SEMI-PUBLICS

PROGRAMS OF ANNUAL SOPHOMORE DEBATES.

Interesting Questions Being Investigated—Names of Speakers—Dates Not Yet Fixed.

Next to the joint debate, the cardinal event in the work of the various literary societies is the annual Semi-Public debate. It is in these debates that men show their ability for joint-debaters and as a rule the choice is largely from the Semi-public teams.

The class of 1903 presents as many promising men for her teams as has previous classes and with the newly added facilities in the library much may be expected. The periodicals and other current literature are collected and arranged in the new and commodious library furnish much easier recourse than has been possible heretofore. Considerable research has already been done by the teams and it is certainly not saying too much to say that the series of semi-public debates this year promises to be one of the best.

The Hesperian team has chosen the following question, "Is the present system of election of United States senators preferable to a system of popular election. It is conceded that the latter system is constitutional." The question will be upheld on the affirmative by Herbert D. Laube, Robert E. Pinkerton and C. Loyd Jones; while L. A. Libby, W. H. Haight and W. J. Hagenah will contend for the negative side of the question. The president will be Loyd Horsfall and L. W. Beers has been chosen as the orator of the evening.

Philomathia has chosen P. A. Schuette, Volta Wrabetz, Jacob Primakow, A. Bogue, E. R. Minahan and J. S. Hale as her semi-public men. A. L. Lijevist will act as chairman. G. C. Poage and W. F. Schmidt were chosen as the orators. The question chosen for discussion is:—"Is the use of union label advantageous to the wage-earning classes as a whole?"

The question which the Athenaeum team will argue is:—"Are those Southern states which have evaded the 14th and 15th amendment of the constitution justified in so doing." The closers are Eugene H. Byrne and E. W. Thuerer, George Mowry, W. O. Hotchkiss, E. S. Bishop and Richard H. Hollen compose the rest of the team. P. V. Peterson and Johnson will act as orators. In the absence of E. R. Blake from the University another president will have to be chosen. No definite time has yet been arranged for these debates but a committee has been selected from each society to confer about the matter and if possible to arrange a system of dates.

—Miss Kittie Button has returned to her home in Milton Junction after a visit at the Theta sorority house.

—Mr. J. T. Ripley, of Chicago, is visiting his on Paul Ripley, '04.

—J. L. Fisher, '99, was a visitor in the city yesterday.

FRESHMAN FOOTBALL.

Fourteen Men Present Themselves as Candidates.

Only fourteen men presented themselves as candidates for the freshmen football team at the meeting held in the gymnasium yesterday. It is thought that more will come out in a few days and try to make the team a success.

Coach King addressed the men. About fifteen dollars has been collected for the support of the team but eighty-five dollars is pledged. If this can be collected the money will be used to buy suits for the men. For the present, however, the candidates will furnish their own clothes.

A game has already been scheduled with the Illinois freshmen at Champaign for Thanksgiving, and a game with Notre Dame will probably be arranged; besides which several other games will be played with neighboring colleges. If the team is a success it is planned to play the University of Chicago freshmen next year.

Coach King urged that all who can should get out for the team, whether they have had any previous experience or not. The first practice will take place Monday and all freshmen who desire to try for the team are asked to meet in the gymnasium at two o'clock.

Cross Country Club.

The Cross Country Club will hold its next meeting on Monday when it will elect officers for the coming year. Practice runs are held on Mondays and Fridays, while the regular hare and hound chase is held on each Wednesday.

The next practice run will be held at 4 p. m. on Monday.

The work of the club has been hampered by the members being in the Freshmen-Sophomore Meet but as this event is over the Club will be able to meet regularly.

This is the second year of the existence of the Club but it bids fair to become a permanent organization in athletic circles.

It has always been the aim of Wisconsin to support all departments of physical training and it should give a hearty welcome to this Club which fills a need long felt by track men. The object of the runs is to develop endurance and wind. This year leaves a large opening in the long runs and gives an opportunity for men to participate.

The club is especially desirous of the support of the freshmen in this feature of athletic work.

James Whitcomb Riley Coming.

Students will be pleased to know that James Whitcomb Riley, the popular poet and author, will appear in this city in about one week. He will give one of his popular entertainments, consisting of readings from his own poems. The University literary societies will make arrangements for his reception.

—Dean Bryant of the College of Law has received a letter from J. J. Coyle, law '00, who was formerly Secretary to the Dean, relative to the late examination for admittance to the Illinois bar. Mr. Coyle states that while about half the graduates from Michigan failed, together with two Yale and one Harvard man, all the Wisconsin men passed. These were Messrs. Coyle, Bartlett, Lewis and Crego, all of whom graduated in the class of 1900.

PRIZES OFFERED

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION GIVE MONEY FOR FOOTBALL SONGS.

Cardinal Offers a Second Prize—Conditions of Contest—Upper Iowa Tomorrow.

Attention of those students who are poetically inclined is called to the fact that the Athletic Association has offered ten dollars as a prize for the best original football song. The Cardinal offers five dollars as a second prize for the same. These songs should be handed in immediately and are to consist of original words set either to the air of some up-to-date song or to music of the author's own composition. The contributions will be submitted to a committee from the faculty who will pass upon and grade the songs. All contributions should be signed by authors and be placed in the Cardinal boxes addressed to the Managing Editor.

Tomorrow's Game.

Although the Upper Iowa team is not looked upon as being especially formidable, there has been no cessation in the practice for the past few days. The large score made upon them by the regular University of Iowa team has given the Badgers a desire to at least equal that score and if possible make a better showing. As we do not play the regular Hawkeye team this year, the game will prove one of the most direct methods of comparison between the two schools. Since the fine showing made by Knipe's men last year, the University of Iowa has become an important factor in western championship affairs and considerable interest is felt in the comparative merits of the two teams. Although Wisconsin's offensive work is not yet perfected the home team should have little trouble in running up a considerable score.

The practice last night was devoted mainly to blocking kicks and charging. Considerable time was spent in place and drop-kicking, Juneau and Tratt being tried at this. Tonight the men will be lined up for hard scrimmage and will be put through their best paces by Coach King, Marshall and Capt. Chamberlain have both recovered from their recent illness and will be in the game Saturday. Harry Bradley, quarter back in '98 appeared on the field in football togs for the first time this year and will make a hard try for the team. He is in fairly good condition and heavier than ever and will give Tratt a hard run for his position.

Tomorrow's line-up will be as follows:

—Professor U. S. Grant of North Western University attended the Convocation today.

—Mr. Erwin Hillyer, of Waupun, is visiting his son, Professor H. W. Hillyer.

—Mrs. E. B. Beeson of Fond du Lac visited her son H. B. Beeson, '04, yesterday.

—Miss Hull, of Milwaukee, a member of the chapter at Michigan University, is a guest at the Theta house.

HYMN.

For the Opening of the New Historical Library Building.

Glory to Thee, O God, and praise,
For all Thy servants here have wrought;

The fairest building man can raise
Is but the symbol of Thy thought.

We do not come as those who pray
To Presence long unseen, unknown;
This place hath found Thee day by day,
We reap this hour what Thou hast sown.

Thy light is here! Lord God, we ask,
The toiler's right is gift to share;
Secure to our appointed task,
Some witness of the Builders' care.

So shall this sacred temple stand
The treasure of a noble State;
And all the good Thy wisdom planned,
Man's labor into Life translate.

—Mary M. Adams.

Madison, Wis., October, 1900.

DEAN BIRGE SPEAKS.

Excellent Talk Given at First of Weekly Convocations.

The first of the regular Friday convocations took place this noon in Library Hall. After singing several University songs Acting President Birge addressed the students.

He first spoke of the scholarships which are offered as prizes in a number of courses, urging all who need financial aid to give in their names to the committee, and try for them.

Professor Birge then discussed the question of "University Learning and University Life," enlarging on what President Adams said last week.

He said in brief:

"It has been found that a certain number of students drop out of the freshman class each year. This is because they do not appreciate the difference between a high school and a University. The transition from a school-day of but six hours for study and recitation to one of such elasticity as in a University is too sudden. Hence a certain number must go, but it is hoped that this warning will make the number this year relatively small.

Another thing which is of great importance to the freshman is the tone and temper of the University. Faculty and students together determine the tone and temper. The tone at this University is very good. Its athletic temper, the way it accepts either defeat or victory, is beyond reproach. Any attacks against University morality should not be tolerated. Of course in such a body of students some are not strictly moral, and it is because of this fact and the publicity of student life that the vice of one is considered a common quality. The students have shown their temper and self-control in their behavior in the present carnival, which in many of its features ought to cause the city of Madison to blush. That the University may remain unsmirched, it is the duty of the student body to be on its guard.

I see that a good many of the students are absent today. It has been decided to continue the convocations this year. They draw the students and faculty together and raise the tone of the entire University. Attendance is at present purely voluntary and every member of the freshman and sophomore classes should by his presence discharge this duty to his class-mates, college and University.

Cardinal Delayed Yesterday.

The Cardinal was delayed last evening owing to the fact that the employees of the publishers were given an afternoon off on account of the Carnival.

Celebration Tonight.

Although perhaps too late to accomplish anything, still the Cardinal deems it a duty to remonstrate against too great a display of student enthusiasm upon the streets to-night. The conduct of the carnival has evoked so much criticism from different quarters that any excess of student hilarity will be harshly interpreted and the University cannot afford to have the conduct of its students attract that sort of attention. The carnival management is endeavoring to make the celebration to-night a purely orderly and good-natured one and to eliminate all roughness and rowdiness. It is earnestly hoped that students will co-operate with these gentlemen and attempt to restrain any tendencies towards undue hilarity that may present themselves. It is due to the good name of the city and the University that this be done.

A Timely Suggestion.

In the course of his lecture on Contemporary European Politics last week Professor Coffin made a suggestion to the literary societies that is well worth their sober consideration. In substance his statement was that the societies would do well to vary the order of their program by an occasional discussion of topics concerning foreign politics. The professor asserted that he did not mean to imply that the range of subjects now in vogue was narrow but, as he said, a divergence from these themes might be both profitable and interesting. To one that has seen the workings of the "hill" literary societies for several years this idea strikes home with full force. One of the greatest banes of membership in a debating club is the threadbareness of the subjects discussed. Such instances might be cited, as the questions of woman suffrage, popular election of senators, etc., worn to shreds by the pugnacious efforts of the annual crop of freshmen members.

The new departure would be one that would lead to a better preparation, for the questions would be of a kind, not familiar, in detail at least, to the average University student.

The debater would gain knowledge in looking up his points and would do, what is seldom possible with the more usual hackneyed topics, convey information to his hearers. A suggestion such as that offered by Professor Coffin is worthy of the attention of the program committees of the debating societies, both on the "hill" and in the Law School.

Communication on The Carnival.

Tonight the carnival comes to a close; but, as Judge Winslow says in a very able article in this morning's Democrat, its demoralizing effect on the people of the city, especially the young men and women, will not soon cease to be felt; in fact, can never be effaced. The very liberal support and sanction given the affair by the student body are to be regretted. Although no flagrant examples of misconduct on the part of students have been reported, yet by their attendance and participation in the disgusting orgy they have helped maintain what was expected to be, and in some of its features was, an innocent and commendable exhibition of the industry and enterprise of our fair city. But which at the same time has done incalculable injury to the morals of the young, and even of many older ones, and will long stand as a remarkable exhibition of either the indifference or insufficiency of the city government and of the Carnival Committee.

TODAY'S DEDICATION.

The State Historical society's new library and museum building will be formally dedicated today, and the event is to be one of much interest, many men of national eminence in matters of history and general scholarship having signified their intention of being present, besides representatives of a number of the leading historical societies and public libraries of the country. The dedicatory exercises proper will be held in the library building at 2 o'clock, the dedication address being given at 8 in the evening at the gymnasium by Charles Francis Adams of Massachusetts, a formal reception to the public following. President John Johnston of Milwaukee, the head of the State Historical society, will preside at both meetings. Dr. J. D. Butler will deliver the invocation at the afternoon meeting, and following this will be addresses by prominent men of this and other states. Among these speakers will be President Adams, Gov. Scofield, Secretary R. G. Thwaites, Senator Stout of Menomoneie, Prof. James K. Hosmer of the University of Minnesota, Prof. A. C. McLaughlin of the University of Michigan, ex-Gov. Wm. H. Upham, who signed the first bill appropriating money for the erection of the new building, Miss Olive L. Jones of the Ohio state university and many others. Charles Francis Adams is the guest while here of President and Mrs. Adams; Prof. McLaughlin will stop with Prof. M. S. Slaughter; Prof. Hosmer is the guest of Dean and Mrs. J. B. Johnson, and was given a reception by them last evening. Miss Jones is being entertained at the home of J. R. Berryman.

The new library building will be opened to inspection by visitors at the conclusion of the afternoon exercises. The building as it stands and the grounds around present a most attractive appearance, but more work is to be done in the near future, especially in the matter of beautifying the grounds. The board of building commissioners held a meeting yesterday, at which a contract was let to J. W. Mitchell for constructing a driveway fifteen feet wide across the lower campus in front of the library building, after plans of O. G. Simonds, the landscape architect. The contract cost of the work, which includes the extension of the cement walks to the edge of the driveway, is $360, and the work is to be completed at an early date.
