SENIOR PRESIDENT NAMES CHAIRMEN OF '25 ACTIVITIES

Bergstresser Adds Committees on Athletic and Class Organization

To get under way the big program for the class of 1925, John Bergstresser, president of the class, yesterday afternoon announced the chairmen of 12 committees, and issued a call for a general meeting of the class to be arranged for probably next week.

In addition to dividing the workers into the regular committees on invitations, finance, memorial union, social, publicity, alumni and reunion, play, and cap and gown, Bergstresser has made a reorganization in class day and commencement committees, and has formed committees on athletics, and class organization.

Members of the athletic committee will assist in entertaining visiting high school athletes during interscholastic events, and will make a survey of available positions in the university district for freshman athletes coming here next fall.

To Improve Class Day

The class organization committee is making addressograph plates at the alumni recorder's office with the Madison address and telephone number of all members of the senior class. A district system, similar to that used by W. S. G. A. will be worked out for senior men, by this committee.

A split in the work of the commencement committee has been made by Bergstresser. The committee on class day is investigating methods for improving class day

24 MEN TO TAKE GLEE CLUB TRIP

Will Leave For Milwaukee Tomorrow Noon; Several Lost Through Ineligibility

Twenty-four men have been selected from the regular Glee club to go on the four-day tour the club will take this week-end. These men, accompanied by J. H. Murphy, I. L. business manager, and Prof. E. P. Swinney, who will conduct the club, will leave Madison tomorrow noon for Milwaukee.

Daily rehearsals this week have brought the club into very good form for the trip, according to Professor Swinney. While several members have been lost to the club through ineligibility, the number has not been as great as in former years, and the 24 men who will sing on the tour represent a very well balanced group.

A concert will be given Friday night at Washington high school, Milwaukee. The club will sing in Sheboygan, Saturday; Manitowoc, Sunday, and in South Milwaukee, Monday. The members will travel and live in a special pullman chartered for the week-end.

The men who will take the trip are:

Tenors, S. R. Hendrickson '25, H. F. Haney '26, A. E. McGrath '27, F. V. Konyenburgh '27, C. D. Nyhus '25, S. J. Krebs '26, G. S. Bartleson '25. Second tenors, Dan Vornholt '26, H. M. Schuck '25, P. G. Jones '27, E. Beck '27, W. B. Mills '27, J. B. Mason '26.

Baritone, E. W. Leonardson '26, H. V. Kline '26, E. S. Gordon '27, H. C. Molzahn '26, I. S. Tarrant '27. Basses, L. W. Lentzner '25, E. W. Guild '25, R. Rosenheimer '26, H. L. Baumgarten '27, O. F. Weiskopf '27, J. E. Blomgren '26.

R. C. Nethercut '25, pianist, will accompany the club.

TODAY IS VACATION ELSEWHERE! BUT IT'S ONLY FEB. 12 HERE

February the twelfth! What does the date signify to most of us as we hurry up the hill past the majestic statue in front of Bascom? Not a great deal to many, for we are too busy to stop to think that today is the birthday of the Great Emancipator.

Wisconsin is the only university in the Big Ten which does not observe Lincoln's birthday. Twenty-five states and the territory of Alaska declare the day a legal holiday, but Wisconsin is not included in the number.

Down at the capitol the legislature meets at 10 o'clock this morning. They might have given themselves a holiday!

PLAN WEEK-END HERE FOR MOTHERS

Alberta Johnson '26 Appointed Head of All-University Reception in May

Alberta Johnson '26 was appointed general chairman of an all-university Mother's week-end at the W. S. G. A. board meeting held last night in Lathrop hall. The mother's week-end, a new idea here, will be held in May.

Assistant chairmen are Dorothy King '25, Sally Fletcher '25, Rena Grub '26, Dorothy Strauss '26, and Miriam Inglis '26.

W. S. G. A. plans to make this Mother's week-end similar to the Father's week-end which was held this fall under the direction of the faculty and John Bergstresser '25, as representative of the student body. The mothers of all the students will receive personal invitations, according to Alice Corl '25, president.

Several university major functions will take place during this week-end besides the special events which will be planned specially for the mothers, including a mothers' banquet, special excursion tours, and parties and dinners at the various houses on the campus.

The junior-senior swing-out, dance drama, Venetian night, woman's field day, senior men's sing, and "W" night are the regular university activities which will be attended by the mothers.

"The W. S. G. A. feels that the parents of the students in the university are left in ignorance of the true life in this school due to the one-sided information which they obtain from the press and W. S. G. A. hopes that this week-end will show the mothers what university life and people really are," Miss Corl said.

Regents Formally Accept Bequest of Late Judge Olin

The bequest of John M. Olin of his home, 130 Prospect avenue, to be used as the permanent residence of the university president as well as his bequest of $10,000, left in memory of his niece, as the "Harriet Remington Laird Fellowship Fund," has been formally accepted by the regents of the university.

The Olin home is situated on University Heights, about a mile from the campus overlooking Lake Mendota and the university. It is a large three story brick house set in half a block of wooded ground. Mr. Olin presented it to the university as a memorial to his wife, Helen Remington Olin, a distinguished member of a talented family.

AUDITORS WORKING TO FIX CO-OP REBATE

Auditors are now working on the books of the Co-op in order that the directors will have a basis for their meeting the latter part of this month when they decide the rebate rate for last year, according to E. J. Grady, manager. It will take ten days or two weeks after the rebate rate is decided before the rebates can be given out to the students, probably not before the middle of March.

Damage to Beta House From Wednesday Fire Set at $15,000

Injury is Chiefly to Interior Furnishings; Loss is Fully Covered By Insurance

The damage caused by the fire which gutted the Beta Theta Pi house at 622 Mendota court, yesterday has been estimated at $15,000. The loss, which was mostly in the furnishings of the house, is fully covered by insurance.

The fire was discovered about 2:45 o'clock in the morning by James C. Sutton '25 and the house was so filled with smoke that no one could reach the telephone to turn in the alarm. Prof. F. C. Sharp saw the blaze and called the fire department.

Such a strong wind was blowing from the lake that it was feared that the flames would spread to the nearby buildings. Much of the work of the firemen was spent in saving other houses in the vicinity from destruction. The wind blew the flames so that the northwest wing of the house was damaged only by water and smoke.

The fire is thought to have been caused by an overheated furnace. The flames crept up in the partitions and along under the floors to such an extent that the house was almost completely filled with smoke before the fire was discovered.

Irving W. York '25 and Einer V. Christianson '28 were trapped in the third floor but were able to climb to safety when the firemen placed a ladder for them.

None of the men lost any personal belongings and the trophies that have been accumulated by the fraternity were taken to safety. Most of these things were lodged in the Delta Tau Delta house next door and the Betas were accommodated there until morning.

AUTHOR TO SPEAK IN BASCOM HALL TODAY

Dr. Joseph K. Hart will lecture on "The Discovery of Intelligence" at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in 165 Bascom hall under the auspices of the department of education.

Doctor Hart was formerly professor of education at the University of Washington and at Reed college. Since 1920 he has been departmental editor of The Survey and lecturer in the new school of social research.

He is the author of "Critical Study of Current Theories of Moral Education," "Democracy in Education," and "The Discovery of Intelligence." The latter is an account of the history of education and educational ideals.

PROFESSIONALS TO ATTEND CARNIVAL

Varsity Hockey Game Necessitates Change From Afternoon to Night Ice Show

"The features at the Ice carnival to be held this Saturday promise to be better this year than those of preceding years," John Hobbs '26, chairman of features, said yesterday. "Besides Coach Kay Everson and George Martin, Lillian Goswitz and Emil Iverson, two professionals, have been obtained from outside the state. They have had experience in ice-garden stunts. There will be solo as well as couple skating," he declared.

A change has been made in the time of the carnival. All the races, as well as the features will be held in the evening instead of the afternoon, as the Wisconsin-Minnesota ice-hockey game will be staged at 4 o'clock, on the lower campus rink.

George Murkowitz '25 had been appointed as clerk of the course. The men's distances are 220 yards, 880 yards and one mile. The women will compete in the 220, 440 and 880-yard races. Any student may enter the events and will be charged no fee. The intersorority and interfraternity relays will have four skaters on each team. The fee for this class is $2.

MILITARY BALL BILL POSTPONED IN SENATE

Consideration of the bill to permit the Military ball to be held in the state capitol this spring was postponed until next Tuesday afternoon by the senate committee on state and local government. The bill which must first be reported favorably by the committee was scheduled for consideration yesterday afternoon but a week's postponement was given.

200 WORK TO PUT ON STOCK SHOW

H. E. Hill is General Chairman of Wisconsin International to Be Held Feb. 21

More than 200 students are aiding H. E. Hill '25, general chairman of the Wisconsin International Stock exposition, in carrying out plans for the show on February 21.

"The night horse show this year has been designed with the view in mind to make the program appropriate to both students and Madisonians," explained Hill. "Riding events of every description will be held, including inter-sorority and R. O. T. C. riding and jumping contests. The best men and women riders in Madison will compete for the prizes and ribbons offered by the Saddle and Sirloln club."

The Saddle and Sirloln club, organized in the winter of 1920, has always sponsored the stock exposition, and this, the 1925 event, marks the sixth annual show of its kind. It is the only student show of its kind in the Middle West and closely rivals the horse shows of a professional nature held in Chicago and the East.

Invitations have been extended to President Birge and Governor Blaine, and many well known residents of Madison will be among the audience to witness their favorite horses in action against the purebred animals in the city. Madison merchants and business men have heartily endorsed the show and are contributing their share toward the success of the night horse show.

Governor Has His Own Promenade in State Capitol

The governor ran a Prom all his own last night. There were no costly gowns or shining tuxedos, but the plebs were in their element. Plain dresses, business suits reigned in almost Jacksonian manner. Governor J. G. Blaine, Herman L. Ekern, Solomon Levitan, Henry Huber, John Callahan, and all the wives of these respective officers, were on hand to welcome the host of assemblymen, senators, professors, and officials of the university who crowded the capitol for the annual governor's reception.

"Are we overworking our governors?" This question was in the minds of many last night as they saw the long procession of eager handshakers file by the governor and his cabinet. By the time 200 persons had passed the governor, it was apparent that he was lamenting the fact that he had not been created ambidextrous.

On the dance floor, Green Bay leather collided with the best shoe stock of Milwaukee and Madison.

WOMAN'S COMMERCE CLUB CHANGES POLICY

An innovation in the policy of the Woman's Commerce club was introduced at the first meeting of the semester last evening. Formerly the membership of this society was limited to 22 women but now it is open to all women in the Course in Commerce. The president, Freida Aucher '25, announced that there would be a speaker at the meeting the fourth week of every month.

BADGERS BOW TO "WONDER TEAM" BY 26-11 SCORE

Wisconsin Helpless in Attempt to Avert Franklin Victory

By KEN BUTLER

Franklin, the famed "wonder team" of western basketball circles, minus several of the main actors, played around in Wisconsin's backyard last night—sometimes fast and furious, sometimes slow and ponderous—and registered another defeat for Wisconsin's helpless but hopeful basketball team. The final score was 26 to 11.

Coach Meanwell used all combinations in an attempt to strengthen the attack and defense, but to no avail. In flashes the team held together and worked the short pass system somewhere near the way it is supposed to be worked, and then, with a momentary eye for the basket, tossed in a counter or two. But these spasms were infrequent, and for the most part the game was a Franklin exhibition, with a well-balanced team providing the main show.

Franklin Guards Well

Passing and shooting of the Badgers were poor. Only three free throws were made out of a number of attempts. Franklin, profiting by the 15 personal fouls and two technical fouls committed by Wisconsin, tossed in a goodly number of its free-throw chances and swelled the score 13 points by this avenue.

Gant, Ballard, and Teterman led the Franklin assault, backed up with almost faultless guarding by King and Friddle.

Badgers Score Late

The game had progressed several minutes before Wisconsin scored its first basket, a difficult shot made by Brooks. It was his first and only field counter of the evening. But by this time the Hoosiers had made four points, on a free throw by Friddle, a long shot by Gant, and a free throw by Teterman. Barnum tossed a long one which did not count because it had struck the framework of the backboard. Ballard fouled and Barnum made a free throw, bringing the score to 4-3, with Franklin holding the one point lead.

Ballard made a free throw after Diebold's foul, Friddle added a field goal, and Teterman made another free throw when Barwig fouled. Varney brought the Badger total to five. Gant and Crooks each made a free throw, followed by a free throw by Ballard. At this

SAYS PROM AUDIT IS NOT UNUSUAL

University Auditor States No Financial Irregularities Have Been Found

"There is nothing unusual in the fact that the university authorities are auditing the financial records of Prom," was the statement made by Alvin Peterson, university auditor, last night in answer to reports that have been circulating about the campus and in Madison that the audit was made because of suspected irregularities in the handling of Prom finances.

"Every student activity that has any financial business at all is subject to these audits, including Homecoming, Prom and the Military ball," Mr. Peterson went on to say.

A meeting, which was routine in nature, was held yesterday afternoon. Those present besides Mr. Peterson were Dean S. H. Goodnight, Clifford Huff '26, Prom chairman, John R. Riley '26, ticket sales chairman, and William B. Howard '26, finance committee chairman.

Mr. Peterson stated that very likely there will be a deficit which will have to be made up by the junior class but that there is no basis for the rumors that are going around the campus as to Prom finance irregularities.

IVERSON DUBIOUS AS TO PUCK WIN OVER MINNESOTA

12 of 16 Regulars Ineligible;
Games on Friday and Saturday

Handicapped by the loss of 12 of the 16 regulars on his hockey squad due to ineligibility, Coach Kay Iverson is pessimistic as to the outcome of the two games with the Minnesota team at Madison this weekend. Both defense men and the regular goal tender have been lost, and it is these positions that Iverson is working the hardest to fill.

Moorehead and Teich are the defense players who are unable to play, and MacLean is the ineligible guard. Also, Kynaston and Carlson, two promising men at the wing positions, have fallen victims to the axe of ineligibility.

Three Sure Starters

There are only three men who are sure to start the game tomorrow night. They are Captain Gross, center; Jansky, right wing, and Lidicher, left wing. Gore, a defense player, is the most promising of the candidates for the vacancies.

Minnesota, last year's champions, are coming to Madison with a strong team, having played more than 10 games so far this year and winning them all. The most notable victories have been the winning of two games from Marquette university and two from Notre Dame.

Wisconsin journeyed to Michigan last week to play the university and the Aggie team, but due to the lack of ice, and warm weather, both games had to be postponed, so the team plays Saturday without any other seasoning than two early games with the Janesville Y. M. C. A.

Iverson to Skate

Coach Iverson has announced as a special feature between periods of the game, that either he or his brother, the Gopher coach, with a woman partner, will give an exhibition of fancy skating. He also stated that the Pep band will be on hand to furnish music.

Michigan U. Holds State Prep Track Meet on March 21

ANN ARBOR, Feb. 11.—The University of Michigan will be hosts to high school track men of the state on March 21, when teams representing 50 or more preparatory schools gather here to take part in the first Michigan Interscholastic Indoor Track Carnival. In addition, teams representing various high schools of Toledo and Chicago are expected to enter.

Gold, silver and two bronze medals are offered for places in the following events.

Fifty-yard dash, 60-yard high hurdles, 60-yard low hurdles, 440-yard run, 880-yard run, mile run, 880-yard relay, medley relay, 12-pound shot put, pole vault, high jump and broad jump.

The preliminaries will be run off in the afternoon and the 12,000 seating capacity of Yost Field house is expected to be taxed to house the spectators on hand for the finals in the evening.

The 80 fraternities at Michigan will combine in entertaining the visiting high school athletes.

Today's Intramural

Call for Frosh Managers

Several more freshman managers are wanted by the Intramural department. First year men will be given opportunity to earn insignia, and to work into more responsible positions by signing up with Director George Berg in the gymnasium between 12 and 1 o'clock.

Inter-college Basketball

Men who are interested in a new league for inter-college basketball should see George Berg this week. One inter-college league is proposed whereby the schools of Engineering, Agriculture, Law, Letters and Science, and Medicine would engage in regular round robin competition; the winners to receive points toward the Nelson trophy and special individual awards furnished by the Intramural department.

Men who will like to handle their college team will be given that opportunity and would share in the award, should the team win.

No fees will be asked and all equipment is to be furnished by the department.

Interfraternity Basketball

Sigma Phi Sigma won a gruelling battle Tuesday night when they beat Phi Delta Theta by a margin of only one point. The score was 19 to 18. Other results were: Delta Sigma Phi 20, Delta Sigma Pi 10; Sigma Nu 7, S. A. E. 2; and Kappa Sigma 32, Phi Kappa Tau 1.

Postponed Games

All games which were postponed or forfeited and have not been reported as such, should be reported at once.

"Prom was dry" said state and university officials in answer to the charges of Launcelot Gordon, assistant secretary of state, that everything was not all that it should be.

JONES CONTINUES TO HOLD TRYOUTS FOR QUAD MEET

Track Men Run Trial Heats
in the Quarter
Mile

Tryouts and still more tryouts are being held every night in the gymnasium annex as Coach Jones is working to pick the men who will run for Wisconsin in the quadrangular meet this Saturday at Evans-ton.

Last night several heats in the quarter mile were run off with the result that Bert Hilberts and Harry Hill showed up to advantage. The work of Hilberts was especially pleasing as heretofore he had not been able to get into condition, but last night he hit the old stride that made him one of the best middle distance men in the conference last year, and he is now certain to be one of the mainstays on the mile team.

Hill Runs Well

Harry Hill won the other heat in easy fashion and will probably find a place on the quartet of 440 men. Flueck, Kennedy and Lewis are the other best bets for a place among the baton passers. Gil Smith, one of the best quarter milers in the university, is out of consideration on account of scholastic difficulties, but his place will be well taken care of by the other men.

Captain Vallely is the only certainty in the two mile relay, and will probably be used as anchor man to run the last half mile. Other possible candidates for this event are Carter, Petaja, Campbell and Hilberts. However, Hill may be shifted to the longer relay.

Four Mile Team Strong

The four mile relay will be taken care of by Petaja, Piper, Bergstresser, Carter, Vallely, Schutt or Cassidy. Cassidy, one of the best milers, has been in the infirmary and it is doubtful whether he will be able to start the season by competing in the quadrangular meet.

Men for a place on the medley relay will be chosen from the candidates in the other events with the possible exception of some additional men in the two quarter miles of the relay.

All in all, the Badgers will put up about as strong a front as any of the other three competing teams, and it is certain that they will put forth every effort to make a good showing as a victory here will greatly enhance their chances to compete on the Pacific coast during spring vacation.

"JERRY" DEVINE, TOWEL MAN, FINDS TIME FOR GOOD NATURE

By CLARENCE SCHLANER

"Check, please!"
"Did you find my lock?"
"I lost my cubicle; it was in the 2:30 room."

In spite of many such questions, "Jerry" Devine, the towel man in the men's gymnasium, has time to be good natured and will hunt anything from strayed track shoes to lost rings for careless owners.

Seven hundred towels go through the little window to him nearly every day, and one especially busy day, 865 were handed out. From 3:30 to 6:00 o'clock the peak of distribution is reached, as most of the varsity teams and gymnasium classes report for practice.

"Jerry" hasn't always been a towel man. For 20 years he set type and made up pages at the Democrat Printing office of Madison, until an operation several years ago forced him to do lighter work. From that time until February, he was locker man attendant and opened locked room doors for all, without a hint of gruffness.

"If anything is lost, I am expected to be able to put my hands on it immediately," said "Jerry" yesterday. "Usually the lost lock is found hanging on a forgotten locker, or the cubicle, supposedly lost, was placed in the wrong locker room."

The new men, especially, come to the towel man for information. He guides them to the correct classes, explains the cubicle system, and opens locks with difficult combinations.

The students that come to the gymnasium are a fine bunch of fellows," declared "Jerry." "I have watched them long enough to know."

Nurmi Indifferent, Is Claim, Cancel Races

NEW YORK—Charging Paavo Nurmi with performing indifferently in his recent races, officials have cancelled the phantom Finn's scheduled appearance at the Metropolitan A. A. U. indoor championship on Feb. 20, and substituted a walking event in which Ugo Frigerio Olympic champion will star.

point Anderson went in for Brooks and Barwig replaced Tangen, who had gone in a few minutes before to relieve Barwig.

Game Becomes Rough

Ballard tossed in a long shot and brought the score to 12-6, when the half ended.

Gant made two free throws, on fouls by Barnum and Barwig. Merkel who had replaced Anderson, missed a double free throw. The game was becoming exceedingly rough and a foul was called on Diebold. Teterman made the throw, and soon after another Wisconsin foul saw another free throw added. The score at this point was 16-8.

Gant came tearing down the floor and let loose a long shot which went through the hoop with a swish. Harget made a free throw; Friddle made a free throw; Merkel made a long shot, followed by another long one by Barnum. The outlook was promising, the score standing 19-11, but the Franklin five speeded up and soon registered another free throw, and three field goals by Teterman.

The line-up and score follows:
WISCONSIN (11) FG FT F
Harget r. f.0 1 1
Varney r. f.1 0 2
Barnum l. f.1 1 2
Brooks c.1 1 2
Merkel c.1 0 1

MANY RUMORS AS TO GRID MENTOR

Nothing Definite Yet; Brader, Former Badger Star, Considered For Job

Since the resignation of Jack Ryan, gridiron mentor at Wisconsin for the past two years, rumors are flying thick and fast as to who will take charge of the Badger football machine next fall.

Although the details will have to be settled at the next meeting of the athletic council, the statement with the most backing indicates that George Little, newly appointed athletic director, will assume the duties of head football coach when the moleskin warriors gather next September.

Brader Considered

Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, chairman of the athletic council, intimated yesterday that among men under consideration to assist Coach Little, was "Jimmy" Brader, former Wisconsin athlete of the first water,

Cage Jottings

During the first half of the game last night the Badger defense seemed to be much improved, but after the early stages of the second part, the defense cracked. Better luck against Iowa.

Speaking of luck. If there is such a thing Wisconsin did not have it with her. Time and again shots would roll around the ring and come out. It seemed that they just wouldn't go in.

Rumors have it that Rollie Williams, former Badger athlete, was in the stands scouting the game for Iowa. Anyway, it doesn't look like he learned much.

The Badgers are still weak in the tossing of free throws. In the first half, for example, of eight tries only two were made. While, on the other hand, Franklin made six out of 10 tries.

Anderson, a new man on the Wisconsin team, looked good. He is still crude and has not mastered Meanwell basketball. However, he seems to be easily on a par with the rest of the forwards. He should improve as the season progresses.

The long pases of Franklin were the only sure penetration of the Badger defense, but they penetrated a lot.

Diebold looked fine at guard. He seemed nearer to his old bang-up style of last year, last night, than he has at any time so far this season.

It's now.... "Send the Hawkeyes back to the tall corn with a thrashing." A little bad as far as agriculture goes, but anyway—Beat Iowa.

CHICAGO MAKES NEW RULE ON PROBATION

CHICAGO, Ill.—Following the new policy adopted by the University of Chicago administration in regard to the general scholastic avdents, the faculty of the College of Arts, Literature and Science voted last week that beginning at the end of the spring quarter, a student who has been in residence for three quarters or more should be placed on probation if his average as a whole falls below C.

FRESHMAN GROUP TO MEET ON THURSDAYS

During the second semester the freshman "Y" group will hold its meetings at 6 o'clock, Thursday nights in the Y. M. C. A. The first of these meetings will be held tonight. In the past the group has been holding weekly dinners with open discussions afterward, and it is the plan to continue this work. Officers of the group have requested all members to come to the meeting tonight, because plans for the semester are to be made.

who is now coaching on the Pacific coast.

If Brader is secured, he will come in the capacity of head line coach, and will have complete charge of the Badger forward wall. This will leave more time for Coach Little to work with the backfield candidates and develop a Wisconsin offense.

According to Professor Pyre, however, nothing definite can be decided until the first meeting of the athletic council this month at which time Coach Ryan's resignation will be acted upon and the matter of a football coach finally settled.

DAD CARDINAL'S LETTERS

TO "PROFESSOR" IVERSON

Dear Ivey: I saw that letter you got from "Ginsberg and company." I noted also the austere reference to your title "professor" at the heading of the letter. I'm glad to see you athletic people are coming into your own as far as public cognizance is concerned. But that dope in the letter about the representative coming to Madison to have you look over his line of swimming suits and bathing shoes for your hockey team looks fishy to me. In fact, it's chilling argument. "We can also supply you with a complete line of sun-shades," goes on the letter, "put up in your university colors. Try and be on hand the tenth and have some of those ten-for-a-quarter stogies you burn around the gym."

Yours,
DAD CARDINAL

TO CLARENCE BAROFKY

Dear Clarence: I note that you are returning to the university and will be eligible for football next fall if all goes well. Here's hoping you hit the books and will be eligible to play next fall. I have heard you run through and around 'em on the gridiron. Wisconsin needs you next fall.

Ever,
DAD CARDINAL

MR. RADIO MAN

Mr. W. H. A.: I've got a lot of friends around the country who are enthusiastic radio fans and who are also enthusiastic Wisconsin basketball followers. They can't come to see the games but they certainly do enjoy the WHA service in broadcasting the games. So tell 'em all the high lights as they race up and down the floor.

Sincerely,
DAD CARDINAL

TO THE SWIM RELAY TEAM

Dear Quartet: The Big Ten weekly says you hold the record so far this season in the swimming relay, with a time of 1:20. Good stuff! Wisconsin has always stood high in this event and I hope you can come through this year with a record also.

Faithfully,
DAD CARDINAL

Luther Memorial church will give a Valentine party at 7:30 o'clock on Friday evening. A charge of 25 cents will be made. Each guest is asked to bring a valentine.

Little to Witness First Badger Game As Athletic Head

George Little will see his first athletic contest as a Wisconsin supporter Saturday afternoon. At this time he will attend the Wisconsin-Minnesota hockey game. Little is an ardent supporter of the puck sport, and it has been through his efforts that it has gained a firm place on the Michigan campus. If it had not been for him the sport would have been dropped this season, but instead it has been increasing in popularity. At this game, Wisconsin will have their first opportunity to show Little that they are behind him, and this can be best shown by a large turnout to this minor sport contest.

Barofsky, Orcutt, Gridders, Are Back in the University

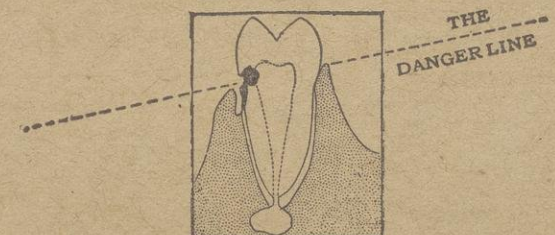

The Wisconsin football team for 1925 has been supplemented by the return of two promising men to school. Barofsky and Orcutt are the two players who have returned.

Orcutt, who is enrolled in the College of Agriculture, was on the freshman squad at Illinois in 1922, and on the Badger squad part time in 1924.

Barofsky, captain of the 1927 freshman team, is one of the fastest backs that have ever come here in years. He ran afoul of scholastic difficulties last year, and dropped out. Reports were that he had entered Carroll college, but these proved to be untrue, and he will be eligible for competition next fall if his studies come out all right.

GOPHER RIFLE CAPTAIN NO LONGER INELIGIBLE

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Feb. 10.—With the return of Capt. Herman Beseler, whose ineligibility was removed last week, to the squad, Minnesota's rifle team has been considerably strengthened. Last year's Hearst Trophy winners have already a record of 12 victories and no defeats to their credit this year.

What THE DANGER LINE means to you

If you will look in a mirror, you will see a tiny V-shaped crevice around each tooth where it joins the gums. This is The Danger Line. Food particles lodge there and ferment, forming acids which lead to Acid Decay. The gums also suffer from the effect of these acids, becoming irritated and sore—perhaps receding from the teeth. Then you have conditions favorable to Pyorrhea.

Serious diseases often result from infection due to Acid Decay at The Danger Line. Heart and kidney trouble and rheumatism are among them.

Make The Danger Line safe

Squibb's Dental Cream, because it is made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, protects against Acid Decay, relieves conditions favorable to Pyorrhea, cleans and polishes beautifully and protects for hours after use. For Milk of Magnesia has long been recognized throughout the dental profession as a safe, scientific means of counteracting acids dangerous to the teeth and gums.

Buy Squibb's Dental Cream, made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia—today. It is delightful to use. It is free from abrasives and injurious astringents. It makes The Danger Line safe.

STANDARDS

One of the most interesting fields for present-day investigation—and speculation—is the proportionate influence of heredity and environment in the making of a man. It should be of peculiar interest to those in any way connected with a university, for the transition of young men and women from home to university life presents a strikingly sharp change of environment at a time when habits and points of view, at least, are still quite plastic. The average student is transferred from a state of almost complete dependence of action to a state bordering on complete independence; from the association with and paramount influence of mature persons to the habitual society of those of his own age. Strange indeed how his habits of life, his mental habits, his standards of right and wrong are modified and changed.

Take, for example, the question of drinking. Many freshmen come here from homes where they have been taught to look upon drinking as an intolerable and inexcusable vice, even a sin. At first they feel that they care to have nothing to do with those who drink. But they find that the vast majority of their associates are quite tolerant, even looking upon drinking as an accomplishment; the leaders, the "big men", generally drink on occasion. By the time the freshman is a sophomore the standard molded by the example and precept of the parent is gone; the man who drinks does not suffer in his estimation, perhaps he even drinks himself.

Granting for the sake of the argument that drinking is a vice, how ought we to look upon this change? Shall we say that the freshman has now learned the great lesson of tolerance; that he is well on the road to culture, since he has become "broad-minded."

There are three so-called pithy phrases (of which the very pith is poison) which we have come to consider as describing essential attributes of the truly educated man. These are: "tolerance," "broad-mindedness" and the "happy medium." Shall we be tolerant of evil so that it may breed more evil? Shall our minds be so broad that we shall not exclude the superficial, the petty things of life? Shall we strive for the "happy medium" which cannot be more nor less than a compromise and which cannot be other than a mixture of good and of evil?

A good many years ago there was a people known as the Romans. They lived in a little plain about the size of a Wisconsin county which was known as Latium. They possessed the virtues of fortitude, courage, temperance, and faith. Their character won for them the dominion of the whole Mediterranean world. But in the process of expansion their culture was spread out over such an area that it became only a veneer. They decided that they were not really cultured at all; they must become broad-minded and take from the peoples whom they conquered. And so they proceeded to assimilate the arts and the sciences of Greece and of the Orient, but unfortunately they had become so broad-minded that they also assimilated all the vices of these peoples. Roman character took new standards. The Roman Empire collapsed and the world suffered.

When young men and young women are thrown together as closely as they are in a university, and more particularly in the smaller groups with which a university is infested, the inevitable tendency is toward standardization and conventionality. Those entering a group with higher standards than the average, probably have their standards raised, but unfortunately the converse is also true. If a man has a standard that he knows is the right one, he would do much better to endeavor to induce the majority to accept his standard than to take the easier road of accepting theirs.

TELEPATHY SEEMS TO WORK

The recent tests of mental telepathy held in England carry more conviction with them than any previous attempts, and, strange to say, registered the highest percentage of success thus far. These tests were conducted by no less personages than Earl Balfour and Sir Gilbert Murray, at the home of Earl Balfour's brother, the Right Hon. Gerald Balfour. Three ample rooms were used. In the first the "committee", composed of Earl Balfour, his brother, and other notables, sat and deliberated. The next room, measuring 36 feet long, was empty and shut up. The third was reserved for Sir Gilbert Murray, who occupied it alone. Between the rooms there was no communication of any sort; so the isolation of Sir Gilbert Murray was as complete as architecture will allow.

One of the persons in the first room was deputed to think of some subject and make it known to the others on the jury. All the necessary conversation was carried on in a low tone and could not have been heard by Sir Gilbert Murray. After the topic had been selected, Sir Gilbert was summoned. In the first three tests he failed to arrive at the subject at all. In the next seven tests, however, he registered five complete successes, an unusually high average according to psychists.

As can be seen by the very simple preparations and the total lack of apparatus of any kind, these tests differ greatly from the spiritualistic seance. It was in reality a parlor game without the preliminary questions, "Is it vegetable, animal, or mineral?" There was no attempt of any kind to produce emotion of any sort in any of the minds of those taking part in the proceedings. There was no singing of hymns, no prolonged silences, no darkness, no closed cabinets, no foghorns, no slates, no linking of hands; in short the usual devices employed at a spiritualist seance were conspicuous by their absence.

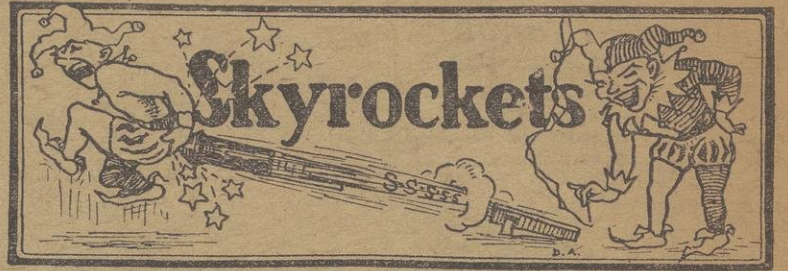

What was proved at Gerald Balfour's house was one simple proposition, namely, that the thought of one person can be carried to another wholly independent of sight, touch, or hearing. There was no communication, attempted or achieved, with the dead. All that was done was that Sir Gilbert Murray was able to read the thought of a living person accurately.

Although this is not New Years, it wouldn't be a bad idea to make a few resolutions, if you can keep them, to study a bit harder and more diligently for the course that you thought you were going to get an Ex from last semester. Perhaps a late report or a low grade was the only thing that kept you from getting the coveted extra three grade points, and there is no telling when they might come in handy. Let's try it, anyway.

The return of freezing weather tonight, after a few spring-like days, will again put the hockey rink in shape so that Coach Iverson's squad can get out and do their stuff.

The Madison fire department quite redeemed itself Tuesday night. But the telephone service did not show up very well when it took more than a minute to get central in order to turn in the alarm.

Again the sororities are off in a cloud of hair-pulling now that their rushing season is once more underway.

AYE, THERE, MY GOOD MR. IVERSON, VERILY, SO FAIR AND FOUL A DAY I HAVE NOT SEEN.

HOT HOUSE HASH

The last post-prom festival was held at the Beta house shortly after the witching hour yesterday. Members of the fire department were in attendance, and several bluecoats acted as ushers. With the brightening of the sleepy gloom into a ruddy dawn before the advance of the flames, several alarm clocks, faithful as old watch dogs, began their doze-annihilating clamor. Several prominent Betas are with us yet as a result thereof.

Prominent features of the night's performance were Russ Coleman's daring dash for freedom, bearing one coveted silver cup; Ken Gardner's shapely form ensconced in a pretty pajamalike creation done in blue and black polka dots; Jimmy Sutton, chairman of the building committee, emerging from the nethermost wilds of dreamland, clad in red flannels and escorting to safety the insurance policy; Hal Benson's manly rescue of the house canary bird despite his white nightie slit to the knees (that is, Hal's nightie, not the bird's); a fantastic, terrifying hulk in the dark as a bear-skin coat exited, immediately surrounding the person of one Wab-bles Barnett.

The event was witnessed by the entire population of the Red Mill, Gath Inn, Grady's, Cochrane's, McDonald's and the Delta Gammas. The Pi Phis and the Prom queen, still dotting on the Prom to Keep in Mind, arrived after the climax had passed. Our sleuth reports that the Delts, on hearing the engines roar up, scurried to the cellar for safety. Yet, it wasn't as bad as it might have been. Suppose a Beta pin had been lost in the fire!

A SCOOP

At last, endlich, am ende!—and Skyrockets made the scoop! Watson, the diary of the Immortals, quick! Carl Russell Fish this date boldly, open-facedly (literally and figuratively) and publicly admitted to a hall full of students that he repeats one of his jokes every year. Who'da thunk it?

Just the same, we must opine that the Prof knew his tapioeca when he declared that in ye goode olde days on the frontier all a lawyer needed was a law book and two or three pistols. History is still repeating itself in this regard, only the holding up has become a little more genteel.

"IZZY HERE?" ASKED ABIE AS HE STUCK HIS HEAD IN THE PAWNSHOP DOOR.

Glancing about the rather destitute looking classroom and searching in vain for visages that formerly were a part thereof, we are reminded of the pre-exam announcement in the Deet that time tables were available at Bascom hall. Evidently time tables were also available at the Northwestern depot. C'est dommage!

HE'S A REGULAR RIP

We notice by the press that Alderson Fry, 20 years old, a student of Marshall college at Huntington, W. Va., is puzzling physicians by getting along on an average of 90 minutes sleep a day. Well, rock us to sleep! we've been living at such a rooming-house for over a year!

If present indications materialize I wonder if one could really say that our football team will get little coaching next season?

With the Alumni

Dr. Dennis A. D. P. Dennis, for many years on the faculty, was awarded the peer prize by the American Historical association for his recent book, "Foreign Policies of Soviet Russia".

Lieut. W. T. Hopkins '13, supply officer of the U. S. S. Peary, is with the United States naval forces that have been on guard with those of other countries off the coast of China.

Wayne Morse '23, now of the University of Minnesota faculty, is coaching his first intercollegiate team for women in the history of that university.

Dorothy Guernsey '20 is in the publicity department of the Universal Pictures corporation, New York City.

Kenneth Fearing '24 is now on the staff of "Life" magazine in New York City.

More than 100 graduates attended the Wisconsin alumni dinner at La-Crosses on February 7. Bessie Bell Hutchison, M.A. '09, is president of the association as well as a teacher.

Irene Davis '24 has recently become assistant editor of the Toledo Chronicle-Democrat, Toledo, Iowa.

Reader's Say So

A COMPLAINT AGAINST THE PRESS

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

The function of a daily newspaper is, supposedly, to get the news quickly and truthfully before the people in a readable form. Unfortunately many papers including those of Madison, seem to leave out the word "truthfully." In other words, they will not spoil a good story for the sake of accuracy. The unfortunate thing about this is the fact that, due to the too easy influence of "mob spirit," the newspapers are able to, and do, exert a very great influence on public opinion. If the editors of local papers know this, as they surely must, why do they not exercise a little more judgment in printing things as news?

The most recent outrage is the report of Judge Stolen's talk to a small group of men. Judge Stolen publicly states that he made no statements which need to be retracted, and no doubt he is right. He is rather to be praised for trying to open people's minds to the truth. The newspapers, however, garbled his statements in such a way that either he, or the city of Madison and the university is necessarily given a black eye. Furthermore, the press has not righted the wrong they have done, and undoubtedly will never do so.

The impressions created in the minds of the many readers outside the city by those bold headlines, cannot be erased by printing the true story later, in small print. This they have done, but I venture to say many people have not yet gotten the story straight.

The Judge Stolen controversy is only the last of many similar gross injustices perpetrated by the Madison papers. No one can estimate the damage done to a man's reputation, by a false statement that he has been asked to resign; yet this very trick was played on Jack

WORLD of SOCIETY

Saturday Parties to Be Dominated By St. Valentine

Few organizations have taken advantage of the unusual opportunities in decoration which St. Valentine offers for the week end. Perhaps this is due to the general feeling that enough meddling with hearts was accomplished during Prom. Then again it might be due to the general depression which always follows our annual ball. Who knows?

Chadbourne Hall

A Valentine costume party will be given at Chadbourne hall on Saturday evening. Miss A. Isabelle Hunt and Prof. and Mrs. Barnum will chaperon.

U. S. German Trade Pact Wins In Senate

WASHINGTON — The German commercial treaty has been ratified by the senate after objections were removed by attaching a reservation placing in the hands of congress authority to abrogate the section preventing discrimination by either nation in favor of its shipping through tariff duties.

Under the treaty congress is given authority to put into force preferential tariff duties in favor of American shipping at any time within one year after exchange of ratifications. Ratification was without a record vote.

Mrs. Brooks Has New Bill For Fishing Law

Hook and line fishing would be permitted one day earlier each year under the bill which Mrs. Helen Brooks, assemblywoman from Coloma, has in the legislature. The closed season for such fishing would be from March 1 to May 29 instead of March 1 to June 1, as at present. The proposed new date has been erroneously reported as June 29.

Mrs. Brooks explained that the bill was intended to permit hook and line fishing by Memorial day picnickers at Wisconsin pleasure resorts.

Rosamond A. Rosen Becomes Bride of D. Chudnow Ex-'25

Announcement has been received of the marriage of Rosamond Rosen, Los Angeles, California, to David Chudnow ex-'25 on Feb. 8 at the home of the bride. Mrs. Chudnow is a former Denver girl and attended Denver university. Mr. Chudnow attended the university. He is a member of Phi Sigma Delta and of Haresfoot club. He is also the composer of the 1923 Prom foxtrot. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Chudnow left for a short wedding trip through northern California. After March 1 they will be at home to their friends at Long Beach, Cal.

Y. W. C. A. Plans to Organize More Discussion Groups

As a result of the increased demand for discussion groups, especially among upperclass women, new bible groups will be organized in addition to those that were started last semester under the supervision of the Y. W. C. A.

These six clubs with their membership of about 50 met weekly, each at a different hour and day to accommodate all women. Current social and religious problems were discussed, but the study was based primarily on the book, "Jesus in the Records," by Dr. Sharman.

Work will continue in the groups established where it was stopped last semester, but those wishing to join now, beginning discussions will be taken up at 3:30 o'clock on Monday and Tuesday afternoons under the supervision of Mary Haven '26 and Julia Pete '26.

Those women interested may see Miss Anderson at the Y. W. C. A. office or communicate with Miss Pete.

Badger Grad Makes $3,000 Addition to Student Loan Fund

Kemper K. Knapp '79 has just given $3,000 as an addition to the $5,000 student loan fund which he donated and established in 1923 for the university.

From the first donation 168 loans were made aggregating $8,025 and averaging $47.65 per loan. Approximately 85 return payments have been made, and $99.71 has been collected as interest.

Mr. Knapp is a member of the law firm in Chicago of Knapp and Campbell. In a trip here last summer he informed M. E. McCaffrey, secretary of the university, that if the students needed any more financial help he would be ready to offer it.

Change In Season For Deer Hunting Asked

The deer hunting season would be changed from Nov. 13-22 to "eight days commencing the first Monday in December in even years" under a bill offered in the assembly by Henry Ellenbecker of Wausau.

Amendment of the fish and game laws is provided in a bill by Assemblyman Pahl. It would limit the sale of perishable game by the conservation commission to residents of Wisconsin only and would require that the money thus derived be turned into the state treasury rather than handed to a court to await disposal.

$5,000 For Mother of Target Victim Asked

An appropriation of $5,000 would be made to Mary Abrahams under a measure offered by Assemblyman John C. Thompson of Oshkosh for the death of her minor son, who was killed in target practice while he was a member of the national guard, on May 15, 1921. The son was a member of Co. B, 127th Infantry.

SENATOR HARRISON WILL SPEAK HERE

Forensic Board Secures Key- note Speaker of Democratic Convention For Talk

Senator Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, the man who gave the keynote speech at the last Democratic nominating convention, will speak on the political situation at 8 o'clock, February 24, at the men's gymnasium.

Senator Harrison is the second speaker of a series that is being brought to Madison by the Forensic board. Tickets will sell for 50 cents and can be purchased starting Monday, February 16, at Bascom hall and at Hook Brothers store.

"We have secured Senator Harrison as our next speaker because he is a great orator, one of the best in the Democratic party; the best, because he was chosen to give the keynote speech at the Democratic convention," stated Harold Sporer '26, president of Forensic board.

Theodore Roosevelt, Jr. will speak under the auspices of the Forensic board some time in April.

Before that time the board is working with the Intercollegiate debates and the Northern Oratorical league. Wisconsin will debate Northwestern here and Minnesota at Minneapolis on March 13. On March 20 the team will debate with Michigan at Ann Arbor and Illinois here.

The Northern Oratorical league will be held this year at Northwestern. Next year it will be here. To the league is sent a representative from each college in the conference.

De Martino Fails to Appear; Sought On Double Charge

Salvatore Di Martino, recently acquitted of the charge of murdering Herbert Dreger, Madison police officer, has disappeared.

The Madison police have been looking for Di Martino since Saturday but efforts to locate him in Little Sicily have been unavailing. It is believed that he has left the city.

Following his acquittal at Baraboo, Di Martino was served with a warrant charging false swearing in obtaining a hunting license. He gave $1,000 bail for appearance on this charge. Later another warrant, alleging the carrying of concealed weapons was issued and served on Di Martino. The warrant was served and Di Martino promised to be in court the next day—last Saturday. He has not been seen since the warrant was served.

Police have been looking for Di Martino since Saturday but have been unable to find him.

If You Would be Mean to Her, Don't Send Teasing Valentine

Don't send your girl a humorous teasing valentine if you want to be mean to her is the advice of Professor Jastrow, of the psychology department, for according to the statements of famous psychologists, teasing is merely a form of loving.

"The human trait which causes the sending of valentines is sentiment. The race as a whole lacks occasions to express sentiment and so we find that even adults indulge in the sending of valentines although it is a custom which primarily belongs to children," Professor Jastrow commented.

Madison vendors state that the most popular valentine this year is not the "teasing" type but the family valentine to the mother, brother, sister or father. Three years ago they say that every one sent funny valentines bearing more or less coarse jokes. The braying donkey with a heart in his mouth and a short line of doggerel verse brought more ready sales than the prettiest handpainted lace-edged valentine in stock.

Once more the aisles of the art gift shops are packed with Dan Cupid's disciples, for only two more days remain until Valentine's day. Windows are full of the traditional heart-shaped red candy boxes and the florists are preparing for the day.

Although the campus sheiks hesitate between the candy stores and the florists' shops there is no debating between the lacy loveliness, the heart stirring sentiment, and the comic strip folder now that valentines are waxing sentimental again.

State Assembly Votes To Adjourn On May 15

The assembly Tuesday took two steps designed to shorten the legislature's session. It adopted, 73 to 15, a resolution offered by Anton Holly, Ke-waunee, for sessions every day except Sundays and holidays and the first week-end of each month. The Caldwell resolution for sine die adjournment May 15 then was adopted, 51 to 35.

FACULTY WRITERS PUBLISH WORKS

Thirty-four Studies in Lan- guage Literature, History and Science Issued

Members of the university faculty have issued 34 publications on research in three types of study, language and literature, social science and history, and science. The publication of the series was started in 1918.

In the past two years, 11 publications on language and literature have been issued. They are "British criticism of American writings, 1815-1833—A contribution to the study of Anglo-American literary relationships," by Prof. William B. Cairns, English department; "Classical studies—Series No. 2," by members of the classics department; "A bibliography of German literature in English translation," by Prof. Bayard Q. Morgan, German department; "William Wordsworth—His doctrine and art in their historical relations," by Prof. Arthur Beatty, English department; "Studies by members of the department of English, series No. 2," and "The first quarto editions of Shakespeare's Romeo and Juliet," by Prof. Frank G. Hubbard, English department.

In the social science and history series, the recent studies are, "A large estate in Egypt in the third century B. C.—a study in economic history," by Prof. Michael Rostavtzeff; "The Distichs of Cato—Translated from the Latin with introductory sketch," by Prof. Waylord Chase; "Standard tests as aids in school supervision," by Prof. Frank L. Clapp, education; "The Greek literary texts from Greco-Roman Egypt," Charles H. Oldfather; "Changes in the size of the American families in one generation," Ray E. Baker and Prof. E. A. Ross, sociology.

Some ten studies by the romance language department, and one in English are now in preparation.

Ford Co. to Have Own Fleet For Use in Shipping Parts

DETROIT—The Ford Motor Co. will enter trans-Atlantic shipping, operating its own fleet for carrying manufactured automobile parts to the company's foreign plants, it was announced today by Edsel B. Ford, president. The Ford Co. has purchased the steamer East Indian from the emergency fleet corporation as the first large unit in the proposed foreign service fleet.

The Ford Co. already is operating in the South American and coastal trade with two small ships, the steamers Oneida and Onondaga. These steamers "were put into this service on a rather experimental basis" Mr. Ford's announcement said, "and have proven the feasibility of extending our own shipping service to Europe."

SCRIBES VIE FOR "STRING" HONORS

Sophomore Journalists Average 91.7 Inches Per Copy

Little linotype slugs, each one carrying a line of type telling news stories of everyday life—myriads of these slugs placed side by side and extending for two blocks! One continuous column of news extending over 789 feet!

That is the amount of news matter published in the local papers and written by the students in the sophomore Course in Journalism during the past semester. Each member of the class kept a "weather eye" open for printed articles which he had written, clipped such articles, and pasted them in some sort of album to constitute the "string."

At the close of the semester 103 such "string books" were handed in by the sophomore scribes. When measured with a foot rule, not counting headlines and illustrations, the "strings" aggregated 9,454 column inches, or 472.7 columns of news matted. This is an average of 91.7 inches per student.

Three students turned in "strings" of over 400 inches. Rubin Levin '26, part-time reporter for The Capital Times, was credited with 854 inches, Elmer Beth '27, wrote 658 inches, and Stanley Kalish had clipped 409 inches.

Those who secured over 200 inches were Bernard Goodkind '27, 362; Esther Hawley '27, 243; Clarence Schlaver '27, 243; Ruth Carlberg '27, 206. Twenty-four members of the class succeeded in making records above the average.

Teachers Come to City For Annual Two Day Meeting

Central high school will be the headquarters for the annual convention of the Southern Wisconsin teachers' convention, Friday and Saturday. Approximately 1,000 teachers are expected.

Among the speakers are Prof. John F. Sinclair, of the University of Minnesota; E. G. Doudna, secretary of the state association; President Franklin D. Baker, of Milwaukee Normal, and Dr. Julius Braas, of Saint Olaf's college.

Francis G. Blair, Illinois state superintendent and Jessie H. White, Pittsburg psychologist, will speak at the Saturday morning meetings. An all-conference luncheon is being planned for Friday noon at which Prof. E. H. Gardner will speak.

Among the Madison and university people who are in charge of committees are Mrs. S. A. Leonard, Eleanor Weisman, T. W. Gosling, C. R. Ellis, Helen Mathias, Ellen Hillstrom, Beatrice Perham.

Dr. Hart Will Give Lecture Here Next Monday Afternoon

Mr. Joseph K. Hart, educator and journalist, will deliver a lecture on "The Discovery of Intelligence," at 4:30 o'clock next Monday afternoon in 165 Bascom Hall. The lecture is under the auspices of the Department of Education.

Mr. Hart has been much in demand as a lecturer throughout the country. He was formerly professor of education at the University of Washington and at Reed College. Since 1920 he has been departmental editor of the Survey and lecturer in the New School of Social Research.

He is the author of several well-known books on education and educational methods, among them being "A Critical Study of Current Theories of Moral Education," "Democracy in Education" and "The Discovery of Intelligence," which is a fascinating account of the history of education and educational ideas.

MILWAUKEE JOURNAL IS SPONSORING CONTEST

Prizes amounting to $50 have been offered by the Milwaukee Journal for the best feature stories about Wisconsin men and women, which can be written by any regularly enrolled student in a Wisconsin college, university, academy or normal school.

The first prize is $25, the second $15, and the third $10. These will be awarded April 10.

It is requested that portraits or pictures of the persons selected as subjects be submitted with the stories. The characters must be living, residents or natives of the state, or closely connected with its history or development.

DR. BALDWIN TO SPEAK TO HILLEL FOUNDATION

Doctor Baldwin, professor of English in Illinois university, and author of "Our Modern Debt to Israel," will speak at 7:30 o'clock Sunday at Hillel Foundation, on "A New Remedy for the World's Ailments."

Although not a Jew, Doctor Baldwin did more than any other individual in the establishment of the Hillel foundation of Illinois. Through his series of articles in the English Jewish press throughout the country and his speech before the Chicago federation of synagogues, the Illinois foundation was established.

Professor O'Shea Writes Customary Faculty Number For Issue

Purple and orange will color the cover of the Literary magazine which is to appear February 2. This issue of the Lit will portray local color in several of its aspects, and in accordance with its policy will feature an article by a member of the faculty, the editors announce.

"What Should a College Student Derive from His Course?" is answered by Prof. M. V. O'Shea, who has had many years of personal and professional contact with college student. He colors his article with incidents local in experience.

The plot of "Copy Desk Sonata," a short story by Mary Elisabeth Hussong '25, intertwines its threads with the romance and tradition of South hall. College life in a lighter and more humorous vein is pictured in "A Study in Landladies," by Mackenzie Ward '27.

"Between the Covers" throws light on two modern books that are the objects of discussion, "Distressing Dialogues," by Nanck Boyd, the nom de plume of Edna St. Vincent Mallay, and "Humpty Dumpty" by Ben Hecht.

A bit of poetry is the parody on some of Edgar Lee Master's poetry by Jessie Gruner entitled "Those Who Sing," "Canyon Mood" by Paula Otten '25, and "An Emigrant Mother" by Marya Zaturenska are to appear with the poetry.

"La Jeunesse Perdue," a short story by Violet R. Martin '26, completes the table of contents.

"In this month's editorial we will endeavor to present a psycho-analysis of ourselves," said John Weimer '25, the editor.
