CO-EDS' ROOMING HOUSE SCENE OF YEAR'S FIRST FIRE

Third Floor is Destroyed By Flames; Electric Iron Thought Cause

The first fire of the school season occurred late yesterday afternoon when the entire third floor of a girls' rooming house at 222-4 W. Gilman street, owned by Miss Nettie Grady, was destroyed by flames. The fire was of doubtful origin but is thought to have been started by an overheated electric iron left on an ironing board.

By the time the fire department arrived the flames had gained a great deal of headway and for a time it looked as though the building would be consumed. The lives of some of the girls on the third floor were endangered, a few of them escaping down the firemen's ladder.

As the fire broke out at a time when many girls were dressing for formal parties there was a great deal of excitement created among them some rushing out of the building in negligence much to the delight of onlookers.

The damage to the house was considerable. The whole third floor was completely destroyed while water seeped through the ceilings of the second and first floors and damaged the plastering and finish of the rooms. Miss Grady, the owner, could make no estimate of the damage as yet and was not able to ascertain whether it was completely covered with insurance or not.

BOBBED HAIR STILL IN STYLE, BARBERS SAY

That bobbed hair is as much in style as ever, proprietors of Madison barber shops and beauty parlors agree. "We bob more hair every day," says one barber on State St. That permanent waves have done much to make bobbed hair more popular is the opinion of the proprietor of a prominent beauty parlor.

CARDINAL TO HAVE DIRECTORY PROOFS

Uncorrected Files Will Be Available at Cardinal Office Soon

By arrangement with the registrar's office The Daily Cardinal has made it possible to secure the first proofs of the new student directory when they come off the press. These proofs will be placed in the office of the Cardinal and will enable students desiring to locate friends or use other information contained in the directory to get that information two to three weeks before the corrected directories are issued.

These advance proofs will be uncorrected, and responsibility for their accuracy is not in any way assumed, either by the university authorities or the Daily Cardinal.

In the greater percentage of cases, however, names and addresses will be correct, and this is the information most desired by students. Further announcement will be made by The Daily Cardinal when the proofs are placed on file.

The final publication of the directory is delayed for one or more weeks by the necessity for checking each student's record to insure that the classification shown on his card is correct, and also to include any changes in either classification or address that may occur after the card is filled out and registration is made.

Those having available at the Daily Cardinal office advance copies of the directory most of the needs of students for information about their friends will be met until the corrected copies are ready for distribution.

Literary Society Will Hold Initial Meeting Tonight

Philomathia literary society will hold its first meeting tonight in 220 Bascom hall, it has been announced by Vernon F. Houghton '25, president of the society. Although no regular program has been arranged, talks will be given by members and the evening will be spent in getting acquainted.

"This year it is necessary for students desiring admission to give tryout speeches," declared Houghton. "Students will not be judged on speaking ability alone as it is our policy to develop speakers rather than to get debaters and orators at the outset. The names of all applicants must lie on the table one week before being voted upon."

Hesperia, Athena, and Agricultural literary societies will hold their initial meetings on Oct. 3.

1,000 OUT TO SEE FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Crowd Marches to Camp Randall to Cheer Team's Efforts

The first official public demonstration for the 1924 football team was made yesterday afternoon when a small but enthusiastic crowd marched out to Camp Randall to watch Coach Ryan's charges go through their paces in practice scrimmage. About 1,000 students were on hand to watch the scrimmage when the gates were opened at 4:45 o'clock.

Coach Ryan spoke for a few moments after the practice, thanking the students for turning out and promising short open practices for the future if practicable.

"We want you to know that we thank you for coming out here this afternoon and we fully appreciate your encouragement. If you'll take a look at the schedule you will agree that we need all the encouragement from the student body that it is possible to get," Ryan said.

The turnout was similar to the sendoff given the team last year the day before the Michigan game when 500 men stood at the gates into the locker room and chanted "Beat Michigan" until they were hoarse.

If the student body will turn out to watch the practices arrangements may be made to allow spectators to watch scrimmage for a half hour before closing every Friday afternoon.

"Shorty" Walsted, varsity cheerleader, expressed the hope that the plan for weekly practices could be put across. He also expressed himself as satisfied with the turnout considering the fact that all of the plans were arranged on such short notice.

"I think we had more out for this sendoff than were at the Michigan affair last year. I hope we can get crowds out to these preliminary games to show the team and Coach Ryan that we are backing them to the man," Walsted declared.

LOAN SCHOLARSHIPS ARE NOW AVAILABLE

Loan scholarships are now available for undergraduate students, Prof. Julius E. Olson, chairman of the committee on loans and scholarships, announced yesterday. There are five of these, known as the Henry Strong fund scholarships, worth $200 each and payable in two amounts, one each semester. The time for repayment is four years without interest and after time the rate is four per cent. Applications for the loans from students with good records will be received by Prof. Olson in 109 Bascom hall at once.

EDITORIAL STAFF

There will be a meeting of the entire editorial staff of the Daily Cardinal at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the offices in the Union building. All members of the staff doing editorial work in any capacity must be present. New students who wish to try out for positions may apply at this meeting.

ARRANGE YEAR'S PLANS IN UNION BOARD MEETING

Tuhtar Heads Exposition; Convocation, Dances, Mixers to Be Held

Preliminary arrangements for the various activities of Union board for the year were discussed and planned at the first meeting of that body last night in the Union building. The work of the year including such projects as the university exposition and a Memorial Union campaign was outlined.

Eugene W. Tuhtar, '25, was appointed as manager of the exposition and will work in conjunction with the executive committee which was chosen last spring. He will have complete charge of the details of administration of the affair, conferring with the executive committee on matters of general policy.

No exact date for the exposition was set, but it probably will be arranged for during the latter part of April. The major part of the work of organization and planning will be taken care of during the first semester, leaving the actual exhibits to be outlined later in the year.

Purnell to Return

John Dollard, '22, university recorder, gave a short report of the activities of the Memorial Union campaign during the summer and thanked the board for the assistance in various matters of work during the summer.

Hawley V. Porter, '25, reported the progress of Union Vodvi, co date and announced that William Purnell, '22, has again been engaged to coach the production. Purnell will come to Madison October 10, and spend the next two months in selecting acts, rehearsing and coaching—the production. One or two acts are virtually assured at present, Porter stated.

A new system of checking receipts and tickets for the Union board dances given each Friday and Saturday nights in Lathrop hall was planned by the board. Norton V. Smith, '26, chairman of the dances announced that the best orchestras obtainable would be employed for the Lathrop dances. The first dance will be tomorrow night.

Staff Will Aid

Malcolm Millar, '25, chairman of the mixers, announced that everything is in readiness for the first affair tomorrow night in the gymnasium. He also stated that the following mixers would be run on a slightly different plan than in former years to give students an opportunity to become acquainted. The possibility of a different place for the mixers was discussed also.

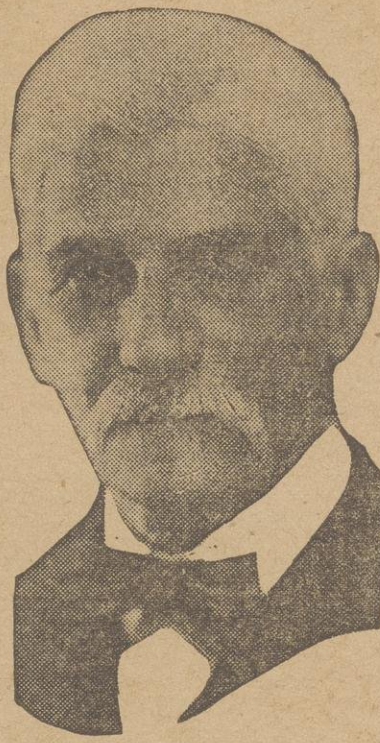

Convocations were turned over to Lester Kissel, '25, president of the board. Kissel will appoint a member of the assisting staff to help him in carrying out this branch of the board's activities.

The series of concerts for this year will be held in the stock pavilion instead of in the gymnasium. Louise Homer will be the first artist brought here by the board. She will appear October 7. Albert Spaulding and Percy Grainger are the other two artists in the concert series. Season tickets have been placed on sale at Hook's music store.

40% FROSH SHOW INTEREST IN DEBATING

The results of the cards handed out to all freshmen men, to determine whether they were interested in Forensics, show, according to William Blake '26, that 40% of all the men were interested. Of this 40%, 25% had done some of this work in other schools, having experience in either debating or oratory. The several debating and oratory societies in school are using these cards to look up the most promising material among the freshmen.

Prexy Welcomes

PRESIDENT BIRGE

This morning, for the fifth time, Pres. E. A. Birge will bid welcome to the freshmen class, on behalf of the university.

SMOKER PLANNED FOR MEN TONIGHT

First Event of Kind to Be Held at Music Hall

Something new on the campus of this university will take place tonight in the form of a men's smoker to be held at Music hall at 7:15 o'clock. This is the first attempt at this thing, and if it is a success it will become a traditional affair, according to Gene Tuhtar '25, who is taking charge of the smoker under the direction of the Union board. The object of the smoker is to give the freshmen an insight on the activities of the university, and to let them meet the upper classmen.

A very worthwhile program has been arranged, including speeches, orchestra music and singing by the Varsity quartette. "Prexy" Birge will be the first speaker, and will trace the growth of the university from the time he first became acquainted with it to the present time. "Sunny" J. F. A. Pyre, who is head of the Faculty Athletic council, and a professor in the English department, will discuss the development of athletics in the university and the return of the crew to Poughkeepsie.

"Doc" Meanwell will then talk on the prospects of basketball for this year, following which Marshall Diebold '26, this year's basketball captain, and Byron Barwig, also a varsity man from last year, will continue the subject. Bert Hilberts '26, a "W" man in track last year, will conclude the speakers' program with a short discussion of the track activities at Wisconsin.

CHANDLER ANNOUNCES CONDITION EXAMINATION

A special examination for the removal of conditions will be given at 1:30 o'clock Saturday in room 165, Bascom hall, according to announcement of G. C. Chandler, secretary of the faculty.

This examination is open only to those who have signed up for it previous to Thursday, September 25. The regular condition examination will be held on Saturday, January 17, at a time and place to be announced later.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

An advertiser called up yesterday and cancelled his ad after running it one day. He said he had been too busy answering the phone, 40 inquiries being made the first day. The proof of the ad is in the inquiry.

FRESHMEN TO BE WELCOMED INTO UNIVERSITY TODAY

Class of 1928 Formally Received in Pageant and Program

"Eyes front and follow!"

This is the command to be observed at 11 o'clock this morning when varsity steps out on the upper campus to welcome the new students. With four years' successful "welcomes" behind them, Prof. Julius E. Olson, chairman of the committee on public functions, is confident that the reception today will be more impressive and more perfect than ever before.

Previous to 1920 the varsity welcome was held in the armory. Since that time it has outgrown the capacity of any university building. Final plans were drawn up yesterday afternoon at a meeting of the file leaders and all is set for the pageant and program.

Begin Promptly

Students who have no 10 o'clock classes are urged by the committee to be at the assigned places by 10:50 o'clock and the rest should assemble as soon after their classes as they can so that the program may go off according to schedule. The freshmen will meet on the lower part of the upper campus in front of the clock tower of Music hall and will form four abreast in position to march toward Lincoln terrace.

The sophomores will assemble in front of the Engineering building by twos, the women leading, and headed down the hill. The juniors will gather in front of the Law building by twos, the women leading, and headed down the hill. Seniors, graduates, and law students will meet in front of the Biology building, form by twos, the women leading, and march to the arcade of Bascom hall. Passing through the center arch they will divide into two columns and pass down either side of the Lincoln monument.

Leaders Direct March

The guard in white, composed of 26 women, will march down the hill from Lincoln terrace to meet the freshmen and lead them to position after which they will take their position on the exedra behind the monument.

When the university band, under the direction of Major E. W. Murphy begins to play, the classes will start to march simultaneously. Student file leaders and Prof. C. I. Corp with his body of faculty assistants will be on hand to direct the line of march and formation of the classes.

Five speakers, representing the university, the state, the faculty, the women, and the men, are scheduled to address the assemblage. They are President Birge, Gov. J. J. Blaine, Prof. Max Mason, Alice Cori '25 and Bert Hilberts '25. Dean George C. Sellery of the College of Letters and Science will preside and give the introductory. Dr. C. H. Mills of the School of Music will lead the singing.

Will Take Pictures

The pageant of the classes is timed to occupy 20 minutes while the music and talks will take up the remaining 30 minutes. Amplifiers will be used to make the talks audible to a larger number of persons than it has been possible to reach heretofore.

Dr. M. E. Diemer, of the university photographic laboratory, will take movies of the welcome. These will be presented at the Strand theater Sunday as the first of a series of Daily Cardinal-Strand movies to be shown throughout the year.

In case of rain, classes will meet at 11 o'clock this morning and the welcome will be postponed until Monday at the same hour. Prof. Olson urged students and others who take part in the pageant to remain throughout the program so as to eliminate disturbance.

CADET CORPS HAS GOOD ENROLLMENT

Major Brunzell Reports Registration May Even Exceed Last Year's

"Registration from the Colleges of Agriculture and Engineering is not complete, but we are confident that the enrollment in the R. O. T. C. basic courses will at least equal, and probably exceed, the enrollment last year; and the number of students electing advanced courses is considerably greater than last year." Major O. L. Brunzell, professor of military science and tactics, said yesterday.

Many of the advanced course men have attended summer camps during the past summer, where they have been prepared to carry out several new features of the courses which will be announced as soon as definite plans are completed.

In anticipation of the increased activities of the department eleven commissioned officers have been assigned to the staff by the war department, including four officers coming direct from courses at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia. These officers and their sections in the department are Capt. L. S. Gerow, junior infantry; Capt. W. R. McClure and Capt. J. H. Hull, freshman infantry, and Capt. R. K. Learnard, senior field artillery.

FORMER EDITOR STOPS HERE FOR TWO DAYS

Walter K. Schwinn, '22, arrived in Madison Wednesday on his way to his home in Red Oak, Iowa. Mr. Schwinn for three years was Skyrocket and feature editor of the Daily Cardinal. He is now editorial writer for the Springfield Union of Springfield, Mass. Marion Strassburger, also of the class of 1922, is working on the same paper in the capacity of school editor. Mr. Schwinn plans to leave town today to finish his vacation at home.

Contagious Disease Here Has Decreased

Madison has had less contagion during the first nine months of this year than during the same period of a year ago, according to Dr. E. V. Brumbaugh, city health officer. During the first nine months of last year nine cases of liptheria were reported as compared with three cases listed during the same period this year. Scarlet fever has also showed a decrease with only three cases reported this year and four in 1923.

Chadbourne Freshmen Uphold No Week Night Dates Rule

The freshmen of Chadbourne hall are living up to the old tradition of accepting no dates after eight o'clock from Monday to Thursday according to Miss A. I. Hunt, mistress of Chadbourne. While this applies only to the first six weeks of school, it will probably aid Chadbourne Hall in continuing the high scholastic average which was established last semester.

Sixty out of the 126 girls registered at Chadbourne Hall are freshmen. Although only residents of the state are permitted to live at the hall, twenty outsiders are taking their meals there, and it is possible to accommodate more.

Wednesday evening the upper classmen dressed as boys, acted as escorts and entertained the freshmen girls at a dinner.

The following girls are officers of Chadbourne Hall; Helen Herman '25, president; Alice Colony '26, vice president; Mary Schneider '26, secretary; Genevieve Patterson '26, treasurer; Lillian Pehl '26, fire captain; Pauline Peterson '25, social chairman; Violet Martin '26, librarian; and Mildred Hansen '25, sergeant-at-arms. Each year at the first house meeting a freshman is elected as keeper of the archives.

It is interesting to note that Chadbourne Hall, founded in 1865, was named after President Chadbourne, who was as a faculty member, so bitterly opposed co-education.

registered at Barnard Hall. Of these, seventy-four are freshmen, thirty-five sophomores, twenty juniors, and twenty-one seniors. Non-residents of Barnard are permitted to eat there and Barnard, also,

Last spring a committee of Barnard girls, including Norma Schoen '24, and Laura Blix '24 organized a co-operative house, apart from Barnard, called the Fallows House, situated on University Avenue. It is not an overflow from Barnard, but out-of-state girls may live there and non-roomers are permitted to board there.

Each sophomore girl in Barnard Hall acts as a mother to two freshmen girls. This is an advise system

RYAN'S SQUAD SHOWS OCCASIONAL FLASHES IN PRACTICE TEST

More Than 1,000 Fans See Varsity Make Touchdown Over Reserves

BY KEN BUTLER

More than 1,000 spirited football fans marched triumphantly into the stadium at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon, announced by the blare of a moaning fog horn, and paid tribute to Jack Ryan's squad of huskies who will go into their first battle of the season against North Dakota Saturday.

And, to show the fellows that they have not been laboring out at Randall in vain all week, the first team—as near as it can be picked at this early date—pitted itself against the third team in a real scrimmage with kickoff and all and ran through one touchdown in less than five minutes.

Then, to show there is reserve material aplenty, the reserves went against the "blacks" and pushed over a touchdown.

McAndrews Speedy

Doyle Harmon and Ed Williams were the class of the first eleven. Doyle did some splendid open field running and made most of the yardage. Ed Williams, too, was too fast and too slippery for the opposition and made frequent gains. Stangel gained whenever used, and Jack Harris plunged across the line for a needed half yard.

On the second squad, McAndrews showed he has some Big Ten ability. His great speed, coupled with his ability to elude tacklers and pick holes, makes him a valuable man. Leo Harmon, too, displayed some good running.

Backs Have Possibilities

Admittedly, this is a time too premature to start talking about good points in the playing and about "stars." But it can't be denied that Wisconsin this year has the makings of a wonderful backfield. With a coterie of men such as Jack Harris, Stengel, Leo and Doyle Harmon, Opitz, Larson, Ed. Williams, and McAndrews, Coach Ryan is bound to get a coordinating machine.

True, most of the men are weak on punting, but Stengel is fast improving and can be used for this task if he can make sufficient yardage to insure his berth in the backfield.

May Insert Subs

The team which will probably start the fray Saturday will be something as follows, judging from the lineup yesterday afternoon: Pulaski and Solbra, ends; Bieberstein and Miller, guards; Leitl and Straubel, tackles; Teckmeyer, center; Doyle Harmon, quarterback; Williams and Harris, halfbacks and Stangel, fullback.

Coach Ryan will undoubtedly insert a good many substitutes, both in the line and in the backfield in the game with North Dakota. In actual action he can get a better line on his men. Some who look good in practice fail to bear up in real fighting, and vice versa.

Saturday will tell a lot.

Engineering Course Changed to Include Subjects on Hill

In order to give the engineering student a wider cultural background and enable him to see his profession in relation to others, the course in electrical engineering has been modified so as to include a greater number of the so-called cultural subjects.

As the revised course stands, electrical engineers may take 442 percent of their subjects in non-professional material.

These non-professional electives must be chosen from courses such as comparative literature, classics, history, psychology, philosophy, sociology, and political science.

PLANS MADE FOR CHEERING SECTION

A call is being made for applications for seats in the men's cheering section, in sections G and F from the 30 to 50 yard line. The tickets must be applied for in groups of 10 or more, and can be taken out by fraternity, by merely making application, listing the names and enclosing fee cards and check to cover the amount of tickets. The applications can be left from 1 to 5 p. m. Ticket office is in the old clinic building, first floor.

SO IT SEEMS

It is easy to see that there is football spirit at Wisconsin this fall such as there has not been for a long time. The big turnout to the varsity out yesterday showed that. It has been many a year since spirit like that has been exhibited for a preliminary game.

"We want 1,000 lusty voices in this men's cheering section," announced Shorty Walsted, cheerleader, "and added to that, 1,000 megaphones. Someone said something about 500 pints, too." No, No, Nante!

The men worked out outside the stadium yesterday at kicking and passing until the pep parade established itself in the stadium. Stangel, Leo Harmon, Doyle Harmon, Ed. Williams, and Barnum were trying the punting game. Stangel and Barnum seem to have the edge on the others, with Stengel the superior punter. His punts go high, and spiral over good yardage.

The more we watch Larson heave those long, long passes the more we are convinced he is going to do something spectacular along that line in some game this fall. Let's see.

"Putty" Nelson, who showed up Wednesday for the first time, appeared yesterday afternoon in a Cardinal jersey. He says he expects to pass his examinations Saturday and make a definite bid for a tackle job. He played end on last year's varsity, but is shifting to tackle.

Everyone noticed yesterday the excellent shape the playing field is in. The turf is as fresh and green as a Chicago millionaire's lawn.

Captain Currie, of North Dakota, seems to be quite a football player. Coach B. Spaulding, of Minnesota, classes Currie as one of the best tackles of the northwest. Currie will probably play end for the Flickertails here Saturday.

Read over the Cardinal sport page daily and you will see one reason why "Doc" Meanwell turns out so many championship and near-championship teams. He gets his men out early and trains them right along until they can coordinate their work.

N. DAKOTA BRINGS TEAM AVERAGING 172 LBS. TO MAN

Flickers Short of Good Ends; Show Improvement in Play Wednesday

GRAND FORKS, N. D.—The North Dakota eleven which faces Wisconsin Saturday at Madison will average 172 pounds to the man, with the backs tipping around 165. The linemen will average 175 pounds or better.

A tough scrimmage with the scrubs on Tuesday brought out the fact that the Flickers are short of good ends. Gronvold is still in the hospital and Ridgeway, 1923 regular, has not returned to school, leaving both flanks open.

Base Hopes On Pass

Arndt, 175-pounder from Aberdeen, halfback, has been switched to one end as a last minute resort, but he is inexperienced. Archie Olson, basketball captain, may be at the other.

"If we score on Wisconsin," said Coach Davis, "it will be on a pass. Nelson will bother the Badgers with his accurate throwing."

Capt. Currie Back

The Flickertails showed a decided improvement in play Wednesday afternoon, in a furious scrimmage against the Grand Forks legion eleven.

Capt. Nig. Currie registered unexpectedly Wednesday and Coach Davis placed him in the scrimmage at end. Currie is ordinarily a tackle, but he can also play the flank position.

BADGER CAPTAINS NO. 1—JACK HARRIS

About a decade ago a tow-headed lad played his first football with the gang on the sandlots of Racine. Since then the same youth has risen step by step through years of hard practice until he is now known in Big Ten football circles as Jack Harris, halfback and captain of Wisconsin's football eleven.

Captain Harris has led the life of a real athlete. On entering high school at Racine he went into all branches of sports, winning fame as a prep school athlete. During his four years at Racine Harris won four letters in basketball, two in football, and two in baseball.

As a freshman at Wisconsin Jack earned his numerals on the frosh grid team and showed promise of being valuable Varsity material. Tough luck overtook the plunging halfback in his sophomore year when an injured knee prevented him from playing in all but two games of Varsity competition.

We all know the record of fighting Jack Harris on last year's eleven. In the play all time Harris established the enviable record of being one of the few to play every minute in all the Big Ten games for old Wisconsin last year.

This year Captain Harris, a clean, hard-hitting athlete, will end his collegiate football career by leading Wisconsin's football team to what we all hope will be a Big Ten championship. This is the record of Jack Harris, captain of the 1924 Varsity and winner of two W's in Varsity football.

NEW FRENCH COURSE OFFERED TO SENIORS

Black Gold Finishes

POOR SIXTH AT LATONIA
LATONIA, Ky. — Black Gold, winner of four derbies, made his first appearance since his defeat in the Ashland, Ky., derby and was badly beaten in the Grand hotel handicap here today. ## Starts Workouts

COACH HARRY VAIL

With two of last year's oarsmen left as a nucleus for this year's crew, Coach Vail is getting his men rounded up to begin work on a crew that he hopes will be good enough to send East next spring to participate in the classic Poughkeepsie regatta, at which Wisconsin appeared for the first time in 10 years last spring.

HARRIERS SHOWING UP BETTER DAILY

New Men Push Regulars; Frosh Runners Will Report Next Week

The prospects for a winning cross country team this year are getting brighter every day, according to Coach Mead Burke, who now has 30 men working under him.

The work up to the present time has been light. It usually consists of several miles of jogging and exercises on the lawn in front of the stock pavilion. Up to now, there have been no injuries to any men on the squad. With only two weeks left before the first meet, Coach Burke has to work fast in order to have the harriers in the best of shape.

Starting next week, the work will be quite a bit harder, and the first trials will be held within a week. These trials will show which men will represent Wisconsin in the various meets of a very hard schedule.

Some of the newer men on the squad are showing up very well, and the regulars will have quite a fight to keep their places on the team. Some of these are Shwenger, Cohen, Carter, and Shafer. Carter, who is former varsity half miler, doing very well.

The entire squad consists of half milers and two milers from the regular varsity track squad.

Starting Monday of next week, the frosh runners will also be called out. These men will work with the varsity, but will cover a shorter distance daily. Coach Mead Burke has been called a meeting of the varsity and frosh squads for either Monday or Tuesday, and would like to see a big turnout.

COURT PROSPECTS LOW UNLESS NEW PLAYERS REPORT

Meanwell Has Small Nucleus For Team; Schedule Heavy This Season

Basketball, Wisconsin's greatest claim to athletic laurels in the past, is in great danger this year unless a large amount of new material turns up for fall practice.

Although Coach Meanwell has two fast men in Diebold and Wackman, with Spooner and Barwig as additional men of experience, the rest of the team and competent substitutes make one big question mark. Conditions are serious out on the basketball practice floor.

Will Issue Uniforms

There is more basketball material in school, "Doc" believes, and they should turn out. But he cautions aspirants to report early, as training and development will be far under way in three weeks from now and men reporting too late in the season has missed the essential preliminary training.

Practice uniforms will be issued to anyone who wants to try out for the squad, according to the team managers. The next practice will be held this afternoon at 3:45 and men should report at 3:15 to get into uniform.

First Practice Thursday

The present squad swung into action for the first time Thursday night, when the first section of Coach Meanwell's charges responded to the mentor's initial practice call.

Faced by one of the heaviest schedules ever drawn up for Badger basketball, the first practice was merely the lightest of workouts, serving to give Coach Meanwell a line on his available material. Passing, pivoting, and basket shooting was the order of the night.

THE FIRST GATHERING OF THE KLAN

This morning at 11 o'clock is the time; the upper campus is the place; the official welcoming of the freshman, the class of 1928, the purpose. And the university is dismissing all classes in order that the entire student body may be on hand for the occasion.

But it is rumored that the entire student body will not be there, that part of it will take advantage of being given a vacation for an hour and will slip off down the hill to play hooky with a vengeance.

It is a strange attitude to take, this of trying to avoid being present on the first occasion when he whole university family meets for the first time. Students who take it must not yet have the real Wisconsin spirit or else they must feel that the varsity welcome is merely a display of sentiment and that they are not at all sentimental. One of the two.

If a family never got together, no matter how large it was, there would be little family spirit or loyalty or endeavor. And if there were no sentiment in this world it would be an extremely sorry place.

The freshmen are expecting a great deal of Wisconsin. If Wisconsin shirks, if Wisconsin does not show its eagerness to meet together in one body, then the freshmen will be disappointed in their ideal and they will follow the suite of their predecessors and give up the aim of being loyal to Wisconsin.

THE CHARGE IS PROVED

Last year an editorial writer in these columns accused Wisconsin of being a pink-tea institution because of the miserable spirit in cheering which was displayed at athletic events. The student body arose in indignation which it deemed righteous.

But was it righteous?

Yesterday afternoon Wisconsin proved that it was not. When the students were given an opportunity to march in a body to the practice field at Camp

Randall, they proved that, for the time being at least, the charge was correct and that Wisconsin is a pink-tea institution. A paltry crowd of only a few hundred gathered on the lower campus despite the unbounded efforts of the leaders to gather together every male student—and any of the others who wished to join in.

Besides the few who gathered on the campus, some others stood on the sidelines and wondered whether to join or not, holding back evidently for any excuse.

It's a mighty bad start. It's discouraging to the team and the coach. A hard schedule is facing them. They want encouragement not that they may win games, but in order that they may play with the spirit which should be Wisconsin. And Wisconsin says it doesn't care a fig. That it would rather stroll along the drive or call in the alley or play cards, that it is pink-tea.

All power to those students who were on hand at Camp Randall yesterday afternoon. They did well and showed the kind of spirit that every student ought to show. But as one surprised freshman said, with the effort that was made, every one in the university (except, of course, those who were required to be at the convocation) should have been on hand.

Wisconsin will have another opportunity next Friday to disprove the charge, at every Friday afternoon throughout the season.

Will Wisconsin win?

MANY THANKS

The old chuckhole drive north of Bascom hall is gone now. A smooth cement paving has taken its place, to the infinite delight of all motorists. North Charter street can no longer enter spring-wrecking contests, for it, too, has been repaired. The boathouse, also, has come in for its share of improvement, and now at last there are tracks to enable students to put their canoes into lockers without breaking their backs. The old submerged pile of rocks beside the boathouse now has a pier built over it so that no more canoes need pump into it nor the lifeboat be wrecked upon it.

To the authorities who are responsible for the various improvements made this past summer, many thanks are extended. Concerning it all, there is but one regret—that summer comes only once a year.

A PUBLIC NUISANCE

Anything which can be proved to interfere with the public common weal, anything which disturbs the public's peace, anything which causes the cessation of or the retarding of the natural course of public events can be termed a public nuisance and can be stopped by the police.

The parking of cars behind Bascom hall was stopped because the noise created thereby had been deemed a nuisance to those teachers and students who were endeavoring to follow along the natural course to study. And a good move it was.

Now, however, another nuisance has arrived on the scene, and it from a more or less unexpected quarter—the air. The hydroplane which has been flying from the shores of Mendota during the last few days has accorded the students a great deal of interest and some pleasure to those who were able to go up in it.

Since classes have started, this same hydroplane has become a public nuisance. Yesterday afternoon while it was in the air and flying over the campus students found it practically impossible to hear lectures or to carry on their class work.

The regulations preventing the parking of cars behind Bascom hall should be followed up with a summons to the pilot of the plane that he should confine his flights to the other side of Madison and keep away from the campus during class hours.

REFUTING TARSUS

At the outset it seems futile and even foolish to think of warning fraternities against the sneak thief. They have been warned time and time again in a much more forceful way than words could ever do and have not heeded.

Nevertheless, there is a chance that a word or two may do some good and that chance is worth taking. Most fraternity men know that last spring and again last summer houses in the Latin quarter were entered in the dead of night by sneak thieves and, while the inmates slept peacefully, robbed of many valuables. Yet organizations continue to leave their doors wide open throughout the night and have unbounded faith that they will be able to keep away the pilferers by barring the entrance with nothing more than hope and faith in human nature.

These may be two of the three virtues written out to the Corinthians, but they will never keep our money in our pockets nor our silver in the sideboards when marauders are about.

And they are about once more.

When you write home don't forget to tell your father that he is expected to be on the scene the week-end of Oct. 18, and that no excuses or alibis will be accepted—or expected either.

Well we're back in the old harness! This is the first Rocket we've touched the fuse to in many long months, and we fear that the explosion won't be so hot. It's pretty hard to light a wet rocket!

HERE GOES!

Perennial Joke

Dignified Senior: "Say Frosh, got a match?"

Wise Cracking Frosh: "I'm a match. Strike me and see where I light."

We can't help but remark that we think the freshman Wisconsin Women get better every year. It has come to the place that unless a girl is a candidate for the Ziegfeld chorus she looks lost among our line of prime-roses.

The more we see of these famous sorority teas the better we like them. From the number of youthful Co-eds struggling up and down Langdon street we think that the afore mentioned sororities must be doing a RUSHING business. The rushees all seem to be dressed to a TEA.

This rushing is getting to be a dangerous practice. We read in this paper that the fraternities were even resorting to air-plane rushing. What chance has a rushee got, he can either take the button or jump!

One of these observing frosh told us yesterday that on his way to school he passed through Plattville and along side the tracks in that gay hamlet was a factory with a huge sign above it which read, "BULL MILKING MACHINERY COMPANY."

We have a few words of advice for the ambitious freshman HE-MAN which we picked up from a wordy wise Co-ed killer.

1. Learn several songs: Jealous, What'll I Do, and My Sweetheart, preferably. If you can't sing, don't try to. Learn some poems instead!
2. Read "College Humor" and have your clothes made like the pictures. The tailor will be glad to help.
3. Never fail to tell your Date about your high school sweetheart, and all the girls at home that think you're Cute.
4. Never under any circumstances ask her to eat anything. They don't like to eat, and you can always tell them that they're too fat to eat anyway.

If you follow these directions, you can't go wrong!

Second Perennial

A student went home over the week end to visit his papa and mama, and when he returned he found that his girl had been out with another coltch-boy and allowed the rude thing to kiss her. He immediately wrote the following note to the culprit:

Dear Sir:

I understand that you kissed my girl last Friday night. Be at my room to meet me at eleven tomorrow.

Ivan Aufulitch.

He received the following answer:

Dear Ivan:

I received your circular letter. Will be at the mass meeting as directed.

We were talking to a pretty young thing this A. M. and inquired why she had her socks wrong side out, and she replied that her feet burn so she has to turn the hose on them, and we said, HOT DOGS!

We can't help but wonder what the good fathers and mothers would say if they knew of the men's smoker tonight in Music Hall. This is a new idea, and one might think that the object was to teach the incoming Frosh one more of the evils of college. We advise all freshmen to go, however, whether you smoke or not. You can take the smokes home for Dad at Christmas.

TODAY'S BEST POETRY!

We saw a man, dressed fit to kill,
Upon the silver sheet,
With baggy suit, and hat awry
And tan shoes on his feet.
The women gasped, the men looked down

With anger at their frails,
For he that thrilled the leaping hearts
Was Ed, the Prince of Wales.

SOME FEAT!

There was a man
In ancient time:
Who had a foot
Twelve inches long
But he didn't use it
AS A RULE.

HE: "What's the time?"

SHE: "I couldn't say. My watch is in the shop."

HE: "I didn't know it was broken."

SHE: "It isn't, but I'm having a permanent wave put in the hair spring!"

And now that we have this Rocket off we will look upwards and see how it goes.

The course will deal with the geography of the manufacturing districts of the United States. The concentration of certain industries in definite regions, migration of industries, relation of manufacturing to supplies of labor and capital and to tariff laws, are other considerations in the new course.

Agricultural Committee of American Bankers Ass'n
Meets Here Tomorrow

Members of the Agricultural committee of the American Banker's Association will meet tomorrow relative to the consideration of the Purnell bill which will come before Congress at its next session. The Purnell bill in which the association is interested was enacted in 1882 for the purpose of establishing and aiding agricultural experiment stations. The appropriation is now insufficient and bankers and farmers are interested in the movement to increase the amount set aside by Congress each year.

Prof. E. B. Hart will give the first talk of the morning session at 9 o'clock in the Agricultural chemistry building on "Recent Discoveries in Nutrition." Prof. J. G. Halpin will speak on "The Effect of Direct Sunshine on Chicks." The morning session will be concluded with talks on "Reducing Feed Bills" by Professors F. B. Morrison, L. F. Graber, and A. L. Whiting.

After lunch at 12:15 in the Home Economics building Miss A. L. Marlatt will speak on "Child Nutrition." Professors L. R. Jones, James Johnson, and T. Macklin will talk on "Crop Diseases" and "Cooperative Methods."

The session will be concluded by a talk at 3:45 by Dean H. L. Russell, who is Director of the Agricultural Experiment Station. He will speak on "The Purnell bill in its relation to Research in Agriculture and Home Economics."

1,900 STUDENTS USE BRANCH BANK

Charge Five Dollars For Checking Account For School Year

There are now approximately 1,900 students listed on the checking account of the Branch Bank of Wisconsin. The first Branch Bank of Wisconsin established in 1906 to accommodate the university students and faculty. No profit was expected from the checking account; it was a matter of service. Until the last few years there were no charges on checking accounts as they were able to stand for the loss occasioned by this free service to the student body.

A student who desires to start a checking account now takes out a signature card and carries it with him for identification. He also signs the ledger sheet so as to prevent forgery. Then the deposit is made. If the check is on an out of town bank the student is not allowed to issue checks for a few days so as to enable the bank to have the check honored by the bank it was issued on. A charge of $5 a year is made for handling accounts for the school year. If fifty dollars is kept in the bank the entire school year the $5 is refunded at the time of the removal of that money. Checking accounts are wholly to the advantage of the students. They can keep track of the expenses to the cent. It also helps the banks of Madison by eliminating checking accounts on out of town banks.

S. G. A. RECORDS CO-EDS ACTIVITIES

3,000 Women Register Under Point System, According to Census Chairman

Approximately 3,000 women have registered in the S. G. A. point system according to Dorothy Strauss '26, census chairman.

Regulation blanks were passed out during the regular registration days to all women interested in outside activities which were checked as to the particular activity desired and returned to the S. G. A. office where they will be placed on file.

S. G. A., Y. W. C. A., journalism, athletics, music, art posters, debating and literary societies, and dramatics, were the activities listed.

"The purpose of the point system is preventative," Miss Strauss said yesterday. "It was established so that no girl would yield to the temptation of carrying too many outside activities and at the same time can be definitely signed up as being interested in certain fields."

The various women's activities are arranged as to importance in the point system under major, minor, and intermediate classifications. A girl can hold one major office, two intermediate, three minor, or one intermediate and two minor offices, under this system.

Major activities include presidents of S. G. A., Y. W. C. A., Dramatic society, and women's editor of the Cardinal.

In the intermediate classification the following offices appear; the presidents of literary societies Outing club, dormitories, Cleff club, Glee club, Dolphin club, Commerce club, Euthenics club, Mu Phi Epsilon; and the following offices, Vice-president of S. G. A., Y. W. C. A. and dramatic society, women's editor of the Cardinal, Y. W. C. A. cabinet member, W. A. A. board, W. A. A. secretary, S. G. A. census chairman, S. G. A. district chairman, Y. W. C. A. cabinet council

Minor activities include, the secretaries, treasurers of Y. W. C. A., S. G. A., and W. A. A., board member of Outing club, Cardinal and Badger board and staff members

All records of the various activities of all women is made by the census chairman through the S. G. A. district system which is being revised this year.

INDUSTRIALS GIRLS RECEIVE AWARDS

Y. W. C. A. Scholarships Allow Six Girls to Attend Sum- mer Session

Six of the industrial girls received scholarships to attend summer school through the aid of the committee on student industrial co-operation. This was accomplished by the combined efforts of the city and university Y. W. C. A., the university women sharing fully half of the expense. The scholarships covered all expenditures except incidental fees, and the girls lived at Barnard hall. The only sacrifice they made was their loss of wage for the summer.

"All of them found the courses in English especially beneficial," Miss Sherrill said. Some specialized in home economics and accounting. One of the girls, Matilda Steinhauer, has registered for work at the university this fall. The rest went back to the same line of work they had been doing.

Although the committee has not met this fall, it is expected that some plan will be devised to continue the work next summer. Miss Jane Sherrill, secretary of the city Y. W. C. A., says that they hope to send several girls so that a special course may be planned for them. Such a course would be elementary enough to adapt it to present business conditions and would enable them to benefit by it immediately.

Blackhawk to Have Co-ed Horsemanship Classes For Credit

The Blackhawk riding academy is again having classes in horsemanship. This activity is sanctioned by the women's physical education department, and co-eds in the freshman and sophomore classes may take it as a sport. Last semester there were 80 girls enrolled and about the same number or more are expected this term.

The academy, which is owned by Herbert Brueckner has been remodeled during the summer, and new and more horses have been added. There are at present 15 horses which are to be used by the co-eds.

The fee for riding is $30 a sport term, and there are three such terms during the school year. Each girl rides 20 times a term.

Co-eds that take riding will be divided into three classes; beginners, intermediates and advanced. The first two divisions are instructed in the rudiments of riding while the advanced ride to acquire perfection. Hurdling is optional to those in the advanced class. It is expected that there will be a girls' polo class this winter.

UNIQUE DRAWINGS NOW AT MUSEUM

Collection of Aubrey Beardsley's Sketches Will Leave Gallery on Oct. 1

The collection of Aubrey Beardsley's pen and ink drawings, which is unique in this country, will leave the rooms of the Wisconsin Historical Museum Oct. 1. The present showing of these drawings affords probably the only opportunity residents of Madison will ever have to see the work of this artist.

The Brooklyn Art Museum collected the drawings, most of which are owned by John Lane of London, and lent them to the Madison Art Association under whose auspices they are shown. The public rarely sees original works of Beardsley, as nearly all of them are privately owned.

Aubrey Beardsley is best known by his illustrations of Oscar Wilde's "Salome," Ernest Dowson's "Pierrot of the Minute," and Pope's "Rape of the Lock." To the average layman, however, his conventionalized designs offer the most interest. Beardsley's mastery of design is shown by the perfect balance and beautiful proportion in the drawings intended for chapter headings of books.

The furore caused by the appearance of Beardsley's work was due to his grotesque and exaggerated forms in black and white. The highly imaginative drawings have a decorative value, but their questionable taste aroused considerable indignation in the 90's when they first appeared.

Beardsley, although he was only 26 when he died, had the pleasure of knowing that his small amount of work was acclaimed by the critics as something equal to the best drawings of that kind done in the fifteenth century.

Flood In Leningrad

LENINGRAD, Russia — Nineteen persons are known to have perished in the great flood which followed Tuesday's gale. The death toll is regarded as light, in view of the extent of the flood, the worst suffered by the former Russian capital since 1824. The casualties are believed to have been held down by the timely warning given the inhabitants when the Neva began to overflow its banks. The flood waters were showing a tendency to subside early this morning. Martial law has been declared.

West Side Bank Attorney Asks Authorities to Begin Search

Deposits $800 Worthless
Check, Then Draws On Account

A young woman who is alleged to have cheated a Madison bank and several business men of approximately $600 within the last four days through a fraudulent check scheme by posing as a University of Wisconsin co-ed, was being sought Thursday by Detective Jesse Smith of the Madison police department.

The girl is said to have used the name of Miss Dorothy Brehm, of Racine, a student at the university to swindle the merchants, it is alleged by William Spohn, attorney, who appeared at police headquarters in behalf of a West Side bank and asked that search for the girl be started.

The bank is said to have lost $450 through the girl's actions.

Appearing at the bank four days ago, the girl deposited an $800 check which, it has since developed is worthless. She opened a checking account.

The next day she returned to the institution and from a subordinate official drew out $450 of the money in traveling checks.

From several Madison merchants she is said to have made small purchases to cash checks whose value is said to total $150.

Thursday the deposit check of $800 was returned to the Madison bank from Racine, marked "no account."

To carry out her plans the girl went to the university and registered, obtained her fee cards and other credentials with which to impress the banking house and the merchants.

It is believed that she left the city late Wednesday or early Thursday.

Short Skirts Again Fashion Decreases; Paris Sets Style

"Backward, turn backward, oh time in thy flight, and make my skirt short just for tonight."

This has been the favorite chant of every co-ed who failed to listen to the decree that skirts were getting shorter and now she is using her needle and thread or rushing the alteration departments in order to get back in style.

Madison women have taken hold of the return of the flapper style wearing skirts up to the fifteen-inch mark. And they tell us that they will be wearing them even shorter, for in Paris the height of of fashion lies just above the top of the maiden's rolled hose.

So far, Madison women and girls seem to show no tendency to follow the example of the French, but on the other hand they've been a little conservative and declared fifteen inches from the ground the limit. Even a few have hesitated to go this far, but it is expected that the present limit will be the prevailing length.

Jolt La Follette

Electors Barred In California
By Court; Have Two Alternatives

(By the Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO — Thirteen presidential electors, named by petitions of California voters, and committed to support the candidacy of Robert M. La Follette, stood barred today from the ballot at the general election in November as the result of a 4 to 3 decision of the state supreme court yesterday.

The decision was based upon the finding that a presidential elector is merely the agent of a political party and therefore cannot be placed upon the ballot only through the agency of a party convention.

La Follette supporters in San Francisco today were discussing measures which might overcome the legal handicap. In Los Angeles the La Follette organization resolved to start a movement to recall the justices who wrote the majority opinion.

As far as the general election was concerned, La Follette headquarters today urged supporters to vote for the Socialist party electors' named on the ballot under that designation, who will be pledged to cast their votes in the electoral college for La Follette and Wheeler.

Police received numerous telephone calls Tuesday night from all parts of the city from persons inquiring whether or not the Ku Klux Klan was to hold its parade last night. The klan parade was scheduled for Tuesday night, it was reported, but the affair is now said to have been postponed until early in October.

AT THE THEATERS

Vodvil, Drama and CinemaMeet the Actors of the Majestic
Stock Company

BY N. M. J.

Students who enjoyed the offerings of the Dorothy La Vern Stock Company last spring will be glad to know that another group of actors will present legitimate plays at the Majestic theaters all this winter. These few lines are meant as a little introduction to the new players.

The new company is called the Fischer Associated Players. Their playhouse is the old Majestic theater on King street, which was a movie house last year, but which was originally built as a legitimate theater. It has been entirely refurnished and redecorated so that it has the appearance and atmosphere of a "little theater."

Melvyn Hesselberg, who will be remembered as the leading man in the La Vern stock company, is now leading man of the Fischer Players. In addition to his work in stock, Mr. Hesselberg has had considerable experience in Shakespearean roles.

Myra Murray, sister of Prof. Reid Murray of the College of Agriculture, is leading lady of the company. She was formerly with Lou Tellegen and also with Margaret Anglin.

Julian S. MacDonald, who designs the sets, was formerly scenic artist of the Chicago Opera company. Character parts will be played by Oscar O'Shea, director of the company, who comes to Madison after six years of experience with the Shubert and Garrick theaters in Milwaukee.

Two Madison men, Ralph Bellamy and Dan Ford are also members of the cast. Other players are Trevor Bland, English actor, who has been appearing in American picture plays recently, Dixie Lofton and Madeline Eswood, character players, Myra McKinney and Gordon Cunnis.

Mask and Wig

BY CHATTY

For those who are interested in the theater, the news that Prof. Louis Cooper is so seriously ill that he is unable to resume his work on the hill this year, is a blow. They send out to him their best wishes for recovery, selfish in part and partly unselfish.

Professor Cooper endeavored to establish here last year a course similar to that which has achieved such renown at Harvard under Professor Baker, the Forty-Seven Workshop. It was a course in writing plays last year, and, according to the plans for this year, was to expand and be combined with the courses in dramatic production so that the plays written in the class could be produced on the campus.

Sometime such a course may be worked out here. It is only too bad that the time must be delayed once more.

Have you seen "The Hunchback?" It's a good picture, without a doubt, but to us it was something of a disappointment. Why must directors murder the classics in order to give the movie mob satisfaction, as they did?

And "Merton of the Movies" is another good one. But it is so much different from the play, the stunting having been omitted along with other features which made the play go so well. But Glenn Hunter is hard to beat in the line of acting and we liked him.

The stock company at the Majestic, we understand, is not going so very well, although the improvements shown this week over last week is said to be tremendous. Mighty few towns the size of Madison are blessed with stock companies and we ought to give it our support, especially if it is going to improve steadily.

We may have an important announcement to make in Tuesday's column if everything goes as well as it is said to be going in certain cases.

Scene from "The Hunchback of Notre Dame" at Strand

Madison Theatre Managers
Book Attractive Programs

By H. E. R.

The general run of shows for Madison theaters seems to spell "a good time for one and all" next week, and in general they seem to be "heavy."

The Strand will, however, open the week with a Potash and Perlmutter picture that should be good, entitled "In Hollywood." The cast of this picture includes Alexander Carr, George Sidney, Betty Blythe and Norma and Constance Talmadge. This is, of course, a comedy, but the latter half of the week will bring a drama—"Tess of the D'Urbervilles." Blanche Sweet, Conrad Nagel, and Stuart Holmes are the leading characters of this picture, taken in England. Mr. Desormaux also announces a 35 cent admission price to be in vogue starting next week. This price will be in force for the coming season with the possible exception of the 50 cent admission caused by the large rentals of such pictures as "America" and "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall."

"Monsieur Beaucaire," a picture that we were fortunate enough to see this vacation will show at the Parkway all of next week. Rudolph Valentino is the star in this portrayal of the society of olden days, while Bebe Daniels, Lois Wilson, and Doris Kenyon lend their art to the entrancing of the picture-going public. It is undeniably good.

A picture that contains much action will open next week at the Madison. "The Arizona Express," featuring Pauline Stark, Harold Goodwin and Ann Cornwall, will occupy the screen for the first three days, and will be followed by a picture starring Monte Blue, Irene Rich and Marie Prevost. This feature is called "Being Respectable," and should be worth seeing.

Melvyn Hesselberg and his stock company will produce "The Last Warning," a mystery play that Heywood Brown pronounced a better thriller than "The Bat." When Heywood Brown says that a show is good, there must be something in it, so we are going to take it in. A strain of humor, so necessary in thrillers, is said to form a good part in the show.

The Orph will open the week with Franklyn Ardell and his company in a comedy called "The Wife Saver," and the Fehnova Dancers in "A Whirl of Dance." The last half of the week will bring Harry S. Yerkes and his Flotilla Orchestra. This band, classed as "exponents of classical jazz," has lately been recording for phonographs, and is well known.

The Strand has some great pictures in store for us. "The Sea Hawk," with Milton Sills and Wallace Beery will arrive the week after next, and in the immediate future we will have opportunity to see "Dorothy Vernon of Haddon Hall," with Mary Pickford; D. W. Griffith's "America," "Secrets," with Norma Talmadge and Eugene O'Brien; "Yolanda," Marion Davies, and Mae Murray in "Circe." This does not complete the program that Mr. Desormaux outlined, but we were assured that no picture that would be the slightest bit "off-color" would be shown this year.

We haven't been able to procure the line-up for the Parkway or the Madison, but information given out last year tells us that "The Covered Wagon" is due early next month, and a tip today gave us the information that Douglas Fairbanks will arrive soon in "The Thief of Bagdad." Both of these will be shown at the Parkway.

Whitehouse Shows

Interest In Series Games

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Interest at the White house in the pennant fight of the Washington baseball team extends to Mrs. Coolidge, who during a visit at the executive offices today, followed closely reports reaching there on the progress of the game between Washington and Chicago.

Mr. Coolidge is planning to accept the invitation to throw out the first ball of the opening game of the world's series if Washington wins and he also was invited today to review a parade next Wednesday in honor of the team on its arrival home.

State Group
Will Inspect
Badger RoadsHighway Officials Leave
Thursday On Trip of Inspection

Inspection of state highways in Minnesota and Michigan will be made by the Wisconsin state highway commission during its tour of inspection over Badger roads beginning today, J. T. Donaghey, state highway engineer, announced.

Leaving Madison early this morning, the commission will start an extensive investigation of the road system which will continue eight days. Roads between Madison, Tomah and Black River Falls will be inspected the first day, the commission spending the night in the latter town.

Starting from Black River Falls on Sept. 26, the board will go to Humbird, Merrillan, Eau Claire, and Barron, making inspection along the route between these places.

On Sept. 27 Rice Lake, Turtle Lake, Clear Lake, Gylon and St. Paul are listed on the itinerary. The commission will start its inspection of Minnesota roads on this day, reaching St. Paul Saturday night. Sunday, it will devote practically the entire day touring the Gopher state roads in company with officials of the Minnesota state highway department. Minnesota highway engineers have invited the Wisconsin officials to make the inspection, which will be mainly to determine how various road projects are carried on in the neighboring state.

Late Sunday, Sept. 28, the party will return into Wisconsin and go to Superior and Stillwater. Sunday night will be spent at Superior. Monday, Sept. 29, the commission will leave Superior and go to Rockmont, Maquot and Ashland, spending the night in Ashland.

An excursion into Michigan and inspection of border roads will be made by the commission on Sept. 30, visits being scheduled to Hurley, Ironwood, Mich., and Watersmet, Mich., returning to Rhineland for the night. From Rhineland, the road group will go to Rice Lake and Wisconsin Rapids on Oct. 1. From Wisconsin Rapids, the commission will return back to Madison on Oct. 2, inspecting roads on the way.

Three Headliners
Make Good Bill at Last Half of Orph

BY DOT AND JACK

Three headliners at the Orpheum this half far make up for the three only mediocre and almost poor acts. Chain and Archer, snappy comedians, Hughie Clark and Company, novelty musicians, and the Medinis, extraordinary aerialists, equally share honors as the hits on the bill.

Poddick and Devere

They sing and dance—that's all. The next number, a magician act, is entirely too obvious to get by. One part of it, "The Tears of Buddha," was somewhat mystifying.

Antrin and Adamson

This couple stage on act in which there are numerous keen pieces of humor, wit, and repartee, but in many places the act lacks punch.

The Medinis

These three Italians are not only the best performers on unsupported ladders we've seen, but also display musical skill and performance the most complete and entertaining

Chain and Archer

They sing many clever songs in pleasing voices, and win the audience with their seemingly dumb but clever dialogue. Their mind reading stunt, though old, is the most complete and entertaining we've seen.

Hughie Clark and Company.

Hughie directs, sings, dances and otherwise amuses the orchestra and the audience, and the musicians entertain with the latest in musical numbers. The presentation of an old-fashioned German band was a big hit with the audience.

"CHARLOT REVUE" WILL MAKE AMERICAN TOUR

The Selwyns announce that they are planning to curtail the current run of "The Charlot Revue" in order to present it with all its noted London cast in the leading American cities before its return to England. Beatrice Lille and Gertrude Lawrence, the two stars of the revue will return to Europe for a London engagement of the revue after the American tour.

Ex-U. W. Man Promotes 1930 Agriculture Survey

WASHINGTON, D. C.—A census of the world's agriculture in 1930 is now being promoted by the International Institute of Agriculture here, according to Asher Hobson, American delegate to the institute, who is now here conferring with officials of the United States department of agriculture. Hobson took graduate work in the University of Wisconsin, receiving a master of arts degree in 1915.

The purpose of the census is to place the agricultural statistics of all countries on a comparable basis so that world food and fiber production and needs will be intelligently understood.

Join the Co-op Today

THE primary purpose of the Co-op ever since its founding over thirty years ago, has been to provide you—the students of the University of Wisconsin — with a place where you can buy practically everything you need at the lowest possible cost.

A Real Co-operative Store

The Co-op is a truly co-operative institution. Each member can hold only one share of stock. All members participate in the distribution of profits in the form of a rebate at the end of the school year.

Expert and careful management of the Co-op is constantly necessary in order to insure maximum rebates to members. The market is closely watched; merchandise is bought at wholesale prices and in such quantities as to insure no left-over stocks, and then is sold at the lowest retail prices.

A Big Rebate on All Purchases

Last year the rebate to members was 15% of purchases. This means that if during the school year a member purchased one hundred dollars worth of merchandise, at the end of the year he was entitled to fifteen dollars worth free of charge.

How to Join

You may become a life member of the Co-op on payment of $2.50, which entitles you to a $2.50 Parker, Waterman or Conklin fountain pen free. Or your money may apply on the purchase price of a more expensive pen. Your membership card carries a number. You give the clerk this number whenever you make a purchase. The transaction is recorded, and at the end of the year you are allowed the declared rebate.

Three alumni, one faculty member, and a student form the Co-op board of directors. All of these directors serve without pay.

Everything You Need

The entire stock of merchandise in the Co-op is purchased with your requirements in mind. By studying the needs of many generations of students we have gathered together a wide variety of merchandise from which you will be able to buy practically everything you need during the whole college year.

Begin Saving Money Today

Your purchases at the beginning of the year are always larger than at any other time. Why not let these large initial purchases help increase your rebate?

We earnestly urge you to join the Co-op immediately, and buy everything you need on your Co-op number.
