DAILY CARDINAL AND KLAN HEAD LIT DISCUSSION

Athena Compares Status of Various Campus Publications

A talk on the legal aspects of the case against the Ku Klux Klan at Mer Rouge and a comparison of The Cardinal with other daily college papers were features of the Athena literary society meeting last night.

E. G. Williams '24, in discussing the legal aspects of the case against the Ku Klux Klan at Mer Rouge, La., declared that the inhabitants of the neighborhood parishes expect a long, killing feud between the Klan members and their accusers and opponents, regardless of the judicial outcome of the present trial.

L. S. Mrkwicka '25, in his discussion of The Daily Cardinal and other university publications, especially cited The Daily Texan for having an exceptionally large circulation, competing with city papers in street sales, using news syndicate features, and printing a large amount of national and international news. Few suggestions were offered toward the improvement of The Cardinal.

In the debate on the question "Resolved, that Presidential elections shall be determined by direct vote of the people," the affirmative won the decision. The team was composed of W. L. Jackman '25, N. B. McMurry '25, and A. J. Scherr '25, while the negative consisted of A. A. Cooper '25, and William Haber '23, who spoke twice, substituting for another member.

In Philomathia's meeting, the program consisted mainly of humorous numbers. A debate on the subject "Resolved, that the hen came before the egg," was a no decision contest because of the judges tie at 2 to 2. W. E. Jerving '23 presented a reading, M. S. Goldman spoke on "Strike Injunctions," and P. B. Marquart talked on "A Psychological Study of the English Sparrow."

In the following election of officers C. A. Rawson '23, was elected president, H. C. Alberts '24, vice-president; W. E. Jerving '23, secretary; P. B. Marquart '23, treasurer, and M. H. Erickson '24, censor.

Hesperia received a challenge from Athena for the joint debate next year. It was accepted. According to the rules of the joint debate the inactive society of one year challenges the winning society and prepares the question.

SELL NEARLY 400 TICKETS FOR DANCE

Nearly 400 tickets for the pre-prom dance to be held tonight at Lahrop hall have been sold, according to Albert V. Stegeman '24, chairman of the dance committee.

Plans for a most elaborate program of entertainment and the introduction of novel lighting effects were completed by the dance committee last night, Stegeman said. Large parties from every fraternity are expected at the dance. Reports from social chairmen selling tickets in their various houses showed that practically every house has sold the 10 tickets allotted to it.

A lighting scheme which has never been used in the middle west before will be introduced at the dance. The scheme has been devised by a special committee appointed for the purpose.

Five special features, consisting of piano and instrumental numbers, novel songs and stunts by well known student entertainers, will be given.

WEATHER: FAIR

Fair Saturday; rising temperature and increasing cloudiness Sunday. The highest temperature yesterday was 24 degrees at 5 p. m. and the lowest, 13 degrees at 9 a. m.

SPARKS FLY IN HOT LEAD TEST

Sparks spit forth and pent-up flames lashed out at each tapping of the blast furnace in the four hour lead run conducted by the class in fire metallurgy of copper, lead and zinc under the direction of George J. Barker, instructor in mining and metallurgy, last night in the mining laboratory.

Like spectres the students moved about the ill-lighted, smokey and gruesome room, now stoking, now draining the red liquid slag from the furnace.

This is the second run which the class has conducted this semester. All the computations and work in the running of the blast is done by the seven students of the class.

REGISTRATION PLANS FINISHED

Revised Method Substitutes Individual Registration With Advisers

A new method of registration, by which the former general registration in the registrar's office is made unnecessary, will be developed for the coming semester, according to plans announced yesterday.

The departure from the custom of former years requires that all undergraduates in Letters and Science and Agriculture meet with their advisors during the week of January 15-20 and establishes a definite registration day for each student in the university. Cards were mailed to each student, informing him of the day of his registration, and notices are posted on the various bulletin boards.

Similar plans have been made for matriculation in the College of Engineering, the Law School, and for all graduates. A special day, Friday, January 26, has been set aside for the registration of Commerce students, who must register and receive their class assignments on that day between the hours of 9:30 a. m. to 12 or 1 to 5:30 p. m. in Lathrop gym. Other students in Letters and Science will register on Saturday, January 27, Monday, January 29, and Tuesday, January 30, at the same place. The Saturday registration is for Freshmen in Letters and Science only; Sophomores, Juniors, and Seniors in the same college whose surnames begin with A through L register on Monday, and the remainder on Tuesday.

STUDENTS INJURED IN SLED ACCIDENT

Stanley L. Bernet '25, reporter for The Cardinal, sustained a broken leg when a bob-sled which he was driving on a Jefferson street hill collided with a telephone pole early last night.

Helen Anderson '25 was rendered unconscious, but was revived in a short time. Bernet was taken to the University infirmary.

The unusually large number of sleds on the hill and congregated at the bottom made it impossible for the sled to find its way among them, with the result that it met head-on with a telephone pole to avoid meeting an automobile.

Home Ec Sorority Leases Ogg's Home For Semester

The home of Prof. Frederick A. Ogg, who will be in Europe during the second semester, has been leased by Gamma Alpha Epsilon, professional home economics sorority. The house is located at 1715 Kendall avenue.

BENSON VICTOR ORCHESTRA TO PLAY FOR PROM

Twelve-piece Combination Will Play Thirty-four Pieces

Edgar Benson's 1923 Victor record artists of Chicago will play at the Junior prom, Gordon B. Wanzer, prom chairman, announced yesterday.

The contract for the nationally known dance musicians was sent back to Chicago with Wanzer's signature yesterday morning. According to its terms, 12 Victor record artists will be brought to Madison.

Edgar Benson, controller of the Benson orchestras, is known from coast to coast as owner of the Ischem Jones orchestra. He also controls the Paul Biese Victor artists now playing in Chicago.

Plays 34 Instruments

The Benson musicians, under the direction of Don Bestor, will come direct to Madison from New York. They are now in Chicago where they will replace the Ischem Jones orchestra at the College Inn while Jones is in Camdon, N. J., playing for Victor Records. Jones will leave on January 20 and will be followed one week later by Benson's prom orchestra which will also spend a week in New Jersey playing for Victor. The music to be played at prom will be that to be recorded for Victor company.

The combination which will come here is the pick of the Benson orchestras. It will play 34 instruments and has been working together since October 1. One week after the prom it will open an engagement at the Trianon million dollar ball room in Chicago where it will be engaged until May 7. During the holidays it played for a week at the new Chicago theatre in Chicago. Paul Whitman's widely known dance combination will then replace the Benson artists. During the holidays, Benson played at the new Chicago theatre in Chicago.

Wanzer Lands Orchestra

"I heard the Benson orchestra in Chicago a few weeks ago and I honestly say that is produces the best dance music I have ever heard," Wanzer said. "Several of the prom chairmen and committee men have gone to Chicago to hear it and all have come back with the same opinion. Prom goers will be well satisfied and will get the very latest since it will be the same music to be recorded for the Victor records."

80 YOUNG PEOPLE HEAR DR. LANDRITH

"America leads and will continue to lead the world in religious work, and it is up to the youth of America to unite in taking up that leadership," said Dr. Ira L. Landrith, extension secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor speaking at the Christ Presbyterian church Thursday evening.

"If the rest of the world does not follow America in social reform America will assume the lead in art, commerce, and all other forms of progress," he stated.

Preceding the talk a fellowship banquet was held in the church parlors which about 80 young people attended. The newly organized Christian Endeavor of the First Evangelical church was received by Doctor Landrith.

Notre Dame Opens Grid Campaign For Next Year

Notre Dame opened its 1923 football campaign yesterday when Coach K. K. Rockne called a meeting of all candidates for the team. At the meeting, the coach announced the date of the beginning of spring practice about March 1 and stated that it would last until the middle of April. The training will consist principally of a series of lectures which will cover the theory and strategy of the game and the special qualifications and tactics for particular positions.

CHUDNOW WINS PROM FOX TROT

First prize in the prom fox trot contest was won by Dave Chudnow, it was announced last night.

Second place in the contest was won by Jess Cohen and third place by Johnny Roberts. Chudnow is winner of the $50 prize award donated by Madison merchants. Preliminary judging took place on Wednesday when all but the three named were eliminated. Final judging was to have taken place on Thursday, but because of the keen competition no decision could be reached until last night.

The offerings were judged by the prom fox trot committee. Mayo Story directed the work of the committee. Jess Cohen was winner of the contest last year.

Revenge will play an important part in the Wisconsin-Chicago basketball game tonight when both teams will try to wipe out memories of that famous 0 to 0 gridiron tie played on Stagg field last fall.

Working on the theory that basketball victory is just as good as a win in football, Maroons and Badgers are expected to open up with everything they have. Wisconsin will be fighting to capture its third consecutive Conference game. Chicago will battle to gain its first victory in four starts. The Maroons lost to Iowa university and on preliminary games to Butler college, Armour Legion post and Vanderbilt university.

The historic armory will be packed when the teams line up for the opening whistle. Interest in basketball is growing yearly, as is evidenced by the large crowds which taxed the capacity of the gym in preliminary contests.

Coach Nels Norgren and his squad arrived in Madison last night fully prepared to give their all in an effort to send Wisconsin down in defeat. Much stress has been put on the short pass system during the week and something new in basket-

ENGINEERS OUT FOR ICE RELAY

Issue Challenge to Other Colleges to Compete in Ice Carnival

The College of Engineering yesterday issued a challenge to all other colleges in the university to compete with its skaters in a relay race to be held during the ice carnival on February 10.

This relay race which has the backing of the athletic department will count toward the Nelson trophy which is awarded each year to the college or school proving the most successful in athletic contests. The relay will be one mile in length.

"The challenge issued by the College of Engineering ought to arouse considerable interest among the other colleges on the hill," said Fred Goetz '23, chairman of the carnival, yesterday. "We are expecting at least five teams to enter this event."

Fraternities and sororities will have an opportunity to enter teams in relay races also. These will be run over a circular course near the hydraulics laboratory, and each race will be the same length as the inter-college relay.

Last year Delta Upsilon won the fraternity relay with the Y. M. C. A. second, Theta Xi third, and Alpha Delta Phi fourth, Alpha Omicron Pi took first in the sorority relay, Kappa Alpha Theta second, and Gamma Phi Beta third.

CON EXAMS ARE GIVEN STUDENTS THIS AFTERNOON

Condition examinations for students having deficiencies from the second semester of last year, or from summer school, will be held this afternoon. Those students who have not made application for an examination prior to last Saturday are not eligible.

In case a student fails to pass a con exam which must be taken during the semester following the condition, the con lapses into a failure, and the course must be repeated.

A university ruling which went into effect last year, states that in the college of Letters and Science, "students are required to repeat a failure only in the case of courses chosen to satisfy requirements for a major subject or a degree."

An elective study which has been failed does not have to be repeated, but equivalent credits in another acceptable course may be submitted instead.

Examinations in subjects not listed below will be given at 112 Bascom hall at 1 o'clock. The schedule:

Chemistry 202 Chemistry building, at 1 p. m.; Economics, 304 Sterling hall, 1 p. m.; French, 112 Bascom, 3:30 p. m.; History, 212 Bascom, 3:30 p. m.; Mathematics, 212 Bascom, 1 p. m.; Philosophy and Psychology, 112 Bascom, 3:30 p. m.; Physics, 111 Sterling, 3:30 p. m.; Romance language, 112 Bascom, 3:30 p. m.; Scandinavian language, 112 Bascom, 3:30 p. m. ATHLETIC REVIEW ON SALE TONIGHT

The January-February number of The Athletic Review containing articles by Dr. W. E. Meanwell, Fred H. Young, one of Big Ten conference officials, and by several of the staff members, will be sold by "W" wearers between halves at the basketball game this evening.

Dr. Meanwell's article, "The Lighter Side of It," tells of a few humorous incidents which Wisconsin's coach has witnessed during games in Madison, and while he was at the head of the Missouri university teams.

He tells how the only senior on the Wisconsin team a few years ago who was considered the most dependable player developed a case of "nerves" and attempted to throw the ball into Purdue's basket. Quick action on the part of the defensive guard prevented him from making a sure shot.

"Changes in Basketball Rules for 1923," Young's article, explains the new method of calling technical fouls and the purpose of the penalty area.

Prospects for the development of good swimming, wrestling and track squads are told of in the current issue. An article on the basketball situation in the Conference predicts a successful year for the Meanwell system.

"The Cruise of the Jolly Roger" is short story about the experiences of three boys in an ice boat on Lake Mendota.

UNPAID SUBSCRIPTIONS

Subscribers to The Cardinal who have not paid their subscriptions by Monday, January 15, will be dropped from the delivery list. This is the final notice.

PICK PATRONS FOR LECTURE

Club Representatives and Faculty Members Are Chosen

Professors of the English department and their wives are among those chosen to act as patrons and patronesses for the lecture to be given by Hugh Walpole next Thursday evening, January 18. Among the others are representatives of various clubs and organizations.

Places on the platform have been reserved for the English professors, their wives and a few others. The rest of the patrons and patronesses will sit in the front part of the middle section of Music hall.

Reception Planned Later

No reception is being given for Mr. Walpole before the lecture, but the patrons and patronesses will remain afterward to meet him.

The patrons and patronesses for the lecture are Dean Nardin; Judge and Mrs. Marvin A. Rosenberry; Mrs. James B. Ramsey, president of the Womans club of Madison; Mrs. Byron Stebbins, President of the Wellesley club; Miss Mary Emmogene Hazeltine, head of the Library school; Mrs. F. S. Paxson, president of the Parent-Teachers council; and Mrs. George P. Hambrecht, president of the James Madison chapter of the Daughters of 1812.

Professors Honored in List

Others will be Miss Caroline Moseley, Miss Janet Van Hise, Miss Anna Birge, Mrs. Osterland, Mrs. Andrew W. Hopkins, Mrs. Max Otto. Mrs. David Cantwell, Mrs. George C. Hyde, Mrs. H. P. Greeley, Mrs. W. G. Osborne, Miss Jane Sherrill. Mrs. A. E. Proufit and Mrs. F. I. Drake.

The professors are: Professor and Mrs. Frank G. Hubbard; Professors Edward H. Gardner, J. M. O'Neil, R. E. Niel Dodge, W. E. Leonard, S. A. Leonard, Fredrick A. Manchester, F. W. Roe, Arthur Beatty, Warren Taylor, Karl Young, William B. Cairns and J. F. A. Pyre.

LEGION OFFICERS INSTALL NEW CAMPUS POLICY

A new and more active policy for the university post of the American Legion was insured at the first meeting of the year Thursday noon when new officers, chiefly faculty members, were elected.

The new officers are as follows: Commander, Prof. Ray S. Owen; vice commander, Richard W. Austerman; adjutant, Prof. R. J. Roark; finance officers, John K. Kolb; sergeant-at-arms, Victor Van Steenberg; chaplain, Arthur S. Looker. The new members of the executive committee are Miss Agnes W. Ried, Professor V. L. Johnson, Professor W. V. Meek.

Retiring Comander John C. Fritschler expressed the desire of the student members of the Legion to see the organization improved and perpetuated through the leadership of the faculty.

The progressive work of the post under Commander Owen was started as soon as he had assumed office with the adoption of a resolution to more firmly establish the legion here and increase its activities.

Rockefeller Foundation Gift Given Iowa State

The $2,250,000 award given to the state of Iowa for the use and benefit of the college of medicine by John D. Rockefeller has caused much favorable comment among papers of that state. The gift comes from the General Education Board and the Rockefeller Foundation and will be available upon formal acceptance by the General Assembly and the appropriation by his body of a similar amount over a period of five years.

Madison Boys Began As Messengers Now Bank Cashiers

Three new officers were created at the meeting of the board of directors of the Commercial National bank, Thursday afternoon, when Paul Schroeder, George Zwicky and William Cullinan were named assistant cashiers.

All three started in as messengers years ago and worked up through the ranks to their present positions. George Zwicky, the oldest in point of service, began as bank messenger at a salary of $12 a month in 1910.

Paul Schroeder, who until yesterday was bank auditor is also a Madison boy and an ex-service man. He attended Madison high school until 1912 when he entered the bank as a messenger. William Cullinan, Madison, was a Central high student. He came to the bank a messenger in 1912.

Other officers re-elected by the board at their meeting yesterday were: Solomon Levitan, president; A. O. Paunack, vice president; C. N. Brown, vice president; and B. M. Backus, cashier.

PURDUE CAGERS OPEN WITH WIN OVER ROSE POLY

(Special to The Cardinal)
LAFAYETTE, Ind., Jan. 11—Purdue's conference basketball championship five opened the 1922-23 season by defeating Rose Polytechnical college 41 to 12.

The Boilermakers are late in starting their schedule as Coach Lambert has been working hard to find a man to take Miller's place at backguard.

The conference schedule opens with Northwestern here, January 15.

Although the team won from Rose Poly by a large score, the work of the Purdue players was very ragged. Many easy shots were missed, and the team work was not up to standard.

Gullion, who was all-Conference center last season, has won his place at the pivot position. Captain Masters and Eversman, veteran forwards, are again on the squad as regulars. Holowoda, who stepped in and took White's place at floor guard when the latter was declared ineligible in the middle of the season last year, is having a hard battle with Robbins for the position. Robbins is a sophomore and while in high school was placed on the all-state team. Both men are evenly matched and it is probable that they will both be used in every game.

Treat and Wellman are the leading candidates for the back guard position. The latter was fullback on the football team. Both men

Folk Songs Collected By Professor at Iowa

A collection of from 500 to 600 folk lore songs, most of them from Nebraska and Iowa, has been made by Edwin F. Piper, poet and associate professor in the department of English at the University of Iowa.

The collection contains many ballads which are without duplicate, and some that can not be paralleled in printed copies. Many love-songs, dance-songs, broadsides, rhymes, jigs, and ditties of former generations are included.

Professor Piper expects to publish a syllabus of the songs in the future.

Piercing the Heart of Industrial Problems

In 1921 Bishop F. C. McConnell, as chairman of the Commission of Inquiry, Inter-Church World Movement, drew up a report of the investigations of that body—"Public Opinion and the Steel Strike of 1919"—which has caused a degree of commotion and comment both at home and abroad. He now comes to this university with a question of great moment to every thinking person: "Can We Christian Industry?"

Bishop McConnell is a Methodist theologian of note, an eminent philosopher, and a man who has thought deeply on present day industrial problems; and it is for these reasons that the Campus Religious Council, which presents the speaker, is convinced that his discussion of this subject will be fully as absorbing and enlightening as was George Craig Stewart's address on evolution.

WRESTLERS WIN IN BOUTS WITH PURPLE MATMEN

Pile Up Score of 19 to 6 and Take 5 of 7 Bouts

(Special to The Cardinal)
EVANSTON, Ill., Jan. 12.—Wisconsin's wrestling team administered a crushing defeat to the Northwestern mat team here tonight in Patten gym. The score was 19 to 6, the Badgers taking five of the seven bouts.

Captain Templin proved the sensation of the meet, scoring a decisive victory in 9:45 over Larry Horton, ace of the Purple team in the light heavyweight class. The Badger leader used a scissors hold with punishing effect, and the Northwestern man was carried from the mat.

Benbow Loses
Bieberstein, football guard on the Cardinal eleven, took the heavyweight honors in a fast fall from Berolzheimer. He won with a full bodylock in 4:44.

Bryan Hines, Purple Captain, won his bout with a decision over Benbow, Wisconsin. The other Purple man to win was Hathaway, middleweight, who got a decision from Gregor.

Phelps was too good for Jenness in the Bantam class and easily won a decision. The little Badger proved very strong and the Purple Midget had no chance. Holmes of Wisconsin and Rost engaged in the only overtime match of the evening, Holmes winning a decision in two overtime periods.

Big Crowd Attends
A thrilling battle took place in the welterweight class where Heuer won out over Fisher by a decision. A big crowd was present, and much excitement reigned when the two stars, Horton and Templin took the mat.

115 pound class: Phelps, Wisconsin defeated Jenness, Northwestern. Decision.

125 pound class: Capt. Hines, Northwestern defeated Benbow, Wisconsin. Decision.

135 pound class: Holmes, Wisconsin, defeated Rost, Northwestern. Decision. Overtime bout.

145 pound class, Heuer, Wisconsin, defeated Fisher, Northwestern. Decision.

158 pound class, Hathaway, Northwestern, defeated Gregory, Wisconsin. Decision.

175 pound class: Capt. Templin, Wisconsin defeated Horton, Northwestern. Fall 9:45.

Heavyweight class: Bieberstein, Wisconsin, defeated Berolzheimer, Northwestern. Fall, 4:44.

LEGISLATURE IS ASKED TO ACT ON RUHR MOVE

The Wisconsin legislature will probably be asked to take action on a resolution expressing opposition to the present invasion of the Ruhr region by the French.

Mrs. Amy Wood, secretary of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom has sent a request to Madison members of the organization asking that they make efforts to get the legislature to take action.

If action is taken the protest will be forwarded to Washington.

"Trifling Women" to Show at Parkway

"Trifling Women," the latest picture to be made by Rex Ingram, will be the attraction at the Parkway for four days starting tomorrow.

The middle ages are made to look middle class by this thrilling photostory of a bewitching and beautiful woman who wantonly trifled with the affections of many men, but who is brought to suffer the wages of sin by the avenging hand of one who is as relentless in his revenge as he is inventive in the method of its performance.

In her new play, "The Dice of the Gods," which comes to the Parkway Saturday, January 20, matinee and night, Mrs. Fiske again plays an emotional role, a role called greater than her "Tess of the d'Urbervilles," "Becky Sharp," or "Salvation Nell."

He also pointed out the fact that the president of the same university receives only $7,500 a year.

SKI RACERS TO COMPETE TODAY FOR SILVER CUP

A number of Wisconsin's best ski racers will face the starter this afternoon to compete for a silver trophy cup which will be awarded the winner of the three mile race held by the Madison Ski club.

The race starts at 2:30 o'clock on Park street at the foot of the lower campus. The course leads over Muir Knoll, past the ski jump and down the wooded path to the shore drive. Back over observatory hill and in front of agricultural hall to the stock pavilion and back Linden drive past main hall. The racers will cover this course twice, finishing at the starting point.

The hardest bit of the course, where a large number of spectators will probably form, is where the course leads down the hill to the drive. Almost ideal weather conditions for such an event prevail and a large number of people will be attracted.

Those entered in the race for this afternoon are: Gordon Taylor, Kenneth Fagg, Knut Hendrichson, Einar Isdahl, Clyde Shachan, Kenneth Lamb, Willus Pressler, and Lyman Holder. Sverre Strom will not enter.

Kenneth Fagg and Sverre Strom leave tonight for Grand Beach, Mich; where they are entered in an open ski jumping meet held under the auspices of the National Ski association, to be held Sunday afternoon. This will be the first meet held at the new ski jump at Grand Beach, and famous jumpers from all over the country are entered. International Stars who will compete include Thorsten Masseng, Grand Beach club; Anders Hangen, ex-professional champion and Hans Hansen, Minneapolis Municipal Ski club.

Wisconsin Leads in Herd Testing Plan

The tuberculin testing herd plan inaugurated by the state of Wisconsin in 1915, today in cooperation with the government, leads the nation with 2086 state-federal accredited herds, 3689 with one clean test and 6617 under supervision. Greater emphasis has been put on the area test in the northern section of the state, according to C. P. Norgard, commissioner of agriculture, while the accredited herd work has been pushed forward most in the southern section, although Barron county in the north leads the state with over 500 accredited herds.

SWIMMERS WIN IN HARD MATCH WITH HOOSIERS

Pile Up Narrow Margin in Meet and Basketball Game

Despite its lack of practice, the varsity swimming team eked out a victory in its first conference dual meet last night when it trounced Indiana by a 38 to 29 count. The victory was a result of the excellent work of the divers, of Captain Bennett in the dashes, and consistent work in the other events.

Because he was not in the mid-season form, Johnny Bennett, captain of the Badger fish and holder of several conference records, failed to lead in his events and had to content with three second places. He led the field in the 220 yard free style race until the eighth lap when, after being cautioned to let up on his terrific pace he had been setting, he slowed up and Moore slipped in ahead of him to win by a few feet.

Koch and Morony, both of Wisconsin, took first places in the fancy diving event, and from that time on Wisconsin held a lead which Indiana could not reach.

Moore Shows Worth

Czerwonky did good work in both his events, taking first in the back and second in the breast stroke. Pope, also of Wisconsin, took first in the breast stroke event.

The highly praised Moore of Indiana lived up to the reputation which he has made in his work at Indiana. He bested Captain Bennett in the two free style events and took a third place in the 40 yard dash.

Wisconsin took the relay race when Porter gained a sufficient lead for the Badgers to make the outcome fairly certain.

Indiana showed up best in the plunge for distance, taking the first two places, and in the 40 yard dash, placing men first and third.

Barr's Counter Wins

Indiana did not send a water-basketball team, but a team made up of the swimmers took on the Badger net team for a 16 minute game. The first half ended with Wisconsin leading by a 3 to 0 score, but the Hoosiers came back in the second half and slipped two balls through the net. It looked like a victory for Indiana until Shorty Barr tossed the ball through the net for the winning basket in the final two minutes of play.

A Summary of the Meet Follows:

160-yard relay—won by Wisconsin, time 1 minute, 21 8-10 seconds. The winning team was composed of Story, Ewald, Porter and Bennett.

Fancy diving—Koch, Wisconsin, first; Morony, Wisconsin, second; Walling, Indiana, third.

Water basketball game, won by Wisconsin.

Minnesota Star to Coach Freshman Hockey Squad

For the first time, the freshman hockey squad will have a regular coach.

First Lieutenant E. A. Erickson, of the university R. O. T. C., yesterday accepted an offer from Director Thomas E. Jones to handle the yearling puck chasers.

Practices under Coach Erickson will begin next week, and with a number of likely-looking frosh report—ing the nucleus of next year's Varsity squad will be developed.

Lieutenant Erickson was an athletic star at the University of Minnesota. He played on the football team in 1915 and was also a star hockey man.

WOMEN'S SPORT SQUADS CHOSEN NEXT SEMESTER

Squads in all of the women's winter sports will be picked soon after the second semester begins. Every girl interested is concentrating every effort in the few remaining weeks.

Indoor baseball has a smaller enrollment this season than it had last year. The practice games however show great spirit and fast playing which should turn out efficient class teams for the tournament. Squads will be picked about the middle of February and teams two weeks later.

Basketball shows the most competition for places on the teams. Several new women have come out in addition to most of the members of last year's team. The squads will be picked the week of February 12 and teams two weeks later.

With the largest enrollment of any sport, bowling thus far has the smallest number who have signified intentions of going out for the team. All who want to try out must sign in the bowling alleys before January 17, and record their scores until the middle of February when squads will be picked. Teams will be announced the first part of March.

40 yard dash—Churchman, Indiana, first; Bennett, Wisconsin, second; Moore, Indiana, third; time, 20 2-10 seconds.

200 yard breast stroke—Pope, Wisconsin, first; Czerwonky, Wisconsin, second; Fiebel, Indiana, third; time, 3 minutes, 4 seconds.

220 yard free style—Moore, Indiana, first; Bennett, Wisconsin, second; Story, Wisconsin, third; time, 2 minutes, 33 7-10 seconds.

Plunge for distance—Bradt, Indiana, first; Clarke, Indiana, second; Dummer, Wisconsin, third; time, 60 yards in 36 3-10 seconds.

150-yard back stroke—Zerwonky, Wisconsin, first; Churchman, Indiana, second; Lauter, Indiana, third; time 2 minutes, 2 4-10 seconds.

100-yard free style—Moore, Indiana, first; Bennett, Wisconsin, second; Ewald, Wisconsin, third; time, 59 9-10 seconds.

Water basketball game, won by Wisconsin.

BADGERS CLASH WITH NORGREN'S MAROON SQUAD

Will Try to Avenge Sting of Scoreless Tie at Midway

Win Means Much

The Chicago squad is in the pink of condition. Although the Maroons have already lost one Conference game to the University of Iowa, they are fully prepared to redeem themselves. The Hawkeyes are one of the most formidable aggregations in the Big Ten, but despite their strength they were able to do but little against Chicago until the second half.

Coach Walter E. Meanwell has his men in good shape. A loss to Chicago this early in the season would dampen Badger title hopes a great deal, while a victory will do much to further chances for a high rating on the Big Ten ladder. Gibson, who hurt his knee in the Purple game last Saturday night, is ready and will alternate with Wackman in the pivot position.

Elsom Finds Eye

Capt. Tebell and Rollie Williams are in good condition and will "do their stuff" against Dickson and Barnes, football foes of last fall. Tebell and Williams are as good a pair of guards as there is in the Conference. Rollie is beginning to hit the basket and Gus is usually sure of one or two successful shots each game. Les Gage and Ken Elsom will start in the forward positions. Elsom ran wild in the Indiana game and threw five baskets from all angles. His defensive game is also good. Les Gage is the nucleus of the Wisconsin offense. He is a star floor man, good free thrower and usually rings two or three baskets in a game.

In Captain Yardley and Dickson, of Chicago, Gage and Elsom will find some keen competition. Yardley has an exceptionally good eye and the defense will watch him closely. Barnes, who plays guard, may be known to some fans who follow basketball consistently. He played here three years ago with Cedar rapids, Ia., high school in the Mid-Western high school tournament and was considered a phenom.

REJECTED ONE SUGGESTION

THE Student senate has rejected the suggestion of the council of 40 that the combined experience of a large group of student leaders be used in the formulation of a complicated point system for extracurricular activities.

The senators, men of wide experience in campus activities, evidently feel they are capable of rating the importance of the multitudinous positions connected with athletics, forensics, executive board work, religious work, journalism, et cetera.

These senators probably are right. There is nothing to prevent the special senate committee from drafting a plan that will be acceptable to the entire body.

Yet, in a way, it is unfortunate that the senate has gone on record as disfavoring the council's resolutions partially, if not largely, because acceptance of such a plan would "surrender the senate's name."

That a large and representative body of student leaders like the Council of 40 should offer unsolicited advice and aid to the Student senate, the lawfully chartered and elected embodiment of constitutional self-government, is to be expected.

Likewise, it might be anticipated the senate would take carefully under advisement a recommendation from such a body and not dismiss it simply because it was the "first plan of any nature that was presented."

Closer cooperation between the student government organizations can never lead to usurpation of power on the part of one.

Rather it will tend toward more harmony, a closer knitting together of the various interests, and a better feeling in general throughout the university.

THE JORDAN OFFER

WHY Edward S. Jordan, president of the Jordan Motor Car company, has reached his present high position in the financial and industrial world is not so hard to understand.

The fact that he received his education at Wisconsin may have been one factor in his success. With a cough of apology we might admit our certainty as to its being such a factor. But Mr. Jordan, educated here or elsewhere, would have achieved indeed a high degree of attainment. He forgets not his beginnings.

When Mr. Jordan was at Wisconsin he worked his way through college—another factor that helps explain his success. He has not forgotten the difficulties that a young man must undergo when trying to make a few dollars cover the costs of education plus. And he knows that other young men today are trying to make similar dollars cover similar needs.

Hence his offer of $5,000 in prizes to students who desire to earn part or all of their expenses through school. That the offer likewise includes the obligation to sell Jordan cars does not detract in the least from the fact that it is an opportunity worth grasping for those who can qualify as automobile salesmen.

BETTER SHOWS

MOVIE and drama fans have been lately treated to a class of shows that they could see and hear without having to hide their blushes beneath a thick coat of rouge and smother their indignation behind a hastily summoned cough.

But a short year ago a movie that did not contain at least a few salacious scenes was a rarity.

What the gowns and the scenes failed to show, the subtitles either hinted at or plainly told. Believing no doubt in the unassailable virtue of frankness. Indelicate and indecent movies were excused on the plea that they contained a moral.

The drama at Madison theaters was largely of that variety popular called unclothed drama, or that supposedly necessary evil, the musical comedy. Those musical comedies that had little excuse for being except that they have choruses of which they are very proud. So proud of them, in fact, that the dear girls are brought out on the stage before they have had a chance to finish dressing.

The spectators (the word is used advisedly) became quite used to risqué words and scenes. So accustomed to it that they felt cheated when the show failed to live up to its sensational billboard announcements.

But the old days are gone. It is evident that Will Hays or some other quiet mannered gentleman has been cleaning up the movies. Who has been sending the better class of legitimate shows through the middle west we do not know. But we appreciate his efforts to give us something a little better than we have had until the past year.

Perhaps cleaner movies and plays are the natural reaction from the muck that the public suffered the past few years. Or perhaps the producers have had a change of heart and decided that the American public wanted shows which mothers as well as daughters could with impunity attend.

At any rate it is a relief to be able to go to Madison theaters and motion picture houses and see shows that neither offend nor displease. We would even sacrifice a little plot in exchange for a good bit of cleanliness in thought and presentation.

REAL RUSSIAN LIFE IS HIDDEN

Madame Ponafidine Says Foreigners Are Kept From Most Gruesome Sights

"Newspapermen and others who have traveled in Russia have not seen the real life of the people," said Madame Ponafidine, of Russia, in an address at Music hall last night. The program was given under the auspices of the W. A. A.

In introducing the speaker, Dean F. Louise Nardin stressed the fact that Madame Ponafidine is the latest bearer of news from Russia, having less than a year ago escaped from devastated and war-ridden country. Madame Ponafidine is of American nationality, born in Persia. She married a Russian and spent most of her life in Russia, living near Petrograd.

"No person can live honestly in Russia today. They must live by their wits, by bribing, by deceiving and by being dishonest. Everyone is taught that every human being is equal, that each one must do a little of each kind of work," Madame Ponafidine said.

The speaker declared that travelers in Russia are carried about in automobiles, travel in the finest passenger trains, and are treated with the utmost courtesy, giving them no insight into real life of the country. The people are living according to the communists interpretation of freedom, "a license from every point of view! No God, no family, no patriotism." A most terrible state of immorality exists, and this is one of the darkest things in the future outlook of Russia.

The Forest Products laboratory of Madison is cooperating with an executive committee of the Engineering foundation for the purpose of stimulating study on wood finishing research.

Formerly opinion of paints and varnishes was that they were used for ornamental purposes only. It later became known that paints were used primarily as a preservative, and immediately study was taken up on their composition. It is now realized that the character of the surface to which the paint is applied makes a great difference.

The Badger representatives expect to acquire valuable and useful exchange information.

Rolff Claim Is Laid Aside By Council Body

The claim of Mrs. Bessie Rolff and her son, Louis, for $8,000 personal damages for injury in an automobile accident, was tabled by the council judiciary committee last night. The indefinite postponement came as a result of a court verdict recently which found that William Schultz, the driver of the automobile in which the woman and boy were injured, was intoxicated at the time of the accident.

Other claims disallowed were those of W. D. Bird, Nannie Cloyd, Emma Reins and William Morgan.

Robin Is Making Home At Maple Bluff Clubhouse

A robin and a flicker are making their homes on Maple Bluff this winter according to O. D. Brandenburg, but the much talked of cardinal has not been seen there.

There are plenty of winter birds making their homes on Maple Bluff this year—the nuthatches, chickadees, cedar waxwings, brown creepers and many others being seen often.

Robins have oftentimes remained around Madison throughout the winter occasionally in flocks but usually when a single robin is seen alone it is because an injury has or some other physical defect forbids it from making the long flight south.

Members of the Forest Products League held their first annual luncheon Wednesday honoring Mrs. Albert Hermann who will leave soon for Portland, Oregon to make her home.

BADGERS HELP
EUROPEAN POORWill Support Resolution
Appropriating 70 Million for European Countries

WASHINGTON—Four Wisconsin congressmen who endorsed the resolution now before congress to appropriate $70,000,000 for the relief of Germans and Austrians from starvation this winter, today substantiated their stand with a statement from Secretary of State Hughes, showing a tremendous shortage of crops in those countries.

Secretary Hughes drew his information, he said, from the reports of American commercial attaches, who estimated yields of grain during the year just closed at approximately one-half the pre-war harvest. Figures on winter and summer wheat, spelt and rye were included.

The reports from abroad also showed that Germany's crops have been steadily declining since the war, supposedly because of impoverished fields and the inability to obtain fertilizer to renew their fertility. The yield of winter wheat per hectare, the unit comparable to the American acre, dropped from 2.06 tons in 1921 to 1.37 tons in 1922. Before the war German fields were accustomed to yield 2.4 tons of wheat per acre, the report said.

A November report from Germany, which was included in the Hughes statement, predicted that the grain supply produced in the country at the last harvest would last until February, 1923, when the people would be entirely dependent on an imported supply.

The rye crop for the year was estimated in November as 57,000,000 bushels under that of 1921.

A telegram from the American ambassador at Berlin, received by Secretary Hughes and transmitted by him to the group of congressmen who are supporting the resolution to aid Germany, declares that Berlin has only half her former milk supply, and that the bread consumption per capita is 104 units today as against 240 units in 1914 and that in many wards of the city more than half the children are tubercular.

"The ambassador adds that he believes there will be great distress among the population before the middle of February when the food supply will run short, and regards the possibilities as appalling," said the secretary's communication.

The resolution has been endorsed and its passage urged by Congressmen Henry Allen Cooper, Racine; J. M. Nelson, Madison; Edward Voigt, Sheboygan; and J. D. Beck of Viroqua.

The facts furnished by Hughes have been transmitted to the house committee on foreign relations, before which the resolution is now pending.

ORPH PLAYERS LINE
UP TO REPUTATION

The Great Lester, at the Orpheum this week-end, is living up to his reputation as being the world's greatest ventriloquist. Lester holds and entertains his audience to the utmost every moment he is on the stage.

John Alden, the noted song writer, who credit is given for such songs as "Tomorrow", "La Veeda," and "If Winter Comes", is appearing with the dancing Sandell sisters. Worthy of praise is the "Doll and Playmate Dance" introduced by the Sandell sisters.

Sketches of the better variety, all also represented. "Babies", a one act comedy, which has to do with arguments between wife and husband after five years of married life, is played by Charlie Ward and his cast of players.

Highly pleasing is the act of Weir and Crest under the title of "The Yank and the Wop." Vivian and Lenore are "Two Winsome Girls" whose entertainment is well received.

Devoted to Prom

AND now comes the season when you want to look your very, very prettiest. You are thinking of your dress, of course, and the innumerable small accessories that make your costume complete—and so are we!

Every express brings us delightful things just purchased in New York by Mr. Manchester. Dainty things, decidedly smart and distinctive accessories for your prom events.

Your Gown
which material?

You'll find endless possibilities in the new chenille georgette—a glorified georgette with designs of embossed velvet. No trimming is required for this lovely material, save, perhaps, a corsage. Some will wish to combine it with plain materials in the same color. 40 inches wide, in jade, American beauty, orchid, or silver grey. $12.

Your Corsage

A corsage must do a lot delightful things for your costume—lend contrast, carry out the color note, and what not, but chief of all, it must be very lovely. Here are new corsages that will do all, and they are just in from New York. Gold grapes in long clusters, $1.75.

Unusually handsome silk and metal flower corsages trailing graceful gold or silver grapes, $2.

Aandeaux

These are the final touch for a costume. In Grecian style come exceptionally dainty and youthful bandeaux in gold or silver, or pastel shaded fruit and flowers. A pleasing choice at $1, $1.50 and $2.

RIZAL HONORED BY FILIPINOS

Hold Program For Martyr at Public Library Auditorium

The Philippine Badger club gave its program in honor of Dr. Josef Rizal, the martyred hero of the Philippine Islands, Thursday night in the auditorium of the Madison public library.

The program was given under the auspices of the Women's Progressive association of Madison by the Philippine students and consisted of readings, speeches, lantern slides, and an especially well received selection of Philippine airs by the club's string quartet.

President Jesus de Mesa opened the meeting with a story of the life and work of Dr. Rizal. Born in Calamba in 1861, Rizal early distinguished himself in the schools in a literary way. At the age of 21 he went to Spain and entered Madrid university, graduating as a doctor of medicine and philosophy.

He later studied in Paris, Brussels, London and Germany, and became noted as an authority as an oculist. He published works on the Spanish tyranny in the Philippines and aroused much sentiment, incidentally antagonizing the Spanish government. After a trip through the United States, he returned to his native land and was executed on a trumped up charge of treason.

The string quartet followed Mr. Mesa and Philippine songs were sung by a trio of male voices. Mr. Agustin Rodolfo read an essay "The Day We Celebrate," which gave additional information regarding the life of Rizal and something of the people of the Archipelago and their struggle for independence.

Views of the beautiful Philippine islands were shown on the screen and explained by Mr. B. O. Ocfemia, secretary of the club. According to Mr. Ocfemia, "the first thing the Spanish brought to the islands was the Catholic church, and the first thing the Americans built was an ice plant."

Mr. E. G. Aquino talked on the land and the people of the Philippines. "The present government," he said, "is much like that of the United States, although we have adopted the idea of a Prime Minister from England. All offices except the department of education are in the hands of the native islanders." He pointed out that the people were well educated, on a high plane of living, and had been governing themselves well since the passage of the Jones act.

Pugsley Will Address Farm Meeting Here

Charles W. Pugsley, assistant secretary of the United States Department of Agriculture, is scheduled to address a mass meeting of Wisconsin farmers, bankers, and editors meeting in Madison this week of Jan. 29 to consider merchandising of farm products as the farmers' way out of many of their present difficulties. Until appointed by President Harding to the high post in the federal service, Pugsley was the editor of the Nebraska Farmer. At various times in the past he has served on the staff of the Nebraska Agricultural College. He is regarded throughout the corn belt states as one of the ablest leaders. Herman Roe, editor of the Northfield News, one of the successful Minnesota weekly publications, is announced as speaker on the editors program held jointly with the agricultural gathering. Mr. Roe is president of the "Country Newspapers," a national organization composed of editors of weeklies with rural circulation.

Six Foreign Students Are Making Lecture Tour

Under the Auspices of the National forum, six students representing six foreign universities are traveling America on a lecture tour. It is thought that they will be successful in bringing about a closer feeling between the nations and clear away some of the misunderstanding which now exists.

The students represent the University of London, the University of Leiden, the University of Heidelberg, the International People's Institute, Alsmore, and the Universities of Copenhagen and Prague.

Three of the students, under the direction of John Rothschild, the executive secretary of the forum, will visit the colleges in the eastern and northern states. The other three, under the guidance of George D. Pratt, foreign secretary and treasurer will go through the western and southern states.

The Comedy Sensation of the Year

Maybe You Don't Know It But You Are $1.30 Richer

WASHINGTON—The per capita wealth of each American citizen increased $1.30 in 1922, the treasury department announced today. On Jan. 1, 1923, the amount of money outside of the treasury in circulation was $4,732,898,000. If equally divided among the American people it would give each one $42.81, as against $41.51 a year ago. The total stock of money in the United States, the treasury said, amounts to $8,614,433,000. If this sum there is gold coin and bullion amounting to $3,933,475,000.

PUCKSTERS LOSE OVERTIME GAME TO WOLVERINES

(Special to The Cardinal)

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Jan. 12—Forcing the Wolverines into an overtime period, Wisconsin lost its first hockey game of the season, 2 to 1, here tonight. The game was tight all of the way.

Michigan scored in the first period, Wisconsin counted in the second, and the third was scoreless. In the extra time of play, Kahn, Michigan, defense man, counted the winning goal.

Line-ups follow: Michigan: Comb goal; Linstrom, center; Anderson and Henderson, wings; Kahn and MacDuff, defense. Wisconsin: Tredwell, goal; Combacker, center; Fiske and Johnson, wings; Blodgett and Mokrejs, defense.

Goals: Blodgett, Anderson, Kahn.

Burke and Berg Trainees Clash in Track Meet Today

Proteges of Coaches Mead Burke and George Berg will clash in the inter-class track meet to be held in the gym annex this afternoon. Many good intramural track men will be given an opportunity to work in the various events, and some prospective Varsity material may be uncovered.

In two previous meets held between track classes, Burke's division has been victorious.

886,557 Paid State Employees in December

The size of the state monthly pay roll has started considerable talk in the legislature relative to reductions in the cost of government. Figures recently compiled by the secretary of state's office at the request of several legislators show that the 5,346 regular employees of the state for the month of December cost the state the neat little sum of $886,557.06.

Worry About Air, Not Coal, Doctor Says

MARINETTE, Wis. — "Don't worry about your coal supply—worry about your winter air supply." This is the prescription endorsed by Dr. S. Berglund, Marinette health officer in his recent campaign for better health conditions in Marinette. Dr. Berglund's points on "air supply" are: Raise the windows on the windward side, one inch. Get a thin board, six inches wide and place it at a slight angle. This will deflect the air and place it at a breathing level. Lower the top of the window about one inch and allow the foul air to escape.
