The libraries provide public access to a wide range of material, including online exhibits, digitized collections, archival finding aids, our catalog, online articles, and a growing range of materials in many media.

When possible, we provide rights information in catalog records, finding aids, and other metadata that accompanies collections or items. However, it is always the user's obligation to evaluate copyright and rights issues in light of their own use.

Two Men Travelling

One time there were two men and they both had travelled a lot. One time it happened that they met up and got to talking a little while they were walking along the road. One of them asked the other, “What’s the most amazing thing you’ve seen in your travels?”

“I don’t know, maybe this huge cabbage I saw standing out in a field. This cabbage cast a shadow it was so outstanding in its size and fifty cows were there in the shade. And you? What was the most amazing thing you’ve seen?”

“I saw far away these workers and I asked them what they were doing. One man said, ‘We are making a kettle.’

‘What are you going to do with that kettle?’

It seems like it would cover about an acre of land for sure, it was such a big kettle. ‘Whatever are you going to cook?’

Lahkot said in response, ‘We’re going to use to boil that big cabbage you saw.’”
