred.

DEAN EDWIN B. FRED

CAMPUS

Bill Pryor, has-been. Once a big man on campus, this Prom King, political sage has fallen way down now to be like the rest of us, working hard, playing hard, and remembering what was.

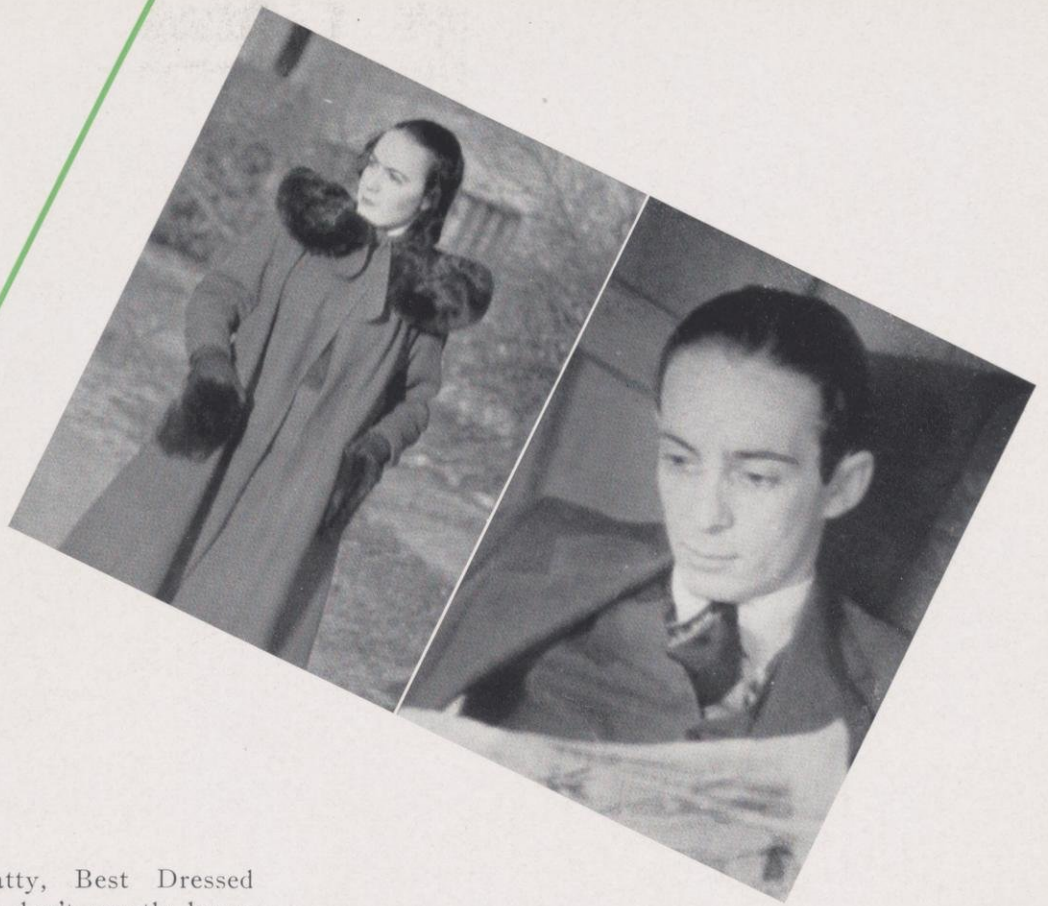

Bobbie Mullin, activity woman. One of those gals who has time to be in everything, get good grades, and still be a good number on anybody's list. Bright, bouyant, beautiful is Bobbie.

Friendly Uncle Fred is a past master in the art of cultivating friends and not buying beers. Genial, jovial, full of good stories and gossip. Nice to talk to—if you pay your bill!

Betty Hill, the "life of the party." Tall, slender, she uses a shrill, piercing voice to tell people what's wrong, how it should be done, and what your best friend has been doing for the past 24 hours.

BIGWIGS

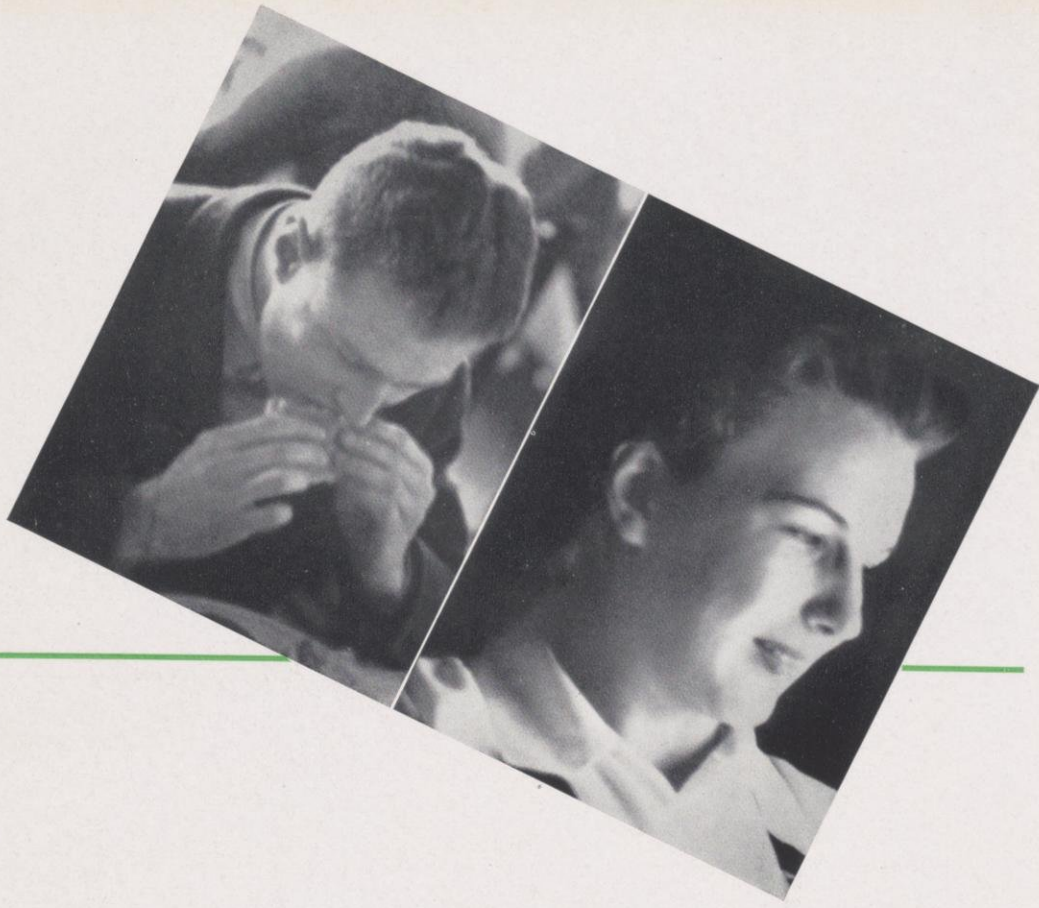

Audrey Beatty, Best Dressed Woman. We don't exactly know whether she's got more clothes than any other girl, but Audrey looks nice in anything—even in the Cardinal Office!

"Tyke" Teichmann, super apple-polisher. Forceful, bluffing, sarcastic in the Winchell manner. Wool-pulling, back-slapping, ego-building, he emerges with Phi Beta grades—and yet is brilliant enough to get them on his own merits.

Allen S. Jorgensen, man of many activities, or shall we say titles? Mustaches and double breasted vests; keys and keys and a long l'st under his name, and to end it, Chi Phi.

Best Date, Rosie Hulett. Tall, dark and distinctive is Rosie. Looks better in a formal than in a swimming suit, we're told; her legs are too long. Suits us fine regardless.

CAMPUS

Howie Weiss, Campus Casanova. Tall, light, and handsome, not exactly Phi Bete material. Has a nice smile and a corner on Kay Dahl and the Kappa Sigs. Played football.

Fritzi Kraut, Charm Girl. Not the college type, nor much like her name. Beautiful, serious, intelligent, and terribly charming. Best of all, she's human.

Jerry Komar, Man of Deception. You expect to see him in boxing trunks, or throwing a man around a ring, but instead you see him in a block-long shiny car with books on the seat beside him.

Ed Collins, Little Big Shot. Mouth of a politician, but bases his pride on crew. Tries hard to be a typical Psi U, but isn't. Almost lots of things, but never quite makes it.

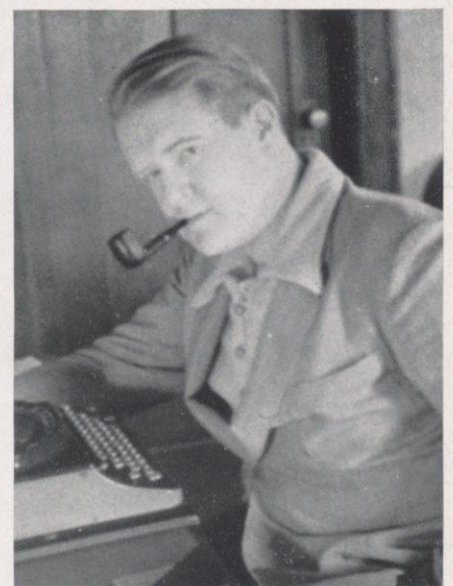

BIGWIGS

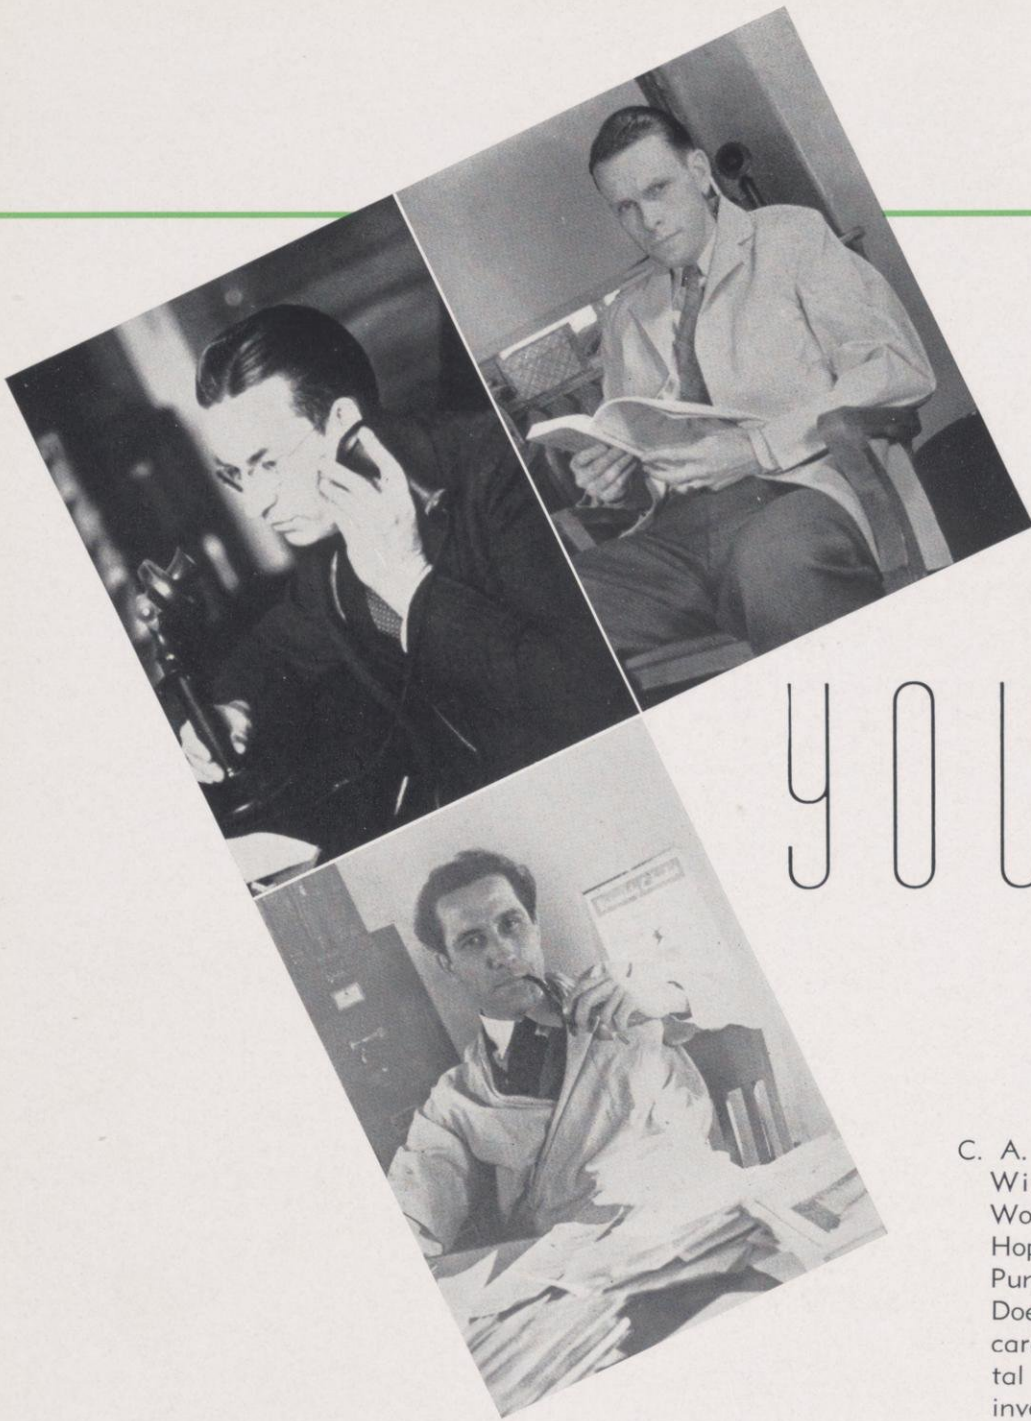

Julius, "Call me Jim" Dieman, politician. On the outer edge of every race, often a prospective candidate, though never materializing. Sunny smile, naive look; maybe it's genuine!

Dick Tinkham, Phi Gam personality boy, and campus conservative who turns liberal at the slightest provocation. Dimpled, boyish face set on a mannish figure of gangling legs and a sophomore "W" sweater.

Best Dressed Man, Johnny Eells. Superby styled, a la McNeil and Moore, Johnny is as much a part of it as is Bill Purnell. Talks and looks a lot like a McN and M ad. If he'd only diet a little. . . .

Joe College, Joe Berry. An exceptional man among the "exceptional" Phi Delts, he is a dabbler in all things, college, dates, and politics. No rah-rah boy is Joe, his is the super-sophisticated, distinctive early 1938 type.

The University of Wisconsin has reached the century mark. One hundred years ago was born a brilliant institution, a University truly representative of a great state. Today, both State and University pause to reflect on the past, contemplate on the future. The University has forged to the front with a creed of educational liberalism comparable only to the progressive State which reaps its harvest. May the century to come see the University of Wisconsin ever foremost in "the fearless sifting and winnowing by which alone the truth can be found."

This year for the first time in the fifty three years of the Badger's history, appear the eleven presidents of the University of Wisconsin. Eleven men representing a century of progress, a forward march in the parade of education, a past of struggle and turmoil; eleven men guiding the University of Wisconsin to its enviable peak in the world of today.

Since their founding in 1885 the University of Wisconsin Bands have grown in membership from fifteen to the present enrollment which numbers over two hundred. For facility in handling and to allow the players to work with the grade best suited for them, three distinct organizations are maintained: the concert band which performs the highest types of symphonic literature and which is made up of the more proficient and experienced players: the First Regimental Band and the Second Regimental Band. The Regimental Bands act as training schools and provide experience necessary for membership in the Concert Band. The combined organizations provide music for football and basketball games, pep meetings and boxing matches.

The Concert Band performs four regularly scheduled concerts and assists in University convocations and exercises. Important activities of the Concert Band in the course of the year have been its appearance on the broadcast of the University Founders' Day program and its own series of twenty-four weekly broadcasts over Station WIBA of Madison. Some of these were carried also by State Stations WHA and WLBL, Stevens Point.

APPRENTICE PLAYERS

In the year 1929 the Wisconsin Players formed a subsidiary organization known as the Apprentice Players. The idealistic function of the club was to groom aspirants in theatre work for the honorary group, Wisconsin Players.

This year the Apprentice Players produced a one-act play, directed, acted, and completely staged by the group. Members of the faculty spoke at various meetings, and a group of the faculty read a three-act play before the club. Members of the club have read before various groups including the housemothers meeting.

Each member of the organization firmly believes that speech, stage, and radio work are beneficial to the development of an individual's personality; and pledges to create and stimulate an interest in speech work.

And in the leading roles of the 40th anniversary show, top row, RICHARD KEPLER as Tanya, the gypsy queen; Don STRUTZ as Lieut. Franz Fedor, the juvenile lead; JIM PFIFFNER as Wimpy, king of the gypsies; middle row, DAVE LIPPERT as Nemo the Mighty Nubian; WEN PALMER and PAUL SCHUETTE, magicians and ventriloquists, with their alter egos, LITTLE JASPER and OSCAR HIGGINS; ARTHUR BEEKEN as Major Count von Stritzza, male romantic lead; bottom row, ALDEN KELLY as Abdul Ben Raschild, prince of Turkey; SEYMOUR HORWITZ as Miklos, the gypsy villain; RICHARD AUTEN as Col. Hermann Dommsbeeken.

"LET'S TALK

40th YEAR

"All our girls are men, yet everyone's a lady." Yes they are for the fortieth year. Among the "prima donnas" and "chorines" who trod the boards for "Let's Talk Turkey" are WARREN ALBERTS and MIKE ASHDOWN, who are spending their second year with the Haresfoot Club. New faces in the bobbing chorus lines were DON HENNINGFELD, GORDY HEATH, SEYMOUR FELDMAN, and FRED GRUENBERGER. Seen leading the sensational French can-can dance and romancina with his "heart" interest DON STRUTZ is FREDDY NILES as the flirtatious Made-moiselle Fifi.

TURKEY"

Top Left: FREDRIC MARCH, '20, now movie idol at Twentieth Century-Fox Studios in Hollywood, then actor in the 1917 show "Jamaica Ginger." Top right: JOSEPH E. Forensic activities on the campus, steadily expanding in scope during the past few years, are under the direction of the forensic board composed of representatives of the various literary societies and elected members.

This year, the board was headed by Byron Johnson, "father" of the much discussed and narrowly defeated "Johnson plan" for revision of student government.

Under the direction of this board, a well rounded program of forensic events for freshmen and upperclassmen was planned and completed.

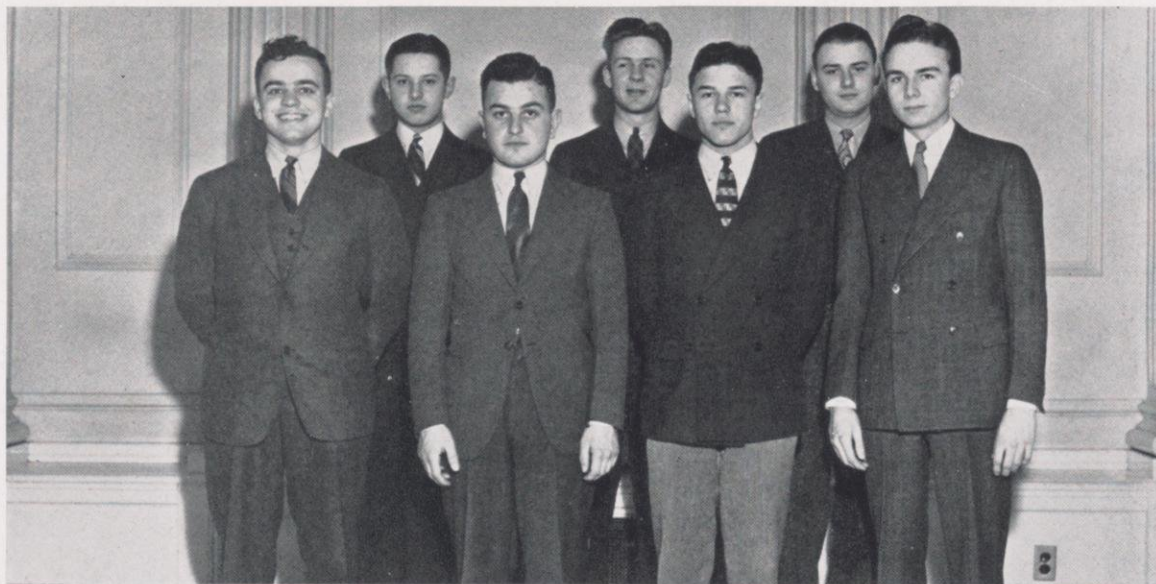

This group also assisted in handling the numerous details for intercollegiate debating and the annual national Delta Sigma Rho forensics tournament held March 26 and 27.

Over 200 debaters, orators, public discussion speakers, and after-dinner speakers convened on the campus for the two-day speech parley. Seventy-eight debating teams, representing 26 colleges and universities from nine states, debated three rounds each on the National Labor Relations board question.

Combining activities dealing with the social, the cultural, alumni, parents, prospective students, and the Winter Carnival, the Union Board again attained new heights in a year of far-reaching expansion.

Filling a needed part of student social life, the Board sponsored 770 Club throughout the year, in addition to Dateless Dances earlier in the year. The Student Public Relations Committee served its place by entertaining visitors, and by contacting prospective students and their parents. Culturally the Board conducted a Concert Series on which were heard some of the most prominent of international artists, while the Forum Series brought leading speakers to student audiences. The Union Board, in addition to the above activities, is also recognized as the representative body of the men students on the campus. Its officers also govern the Union Building through meetings with the Union Council.

Characterized as the Civil Service of campus politics, the Assisting Staff provides an opportunity for students interested in student government and administration to find an opening in that field. Work on this staff is a requirement for Union Board membership, and staff men gain experience as assistants on various Union and campus committees.

Evidence that this year's staff has furnished activities with competent workers is shown by the large number of members aiding with such events as Orientation Week, Homecoming Weekend, the Winter Carnival, the Book Mart, the Concert Series, and Parents' Weekend.

ASSISTING STAFF

PORTER BUTTS
House Director

Harold Roberts, a dynamo of nervous energy, he tackled his jobs enthusiastically, met with ultimate success. Under his direction came this year's Winter Carnival, earning him the title of "Snow Man," and last year's chairmanship of Student Public Relations.

Jack Clifford, the energetic organizer who rose from Rathskeller chairman to President and became recognized as the most efficient board leader in recent years.

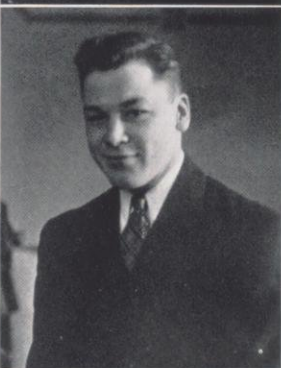

Richard Tinkham, the sound, rational thinker whose opinions were respected as valuable to board betterment. Serving as Treasurer and Concert Series chairman last year, he was given charge of third wing activities and chairmanned Orientation Week during 1937-38.

George Rooney, who joined the board by virtue of his senior class presidency and fulfilled his duties by championing the senior cause throughout the year, plus an added interest in the fraternity angle.

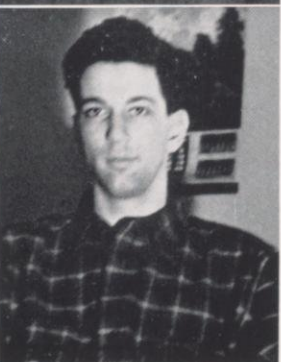

Rod Kittleson, who in his position as chairman of the Assisting Staff carried out the spirit of the board by faithfully training future members, justifying his selection as Vice-President.

Horace Wilkie, who fathered the House Presidents' Council for two years. Skilled in the arts of political intrigue and realizing his position as pivot between the fraternity and independent factions of the board, he played his cards well.

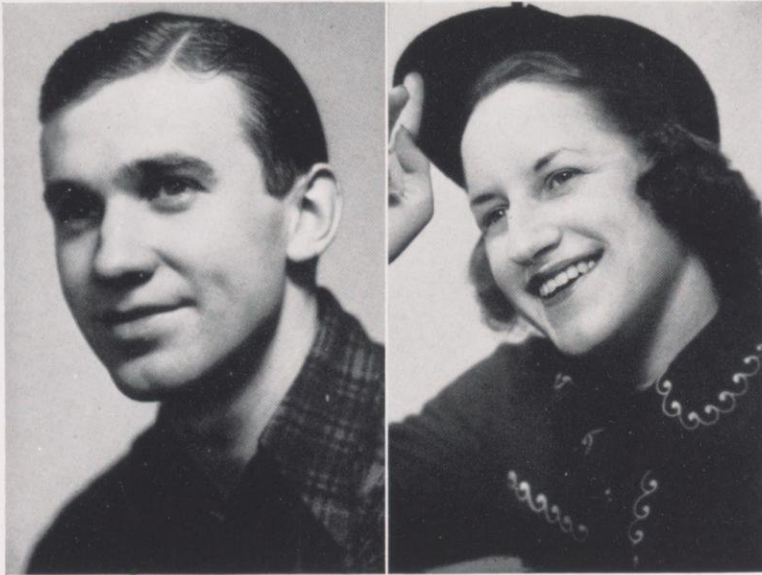

Larry Hickey, most ably characterized as an "efficient administrator," he lived up to his reputation by successfully performing his duties as head of the 1937 Winter Carnival and this year's Dance Committee.

John Frank, a staunch liberal and usually alone in his views, he aided the board by balancing all outcroppings of the conservative element. Possibly because of his alleged interest in the masses he held the chairmanship of the Student Public Relations Committee.

The House Presidents Council is the legislative organ of the Men's Union, and is composed of the presidents of all the men's organized houses—dormitories, fraternities, and lodging houses. It is governed by an executive committee of four—a chairman appointed from Union Board and the representative of the Dormitory Council, the president of Inter-Fraternity Board and the president of Lodging House Board. This committee plans the program of HPC, and the program is operated on a budget received from Union Board.

Outstanding among the activities sponsored by the Committee during 1937-38 was the Student Activities Bureau, the work of the Student Wages and Hours Committee, and the inter-house discussion contest. Polls of student opinion on such matters as student government reorganization are taken through the medium of the house organization, and a weekly bulletin announces coming events in which house members might be interested.

The Lodging House Council, composed of all the presidents of the men's lodging houses, has progressed greatly during its second year of existence. Under the leadership of Hyman Robock, president of the council, this unit of the HPC has continued in its purpose of providing a fuller social and campus life for men living in lodging houses. The increased prestige and greatly increased membership of the council will in the future be certain to fulfill the expectations of its founders.

LODGING HOUSE COUNCIL

No politician at all, BOB WALKER rode the Greek machine onto the Prom King's throne. Representative of the old time Fraternity Row regime, neither his prom nor his presidency was a disappointment.

No one doubted that independent forces were never more concentrated than they were in L. BEN HOUFEK, defeated candidate for prom king. He lost, but lost well, to a dark horse and unprecedented Greek consolidation.

The dark horse, BILL JOHNSON, mysteriously appeared on the prom race ballot as an independent. Likable, seemingly earnest, his purpose was to split the independent ticket, thus give Walker the race.

Wearing a "W" sweater, GEORGE ROONEY rode beside Walker on the winning Greek band wagon. As senior class president his biggest headache involved his senior dues, an increase he would have had all seniors pay.

Chief drum-banger for Walker was JACK HEBARD, who took the sophomore class presidency on Cardinal Key backing, only to relinquish it on a dean's ruling between semesters. His original opponent, Donn Maas, first a Greek, then a barb, then a Greek, finally took the job.

Smooth and foxy ROGER LE GRAND came out as well as any of the many "politicians behind the throne." Front man for dark horse Johnson, he came out on top when Walker and the Greeks came into their own.

Most surprising in the fall elections was the all-time record vote established by (1) an interested student body at large, (2) fraternity and sorority compulsory voting rules, and (3) vigorous campaigning by the United Students' Association.

Political ringmaster was the high mogul of the Elections committee, JOHN BYRNES, who, from his perch in the law school, cracked an administrative whip over all aspiring politicians.

Badger Board candidate JACK LA RUS searches for his noisy whelping running mate in spring elections, but HARRIET SPECTOR is not in the picture. When it comes to eligibility rules, she wouldn't speak the dean's language.

Members of the Badger Board by default, JOYCE FRANCKE and STEWART MILLER are typical of the Greek-controlled spring elections. Again the U.S.A. fought hard and again it came out the loser.

Always in the Wisconsin scene, as assistant to the Dean of Men CHARLES DOLLARD proved himself resourceful and considerate as well as a good story-teller. Climbing to greater heights, he is now secretary to a Carnegie corporation committee.

Courageous official in Local 223 of the American Federation of Teachers, WALTER AGARD has spoken sharply and without hesitation, sending forth a clear conception of the liberal point of view. Broad in scope, from his office in the Classics department news has always come.

Poly Sci 122 (Political Parties under J. T. SALTER) is unique in that Wisconsin's politicians are often brought into the classroom. Here in a characteristic pose is a perennial visitor, Wisconsin's illustrious state treasurer, SOL LEVITAN.

With a big black cigar in his mouth, JOSEPH RUSSO puts an extra touch of the romantic into the study of Italian. This summer he will personally conduct a nation-wide and much acclaimed tour of Europe.

Spirited, precise, individual, RUTH WALLERSTEIN stands as a living symbol of honest intellectual effort. To her students in English literature, both undergraduate and advanced, she is the friendly representative of higher, hard-earned learning.

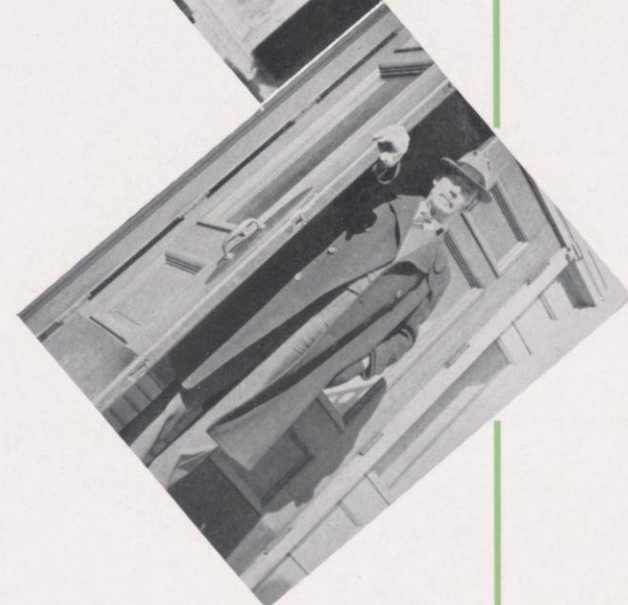

Cuts in DICK HUSBAND'S psychology lectures are rare, because his students heartily agree with his prime theory of teaching, that of combining fact and fun. Certainly one of the most talked about faculty members, he is probably the most popular.

Editor, text-writer, lecturer, economist, and business man, WILLIAM H. KIEKHOFER conducts Wisconsin's largest lecture course, Economics 1 A. Forceful and yet convivial, his platform manner and presentation send beginners out eager to go further in his field.

Embryo campus journalists were once aware that on any subject, be it cats or Katzenjammers, E. A. ROSS was always good for a quote. This year he left the campus to travel by freighter into central Australia, where he will continue sociological research.

RED LETTER

Childish to some, deadly serious to others, election day is interesting to all. Paid advertising prohibited, factions twice each year delight themselves with parades, drums, and continual bawling through megaphones.

Win, lose, or tie, Homecoming brings decorations, the lawyers' parade, traffic jams, collegiate grads, unsteady undergrads. Remembering 1912, Wisconsin beat Iowa in memory of a returned group of conquering heroes.

Press photographers were not supposed to be present when Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt visited Madison. Unique is this picture of a president and a president's wife, smiling at an enthusiastic but small audience in the field house.

Led by King HAL ROBERTS and Queen DORIS BURGARDT, snow-mad students wore plaid shirts, hoped, prayed, crossed fingers for a blizzard. Rain came, but winter-clad dancers topped the gloom with a good Snow Ball.

DAYS 1937-'38

Political scientist J. T. SALTER found this an interesting camera study of examinations. Twice a year students find them not so intriguing, often the sure way to board the proverbial "sore-eye" special.

Biggest commercial innovation on the campus was Cardinal business manager JACK WALDHEIM'S Lucky Strike broadcasts. As a result of over 1700 auditions in the Union, two were chosen to newscast Cardinal headlines five nights a week.

Just as the election night celebration at the Chi Psi house made history, so did it set the pace for the brightest-lettered day in the social season, Prom. A between-semesters ordeal, it sent merry-makers back to classes worn down and ready.

Picking a queen to reign over the annual Military Ball is no easy job. Together King PERCY ROSEMURGY and Queen RUTH ARTMANN led ball-goers through an evening strictly military, strictly great.

NAMES IN

JACK CLIFFORD has succeeded in two important jobs. As president of the Union Board he made himself pertinent to a scope of activities unrivaled by any other campus position. As a med student he has proved himself a scholar as well as a leader.

Something about the way they combine collegiatism and dignity makes MARTHA FORSTER and CHET PORTERFIELD interesting. Theirs has been the effort responsible for much of the success of the Union's eighteenth annual concert series.

Perhaps because they smile while they work, HAL ROBERTS and PERC ROSEMURGY get much done. Winter Carnival king, business manager of Octopus, Hal has zest and zeal in common with the king of the 1938 Military Ball. Perc has been a key man in the affairs of the Badger Board.

Quietly BYRON JOHNSON presented and vigorously defended his plan for sweeping reorganization of campus government. Although it found student approval by a narrow majority, the plan found a resting place in the faculty pigeon hole.

At work and at play, BOB SHAW and WADE MOSBY have been constantly in the news. Spreaders of campus comment in their column and on the air, these Troubleshooters have made the campus their business, Cardinal readers their readers.

A determined liberal, JOHN FRANK has often opposed his colleagues on the Union Board, often stood alone against bitter and concentrated attack. As chairman of student public relations he has brought that function a new importance.

ED FLEMING is often in the news, oftener behind it. Alert to all manner of publicity possibilities, Ed has been the Union's star salesman. Always active, always in the know, he may well promise 1938-39 a fitting finale to a career well begun.

The United Students' Association's candidate for senior class presidency, HYMAN ROBOCK, was defeated by a Greek landslide. But before and after the election there has been little to be desired in the politician. Clear and definitive, he played an important part well.

— THE NEWS —

NEVER A

At any given moment on any afternoon, the center of campus activity is the Memorial Union. Of the seven thousand students who enter it daily, most pass CHUCK OWENS at the desk in the main lobby.

Here in the unique Rathskellar some play pool, ping-pong, cards, eat Dutch lunches, talk, listen to the radio, or drink cokes and beer. A floor for men, under the arches "the boys" are often gathered.

In the Council room students and faculty together "come in for a free cup of coffee" on Friday afternoons. Informal, casual, these lapses in the busy day have proved that even university students enjoy a "kaffee klatsch."

Sooner or later the word from RAY HILSENHOFF'S office becomes necessary. Student financial adviser, through him must pass all finances in student affairs. Here he checks with ticket-seller BILL SPECTOR on Winter Carnival.

At least once during the afternoon every extra-curricular worker takes a moment to see how the new Union addition is progressing. Long dreamed and planned, it will provide more room for expanding student activities.

No day is dull in the promotion of HARESFOOT'S annual show, this year called "Let's Talk Turkey." Afternoons are spent publicizing, writing, singing, dancing, working toward the opening curtain in spring.

Center of the Women's Self-Government Association, this office is always busy. Mary Mac Kechnie explains a ruling to a caller, tells her that for all university women Saturday will be a 12:30 night.

Publications claim every afternoon. In the BADGER office lay-outs are being finished, long lists of names are being checked. Down the hall the CARDINAL and the OCTOPUS are taking the afternoon from similar groups of writers.

DULL MOMENT

Under the then existent Steven Government Plan, if an elected president became ineligible, the class officer of the previous year took the job. Thus the MARK SODEN-BOB FISH directorate gave way to BOB MC CLOSKEY and his new manager, JACK CLIFFORD. In that year we ran our first dance, the Soph Shuffle, so lost thirty dollars.

— HERE'S WHAT WE

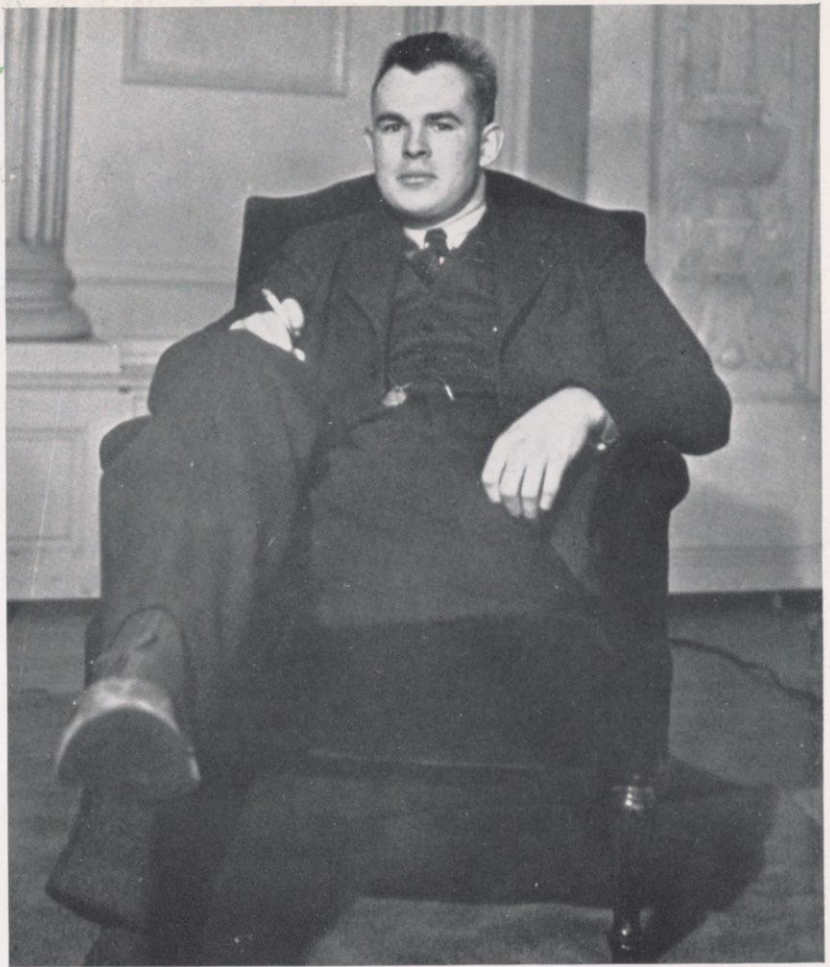

The class began under freshman class president BOB McCLOSKEY and his erratic manager JOCK RYAN. We chose to combine with the sophomores under JOE BROOKS, thus to run a Frosh-Soph Frolic under a dual monarchy. But Joe was a politician, and although only a freshman, Bob had ideas of his own on such subjects as comps. The duality turned out all Brooks, no Mc Closkey.

Biggest event in the history of our junior year was the fiery election of president BILL PRYOR. A Sigma Nu, he campaigned on two promises, a queen outside the big six and a toss up of prom spoils between fraternities and independents. In the end Alpha Chi Omega JEAN RYAN became Queen, but fraternities took the major honors.

DID IN COLLEGE

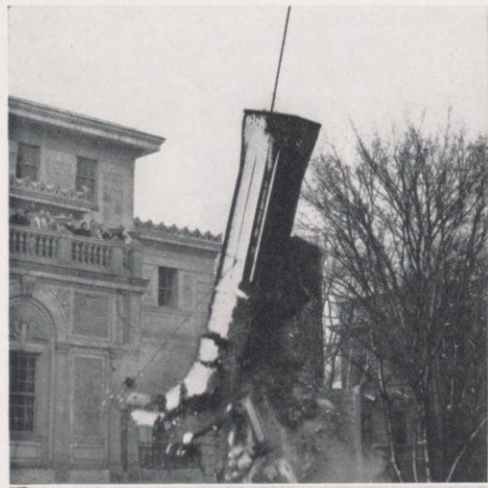

When SAE GEORGE ROONEY moved into the senior class prexy's office he cleaned house, first dusting out the traces of his predecessor, radical JIM DOYLE, and next p'anting the Greek banner squarely on his desk. The result proved an exciting year, a return to the conservative fold culminating in the trouble over increased class dues.

1937-'38

1880! On the corner of Langdon and Park streets, a Madisonian named Bross built the three story frame structure as a home for his family and a rooming house for students. Because of its proximity to the campus the Bross rooming house was always filled.

1887! For $5000 the Bross house was purchased by the University to be used as a presidential residence. After a complete job of renovating and refurnishing the house was ready for use. First to occupy it was President Chamberlin, followed by his successors, Charles K. Adams, Charles R. Van Hise, Edward A. Birge.

DOWN WITH

THE OLD

1925! The John M. Olin home was bequeathed to the University and the executive residence was moved from Langdon street to University Heights. Presidential bedrooms in the old house were turned into student activity offices. A gold gilt sign dangling in front tagged it, "Old Union."

1938! To make way for the theatre wing of the Memorial Union the frame building was razed. The University paid $7400 to have the timber torn down and the hole dug, $2400 more than the original price of the house. Into the Union went the employment bureau, Haresfoot, Octopus, YWCA, Hoofers. Last to leave was the Iron Cross, symbol of the Senior Men's Honorary which was traditionally chained to a post in the basement.

Anxious for their first conference victory in two seasons, the Badgers journeyed to the Midway and took advantage of every break to romp roughshod over what proved to be an unexpectedly stubborn Maroon eleven. With their goal line as yet uncrossed, Homecoming as the occasion, the "1912" champions as an incentive, and national recognition as a reward, the Badgers seized upon early advantages to score in the opening period. Obviously unaware of their impending defeat, the Hawkeyes came back in the third quarter to cross the virgin goal with a score of their own only to have an undaunted Wisconsin team tally the winning marker on eight plays in the final period.

The Badgers, left for Pittsburgh knowing that they would arrive there the decided underdog, but still possessing a sufficient confidence in their ability. Fate stormed in, however, riding on the back of "Mad Marshall" Goldberg, and when the afternoon was over Wisconsin was smarting from the sting of its first defeat. Neither the offense nor the defense clicked, and the Panthers romped over the Badgers at will. Yet Stuhldreher was well satisfied with the courageous battle offered by his charges against what was later recognized as the outstanding team in the nation.

Returning to battle after an open date, the Badgers faced the Purdue Boilermakers in what proved to be the freak game of the season. With the weather proving a deficit to both clubs, Dorsch, sophomore tackle, fell on one of Cecil Isbell's fumbles to score in the opening quarter. Wisconsin then completely bottled up the Purdue attack until just before the close of the first half when Zachary slipped by the Cardinal defense and took a long pass from the same Cecil Isbell to jaunt unmolested across the goal.

Minnesota won the conference championship, but not without first submitting to one of the most furious battles ever seen in Memorial Stadium. The Badgers left for the North rated the lowest of underdogs, but the dopesters forgot to reckon with the gallant heart of Howie Weiss and other Wisconsin stalwarts. Taking the initiative from the start they outclassed the Gophers in every department except scoring. Despite this defeat, the Badgers of '37 will always remain famous for this game and one of the most interesting seasons in many years.

Continuing the 1936 harrier's undefeated record, this year's Cross Country squad scored six straight wins before finally being defeated. And that one defeat was registered by Indiana's Hoosiers at the Central Intercollegiate meet, the season's finale, held this year at East Lansing, Michigan.

The season opened with the Badger's registering their usual victory over the Milwaukee Y.

For the Illinois run the following week, the Badger's were strengthened by the return of Captain Chuck Fenske from his summer invasion of Japan. The result, another Cardinal win, 17-44, Fenske pacing the field with the fine time of 15:46.

With just our Sophomores running, Beloit was a pushover. The score, 15-40.

A three-way run with Chicago and Loyola on the course of the latter proved easy as Fenske, in great form, broke the track record.

November 13, Purdue's Boilermakers came here with the result, another victory for Coach Jones. Fenske, as usual, led the pack.

The season was climaxed when the Badgers took the first three places in the state A. A. U. meet. Fenske, Pratt and Senft finishing in that order.

Major letter winners were: Captain Chuck Fenske, George Pratt, Brad Towle, Bill Farin and John Senft.

CROSS COUNTRY

Although the 1937-38 basketball season was not the best that the Badgers have had under the coaching of Bud Foster, it was one of the most interesting, and Wisconsin fans showed their appreciation by setting a new attendance record of 13,000 for the field house. This figure also represented the largest crowd to see a basketball contest in the country outside of Madison Square Garden during the past season.

The record of the team was ten victories and an equal number of defeats, seven of which were suffered in conference games against five victories to give the Badgers seventh place in league competition.

Known to sports writers as the "unpredictable five," Wisconsin opened the year by dropping the Marquette fray at home, a game which they entered as top-heavy favorite. The Badgers did everything wrong. They couldn't hit the basket, they couldn't guard, they couldn't hang onto the ball, and they refused to fight.

A return to form was exhibited in the North Dakota game, a fast fray and an easy conquest, but the Badgers did not show their real unpredictable qualities until the next two games. First came the Pittsburgh tilt, and the Fostermen surprised everyone by decisively defeating the Eastern team. Two days later the team played Notre Dame at South Bend, and gave them the closest game of their whole season. It was only a timely last minute spurt of scoring by the Irish that allowed them to win.

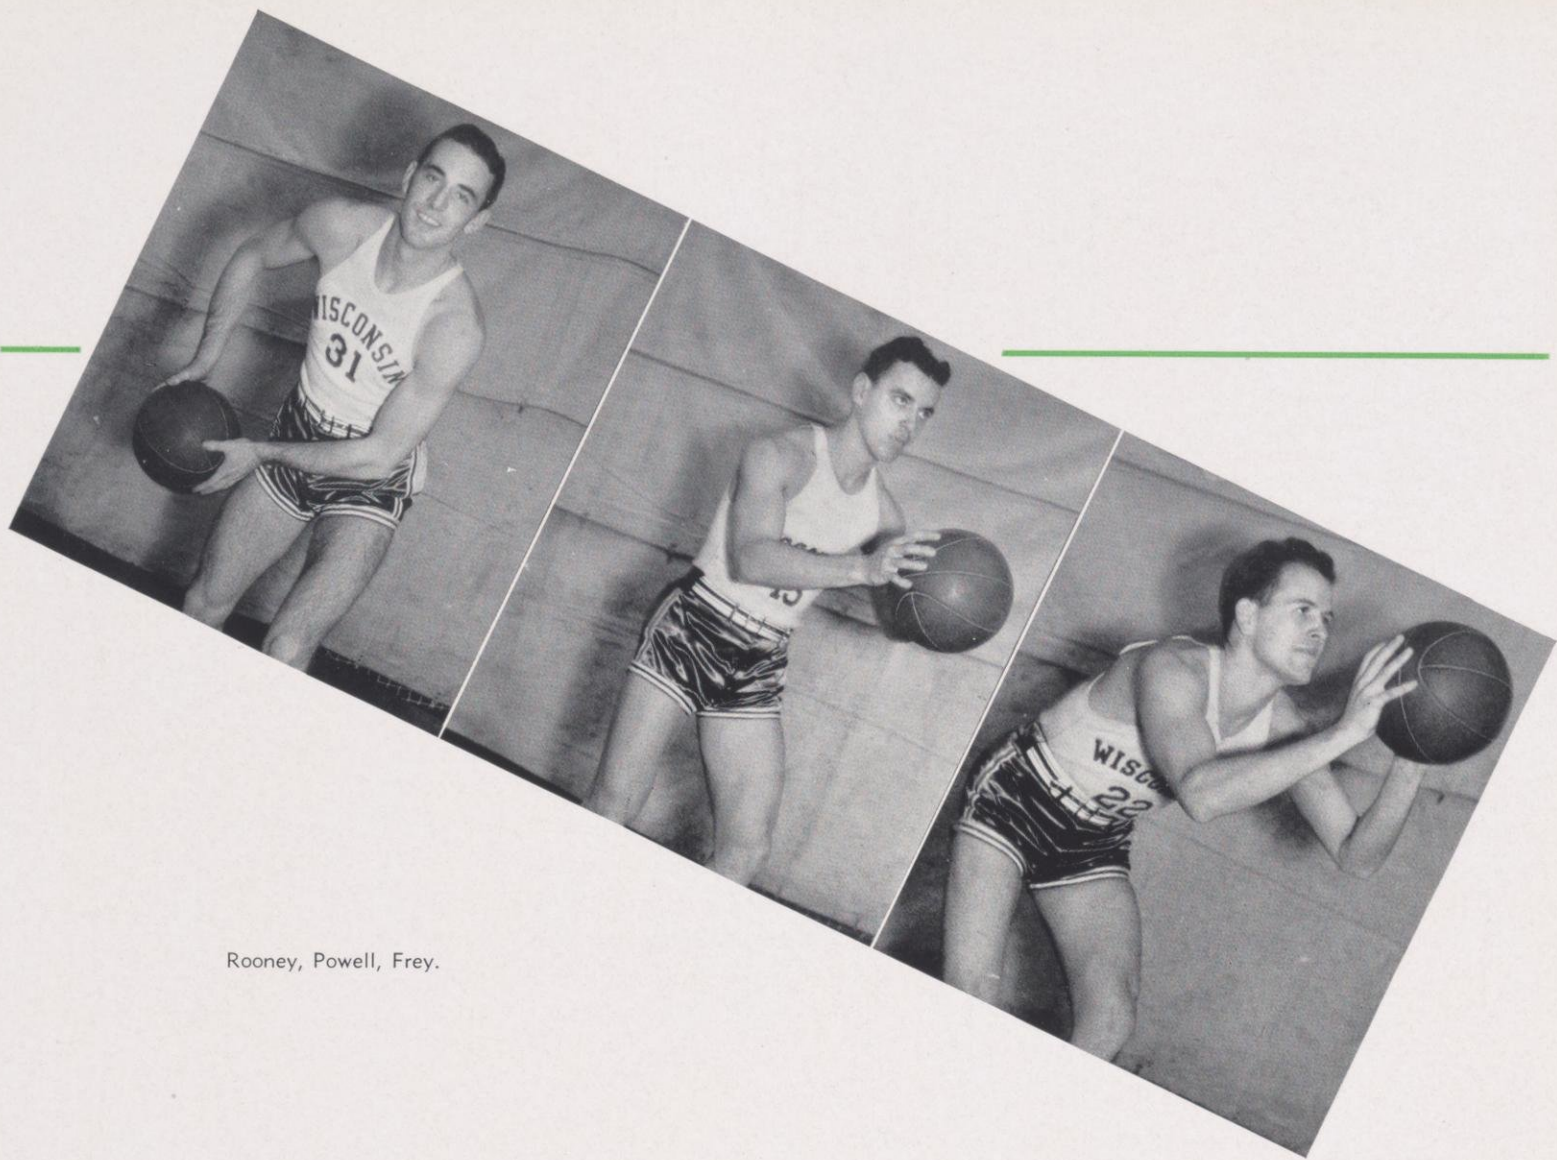

These two games put the Cardinal supporters in a good frame of mind for the return game with Marquette at Milwaukee. Again, however, the Hilltoppers completely outclassed the hapless Badgers, and added another loss to their record.

The last non-conference game to be played by the Badgers before the opening of the Big Ten race was with the University of Missouri on New Year's Eve. Functioning smoothly as a unit, Wisconsin's quintet won easily.

In its first conference game, Wisconsin engaged the Northwestern aggregation at Evanston. The Badgers played the same kind of ball in this fray as they did against Marquette, and as a result, suffered a decisive defeat in their initial Big Ten attempt.

Returning to Madison, Coach Foster's men played Minnesota on Saturday night. The "unpredictable five" turned on the heat in this game and, playing brilliant ball, handed the strong Minnesota team one of their three defeats of the conference race. Everything worked smoothly, and the Badgers had no trouble remaining in the lead throughout the contest. This victory raised the undaunted spirits of the Wisconsin players, and in the next game with Chicago, they ran up one of the biggest scores of years. The final tally showed the Badgers winning 50-27. Everything seemed to click. The offense worked remarkably well as shown by the score. The Badger's defense was comparatively impregnable. The fast Chicagomen found difficulty getting close enough to the basket to attempt a shot.

Still in the running for the first division, the Cardinals invaded the new Purdue fieldhouse at Lafayette. The game was very close throughout the first three quarters. The lead see-sawed back and forth, neither team leading by more than several points at any one time. In the closing minutes Jewell Young and his fellow Boiler-makers outlasted the Badgers, and defeated them by six points.

This defeat was hard, and when they returned home to play Michigan, Rooney and Powell led their team-mates to their third conference victory against two defeats. This game closed the first semester season.

During the vacation between semesters, the Badgers played Michigan State at Madison, and defeated them handily. Beginning the second semester, the Badgers swung into action by journeying down into Indiana to meet the Hoosiers. After trailing throughout most of the game, Wisconsin put on a scoring spree in the last few minutes that fell short 44-47.

Northwestern's Wildcats came to Madison for a return engagement with the Badgers, and won a close victory to maintain their conference leadership. The first half of the game was dull, but Northwestern pulled far ahead in the early minutes of the second half to cinch the victory.

The following week Chicago was met at Chicago. This game broke the long-standing road-jinx of the Wisconsinites, and brought the Badgers the second win over Chicago of the season. In the next fray the Cardinals played host to the Boilermakers of Purdue with a record crowd of over 13,000 spectators. The two teams put on another one of their thrilling games, with Purdue again outlasting the home team. Hod Powell and Jewell Young put on a scoring race, each man finishing with 20 points to his credit.

The two defeats at the hands of Northwestern and Purdue removed any title hopes for Wisconsin, and then at Michigan the Badgers fell apart to suffer one of the worst defeats any Wisconsin team has ever taken. The Wolverines ran up 58 points against Wisconsin, with Townsend taking the leading role in the massacre.

From Michigan Coach Foster took his squad into the East to meet the usually strong University of Pennsylvania quintet. It was in this game that the Badgers chalked up the season's record by scoring 52 points, and decisively defeated the Eastern team.

In their last home game of the season, the Badgers met Indiana in one of the most spectacular games ever played in the fieldhouse. Ernie Davis, sitting on the floor near the free-throw line, put in the shot which won the game for the Badgers 34-32.

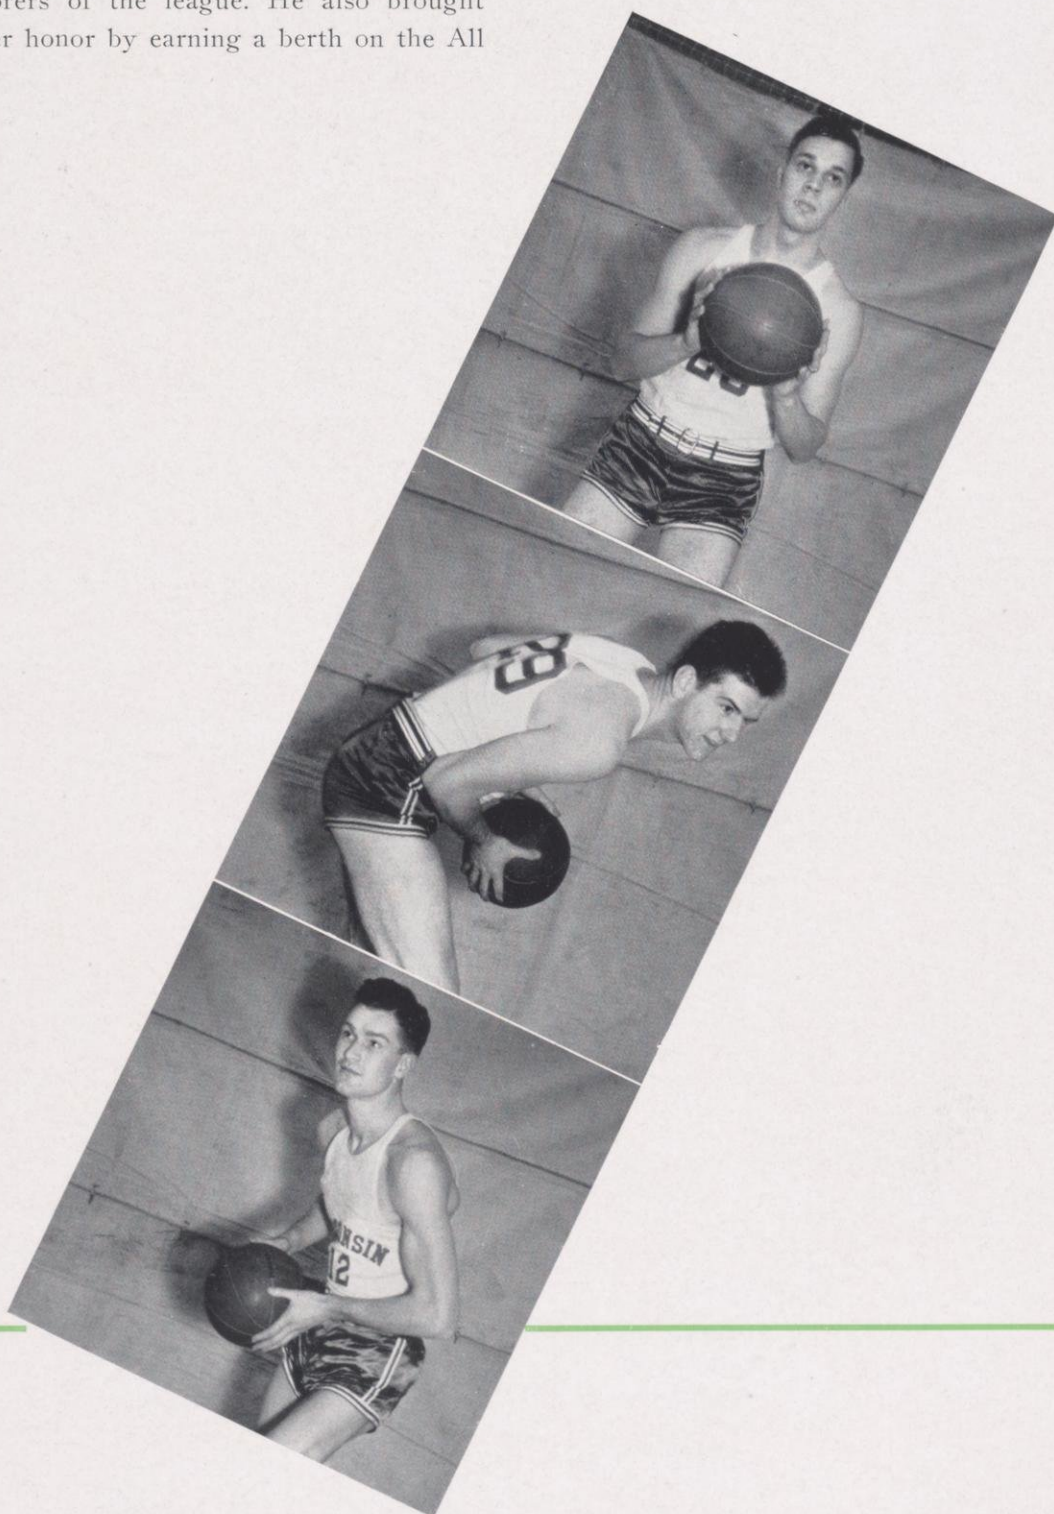

The season ended at Minneapolis where Wisconsin met the Gophers, who got revenge for their previous defeat by tipping the Badgers 38-25. In this game the Wisconsin team played just as they had been all season. Several early flashes of brilliance put the Badgers in the lead. However, several minutes later they suffered a complete reversal of form, and went into a slump for ten minutes. This was just long enough to allow the Gophers to go into a lead which they maintained through the remainder of the game.

The new style of basketball was enthusiastically received by Wisconsin cage fans despite the fact that the Badgers ended up in the second division. Most of the games were filled with action, and the scoring was frequent. A proof of this is that Hod Powell took fourth place among the leading scorers of the league. He also brought himself and Wisconsin another honor by earning a berth on the All Conference team.

“National Collegiate Champions.” That’s the record of the 1938 Wisconsin Boxing team. Facing the strongest teams from coast to coast, coach Johnny Walsh’s Battling Badgers came through undefeated, untied, to mark the most successful season in the history of the sport here at the University.

INDOOR TRACK

Coach Jones entered his 25th year of coaching this year at Wisconsin. Although he has rarely had much outstanding material to work with, he always manages to turn out a well rounded squad which acquits itself very well in Big Ten competition. Several veterans returned to the fold, and were expected to carry the brunt of the Badger attack. Fenske, Mehl, Padway, and Towle were looked to as consistent point winners. The rest of the squad was made up mostly of sophomores who were as yet untested in stiff competition.

The track season opened against Marquette here at Madison. Pre-meet articles predicted that the score would be very close between the two rivals, but the Badgers came through in expected style and won the match 45-41. However, in winning this meet, the Badgers were pushed so hard that several of the veterans had to set new records to win. Fenske set new records in the 880 and the mile, and Smith broke the existing mark in the 40 yard high hurdles.

A squad of 25 men entered the triangular meet with Purdue and Chicago, but no serious competition arose from these teams. Wisconsin took first place with 49½ points and eight firsts. Fenske won the mile, Padway took the pole vault, Malisch won the shot put, Schmidt copped the broad jump, and the one and two mile relays were cinched by Wisconsin. Padway vaulted 13 feet, 6 inches, giving Jones hopes that he will be one of the few to attain 14 feet.

The following weekend Wisconsin met Minnesota at Minneapolis. In this dual meet Wisconsin ran wild and collected the highest total of points garnered in any meet. Fenske, Padway, and Smith set new field house records in their events, and Kauffman took second in the sprints. This meet offered no serious competition to the Badgers, but it served to give the sophomores experience which they needed for the Iowa meet.

With three victories under their belts, the Badgers trained intensively for their engagement with Iowa. The Jonesmen hoped to continue their string of dual meet victories. Iowa was also undefeated up to this meet, but Wisconsin shut them out by a score of 54-32. Captain Fenske again stepped out to set a new record for the field house in the mile, and in addition gave his team mates 10 points as his share in the winning score. Mehl ran second to Chuck in the mile. Malisch, Dorsch, and Tremaine took the first three places in the shot put. Mehl and Towle took the first two places in the two mile and Padway won the pole vault.

The annual indoor conference meet at Chicago next took the attention of the Badger tracksters. The usual point winners contributed their share, and the sophomores secured enough points to enable the Badgers to win an undisputed second place. All of the veterans turned in excellent performances, and caused considerable comment in track circles. Fenske hung up a new record in the mile, and Mehl, the Wauwatosa junior, won the two mile event, and he also set a new record. Chuck took another first in the half mile, adding more points to the Badger total. Padway, as expected, won the pole vault, while Best tied for third in the high jump, and Kauffman placed second in the dash.

These performances proved to Jones that he had an outstanding aggregation, and in the closing event of the year, the Armour Relays, the Badgers did outstanding work. Fenske took the spotlight with a record-breaking 4:08.9 mile, while Mehl eclipsed the existing two mile mark. Other Badger record-breakers were Padway with 13 feet 9 $\frac{3}{4}$ inches in the pole vault and Smith in the high hurdles. By virtue of his victory Fenske gained the privilege of meeting Glenn Cunningham one week later in Chicago's Banker's Mile, losing in the final spurt by less than a stride.

First Row: Steinauer, Seifert, Thompson, Frank, Emmerich.
Second Row: Paunaach, Halberg, Pellegrin, Crowley, Deutsch, Beardsley, Dille. Third Row: Weiss, Sternkopf, Ermenc, Ristow, Jones, Wielgosz, Morgan, McKnight.

The swimming season was considered an advancement over the past three or four years both in the greater number of squad members and the superior calibre of the material.

The season's results in the competitive field were fairly successful. Wisconsin placed third and fourth in the Relays at the Conference Meet; won dual meets from Chicago and Purdue; won non-conference meets from Michigan State, Carleton College and Lawrence College; lost to Northwestern, Minnesota, and Iowa. Two of these teams, Minnesota and Northwestern were beaten in the relays at the Conference. Two meets were cancelled, Indiana and Illinois, which deprived Wisconsin of two more reasonably sure dual meet victories.

FENCING

Wisconsin's fencing team, under the direction of Coach Masley, turned in a very creditable record for the season. Out of a total of ten matches, Wisconsin fencers won four, and tied one. In the foils, Sylvester, Schiff, and Zeisig produced the best results for the Badgers. Batterman and Kaftan were leaders in the Sabre, and Alberts and Nowakowski carried the colors in the Epee. Alberts and Hauboldt did all of the dueling. Milwaukee YMCA, Rantoul Flying Corps, and Marquette were victims of the Badgers, and they tied Northwestern. Chicago, Notre Dame, and Illinois proved too much for the Badgers. In the Conference meet Wisconsin took fourth, with Alberts and Kaftan taking third in their respective events.

First Row: Nowakowski, Schiff, Kaftan (captain), Hauboldt, Zeisig. Second Row: Alberts, Foster, Batterman, Masley (coach), Simon, Carlin, Sylvester.

W R E S T L I N G

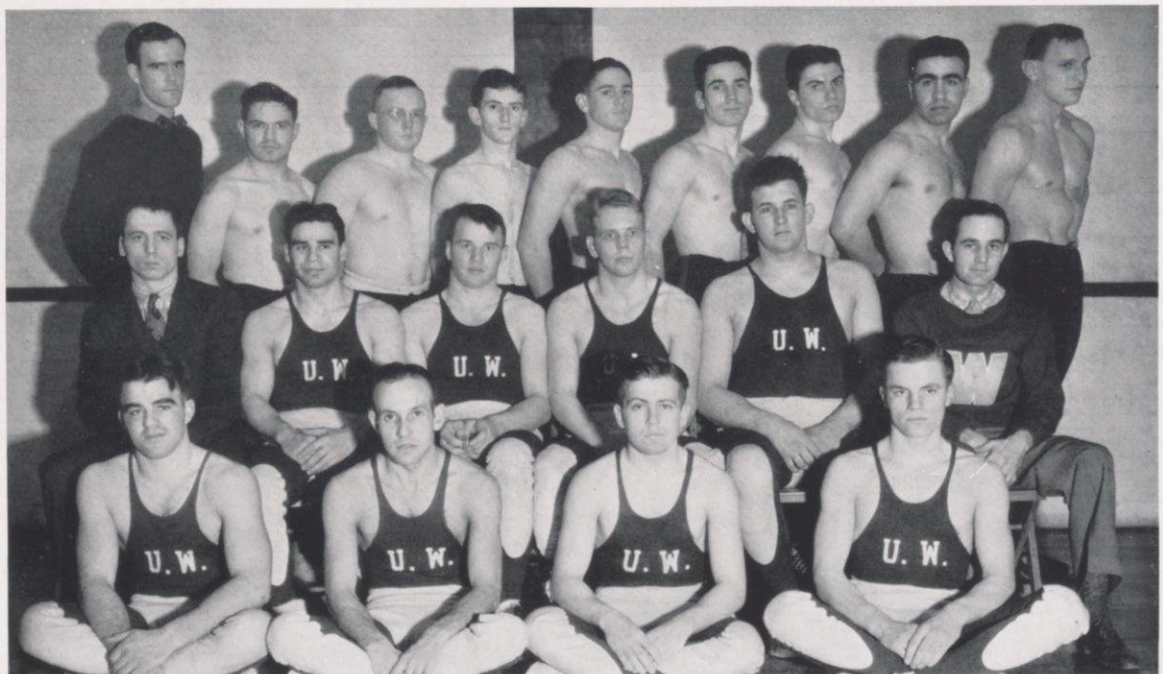

Wisconsin wrestling took a definitely upward stride this season. Although the percentage of wins did not increase, the Badger's did improve sufficiently to win impressive victories over Iowa, Ohio University and Northwestern, teams which have consistently topped Wisconsin in the past.

Particularly outstanding was Lawrence Lederman, Milwaukee senior at 145 pounds, who won the Big Ten title in his weight class. In the Conference tournament Lederman won clean cut decisions over three men who were previously undefeated, including the former Conference champion at this weight. Consistent winners were Kenneth Newbury, Sewickley, Pa. sophomore, winner of fourth place in the Conference meet; John Anderson, Racine junior; Francis Quincannon, Lake Geneva junior; Chester Piatkiewicz, Hillsboro junior. Piatkiewicz lost but one dual meet match during the entire season and was high point man on the team. Other men who saw considerable action were, Harold Ronchon, Marshfield; Verne Knoll, Beaver Dam; Sam Mead, Columbia, Mo.; Donald Merry, Elkhorn.

The reserve team of Lawrence Wright, Russell Cook, Richard Beecher, Robert Martens, Reinhardt Sabee, Allan Anderson, Zigmund Arawinko and James Kallitsas won all its meets, collecting a total of 109 points to 32 for its opponents.

Major letters were awarded to Newbury, Lederman, Anderson, Quincannon and Piatkiewicz.

Front Row: Quincannon, Rochon, Knoll, Newbury.
Second Row: Coach Martin, Lederman, Piatkiewicz, J. Anderson, Merry, Mgr. Andreae.

In his first season as baseball mentor at Wisconsin Coach Lowell "Fuzzy" Douglas produced a very creditable ball club. Douglas, on a leave of absence from Baylor University, was not entirely new to Madisonites. He gained much of his valuable experience pitching for the Madison Blues, a semi-pro team.

Competition within the infield was intense throughout the entire season. Haukedahl easily won the initial sack position, while Kent turned in a good performance at second base. Co-captain Gerlach played consistently at short stop. Kent and Gerlach combined to make one of the best double play combinations in the Big Ten. Marriot, Zuehls, and Henrichs carried the pitching load while Radke, Rondone, and Palmiter caught. Henrichs turned in the best pitching performance of the season, shutting out Notre Dame at South Bend. The leading batsmen for the Badgers were Radder, Gerlach, Reinhardt, and Kent. Wisconsin was seriously handicapped, especially in the early season, by a lack of any outside practice whatsoever.

The Badgers finished the season in third place. It was the two games lost by such a narrow margin to Illinois that kept Wisconsin from ending up the season in first place. The Badgers lost these two hard fought contests by the narrow scores of 3 to 4 and 3 to 5. These losses took the spirit from the team, and they lost the next game to Northwestern.

For the 1938 season the Badgers have even better chances than they had this year. "Fuzzy" Douglas will again coach, and Gerlach was reelected captain. Very few men were lost through graduation, and for those that were lost there are sophomores coming up with great possibilities. Coorlas will understudy Gerlach, and Bietila will augment the catchers.

The successful version of the 1937 track team was again coached by one of the oldest and most familiar figures on the Badger campus. Coach Tom Jones in his 26th year of coaching easily repeated his record of former years. He managed to turn out a well balanced team which was undefeated for the third year in succession in any dual or triple meet on its schedule.

In the annual duel with Marquette the Badgers were far superior. With seven first place winners Wisconsin amassed more points here than they did in any other meet. Fenske, Best, and Kellner were among the winners.

The next meet was the Drake Relay in which no team winners were chosen. However, Wisconsin took third place in the distance medley relay, and first in the four mile event. In the first race Rich, Towle, Fenske, and Mehl carried the baton, while in the second event Cooke substituted for Rich. Haller and Padway took second and fourth respectively in the pole vault. Kellner took first place in the hurdles.

Against Ohio State the Badgers also took seven first places. Fenske, Heinrichsmeyer, Kellner, Haller, Christianson, and Tommerson led the attack. The outstanding point winner was Kellner, taking two firsts.

Illinois provided the closest competition of the season for the Badgers, but the Jonesmen managed to pull the meet out of the fire by a score of 66½ to 64½. Weichman won the high jump by going to 6' 3", and Tommerson threw the javelin for a distance of 195 feet for first place. Haller easily won the pole vault, and co-captain Kellner managed to take two second places in the hurdles.

On May 15 the Badgers closed their 1937 season against the Iowa team. Wisconsin won this meet $78\frac{1}{2}$ to $58\frac{1}{2}$. Fenske again led the parade of point winners with two firsts. He ran the mile in 4:21, and the two mile in 9:48. Mehl won the half mile in 1:56.9, while Haller vaulted his usual 13' 6".

Wisconsin placed fifth in the Conference meet on May 24th. Up against some of the stiffest competition in the country only Haller took a first. Fenske, renewing competition with Lash of Indiana, took second in the mile, and third in the two mile. Co-captain Kellner ran second in the high hurdles.

In a post conference meet with the Gophers the Badgers won easily. Fenske won two first places, and Pratt won first place in the two mile event.

In the Central Intercollegiate meet Fenske, Haller, and Christianson each took second in their events, and Scharff took third in the pole vault. In the National Intercollegiate meet Fenske, Christianson, and Haller again competed. Fenske took first in the mile. Back in Milwaukee Fenske entered the National A.A.U. meet and ran third in the 1500 meters, earning a trip to Japan. He was undefeated in any meet over there.

Coach William Kaeser again put forth a tennis team this season which, despite its limited facilities, acquitted itself remarkably well, ending the season in the Big Ten with a .500 record.

Wisconsin opened the season away from home by losing to the slightly superior Michigan State team 4 to 3. The next match against Michigan was won by the Badgers 4 to 3. The Illini and Marquette each lost 6 to 0. The Gophers were beaten at Minneapolis 4 to 3, but badly drubbed the Badgers in a return match 7 to 2. Wisconsin then played Northwestern at Evanston, losing 8 to 1. Iowa was the next victim of the Badgers, and the score was 4 to 3. In the post season conference matches Chicago won first place, Northwestern second, Ohio third, and Wisconsin and Michigan tied for fourth.

The ranking men on the 1937 team were, in order named, Stafford, Borcherdt, Richardson, Coyle, Nelson, and Batzle.

With oars sparkling brilliantly in the setting sun over Lake Mendota the Wisconsin crew opened the season against Marietta on May 22nd. The Wisconsin oarsmen far outclassed the eight of Marietta, and won easily by seven full lengths. The same day the Junior Varsity was beaten by Marietta by several lengths. In the slides for this race were Hoffman, Brooks, Schultz, Kratz, Krause, Olbrisch, Wolfe, and Boehck. With the bill split so far between the two teams the freshmen put Wisconsin on the winning side by defeating St. John's varsity. However, on June 5th the freshmen lost to Culver academy.

The California crew enroute to Poughkeepsie beat the Badgers by one small length. The same day the freshmen lost to the California freshmen by a slight margin.

After the close of school Wisconsin went to the annual Poughkeepsie classic. The best of crews were represented, including Washington, Navy, and Syracuse. Wisconsin finished only 34 seconds behind the winning crew, Washington. Those making the trip were Heun, Ibisch, Ryan, Burroughs, Collins, Bridge, Heinze, and Pacausky. The possibilities of the 1938 crew are in doubt because seven new men will be at the oars.

Handicapped by a lack of outdoor practice, Coach Steinauer's golf team placed only fourth in the Western Conference. However, due to the fairly consistent playing of the Badgers, they won all four of their scheduled dual meets.

On this year's schedule for the Badgers were Minnesota, Chicago, Iowa, and Notre Dame. Wisconsin won the first three easily, but barely eked out a win over Notre Dame 14 to 13.

In the Western Conference golf tournament Bill Ploetz placed fourth, and Bowden Davis won fifteenth place. Several sophomores for the 1938 team have shown considerable promise.

Intramural sports again occupied much of the time of aspiring athletes this year in the university. Under the capable direction of Guy V. Lowman, Art Thomson, and Les Hendrickson, the events were well managed and supervised. More men took part in these sports than ever before, and a high type of sportsmanship was characteristic of all competition.

Football was the first sport to occupy the attention of the Intramuralers. The games were outstanding this year because so many of them were so closely contested. Several tie games had to be played off to decide division champions, and as yet the all university championship has not yet been decided. Sigma Alpha Epsilon won the fraternity championship, while Fallows house led the Dorms and the Presbyterians cinched the independent title.

When cold weather set in the various teams turned their attention to the basketball court. Here again close competition was the keynote of the contests. Proving that football men can be good basketball players, Benz, Weiss, Eckl, and Zabel led the Kappa Sigs to the fraternity and All-University Championships. Richardson won the Dormitory championship, and the Hot Shots easily won the independent competition.

MURALS

In volleyball, the independents turned the tables, and walked away with the All University championship. The Champs lived up to their name and won the title. Theta Xi easily won the fraternity championship, and Gregory House came through for the dorms.

This year was the best for ice hockey that we have had for several years. The ice was in good condition at all times, and many teams took advantage of this winter sport. A total of 66 teams were entered in the competition, and they turned out some games which were well worth watching. As expected, the Chi Phi's won the Fraternity championship, but the Independent Lake Shore team won the All University championship. The dorms had only one team entered in Ice Hockey. They entered the Independent league.

The Kappa Sigs again came through and won the fraternity championship in swimming. Some excellent trials were recorded in these events. The Non-Stars won the independent league competition, and Frank-enburger House won for the Dormitories.

Indoor track has not yet been completed for all three divisions, but the winner in the Dormitory league was Noyes House. The Independents ended up in a tie between Hillel and the Badger Club.

A new sport has entered the Intramural roster this year. It is Badminton, and is expected to be very popular. It is being tested in the fraternity division this year, and if it proves popular, it will be entered in the Badger Bowl standings next year.

To Leonard L. Lovshin was awarded the 1937 Conference Medal for scholastic and athletic proficiency. Entering Wisconsin from Chisholm, Minnesota high school, Lovshin successfully combined superior scholastic ability with superb athletic skill to be the unanimous choice of the faculty athletic council for this honor. Junior Phi Beta, three letter football regular, Iron Cross, White Spades, president of the "W" Club, president of Sigma Chi, are a few of Len's more important achievements.

Pershing Rifles was founded at Lincoln, Nebraska in 1894 by General John J. Pershing. The society was established for increasing the proficiency of the basic corps cadets of the various Reserve Officers Training Corps units of our government.

Company C, Second Regiment, was formed at Wisconsin in May of 1936 through the efforts of Colonel DeVoss of the State University of Iowa. The increased proficiency of the cadets in the society has been marked because of their additional training in the society.

In addition, the society holds social functions and participates in other activities of the Military Department. In the future the society holds as its aim the furthering of the importance of Military Activities on the campus. The Second Regiment held its regimental meet here this spring.

INTERFRATERNITY BOARD

Working with the Interfraternity Council to promote the interests of the fraternity system the Interfraternity Board serves as the coordinating unit of the organized Greek houses. It is engaged in preparing the case for removing the taxes on the houses of the fraternity men. The Board this year closed the Interfraternity Ball to all unaffiliated men and conducted it as a dance for fraternity men only. It originated a pledge council for the respective houses and engaged in propaganda work for fraternities as a whole. Interfraternity Board also serves as a ruling council for all violations of the rules that the organized have set up for themselves.

The Blue Shield Country Life Club, originally the Triangle Club, was founded to provide an opportunity for practical experience in leading varied community activities as well as a source of social activities for its student members.

Drama, readings, debate, music, games, and planned parties are all important phases of community recreational activities in which club members participate.

During the year the club practiced its leadership training by responding to twenty four requests of nearby rural communi- ties to put on an evening's program of entertainment and recreation.

Blue Shield aims to carry out its motto of: "Training to serve."

The 4-H Clubs in Wisconsin are a part of a national movement in which the county, state, and federal governments cooperate, permitting boys and girls in rural areas between the ages of 10 and 20 to organize into clubs wherein each member carries a project in agriculture or home economics.

The University of Wisconsin 4-H Club is a continuance of the organization. It is composed of former 4-H Club members and leaders from all over the state. One of the many objectives in this club is to promote a wider and better acquaintance between our farmer 4-H'ers who are in attendance here at the university.

LIBRARY SCHOOL

From the day when a prospective freshman decides to enter the University of Wisconsin the University YMCA is ready to work with him in planning his campus career. An extensive freshman program is arranged each year with the purpose of orienting and adjusting the freshmen to their new environment here at the University.

A program of discussions and other functions is also scheduled for the edification of the upper classmen. Every possible effort is made to get students into worthwhile activities, to interest them in the vital issues of the day and to urge them, on the basis of their experiences, to formulate some definite ideas on the value of religion.

Directed mainly at the "unchurched" the Y is interdenominational and interfaith in respect to religion. The character of the YMCA program is essentially individualistic, based on small, rather than large group activity.

DORMITORY COUNCIL

- "Drag" Blong, L.D. "Spike" Anderson
"Red" Condon "Farmer" Voegeli

The Badgers of twenty years ago chronicle the fact that Association Hall was the center of the social life on the campus. With the advent of the Memorial Union, and the subsequent transfer of student activities there, attention was turned to making the dormitory a compact, intelligent unit in student affairs. During the past two years under aggressive and capable administrators, the position of the dormitory has become so advanced that its residents are recognized with important posts in all campus activities.

The growth of the fraternal spirit has welded the 140 residents into a cohesive whole that has put its men on the Union Board, the Lodging House Board, the Ag Council, and has made its social affairs something to talk about.

Calvary Church is primarily a student organization. The council and the various committees are composed of students. These, together with the pastor, plan and direct the activities of the church. The church is sponsored by the Evangelical Lutheran Synods of Missouri and of Wisconsin for the benefit of all students belonging to the Synodical Conference, as well as of others who may desire to avail themselves of its facilities. It has been serving this purpose since the fall of 1920.

HILLEL

The B'nai B'rith Hillel foundation is the spiritual and social center for the Jewish students at the university. Its aim is to enhance the life of the student on the campus, to provide extra-curricular opportunities for growth in personality, development of abilities, and enlargement of interests. At the foundation the student finds fellowship with other students, classes and discussion groups in Jewish subjects and in social problems, a medium for cooperating with other religious bodies and campus groups, a number of social diversions, and sympathetic guidance when in difficulty.

The activities are generally classified under the main divisions of education, religion, social, athletics, the Hillel Review, social welfare, library, dramatics, music, and Avukah.

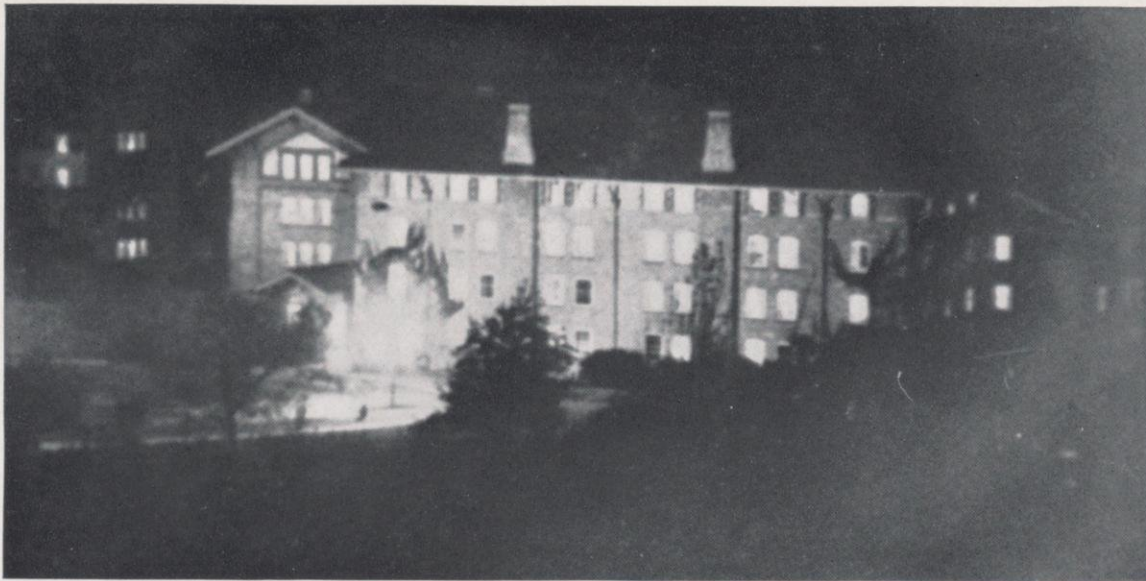

The cabinet, the governmental unit, is composed of representative students. The council is a smaller body consisting of the executive committee and the heads of the various committees.

WE OWE TO THESE . . .

*P*UBLISHING a "Badger" is a job no man can do by himself. The best editor in the world can do no better than his associates will let him.

If we have put out a good "Badger" and one that will be remembered out of the rest, and we hope that we have, credit for it should go to the fine cooperation from those who have worked with us on the "Badger."

Needless to say, the student body have shown tremendous interest in the "Badger" and a fine spirit of helpfulness. Their good wishes have kept us going when the worries seemed thick.

Mr. Eldred Olson of the Jahn & Ollier Engraving Company has been as close to us as one of the staff, and as much interested in our book. Mr. Vernon Brettman and Mr. Henry J. Klicka of the Fowle Printing Company have thrown in a generous quantity of knowledge and craftsmanship seasoned with a spirit that has made us good friends.

We have had no worries with the photography in the "1938 Badger." We have been given what we hardly dared ask for, splendid pictures with a speed and accuracy that sets a new mark. Mr. C. R. Reiersen and his staff have made the pictures in the "Badger" a pleasure to handle as well as to look at.

Many thanks should go to Mr. Lee DeGraff and the North American Press, for they have given us a cover to be proud of. They have met our demands to the fraction, and have gone us one better.

In addition, we have been given valuable help by Mr. Robert Foss of the University, Mr. Harry Thoma of the Alumni Association, and Mr. Ray Hilsenhoff, our Financial Advisor. Were space to permit, we might thank many, many others for the parts they have contributed to the "1938 Badger."

And now that we are through we call all of these men our friends, and we hope that they have enjoyed working with us as we have with them. . . .

3,739 Graduates

of '38 were asked by 73 College Newspapers

"Which Pen would You prefer as a Gift?"

THEIR CHOICE TELLS WHAT TO SELECT FOR THE NEW GENERATION

You couldn't ask for a better guide in selecting a Gift. For this year again the No. 1 Choice of college graduates is the revolutionary Parker Vacumatic. This pedigreed Beauty introduces an air-conditioned barrel, double ink capacity, full Television Ink Supply, and Parker's new Scratch-proof Point wrought of Platinum and Solid Gold, tipped with flawless Osmiridium, twice as costly and far smoother writing than ordinary iridium.

Among 3,739 students soon to graduate from leading colleges from coast to coast, this modern marvel received almost as many votes as all other pens combined. And this poll was taken only recently.

Here are some of the reasons students give:

"Shows when to refill!" Not merely last-drop visibility, but full-length visibility.

"Double ink capacity!" Because the Vacumatic's patented Diaphragm Filler abolishes 14 old-time parts, it has room for 102% more ink than even our famous Duofold.

"World's smartest Style!" Shimmering circlets of Pearl and Jet form a barrel gracefully slenderized for restful balance.

"Inspiring Point!" Is always ready to start when you are—utterly compliant to your hand and brain—writes any style as deftly as another.

So take the shortest route to any nearby pen counter today, and try this national favorite. The Parker Pen Co., Janesville, Wis.

To make your pen a self-cleaner, use Parker Quink, the new pen-cleaning ink. 15c, 25c and up.

Mr. C. R. Reiersen

Madison, Wisconsin

Dear Mr. Reiersen:

Now that there's only one more week to go for the 1938 Badger, we can begin to sit back and catch a few breaths. We're proud of the record we've set this year in getting the book out early, and we have you to thank in a large part for it.

All year we have been able to rely on you entirely. You have been accurate and you have been efficient. You have had work done when you said it would be done. Worries and hitches are things we haven't known with our photography this year.

More important than that, probably, is the fact that your work has been of the finest. We can see from the engravers and printers proofs that the photography in the 1938 Badger will set a new standard.

And so, to all of your staff as well as to you, we say thanks. For your friendly spirit of helpfulness and cooperation you have every right to take the bows with us for the 1938 Badger.

Yours sincerely,

THE 1938 BADGER
