APPOINT MEN IN CHARGE OF STOCK EXHIBIT

Little International Show to Be Held Here
March 12

Committees for the Little International stock show, the big annual event of the College of Agriculture, were appointed yesterday by A. L. McMahon '21, general manager. The event, which is given under the auspices of the Wisconsin Saddle and Sirloin club, will be held March 12 at the Stock pavilion, it was further announced.

The judging of live stock will be made during the morning by special judges who are to be appointed soon. After the judging of entries, the awards will be announced. Cash prizes of $100, special ribbons for the first three winners, and special prizes for six state and national live stock organizations, are being offered. The entrants are restricted to students.

Wild West Event

The "wild and wooly west" show in the evening, consisting of the horse events, parade of the entered live stock, and special stunts, will be the capital feature of the day. All cattle and live stock will be exhibited in parade.

The horse show which is the main feature promises to be unusually good, states McMahon. Ten or 12 pure bred horses from Gleave's barn, where the privately-owned horses of Madison residents are kept, will be shown at this time. Several jumping horses driven by students will give exhibitions. The music will be furnished by the University Regimental band which will play special concert numbers between acts.

Stunts to Feature Program

Special feature stunts are now being worked out. A long-legged greased pig will feature in one stunt. The different departments in the College of Agriculture will give special stunts in competition

JOURNALISTS TO GIVE FARCE ON ANNUAL PI-NITE

"Rushing the Dead Line" to be Presented by Members of Press Club Saturday

Pi-nite, the big annual celebration of the journalists, which is to be held on February 18 in the concert room of Lathrop hall, is predicted by the committee in charge to outclass last year's affair.

The play, "Rushing the Dead Line," or "A Dirty Case," which is the first feature and one of the biggest of the evening, was written by Martin Halling '23, a member of Press club and a student in the course in journalism. It is being presented by a number of Press club members, and is under the direction of E. Marion Johnson, an instructor in the course. Scenery for the piece has been secured from one of the local theaters.

After the play, one of Thompson's five piece orchestras will play for the dancing. Because of the expense of securing the room, the music, and of providing refreshments and producing the play, the committee in charge has found it necessary to charge 10 cents extra for the apple pie a la mode which will be served during the evening. The price of admission is 55 cents. Journalists and their friends are invited.

HARESFOOT CLUB TO HOLD TRYOUTS NEXT WEDNESDAY

All Men With Sophomore Standing or Better Eligible
For Parts

Tryouts for parts and positions in the twenty-third annual production of Haresfoot dramatic club will take place next Wednesday, February 23, at 8 o'clock. All men in the university who have a sophomore standing or better are eligible to tryout. The place will be announced later.

Every department of the Haresfoot club is open to applicants, in the business staff, the stage production staff, the publicity staff, and in the show itself, where there are fourteen leading parts and sixteen or more chorus parts open. Norbert W. Markus '22, business manager of the Haresfoot club, and W. H. Purnell '22, will have charge of the tryouts. Markus will meet men who wish to work as assistant managers in the Haresfoot office in the Union building this afternoon at 4 o'clock.

The Haresfoot club will present an original musical comedy written by a group of students, headed by Horace Carver '21, and Earl Carpenter '21, in seven different cities in Wisconsin and Illinois during the spring vacation, April 14-22.

Further information in regard to the tryouts or the work of the Haresfoot club may be obtained from William H. Purnell, F. 136, or Horace Carver, B. 3813.

SORORITY RELAY WILL FEATURE TRACK CARNIVAL

Interest Centered in this Event
in Meet Saturday Evening

A crowded field of 20 sorority entries will face the starter in the annual inter-sorority relay, one of the six events which will make the 1921 Wisconsin Relay carnival on Saturday evening, Feb. 19, the biggest ever handled by the athletic department of the University of Wisconsin.

Four men will run for each sorority, each man traveling one lap around the gym annex track, and with the best of the varsity and freshmen runners entered in the contest, it is not unlikely that a new track record will be made for the distance. Awards of trophy cups and plaques will be made to the winners of the inter-sorority relay.

Barnard won the event last year, represented by Captain Dayton, Jones, Felton, and Spetz. The 1921 Barnard team, led by Saul Schapiro '21, is bent on repeating the victory for the dormitory. Alpha Chi Omega and Kappa Alpha Theta captured second and third, respectively, in the 1920 inter-sorority contest.

The men who will run for the sororities which have entered teams in the meet are:

Alpha Xi Delta — Captain Mark Wall, Weymann, Deadman, Eagleburger.

Alpha Phi — Captain Wellington Brothers, Ellison, Park, Stolley.

Delta Zeta — Captain G. H. Finkle, W. S. Johnson, Koeffer, Nohr.

Kappa Alpha Theta — Captain Clyde Nash, T. D. Jones, Saunders, Woods.

Alpha Gamma Delta — Captain R. H. Noble, Rosecky, Jahn, Sundt.

Marquette Objects
Claims Wisconsin Law Students Favored in Bar Examinations

A bill requiring graduates of the University of Wisconsin law school to pass the state bar examination before being admitted to practice was recommended for passage by the judiciary committee of the state assembly yesterday.

At the present time Wisconsin law graduates are not required to pass the bar examination before opening a practice, while graduates of Marquette university are. Dean Max Shoetz, graduate of the University of Wisconsin, and at present of the law school of Marquette university, denounced the university law faculty for its stand and attitude toward Marquette, and charged university graduates of being a favored few admitted into the law profession of the state immediately upon graduation.

SWIMMING SQUAD TO LOSE SIX MEN BY INELIGIBILITY

Loss Will be Felt in Meet With Illinois Next Saturday

The Wisconsin swimming squad which meets Illinois in the first conference meet of the season on Saturday, Feb. 19, has been dealt a severe blow by the loss through ineligibility of six regular swimmers who failed to make their grades in the semester examinations. The loss of these swimmers coming, as it does, a few days before the important contest with the Illinois team has forced Coach Joseph C. Steinauer to develop a number of new men for the events in which the ineligible men participated.

The men who will be lost to the Badger squad and their events are: Howard B. Stark '21, 440-yard swim; Joshua G. Elder '22, 220-yard swim; S. D. Ewald '22, 40-yard and 100-yard dashes; R. A. Peterson '23, 40-yard dash; Chester Rieck '22, 40-yard and 100-yard dashes; B. W. Huebner, plunges.

Eleven of the men who have been reporting regularly remain to the squad, and Coach Steinauer will fill up the gaps in the team with these men. Two men newly entered at Wisconsin, Lennox Haldeman '21, who won a place on the Badger squad led by Harry Hinman several years ago, and Tafshinsky, a member of last year's team, have shown sufficient form to warrant a regular position on the varsity squad.

Other swimmers who will place on the varsity squad are: Captain John Koch '21, M. J. Bach '21, J. J. Lamboley '22, J. M. Logie '22, R. Pabst '23, A. H. Lahman '23, W. K. Collins '22, H. S. Rubel '23, O. R. Baker '22. The eligibility of E. N. Peterson '21, who is a first string man, is still hanging fire with the authorities on the hill.

383 DROPPED AS RESULT OF EXAMS

While instructors are knowingly surveying their classes and remarking, "It seems many have gone from among us," the report comes from Registrar W. D. Heistand that the fall enrollment of 7,004 has been depleted by only 383 during the semester. The total enrollment for the second semester to date is 6,621, of which 4,326 are men and 2,295 are women. The decrease is not unusual. Registration figures for the second term of last year show an enrollment of only 6,381. Since registration has not yet ceased, it is expected that before the end of the next two weeks the total enrollment will approach the 7,000 mark.

SEEKS BETTER OFFENSE FOR ILLINOIS GAME

Coach Meanwell is Concentrating Work on Basket Shooting

The varsity basketball team resumed practice on Monday for the Illinois game next Saturday night. Since the defense has been the feature of Wisconsin's play this season, Coach Meanwell is concentrating practices more on a smoothly running offense. The freshmen team which scrimmaged against the varsity last night was able to get only three baskets and two of them were long shots.

At the present time Minnesota appears to be practically as strong as any five in the conference. In fact, the team is far better than their position in the percentage column indicates. They have suffered four defeats, losing twice to Illinois by one and four points respectively, and losing both the Indiana and Chicago games by a single point. All of their victories, except the one over Wisconsin, were easily and decisively won. Oss and Arntson, stars of football fame, have been doing most of the Gopher scoring.

OPEN PRACTICE TODAY
Coach Meanwell's varsity five will scrimmage the freshman team in an open practice game on the armory floor this afternoon at 4:45 o'clock. No admission will be charged and a large student representation is desired.

Chicago's Position Uncertain
Dopesters are now refusing to predict the final outcome of Chicago. After dropping three games Coach Stagg's men have stiffened up and won the last three contests. It is due, however, to the individual shooting ability of Chicago's men that they have been able to nose out ahead in the games they have won. This is proven by the fact that three of the 10 highest scorers in the conference are on the Chicago team.

The Hawkeyes have been considerably strengthened by the return of Finlayson and may worry some of the pennant aspirants before the season is over. They were badly defeated by Chicago, but true to tradition, beat the Maroons on their own floor.

CORNELL HEAD TO SPEAK HERE AT CONVOCATION

President Jacob G. Schurman of Cornell university will speak at the all-university convocation on Washington's birthday at 3:30 Tuesday afternoon, February 22, at the university gymnasium.

The university has succeeded in obtaining President Schurman on account of a speaking engagement which he will fill in Milwaukee on the previous day.

President Schurman is a distinguished educator, having been connected with various American institutions. He received his training in London, Paris, Edinburgh, Heidelberg, Berlin, and also has studied in Italy. He has been in public service, having been president of the first U. S. Philippine commission, and spent some time in the Philippine islands. He was United States minister to Greece, and to Montenegro, 1912-13.

He is the author of a number of books on ethics and religion.

WHAT'S WRONG WITH THE GRADES?

Editor, The Daily Cardinal:

What's wrong at Wisconsin? Why is it that grades in general are so much lower, and fails, cons, and poors have increased to such an alarming extent this last semester? Has whatever intelligence the student body may have possessed suddenly taken wings and departed for shores unknown? Has the decline in grades resulted from a corresponding fall in the grade of instruction provided? I am unwilling to admit either of these presumptions, and these eliminated, there remains but one plausible explanation of the existing sad state of affairs. This is, that the standards used in measuring the students' attainments in their scholastic work are decidedly faulty ones.

The only conceivable object one can see for this sudden, and whether so meant or not, patently unjust tightening of the faculty reins, is the raising of Wisconsin's already high standards to such a plane that only Phi Beta Kappa and her sister organizations will remain in the institution. However, the law of diminishing returns is applicable to standards as well as to more material things. I believe the census of student opinion is, and I believe it is well founded, that the faculty, in their efforts to raise the university's standards, have not only reached the point where this law commences to operate, but have appreciably passed it. In other words, that the good attained by the use of such sharp tactics is no longer at all commensurate with the harm done.

The most common defense that one hears of the raising of standards to a pre-war basis and even beyond, is that the enrollment is now too large and that some such severe process of elimination must be resorted to. There is, however, no fairness in such a practice. If enrollment is too large, make entrance requirements more rigid, but after a man has once been admitted, let him at least have the assurance that he will be given a fair chance to continue his work and graduate. We are all aware that there is a certain class of students who come to the university without any idea whatever of doing any work. To them, studies are but a necessary evil, and they probably deserve all the low marks and dismissals they receive.

But there is another and far more numerous class of students, which is made up of those who do faithful and honest work, and earnestly try to succeed. It is a very discouraging sign, and a distinct reflection upon the university's methods, when a large number of this type of students receive low or failing grades, and such has been the case of late. This system, if long continued, will effectually kill athletics and other activities, but far more important even than either of these, that fine spirit of fellowship and co-operation that has made of Wisconsin the great school she is. A continuation of this short-sighted policy will soon make it impossible for a man to take part in athletics or activities and at the same time stay in school.

The first semester of the year 1920-21 is history now, and there seems no way of righting the many injustices done. Probably the best thing the sufferers can do is to try to efface the memory of the nightmare by strict application to the work of the second semester. Let us hope, however, that instead of facing a faculty determined to fail as many as they possibly can, we will be dealing with a faculty desirous of passing as many as they conscientiously can. And may the spark of conscience within them (which must surely have nearly gone out last semester, for there was no evidence of it) kindle and burn brightly, until it consumes some of the excess height to which Wisconsin's standards have been so suddenly and disastrously raised.

WORTH E. SHOULTS '23.

THREE METHODS OF CONDUCTING EXAMINATIONS

After attending two schools where the honor system worked very successfully, I have spent two years at Wisconsin. Just as regular as the final semester examinations come around, I see wholesale cheating; in fact I have seen more cheating on one examination at Wisconsin than I saw during the two years I attended these schools with the honor system.

We have, in my opinion, three types of professors, or may I say three methods of conducting examinations used by professors of the University of Wisconsin. First, we have the professor who tells us frankly we are all crooks, and will cheat if we have a chance. He even says he has a student, and he knows the ways and methods used in cribbing. Then we are watched like prisoners, only the prison warden happens to be a university professor or instructor. Second, we have the professor who tells us we are all honest, and he knows none of us will crib. He says all the students in the university are honest, but just the same he stations about 10 people all around the room to watch us honest students. This professor even goes further than the first, he gets people from out of his department to come in and watch us.

Third, we have the professor who tells us he has given us a square deal and that the examination is a fair one and that it is up to us whether or not we cheat. He even goes so far as to leave the room, trusting us absolutely. And may I say I haven't seen one person crib under such conditions.

Now which do you think the better method? Do you want some one to watch you to keep you from cribbing? If so who is going to follow you through the world to watch you and keep you from cheating?

The honor system has been successfully used in the oldest state university in this country, that is the University of Virginia. It was installed in 1842, and is conducted by the students themselves.

Yes, this is a plea and an earnest plea for the honor system at Wisconsin. We can govern ourselves, and we will, if we are given a chance.

WORK ON OFFENSE FOR ILLINI GAME

Michigan Going Well
The Michigan team is now one of the hardest teams to face in the conference and will make a hard run for second or third place.

Purdue, Ohio, and Northwestern will all probably suffer a few more defeats before the end of the season. Purdue is the strongest of the three but still has to play Illinois, Michigan, and Indiana. Ohio has only had one good basketball team since being admitted to the conference in 1913. Her single victory this year was over Michigan, and the outcome of that game is still a source of wonder to fans who saw the Wolverines perform here.

Northwestern has just opened up their new annex, where they will play the remainder of their home games. The structure is capable of seating 5,000 spectators, and Coach Edler says that the seating capacity is already taxed as much as before. It is to be hoped that within the next few years Wisconsin will be provided with a better basketball court, as the present seating capacity is inadequate for a school of this size.

Rally Song for Normal is Wanted

PLATTEVILLE, Wis.—President Asa M. Royce, Platteville Normal school is appealing to former teachers and students to help find a "rally song" for the school. One of the conditions is that the song shall "express the glorification of teaching or the worth of the public school."

Dr. Duncan MacGregor, for fifty years connected with the school as teacher, president and regent, will give $10 in gold for the best song furnished before Mar. 1.

BADGER SKI MEN LOSE DUAL MEET WITH MINNESOTA

Make Good Showing in Spite of Lack of Practice on Home Jump

Losing by a margin of only 16 feet, the Badger Ski club was defeated at Minneapolis Saturday, Feb. 12, by the Gopher club at the annual ski tournament held between Wisconsin and Minnesota. The score was Minnesota, 666, Wisconsin, 650.

Wisconsin stood first in the individual long jump standing contest, in which Robert Hesselberg '24 placed first and T. Norberg '22 second. The team was also ahead of Minnesota in the total of its jumps, but owing to the deduction of 60 points from the score because of three falls, the score was brought below that of Minnesota's.

The following men from the Badger club took part in the tournament: Orne Brinck '22, Oscar Christiansen '21, Robert Hesselberg '24, Tom Norberg '22, and Aksel Taranger '22.

In the Northwestern championship meet, which took place the following afternoon, Sverre Strom '22 took fifth place, Aksel Taranger, sixth, and Tom Norberg, ninth.

When it is considered that the members of the Badger club had no opportunity to practice at home and took their skis for practically the first time this winter at the tournament, the Badger Ski club made an excellent showing this winter. Wisconsin was also well represented by the club at the National Ski tournament held at Cary, Ill., Feb. 6, at which Sverre Strom took second place and Robert Hesselberg, third.

Very poor ski-riding conditions prevailed at Minneapolis owing to the heavy thaw. Over 2,000 spectators witnessed the contest. Last year the contest was won by Wisconsin with a superiority of 200 points. Next year's tournament will be held in Madison.

Plan Junior Event

Another relay race which has created much interest because of the limited number of entries is the inter-high school race. Only two schools, University high and Madison high, have signified their intention of entering a quartet of runners in this event.

The two high schools are bitter rivals in every branch of sport, and the result of this contest will go far to determine which one is supreme on the track. Madison high is coached by Otto Endress, former Wisconsin university high jumper and a point winner in the conference track meets last year. Endres has been unable to devote such time to the development of his relay team because of the heavy basketball schedule which Madison high school has undertaken, but he has a veteran quartet of runners who are sure to make a good showing against

The men who will run for Madison high are: Bert Johnson, Frank Johnson, Emmett Eisele, Henry McFadden, with Roy Goodlad and Fred Gettle as alternates.

Coach Ira C. Davis of University high school has been drilling his relay men strenuously in order that the "little Badgers" may chalk up a victory over their Madison rivals. He has entered the following runners in the inter-high school relay: George Stebbins, James La Mont, Theodore Sproul, Neil McMurray, Carleton Stephens, with Edward Page as substitute runner.

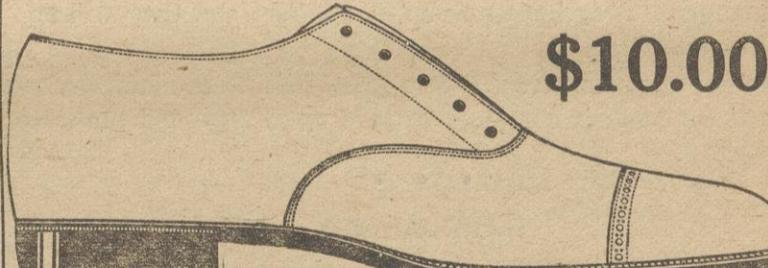

Each of the men running will go one lap around the track. A silver traveling trophy to be held by the winner for a period of one year will be awarded, and blue ribbons will be given to individual winners of heats.

AT THE ORPHEUM

Variety in the form of entertainment makes up the dandy vaudeville at present offered at the Orpheum theater. There are acts to suit all tastes, including a sparkling one act playlet "The Fall of Eve," in which Mabel Cameron, Alan Devitt and C. Carroll Clucas are featured, the last work in Jazzology, Guy Dunbar's Orchestra, with Nan Traveline, singer and George Raft dancer in a novelty, and the two Misses Howard and Sadler in song and patter win hearty applause. Butler and Parker in a comedy song and talking act called "Don't Make Me Laugh" got over big and Jim Doherty, with his excellent singing and Delmar and Kolb in a novelty turn, "One Summer Day," together with the Kinogram and Topics of the Day pictures complete the bill, which will be on view for the last three times today, matinee at 3 o'clock and evening performance at 7:15 and 9 p. m.

PAY UP

THE Union Memorial committee has been busy again sending out reminders of indebtedness to those students who are putting off their payments. The redeeming of these pledges by the students should be a matter of immediate attention. Nothing takes the snap out of a campaign like the dragging of payments.

There is plenty of work to be done in this movement aside from dunning subscribers. More money must be raised. The present student body has done its share. Serious attention should now be turned to the alumni. All that is needed is to have the matter presented to them in a systematic and impressive manner. They have never failed before and they will not fail this time.

In the meantime, it will be a great help to the entire campaign if the pledges now due are paid up at once and the slate wiped clean.

HARD-BOILED

THIS dissertation is directed against any and all persons or systems connected with the university that operate on the principle of "treat 'em rough." For want of a better name these persons or systems may be called hard-boiled. If the epithet is not poetic it is certainly adequate and expressive.

Space forbids an itemized statement. Indeed, such is unnecessary. Nine out of every ten students could compare lists which would coincide to a remarkable degree.

There are some courses in which a goodly per cent is deducted from a quiz paper if an unfortunate victim crosses a "t" or dots an "i" after the bell has sounded. There are other courses in which a student is in danger of apprehension for dishonesty if he takes his eyes off his quiz paper. If he rests his eyes too long on distant scenery an instructor may swoop down on him, scratch a failure on his paper, and haul him up for cheating.

There are some courses where the guiding spirits hold to the good old Calvinistic doctrine of predestination. A certain number of students every year have been predestined before the foundation of the world to fail the course. No saving grace can avail for them. Early in the semester the all-wise instructor surveys his little group and separates in his mind the sheep from the goats. This is one time when it is extremely uncomfortable to be the goat. Very often it does these scholastic goats no good to act like sheep by doing creditable work. They remain goats in sheep's clothing. The standard per centage of failures must be maintained.

There are other instances where courtesy is avoided as though it were an effeminate weakness. Most of the dealings must be made in fear and trembling. These dealings generally have to do with an endless round of red tape which seems to have chocked courtesy out of the tape winders.

These are but a few illustrations. To mention them ought to be enough to condemn them. Educational practice has certainly demonstrated that discipline and good work can be obtained without such foolish and exasperating methods.

Matthew Arnold's "Sweetness and Light" should be more widely read arounds these parts.

HUBER BILL ENDORSED BY STATE LABOR

Legislative Conference
Favors Unemployment Measure

PROVIDES COMPENSATION

Members in Attendance at Capitol Hearing This Afternoon

Senator Huber's unemployment prevention bill, introduced in the legislature Feb. 4, was unanimously endorsed by the Wisconsin State Federation of Labor legislative conference at Turner hall Tuesday morning after provisions of the measure had been explained by A. B. Forsberg, who assisted Prof. John R. Commons, Sen. Huber, J. J. Handley and Henry Ohm, Jr., in drafting the measure.

No session was held this afternoon to permit the delegates to attend hearings on the Huber bill, which aims to discourage spasmodic employment of workmen by a system of premium rates to be based upon the stability of employment of each establishment. Non-profit making mutual insurance companies will be the main agencies which will endeavor under the bill to prevent unemployment. The bill provides unemployment compensation at the rate of $1.50 for each working day for men and women over 18 years, but no more than 13 weeks of unemployment compensation shall be payable in any calendar year.

Hit Private Detectives.

The conference endorsed the bill to regulate private detective agencies after Joe Padway of Milwaukee had spoken in favor of the measure. He described the methods of private detectives as being most disreputable. The lowest class of thugs are the employes of the agencies, he said. They commit perjury, and provoke crime; they start riots when labor troubles are on, in order to get an excuse for calling out the militia, he declared.

The convention voted unanimously to maintain police and fire commissions as they are at present, without the increase in membership proposed in a bill submitted to the legislature.

Teachers should receive a minimum salary of $2,000 a year, said Charles Stillman of Wilmette, Ill., president of the American Federation of Teachers, in a talk before the conference Monday evening. Miss Regina E. Groves of Madison, legislative representative of the Wisconsin State Federation of Teachers, presided. While every teacher is not worth $2,000, every child is worth a $2,000 teacher, said Mr. Stillman. He emphasized the need for well qualified teachers, and representative school boards. After a teacher has proved satisfactory for three years, it should not be necessary to reelect her each year, but she should be retained permanently, he said.

Miss McMinn of the Milwaukee normal school, suggested that teachers' salaries should be based on their qualifications. Her suggestion was referred to a committee with instructions to draft a bill. L. V. Lampson, former first vice president of the national federation, attended the meeting. Miss Katherine Regan of Madison led the discussion on the teachers' pension measure.

Before the labor legislative conference at Turner hall this morning, a strong plea was made for the striking girl garment makers of Racine by William J. Sammers, and a collection to help them was taken up.

Henry Ohl, general organizer of the state federation, was elected to serve as chairman of today's session of the conference. A communication was read from the Milwaukee common council endorsing the home rule for cities amendment and legislation to permit cities to increase their debt limit, so that pub-

FACULTY COMMITTEE REPORTS ON SURVEY OF ROOMING PRICES

Average Rent is 77 Cents More a Week This Year Than Last

The average of room rents paid this year by students attending the University of Wisconsin is about $3.77 a week—about 70 cents more a week than last year—according to a survey just made by a committee of the faculty and including reports from about 2,000 students. Women students pay on the average about 60 cents more a week for their rooms than men students do.

The average weekly room rent of all women students, outside the two university dormitories, is about $4.27. For those who occupy single rooms the average is about $4.65 a week—averaging $4.64 for those living in private homes, $3.90 for those in sororities, and $6.63 for those in apartment houses. Women who live two or more in a room pay on the average about $4.16 a week—$4.16 in private homes, $4.18 in sororities, and $4.14 in apartments. The 266 women who live in the two university dormitories pay $2.72 a week for single rooms and $2.07 in double rooms.

The average room rent of men students is $3.65 a week. For those who occupy single rooms, the average is $4.31 a week as follows: $3.82 in the Y. M. C. A. dormitory, $4.04 in private houses, $4.16 in fraternities, and $6.35 in apartment houses. Among the men students in double rooms, the average is $3.46 a week, as follows: $3.18 in the Y. M. C. A., $3.35 in private houses, $3.90 in fraternities, and $3.93 in apartments.

The average room rent paid by all men students last year was $3.05 a week.

"The fact which stands out most strikingly is the cheapness of dormitory lodgings as compared with those of private homes, fraternities, or apartments," the report declares. It urges the erection of university dormitories for men and more dormitories for women as the best check upon the rise in room rents that is accompanying the increased enrollment at the university.

WOMAN TO ADDRESS VOCATIONAL MEET

The second and most important part of the Women's Vocational conference will be held on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week, Feb. 24-26. Round table discussions will be held in conjunction with the regular speeches.

A talk by Miss Florence Marshall, of the Manhattan Trade school for Girls, at 4:30 on Thursday afternoon in Lathrop concert room, will open the conference. Miss Helen Bennett, director of the Collegiate Placement bureau, will be the other speaker, on Friday at the same time and place.

Round Tables, conducted by graduate students and other persons who have had experience in different vocations, will be held on Friday afternoon and Saturday morning, with discussions of any subjects presented.

GILMAN SPEAKS AT FELLOWSHIP MEET

Prof. S. W. Gilman is to be the speaker at the re-opening of the weekly Fellowship meetings for the second semester in the university "Y" tomorrow evening. His talk will deal with "University Ideals" as he recognizes them.

The Fellowship meetings, which are for the purpose of affording men students a chance to listen once a week to an informal talk and to meet other men, are to be continued this semester, and a special effort is being made to provide good speakers and entertainment.

The time of the meetings has been changed. They are to start at 7:15, and will last one hour.

EVERYONE SHOULD HAVE CHANCE TO ATTEND COLLEGE — PROF. GILMAN

Delivers Address Before Wisconsin Alumni at Founder's Day Banquet

"The governments, state and national, should make it possible for every boy and girl to secure a university education at the expense of the state or nation, or both," declared Stephen W. Gilman, professor of commercial law in the University of Wisconsin in an interview at the annual Founders' Day banquet in the Hotel Sherman Saturday afternoon.

"The large attendance at every educational institution since the armistice was signed, indicates that young men and young women will gladly accept higher education if they can conveniently get the money to finance that venture," he said. "National vocational education for ex-service men, and our own state soldiers' bonus, has caused between 700 and 1,000 to attend the University of Wisconsin this year. The more general desire for university education has stimulated an ever greater number to come who thought formerly that they could get along without it."

Professor Gilman pointed out that the national government found it possible to finance the education of the nation's embryo army and navy officers.

"If such is possible, how much more important is it to finance educations of the vastly more important body of individuals—those who produce all the crops, ore, and lumber," he said.

Not only would the government do well to finance the individual students, who continue to make passing grades; but adequate buildings, supplies, and faculties should be maintained to accommodate the increasing numbers conveniently, Professor Gilman stated.

The Rt. Rev. Samuel Fallows, of the class of '59, told the assembled alumni and alumnae of the virtues of Abraham Lincoln.

Edwin C. Austin '12, in his remarks to the audience, said: "Universities are divided into three classes—those who have no women students, and want them; those having co-eds, and not wanting them; and those having them and wanting them.

"Wisconsin university has them and wants them," he declared. "Our women are both ornamental and useful. They adopt a policy of cooperation, rather than interference, with the men's activities."

Robert S. Crawford '03, secretary of the general alumni association, urged all present to return to the University of Wisconsin at each commencement, if possible, to feel the school spirit and to demonstrate their loyalty to the school.

At the speakers' table also were Israel Shrimsky '88, president of general alumni association; Alice Bemis '18, treasurer of Chicago alumnae, and Miss E. Shepherd, president of the Chicago alumnae.

WIMMING SQUAD TO LOSE SIX MEN

Illinois, led by Captain Dennett, will send a strong team to Wisconsin. Dvorak, a diver, McNally, who is especially strong in the sprints, and Dennett, 150-yard, and 220-yard swimmer, are the stars upon whom the Illinois coach is pinning his faith to defeat the Badger squad. Although the Suckers have not yet engaged in a conference dual meet, they have gone through the preliminary swimming season with a clean record, and are conceded a likely chance of finishing high up in the conference swimming meet to be held at the end of the indoor season.

A special event for all high school and town youths not over 16 years of age has been added to the program by Coach Steinauer to settle a friendly controversy as to who is the best youthful swimmer in Madison. This event will be held between the halves of the water basketball game.

Roxana Club to Entertain Veterans

Ex-service men who are patients at the tuberculosis sanatorium will be the guests of the Roxana club this evening. A supper has been arranged at 6 in the city Y. M. C. ## THE SEA PREDOMINATES

Woodbury Collection at Library Museum Contains Oils, Water Colors, and Etchings Which Catch Life and Motion of the Water.

Quite different from the calm waters of the Hartman paintings which formed the last exhibit at the Library museum, are the turbulent waves of the present collection, by Charles Herbert Woodbury. His favorite subject is the sea, and it is treated in oils, water colors, and etchings.

The painter, Mr. Woodbury, was born at Lynn, Mass., in 1864. He studied art at the Julien Academic at Paris. He has taken several medals and is represented widely in collections. He is the president of the Boston Water-color Club and a member of the Boston Art Guild.

Three-fourths of the paintings have the sea as their subject. Woodbury's greatest merit is in his treatment of waves. Very brilliant coloring is used, and the life, motion, and feeling of water is strongly brought out. The brush work is vigorous, the strokes long and rather splashy.

The composition is in most cases extremely simple. There are only a few landscapes, but these are very well done, although they lack the individuality of the sea pictures.

The same subjects are treated charmingly in the etchings. These seem really the best part of the exhibit. The lines are marvellously etched, every line being necessary to the picture, and drawn in the most telling manner. There is more contrast in values in the etchings than there is in the paintings, and the composition is generally more subtle. Most of these pictures are of the sea and the seashore, but there are two with very good trees in them.

In the same group with the etchings are a few pencil drawings. Most remarkable here are two portraits, the only ones in the collections. All the drawings are characteristic by simplicity and strength.

AT THE STRAND

The loyalty and love of the women of the South during the American Civil War is admirably depicted in a new striking Paramount picturization of William Gillette's play, "Held by the Enemy," which will be shown at the Strand Theater for four days commencing today.

The locale of the story is a Southern town newly captured by Northern troops. A young widow, who believes that her husband has been slain in battle, falls in love with a young Northern Colonel, who protects her from the looters. She is about to accept his proposal of marriage, when her husband, appears on spy duty. He is arrested by the Colonel, and throughout the remainder of the story, the dutiful little wife makes many sacrifices in her attempts to save her husband from death. The culminating situation is one of the most dramatic ever presented on the silversheet.

The roles are enacted by an all-star cast, including Agnes Ayres, Wanda Hawley, Lewis Stone, Jack Holt and Walter Hiers.

A comedy cartoon and a Paramount Magazine will be the added attractions.

FIVE JUNIOR COLLEGES ARE IN NYE PLAN

Would Offer Equivalent of First Two Years at the University

By FRED L. HOLMES

Five junior colleges will be established if the bill offered by Sen. Ray J. Nye in the upper house on Tuesday is enacted into law. It is said here that should the bill be adopted two cities in the state, Superior and Racine may avail themselves of the portions of the law and establish such colleges.

A Junior college is defined as an institution that offers the equivalent of the first two years of the academic departments of the college of letters and science at the university and such other courses as may be approved by the state board of education.

The Supervision of the junior colleges shall be under the state board of education. Before any of these colleges are entitled to state aid the board of trustees of junior colleges shall prepare planks, outline the courses of study, the equipment, the housing and the method of financing of junior colleges. An advisory committee on junior colleges shall be organized consisting of the president of the university, the secretary of the state board of education, and the head of a junior college as soon as one is organized. The state board of education may refer to the advisory committee on junior colleges any question of policy regarding junior colleges within its jurisdiction for investigation, report or on recommendation or other appropriate action.

The board of education of any city shall constitute the board of trustees of any junior college that may be established in such city, unless by unanimous vote the city council creates a separate body of education with the same term of office.

The board of trustees shall have charge of the administration of such college, shall have power to charge a tuition fee not to exceed one dollar per week during the college year for Wisconsin students attending such college who are not residents of the city maintaining the junior college to accept any gift, grant or bequest, and to grant diplomas upon comple-

NEW PAYMENTS DUE ON MEMORIAL FUND

The Memorial Union building committee urges all student and faculty subscribers to give prompt attention to notices calling attention to payments due for the February 15 quarter.

Although the notices ask that payments be sent directly to the committee's treasurer, H. O. Seymour, First Wisconsin National bank, Milwaukee, payments can also be made in person at the committee's office, second floor Alumni building, 821 State street.

The collection of outstanding subscriptions, now totaling $285,000, was started November 15. The payments now being received are for the second quarter.

The committee reports that active campaigns are now being conducted among the alumni in Chicago, New York, and Madison.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 40 at 2 p. m. and the lowest was 28 at 1 a. m. Sun sets at 5:29.

Southerly winds and much warmer weather precedes a deep barometric depression that is crossing the Rocky mountains. The temperature rose to 70 and chinook winds prevail along the front of the Rocky mountains. Rain, snow and much colder weather follow this disturbance in the plateau regions. Heavy snow fell in the Saskatchewan valley and the temperature fell to zero there this morning.

tion of prescribed and authorized courses.

The state aid shall be distributed by a state board of education for the three-fourths of the teachers' salaries in junior colleges, provided such institutions are operated in a manner satisfactory to the state board of education.

No aid shall be distributed unless the courses of study in each such college, the qualifications of the teachers, and the housing of the junior college shall be approved by the state board of education at the beginning of each academic year. There is appropriated annually beginning July 1, 1921, the sum of $5,000 to carry out the provisions of the junior college act.

To meet the expense which the city must bear in the furnishing of buildings and equipment a city is allowed to levy not to exceed one-half of one mill on the assessed valuation of such city for the maintenance of such school annually.

The bill has already attracted wide attention in the legislature. Sen. Nye, the author of the proposal is the father of the soldiers' educational bonus law.

HAS MEASURE TO AID THE WIS. SCHOOLS

Senator Staudenmayer Introduces Bill for Permanent Fund

M A R K S B I G C H A N G E

Inheritance Taxes Would be Used to Build Up Educational Fund

BY FRED L. HOLMES.

A measure to aid the school system by providing for an establishment of a permanent fund, the income of which is to be used to support the common schools, the normal schools and the university is provided in a bill which was offered in the upper house Tuesday by Senator George Staudenmayer of Portage. The bill is a new departure and is deemed to secure for the common schools of the state a permanent, dependable fund from which a certain amount of income will be derived each year.

This educational tax bill provides for an amount to be appropriated under the tax laws of the state. The bill declared that a part of the inheritance taxes paid into the state treasury on and after the beginning of the fiscal year beginning July 1, 1922, shall be put into a special fund, the income of which is to be used for educational purposes.

Under the present law, inheritance taxes when collected are turned into the general fund for the support of general state activities. Under the bill offered by Senator Staudenmayer, 30 per cent of the amount of money collected from inheritance taxes shall be credited to the general fund. The 70 per cent balance, which is collected "shall constitute a permanent fund for the use and benefit of the common schools, the normal schools, and the university, and the income thereof shall be distributed as follows: to the common schools, 40 per cent of the total amount collected; to the normal school fund 15 per cent of the amount collected, and to the university fund 15 per cent of the amount collected."

This bill marks an important change in the educational and taxation policy of Wisconsin. Senator Staudenmayer believes that ultimately all inheritance taxes collected should be used for educational purposes. Because the plan is just in its inception, it has been decided to still retain 30 per cent of the amount collected for the general fund. Other state universities have been supported from the incomes derived from the sale of their lands and minerals. Wisconsin's lands were sold at such a low price and were so dissipated that there is practically no fund. The Staudenmayer idea of now establishing a permanent fund from inheritance taxes will probably lead to the upbuilding of a fund which at some future time will make it possible to support many of the educational institutions of this state from a fund, which like other states, will support the educational institutions without direct appropriation from the legislature.

"By the establishment of a permanent educational fund, the educational institutions would be assured support without attacks from a hostile legislature or men hostile to educational interests," said Senator Staudenmayer. "I believe Wisconsin will take a step forward when it establishes a permanent educational fund in Wisconsin. For years the common schools of this state have been neglected. These schools have been ignored. With the exception of a small school land fund, this is the first time that an effort has been made to establish some permanent fund under which the common schools of Wisconsin will be assured a support."

Senator Staudenmayer introduced a bill in the senate this morning permitting the conservation commission to sell timber and rock from state parks.

CHESTERTON HERE ON INITIAL VISIT

Gilbert K. Chesterton, renowned English essayist, philosopher, dramatist, poet, and novelist, now making his initial visit to America, will speak in Madison at the Madison High school auditorium on Wednesday, March 9. His subject, "The Ignorance of the Educated," is of pointed interest to Madison audiences and will allow a broad scope for his remarkable qualities as a profound thinker and unequalled humorist.

Mr. Chesterton is coming to Madison under the direction of the Wisconsin Literary magazine, at the instigation of Paul Gangelin, editor. Seats at the high school will be sold through the Bursar's office and the Wisconsin Literary magazine.

Mr. Chesterton is booked to lecture in this country under the management of Lee Keedie of New York. He is now in that city, but is engaged to speak at Chicago and Duluth at the time of his visit to Madison.
