FRENCH ELECT M. ROSTOVZEFF TO ACADEMY

Wisconsin Professor is Honored for Work in History

Michael I. Rostovzeff, professor of ancient history, last night received word that he has been elected to the Inscriptions and Literature division of the French academy. He had already been elected to the Russian academy, the British academy and the Academy of Berlin. To be elected to the French academy is one of the highest honors which a man of letters can receive.

Dr. Rostovzeff before he left Russia in 1916 was a professor in the University of Petrograd. Last year he came to this country from Paris.

The French academy was founded in Paris in 1634, but was abolished by the Revolutionists in 1793. It was restored in 1795. There are five divisions; each has 40 members.

Among the recent members of the academy are Woodrow Wilson, Paul Deschanel, Raymond Poincaré, Eugene Briaux, Edmund Rostand, Anatole France, Paul Bourget, Ferdinand Foch, Georges Clemenceau, and Marshall Joffre.

NEW BUILDINGS GREATEST NEED SAYS MANAGER

Thorkelson Outlines Program For Construction to Meet Demands

A speedy resumption of university building construction is imperative if the university is to adequately perform its functions, according to a study of university enrollment and buildings prepared by H. J. Thorkelson, business manager.

The building program from 1898 to 1912 kept fairly in line with the normal increase of student attendance. Since 1912 however, the increase in university buildings has been inadequate for the large increase in enrollment. The principal buildings which have been added during this period are the Wisconsin high school, the Physics-Economics building, the new wing to the Soils building, the university infirmary, and the Bradley memorial hospital.

There is a pressing demand for space for students in certain departments under the 1920 enrollment, and this will be still further accentuated by the greater numbers that will soon have to be accommodated.

UNIVERSITY SELLS 40,000 XMAS SEALS

The sale of the Red Cross Christmas stamps brought a return of $400. The assignment for the university students was $450.

"I think that the sale went exceedingly well," said Elizabeth Markham '21, in charge of the campaign, "considering that the city of Madison had charge of the faculty sale and the house to house soliciting."

LAST ISSUE TODAY

With this issue The Daily Cardinal suspends publication until Jan. 5, 1921.

MANY FESTIVITIES ACCOMPANY PROM

Joint Production Will Take Place of Usual Glee Club Concert

Post-Prom parties to follow the 1922 Junior Prom on the evening of February 12 have been planned by men not in organized groups, under the direction of E. C. Caluwaert, chairman of men's arrangements committee and Dale Merrick, Prom chairman. These two men will work with those in charge of the various groups for the purpose of securing transportation facilities for Prom night, for arranging congenial groups for Prom parties, and for securing boxes at the capitol. Groups desiring taxi service may secure this by conferring with the committee on arrangements. Five post-Prom parties have been planned and application for boxes made to Harry Barends, chairman of boxes committee.

Pre-Prom Dance

Features for the pre-Prom dance to be given in Lathrop hall on Friday, January 21, have been arranged by Reginald Garstang, chairman of special features committee. "Sparks" Dodge will present his ventriloquist act with a new line of patter; Reba Haydon will give a whistling solo; and a clog dance and other special entertainment will be included in the program. Tickets will sell for $2.00, and will be on sale immediately after the Christmas holidays. Fraternities are cooperating with the Prom committee in giving up parties which they have planned for that night.

The pre-Prom show, which will take the place of the annual Glee club performance usually held immediately before Prom, will be presented by the three dramatic societies at the Fuller opera house. The play to be given is "Mrs. Bumpstead-Leigh," a three act comedy by Harry James Smith. Cast tryouts are being held now, under the supervision of Miss Gertrude Johnson, of the department of speech. The results of these tryouts will be announced the first week in January.

Supper at Capitol

Supper on the night of Prom will be served in the Capitol cafe and the Garden grill between 2 and 3. Menus have been arranged for, declared Norma Kieckhefer, chairman of the supper committee, and it is estimated that about 375 people will be served each hour in the two places. Suppers will be served in half hour shifts.

Alumni will be informed of Prom

PINS ARE AWARDED TO CARDINAL STAFF

Cardinal pins were given yesterday by the Cardinal Board of Control to all members of the staff above the rank of reporters who have served at least a semester. Gold pins were given to members of the editorial staff holding the position of desk editors or above, and to those on the business staff holding similar positions. Silver pins were given to other members of both staffs.

Breaking the precedent established by last year's board, which awarded its members gold pins, the board this time received only bronze pins.

The following members of the staff received pins: Gold, Hickman Powell, Marion Goodwin, Sterling Tracy, William Sale, Raymond Bartels, Donald Bailey, and Clarence Wille; silver, Mildred Gerlach, Alice Munro, Katherine Beebe, Mildred Nusbaum, Philip Breseden, Hi Bilansky, Isabell Bugbee, and Louise Moyer; and bronze, George Crownhart, Foster Strong, Caryl Parkinson, Allan Pradt, and Adrian Scotlen.

MEMORIES

Christmas in Trenches to be Recalled at Gun and Blade Party Tonight

Trench memories of the Christmas of '17 will be revived tonight for many Federal board students when the Women's Auxiliary of the Gun and Blade entertains the club in the club rooms at the Union building.

Decorations suggestive of the trenches have been arranged to remind the veterans of the event three years ago in France. A more homey atmosphere, however, will radiate at this occasion as a Christmas tree covered with blue and gold trimmings will be placed beside the fireplace which is to be blazing cheerily for the event.

Game and entertainment has been arranged by a special committee. Events will be given by the veterans according to their physical abilities. Chow and "bully-beef" will be missing from the refreshments, even though the committee has planned to give the affair as much military snap as possible.

The chaperons will be Dean and Mrs. J. D. Phillips, and Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Tiege. Mr. Tiege is the federal board coordinator, and has general supervision of federal board students attending the university.

The committee which has charge of the party consists of Mrs. Rene W. Pinto, Mrs. Emil H. Myrland, Mrs. Richard W. Austerman, and Mrs. John J. Schaub.

Membership to the Women's Auxiliary is open to wives, mothers, and sisters of the members of the Gun and Blade. The organization will co-operate from time with the club in social activities. All ill members of the club will be visited also by members of the auxiliary.

VARSITY MOVIE TO CONTINUE TRYOUTS AFTER CHRISTMAS

Tryouts for the Varsity movie will be continued after the Christmas holidays, according to the committee which has been conducting the work of selecting people for the cast. The work is progressing very well, but because of the number of applications it has been impossible to run the tryouts according to the schedule which has been previously announced.

The actual work of filming candidates was begun yesterday with the second tryouts held in Lathrop. These people had a chance to work before the camera under conditions similar to those which will be used in the production of the movie. Foster Strong, chairman of the tryouts, expressed himself as very pleased with the response of the campus.

"We are receiving the hearty cooperation of the best talent in the university," said Strong. "The best people for the individual parts are trying out. People who have handed in their names and have not received further notification have not been overlooked, and they will be called as soon after the recess as the committee finds it possible to handle them."

"Al" Hartlett, winner of the scenario contest, has been busy interviewing other scenario writers and the judges who made the decision, and intends to spend his entire vacation rewriting the scenario, according to their suggestions, in continuity form.

Anyone who has not applied for tryout will be given an opportunity to do so after Christmas.

BASKET TEAM WILL INVADE STATE CITIES

Will Play at La Crosse and Milwaukee During Holidays

Coach Walter E. Meanwell and his Badger basketball five will depart at 1 o'clock today for a two day barnstorming trip before disbanding for the Christmas holidays. Wisconsin will play the La Crosse normal quintet at La Crosse tonight, and tomorrow will return to Milwaukee, where they meet Marquette in the last game before Christmas. The squad will disband at Milwaukee with orders to report at Madison for the South Dakota series on December 29 and 30.

The large number of Milwaukee students attending the university are planning to turn out and back their team Saturday night. Marquette boasts of a strong aggregation this winter, and promise to offer the Badgers no little competition. From the scores counted on River Falls normal and Knox college, dopesters believe that Wisconsin will have little difficulty in overcoming the La Crosse team.

Have Stiff Practice

Meanwell sent his men through their last workout yesterday afternoon, spending considerable time in rehearsing his various plays and formations which heretofore have not been used. Owing to the cancellation of the Ripon game, which was scheduled for last Wednesday evening, the team has been sent through three stiff practices by Dr. Meanwell, and the coach hopes to see some improvement over the first preliminary contests.

River Falls came to Madison touted as an accurate shooting team, but was unable to count more than two baskets against the Cardinal defense. This end of the game was handled almost without error by the Wisconsin guards. In

VARSITY SWIMMERS TO MEET M. A. C. TEAM ON SATURDAY

Steinauer Thinks Milwaukee
Club Will Be Stiff
Opposition

Fifteen members of the Wisconsin swimming squad will entrain on Saturday morning for Milwaukee where they will hook with the Milwaukee Athletic club swimmers in the first dual meet of the season.

The team leaves for Milwaukee at 7:55 a. m. on Saturday, December 18, and shortly after arriving in the city, the men will work out in the M. A. C. tank.

The Cream city swimmers have fortified their team for the meet with the Badgers by the addition of several new stars. The M. A. C. natators defeated Northwestern 38 to 34, but with the entry of new men, no definite calculation of their strength can be made.

"The M. A. C. squad has added Southcott, Bechstein, and Hildebrandt to the squad," said Coach Joseph C. Steinauer Thursday afternoon. "Due to this addition of new men, we cannot tell how strong the Milwaukee swimmers are, but Wisconsin has at least a 50-50 chance in the dual meet. The M. A. C. squad has put in some hard licks since they met the Northwestern swimmers, but the Badgers have also been working in fine form lately."

the future followers of the team are hoping for some improvement in the offensive side. They are anxiously waiting to learn the outcome of the initial game which the Badgers play before a foreign crowd.

Ten Men to Go

It was announced last evening evening after practice that the squad of ten men would make the trip to La Crosse and Milwaukee. With two games scheduled in as many days, it is very probable that most of the men will break into the lineup. Those who will leave on the special from the West Madison station at noon today are: Captain Taylor, Karl Caesar, Allard Frogner, Rollie Williams, Gustav Tebell, Jack Williams, Charles Horne, Leslie Gage, Willis Fanning, Ed Frawley, and Manager Don Reynolds.

On January 3, the night preceding the opening of school after the holidays, Wisconsin will play their first conference game with Northwestern offering the opposition. The game will take place at Evanston, and Chicago students will be able to witness this conference game, which promises to be a hard fought one. Many are arranging to stop in Chicago for the Northwestern game, and come to Madison on the sleeper Monday night.

PRESIDENT BIRGE URGES RESPONSE TO RELIEF FUND

President Birge, in regard to his statement in yesterday's Cardinal that there would be no personal solicitation in the collection of funds among the students and faculty for relief of the condition of the students and faculty of the universities of Europe, did not wish to discourage any efforts to raise funds for this purpose by solicitation, but rather to encourage a prompt response without waiting for solicitation. The president approves the efforts being made by the graduate students to raise funds for foreign relief.

$48,000 IN CHECKS CASHED IN Y. M. C. A.

Report Shows Record of University Branch Since Beginning of Term

Over $48,000 worth of checks cashed for students since the beginning of the term is one item appearing on a report on the activities of university "Y" organizations and campus services performed by the association office, just given out.

More than 430 jobs were obtained for students during the same period, and loans were made to 115. Funds established for this loan service amount now to one thousand dollars. There were over eighty meetings of "Y" organizations in the buildings, and the committee rooms were made use of for 120 meetings. Groups using the "Y" rooms include the Student Senate, the American Legion, the Alumni association, the basketball team, class committees, and clubs.

Student work in "Y" service is shown by the reports of the cabinet. Five hundred visits to students confined to the infirmary, 56 errands for those students, and 100 telephone calls were made by the sick service committee. Bays work included 6 classes, and 5 others waiting for leadership.

Membership in the association has been increased to 651, 200 joining without an active membership campaign.

Joint parties with the Y. W. C. A. are being run this semester by the social committee, and the committee for next year's frosh hand-book is starting its work.

The finance drive was a success, the $4,000 quota being over-subscribed by $750. A campaign is now being conducted to obtain subscriptions from the parents of men connected with the "Y," and the returns amount to several hundred dollars, the amounts given averaging more than $5 each.

ROSELLI EXPLAINS EVENTS IN ITALY

"It is impossible for anyone to draw conclusions as to the outcome of the present situation in Italy," declared Dr. Bruno Roselli, Italian diplomat, in speaking on "The Industrial Revolution in Italy," before the Social Science club last night.

Dr. Roselli described the post bellum conditions in Italy; how the returning soldiers brought back arms and ammunition from the battle-fields; how, on finding no increase in wages, they joined forces with the socialist party. He pictured the attempt of the laborers to work the industries for themselves, and of their failure to make this attempt a success. He attributed their action to their grievances against the government. "The ex-soldiers," said Dr. Roselli, "came back from the war, as all soldiers have done, with a grudge against the government."

His opinion is that revolution was averted only through the cleverness of the Italian premier, Gilotti. The premier called a meeting in Rome of capital and labor for the purpose of settling their disputes. Through several clever decisions, Gilotti was able to induce labor and capital to compromise and thus brought about a return to normal conditions.

"The press," declared Dr. Roselli, "has misrepresented the present situation in Italy." This, he pointed out, is largely due to inaccuracy in translating from Italian to English.

Dr. Roselli concluded by saying, "I don't care what is done as long as it is done under governmental regime. Blessed is the country that can adjust itself to post bellum conditions."

The rest of the evening was given over to short discussions upon some of the points touched upon by Dr. Roselli, and it was announced that during the coming year the Social Science club will bring several other distinguished speakers to Madison.

has been secured as the principal speaker at that time.

MORE STUDENTS TO ENROLL IN SHORT COURSE NEXT TERM

An increase in student registration for the short course in Agriculture is assured, for already many prospective students have written to E. J. Cooper, director of the course, and signified their intention of registering for the second term which starts January third.

About 50 new students are expected to enroll at that time. The second term lasts from January 3 to February 8. The third term starts February 8 and continues to March 17. The seven men registered in the cow testing course will finish this term.

Social activities among the short course students were limited this term but the basketball teams have been practicing daily and have several games scheduled for after the holidays. The gymnasium classes have been badly handicapped by lack of room, but this will not interfere next term as the Stock pavilion has been equipped to handle a limited number for gym.

Letters will be sent to 50 Wisconsin alumni associations by the Alumni committee, Fred Brewster, chairman. VETERANS PLAN SOLDIER DRAMA

Definite plans for a military play were made last evening at the regular meeting of the Gun and Blade club. The play is to consist of several acts, each act to consist of a certain phase of the life every overseas soldier led in the world war. The settings will be typical and each members of the cast will wear uniform or equipment that has seen actual service at Mons, Chat-eau Thierry, or the Meuse, or in some hospital behind the lines. The actors will have the advantage of thoroughly knowing their respective parts for each of them will be but reliving some of the strenuous and vivid scenes of his days "over there."

The club plans to give the play soon after the beginning of the second semester. Souvenirs of the war will be an attractive and interesting feature of the decorations. Arrangements are being taken care of by Rene W. Pinto '23, chairman of the Dramatic committee. Mr. Pinto reports that the canvass of available talent disclosed the fact that forty members of the club have had previous experience in dramatics, either in other universities or in some military plays in France.

REDUCED RENTS

AS the semester draws to a close and the time for the renewal of contracts for students' rooms approaches, there is being manifested on the campus a growing support for the movement to make more reasonable rents charged for student quarters. Effort to restore rent to a sane level has received the support of both the student and the faculty. Students, through their organizations and as individuals, are lending their support to reduce rents. The Student Senate, representative of the male students of the university, has gone on record as favoring more reasonable charges for student rooms. The office of the dean of women and the faculty committee on student living conditions are actively engaged in the movement.

Indeed, there is just cause to reduce rents paid by university students in Madison. Room rent paid by Wisconsin students exceeds considerably that paid by students in neighboring universities—notably, Illinois and Minnesota. Moreover, many landladies have failed to adjust their rents to the changed conditions that have come about since last October. They have failed to notice, in so far as rents are concerned, that the price of coal has dropped considerably, that the upward trend of prices has been stopped, that conditions have become more stable.

Such exorbitant rents as many of the students are paying are decidedly burdensome. In many cases, they work a positive hardship. The financial burden of attending university these days is sufficiently heavy without having the additional weight of excessive rent.

Moreover, high rents are detrimental to the university as a whole. They destroy the democratic atmosphere. They make it difficult if not impossible for the student to limited means or even moderate means to attend university. They leave the state's higher educational facilities open to the wealthier students alone. The good of the university demands lower room rents.

The two agencies now operating to lower rents should continue and extend their activities.

Students should choose their rooms with care. The supply of available rooms in Madison is large. Where possible, the students should choose the less expensive rooms. A constant expression of student opinion will do much to impress upon the landlady the necessity of reasonable rates.

The faculty, through the dean's offices and through its committees, can perhaps do more than the students in this regard. The faculty has the power to prescribe in what houses the students may live. The houses charging unreasonable rents can be stricken from the list of approved houses. In fact, the office of the dean of women recently removed seven girls from one household because of the exorbitant rents charged. Such action could be extended if necessary.

It is hoped that the landladies who have not reduced rents to a reasonable level will heed the signs of the times and effect the necessary reductions. If such deductions are not voluntarily made, let the students and the faculty take the proper action.

The interests of the students and the university demands fair room rents.

* * * IRON CROSS ELECTION

IRON CROSS has again made its selection and has inscribed upon its scroll of honor the names of men whose character and ability have been tried in the conflicts of undergraduate life. It is only proper and fitting that we recognize these men for the services they have so willingly and gladly given for their fellow students and the university.

These men have had a strong and definite purpose, a great aim and possessed attitude, ability, and perseverance to obtain it. They have met obstacles and overcome them. They have given their time and energy for the upbuilding of all that is best in student life. They believe in the gospel of work, and their records show that they have done things.

The ambitions of students are many, but no ambition is more commendable than the desire to give the university all the time that one can spare, that through it the standards of student life may be raised and efficiency in activities developed to the highest degree. The greatest joy in student life is the joy derived from giving.

These newly elected men have learned how to lead and they have led well. They have had convictions and they have stood by them in spite of student opposition and censure. Such men we want. Let the spirit of these men live on and be ever a force for a greater and more harmonious Wisconsin fellowship.

Crippled Kiddies at Bradley Memorial Hospital Prepare for Christmas Party

Secrets! Secrets!

Only Santa Claus and his assistants really know the details of the big Christmas program that has been arranged at Bradley Memorial hospital, through the University Faculty and Employees' association.

Down stairs in the hospital every afternoon an industrious group of children gathers to "get ready." Everywhere are presents—presents just started, some half done, and a few nearly finished.

"Say kid, I dropped a stitch, calls a youngster from his cot in the corner, holding up his knitting."

"Just a minute," and a girl his own age lays down a doll bonnet she is working on and hobble on her crutches to his side past the big center table where boys are weaving red and brown scarfs on frames.

"Don't look this way," cautions a red-haired girl in a wheel chair, suddenly thrusting something white under her apron, until her friend is safely past.

Cranberry and popcorn stringing will be the occupation of next week. Everything must be in readiness for the orphans to decorate on Christmas eve.

"You see they don't know about our surprise," explained P. M. Franzen, chairman of the tree committee. "No one has told them a word about the big tree which we will have waiting for them right after breakfast Christmas morning.

"University employees have been working for some time to give the kiddies a real treat. The carpenters have been making sleds, doll buggies, and sand boxes; the painters, the plumbers and the machinists have all had a part in the construction.

"Besides toys there will be mittens for the boys, and hair ribbons for the girls. Oh, we know how to do it all right."

In the afternoon, the children, under the direction of Miss Mary McGovern, will give readings and sing Christmas carols.

Sixty girls in Tenth ward offered to help with the holiday festivities at Bradley Memorial, but since arrangements had already been made for the orphans there, decided to send their contributions to bring happiness to the other crippled children at Sparta, Wis., to whom a club at Wingra Park has already made a gift of a phonograph and records.

Members of the gift committee are, H. A. Langenhahn, R. J. Shavel, A. F. Gallistel, Miss Carey, and Miss Cochran. Members of the tree committee are P. M. Franzen, S. M. Smelzer, Professor Ambrose James, and William Redmond.

MAY COMPEL TAX-LEVY FOR USE OF VOCATIONAL SCHOOL

Governor Asks Supreme Court Action in Beaver Dam Case

Declaring that the matter is of vital importance to vocational school work, Gov. Philipp yesterday asked Atty. Gen. Blaine to assist in a state supreme court action to compel the common council of Beaver Dam to include in its tax levy a tax of 1.5 mills for money needed to support the vocational schools of that city.

The council, says the governor, either neglected or refused to include such a tax when asked by the vocational board of Beaver Dam.

As a result, the board took the matter into circuit court where Judge Fritz of Milwaukee rendered a decision holding it optional with the council to include or reject the vocational school tax. The board is now preparing an appeal to the supreme court and its attorney, Roy Clark of Beaver Dam, will be given backing by the attorney general's office in his attempt to have the circuit court decision set aside.

Protest Refusal of British Embassy to Issue Passports

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Ten U. S. senators have joined in a protest against the refusal of the British embassy to vise the passports of four members of the unofficial American commission of inquiry who desired to visit Ireland.

The protest is addressed to Secretary of State Colby and urges him to request an explanation from the British government of its reasons for refusing "the right of travel in the British isles to represent the American citizens seeking to ascertain the truth as to a situation which, if permitted to continue, may seriously affect the friendly relations of the American and the English peoples."

The letter is signed by Senators Norris of Nebraska, Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, David P. Walsh of Massachusetts, Francis of Maryland, La Follette of Wisconsin, Ransdell of Louisiana, Gronna of North Dakota, Chamberlain of Oregon, Fletcher of Florida, and Shields of Tennessee.

The protest was prepared, the signatures obtained, and the letter given out last night by Basil Manly, representing the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

NEW YORK—Eamonn De Valera "President of the Irish Republic" is "in hiding" in this country, but may consider returning to Great Britain if granted a safe conduct by Premier Lloyd George, Harry Boland "presidential secretary" announced here today. Mr. Boland said Mr. De Valera was fatigued from his activities in this country and had withdrawn into privacy until he felt able to resume his tour in the United States. Mr. Boland declined to make known his whereabouts.

LONDON—Amendments to the Irish Home Rule bill made in the House of Lords during the last two weeks were ready for consideration by the house of Commons today. Eamonn De Valera who bears the title of "president of the Irish Republic" is rumored to be on his way to Ireland from America. Tacit permission for his return to Ireland is understood to have been given by Premier Lloyd George in a letter to the Rev. Michael O'Flanagan, acting president of the Sinn Fein.

Crimes of Children Due to Neglect of Parents, Says Judge

Parents Do Not Realize Injustice Until Too Late Says Hoppmann

"Parents don't realize the dangers they are subjecting their children to in allowing them to be out late nights without supervision," Judge A. C. Hoppmann declared this morning, commenting on the case of George Freund, boy burglar, less than 17 years old, whom he sent to the Waukesha industrial school this week. Freund entered six places.

"The parents can never repair or wipe out the injustice they thereby do their children," he continued. "I am amazed at the absolute neglect of so many parents in Madison of their children in this regard. Time and again without number, when young boys and girls are brought into the juvenile court, I learn that they are permitted to be out until 11 and 12 o'clock at night, entirely without supervision or attendance, and without the parents having any information as to their whereabouts.

"In such cases it is usually only a question of time before the children find their way into juvenile court, and the regrettable feature of it all is that when they are brought in, parents have so completely lost control of the children that from that time on they can no longer be guided by care and love but must be held in line by the strict arm of the law.

"Parents realize this after it is too late to undo the wrong which has resulted because of their neglect of the children and because of the failure of the father to be a pal to the boy and the mother a pal to the girl."

VACCINATION IS HELD NECESSITY

300 Cases of Smallpox Reported in 12 Days, Says Health Board

Three hundred cases of smallpox were reported to the state bureau of vital statistics in the first 12 days of December, which is far above the normal number for this month. Commenting on this situation the State Board of Health said:

"It is true that smallpox is now attended by few fatalities. Probably this accounts for the all too frequent expression, 'I would rather have smallpox than be vaccinated.' Needless to say, many of those who take this position are afflicted with the disease. There are other phases to the prevalence of smallpox, than the occasional death caused by the malady. Aside from the actual suffering there is the great inconvenience caused many additional persons through quarantine. The attendant economic loss to a community through these causes is difficult of accurate measurement, but nevertheless tangible and considerable in the aggregate."

"Another matter which is infrequently considered is the unnecessary suffering inflicted upon innocent children through failure of parents and responsible officials to preach and practice vaccination. The amount of schooling lost in Wisconsin each winter through sickness, quarantining and closing of schools is excessive. Each new crop of unvaccinated children affords a most fertile field for smallpox."

"There is no reasonable argument against the successful vaccination of all persons in Wisconsin against smallpox, for ample proof of the efficiency of the procedure is available from innumerable sources. When properly performed the operation may be classed as trivial, causing a minimum of inconvenience and maximum of protection against a disease which should not be tolerated in the state."

RAILROAD MEN'S BANK PROSPERS

Warren S. Stone Says Deposits Will Pass $2,000,000 Mark

WASHINGTON — Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and chairman of the board of the B. of L. E. Co-operative National Bank, in Cleveland, announces that the bank, which was opened on Nov. 1, 1920, had $1,500,000 of deposits on Dec. 7, and will pass the $2,000,000 mark by Dec. 31. Its first week showed 40 depositors, with a total of over $500,000 in deposits. The first $1,000,000 was in hand by Dec. 1st.

"Ours is the first cooperative national bank ever chartered," says Stone, "and I believe it is the first cooperative bank in the United States. Starting in the middle of a quarter, we deposited but very little of our funds because we did not care to lose the interest for the last six months of the year, and we find many who will later become depositors being in the same position — wishing to save accrued interest."

"The bank is specializing particularly in systematic savings, in trust funds, and in foreign exchange. The funds of the banks will be used for productive purposes, in aiding men in need, the building of homes, and for the promotion of the cooperative movement."

"Everyone is made welcome; advice to those who do not speak our language is given in their own tongue — fourteen languages are spoken among our employees at present."

"We can do anything that any legitimate bank can do, and are doing a few things that no other bank has attempted before."

UNEMPLOYMENT SCARES BRITISH

Labor Circles Declare Million Men Now Out of Work

LONDON — Unemployment in Great Britain, which has been steadily growing, has created a serious problem, which during the last few days has become more urgent owing to severe weather.

Nearly every trade is affected. Official statistics show that about 500,000 are without occupation at present.

Labor circles declare the actual number of men out of employment is fully 1,000,000. Upon a majority of these there are dependents and the total number of suffering is placed from 3,000,000 to 4,000,000, a large part of them being former soldiers.

In several places municipalities and other organizations have begun improvement works, the cost of which will be paid out of local taxes. The national executive of the labor party yesterday passed a resolution declaring the present scandal of innocent starving persons cannot be allowed to continue" and calling upon the government to maintain persons for whom no work is available.

ROOT LEAVES HULK OF THE PEACE TREATY

Gives Example of a Great Mind in Strategic Retreat

EYES ON THE CABINET

Has Rival for Place in Charles
E. Hughes; Wires Are Pulled

BY PAUL HANNA.
Staff Correspondent of The Federated Press.

WASHINGTON—Elihu Root has come ashore in the night from the sinking ship of the league of nations, leaving the hulk of Versailles to drift away on the tide, spars down and beams a-leak.

Root's visit to Washington during the past week was an epic example of a "great mind" in strategic retreat. He admits no error nor defeat. But having lost all hope of a second peace conference, at which he might give a new name to the old league, he has launched a fresh drive, under his personal guidance, to make Elihu Root the next secretary of state.

Three weeks ago Root did not want the job. At that time he still believed the substance of the league of nations could and would be preserved by his own hand in a new world conference to establish the world-wide hegemony of big business. For reasons not yet fully disclosed, Root now believes the league idea is a total loss.

America has become the center of capitalist vitality, and Root's ambition, like the needle of a compass, points toward Washington. Here lie the instruments of service to his ideals, and here lie the obstacles.

Among the obstacles are Senators Borah, Johnson, Brandegee and the other inveterate enemies of the league, who have described it as a capitalist's plan for world government and have declared that none who support it shall be secretary of state under Harding.

So Elihu Root visited or communicated with these gentlemen while in Washington. And to each of them he said, in effect: "I agree with you about the league of nations. I have always agreed with you. Our minds run along together on this thing. You can trust me. I hope you will trust me."

Heartless observers said, it was funny to see the great Root sue for peace with the irreconcilables. Others think it a shameful humiliation. Practical statesmen say it shows to what heights Root can rise. Besides, there is no other way if Root

Says Packers Law Should Be On Books

WASHINGTON—Immediate enactment by congress of legislation to control the meat packing industry is eagerly looked for by farmers and consumers throughout the country, according to George P. Hampton, director of the Farmers' National Council, who says that the farmers, the workers and the housewives of America are watching congress with the closest scrutiny to see if it will grant their almost unanimous demand for such legislation.

"It is a case of the packers versus the people," says Mr. Hampton, "with the senate and the house as jury, while in this case congress is definitely and unmistakeably quite as much on trial before the American people as the packers themselves."

The exhaustive and authoritative investigation of the meat packing industry made by the federal trade commission and the protracted and repeated hearings held by the committees on agriculture of both houses show the imperative necessity for the prompt enactment by congress of the principles of the Kenyon-Anderson bill to control the packers."

Mr. Hampton contends that "the farmers of America, impoverished by the tremendous slump in prices they receive for cattle, hogs and sheep, as well as for other farm products, and the consumers, paying enormous prices for packers' products, are entitled to have Christmas made brighter by the enactment of legislation to control the packers—the big food monopoly."

wants to be secretary of state.

For Root has a full-grown rival for the post. The rival is Charles E. Hughes. If there is to be a compromise between reactionaries and progressives in the appointment, then Hughes is distinctly eligible. He has been on the supreme court and he is mellow about Russia.

Meanwhile the league of nations wallows in the trough of an unchartered sea, with no American on deck save William Howard Taft. For Mr. Taft the situation is not dangerous. He floats. When the bark goes under he will wash ashore in time to accept a distinguished appointment from the next administration.

MUSICAL COMEDY PLEASES AT ORPH

"Flashes," a lively revue with plenty of pretty girls, attractive costumes, and artistic sets, heads an otherwise mediocre bill at the Orpheum for the last half of the week. Doc Baker, a popular comedian, with a series of lightning changes, plays the roles of a station waitress, a tailor made man, and a station porter. Polly Walker who has a pleasing voice and lots of looks ably assists. Then there are the Pearson brothers, eccentric dancers.

Doing remarkable feats with his mind, reading, writing, adding, and answering questions at the same time, Harry Kahne, the mentalist, is back again.

The Stuart girls sing some snap py songs that the audience likes. Jack Baxley and Lillian Porter insist on coming back. Even if Miss Porter does have a trying little lisp, the act would be alright if some of the gutter stuff were cut out.

DETROIT, Mich.—Thousands of Detroit children go to school without breakfast, while 2,000 are supplied with milk at the schools, Superintendent Frank Cody told the Woman's Citizen's league.

dated. The imperative needs of the university are:

- Completion of west wing to the Chemistry building.
- Temporary barrack construction near Bascom hall.
- Completion of shop plans, and steam laboratory by Camp Randall, with necessary steam tunnel construction.
- Remodeling of west part of Law building for library.
- Minor buildings for department of Plant pathology, a practice cottage and a beef cattle barn.
- Addition to Bascom hall, including remodeling of central portion.
- Addition to east side of Chemistry building.
- Hospital and clinic plans for Medical school development.
- New building for department of Geology and associated departments.
- Minor buildings for college of agriculture.
- Additional space for university extension division.
- Additional dormitory for women and initial dormitory construction for men.
- Additional quarters for men's gymnasium and university armory.

The prospects of constructing three barrack buildings near Bascom hall, and a new building for the department of Geology and new quarters for the men's gymnasium and university armory have been given up in view of the fact that other needs are more urgent at the present time.

In order to meet the situation at Wisconsin it is probably most advisable to adopt a two-fold solution, covering the immediate imperative needs and endeavoring to meet the building needs of the near future. The information gathered by Professor Haertel, chairman of

Washington Records Severe Earthquake

WASHINGTON—An unusually severe earth shock estimated to be 2,800 miles in an east-westerly direction from Washington was recorded early today on the seismograph at Georgetown university. The recording of the shock began at 7:25 a. m., the maximum intensity was reached at 8:07 a. m., and it still was in progress at 9:50 a. m. The disturbance was described by the Rev. Father F. A. Tondorf, director of the Georgetown seismographical observatory, as the worst recorded in two years.

during the afternoon. The increased enrollment in the college of engineering and the lack of space for storing purposes for the growing library of the Law school and the demand for space for students in the college of agriculture far in excess of present building capacity, present individual problems needing immediate attention.
