ENGINEERS BOW TO TRADITION IN HONORING ST. PAT

Annual Parade Down State Street Takes Place This Afternoon

At 1:30 this afternoon 1,000 engineers will pay homage to the memory of Saint Pat with the traditional parade down State street. The parade will be headed by Dennis Murphy '24, elected by his brother engineers to represent the patron saint.

The procession this year will be the largest ever held, in the opinion of Wenzel Fabera '24, chairman. Featured attractions will be Saint Pat himself, followed by the famous blarney stone and a fife and drum corps, with a band, picturesque floats and the engineers bringing up the rear of the procession.

Band is Feature

Many classes have been suspended in the engineering school this morning so that the sons of Saint Pat may put the finishing touches on the floats. Engineering societies and rooming houses have entered more floats than ever before, and as usual, will portray other colleges and students as they look to the engineers.

The band, which has been entirely recruited from the university regimental bands, will be larger than that of last year. In addition there will be a six piece fife and drum corps, in appropriate costume.

Many Prizes Donated

Two cups and twenty other prizes are offered for the best floats and stunts of each kind. Judges are to be professors: J. T. Rood, E. R. Shorey, L. F. Van Hagen, O. A. Hogen and G. L. Larson. The Strand theater has announced that it will film the parade this afternoon.

Prominent Madison business men donated the prizes which will be offered for the best floats and most original ideas in the various sections. The prize list is larger this year and contains many valuable awards of cups and merchandise. Hubert Holmes '25, assistant chairman of the parade committee, is in charge of the prizes.

EASTER PLAY OFFERED BY WESLEY PLAYERS

Wesley Players, dramatic club of the Wesley Foundation, will present "The Rock," an Easter drama, at 8:30 o'clock Sunday evening at the Wesley Foundation.

Leading parts are taken by Maynard Halverson '24, Maria Chase '27, Ruth Hardaker '25, George Mitchell '25, Helen Umphress '27, John Woods '25, and Elmore Hendra '24. Costuming is being arranged by Jean Cox '24.

Lighting and properties are in charge of John Deist '26, and Arthur Henry '25. Lawrence Denney '22, is handling the publicity for the play.

ORCHESTRA GIVES MATINEE CONCERT

Minneapolis Symphony Group to Play Tuesday Afternoon

An afternoon program of the lighter type of numbers will be given by the Minneapolis Symphony orchestra at 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in addition to the evening concert. The orchestra will make its appearance under the auspices of the Madison Orchestral association.

Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony", Symphony Number eight, in B minor, "Invitation to the Dance" by Weber-Weingarter, "Minuet" from "Orpheus" by Gluck, "Dagger Dance" from "Natoma" by Hubert and "National Emblem", a march by Bagley, comprise the program for the afternoon concert.

Tickets are now on sale at Hooks Music store. Admission is $1 for the afternoon concert and $2 for the evening concert. Special rates of $1.50 for the evening concert are offered to students.

CARNIVAL ICE BOAT RACES HELD TODAY

The ice boat races that were to be a part of the ice carnival will be held at 2:30 o'clock today if the weather permits, according to Frank Stegeman '26. The winner is to receive a silver loving cup as was planned for the carnival. The races were postponed during the carnival because of deep snow on the lake. All who wish to enter will meet on the course.

CABS NOT NEEDED FOR CADET BALL

Committee Announces Effort to Maintain Democratic Spirit of Function

Cabs will not be required for the Military ball to be held on Friday night, April 4, according to Herbert Opitz, '25, chairman of the transportation committee. This is in keeping with the policy of making this function a truly democratic ball.

"Arrangements are now being completed for the transportation of ball officials to the capitol," Opitz said. "The use of cabs in their case is simply a matter of saving time."

Opitz is making arrangements to obtain and transport 300 seats to the state house for the use of the spectators at the ball.

Nine truckloads of scenery and paraphernalia will be used in lighting and decorating for the Military ball. Bernard A. Weimar '24, chairman of the service committee, said yesterday.

Sidney Thorson '24 is directing the work of arranging the batteries of lamps which will be used to secure the desired effects. Beams of light will be played about the dark walls of the state house, creating the usual color effects and displaying women's gowns to the best advantage, Weimar explained.

Pastor Addresses Discussion Leaders at Y. M. C. A. Friday

"Unless religion is of some good on the campus, it is likely that it will be of no good in after life," Dr. H. H. Lumpkin, pastor of the Grace Episcopal church, said in his address at the weekly luncheon of Y. M. C. A. discussion leaders yesterday.

Dr. Lumpkin based his discussion on the assumption that it could be taken as a working hypothesis that God is and that the church in general is the working of God on earth.

"The test," Dr. Lumpkin explained, "lies in the willingness to live and act as if there were a God. You must be willing to purge your soul of all impurity, to abolish malice toward your enemies and to believe."

The student must not expect to be perfect or to have all doubts banished at once, according to Dr. Lumpkin for "the conception of God is so small and infinity so boundless that all eternity is not sufficient to learn of Him. But the process of verification begins when the climb toward truth begins."

SCHEDULE ELECTIONS FOR BOARDS IN MAY

Elections for Badger, Cardinal, forensic and athletic, boards will probably take place during the first week in May, according to an announcement made today by Wilber Wittenberg '24, member of the student senate.

REFERENDUM FOR BADGER ELECTION REVISED FINALLY

Announce Ballot on Measure to Be Taken Next Friday

Final revision of the Badger referendum was completed at a meeting of the committee on elections of the student senate yesterday noon. The present form of the resolution is the same as that which will appear on the ballot. Voting on the referendum will take place next Friday, April 3, Wilber Wittenberg '24, chairman of the committee announced.

Provides for Board

If passed, the referendum provides for a change in the system of choosing the Badger staff which will

WHAT IT MEANS

1—Editor and business manager chosen by board instead of in open election.

2—Gives board an opportunity to judge carefully qualifications of staff members.

3—Will take election staff out of political campaigns.

4—Removes editor-in-chief as controlling head of board.

5—Gives option of making referendum effective this spring or next fall.

place elections on the same basis as that of The Cardinal. The referendum as it will appear on the ballot provides that:

There shall be a Badger board which shall issue the annual publication of the junior class.

The Badger board shall consist of four members of the class issuing the Badger, at least one of whom shall be a woman; of the editor-in-chief and business manager of the preceding Badger; and two members of the faculty or instructional staff, one each from the courses in journalism and commerce respectively.

The Badger board shall meet not later than April 15 of the year preceding publication, and shall elect from its members a president and a secretary-treasurer. It shall elect the editor-in-chief and business manager of the Badger from the members of the sophomore class, the persons elected to be the ones deemed best fitted by journalistic and business qualifications for the respective positions, and after April 1924 shall have served at least one year in the appropriate department of the Badger.

Election of these officers shall be by three-fourths majority, the faculty members concurring. The board shall have power to remove for adequate cause any appointee by a three-fourths majority, the faculty members concurring. Subordinate members of the staff may be appointed or removed by the editor-in-chief or business manager, with the approval of the board.

Provides Elections

The elective members of the Badger board shall be elected in the fall of their sophomore year by the qualified men and women electors of their class in the manner provided in Article III of this constitution. They shall attend all meetings of the existing Badger board, but shall have no control over its affairs. They shall assume control of the Badger of their own class upon the election of the officers of the board and the editor-in-chief and business manager of the Badger as provided above, and shall continue in office until the Badger of their class shall have been completed. Should vacancies occur

CENTRAL HIGH PLAYS PIRATES OF PENZANCE

"The Pirates of Penzance," comic opera by W. S. Gilbert and Arthur Sullivan, was presented by students of Madison Central high school last night at the high school auditorium. The opera was produced under the direction of Miss Lucile Welty, Miss Laura Duncan, and Miss Anna T. Menaul. The high school orchestra played the overture and accompanied the singing.

GILMORE SEEKING TEACHERS FOR P. I.

Positions Offer Advantages in Travel, Says Vice-Governor

With the purpose of securing American teachers for the 35 high schools in the Philippine Islands, Vice-Governor E. A. Gilmore of the Philippines is travelling across the United States on his way to Washington, making stops at some of the larger universities to arouse interest in this project.

"These positions offer obvious advantages to those interested in travel, especially in the Orient," says Mr. Gilmore. "During the vacation period, which lasts from the latter part of March until the first week in June, trips can be undertaken to China, Japan and other places nearby, without a great deal of expense."

Young women are too apt to give up the work to be married after a short time, according to Mr. Gilmore, due mostly to the great preponderance of American men in the Philippines. For this reason, the Bureau of Insular Affairs prefers to send men teachers or older women.

Mr. Gilmore, who was formerly professor of law at the university, will remain in Madison until Tuesday.

Lutheran Student Conference Opens Convocation Today

The conference of the Lutheran Student association, which is holding its first annual meeting at the Luther Memorial church, opens today's session at 9 o'clock with a discussion of local campus problems. Ida Bjerke '24 will present the problems found on a non-Lutheran campus, while Harmon McQuire, of Carthage college will talk on "Problems of a Lutheran campus."

The service tonight will be in charge of Professor Bartholomew of Augustana college, Rock Island, Ill. He will speak on "The Student and His Purposes."

The Lutheran Student association of America is composed of Lutheran students all over the country. It is the Mississippi valley region which is meeting here this week, and which includes colleges and universities in Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and upper Michigan. The University of Wisconsin is represented by George Ekern '27, Lawrence Nelson '24, Edwin Klist '26, Mary Moss '26, Lillian Soldan '26, Joseph Semb '25, Russell Nelson '26 and Christian Randall '27.

Wood Utilization Problem Attracts Swedish Forester

Juhlin Dannefeldt, member of the Swedish Forestry service and scholar of the American Scandinavian Foundation is here for a two weeks' visit at the Forest Products laboratory acquainting himself with American forestry and wood utilization methods. He has spent three months in the Forestry School of Yale University and will complete his year in America in visiting logging operations, mills and government experiment stations throughout the country. According to Dr. Dannefeldt it has long been the hope of the Swedish Forestry service, which is well developed in the study of silviculture, to have an institution similar to the United States Forest Products Laboratory dealing strictly with problems of wood utilization. His study here is to that end.

There still seem to be some students who wish to contribute to the fund who do not know where to bring their money," Miss Kingsford said in reporting the progress of the drive. "Any contribution may be brought or mailed to the Union board office in the Union building. Some member of the finance committee is in the office at any time during the day."

BADGER DEBATERS DEFEAT GOPHERS ON RUHR QUESTION

Wisconsin Affirmative Team Awarded Decision By Michigan Prof

The Wisconsin affirmative debating team defeated Minnesota last night in Music hall. The proposition debated was "Resolved that France should evacuate the Ruhr immediately."

Prof. Louis Eich of the University of Michigan judged the debate.

The affirmative team which was composed of Herbert Morse '26, Alfred Nicolaus '25 and Ross Bennett Ll based its arguments on the contentions that the French occupation is illegal and constitutes an international crime, that the occupation is costing France in taxation more than it is securing from the Germans and that the occupation has failed to give France security against German aggression.

Ruhr Policy Disastrous

They declared that the Ruhr policy has been disastrous to France as well as Germany. The occupation has cost France $175,000,000 while it has received only $145,000,000 from Germany.

The Minnesota negative team was represented by Walter Lungren, Donald Kelly and Cedrick Jameson.

German Default Voluntary

The negative contended that Germany had voluntary default in the reparation payment and that France had the choice of allowing Germany to escape payment or to collect her just debts by the force of arms. In refuting the argument that the French policy was responsible for economic disaster in Germany, the negative advanced evidence to prove that the passive resistance on the part of the Germans was the cause of decreased production.

WOMEN'S CLUB HEARS SOCIOLOGY PROFESSOR

Prof. John J. Gillin, of the sociology department spoke on the "Relation Between the State Government and Problems of General Welfare," at the meeting of the Women's club yesterday afternoon. He dealt specifically with matters pertaining to child welfare, dependency, delinquency, criminals, and the burden that these lay upon the state government, together with suggestions as to preventive measures and relief in such cases.

FRIENDSHIP FUND REACHES $2,500

Drive Has Several Days to Run; Pearse Handles Faculty Subscription

Total subscriptions to the student friendship fund amount to approximately $2,500, Helen Kingsford '24 reported yesterday afternoon. The drive has several days more to run and the committee expresses the belief that the $3,000 mark will be reached. The total already received does not include the faculty contribution.

Prof. A. S. Pearse of the department of zoology has taken charge of the faculty subscription and has addressed letters to the members of each department asking their aid in increasing the fund for the benefit of student and faculty members in European universities.

Miss Margaret Quayle, who was here earlier in the week to assist in the drive, has gone to Washington, D. C., and later will go to the University of Vermont to carry on her work there.

"There still seem to be some students who wish to contribute to the fund who do not know where to bring their money," Miss Kingsford said in reporting the progress of the drive. "Any contribution may be brought or mailed to the Union board office in the Union building. Some member of the finance committee is in the office at any time during the day."

TEN SCHOLARSHIPS OFFERED BY CLUB

American Women Anticipating Study in France to Get Awards

The American University Women's Paris club is offering American women who are college graduates ten scholarships for the academic year 1924-25 to be applied toward the cost of residence at the club.

Five of these scholarships are of a value of 350 francs a month each for the nine months of the academic year. The remaining five are for 200 francs a month for the same time. They will be awarded on the basis of scholarly ability, personality and promise to women who will pursue next year courses of study in institutions of higher education in Paris.

The purpose of the club is to promote a residence for American university women who are in Paris to study and to bring them in touch with French life and thought and with university men and women of other nations.

Credentials required in order to obtain the scholarships are a letter from the dean of women as to the applicant's personality and character as well as her scholarly requirements, and a letter from two professors as to her work. Applications should be sent directly to Virginia Newcomb, secretary of the board of managers, 165 West 83rd St., New York.

SENATOR LADD TAKES LA FOLLETTE'S PLACE

Senator Ladd, a republican and identified with the La Follette progressive group, has been appointed to succeed Senator Lenroot on the Public Lands committee which is investigating oil leases. Wisconsin is not represented in the senate due to the illness of Senator Lenroot and Senator La Follette. Senator Lenroot's health has improved but slightly since his illness of a month ago and he has been ordered to remain in bed for two weeks.

RABBI COHEN SPEAKS TO JEWISH STUDENTS

Rabbi Aaron Cohen of the Logan Square congregation, Chicago, will address the Jewish Students' association at 7 o'clock Sunday evening in the Cameo room of the Beaver building. The text of his talk will be "The Down Currents of Judaism." After his address Rabbi Cohen will conduct an open forum discussion of the subject.

LA FOLLETTE-COMINGS TREASURER RESIGNS

Giving as his reason for the fact that he could not agree with Lieut. Gov. George F. Comings in some of his policies as expressed at a banquet of the University La Follette-Comings club Wednesday night, J. Harold Tacki L3, handed in his resignation as treasurer of the organization yesterday. He plans to become affiliated with the Blaine organization immediately. The belief of the gubernatorial candidate that the national guard should be abolished is the phase of the policy which Mr. Tacki could not accept, he stated.

"Twinkle Twinkle" Cast in Radio Program

HARESFOOT WITH THE ALUMNI

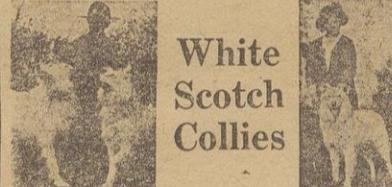

An hour program of musical numbers, and addresses by Prof. J. F. A. Pyre and Porter F. Butts '24, were sent out by radio from station WHA last night. The numbers were from "Twinkle Twinkle," the 1924 Haresfoot production. The club orchestra, under the direction of Nelson Fairbanks '24 and Jess Cohen '24, played accompaniment to several songs also; Robert Talley '24, Vinton Stegemar '24, Gordon F. Brine '25, and Harold Buell '24, sang the numbers.

Butts told something of the play for this year and the work of the production staff, and Professor Pyre related the experiences of the early dramatic and musical organizations which the university sent out on trips.

"The most impressive thing about the university activities," Professor Pyre said, "is the variety and extent of talent found in them. There is hardly any human quality and skill that is not represented. And of all these organizations, there is none which carries to the alumni and the university's friends a bit of the campus so well as the Haresfoot club.

"Through its varied work, comprising scenic carpentry, painting, musical composition, dancing, writing, the club is doing notable work in adding to appreciation of the theater and the dramatic art."

The accompanying chart shows points in the United States and Canada from which alumni reported

FOND DU LAC AND SUPERIOR TEAMS WIN SEMI-FINALS

TWO QUINTETS MEET
TONIGHT TO DECIDE
STATE CHAMPIONSHIP

Crowds throng Gym Yesterday to View Last Tourney Contests; Wauwatosa and Wisconsin Rapids to Clash in Consolation Series

Superior and Fond du Lac, by defeating Oregon and Appleton respectively, won the right to compete in the final game of the state championship basketball tourney tonight, while Wauwatosa and Wisconsin Rapids play the final game of the consolation series by virtue of victories over Eagle River and Watertown.

The crowds continue to throng into the gym, and some of the most brilliant games of the tourney were played yesterday. Fond du Lac nosed out Appleton only after a long uphill pull and a last minute rally which landed them on the right side of a 20 to 19 score, while Superior smashed through the brave little Oregon team for a 24 to 12 win.

Dew, of Fond du Lac, is one of the coolest, headiest players in the tournament, and is largely responsible for his team's success. Gurneau, big Superior center, is one of the main cogs in the Blues' offense, and looks like a good bet for an all state team. Madsen, Oregon, while not as aggressive as either of the other centers, plays a fast, brainy, game and is a sure shot under the basket. Gurneau is deadly under the hoop and seldom misses an open shot.

Pick All-State Tonight

Saltz, La Crosse, Courtney, Appleton, Dohls, Superior, are easily the cream of the guards. They are fast, aggressive, cool and good shots and can be relied on to start the offense or break up their opponents combination.

At forward Folsam, Janesville, Miller, La Crosse, Wicklund and Dorf, Superior, Ace, Oregon, Charley Logan, Manitowoc, and Moser, Appleton, stand out above the bulk of players by virtue of their ability and adaptability.

The all-state teams will be selected tonight at the Capitol, and awards will be given at the same time. The consolation final starts at 7 o'clock and the Superior-Fond du Lac game at 8 o'clock.

SUPERIOR IN FINALS

Superior's fast quintet crushed, Oregon's gallant little team 24 to 12 last night and swept away the last barrier to the northerners meeting Fond du Lac in the final game of the state basketball tourney tonight.

Things started out auspiciously for the Oregon team. Ace scoring a goal in the first minute of the game. Ace missed three chances from the foul line in short order, however, and Dorf tied the count with a goal. The half ended with Superior leading 12 to 7.

The second half saw a great change in the Superior play. The Oregon defense seemed to disintegrate under a sweeping attack launched at it from every part of the floor.

The score stood 14 to 8 at the end of the period, but in the last quarter a barrage of shots netted six goals and a brace of free throws for Superior, while the best that the Oregon quintet could do was two goals.

The game ended with both teams

FONDY RALLY WINS

A dashing rally in the last five minutes of the game gave Fond du Lac a 20 to 19 victory over Appleton yesterday afternoon and placed them in the finals. With the score standing 17 to 10 against them and only five minutes to play, Fond du Lac tossed two free throws and caged four field goals while Appleton was getting only one and took the game out of the hands of the Lake City five.

The game was slow and tight until the last quarter because of close guarding. Neither team was able to pile up more than a one point lead after the first quarter, and the

Bouts; Eight Divisions
Compete in Finals

At least 24 rounds of the best boxing that has taken place in Madison for some time will be presented at 3 o'clock this afternoon when fighters in eight divisions compete in the all-university finals on the main floor of the gym.

Coach Ray Moore has secured the Turner hall ring for the affair, has a list of top notch officials, with Joe Steinauer in the ring, and is planning to run the bouts in big league style. The fights start at 3 o'clock and an admission of 25 cents will be charged.

Four Are Defenders

In four of the bouts all-university champions defend their titles against challengers, while in the other four the men have been picked by a process of elimination, until only the best in each division are left to compete.

Herb Aitken, who fought three four-round draws with Bowker and won the right to contend on the flip of a coin, meets Champion Johnny Gillen, lightweight, in one of the feature bouts of the card. Aitken is fast, aggressive, a cool fighter, and score stood at 6 to 5 in Fond du Lac's favor when the half ended.

Both teams played desperately when the second half opened with Fond du Lac resorting to long shots from the middle of the floor. It looked like a one point advantage would win the game for either team, until Appleton threw three field goals in rapid succession and went into a seven point lead that looked good enough to win the game.

Gymnasts Perform
For Three Cups
In Today's Meet

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock an all-university gym meet will be held in the gym room on the third floor of the Armory.

Three silver cups will be awarded to the men winning the first three places. These cups are now on display in the trophy room.

As this meet precedes the mat and glove meet that will be held later in the afternoon, members of the teams in the basketball tournament are invited to attend this meet and see Wisconsin's gymnasts perform before they witness the other meet later.

a hard hitter, while Gillen's ability is well known.

Bill Lidicker meets Champion Al Martin in the welterweight division, with only a slight disadvantage. Martin is good, but Lidicker is cool and a hard body puncher, and Moore expects the affair to go an extra round.

Fights Go Three Rounds

The fights go three two-minute rounds, and if the judges disagree a fourth round is fought. Moore expects some of the fights to go the full four rounds, as most of the men are so evenly matched that it will be hard to give the decision in three rounds.

Joe Steinauer will be in the ring, Coach Jack Ryan and Bob Duncan will judge, and Coach "Dad" Vail will keep time. Seconds have been secured for all the men, and all the appurtenances of a championship mill will lend the affair the air of one of Tex Rickard's promotions.

Queensbury Rules Go

All bouts will be judged according to Marquis of Queensbury rules, and medals or numerals will be awarded to the winners.

The contestants:

E. Churh vs. F. Emig, bantamweight.

D. Minkow vs. S. Vogel, featherweight.

J. Springberg vs. M. Derzavitz, junior lightweight.

Champion Johnny Gillen vs. H. Aitken, lightweight.

Eagle River, Wauwatosa and Wisconsin Rapids won in consolation matches yesterday of the state high school basketball tournament being held at the gym. Eagle River defeated Rice Lake, 21 to 16, but went down to defeat at the hands of Wauwatosa, 23 to 20. Wauwatosa won from Marinette, 19 to 13, while Wisconsin Rapids same through with a decisive victory over Watertown, 21 to 7.

WAUWATOSA WINS

Wauwatosa won the right to meet Wisconsin Rapids in the final game of the consolation series tonight, by defeating Eagle River in a close game last night. The score was 23 to 20.

Fine floor work and accurate basket shooting resulted in a win for Wauwatosa, while the scoring combination of Eagle River was ineffective because the players were tired from the hard game with Rice Lake in the morning.

Eagle River took the lead shortly after the beginning of the game, when Blongy, left forward, caged a field goal. Wauwatosa tied the score on Knaack's basket and held the lead during the entire game. The score at the end of the first half was 14 to 12, with Wauwatosa on the long end.

EAGLE RIVER WINS

Eagle River defeated Rice Lake 21 to 16, in the first round of the consolation series. Eagle River led at half-time, 10 to 7.

Rice Lake came back in the second half and threatened a scoring spree, but could not overcome the Eagle River lead. Both teams displayed good floor work but were erratic in locating the hoop.

liminary rounds, and then defeated Prof. Carlisle. Third place in the tournament was won by Prof. Mohrme.

A hand ball doubles tournament will be held soon for the faculty and grad students. An entry sheet will be posted on the gymnasium bulletin board and all those desiring to enter should sign up before Wednesday, April 2nd.

K. K. K.

It is not remarkable that students should have emphatically divergent opinions on the question of the desirability of the Ku Klux Klan. It probably is easier to excite an argument over the subject of race, religion, or politics than over any other. But it is remarkable that the question of the Ku Klux Klan should elicit as many contributions for publication in The Cardinal from as many persons as it has. For two weeks they have crowded "The Reader's Say-So" column; they continue to pour in. It is necessary today to conclude the public discussion so that other waiting communications may have an opportunity of appearing.

Student reaction—as indicated by printed communications—was not a third of this present agitation when the abolition of compulsory military drill confronted us; there was never such a deluge of letters when Bryan damned evolution before three thousand people two years ago; there was no large outcry when a university building was at first refused to Upton Sinclair for a speech or when the lights of the gymnasium mysteriously went out on Eugene V. Debs last spring. Other communication disputes have been minor and passive compared to this that argues the merits of the robed Klan.

The letters contributed have not shaken The Cardinal's stand that the Klan is undesirable; the confusion of issues and contradiction of facts which they make apparent very probably will not shake others' opinions. But the number and vehemence of those letters do point very forcibly to the strong hold the Klan has on many thinking people and the active distrust it has inspired in many others.

AN EXCUSE FOR WORSHIP

The Lenten season affords students an admirable opportunity, and excuse, for attending church. It permits them to give up that Sunday morning sleep which seems so common to university people, and to appear, hesitant but ever persevering, within the four walls of a house of worship. Then, perforce of habit, they dream through the service, or because of the change in their mode of living they get some of the genuine intellectual as well as the spiritual inspiration which characterizes the modern sermon.

The lenten season is stimulating a practice which should be continued; a habit easily acquired, which is worth while, compels thought, and lends character to any individual.

The state high school basketball tournament may go to Marquette next year because of the way it has been handled here in the past. Consequently, one might naturally suppose that this year every possible convenience would be given to those interested in the tournament. Yet no "rain" checks for intermissions are given this year. It's a detail, but details count in the long run.

An American is to be the stroke oar in the Oxford-Cambridge boat race, one of the greatest English athletic events of the year. How such a sacrilege can take place without some alarmist on this side of the water shouting "British propaganda" is more than we can see.

Other Editors Say—

POLITICS IN EDUCATION

The evil effects of putting political bigots and heresy hunters into positions of responsibility over state education is demonstrated again in the continued tirades against the Rhodes scholarships by Senator John E. Cashman, new Blaine appointee to the board of university regents, and his attempts to censor the views of professors at the state university on world cooperation.

As a politician Mr. Cashman was privileged to air his violent prejudices as much as he pleased, without doing much harm. The history-suppression statute that he managed to jam through the legislature is merely another superfluous "fool law" demonstrating the contradictory absurdities of which bigots posing as liberals can be capable. The law will have little effect one way or another.

But when the author of such a law with his prejudices and political crotchetts is elevated to a position of control over a great institution such as the state university, his influence can be decidedly inimical if he is able to swing enough other political appointees into line.

Certain legislators demonstrated the mental attitude of mediaeval inquisitionists at the last session when they attempted to censor the utterances of university professors, as private citizens, on politics, by trying to have the professors' round robin presuming to criticize Senator La Follette's war attitude burned in a public bonfire.

Now with Mr. Cashman on the board of regents we are having professors lambasted for the crime of believing in international co-operation!

It is an abysmal descent from the high rock of liberalism on which the great University of Wisconsin was founded, down to the little-minded parochial, prejudice-bound educational bigotry of the Cashmans and the Hubers.

The policy of Wisconsin for free and untrammeled search in quest of truth was embodied by early regents in a noble utterance on academic freedom, that has been graven in bronze on the front of the main building at Wisconsin, and that has been graven more deeply and lastingly upon the heart of the institution.

Men with littler minds would have the search for truth stop short when their pet theories and prejudices and partisan canards are trampled on, and we have professors called to task on the score that they are teaching "partisan politics" when they merely call attention of their students to a prize essay contest being conducted by another university on the League of Nations.

The other theme upon which Regent Cashman keeps harping, about the purpose of the Rhodes scholarships being to make traitors of Americans, and to subvert America again to British rule is the veriest tosh—preposterous hallucination of a hysterical imagination.

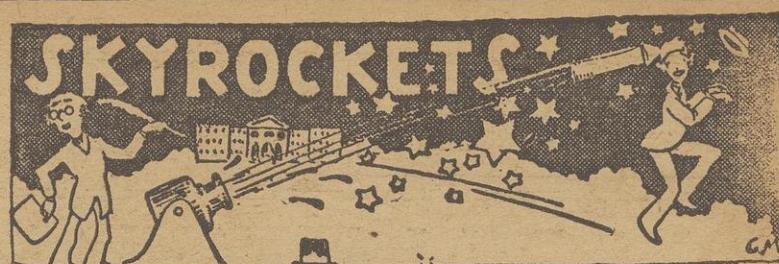

Under the inspiration of other phases of Hearstism, isn't Regent Cashman afraid that having Japanese and other orientals attend the university, which they do in considerable numbers, is likely to bring about our inundation by the "yellow peril?"

The cosmopolitanism of the great state university, in shedding its beacon throughout the world, sending its graduates everywhere, and drawing to it searchers for truth from all corners of the globe is one of the essential elements of strength of the institution.

International understanding is a potent force for peace. Misunderstanding has been the surest breeder of wars. The international exchange of students and professors is a factor, though a minor one, in encouraging better world understanding and breaking down the forces and prejudices that lead to war.

This is the theory upon which rests Dean George L. Collie's unusual proposal to make Beloit college a melting pot with student quotas from all races and nationalities, as a means to turn out Beloit graduates who are signally liberal, democratic and cosmopolitan.

If a small college like Beloit can consider such a program, surely a great institution like the University of Wisconsin, with its already well-established cosmopolitan view-point and influence, backed by the people of the state, will cry down the narrow-minded insularity of the witch-burners and isolationists who apparently would be content to see the university become a two-by-four cow college with a teaching vision that couldn't reach further than the village limits of Denmark, Wis., or the political limits of a dominant partisan faction in the state.

YOU'RE YELLOW CRIED THE HERO as he dove into the taxi, while we dove further into the wastebasket to resurrect the contribution. 'Tis a 'ard life this skyrocketing. You find a new one and then find its old. You spring an old one and everybody thinks it new—sometimes.

passed which required that all boys between the ages of 14 and 18 are to receive physical drill, and elementary military training, in organized cadet corps until they reach the age of 18, when they are drafted into the regular territorial units and receive infantry, cavalry, artillery or engineer instruction, as they prefer. Service in the regular army continues until the men reach 21 years of age.

In the cadet and regular units, there are night parades every week, a certain number of half day parades, and a month's camp during the summer.

It has been found that the military training has had the effect of increasing the physical welfare of the youth of the country by 25 percent over the corresponding 10 year period previous to the introduction of military training. It has decreased the number of juvenile court cases by over 50 percent. It enabled us to place a well trained force in the field in 1914.

New Zealand is at the present time heavily taxed, because of her war debt, yet a motion in the House of Parliament to revoke the military service act on the grounds of expense, was defeated by a 90 percent majority. Even the socialists agreeing that the benefit to the youth of the country was well worth the extra expense.

Australia also has compulsory military training, her labor government having passed an act to that effect six months after the New Zealand law went into operation. Before the military act went into effect, Sydney and Melbourne were troubled with gangs of semi-criminal youths (known as "pushers"), which have now entirely disappeared, and Australia has no intention of abandoning her military training as she, like New Zealand, has found that it makes better citizens of her youth.

The Reader's Say-So

PROF. MANNERISMS

Editor, The Cardinal:

Just suppose instructors could see themselves as students see them. There is the one who always comes late to class and habitually keeps the students over time, there is the one who has disturbing mannerisms, the one whose pedagogy is faulty, and the one who is dilatory in handling back work.

Suppose now a student, instead of giving vent to his complaint at the dinner table, should quietly and privately say to the instructor: "Mr. X., your habit of constantly biting your lips disturbs us," or "Miss Y., we find it hard to understand your questions." Impossible?

Ah, well then, we shall have to go on handing down such reputations as are implied in, "X. is all right if you can stand him, but he makes you awfully nervous," and "Keep out of Miss Y.'s section if you can. She knows her subject, but you never know what she wants."

Just suppose we had the courage to say to these people what we say about them. It is an alluring contemplation.

S. M. H.

Editor, The Cardinal:

Regarding the controversy, militarism or pacifism in schools of this state, which has appeared in The Cardinal columns, it is not my right as a foreign student to enter into this discussion; I think, however, that it may interest both parties to the question to know how my country (New Zealand), has fared after 14 years of compulsory military training.

In spite of the fact that New Zealand is a strong labor movement country, in 1910 a statute was

PROF. LATHROP TO SPEAK ON BIBLE

Educator Will Discuss Poetical Side of Biblical Literary Style

Those qualities of biblical style which characterize the scriptures especially on their poetical side will be discussed by Prof. H. B. Lathrop of the English department in his lecture "The Literary Study of the Bible," this afternoon at the meeting of the Madison branch of the American Association of University Women.

"The real interest of the Bible depends not upon a subject of temporary and rather curious interest, but upon deep and permanent qualities," Professor Lathrop said. "Hence in considering it," continued the professor, "attention should be fixed upon those aspects of the work which have not changed and which will not change, and which will appeal with power and attractiveness to the deepest elements of humanity so long as humanity exists."

"The object of Saturday's lecture will be to approach a characterization of the nature and forms of Hebrew literary genius and especially to distinguish it in broad outlines from the literary genius of Greece," concluded Professor Lathrop.

All Weather Toppers

A world-wide search was made by the makers of Stratford Clothes for a topper fabric that really was water and gale-proof; that would not wrinkle; that would tailor and stay tailored; with a silk finish; warm, but not bulky; containing the world's finest wool and worsted yarn; with authentic Scotch plaids woven into the under side of the cloth; in short, a superstandard in topper fabrics.

They tried foremost mills, and finally they found a great weaving mill, whose owner was a man both of dreams and of deeds. With his aid they toiled and experimented unceasingly until finally their researches culminated in Bonnie Dew—a history making topper fabric.

Engineer's Blarney Stone Features St. Pat Parade

The sacred blarney stone of the engineers will be removed from its hiding place underneath the Engineering building this morning. It will be polished up, and made ready so that the engineers may kiss it at the finish of the parade this afternoon.

The history of the most cherished of the traditions of the engineers dates back to March 17, 1903 when the original blarney stone was uncovered at the University of Missouri. The story of its discovery is as follows:

A red-headed engineer whose pedigree must have run back to the emerald isle had been struggling until the wee hours of the morning trying with the aid of his versatile slipstick to solve the intricacies of entropy, vector diagrams, and moments of inertia. He fell asleep and immediately his mind became filled with visions of floating slipsticks, drawing instruments, transits, engines, and many other articles common to the routine of the engineer.

Suddenly the clouds parted and St. Pat himself, it is said with his old clay pipe, appeared, and where he walked the shamrocks sprang up in abundance.

The purpose of his appearance, St. Pat announced, was to inform his worthy disciple of the location of the original blarney stone, of the sacred traditions surrounding its memory and of his wish that the engineers, who had respected the ideals of the venerable saint be entrusted with its care and the perpetuation of its memories. Concluding, he shook the ashes out of his pipe and disappeared.

With the passing of the vision the loyal son of St. Pat aroused his roommate and with several others hurried to the spot designated in the vision. Here was discovered "an old flat stone resembling, almost too closely a block of concrete, that had been embellished with curious hieroglyphics, which might be taken for crude drawings of a transit, a slide-rule, a compass and other typical engineering instruments.

This was the original blarney stone and to those engineers was revealed the meaning of the characters hidden to all but those of their profession. It was they who deciphered the phrase "Erin go braugh" which translated means "St. Patrick was an engineer."

Since that day the engineers have made St. Patricks day a red-letter day in most of the universities of the middle west. Every true son of St. Pat takes pride in his reverence for the tradition and his being able to participate in these unique ceremonies.

A Dinner Fit for a King!

What glorious feasts in castles of old!

The rush-covered halls agleam with waxen candles! Flutes raising shrill tones above thundering trumpets! Sparkling wine in precious goblets gleefully upheld by minstrels and lords; Savory beef served with choicest dainties!

But here is a dinner, a dinner for Sunday, that kings would revel in!

Here are Roast Prime Ribs of Native Beef, au jus—deliciously browned! Here is Roast Leg of Pork—how Richard the Lion Hearted would smack his lips at its teasing aroma! And just notice that rich, creamy lemon pie!

Remember "Robin Hood?"

What a feast had Wallace Beery in "Robin Hood!" The troubadours used to sing of the mighty deeds of Richard "with the sinews of a Hercules, and the heart of a lion," and Wallace Beery made him so real to us!

On page seventy-one of your history book, if you read that far, we are told that "the luxury of the table was great in every respect. From 13 to 16 dishes were daily set upon some tables. The hospitality of the baronial castle was profuse."

New Victor Dance Records On Sale Saturday

Home in Pasadena—Fox Trot

Whiteman and Orchestra

Mona Vanna—Fox Trot

Two Whiteman fox trots of almost unexampled richness and sonority. You'll get full measure of enjoyment from these records whether you dance or just sit and listen.

Counting the Days—Fox Trot

International Novelty Orch.

Just One More Kiss—Fox Trot Benson Orch., Chicago

Two strongly contrasted fox trots. With the fox trot being danced in so many different styles, it is a good thing to have some records like these.

Good Night—Medley Waltz

The Troubadours

Love Days—Medley Waltz

Jack Chapman and His Drake Hotel Orch.

Don't Mind the Rain—Fox Trot Josephine—Fox Trot

Whiteman and Orch.

Johns and Orch.

A Whiteman fox trot like a piece of rich brocade; melodic chords, trumpets, Chinese drums. Then a Brooke Johns fox trot with a stentorian vocal refrain.

Blue Rose—Fox Trot

Weems and Orch.

Don't Forget to Remember—Fox Trot

Weems & Or.

Take the beauty out of life, and you destroy life. But dancing will help maintain it; a good dance revives and freshens body and spirit. These fox trots will please young and old.

Hear them at our store. This is but a partial list of the good Victor dance records just out.

Makes Trip Around the World in Ninety Days

THAT might seem pretty good time to a casual observer but Wisconsin people don't think much of it any more. At least not since The Milwaukee Journal brought the eight page Roto-Art Picture Section to Wisconsin. Mr. Jones and Ma Jones, and all the children eagerly await this picture world that shows them what people in Oshkosh, Neenah, Madison, Milwaukee, Chicago, New York and Washington are doing and then brings them across the Atlantic to London and Paris, out onto the arid Sahara, into the wilds of darkest Africa—or perhaps up toward the cold countries that boast of a midnight sun.

YES, this picture section is a strong favorite with Wisconsin people. Take a trip, yourself, next Sunday. Your newsdealer is the ticket agent—for a dime he will sell you a round trip ticket for one of the most picturesque journeys you've ever taken. Then go home, seat yourself comfortably in an easy chair and travel through those eight pages of interesting views of people, places and events from every part of the world. Remember—a round trip ticket for a dime—all aboard!

Ring Lardner Tells a Story

RING LARDNER

When You and I Were Young

we used to read—and dream about pirates and imagine ourselves on the bridge of a tramp ship, feared by every sailor on the seven seas! Take a little trip back next Sunday—back to those dream days—you'll find one of the greatest of all pirates pictured on the front page of the 16-page magazine section of The Milwaukee Journal. It's a beautiful drawing in four colors. Ask your newsboy to bring it Sunday!

Richard Ellis Posters!

Do you remember when they took a picture of the cast of All Aboard? It's some picture and it is to be one of the features in the Mar. 30 Roto-Art Section of The Sunday Milwaukee Journal. Reserve your copy! Ask your newsboy! For sale at all news stands!

Janesville Veterans!

Students' Pictures!

Pictures of students from many of the large schools in Wisconsin are to be shown next Sunday in the Roto-Art Section of The Sunday Milwaukee Journal. But this is just one of the many unusual features of interest to Janesville people shown in The Journal Roto-Art. Ask your newsboy! For sale at all news stands!
