MEN NAMED TO FURTHER CHINA-WISCONSIN IDEA

Jack Childs Tells Preliminary Meeting of Work in Far East

Committee for the furthering of the Wisconsin in China movement, to be launched next week, were announced yesterday by Thomas A. Tredwell '23, general chairman of the organization.

All of the members of the committee have pledged themselves to aid in the work of helping their brother students in the Orient, and have agreed to work for the support of Jack Childs '12, the Badger representative in China, among the returned foreign students.

The committee appointed are assistant chairmen, Lee McCandless '23, and Lucius Chase '23; mass-meeting, Robert B. Stewart '23, chairman, Lee Hanson '24 and William Frank '24; publicity, Walter A. Frautschi '24, chairman, Eliot Sharp '25, and George Freese '25.

The executive committee for the Wisconsin in China movement has been appointed as follows: Allan Walter '24, Paul Robertson '24, Edgar Smith '24, William Bentien '26, Calvin Oakford '24, and Norris Wentworth '24.

Committeemen Told of Plans at Meeting

Preparations for the Wisconsin in China movement to gain support on the campus were started yesterday afternoon when the workers met in the Green room of the Y. M. C. A. to learn of the work which is being conducted by Jack Childs, the university's representative in the Yellow Empire.

Telling of the work which America is doing in China, Childs pointed out how the poverty-stricken country is profiting by the actions of altruistic men who are aiding the mental, physical and spiritual status of the almond-eyed youths.

"China is beginning to wake up," Childs asserted. "Before the people of the western world entered the country, graft and corruption, poverty and disease prevailed. Now, however, the Chinese is beginning to take interest in the higher things of life and is pushing every effort to improve his conditions."

Chicago to Have Farce Male Beauty Contest

Good-looking men at the University of Chicago are either plentiful or very scarce, because the mens' beauty contest to be conducted in the Cap and Gown, University annual, has come to an end almost before it started. A parody contest in which caricatures and not actual photographs will be used has been substituted.

The candidates will be selected for their popularity more than for their pulchritude. Russell Pierce, editor of the Rap and Pound department of the year book, in referring to the contest declared:

"It would be impossible to conduct a bona fide beauty contest here. We absolutely couldn't pick the best looking fellow on the campus, and the choice would be bound to create hard feeling. Therefore, we have decided that the competition will be carried out in a farcical manner."

Wisconsin Graduate Has Three Books Published

Margaret Ashmun, formerly a member of the faculty of the department of English at the university and a graduate of the university in 1904, is the author of three books which have been published this year. The three books are "Including Mother", "Support", and "Topless Towers", a romance of Morningside Heights.

IOWA WINS AWARD AT STOCK CONTEST

The Iowa student stock judging team won the Union Stock Yards and Transit company bronze statue by annexing the greatest number of points in the inter-collegiate stock judging contest held at the International Live Stock show, Chicago, Saturday.

Twenty teams entered the contest. All classes of fat stock were judged and the teams were scored on a basis of correctness of judging and oral reasons.

Wisconsin placed second on the demonstration in mutton improvement. More than 20,000 people visited the live stock and grain exhibits at the show Saturday.

Before going to the Chicago exposition, many of the competing teams stopped at Madison to judge the Wisconsin prize herd.

FACULTY RULE SUSPENDS ONE

Dishonesty Punished With Extra Credits and Published Names

One student was suspended and two were severely penalized by the faculty discipline committee of the university during the last month for dishonesty in the use of library books. Twelve other students were disciplined for dishonesty in class work.

The disciplinary action was announced after the meeting of the university faculty yesterday afternoon when the monthly report of the discipline committee was read and approved. Although the discipline committee finds it necessary to penalize a number of students each month, its actions have not been made public in the past.

J. H. Parmley, a junior in the College of Agriculture, was suspended for stealing books from the library. R. F. Nortman and F. E. Wetherby, both freshmen in the Course in Commerce, who were convicted of obtaining and keeping books from the library under assumed names, were placed on probation and required to earn 15 extra credits before graduation—about half a year's work.

The 12 convicted of dishonesty in class work were all placed on probation and required to earn extra credits before graduation as follows: one student penalized 15 credits; two penalized 10 credits each; one, 8 credits; four, 5 credits each; two, 3 credits each; and two, 1 credit each. Their names were not made public.

Among these twelve, four are freshmen, six are sophomores, and two are juniors. Seven are in Letters and Science, two in commerce, two in home economics, and one in Agriculture. Seven were dishonest in English courses; three in physics courses; one in French; and one in zoology.

Scalping Case to Be Tried By Court Tonight

The case of George R. Spangenberg '23, who pleaded not guilty to charges of scalping tickets to the Homecoming football game, will be tried before the Student court at 8 o'clock tonight in one of the rooms on the third floor of the Law building. Clifford G. Mathys L 3 will act as prosecuting attorney for the court. Carroll Heft L 3 will plead for Spangenberg. The meeting will be open to the public, according to Cecil Dull L 3, chief justice of the Student court.

BUSINESS STAFF

Freshman and sophomores desiring positions on the business staff of The Cardinal call at the business office between 2 and 4 o'clock any afternoon this week.

1924 PROM HAS FIRST MEETING OF COMMITTEES

Work on "the Prom for everybody" was started yesterday noon when 200 Prom workers met in 165 Bascom hall for the first general meeting.

Twenty-three committee chairmen and the five assistant general chairmen were introduced to the workers. Arrangements for meeting of the separate committees during the week were made following Chairman Gordon Wanzer's general discussion of the plan of procedure.

"I want to impress the fact that this will be everybody's prom," Wanzer said. "It will not be held for fraternity groups or for any particular groups. Arrangements and accommodations will be made to take everyone into consideration."

Committee chairmen and assistant chairmen will meet at 7 o'clock tonight at the Chi Psi house to discuss prom plans. Meetings of the committees will be held on Wednesday and Thursday when all prom workers will receive instructions from the chairmen.

The work of the various committees will be supervised by the assistant general chairmen. The division of work is as follows: Lee D. Hanson—floor, publicity, art publicity, decorations and pre-prom dances; Carl Vonnegut—finance, boxes, ways and means, tickets, prom play; Oscar Christianson—prom movies, supper, music, program; Wilbur Wittenberg—men's arrangements, electrical, transportation, special features, prom fox trot; Josephine Coates—women's arrangements, rooming arrangements, reception, alumni.

GAGE OBTAINS NEW IDEAS FROM CONVO

Many ideas and changes for the Wisconsin Memorial Union building were suggested to Leslie R. Gage, president of Union board, at the convention of 20 representatives from unions of colleges and universities in the United States and Canada in Toronto December 1 and 2.

Gage will confer with Wisconsin's architects on changes he thinks advisable after having seen the Toronto Union and having talked with other union presidents about buildings they have recently constructed or are planning to build.

"The advisability of having sleeping quarters, dining rooms and a large auditorium was discussed. Cornell has perhaps carried this idea farthest in providing 50 rooms in the building they are now planning," Gage said yesterday.

PLACE DEAN IN HALL OF FAME

Russell is Honored By Agriculturalists For Outstanding Work

Another Wisconsin man's name was inscribed upon agriculture's "roll of fame" when the portrait of Dean H. L. Russell of the College of Agriculture was unveiled last night in the portrait gallery of the Saddle and Siroin club, Chicago.

Virtually one-tenth of the honored agriculturists in the "hall of fame" are Wisconsin men. Included in this list are Dr. S. M. Babcock, inventor of the Babcock fat test for milk; ex-Gov. W. D. Hoard, "father of modern dairying"; H. C. Adams, farmer-congressman who fostered legislation developing agricultural colleges; and W. A. Henry, former dean of the college of agriculture.

Dean Russell was selected for this honor because of his outstanding leadership in promoting agriculture. Since 1907 he has been dean of the College of Agriculture and director of the Wisconsin experiment station.

He was born the son of a Columbus, county doctor, and after receiving a preliminary education, he came to the university where he graduated in 1888. Before taking his doctor's degree at John Hopkins university in Baltimore, he studied bacteriology at the Pasteur Institute in France and in other foreign countries.

From 1893 to 1907 he taught and experimented at Wisconsin when he succeeded Dean W. A. Henry as dean of the college of agriculture.

In the world of science, Dean Russell has made several important contributions. The canning industry of America owes to his discoveries the scope of its business today. He perfected a method of preserving by sterilization which has made possible a rapid growth in the industry.

He also is a pioneer in the pasteurization of milk and cream. After careful investigation he intro-

Directory Copy to Be Received Here This Week

The corrected copy of the student directory containing the faculty list probably will be received this week. This late edition is intended primarily for office use and not for distribution to students. Twenty-five hundred were ordered and copies will be sent out to the faculty and administrative officers through the university mail as soon as they are received. A limited number will be turned over to the Bursar for distribution outside the university.

WEATHER: COLDER

Fair and decidedly colder weather is predicted for today with cold northwest winds. Forecast for tomorrow is continued cold and fair weather.

BODY CONSIDERS INVITATIONS OF THREE SCHOOLS

Schedule For All Sports is Announced By Big Ten Council

Although the Wisconsin athletic department is still considering invitations to play football games with Syracuse, Nebraska, and Centre college next year, it is unlikely that a contest with any of these teams will be scheduled, as a result of developments at the Big Ten meeting held last weekend.

Nebraska carded a contest with Illinois, probably the only Conference eleven it will meet. Because eligibility rules at Centre are alleged to be loose, possibility of the athletic council accepting the Colonels' bid is small. If Syracuse, the team which beat Nebraska this year, should come to Madison the intersectional aspect of the battle probably would not receive unqualified sanction of the Big Ten athletic body.

Wisconsin plays two important Conference games at Madison next year. Both Michigan and Minnesota, two of the most powerful elevens in the West, journey here. Illinois was left on the schedule.

Michigan and Illinois Break

Michigan and Illinois broke, however, the Wolverines taking Iowa. The reason for the rupture was inability to agree on a date, and no ill-feeling existed between Coaches Fielding H. Yost and Robert Zuppke.

In their other three games, the Badgers travel to the Indiana Iron at Bloomington, Illinois at Urbana, and close the season at Chicago in the last game under the present five-year contract.

Other games which were carded and came as unexpected surprises were the Indiana-Chicago contest, their first meeting in years, and the Ohio State-Purdue game arranged after the Buckeyes broke with Minnesota.

Other Rules Changed

Permission to play eight football games was given by the faculty which met in Chicago, Saturday. The body forbade teams to start official practice until two weeks before the first Saturday in October, thus shortening the football season from three to ten days. If Big Ten faculties approve the resolution, it will be returned to the committee with a majority vote necessary before it is passed.

The faculty committee passed a resolution requesting Conference teams to stay out of the national

Medical Professor Will Pay Tribute to Pasteur

The first centenary of the birth of Louis Pasteur, French scientist, will be commemorated by a public address by Victor C. Vaughn, dean of the Medical school of the University of Michigan, and chairman of the National Research council, division of medical sciences, at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the auditorium of the Biology building. Sigma Xi, graduate scientific fraternity, is sponsoring the meeting. Pasteur is noted for his studies and discoveries in fermentation, researches in hydrophobia, and his suggestion of inoculation as a preventive of disease. Pasteur Institute in Paris, where he worked from 1886 until his death in 1895, bears his name.

Report Overcoats Taken From Racks in Hallways

The theft of three overcoats was reported to the office of the Business manager yesterday. One of the coats was taken from Science hall and the other two from Agricultural hall. The owners said that they were unable to put the garments on locked hooks and found them missing at the end of the class hour.

SENATE FAILS IN BUTLER O. K.

La Follette and Norris Offer
Objection to Day's Successor

WASHINGTON—The nomination of Pierce Butler, St. Paul attorney, to be an associate justice of the supreme court, failed of confirmation by the senate yesterday in the close of the extra session and a re-nomination in the regular session was made necessary.

Senators La Follette, rep., Wis., and Norris, rep., Neb., objected to immediate confirmation and forced over the nomination.

A statement opposing Mr. Butler's confirmation filed recently with the judiciary committee was referred to by Sen. La Follette and he was joined by Sen. Norris in demanding that the persons making the statement be given a hearing. Under these circumstances the leaders decided to attempt no action yesterday.

The statement filed with the committee related to Mr. Butler's alleged connection with railroads and other corporations and also with political leaders in his home city.

Among the nominations confirmed was that of Miss Lucile Atcherson, of Columbus, O., to be secretary of legation. She is the first woman ever appointed to the diplomatic corps.

The senate confirmed the nomination of A. T. Seymour of Columbus, O., to be assistant to the attorney general to take the place of Guy D. Goff, resigned.

Professor Mills Working on Commencement Music

Prof. C. H. Mills, who is composing the music to be used in connection with the June commencement exercises has declined to name his compositions.

"It is to be my contribution to Wisconsin, and I am undertaking only the composing. Names mean nothing anyway. It is the music I wish to create. Commencement ought to be a splendid pageant with local music partaking of the spirit of their lakes and hills, and the things we hold most dear in our Badger state," he said. "We want the whole musical program to cohere and form a unit. There should be a connecting link and recognizable bond between the various selections played by the band."

Professor Mills has completed the composition of the music to be played for the processional march and for the period covering the eight minutes during which the B. A. graduates march to the platform for their degrees. In his march he has incorporated parts of "On Wisconsin" and "Varsity". He is working on the music to be used while the agricultural and engineering students get their degrees.

The entire composition may be finished by next June so that the class of 1923 may have the honor of using the production of a man who has done so much for Wisconsin.

He realizes the greatness of his undertaking, when he says, "Music cannot be written any time. One must feel it to write it. And further, if I could create any time, I have other duties which would prevent it. For these reasons the composing is continually interrupted and delayed. I may not have the opportunity to complete it for several years."

"Occupational Diseases in the Chemical Industry" will be the subject of an address given by W. E. Ouwenel '25, at the regular meeting of the Chemical Engineering society tonight in the Chemical Engineering building. Officers of the society extend an invitation to underclassmen to be present at the meeting. A short business session will follow the talk.

Sophie Brandt Will Thrill Orph Patrons

There is a thrill to every note which Sophie Brandt, coming to the Orpheum, sings and assurance and authority to her performances which is only acquired by years of singing in grand opera and under the baton of the greatest conductors of Europe and America. Her voice is full and luscious, with a range which no other artist on the stage today possesses and she has chosen songs whose orchestration allow for its complete expression. At the very zenith of her success in Italian grand opera she abandoned her career completely to nurse and sing at the front for more than three years and the adventures and the hardships she underwent in pursuance of her patriotic work form a most exciting and romantic chapter of her colorful cosmopolitan life. Her appearance at the Orpheum on Thursday will mark her vaudeville debut, and will be notable in the Orpheum annals.

Women Plan Old-Fashioned
Sale and Auction of Gifts and Presents

Many solutions for that puzzling Christmas gift problem will be offered at the Y. W. C. A. Old English bazaar Saturday afternoon in Lathrop.

Gus Tuckerman '23, will hold a whirlwind auction sale at 5 o'clock for the poor bankrupt English lord who is forced to sell everything. Gus will have a large stock of things from the Madison merchants, sorority and women's rooming houses, ranging from slippers and stockings to stationary, flat irons, and fine lingerie.

Ye Book Shoppe will be filled with the best current fiction as well as quaint volumes for gift purposes. Christmas cards in more than the proverbial 57 varieties will be on sale.

Candy in attractive pound and half-pound boxes with bright sprigs of holly ribbon will be offered at the booth and by girls with berib-boned trays. Fresh flowers as well as attractive corsages will be offered by the Freshmen commission. The sale of gifts will go on all during the bazaar as well as at the auction.

Chances to see Madison as it used to be, professors as they really looked, sorority belles in their true light, antiquated tea hounds, old football teams, all these will be exposed in the Curiosity shop which is under the direction of Alice Gilbert '26.

NEWS OF CONFERENCE SPORTS

BIG 10 COACHES ORGANIZE NEW BASEBALL BODY

Central Council Will Have Jurisdiction Over All Conference Games

For the first time since the inception of the Big Ten, a baseball organization was effected last Saturday, with officers elected as in basketball and track. Coach Guy S. Lowman, Wisconsin, was elected chairman of the organization and Trautman, Ohio State, was made secretary.

The organization will arrange for a definite plan of procedure in carding ball games, in the selection of officials, and the adjustment of any points which come up during the course of the season.

Twelve men have been selected who are acceptable to all conference institutions, and combating teams will choose from this list for umpires.

Gophers Bid For Players

"Wee Willie" McGill, former star left fielder on the old Baltimore Orioles and later of the New York Giants, may come to Minnesota as baseball coach next year. It was reported at the meeting that Gopher authorities are trying to sign the diminutive star of former days.

The new baseball association decided to bar the spit-ball and all freak deliveries and adhere to the national code regarding all rules.

Coaches in the Conference this year are: Kent, Northwestern, who was formerly at Wisconsin; Sanbury, Iowa; St. John, Ohio State; Lambert, Purdue; Fisher, Michigan; Lundgren, Illinois; Norgren, Chicago. Since the resignation of Coach George Levis, Indiana has been without the services of a coach.

Lowman Issues Schedule

Postponed games will not be played off in the future, according to the new organization.

The Wisconsin baseball schedule, as issued by Coach Guy S. Lowman, includes two games to be played with the University of Mississippi, Oxford, during the spring training trip, and also two with Mississippi A. & M., Starktown. Notre Dame is carded for one game at Madison, but it is doubtful if a return game will be played at South Bend unless it is included in the Badger southern journey.

School For Basketball

Coaches is Successful

Because the instructions for basketball coaching were not ready for correspondence, Dr. W. E. Meanwell of the athletic department, personally conducted a two day school for high school basketball coaches last Friday and Saturday at Wausau.

"You will be glad to know," wrote the field man at Wausau to Mr. William H. Lighty, secretary of the Extension Division, "that the basketball instructions were a wonderful success. Men from many places extending over a tremendous territory, and many from outside of the fifth district attended. All expressed their keen satisfaction with the plan and the results."

The letter to Mr. Lighty also tells that there were six men from outside of the district who attended because of newspaper items concerning this plan.

Doctor Meanwell instructed on the gym floor and lectured from 9 o'clock in the morning to 10 o'clock at night, giving the students nine hours of class work a day.

Doctor Meanwell inquired from the men outside the district as to meeting. The answer was invariably that "they wished to learn from the fountain source of basketball knowledge, Doctor Meanwell."

Carney to Lead Navy

On Field Next Year

Arthur G. Carney of New York City, left guard of the Navy football team, was elected captain of the team for next season by one vote, over Stephen P. Barchet, full back. Carney has played left guard on the Navy eleven for two years and was a substitute for another season.

Cross Country Men Get

Numerals and Insignia

Eight cross-country men were awarded their college insignia and seven were given numerals for work in intra-mural races held during the past season. Awards were made by the athletic board.

The list of men who receive their college insignia because of being on the winning team or finishing among the first five in the inter-college race follows: George Piper '25, Frank Gunderson '24, Everett Swingle '25, Ralph Smithyman '25, Russell Stiles '25, members of the winning Agric team, Harry Cohen '25, Engineer, Kenneth Kennedy '26 Letters and Science, Lucius Chase '25, Commerce.

Those who earned numerals in the inter-class race by being on the winning team or finishing in the first five are: George Piper '25, Robert Trier '25, Lynn Stewart '25, George Lange '25, Everett Swingle '25, all members of the winning sophomore team; Kenneth Kennedy '26, Harry Cohen '25, and Lucius Chase '25.

Robert Black '25, was appointed senior manager for the 1923 cross-country season. Albert Oosterman '25, and Willmarth Jackson '25, were made junior managers. Robert M. Lawin received his numerals as freshman manager.

PERIOD SOCCER TEAM IS CHAMP

Winners of Annual Tournament Beat Tigers in Finals

Playing without the services of Reschan, captain and star of the team, the Periods won the annual soccer tournament, when they defeated the heretofore undefeated tigers by a 1-0 score Saturday afternoon. The lone counter came during the first part of the first half when the tigers got a goal from the field.

Despite the muddy condition of the field, the play was fast and thrilling throughout the two periods. The two teams have met and defeated every opponent to the championship and were both set to win yesterday.

The tigers lost two excellent opportunities to score in the first half when two fouls were called on their opponents inside the goal line, inability to kick when the free chances were presented opened defeat when a victory might have been had.

While most of the play was distinctly amateur in nature, there were times when individual flashes of brilliancy made the game look almost like one between professionals. The individual star of the game was Kievey, acting captain of the Period team. Time and again he worked the sphere the length of the field but was unable to score because of the strong defense of the tiger backs.

The championship period team will have its picture in the 1924 Badger as a reward for its work.

After the game the Periods received a challenge from the team made up of Wisconsin's Chinese students for a game in the near future.

Judge Withholds Penalty on Manufacturer; to Probe Case

Charles White pleaded guilty to charges of violation of the state dry law when arraigned in Superior court today following a raid on his home, 1927 E. Main st., Saturday afternoon by police officers. Sentence was deferred pending investigation by the court. A 10 gallon still and a quantity of mash were found by the officers.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in behalf of the Parson's Cloak and Suit Co., State st., in the office of the clerk of the United States District court. It was learned today William B. Roys has been appointed receiver and will remain in that capacity until another receiver has been named by the court, or his appointment confirmed.

BADGER QUINTET INCREASES PACE AS GAME NEARS

Football Men Swell Number of Candidates For Cage Squad

With the first preliminary game with Butler College only ten days off, and with the football men now out for regular practice, Coach Meanwell has his men doing the hardest pace they are capable of.

Capt. Gus Tebell and Rollie Williams, along with a number of other valuable men from the football squad are out for the first time this week. Radke and Sykes went thru the rehearsals with the squad last week.

The freshmen, who have been developing better team work continually, will be utilized for scrimmage purposes several times this week. The team is practicing every afternoon in a final effort to get in condition for the two games before Christmas vacation.

Butler College surprised the conference last season when they defeated Wisconsin in a preliminary game here by the score of 26 to 20. Coach Pat Page, who won his fame at the University of Chicago before going to Butler three years ago, has made this small Indianapolis college famous, in that short time, for its athletic teams. Their last accomplishments were football victories over Illinois and Wabash this fall.

Coach Page has his winning basketball team of the past two seasons almost intact. The few vacancies that were made by graduation have been well filled by second string men from last year and by an influx of Indiana high school stars. As is usual at Butler, the basket men have been practicing for many weeks, and the reversal of the dope of last year may repeat itself when Butler again stacks up against the Badgers.

The Butler game is set for December 15. Another game will be with Beloit here, while another small college will be taken on following the holidays before the regular conference season opens.

Professionalism Hit

By Halfback in Talk

"Gibby" Gibson, half-back on the Varsity football team, spoke to the 20th annual Older Boy's conference of Wisconsin at La Crosse on the subject of downing professionalism in football. He said that professionalism must be put down if football is to be saved as a college sport, and asserted that the professionals, with their lures of money, were dragging the sport under.

Ames Wants Game With Penn State Gridders

Iowa state college is negotiating with the Pennsylvania State football team to stop at Ames enroute to the west where they are to play in the tournament of roses at Pasadena, California, on New Year's day. An effort was made by the Pennsylvanians to secure a game with the Cyclones in December but the plan fell through.

Eckersall Picks Three

Badgers For All-Stars

Wisconsin has one of the best football teams in the western conference, Walter Eckersall of the Chicago Tribune, placed three Wisconsin men on his mythical All-Conference team.

Eckersall places Rollie Williams at quarter-back. "Fearless on defense and dangerous on offense, he was a great player with enough football intelligence to lead the team in any sort of action," he says.

Gus Tebell is placed at right end on this team of football demons. He is called a fearless player and one "who performed consistently all season."

The credit of being placed on the All-Conference team in his junior year goes to Marty Below, captain-elect of the Badger squad. Eckersall says of him, "he had plenty of range, covered lots of ground and in most cases hurried the forward passes."

OARSMEN REST UNTIL SPRING

Crews Finish Outdoor Practice and Begin Work on Machines

The varsity crews have finished their fall outdoor practice and will rest until after the holidays. After the vacation period Coach "Dad" Vail will take the varsity and the freshman crews indoors for practice on the machines. At that time he will teach the men the fundamentals and brush them up before practice can be held on the lake in the spring. The outdoor work was finished about three weeks ago.

There are approximately 170 men who are working on the machines now to get off gym credit. Thirty minute sections made up by freshmen and sophomores meet from 2 o'clock to 5 daily. These men are given a taste of crew life and are taught the fundamentals of the game. If they can stand the gait and show some promise they will be shifted to other positions when the time comes.

Coach Vail regrets the lack of good crew material among Wisconsin men. At no time since 1912 has Wisconsin had an abundance of good men. According to Coach Vail all the men are too short and do not have the necessary endurance over a three mile course.

Change Date of Dolphin Exhibition to Thursday

The Dolphin exhibition which was to have been given Friday and Saturday night, has been changed to Thursday and Friday owing to a conflict with the Y. W. C. A. bazaar. Faculty and students have been invited both nights, instead of inviting faculty one night and students the other as was planned previously.

Admission is 25 cents and tickets may be procured only from Dolphin members. There will be no open sale, or sale at the door.

Olga Andersen '23 is general chairman of the exhibition, and Lois Barry '25, is in charge of diving, Phyllis Bott '24 of stunts, Ann Smith '25 of strokes and Phyllis Tatman '23 of water polo.

Illinois-Nebraska Game

Will Be Made to Order

The Illinois-Nebraska game, scheduled for October 6 next year, will be one of the most unique of any in the history of football.

Coaches Zuppke and Dawson have made an agreement whereby they will send to each other diagrams of the plays to be used and information regarding the general play of their men. They have agreed to start practice at the same time, and to keep each other informed with the strength of their teams, offensive and defensive, individually and collectively.

The game will not serve as a test of the calibre of football played in the two states, but will be mostly a means of conditioning the players for the regularly scheduled games, it is stated.

WAGE EARNERS TO HELP POOR

Marcus Johnson in Appeal For Smyrna Relief Funds

By Marcus E. Johnson

The wage class, as a group, is now and always has been in favor of every humanitarian effort. While their wage rate is barely enough to give them a minimum opportunity for pleasures, yet of these they are always ready to make a sacrifice play. Compared with those having a sumptuous prosperity financially like stock gamblers, profiteers, and the like, the wage group have made immense sacrifices. It is therefore only necessary to know for a certainty that need exists to justify their help which always to some extent effects their living standards.

The facts are that a region as large as Texas and California combined has been completely devastated as far as Christians are concerned and a city having four times the population of Madison has been completely destroyed, whether by retreating Greeks or advancing Turks does not matter. The facts are that hundreds of thousands are depending for necessities of life through the winter on hospitable nations such as ours always have been. Could there be any greater appeal for our help?

We are now in a material way, the most prosperous nation in the world, therefore our responsibility is accordingly greater. Just as soon as the wage class is convinced of the pressing importance of immediate response, they will give all they can give.

Furniture Store Fire

Does $300 Damage

A fire at the Malsack furniture store, 15 S. Webster st., did damage to furniture estimated at $300 before it was extinguished by firemen from the Central station. The furniture store building was formerly the Congregational and later the German Presbyterian church. It was erected in 1846, and is an old landmark in Madison.

ADVISE CHANGE IN EDUCATION

General Board Makes Recommendations Concerning Indian Schools

Radical changes have been recommended for the educational department of Indiana and Purdue universities, and Indiana Normal school, following a thorough investigation of educational conditions in different states ordered by the general educational board of New York City.

The report of the investigation showed that the children of Indiana are handicapped by an ineffectual elementary school system due chiefly to teachers lacking proper training and experience.

The contents of the report are to be published in book form and will be distributed widely over the state shortly and will be presented at the next meeting of the General Assembly at the next session in January. Part of the volume is devoted to outlining the conditions and deficiencies in the present system of education, and methods are suggested which will effect a complete shake up.

Some of the recommendations are as follows: Licensing of teachers to be based on credentials from accredited institutions instead of examinations as heretofore; certain subjects to be taught by teachers with special licenses; a minimum salary to vary according to successful experience; Indiana State Normal school to return to its primary function of training teachers; and a readjusting of the requirements of Indiana university for the A. B. degree or the establishment of a special degree for students preparing for high school teaching.

Wheeler Music School

Head to Give Recital

A piano recital by Mr. Clarence Eidam will be given at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Womans building. Mr. Eidam is the new principal of the piano department of the Wheeler School of Music, taking the place of Victor Heinze, who is spending the winter in Europe. Mr. Eidam has been a pupil of Mr. Heinze and Professor Levine for many years. He has a wide reputation as a concert pianist, having appeared with a number of famous orchestras, including the Chicago Symphony orchestra. This will be his first appearance in Madison.

Music Formula Seen By Critic In Flonzaleys

By PORTIA B. LUGOFF

Take four European artists, exclusive, from Italy, Switzerland, France and Belgium; add two violins, one viola, one 'cello to each; draw out strains of melodies rare harmonious, highly expressive. Name it all "Flonzaleys" and you have the Flonzaleys quartet which played at the Christ Presbyterian church last evening under the auspices of the university School of Music.

Beginning with the "Quartet in D major" by Haydn to the last number, the entire program was an evening's delight, eagerly received. There was perfect accord in the playing of the pieces. Every player put his whole heart into his playing and understood the mood of his musician comrade.

The first number generally illustrates well the ability of the player, and Haydn's composition gave the artists ample opportunity to show how and what they were able to play. First was the moderate movement of the allegro, each note distinct in itself, clear and lovely. Then followed the more sombre second movement, sentimental, interpreted and played with artistic effort; then the minuetto. Lastly came the vivacious, sparkling finale with the rippling tones.

Arnold Bax's "Quartet in G major" had an individual quaint appeal, an effect able to be produced only through the strings of such four instruments. The composition was a novelty and was translated by the weird, graphic expression necessary to bring out the weird ideas of the composer. It was as if the instruments had the power to carry one away to the land of strange creatures and things. The piece offered unusual technical display and feeling.

The sweet melody parts, the occasional boom, boom of the 'cello in the background, the here and there pick of the violins, and you had "The Londonderry Air" by Frank Bridge as typically Irish as could be wished. Shakespeare would have been charmed with the airy characters as conceived by these artists through the stringed instruments in "Puck" by Joseph Speaight. They were fantastic dancing figures and did justice to every motion of the musicians.

SANTA CLAUS IS COMING

THERE once was a Student who was the Shining light of the Campus.

In Math he was a Shark. All the Profs respected his Bull Dog ability to get Results.

He pursued his Studies instead of the Studies pursuing him. He knocked the Ex out of Prexy with his Brilliancy.

Not only had he Matriculated, but he had heared the Danger Zone of being Graduated. Foresight and Wisdom had been his constant Playmates.

But the Merry Month of December arrived. And Christmas with his Return to the Home Town Knocking at the Door.

Dorothy and Louise must be remembered with Tokens of his thoughtful Esteem. Dad, Mother and the Kids were on the Pocket-book List too.

The Merchants of the College Town were Loyal Followers of the Disciple Gardner. Bargains in the Stores were Legion. The Rush for the Frosh-Soph bags was Tame to the Christmas Rush which He could have Avoided.

In Debating he had been a Star. He knew the Pro and Con. His Christmas buying was too Snail-like to even Catch the Con-sumption. Verily he was a Pro-cra-stinator.

Santa came and the Student had missed the Bargains.

Dorothy gave him the Cold Shoulder, while Louise declared in favor of the Open Door.

Moral: Do your shopping early, and avoid the rush. Only 17 shopping days remain before Christmas.

SHALL WEST MEET EAST?

THE football schedule for the next year has been revealed. Games with the opponents of the 1922 season have been negotiated. The Badgers will play Illinois, Michigan, Chicago, Minnesota and Indiana.

Alleged dissatisfaction between the Wisconsin and Illinois authorities over the ineligibility row has proved no obstacle for 1923 contests.

Wisconsin will play her old rivals again next year.

Public opinion in the form of the ballot is the heart of self-government.

A referendum on the proposition of an intersectional game with Wisconsin would, receive we believe overwhelming support of the student body. This statement has been attested by the unanimous favor of student leaders and even alumni members.

Let Wisconsin's name be known. Give the team an opportunity to play Centre College or a university from the East.

The preliminary games have not been completed. Other big universities have adopted the intersectional game idea. It is not too late for Wisconsin.

COLLEGIATE SPEECH

"GOTTA pill?"

"Nope. Clear out."

"Dja have a good hop with Mable last night?"

"Yea. Whadaja think of th' new pin she's wearin'?"

"Well, kinda tough on Bill, don't ja think."

"Maybe so, but it's gonna be tougher on Dad when he sees my bill."

It represents two characteristics of collegiate speech, slang and slipshod English.

The extent of slang in every-day conversation is a marked factor in American life. Ideas, a few years old, are branded conservative and unprogressive by unmerciful liberals. Institutions change as rapidly as ideas. America sets the pace her speech is no exception.

In the advance line of progressive ideas stands the college as the center of knowledge and the point from which radiates the latest in science and art.

The use of slang and the careless pronunciation of words are two different factors.

The use of jazzy words is bad enough without adding the careless juggling of syllables and vowels.

Better speech among the students would be worth while. With the New Year approaching we suggest such a solemn vow at the altar of English.

Whaddya think?

Statistics show that 1515 students matriculated in the classes of this university, of which 956 are women and 559 are men.

HOME FOOTBALL GAMES

Editor The Cardinal:

For any followers of Badger football who happened to glance at Wisconsin's 1923 schedule, there are two features of it that stand out preeminently.

First, the retention of Illinois, one of our natural Big Ten rivals, on the schedule, meets the approval of virtually all Badger supporters. Secondly, the inadequacy of our home schedule is cause for bitter resentment and dissatisfaction on the part of the alumni, the student body, and Madison business men.

Why is it that year after year the plea of Cardinal supporters is ignored? True enough we can't expect to abrogate home and home agreements with conference schools, but there is nothing to prevent the scheduling of a game with Centre college, or Nebraska, or one of the several other non-conference institutions that are clamoring for a game.

Illinois has Nebraska on her preliminary schedule, Michigan has Vanderbilt, while Wisconsin, the third member of the conference's "Big Three", still clings to her meaningless tradition of isolation, and is satisfied to leave her supporters two home games of high calibre football.

It is not yet too late to schedule a game with a representative non-conference school. Let us all shout together, "We want an intersectional game."

Delta Phi Delta Art

Sale is Successful

With carved caricatures of Andy Gump and Min to attract the passer-by, the Delta Phi Delta honorary art fraternity, was more successful in its Christmas sale on Friday and Saturday than any expectation, according to Mrs. Francis Streets, chairman of the sale.

Unusual toys, trays and drawings were offered the Christmas shopper. Everything was sold, and many orders were placed to be filled before the holidays.

"We gave this sale not only for the purpose of providing the members an opportunity to apply the principles which they have learned in the art course, and to help the organization pay all general expenses, but to give the public a opportunity to buy unusual gift medium prices," said Martha van, president of the organization.

S. G. A. Board to Be

Entertained By Council

Members of the S. G. A. board will be entertained at an informal ca from 4-6 Wednesday afternoon by the executive council in Lathrop parlors.

"The board has met so long without the members knowing each other except in a business way that the executive council decided to give a party to afford an opportunity of becoming acquainted. We hope that as many girls as possible will come," said Mary Baldwin '23, who is in charge of the party.

HARDING GIVES BUDGET A CUT

500 Million Decrease is Seen;
600 Millions For Army and Navy

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON — Congress closed its two weeks extra session and started its regular session yesterday with an intervening period of only ten minutes. By resolution the end of the special session which began Nov. 20, was closed at 11:50 o'clock and the new and final session of the 67th congress began at the statutory hour of noon. Proceedings yesterday were largely the routine of winding up the old and beginning the new sessions which runs until March 3. The principal business of the new session yesterday was receipt of the annual budget. Today President Harding is expected to deliver his message outlining the administration's program with the shipping bill, farm credit legislation and annual appropriations bill as the major features in prospect. Republicans and Democrats in the senate yesterday ratified the treaty of peace ending the four day filibuster by the minority against the Dyer anti-Lynching bill.

WASHINGTON — President Harding, in transmitting the annual federal budget for the next fiscal year, frankly told congress yesterday that whether there was to be any material reduction in government expenditures and in taxes in future years, would depend on whether there was to be a curtailment or expansion of federal aid in lines of research improvement and development.

Placing the estimated government outlay in 1924 at $3,190,843, 234 a decrease of about $500,000, 000 as compared with estimates for this fiscal year Mr. Harding called attention that two thirds of this total was on account of practically fixed charges, such as the public debt, national defense, pensions, world war allowances and federal aid. There was left he said, only about one billion dollars in charges subject to administrative control and against which, he added, the retrenchment policy of the government had been directed.

While expressing the opinion that some further reduction undoubtedly would result from a reorganization of government establishments on a more scientific basis the president said this alone would not affect such a material cut in operating costs as would justify the expression of hope for a considerable lessening of expenditures in the years to come.

Student Civil Engineers to Hear State Architect

Mr. Arthur Peabody, state architect, will address the student branch of the American Society of Civil Engineers at its bi-monthly meeting tomorrow night in the auditorium of the Engineering building. Mr. Peabody will speak on the cooperation of the architect and the engineer, citing as an example the planning and designing of the new state hospital. State and city engineering officials are invited to attend as well as students.

Press Club Members to Hold Initiation Supper

The initiation meeting for the recently elected Press club members will be held in the form of a cafeteria supper at 5:30 o'clock on December 12, in Lathrop S. G. A. room.

Al Willoughby '23, president, announced that a typical demonstration of the club's spirit would be on display tomorrow at 1 o'clock when all regular members and those elected last week will gather on the library steps facing the lower campus, and pose for a group picture for the 1923 Badger.

"This is the first year in the history of the club that such a large representation of journalism students has been active in the organization. The club has developed from a small handful of leaders to a large and responsible body of active press students, a condition that predicts a forceful future for the Press club," the president announced.

ELKS DRAPE 13 VACANT CHAIRS

Roll of Dead is Called at Memorial Program on Sunday

Impressive services for their 13 brothers who have died during the year were held by Madison Elks at their lodge Sunday afternoon.

"This time of the year was selected for this service because all nature is dying and suggests the end of man," said L. F. Fellenz, past grand master of the Fond du Lac lodge, main speaker of the afternoon.

As a part of the ceremonies Exalted Ruler Joseph L. Starr called the roll of the 13 deceased brothers. Thirteen vacant chairs were decorated with wreaths.

The program included musical selections by Scherer's orchestra violin solos by Miss Norma Shoen vocal solos by Alexius Baas, and an opening and closing ode by all attending.

Those for whom the services were held, were: John W. Groves, James Nevin, John G. Hyland, Theodore D. Abel, D. F. Conlin, George Hyland, W. R. MacKenzie, W. E. Voigt, L. W. Kronck, B. H. Doyon, J. Fred Luder, L. A. Gersch, Charles Christenson.

Stock Issue for New Hotel Approved Today

The sale of $200,000 of first preferred stock in the new Hotel Madison was authorized by the railroad commission yesterday, and steps were taken to immediately place this issue with the business and professional men of Madison.

An organization of local men is being perfected for the sale of this stock and about 50 already have agreed to act as salesmen.

An interesting exhibit of Chinese embroidery, mandarin coats, scarfs and novelties which have been brought over from China recently will be shown at the home of Mrs. Morris, 121 Summit avenue from 2-5 o'clock today. These articles are on sale at a reasonable price.

HUGHES URGES END TO STRIFE

Do Away With War, He Tells Central American Parley

WASHINGTON — A hope that the conference of Central American republics meeting here today will register a "high and effective resolve to put an end to strife which impoverishes and to bring to naught all attempts to foment mutual distrust" was expressed by Sec'y Hughes in formally opening of the conference. His address follows in part:

"The interest of the United States is found in the peace of this hemisphere and in the conservation of your interests. The same desire which now animates you prompted the Central American peace conference of the year 1907. The passing of the years, the important changes recently wrought, the spectacle of the devastating results of war, have heightened your determination to consider the fundamental requisites of stability and development.

"Believing that a great advance has been made towards peace and stability and that the friendly relations and the prosperity of their peoples could still further be assured by a frank exchange of views the U. S. invited the governments of the Central American Republics to send their plenipotentiaries to Washington for this conference."

Wisconsin Women Will Attend University Meet

Miss Katherine Rosenberry '22, daughter of Justice and Mrs. M. B. Rosenberry, and Miss Elizabeth Fox, will represent the university at the opening of the national headquarters and club rooms of the American association of university women at Washington D. C. Miss Rosenberry is teaching at the National Cathedral school at Washington, and Miss Fox is with the American Red Cross.

F. Louise Nardin, dean of women at the university, who was invited to represent the university and the Madison branch of the association, asked the two alumnae to attend in her place.

A formal reception will be the opening event. Presidents and deans of accredited colleges, heads of educational, historical, and scientific foundations, members of the International Federation, and other distinguished men and women are to attend.

LABOR HEAD GOVERNOR'S SECRETARY

George W. P. Hunt, former U. S. minister to Siam and just re-elected governor of Arizona for a fourth term, declares that he will fight any attempt of the corporations to control state government and will see that labor gets a square deal. Hunt has named H. S. McCluskey, president of the state federation of labor and editor of the Labor Journal, his private secretary.

Orph Has Goob Hanb But Where Are The Hearts?

By R. B. S.

The Orpheum had a turn in luck this week and held a very good hand and although it could not exactly declare a grand slam on the way they fell still they came forth from the game with a very creditable score and it was the tricks that put it over.

Bobby Henshaw:

This was ace high in the deck of entertainment and judging from the applause we chose it for trump. We don't usually play signals but we are still wondering if his partner does. We could easily follow her lead.

The Bluebird Review:

They gave a musical act of singing that was in unusually good taste in both their popular and classical selections.

Johnson Brothers and Johnson:

The three of them made a sort of pocket edition minstrel show and are a sure bet for one trick.

Selbini and Grovini:

The eight spot. Sometimes you can finesse with an eight but the cards were running too high for them last night. They were acrobats.

"School Days"

A flock of "Jacks." True to their reputations they were very nimble and quite the life of the party. Chiefly slap-stick but also amusing.

Kingston and Ebner

Banter and songs that filled out the hand and made the cards worth playing.

Owners Must Call

For Plans by January

Plans of buildings which have been completed and now on file at the office of G. H. Mason, city building commissioner, must be called for before January if the owners wish to keep them, it was announced today. A plan of each building is filed with the commissioner to be kept by him until the building is finished. The old plans are disposed of each year to make room for new ones.

Lutheran Students Will Give Banquet Wednesday

All Lutheran students in the university are being invited to attend a banquet given by the Lutheran student association Wednesday night in the parlors of the Luther Memorial church.

Wilbur W. Wittenberg '24, president of the Lutheran student cabinet, will act as toastmaster. Short talks will be given by Dean F. Louise Nardin, and the Rev. A. J. Soldan. Ernest Pett, L3, will tell of the future plans of the organization, and Reverend Bieber of Minneapolis will speak on the subject of, "The Student in the Church."

Although the work of the association has been retarded this year by the recent church campaign, the members are making many plans for future social gatherings among the many Lutheran students in the university.

Lutheran Student Club Hold Dinner Wednesday

The Lutheran Student association of Luther Memorial church will have a dinner on Wednesday, Dec. 6 at 6 o'clock at the church parlors. All Lutheran students and their friends are invited. Dr. M. J. Bieber, superintendent of missions of Minneapolis will speak on "The Student in the Church."

The object of the association on the campus is to relate the student to the church and its activities and to make him a stronger and better member at the church back home. Officers of the association are W. Wittenberg, president; Bernice Elver, vice president; Vera Carlyle, secretary; Otto Herbener, treasurer.

Professional Men Here Plan an Organization

An organization of professional men of Madison is being considered here by members of the Association of Commerce. C. W. Haswell, director-chairman of the service committee, is receiving suggestions. New Orleans, it is said, has an organization of this kind with a membership of about 400 men.

RUSSELL PORTRAIT PLACED IN GALLERY

duced the 'holding process' of pasteurizing into America, and today this is in almost universal use.

Together with Dr. S. M. Babcock, Dean Russell gave to the cheese industry the method of cold curing which has revolutionized cheese-making. It was discovered that a substance known as enzyme was responsible for the deterioration of cheddar cheese in storage. Curing the cheese at low temperature, formerly thought impossible, was successfully accomplished to the everlasting benefit of the industry.

The portrait of Dean Russell was painted by Arvid Nyholm who studied for thirteen years in Paris with Zorn, considered the most famous portrait painter of the latter half of the nineteenth and early part of the twentieth century.

Funds for the purchase of the portrait were subscribed by faculty members and friends of Dean Russell. The portrait was presented to the Saddle and Sirlain club at the annual banquet held by members of the club at the Saddle and Sirlain club rooms at Chicago.
