UNIVERSITY BANDS TO GIVE CONCERTS SATURDAY NIGHT

Major E. W. Murphy Consents to Play for Venetian Day
Festivities

Both the first and second university bands, numbering in all 150 men, will play for Venetian Night next Saturday, as a result of permission obtained from Major E. W. Murphy yesterday. "Mac" Simkins '26 is chairman of the committee planning the entertainment for the day and night events.

The players, according to Simkins will be placed on top a platform on the university boat house where adequate lighting facilities will be provided for them. They will play from 7:15 to 8:30 o'clock that evening.

Events planned by Simkins during the morning include life saving stunts at 11 o'clock which will be in charge of Simkins '26 Stanley Wheatley' De Longe '27. At 11 o'clock the junior varsity crew will race the St. John's crew over the regular course.

Dolphins Plan Events

This year members of the Dolphin club plan to take an important part in the events of the evening. With Bernice Marion '27 in charge, a surf board riding stunt will be shown as well as a double stunt with Miss Marian and Simkins. Spotlights will be playing on the board from the back of the towing launch. Twelve members of the Dolphin club will put on a "Wheel" stunt in the water. The exact nature of the stunt will not be disclosed at this time, though the swimmers will wear special swimming suits which will appear illuminated in the water.

To Have Fine Dive

Some of the other events on the evening's program, the nature of which will be divulged later, include the "Slide for Life," the "Tragedy of the Good Ship Rye," fancy and fire dives by Bernice Marian, Erwin Gerber '25 and Stanley Wheatley '27 will also be staged.

The committee has also been trying to procure the services of Strubly Krueger, known as the comedy king of aquatana, for the evening. The other members of the committee who have been working with Simkins are James Flickinger '26, Stanley Wheatley '27, Carl W. Buehler '28, and Bernice Marion '27.

ZONA GALE TO SPEAK AT HILLEL FOUNDATION

Zona Gale, authoress and university regent, will speak at an observance of International good will day to be held at 8 o'clock Monday in the Hillel foundation rooms. The Madison section, council of Jewish women, is sponsoring the observance, which is backed by many national women's organizations.

Dean Goodnight is Main Speaker for Women's Banquet

Dean Scott Goodnight will be the principal speaker at the Red Gauntlet banquet at 6 o'clock Tuesday evening in the Women's building.

Margaret Campbell '25 will speak for the senior women and Dorothy Atkinson '27 will give the reply for the sophomores. Eulalie Beffel '27, president of Red Gauntlet, will preside.

Nominations for officers of Yellow Tassel will be made, and the Senior Swingout song practised. Tickets are on sale in the W. S. G. A. office, and can also be obtained from Bernice Winchell '27 and Eulalie Beffel '27.

Baseball Team Humbles Purple 9-0, as Trackmen Win Quadrangular Easily

George Stoll, Badgers' Hurling Ace, Gets 15 Strikeouts
Against Northwestern

By DENNY

A fighting Badger nine drubbed the Northwestern squad yesterday afternoon at Camp Randall by a 9-0 count. It seems as though Lowman's men are at their best in the rain. Last week they romped over the Wolverines by a large score when the skies were weeping, and again yesterday they played bang-up ball under adverse weather conditions.

At no time were the Purple able to threaten the Cardinal pastime. The wet field and slippery ball seemed to have a different effect on the Northwestern team than it had on the Badgers. Nine errors were chalked up against the Kent men.

To George Stoll goes a great deal of the credit for the shut out of Northwestern. Pitching superb ball, the big twirler held the opposition to three scattered hits and at the same time retired 15 men by the strike out route. The Purple men could not fathom his offerings. Not a man was given a walk on balls, Stoll's only break being that he hit one man in the fifth frame.

PICTURES OF MOTHER ARE USED AS POSTERS

The picture which was used throughout the nation as a symbol for mother's day is being used here on the posters for the mother's reception of the University to be held May 29, 30, and 31. The posters which are now up are oil paintings done by Phil M. Franzen, the University painter at the University service shop. They are copies of Whistler's "Mother." Mr. Franzen has used this picture, which symbolizes all motherhood, as the sole decoration of all the posters to be put up.

SPRING ELECTION INTERESTS MANY

Spirited Voting Caused by Antagonism to Publications Board Issue

The spring election, usually colorless in former years because of lack of student interest, came to the front this year with some spirited voting, especially in connection with the referendum on the adoption of the publications board as proposed by the student senate. The referendum was rejected 912 to 238.

The closest competition appeared in the elections to the Forensic board, more candidates appearing for this office than for any other. John D. Sumner '26 and Arthur H. Nickel '26 were elected. Nickel had only six more votes than his nearest opponent, Earl R. Bell '26. The candidates for the other offices had either a comfortable plurality or a majority. Successful candidates in the election will take positions on the boards at once, but will not become active until next fall.

More votes were cast in the Engineering building than in any other building on the campus, according to William J. Taylor '26, chairman of the elections committee. Approximately 375 votes were cast by the engineers, while about 350 votes each were cast in Sterling hall and in the Biology building.

The large vote of the engineers was due to the agitation against the proposed publications board. During the day preceding the election, several members of the engineering faculty made short classroom speeches in opposition to the plan. Approximately 3,000 handbills, attacking the publications board, were distributed by the engineers.

Jones' Track Athletes Score
61 1/4 Points, Ohio Getting
Second With 51 1/4

CHICAGO, Ill., May 16, (Special) Badger athletes, led by Schwarze with two firsts and a fourth, swam, stumbled and floundered their way to a decisive victory in the annual quadrangular track meet today on the wettest track ever seen by local fans.

With a score of 61 1/4 points the Cardinal track men led Ohio, their nearest and most feared competitor, by a margin of 10 points, when the Buckeyes, doped to win the meet, piled up 51 1/4 points. Chicago with 30 1/4 and Northwestern with 22 1/4 the other two members of the league followed far in the rear.

Have Heavy Rain

A drizzle that had been falling all day changed to a cloudburst just as the meet was to start and delayed competition for two hours. When the meet was finally started the track was three fourths under water.

McAndrews and Schwarze were easily the stars of the meet. "Mac" garnered 13 points with firsts in the 100 and 220 and a second in the broad jump. His performance is especially gratifying as he has been in poor condition since the California trip and it was uncertain whether he would be in shape to perform up to his old standard or not.

Schwarze Stars

Schwarze took first in the shot and discus without any competition and placed fourth in the hammer. His throw in the shot, 48 feet

CANOE DATES AND PICNICS SPOILED BY COLD WAVE

The picnic and fishing ambition of hundreds will be ruined this Sunday, for according to the reports from the weather bureau a cold wave is headed for Madison. This wave is due to reach here Sunday night or Monday morning. The thermometer Saturday morning registered as low as 18 above zero in North Dakota, and the mercury was below the freezing point in western Minnesota and South Dakota. Cold winds and frost have damaged many tender buds and plants already. The winds are sweeping across the Dakota plains, and there will probably be frost Sunday night.

ERECT MANY LODGING HOUSES THIS SUMMER

Five fraternity houses, two sorority houses, a group house for girls, and a new fraternity lodge are being erected or contemplated for erection shortly. The fraternities to involve a cost of over $300,000, are Sigma Alpha Epsilon, Pi Kappa Alpha, Beta Theta Pi, Theta Chi, and Alpha Sigma Phi. Sigma Chi will soon have a new house on Lake street. Chi Omega sorority will move from North Henry street to Langdon street. Delta Delta Delta will build a new sorority house on Langdon street, while Villa Maria, group house for girls, will be erected on Howard place.

CANOES FOR VENETIAN NIGHT ALL RESERVED

Not only the 35 available canoes at the University boathouse have been reserved for Venetian night, but also the 52 canoes owned by the City boathouse. No more canoes can be obtained at the University boathouse, but the City boathouse is trying to get as many more canoes as it can. The number added to the present supply will be made known Thursday.

Alumni President Stops Work to Laud '25 Union Campaign

Before leaving for the quad track meet at Chicago this week end, John Bergstresser, senior class president received the following telegram from George I. Haight '99, president of the alumni association concerning the "Now Watch '25" campaign:

Kansas City, Mo.

John L. Bergstresser, Pres. '25.
225 Lake Lawn Place,
Madison, Wis.

Congratulations on actions of your class in support of Memorial Union stop Hope you can make it a million stop Memorial Union subject has always been of first importance to me stop Will look forward to reading of your success.

George I. Haight.

George I. Haight '99, president of the General Alumni association, is a Chicago lawyer and now is council in a suit of a group of oil companies against the Standard Oil at Kansas City, Mo. courts which $600,000,000 is said to be involved. Mr. Haight stopped his work to wire Bergstresser when he heard that the class of '25 was holding a Memorial Union campaign on May 25. He is a member of the Memorial Union Executive committee.

SENIOR ENGINEERS TO ATTEND SHOW

Classes Will be Dismissed for Midwest Power Show in Milwaukee

Senior mechanical engineers will be excused from classes Wednesday and Thursday that they may attend the Mid-West power show to be held in the Milwaukee Auditorium, May 18 to 21.

The power show, which is the largest of its kind ever held in the United States, will be held in conjunction with the annual conventions of the American Society of Mechanical engineers, the American Society of Refrigerating engineers, and the National Association of Stationary engineers.

Special exhibits to represent the College of Engineering at the power show are being prepared by Prof. J. R. Price, Prof. Benjamin Spieth, Prof. O. A. Hougen, L. H. Kessler, R. S. Phillips, J. F. Oesterle, and J. W. McNaul, according to Prof. G. L. Larson, chairman of the faculty research committee.

A number of technical papers that are to be presented before the national meeting of the mechanical engineers have been prepared by graduates of the university.

SENIORS ORGANIZE ACTIVE CAMPAIGN FOR UNION FUNDS

Members of the Class of 1925 Adopt "All for the Class" as Slogan

"All for the class" will be the watchword of seniors a week from tomorrow, May 25, when members of that class will lay aside everything and bend their efforts toward raising the greatest number of subscriptions to the Memorial Union possible.

This will be the second and last opportunity for members of the class of 1925 to make subscriptions to the union fund. On all university campaign was conducted in the fall of 1921 when the present seniors were freshmen, but no concerted effort to raise funds by classes was made at that time.

Activities, meals, sleep, recreation, and even classes will be a second consideration May 25 for the seniors when they wind up their campaign to enroll 100 per cent as life members of the union. All committeemen have pledged themselves to devote their entire time that day to seeing that every senior is listed as a subscriber.

Kissel, Fifield Direct

Under the leadership of Lester Kissel and Esther Fifield the workers will call upon every senior who is not already a life subscriber to the union and explain the plan of the union and the necessity for prompt action. All preliminaries for the campaign will have been arranged beforehand and that day will be devoted to completing the canvass of the class.

The mark set by the class of 1924 last year will be eclipsed if plans laid are carried out, according to seniors who are directing the campaign. The class of 1924 was the first to organize and direct its own Memorial union campaign. The present senior class is following hopes to increase the amount subscribed by the seniors of last year.

Record Subscribers

Records of the amounts subscribed by classes will be kept in the Union building when it is completed. The names of all paid up subscribers will be entered in the Domesday book which will be placed in the main lounging room of the Union.

ACTIVITIES END MAY 29; FEW EXCEPTIONS

Official notice has come from the office of the Dean of Men that no student commercial dances, or student activities will be authorized between May 24 and June 16. The following are excepted; May 29, the Dance drama, Senior Swing-Out, and Gridiron banquet; May 30, the president's review, Memorial exercises, Women's Field day, Mother's week-end banquet, and Dance drama. The W. A. A. banquet will be on June 2, and the baseball team will play two games, one against Ohio State June 4 and the other against Chicago June 6.

Octy Bursts Forth With More Colors Than Ever Tuesday

A five color cover in place of the customary three color front page will be used on the May Octopus, which will be on sale Tuesday. The cover was drawn by Sals Bostwick, Chicago Tribune artist.

The art work as well as the editorial copy in this issue has been carefully worked out. Drawings by Stuart Palmer '27, John Allcott '28, Ruth Allcott '25, Marge Peterson '27, and Don Abert '28 will be in this issue.

Donald Trenary '27 and Herbert Powell '27 have contributed several articles. Original jokes and humorous verse in great abundance will be a main part of the last Octy of the year.

Five cups which are to be awarded for the best and second best drawings, the best verse, the best original joke and the best article to be used in the Octy during the entire year are now on exhibition in Pete Burns' window.

BADGERS BEAT OHIO, WIN EASILY IN CHICAGO TRACK MEET

M'ANDREWS AND SCHWARZE STAR IN CHICAGO CLASH

"Herb" Wins in Shot-put and Discus With Little Competition

3½ inches, broke the record. The big boy had things all his own way in his two favorite events, the shot and discuss. At no time did any one come close to him.

McGinnis also proved that he is back to normal by taking first in the high jump with a pretty leap of 6 feet 3 inches. His victory over Russell, Maroon star, makes him three to one with his opponent as "Chuck" defeated Russell at the indoor and quad meets and at the indoor conference meet, while he bowed to defeat to his older opponent at Drake. McGinnis is another man who is back to his old form again after the long lay off.

Schutt and Valleye crashed through for their share of points in the mile by taking second and fourth respectively.

Yesterday's victory gives Wisconsin a clean sweep in the two years of quadrangular competition as the Badgers have won both indoor and outdoor meets for two years in succession. With the impetus gained from yesterday's victory, Coach Jones' men should carry on to a most successful season.

The summary follows:

High hurdles—Guthrie, O, first; Snyder, O, second; McGinnis, W, 15 3-5.

100 yd. dash—McAndrews (W) first; Irwin (O) second; Stackhouse (C) third; McKinney (C) fourth. Time 10 1-5.

Mile—Cusack (C) first; Schutt (W) second; Zaengelin (O) third; Valleye (W) fourth. Time 4:28 3-5.

Quarter—Martin (N) first; Kennedy (W) second; Spence (C) third; Russkowsky (O) fourth. Time 50 3-5.

220—McAndrews (W) first; Francis (W) second; Kernwein (C) third; Irwin (O) fourth. Time 23.

Two Mile—Kennedy (O) first; Bourke (C) second; Edgar (O) third; Perry (W) fourth. Time 9:50 2-5.

Low hurdles—Guthrie (O) first; Snyder (O) second; Canning (N) third; McGiveran (W) fourth. Time 25.

One mile-relay—(W) Flueck, Hill, Hilberts, Kennedy first; Northwestern second; Chicago third; Ohio fourth. Time 3:26 1-5.

Shot put—Schwarze (W) first; Murphy (O) second; Limberg (W) third; Scheid (C) fourth. Distance 48 feet 3½ inches. (New Chicago record).

HOUSING ATHLETES IMPORTANT DUTY OF ALL STUDENTS

Is One Way of Attracting Athletes Here, Sundt Says

The problem of housing the hundreds of high school track athletes who will begin swarming into Madison the latter part of this week is the most serious problem to be confronted in putting on the 31st state interscholastic track meet Saturday, according to Carl Klath, student chairman of the meet.

"The impression these high school men get of the university will be determined largely by the spirit De Longe, which the individual students of the university show in entertaining them," says Klath.

Guy Sundt, freshman coach, general manager of the meet, thinks that holding a meet like the one to be held at Camp Randall Saturday is the best way to advertise the university, and he urges complete student cooperation, in order to make the meet a success.

"If the fraternities don't cooperate with us in entertaining these men," says Sundt, "the men will go to some other school. When the Midway relays were being held here recently, high school men had to walk the streets for want of a lodging place."

"If Wisconsin is to get these star athletes, we will have to provide better entertainment for them. It is the duty of the individuals, as well as of the fraternities, to make these guests feel at home during their stay in Madison."

Fresh Trackmen Win Again In Gopher Telegraphic Meet

Score With Minnesota Almost Identical to Ames' Score

Warm weather and the determination to win brought two hard-fought victories to Meade Burke's freshman cinder team in two consecutive days. Ames was the first to succumb by the count 73 7-12 to 52 5-12, and Friday the Gopher State Green fell 72 1-2 to 53 1-2. As Ames beat Ohio who also were nearly tied by Minnesota, it indicates that another meet with the Ohio yearlings might end differently than the last.

First place honors were split with six for each Minnesota and Wisconsin and a tie in the pole vault. The losers took all points in the century. Altfilish, Minnesota, won both the 100 and 220, the former in the excellent time of 10 seconds flat.

Chapman Wins Again

Chapman, the prize of this year's squad, scored wins in the mile and two mile, both in time that would place in Big Ten meets.

Sappengeld, rapidly coming back into old time form, outleaped the field in the broad jump. Wisconsin placed three men in this event.

Hansen Is Winner

Hansen cleared the high sticks in 16 1-5 seconds which is much better time than was made in the Ohio meet.

Van Horn increased his javelin mark by two feet.

The results of the meet:

100 yd. dash—Altfilish, M.; Oshields, M., and Murrel, M. Time: 10 sec.

220 yd. dash—Altfilish, M.; Miller, W.; Stowe, W. Time: 23 1-5 sec.

440 yd. dash—Bennhagen, M.; Stowe, W.; Anderson, M. Time: 52 1-10.

880 yd. run—Bennhagen, M.; Parker, W.; Reeves, W. Time: 2:05.

"Not So Good" Is Sande's Remark On Golf Game

LOUISVILLE—Earle Sande, premier American jockey, is "not so good" at golf. He said so himself, as did Clyde Ponce, another pigskin artist. George Field said he was an "apprentice golfer" but added that he'd win at that.

The three jockeys deserted Churchill Downs during the racing yesterday afternoon and went to the Cherokee Park golf course, where they drove, approached and putted in winning form.

Sande said he began playing shortly before he was thrown from his mount and injured last fall. Since recovering he has played every opportunity his riding schedule would permit. He said his score was around the late nineties.

Mile—Chapman, W.; Wexman, M.; Hardy, W. Time: 4:30.

Two mile—Chapman, W.; Wexman, M.; Williamson, W. Time: 9:46 1-2.

High hurdles—Hansen, W.; Murphy, W.; Dellicker, W., and Krueger, M. Time: 16 1-5.

Low hurdles—Havestad, M.; Eisele, W.; Hansen, W. Time: 27 1-5.

High jump—Heckendorf, Barnes, and Deadman, all W. Height: 5 feet 10 inches.

Broad jump—Sappengeld, W.; Newton, W.; Abert, W., and Krueger, M. Distance: 21 feet 3 1-2 inches.

Pole vault—Crowley, M., and Lemmer, W.; Havestad, M., and Allbright, W. Height: 11 feet.

Shot—Drill, M.; Vallincourt, W.; Krueger, M. Distance: 42 feet.

Discus—Drill, M.; Miller, W.; Remley, W. Distance: 120 1-2 feet.

Javelin—Van Horn, W.; Kanalz, W.; McKinnon, M. Distance: 152 feet 5 inches.

WISCONSIN TRIMS PURPLE DIAMOND SQUAD AGAIN, 9-0

BADGERS WIN ON WET FIELD FROM KENT BALL MEN

Northwestern Gives Little Opposition to Lowman's Team

made up for this by leading the team in hitting with three hits. Larson added to his prestige by pounding out another circuit drive in the first frame. Steen hung up his first home run in the first inning also.

Considering the wet infield, the Badgers player airtight ball; the only errors recorded were against Tangen who had a little difficulty in locating the first base in his throws from third, but this is excusable on account of the obscurity of the sack, which was hidden beneath a layer of mud.

After retiring the Purple in short order in the first inning, the Badgers started the ball rolling proper by forcing four runs across the plate. Tangen flied out, but Ellingson reached first on a hot liner to be advanced by a bingle by Edwards. Then "Swede" Larson laid out his Homer to bring in three runs. To add further to the consternation of the Purple twirler, Steen, next up, cracked the first ball out of the lot for another run around the bases. Donagan reached first but died there when Barnum and Wieland flied out.

Seventh Is Lucky

The next three innings went by in fast order with neither side coming close to bringing in any runs. In the fifth, Donagan reached first on a walk and went home on a two bagger by Barnum. The sixth was uneventful for both teams.

Again the lucky seventh proved good for the Cardinal. All of the locals faced the Northwestern moundman in this inning with the result that four more runs were made by Wisconsin. Steen got on with a walk, Donagan grounded out, then Barnum poled out a three bagger that would have been a home run with a dry field. This hit brought in Steen. Wieland and Stoll each picked off a single bringing in Barnum and later they were able to score on Tangen's liner.

The rest of the game continued without further scoring in spite of the fact that Coach Kent sent in several pinch hitters.

A large crowd gathered at Randall field to see the Badgers triumph in spite of the fact that a heavy rain fell during the first four innings and cold winds blew during the rest of the game.

The box score is as follows:

Wisconsin—9 AB R H PO A E
Wisconsin—9 AB R H A E

DRIVE FOR NEW HOSPITAL SPEEDS

Methodist Hospital Goal
Now $300,000; Reach It
Next Week

With a second gift of $25,000 from W. D. Curtis, $5,000 from the Brittingham family, $5,000 from Henry H. Steensland, a total of $232,617 has been raised for the greater Methodist hospital campaign, whose city wide canvas closed at the final meeting of all the workers in the Y. M. C. A. last night. Ten days ago Mr. Curtis donated $25,000 toward the fund.

Not $250,000 but $300,000 has become the new slogan in the undertaking that will now be carried on by a special group of workers. A. Ivan Peltier, director of the campaign, proclaimed last night that the $300,000 will be attained early next week when a number of large gifts from Madison firms will have been received.

The gift by Mr. Curtis is to be used as the last $25,000 in the goal of $250,000. It was tendered to the local hospital through an arrangement with the National Methodist Board of Hospitals and Homes, by which the board will be permitted to use the memorial idea conceived by Rev. J. W. Irish; namely, a hospital erected in memory of the sons and daughters of Methodist ministers in America.

The $5,000 from the Brittingham family, raised through the women's division, is offered as a memorial to T. E. Brittingham, widely known lumberman of Madison.

The bequest of $5,000 from Henry H. Steensland was donated in memory of his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Halle Steensland.

The most enthusiastic meeting in the ten day drive, last night's gathering was devoted to a general expression of gratitude to all the workers, the leaders, the contributors, the reporters, the newspapers—all who made the hospital campaign, called the largest ever undertaken in Madison, a success.

Especial thanks were given to Mrs. E. B. Steensland, commander of the women's division, whose workers raised a greater sum ($6,812) than any other division in the campaign. This division, the "Battalion of Life," promised to raise a further $5,000 early next week.

The second largest sum was raised by the division of Oswald

Rickenbacker Smashes Inter City Road Mark

The following telegram was received by the local Rickenbacker agency:

"Rickenbacker six smashes another intercity road record, Denver to Kansas City, 636.4 miles, 16 hours 36 minutes, beating former record of 18 hours held by Wills St. Claire by 1 hour 24 minutes. Average, 41.35 miles per hour. Made six tire changes on road, picking up all nails in Kansas; stopped four tire shops, repaired six punctured tires. Roads in fair condition, strong wind for first 400 miles. First tire change before reaching city limits of Denver. One stop to replace hose water pump to motor. Time would have been below 15 hours if it had not had tough luck. Motor run like scared cat when not delayed with tires.—Cannon Ball Baker."

Gas Tax Nets State $250,000 During Month

Wisconsin's gasoline tax law yielded a quarter of a million dollars in the first month of its operation, with indications that more than 4,000,000 a year would be raised by it, Solomon Levitan, state treasurer, reported today.

Receipts for April reached $251,574.38, with some returns outstanding. The summer months are expected to virtually double receipts, Mr. Levitan said.

THE REFERENDUM DEFEATED

Aspiring senators are disappointed and many publication managers, especially the engineers, overjoyed at the outcome of the referendum in Friday's balloting.

In all probability the plan was not all black, as some interested students tried to make it out to be, nor was it any more all white, as the senators would have led us to suppose. It had its definite merits and its definite drawbacks. But the fact remains, that the publications which exist on the campus are not now to be shackled by a small board, composed of four students and three faculty members, that they are to travel the courses which they have been pursuing these many years.

The student senate made a valiant effort to come out of the spiritual decadence and stagnation in which it has been wallowing for some time and it failed to make its voice heard. It realized, as did the student body, that it is not a powerful functioning body. Now it must look elsewhere for a medium through which to assert its power lest it fall into the grave which the Inter-Fraternity council barely escaped this year.

One of the significant facts in connection with Friday's vote is that only 1,145 students took advantage of the opportunity to voice their opinions. It is well understood that a referendum which changes the charter of the Daily Cardinal, a student corporation, as this referendum would have done, must be voted on by at least one half of the students before it can be passed, which mean approximately 3,500. It appears, therefore, that the charter will never be changed unless students take more interest in their concerns of this kind.

To go back to the publications board proposal, to those who are interested in seeing the systems whereby campus publications are managed and who believe that a change can be evolved which will bring an improvement, we suggest the system which has just been inaugurated at Williams. By this system a non-athletic tax, which existed heretofore, has been abolished.

Students no longer pay directly for activities which are not self-supporting. It is the prosperous activities which pay for those which are not prosperous. That is, any necessary amount up to 50 per cent out of the profits of successful activities can be taken to pay for the losses of unsuccessful activities.

We are far from convinced that this is a first rate plan. It is more than likely that it would mean the loss of real incentive on the part of activities managers, the loss of real responsibility. If that is the case, the system has a serious drawback.

But it is, at least, worthy of some consideration on the part of would-be reformers.

THE GRID SEASON CLOSES

Friday the last football game of the season was played. Yes, and this is spring. But when things are changed at Wisconsin, they are changed with a vengeance, and spring football games become almost a common place. That is what they will be, anyway, before many more years at the present rate.

All of which means that things aren't quite what they used to be.

And, to go further, it appears quite evident that Wisconsin is to have something of a football team next year, which is gratifying. Although there were many good players absent during the spring season, there was also a goodly amount of fine material present, as the scrimmages showed. In point of view of numbers, furthermore, it seems that football is taking hold firmly. It was inspiring to see not two, but five or six full teams swarming over Randall field.

Things are looking up.

A Very Short History of the Union

By John Dollard

The Memorial Union idea developed at Wisconsin as an aftermath of the world war. The thousands of students flooding the classrooms revealed a weakness which had developed as the university had grown. This weakness was that we had ceased to be a small college in which every body knew everybody else, and had become a great and more or less disorganized university. The solution which was proposed was a men's Union which should be a spiritual and physical center for men's activities.

With this as the central fact, other demands developed. There was the desire for a permanent and beautiful memorial to the Wisconsin men who died in the World war and in past wars. There was the desire for better quarters for student activities, and for a headquarters for returning alumni. It is important also that the University of Michigan and Toronto has just completed Union buildings which were doing splendid work and that their example was a stimulus to us.

The first move was the appointment of a joint committee from the regents, the Alumni association and the Union board to consider the matter. Mr. Walter Kohler, "the Father of the Memorial Union," was one of the moving forces on this committee. From the membership of this joint committee was selected a committee of trustees for the Memorial Union fund which was called the Memorial Union executive committee. This committee began to function at once to raise money, to select a site, and to consider the architecture of the building.

The original goal of the campaign was $500,000, but it soon became apparent that this sum was not sufficient to build a Union of the dimensions needed by our undergraduate life. The $500,000 was attained, and the goal was raised to $1,000,000, of which all but $80,000 in pledges has now been reached.

To Dean Scott H. Goodnight, and Prof. E. H. Gardner, goes most of the credit for the success of the initial campaign, both of these men giving many months of their personal time and effort to the conduct of the campaign, and under their personal successive leadership the fund has been brought to its present size. Both men have been and will probably continue to be active in the campaign to complete the fund—as will every one else who has a real concept of the Memorial Union idea.

Not until a year and a half ago did it become certain that we should be able to build a structure to cost something more than a million dollars, and so not until then was active work on final plans started. The Memorial Union executive committee retained as a consulting architect, Mr. Alexander Eschweiler, of Milwaukee, to work with the state architect, Mr. Arthur Peabody, and through a long period of hard work by both of these men the sketches have been developed. The final plans as now presented were prepared in the office of Mr. Peabody.

The future of the campaigns is now fairly clear. It must become an all-university job in which every student and faculty man is personally interested. I know that the great need for the Union will insure that interest. The final campaign will come with the beginning of construction. It should finish the job.

Watch '25.

The university appropriations bill is making headway. Its progress is being closely watched.

Illinois has just lost the services of one Prof. Gordon S. Watkins, who goes to take up sociology teaching at Berkeley. Wisconsin can sympathize with its sister Big Ten university. But it is glad to see that it does not stand alone in losing good teachers. Misery loves company.

Ladies and gentlemen, I now declare this meeting open for business.

We shall now have a report from the committee on investigating rushing.

Mr. President, the following is our report.

At 5:15 on Thursday we journeyed to the BETA THETA PIE house, and concealed ourselves within the living room behind a shadow. Results soon followed, when one of the brothers called to the floors above, and told the fellows to take off their overalls; to quit swearing so loudly; to send a pledge down to gather up the cupidons, which were grouped in profusion round the dinner table. It proved that there was a rushee coming over that evening for dinner.

At 5:30 the victim arrived, and the honorable brothers piled down to the door. Certain of the members, such as Nethercut, Sutton we noticed were placed in the background, for it was evident that their presence might have disrupted all hopes of getting the man interested in the group.

After all hands had been shaking for a while and several Betas had become acquainted with each other, the boys took the man over and showed him the cans that had been won at times in the past, and told him of their plans on starting a dairy in case fraternities were abolished from the campus. The lad seemed quite interested, for he was quite a cheese himself. However, that didn't daunt the Betas.

Then the evidence of a brilliant campaign started. Grant Otis came in and played a sad piece on his schelio (tee Hee) and the victim said that it was so beautiful that it made him homesick.

"Young man," said one of the brothers, "all that you have to do then is to come with us. Make this your home, and you'll appreciate your own much more."

Of course the rushee admitted that.

Then the leading actor said that he was having a tough time in school with Musical Appreciation, and the boys all shook their heads mournfully, and said that it was too bad that Rus Coleman had received the special scholarship from his dad, which forced him to leave our beautiful institution so that he could work on it at home. He would have been such a great help. However, it was brought to light that several of the boys had taken the course several times, so they told him that they could help him out quite a bit.

Dinner was served then, and the fellows spent the whole period in calling the poor boy on his mistakes in eating, and they told him of the advantages along that line that were offered by the brotherhood. He could hold out no longer, for he was half-starved, so the fellows tacked a pin on him.

Now we shall tell of the rushing campaign of the Square and Compass outfit.

Chorus: Whoopin' L is interested? * * *

Gentlemen and A. T. O.'s, we must have order. * * *

Voice from the rear: "I'll take a pint." * * *

"Who let that Delt in here?" * * *

"Well, at least he's Frank about it." * * *

Say, we aren't getting anywhere. What's the next piece of business? Let's investigate the statement that the D. U. s are going to reign from now on, I'm sick of wet weather.

Aw, the Chi Psis are out on the lake now in their sailboat planning a tack.

Fire! Fire!—Where? Where? At the Tri Delt house!—Aw shucks those girls have had so many that they sleep in their clothes now rather than get caught unawares. Let's get down to business.

Say, fellows, I heard a good joke— * * *

Watch out with your telling stories, or you'll get arrested for impersonating a woman.

Gentleman, gentlemen, we must have order.

I gave him one a while ago.

Aw, shut up, you Delt's are always trying to get publicity.

Fellow members, I now declare this meeting adjourned. Those kids have taken the tires off of my Ford.

THE FORENSIC BOARD ELECTION

Editor, the Daily Cardinal:

The open election for junior representatives of the Forensic board, held Friday, May 15, was illegal.

The constitution of the Student Senate calls for a vote on those representatives from all students, except freshmen. The Election board this year again failed to read their constitution. The same question arose last year. The writer called the attention of the election board chairman to the matter, and he immediately arranged for a legal vote.

Although unexpected, the same mistake occurred this year, and was discovered just a bit too late.

The election being illegal, the successful candidates cannot take their seats on the Forensic board until another legal vote is taken. Both the successful and unsuccessful candidates were under the impression that sophomores, juniors and seniors voted in the open election, and when carrying their campaign to the voters sought support from the above mentioned classes.

They should have noticed and caught the mistake before it was too late, but they failed, of course. These same candidates, in filing the correct number of signatures with their petitions, secured the names of sophomores, juniors and seniors. The election board was asleep on the job, for they did not even check the names on the petitions.

As a member of the Forensic board, the writer believes that a new election should be held as soon as possible. The old board will remain in power until a legal election is held. All claims to seats

NATIONAL GUARD WILL FIGHT FIRES

State Troops Ordered by Gov. Blaine to Help Out Laona

Four companies, one battery and medical units of the Wisconsin national guard have been ordered masterly by Gov. Blaine to fight forest fires in the neighborhood of Laona, Wis., it was announced today by Adj't Gen. Ralph Immell.

Lieut. Col. Schantz, assistant adjutant general and Harry G. Williams have been ordered to take charge of the operations.

Units ordered to mobilize at Laona include Infantry Co. A, 127th Infantry, Marinette; Co. B, same regiment, Rhinelander. All available medical units also were ordered to report or be held in readiness.

The dangerous situation in the forest fire area has resulted in the issuance of a warning by Elmer S. Hall, state conservation commissioner, to prevent the setting and spreading of fire.

CRANDON, Wis.—National Guard units from Marinette, Oconto, Rhinelander and Green Bay, were concentrating their efforts against what was reported today as the first actual fire in virgin timber since brush fires became threatening three weeks ago. The green timber stand reaches for eight miles east of here.

REVIEW OF '26 BADGER SHOWS EXCELLENCIES

miss that; its dark, bright blue stands out clear across the room. I've always thought the covers of books should be the most attractive part of them; that is the part you see most often. You will see this one as soon as you get the wrapping paper torn off.

The first thing that will impress you as you turn the pages is the art work of this year book. There may have been annuals containing better art work in some other university, but it hasn't been my good fortune to see them. From frontispiece to decorative border sketches the art work stands out as distinctive. It shows the touch of the craftsman.

Particularly distinctive are the twelve etchings of the scene section, which, I have been assured, have never before been used in a college annual. There are twelve scenes, (at $400 per scene) of campus buildings and kindred subjects. I can recognize all but one of them. If it weren't for the trees I would make my guess the Parthenon, but the foliage eliminates that one. This section replaces the time-honored photograph of "dear old Hall" with the ivy twining its way up to the cornice and the sunlight striking at just the right angle to bring out the color effect of the stone. You know the kind. The old grad sits back in after years and sighs, and we sigh too, wishing we could have gone to that dear old college. But I've always had a suspicion that the sigh was to mask an exclamation of wonder as to when the old grad ever saw — hall look just like that. Sometimes I've wished we might be spared those pictures. The 1926 Badger has done it. This scene section is different.

This year the seniors greet you running from North to South instead of from East to West. For my own part I've never seen a senior section that had the pictures of the graduating class arranged satisfactorily. It doesn't seem that it can be done. But in this Badger you can tell "who's who" without any difficulty. There's no danger of tacking the two-inch summary to the girl you just couldn't stand and then finding out that she didn't really do so much after all. Too, it gives the matchmakers a chance to speculate on a few combinations that haven't worked in college. But you never can tell about the power of suggestion. One of the good ones is Jimmy Sutton and Rudy Teschan. Another warhorse combination is Ellis Giles and Gordy Lewis. They're there with the double pull. Bill Rorison and Orie Wernecke match pictures and blocks of type in their summaries. It's almost a tie, although a line or two in so much shouldn't make such a difference. Speaking of summaries, these journalists seem to have a fondness for type. They lead the field by 21 ems.

The 1926 Badger comes nearly being in the daily paper class. For timeliness there is the Exposition, all done in full, and the Horse Show; they scooped the campus on several things, too, including the latest 1925 version of the Memorial Union plans; the other things are a secret, but you will know about them Wednesday.

The athletic section staggers me. I had hoped that we wouldn't have quite so much as in former years. Vain hopes; there is more, much more. The crew draws the lion's share, but who would begrudge the crew after June 17 last year? From the beginning to the end, "Carry On!" by Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, the story of Wisconsin's battle on the Hudson is told in word and picture.

The campus, picture section, gives the best selection for variety and originality that the present generation of Badgers has produced. Though not so cleverly presented as last year's "Tale of a Knight Errant" the pictures will give you a permanent photograph of what has happened since last May.

The satire section hits the high point in college humor for a year book. The fine Italian hand of the Octopus staff is discernible to the more observing. But they, too, outdid themselves. It is better than Octy. But it might be criticised for one thing. Some of the wise cracks are a little bit personal to say the least. But, as the "moving finger" at the beginning warns you, not a line of it can be called back. Somewhere in these columns this year I saw a statement that simplicity was to be the keynote of the 1926 Badger. Evidently that means these wise cracks; the simplest could get most of them. A takeoff on Howie Roper's masterpiece published in these columns some time ago will make you howl. It's the best thing in the satire section.

The 1926 Badger has done it, as was stated at the beginning. Otis Wiese and Ben Anderson have done their work well. "Forward" is the challenge to Wisconsin and forward will go the 1926 Badger. There may be others that surpass it, but this one is here, (or will be Wednesday) and it throws its challenge to those to come after. If they are to be better, it will be because Wisconsin will be better, which is the thought behind the dream.

FRESHMAN COMMISSION PICNICS THIS WEEKEND

Games, business meetings, and devotions, will occupy the time of members of freshman commission on its annual house party this weekend at the Y. W. C. A. cottage. The house party which lasts from Friday to Sunday night, is in charge of Mary Campbell '28, food; Genevieve Jones '28, program; Mary Eschweiler '28, arrangements. Officers of freshman commission are Katherine Ehrhart '28, president; June Deadman '28, vice president; Marjorie McClellan '28, secretary; and Dorothy Hoffman '28, treasurer.

SUBTLE, ROLICKING HUMORS ARE COMEDY NIGHT RIVALS

By P. M. K.

Subtle and rollicking humor vied with each other in the three sketches presented by the Wisconsin University Players in their annual Comedy night, Friday night in Lathrop concert room.

The three plays varied greatly in the type of plot from the medieval costume play, "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," to the gossipy "Rocking Chairs" and highly humorous "Speaking to Father."

All of the plays showed careful coaching and make-up, perhaps the smoothest in respect to acting being "The Man Who Married a Dumb Wife," in which Herman Wirk '26, Agatha McCaffery '25, and Lowell Frautschi '27, did outstanding work. They were ably supported by Jean McGregor '28, Gordon Abbott '25, A. D. Ludden, grad, Harold Konnack '27, and Jackson Taylor '26.

Rather hard to portray because of its rapid-fire conversation and paucity of action, "Rocking Chairs" with the acting of Mildred Engler

'26, Jane Gaston '27, and Mary Bishop '27 was highly commended.

The play receiving the most laughs was "Speaking to Father," a rollicking comedy with a wealth of mirth provoking situations, exaggerated perhaps, but none the less telling. E. Ray Skinner, grad, portrayed the irascible father. As his wife, Katharine Reid '26, was a good example of the match making mother, her acting having a finish which made it convincing. Ruth Obendorfer '26 as Caroline, the daughter, and Richard Church '27 as "Jiggsy" or Edward Swinger, made an attractive pair of twentieth century lovers. Wilson Moran '26 portrayed the professor.
