Putting Williams Bay Dollars To Work

Now is the time to take a look over our property and find out what needs to be done to keep it in the best of condition. The rains of the last week may have found some spots in the roof that need repairing, the screens may show rusty places, the paint may look drab, the walls may need touching up with paint or some bright wallpaper.

Our Village has an unusually large number of expert trades-men both for building, decorating and landscaping.

Possibly the purse will not allow you to do all that you would like to have done, but some things cannot wait without serious harm to your property.

Why not get things done this month and help to get prosperity started right away here at home?

Our School

The school year is rapidly coming to the close for another year. It has been a good year for the pupils. In many parts of our country boys and girls have been dismissed from schools either for long vacations or in some cases have had no classes at all because of the lack of money. Here it has been different. Our school board has carefully managed the funds entrusted to it and so wisely budgeted its expenditures that the education of our boys and girls has gone on without interruption.

The standards set by the school board in the selection of the faculty are recognized by all of the higher educational systems of not only this state but of national institutions. A rating of A-1 by the State Superintendent of Instruction makes it easy for the graduates to enter colleges without examinations.

During the next two weeks there will be many school activities for the public to attend which come as a climax to the good educational work of the year. It will give us an opportunity to show our appreciation of our school.

Williams Bay Day

Last year as a part of our civic affairs we set apart a day for getting together as families and friends. The stores closed and all business was suspended for the afternoon. We had such a good time that it was decided to make it an annual affair.

As before the initiative for the occasion comes from the Men's Community Club. The Committee in charge have the plans all outlined and we may expect a big day.

Remember the date is June 5. It comes just before school is out. Make it fit into your plans. Tell all of the old timers about it when you meet them or write so it will really amount to a "home-coming".

"Williams Bay"

The Yerkes Observatory Staff is co-operating with the people of the Village in getting newspapers and publishers to give Williams Bay as the location of the Observatory. In the past, Lake Geneva has had the credit for its location. If the beautiful lake on which it is located is mentioned, the designation should be Geneva Lake. In printed matter it should appear as Williams Bay on Geneva Lake. Lake Geneva is then left for the city at the east end of the Lake.

A Century of Progress

A very interesting cartoon in the Chicago Tribune on Monday gave cause for thought. It pictured Uncle Sam on the upward climb very intent on going on up but getting weary and then stopping to look back and see how much had really been travelled. It gave new incentive to go on.

The Great Chalice of Antioch which will be on display at the Fair is believed to have been connected with the Lord's Supper. It will be in the Hall of Religion and is insured for $300,000.

On last Saturday Mrs. Rufus C. Dawes poured a libation of milk on the ground as a part of the ceremony in dedicating Enchanted Island, thus opening the most perfect fairyland for children. Grown folks are to be kept off as much as possible.

Crown Prince Olav and Princess Martha of Norway expect to visit the exposition in August in response to invitations of the Scandinavians of the midwestern states.

The Fastest train in the World is on the way to the Exposition. It is called the Royal Scot of the London, Midland and Scottish railway.

King Gustav V. of Sweden will send his nephew, Count Folke Bernadotte, as his personal representative for Swedish American Day at the Fair on June 19th.

30,000 visitors were at the Fair on Sunday. On last Tuesday the grounds were closed to visitors until the Opening as they interfere with the work of getting things ready. The busses will still make the trips.

The fair exhibits will range from a drop of water to a diamond mine, a country side and a chunk of a mountain

Cats and Birds

Some of our bird lovers are quite disturbed at the large number of stray cats in the Village. Most of the family pets are watched carefully by the owners so that they do not bother the birds so much.

It has been suggested that bells be put on the cats in order to warn the birds.

The Village has a large bird population and every effort should be made to encourage the birds to stay with us.

Dr. Frost gave a talk to the school children recently on our feathered friends.

Caryl Ripley has submitted a list of the birds we can watch out for as we take our strolls.

Birds commonly seen around the yard: Robin, Bluebird, Baltimore Oriole, Rose-breasted Grosbeak, Blue Jay, Bronze Grackle, Phoebe, King Bird, Eastern Meadowlark, Yellow Warbler, Martin, Flicker, Catbird, Mourning Dove, Hummingbird, Chipping Sparrow, Song Sparrow, Scarlet Tanager, House Wren, Chimney Swift.

Other birds that you may see in your strolls through woods or fields: Wood Thrush, Orchard Oriole, Bob-c-link, Red-winged Blackbird, Cowbird, Great-crowned Flycatcher, Western Meadowlark, Ovenbird, Maryland Yellow Throat, Barn Swallow, Bank Swallow, Red-headed Woodpecker, Hairy Woodpecker, Whip-poor-will, Brown Thrasher, Indigo-bird, Chewink, Cuckoo, Red-eyed Vireo, Yellow-throated Vireo, Warbling Vireo, Dickcissel, Killdare, Kingfisher, Nuthatch, Field Sparrow, Savanna Sparrow, Vesper Sparrow, Grasshopper Sparrow and Swamp Sparrow.

Mrs. Ed. Hollister is raising three little robins whose mother was killed by a cat.

Arcturus and the Century of Progress

On the evening of May 27th the 40-inch telescope of the Yerkes Observatory will be pointed towards the bright star in the eastern part of the sky named Arcturus in the constellation of Bootes. The feeble rays of light from this star will fall on the objective and will be collected at a point called the focus, at the lower end of the big tube, 62 feet away. A delicate instrument, the photo-electric cell, will be attached at the focus, so that the light will fall upon its sensitive surface made of potassium. It is one of the properties of potassium that it converts light into electric current and consequently in our experiment on the twenty seventh of May the light from Arcturus will be converted into electricity. This method has been known for some time and has been used for scientific research. However, this will be the first time that electric energy generated by a star will be put to use for practical purposes. The current is, indeed, very small, being only about a millionth of a millionth of the size of the current flowing through an ordinary electric light. The problem is to build a harness for this tiny current so that we can put it to work. The apparatus will be similar to a radio receiving set which takes the feeble electric current from the antenna and amplifies it until it is sufficient to operate the loud speaker. Especially constructed detecting and amplifying tubes from the General Electric Co. are employed and the output from this amplifier will be transmitted over the Western Union telegraph lines to A Century of Progress Grounds in Chicago where it will operate the switch turning on the great light in the Hall of Science. While the practical value of this experiment is not great, it demonstrates vividly that our earth is receiving vast amounts of energy from the sun and from the stars. The impulse of light which will be used by us corresponds to the area of the telescope objective. Every square inch of the surface of the earth receives the same amount of light from Arcturus and if all of it could be converted into mechanical energy the result would indeed be enormous. The total amount of heat derived from Arcturus is equal to that received from a single candle at a distance of 5 miles. In reality Arcturus is one hundred times as bright as the sun, but its great distance makes it appear much fainter.

Arcturus is the fourth brightest star in the northern hemisphere. Light travels 40 years between the star and the earth. Consequently, the beam of light which will be utilized to light the Century of Progress will have left the star at the time of the Columbian Exposition in 1893.

The idea of lighting the Fair in this manner was suggested by the retired director of the Yerkes Observatory, Dr. Edwin B. Frost, and in recognition of this fact he has been invited to make a brief address just prior to the flashing on of the signal. The telescope will be operated by Dr. C. T. Elvey on May 27th. In case of cloudy weather, several other observatories have been invited to keep their telescopes in readiness, so that they may substitute for the Yerkes Observatory refractor.

Garden Club

The Annual meeting of the Williams Bay Garden Club was held Tuesday, May 16th. Officers chosen for next year are: Pres., Mrs. Georges Van Biesbroeck; Vice-Pres., Mrs. H. A. Bradt; Sec'y & Treas., Mrs. Victor Hansen. Directors are Mmes. Rasmussen, Van Epps, Moffett, Blakslee and McDonnell. Publicity Secretary, Miss Ethel Gray.

A report of the year's work on projects sponsored by the Club was read by the retiring secretary, Mrs. Van Epps. The members voted to continue the project of planting more trees in the Village and finish the planting around the Water Works Station.

It was voted to hold the annual Flower Show on June 30th, with Mrs. Alfred Johnson, Chairman. Committee, Mmes. Bjorge, Blakslee, Bradt, McDonnell, Van Biesbroeck. Refreshment Committee Chairman, Mrs. V. Hansen.

A benefit party will be held later in the Season, the Executive Committee and Directors to act as Committee for same.

The Club will visit Hill Nurseries at Dundee, Ill. on Thursday the 18th.

Woman's Club

The Williams Bay Woman's Club which was organized in September, 1933, is a member of the National Federation of Women's Clubs. It devotes its programs to a study of literature, novels, plays and biographies.

The officers are: Pres., Mrs. Howard Eotton; Vice-Pres., Mrs. Arvid Thompson; Treas., Mrs. Herbert McConnell.

The final meeting of the season will be held this Friday at the home of Mrs. E.J. Jehn. Mrs. H.A. Bradt will review "Back Yonder" by Wayman Hogue. Election of officers for next year will take place also.

PETER OLAF PETERSON

The whole Village was shocked by the news that one of its oldest residents has passed away last Friday from a sudden heart attack. Many began to recall having talked with him just a few moments or hours before and could not realize that it could be, as he had seemed to be as well as usual.

Peter Olaf Peterson came to Williams Bay thirty seven years ago with his family. He has always done his part in church and civic affairs and will be greatly missed. That he had a host of friends is in evidence from the large attendance at the funeral service on Monday afternoon at the Gospel Tabernacle.

His old-time friends, Alfred Pihl, John E. and Charles Anderson, Eric Anderson, Aaron Redin, Chas. Hansen carried him to his last resting place in East Delavan Cemetery.

At the funeral service at the church, Rev. C.T. Dyrness of the Salem Church, Chicago, gave the message, and Rev. Harja of Milwaukee, Rev. Rom from Madison and the student pastor, Mr. Clark assisted in the service. Miss Fanger of Chicago and Miss Camilla Dyrness sang three three of the songs Mr. Peterson had loved.

The many flowers were also evidences of many friends.

Besides the widow, Mrs. Bertina Peterson, her son, M. T. Peterson and family, Peter Peterson and family of Lake Geneva, a daughter, Mrs. Rebecca Hepler and baby of Durham, N. H. and another son, Otto N. Peterson and wife from Flint, Michigan were in attendance.

Many relatives and friends from other cities were at the service, among whom were Adolph Thompson, Eric Thompson and daughter of Rolfe, Iowa, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thompson, Park Ridge, Ill. From Madison where Mr. Peterson lived several years, came Rev. and Mrs. Rom, Mrs. Ericson, Mrs. T. Olson and A. L. Lerwick. Chicago was represented by Peter Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Gunard Hanson, Mrs. Hilda Hanson, Mr. and Mrs. Falkenberg, Mr. Jerva, Mr. Lynn and Carl Gunderson. Seven grandchildren were here from Dalton, Wisconsin. From Troy Center came Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Dingman, Mrs. A. H. Ashley and Mrs. Milo Katzman. Delavan relatives and friends were Mrs. C. N. Babcock, Mrs. Clarence Rayn, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lerwick, and Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lerwick. Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hanson of Milwaukee were also present.

Mr. Peterson was born in Bremness, Norway on April 17, 1858 and came to America forty seven years ago, landing in Philadelphia. After a year or so in Leland, Ill. the family moved to Chicago, near Pulmann Plant, where he worked for several years. The building of Yerkes Observatory brought him here. John E. Anderson, Alfred Pihl, Peter Stenstrom and he worked on the trim at the Observatory.

Mr. Peterson built the log cabin you can see on a walk along the shore to Fontana. It is true Norwegian style.

He gave employment to Steve Tlusty who lives now just east of the Village, who was the forerunner of our excellent Bohemian population.

It will be remembered that Mr. and Mrs. Peterson celebrated their Fiftieth Wedding Anniversary two years ago.

Peter Stenstrom remembers well when Peter O. Peterson and family came to Williams Bay. A family of several children coming to live in the small community caused quite a lot of excitement. Their first home was on what is now the Harris farm north of the depot. Mr. Peterson built the house which Lawrench Hollister now owns and lived there for several years.

Mr. Stenstrom has the distinction of being in Williams Bay the longest time of any one living here now. He came from Carsta, Sweden in 1887 to join two sisters Mrs. Andrew Linn, East Delavan, and Mrs. Olaf Sorenson, who lived in a log cabin at the junction of Rt. 36 and Rt. 50 east of the Village.

At first he worked on a farm near Elkhorn, but was hired to work on the road bed of the railroad that was being extended from Lake Geneva to the Bay in 1888. He worked on the Yerkes Observatory during its construction.

J. W. Myers who lives in the cottage on Elm Street stayed over for Mr. Peterson's funeral. His wife and daughter and family were out Saturday and Sunday. Mr. Myers has known Mr. Peterson for forty years. They were neighbors in Roseland, a suburb of Chicago, when Mr. Peterson worked for Pullman Company

Mr. Eric Anderson who has been living in the Peterson home since he sold the Ferndale to the Ridells was here before the Petersons. He pays tribute to Mr. Peterson's deep religious life. Grace at the table and Bible reading and prayers were never omitted in the daily program.

C. J. Balfe recalls what he considers one of the best series of Evangelistic services he ever held was in Madison at Bethesda Church which Mr. Peterson arranged when he lived there.

The W. S. Darley family were out looking over their home in Cedar Point Park. They will soon be out for the summer.

Birdie Anderson, who graduated from the Augustana Hospital, has been called to Chicago on a case.

Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Grimm and Clerus spent Sunday with the J. W.
Miller family at Dundee.

Rev. Victor H. Keiser was a delegate to the Third Continental Congress for Economic Reconstruction. Over four thousand delegates were there from 45 states. They represented political groups, labor union groups, unemployed groups and certain educational associations.
The purpose of the Congress was to organize the liberty loving people of the country in an effort to put into practice the principles proclaimed by the Declaration of Independence adopted by our Revolutionary forefathers.

The Congress was in session two days and in that time worked out a program which will unite farmers and city workers in a great drive to secure for themselves their rights as laid down in the Constitution—"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

Mr. Keiser will give a complete report of the Congress at a special meeting at the Congregational Church next Sunday evening at 7:30, and everyone interested in such matters are sure of an interesting evening.

Mrs. May Peck visited her brother, E. A. Tompkins in Chicago over Sunday.

Sunday the Edward Zabler family attended a family party in honor of Mrs. Zabler's mother, Mrs.
Wm. Haas, at the home of Fred Yanke near Honey Creek. About 50 were in attendance.

The Zablers also visited Mr.
Zabler's mother at Spring Prairie.

Oak Woods Estates

Oakwoods Estates Association held its Annual Meeting last Saturday night at the home of Olaf Olsen. Eighteen members were present and the officers were re-elected. They are: Pres., Olaf Olsen; Secretary, Florence Twitchell; Treasurer, D.J. Oetjen.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Rice and two children are at their cottage.

The Hope family have opened their cottage and will be here most of the time now.

F. P. Fogel and family are at their cottage, "Fair Oaks".

Mrs. Pullman and daughter spent Sunday at their cottage.

---

"Amos" has rented the L. B. Hamlin, Jr., home in Williams Bay for the summer. We have not heard where "Andy" will make his home. As Amos has to be in Chicago for the broadcast five nights each week his Fresh Air Taxi will have to work overtime. "Amos" will be known around here as Freeman Gosden.

Edward Hermanson has re-opened the bakery and has Frank Streich back again to help do the baking. Mr. Streich has been associated with many well-known bakeries in Chicago and other cities, the best known being Henrici's, famous for its pastry.

Their bread is so appreciated by their customers that they take several loaves home when leaving here. The sweet rye is especially relished by Summer customers. White Whole Wheat, Graham, Rye, Poppy seed and Vienna Breads are baked daily.

They are ready to take orders for Birthday and Party Cakes.

The Williams House, begun by Capt. Ezra Williams--the first white settler here. This house, with its hand-hewn timbers of oak and black walnut, was the first frame house in the Geneva Lake region.

It was long known as the Buck-horn Tavern, from the deer antler above the door.

The sketch was made by Wm. Mereness.

The Tuesday Evening Study Club held its last regular meeting of the year at the Granzow home with Miss Tappan and Miss Hussa acting as hostesses.

After a short business meeting, a musical program was rendered by Miss Bergman, Micheline and Miss Van Biesbroeck, Mrs. Sorenson, Valory Zabler, Miss Hussa, Mrs. Fucik and Mrs. Steele.

Refreshments were enjoyed by all.

There will be one more meeting of the Club this year, but it will be in the form of a Picnic to which about twenty-five guests will be invited.

Mr. F. H. Tweed has opened his "Emaline Cottage" in Lock Vista for the summer.

Mr. & Mrs. Oscar Stenstrom spent Sunday at Forest Park, Ill., with Mrs. Stenstrom's mother, Mrs. Smith.

The Milk Strike

The milk strike in Wisconsin at the present time seems to be either over or postponed except in a limited area. The farmers have lately been greatly burdened by taxes and mortgages on their land, and slowly their income has become smaller or a greater share of their returns has been absorbed by the merchant or middle-man. The result of these conditions makes it impossible for the farmer to pay his taxes or his mortgage, and therefore he is striking for a higher return on his produce. The strike leaders have tried to organize the farmers to prevent the sale and distribution of milk. But, it does seem as though there could be a different way to demand higher prices than by throwing their products away without any payment for them whatsoever, when there are so many who need the things which they alone can give.

It would have been a perfect setting for a milk strike if all concerned had refused to deliver milk and had gone home to wait until the public demanded milk and then had set their own price. If the farmers wish a strike to succeed, they must have it well organized. It is quite obvious that it was not organized May 13th or there would have been some results by now.

Rev. Victor H. Keiser attended the Annual Meeting of the Pelet Association of Congregational Churches at Broadhead Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hopper of Crystal Lake spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. & Mrs. Edwin Holm.

Richard Blackburn of Chicago was a visitor in the Piehl home over The Week End.

Mr. William Rockefeller and wife, together with their friends, Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Eidmann of Chicago, were guests of his mother Mrs. Louise Rockefeller on Mother's Day.

Ray Nicholas and wife of Princeville, Illinois, brought his mother home from a visit at his home. They arrived on Mother's Day.

Perry Nicholas who has been on the coast studying aviation is on his way home, but is taking in some of the sights on the way and will pay a visit to Mrs. Newcomb at Seattle, Washington.

Pathe News spent yesterday at the Observatory, taking pictures of the Observatory and other interesting sights. You will be seeing them at the Movies in a few days.

Dr. Struve and Dr. Elvey were honor guests at the Kiwanis Luncheon at Rose Lane Monday. At the Observatory later the Kiwanians were treated to a lecture by their guests.

Mrs. Elmer Farr and her mother, Mrs. Wahlgren of Chicago were guests at the Van Epps home Sunday.

Besides Peter Stenstrom and Eric Anderson, O. P. Southwick, who has a store here, remembers that the following who now live here were living in Williams Bay when the Petersons came here: Carl Siems, John Glauder, R. H. Kenyon, Caleb Slocum, Will and Ren Lackey, Wm. H. Southwick, John Anderson, Mrs. Sawyer and Mrs. Walter Jowell (Laura Johnson). If others were here the names will appear in the next issue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Bjorge and son spent the week end at Fond Du Lac with her sister, Mrs. Richard Larke.

Maybelle Stoddard who has been in Chicago visiting her sister, Mrs. Marshall Douglas, for several weeks returned Saturday.

George Proctor not only makes good do-nuts which a lot of us have had for breakfast this Winter, but he keeps careful records of all sales. He mentioned to the editor that he had made 1174 dozen do-nuts since October 1st. Being somewhat of a mathematician myself, I figured out that if all those do-nuts paraded down Geneva Street in a single column, rim touching rim, the column would extend from Parkhurst Place to the Post Office.

Speaking about things counting up, did you ever think of the enormous loss in milk bottles every year? Stanley Johnson says that 9,000 of his bottles were broken or missing at the end of the season of 1931.

Looks as if we might help a lot in the cost of our daily milk if we took more care to return bottles to our friends who every day, rain or shine, leave us our milk and cream.

It will pay you to visit our local Green house from week to week to see what a little sunshine through a glass roof is doing to furnish us with our flowers and vegetables. Visitors are always welcome. Better take along a little change, for you cannot resist buying something to beautify your home or garden.

RECIPE FOR THE WEEK

Hungarian Goulash
(By Mrs. C. Ridell of Clarendell Hotel)

2# Round Steak      2 Tbsp. Paprika
 $\frac{1}{4}$ # Pork, cut in sqs.
1# Onions               $\frac{1}{2}$  Tsp. Salt

Brown onions first, then add the meat and brown both; then add other ingredients and let simmer for two hours. Water may be added sparingly as needed.

Serve with rice, noodles or dumplings.

Williams Bay Anglers' Club

It's O.K., fishermen! We get all our bass back next fall, plus a large number of healthy fingerlings; in fact, a much larger number than the bass would produce if left here to spawn and raise the young. This is undoubtedly due to the fact that the young, when hatched in the hatchery, are free from the natural dangers of a lake---mainly, being eaten by larger fish.

It might be interesting to know how the young bass are fed in a hatchery. Well, it's quite simple. When the fry start feeding, the attendant at the hatchery puts a shovel full of rotten cow manure in the rearing pond. From this there come a great many small bugs---great feed for small fish. Now, this doesn't mean that any of you people are going to help our lake by throwing rotten manure into it; but it will do business in a hatchery where more natural food is not obtainable.

Art Anderson, Walter Beauvais, Dr. Sanders and Chuck Edwards went up to Wolf River to fish for white bass. It was reported that they got the limit.

The County Surveyor is in the Village today establishing grades for sidewalks on upper Geneva street. The Village is going to level down the grade to make it possible for property owners to put in sidewalks. This was considered necessary by the Village Board as so many school children had to use the concrete pavement. This was recommended by the Garden Club representative on the Century of Progress Committee.
