CIRCUS SHOWS CLEOPATRA IN HUGE PAGEANT

Empress of the Nile' Scene Opening Breath-taker Under 'Big Top'

Imagine walking into an ordinary circus tent fully expectant of seeing an array of horses, elephants, clowns, and many other flaringly decorated specimens, and have something wholly unexpectant change everything, even the contours of the tent.

Fifteen minutes, crowded with all the gorgeousness and splendor of the Orient will crown the opening of Wisconsin's greatest circus. From the moment Cleopatra enters in all her beauty, in a costume symbolical of the Nile, a long train slithering down from the top of her head-dress, the audience will be held spell-bound.

Hundreds in Pageant

Julia Hanks will portray Cleopatra, the Empress of the Nile. Catherine Meyers and Esther Guerini will take the parts of Charmain and Iris, her handmaidens. Ralph Schainpflug, the ill-fated "New Anthony," will be splendid in truly Roman fashion. Stanley McCandless as Enobacbus, Anthony's chief friend and counselor, tries to save him from the wiles of the lovely queen, but it is left to the audience to judge how unsuccessful he is.

The pageant is being given by the three dramatic clubs, Twelfth Night, Edwin Booth, Red Domino, with W. A. A. Louise Sammons is in charge of the costumes. Accompanying the lovely Cleopatra will be 20 attractive oriental dancers, a dozen slaves, 12 eunuchs, and many Roman soldiers. Frances Ellen Tucker is coaching the 100 participants.

Judges Are Named

The judges will be Charles Golmar, of the Golmar Brothers circus; J. Kohler, general chairman of the Memorial drive; Major Wood, and S. L. Miller of the economics department. Mr. Ringling is at present in New York, where Ringling Brothers' show is now playing, and does not expect to reach Madison in time for the big show.

Open sale of tickets starts this noon at the gym office. All mail order seats will be returned this morning.

All men who are to be clowns in the circus are asked to report to the Union building today at 1 o'clock.

BLUE DRAGON PLANS PICNIC FOR SENIORS

Blue Dragon is planning a picnic for all senior women Thursday, May 27. Groups will leave Lathrop hall at 4:30 and 5:30 for Picnic point, where a supper will be served.

Those wishing to go may sign up with the senior appointed to take names in their house, or under the poster in Lathrop or Main hall. Names must be in before Wednesday, May 26. The price will be 35 cents, to be paid when signing up.

FRATERNITY NINES PLAY FOUR GAMES

D. U. 11, Delta Tau Delta 9.

VEILS

They Entice Young Sleuth to View an Unveiling—
A Nickel Bought Him

By A. RUBE SLEUTH

Court was held in the office of the dean of women late yesterday afternoon and three of the Octopus staff were found guilty of misrepresenting the co-eds of the university.

Just what it was all about could not be found out from any of those concerned, but we noticed three co-eds emerge from the afore-mentioned office with nary a smile on their faces. But try as we did and ask as we did we were unable to find out what happened, so we ran home to ask if the ouija board could enlighten us any. But all to no avail.

So we went over to Dad Morgan's to drown our curiosity with a malted and upon arriving at the above-mentioned club we saw a goodly sized crowd standing out in front of the window looking in. All het up over the prospects of some excitement we peered into the window and with amazement we gazed on an Octopus picture all draped with black cloth.

Well, we finally cooled down, as our knowledge of great statuary and paintings told us that all great paintings and statues were veiled until the opportune time came for the formal unveling, when somebody would drop a bottle of champagne and somebody else would press a button and the veil would drop off, displaying the work of art.

So we decided to stick around for a while and wait for the ceremonies and watched billiard game after pool game and pool game after billiard game until we heard a multitude outside raising much commotion, so we arose from our morris chair and went out expecting to see the ceremonies. But to our utter astonishment over the cloth that covered part of the picture was a sign bearing in huge red letters the words, "Censored by the Dean."

Well, you could have bought us for a nickel and here we were waiting for the unveling of some great work of art so that we could write home about it and maybe be able to tell the folks that we knew the artist.

FRENCH PLAYERS IN COMEDIES FOR "SOIREE" BENEFIT

The comedies presented by French students will be the headline features of the "Soiree Francaise" to be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the concert room of Lathrop hall, under the auspices of the French department.

"Farce du Cuvier" and "L'Anglais tel qu'on le parle" will be presented by an all-star cast composed largely of students from France. The plays are under the direction of M. Caston Chabaud.

The first is the story of the unhappy Jaquinot who is "hen-pecked" by his domineering wife and mother-in-law. He finally defeats them by strategy.

"L'Anglais tel qu'on le parle" is a clever farce based on the complications that arise when the English father pursues the fleeing lovers with an interpreter who cannot interpret. This has been very successfully played both by professional and amateur casts.

The entertainment this evening will be for the benefit of the French war orphans' fund. There will be musical selections by students in the French department and residents of the French house. Tickets can be secured for 35 cents from members of the department.

Among the French students who will take parts are Emile Dejean, Marguerite Treille, Alice Salvon, G. E. Chabaud, E. Varlez, G. H. King, J. Salvon, and E. G. Taylor.

DECIDE ORATORY TITLES OF STATE IN MEETS FRIDAY

Winners of High School Contest to Compete for Honors in Music Hall

Inter-scholastic week-end at Madison will be opened Friday afternoon at Music hall when the best high school orator in Wisconsin will be selected from a field of nine speakers representing the entire state.

In the evening, high school girls will occupy the limelight in the declamatory finals to select the champion prep school declaimer of Wisconsin. Those taking part in these contests have won their places in the finals after a long series of elimination contests which started in the individual schools and carried through the nine districts into which the state is divided.

The Forensic board is arranging a reception for the visiting platform artists with a view to having them come to Wisconsin when they are ready to enter the university. Last year the contests were held in Madison for the first time and not a single entrant has since come to the university, although many are in schools elsewhere. The board attributes this fact to a lack of interest on the part of the student body and is urging all students to attend at least one of the contests. There will be no admission charge.

FORENSIC MIXER LAST OF SEASON

All-University Dance Scheduled for Friday Night at Gymnasium

The last big mixer of the year will be held in the men's gymnasium Friday night under the auspices of the Forensic board. Although the event is listed as primarily a forensic mixer for those who perform on the platform and their friends, it is not necessary that one be at all interested in debating in order to share in the good time promised. Profiting by the experience of all previous mixers held during the year, those in charge promise a rare treat to all who attend. The admission charge will be 25 cents.

As an indication of what can be expected the committee announces that it has engaged Thompson's orchestra, and that refreshments will so far outclass the kind that is ordinarily had at mixers that to make the slightest mention of them would fill the hall to overflowing faster than the doorkeepers could collect the tickets. The floor will be waxed for the dance.

Skeptics who believe that it will be too warm to dance in the gym Friday night are informed that a special cooling combination is to be inaugurated which will make the breezes from Lake Mendota wend their way to the scene of the mixer. The dance will start at 8:30 and the doors will be closed at 10:30 to prevent crowding.

"LA VIE" PICTURED IN OCTOPUS TODAY

"La Vie Wisconsienne," the long-looked-for May number of The Octopus, appears this morning. It will be on sale in Main hall, Engineering building, Physics building, Science hall, and Biology building.

Only 3,000 copies have been printed, of which over half have been subscribed for, so those expecting to get a copy will have to try early.

The editors have sent out a call for contributions for the June issue, which is to be called the First Annual Last Number. All copy must be in by May 27, as the issue appears on June 9. Short stories and ideas for cartoons are the chief articles in demand, but any funny contributions will be accepted.

SICKNESS JINX WRECKS HOPES FOR BASEBALL

Mumps and Broken Ankles Put Eight Regulars in Hospital

Who said that athletes laugh at sickness?

It isn't done on the Wisconsin baseball diamond.

Not since the University of Purdue lost almost its entire baseball team in a train wreck about 15 years ago has any conference baseball coach had such a long list of injuries to contend with in shaping a team as Coach M. A. Kent, the Badger mentor, has had this spring. The list of casualties to date totals eight regulars.

When the Badger coach first began to gather together his eligible men last February in preparation for a long early season indoor practice in the gymnasium annex, prospects for a winning aggregation looked brighter than they had for years. Eight letter men from former years, four members of the 1917 squad which did not complete its schedule that year on account of the war, a list of candidates from former freshmen teams, and several new-comers gave the coach a wealth of material from which to pick his team.

Wall Obliged to Quit

Before the weather became warm enough to practice out-of-doors the squad suffered its first loss. Floyd R. Wall, outfielder and heavy hitter on last year's nine was advised by medical authorities to give up baseball on account of his health, and has not been out at all until this week, when Coach Kent sent out an S. O. S. call for baseball players.

The next casualty came after the Badger team had made a short training trip to Indiana for games with Valparaiso and Notre Dame, and the conference season opened with pitcher Frank Williams in the infirmary with scarlet fever and destined to be out of the game for the entire season. His sickness has kept him in the hospital for more than a month and he will not be released until next week, too late for any effective work this spring.

It was on this trip to Notre Dame that the injured list began to grow fast. George Willigrod, first sacker, who was playing his first year of

RACE FOR PRIZES AT S. G. A. PICNIC

Novelty stunts and races will feature the S. G. A. picnic which is to be held at the Assembly grounds Thursday afternoon.

Among the stunts will be a three-legged race, the winner of which will receive a prize. Other prizes of various kinds will be offered to the winners of the different contests that have been planned, according to Eleanor Gaik, who is in charge of the games and stunts.

The committees are asking that all women who find it convenient attend the picnic. For those who have not yet been solicited for tickets there is a bulletin board in Lathrop hall on which anyone may sign up before noon today. The price of tickets is 35 cents.

Parties will start for the Assembly grounds at 4:30, 5:00, 5:30, and 6 p. m. This will enable those who have gymnasium classes to attend. In case of rain the picnic will be held in the large gymnasium in Lathrop hall, and will commence at 5:30.

G'MORNING! And thank you, too, kind peepul, for today we received, in addition to the usual bills, two contra. The first was a poem, the second a last line. Now if some of the rest of you would essay to fill up the in-between, 'twould be nice.

THE GOOD OLD DAYS
We speak in happy memory
About the days that used to be,
Before King H. C. L.'s regime Advanced the price of milk and cream.

The days when breakfast food
and tea
And pop were cheap, and speech
was free,
When liver at the butcher shops
Was thrown in with the mutton chops.

And while we diligently scrape
To make our incomes fit the tape,
We oft review with passing sigh
The blessings of the days gone by.

For now, as far as we're concerned,
These erstwhile foods are all interred.
—Horace Woudbee Longfellow

THE big fight now seems to be over which set of girls gave the best Prom present. As has been said before in connection with favors, it takes tact to pick 'em out.
As one man said, "I sat her in all the uncomfortable chairs we had in the house—and yet we get a picture for the mantel. ....

The Annual Spring Mess
We just heard the scandal and was, as usual, much surprised. But our awe was counted at naught by Ol' Timer who remarked, "Such things come out 'most every spring
'round here."

EPISCOPAL STUDENTS ELECT OFFICERS FOR ST. FRANCIS SOCIETY

At a recent meeting of the Episcopal students' organization, the St.
Francis society, the officers for the coming year were elected. Harold Hoag will act as chairman, Birney Miller will fill the office of vice-chairman, Burton White is the newly elected secretary, and Marion Goodwin will serve as treasurer.

The monthly corporate communion of all Episcopal students is announced for next Sunday at 7:30
a. m. Following the service, there will be the initiation of six new members, after which, a breakfast will be served in the Guild hall of Grace church by the St. Francis society to which all Episcopal students are invited. At the breakfast, announcement will be made of a picnic planned for Sunday afternoon, May 23.

The standing committees of the St. Francis society for the academic year 1920-21 have been announced
as follows:

Finance committee—John Beffel,
chairman, Pearl Fergen, Ruth Geer, Marion Goodwin, James Hargen,
Eleanore Housmann, Anita Meyer,
Erid Tanke.

Social committee—Phillip Nolte,

A. Lapp is lecturing on "The Duties of Citizens in a Democracy." We hope no one sits on him.

NO one asked for our personal opinion on the subject, but we can't refrain from saying that we think that there is entirely too much talk going on about the propriety or impropriety of the posters about school. We can't consider them of enough importance to scrap about.

BESIDES, the posters are getting too common to be good advertising.
Publicity managers should realize that.

WHY NOT? PROM'S OVER NOW
The clinic, we hear, fears an epidemic of mumps.

WITH the re-naming of Main hall impending, we wonder if the Regents would consider making over some of the other titles about the place. For example:

The gymnasium..... Atkins
Atheneum.

The Y..... Valhalla.
South hall, containing the offices of Deans Roe and Goodnight
..... Hell Hole.

Science hall..... Skeleton Skyscraper.

Lathrop..... Nardin's Nest.

IF you've any idea along such lines, the col will be glad to pass them on to the Regents in their eager search.

THE Theta Deltas hold the supremacy with four Prom engagements. We can't beat that, but doubtless any minister can tie it.

He'd Say She Do
There was once a thirsty old
Sioux,
Who endeavored to make some
home brioux,
A week passed away,
Then he tried it one day.
And his squaw heard him holler,
"Wah hioux!"

FAMOUS LAST LINES
"Well, I won't stand between a man and his work. Goodbye."

FREE DENTAL CLINICS IN 8 BADGER CITIES

Free dental clinics are operated in at least eight Wisconsin cities, according to information just collected by the municipal information bureau of the University Extension division, covering the period between 1916, when a report was published, up to last fall, and based on a questionnaire sent out by the state board of health.

Appleton, Beloit, Oshkosh, and Milwaukee operate clinics financed by the school board or by the city.
Sheboygan, Wausau, Kenosha, and Madison have privately financed clinics.

WARNS AGAINST CAMP FIRES IN BADGER FORESTS

The tossing aside of half-smoked cigarettes, the scattering of locomotive sparks, and the leaving of smoldering camp fires in the woods must be stopped if the growing of timber is ever to be a safe business enterprise in Wisconsin, according to A. L. Osborn, Oshkosh lumberman, who spoke before the Madison section of the Society of American Foresters at a meeting to consider better forestry in Wisconsin.

competition, broke a bone in his ankle sliding into second base in the final game of the series, and has been on crutches until a week or so ago. He will play in his first conference game when the Badgers take the field against Purdue Friday of this week.

Mumps Catches Four

A week or so later an epidemic of mumps broke out among the players on the team. Abrahamson, catcher and outfielder on last year's team was the first victim. He was followed a week or so later by Doyle, who had been playing an outfield position part of the time and was a regular last year. On the trip to Michigan and Ohio another cripple was added to the list in the person of "Rowdy" Elliott, heavy hitting short-stop, who had become eligible only a few days before. His injury was an exact duplicate of the one sustained by Willigrod and both happened while the men were sliding into second base.

The return home from this trip added the third mumps casualty and the seventh on the list. Carson Lyman, third baseman and outfielder, was sent to bed with a swollen face and was confined for one week, missing the Illinois game. The last victim, and one who was perhaps the most badly needed at the present time on account of the shortage of twirlers, was pitcher "Al" Miller who with Sam Ogle, has been doing the brunt of the hurling since Williams was sent to the hospital.

Miller will not be out for at least a week and with four games this week-end and next, Coach Kent is almost desperate. "Tony" Zulfer, who has been at first base, has gone back to work on the mound with Willigrod's arrival in a uniform, and will be used against Purdue Friday.

MENORAH ELECTS OFFICERS TONIGHT

Menorah society will hold its last meeting of the year at 7:30 tonight in Lathrop parlors. With election of officers on the program the largest turnout of the year is expected. Although this is the last meeting scheduled it does not conclude activities. The annual banquet, at which the Rosenwald prize of $100 is awarded to the student who presented the best essay on any matter pertaining to Judaism, in the contest which closed May 1, is listed for June 5. It is expected that Prof. I. L. Scharfman, of the University of Michigan, a member of the board of governors of the inter-collegiate Menorah, will deliver the principal address at that time.

PUBLICITY FOR ATHLETICS

FOR too little publicity has been given to Wisconsin athletics this year. A glaring example of the failure of Milwaukee and Chicago papers to cover events at this university was afforded only last week-end. Wisconsin furnished the surprise of the track season by upsetting Illinois's track team and winning a thrilling victory during the last events on the card. Yet the account of the meet was relegated by one of the Milwaukee papers to an inconspicuous place on an inside page. The Chicago Tribune printed the story of the meet only yesterday morning, 48 hours after it should have appeared.

Students at the university are not so conscious of this neglect on the part of the metropolitan dailies as are the alumni who depend for their knowledge of university teams on the reports in these papers. The latter undoubtedly do not realize the true baseball situation this season.

Milwaukee and Chicago papers have printed brief reports of the scores of the varsity games. But nothing has been said of the crippled condition of the team, of the misfortune which has fallen heavily and repeatedly on the first-string men. At the present time, six regulars are out of the lineup.

When this condition is understood, the showing of the varsity nine is creditable indeed. In spite of a weakened lineup and the difficulty of developing team play with a constantly shifting nine, the men have battled hard in every game. Their grit and fighting spirit will place them high in the conference standing.

The Milwaukee and Chicago papers must wake up to the athletic situation at Wisconsin. Their present policy is losing them athletic news of the first importance. It is resented by the student body, who read long reports of the progress of teams at other conference schools, and find that Wisconsin is slighted.

The fault lies primarily with the student correspondents of the city papers. They are employed to furnish their papers with university news. Their loyalty to Wisconsin should lend an incentive strong enough alone to insure adequate writeups. Yet they have fallen down on the job on a number of important occasions; witness the recent meet with Illinois. Students insist that they bestir themselves, or that the big city papers appoint students who will be "on the job."

A FACT FOR "H. CUBE"

THE CARDINAL wishes to make just one statement of fact in reply to the communication published in Tuesday's issue above the pseudonym, "H. Cube." Our correspondent will undoubtedly be most interested to learn that the editorial he so disliked, "A Word of Warning," published in the issue of May 13, was written by a non-fraternity man and on his own initiative.

FRENCH NIGHT

A FRENCH play by a French cast—that, in a word, describes the Soiree Francaise with which the French department will entertain the university this evening.

The comedy, whose title translated is "English As It Is Spoken," achieved a great success last month in Chicago, where it was presented by the French Players. Its plot abounds in laughable situations arising from the inability of the pursuing father to understand his French interpreter.

The fact that the cast is made up almost entirely of students from France who are now attending Wisconsin insures the best French play that the department has ever staged. To many who have enjoyed previous productions, this will seem high praise. It is justified by the perfect pronunciation and the excellent acting of the women, whose French was learned and dramatic experience obtained in France.

The entire proceeds of the play will be given to the French War Orphans' fund. This factor alone should draw a capacity crowd to Lathrop hall, to aid in furthering the noble and effective relief of the orphans of France.

The quality of the play, the privilege of hearing French as the French speak it, and the disposition to be made of all proceeds, give the Soiree Francaise high rank among worthy university events. It is entitled to the hearty support of the student body.

What the College Editors Say

AN EXPERIMENT

Separate class resolutions to enforce honor in examinations, such as the class in employment management recently made, may prove to be the solution of the honor system puzzle. The action is well worth considering, at any rate.

A spirit of honor that will not permit cheating of any kind, and that will not hesitate to call infractors of the code is the only means by which examinations can be made truly honorable. It has proved to be the only means in institutions where the honor system is successful, and Washington is no exception.

The separate class resolution, if generally adopted, will work to the establishment of such a spirit. By building up the attitude in small units, classes can eventually mold the spirit of the whole university to the point where class-room honesty will be as accepted a principle as financial honesty.

On the other hand, the wholesale institution of an honor system affecting the entire university, while it bettered former conditions in examinations, is far from being an absolute success. Less cheating than ever before was seen during March finals, but there was enough to make another means necessary.

The new system may not be the idealistic one. Practical results are desired, however, and practical measures must be taken to gain them. Perhaps the designation of some particular day when every class in the university should consider the adoption of the plan would be the best way to settle the matter. At any rate, it appears at present to be the best scheme offered, and should receive serious attention.—University of Washington Daily.

FACULTY ADD TO FUND FOR UNION

The Union Memorial drive has reached the $85,000 mark in a slow but steady personal canvass of those who had not subscribed before. In addition to the $10,000 already received from the faculty, $500 more has come in, making the faculty total $10,500. From the employes of the university, $2,500 has been received.

It is expected that no other means to get pledges will be tried than that which is now in use.

"Everyone is responding fine when approached," said Loring Hammond, treasurer of the Union board. "We are just going to keep on driving till we get the total, which will probably be reached before the end of the semester."

OFFICERS ELECTED BY SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish club, at the last meeting of the year, held in the S. G. A. room in Lathrop last night, elected the following officers for the coming year:

Elizabeth Fisher, president; K. Sapper, vice-president; J. Fuchilla, secretary; Hul-cee Acton, treasurer.

The club voted as its usual gift to charity to give $100 to French war orphans. Following the business meeting a program consisting of Spanish selections was given by Gladys Green. Spanish songs and games were features of the evening.

COMMUNICATIONS

FROM A NON-FRATERNITY ALUMNUS

To the Editor of The Cardinal:
 "H. Cube," in his communication headed "The Spirit of Antagonism" convinced me that at least one individual has seized the "Spirit of the Day" and is going to reconstruct our institution. Well, it is being done in Mexico and Russia; is being tried, perhaps, in nearly every country of the world, and why not in Wisconsin? Surely Wisconsin should not lag behind in any "democratic" movement.

There are so many degrees of democracy that it is always a safe slogan for any issue. Our universities are intolerable institutions in a democracy. They are turning out products which can sign their names on checks. Is this fair to our ditch laborer, who signs "X?" Are not most of our visionaries at Wisconsin who are so filled with the burning fires of democracy unconsciously creating a class distinction between themselves and their forebears?

If you want to run your institution into the ground, Mr. Non-fraternity man, just keep up your propaganda. I was a non-fraternity man myself while at Wisconsin and I appreciate the functions of the fraternities in university life. I know what the fraternities have done this year in making possible two high school basketball tournaments and a Y. M. C. A. convention. When I was in school, if the non-fraternity man was not getting his share of the "plums," we analyzed ourselves. "H. Cube" admits the fraternities are in the "minority" and that they rule. Is there not justification for the majority in that fact alone? They at least are doing things.

You are not promoting the interests of your institution by your "democratic visions." The school has worried along fairly well under its present institutions and can probably worry along a few more years. You radicals may go down in the history of Wisconsin as the leaders of your day, but I question it. What you will do will be to tear the vitals out of your school if you keep on spilling ink. There are many ways of gaining fame; one of them is to spring from oblivion by signing one's name to an editorial.

Have you the interests of your school at heart or are you perhaps thinking a bit of big "I?" Oh Democracy! What a wonderful word you are!

HAROLD STARK, '18.

FRATERNITIES OR NOT?

To the Editor of The Cardinal:

At the present time there is every reason to believe that there is a strong and growing sentiment throughout the state and in the legislature for the abolition of secret Greek letter fraternities and sororities at Wisconsin and the establishment of University dormitories in their stead. It is generally conceded that the action will be proposed at the next session of the legislature. We cannot shirk the issue any longer even if we would. The question is: Do we want fraternities, or do we not? The whole university must answer this question.

The case against the fraternities is briefly this:

(1) From the standpoint of men and women in fraternities and sororities they are undesirable. The organizations are artificial creations, which, in the words of Dr. Bascom, former president of this institution, "thrust aside the more natural relations of affiliated tastes."

The keen social rivalry and competition which in an inevitable concomitant of these institutions leads students to social excesses. Finally they deprive students of the privilege of standing upon their own feet in the competition for college honors. Is it not time that real red-blooded American students crawl out from behind the skirts of their so-called "brothers" and "sisters?"

(2) The fraternities make impossible equality of opportunity. When 5 per cent of the faculty are fraternity men who keep in constant association with their organizations, is it not asking too much of human nature to expect entire impartiality in the class room? The advantages in organization possessed by fraternity men insure victory for their candidates at the university polls. A small percent age of the school controls its entire affairs, and it is next to impossible for a non-fraternity man, regardless of his ability, to compete with the solidarity and superior numbers of fraternity rings. Moreover, it is notoriously true, that election to White Spades and Iron Cross is in many instances conditioned upon membership in particular groups as anyone acquainted with these bodies will testify in confidence.

(3) Finally, and most important, the institutions make for snobbery and exclusiveness in the university, and no amount of apology will alter that fact. The segregation of groups into which money is the chief key to admission is hardly wholesome education to fit people for life in a democracy; and anyone who has had any experience with class picnics or all-university functions will testify that a real college spirit is impossible as long as students owe their first allegiance to secret societies, their second to their alma mater.

We have not space to elaborate the case for the opposition. But, we sincerely believe—and when we say "we," we speak for an organization of several hundred of spontaneously affiliated students—that these arguments are of sufficient weight to convict the fraternities. The time is ripe for action. Men and women of Wisconsin, let us declare ourselves for a complete democracy, a better education for everyone and a real Wisconsin spirit. Wisconsin always takes the lead. Let's go!

Electrical Workers Strike in Denver

DENVER—Union linemen, electrical workers and gas stokers went on strike today to enforce demands for increased wages. A strike vote of the stenographers and bookkeepers was to be reported tomorrow. Gas fitters voted to strike tomorrow.

Deadlock Over Army Bill Reorganization

WASHINGTON—A deadlock on the army reorganization bill was reached today by senate and house conferees. Senate provisions to reorganize the force caused the breach. The disagreement, Chairman Wadsworth of the senate, said, came despite an offer to strike out the senate provisions for voluntary military training of youths between 18 and 21 years of age.

WEIGH SCHOOL CHILDREN.
 WATERTOWN—Every child attending school here is to be weighed and measured once a month under the direction of Mabel Pope, community nurse. By this means it is hoped to check, in advance, those who are receiving improper nourishment or who may be losing weight and strength because of incipient disease.

CHANGE SCHOOL LOCATION
 ASHLAND—The Ashland county

training school for teachers will be changed from Butternut to Ashland. Several years ago, when the school was first established, it was placed at Mellen, which was changed to Butternut a year ago. Both places proved too remote from the center of population.

MARINETTE—The conservation commission has made a new ruling in regard to fishing on Green Bay and one that will liberalize the fishing laws for this region. The commission has decided that ports on the bay are Lake Michigan ports and fish can be shipped from points on the bay the same as on the lake. Under this ruling fishermen at Marinette, Oconto, Green Bay and other ports on the bay, including Sturgeon Bay, may ship herring from April 1 to May 1, which was formerly prohibited.

Morris-Butler

One of the most beautiful weddings of the month was celebrated Saturday evening when Kathryn Morris became the bride of Butler Wilkinson of Milwaukee. Both are graduates of the university.

The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents on East Gorham street. The Rev. H. H. Lumpkin of Grace Episcopal church read the marriage service, using the ring ceremony.

The bride wore a gown of white satin and silk mull and carried a shower bouquet of pink roses, orchids and swansonia. On her veil, which was arranged with orange blossoms, was point lace which had belonged to her great-grandmother and also real lace which had been worn by her grandmother and by her mother on their wedding veils. The couple stood at an altar of smilax on either side of which were snapdragons and pink roses.

The groom graduated from the university in 1916 and in 1917 took post-graduate work. He is a member of Tau Beta Pi fraternity and of Phi Beta Kappa. Mrs. Wilkinson is a graduate of university in the class of 1918.

Twenty-second of 28 Daily Selections for Monday, May 17

CELESTE AIDA
By Giuseppe Verdi

Tenors breathing love songs into the ears of their mistresses usually call up pictures of callow youths who have little serious interest in the work-a-day world. In this splendid air Verdi, writing in his ripe maturity, seeks to express the manly devotion of a strong warrior for a noble woman. When sung by a robust tenor with an adequate voice and with fine emotional fervor this is a most thrilling solo.

The story of the opera Aida deals with the efforts of Radames to wed Aida. The young leader has been given the honor of leading the army which is to defend Egypt against an enemy attack. The king tells Radames that if he is successful Amneris, the princess, shall become his wife, and Radames will thus succeed to the throne. The youth, who loves Aida, the companion of Amneris, hopes that by gaining a glorious victory, he may ask and obtain the right to choose his own wife.

THE SWAN
Camille Saint-Saens

Composers love jokes, and Saint-Saens indulged in some broad smiles when he wrote his Carnival of Animals. It is said that he imitated most grotesquely the gruntings, squealings, and howlings of various creatures. But he apparently considered these as private jokes which were not proper for general use. The only number which he allowed to be published was The Swan.

Camille Saint-Saens, now in his eighty-fifth years, and still active in the music of France, visited America only a short time ago, performing and conducting at the Panama-Pacific Exposition. He is a most versatile man; a student of astronomy, archeology, mathematics; a critic, essayist, and playwright; a lover of society; a great traveler; and a musician skilled in practically all branches.

The program arranged by the committee in charge will begin at 1:30 at the foot of Monona Avenue where water services in memory of the men who died at sea will be conducted by the Woman's Relief Corps.

The parade for the march to Camp Randall will be formed on Wisconsin avenue at 2:30. Rev. W. J. McKay, commander of the G. A. R. post, will open the program with an address, to be followed with the invocation by Chaplain P. L. Johnson of the American Legion post. Other numbers on the program include: the order of the day by Rev. McKay; song by an American Legion quartet; talk by Theodore Lewis; address by M. S. Dudgeon, secretary of the free library commission; "In Memoriam" by S. E. Lathrop; "Battle Hymn of the Republic" by the audience; Lincoln's Gettysburg Address; address by T. C. Richmond; "America" and "The Star Spangled Banner" by the audience; benediction by Rev. A. J. Soldan.

School children will gather flowers Saturday with which to decorate the graves of the soldiers and sailors at the two cemeteries. Two chartered street cars will take the children to the cemeteries. They will meet Monday morning at the G. A. R. hall on Monona avenue at 10 o'clock. The decorating of the graves will be under the auspices of the Woman's Relief Corps. A firing squad from Co. G will honor the occasion with a salute. The committee has asked that flowers for the graves and automobiles for the veterans be offered by those who wish to help. The children will deliver their flowers at the G. A. R. hall from 2 to 7 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Lund; publicity, Major O'Connell and Thomas Kingston, parade.

WEATHER BUREAU HERE SEARCHING FOR ASSISTANT

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Madison has been hit by the exodus from the government service to take advantage of the high wages being paid outside. The Civil Service commission is unable to obtain candidates in sufficient number by its methods, and a suitable man is sought to act as assistant observer.

The work consists of observing and recording the weather, and preparing information for distribution. It can be performed by anyone who can read a graduated (foot-rule) scale accurately. Observations have to be taken on Sundays and holidays.

The pay is $75 per month, but after one month of satisfactory service, an increase of $20 will be granted, taking effect from the date of entrance.

The appointment is temporary, as the appointee must take an examination. On passing, the appointee will be given a salary of $90, which with the bonus amounts to $110.

High school graduates will be preferred and ex-service men are given preference in rating the Civil Service examinations.

Mr. E. R. Miller, room 409, North Hall, University of Wisconsin, will be glad to talk with any one interested in the work.

PRESSMEN IN CITY STILL OUT

Owners Say Only 25 Men Affected by Walk- out

No new developments were reported Tuesday in the strike of the Madison union of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants' Union. While L. V. Miles, acting for the striking pressmen, reported that 75 pressmen and feeders were on strike Tuesday, proprietors of printing plants said one third that number would be a closer estimate of the men on strike. Commercial printing plants were running presses, proprietors said, although considerably handicapped by the walkout.

Blank contracts were presented to the proprietors Saturday morning, and pressmen and feeders walked out Monday morning, giving them insufficient time to consider the contracts, they said. Blank contracts provide for the following wages: man feeders, $35; girl feeders, $25; cylinder pressmen, $50; platen pressmen, $37.50; assistant cylinder pressmen, $37.50; assistant platen pressmen, $25. Wages had previously ranged from $17 to $35 for pressmen and feeders.

Students ran presses at the Democrat printing plant Tuesday to insure against delay in publishing The Octopus, university humoristic journal. Union men say that if this work is carried further it will be a hindrance to the successful carrying out of the strike.

URGES INFUX OF IMMIGRANTS TO OUR COUNTRY

But Saturate Them With Loy- alty, Declares Sen. Edge

NEW YORK—Temporary modifications of the immigration laws to permit an influx of desirable immigrants to meet America's labor shortage was urged here today by Senator Edge of New Jersey in an address before the National Manufacturers' association. He also advocated a process of Americanization to prevent new immigrants from falling under the spell of "world-wide anarchists and bolsheviks."

Immigrants should be "saturated with American loyalty and patriotism," Sen. Edge added, and should be prevented from being "led through the mire of radicalism into the morass of anarchy."

In urging modification, the senator said he did not mean to "open the doors to an indiscriminate horde of newcomers," adding that undesirables must not be admitted.

"Moreover, against such undesirables," he added "who may filter through, I would apply every law for deportation without the tenderness apparently shown for radicals and bolsheviks by officials of the present administration."

America needs common labor in all of its industrial fields, Senator Edge declared. There need be no fear of immigrant labor lowering the American wage scale. Sen. Edge asserted, adding that "it seems more likely that these newcomers quickly will be enlisted in the ranks of those who periodically demand higher wages without regard to the effect on the high cost of living."

Russia Discussed by League Council

DID ADAM WEAR A BEARD? NEVER, DECLARES ARTIST

Old Painting Was Doctored up When Whiskers Were Fashionable

BUDAPEST—Adam did not wear a beard, according to the dictum of M. Terey, director of the Hungarian National Art Museum, who has eliminated the great ancestor's hirsute adornment in restoring Jordens' famous picture, "Adam and Eve." The picture shows Adam looking at the apple and Eve listening to the serpent in the splendors of Eden. Examination of the canvas has shown the beard was not a part of the original picture, but was painted on during the last century when beards were popular. In the restored work, therefore, Adam is shown clean shaven.

Women Voters to Name Committee

Six committees to carry on the work of the Dane County League of Women Voters will be appointed at a luncheon at the Woman's building, Saturday noon at 12:30. All women of the county are invited to attend, but are required to telephone reservations before Wednesday noon to one of the following members of the invitation committee: Mrs. A. W. Schorger, Mrs. E. H. Byrne, Mrs. A. M. Frisch, and Miss Melissa Brown. Training for citizenship, elections, social hygiene, public health, child welfare, women in industry and food supply and demand are the subjects the committees will take up.

England May Amend Irish Home Rule

LONDON—Two important developments in the Irish situation are pending. The government is considering a plan to amend the home rule bill so as to give a real senate to southern Ireland consisting of 64 members, including four Catholic bishops and two Anglicans and Presbyterians. The other members will be representatives of the county councils and the other public bodies, but will be indirectly elected.

A similar senate will be offered Ulster, but will be refused because the Ulster extremists do not see the certainty of controlling the representatives of the low chamber.

WEATHER

The highest temperature during the past 24 hours was 56 at 4 p. m. and the lowest was 51 at 3 a. m. Precipitation was .04. Sun set at 7:17.

Showers continue in the central and northern states between an area of high barometer on the Atlantic coast and one of low in the northwest. Southerly winds and warmer weather prevail from the Rockies to the Appalachian mountains. It is colder in the northern plateau regions.

Publishers Organize—Representatives of more than 100 newspapers organized the U. S. Publishers News Print Conservation league at Washington and called on similar organization to join for mutual protection.

STATE ACTS IN RAIL SHORTAGE

Badger Commission Co- operating With Na- tional Body

The Wisconsin state railroad commission on Monday took a hand in the clearing up of the war shortage and freight tieup interfering with shipments throughout the country.

The commission received a telegram from the Interstate Commerce Commission at Washington, urging that it co-operate with the capital body in putting an end to the congestion. Similar telegrams were sent to other state rail boards.

Daily reports of car movements were asked, and a complete report on the situation in the state of Wisconsin and on lines which pass through the state.

The commission immediately took steps to comply with the appeal. John Hogan, of the commission, in charge of car shortage work in the state, was named to make telegraphic reports each day to Washington on the situation.

It was further decided to extend the fullest co-operation in efforts of the national railroad body in its plans to clear up the congestion, give priority to such articles as ordered, and to keep a check on all cars lying idle in the various yards of the state.

WASHINGTON—While the inter-state commerce commission was working today on details of a program which it hoped would overcome the freight tieup the federal reserve board met with its advisory council and reserve bank officials to discuss the blockade. Primarily, the conference of bankers was aimed at the credit situation but the menace of a traffic tie-up assumed a front position in the session. Its many ramifications hooked up the nation's commerce and banking with the economic danger the financiers saw in the freight jam, it was said.

BRIDAL SONG HELD MOST POPULAR MOZART PIECE

"The Splendor Falls on Castle Walls" Also Charmed Audience

Kjerulff's "Bridal Song" proved the most popular selection of the program presented to a large audience by the Mozart club in the city Y. M. C. A. Monday night under direction of Alexius Baas. The rumbling, mountainous atmosphere of Norway on the verge of her great change to a national life, a theme so often dwelt upon by Grieg and Kjerulff, was pleasingly developed by Madison's foremost and oldest musical club, which will give the last of its season's free concerts in the auditorium of the Madison high school next Sunday at 3:30.

"The Splendor Falls on Castle Walls," also proved a success. The music to this well-known poem by Tennyson was written by Prof. B. Q. Morgan, a former director of the club. It was sung with good expression. Other numbers on the program were: "To the Sons of Art," by Mendelssohn; "A Red, Red Rose," by Herbert; Brahms' "Lullaby"; "Swedish Vesper Hymn," Jubilate, arranged by Zander; Bonny Doon, an old Scotch Melody; "There's One That I Love Dearly," by Robinson. Miss Margaret O'Hearn was a careful accompanist.

Shoe Shops Close Decoration Day

The retail shoe dealers of Madison will close their stores all day Decoration day it was announced last evening after their banquet meeting at the Madison club with their state officers in attendance. Members are making plans for the annual convention of shoe dealers which will be held in the capitol Aug. 17, 18 and 19.

It is expected that as meetings are held by other lines they will make similar arrangements to close their place of business on Decoration day.

DECIDE PLANS OF RED ARROW CLUB AT MEET

Thirty-second Division Men
Complete Organization
Thursday Night

To complete plans for an organization of former Thirty-second division men and to make final arrangements for a dance to be given in Lathrop hall, June 5, Red Arrow men are to meet at Music hall on Thursday night at 7:15.

Arrangements for the meeting are being made by officers elected at a preliminary meeting a week ago. It is believed by these officers that there are more than 200 men in the university who served with the Red Arrow division at some time during the war, and they are making every effort to have all turn out Thursday night. Bruce R. McCoy is president of the organization; Anson Perkins, vice-president; John G. Baker, treasurer; and Luther North, secretary.

A constitution will be submitted for approval and vote taken as to the name to be given to the organization. Additional committees will be appointed for the dance and suggestions presented for making it one of the most unique affairs of the year.

New Stunts at Dance
"We want to give the old Thirty-second men the best time of the year," said a member of the committee in charge of the dance arrangements. "We have some schemes for the dance that will make the campus sit up and take notice. Some of the old-timers that were with us overseas will be chaperons if we can get them. The dance is to be absolutely informal.

"Already we have drawn up a program that is going to mean some real laughs, but that is too good to let out. There are five ex-mess sergeants competing for the post behind the punch bowl. The boys are going to be requested to leave their galloping dominoes at home. There won't be any corn willy or hard tack included in the refreshments."

Plans for a theater party and a smoker are also to be proposed at the meeting. This affair would probably come before the date set for the dance.

First to Organize
The Red Arrow men made a big showing last fall when General Haan was in Madison to deliver an address under the auspices of the State Historical society. More than 100 of them met on the lower campus, formed into platoons, marched to the Madison club and escorted their former war-chief to the university gymnasium.

So far as is known, this is the first local organization of ex-members of the Thirty-second division that has been organized in the state. The club may decide to arrange for representation as a unit at the reunion of the division to be held in Milwaukee next September.

CLEF CLUB GIVES ANNUAL RECITAL

By KATHERINE ROCKWELL

Clef club gave its sixth annual recital before a large and appreciative audience in Lathrop parlors at 8:15 last night. The program was unusually well rounded, containing selections from American and foreign composers.

Frances Landon played Chopin's Fantasie Impromptu with excellent technique and sympathetic expression. A group of songs was pleasantly sung by Ruth Donaldson, the selections including Campbell-Tipton's "Crying in the Wilderness," and Del Aqua's "In the Great Unknown." A cello solo by Mildred Hildreth was characterized by depth of tone. Nella Meyers brilliantly executed Robert Foote's "Tone Poems" after Omar Khayam. Marie McKittrick with a sympathetic contralto voice sang Foster's "Rose in the Bud" and Sprass' "Yesterday and Today." Skillful artistry was shown by Marion Phelps in her treatment of Wieniawski's "Obertass." Georgina Smith interpreted "The Magic Fire" music from "Die Walkurie" and Debussy's "The Sunken Cathedral" with unusual technique and beautiful tone.

AT THE FULLER

As wholesome and refreshing as a mountain breeze on a spring day is the story unfolded in the picturization of Harold Bell Wright's celebrated novel of "The Shepherd of the Hills," which comes to the Fuller today for four days.

Through it all runs a sentiment of buoyant optimism and a sturdy faith in the finer qualities of human nature that is splendidly inspiring in its effect. So simple in outline, yet so true to the rugged but sincere nature it portrays is, "The Shepherd of the Hills," that its popularity is readily explained. It deals intimately with the homely lives of the Ozark dwellers when luxury was unknown and when the rough hard work of pioneer existence was met with fortitude and industry. In its heart warming fashion it tells of the stranger who comes to the little community from a more pretentious life and how from a simple tender of sheed, he becomes a shepherd of men. With such a splendid subject matter as this, the scenes follow each other in kaleidoscopic variety, forming a picture drama which is being viewed by thousands of theater-goers with wonder and intense interest.
