HARESFOOT OPENS IN TWENTY-SIXTH SHOW AT PARKWAY

Designate Tonight's Performance as "Madison Night;" Few Seats Left

"Twinkle Twinkle," the twenty-sixth annual Haresfoot show, will be given for the first time in Madison at 8:15 o'clock tonight at the Parkway theater.

The performance tonight has been designated by Haresfoot managers as "Madison night." This is the first time in the history of the club that four Madison performances have been given and that one performance has been dedicated to the citizens of Madison.

Many good seats for this evening's performance are left at the box office, according to a report given out by the managers. The seats for the Saturday matinee have all been sold. There are seats, however, for the other evening performances.

Performance Starts at 8:15
In other years many Madison persons who have wanted to see the Haresfoot shows have been crowded out. This year they have had an opportunity to see "Twinkle Twinkle" by this extra performance," Sidney Thorson '24, manager, declared last night.

It was emphasized by managers that the show this evening and for all evening performances will start promptly at 8:15 o'clock.

The Haresfoot show this year has been declared to be more elaborate than ever before in its history. A lighting equipment is used for "Twinkle Twinkle" which is said to exceed the equipment used by the Follies show or any large musical comedy production of metropolitan calibre.

Gives Depth Effect
Twenty-four huge flood lights are suspended above the stage and are connected with a large switch board with nine master dimmers so that any degree and color of light can be obtained. Three spot lights are used in the balcony and two on either side of the stage.

Both acts of "Twinkle Twinkle" are enclosed in large cycloramas. The first act has one made of gray satin and in 45 feet in height, giving an effect of depth and distance. This is from 10 to 15 feet higher than any musical comedy production uses.

The cyclorama for the second act is made of silver cloth and represents a silver icicle palace. Four hundred and fifty yards of lace, 450 yards of silver cloth, and 300 yards of velour hangings are used in this act to complete the setting.

Foreign Students Will Give Native Pageant Tomorrow

Final rehearsals are being held today for "Pages From the International Album" the revue which will be presented by the International club at 8 o'clock tomorrow night in the concert room at Lathrop hall.

Cosmopolitan in character, the revue contains many unique and interesting displays of foreign talent. Musical numbers include Dutch songs, by Eunice Neckerman, Hawaiian guitar music by Peter Lani, Danish songs, by Seina Holtz, Mexican love songs, by Jose Zapata, and Chinese orchestra music given by an orchestra composed of Matthew Shen, C. Cheng and Charles Shao. Spanish dances, La Jota, a Castilian dance and Las Peteneras, an Andalusian dance, by Candida Cadenas, and an old time quadrille and Virginia reel compose the dancing numbers. The Russians will present a colorful number including Russian folk dancing and singing. Turkish fairy tales by Yussof Zia, sleight of hand tricks by William A. Gluesing and finally a vivid Tableau Vivant composed of the entire club, exemplifying the motto of the club, "Above all is humanity," completes the program.

Tickets are 50 cents.

Gustorf Appointed General Chairman of Venetian Night

Fred Gustorf '25, was appointed general chairman of the thirtieth annual interscholastic track and field meet by the athletic board at its meeting in the Y. M. C. A. parlors yesterday noon.

The week end of May 30 and 31 has been set for the date of the meet when 80 or more high schools of the state will compete here.

Venetian night will be held on Saturday evening following the field events. This annual event, which always is planned in conjunction with Interscholastic day, will be the last activity of the semester.

Appointments of committee chairmen to take charge of the various phases of the work will be made within the week, according to Gustorf.

'24 COMMENCEMENT TO BE HELD INSIDE

Outdoor Graduation Idea is Brought Up Too Late, Says Function Committee

All hope for an outdoor commencement for the class of 1924 has been quashed by the committee on public functions, it was learned yesterday.

For some time, members of the senior class had had in mind an outdoor commencement which would accommodate all the alumni and parents who desired to attend. In the past few years, officials report that thousands of people have had to be turned away because of lack of space to accommodate them, and never have interested Madison people been able to obtain seats.

The public functions committee in its action admitted the necessity for doing something soon, and expressed the idea that something would undoubtedly be done next year.

It felt that the matter came to its attention too late this year, for anything to be done, for, it was declared, that an outdoor commencement would involve a complete change of program and idea of the function, a change which could not be effected in a short time.

Both the upper campus and the stadium were considered as possible sites for the event if it should be held outdoors.

Many of the seniors have expressed disappointment at the decision, for they realize that each member of the class under the present system can have but two guest tickets to the exercises.

"We are going to work the hardest we know how, to make this a great commencement, in spite of the fact that we can't have our outdoor plans. At any rate the class of 1924 will have the distinction of bringing the matter to a head and declaring its wishes and beliefs to the proper officials. Next year the plan should be easier for adoption," Walter A. Frautsch '24, president of the senior class said last night.

BARRY LEADS CARDINAL ADVERTISING CONTEST

Six students lead in the advertising contest which is being conducted by the business department of The Cardinal, according to the report made yesterday for the months of February and March.

Leonard Barry '25, has the highest score with 237 inches of solicited advertising. Other leaders are Beatrice Walker '25, 200 inches, Ulla Rothermel '26, 178 inches, Luther Brooks '26, 100 inches, Alfred Toll '25, 80½ inches, and Billie Danto '25, 64½ inches.

For all advertisements obtained from concerns which are not regular advertisers a commission of 5 per cent is given to the solicitor. Robert Casterline '25, business manager of The Cardinal, reports that there are several positions open on the staff for advertising solicitors.

PLANS MADE FOR INCORPORATION OF MEN'S GLEE CLUB

Change Permits More Complete Concert Schedule; Off For Richland Center

Reorganization of the Wisconsin Men's Glee club into an incorporated society was completed at a recent meeting of the club, Robert Hill '24, secretary, announced yesterday.

The three distinct organizations have been formed to be controlled by the incorporated Wisconsin Glee club, the governing body is the concert club, the singing organization and the second glee club, which will train singers for membership in the other organizations.

To permit a more complete concert schedule, and to make the organization entirely independent of the director except in the conducting and the arrangement of the program, are the purposes of the change.

Officers elected for the remainder of the school year are W. Norris Wentworth '24, president, John Murphy '24, vice-president and manager, Robert Hill '24, secretary, and Edward Otis '24, treasurer.

More concerts may be given next year as a result of the new plans. The second club will begin practicing with the regular concert club next week in preparation for a possible additional tour during the next Christmas vacation.

Final membership in the incorporated club will be accomplished through a series of promotions. Applicants will be admitted to the second club through tryouts before the director. Members of the second club will be admitted to the Concert club as they are needed to complete the organization. After a year's service in the Concert club they will be eligible for election to the Wisconsin Glee club.

The club will leave this afternoon for a concert in Richland Center tonight. Another trip will be made to Columbus for a concert there tomorrow night.

Canoe, With Four Children Beached; Blast Calls "Cap"

An ice free lake, an unchained canoe, four Madison school children making the most of a spring vacation, and four blasts on the pumping station whistle, called "Cap" Isabell to the rescue of a canoe drifting in University bay yesterday.

So much time was lost in transmitting the message by telephone to the pumping station and in getting "The Isabel" out of the bay that the canoe was beached before the rescuers arrived. A bunch of children on Picnic Point and another on the drive was all that could be seen.

The schoolboys did not confine their attentions entirely to canoes that could be broken loose. A wooden stairs on the rocks before the hydraulic laboratory was covered with boards by three boys from 8 to 10 years old who attempted to paddle it out into the lake with boards.

Regents Give Tentative Approval to Transfer of Plot to Athletic Department

Ten acres of level land along Lake Mendota to be used for an intramural athletic field and for future dormitories was tentatively approved by the board of regents on the recommendation of the athletic grounds committee.

The plot of land will be transferred from the College of Agriculture as soon as the regents definitely decide upon such a release. The land lies north of Linden mall and east of the White Elm drive.

President Birge told the regents that the land transfer has the approval of Dean H. L. Russell, of the College of Agriculture, with the understanding that additional land be acquired for the college in the future.

The committee headed by J. D. Philips, business manager and including Prof. J. F. A. Pyre, Dean H. L. Russel, Dean F. E. Turneau, Prof. Max Mason, Prof. T. E. Jones and Prof. H. C. Bradley, also recommended that the part of Camp Randall, south of Johnson street be set aside for athletics at the regent's meeting.

Recommendation was made that the new athletic hall be located on Camp Randall, emphasizing the importance of carrying out the project at the earliest possible date because of the increased income which the athletic hall will produce.

The board also approved the appointment of Guy Sundt captain of the 1922 football team, as assistant football and baseball coach at a salary of $3,500.

"HAM" ACTORS PLAY BILLBOARD FOLLIES

And the "Billboard Follies" goes into the fourth act. The actors are the same, 1924 playing the part of the hero, and 1927 the part of the villain.

The opening speech of the hero was "Watch '24." In the next act the villain besmirched the scene with "Watch '27," as both classes boosted the Memorial Union. Then the villain responded to the applause of the audience by thundering forth the might lines of "Catch H——".

And last night some painter done the board, in oil, with "Catch Hellen B. Happy." Is Miss Happy the heroine?

SOCIAL ILL REMEDY OFFERED BY ZONA GALE

That self expression, in the form of service to all humanity, and not merely a selfish, restless craving for adventure, is the outlet which youth should find for its vitality and mental energy. This is Zona Gale's social remedy for one of the problems which seems to be worrying so many newspapers, preachers, and school faculties, as expressed in her talk before the League of Women Voters in the cabinet room of the Y. M. C. A. Tuesday evening.

POLICE WORK ON SLENDER CLUES IN FRATERNITY JOBS

Late Estimate Places Loss at Students in 5 Houses at $1,816.25

With but slender clues to work upon in the robbery of five fraternity houses, early yesterday morning, the police up to a late hour last night, were able to make only slight progress in the case.

The robbers looted Phi Gamma Delta, Delta Chi, Alpha Kappa Lambda, Kappa Sigma, and Zeta Psi houses sometime between 2 and 7 o'clock yesterday morning. The total loss reported by the fraternities is $301.25 in cash and $1515 in jewelry and clothing.

The thieves entered only houses in which the members sleep in dormitories, and in every case looted rooms on the second floor.

Detective Smith on Job

After stealing $50 from one man at Phi Gamma Delta, the intruders left a dime, and in another case took $75 and left four cents.

Detective Jesse Smith and members of the police force who are detailed to the case, have been unable to find any definite clue upon which to work.

Phi Gamma Delta reports the largest loss, amounting to $144 in cash and $625 in jewelry. Individual losses were as follows: Arthur Ardiel '24, $50 in cash, and a gold watch and chain valued at $55; William M. Purnell grad, $75 in cash and a gold watch and chain worth $60; Albert Martin '24, $8 in cash and a watch and chain valued at $125, with a gold boxing medal on the chain; Perry Newton '26, $5 in cash and a watch and chain worth $150; Lloyd Gladfelter '26, $1 in cash and a watch and chain valued at $40.

Watch Dog Sleeps

Fred Harting '27, $1 in cash and a watch and chain valued at $55. Lawson M. Adams '25, was robbed of a watch and chain worth $75; J. H. McCartney '27, a watch and chain valued at $70 with a gold football medal attached; Melvin Morsbach '26, a pocketbook containing $4, Marion Strain a bag full of laundry; total, $144 in cash and $625 in jewelry.

The thieves overlooked $35 in one drawer, and $40 in the pocket of the vest of Richard Farnsworth '24 and also his watch. The third floor of the house was not touched. An airedale dog was in the house at the time and made no noise when the strangers entered.

The losses of the Delta Chis are as follows. B. B. Amundsen '24, an $85 fraternity pin and a watch and chain worth $80; Paul Jones '27, $1.50 in cash and a watch and chain valued at $55; Joseph Pierard '27, $4 in cash and the $65 watch and chain he won at the relay carnival two years ago; William Hart '25, $5 in cash and a watch valued at $55. Wilber Wittenberg '24, a new topcoat costing $75 and

Olson is Elected Head of Original Social Scientists

That the Social Science club members are determined to continue their policy of free discussion, despite the efforts of a group of irreconcilables to force a stand on questions of national importance, was shown by the election of officers, held last night in the law building.

The following members of the recognized organization and adhering to the wishes of the majority of the club, elected M. L. Olson '26, president; Wayne Limberg '26, vice president; Jennie Maytias '26, secretary and Raymond Bassett '27, treasurer.

Recently a radical group of 12 members bolted the organization because the members refused to take a definite stand on issues presented by speakers brought here to address students. The present recognized club will continue to function as it did in the past and will discuss the issues, but will not take action upon them.

MABEL BROWN ORDERED TO PAY BACK RENT

Mabel Brown, '24, was ordered to pay $82 back rent to her former landlady, Mrs. Zippah Small, at 512 and 519 North Lake street, by Justice S. B. Schein, in a civil suit brought against Brown and her roommate, Lila Fremstad '25. Fremstad was dismissed when it was found that she was a minor.

Legal action was brought against the pair because they agreed to rent the room for a full semester and left before the time was up. University rulings as well as legal decisions were brought into the hearing.

Lawrence Hall '22, was counsel for Mrs. Small the plaintiff.

Journalism Profs Used to Call "Huxtra" and Pound Typewriters

Members of the journalism faculty have not always lectured aspiring journalists, and written text books for the profession.

Prof. W. G. Bleyer was once a newsboy in the circulation department of the Milwaukee Sentinel. The editorial staff later claimed him. He was associated also with the Madison Times, one of the earliest local papers.

Prof. Grant M. Hyde, as managing editor of Popular Mechanics, planned the "dummy" of the magazine and boiled down scientific articles. He has assisted in the Monthly, been editorial writer on Monthlies, been editorial writer on the New York Evening Mail, and has been correspondent for the Christian Science Monitor.

On the copy desk of the Philadelphia North American, as correspondent for several Kansas papers, and as feature writer for the Milwaukee Journal, Prof. E. Marion Johnson gained his practical experience in journalism. Mr. Birdsong was a reporter on the Kansas City Star and correspondent for the Wichita Beacon.

Miss Helen Patterson has been movie critic, telegraph and city editor, reporter, and feature writer on Kansas papers. One month she acted as sole manager and editor of a western country newspaper the editor of which had not taken a vacation in 20 years. Roy L. French served in the country newspaper field on the Eureka Herald.

Scholarship, activities and character are to be the three points considered in electing men to Gamma Tau Epsilon, new honorary civil engineering fraternity, which is being organized here.

It is planned to apply to a national honorary engineering fraternity for a charter as soon as the local organization is completed. There are national fraternities which have the same purpose as Gamma Tau Epsilon, which are not as yet established on this campus, and an attempt will be made to unite the local group with one of these fraternities. The requirements for awards in water basketball were amended to read that the team must win 50 percent of conference games with a minimum of two wins during the season.

FROSH TO MEET VARSITY IN TRACK

Saturday Set For First Outdoor Meet of Season at Randall

While Wisconsin's cinder path men are competing in the Drake relays at Des Moines, Iowa, on Saturday, a track meet will be held at Camp Randall between the freshmen and the varsity, beginning at 3:30 o'clock.

This will be the first outdoor try-out meet for the varsity candidates while it is the first meet in which the first year tracksters can count points for their numerals.

All of the outdoor events, in both track and field competition, will be held in this freshman-varsity meet. It is hoped that a large number of weight men will enter the games because new material is needed to bolster up the varsity, which appears to be weak in the shot put and hammer events.

"Tryouts to determine which athletes will enter the Drake relays on Saturday have not been completed," Coach Mead Burke said. "Competition in most of the events is keen and the final selection may not be made until shortly before the meet."

Wisconsin will be represented in the 440-yard, 880-yard, one-mile, and four-mile relay races, while tracksters will compete in the pole vault, broad jump, sprints and weight events in the individual competition.

GOLF SQUAD TO BE CHOSEN SATURDAY

Practice on Maple Bluff Course, Qualifying Rounds to Select Players

Coach Thomas E. Jones has completed arrangements for the varsity golf team to practice on the Maple Bluff links and all devotees of the game have been going through a preliminary practice this week.

Next Saturday at 9 o'clock a qualifying round will be played over the Maple Bluff course. This round is open to all men who are eligible for varsity competition. Captain Bock will pick 12 men from this qualifying round to form the squad.

These 12 will turn in their score cards after each night's practice and the four having the highest average will be chosen to represent Wisconsin in the two matches with Illinois and Northwestern in May.

A meeting of all golf enthusiasts will be held tomorrow at 12:45 o'clock in the trophy room to complete plans for the present season. Coach Joe Steinauer has been making arrangements with the Black Hawk club for the freshmen golfers to work out there.

Members of the Agricultural Literary society are to have a special program at the meeting at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow evening in the club room at Agricultural Hall.

The society will engage in community singing and will listen to a discussion of topics of the week. There will be a debate on "Resolved that improvement in farm real estate should be exempt from taxation."

The affirmative will be upheld by N. M. Nelson '27 and A. J. Delwiche '27. C. R. Ingebritson '25 and R. S. Schaefer '24 will give an address on "Road Oils."

Study of Intelligence of Ohio Athletes Shows Differences

COLUMBUS, O., April 21—Cross country runners seem to show the highest order of intelligence of any varsity squad at Ohio State university.

Tennis players rank second, golfers third and track athletes fourth.

Between these four groups and the last four, consisting of baseball, basketball, football and wrestling team members, there appears to be a rather marked difference.

Those rather surprising tendencies are disclosed in a study on the "Intelligence of Varsity Athletes", made by Professor H. E. Bratt and J. H. Nichols, of Ohio State university.

It is pointed out as rather noteworthy that the varsity sports in which individual performance is more at a premium the order of intelligence appears to be higher. In the sports where teamwork and coordination are more essential the order of intelligence is relatively lower.

BASEBALL TEAM PRACTICES FOR ILLINOIS CONTEST

Work Consists of Batting and Fielding Practice With Frosh Scrimmage

The varsity baseball team put in some much needed practice yesterday afternoon in preparation for the game with Illinois here Saturday. Work consisted of batting and fielding practice and of several strenuous innings against Coach Combacker's frosh outfit.

The team shows the need of considerable smoothing before it can hope to cope with the strong Indian nine, which is rated as one of the best in the conference. Fielding seemed ragged and somewhat slow, and the hitting was not up to standard on the whole.

Cold weather has retarded the efficiency of the nine to a considerable extent, and it is only during the last two days that any real progress has been accomplished. Plenty of hot, sunshiny weather will do more than anything else to put the team in shape for a hard battle Saturday.

No change has been made in the lineup, and it is probable that the same nine that subdued Chicago will face Illinois. It is not certain yet which hurler Coach Lowman will start on the mound, but it is probable that his choice will be between Johnson and Christianson.

A few more days of strenuous practice can improve the effectiveness of the team markedly, and the outfit has plenty of potential strength. Whether it will show up well in a game on the home grounds remains to be seen.

TENNIS MOST POPULAR OF WOMEN'S SPORTS

Of all the spring sports, tennis under the direction of Miss Myra Emery holds the strongest appeal for the Wisconsin co-ed, if enrollment statistics mean anything. Archery, under the direction of Miss Alice Moosrop, vies second for popularity. Outdoor baseball, under the direction of Miss A. L. Gallfield and track, under the direction of Miss C. M. Wesson and horseback riding, at the Blackhawk academy, completes the list of spring sports offered.

Arrangements For Housing Carnival Athletes Begin

Housing arrangements for four of the high schools entering teams in the interscholastic relay carnival to be held at Camp Randall May 3 were completed yesterday, is the report of Paul Eschweiler, who has charge of rooming arrangements for them. The others will be provided for as quickly as they register.

Those taken care of are from Milwaukee Riverside high, Senn and Oak Park highs, Chicago, and Cedar Rapids high. Some from Milwaukee and other Wisconsin cities will not remain for the night. Fifty high schools will enter teams.

A form letter was sent to all fraternities and rooming houses asking for housing for the participants. The response will provide for all who care to stay, Eschweiler said. The schools have two weeks yet to report the names and numbers of their athletes.

DOLPHIN CLUB IN NOVEL TANK SHOW

Program on May 2 and 3 to Be Featured By Special Stunts

Novelty races and fancy diving will be featured by the mermaids of the Dolphin swimming club at 7:30 o'clock, May 2 and 3, in the Lathrop tank.

Johnny Weismuller and "Stubby" Krueger will be impersonated in their stunt, "Looking for a Friend." The "Pakai (Chinese) Relay," as demonstrated by Duke, Kahanamoku, Pua Kealoha, Ludy Langer and Lestu Smith, will be exhibited for the first time in Madison. This relay caused much comment and enthusiasm when given at the Olympic games at Antwerp in 1920.

There will be the usual exhibition of strokes presented in a new way, and the wheel which was so successful at the last exhibition, will be repeated.

CRANEFIELD SPEAKS ON "JUSTICE FOR FRANCE"

"Justice for France" is the subject of the oration to be delivered by Harold A. Cranefield '25, delegate from Wisconsin at the Northern Oratorical League contest to be held in Ann Arbor, Mich., May 2.

The League is composed of the Universities of Minnesota, Michigan, Iowa, Illinois, Northwestern, and Wisconsin and originated several years ago with Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois, when he endowed the league and provided for annual prizes of $100 for first prize and $50 for second.

The three prominent men from Wisconsin who have won prizes at these contests are Robert M. La Follette in 1904; Attorney Tracey; and Alban Reis.

PLAN CONVENTION OF YOUNG MEN'S CLUB

Plans for a state convention of the Young Men's Progressive association of Wisconsin, to be held in Madison on Tuesday May 6, were formulated at a meeting of the executive board held Tuesday. Announcement was also made of the election of the following officers for the coming year: Ralph Axley '25, president; Lyle F. Fehrmann, White-water Normal, first vice president; William Blake '23, secretary; and Harold Siljan '26, treasurer. Blake and Siljan were both reelected.

The plans for the convention include a banquet, installation of the new officers, formulation of a platform, and the making of plans for the more effective expansion of the movement. Large delegations from White-water, Milwaukee, and other centers of the movement are expected to be present.

A new scholarship, production in the Gloucester Little theatre, and $10 in cash, are the prizes that are being offered by the Gloucester School of the Little Theatre for the best one act play by an undergraduate of an American school or college.

The Drake relay results are to be broadcasted from station W H O Des Moines, Iowa, on a wavelength of 526 meters by the Bankers Life company.

ENTRY LIST FOR RELAY CARNIVAL GROWS TO SCORE

Tilden High Among Latest Entrants; Joie Ray Unable to Come

Three more entries for the first annual interscholastic relay carnival to be held at Camp Randall Saturday, May 3, were received at the gymnasium by officials of the relay carnival yesterday afternoon.

Deerfield Shields high school, Highland Park, Ill.; Tilden, Chicago, Ill., and Menominee, Mich., are the latest entries, bringing the total number of participants in the relay carnival to 20. The date for the closing of applications for entrance is on Saturday.

Joie Ray, world's champion runner, who is representing the Illinois Athletic club, will be unable to come to Madison to run in special races against Wisconsin tracksters on Saturday, May 3, the day of the relay carnival.

"Because the Illinois Athletic club is represented in a track and field meet at Peoria, Ill., on the day of the Wisconsin interscholastic relay carnival, I regret that I can not come to Madison to run," said Ray. "I will be anxious to follow the results of the meet, however, because it is the first of its kind in the middle west and has the largest and most athletic high schools of this section of the country entered. I wish Wisconsin success in its new meet."

High schools from four states will compete for supremacy in six relay races varying in distance from the quarter-mile relay race to the distance medley run of two and one-half miles, while seven special events will attract athletes in the individual competition.

"With the date of the relay carnival a little more than a week away, final details are gradually being completed," Arthur W. Trost '24, general chairman, declared, "and I hope that student interest will increase because this is the first time that athletes from other states have ever been invited to compete at Camp Randall."

Hitting the High Spots With Ken

Joe Steinauer says: If you want to get a good laugh go down to the university boathouse some Saturday afternoon and watch the greenhorns getting started off with a girl in a rented canoe.

This is too good to keep. Something Like a WhiffenPoof
No Doubt
Have you ever seen the Gricola Arowling in the street,
With his fifty thousand molars
And his six by nineteen feet?
He wears a horsefry in his waistcoat
An onion on his tail.
His ears are red as fire
by gosh
But his feet are deathly pale.

The Badger relay team which took second place in the Kansas relays came in trailing only the Oregon Aggies. But you see, all unknown to the officials of the meet the Aggies ran a man who is a member of the Illinois Athletic club and has no connection with the Oregon school.

Said man was one of the rays of the I. A. C. of which Joie Ray is one.

Have you a football widow at your house?

Luke says: The track meets has begun on the lower campus. In other words, them frat kids are at it again with their scrub games of baseball.

Hi-Spots: It was during the first part of March that they removed the spring board from the tank in the men's gym because it was broken, but as yet there has been no sign of a new one. Somebody must be asleep.

THE OPEN DOOR

Again the fraternity open doors has been entered by burglars and again the members of the five fraternities which were burglarized wish that they had locked the barn door before the horse was stolen. It is only a matter of wonder that fraternity houses, with doors open the live-long night, have not been entered in this fashion earlier this year.

Of the three score fraternity houses on the campus probably not one is locked during the night. Any Tom, Dick or Harry who takes it into his head can enter any house without question, have all the time in the world to pick out the prizes and walk off with them, even to the grand piano, while members sleep peacefully overhead or, if they are awake, think that any noise in the house is caused by some of the brothers cutting up.

Warning has been issued before through these columns to fraternity houses. The Cardinal does not assume the "I told you so" attitude, but simply repeats the warning, with the force of Wednesday's morning experience to back it up. The most practical suggestion would be to lock the doors at twelve o'clock and leave a pass key hidden somewhere for the use of late retirees.

The burglars of yesterday morning's incident must be found. There has been much petty stealing going on in the vicinity of the Latin quarter all year and it all argues against the local police department. But when petty thievery increases and assumes the proportions which it did yesterday morning every effort must be made to put an end to it.

That can best be done by the preventive method of locking doors of fraternity houses and tracing down the culprits.

A NEW LIMITATION

President Coolidge, in his speech before the members of the Associated Press and the editors of the country's leading newspapers Tuesday advocated another conference on general disarmament such as was held three years ago when President Harding called the nations of the world to a conference at Washington. His address spoke of including in this disarmament conference other questions pertaining to a world court, to the positions of neutrals in time of war and other matters. But what about a conference on disarmament? Splendid, indeed, if it will lead to any practical ends. But will it?

The conference at Washington three years ago wrought a number of changes. As a result of it the navies in the Pacific were cut and the nations most vitally concerned guaranteed to leave other armament in the Pacific at the status quo. But it was possible to make these agreements because of peculiar circumstances which existed then and do not exist now. For instance, three of the nations most interested in the Pacific, France, England and the United States, were willing to cut their navies there because they felt confident that they could trust each other, that neither would attack another. Japan, the fourth interest, was willing to comply because she was more interested in getting a grasp on China. Her navy furthermore was less important to her because any nation which carries on naval warfare in the Pacific must have, as a consequence of the distances, a tremendous fleet and powerful naval base. America promised not to establish naval bases West of the Hawaiian Islands and Japan was satisfied.

The other important nations at the conference were willing to stop naval construction because they were so busy with rebuilding their armies that they had neither time nor money to spend on a fleet. France and Italy were examples.

Thus it was that no measures which affected any nation critically were taken. What would be the case now? In discussing a cut in armies, a nation with no army to speak of, a nation which is engaged in building up its army, would say: "How do you propose to limit armament? On the basis of present standing? But we have no army to speak of now, and if you propose to cut all armies by half, that is very nice indeed for you but if we cut our army by half, we will have none at all."

If an attempt to base the size of armies on population is made, France, with two thirds the population of Germany will object. If length of border, or area, is made the basis for armament, Russia will be pleased and the Balkan states will be even more menaced. Capital can not be made the basis, obviously. There are too many nearly bankrupt nations in the world now for an agreement to such a proposition to be worked out.

No, a disarmament conference would simply be an attempt to patch up the ills of the world instead of a constructive application of preventive methods for future ills. A powerful league, with a defensive alliance, as is allowed by the League, between the United States, England and France—nations who hold peace dearer than conquests or who have nothing to gain by conquest, as France has nothing to gain—an alliance which no group of other nations would dare attack, seems a more practicable solution of the troubles of the world.

Merchandiser Tells Need of College Graduates in Business

By JAMES SIMPSON

President of Marshall Field and Company

(Reprinted from the Yale Daily News)

The problem of problems confronting young men just leaving college and ready for entrance into the world of affairs is—what shall it be—agriculture or the trades, a profession or a business, science or art?

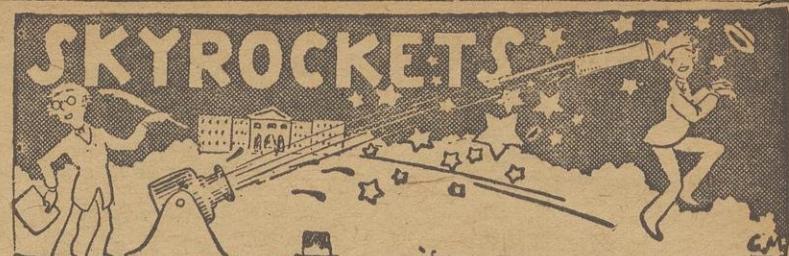

No individual, however wise and informed, can have the exact formula for the guidance of all youth at this critical period. The views presented here are in the hope that an individual experience and observation may be of value to those on the threshold of business life.

One who has the advantage of a college training ought to come to his work with a disciplined body, trained mind, generous spirit, and a determination to do something worth while in life.

Business is continually in need of new blood, to replace those passing out and to supply the increasing demand created by growth of population and expansion of activities. In former years the professions were the great aim of college graduates. Parents had a sentimental partiality for these callings and thought them the fitting place for their offspring. Students, too, were influenced by this sentiment. This tendency has brought about an excess of talent in professional occupations.

With the professional field well filled and the trades a more or less segregated division, educated men are more and more turning their attention to the many phases of commercial activity. Industry and commerce, banking and merchandising, are their arena. These branches long have beckoned to college men, often in vain. Those who ventured into business callings have found ample outlet for their academic training. Indeed, the fertile field the business world offers to organized minds has been a revelation to many a college trained man. There is no antagonism between business and the professions as to which is better. It is largely a matter of individual aptitude and personal preference.

The production, distribution and consumption of goods and services compasses the full cycle of life, and the young man who has an ambition to succeed need have no difficulty in finding a place in this vast scheme of things for any talent he may possess. New processes, new resources, new territories are waiting for those who can do constructive things, who can plan, design and run the machine so as to eliminate waste, cut down costs, utilize by products, and make the workers happy and productive. The element of chance and speculation in business is yielding more and more to scientific organization and planning, and the acquisitive type of personal success is less highly regarded than that of achieving—creating—accomplishing something which will be a real contribution to society and our fellowmen.

36 Wisconsin High School Students In Lyceum Contest

Thirty-six Badger high school students will represent their districts at the State High School Lyceum contest to be held at Madison, May 29-31, under the auspices of the speech department, and the Extension department of debating and public discussion.

The students will be the winners in the local, league, and district contests in reading, extemporaneous speaking, and declamatory work. For the first time, they will be officially entertained, being met at the train by a committee of students.

The State High School Lyceum contest program, which will be held May 29, will include contests in reading, extemporaneous speaking, and declamatory contests for boys, and a declamatory contest for girls. They will be guests of the university speech department at a Memorial exercise on May 30, and at the Inter-state High School track meet on Saturday.

The districts include: River Falls, Stevens Point, Oshkosh, Platteville, Whitewater, Milwaukee, Superior, La Crosse and Eau Claire.

Rooms For Co-eds Will Be Abundant at Summer School

Summer school co-eds will find a great variety of rooms at their disposal for the coming term. Both Chadbourne and Barnard will be open, many sororities have expressed their intentions of keeping their houses open, and the usual number of rooming houses are on the list.

The dean of women's office is already receiving letters requesting information regarding rooms. The letters are answered by sending the applicants a list of the names of the house mothers and their addresses.

The prices during the summer session are in general slightly lower than during the regular session, since there are no heating expenses and lighting expenses are lower. The maximum price of $5 for a double and $7 for a single room remains.

"There is no indication of a shortage of rooms for the summer session," according to Mrs. Flett, of the dean of women's office.

Commerce Magazine Offers Interesting Business Articles

By D. L.

The April issue of the Commerce magazine, out today, the biggest and best of the year, is filled with interesting articles of particular import to students in the commerce school, and persons interested in commerce.

Perhaps the best article in the magazine, and one which gives specific information, is that of George W. Sweeney, managing director of the Hotel Commodore, New York on "What Does the Hotel Business Offer?" The article is filled with facts regarding the hotel business, and has some instructive illustrations.

Next in importance comes the article by George Enzinger, of Olson and Enzinger, Milwaukee, on "The Advertising Agency—Its Economic Justification and Service to Clients". An article by Prof. F. H. Elwell on the opportunities for the commercial teacher in the business community is also one of the most interesting and best in the issue.

The magazine has some snappy editorials that are worth while. One of the features in the magazine is that called "Up and Down the Hill". This column is conducted by Henry Ainder '25 and is filled with interesting personal items, telling "what's what" and "who's who" in the commerce school.

Mailing envelopes for sending "Octy" home to the folks may be procured at the office in the Union building, University pharmacy, Morgan's, Cardinal pharmacy, the Co-op, and Badger pharmacy.

Those who did not get their copies yesterday may buy them at any of the larger drug stores or at the news stands today.

A meeting of De Molay will be held at 7:30 o'clock this evening in the Square and Compass house.

20 HIGH SCHOOLS IN RELAY CARNIVAL

Saturday, Designated as Final Date For Entering Teams

Twenty high schools have already registered in what will be the first interscholastic meet of its kind in this section of the country, according to an announcement made yesterday by Arthur W. Trost '24, general chairman of the Wisconsin relay carnival which will be held at Camp Randall on May 3.

"This is strictly a high school meet, patterned in other respects after the Drake and the Penn relays," said Trost, —Badger Studio in commenting upon the purpose of the affair. "We wish to make it fully representative of the middle west, and at present most of the best schools in Illinois and Wisconsin are already enrolled, in addition to rating institutions of other middle western states. Ten states will be represented in all."

It is estimated that a total of 50 teams will be entered. Any number of teams can be accommodated, however, Trost stated. Members of the teams will be entertained at local fraternity houses while here.

The last date for entries is on Saturday. It is expected that there will be a large number of eleventh hour entries.

"We hope to make this Wisconsin's first annual relay carnival, the peer of any meet ever held in the middle west," declared Trost. "The work of the separate committees is progressing rapidly, and most of the important preparations will be completed by the end of the week."

PLANS COMPLETED FOR TWO HOUSES

Alpha Xi Deltas Lodge Furnished By May 1, University Club in October

"All the bids have been given out for the new University club, and it will be rushed through as quickly as possible. We are planning on having the new club completed by October," Edward J. Law of the firm of James R. and Edward J. Law, architects, said recently.

The plans for the new Kappa Alpha Theta house have been completed and bids are being taken for the construction work. It will be of an Italian Villa type, and all the details have been worked out in keeping with this style of house.

The Theta house will be entirely different from any of the other fraternity and sorority houses in Madison.

Mr. Law said that in the plans for fraternities especially they were trying to find types of houses that were a little different and at the same time practical.

The plans for the new Acacia house are in the process of being made. This house is also going to follow the Italian style, with its arched doorways and colored pillars. The dining room is in the basement. Because of the slope in the land, this type of house is most suitable, Mr. Law the architect said.

With the completion of the second floor of the new Alpha Xi Delta house, on Langdon street, 29 chapter members will be able to live in the house next week. Third floor rooms have been occupied since April 11.

Telephones and electric lights were installed Saturday and the new furniture for the downstairs is expected to arrive at the beginning of next week. Th Hoffheimer studio, Chicago, is doing the interior decorating, and Mrs. Pembroke Browne has taken charge of all arrangements. The color tone of the lower floor will be dull green and orange. The house will be entirely furnished by May 1.
